CONSTITUTIONALISTS EXPECT INVITATION TO JOIN MEDIATION

Say Carranza Will Not Agree to Any Armistice.

Cabinet at Washington Hears Reports From Niagara Falls.

Mediators Do Not Understand Status of Rebels' Agent.

Washington, May 22.—In circles close to the Mexican Constitutionalists here, it was definitely expected today that within twenty-four hours a renewed invitation would be extended to the Constitutionalists to be represented at the Niagara Falls mediation conference. Whether Gen. Carranza would accept the invitation was not known, but it was positively asserted that should he do so, it would be without declaring an armistice or agreeing in any way to check his campaign against Huerta's forces.

Cabinet Hears Reports.

President Wilson discussed with the cabinet today the reports received from American Commissioners Lamar and Lehmann at the Niagara Falls Mexican mediation conference. As the cabinet members assembled for the regular semi-weekly meeting, all of them reiterated expressions of hope that the peace negotiations would bear fruit.

Among subjects of particular interest to cabinet members was the report that the Mexican Constitutionalist leaders had decided to send a representative to Niagara Falls. Though it was understood that the Carranza agent would not go as a party to the actual mediation, the decision to send a representative who would inform the mediators of the purposes and hopes of the Constitutionalists was regarded as encouraging for later negotiations, should an agreement be reached between the United States and the Huerta government.

FIND BODIES UNDER THIN CEMENT LAYER

Husband and Father of Dead Women Has Disappeared

Las Cruces, N. M., May 22.—The finding of the bodies of Mrs. M. A. Molina and her 17-year-old daughter buried under the floors of their home at Garfield yesterday, partly cleared up the disappearance of the Molina family. The husband, former superintendent of public schools at Las Cruces, is missing. Mrs. Molina and her daughter were last seen March 22. The bodies were buried in shallow graves and a thin layer of cement spread over them.

VANDERBILT ESTATE IS BOUGHT BY U. S.

Asheville, N. C., May 22.—The United States forestry commission has just purchased almost the entire Vanderbilt estate, consisting of about 86,700 acres of the Pisgap forest property, for $433,851, according to advices received here. The property will be turned into a national game preserve.

GRIEVANCES BROUGHT OUT

Presbyterians Hear Complaints That Have Accumulated for Years.

Dr. Alexander Maitland Made Moderator Without Opposition.

Chicago, May 22.—All the grievances, complaints and demands for reforms which have been accumulating for a year, and some of them for several years, in the Presbyterian church in the United States, are included in the overtures to be presented to the Presbyterian general assembly here today.

There was entire absence of clashes in the election yesterday of Rev. Dr. Maitland Alexander of Pittsburg to the office of moderator.

Chief among the problems faced by the assembly are those of the board of home missions. Of 640 overtures presented, nearly 600, it is said, refer to the home mission board, its organization and its departments, including those of immigration, Indian work, social surveys, church and country life and church and labor.

Point of Contention.

Centralization in the Presbytery of authority over the home missions was the chief point of contention. Home

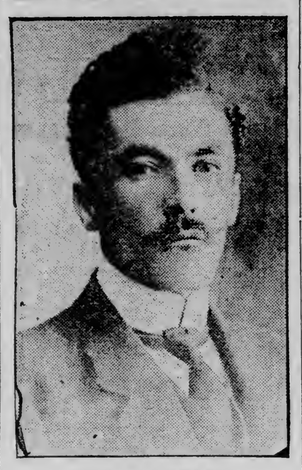
HAS RESIGNED FROM THE HUERTA CABINET



JOSE M. LOZANO.

Mexico City, May 22.—In his letter of resignation as minister of public works, Jose Maria Lozano said:

"Under the difficult situation in the country, I believe it to be a patriotic duty to resign, in order to allow the executive to appoint a new advisor who will act according to the new ideas and inclination of the Mexican people."

It is officially confirmed that Brig. Gen. Juan Solares, who recently joined the Constitutionalists at Acapulco, was hanged by his own men.

Cuatla, an important town in the state of Morelos, recently captured by Zapata forces, was evacuated yesterday, according to reports to the war office, when government troops approached the place. The war office denies the report that Gen. Francisco Ozorno was killed in a recent engagement with the Villa forces near Saltillo.

MELLEN MAY HAVE A REST

Spends Fifth Day Under Queries of Federal Lawyer.

Trolley Deals Are Again Inquired Into By Folk.

Washington, May 22.—The interstate commerce commission inquiry into the New Haven railroad affairs was resumed today. Former President Charles S. Mellen appeared for the fifth day of his interrogation by Joseph W. Folk, chief counsel for the commission.

Mr. Mellen concluded his testimony before the interstate commerce commission at 12:40 today. It has been the announced purpose of the commission to make an exhaustive investigation as to the acquisition by the New Haven of all its subsidiary properties. It is understood that there still is considerable ground to be covered, but the prospects were that Mr. Mellen would be recalled sometime next week.

Mr. Folk asked Mr. Mellen about the purchase by the New Haven of the Tarrytown, White Plains & Mamaroneck railway.

"That was an electric line running through White Plains," said Mr. Mellen. "It was sold at public auction. It brought between $930,000 and $1,000,000."

"Who bid against you?"

"The Third avenue reorganization committee of New York."

Opposed by Political Bosses.

Mr. Mellen intimated that the people who objected to New Haven's purchase were the political bosses.

"They usually are on hand," he said. "I haven't had much experience with them. I had my experience with them

REBELS WILL HELP TO FIND SILLIMAN

Agreement Is Reported to Washington By Consul Hanna.

Washington, May 22.—American Consul Hanna at Monterey has informed the state department that Constitutionalist authorities have agreed to aid in locating the long-missing American vice consul, John R. Silliman, who cannot be found since Huerta's agents assured Secretary Bryan that he had been released from the custody of Mexican Federals at Saltillo. Gen. Antonio Villareal, governor of the state of Nuevo Leon, Consul Hanna reported, has offered an automobile to take Silliman to Monterey if he can be found, and a flag of truce will be respected at any time to expedite Silliman's safety.

Unofficial reports were that Silliman might arrive at Mexico City today, but the department has received no such advices.

SHRIEKS AT ROYAL PAIR

More Paintings Damaged; Women Howl Down British Judge.

London, May 22.—King George and Queen Mary were compelled to listen to the harangue of a militant suffragette this afternoon, while they were attending a matinee at His Majesty's theater. A woman rose in the stalls and began to address the king.

"You Russian czar!" she shrieked.

The attendants quickly rushed in and tried to get her out, but found that she was chained to the seat. They had to file through a link before she could be removed.

While this was in progress, half a dozen women in different parts of the theater started shouting at his majesty. One of them jumped on the stage and commenced a speech. When she had been thrown out, others began.

Eventually all the disturbers were ejected. The police on duty outside had a hard struggle to save them from rough handling by the hostile crowd.

Damage Art Treasures.

The "wild women" of the Women's Social and Political union, the militant suffragette organization, today continued their terrorizing tactics by making two attacks on national art treasures.

The turmoil of the battle in the vicinity of Buckingham palace, where a column of determined women yesterday attempted to reach the king with a petition, had barely subsided when early this morning a woman armed with a loaded cane ruined five masterpieces in the National gallery.

OPPOSITION TO NEW TRUST LAW "SELFISH"

Untermyer So Describes It in Speech to Pittsburg Men.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 22.—Samuel Untermyer, addressing the Pittsburg Development commission and the Pittsburg Commercial club today, discussed trust legislation pending in congress and advanced a dozen propositions for laws which he declared were needed before business problems of the country could be solved.

"There is nothing revolutionary or unsettling in the proposals embodied in the pending bills," said Mr. Untermyer. "The only just criticism is that in their present form they are too large ly made up of compromises—weak, superficial, ineffectual and innocuous. They will not eradicate the intolerable evils against which they are supposed to be directed.

"Drafters Surrendered."

"The sub-committee by which they were drafted and which for months has been struggling with their complicated problems has mistaken the boisterous activity of a small, selfish, powerful group working their now familiar publicity campaign, for the voice of the business world, and has timidly surrendered to the outcry.

"The objections that appear to come from the business world are genuine only to the extent to which it has been misled in ths campaign, in which it has been thrust forward as a pawn in the game the big interests are playing under the cover of legitimate business."

PANAMA LOCKS HAVE NO POOR STEEL, SAYS FEDERAL OFFICIAL

Attempts to Defraud Government Were Suspected and Forestalled.

Five Carbon Steel Company Men Accused at Pittsburg.

Grand Jury Urges Indictments on Deliberate Conspiracy Charge.

Washington, May 22.—The great steel locks in the Panama canal are as strong and as safe as engineering skill can make them and there is not the slightest danger of life or property in their use, notwithstanding the disclosure of attempted fraud in the supply of proper metal for their construction.

This statement was made at the Isthmian canal offices today when attention was called to criminal presentments found by the grand jury in Pittsburg yesterday against five steel makers on a charge of conspiracy to furnish inferior material for the locks.

Maj. Boggs, in charge of the canal offices here, explained that the attempt to deliver defective steel castings, or casting that had not been fully treated and annealed, had been discovered by the government inspectors before the material was worked into the locks.

Every piece of metal under suspicion, it was stated, was immediately retested and replaced, if found defective, before being riveted into the gates.

The United States government, it was declared, lost no money by this attempt at fraud. The purpose of the prosecutions in Pittsburg, it is asserted, is to warn would-be dishonest contractors and punish those alleged to be guilty in this case.

Indictments Recommended.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 22.—The grand jury in the United States district court for the Western district of Pennsylvania made a presentment yesterday recommending the indictment of five well known men, employes of the Car-

BAD FOREST FIRES IN WASHINGTON

None of Them Is Reported as Being Under Control.

Olympia, Wash., May 22.—Warm weather, absence of rain and brisk winds have led to a serious forest fire situation in this state. Twenty fires are burning, practically none is listed as under control and the dreaded crown fire, which kills timber as it progresses, was running through trees in Lewis county, having started at Independence.

State Forester Ferris has ordered out all Western Washington county fire wardens. Hundreds of fire fighters already are in the field for the Washington Forest Fire association, the state and Federal authorities.

QUICK VERDICT MAY BE RENDERED IN THE BECKER MURDER CASE

Justice Seabury Occupies Nearly Three Hours Addressing Jury.

Instigation Is the Same as the Crime Itself, He Says.

Whitman Declares the Defendant Defied Civilization Itself.

New York, May 22.—The case of Charles Becker, on trial for the second time on a charge of instigating the murder of Herman Rosenthal, was given to the jury at 12:52 o'clock this afternoon. Supreme Court Justice Seabury had been nearly three hours delivering his charge.

With the instructions of the court, the jurors carried with them the final pleas of Martin T. Manton, of Becker's counsel, and District Attorney Charles S. Whitman, the former asking that no compromise verdict be reached, but that the accused former police lieutenant be acquitted or condemned to die; and the prosecutor's demand of a life for a life.

Quick Verdict Expected.

A quick verdict is expected, many who have followed the course of the trial predicting that Becker would know his fate within a few hours, probably late today.

District Attorney Whitman, early in his address, attacked the motive presented by the defense for the slaying of Rosenthal—that the gambler died in a war among gamblers.

It was not a gambler who died, but a state's witness, said the prosecutor, and no testimony had been presented to indicate anything else than that Rosenthal was killed because he was about to be such a witness.

If Becker was not the murderer, declared Whitman, then he (the prosecutor) could not see what motive there could be behind the killing.

The crime itself Mr. Whitman characterized as "more than murder—a defiance to our American institutions, a challenge to our very civilization itself."

Becker appeared in court this morning a few minutes after the jury was seated. His wife, sat at the side of the room.

"This defendant," began Justice Seabury, "is charged with murder in the first degree. The people do not claim that he fired the shot that killed Rosenthal. But they charge him with procuring the commission of the crime.

"If this defendant, as a lieutenant of police, had a murder done, justice demands that he be convicted and punished by being sentenced to death. But he must be proved guilty beyond reasonable doubt."

"Directly or Indirectly."

Justice Seabury read the jury several statutes dealing with the crime of murder, to show that in law, a man who procured or aided in the commission of murder is to be considered a principal.

"If this defendant," he went on, "either directly or indirectly, procured the murder of Herman Rosenthal, he is guilty as charged.

"The state has introduced both direct and circumstantial evidence. The law does not act upon circumstantial evidence alone. It does act, however, when some direct evidence is introduced. Jurors should not disregard circumstantial evidence simply because it is such."

FIFTEEN BRITONS GUILTY OF FRAUD

Army Men and Civilians Will Be Sentenced May 25.

London, May 22.—Pleas of guilty were handed down today by seven of the nine British army officers and the eight civilians charged in January last with graft in connection with contracts for supplying army canteens.

All the officers except Lieut. Col. Whittaker were connected with the quartermaster's department of the army and had risen from the ranks. The civilians accused were employes of Lipton's, Ltd.

Sentence was deferred until May 25.

Burke Pleads Not Guilty.

New York, May 22.—John Burke, former head of the commissary department in the Panama canal zone, recently indicted for accepting gratuities from dealers in supplies, arrived here yesterday from Colon, pleaded not guilty, and was released on $24,000 bail. Judge Hand set Burke's trial for June 8.

OYSTER BAY BUSY PLACE

Roosevelt Has to Send to New York for Extra Stenographer.

Political Conference Develops Plan for Interstate Campaign.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., May 22.—It took two stenographers to keep pace with Col. Roosevelt this morning as he made his way through a mass of letters and telegrams and dictated replies. Several thousand of these communications have come to Oyster Bay since the colonel's return from South America. His secretary went through them first, sorting out the ones which required the colonel's immediate attention and after they had been cut down to an irreducible minimum there were still several hundred left and the colonel sent post haste to New York for an extra stenographer.

Later in the day several visitors were expected for another of the series of political conferences which he is crowding into the time before his departure for Spain to attend Kermit's wedding. He expects to start early on Tuesday for Washington, where he will address the National Geographic society that evening, returning to New York probably that night. Aside from this trip he expects to remain at home until he leaves on May 30 for Spain.

GERMAN-AMERICAN KILLED BY MEXICANS

Confirmation of Urban's Death Received at Washington.

Washington, May 22.—Confirmation of the killing by Mexicans of Richard Urban, an American citizen of German birth, was received by the state department today. American Consular Agent Montague, at Cananea, reported that Urban and a companion were attacked without provocation at Pointed Mountain, eighteen miles west of Nacozari. A band of Mexicans fired from a house without warning. Urban fell dead, but his companion escaped.

BAYONET WOUNDS IN AMERICAN'S BODY

Porfirio Laurel's Remains Are Recovered From Mexico.

Washington, May 22.—The body of Porfirio Laurel, an American who was killed some time ago in Mexico, has been recovered and taken to Laredo, where it will be buried tonight, according to state department advices today. Examination showed that Laurel had died from bayonet wounds.

CARLOADS OF SOUP IN THE MISSISSIPPI

Product Shipped From Maryland Condemned By Inspector.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Tomato soup is the chief item on the menu for fish in the Mississippi river today. Two carloads of the product made up in 23,000 large cans were dumped into the river here yesterday by order of Judge D. P. Dyer of the United States district court.

It took seven men two days to open all the cans and empty their contents into the stream. The soup was condemned by the government food inspector as being decayed. The shipment came from Maryland.

UNITED LUTHERANS NOW MEETING AT GRAND FORKS

REV. MARTIN G. HEGLUND
Of Grand Forks Who Welcomed the Visitors.

REV. H. J. GLENN
Of Grafton Who Responded to Welcome.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The United Lutheran church here was crowded last night for the opening exercises of the annual convention of the Grand Forks and Park River district of the Young People's League of the United Lutheran church. Rev. Martin G. Heglund of Grand Forks, welcomed the visitors, and Rev. H. J. Glenn of Grafton, responded.

This morning the business of the convention was taken up, including the appointment of committees, reports of which will be received Sunday.

Reports of officers also were received this morning. They show a generally satisfactory condition of work, a great deal of interest being shown in mission efforts. Several societies, it was shown, have taken up a special study of that phase of church work, and have donated liberally to the support of missions.

Rev. T. A. Mason of Concordia college, Moorhead, declared the young peoples' branch of the church was of utmost importance, and he approved of the plan in its entirety.

ORGANIZE AND CHOOSE NAME

The Festival Committee Will Complete Work Begun at Last Meeting.

A permanent organization of the 1915 festival committee will be effected at the special meeting called for this evening and a final selection of a name will be made during the evening, according to A. K. Squier, temporary chairman, who said this morning that these would be the main features of business to be taken up.

The meeting will be held at the Commercial club and it is expected every member of the committee will be present. Notices were sent out earlier in the week by A. C. Pearson, temporary chairman.

At the meeting two weeks ago, the constitution was read and laid over for revision and it will be finally accepted this evening. As soon as this work is accomplished, the nomination committee will announce its slate of officers and governing board and these will be voted on, thus completing the permanent organization of the committee.

Mr. Squier said this morning that the same committee, of which Judge Fesler is chairman, has several names for consideration and that these will be considered and voted on this evening. It is the aim of the temporary officers to complete the permanent organization this evening, select a name and begin active work for the 1915 pageant and celebration.

With the naming of officers and the governing board today, will come the selection of a secretary and the appointing of about eight committees to take up the work for the next year.

Mr. Pearson this morning received an additional organization into the general committee, making a total of forty societies and lodges now represented. The latest is the Women's Relief corps, with the following members composing the committee to take part in the preparations for the pageant: Mrs. T. J. Hyde, chairman; Mrs. J. H. Sullivan and Mrs. M. J. McMillan.

FOUR MEN SHOT IN ROADHOUSE FIGHT

Two Masked Men Shoot Up San Francisco Gambling Place.

San Francisco, Cal., May 22.—With drawn revolvers, two masked men entered a roadhouse on the southern outskirts of the city early today where eight men were playing "Klondyke," a card game. A general shooting that followed cost the lives of a player and one of the bandits. The other bandit was probably fatally wounded and another of the players received a wound in the neck.

The dead:
DAVID WILLIAMS.
JAMES BAILY.

Baily and Edward Donovan, the highwaymen, rushed up to Con Regan, one of the players, crying "We want you," and began firing. Regan tumbled out of his chair quickly enough to escape the bullets.

Williams, who was dealing, tried to interfere and was shot through the head. The other players scrambled to cover.

PICNIC DINNER FOR SUNDAY SCHOOL

First Methodist Church Will Celebrate Victory Over Minneapolis Rival—Some Interesting Statistics On Sunday School Attendance.

The First Methodist Episcopal Sunday school will celebrate its victory over Hennepin Avenue Methodist Sunday school of Minneapolis on Monday evening, May 25, at the auditorium with a picnic dinner, beginning at 6:15.

Since the first Sunday in February these two Sunday schools have been engaged in an attendance and collection contest, which terminated on Sunday, May 10. During the fifteen Sundays of the contest the Duluth school had a total attendance of 8,973, or an average of 598. The Minneapolis school had a total attendance for the same period of 8,214 scholars, making a difference of 759 in favor of the Duluth school. The object of each school was to build up an average attendance of 600 scholars per Sunday and the Duluth school, with a weekly average of 598, made a remarkable showing. On collections the aim was to build up a $20 collection per Sunday and on this point both schools scored 100 per cent, as the collections in both schools averaged this amount per Sunday.

More Children Here.

Some very interesting facts were disclosed by the contest, notably that the Duluth school is composed of many children and young people, while the numbers in the Minneapolis school are recruited from among the adults. The following comparison shows the standing by departments throughout the contest: Duluth kindergarten, 720; Minneapolis, 864; Duluth primary, 1,279; Minneapolis, 864; Duluth junior, 1,970; Minneapolis, 864; Duluth intermediate, 1,243; Minneapolis, 1,045; Duluth senior, 955; Minneapolis, 831; Duluth adult, 2,806; Minneapolis, 3,738. In only one department, the adult, did the Minneapolis school excel and here by a heavy majority.

Supt. Watson S. Moore of the local Sunday school was highly pleased with the outcome of the contest and plans have been carried actively ahead for a celebration in connection with the picnic dinner to be held next Monday evening at 6:15 p. m. at the auditorium. Admission will be by ticket, to be given out next Sunday during the Sunday school hour. Each scholar will be expected to bring his picnic supplies, including the necessary utensils, while coffee and ice cream will be provided by the school.

A very attractive program has been arranged and will include an address by Bishop Quayle, and Supt. E. J. Krafft of the Hennepin Avenue Sunday school will present the Duluth school with an appropriate championship banner. Other speakers will follow, including Dr. Burns and Dr. Hoffman. There will be music and other forms of entertainment.

LAWRENCE WINUM IS AUTO CRASH VICTIM.

Akron, Ohio, May 22.—Lawrence Winum, aged 21, son of Joseph Winum, grand secretary of the Catholic Mutual Benefit association, was almost instantly killed and three others were seriously injured early today when the automobile in which they were riding dashed into a telephone pole in South Akron. Samuel Cohen, owner of the machine, was badly cut about the head. Harry Kerbstein and J. B. Berry were badly bruised and cut.

The party had been spending the evening at the lakes south of this city and were returning to the city at a high rate of speed.

BIG BRITISH BOAT LINES TO MERGE.

London, May 22.—Arrangements were completed today for the amalgamation of the Peninsular & Oriental Steamship company and the British India Steam Navigation company, two of the most important British shipping concerns, with a capital of over $40,000,000.

WALKING ON WATER MAY BE POSSIBLE

Bemidji Inventor Claims to Have Invented Such Device.

Bemidji, Minn., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Persons who do not like to ride in a boat, may walk right on the water, irrespective of its depth or the wildness of the waves, due to an invention of Voldermat Voller of Bemidji. Voller's invention will be manufactured here this summer. Persons who like to walk could walk right across Lake Michigan or go fishing on it, when equipped with the ski. A person could walk to where the fish are biting the most and cast his line.

The ski is fourteen feet long and is built of aluminum. On the ski it is possible to carry 1,206 pounds, without the least danger of getting the feet damp. The ski is attached to the feet of the wearer in exactly the same manner as a snow ski. In the middle of the ski are two paddles to which the feet are attached. Each of these is eighteen inches long.

Propelling Paddles.

These paddles to which the feet are attached are connected with propelling paddles which go into the water. The paddles in thewater are so arranged that when the foot goes forward, the paddles go forward with the water running smoothly through them without resistance. Under the same arrangement, when the foot is brought backward, the water catches in the holds of the paddle and the force with which the foot is moved backward measures the force with which the ski is propelled. The average stride would send the ski forward thirty feet.

Mr. Voller has a patent on the ski in the United States and is getting a patent in foreign countries. Considerable Bemidji capital is said to be behind the proposition.

New Dunn Center Bank.

Dunn Center, N. D., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The First State Bank of Dunn Center has just been organized with a capital of $10,000, and will open for business this week. W. A. McClure of Dickinson is president; Julius Hollet of Gladstone is vice president; Charles J. Keen of Regent is cashier. The incorporators are all well known in this district.

STARK COUNTY SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

Dickinson, N. D., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the annual meeting of the Stark County Sunday School association held here, Taylor was selected as the place for the 1915 convention, and the following officers: President, Rev. A. G. Runion, Taylor; vice president, Mrs. H. E. Haney, Belfield; secretary, Miss Goldie Homer, Dickinson; treasurer, John Orchard, Dickinson; executive committee, B. H. Crawford and D. D. Mars, Dickinson; J. H. Breum, Richardton.

MINNESOTA U TO LOSE PROF. JAMES.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 22.—Prof. Eldon James of the law department of the University of Minnesota has resigned to become dean of the law college of the University of Missouri. Prof. E. G. Lorenzen of the University of Wisconsin, has been selected to take Prof. James' place here.

Prof. James came to Minnesota from Wisconsin about a year ago and has taught general law subjects.

CHAMBERLAIN WOULD EXEMPT U. S. SHIPS

Says Next Move Will Be to Let Railroads Use Canal.

Washington, May 22.—Senator Chamberlain of Oregon, one of the most active Democratic opponents of the bill to repeal the toll exemption provision of the Panama canal act, declared in the senate today that "the same insidious influences" that had been exerted for repeal would soon be "industriously at work cultivating a stronger sentiment in favor of opening the canal to railroad-owned ships."

He declared the transcontinental railroads had fought the construction of the canal, and now sought to have the tolls exemption law repealed. The Oregon senator insisted the Baltimore platform bound the Democrats to support the exemption.

Says People Expect It.

"I do not intend to charge any senator with insincerity in his present course," he said, "but I do charge that our party went to the country in 1912 on this, among other issues, and our candidates were triumphantly elected; and that the change of front on the part of some of the leaders of the party and the vote of congress to repeal the toll exemption clause will rise to plague them in the next campaign."

The senator contended that the exemption was not a violation of the treaty.

Liners Collide.

Liverpool, May 22.—The White Star liner Baltic, which sailed yesterday for New York, collided today with the steamer Clarrie off Holyhead. The liner did not suffer any damage and proceeded on her voyage to New York. The Clarrie was only slightly damaged.

WILL BE DRY ON THE RIVER

No Liquor on Boats and "Life Saving Stations" Are Closed.

No liquor, the intoxicating kind, can be sold on the excursion boats plying the St. Louis river this summer.

That this provision will be enforced was announced this morning by Commissioner William A. Hicken, head of the division of public safety. He states that under the law the city can regulate the sale of intoxicants upon the river and that the safety division proposes to put the "lid" on there as well as in the city.

The declaration of the safety commissioner means that the boats will be "dry" all the time, unless they pay the city $1,000 each for the privilege of disposing of intoxicants at retail. And if they do take out a license, which is considered improbable, they will have to comply with the same state and city laws, which govern saloons. So even though they did take out a license the thirsty members of the community would be unable to "wet their pipes" on Sundays or during legal closing hours.

During the summer the excursion boats have done a thriving beer and whisky business, particularly on Sundays, when the saloons in the city have been closed. Their bars have been very popular on the Fond du Lac trips and the excursions around the horn.

Commissioner Hicken has consulted the Superior officials on the proposition and he states that they have agreed to co-operate with him to stop the sale of liquor on the local excursion steamers.

And not only will the lid be on the boats. At the last election the town of Superior voted dry. The two saloons near the steel plant bridge are within the limits of that township and they will be obliged to cease operations after July 1. Wherefore the St. Louis will indeed be "dry." There'll be "nothing doing" on the boats or at the "life saving stations."

LOOKED LIKE CANNON TO HIM

Highwayman's Revolver "Big Enough for Six Men to Sit on."

When Fred Hoffman gazed into the barrel of a six-shooter, which had been thrust into his face by John Bores, a thug, who relieved him of his watch and other valuables just about dusk on the evening of April 29, last, Hoffman imagined that he was looking into the mouthpiece of a cannon.

"It looked big enough for six men to sit on. It sure looked like some big gun to me," testified Hoffman this morning when he appeared in district court before Judge Bert Fesler and a jury as complaining witness in the prosecution of Bores, who was brought to trial and convicted on a charge of robbery in the first degree.

Bores, indicted under the name of John Baris, and an accomplice, held up Hoffman at 6:30 p. m., April 29, on Michigan street, between Third and Fourth avenues west. The two men took Hoffman's watch and a pocketbook containing $10.50 and escaped before an officer could be called.

Hoffman notified the police of the "touch" and an effort was made by the authorities to find the man, but without any avail. Hoffman determined to do a little sleuthing on his own account and hied himself to Superior, where he suspected the guilty culprits had fled following the robbery.

While walking along Tower avenue on the day following the robbery, Hoffman noticed Bores and another man standing on a corner. He satisfied himself that Bores was the man he wanted and then hunted up an officer and attempted to have both arrested.

It developed, however, that the other man, who was in the company of Bores, was Detective McDonald, a plain clothes man on the Superior police force, and that he had just taken Bores in custody for another robbery at Superior, in which it was claimed that Bores and three others were implicated.

Hoffman accompanied the detective and his prisoner to the Superior police headquarters, where he identified Bores as being the man who had held him up. After describing the pocketbook, which he said Bores had taken from him as having a $10 bill, a Catholic society medal, and a Lincoln penny in it, Bores was searched and the stolen property found in his possession.

Bores was then turned over to the Duluth authorities. His companions, who were implicated in the robbery at Superior, were tried and convicted of the offense and are now serving time.

The jury took the case shortly before noon this morning and reported a verdict after having been out about twenty minutes. The crime carries with it a punishment of from five to twenty years in state's prison. Bores will be brought before the court for sentence later.

Mason M. Forbes, first assistant county attorney, prosecuted the case and M. Bronzkada of Superior defended.

ENDS THIRTY YEARS' SERVICE

Lieut. John Drannen Will Be Succeeded By Sergt. Holstrom.

After serving in the police department for nearly thirty years, Lieut. John Drannen, who is in charge of the West end station, will retire on a pension June 1. His application was recently accepted by the Police Relief association and he retires with a record of having served as an officer longer than any other man in the history of Duluth.

Lieut. Drannen is 52 years old and he was appointed patrolman on July 27, 1884, and he will lack nearly two months of an even thirty years' service, when he retires June 1.

Sergeant C. A. Holmstrom of the West end station will receive the appointment of lieutenant and he will take charge of the office to be left vacant by Lieut. Drannen. His position will be filled after June 1 by Patrolman John Hunter, who is next in line for promotion to the office of sergeant.

These changes on June 1 are the last in view for some time, Chief Troyer said this morning, after his announcement of the retirement of Lieut. Drannen and the promotion of the other two officers.

PALISADE MAN GETS DELIRIOUS.

Moose Lake, Minn., May 22.—Fred Patterson of Palisade, a hoop maker, who was brought to the Moose Lake hospital last week for treatment, became delirious Monday evening. He tried to make his escape from the building, but help was summoned and he was forced back to his room.

BLISS HEIRS TO PAY TAX.

Michigan Governor Had Estate of More Than $30,000 Here.

Heirs of the late Aaron T. Bliss, former governor of Michigan, who died at Saginaw, Mich., Sept. 16, 1906, will pay the state of Minnesota $311.23 as a tax upon their inheritances in this county, according to a determination made by the judge of the probate court yesterday. The Minnesota estate of the former Michigan governor, which is located within St. Louis county, was appraised at $30,000 real estate and $749.29 personal property. All of the heirs live in Saginaw.

SAN DOMINGANS SEEKING PEACE.

Washington, May 22.—Suggestions for a short conference of the various factions involved in the revolution in Santo Domingo with a view to bringing about a peaceful settlement of the trouble in that republic have been made by leaders in the conflict, according to a dispatch to the navy department today from Capt. Eberlee of the United States cruiser Washington, now in Dominican waters.

WILL SEEK IRON IN CASS COUNTY

Good Indications Said to Be Found in Town of Gould.

Bemidji, Minn., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Roads to intersect a state road and work through all the town of Gould and the county of Cass will be built, and wells will be dug, with an idea of analyzing the soil for possible iron deposits in that township, according to three bankers from the Twin Cities. The township is on a geographical line with the Mesaba iron range and the idea is to find out where the line crosses the township.

The country is good clay loam and even though it is found that there is no iron in the vicinity, the Twin City capitalists say that they can loose no money on the investment.

TO WORK FARM FOR SWEARING

Youth Who Insulted Two Girls Must Serve Sentence.

Frank De Witz, 21 years old, who was arrested Wednesday afternoon on a charge of using profane language before two girls, was yesterday afternoon taken to the work farm. He is unable to pay a fine of $40 and costs and will have to serve on the farm for the next thirty days.

De Witz and Lloyd Rood were taken into custody on Wednesday afternoon by Detective Merry and Patrolman Westerlund on the complaint of two girls, who claimed that the young men attempted to flirt with them and that when they resented their action, De Witz swore at them.

Both De Witz and Rood pleaded guilty yesterday morning. Rood escaped a 10-day sentence by paying a fine of $10 and costs.

ASSOCIATED YALE CLUBS IN SESSION.

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 22.—The eleventh annual meeting of the Associated Western Yale clubs opened here today. Five hundred delegates from various parts of the United States are here to attend the convention. The program included the reception of visitors and a business meeting. The program for tomorrow includes a business meeting in the morning, at which officers will be elected for the ensuing year; athletic contests and sports in the afternoon and the formal banquet at night at which Prof. W. Howard Taft will be the toastmaster.

CHICAGOANS SEEK COIN.

Rivals Want Possession of Former Grand Forks Man's Property.

Crary, N. D., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rival guardians of Ole Wickum, formerly of this city, who recently was declared insane in Cook county, Illinois, are seeking control of moneys deposited by Wickum in a local bank.

Wickum has recently succeeded in having himself declared sane by the Cook county authorities, but not so in this county.

Judge Buttz of Devils Lake, who heard arguments on the question, reserved his decision. Approximately $6,000 in cash is Wickum's deposit here.

BANKERS EXPECT REVIVAL FROM CROPS

While the financial situaton is quiet at present, Duluthh bankers aver that the indicatons now are for improvemention the near future. They say the uplift when it comes is likely to be attributable to the favorable crop outlook in the Northwest. Good reports are being received by the management are being received by the managements of the local financial institutions from their correspondents in Western Minnesota and North Dakota. The consensus of opinion is that the crops are on the average as far advanced as last year, and that a larger acreage has been seeded in wheat and coarse grains.

Summing everything up, financiers consider that there is abundant reason to look forward to a good revival in general business during the late summer and early fall months. They regard the commercial and industrial outlook at Duluth and through the Northwest as sound wth no weak spots apparent in any direction.

That wage earners are well employed is evidenced in the general increase in the balances at the credit of depositors in the savings bank department.

Money is still easy with the rate of discount ruling at about 1 per cent below that of last year at this time. A gradual hardening up in money rates, however, is expected from now on.

It is to be noticed that a firm tendency has come about in the money markets at New York and Chicago. Commercial paper is said to be offering in better volume and with expectations of a bumper winter wheat crop, bankers are already making preparations to finance the crop movement. With the Federal Reserve banking system due to be in operation by Aug. 1 less stringency than usual is expected to materialize in taking care of the crop marketing this season.

PRIZE BIRD DOG LACERATES CHILD.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Kenneth Schneiweis, aged 10 years, was terribly lacerated by a dog late yesterday afternoon. While the lad was lying about his home, the animal, a prize bird dog, attacked him, biting him in the face and arm, tearing the lower lip in a horrible manner. It is feared that the dog had rabies, and an examination of the head to determine the presence of the poison, is being made.

I. W. W. FOR SABOTAGE

St. John of Chicago Admits It to Industrial Commission.

Gompers and Hillquit Clash at Hearing in New York.

New York, May 22.—Samuel Gompers, called to the stand by the Federal commission on industrial relations to explain the purposes and methods of the American Federation of Labor, of which he is president, expressed his unwillingness to testify until he could know what attacks on the federation the leaders of other labor bodies intended to make. He was excused from testifying until later, but when Morris Hillquit, a witness representing the Socialist party, discussed labor organization, the commission departed from its ordinary course and allowed Gompers to question him. Hillquit, in return, will have the privilege of examining Gompers on the stand.

The commission spent the day inquiring of Hillquit and others regarding the workings of labor bodies. The purpose of the commission's hearings is to obtain information for recommendation to congress for remedial industrial legislation.

Says I. W. W. Condones Sabotage.

V. St. John of Chicago, secretary-treasurer of the Industrial Workers of the World, testified frankly that the I. W. W. condoned sabotage and injury to the person as means of gaining demands.

The I. W. W. does not advocate the destruction of human life to gain a certain point, St. John told the commission, "and we don't expect to achieve our ends in that way; but we are just becoming intelligent enough to realize that the wealthy class has been supported by a drain on the brain and muscle energy of the working class, without respect for their property, and we don't propose to show any respect for theirs if the destruction of it will gain the desired point.

"The same holds true of human life, and while we don't advocate the destruction of the latter, our members are supposed to take care of themselves in the event of a strike, and not allow themselves to be beaten up."

Hillquit, discussing the activities of the Socialist party, declared that party worked "wherever possible in behalf of government measures for the workers."

"Was your party instrumental in the framing or passing of the workmen's compensation act in this state?" asked Mr. Gompers. "No," replied Hillquit; "if it had been, it would have been a much better bill."

Calls Gompers Inefficient.

Gompers asked Hillquit if he knew the attitude of Eugene V. Debs toward the Federation of Labor.

"Unfriendly to its leaders," the witness replied.

"To make the position clear, once and forever," Hillquit continued, "I want to tell you, Mr. Gompers, that it is quite useless to quote Mr. Debs regarding the American Federation of Labor as representing the views of the Socialist party. It is his private opinion, but I will add that a majority of the Socialist party believe the leadership of the American Federation of Labor to be antiquated and inefficient."

Gompers explained that certain editorials written by himself and published in a magazine were compelled in defense against Socialist party attacks.

BEMIDJI PLANS FOR BIG MEMORIAL DAY

Parade in Which Pupils and Various Others Will Participate.

Bemidji, Minn., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Merchants may close their places of business from 12 to 3 o'clock and 1,000 children will join in a parade that will be a feature of an unusually large number of automobiles, when the old soldiers celebrate Memorial day. There will be a parade to the cemetery and decoration of the graves there in the morning and a memorial service at the city hall in the afternoon.

Lieut. Jack Hillby will be master of the parade. The mayor, the fire department and all lodges in bodies, have been invited to join in a monster parade of which 1,000 school children will be a prominent part. Old soldiers will form at headquarters in Odd Fellow's hall at 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

Marching around what is known as bank block, the block between Minnesota avenue, Third street, Beltrami avenue and Fourth street, the old soldiers will meet the school children. S. C. Bailey, Rube Miller and Joe Bazaar, forming the committee in charge of arrangements, asks that automobiles be in readiness at the city hall at 10 a. m. At the city hall members of the Women's Relief corps will meet the marchers for the automobile parade to the cemetery.

Exercises at Cemetery.

At the cemetery, the Bemidji band will give music. School children will decorate the graves, followed by a song by a chorus. The chaplain of the order will offer prayer, followed by an address by P. G. Pendergast, commander of Carr post, G. A. R. The roll call, the salute fired by old soldiers, taps and benediction will conclude this program. At 12:30 speakers, old soldiers and representatives of the press will be guests at a banquet at the Markham hotel.

Rev. Charles Gilman will open the meeting at the city hall at 2 p. m. with prayer. Mayor William McCuaig will follow with an address, "Why We Observe Memorial Day." School children will follow with a song, S. B. Stewart, superintendent of public instruction, reading the Gettysberg address.

P. J. Russell will give an address on a topic on which he says he is not yet decided. Alden Remfrey, as director, will lead the Bemidji band in music. J. A. O. Preus of St. Paul will follow with an address. A solo will be sung and Rev. Charles Gilman will give the closing prayer.

SUES FOR $10,000.

Widow Brings Action Against G. N. for Husband's Death.

For the accidental death of her husband, Anton Kludzinski, at Superior, Jan. 14, 1913, Elizabeth Kludzinski, yesterday started suit in district court against the Great Northern Railway company for $10,000 damages.

Kludzinski was employed as a section hand. On the day in question, his foot accidentally caught between a switch bar and a cross tie and he was held in that position until a train ran over him. The suit for damages is brought by the widow for the benefit of herself and five children. It is brought under the Wisconsin law, which fixes the maximum liability of the railroad company at $10,000, instead of $7,500 as in Minnesota.

ANNOUNCEMENT

We take pleasure in announcing that Mrs. Margaret Josephine Blair will give a series of lectures next week, commencing Monday at 3 o'clock, and each afternoon, in the Glass Block Tea Rooms.

Mrs. Blair does not need any introduction to the women of Duluth, as the splendid work she has done for the past eighteen years in the University of Minnesota has won for her a wide circle of acquaintances and a splendid reputation throughout the state.

There is no profession so powerful at its best and none so useless at its worst as that of "Home Making." Its principles and subtleties, its manifold duties and responsibilities make it essential that the various kinds and types of Home Making be reduced to a system. Mrs. Blair, director of the Department of Domestic Art in the University of Minnesota, is a practical homemaker by reputation; a keen observer of life and the times. She has evolved some original short cuts to the solution of certain vexed problems.

Her topic for Monday will be "The Table and Its Appointments," also "The Correct Setting of Table for Breakfast, Luncheon and Dinner."

The ladies of Duluth and Superior are cordially invited to attend these lectures, which will be given in the Tea Rooms at 3 p. m.

OBJECT TO DECREE IN GRAN DIVORCE

Attorneys for Mrs. Gran Say Snap Judgment Was Taken.

District Court Judge Cant tomorrow will consider a motion to vacate the judgment of divorce which was entered this week in favor of Victor H. Gran and against Olga Gran.

The motion is urged by B. M. Goldberg and J. A. P. Neal, attorneys for Mrs. Gran, who contend that although the forty days' stay granted in the case expired May 18, they had an understanding with the court that there would be a twenty-day extension in order that they might get out a record of the case on which to base a motion for a new trial. Attorney Goldberg claims that the court had informally consented to the extension but that before any formal order was signed, Attorney McManus took snap judgment.

Attorney Neal says that he informed McManus' stenographer and law clerk that the court had consented to an additional stay of twenty days. It now develops that the stenographer had failed to notify Attorney McManus. The transcript of evidence will cover 1,300 typewritten pages.

MOTHER FAILS IN SUICIDE PACT.

Charleston, W. Va., May 22.—Because they were hungry, Mrs. Kelly Harmon and her daughter, Fay, agreed to commit suicide. The girl divided some poison into two portions, gave one to her mother, and swallowed the other, dying almost instantly. Mrs. Harmon dashed her portion to the floor and called a physician, but he found the girl dead.

Exquisite Hair Tinting

There is a new preparation on the market that is so entirely harmless and so easy to use that there is really no excuse for any woman (or man) to longer tolerate gray or streaked hair.

"Brownatone" meets and overcomes every objection heretofore found to hair stains and is so pleasing in its uniformly splendid results that it has within a few months made thousands of friends who could not now be induced to use anything else.

"Brownatone" is the result of most exhaustive experiements and is absolutely guaranteed satisfactory or money will be returned.

It positively can not be detected, will not rub off or wash off, and is harmless, and permanent in every way.

Prepared in two shades—one for golden or medium brown—the other for dark brown or black. Also in two sizes, 25c and $1.00.

A trial size and an interesting booklet will be sent upon receipt of ten cents, or we will fill your orders direct if your druggist insists upon substituting.

Insist on "Brownatone" at your hairdresser's.

STEEL PLANT SUBURBS WANT SEWER SYSTEM ALSO

Gary Club Declares Drainage More Important Than Water System.

Members Would Provide Healthful Conditions for Increasing Population.

A system of sewers is far more necessary in the western suburbs than water, according to members of the Gary Improvement club. L. S. Zalk, chairman of the public improvement committee of the club, said that a water system while necessary, would be of little use unless there was some system of drainage provided.

"The opinion of the majority of the business men and residents of Gary is that a water system would be of little benefit unless we have a sewer system also," said Mr. Zalk. "Without the sewers the water will have to be drained into cess pools, gutters, or alleys. Such dumping of filthy water would create spots which, especially during the summer, would become breeding places for germs and a menace to the health of the community.

"There are a number of buildings in the suburbs with basements that are full of water because of the lack of a sewer system. This water in basements will not only cause ruination of the building but also will contribute to sickness of tenants. I understand that there have been a number of cases of typhoid fever in the suburb because of this condition. We are expecting a large increase of population this summer, and if we wish to keep these people healthy, we must have a sewer or drainage system which will keep the district free from stagnant water. The property owners here are willing to do their share providing the city will do its share."

The public improvement committee intends taking the matter up with the city commission. The other members of the committee are W. Gredrojc and H. E. Garlock.

WOULD SUBSTITUTE ROCK FOR SAND

Commercial Club Will Discuss Surfacing of Commonwealth Avenue.

Street improvements will be the principal subject discussed Tuesday evening at the meeting of the New Duluth Commercial club. A resolution asking the city to change its methods of surfacing Commonwealth avenue by using crushed rock instead of gravel will probably be adopted.

Many members of the club have criticized the method of dumping gravel on the main thoroughfare when crushed rock can be had so easily. The gravel, they say, is more than half clay and this has in wet weather kept the road in poor shape.

F. W. Damkroeger, president of the club, said that at a small expense the city could get a stone crusher and place it anywhere along the northern end of the street and secure all of the rock that it desired for the street. This rock would, he said, cost the city less and make better material for surfacing, than the gravel which is now being hauled by teams from some point near Fond du Lac.

"The lower end of Commonwealth avenue was given a coating of crushed rock twenty years ago and is in excellent condition," he said. "If the same material were used north of New Duluth, we would have in a short time, a thoroughfare that would be unrivaled in the city."

GARY WILL ASK FOR VOTING BOOTH

Suburban Residents Declare Polls at New Duluth Too Distant.

Residents of Gary intend asking the city officials to create a new voting district with a booth at Gary. Citizens of the district say that there are between 50 and 100 voters in Gary, the majority of whom would vote if it were not necessary for them to walk a mile to get to the polls.

The voting booth now used for the district is at the fire hall in New Duluth. This is about a mile from the center of the Gary business district. This, it is said, is too far for the men to go, and that many who otherwise would take advantage of casting a ballot, will not do so because of the distance.

Business men of the district intend petitioning the council to create the new voting district this spring if possible and will get out a list of all eligible voters living in the district to show the need of such a place.

BACHELORS' CLUB WILL GIVE PARTY.

The Bachelors' club of New Duluth has planned to entertain at another monthly dancing party at the Maccabee hall tomorrow evening. Arrangements have been made to entertain 150 couples.

The club has arranged to have a special bus leave the end of the car line at Seventy-first avenue west at 9 o'clock and returning to the city at the close of the party at midnight.

The Bachelors' club has been organized for about a year and has given a number of enjoyable affairs of this kind during the last winter. Admission to the hall will be by invitation only.

TWO GAMES FOR SUBURBS SUNDAY

New Duluths Will Play Big Duluths; Gary the Steel Plants.

Two interesting baseball games are planned in the suburbs on Sunday. The New Duluth team will play the Big Duluths at the New Duluth grounds, and the Gary team will play the Steel Plants.

The grounds of both clubs are said to be in good shape. The Gary baseball association has just completed fixing up its grounds and Sunday's game will be the initial one played there.

The latter organization is expecting to strengthen its team materially during the next two weeks and, according to its management, will soon seek another game with the New Duluths. The officers of the Gary association are: Al Loffelmacher, president; James Aird, secretary; L. S. Zalk, treasurer; and Nat L. Warren, manager. The directors are: Charles Carlson, J. Marsh, Walter Giedrojc and A. C. Anderson.

AITKIN COMMENCEMENT.

Dr. Hoffman of Duluth to Address Eighteen Graduates.

Hammond will preach the baccalaureate sermon in the auditorium. Commencement exercises will be held Tuesday evening, Dr. Hoffmann of Duluth delivering the address. Class evening will be Friday and the senior promenade June 1.

Most Skin Trouble Readily Overcome

The Active Principle of a Famous Remedy Works Wonders.

Many people have marveled the way S. S. S. overcomes skin troubles. The explanation is the fact that S. S. S. works in the blood and the blood is really a most intricate and extraordinary mass of arteries and veins.

When you come to realize that the skin and the flesh beneath are composed of a network of tiny blood vessels you solve the mystery.

There are wonderful medicinal properties in S. S. S. that follow the course of the blood streams just as naturally as the most nourishing food elements.

It is really a remarkable remedy. It contains one ingredient, the active purpose of which is to stimulate the tissues to the healthy selection of its own essential nutriment. And the medicinal elements of this matchless blood purifier are just as essential to well-balanced health as the nutritious elements of the meats, grains, fats and sugars of our daily food.

Not one drop of minerals or drugs is used in its preparation. Ask for S. S. S. and just insist upon having it. And if you desire skillful advice and counsel upon any matter concerning the blood and skin, write to the Medical Department, The Swift Specific Co., 529 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

Do not allow some zealous clerk's eloquence over something "just as good" as S. S. S. to fool you with the same old mineral drugs. Beware of all substitutes. Insist upon S. S. S.

HOTEL MEN MAKE READY FOR MEET

President of Northwestern Association Prepares Call for Convention.

Edwin H. Lee, president of the Northwestern Hotel Men's association, is already making preparations for the annual convention of the organization to be held at Milwaukee Aug. 19-21.

Mr. Lee, who was elected president at the convention here last August, has been conducting an active membership campaign since he took office, and it is expected his annual address at Milwaukee will surprise every member in the organization. The state of Wisconsin was last summer added to the association and Milwaukee was then selected for the meeting place this year.

Charles S. Biernatzki, business manager of the Mid-West Hotel Reporter, the official organ of the association, has been in Duluth the last few days completing arrangements with Mr. Lee for the convention at Milwaukee. He has been touring Minnesota, Wisconsin and Iowa in the interests of the association.

Mr. Lee is now preparing the annual call for the convention and this will be sent out shortly to all the members.

NEXT YEAR WILL MEET IN SUPERIOR

Duluth Association of Congregationalists End Session.

Aitkin, Minn., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Duluth association of Congregational churches and ministers closed their seventeenth annual meeting here Wednesday evening.

Rev. W. E. Hammond, Aitkin, was elected moderator and Rev. H. R. Harris, Biwabik, re-elected scribe for the ensuing year. The next meeting will be held in Superior in a joint session with Duluth.

Woman's Realm

The members of the Y. W. C. A. financial committee have collected $5,743.50. Of this amount $965.50 was collected yesterday afternoon and this morning. The committee is working hard to bring the sum up to $8,000 by tomorrow night. This was set aside as campaign week. There are about twenty-two women on the committee who are working mornings and afternoons to raise the money required to carry on the various branches of Y. W. C. A. work that are not self supporting and to start a sinking fun for the payment of the heavy debt on the building.

RESIDENCE ASSOCIATION.

New Organization Formed to Aid Travelers.

A new organization of interest to women is the International Residence association that was founded in New York recently. Its purpose is to obviate the difficulties encountered by students and travelers here and abroad in finding suitable and comfortable homes. It plans to include all nationalities and all creeds, in fact to give its services to all who wish to make use of them. It hopes to assist persons who are not able to patronize the higher priced hotels but who are not dependent upon charitable institutions. For this purpose the association plans to publish a directory of certified houses in all the leading cities of the world and to place copies of the directory in libraries, clubs, steamship and railroad offices and institutions where it might be of help to students and travelers desirous of finding a suitable home.

Elks' Dance.

The last dancing party of the season was given at the Elks' club house last evening. Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Swanstrom gave an exhibition of the tango. H. B. Amusements

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Baldwin Players in "The Spendthrift."
ORPHEUM—Motion pictures of "The Spoilers."
EMPRESS—"Believe Me."

Amusement Notes.

If growing audiences are any criterion, the Baldwin Players have made a pronounced success at the Lyceum theater, where they are presenting Porter Emerson Browne's beautiful society play, "The Spendthrift." But three more performances remain of this charming production, tonight, tomorrow matinee and tomorrow night, and judging by the advance sale, the week will wind up in a blaze of glory, for doubtless the house will be crowded the remaining three performances.

Next week, commencing Sunday matinee, the Baldwin Players will present for the second week of their summer stock season, an elaborate production of Paul Armstrong's great play of thrills and laughter, "Alias Jimmy Valentine." This play has a wonderful record of success to its credit, having been produced in every city of note and has won the distinction of being the best liked American play in recent years.

It has been the fashion of late to picturize the work of famous authors, and Selig has advanced this as a fine art in "The Spoilers" from the book of Rex Beach, which is being shown this week at the Orpheum in most spirited and vital fashion. This moving picture play in nine reels had its first public presentation at the spacious and beautiful new Strand theater on Broadway, New York city, and has continued there as the feature, arguing for its perpetuity and popularity. It followed this success as a regular fixture feature at the Studebaker theater on Michigan avenue, Chicago, where it has continued to do wonderful business to "capacity houses."

The significant voice of the great centers where this picture has a showing, speaks volumes for this production, which undoubtedly will become a phenomenal attraction wherever presented. "The Spoilers" is as virile and as red-blooded a romance as any that has appeared in the American class during the decade. It has been visualized in stunning fashion, reflecting upon the astuteness of its progenitor, William N. Selig, and the deep, live sympathetic sense of its producer, Colin Campbell, as well as in the vigorous and responsive action of William Farnum and all the other artists enlisted to make it a star cast extraordinary.

It is not often that the tabloids get such a comedian as "Billy Single" Clifford. Clifford is one of the high-priced comedians of the vaudeville and musical comedy stage, and the popular-priced houses cannot, as a rule, afford to pay his salary. Clifford is at the Empress for the last half of the week, however, and is entertaining Empress audiences with the assistance of a capable supporting company in the musical show "Believe Me." Such an entertainment at popular prices ought to set a new attendance record at the Empress.

Edwin C. Clifford, as the stuttering piano-mover, runs Billy S. Clifford a mighty close race for comedy honors. One of Billy's best lines is:

"It's too bad that a man with so many faces didn't pick out a good one for himself," and Edwin's efforts to tell Billy—and the audience—that he had come to deliver a piano convulsed the audiences last night. He also has a splendid voice and sings some good songs. Billy is as jovial and witty as ever, and provokes as many laughs.

Miss May Collins sings her Scotch songs and tells her Scotch stories in a pleasing manner. The greater part of the music is furnished by the three musical Weston sisters, who sing well and play well on stringed as well as brass instruments.

Other members of the company give to their parts a touch that makes the whole performance very acceptable.

"Believe Me" will continue through until Monday at the Empress.

SAVED LIVES OF 19,750 BABIES

Effect of One Year's Pasteurized Milk Campaign in New York City.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—The great progress that has been made in New York City, saving the lives of babies, was described in a paper by Nathan Straus, read before the International Child Welfare Congress. Mr. Straus, who was unable to be present, had a friend read the paper, and telegraphed his greetings to the Congress.

In writing of the child welfare work, Mr. Straus recalled that when he began his milk campaign 23 years ago nearly half the deaths were of children under five years, while now less than one-fourth of the deaths are in this age group. At the same time, he pointed out that in the entire country 3,000,000 babies die each year without reaching their first birthday anniversary.

Referring to the duplication of his pasteurized milk stations by other private agencies and by New York City, and the adoption by the city of regulations requiring the pasteurization of all milk except that which is certified, Mr. Straus said that the death rate in New York among children under 5 years had fallen year by year from 88.5 per 1,000 in 1891 to 37.3 in 1913, and that this meant that 19,750 lives had been saved last year.

The above report was read before the International Child Welfare Congress in New York City by Nathan Straus, who is authority beyond question.

All the milk and cream we sell is scientifically pasteurized, put up in sealed bottles, and delivered to your door daily.

May we serve you?

NEWS FROM BIRDLAND

Mourning Doves Have Nested Near Vermilion Road—Goldfinches Have Arrived in Large Numbers.

The mourning dove seen early in the week near the Vermilion road, was not a chance visitor, after all. Two mourning doves are nesting this year on the Vermilion road about a mile from the end of the Woodland car line. They are very rare visitors in this part of the country, seldom getting this far north, and local bird lovers do not remember having ever seen them in this district before.

The goldfinches have arrived. These pretty little orange colored birds, commonly called wild canaries, are very common in the vicinity of Duluth during the summer. They are rather late arrivals, but when they do come they are numerous, and this year is no exception to the rule.

The blue birds are also here, and the night hawks have been here for a week or more.

The black birds seem to be more numerous than in former years. There are several varieties to be seen in and around Duluth. The red winged black birds are probably the most common. They have been here for three or four weeks. They frequent rather marshy ground.

A rather uncommon visitor this year is the bronze grackle, or the largest of the black birds. A few of them have been seen in and around Duluth this year.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Woman's Beauty Alone Does Not Keep Love of Man.

An Englishman and a clergyman is quoted as saying that young women are justified in doing everything in their power to attract the men folk, even to kicking up their heels, if in doing so they make an appeal.

In other words he believes in exercising all the sex seduction of which woman is capable, and ends by making it the plan of the all-wise Creator. If women had freer rein, it is thought, single blessedness among them might be reduced. However, I doubt that, since some unmarried women cannot blame themselves because theirs is a case of spinsterhood.

It is not necessary to argue that the Creator made woman to complement man, and that He was moved by the same idea in women's behalf when He made in his image. Even though Biblical authority states that man was made first, he was made primarily to round out woman's usefulness and happiness. That He gave each certain characteristics, mental as well as physical, goes without saying, but how long He intended the physical to outstrip the mental is not on record.

Let us see what happens usually when a man marries a woman simply because she has turned the lure of a pretty face upon him and he succumbs, or when she kicks up her heels to reveal a pair of ankles which are an enticement until he learns, usually after the ceremony, how poor a substitute is either for a loving helpmate.

There are no objections to pretty faces and ankles provided that men are not ensnared by them to the exclusion of other things vastly more important to connubial bliss. I am not prepared to say that marriage engendered by a pretty face solely was ever less productive of misery than in this twentieth century. But it seems so far there is undoubtedly less inclination to endure patiently when once a pretty mask is dropped or pierced to reveal glaring deficiencies never dreamed of in the courting days.

Men still marry women because of their faces. A pretty face often goes hand in hand with other womanly wifely qualities. The former is an asset, providing it is linked with other fine characteristics, but it is foolhardy to select a wife for her physical appearance without thought for anything else.

Pretty faces will continue to capture husbands, but if a woman wants love to endure she will cultivate something in addition, and if a man wants to be lastingly happy, he will make sure that a woman's beauty is more than skin deep.

FIVE GENERATIONS OF BRAINERD FAMILY.

Brainerd, Minn., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. William Greenway has completed a charming family circle of five generations and made a great-great-grandmbother of Mrs. Mary Halsted, mother of Col. A. J. Halsted, publisher of the Brainerd Tribune. The mother of Baby Greenway is the daughter of George H. Murphy of Macon, Mo., a son of Mrs. Emma Murphy of Brainerd, who is a daughter of Mrs. Mary Halsted, for thirty years a resident of Brainerd. Thus the little one is Mr. Halsted's great-great-grandchild, and Mrs. Murphy's great-grandchild and represents the fifth generation of the family. Mrs. Halsted, mother of Editor Halsted, is 90 years old, remarkably well preserved, bright and active in her home. She has living three children, nine grandchildren, fifteen great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild. All of her brothers and sisters have been dead for many years.

BIG BENEFIT TO MANKIND

Activities of Birds as Conservers of the Public Health.

Perform Invaluable Service in Preventing Destruction of Crops.

Washington, May 22.—New light is shed on the activities of birds as conservers of the public health, in a communication to the National Geographic society from Henry W. Henshaw, chief of the biological survey. The survey for a considerable period has been studying the foods of birds by examining the stomachs of specimens killed for scientific purposes.

"The value of birds to the farmer is plain enough, but we do not usually think of birds as having any direct relation to the public health," writes Mr. Henshaw. "To prove that they do, however, it is only necessary to state that 500 mosquitoes have been found in the stomach of a single nighthawk; that in a killdeer's stomach hundreds of the larvae of the salt-marsh mosquito have been found, and that many shore birds greedily devour mosquito larvae. As mosquitoes are known to carry the germs of such serious diseases as typhoid, malaria and dengue fever, it is evident that by destroying such germs the birds are conferring a distinct benefit on man. It may be added that not infrequently ticks are eaten by birds, and that the tick which is responsible for the spread of Texas fever among cattle has been frequently found in the stomach of a bobwhite.

"In considering the many kinds of birds in the United States from the practical side, they may not inaptly be called a police force of the air, the chief duty of which is to restrain within bounds the hordes of insects that, if unchecked, would devour every green thing. To accomplish this task successfully, the members of the force must be variously equipped. As the bulk of insects spend more or less time on the ground, we find more birds are fitted for terrestrial service than for any other. Our largest bird family, the sparrows, is chiefly terrestrial. It is ably aided in its search for insects by the thrushes, wrens, certain of the warblers and many other birds. So many insects burrow into trees that a highly specialized class of birds—the woodpeckers—have been developed to dig them out. The bills, tongues, feet and even tails have been cunningly adapted to this end. The bark of trees also forms a favorite shelter for numerous insects, and behold the wrens, nuthatches, warblers, creepers, with sharpest of eyes and slenderest of bills. The air is full of flying insects, and to take care of these there are the swallows, swifts and night-hawks, whose wings and bodies are so shaped as to endow them with the speed and agility necessary to follow all the turns and windings of their nimble insect prey. The whippoorwills attend to the night-flying insects when most birds are asleep, while the hawks by day and the owls by night supplement the work of other birds and have a special function of their own, the destruction of noxious rodents.

Great Loss of Crops.

"Notwithstanding the fact that the acreage under cultivation in the United States is larger than ever before, and that the crops are greater, the cost of foodstuffs continually mounts upward. Meanwhile the destruction of farm and orchard crops by insects and by rodents amounts to many millions each year. If any part of this loss can be prevented, it will be so much clear gain. Since birds perform such invaluable service, every effort should be made to protect them. This can be done by furnishing nesting boxes for certain species to nest in, as swallows, martins, wrens, woodpeckers, great-crested fly-catchers and others; by planting berry-bearing shrubs about the farm and orchard as food for the birds in winter, and by the establishment of bird sanctuaries where birds may be reasonably safe from their natural enemies and be permitted to live and breed in absolute security as far as man is concerned.

"Last but not least important may be mentioned the element of safety from cats. Friendly overtures to birds from householders who regard tabby as a necessary member of the family are not likely to be successful, or if so, the experiment is apt to end in the death of the confiding birds. Birds and cats do not thrive in the same neighborhood."

SAYS THAT HE KNOWS ENOUGH TO BE JUDGE

"Lay Candidate" Mider Argues Case Before Supreme Court.

St. Paul, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The supreme court this morning heard arguments in the petition of C. B. Jacks, who is seeking to have the name of J. T. Mider, candidate for judge in the Nineteenth district, stricken from the ballot. The point made by Jacks, who was represented in court this morning by Senator George Sullivan of Stillwater, is that Mider is not an attorney.

Mider, who has some unique ideas concerning the judiciary, filed for the primaries. He admitted that he had not been admitted to practice law, but he claimed that he had studied law and so complied with the constitutional requirement which demanded that candidate for the judiciary should be learned in the law. Mider, whose home is at Pine City, argued his own case before the supreme court this morning.

Interpreted the Law.

Facing the court, Mider told that tribunal that the constitutional requirement of being learned in the law did not necessarily mean that a man should be admitted to practice law. He said that a supreme court opinion had held that everybody was supposed to know the law and therefore ignorance of such was no excuse. Mider was very brief in his remarks and intimated that if the case went against him he would not feel hurt.

Mider calls himself a lay candidate. He says that he is for woman suffrage, county option and the initiative and referendum. If elected, he declared, he will discourage the bringing of lawsuits. He says he will settle such differences outside of court.

ENOUGH PRISONERS NOW

Warden Wolfer Wires Government to Send No More.

Stillwater, Minn., May 21.—The population of the Stillwater penitentiary and the St. Cloud reformatory is increasing so rapidly that Warden Henry Wolfer of the prison has wired Attorney General McReynolds at Washington asking that no more Federal prisoners be sent to the Minnesota institutions until further notice.

The last report to the state board of control showed 1,139 persons confined at Stillwater and 517 at the reformatory. This is the largest prison population in the history of the state.

Of the number at Stillwater, 225 are Federal prisoners, whose terms, for the most part, will expire within the next year. The new prison will not accommodate more than 1,200 comfortably and the warden does not feel like taking care of those sent here by the department of justice by crowding the state wards.

The St. Cloud reformatory is crowded and there is urgent need for more room, according to the members of the board of control.

BOOTH BECOMES FEDERAL JUDGE.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge Wilbur F. Booth became a Federal judge today and Daniel Fish, city attorney, became a judge of the district court. Judge Fish took the oath of office, administered by Judge Dickinson, at noon. Judge Booth, who succeeds the late Judge Willard, took his oath of office administered by Judge Sanborn in St. Paul yesterday.

BISHOPS RECEIVED AT THE VATICAN.

Rome, May 21.—Bishop Joseph J. Fox of Green Bay, Wis., Bishop John J. McCort of Phildelphia and Bishop John Ward of Leavenworth, Kan., were received today in private audience by the pope.

SPECIAL TRAIN FOR THIEF RIVER MEET

Soo Will Furnish It for N. M. D. A. Session.

Bemidji, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—In order to accommodate persons from Bemidji, who seek to attend the meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development association, at Thief River Falls, June 3, 4 and 5, the Soo line will operate a special train in each direction, those days. The special will leave Bemidji at 7 a. m., arriving at Thief River Falls at 9:45 a. m.

Leave Thief River at 7.

For the return trip the special will leave Thief River Falls daily at 7 p. m., arriving at Bemidji at 9:45 p. m. daily. Although the time for the meeting is two weeks distant, several Bemidji men have signified their intention of going. These include S. C. Bailey, J. J. Opsahl, either E. H. Winter or Harry Reynolds, and F. A. Wilson.

RED WING SHOE STRIKE IS OFF.

Red Wing, Minn., May 21.—The strike of the employes of the Red Wing Shoe company is over. The men returned to work yesterday morning. This decision was reached at a meeting of the strikers held at Union hall, following a conference of their committee with officers of the company. The employes will accept the schedule of working hours which went into effect Monday from 7:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m., with half a day off on Saturdays. The employes received the assurance of the officials that the ten-hour schedule would be put in force on July 1 and it is also probable that their request that the week's work be made up of ten hours a day for five days with Saturday afternoons off, will be granted. Steps were taken to form a local union.

Antler High School Status.

Antler, N. D., May 21.—The Antler high school will be placed on a more efficient basis, the four-year term being added by the board of education. The move is in line with the effort of the city to obtain a higher classification for the school, thus obtaining greater state aid.

AN ISOLATED PENINSULA

Lower California Is One of the Least Known Territories.

Thinly Populated and Presents Many Sharply Contrasting Conditions.

Washington, May 22.—Lower California, Mexico's isolated peninsula, the coast of which the Pacific fleet of the United States is now patrolling, is one of the least-known territories in North America. The following facts concerning this arm of land, which projects about 800 miles southeasterly from the southern border of California, were given out by the National Geographic society today:

The width of the peninsula varies from about 30 to more than 100 miles, and its irregular coast-line, over 2,000 miles long, is bordered by numerous islands. Being mainly a mountainous, desert region, it is thinly peopled and presents many sharply contrasting conditions. Low sun-scorched plains, where death by thirst awaits the traveler, lie close to the bases of towering granite peaks, belted by forests and capped in winter by snow; desolate plateaus of black lava look down on valleys seamed with green-bordered streams.

Resented By Indians.

At the time of its discovery in 1533 by an expedition sent out by Cortes in search of a fabulously rich island, it is estimated to have been inhabited by 25,000 Indians, who vigorously resented the intrusion and prevented the newcomers from getting a foothold for more than a century. The Jesuites then came in and were wonderfully successful in exploring the peninsula and establishing missions. They established three main trails, one along each coast and the third down the middle, which serve as the regular routes of travel today. The Indians have vanished from all parts of their former territory, except a few in the extreme northern end.

During the last half century all parts of the territory have been visited, mainly by Americans, in search of mines and other natural resources, but little of the knowledge gained has become available to the public. Gold, silver, copper, iron and other minerals and much fertile land have been found, but the scarcity of water, fuel, forage, and the difficulties of transportation have united with other causes to bring about failure to develop the resources.

Hot and Arid.

The climate of Lower California in general is hot and arid. Northern conditions are closely like those in adjoining parts of Southern California; in the middle they are more arid, but the extreme southern end, though arid tropical, has more regular summer rains. The peninsula suffers long periods of drought, during which no rainfall sufficient to start vegetation occurs over large areas for periods of from three to five years. These dry periods may be succeeded by torrential rains, which sweep the country and roll great floods down to the sea. Surface water is scarce and limited mainly to isolated water-holes in the rocks or to springs from which small streams flow a short distance. The Rio Santo Domingo is the one living stream within the peninsula which flows on the surface from its source to the sea throughout the year. These conditions have resulted in the development of the richest and most extraordinary desert flora in the world.

Small Desert Mammals.

The bird and mammal life, however, is closely related to that of Southern California. The plains abound with small desert mammals, such as rabbits, pocket mice, kangaroo rats and others. A large number of the smaller desert mammals never drink water, it having been found impossible to teach some of them to take water in captivity. Antelope, mountain sheep, mule-deer and mountain lions are the only large game animals.

The peninsula is thinly peopled and enormous areas remain uninhabited. The most populous section is the region south of La Paz, where rains are more regular than further north. A few small towns and widely scattered communities along the coast, with a limited number of villages, ranches and miners' camps in the interior, cover the population. Lower California has a territorial form of government, and, owing to its great length, is divided near the middle into a northern and a southern district, Ensenada and La Paz being the respective capitals.

BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR

with simple, safe, home-made tonic. Get from any druggist 6 ounces of Bay Rum, 2 ounces Lavona de Composee and ½ drachm Menthol Crystals. If you like, add 1 drachm of your favorite perfume. Mix thoroughly; apply night and morning with fingers; for dandruff and falling hair. Contains no dye or coloring matter, but one ingredient, according to authorities, actually forces into renewed action the dormant pigment-forming cells and thereby restores prematurely gray hair to its natural color. This same ingredient is also a powerful stimulant to the growth of new hair.—Advertisement.

CLAIMS THERE IS THIRD SEX

London, May 22.—"A new sex is growing up; a third sex—women who deliberately abandon all feminine attributes and honestly do not care for love or passion."

That, according to Sir William Bell, member of parliament for Hammersmith, in an article in the Academy, is the real reason for the growth of the woman suffrage movement.

"The young women of half a century ago who did wool work also wasted thousands of hours of valuable time in practicing on the piano," said Sir William. "In nine cases out of ten she had no taste or inclination for music, and is now as defunct as her grandmother, who swooned in graceful attitudes on every occasion. Women nowadays are taking up a more aggressive position in the world; they travel unchaperoned; they ride alone in taxis, and live like bachelors by themselves in flats, if they think fit, without scandal.

"They want to live their own lives; they do not want to get married or expect it. They imitate men as far as they can in their attire. They smoke cigarettes, and lead useful lives as clerks, typists, telegraphers, actuaries, doctors and take up a hundred other occupations which were formerly for men only. They do not want men; they are learning to be independent of them.

"I do not pretend that all women who follow these occupations are of this class, but I maintain that there is a large and growing proportion of what is practically a third sex. Inasmuch as the proportion of men over women is increasing, I see no harm in it but good. Spinsterhood is no longer the reproach it once was, and women lead far more interesting and brighter lives than they ever did before."

FRECKLES

Now Is the Time to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots.

There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as the prescription othine — double strength—is guaranteed to remove these homely spots.

Simply get an ounce of othine—double strength—from Boyce Drug Store and apply a little of it night and morning and you should soon see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than an ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful clear complexion.

Be sure to ask for the double strength othine as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

CONDEMNING RIGHT OF WAY FOR NORTH SHORE DRIVE

Condemnation proceedings to acquire title to the right-of-way for the North Shore Boulevard, which will extend from Duluth to Two Harbors, were started in district court this afternoon by Harvey Clapp, city attorney.

The city is seeking to acquire title to more than forty separate descriptions of land along the right-of-way of the proposed highway from its western terminus on London road to the east line of St. Louis county, a stretch about sixteen miles in length.

Separate proceedings will be instituted in Lake county to acquire the remainder of the desired right-of-way. The proceedings involve several hundred property owners who are made party respondents to the action.

The North Shore Boulevard, when completed, will be one of the finest driveways in the Northwest. It will follow the contour of Lake Superior from Lester park to Two Harbors.

On Trial for Robbery.

John Koski, charged with second degree robbery, was brought to trial before District Judge Fesler and a jury this afternoon. He is charged with having on April 20 stolen $5 from Axel Kurhela, while the two were together under the Lake avenue viaduct. Kurhela's shouts brought Officer Link, and Koski was sighted fleeing in the direction of his boarding house. When the patrolman caught him he had one silver dollar in his hand. The officer claims that that while Koski was crossing the tracks, he saw and heard one of the dollars alleged to have been stolen fall and clink against the steel rails.

PRESBYTERIANS MAY APPOINT CHAPMAN

Committee Would Have Him for Representative-at-Large.

Chicago, May 22.—The report of the permanent committee on evangelism was the principal subject considered by the delegates to the 126th general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States in the morning session today.

The report showed that 147 conferences and institutes on evangelism had been held in the last year throughout the country, and that $10,199 had been expended in the work. The general assembly was asked to authorize the committee to appoint J. Wilbur Chapman, the evangelist, as representative at large, and to appoint such special evangelistic representatives as necessary.

PLACED ON PAROLE.

Accommodating Lunch Stand Operator Escapes Reformatory Sentence.

Joe Treneska, 18, lunch stand operator at First avenue east and First street, who forged names to two orders and two checks to accommodate Vicent and Alfred Carter, bicycle thieves from Superior in order that they might sell their loot here, has pleaded guilty to forgery in the second degree. Judge Fesler yesterday paroled him under a reformatory sentence.

Treneska wrote out two orders and signed what purported to be the parent's names. The boys disposed of their loot at a second-hand store conducted by Sam Golin at 338 East Superior street, who in turn gave them checks payable to their parents. The young men brought the checks back to Treneska who again very obligingly forged their parents' names as indorsers.

The Carter boys were arrested for the theft by the Superior authorities.

OBITUARY

Patrick Farley, one of the last of the old Bowery politicians, was found dead in the rooms above his saloon from hardening of the arteries. He was 68 years old.

Farley was a member of the New York board of aldermen in 1884 and was indicted for bribery in connection with the "boodle" aldermen. The indictment was dismissed before trial. He was the Tammany leader of his district, and was one of the confidants of Tweed.

ENGLISH "SPORTSMEN" DEVISE ODD MATCHES.

New York Press: Golfers and fishermen recently have been reading with a chuckle of a quaint match that has taken place on a Shropshire, England, golf course between a golfer using the usual clubs and ball and an angler with his rod and a 2½-ounce fishing weight.

A large crowd watched while the angler endeavored to get round the course in fewer casts than the golfer made strokes.

The angler started favorite, and, of course, bunkers had no terrors for him. But he lost heavily on the longer holes, though some of his best casts were more than 100 yards, and was well beaten on the round, taking 102 casts against his opponent's eighty-seven strokes.

Another famous freak match was fought out several years ago between an archer and a golfer. The bow and arrow won easily, in spite of the archer's difficulty in holing out with an arrow instead of a ball.

The match was played on a Hampshire, England, course in 1898, and, as far as is known, is the only one of its sort. But it is not many years since a Sandwich crack offered to play any one a round with a champagne bottle as the one and only club, and comfortably beat a duffer from another club who rashly accepted the challenge.

Bottled tennis has been tried, too, and here again the man with the bottle won. The bottle expert was an Irish ex-champion, and the match, which took place at Kingston, was against a woman player of good class. The bottle was a soda water one and the result has often been cited as a proof that no handicap, however severe, can put a really good player "off the map."

Freak matches of this sort prove what accuracy of eye and hand can do, but some curious contests are freaks pure and simple. There is a case on record of a five-set tennis match between a life guardsman in heavy marching order and a player mounted on a polo pony, shod with leather shoes for the occasion.

The mounted player won by three sets to two. When the end came the guardsman was so exhausted as to need medical assistance.

Freak football is rare indeed, as the football authorities would certainly disapprove. But a funny blend of footer and cricket brightened the sporting records of Yorkshire three or four years ago. An association team of "Old Boys" started their training for the season by tackling the school first eleven in what the challengers called "foot cricket."

Foot cricket turned out to be cricket played with a football instead of the regulation ball, the footballing side to meet the ball with their shooting boots instead of the regulation bats.

The game was fast and exciting. Clean bowled wickets were out of the question, but miskicks into the hands of the slips gradually laid most of the footballers low, while the cricketers mostly fell to catches at silly mid-on by the football team's goal keeper.

Lancashire and Yorkshire are the home of quaint sporting contests. Large sums have changed hands over matches between champions in the art of balancing a cork on the end of the nose, an art some northern workmen practice a good deal in their spare moments. And curious challenges keep appearing at times in the Northern English sporting press.

In one recent advertisement the advertiser backed himself for £20 to throw the case of a match box further in twenty throws than any other man in England.

GLADSTONE'S SUBTERFUGE.

Washington Star: Once, when Gladstone was very old, he was traveling, and at every station the people in hordes insisted on shaking his hand. As Gladstone was in poor health, this began to weaken him considerably.

So a secret service man knelt beside Gladstone, and from beneath Gladstone's rug shook hands with the people through the window one by one.

This scheme worked very well, indeed. Gladstone's strength was restored, but his admirers, after their false handshake, would comment after this fashion:

"Hain't the old man got a hand? Goodness, what grip!"

"Aye," another would hiss, "but did ye notice his nails?"

PRUNE DESSERT.

Mother's Magazine: One of the most palatable of desserts is made by taking a pound of prunes and boiling them down with a quart of water and a cup and a half of sugar. This mixture is then removed from the stove and strained. There should be about a pint of the liquid. Dissolve half a box of gelatin in one-half pint of boiling water, add the juice of one lemon, and pour it over the dessert. Put it into the refrigerator to jelly. Serve in sherbert glasses and heap whipped cream over the top.

CIVILIZING THE WORLD

Y. M. C. A. Doing Big Work Through Its Foreign Secretaries.

Visitor From Porto Rico Talls of Progress in West Indies.

"America, through its foreign Y. M. C. A. work, is taking a wonderful part in the civilizing of the world," said Cameron Beck, assistant Y. M. C. A. secretary at Porto Rico, who arrived in Duluth this morning.

Mr. Beck has for several years been associated with George F. Tibbetts, international secretary for the West Indias. Both he and Mr. Tibbtts are in Duluth today. This evening at 6:30 o'clock they will be the guests of honor at a supper at the Y. M. C. A. building, and following this, beginning at 7:30 o'clock, they wil give an illustrated talk on "A Journey to the Strategic Cities in the World." This travelogue, illustrated with 270 stereopticon views, will cover Porto Rico, Cuba, Mexico, South America, Russia, Greece, Turkey, Egypt, India, Ceylon, China, Japan and the Philippines. It will be free and any person interested may attend.

Mr. Beck in telling, this morning of the Y. M. C. A. work abroad, said that it was not the purpose of the Y. M. C. A. to permanently support the work in foreign cities.

"The association," sad Mr. Beck, aims to pick out the strategic cities, and send a man there to organize the work with the assistance of the residents of that city, and so train his assistants that they can continue the work after he has left. In Porto Rico we have built up an association that is now reaching about 600 men. It has the support of the leading men of the island. They have taken their coats off, metaphorically speaking, and are giving their best efforts to make the association a success. Your Duluth association has made possible the wonderful work of B. A. Shuman in Buenos Aires, and similar work is being carred on in about 180 foreign cities. In Pekin, China, the new president of the republic personally supports one of the native secretaries.

"Through the medium of these foreign secretaries the Y. M. C. A. is taking a big part in civilzing the world."

EASTERN REPORTS MORE FAVORABLE

Optimism of Duluth Men Seconded in Cleveland Marine Circles.

Reports from marine men in the East concur with statements made this week by Duluth men that business conditions on the lakes will greatly improve in the near future. It is the consensus of opinion that the improvement has already set in. The Cleveland Plain Dealer summed up conditions as follows yesterday:

"Conditions in the lake trade generally are better than they were early this month. Improvement will probably be slow, but vessel men as well as some of the shippers look for a good finish. That there will not be employment for all the boats next month is pretty certain, and they may not all be wanted in July; but the prediction is made that conditions will be close to normal when the late grain movement starts.

"Demand for grain tonnage is light and big carriers cannot be placed. There was a little inquiry for small boats today at the old rates. A few boats are being dropped, but others are starting, and the supply of tonnage exceeds demand. A Cleveland steamer unloading grain at Buffalo was ordered to lay up today.

"Offerings of large carriers for coal are liberal, and a number of vessels of that class were turned down during the last few days. Small boats are having no trouble getting loads."

COAL SHIPPER ASKS FOR BOATS

Ohio Mining Law Decision May Reduce Lake Traffic.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 22.—A prominent coal shipping company yesterday informed vessel managers who usually get contracts that it will let contracts for the transportation of its coal within the next two weeks. The managers were asked how much coal they can handle this season without being forced to run light one way.

The coal will go to Lake Superior ports and will amount to about 1,000,000 tons. The shipping company does not want to make contracts that will make it necessary to force owners to run their boats light.

The lake trade got another setback yesterday when the Ohio screen coal law, which went into effect yesterday, was declared constitutional. This law provides all coal mined in Ohio shall be weighed before going over the screen and the miners paid on this weight. The mining rate will be lower per ton than on the lump basis, but the operators are so opposed to it that it is prophesied the Ohio mines will be closed for several months. Ohio coal shipments last year amounted to about 10,500,000 tons. No Ohio coal has been shipped this season as the mines were shut down April 1 and have not been opened.

The ore market is not any more brisk than it was at the opening of the month. The iron and steel market does not seem to improve and until it does, little change will be noticed in the lake ore traffic. There is some ore being given to outside boats, but only a few have been taken so far.

FIRST CUYUNA CARGOES SHIPPED

The first ore cargoes loaded at the Northern Pacific docks this season cleared port today. The steamer G. A. Flagg and barge S. D. Warriner of the M. A. Hanna company's fleet, which arrived in the local harbor yesterday, were the first to clear. Several other vessels are loading with the Cuyuna product.

Grain also was moved in considerable quantities last night, despite the low freight rate. Three grain boats, two large and one small, cleared with wheat and oats. The George Peavey, which was reported to be headed for the dry dock, took on a cargo of grain. The W. K. Bixby and Lewiston also carried grain.

LAKE PASSENGER OUTLOOK BRIGHT

Bookings up to date for the coming passenger season in the Great Lakes augur unusually well for a big tourist traffic. Until the last few days little business was expected before June, but bookings have come in so fast that marine men are extremely optimistic.

The new passenger steamer Noronic, which will open the season for the Northern Navigation company June 9, already has a large number of bookings and will soon have a full quota, according to Harry Hurdon, manager for that company in Duluth. Mr. Hurdon says the new vessel will arrive at Duluth June 8 and depart June 9.

Mr. Hurdon says the Northern Navigation company will have far better service this season than ever before because of the new boat Noronic, which is said to be the finest passenger vessel on the lakes. The service will be tried tri-weekly, departures falling on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. This company now has three big vessels touching at Duluth, the Noronic, Hamonic and Huronic.

SMOOTH, BUT IS CONVICTED

Smart Crook Is Not Quite Smart Enough to Escape Law.

Faces Prison for Swindling Woodsman in "Short Change" Deal.

Two hours and fifteen minutes after James Ray Miller was put on trial in district court yesterday afternoon he stood before the court convicted of the crime of swindling one Severt Tverdahl out of $60 while they were fellow passengers on a Canadian Northern train bound from Fort Frances to Duluth on April 9.

After three minutes' deliberation, a jury found Miller guilty of the crime as charged in an indictment returned by the May grand jury. The crime carries with it a punishment of from two to five years in the state penitentiary or reformatory. Miller will be brought before the court later for sentence.

Miller is a young man of the J. Rufus Wallingford type and one of the smoothest appearing criminals who have appeared in district court for many moons. On the witness stand, he denied the story told by the complaining witness and others and insisted that his accusers had made a grave mistake.

While the two men were coming down on the train on the day in question, Miller asked Tverdahl to give him some bills for small change. Tverdahl obligingly said he could accommodate him and the money changed hands. Tverdahl counted the roll which Miller handed back to him and found it to be $1 short.

Says a "Dollar Shy."

He called Miller's attention to the fact and Miller apologetically took the roll back, recounted it and said: "You're right, I'm a dollar shy." He deftly substituted another roll by a sleight of hand trick and handed it back to Tverdahl with four 25-cent pieces. Having just counted the roll, Tverdahl pocketed it and did not learn that he had been swindled until he had reached Duluth and Miller had left the train.

William Martin, a conductor for the Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific, had noticed money passing between Miller and the unsuspecting-looking Tverdahl, and just before the latter left the train he asked him to count his money. To his chagrin, Tverdahl found that the most of the bills he had in his fat roll were $1 bills, and that he was in reality $60 "shy."

Miller was arrested on the following day when he attempted to board a train back to Canada.

West End

LET CONTRACT FOR "WAY OF LIGHT"

Report on Superior Street Job Made at Club Meeting

The contract for a "way of light" on Superior street was let yesterday by the committee of the West End Commercial club, according to a report given the club at its meeting last night. The contract was let to F. O. Peterson, and the installation of the standards and wires will be made in conjunction with the work of repaving the street.

There will be thirty standards erected from a point half way between Eighteenth and Nineteenth avenues to a point half way between Twenty-first and Twenty-second avenues. The standards will cost the property owners $1.75 a front foot and the yearly maintenance will amount to 71 cents a front foot.

The committee received recently the consent from the two remaining property owners, who had been holding out against the proposition, and immediately made arrangements to let the contract. The members of the committee are A. B. Anderson, chairman; S. W. Hill, E. H. Olson, Matt Koneczny, and August Width.

URGE THAT CITY ACT.

West End Would Have Railroad Street Opened Up.

The city has so far taken no action in getting Railroad street opened or preparing it for team traffic, according to a report given by W. L. Bernard at the meeting of the West End Commercial club last night. The club recently indorsed a proposition for using the material taken from Superior street in repairing the highway along the water front from Garfield avenue to the docks east of that point.

Members of the club said that the city commission was holding out until such a time as the court should decide the awards to be made to the railroads for damages for opening the street. The merchants present said that such delay was unwarranted as the thoroughfare was a necessity to the district and should be had at any cost.

LODGE MEMBERS WILL ATTEND CHURCH.

Members of Trinity lodge, U. D. A. F. & A. M., have been invited by their chaplain, Rev. W. E. Harmann, to attend services Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at the St. Peter's Episcopal church, Twenty-eighth avenue west and First street. The members will meet at the Woodmen hall at 10 o'clock and march to the church in a body.

West End Briefs.

A. C. Bertwin of Omaha, Neb., is spending a few days in this end of the city.

Mrs. F. O. Peterson, 2720 West Second street, will entertain this evening for the Young People's Society of the Swedish Baptist church.

The funeral service for David S. Hoving, 21 years old, who died Tuesday at the county sanitarium, was held this afternoon from Olson & Crawford's undertaking rooms. Burial was in Park Hill cemetery.

Misses Agnes and Myrtle Ostling of Grand Forks, N. D., are guests of relatives in this end of the city.

Albert Utreck of Wadena, who has been visiting in the West end left for the Twin Cities last night.

Series of Revivals.

Elder Joseph Carlson of Denver, Colo., will hold a series of revival meetings at the Swedish hall, 1911 West First street, beginning Sunday. At 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon a meeting of the "Heliga" society will be held and at 7:30 o'clock a meeting will be held for the public.

Get This Fellows! Latest Styles $15

When You've Decided You've Thrown Enough $10 Bills Away on Clothes—Let Me Make Your Spring Suit for $15.

Why should you pay $25 or $30 for a made-to-measure suit? What is there about a suit that should make it cost that much? Three or four yards of cloth—the cutting—trimming—sewing? No sir! It's the process by which it's made.

The man who buys his cloth by the single piece, like the small custom tailor, pays a big price for it. The bigger man who buys by the bolt, pays a big price. These men pay the manufacturers a profit, the jobber, the wholesaler, and then they add on their own—and you pay $25 or $30 for the suit.

That's the whole scheme, fellows. But listen. I am a branch of the Glasgow Woolen Mills. Our woolens are figured in carloads. They come direct from the looms, to our big floors, where they are inspected, shrunk and rerolled. Think of what we save, fellows. Think of how little the goods for a suit costs us. Next to nothing. Then we sell direct to you. We cut out jobbers, sub-jobbers, wholesalers, and all their profits. And the result is, fellows, that I can make you the swellest little Spring Suit that ever graced your back for $15.

Break away from the old fogey idea that $15 can't buy a real made-to-measure suit. Just ponder about what I've told you. It's modern business that makes this low price possible. You've been following an old rusty idea that's cost you $10 more for every suit you've bought—Chase it! Let me makes your Spring Suit. Pay me $25 for the suit and I'll put a crisp $10 bill in the right hand pants pocket, or pay me $15 straight. Take me up? George Mills, Mgr., Glasgow Woolen Mills Store, 333 West Superior street.

P. S.—I've got the finest made-to-order pants proposition in town. Regular $5, $6 and $7 trousers are going now for $2.75. Come in and look them over.

WILD ANIMAL SHOW COMING IN JUNE

General Agent of Barnes' Circus Outlines Nature of Program.

General Contracting Agent Murray A. Pennock of the Al G. Barnes Wild Animal circus, is here today arranging for the appearance of the Barnes show in Duluth on Thursday, June 11.

"The Barnes circus is different from others, because the entire entertainment offered is given by trained animals—largely wild animals," said Mr. Pennock.

"Al. G. Barnes, the wild animal training wizard and proprietor of the Barnes' shows was the originator of the wild animal circus, launching the innovation nine years ago. That the new amusement idea met with approval from the public is attested by the fact that his circus now ranks as the largest animal show in the world.

"For thirty-five years, Mr. Barnes has been a trainer of wild animals, and early in his career decided that the public would welcome an exclusive, clean, wholesome entertainment given by educated animals, and to that purpose he bent his efforts. Every one of the 600 acting animals now with this great show, has been trained under his personal supervision—the greatest number ever assembled in one collection.

"Big, thrilling, sensational wild animal features predominate on the program—lions, tigers, leopards, jaguars, pumas and bears being shown in great groups. Twenty-four African lions appear in the arena at one time under one trainer's direction. Elephants, camels, zebras, seals, sea lions, kangaroos, dogs, goats, monkeys and a troupe of 550 beautiful horses and ponies are a part of this animal-acting aggregation.

"A many sided man, is our Mr. Barnes. He fondles the lions, tigers and bears, and they answer his call as that of a friend. When they become unruly or 'go bad,' Barnes becomes the trainer and reduces the beasts to a state of tractability again. He is known as the only circus owner in the world who can work any act in the show. Horses are his particular hobby, and with his show can be seen some of the finest bred and best trained horses known to exist."

WILL CELEBRATE BANNOCKBURN DAY

Clan Stewart Will Observe on June 24 Six Hundredth Anniversary of Victory Over England Which Made Scotland an Independent Nation; Ambitious Social Program.

Clan Stewart is making special preparations for what will probably be the biggest meeting ever held by the clan for the evening of June 24.

June 24, 1314, was the date of the battle of Bannockburn, where Scotland won the victory which made her an independent nation. The six hundredth anniversary of this event is being celebrated b Scotsmen all over the world.

Clan Stewart will on that evening combine with the Bannockburn anniversary ecelebration a reception to the large class of new members that has joined the clan since Jan. 1. Under the leadership of Angus G. Macauley the clan has already broken all records for increase in membership during the last six months. An effort will be made to supplement the work already done by getting a class of 100 for initiation on the Bannockburn anniversary night.

Many Scotsmen from the range are expected to be in the class for that evening as the project to organize a clan on the range has been abandoned and the range Scotsmen will place their membership with Clan Stewart until a range organization is more feasible than at present.

Warm weather does not interfere with the social activities of the clan, for at its last meeting arrangements were made for a social program by which there will be a form of entertainment at the clan hall, 112 Fourth avenue west, every Wednesday evening from now until June 24.

On Wednesday evening next a concert and minstrel show will be given. The bagpipe band will appear on the program twice and a number of Scottish songs will be rendered by singers who have not previously appeared in the clan's entertainments. One of the new men will be Robert Drummond, who will render one of the greatest of Scottish patriotic songs, "Scotland Yet." For the last hour of the program the entertainment will be furnished by a minstrel troupe, which has been carefully trained during this last month and which has assumed the name for this occasion of the "Ebony Exponents of Melody."

Richard Jones is in charge of the troupe and Charles Ashby is the musical director. Tom Young, Jack McLaughlin, Charles Ashby and William Culligan will act as end men with Richard Jones as interlocutor. The other members of the troupe are A. R. Macaulay, James Ryan, J. McLaughlin, John Alvin Johnson, T. A. Noreen, Fred Bahr, James L. Hubbard, S. E. Keittor, E. H. Fray, Carl Johnson, Sam Jones, Robert Latture, Hadley Hanson, E. J. Maybray and Erick Johnson. Old-fashioned songs will be featured and there will be several specialties which will be particularly adapted to amuse Scotsmen. Informal dancing will follow.

SOO FARM TRAIN.

Will Make Trip Over Much of North Dakota.

Fargo, N. D., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Making at least half the counties of the state, the Soo road is to send a live stock train over North Dakota, beginning June 8. The train will be made up at the agricultural college here and there will be the best types of cattle, hogs and sheep that can be procured with special emphasis on dairy types.

F. A. Hoverstad, industrial commissioner of the road and formerly director of the farmers' institute work in North Dakota, will have six lecturers on the train, two from Minnesota and there will be four cars on the special. The Soo lines from Fairmount along the southern part of the state will be covered, then to Bismarck, Washburn, Drake, over the new branch, then the wheat line to the western edge of North Dakota and back over the main line from Portal to Fairmount.

OUR DUTY TO EXPATRIATES.

A very lively issue has been raised by the refugees returning from Mexico, particularly those who came by way of Tampico, where they were rescued by foreign battleships.

What is the duty of the United States toward Americans who invest their money and settle in foreign lands, when their lives and property are threatened by revolutions and the like?

The members of this particular crowd have done much to forfeit public sympathy by their ridiculous clamor. They came back from Tampico foaming at the mouth because our battleships lurked out at sea and British and German ships had to take them out of danger. They threatened to forswear their American citizenship because of this; though later it developed that Admiral Mayo kept out of Tampico at the request of English and German officers because the appearance of his ships there would have enraged the Mexicans and endangered the lives of the refugees, and that he went to sea only after getting the promise of the English and Germans that they would take care of the Americans.

Nevertheless, the issue is a real one, and important. Have Americans who have expatriated themselves and their capital a right to command our army and navy to follow them and get them out of whatever trouble they may get into; or do they embark in foreign investments and enter upon foreign residence at their own risk and peril?

> When Americans go to Mexico to do business and live there year after year as alien residents, acquiring property and in other ways staking their fortunes on the character of the government which the native population provides, they deliberately assume risks which they cannot thrust upon the government of the United States, which in the last analysis is the people of the United States. Their property in Mexico pays no taxes for the support of the government of their own country. They go to Mexico purely for the money they can get out of Mexico, and to assume that the rest of us—a hundred millions or so—must go to war to afford them a security which Mexicans themselves cannot hope to obtain, is unreasonable in the extreme.

This is the logical view of this issue, and the one this newspaper has consistently taken.

The Portland Oregonian, on the other hand, says:

> That seems reasonable on its face, but if that policy had been followed from the foundation of the republic where would the American nation have been today? This nation is founded on the instinct of the adventurers of all nations to "move on" into new lands and to push the frontier before them. If the first adventurers who colonized the Atlantic coast and the western slope of the Alleghenies had followed the Republican's theory, the frontier would not have advanced beyond the Ohio river. American settlers in Tennessee and Kentucky and in what were called in early days the Northwest Territories would have been abandoned to the British. Oregon would have become a British colony and the British flag would have waved from the Ohio river to the Pacific coast. Texas would not have been annexed, the Mexican war would not have been fought and California and the Southwest would still have been Mexican territory.

A comparison between protecting people who move themselves and their money to a foreign land, and protecting citizens who pioneer in a new part of our own country, is absurd. Nor is the acquisition of new territory, as in the case of Texas and California, a matter that has anything whatever to do with the case of these refugees.

Those who invest their money and establish a residence in a foreign land do so at their own risk. They accept the hazards of whatever conditions they find there, and when trouble comes they have no right to command those who remain at home and pay taxes and support the home country to come down and bleed and die to protect their expatriated investments.

And to think that Penrose was nominated on the very day Teddy got back.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS.

6.—Four-Year Terms for Judges of Probate.

The term of judges of probate is now fixed by the Constitution at two years.

The terms of all other county offices being in the control of the legislature, that body in 1913 enacted a law fixing them at four years.

The judge of probate, then, is the only county officer now having a two-year term.

The amendment is wise for the sake of uniformity, and because four-year terms mean fewer elections and consequently less expense. Besides, the four-year term will give county officers more time to spend on their jobs because they will need to take less time to seek re-election. Therefore this office should be put on the same basis as the others.

The amendment should be adopted.

A lot of people will be glad the Bull Moose party has returned because now they will soon learn what they think about certain things.

CAN THE OLD GUARD COME BACK?

"Uncle Joe" Cannon announces that he is a Republican candidate for congress in his old Illinois district.

Joseph B. Foraker is a leading candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator in Ohio.

J. Adam Bede is a candidate for the Republican nomination for congress in the new Tenth district of Minnesota.

Can the Old Guard come back? Obviously, it is trying to come back. It must be looking—or hoping, more likely—for a reaction in public sentiment that will put it back in power again. We think its hopes are vain. But the primaries—and November—will tell the tale.

Governor Eberhart implies that the primary law is a good thing because it was in operation when he was nominated. The governor ought to be sufficiently experienced in politics by this time to avoid throwing that kind of boomerang.

MORGAN AND THE NEW HAVEN.

That's a captivating and illuminating story Mr. Mellen is telling about how the late real ruler of this land—J. Pierpont Morgan—played the role of czar in the management of the New Haven.

Apparently the late monarch of finance viewed this railroad system as his absolute domain. He issued orders, and it was the duty of railroad presidents to execute them. No more than mere office boys might they reason why, or question his policies. And so the New Haven was drained dry, while the system ran down and the service deteriorated and grew unsafe and got into the way of having many fatal wrecks; and meanwhile, to keep the game going, the public's servants were debauched.

Mr. Mellen's striking story—which is much more striking when we reflect that in all probability the New Haven is by no means the only property so treated—reminds us that only a little while ago J. P. Morgan & Co. issued a statement showing that for all the firm's work as "fiscal agent" for the New Haven, it paid itself only a ridiculously small sum, a paltry two or three hundred thousands.

Whereupon the soft pedal press of New York came out reproachfully and said: "Now, aren't you ashamed of yourself for having attacked so bitterly those nice and kind men who run our finances and our industries for us? Look how delicate they were about taking pay for their great services! Surely this ought to end all this rude talk about the New Haven and the Morgans."

But it didn't end it, by any means. The talk had just begun.

Our sympathies are with Folk, who wants to find out all about it, rather than with McReynolds, who wants to bottle it up for fear Mellen will get immunity. The game Morgan played is ended—we shall hope—but it will be worth while finding out how it was played so it will be easier to withhold opportunities for playing it again.

Also the people will expect the Colonel to say something about the proper length of presidential messages.

A ROAD-MAKING BEE.

The Duluth Auto club plans a stunt. It proposes to have its members take off their coats, pick up picks and shovels, and tackle a six-mile stretch of poor road between Hinckley and Mission Creek.

The club plans to make it a regular road-making bee. The governor will be asked—and of course he'll come and make a speech and even take up a shovel and turn a clod or two—and everybody who wants to do an honest day's work for the good of humanity will have a chance.

It won't be expert labor. In point of fact most of it will be labor that is wholly unused to real work, and that will get its hands blistered and its muscles sore and its back to aching very quickly. But that will be good for it, and it won't hurt the road any. Probably it will help it quite a good deal, and anyway it's good advertising for the cause of good roads—and incidentally for the Duluth Auto club.

It's a bully stunt. We heartily encourage the Auto club to go to it, and maybe if we can get a day off we'll go down and sit on a grassy bank in the shade and witness the phenomenon. It will be a real phenomenon—to see these men really working.

If Mr. Mellen doesn't stop pretty soon, the Colonel will have hard work to get into a proper frame of mind for Kermit's wedding.

A TERRIBLE CHARGE.

Those are shocking charges that are made by a Federal grand jury which has indicted five employes of the independent steel company which furnished the steel for the locks in the Panama canal.

It is charged that the steel furnished was cleverly adulterated, and yet was such cheap stuff that the locks might have given away at any time if the government had let it get into the locks. Fortunately it didn't, and the locks are safe.

We shall hope that the charge is not true—not only because of the menace of weak locks in the canal, but because of the stigma it would throw upon American industry.

If it is true, it is appalling and dastardly.

The canal itself was built by government servants upon honor. It is an honest job. The steel for the locks was furnished by private capital, for profit. And it is charged that this steel is dishonest, and a source of peril to the canal.

Socialism will make much of this incident—if it is true. Let's hope that it will turn out not to be true.

Fining a man twenty dollars for waving a revolver around may make him peevish for the time being, but ten days on the rock pile would keep his memory refreshed at least as long as the callouses lasted.

Home Is Where the Heart Is.

To the mother who sits in the twilight alone
There comes a deep sigh of unrest,
Like that of a bird in the fall of the year
That sings to an empty nest.
She sighs that the harvest of life is past,
That her work for the children is done,
For the sweetness of life that ebbed slowly away
As they left her one by one.

With folded hands as the night comes on,
She sits by the open door,
Watching in dreams the faces aglow
As she saw them in days of yore.
There was Ned, the first-born, noble and true,
With his father's stature and face,
And Alice, light-hearted, whose laugh sent a ray
Of sunshine to every place.

Then Robert, the thoughtful, and Reuben his twin,
And Henry, their studious boy,
And Ruth, the musician, whose sweet, happy song
Filled the hearts in the home full of joy.
Then Bessie, the wee one, who ruled all the rest
With her innocent, winsome way,
Twenty years she was "baby," but now she is gone—
The bride of a week and a day.

"There are none in the home now but father and I,"
She moans in the deepening gloom—
"The bright happy faces I see in my dreams
Are but shadows about the bare room.
Soon we, too, will leave the once happy home
For another that's brighter than this,
There to gather the children back one by one
In our arms for the good-morning kiss.

Then a day like the old days, with the circle complete,
Will dawn under heaven's bright dome,
If we find when the archangel calls the long roll
That our children are all at home.
That Robert and Reuben, Henry and Ned,
Ruth, Alice and Bessie so fair,
Are gathered about us, ah, then we shall know
It is home, for the children are there.
—Mrs. S. M. Wright, in the Christian World.

Cruelty of Father.

Philadelphia Telegraph: At a smoke-fest some time ago reference was made to the cruel conversation that the old man occasionally hands to mother, when Arthur Woods, the new police commissioner of New York city, told of an incident that happened in a Western city.

Recently, the commissioner said, a good little wife was sitting in the living room reading a magazine. At the opposite side of the table hubby was wrestling with the sporting page. Suddenly mother looked up.

"Henry," said she, impressively, "it says here that one of the idols most revered by the Koreans is a woman in a sitting position resting her chin in her hand."

"Fine work!" commented Henry. "Shows that the Koreans are wisest people on the face of the earth."

"The wisest people on earth, Henry!" wonderingly returned mother. "Why do you say that?"

"Because," was the mean rejoinder of hubby, "they know enough to make a deity of a woman who gives her chin a rest."

The Life of the Farmer.

Country Gentleman: I think that the life of a husbandman of all others is the most delectable. It is honorable, it is amusing, and, with judicious management, it is profitable.

In indulging these feelings, I am led to reflect how much more delightful to the undebauched mind is the task of making improvements on the earth than all the vain glory that can be acquired from ravaging it by the most uninterrupted career of conquest.

I know of no pursuit in which more real and important service can be rendered to any country than by improving its agriculture, its breeds of useful animals, and other branches of a husbandman's care.

Wise Advice.

Cleveland Plain-Dealer: "Mother, I'm to be queen of the May!"

"Well, don't forget your furs and your thick stockings."

The Scapegoat

Editorial in the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

More than once during Mexico's 100 years of independence has the dominant oligarchy turned against its own creature. If the rule of a president has become too obnoxious the privileged aristocrats have turned him out, thereby anticipating a popular uprising. The history of Mexico generally shows this class as conscienceless and devoid of either loyalty or gratitude.

The Cientificos of the Diaz regime were the privileged land-holding party. Porfirio's military despotism was built upon the ruins of the liberal democratic government of Benito Juarez and was enforced by the deliberate robbing of the peons of the little homesteads they had held under the beneficent administrations of Juarez and Lerdo de Tejada. These lands were distributed among the favored few, till Mexican land holders became reduced to the members of some 200 families. At the same time the Cientifico clique strengthened its strangle hold on the Mexican people by a liberal distribution of concessions to Americans and other foreigners, thereby enlisting the support of the foreign advocates of what later came to be known as "dollar diplomacy."

The Madero revolution was an uprising of the unprivileged under an incompetent but well meaning leader. Diaz, who had served the Cientificos so long and so faithfully, was thrown overboard, and an attempt was made to re-establish class tyranny under a new leader. Huerta was the chosen tool.

Probably no man in Mexico could have served more ably and more fearlessly. Upon Huerta was centered the hatred of the liberals and against him has been directed the hostility of all lovers of democracy.

Huerta would probably have succeeded in firmly establishing himself had it not been that the new government at Washington, thoroughly conversant with Mexican conditions, declined to countenance a military usurper who at best represented only a small minority of the Mexican people. Diplomacy was not controlled by concession holders. Save for the formality of a farcical election, Huerta was as genuine a representative of the Mexican people as was Porfirio Diaz, the man whom successive American administrations had aided and honored. But President Wilson, in accordance with his new Latin-American policy, has insisted that the Mexican people, finally wide awake and demanding their rights, be given an opportunity to govern themselves.

Now that the cause of Huerta is not only hopeless but desperate, the Cientificos are preparing to make him the scapegoat. They are crafty politicians, and they and their predecessors have again and again saved the oligarchy by shrewd manipulation. If they succeed this time it will mean that the earnestness of Carranza and the vigor of Villa have been tremendously over-estimated.

Economic Determinism

San Francisco Bulletin: A man named E. F. Green of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers says that, for his part, he does not believe that nine hours of work a day could possibly hurt anyone—"even boys and girls of 14 and 15 years of age."

A truth is a truth. If this statement is true it is true, and the personality of E. F. Green has nothing to do with its trueness. Nine hours work a day is good for children or it isn't.

But let us picture a curious person who reads Mr. Green's words and wants to know who Mr. Green is. This at once introduces a new and strange element into the discussion. "What the dickens difference does it make?" we ask. "Never mind," he says. "Who is this Mr. Green? Is he a doctor? Is he a social investigator? Is he a psychologist endeavoring to learn how childhood's hours can most profitably be passed? Or is he—"

"Well," we break in, lamely, "it is true that he is a cotton manufacturer, and that these words were spoken to an organization of cotton manufacturers of which he is president."

"Ah!" says the curious person. "Then he believes that he will make more money if he can get nine hours' work out of children instead of eight hours' work, or no work at all."

"Perhaps," we urge, "but is it not possible that he is a good man who really thinks that it is best for children to work nine hours a day?"

"Suppose," says the curious person, "that he were a poet, or a school teacher, or a good physician, or just a man who loves children, and remembers how his own boyhood was spent in the open air, under the sky, in the clear sunlight. Would he think the same?"

A suspicion creeps over us.

"We know what you are," we cry. "You are that hard, materialistic person known as the Economic Determinist."

"I am," he says, and his eyes smolder with some hidden feeling that we, not being Economic Determinists, cannot fathom.

A Loyal Class.

Youth's Companion: An English professor, who had been a fellow student and friend of Edward VII, when he was the Prince of Wales, was appointed honorary physician to His Majesty shortly after he became king.

The professor was very proud of this, and wished his students to know of the honor conferred upon him. So he wrote upon the blackboard in his classroom: "Prof. Baker is pleased to inform his students that he has been appointed honorary physician to His Majesty King Edward."

The professor shortly left the room and when he returned to meet another class he could not understand why they should be so much amused at what he had written. Later, however, he discovered that some one had carefully added to his announcement the following:

"God save the king."

Disillusion.

When we are young we are kings and lords,
And dwell in dream-built castles;
But when we are old, in our hovels cold
We are only serfs and vassals.
For e'en as the globe that Atlas bore
In ancient days on his shoulder,
The burden, care, defeat and despair,
Grows greater as we grow older!

When we are young we are gallants brave,
And in spite of cynics and scoffers
An odor thereof we shall bear to the grave—
For sweet is the rose Love offers!
But when we are old and the stars are cold,
And the skies with gloom are shaded,
The visions are gone that we knew of old,
And the flower is scentless and faded!
—Arthur Goodenough in Springfield Republican.

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—When William S. West, now a senator from Georgia, was teaching school down in the Southland he had occasion several times to reprimand one of his girl pupils. And a mere reprimand did not do much good. She was a pretty little rascal and so full of life that she was constantly getting into pranks that upset the calm, studious decorum West wished to maintain. One day West told her that if she did any more whispering he would feel obliged to give her a whipping. She merely giggled merrily at that threat, and within five minutes was whispering once more to a girl across the aisle.

West bade her to step up in front. He had told her he would whip her, and he felt obliged to make good. It is not altogether chivalrous for a strong man to inflict corporal punishment on a young girl, especially when she happens to be both plump and pretty, but discipline is discipline, and West had started out to be a martinet. Still he hesitated when it came right to the point of taking a switch and inflicting pain in the same ruthless way that he did on unruly boys. As a compromise measure he picked up a ruler and smacked the mischievous young creature several only moderately severe blows on the palms of the hands.

She was a game little scamp and did not cry as most girls would have done. Instead, she stamped a pretty little foot and scornfully declared:

"I'll get even with you for that."

After she had resumed her seat, West wondered if he had really hurt her when he smacked her little hands. It did seem like a shame to cause suffering to one so thoroughly attractive. He had never noticed before how really pretty she was. The next day, and the next, while apparently glaring at the school to preserve order, West was, in reality, staring at just one pupil and wondering how he had overlooked the fact that she was about the prettiest young person he knew.

Time went on and West quit teaching school, but he kept up an acquaintance with a few of his pupils, particularly with the young girl whom he had smacked on the hands with a ruler. Gradually he made a wonderful discovery with regard to her, viz: that the oftener he called on her the more he would see her. So he called frequently.

Several times during this period she laughingly recalled the schoolday incident and repeated her threat that she would get even with him some day.

After the lapse of some years they were married. Just after the officiating clergyman had finished his part of the entertainment, Mrs. West looked up at her new husband with a funny twinkle and said:

"I told you I'd get even with you."

Representative Walter M. Chandler of New York mailed a certain letter a few years ago to a friend in Germany. The friend had changed his address and the letter was sent back to Chandler by the German postoffice authorities. It was delayed in reaching him, however, because the steamer that carried the mail met with a mishap and went to the bottom of the Atlantic. In the course of time, divers went and ransacked the ship for treasure and the mail was brought back to the surface. The writing on Chandler's letter was still legible and it was remailed to him with a fresh stamp. He felt that a letter that had been to the bottom of the ocean and then recovered ought to be given every reasonable chance to reach its original destination and so he mailed it once again to his friend in Germany, along with an added paragraph of explanation.

The friend must have been an exceptionally polite person, because he wrote back as follows:

"You will pardon my long delay in answering your letter for, if as you say, it remained at the bottom of the ocean several months before reaching me, I really could not have replied any sooner."

Whenever Oscar Underwood goes on a speaking trip down in Alabama, or anywhere else, he finds himself the victim of a reception committee which desires to show him what costly autos they are able to provide for visiting statesmen and how rapidly such autos can go from one place to another. The reception committee imparts this notion of hospitality to the chauffeur and the chauffeur does all in his power to make Oscar's life miserable. For Underwood does not like to ride fast in an auto. The one thing he is timid about is moving too rapidly with strange chauffeurs. He never shows any timidity—he is too calm for that—but all the time he is riding fast he sits and wonders what kind of shape he will be in when the coroner or the ambulance comes to pick him up from the side of the road.

During the last campaign, Underwood asked to be permitted to ride in the front seat with the chauffeur on a trip between towns. The chauffeur at once proceeded to send the outfit along at the rate of forty miles an hour. Underwood, feeling extremely ill at ease, but never showing it, turned to the chauffeur after they had gone a mile or two and asked in his calm, smiling way:

"Can this make of machine go slow as well as fast?"

"Certainly," replied the operator.

"Then," suggested Oscar, still perfectly calm, "let's try going slow."

Reversing the Code.

Harper's Monthly: "What do you mane by writing me that my Jimmie can't pass into the next grade?" stormed an irate female, bursting into the principal's room. "An' after him doin' such grand work all the year."

"Why, Mrs. Flaherty," replied the teacher, "you must know better than that. I've sent you his report cards every month and you know that his marks have been nearly all 'Ds.'"

"Indade they have, and yit you say he can't pass. I don't understand it, mum."

"I am afraid you don't understand our system of marking. D means deficient, you know."

"Sure, I don't know phat that may be, mum, but Jimmie told me all about the letters. Sure 'D' is dandy, 'C' is corking, 'B' is bum, an' 'A' is awful—an' he's got 'Cs' an' 'Ds' ivery month."

Paid for His Whistle.

Tit-Bits: Joe Coyne tells a story about a seedy-looking individual who got into conversation in a railway carriage.

"Ah, sir," he said sadly, "I've seen changes. I was once a doctor with a large practice, but owing to one little slip my patients began to leave me, and now I'm just living from hand to mouth."

"What was the slip?" I asked.

"Well, sir," he replied, "in filling in a death certificate for a patient who had died I absent-mindedly signed my name in the space headed 'Cause of death.'"

Duluth and The Herald

The Old Man Hereof Approves.

Hibbing Mesaba Ore: Harris Bennett of Duluth has been appointed collector of customs for the port of Duluth, and it is a mighty pleasing bit of news to the young man's many friends throughout the district. He was dairy and food inspector under Governor Johnson, and is a gentleman worthy any honor that may be bestowed upon him.

As to "Live Wires."

St. Cloud Times: In its issue of the 10th The Duluth Herald, in a special edition, prints a "Gallery of the Live Wires of Duluth." Ten hundred and ninety-six portraits are printed on twenty-seven pages. This great accomplishment is another evidence of the enterprise of The Herald, which is Duluth's greatest "live wire."

Likes a Duluth Idea.

Biwabik Times: In Duluth there has been a discussion as to whether the high school graduates should wear caps and gowns, or allow the graduates to select their own costumes. We vote in favor of the cap and gown every time. It is more impressive, it prevents too great a display by girls from wealthy families, and best of all is economical. Every high school in the state should require the wearing of caps and gowns by all graduates.

Principal Young Indorsed.

Grand Rapids Independent: A Duluth high school principal proposes that graduates of such institutes of learning be hereafter invested with the dignified cap and gown of university pattern at commencement exercises. And every father of a "sweet girl graduate" scheduled to so appear will acclaim the Duluth principal as owner of a great and level head. For be it known that the Easter headgear has but little if anything on the s. g. g's. graduating creation in pocketbook-crimping quality, and the gown would be as modest in price as in appearance, two facts to which father is wise. What the s. g. g's. would think anent the matter is "something else again," as Morris Perlmutter says, and what the unsweet but very sapient boy grads think don't count—but here's hoping the principal gets away with his proposition.

Liked Where It Is Used.

Eveleth News: Caps and gowns for graduation are being considered in the Duluth high school. The scholastic costume has been in use in the Eveleth school for several years with very satisfactory results. Not only does it seem to make the exercises more impressive, but it eliminates the rivalry among the girls over the elegance of their gowns and gives the poor girl an equal show with her more fortunate classmate.

Another Boost.

Sandstone Courier: The Duluth Central high school authorities have taken the right stand when they adopted a form of cap and gown for the graduates to wear at the closing exercises of the year. If this was done in all schools, it would mean much money in the pockets of many poor parents who haven't the money to spend for fancy dresses.

Should Be Built.

Gheen Record: The approach to the Duluth harbor bids fair to be the graveyard of the Great Lakes. It has taken an unusually large quota of sailors who go down to their death in every great storm that has swept the lakes. If a breakwater can prevent this death toll, it should be built without delay.

Shift Your Gears!

E. P. Frost in the Atlantic: If I were going to attempt a sermon (and who does not feel himself capable of at least a couple?) my first text should be upon the theme, "Shifting Gears." I should begin with a pertinent illustration. It would be the picture of a motor car and a long hill. You size up the hill from the bottom and attempt it on the high gear. The grade proves to be steeper than at first thought. The engines begin to pound. But you have vowed to make the top on the high gear. By simply shifting over, with whatever reluctance, all would be well. Instead, you let the engine fret and throb, perhaps stall itself or wreck something, for your pride's sake. This the picture. Then the moral application (which every one has seen coming all along). "Now, good friends, isn't this just what we are trying to do? Are we not playing the foolish chauffeur and wearing out our engines needlessly when we attempt to take all life's roads upon the high speeds? Shift your gears before it is too late!"

Changes.

Whom first we love, you know, we seldom wed,
Time rules us all. And Life, indeed, is not
The thing we planned it out ere hope was dead,
And then, we women cannot choose our lot.

Much must be borne which it is hard to bear;
Much given away which it were sweet to keep.
God help us all who need, indeed, His care!
And yet, I know, the Shepherd loves His sheep.

My little boy begins to babble now
Upon my knee his earliest infant prayer,
He has his father's eager eyes, I know;
And they say, too, his mother's sunny hair.
But when he sleeps and smiles upon my knee,
And I can feel his light breath come and go,
I think of one (Heaven help and pity me!)
Who loved me, and whom I loved, long ago.

Who might have been . . . ah! what I dare not think!
We all are changed. God judges for us best.
God help us do our duty, and not shrink,
And trust in Heaven humbly for the rest.

But blame us women not, if some appear
Too cold at times; and some too gay and light,
Some griefs gnaw deep. Some woes are hard to bear,
Who knows the past? And who can judge us right?

Ah! were we judged by what we might have been,
And not by what we are, too apt to fail!
My little child—he sleeps and smiles between These thoughts and me. In Heaven we shall know all!

The Lonely Old Soldier.

Kansas City Star: A lonely old soldier living in Nebraska wrote the Chaperon not long ago about his isolation. His comrades of other years had died, the postman always passed him by and he felt that the world had forgotten him.

His letter was published. Yesterday he wrote of the outcome. He had received about 3,500 postal cards, and the replies were still coming at the rate of ten to thirty a day. They were from every state in the Union, from Cuba, Hawaii, Japan and Canada. "I am, oh, so happy," the veteran writes of the unexpected revelation of sympathy.

Well, a postal card to an old man isn't much, of course. It can be sent with little effort. But the fact that 3,500 persons made that effort does indicate the existence of a mine of human feeling and comradeship which ought to be available for all sorts of social purposes.

People always are touched by hearing of some individual case of suffering. The next step is to enlist this sympathy in measure to make conditions of living everywhere more wholesome—in housing codes and workmen's compensation acts and the like.

You and George Washington.

Bernard I. Bell in the Atlantic: You and your great-great-grandfather are not very different the one from the other, save in accidents. You may not eat with your knife as George Washington did; you wear neither knee breeches nor a powdered wig; when you get a fever you are not bled; you write your "s's" above the line, and not so that they look like deformed "f's;" you think and talk in the patois of the highly organized society of the Twentieth century, not in the vernacular of rural Virginia in the Eighteenth century.

But, after all, you and Col. Washington are about the same in all points essential to humanity. The same passions rule you; the same needs impel you; the same sort of mental and physical equipment reacted in him upon your environment. The only difference between this age and any age that has gone before, is a difference in accidents, a difference in environments. The great, essential things of life are the same in all generations.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

DECORATION DAY AND THE STORES.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Is Decoration day a legal holiday?

If so, why should not all the stores in Duluth close?

Last year, when Decoration day came on Thursday, all the stores closed. This year Decoration day comes on Saturday, and as a result everyone, especially the clerks, should be able to plan for a two days' outing with their friends, and yet it is learned that one, and only one, of our Superior street stores intends keeping open.

Is this not too bad? We hope that when your thoughts turn to this day and its meaning to our country is mentioned both in your editorial and news columns it will be in such a way that it may open the eyes of this one merchant, that he can better understand the meaning of this day to every American citizen, that with all the other stores closed, and the clerks paying tribute to parted friends and relatives, and the nation to its honored heroes, that they will reconsider their action, join the rest of the merchants, close the entire day, and feel that they, too, respect the feelings of all mankind, and by so doing gain the respect and good will, not only of the other merchants, but the entire city as well.

Yours faithfully,

A LOYAL AMERICAN.

Duluth, May 21.

WHO HAS IT?

To the Editor of The Herald:

Will you kindly publish in the columns of the Open Court "The Little Drummer Boy"? "'Tis of a little drummer boy the story I shall tell," etc., is the beginning of it. I had a copy of this, but have lost it, and have been unable to obtain another copy of it.

If you will kindly publish this I shall appreciate it very much. Yours truly. MRS. A. P. L.

COMPENSATING WORKS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Please explain, through the Open Court, the nature of the work covered by the term "compensating works" as applied to the proposed power dam at the Soo.

If the tendency of the proposed work was towards lowering the lake level, the term could be easily understood; but since the object is to raise the level, it is difficult to see how compensating works can be used. Respectfully, I. G. NORAMUS.

Duluth, May 18.

According to a Duluth man who is an authority on the matter, the compensating works are really a regulating equipment in the dam that will be constructed across the Soo river. The regulation will be manipulated by fourteen sluice gates, which may be operated individually or all together. The object of building the dam is to maintain, as nearly as possible, the lake level at the mean level for the last forty years, namely, 602.27 feet. There will be minimum and maximum regulations. The water to be diverted through the power company's channels will be at the rate of thirty cubic feet per second. At certain times of year the water is lower than at others, and at such times the dam's gates will be closed enough to maintain a higher level of water. In the high-level period, the gates will be opened so that the water will have free egress.—The Editor.

AMENDING THE CONSTITUTION.

To the Editor of The Herald:

In yesterday's Herald I notice an article on a proposed amendment to the Constitution prohibiting the vetoing of a law by less than five members of the supreme court.

I read the Constitution of the United States before I was 10 years old and have read it since I was 60, and on neither occasion or at any time I have referred to it between have I found in the document one word that can by any stretch of meaning be construed as a design on the part of its framers to authorize the supreme court to exercise any discretionary power regarding the constitutionality of any legislative enactment.

The Constitution expressly specifies the sort of enactments that are unconstitutional in terms so clear that "he who runs may read."

It further says that legislative enactments shall be passed by a majority of the house of representatives and senate and signed by the president. It then becomes a law of the land.

Further, that the president may at his discretion refuse to sanction a legislative enactment, and it can then only become a law by being passed by a two-thirds majority of the members of both branches of congress, and in no place is the supreme court mentioned in connection with legislative or veto powers.

Also, the supreme court never presumed to veto a law until 1820, which act roused such a storm of protest that the court did not dare attempt it again until 1864, when it raised a good deal of adverse comment, since which time they have been gradually usurping legislative functions until now people think they have a constitutional right to do so.

Now, I wish to register a protest in the name of the people of the United States against this disguised attempt to give a virtual recognition of the constitutional right of a body of irresponsible presidential appointees to assume legislative powers. And also protest against submitting any enactment to the supreme court at all.

It is never done in England or in any other foreign country that I ever heard of, and should not be tolerated here.

Also, instead of any further extension of appointing power, it should all be apolished, and every office from poundmaster to president should be made elective by direct ballot of the people, which would do away with a very large part of the graft and scandal attached to our official patronage system. Please spread it far and wide, and oblige, yours,

A. F. BEACH.

Palatka, Mich., May 19.

The amendment referred to relates to the Minnesota supreme court, an elective body, and has nothing to do with the Federal supreme court.—The Editor.

FIRE APPARATUS AND THE PUBLIC.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Which is worth more, the importance of getting to a fire in a few minutes or a human life?

I personally think that life is too sweet to be snatched away by one of our fire chiefs, while again it is important to get to a fire as soon as possible.

I am glad to say that there are not many such accidents happen as that which happened a day or two ago, but it is a mystery to me that there are not more the way these fellows drive from and to a fire. They are supposed to have the right-of-way to a fire, but have they coming back? One would think so the way they drive.

It seems to me that this was careless driving and I think that whoever is to blame should be punished. They could have at least slowed up their machine and avoided the accident that happened, as I understand they can stop the car in a couple of lengths at any time during their run. Furthermore, I personally saw this same man slow up to call a wood driver down for not getting out of his way. The man on the wood wagon didn't hear him coming and had to take abuse from this fire chief. I expect if the wood driver had been walking he would have been killed, too. It seems to me that if this chief could slow up to call a man down, why couldn't he when he saw an innocent child crossing the street slow down or even stop to avoid the terrible accident that happened? Why, no; he couldn't. There was a little grass burning upon the hill and he had to get to it because it couldn't burn without him looking at it.

My good people, there's a limit. I want fire protection, but I don't want people killed while running to my fire, if I ever have one. And, again, it seems folly to me to see this chief at Nineteenth avenue west station run out to West Duluth every time there is an alarm turned in from there. Isn't there one good man out there who can handle the fire in that part of town, and make out his reports. If there isn't let's get more fire halls and put them closer together so we can do away with all this nonsense.

Personally I would let these fellows ride alongside the hose man on the hose wagon, because they can't do a thing until the balance of the department gets there. What do you think about it? Sincerely,

FRED E. PRATT.

STATE SUPREME COURT DECISIONS

St. Paul, Minn., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The following decisions were rendered today by the Minnesota supreme court:

Itasca County.

A. D. Ingersoll, respondent, vs. M. A. Spring, as county auditor, et. al, defendants, town of Deer River, appellant—

Held, following Bradish vs. Lucken, 38 Minn. 186, and State ex rel Warren vs. Poltier, 103 Minn. 32, that property within a village organized under Laws 1885, Section 145, is not, either before or after its separation from the township, liable to be taxed for the payment of indebtedness incurred by the township for township roads and bridges. Love vs. Preston, 112 Minn. 459, distinguished.

Judgment affirmed. BUNN, J.

Jackson County.

Ida Ebeling, respondent, vs. International Harvester company, appellant—

Certain assignments of error to the charge of the court in an action for personal injuries, considered and held without merit, especially in the absence of objection or exception thereto at the trial.

Order affirmed.

PHILIP R. BROWN, J.

Polk County.

Frank W. Chapman, appellant, vs. Theo O. Propp, respondent—

A contract, whereby the first party sold and delivered a stock of merchandise and agreed to make a future cash payment and the second party, as consideration, agreed to convey, nine months after the cash payment was made, certain land, the rents and profits of which went to the first party from the date of the contract, is held not an option contract, but one for the sale of land which could not be cancelled or forfeited for failure to perform except by service of the statutory notice.

A judgment in a former action on a note given by the vendor to secure performance of his agreement to convey held neither an election by the vendee to abandon the land nor a bar to this action.

The contention that the present action to recover damages for the vendor's breach, in refusing to convey after tender of full payment, is premature, is not sustained on this record.

The sum stipulated in the contract to be paid the vendee is held to be liquidated damages and not a penalty.

Judgment reversed. HOLT, J.

Nobles County.

Herman Sassen, appellant, vs. Frank Haegle, respondent—

The measure of damages recoverable by a lessor against the lessee for hauling away manure from a leased farm instead of hauling and spreading it upon the farm, as stipulated in the lease, is the reasonable cost or value of the manure spread as agreed.

An instruction fundamentally wrong or which has the effect of preventing a verdict for a substantial amount on a cause of action well pleaded and proven, may be assigned as error on a motion for a new trial, even though at the trial the attorney states that he has no exception to the charge. It is otherwise with inaccuracies of expression, failure to instruct on every hypothesis, or inadequate treatment of some phase of the controversy.

A tenant in possession, owning and having the right to remove fixtures placed on the premises at his own expense and for his personal convenience, does not, by entering a new lease wherein he covenants to keep the buildings and improvements in repair, thereby waive his ownership and right to remove such fixtures during the term of the new lease.

A purchaser of real estate in the possession of a tenant is chargeable with notice of all the interest and rights of the tenant therein.

Reversed on condition. HOLT, J.

Ramsey County.

H. M. Lufkin, appellant vs. W. J. Harvey, et al, respondents—

A complaint alleging that, at the special instance and request of defendants, plaintiff rendered professional services as a surgeon in treating their minor son, and alleging the value of the services, is sufficent as a complaint upon an implied contract. An allegation of a promise to pay, necessary at common law, is not necessary or proper under the code as part of the pleading of an implied contract, but the addition of this allegation makes the pleading one upon both express and implied contract. It does not defeat recovery upon an implied contract. Under such a complaint recovery may be had on contract either express or implied.

Order reversed and new trial granted. HALLAM, J.

Scott County.

John C. Murphy, et al, respondents vs. County of Scott, appellant—

Plaintiffs, who had contracted with the county of Scott to construct a county ditch, reported to the engineer that they had completed the contract and received his certificate to that effect. They presented this certificate to the board of county commissioners for approval so that they might present it to the county auditor and obtain a warrant upon the county treasurer for the contract price. The board refused to approve the certificate on the ground that plaintiffs had not performed the contract in substantial respects. Plaintiffs, alleging full performance, sued out an alternative writ of mandamaus to compel the commissioners to approve the certificate. They answered, alleging non-performance, and the action resulted in a judgment to the effect that plaintiffs had not substantially performed the contract and were not entitled to have the certificate approved. Thereupon they brought this action against the county to recover the contract price upon the ground that the contract had been fully performed. Held: That the judgment in the mandamus action conclusively determined that the contract had not been performed and is a bar to this action.

ROOT'S TALK IS CHEERED

New York Senator Insists on Repeal of Tolls Act.

Says Opponents Threaten to Discredit the United States.

Washington, May 22.—Senator Root, Republican member of the foreign relations committee, held the senate in rapt attention for five hours while he spoke in support of the administration bill to repeal the tolls exemption clause of the Panama canal law. As the New York senator sat down, Senator Kern, Democratic floor leader, led the applause from the floor and spectators in the galleries joined.

The burden of the speech was to prove that the Hay-Pauncefote treaty provided that the treatment accorded by the United States to its own citizens in the use of the Panama canal must be the same as the treatment accorded the citizens of all other nations.

Senator Root declared that the United States always had insisted on the broad principle of equality and insisted that the understanding of Henry White, Joseph Choate, John Hay and Theodore Roosevelt, who negotiated the treaty, was that the equality mentioned in the convention was the broad equality which had marked American diplomacy.

Real Coastwise Trade.

Taking up the specific question of exemption of American coastwise vessels, the senator said the law of 1912 granting this exemption violated the equality guaranteed by the treaty. This was true, he argued, because no real coastwise trade of the United States could pass through this canal 1,000 miles away; and, consequently, what the law did was to exempt a class of American over-sea trade without at the same time exempting the like over-sea trade of Great Britain, Russia, Mexico and other countries.

The senator declared that he was voting for repeal now because, in the judgment of senators best able to judge, the senate would not vote to arbitrate the dispute.

"Right or wrong," he said, "if we decide this in our favor and refuse to arbitrate, we are discredited and dishonored. We have repudiated our own principles. Now let any senator who votes against repeal take the responsibility of leading his country into that position. If every constituent of mine was looking forward to lower freight rates, I would not so lead my country. Had I, in my soul, all the national hatred taught in my youth, I would not do it."

Not Wait for Protest.

He added that the United States should not wait for all the nations of the world to protest against the exemption, because the United States must be the keeper of its own conscience and act on its own judgment without waiting for protests. If he were right as to the interpretation of the treaty, he declared, he would not favor exemption even if Great Britain gave its consent, because the question was broader than the rights of Great Britain.

In conclusion, Mr. Root said he would venture to say American diplomacy had ennobled and sweetened international intercourse. He called upon his fellow senators to meet their duty to their country in the same big and noble spirit that John Hay had met his.

KELLY WILL RUN ON BULL MOOSE TICKET

Congressman Is Defeated as Republican and Democrat.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 22.—Congressman M. Clyde Kelly of the Thirtieth Pennsylvania congressional district was refused the nomination by the Republicans of his district in the primaries of Tuesday, according to complete returns, William H. Colman winning the nomination by a majority of about 1,500. The district was formerly represented by John Dalzell, who was defeated by Kelly two years ago. The big steel mills are located in the district, and a fight was made against Kelly because he voted for the Underwood tariff bill. Kelly also lost the Democratic nomination, but his name will be on the Bull Moose ticket this fall.

FRAUDS IN CIVIL SERVICE CHARGED

Eleven Indiana Politicians Are Indicted By Federal Grand Jury.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 22.—Charged in Federal indictments with conspiracy fraudulently to obtain the appointment of men to civil service positions, Fabius Gwin, formerly Democratic chairman of the Second district, and ten others were arrested at Shoals, Ind., yesterday by United States Marshal E. H. Schmidt. All were released on bonds of $1,000 each.

The others on whom capiases were served are: Brett Gwin, brother of Fabius; J. C. Carothers, formerly deputy internal revenue collector at Albany; Ott Carothers, W. K. Strange, county assessor; Ambrose Strange, Samuel Rennecker, W. B. Shirfick, county clerk; Claude Armstrong, William Jackman, editor of the Shoals News, and Harvey E. Guthrie, school teacher and city councilman at Mitchell, Ind.

Gwin was not taken in custody, the authorities granting his request to appear voluntarily in court here.

PRESIDENT HEARS ABOUT COLORADO.

Washington, May 22.—President Wilson granted an audience yesterday to Judge Ben B. Lindsey of Denver and a delegation of women and children from the strike districts of Colorado.

Judge Lindsey explained to the president that Colorado really has a civil war, in which it is necessary that the Federal government shall take a firm hand and force mediation. He expressed the belief that the Federal government should order the mines in the strike district closed, and compel the operators to submit to arbitration. He took the position that the Federal government already had been forced to restore peace, and had full authority to go further and restore to Colorado full privileges of a republican form of government.

The president listened to Judge Lindsey and his associates with much interest, and informed them that he did not contemplate the immediate removal of Federal troops.

CANNON ANNOUNCES HE IS A CANDIDATE.

Danville, Ill., May 22.—At a dinner given at the Elks' club yesterday afternoon to representative Republicans from various parts of the Nineteenth congressional district, Joseph G. Cannon, former speaker of the house of representatives, made formal announcement of his candidacy for congress.

OKLAHOMA BANK ROBBED IN DAYTIME.

Millerton, Okla., May 22.—Two masked men yesterday forced the cashier of the Bank of Millerton to give them all the money in the vault, about $5,000, and after marching the bank official and several other men out of the building, escaped on horseback to the hills. Posses were started in pursuit.

In addition to the state contest, which the contestants participate in, the county contest provides added prizes for competition.

WEDS MONTANAN.

Sister of Father Lemire of Duluth Marries at Aitkin.

Aitkin, Minn., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Thomas Sura of Montana and Miss Sophie Lemire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Lemire of Hickory, and a sister of Rev. Father Eli Lemire of Duluth, and County Auditor John Lemire of Aitkin, were married Tuesday morning in St. James Catholic church, Rev. Eugene Lemire of Crookston, also a brother of the bride, performing the ceremony.

Herman Bangren and Miss Anna Hamdorf of Cedar Lake were married Wednesday morning in the German Lutheran church at Iron Hub, Rev. John Engel performing the ceremony. The bridal couple were attended by Miss Martha Bierman and Miss Lydia Harms, Henry Hamdorf and Fred Hamdorf, brothers of the bride. A wedding dinner was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hamdorf. The bridal party came to Aitkin in the afternoon, departing for St. Paul in the evening. They will reside in Chisholm.

STRAWBERRIES ARE FEATURES

Supplies Are Fairly Liberal and Quality Is Also Good.

Vegetables Come in Freely and Butter Again Takes Drop.

Strawberries are the feature in the Duluth produce market today. Supplies are fairly liberal and the fruit is of a good quality.

It is the opinion of the dealers on Michigan street that prices of strawberries are as low now as they will be. This is attributable to the fact that the Missouri crop is smaller than usual this season, owing to cold weather during the spring. This is thought certain to lead to heavy demand for the Wisconsin berry, and a considerable proportion of it may be shipped south. Ordinarily Bayfield shippers find a market in Duluth for the bulk of their product, and the fruit has been sold here on a reasonable basis during the last two seasons.

The season for navel oranges will be over in a week or ten days, and in the meantime prices are up moderately all round. There has been a heavy demand for the smaller oranges, according to the Fitzsimmons-Palmer company, and they are selling relatively higher than the larger sizes.

Sharp advances came about in the lemon market, attributable to the increasing demand and a falling off in supplies from California.

Minnesota Vegetables Soon.

Vegetables are now coming freely from Mississippi, and quotations through the list are practically on the same basis as a week ago. Home-grown vegetables are expected to make their appearance here in about ten days and then a period of cheaper prices will be ushered in.

Old potatoes are about steady, but as stocks in the hands of Minnesota growers are unlikely to be out of the way before new tubers from Texas make their appearance in about two weeks from now a drop in their figure is regarded as certain.

Butter Market Easier.

The butter market is slightly easier, and the product is expected to sell a cent or two cheaper yet. It is noted by the trade, though, that offerings of the better classes of butter are not sufficient to cover the demand, while there is a surplus of the poorer grades. It is thought that condition will be rectified very soon now when pasturage will become available. Contracts for butter to go into store at the end of the month have been this week at 26 cents a pound for Chicago delivery or 28¼ cents at New York. This is 2 cents a pound lower than last year. According to trade reports, no butter is being imported into this country at present, as the market is out of line. The Danish creamery product is now being marketed at London at 25½ cents a pound, which would make the figure at about 28½ cents laid down at New York.

The Bridgeman-Russell company is now quoting butter as follows: Best creamery, 27@28 cents a pound; first creamery, 25@26 cents; imitation creamery, 20@21 cents, and dairy at 19@20 cents a pound.

Eggs Prices Unchanged.

Quotations on fresh eggs are unchanged at 20@21 cents, and the situation in them is firm. Eggs in store are advancing for the reason that current fresh receipts are not of as good a quality as the eggs put away last month. They are beginning to show signs of heat and their keeping qualities are not equal to the earlier eggs.

The market in cheese is weaker, with brick off a cent and block Swiss ½-cent a pound. The make of the factories is showing a steady increase.

While the poultry situation is easier, there have been no special changes in prices. There is a tendency now to force frozen stock on the market in preparation for the new season's killing, and the demand is comparatively light. Receipts of live birds are still very small with little coming in outside of broilers.

In meats, lamb and mutton are both up. Quotations in beef, veal and pork are unchanged.

PLAN GOOD ROADS BEE

Governor and Three Mayors May Work a Day on Roads.

Auto Club Wants Good Highway to the Twin Cities.

A Good Roads bee, with Governor Eberhart, Mayor Prince of Duluth, Mayor Nye of Minneapolis, Mayor Powers of St. Paul and the city officials of Central Minnesota as honor guests, is proposed by the Duluth Auto club for the road between Hinckley and Mission Creek sometime next month. This will be the first of its kind ever held in Minnesota and it is expected will attract automobilists from all parts of the state.

The project was launched at the special meeting of the Auto club held at the Commercial club last evening. Dr. J. D. Park, president of the club, suggested the plan and explained that the worst stretch of highway between Duluth and the Twin Cities is a six-mile road just south of Hinckley, running from there to Mission Creek. The entire distance is almost impassable to cars and it is the desire of President Park to hold a Good Roads bee some day next month and gravel the entire road.

According to Dr. Park, the cost of the bee would be very little and it would also aid the local club in its efforts to improve the state highways, by arousing public interest. Governor Eberhart and the mayors of the three principal cities of the state would be invited to take part in the graveling. Special trains will be secured for delegations from the Twin Cities and Duluth and the large army of motorists would don overalls and work as laborers for one day. The state highway department is expected to furnish the necessary gravel, while the automobile clubs from all parts of the state would be asked to contribute their share of funds needed to hire horses and men.

In Good Shape.

The road to the Twin Cities from Duluth is in very good shape, said Dr. Park last evening. He recently made a trip in his machine and reports conditions as being favorable, with the possible exception of the six-mile stretch south of Hinckley. The road just outside of Duluth, approaching the Thomson road, is also in poor shape, but this can easily be repaired, Dr. Park said, at a small cost.

During the evening Dr. Park, H. J. Mullin, secretary of the club, and several of the members present warmly praised the members of the county commission. Special credit was given Commissioner Kauppi for his effective work in his fifth district the last year. Suggestions were also made for the establishment of a system of section men along all the important highways in the county, and Dr. Park was instructed to appoint a committee to take this matter up with the county commission.

Secretary Mullin announced that the state board of control is this summer planning to place a number of convicts on the state roads as an experiment and if it proves satisfactory, convict labor may become a permanent feature. New York is the pioneer state in this work and reports considerable success.

Special galvanized iron signs are to be ordered by the officials of the club to be placed along the more important roads in St. Louis county. These are indestructible and are now in use in the southern part of the state. Plans were also made to co-operate with the county commission regarding the expenditure of about $500,000 that has been appropriated for road use this year.

Dr. Park was instructed to appoint committees to work for the improvement of West Superior street, West Third street, the Fond du Lac bridge and for an increase in membership.

FEDERAL PROBE IN COLORADO BEGUN.

Trinidad, Colo., May 22.—Federal investigation of conditions in the Colorado coal fields where the miners have been on strike for months, has begun by W. R. Fairley and Hywel Davies, appointed by Secretary of Labor Wilson to ascertain whether mediation is possible.

Mr. Davies has planned to procure information from both sides of the controversy and upon that information a report and recommendation will be made to the secretary of labor. He intimated that some direct effort to settle the strike might be made.

WILSON TO TALK ON CONFEDERATE DAY.

Washington, May 22.—President Wilson has decided to speak at Arlington National cemetery on June 4, when the monument to Confederate dead is to be dedicated. He made the engagement when Hilary Herbert submitted to him the dedication program.

WHAT OTHER CITIES ARE DOING

EVERY city that has a park and playground commission can get a local chamber of commerce or other civic organization to furnish flower seeds to give to the children of the city to plant in vacant lots. Landlords are generally in favor of children beautifying their vacant plots. In many cities the chamber of commerce or other civic organizations, or even the city officials have offered small prizes of $10 and $5 for the most attractive garden. The results are surprising in a great many cities. In this connection it has often been the plan to take a photograph of a vacant lot before it is made into a garden, and then take another picture after the foliage has grown up on the plot, showing the contrast. Stereopticon slides can be made of these, and a large collection of these slides is being made by different cities to illustrate the activities in a community in beautifying the city, and to serve as concrete example of what can be done.

Prizes for the best gardens have been offered by the West End Commercial club and the West Duluth Commercial club. The West end club instituted this plan last year and obtained excellent results. Judging from present indications the rivalry among the children in the West end will be even keener than it was last year and many yards in West Duluth will be beautified because of the contest. The clubs are encouraging both flower and vegetable gardens.

NO AGREEMENT IN BURGLARY CASE

McCall Must Stand Trial Again on Burglary Charge.

Herbert McCall will again be obliged to stand trial in district court for his connection with the alleged theft of $1,500 worth of jewelry from the store of D. A. Miller, 217 West Superior street, March 15.

The jury which attempted to try him yesterday on a charge of burglary in the third degree was unable to determine whether or not McCall broke into the store on the night in question. After having been out for three hours and a half, the foreman reported that the jury was unable to reach an agreement. Judge Fesler discharged the panel and entered a mistrial.

It is understood that at the time of the disagreement, the jury stood 10 to 2 for acquittal.

McCall since his arrest has told several stories in explanation of how he came into possession of certain articles identified by D. A. Miller, proprietor of the jewelry store, as a part of the stolen loot. The latest explanation and the one which he insisted upon at the trial was that he had received the loot found in his possession from one of two other men who he claims are the real burglars. At the time of his arrest he told a story of how he had purchased the watches from a stranger in Superior, where he was arrested a few days after the burglary of the Miller store, while attempting to pawn some of the loot.

A. G. McKnight, his attorney, claimed that although McCall might have known something about the Miller store robbery at the time, that there was no evidence to show that McCall had broken into and entered the building and that that was the charge on which he was being tried. It is probable that the case will be re-tried at this term of court.

NEW YORK BOY HAD TWO APPENDIXES.

New York, May 22.—Dr. Harry M. Biffar, in operating on Thomas Smart, the 13-year-old son of Thomas E. Smart, proprietor of a hotel at First street and Third avenue, College Point, found the boy had two appendixes.

The boy was ill several days with appendicitis and Dr. Biffar decided to operate. The first appendix was found in the normal place while the second branched off and was located in a blind pouch. Each appendix was about four inches long.

Dr. Biffar said that the boy has excellent chances to recover and added: "This is the first case of the kind that has ever come to my attention in a human being, though it is not rare among lower animals for two appendixes to exist."

WOULD UNITE BIG METHODIST BODIES

Southern Methodists Favor Joining With Northern Branches.

Oklahoma City, Okla., May 22.—Tentative plans for the unification of the three great Methodist bodies in America, were approved, connectional officers were elected and declaration of principles declared at yesterday's general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South.

The unification plan provides for the merging of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, the Methodist Episcopal church, and the Protestant Methodist church, under the name of the Methodist Episcopal Church in America, with one faith, one ritual, and one general conference, but with four jurisdictional conferences forces for the four geographical divisions.

Election of officers resulted in the re-election of most of the old officials. Those selected to serve for the four-year term were: Publishing agents, Revs. D. M. Smith and A. J. Lamar; book editor, Rev. Gross Alexander; editor Christian Advocate, Rev. T. N. Ivey; Sunday school editor, Rev. E. B. Chappell; missionary secretary, Rev. W. W. Pinson.

The intervals during the ballots were occupied by the conference with the conpsideration of laymen's work. The report of the committee was finally amended by eliminating the provision increasing lay representation in annual and general conferences, and then adopted as a whole by viva voce vote.

The committee on laymen's movement reported, suggesting a number of disciplinary changes.

HUERTA'S ARMY IN CAPITAL MAY REBEL.

Vera Cruz, May 22.—A revolt in the Mexican army in the capital at any moment would cause no surprise, according to refugees who have arrived here. Foreigners there are expecting daily the beginning of another period similar to that of February last year.

The refugees assert that all that is lacking to bring about such an uprising is a leader with sufficient courage to head the movement.

The capital is overrun with adherents of Carranza, and these men appear anxious to forestall any attempt of Gen. Huerta and his followers to escape. All the cabinet officers and Gen. Huerta himself are said to be kept under close watch in order to prevent their flight.

The resignation of more members of the cabinet, including Querido Moheno, who was the most zealous supporter of Gen. Huerta, is rumored as likely in the near future.

TOURIST IN ITALY SHOT

Mrs. Flavelle of Chicago Attacked and Robbed on Train.

Several Arrests Made, But Robber Is Not Identified.

Florence, Italy, May 22.—Mrs. Mary E. Flavelle of Chicago, who was attacked and robbed in a train near here yesterday, still was living this morning, but was unconscious from her wounds. Her assailant escaped from the train at Arezzo, but the police say they are on his track. A separate investigation of the affair is being made by Lee J. Keena, American consul general.

Later in the day it was announced that several arrests had been made and that the police believed the assailant of Mrs. Flavelle was among them.

Was Found on Train.

Mrs. Flavelle was found in a dying condition in the compartment of a train when it arrived at Arezzo yesterday. The train was bound from Florence to Assisi. The woman had been shot through the right temple, and was removed to a hospital. In a pocket under her skirt, a pocketbook was found with a letter of credit for $1,300 from a Chicago bank, which had been cashed in part. No handbags, ticket or letters were found, but a baggage label with the name "Mrs. Flavelle" was picked up, and on the seat lay a visiting card bearing the name "Miss Blanche Marie Harcourt," and marked with bloody finger prints. The woman's handbag was found later alongside the track.

At the hospital Mrs. Flavelle was sufficiently revived to answer a few questions. She had taken the train at Florence and was alone in the compartment. Her assailant was a young Italian, who entered the compartment and shot her and then robbed her. Efforts to extract the bullet were unsuccessful.

Was Alone in Compartment.

According to the train hands, the woman occupied the compartment alone. In the next compartment was a man of about 30. He did not act suspiciously, but at Arezzo was observed to leave the train from the wrong side. He carried a valise, and immediately took a cab.

It is supposed that the crime occurred in the tunnel just outside of Arezzo. It was along the tracks at this point that the handbag and a pair of women's gloves, stained with blood, were found.

The police established that the woman's assailant returned from Arezzo on the next train for Florence.

Is Charity Worker.

Chicago, May 22.—Mrs. Mary E. Flavelle, who was shot while in a train compartment going from Florence to Arezzo, is a charity and settlement worker here.

Mrs. Flavelle left Oct. 6 for a trip around the world. The last letter came recently from Rome and told of a contemplated trip to Florence. Mrs. Flavelle was 63 years old. She had been active in various charities for the last thirty-five years.

Royal Academy of Art. Both women were arrested.

Howled Down the Court.

A little later the magistrate before whom were brought the fifty-seven women arrested in connection with yesterday's disturbance was compelled to suspend the proceedings because the accused created such a din that nothing could be heard.

The pictures damaged at the National gallery were a "Madonna and Child with Infant Saints," a "Portrait of Girolamo Malatini," "Saints John and Christopher and the Doge," a "Landscape with the Death of Saint Peter," and "Christ's Agony in the Garden."

The painting gashed at the Royal Academy was "Primavora," by George Clausen. The academy was filled with a fashionable throng when a woman drew a butcher's cleaver, which had been concealed in her clothing, and dashed at the picture. Attendants at once seized her and only the presence of the police prevented her from being roughly handled by the irate spectators.

Both women refused to give their names.

The National gallery vandal left a trail of blood behind her from cuts from broken glass. The National gallery was immediately closed and all the students turned out.

Threw Shoe at Judge.

The scenes at Bow street police court when the women arrested during yesterday's battle were arraigned today, surpassed in wildness all previous efforts of the militant party. A male suffragist, who somehow had found a perch among the rafters, blew ear-piercing variations of the "Marseillaise" on a cornet and then sounded the "charge." This was a signal for volleys of bags of flour and other missiles to be thrown at the magistrate, Sir John Dickinson.

Three policemen were required to prevent one of the prisoners from throwing herself over the rail of the enclosure. Another woman removed her shoe and hurled it at the head of the magistrate, who caught it deftly.

When Sir John Dickinson suspended the hearing and ordered the court cleared, there was a free fight.

Subsequently the women were again brought in. Most of them were bound over to keep the peace for six months, but they unanimously refused to find sureties.

Chicago Man Robbed.

Theophile O. Grandpre of Chicago, who was knocked unconscious by a mounted policeman's horse during the suffragette raid on Buckingham palace, told the police today that he was robbed of $250 by two men who came to his assistance.

bon Steel company, on a charge of conspiracy in connection with the steel furnished for the locks in the Panama canal.

It is alleged that the steel furnished was of such an inferior quality that the immense locks at the dams in the canal are liable to let go at any time, causing heavy loss of property and probably of lives.

The men named by the grand jury are Samuel M. Wetmore, David J. Simpson, Dennis K. Bullens, Henry Lutz and James E. Lacy. Two others, W. R. Warren and Fred Schoppe, also employes of the company, were also named in the presentment, but the grand jury recommended that no indictment be found against them, as they gave valuable testimony before the grand jurors.

Conspiracy to Defraud.

The presentment reads as follows:

"That the above men named did, on Sept. 14, 1911, unlawfully and feloniously conspire, combine, confederate and agree together with divers persons, to the grand jury unknown, knowingly, willingly and corruptly to defraud the United States of America."

The grand jury requested that the court direct United States District Attorney F. Lowry Humes to lay before it a bill for indictment, setting forth at length, the alleged violations of law by the men named. District Attorney Humes stated he would present the indictment today.

It is claimed that Wetmore, who was superintendent of the Carbon Steel company in 1911, and Bullens, who was metallurgist, together with the other men, conspired to defraud the government by furnishing an inferior quality of steel to be used in building the locks in the Panama canal.

Calculated to Deceive.

It is alleged such steel was furnished, and that the ends of the large beams and plates were tempered highly so that when the government inspector would chip off an end to analyze, he would get a sample that was of the best kind of steel, while the balance of the beams and plates were of inferior quality.

The plant and officers of the Carbon Steel company are in this city. The officers of the company are:

President, Charles McKnight; vice presidents, Gilbert G. Thorne, George S. Marcum; secretary, D. E. Corbett; treasurer, Dean R. Wilson.

Mr. Wilson, the treasurer, stated that President McKnight was the only present official of the company who was connected with the Carbon Steel company at the time of the alleged fraud. He referred all those seeking information to Mr. McKnight.

Mr. Wilson volunteered the information, however, that but two of the men named in the presentment were employed by the Carbon Steel company at the present time. Samuel M. Wetmore, former superintendent, he said, is now manager of sales. The other man, not named, held a minor position, he said.

"not exactly a literary discussion" was held last night at Sagamore Hill. It was perhaps the most important political conference in which he has participated since the close of the campaign of 1912. It brought together representatives of New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio, the three states in which Col. Roosevelt probably will do his hardest fighting next fall.

At the meeting were George W. Perkins of New York, chairman of the executive committee of the Progressive national committee; Walter Brown of Ohio, member of the national committee; Gifford Pinchot, Progressive candidate for United States senator from Pennsylvania, and E. A. Van Valkenburg of Philadelphia, one of the foremost figures in the affairs of the party in that state. The conference was in session until late at night.

Coast to Coast Trip.

It was decided definitely that the tentative plans for Col. Roosevelt's campaign trip from the Atlantic to the Pacific should be adopted. This tour will take the former president into almost every state of the Union.

This decision was reached when the colonel sent word to Governor Hiram Johnson of California, his running mate in 1912, that he was going to California next fall to stump the state for him in his campaign for re-election.

After Col. Roosevelt had been talking for an hour with the Progressive leaders, he dictated a statement which was interpreted as indicating that, in one state, at least, he will carry the fight into the ranks of the Republican party by appealing directly to its members to ignore their past affiliations and go with the Progressives. His statement was made with particular reference to the situation in Pennsylvania, where Senator Penrose is opposed in his fight for re-election by Mr. Pinchot.

Welcomed By Neighbors.

The colonel's old neighbors welcomed him back from the jungles yesterday, and they did it in a way that made the former president strangely silent as he arose to face them, and put an unwonted huskiness in his voice.

Long before Col. Roosevelt returned from New York, where he had spent the day, the people of Oyster Bay were awaiting him. Flags were everywhere, and nailed to a telegraph pole was a sign reading:

"1916 and victory."

At last there came a shout, and over the heads of the crowd could be seen a big, white straw hat, waving back and forth. Everyone knew it was the colonel. The people crowded about him, and for a quarter of an hour there was a wild scramble to shake hands with him. The village band played "This Is the Life."

mission workers have objected to the placing in the hands of a board in New York supervision over the distribution of funds and the appointing of workers in local fields.

Presentation of the docket and the overtures followed the opening prayer today. The remainder of the day's schedule was taken up by committee reports, including the important and voluminous report of the committee on Christian life and work.

No Opposition to Maitland.

Dr. Maitland was elected by acclamation and without opposition. It came as a surprise, and was hailed by the conservative element as a victory, although the progressive faction insisted that Dr. Alexander was entirely satisfactory to its side, and for that reason his candidacy had not been opposed.

Dr. Alexander's name was put in nomination by Rev. S. J. Niccolls, the oldest ex-moderator, who presided in 1897. At the conclusion of his nomination speech Rev. Mr. Webb of Louisville, who had the backing of the Southern synods, withdrew from the race by noting that nominations for moderator be closed. This move united the votes of two of the strongest candidates of the conservatives, and the names of Dr. Stewart and Dr. Calhoun, candidates of the progressives were not presented.

Praised by Dr. Stone.

Dr. Alexander was escorted to the platform amid applause and was greeted by Rev. John Timothy Stone of Chicago, the retiring moderator, who said:

"I voted for you for moderator at Atlanta a year ago as long as I could and I want to say you were a good loser. Later you proved to be one of my most efficient aides. It is with great pleasure that I now present you with the gavel, the blue book and Dr. Roberts, the stated clerk, to guide you."

In taking the chair, Dr. Alexander smilingly referred to his unsuccessful candidacy of a year ago by saying: "I was sure this year that if I asked for bread I would not be given a Stone."

He thanked the assembly for the manner in which the honor had been bestowed.

Presented With Gavel.

Dr. W. C. Covert of Chicago presented the new moderator with a gavel made from wood from the second Fort Dearborn situated on the present site of the city of Chicago and stone from the foundations of the McCormick Theological seminary.

The following were chosen temporary clerks of the assembly:

Rev. James Frothingham of Chicago, Rev. W. T. Jacques of Detroit, Rev. Roland E. Crist of Cumberland presbytery, Pa., and Penrose Parkins of Pennsylvania.

A delegate raised a laugh by moving that in the roll call all academic titles be dispensed with, but no action was taken on the suggestion. The official roll call was 898 commissioners present, representing 295 presbyteries.

Before adjournment nineteen standing committees of the assembly were elected. In the evening a reception was given the new moderator at a downtown hotel.

in the Westchester transaction. That was enough."

"Did the New Haven buy control of the Waterbury Gas company?" asked Mr. Folk.

"Yes."

Mr. Mellen testified that the New Haven's entry into the lighting business was due to its leasing the Connecticut Railroad & Lighting company. The par value of the Waterbury gas stock was $25.

Mr. Folk read a letter to Mr. Mellen from Mr. Whittemore, a director of the Waterbury concern, in which he said he was willing to sell 1,230 shares at such price as it could afford to pay, "not less than $50."

Tried to Be Fair.

Mr. Folk thought this was in effect an offer to sell at $50, but Mr. Mellen did not think so. He said Mr. Whittemore was paid $60 a share for his stock.

"What did you pay for the stock of J. L. Elton, another of your directors?"

"That was the same sort of transaction. We paid both the same price. We tried to treat both fairly. I think both might have made money on their stock if they had held it."

Mr. Folk interrogated Mr. Mellen concerning the acquisition of the Worcester Railway & Investment company. He asked why William A. Reed & Co. of New York got $10 less for a share than had been paid to others.

"Never in Writing."

"That was a holdup," answered Mr. Mellen, adding, "an intimation came to me that if we wanted legislation it would be a good idea to trade for stock."

"Was this in writing?"

"These things never come in writing, but they reach the spot nevertheless."

Mr. Mellen, repeating previous testimony given by him regarding the payment of $140,000 in commissions to F. S. Kelley, was asked by Mr. Folk:

"Have you told us everything about this transaction?"

"Well, after I go to bed at night, since I have been testifying, I think of things that might have been brought out and I turn over and congratulate myself that they were not."

CONSTITUTIONALISTS EXPECT INVITATION TO JOIN MEDIATORS

negotiations at Niagara Falls were received by the president during the night from the American commissioners, but nothing was made public regarding the nature of the dispatches.

Secretary Bryan, before entering the cabinet room, said he had hope that definite word should be received from Vice Consul Silliman before night. The secretary had telegraphed American Consul Hanna for official information regarding the reported fall of Saltillo into the hands of the Constitutionalists. The secretary suggested that if the Federals no longer controlled Saltillo there should be no difficulty in bringing Silliman out. He was not certain, however, that Silliman still is there.

Mediators Not Informed.

Niagara Falls, Ont., May 22.—Confronted with the announcement from Washington that the Constitutionalists were planning to send a representative here, the mediators as well as the American and Mexican delegates awaited with much interest today some definite word as to his mission.

Until the exact purposes of a Constitutionalist representative here are officially communicated to the mediators, they will be unable to determine whether he can be admitted into the negotiations.

A midnight conference of the three mediators and the Huerta delegates discussed various possibilities in this connection, but no conclusion was understood to have been received in view of the absence of definite information.

"Simply to Look On."

El Paso, May 22.—Jose Vasconsclos, Constitutionalist representative said to be on his way to Niagara Falls in behalf of the Constitutionalists, is to act simply in the capacity of a watcher, it was asserted by Constitutionalist officials here. He will not take part in the mediation proceedings, it is said, but will keep in close touch with the proposals of the mediators and will advise Gen. Carranza of any developments bearing on the Constitutionalist cause.

LITTLE SICKNESS IN VERA CRUZ CAMP

Gen. Funston Makes Report to the War Department.

Washington, May 22.—Gen. Funston reported to the war department today that the sick rate among the soldiers at Vera Cruz is 1.49 per cent, and 1.46 per cent among the marines. There are 41 soldiers in the hospital and 19 sick in their quarters, while among the marines the sick total is 45. The general said that there was no malaria in the camp.

The war department, upon Gen. Funston's request, is preparing to send to Vera Cruz apparatus and chemicals sufficient to render water potable for the soldiers for a period of thirty days.

NEWSPAPER MEN AT TAMPICO DISAPPEAR

Secretary Bryan Sends Inquiry There Regarding the Three.

Washington, May 22.—Secretary Bryan has sent inquiry to Tampico regarding three men who are reported to have disappeared, named Winkler, Wallace and Merrsier. They are newspaper men, a reporter and two photographers.

MAY BE BATTLE NEAR VERA CRUZ.

Vera Cruz, May 22.—The possibility of a clash between Federals and Constitutionalists in the neighborhood of Vera Cruz is indicated by a persistent rumor that 400 Constitutionalists from Tampico have landed at Barra De Chachalascas, at the mouth of a small stream about twenty-five miles north of the American outposts.

Headquarters officials are inclined to place little faith in the reports. The landing may have taken place Wednesday and forms another possible explanation of the repeated rumors of troop movements among the Federals about Vera Cruz, and of the alleged movement of Gen. Castro and the Puebla garrison to reinforce Gen. Navarette along the Inter-Oceanic railway.

If Constitutionalists have landed at Barra De Chachalascas in sufficient force to move to the interior, they would threaten Napala by way of the Inter-Oceanic, as the landing point is within twenty miles of the San Francisco bridge across the Santa Ana river on the Inter-Oceanic. This movement would place a hostile force directly in the rear of the Federal outposts along the north line of Vera Cruz.

Mexicans Release Two.

Washington, May 22.—The state department announced that Miguel Ferrera and his brother, Nicholas Ferrera, of Lambasas, who had been arrested by the Constitutionalists in Nuevo Laredo, have been released through the efforts of American Consul Garrett. The two men have arrived on the Texas side of the Rio Grande.

ARREST SUSPECTS IN BRAINERD MURDER

Jury Unable to Say Who Killed Aged Shoemaker.

Brainerd, Minn., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—That George Rappel, the little old shoemaker, who was found dead in his tiny shop in the heart of the business district of Brainerd on Tuesday evening, came to his death by being struck on the back of his head by a blunt instrument like a hammer, which fractured his skull, was the testimony of Dr. J. A. Thabes, one of the physicians who, with Drs. Berg and Beise, performed the autopsy. The witnesses examined included Dan Doran, a shop foreman, who called for his shoes and found the shoemaker lying on the floor of his shop; John Wise, from whom he had bought a glass of beer two hours before the tragedy and who saw the buckskin bag in which Rappel carried money; George Rappel, Jr., his son, who testified the old man always carried money on his person in the buckskin bag and a flat pocketbook; R. E. Clark, the deputy coroner, who brought the body to the morgue. Pockets were turned inside out when the body was found, showing that robbery must have been the motive.

Cannot Fix Blame.

The coroner's jury found that Rappel "came to his death by receiving a blow on the head by the hands of persons unknown to this jury." Two suspects are in jail. The crime was a particularly vicious one, as Rappel, 70 years old, was harmless and inoffensive, tended to his business, worked a little garden plot near his shoe shop, saved his money and found no greater pleasure than playing with his little grandchildren and often minding the babies of his son. At the German weddings in the neighborhood he danced about as active as any bride. He was a little over five feet tall, sturdily built and very industrious. The funeral will be held from St. Francis Catholic church.

Kermit Is at Madrid.

Madrid, May 22.—Kermit Roosevelt, whose marriage with Miss Belle Wyatt Willard, daughter of the American ambassador to Spain, is to take place early in June, arrived here yesterday.

Something About Government Ownership

No. 8

Advocates of government ownership of telephones have claimed that the American people are paying dividends on "watered" stock.

Here is what Representative Lewis, Chief Congressional Advocate of Government ownership, says about "water" in Bell Telephone stock:

"Be it said for the Bell System that it is the one great corporation in our country that has not issued tons of counterfeit capital.

"Its bonds today represent the actual contributions of its stockholders in money to a great common enterprise."

The telephone business has produced no millionaires.

Last year the net earnings of the Bell System were less than 6 per cent. on the actual investment.

Five per cent. of the gross revenue, or $11,300,000, were paid in taxes in 1913.

Just Between You and Me

W. C. VOGT, holder of the world's championship casting mark, will have general charge of the exhibition that will be given on Park Point next Sunday. This exhibition will be something entirely new to the sportsmen of this section of the country, and judging from the number of amateur fishermen who have utilized back yards and alleys and even the streets in front of their homes wherein to practice casting, the competition for the various prizes is going to be very strong.

In various cities and watering places of the East casting competitions have proven quite the rage. When properly executed casting is an art. While in Duluth Mr. Vogt has gone out of his way to instruct some of the local devotees of the rod in the expert method of making casts. To behold this wizard of the rod making a cast is to realize the wonderful proficiency that can be attained and to understand also why the expert caster has so tremendous an advantage over the fishermen who lacks distance and accuracy in his casts.

Mr. Vogt will give a number of exhibitions of distance and accuracy in casting, and there will be a number of competitions between local casters for various prizes that have been hung up.

Arguing With Garry.

MR. GARRY: "McGraw is the greatest manager in the world. Why the Giants are a poor baseball team. Say, get this, when Chance won those pennants he had the greatest catcher in the world, one of the greatest infields in the world, the greatest pitching staff in the world and one of the greatest outfields in the game. Who couldn't have won pennants with that team?"

Ten minutes are supposed to have elapsed.

A new customer enters and Garry starts the baseball talk. "Say what do you know about those Giants? The greatest team in the world. Some team! Just wait, boy, until September and see where they are. Some team is right! Why they went into the world's series with a pitcher on first, their real catcher out of the game, their regular third baseman playing the outfield, and yet see the showing they made. You have to hand it to the Giants."

Another ten minutes or so elapses and someone else comes in, for this is a very busy day.

"If it wasn't for McGraw where would the Giants be? Say if McGraw had the Yankees they would be leading the league—and say, if Chance had the Giants they would be down in the second division. It's McGraw who makes them boys win. Just a fair baseball team, but see who is managing it. Napoleon of baseball is right."

It is getting along toward half past four and the returns from the big league games are coming in over the tickers.

"The New Yorks beat Pittsburg, eh? Some team. Watch 'em walk home. Four straight pennants for the Giants and then there goes that old record. The greatest team playing the game. Wait until the world's series is played this year and you fellows will see which is the greatest baseball team in the world. No wonder they win—they are the best team."

Zbyszko and Westergaard.

TO the credit of Tilt Lewis will go the distinction of staging the first world's championship heavyweight wrestling match that has ever been staged in this section of the country. The contest between the mastodonic Pole and the lank and towering Swede will be the first legitimate contest that has ever been staged in this city for the title that for years has been the exclusive and perennial property of the wizard of Humboldt.

Gotch is out of the game for all time. The question is whether this country can produce or has produced a wrestler skillful enough or powerful enough to take the measure of the man who is generally conceded to be the rightful champion with Gotch out of the running.

Americus beat Fred Beell in jig time in Kansas City last March and then came back and won the first fall from Zbyszko. Otto Floto, the Denver sporting authority, declares that Americus is the greatest of all the American wrestlers. Right along the line of this proposition the veteran sporting editor will meet with a lot of difference of opinion.

The vast majority of authorities of the wrestling game will oppose Floto in this contention. Our opinion is that Westergaard and Charley Cutler are the class of the home brew—and the greater of this pair is another matter that has been causing argument among the followers of wrestling heretofore the last week.

If Zbyszko, huge of body, a freak in athletic construction, about the only fat man in the history of the world who has become a champion of a sport requiring strenuous and prodigious exertions of strength and endurance, is beaten the defeat will come through either Cutler or Westergaard.

Zbyszko may be going back. The Pole has wrestled five of the greatest campaigns of any wrestler in the history of the game. He has accumulated a fortune because he has wrestled steadily, both here and in Europe, and wrestled every night in the week.

During the summers the huge Stanislaus has gone back to Europe and hurled the best of the wrestlers of the other side of the pond crushing to the mat. In the winter Zbyszko has wrestled on this side of the brine for months with hardly a night of rest.

No other man in the history of the wrestling game could have accomplished this. Endurance and superhuman strength have been the forte of the Pole, and if he is going back, as some close followers of the game believe, there may exist the outside chance that America may produce the man to pin those broad, compact and glistening shoulders to the mat two times in the same match.

The Speeders Have Troubles.

CASTOR OIL has been through the generations the bugaboo ofyouth. New England mothers threatened their children with it and the modern mother uses it in more modified form. Now castor oil is becoming famous as a trouble maker at the Indianapolis speedway. It seems that castor oil is a first class lubricant for the large racing machines. The officials of the Indianapolis course have forbidden its use, saying that it smells bad and causes discomfort to the spectators. The drivers say that they have to use it on their machines, even as fond mothers used it for ailing infants—and the end of the controversy is not yet.

SHAMROCK IV GETS FIRST "ONCE OVER"

Challenger Will Carry Immense Amount of Canvas; Her Dimensions.

Gosport, Eng., May 22.—Through the courtesy of Sir Thomas Lipton, the first inspection was permitted yesterday of Shamrock IV in Camper & Nicholson's yard.

Charles E. Nicholson, designer of the yacht, which will try for the America's cup, assisted in laying bare some of her secrets, but refused to disclose all, notably her sail area.

The form of the Shamrock's hull, however, makes it evident that the sail area will considerably exceed the 8,000 and odd square feet which it is reported the Resolute will carry. If pitted against the Resolute, Shamrock IV will not only have to beat her, but beat her by probably two or three minutes to win the cup.

The following figures of the Shamrock's dimensions may be regarded as authoritative:

Length over all, 110 feet; length on the water, 75 feet; greatest beam, 22 feet; draught without centerboard, 13.9 feet; with the centerboard down to its full extent the draught will be 10 feet additional.

WHITE HOSE ARE BEATEN

Superior Takes Home-Warming Contest By Score of 5 to 2.

George Cunningham Shows Well But Receives Poor Support.

Handsome Jack Landry's crew opened the Hislop platted park series yesterday by defeating the White Sox by the score of 5 to 2. It was the 1914 opening for Sommer's successors and one of the largest crowds that ever attended a baseball game on the other side of the ferry path was on hand to lend eclat to the festive occasion.

It is estimated that fully 3,500 people were packed within the confines of the bandbox. It is stated that even more would have been on hand were it not for the fact that the municipal authorities required that a small part of the population of the village remain away from the game to watch the civic wheels go round, to guard the dog pound and watch for speeding Duluth automobile drivers.

Mayor Konkel was recalled from the stand (grandstard) and became a witness for the defense when he pitched the first strike across the plate to the White Sox. With his sleeves rolled up and his brawny form silhouetted against the dense blackness of the mass of sardined humanity in the outfield, the mayor presented a striking replica of that that famous picture of the spirit of '76.

Cyrus Augustus Dahlgren, the county option advocate, was on the mound for the Red Sox, and while lacking control, Cyrus was hard to hit and effective at all times.

Opposed to Cyrus Augustus was George Austin Cunningham, the recruit heaver from the wild and untrammeled district of Sturgeon Lake. George heaved a nice game but received wobbly support from his comrades. That grand old veteran of the game, Darby O'Brien, was charged with two bubbles at second base, and Harry Wolfe, the Cleveland youngster, also had a couple of boots.

Duluth Scores First.

In the first round Hi Brackett walked and went to third on the single of O'Brien. Dad Ford flew to Persch and Brackett beat the throw to the plate.

In the home half of this round Persch busted the ball to the right field fence for three bases. Glass doubled and the Dutchman was in.

The second and final score for the White Sox was manufactured in the second. Ford doubled and scored when Jerry Phillips likewise doubled.

In the third Benrud tripled, the ball taking a lucky hop over the venerable dome of Dad Ford. Dahlgren grounded out and Benrud scored on the play.

Cullis scored in the fourth after being hit by the ball, two errors advancing the runner around the diamond. In the fifth Persch singled, was sacrificed by McGee and scored on a single by Glass. The final run in the sixth was scored after two were dead. Cullis doubled and came home when Benrud's grounder was mussed up by Wolfe.

Cunningham had a lot of stuff and looked like a comer.

FORT WILLIAM LOSES OPENER

Lampman Allows One Hit and Virginia Wins, 3 to 2.

Fort William, Ont., May 22.—Virginia won the opening game on the Fort William grounds here yesterday by the score of 3 to 2, and this, despite the fact that the ore diggers made eight errors. Lampman was as wild as the proverbial March hare, but he was so effective at all times that the Twins gathered but one hit off his delivery. With the score tied at two Gretsch hit one over the fence. The hit was the longest ever made here. President Burmeister witnessed the game and took part in the ceremonies incident to the opening of this local season. A large crowd was on hand. Score: R. H. Cardinals Beat Giants.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—St. Louis, through excellent base-running and timely hitting and through New York's loose fielding overcame a three-run lead New York secured in the first inning and won from the champions, 8 to 4. New York, by bunching hits with bases on balls and errors, scored three runs. Doak was invincible after the opening inning until the seventh when Snodgrass went to second on an out and scored on Meyers' one-base hit. Sallee relieved Doak here and retired the side without another run.

Snyder scored St. Louis' first run. He doubled and Huggins hit for two bases. In the fifth inning Cruise walked, but was forced by Snyder, who scored with Beck on the latter's home run drive to left center. Cruise scored St. Louis' last run on his own single and Beck's two-bagger. Huggins was banished for disputing a decision by Umpire Eason in the third inning. Score: R. H. E.

Pirates Trounce Phillies.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 22.—Pittsburg hit Mayer and Alexander hard yesterday afternoon and won the opening game with Philadelphia, 6 to 2. Harmon kept ten Philadelphia hits scattered. In the second inning Pittsburg failed to get a run on four successive hits. Singles by Carey and Wagner and Konetchy's triple added two in the third and in the sixth the locals scored three on Mitchell's triple, Gibson's double and singles by Viox and Leonard. Alexander, who replaced Mayer in the sixth received word that his sister had died in St. Paul. Score: R. H. E.

Braves Defeat Cubs.

Chicago, May 222.—Boston won the first game of the series yesterday, 3 to 1. In the first inning, Johnny Evers, who made his local debut as captain of the visitors against his former team mates, walked and scored on Maranville's triple. Bresnahan caught Maranville off third base, but Zimmerman fumbled the throw and Maranville scored. Boston's other run was made on Gowdy's double, Tyler's single and Evers' sacrifice fly in the fifth inning. Chicago's lone run was the result of Bresnahan's walk and Cheney's triple in the fourth. Dodgers Bow to Reds.

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 22.—Ragon had one bad inning when Cincinnati scored 7 runs, enough to win from Brooklyn yesterday. The final score was 8 to 4. The second inning proved Brooklyn's undoing. Ragon, in this inning, giving four bases on balls, which, with four hits, one of them a three-base drive, netted the locals seven runs. After that Ragon pitched good ball. Ares who started for Cincinnati was taken out when it appeared Cincinnati had the game won, and Rowan went on the mound. Tigers 6; Athletics 4.

Philadelphia, May 22.—The biggest crowd of the season saw Detroit defeat Philadelphia yesterday 6 to 4. The visitors drove Plank off the rubber in the second inning, while his successors, Shawkey and Covaleskie, were both taken out in the third inning. Bressler and Pennock for Philadelphia and Cavet for Detroit, all "southpaws," finished the game for their respective teams.

Yankees 5; Naps 2.

New York, May 22.—New York won the first game of its series from Cleveland here yesterday, the score being 5 to 2. Collamore was hit freely in the early innings, the locals winning the game by scoring three runs in the third inning on hits by Maisel, Hartsell and Williams, a pass to Walsh and errors by Lajoie and Olsen. Fisher pitched a strong game for New York and was seldom in trouble. Cook was knocked out in the seventh when a pitched ball hit him in the back, but he continued playing.

New York .....0 0 3 0 0 2 0 0 0—5 7 0

White Sox 5; Red Sox 2.

Boston, Mass., May 22.—Chicago won the first game of the series from Boston yesterday 5 to 2. The batting of Chase, who made four hits, one a triple, in four times at bat, and of Demmitt, gured largely in the White Sox victory. Benz pitched a masterly game, except in the sixth inning, when singles by Cady and Hooper, an error by Demmitt and Benz's wild pitch gave Boston its only runs. Score: R. H. E.

Senators 5; Browns 4.

Washington, May 22.—Washington continued its winning streak yesterday by taking the first game of the series with St. Louis 5 to 4. In the end of the ninth inning, with the score 4 to 4 and two out, Moeller, on second, started for third and scored with Ware's wild throw. Washington had tied the score in the seventh, when Baumgardner forced in a run. Score: R. H. E.

AMERICAN ASSN.

Colonels 8; Saints 6.

Louisville, Ky., May 22.—Louisville defeated St. Paul yesterday 8 to 6 in the last game of the series. The visitors outbatted the locals but their poor fielding proved costly. A running catch by Osborn and four double plays by St. Paul were features. This victory puts Louisville back into first place again, as Milwaukee suffered defeat at Indianapolis. Score: R. H. E.

RANGE STARS TO PLAY THE STRONG WOODLAND TEAM

Young Hughes, brother of the Hughes who was one of the star pitchers for the White Sox some three years ago, will probably be the mound nominee for the Woodlands in the game against Hibbing that will be played at Athletic Park on Sunday.

Manager Mitchell of the Duluth semi-professional aggregation is placing one of the strongest teams in the field that has ever represented the Zenith city in the semi-professional ranks and the followers of the suburban aggregation are confident of the outcome of the contest, despite the fact that the iron range district is reported sure of a win.

With Frank Schaeffer behind the pad, with Menlece at first, Vic Olson at second, Arnie Olson at short and Frankie Sommers at third, and McGraw, Case and Kerns in the outfield, the Woodland outfit will present a strong lineup.

Red Carroll, the veteran, will be behind the bat for the Hibbing team, with Tedisco, who pitched last season for Virginia, in the box. Dave Williams, the former manager for the Duluth White Sox, will be on first and Burrows on second. C. Booth will play the shortfield position and the famous Brookins, one of the greatest stars who ever played in the old Northern league, will be on first. Brookins was drafted by the Indianapolis team of the American league, but refused to report. Bobby Geiselman will be in left and Clifford and Booth in the other two outfield posts.

Hibbing is Strong.

In the lineup of the visitors are some of the greatest stars that have ever played on the Mesaba range. Practically all of the players that will oppose the local team went to the range some years ago because of their ability to play fast baseball. Carroll has been in the league baseball, and Dave Williams has been in the big leagues. Brookins is a star and Bobby Geiselman is one of the cracks of the iron ore district.

Against this array of stars the Woodlands will send a bunch of local players who have made reputations on the local diamonds.

Arnie Olson is one of the crack allround athletes of Duluth. Not only is Arnie a crack boxer and baseball player, but he is also one of the hockey stars of the city. Vic Olson is a fast infielder and Frank Schaeffer, a former catcher for the Sox, is one of the local dependables. Frank Sommers is another of the Woodlands who has seen service in league company.

"Muggs" McGraw is considered one of the stars of the Woodlands. Playing up from the smaller teams of the city, the kid is rated as one of the best of Duluth players and is considered nearly good enough for a trial in professional company.

GOPHERS AND BADGERS MEET

University Men in Annual Path and Field Contests.

Tennis Also Between Minnesota and Chicago—Other College Events.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 22.—The Universities of Minnesota and Wisconsin were scheduled to compete in their annual athletic contests on cinder path and field at Northrop field this afternoon. The Badgers left Madison last night and arrived here this morning. Coach Leonard Frank has been working his men hard since their defeat at the hands of Nebraska, a week ago.

Simultaneously with the track meet there was to be a contest in tennis between Minnesota and Chicago. The event in the latter will be a match between Stellwagen of Minnesota and Capt. Squire of the Chicago team.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Washington university of this city defeated Nebraska university at both doubles and singles in the first round of the Missouri Valley conference tennis tournament here yesterday. Hoerr and Gallenkamp of Washington were matched against Meyer and Stussman of Nebraska in both events. In the singles Smith of Kansas defeated Cave of Ames, 6-1; 6-3. The tournament continues today.

Princeton, N. J., May 22.—Michigan lost to Princeton here yesterday by the score of 5 to 4. Copeland singled over first base in the fourth inning, giving Princeton three runs. Score: R. H. E.
Princeton .....1 0 0 4 0 0 0 0 x—5 6 3

Madison, Wis., May 22.—Harry Vail, coach of the University of Wisconsin crews said yesterday he considered the chances of the Cardinals taking at least one, and possibly two of the regatta events at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 26, brighter than ever before. Five members of last year's eight, eligible for the crew this year, and they are leaders that the coach thinks excellent material. In addition there are three men eligible who had one year's varsity experience who were shifted last year to the four-oared shell, and three of the Wisconsin freshmen eight which won its event on the Hudson last year. Good weather has favored training and has offset the Badgers' usual handicap of a late start, caused by ice.

Expect to Float Atlantis.

Galveston, Tex., May 22.—If good weather prevails the Norwegian steamship Atlantis, which went ashore on the Mexican coast north of Tampico and from which passengers were rescued by the battleship Connecticut, will be floated with little difficulty. This information was received here by cable.

RITCHIE DRIVES HARD BARGAIN

English Promoters Agree to Heavy Terms for Ritchie-Welsh Match.

Chicago, May 22.—Willie Ritchie, champion lightweight, has received word that London promoters had accepted his terms for a match in the British capital with Freddie Welsh, the English fighter. Ritchie said he would sign articles as soon as they reached him.

His demands included a guarantee of $15,000 or 50 per cent of the gross receipts, $10,000 for the "advertising rights," and $10,000 for the moving picture rights—a total of $35,000.

The date has not yet been set, but the match probably will be Ritchie's next one, after his bout with Charley White at Milwaukee Tuesday night.

RIOTOUS SCENE IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

"Die Hard" Opposition Faction Halts Home Rule Bill Passage.

London, May 22.—Having exhausted all constitutional means of opposing the passage of the home rule bill, the "die hard" section of the opposition, in a last desperate effort to delay the automatic passage of the bill under the parliament act, provoked a scene in the house of commons late yesterday which was more characteristic of the Austrian than the English parliament.

The bill had reached the third reading stage, and Premier Asquith announced that the proposed amending bill would be introduced in the house of lords. The premier was immediately subjected to a fierce fire of questions, to induce him to divulge the nature of the proposed amendments. He declined to reveal this until the third reading had been passed, and after a number of bitter speeches by Andrew Bonar Law and others, denouncing the premier's conduct, a large section of the back bench Unionists, by persistent shouts of "adjourn," made the continuation of business impossible.

Appealed to Law.

The speaker appealed to the disturbers in vain, and took the unusual course of asking the leader of the opposition whether he approved of the disorderly demonstration. Mr. Law refused to answer this question, whereupon the speaker suspended the sitting.

This is the third time the house of commons has been similarly suspended during the eventful history of the present parliament.

Today is private members' day, so that the home rule debate will not be resumed until Monday, and the general opinion in the lobbies was that the interval would give opportunity for passions to subside and calmer counsels to prevail, especially as it is known that Arthur J. Balfour and the older members of the party disapproved of yesterday's scene.

Should the disorderly tactics be repeated, however, it is believed the premier will move closure and the third reading division will be taken forthwith.

Were Premeditated.

That the proceedings were premeditated seemed evident from the fact that rumors were current at the beginning of the sitting that some sensational movement was intended, and it was supposed that the whole opposition would walk out of the house.

EDUCATOR MODERATOR.

Southern Presbyterians Choose Layman as Their Head.

Kansas City, Mo., May 22.—The Presbyterian Church in the United States (Southern) pledged itself to the cause of edeucation when it elected W. J. Martin of Davidson, N. C., president of Davidson college, moderator of the fifty-fourth general assembly. Mr. Martin succeeds Rev. J. S. Lyons of Louisville, Ky., as moderator and is the fourth layman to be elected to that office in the history of the church.

Six commissioners were nominated for moderator—two laymen and four ministers. They were: Rev. E. D. McDouglas of Anniston, Ala.; Rev. C. T. Thompson of Kosciusko, Miss.; Rev. T. A. Wharton of Sherman, Tex.; Rev. George Summy of New Orleans; R. A. Rand of Wilmington, N. C., and W. J. Martin of Davidson, N. C.

CHINESE SERVANT GUILTY OF KILLING.

Vancouver, B. C., May 22.—Jack Kong, the Chinese servant, aged 16, accused of the murder of Mrs. Charles Millard, wife of a Canadian Pacific railroad employe, was found guilty yesterday of manslaughter. Sentence was reserved.

Astors End Cruise.

Norfolk, Va., May 22.—After spending several days up the James river on his yacht Norma, Vincent Astor and his bride, formerly Miss Helen Huntington, returned to Norfolk yesterday. They will leave Saturday for a cruise to Bermuda.

PREDICTS GOOD SEASON.

Manager of Isle Royale Summer Hotel Looks for Many Tourists.

F. Schofield, manager of the Belle Isle resort on Isle Royale, predicts a very successful season in summer tourist trade during the next few months. The summer resorts on the island, he said, are making every preparation to handle big crowds during the coming season. Isle Royale, he believes, will be more popular than ever this year. Mr. Schofield will return to Belle Isle next Monday on the Booth line steamer.

ONE GOOD THING TO GET.

The stock broker was busy and nervous. His caller was insistent and garrulous. He explained his ability to get for the broker important and confidential information.

"There's nothing you can do for me," said the broker decisively, according to the Popular Magazine.

"There is one thing," said the broker, after a moment's thought, "which you can get me, and it will be of great use to me."

The visitor brightened up.

"That's fine! What can I get for you?"

"Out," said the broker.

THE first requisite of a soap for the toilet is mildness.

Mildness depends upon the quality of the materials used in the making, the absence of free alkali and the absence of bleaches, fillers and other foreign matter.

Ivory Soap is made of the best materials that can be bought. It contains no free alkali. Nothing is put into it to make it white, to increase its weight or to soften water.

That is why Ivory Soap is so mild that it can be used with comfort and safety on the tender skin of a child.

GIVES VIEWS ABOUT HUERTA

Minnesotan Who Saw Naval Duty Off Tampico Visits Bemidji.

Mexicans Believe Huerta Dragged U. S. Into Row for Purpose.

Bemidji, Minn., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—That Dictator Huerta has involved the United States in the Mexican trouble, with a view of creating a turmoil that would cause Villa and Carranza to stand off and allow Huerta to bolster up his own internal political fences, is the opinions of Mexicans, according to F. P. Brady of the United States battleship Rhode Island, first class, who was in Bemidji this week. Brady and his brother, Dr. C. P. Brady of Minneapolis, visited their sister, Miss Lillian Brady, a teacher in the Bemidji schools.

The naval man left for Big Falls and will be in Boston at the expiration of his furlough next Sunday. The battleship on which he is employed will leave Boston July 1, after being generally repaired.

Looked to U. S. Aid

The Rhode Island left Hampton Roads for the seat of the present disturbance Oct. 27 and was standing in the river just off Tampico, which is five miles up the river, when rebels took that city. He says that when that battle started 150 men, women and children of all nationalities looked to the flag of the United States for protection, even though ships of their own nationality might be just as convenient. Mr. Brady was on the ship, when two brothers of Madero, after they had appealed to the United States consulate for protection, were placed aboard the Rhode Island, protected until night and then taken on the United States steamer Chester to an ocean liner, intercepted off the shores. Huerta, says Brady, had issued death warrants for the brothers to be murdered in the same manner as the former dictator was killed.

Ex-Governor Lind was another person who was given protection on the boat and taken to Tuxpan, an oil center in which much American capital is involved, on the Rhode Island. Mr. Brady was on that boat.

MOOSE LAKE TO GRADUATE TEN

H. Oldenberg Will Deliver Address to Graduates May 29.

HILL CITYITE BOOSTS AITKIN COUNTY LANDS

H. V. EASTMAN.

Hill City, Minn., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The newly organized Commercial club has sent H. V. Eastman, a well-known local booster, into Southern Minnesota and Northern Iowa to advertise Aitkin lands and urge settlers to locate in this section.

The club has created a sort of real estate exchange in the club, and parties having lands adjacent to Hill City, who wish to advertise them and sell them, list these lands with the Commercial club and agree to pay a commission of $1 an acre to the club for all sales made. The commissions earned in this way will be used to pay the expenses of selling the lands and the salary and expenses of the salesman, Mr. Eastman. The first sale was made by Mr. Eastman yesterday, and a commission of $31 has been turned into the club.

"I believe that this is a splendid idea," said Mr. Sherman, "and if it works out successfully, I am going to try and get as many commercial clubs in the state as I can to form such a real estate exchange in their club and follow up this work extensively."

MISSOURIAN IS SHOWN.

Buys Minnesota Land "Unsight, Unseen" and Is Satisfied.

Stephen, Minn., May 22.—J. W. Everman and wife, of Gallatin, Missouri, came to Stephen Monday morning on the specific mission of seeing some land which he had traded for sight unseen. The land is situated in the town of Donnelly, seven miles northwest of Stephen. Mr. and Mrs. Everman were taken out by F. C. Woods in his auto and upon a close scrutiny of the property Mr. Everman expressed his gratification at it and said "I'm from Missouri and have been shown and shall keep the property as an investment."

KILLS THREE; THEN TAKES OWN LIFE

Pennington County Man Separated From Wife Has Awful Revenge.

Thief River Falls, Minn., May 22.—Louis Gilsout, son-in-law of O. K. Olson, living on a farm, about thirty miles north of here, who had become separated from his wife, visited the Olson farm yesterday, killed three women, all sisters, dangerously wounded his wife's mother, and then shot himself. It is feared Mrs. O. K. Olson will die.

The dead:
MRS. LUDWI GLARSON, aged 40.
MRS. LOUIS GILSOUT, 23.
MRS. LUDWIG LARSON, aged 40.
LOUIS GILSOUT.

Calls to See Wife.

Gilsout appeared at the home of Olson during the forenoon and asked to see his wife, a daughter of the Olsons, from whom he had been separated. He was met at the door by Mrs. Larson, who refused him admittance. He immediately drew a revolver and shot the woman, killing her instantly. He then entered the house and began firing at the other members of the household, killing his wife first, then her sister, after which he probably mortally wounded Mrs. Olson. He then left the place and started for the woods.

Olson Finds Dead.

Mr. Olson, hearing the shooting, went to the house, where he found the dead and wounded. He immediately notified the neighborhood and a posse started in search of Gilsout The latter's body was found later in the woods, where he had killed himself.

Gilsout, it is said, had recently returned from Canada, where he went, following the separation from his wife. Jealousy is said to have caused the trouble between the Gilsouts.

Formerly of Beltrami County.

Gilsout, up to two years ago, resided on his homestead in what was known as the "Moose-Island settlement," in Northeastern Beltrami county. A year ago last fall Gilsout's first wife obtained a divorce; he sold his homestead and during the winter lived with neighbors near Espelie. Near here lived 18-year-old Helen Olson. The following spring Gilsout induced Helen to accompany him to Canada, where they had lived on a homestead up to a week ago. Here a cousin of the girl, Mrs. Ludwig Larson, and her husband visited them. Mrs. Larson decided that the man was not treating Helen well, and induced her to return to her home, where they arrived last Sunday. Unknown to them Gilsout had followed and appeared at the house.

Meeting Mrs. Larson in the door, he said, "I have come for my wife." She replied, "You cannot see her," and upon Gilsout's attempting to enter the house, she picked up a pair of ice tongs with which she threatened him. Hereupon Gilsout drew his revolver, shot her in the breast, and as she ran into the yard he shot her again through the heart, killing her instantly.

Kills Dog, Too.

Gilsout then shot the dog, which had attacked him, and entering the house killed his wife and her sister, Inga. He then fired five shots at his mother-in-law, mortally wounding her. The father of the family had fled upon seeing Gilsout approach. A son, who was at work a short distance away, went to a neighbor for assistance, upon hearing the shooting. Returning, armed with a 30-30, he met the murderer as he was fleeing from the house and fired a shot at him. Gilsout ran to a thicket nearby and within a few seconds the boy heard a shot. The neighbors did not dare investigate further until they had gathered in considerable force, and then found Gilsout dead. By his side was found a mailing tube containing a marriage certificate, on which he had written, "this is to prove that she was my wife," also a note to his son, telling him not to do as he had done.

Gilsout was about 45 years of age, a heavy drinker and of rather a taciturn disposition.

HINCKLEY RALLY.

Jaques and Jenswold of Duluth Among the Speakers.

Hinckley, Minn., May 22.—There will be a Democratic meeting here under the auspices of the Hammond club Saturday evening, May 30. Addresses will be delivered by Alfred Jaques of Duluth, the new United States attorney; John Jenswold of Duluth, candidate for congress in the Eighth district two years ago, and Harry S. Swenson, Democratic candidate for congress in the Sixth district this year.

North Dakota Poet Home.

Bismarck, N. D., May 22.—James W. Foley, North Dakota's poet laureate, and his wife, have returned from California, where they spent the winter months. Before coming to Bismarck Mr. Foley made a trip to Chicago to arrange for the publication of some of his prose and verse.

Duluth Limited Kills Two.

Reedsburg, Wis., May 22.—Two men belonging to a work crew engaged on the Chicago & Northwestern railway were killed at the boarding cars of the company by the Duluth limited. As the train approached they stepped directly in front of it.

MISTAKE IN BOTTLES NEARLY CLAIMS LIFE

Osnabrook, N. D., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—While mixing a punch, Vincent Svoboda, residing near here, mistook a bottle of liniment for alcohol, and took a big draught of the poison. His condition was quite serious for several hours but he is now recovering satisfactorily.

TURTLE MOUNTAIN RESERVE PLANNED.

St. John, N. D., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The residents of this part of the state have visions of the creation of both state and federal game reserves in the eastern end of the Turtle Mountains and having a park system through the country around the state fish hatchery at Birchwood. It is located on the shores of Lake Upsilon, seven miles west of this point and the natural advantages of the place are ideal for a great summer resort.

Capt. R. W. Main early appreciated the advantages of the location and through his efforts the state fish hatchery was established some years ago. It has no direct appropriation and is now maintained through the state game funds. As a result it has not been able to accomplish as much as is desired, but many lakes have been stocked with fish during the years since it was started.

ANNIVERSARY OF GRAND LODGE.

Fargo, N. D., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The twenty-fifth anniversary of the organization of the Masonic grand lodge of North Dakota will be observed here June 16. The territorial grand lodge was divided twenty-five years ago on that date, and the silver anniversary is to be celebrated by the meeting here. It is expected at least 500 out of town Masons will be in attendance, and the occasion will be celebrated with suitting ceremonies. During the same week the Order of the Eastern Star will also be in session here.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Marquette—Work on the erection of St. Luke's hospital is in excellent progress. About forty men are employed at the present time. The concrete and tile floors on the first story are being laid and the work on the erection of the tile and stucco exterior walls of the first story has been commenced.

Negaunee—James Williams, the 19-year-old son of Mrs. W. L. Williams, died May 20. Besides his mother, three sisters and two brothers survive: Mrs. Ernest Hawke of Fort Atkinson, Wis., Alice, Hattie, Henry and Sampson, all of this city. Mrs. Hawke is in the city, having been called some time ago. His father, Capt. W. L. Williams, was killed by a cave-in at the Negaunee mine in 1903.

SAYS SULPHUR DRIVES ECZEMA FROM THE SKIN

Use Like Cold Cream to Instantly Stop Itching and Clear the Skin.

Sulphur, says a renowned dermatologist, just common bold-sulphur made into a thick cream will soothe and heal the skin when irritated and b oken out with Eczema or any form of eruption. The moment it is applied all itching ceases and after two or three applications the Eczema disappears, leaving the skin clear and smooth.

He tells Eczema sufferers to get from any good pharmacy an ounce of bold-sulphur cream and apply it to the irritated parts the same as you would any cold cream.

For many years common bold-sulphur has occupied a secure position in the practice of dermatology and cutaneous affections by reason of its parasite-destroying property. It is not only parasiticidal, but also anti-pruritic and antiseptic and remarkably healing in all irritable and inflammatory conditions of the skin. While not always effecting a permanent cure it never fails to instantly subdue the angry itching and irritation and heal the Eczema right up and it is often years later before any eruption again appears on the skin.

ON THE IRON RANGES

AGRICULTURAL SPECIAL SPENDING DAY AT BIWABIK

Will Be at Iron Junction Saturday and Meadowlands Sunday.

Most of Farmers So Far Visited Are Finns and Successful.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Biwabik, Minn., May 22.—The Agricultural Special of the Iron Range railroad arrived here last evening and today the customary all-day short course is being given a large group of farmers from the surrounding country. Many of them have come many miles to hear the instruction and see the exhibits and demonstrations. They are not being disappointed, for the course is as thorough as it can be made with the short time at the disposal of the instructors.

As at most of the other towns visited since the train started out from Duluth, nearly all of the farmers visiting the train are of the Finnish nationality. No words do justice to what the Finns are doing for St. Louis county and all of Northern Minnesota, hundrsds of them are raising vegetables and grains on the soil of this district, are building their homes for permanency and are raising families of good American citizens. No man is more zealous for the proper educational advantages for his children than the Finn, and few first generation descendants of foreign-born parents are better students.

Finn Good Land Cleaner.

The Finn is peculiarly fitted by temperament for the clearing of cut-over land. He can take a piece of land which another man would scorn as a tangle of brush and stumps and a discouraging collection of stones and he can make it bloom with whatever will bloom in the particular kind of soil available after the stumps and brush and stones are removed. He knows no discomfort in hard labor, recognizes no obstacles as insurmountable and takes a pride in the results of his labors. The results achieved by these Finnish farmers are really staggering when their farms are viewed in comparison with the thousands of uncleared acres surrounding them.

Embarrass where the course was given yesterday is typically a Finnish settlement. The Three Rivers school at the Embarrass station has seventy-two pupils and seventy of them are of that nationality. The seven other schools in the district have about the same proportion of children of Finnish parents. That fact shows the preponderance of the people of that nationality in the community. The further fact that Embarrass is regarded as one of the best farming districts in St. Louis county—in fact in Northeastern Minnesota—is in itself a sufficient tribute to the Finnish people.

What Alex Palo Did.

Men like Alex Palo, who went to Embarrass fifteen years ago with nothing, took up a homestead of 160 acres and has today seventy cleared acres and one of the finest farms to be found anywhere in this section of the state, are of inestimable value to the county. Thomas Worlin has been in the Embarrass district twelve years, Matt Rojinen ten or twelve years, John Kangas, fourteen years; Matt Nevala about ten years and there are many others who started with nothing have raised large families and have made a living for them and are today independent and contented. They are an inspiration to others who hesitate over the difficulties of clearing and cultivating thesoil, for where there are substantiel rewards promised, men will work willingly and with fortitude.

New Type of Potato.

The 1914 trip of the Agricultural Special has given to the world the Amanda Johnson potato and a frail little woman, 61 years old, is happy in the recognition of her achievement.

Some of the experts on the train had heard of the new type of potato before yesterday, but they had seen none of them. A. B. Hostetter, district supervisor of agriculture for Northeastern Minnesota, had a few of the type last year and was familiar with their characteristics but they had not reached the stage of development shown by the potatoes Mrs. Johnson brought to the train yesterday.

The Amanda Johnson potato is a development from the seed of the Carmen No. 3 Five years ago Mrs. Johnson planted some seeds from potato vines. The first products were about the size of cranberries. She planted them again in the following year and a somewhat larger product resulted. Each year she continued to plant the seed from the year before until last year she planted two bushels, from which she obtained forty bushels.

Of Fine Quality.

The potatoes she brought to the train yesterday are of an unusually fine quality. They are somewhat under ideal size, but another year's planting undoubtedly will bring them up in size. They have a tough skin that the experts say will be disease resisting to an unusual degree, and they have a firm white inside. W. A. Dickinson, the D. & I. R. superintendent of agriculture, says the potatoes brought to the train had wintered better than any potatoes he has seen for years. Mr. Hostetter says that they are better than the Carmen No. 3 from which they were produced and the Carmen No. 3 is one of the best, if not the best variety of potato grown in this section of the country. The ratio of production obtained by Mrs. Johnson is 200 bushels an acre. Mr. Hostetter says that with scientific cultivation 300 bushels an acre would be an average yield. He obtained a sample to be planted on one of the farms near Duluth and he hopes to provide a better seed for next year.

The growing of potatoes from seeds is no novelty, but in very few cases does the product excel the original type. The results of Mrs. Johnson's efforts are the exception, and she has accordingly provided a new variety of tuber, especially adapted to this climate and from that fact of more than ordinary value. Mrs. Johnson and her husband, Matt Johnson, took a homestead in the Embarrass district twelve years ago. They have about twenty acres cleared and have gone in principally for potato culture. When the Amanda Johnson potato was officially named and installed in the exhibit car yesterday she was like a child with a new toy. Her picture was taken, she was congratulated by everybody around, and was quite the heroine of the day at Embarrass.

Features of Farms.

The party on the agricultural special takes a great deal of pleasure out of visiting the farms in the vicinity of the stations they visit. K. D. Van Wagenen, the county agricultural agent, has his automobile and Mr. Dickinson has his motorcycle. The car carries five and the motorcycle two when Mr. Dickinson can induce anybody to ride behind him on the rough roads. Many miles are covered morning and evening by the automobile and the motorcycle, the farmers being visited in their homes.

One feature of the farms of the district along the Iron Range, particularly those farms which are homesteads, is the fact that the owners keep their first huts, the second and more pretentious homes, and usually there is a third frame house, painted and supplied with as many conveniences as ingenuity and the resources of the country afford. Those who have reached the third stage of development have homes that are not at all unInviting. The story of development told by the series of homes, each succeeding one larger and more convenient than the previous one, is eloquent.

The party saw an ingenious device for turning a grindstone at the Alex Palo farm at Embarrass yesterday. The grindstone and an old cogwheel were set at the ends of an axle. To the cogwheel was attached a board, on one end of which was fitted the end of a lever. The other end of the lever was attached to a post by a ring. Once started, the grindstone is turned with very little effort by means of the lever, which is long enough for several members of the family to work on if there is much friction to be overcome.

Another device that attracted some attention is a rack for drying hay, a feature of every farm. Mr. Hostetter explains that the hay and clover is so thick that it will not dry on the ground, and must be elevated on racks for the best results in drying.

A Woman With Ideas.

While the men of the party were out viewing the farms yesterday, the women visited Mrs. Rickard Hannula, a remarkable woman living at Embarrass station. Mr. and Mrs. Hannula conduct the store, the postoffice and the boarding house. Some unusual home improvements attracted the attention of the visiting women, and they brought out the fact that Mrs. Hannula was responsible for them.

She has what she calls her "clothes yard" where the family and boarding house wash are hung out to dry. The yard is enclosed by an ornamental fence with a rustic gate, and is kept inviolate from cows, chickens, pigs and other animals. It is devoted exclusively to the drying of clothes.

Another feature of Mrs. Hannula's home is what Miss Rowe termed a "meditation house." It is a tiny cottage set out in the yard, scrupulously clean and comfortably furnished. It was designed by Mrs. Hannula as her very own retreat. There, cloistered from the world, she thinks out her ideas. It is entered by none but her; she is not disturbed when she retires to it to work out the problems of her home and business. One feature of its equipment is a series of pigeon holes carved into a piece of timber, painted and finished. Mrs. Hannula confided to the women that she would ask nothing better in her old age than to spend her time in her tiny cottage, with her sewing materials all in their pigeon holes within reach.

The "clothes yard" is the first of a series of improvements she has planned. A model barn will come next and after that the house. She has not the plans of the house worked out in detail yet, but when the house is built it will be worth visiting.

Big Crowd at Embarrass.

The crowd at Embarrass yesterday was really a surprise to the instructors. The train was thronged all day. Four coaches were filled for the instruction morning and afternoon and during the hours when the instruction was not going on people looked over the exhibits. The crowd all together probably numbered 800 people, while as many as 400 were instructed at one time.

One car was given to the women, where Miss Bull and Miss Rowe gave instruction on home economics. In two cars children were seated, Mr. Hostetter and W. E. Chapman alternating in talking to them. In a third car, men were seated, and they were given seed selection demonstrations. The program was varied with stereopticon slides of farm views, an illustrated lecture on the use of cement on the farm and talks on dairying. Mr. Dickinson conducted the dairying demonstration, pointing out the good and bad points in a cow from the community. The farmers in the Embarrass region haven't gone in very well for dairying. There are 700 dairy cows in the township, but they are all scrubs. It is doubtful if there is one good grade cow in the lot. The instructors are hopeful that through the purchase of pure blood sires the stock will be graded up to better productions.

The samples of potatoes submitted for competition for the prizes offered by the Duluth & Iron Range railroad were increased by ten yesterday. Some very good potatoes were brought to the train by the Embarrass people and when the final decision is given, there will be a surprise if Embarrass does not score heavily. In fact, good potatoes have been collected all along the line. They offer an interesting comparison with a collection of seed potatoes bought on the open market. The open market potatoes are a poor sample of seed. Mr. Hostetter pronounced as a shame yesterday the fact that commission houses will handle wretched stock as seed and will then refuse to accept the farmers' mediocre offerings when they come from that very seed.

The train goes on the D. M. & N. road from here and will be at Iron Junction all day tomorrow and at Meadowlands Sunday. No instruction will be given at Meadowlands, and the members of the party will spend the day in visiting the farmers and looking over their tracts.

DID THE WORK.

Grew Strong on Right Food.

You can't grow strong by merely exercising. You must have food—the kind you can digest and assimilate.

Unless the food you eat is digested it adds to the burden the digestive organs have naturally to carry. This often means a nervous breakdown.

"About a year ago," writes a Mass. lady, "I had quite a serious nervous breakdown caused, as I believed, by overwork and worry. I also suffered untold misery from dyspepsia.

"First I gave up my position, then I tried to find a remedy for my troubles, something that would make me well and strong, something to rest my tired stomach and build up my worn-out nerves and brain.

"I tried one kind of medicine after another, but nothing seemed to help me.

"Finally a friend suggested change of food and recommended Grape-Nuts. With little or no faith in it, I tried a package. That was eight months ago and I have never been without it since.

"Grape-Nuts did the work. It helped me grow strong and well. Grape-Nuts put new life into me, built up my whole system and made another woman of me!"

PLAN CONTEST IN FIRST AID

Competition and Demonstration at Virginia on Saturday.

Actual Drift Will Be Dug and Life Saving Well Shown.

Hibbing, Minn., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—A public demonstration of the instructions in first aid and mine rescue work that have been given to the miners on the range during the past months will be staged at Virginia Saturday afternoon.

The ball park there has been secured and teams from all of the range towns will be entered.

The Oliver company in this district will have more than eighty men, Hibbing alone sending sixty to comprise the seven first aid teams and two in mine rescue work. Chisholm will send two teams, the Webb one, the Pickands-Mather properties one, and the Bennett one.

All of the details of the competition, for it is the intention of the promoters to offer prizes for the best work, have not been completed but so far as possible the actual tests that would be encountered in mining operations will be reproduced.

Will Construct Drift.

A drift fifty feet long will be constructed of timber, lined with tar paper and chemicals will be used to produce the conditions that might exist in case of an underground fire. Into this smoking cavern will be sent the rescue teams with their apparatus. A man will be pulled out and worked over, one of the crew may be overcome from exertion and he will be found in the dense smoke and carried to the open air. The new apparatus that is advocated by the men in charge of the government rescue car will be used by the teams and their time will be taken in making the entrances and exits.

In the first aid work the drill will be even more complete. Each team will be composed of a captain, four men and a patient. The patients will be divided into the various classes of injuries that might be encountered. One will have apparently just been dug out from beneath a mass of ore and the pulmoter will be used; another will be designated to have a broken leg and splints will be promptly applied; a third will have sustained a severe cut on the head and his wound will be neatly bandaged; another may have been overcome by gases and fumes and the proper treatment will be used and others will have assigned the roles that fate may call upon them to play in the daily performance of their duties.

Hibbing Men Interested.

The local men are entering into the spirit of the performance with much zest and have had daily rehearsels of their parts until they declare that they are letter perfect.

A special car may be chartered to take the Hibbing teams to Virginia.

The government experts who have been at Chisholm this week expect to leave with their car Friday afternoon so as to be in Virginia and assist at the demonstration that will be given to the public. It is expected that a number of the officials of the iron companies will attend the exhibition and encourage the local teams.

EVELETH CITY HALL MUST BE ENLARGED

Eveleth, Minn., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The city hall will be enlarged before the close of the present city administration, according to Mayor J. J. Gleason. At present the municipal building is crowded for office room, the council chamber is inadequate and the police department office is unsatisfactory, owing to its proximity to the cells. If the city takes over the power plant additional office room will be needed.

The city building fronts on Pierce street and it is proposed to extend it to the alley. This will provide ample room for the enlarging of present offices and the addition of other offices. Mr. Gleason states that the work will be done early in the fall when the money from the tax levy will be available.

BOND ELECTION AT EVELETH JULY 18

Eveleth, Minn., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The city council held an adjourned meeting yesterday and fixed July 16 as the date for a special election for the purpose of voting bonds in the sum of $200,000 for permanent improvements. The bonds will be made to extend over a short period of years and there is little doubt but the issue will carry.

If the bonds are floated it will give the city nearly a quarter million to spend for permanent improvements and will do much to relieve the labor situation. It is planned to spend most of the money for paving streets and alleys. Before the paving is done, however, all sewers, water mains and storm sewers not already installed will be laid.

Preference to Home Labor.

A large portion of the money will be paid out in wages and the council intends to prepare the contracts in such a way that citizens of Eveleth will have the preference. The council has already voted to require contractors on city work to pay a minimum wage of $2.50 per day.

The special election was set for the same day as the primaries.

Stomach Troubles Due to Acidity

SO SAYS EMINENT SPECIALIST.

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, wind, stomach-ache and inability to retain food, are in probably nine cases out of ten simply evidence that fermentation is taking place in the food contents of the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acids. Wind distends the stomach, and causes that full, oppressive feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the fermenting food. Such fermentation is unnatural, and acid formation is not only unnatural, but may involve most serious consequences if not corrected. To stop or prevent fermentation of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid, and render it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia, probably the best and most effective corrector of acid stomach known, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water immediately after eating, or whenever wind or acidity is felt. This stops the fermentation, and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments. Fermentation, wind and acidity are dangerous and unnecessary. Stop or prevent them by the use of a proper antacid, such as bisurated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist and thus enable the stomach to do its work properly without being hindered by poisonous gas and dangerous acids. —M. FAIR

Mr. Richardson seems to have reformed since his return from the East and South, for he has been serving up the finest brand of weather that one would desire. Today could not very well be beaten, and it is so unusually fine for May that Mayor Prince has defied the rules of dress and pronounces Sunday as straw-hat day. Being a Beau Brummel in a way, we do not agree with him but expect to be overruled.

It was cloudy a year ago today. The sun rose this morning at 4:24 and will set this evening at 7:47, giving fifteen hours and twenty minutes of sunshine, two minutes more than yesterday.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Somewhat cooler weather prevails in the lake region and upper Mississippi valley. During the last twenty-four hours light to heavy rains fell over the lake region, Upper Mississippi valley, Kansas, Oklahoma, North Central Texas, Colorado, Western South Dakota, Wyoming, Western Montana, Idaho, Southern Oregon and Alberta. The heaviest rainfalls occurred over Southern Wisconsin and Eastern Colorado."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, May 22.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Saturday.

Wisconsin—Fair tonight and Saturday; somewhat cooler tonight in south and east portions.

Minnesota and Iowa—Fair tonight and Saturday, probably becoming unsettled in west portion Saturday; not much change in temperature.

North Dakota, South Dakota—Unsettled tonight and Saturday, probably showers; warmer tonight.

Montana—Unsettled weather tonight and Saturday, probably showers.

Lower Michigan—Partly cloudy tonight; cooler except in extreme southwest portion; Saturday fair.

Upper Michigan—Fair tonight and Saturday; light frost tonight; rising temperature Saturday.

UNEMPLOYED MAY PARADE ON SUNDAY

Eveleth, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—It is understood that there will be a parade of the unemployed Sunday. The story can not be confirmed or the leader located.

If a parade is organized it is expected that it will be an orderly demonstration and it is not thought that the riotous scenes of last Monday will be repeated.

The authorities will guard against any rioting.

KEEWATIN IS TO DEDICATE SCHOOL

Keewatin, Minn., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—One of the finest high school buildings on the Mesaba range will be dedicated here by Independent school district No. 9 May 29. It is in keeping with the magnificent school buildings to be found on this range and fills a long felt want in this community. Erected at a cost of approximately $90,000, it contains heating, ventilating, vacuum cleaning, electrical devices of the most modern type. Besides the ten class rooms are to be found a manual training department fully equipped, a domestic science department, forge room and a spacious gymnasium.

The Program.

At 8:30 o'clock p. m. the dedication program will be opened with music by an orchestra from Duluth. Ex-Senator C. C. McCarthy of Grand Rapids will deliver the dedication address, while State Inspector of Schools John B. Aiton and other officials of the state department of education will be on the program. After the dedication program, a general inspection of the building will take place after which occurs the grand ball in the auditorium.

Delegations from nearly all the range towns have signified their intention of being present at dedication. Bray & Nystrom of Duluth were the architects of the building, Tomlinson & Egan of Ashland, the contractors, and the members of the board are E. L. Cochran, W. A. King, P. A. McEachin of Keewatin and Paul Tweed, H. T. Lafitte and Charles Latvala of Nashwauk. Henry A. Gilruth is superintendent of the district.

MARBLE GIRL WEDS.

Miss Agnes Young Bride of St. Paul Man.

Marble, Minn., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Agnes M. Young, daughter of Joseph Young, was married here at 9 a. m. Wednesday by Rev. Father Gamache to Octave J. Savard of St. Paul in the presence of relatives and a few friends. Miss Lottie Young and Willard Young of Virginia, sister and brother of the bride, were the attendants. At the wedding breakfast covers were laid for fourteen and red carnations and prettily decorated wedding cake formed the decorations. The young couple left on the noon train for Duluth and after June 1 will be at home in St. Paul, where the groom has prepared a home.

The bride was married in a blue suit with hat to match and carried white roses and lilies of the valley. The bride and groom have many friends in the village who wish them all happiness and prosperity in their wedded life. The bride has lived in the village for several years and has many friends who regret her departure.

ELY BUILDINGS BEING PUSHED

Ely, Minn., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Work on improvements and new buildings continues to be pushed rapidly. The frame work for the home being erected by George Brozich on Sheridan street is nearly up. Workmen have the steel for the stucco on the James block nearly in place. The building formerly used by the Joe Seliskar saloon is being remodeled for store use.

A number of houses are being or have been enlarged this spring, while a larger number are being repaired.

DENIES REPORT.

Great Northern Hibbing Officials Repudiate Rumors.

Hibbing, Minn., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—M. J. Moran, local representative of the Great Northern, denies the printed reports that the old station is to be sold when the new one is built, that the site is to be changed when the new one is constructed and that work on the new station will be started within a few weeks, but contends there is to be no new station.

"The articles were all wrong" declared Mr. Moran. "The Great Northern has no intention of building a new depot. The tracks that are being constructed are purely for yardage purposes."

Despite Mr. Moran's disclaimer, knowing ones in the village still insist that the apparent haste of the road to deny the rumors is excellent proof that there is some fire behind the smoke.

Mr. Moran also denied that the road thought of abandoning the summer stop at Swan Lake. From June 1 to Sept. 1 the stops will be made at that point as usual.

LAKE COUNTY JURORS.

Citizens Drawn for Spring Term Beginning June 3.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The petit jury for the spring term of the district court, which convenes here June 3, has been selected as follows: Joseph A. Hastings, city; Dan Lind, Silver Creek; Swan J. Nelson, city; Gust Linrahl, Fall Lake; Fred Warner, Knife River; Theodore Olson, Waldo; M. Peterson, city; Axel Erickson, city; John Carson, city; Iver Amundson, city; Andrew Youngquist, city; John Morris, Kramer; Abraham Ege, Crystal Bay; John Westlund, city; David Therrian, city; Chris Haugstein, city; Charles Gustafson, city; J. W. McCormick, Knife River; George Sonju, Crystal Bay; Olef Lilligren, Silver Creek; Henry Larson, city; Adolph Sonnenberg, city; Archie J. Giroux, city, and Charles Larson, city. No grand jury has been drawn for the spring term of court.

TWO VILLAGES TO CO-OPERATE

Chisholm, Minn, May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Closer co-operation between this village and Hibbing, the nearest big neighbor, in all matters for the betterment of the two communities is expected to result from the enthusiastic meeting of the Commercial club held Wednesday night in the village hall, where well known citizens of both places urged pulling together.

State Insurance Commissioner J. A. O Preus spoke of five prevention and kindred topics, President Galloway of the Hibbing Commercial club urged cooperation between the two towns. Publicity Agent Lewis of the Hibbing organization indorsed what Mr. Galloway said; S. C. Scott of Hibbing deplored the large sum Hibbing had paid out for insurance premiums in twenty-one years—$1,400,000, with but 25 per cent returned in loss payments.

J. J. Cox also scored the insurance situation. President Harris of the local Commercial club spoke extensively favoring good roads. Hibbing was invited to join in the local Memorial celebration. F. E. Lister of Duluth also spoke of boosting the range.

Lauds Benefit of Fair.

President Harris of the Commercial club mentioned the number of prizes captured by the J. J. Stukel family last year, and cited this as an instance of good to be gained for this section by promotion of bigger and better fairs.

A committee to be appointed will go before the council at its next meeting and ask for financial support for the Commercial band.

A Dutch lunch was voted for the next meeting of the club and a committee appointed to look after the details.

WOOD GETTING THEM.

Game Warden Gathering in Breakers of Game Laws.

Hibbing, Minn., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Jumping from Cedar Island Lake near Gilbert where he Wednesday night arrested Nick Dippedind for netting fish, to Kinney where he yesterday nabbed three Austrians who had venison in their possession, George Wood, game warden, is decidedly on the job.

Dipperdind lives on an island in the lake and was caught with the nets and fish. He pleaded guilty before Judge Anderson at Gilbert and was fined $10 and costs.

At Kinney at the Yates location Vedo Vubich, Lewis Wondich and Sponso Varich were arrested, all pleading guilty. The former paid a fine of $50 and costs and the other two $25 and the costs.

JOHNSON COMING HOME.

Chisholm Spanish War Veteran Unable to Secure Relief.

Chisholm, Minn., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Spanish-American war veterans will advance funds for the return from Hot Springs, S. D., of Charles Johnson one of their members who went there several months ago in hopes of recovering his health, but who has failed. Mr. Johnson was a veteran of the Cuban war and returned broken in health. He has a family here and has lived here for a number of years. The physicians in charge of the sanitarium at Battle Mountain have advised his friends here that he has no chance for permanent recovery and advised his being removed to his home.

TWO HARBORS TO PLAY WINTON NINE.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Gopher baseball team will go to Winton Sunday to meet the team of that place. Both teams are exceptionally strong. Many of the local fans will accompany the local team. Pitcher Barney Griffen will be in the game again. The team will line up as follows: Harry McDonald, catcher; Barney Griffen, pitcher; Roberts, pitcher; Jack Woodward, first base; H. Johnson, second base; Wold, third base; Westin, shortstop; Ginter, Alex Johnson, Capt. Jack Lambert and Holliday, fielders.

OIL FOR HIGHWAYS SHOULD BE GOOD.

Hibbing, Minn., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—That the oil which is to be purchased for use on the location roads should be selected with great care is the opinion of local automobilists who claim that there are many varieties of the dust-laying fluids that are decidedly hard on tires. It is also true that some oils are more easily tracked than others and if the wrong kind is purchased a roar of protest may be expected from the Hibbing housewives.

Hibbing Affair Success.

Hibbing, Minn., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The program and dance given in the McGolrick Institute Wednesday evening by the Knights of Columbus was largely attended and enjoyed by all present. The honor guests were the wives and candidates who will be initiated June 14. Following is the program: Vocal duet, Misses Marcella and Myrtle Lavell; violin duet, Mrs. K. J. Duncan and Miss Pauline McElroy; vocal solo, John Sheehy; instrumental solo, Miss Ethel Harwood; vocal quartet, Mrs. D. D. McEachin, Mrs. A. E. Stark, George Blazing and John Sheehy.

TOO MUCH TANGO CAUSES NEURALGIA

Violent neuralgia of the head generally attacks overworked women who lack sufficient sleep, fresh air and red blood.

With the prevalent craze for dancing at all times and places it is becoming noticeable that women whose blood is thin—anaemic—become subject to neuralgic pains when they dance too much and rob themselves of sleep and open-air exercise.

The woman who makes great demands on her strength, either by overworking or overdancing, must keep her blood in condition or suffer. The pain of neuralgia is simply a sign adopted by nature to show that the nervous system is being starved because the blood no longer brings it what it needs. The one great cause of neuralgia is debility with anaemia or bloodlessness.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a tonic for the blood and nerves. They begin at once to enrich the blood and enable it to furnish the nerves with the elements they need to restore them to health. A booklet on the home treatment of nervous disorders that will enable you to help yourself will be sent free on request by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your own druggist can supply you with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

GILBERT FIREMEN ARE GETTING READY

Gilbert, Minn., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Oliver fire department boys are practicing strenuously for the minstrel show to be given next Wednesday, May 27, in the Finnish Socialist hall and promise a big entertainment. They will be assisted by the best local talent with some from Eveleth and Virginia, and promise the best show given here for some time. About forty people will take part. The proceeds are to be used to defray the expenses of the team at the tournament to be given in Buhl in August.

Schools Give Exhibits.

The local schools gave their exhibits this week which were attended by a large crowd of people who were very much impressed with the wide range of work shown and the general utility of all in preparing the youngsters for the battle of life. The Elba, McKinley and Genoa primary schools gave their exhibits Thursday afternoon, the McKinley-Elba school Thursday afternoon, the Gilbert primary Friday afternoon and the Gilbert high school last night.

FIXING UP BUNGALOW.

Tower, Minn., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Douglass has been receiving supplies for his new and up-to-date bungalow now being erected near Goodwill's summer home on Lake Vermilion. Mr. Douglass owns a large manufactory in Cincinnati, Ohio, where he makes his home. For the last few years he has been spending his summers with his family on Lake Vermilion. Isaac Goodwill returned from Duluth Thursday where he has purchased a new gasoline yacht for Mr. Douglass.

ELY MOTHERS' CLUB ELECTION.

Ely, Minn., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Ely Mothers' club will hold its annual election in connection with the meeting being held this afternoon at the Central school. The present year has been one of the most active in the history of the club and already plans are being made for greater activity during the coming year.

Keewatin to Celebrate.

Keewatin, Minn., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Keewatin will celebrate the Fourth in the good old-fashioned way and a committee consisting of the following was appointed at a meeting of the Commercial club: F. V. Wakkinen, C. W. Extrum, W. A. King, Charles Adams and W. R. O'Connell.

There will be an automobile parade, free popcorn and candy for the children, foot races and other athletic stunts, a big ball game between two fast teams, a magnificent display of fire works, a dance in the evening and music all day by a brass band.

Stevenson Gun Club Scores.

Stevenson, Minn., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—At an informal shoot of the Stevenson Gun club, several very good scores were made. The number of thargets broken at each twenty-five bird event were as follows: G. R. Clark, 24; 24; John O'Brien, 22, 19; D. Dearing, 12, 17; R. N. Blackburn, 11, 9; G. E. Harrison, 22, 23; O. J. Ethier, 11, 6; M. O'Donnell, 18, 14; R. S. Brown, 17, 21.

May Not Sell School.

Virginia, Minn., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Reports are current that the Central school may not be sold to the Catholics for a parochial school for $32,000, the price fixed by the appraisers for the sale of which a special election will be held. It is said that many think the school should be retained for its present school work, while even the Catholics are said to be against the purchase, believing the price is too high.

Press on Fire Prevention.

Eveleth, Minn., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. A. O. Preus, state insurance commissioner, addressed a good sized crowd last night at the city hall and gave an interesting talk, quoting figures to show insurance conditions in the state. He spoke especially on fire prevention and its relation to insurance rates.

Eveleth Soldiers Ready to Leave.

Eveleth, Minn., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Company F drilled last night at the Eveleth armory. The officers of the company have received trunks for their effects for use in case of field service and expect to have occasion to use them.

Nashwauk Clean-Up.

Nashwauk, Minn., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Tuesday and Wednesday were clean-up days here and the town is now one of the cleanest on the range. Mayor Raattama's proclamation brought about the right spirit and every citizen in the village assisted in cleaning up the town.

Ely Class Play.

Ely, Minn., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The senior class play, "The Taming of the Shrew," will be given at the high school auditorium tonight. An orchestra from Duluth will furnish music.

Elected to Tower Schools.

Tower, Minn., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Prof. Reinhold of Ursinus university, Pennsylvania, has been elected principal of the high school for the coming school year, Joseph Koucky of the University of North Dakota has also been elected to the principalship of the Soudan school.

Tower School Picnic.

Tower, Minn., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The high school picnic on Lake Vermilion Wednesday was very much enjoyed by about eighty of the students and their teachers. The day was an ideal one for such an event. Several of the boys came in with a good catch of pike.

INSURANCE NOT NEEDED

City Was Carrying $7,600 Policy on Fireproof Station.

Although there isn't a stick of wood in it the city has been carrying $7,600 fire insurance on the pumping station at Fifteenth avenue east and the boulevard.

This morning the commissioners visited the pumping station and concluded to discontinue the fire insurance. At the same time they decided to raise the insurance carried on the engineer's residence at the pumping station to $1,500.

The councilmen agreed to grant the petition which has been filed for the vacation of a narrow highway between Woodland and Roslyn avenues east of Oxford street. It is too steep to be available for traffic and the property owners have signified their willingness to dedicate the strip which is now occupied by a set of stairs between the two avenues.

After they had viewed this street the commissioners visited No. 7 and No. 4 fire halls. The horses were removed from the latter a week ago, when the new combination pumper, chemical and hose rig was installed.

EMPLOYERS DO NOT ATTEND

Many Ignore Meeting of Minimum Wage Scale Advisory Board.

Survey Will Be Made to Ascertain Cost of Living Here.

A meeting of the minimum wage scale advisory board with Miss Evans, a member of the state commission, was held this morning at the Commercial club and while a quorum was difficult to obtain, a rather interesting talk ensued as to the work being done in Duluth. Miss Evans, speaking of the small attendance, pointed out that the neglect of employers to attend meetings or have representatives present will militate against them should they desire to object to action taken at the meetings.

"I cannot understand," said Miss Evans this morning, "why employers do not attend these meetings when they are as vitally interested as are the employes—perhaps more so. There will be little ground left on which they can make objection to action taken if they are persistently absent; and they will have short shift with the commission under such circumstances."

Miss Evans also wishes to remind employers of the blanks sent out to them to be filled in, telling the number of employes they have, the conditions, the minimum wage and other matters. In case they do not employ the required number they are to make the report anyway.

"The employers who neglect to answer these inquiries," said Miss Evans, "are not only delaying the work of the commission unnecessarily and hampering the work, but are acting unwisely as to their own welfare, for the law permits us, in such cases, to back the wagon up to the door and take the delinquent employer and his books with us and find out conditions for ourselves. I will say that the leading employers of Duluth have made the most perfect reports we have received in the state since the law went into effect, but there are some who have not deigned to make reply."

Miss Evans and at least one assistant, Miss Ritchie, who has been making the economic survey of the Twin Cities, and probably one other, will come here at the first of next week and make a survey of Duluth to find out the conditions as to the cost of living for women. There has been an estimate made, but as it has not been gone into in detail, the extra survey will be made. Miss Evans hopes to have the preliminary report of the committees on cost of living and on apprentices prepared and submitted at the next meeting, which will be two weeks from today.

"At present," she explains, "everything is, so to speak, 'up in the air,' but I think that we are gradually approaching the earth."

Says Husband Is Cruel.
Mrs. Aline Hoffren, 40, no longer desires to remain the wife of William Hoffren, whom she married a year ago, and in district court yesterday she began suit for divorce on the grounds of cruelty. She alleges that while under the influence of liquor on several occasions Hoffren pinched her arms until they were "black and blue" and that once he pursued her with a revolver and threatened to shoot her. They were married May 8, 1913, and are parents of one child of whom the mother asks custody. She also asks that her maiden name, that of Aline Leppanen, be restored to her.

Fred Johnson, 24 years old, was arrested this morning on a charge of defrauding Erick Wohlen, who operates a boarding house at 5 North Nineteenth avenue west. Wohlen claims that Johnson ate at his boarding house last summer and that he left the city owing him $70. Johnson pleaded not guilty in police court this morning and his trial was set for 10 o'clock next Monday morning.

Wagon Breaks Loose.
A heavily loaded gravel wagon broke away from a team of horses in front of the Orpheum theater yesterday afternoon, and the wagon, in backing down, thrust its tongue through one of the side windows in the Flodin drug store. The tongue broke and the wagon continued down the hill to Superior street, where it crashed into the curbing.

Registration Days.
June 2 and 9 will be registration days for the state primary of June 16. Voters can also register at the primaries. The complete list of polling places and election judges was printed last evening in The Herald as part of the official council proceedings.

Sues for Insurance.
In Judge Ensign's division of the district court this afternoon, a jury retired at 2:30 o'clock to consider the case of J. A. Gillis against the Duluth Casualty company. Gillis claims that while a policy, which he held with the company, was in effect, he was injured on May 29, 1912, while he was a passenger on a Duluth & Iron Range train near Alger station, Lake county. The injury, he claims, disabled him for twenty-eight weeks. He claims that he is entitled to compensation under the terms of his policy at the rate of $20 a week for the entire period. The plaintiff is a timber cruiser.

Pure Kisses

makes "Kisses" that delight the kiddies. They're so tempting, delicious and tasty that they're liked by young and old. No "store" kisses compare with them in purity and flavor. It's so easy to make them that even the youngsters can do it and our book tells how it's done. Snow-Mellow makes creams and other fine confections, among which is the children's favorite, "Divinity Candy."

Every mother and housewife should keep Snow-Mellow on hand. It makes cake fillings, cake icings, and dainty whipped-up desserts. Our book shows 28 ways in which you can use Snow Mellow. Every 25c box makes seven desserts for four to six people. It takes the place of whipped cream with hot chocolate or coffee. Every thrifty woman should have it in the house. Price 25c. Your grocer has it, and gives free with each package a book and unique beater spoon. If he's out of stock and you'll send us his name and 25c we'll mail Snow-Mellow with book and beater Free. DISTRICT BANKERS MEET AT CROOKSTON

President Humphrey Urges More Interest in Rural Life Communities.

Crookston, Minn., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Ninth district group of the Minnesota Bankers' association is holding its eleventh annual convention here today. President J. L. Humphrey of Fosston is presiding. Vice President Loring of the Commercial club delivered the address of welcome. President Humphrey responded and afterwards delivered his annual address in which he urged the bankers to take a greater interest in all the present day movements to build up the rural communities, encourage farmers' clubs, encourage the farm boys and girls to agricultural educations and remain on the farm, to encourage the beautifying and improvement of the farm homes to make them more attractive, and deafen the ear of the rising generation to the call of the city.

Secretary Makes Report.

The report of Secretary H. S. Erickson of Detroit showed a membership of 158, nine non-members and five new banks in the district the past year. G. H. Richards, secretary of the state bankers' association, reported a membership of 1,024 in the state and urged the organization of county bankers' associations. This afternoon F. E. Lurton of Detroit, A. D. Stephens of Crookston, C. R. Craddick and C. D. Brown spoke, and at 6:30 a banquet will be given, with J. W. Wheeler of the Capital Trust company, St. Paul, presiding as toastmaster.

PROGRAM FOR BOYLE DINNER

The banquet committee of the Duluth Boyle for Congress club met at the club headquarters today and arranged the program for the Dollar Dinner which will be given at the St. Louis hotel on Monday evening at 6:30. Senator Ole Sageng of Otter Tail county, will be one of the principal speakers. Senator James P. Boyle of Eveleth, candidate for the Republican nomination for congress, will deliver his keynote speech on this occasion. C. R. Magney, president of the club, will act as toastmaster. Several other well known Duluthians will speak. A very fine musical program of patriotic selections will be rendered by an orchestra and vocalists under the direction of Miss Hazel Gilso.

TRY THIS IF YOU HAVE DANDRUFF

Or Are Bothered With Falling Hair or Itching Scalp.

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you want to keep your hair looking rich, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for nothing destroys the hair so quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everybody notices it. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

TELEPHONE GIRL GIVES THEFT ALARM

Calls Aid When Robbers Slug N. P. Operator at East Grand Forks.

East Grand Forks, Minn., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Two robbers sandbagged Guy Clements, night operator for the Northern Pacific here, robbed the till of $20 and escaped in an automobile. Clements, before he was laid unconscious, knocked the telephone from the table, and the telephone operator, suspecting something wrong, gave alarm. Assistance arrived just after the robbers left. A switch engine manned by officers gave chase along the line to the eastward and came in sight of the robbers' automobile.

BEER FLOWS LIKE WATER

Luther Dawson Gives Away Stock of Liquor Before Closing Saloon.

Police Break Up Celebration Before It Reaches Its Climax.

"Don't let the beeah souah in the keg, boys; come on and drink it up; come one, come all; it's free as aiah, so help you'selves."

Mr. Dawson, Mr. Luther Dawson, was the prodigal dispenser of lavish hospitality yesterday afternoon. Mr. Dawson is the erstwhile proprietor of the colored men's bar which used to flourish at 21 West Michigan street.

Tuesday afternoon, sad to relate, the city council took away his license, which cost $1,000, to dispose of intoxicating liquor at retail. Wherefore, being the victim of most unfortunate circumstances and having no further material use for his stock of headache producers, Mr. Dawson proceeded to give it away. Whereat there was much rejoicing. Not since Jack Johnson won his victory over Jeffries has there been such a seance.

When Dawson appeared before the city fathers he declared that he was "innocently guilty of any wrongful law violation." He maintained that his place was more of a mission than a saloon and also served as an employment agency. Fortunately none of his guests appeared in the grist this morning to enter pleas of being "innocently guilty." For how could any of those who even occasionally partake of the cup which cheers, pass up such an opportunity? They only came about once in a lifetime and opportunity did not have to knock twice upon the mahogany to draw the attention of those present to the fact that beer and booze were flowing like water, to be had for the mere asking. Lake Superior had nothing on Mr. Dawson's liquor emporium yesterday afternoon. It was "some session" while it lasted, and it would have been better had not the police rudely interfered. About 6 o'clock, just when things were getting into their full stride, Sergeant Youngberg strode through the swinging doors and told Dawson that "the stuff was off." Everybody had been expecting that the free booze would last until 11 o'clock, but the edict of the bluecoat was final.

Commissioner Hicken said this morning that another license would likely be granted for a colored men's saloon. George B. Kelley has made application for a license at the same location. Commissioner Hicken has consulted City Attorney Clapp relative to the question and he said this morning that the attorney has informed him that the license can be legally granted.

OIL WELLS SAVED BY LOYAL MEXICANS

Petroleum Company Official Praises the Work of Employes.

Washington, May 22.—Loyalty of Mexican natives who were left in charge of oil wells at Tampico and Panuco after the foreign operators fled from the danger zone, was responsible for preservation of the properties, according to R. A. Mestes, an official of the International Petroleum company, whose report on conditions in the oil district has been forwarded to the state department.

Mestes recently returned to Tampico with five American employes. They made an exploration of the wells at Panuco and found that they had suffered only minor damage, due to depredations by stragglers after the fleeing Federals had evacuated the town.

Praised the Natives.

Mestes lauded the fidelity of the Mexican employes who guarded the properties during the conflict between Constitutionalists and Federals at Tampico.

American Consul Canada has reported that there now are 54 American refugees at Vera Cruz who have announced their intention to remain in Mexico.

Consul Canada also reports 150 refugees arriving from the South on the City of Tampico. Twenty-four of these are Americans, fourteen Porto Ricans and the others of various nationalities. All the Americans were placed on board the Monterey, which sailed via Puerto Mexico for the United States May 21.

COMMENCEMENT DAYS COMING

Graduation Exercises in Duluth Schools Will Begin May 30 and Continue Until June 18.

Commencement day, the red letter day in the life of the student, will occur during the early part of June for the various high schools and Normal school of Duluth, and faculty and students are now busy making ready for the final program when the "sheepskins" will be presented.

The Central high school exercises this year will occur in the assembly hall, June 12. The program will be entirely in the hands of the senior class, but has not yet been definitely arranged.

Eighth grade pupils, who complete their work in June, will not be given a commencement program this year. Superintendent Denfeld has decided to omit these exercises for what he considers a very good reason. He declares that when a pupil is given a diploma, the impression is received that school days are over and that sufficient education has been obtained. Mr. Denfeld believes that graduation exercises for grade pupils tend to persuade them that they need not continue their studies, and that it has done harm in the past. For that reason eighth graders will receive only a certificate such as the pupils of other grades receive.

The Duluth Industrial high school will graduate twenty-seven students this spring, the largest number in the history of the school. This will be the last year for the Industrial school in the old Irving building and next fall work will be taken up in the new Denfeld building.

The date for the graduating exercises has not been definitely set, but will be during the first week of June. The students will present as their class play "Giles Corey."

At the Villa.

At Villa Scholastica the definite program of commencement week has not been completed, but the formal graduating exercises will take place Friday evening, June 12.

At the Duluth normal school graduation exercises will begin on May 30 with an alumni banquet, which will be given in one of the dormitory halls. The commencement sermon, which will be preached by Dr. John W. Hoffman, pastor of the First M. E. church, will be on Sunday, May 31, at 3:30 p. m. in the normal assembly hall.

The commencement exercises will take place June 5 at 10:30 a. m. William J. Mutch of Ripon college, Wisconsin, will give the address to the graduating class, and C. G. Dosland, resident dean of the Moorhead state normal school, will present the diplomas. There is a graduating class of 65, the largest in the history of the school.

Cathedral High.

The Cathedral high school will graduate a class of fourteen. A program of oratorical numbers is being prepared and will be given on the evening of June 18 at the Cathedral hall. Bishop James McGolrick will present the diplomas and make an address to the class. The high school graduates of the girls' school are preparing a play entitled, "Not a Man in the House," which is being directed by the sister of the school. There are six to be graduated from the four-year high school course and twenty-one eighth grade graduates.

Leading in the play, which is to be given at cathedral hall Tuesday evening, June 16, are Miss Agnes Cruikshank, Miss Margaret Mackey, Miss Frances McHale, Miss Durah Cameron and Miss Alice Murray. They will be assisted by about thirty girls from the junior and sophomore classes. Bishop McGolrick will give the address to the graduates.

Graduating exercises are being planned in all the grade schools of the city and these will take place June 11. Programs of songs, readings, folk dancing and little sketches are being arranged.

KINKS IN THE KITCHEN.

Christian Science Monitor: Have you a porcelain sink? If so, good. But even if you have only an iron one, painted white, you can use the new rubber mat, which fits over the drain, and makes the dishpan superfluous. Best of all, it costs only 10 cents. With one of these mats all one needs do is to scrape the dishes, put them in the sink with the soap or washing powder and turn on the hot water. Besides saving the cost of a dishpan one saves much wear and tear upon the porcelain sink in moving the pans about.

Large cheesecloth bags can be kept on hand for jelly-making in the summer. Jelly bags can be used more than once if they are boiled in water to which soda or borax is added until they are clean. They can be bleached almost white again if they are boiled with washing soda, but if they are clean the color of the jelly which they strained will in no wise lessen their usefulness.

A MILK FLOOR FINISH.

A beautiful light oak finish may be applied to unfinished or wornout floors with plain milk. First, cleanse the floor thoroughly, let dry, then apply sweet skimmed milk with a soft floor cloth, keeping the cloth so full of milk that the floor will seem quite wet. From three to five coats of milk insure a handsome and permanent finish.

IS BOUND OVER TO GRAND JURY

Richard Valentine Must Face a Charge of Perjury.

Richard Valentine, 27 years old, who was arrested yesterday morning on a charge of perjury, prefered against him by his mother-in-law, Mrs. Hannah Bergren, who claims that he perjured himself when he obtained a marriage license on March 14 to marry her daughter, waived examination in police court this morning and he was bound over to the September term of the grand jury.

Mrs. Bergren claims that Valentine perjured himself, when he swore to Clerk of Court Johnson that his present wife was 18 years old and of legal age to marry. She declared in her complaint that her daughter will not be 18 years old until next month.

Valentine and his wife were married on March 14 by Rev. A. W. Ryan of St. Paul's church and they have been living together ever since.

"ROUGH RIDING" ON MOTORCYCLE

William G. Weddell Provides Lively Entertainment for West Duluthians.

William G. Weddell has qualified as a "rough rider," according to his own admission as well as in the opinion of a number of West Duluth residents who were fortunate enough to witness his handling of a "fiery steed" yesterday afternoon. The "rough riding" stunt covered a space of about a block and the "steed" on which it was done, was a motorcycle.

But for a slight scratch on his knee, for which he hopes to collect accident insurance, and a few bent spokes in his wheel, there were no bad results.

The "rough riding" started when Weddell jumped on the wheel to make a hurried run to keep an appointment. The gas was turned on and before he got well seated the motorcycle started off. Holding on for dear life, half on and half off the wheel, he presented the picture of a "broncho buster" and amid the cheers of those along the sidewalk, he successfully managed to evade curbings, two street cars, a telephone pole and a milk wagon, until he struck a pole in an alley rear of Roach's livery barn. It was the liveliest runaway West Duluth has seen.

AMENDMENTS ARE EXPLAINED

Irving Social Center Hears Talk on Initiative and Referendum.

State Senator James P. Boyle of Eveleth and Edward Armstrong gave interesting addresses last evening before the social center at the Irving school. Mr. Boyle touched briefly on each of the proposed amendments which will come up for ratification this fall. He said that the seven senators amendment was undemocratic and should be defeated.

Mr. Armstrong confined his address principally to the initiative and referendum. He took the stand that these amendments would be giving back to the people the right of rule and taking the power out of the hands of a few professional politicians.

"The most noticeable political development of the last ten years is the rapidity with which power is passing back to the people, and in this passing, the great state of Minnesota should not lag behind the progressive procession," said Mr. Armstrong. "Some twenty states have adopted the initiative, referendum and recall, and not one of those states would now consider for a moment the idea of discarding these modern improvements in our governmental machinery.

"Now why do we need the initiative and referendum? As a support to the honest legislator and a club over the dishonest legislator. There is not one honest member of our legislature who would not be pleased beyond measure to have the initiative and referendum behind him during the session. It would relieve him of that constant pressure to which he is subjected by men and interests who have private axes to grind and special favors to seek from the legislature. No man or body of men is going to spend money or time to influence the vote of a legislator on a bill which they know can, after the adjournment of the legislature, be put up to the pepole for final decision. It follows, therefore, that the legislators are left free to consider each bill on its merits, the kind of consideration which very few bills receive under present conditions. It has been said that political conditions in Minnesota do not requre the adoption of the initiative and referendum; that we have gotten along without them so far and therefore should continue without them. That, of course, is the typical standpat attitude. The fact that your house has never been visited by burglars is no guarantee that it is never going to be, and Minnesota will have the opportunity next November of installing a bright, up-to-date burglar alarm.

"The initiative and referendum is real self-government in its truest sense, as it makes the law-making machinery almost automatically responsive to the wishes of the people. Anything that makes for more democracy and is practicable should be incorporated in our laws. The initiative and referendum is a long step toward the attainment of true democracy, and in the states that have adopted them they have been proven thoroughly practicable."

IVERSON SUED IN FEE CLAIM

Game and Fish Commission Claims It Should Have Money.

Supreme Court Will Hold Hearing on Dispute May 28.

St. Paul, Minn., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—With the filing of a petition for a writ of certiorari, suit was begun in the supreme court today to test the right of State Auditor Iverson to withhold certain fees claimed by the state game and fish commission. The amount in controversy is about $40,000.

The petition is prayed for by the members of the game and fish commission and Alfred Desmidt, a game warden. The grounds for the action are that unless the commission secures the fees in controversy, it will have to suspend business after June 1 next. Desmidt is a game warden, and the payment of his salary depends upon the securing of the fees by the commission.

Hearing on May 28.

The supreme court has set May 28 as the time for the hearing on the petition. The paper in the case was served today upon State Auditor Iverson, and he is directed to appear in court on the date named with all books and records pertaining to fees paid for the sale of game, fish and hunting licenses.

The commission, in its petition, says that the last legislature gave it an appropriation of $42,000, but that this amount is almost exhausted. In previous years, besides an appropriation it had the use of all fees accruing from all licenses, and it has had reason to believe that it had the use of such license money this year. State Auditor Iverson, however, has insisted that the legislature directed the turning into the general treasury of all fees, and has refused demands made by the commission for its transfer to them.

The suit hinges on an interpretation of the legislature's action covering the disposition of fees. The commission holds that the new order of things did not apply in their case.

The rooms were prettily decorated in white and red hearts. Games and music featured the entertainment. Miss Stoller received a number of handsome presents from her friends.

Boys Sent to Jail.

The five boys arrested Tuesday night and Wednesday morning, three of whom are charged with breaking into C. C. Frost's confectionery store and two with breaking into merchandise cars, waived examination in police court yesterday afternoon. They were removed to the county jail to await action of the grand jury.

Fire in Theater.

Fire caused damage to the amount of about $50 in the rear of the Grand Avenue theater at an early hour this morning. Smoke was noticed pouring out of the place by a passing policeman and the alarm was turned in. The fire had started from some unknown cause under the stage and burned a hole about a yard in diameter. The damage was caused principally to the fixtures and decorations by smoke.

Superior

Held for Robbery.

E. J. Bellender was arrested on a charge of highway robbery as he with two negroes stepped off a car at Belknap street and Tower avenue last night. The charge was made by E. C. Serader and Thomas Scott, the former claiming that Bellander stole a $20 bill from him and the latter as witness to the affair. All three were taken te the police station, the latter two being charged with disorderly conduct.

Sidewalk Contracts.

The board of public works let contracts yesterday afternoon for about five miles of cement sidewalks, all of which will be laid in the Second ward. About twelve miles of sidewalks will be laid in various parts of the city, the board having recently let contracts for four miles of walk in the East end.

Scandinavian Temple.

At a meeting of committees representing several of the Scandinavian lodges of Superior, action will probably be taken for the construction of a home for Norwegian and Swedish lodges. Six Scandinavian lodges and their auxiliaries are taking the initiative in this movement.

Putting Lid on Superior.

The crusade against vice in Superior is to be carried out systematically, according to Sheriff Gustav Carlson. Notices were distributed yesterday to keepers of known gambling rooms that they must stop or else they will feel the heavy hand of the law. The crusade is to be a follow-up of the recent order against all blind pigs and the stopping of sale of liquor, dancing and music in houses of disrepute.

UPHAM WILL BE MARSHAL

Oldest Civil War Veteran Is Honored By His Comrades.

Flags for the Two Schools Having Best Representation.

N. L. Upham, the oldest Civil war veteran in Duluth, will act as honorary field marshal of the Memorial day parade, while Col. F. E. Resche of the Minnesota National Guard will be the commanding officer of the day, according to an announcement made this morning by officers of the Citizens' staff, which is in charge of the preparations.

Mr. Upham is 81 years old and is chaplain of the John B. Culver post, G. A. R. He will be the honorary field marshal and was selected to take the place of John G. Rakowsky, who died recently, and who was to have held the position in the parade. Since the death of the latter, Mr. Upham is now the oldest Civil war veteran in the city. He was chaplain of the 35th New Jersey infantry volunteers and was with Sherman in the march to the sea.

Col. Resche will be the active head of the line of march and will also act as judge in the school children's contest for the flags, which are to be given to the best appearing schools on the east and west side of the Point of Rocks. Last year, when this feature was inaugurated, the Merritt and Jackson schools won the flags.

Reviewing Stand.

An interesting feature of the parade this year will be a special reviewing stand for all the G. A. R. veterans, who will take part in the parade. They will adjourn to the reviewing stand, arrangements for which are now being made by C. S. Prosser, president of the Citizens' staff, and Col. Resche, and will review the remainder of the line of march. It is probable the stand will be placed in front of the courthouse or in some other central locality.

At the conclusion of the parade, all those participating will be given tickets admitting them to a special entertainment at the Orpheum theater, which has been donated for the afternoon by Manager Billings. A special program of addresses and musical numbers will be rendered, arrangements for which are in the hands of T. F. Upham, of the Citizens' staff, who will also preside at the gathering. The winning schools in the contest for the flags will be awarded the honors by Col. Resche at the Orpheum theater.

Next Sunday morning Rev. William F. Hovis of the Endion M. E. church will conduct the Memorial day services for all the veterans and members of military organizations and their auxiliaries. The services will start at 10:30 o'clock and will include a special song program.

ADDITIONAL SPORTS CONTEST FOR HERALD CUP

Boys of City Will Compete in Field and Track Sports.

The annual field meet for the possession of the trophy presented by The Duluth Herald, will be held tomorrow afternoon at Athletic park and will bring together about 200 of the younger athletes of the city.

As the program of events is arranged the smallest "kid" in the city will have a chance. There is the midget division, which is for boys under 90 pounds in weight, and from this division the competition will range to the heavyweight division.

One of the features of the meet promises to be the relay race between the athletes of the high schools of Duluth and Superior. The race will be one mile and a silken banner will be presented to the school winning the race.

In the midget division the events will include potato race, three running broad jumps, 50-yard dash and a 440-yard relay race.

In the lightweight division, which is for boys over 90 pounds and under 105 pounds, will be competed the 75-yard dash, three running broad jumps, the running high jump and the 600-yard relay race.

The middleweight division is for boys over 105 pounds and under 120 pounds. The events there will include the 100-yard dash, the running high jump, three standing broad jumps, the 440-yard race and an 800-yard relay race.

In the heavyweight division, which includes all entrants over 120 pounds in weight, there will be the 10-pound shotput, the 100-yard dash, running high jump, broad jump and the one-mile relay race, as well as a half mile run.

CLARK IS SUSPENDED.

Milwaukee Team Manager and Players Punished for Rowdyism.

Chicago, May 22.—On charges of delaying the game and rowdyism on the field, Manager Clark, of the Milwaukee team, was suspended for three days by President Chivington, of the American association, and Dougherty, Barbeau, Berg and Lewis, of the same team, were fined.

The offenses took place during the game at Indianapolis yesterday.

DOWN TO SEMI-FINALS IN ENGLAND.

Sandwich, Eng., May 22.—The semi-finals of the British amateur golf championship were reached this afternoon with two Englishmen, R. P. Humphries and Everard Martin-Smith; one Scotchman, J. L. C. Jenkins, and one Irishman, C. O. Hezlet as the contestants.

With all former holders of the championship title eliminated, none of the men left had any great achievement to his credit, with the exception of Martin-Smith, who holds the record of sixty-eight strokes for the Sandwich course.

Hezlet reached the final by defeating Humphries one up.

Only Six Survive.

Englewood, N. J., May 22.—W. J. Travis and Oswald Kirkby were favorites today over the six golfers who survived the first two rounds of match play for the Metropolitan amateur golf championship. The gallery was pretty fairly divided in following the Kirkby-Marston and Travis-Platt matches, which were in the upper and lower brackets of the draw, respectively.

International Chess.

St. Petersburg, Russia, May 22.—Capablanca beat Marshall in the ninth round of the international chess tourney today. In the same round Tarrasch drew with Lasker. The score stands: Lasker 12½; Capablanca, 12; Alechine, 10; Tarrasch, 8½; Marshall, 8. The final round is set for decision tonight.

For Lipton Trophy.

San Francisco, Cal., May 22.—The first race under the auspices of the Pacific Interclub Yacht association for a trophy offered by Sir Thomas Lipton will take place in San Francisco bay June 13, according to announcement today. The course has been shortened to fourteen miles. Yachts belonging to recognized clubs and measuring 31 and 38 feet racing length, will be eligible.

LEE'S MANAGER VISITS DULUTH

Is Making Preparations for Mass Meeting at Auditorium.

W. O. Clure, manager of the campaign of William E. Lee of Long Prairie, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, is in the city today and is stopping at the St. Louis hotel. He is here to make arrangements for the proposed big Lee meeting that will be held in the Auditorium next Thursday evening. Mr. Lee others will speak. It is expected that the progressives who held the county conference here some time ago and sent a Lee delegation to the conference at Minneapolis which asked Mr. Lee to become a candidate, will act as a committee to work up interest in the Thusday night meeting. That there is a strong Lee sentiment here among the anti-Eberhart Republicans, is believed to be the case as shown at the conference mentioned; and it is expected that these will endeavor to have a big attendance at the coming meeting.

WHEAT HAS WEAK TURN

Prices Decline on Realizing With Better Southwest Crop Reports.

Trading in Flaxseed Limited and Day's Close Is Slightly Easier.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 22.—The market was weak up to the close which was about at the low point of the day. May wheat closed ¾c off; July ¾c off and September ¾c off.

May durum closed ¼c off, and July ¼c off.

Oats closed ⅝c up at 39¼@39⅜c for on the track, and 39⅛c for to arrive. Rye closed unchanged at 59½@61½c, and barley unchanged at 55@59c for choice grain.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed at 38½@38⅝c bid, and July at 38¾@38⅞c bid.

Puts on Minneapolis July wheat closed at 91¾c bid, and calls at 92¼c asked.

The wheat market was easier throughout today's session. This was as a result of a let-up in the hessian fly damage reports from over the Southwest, and advices of much needed rains in sections of Kansas and Nebraska. Some falling off in the previous record-breaking estimates of yields is, however, conceded by experts, but at that it is figured that the ultimate harvest returns will show a substantial increase over last year's figures.

Since the appearance of the government crop report of May 1 is estimated in Missouri, and a 10 per cent loss in Illinois. There is said to be little fly trouble in Kansas, so that the condition in that state remains high.

James A. Patten was alleged to be here now aggregate 10,549,000 bu, a heavy seller of wheat in Chicago today, and his lead was followed by other operators, that the market did not sell off more was attributed to the strength shown in corn and oats.

Eastern millers' and export inquiry was light, but some business was said to have been worked.

Primary receipts showed a small increase over last year. The heavy markettings at Chicago continued in view of the fact that shorts in the May option are still throwing out signals of distress, as evidenced in the widening of the spread in it over July to 10 cents. Receipts there today were 138 cars, compared with 20 last year. Duluth inspections were 32 cars against 64 a year ago.

Stocks of all grains in the elevators decrease of 401,000 bu in the last five days. Wheat supplies have increased 126,000 bu, and are now 6,081,000 bu, of which 4,555,000 bu is spring wheat. The decrease has been brought about through the heavy movement in oats in which stocks have been reduced 610,000 bu.

May wheat opened unchanged at 95⅜c and held there with no trading reported in it during the first three hours. July opened unchanged at 95⅜c and weakened ⅜c. The September option opened ⅜c off at 90c and sold down ¼c more.

Only nominal business was put through in durum and prices did not move in either option. May durum opened ¼c off at 89¾c and July ¼c off at 90c.

Small Trade in Flax.

Business in flaxseed was in small proportions, with apparently an utter lack of interest on the part of crushers.

After the execution of a few orders at the opening resulting in fractional declines, trading ceased till near the close, which was firmer with final prices showing small changes except that May was up ⅝c.

Foreign markets were strong, Buenos Aires closing ⅜c up; London 1⅜c up and Antwerp unchanged.

May flax opened ⅛c up at $1.55⅝ and closed ⅜c up at $1.56¼ asked; July opened ⅛c up at $1.57⅜, and closed ⅛c off at $1.57⅝ asked; September opened unchanged at $1.59½, and closed ⅛c off at $1.59⅜ asked; and the October option opened ¼c off at $1.57, and closed unchanged at $1.57¼ bid.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed at $1.36 bid, and July at $1.38⅝ bid.

Argentine advices received by Broomhall last night from private sources state that the weather is still unsettled with rain in parts. Corn shipments direct to New York this week total 493,000 bu. Stocks for the week decreased 1,000,000 bu, and shipments were about 500,000 bu under last week. Arrivals of corn to ports are very light and the quality is low.

Argentine wheat shipments here 1,176,000 against 904,000 bu last week, and 2,816,000 bu, last year; corn, 1,18,000 bu, against, 2,193,000 last week and 4,191,000 bu, last year; oats, 440,000 bu, against 720,000 bu. last week and 1,840,000 bu. last year.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool—"Wheat opened steady ⅛ to ¾d lower and immediately advanced ⅛@¼d on short covering. Manitoba and American winters were firmer. The continent was bidding freely, despite the fact that world's shipments are expected to be larger, and most of it is directed toward the continent, and millers were buying. Speculative support is evident on the weak spots. At 1:30 p. m., the undertone was steady ⅛ to ¼d lower.

"Corn opened firm ⅛ to ¾d higher on few Plata offers, unsettled weather in Argentina and strong spot market here. Later some profit taking developed, and prices declined ⅛ to ¼d. At 1:30 p. m., values were unchanged to ¼d higher."

Spot wheat irregular at Liverpool, ½d higher to ½d lower; corn, ¼ to 1d higher.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean says: "A Kansas City grain man who was here yesterday says the damage to the Kansas wheat crop does not exceed 5 per cent. Missouri has been hurt 25 per cent or about 10,000,000 bushels, and he believes that 15,000,000 bu. will cover the loss for the two states to date."

Broomhall estimates world's shipments this week, exclusive of North America, at 9,600,000 bu, against 9,160,000 bu. last week. Of this Europe will take about 8,800,000 bu.; total shipments last week were 13,728,000 bu. and last year 16,864,000 bu. He predicts a liberal increase on passage.

B. W. Snow wired from Hutchinson, Kan.—"In Ellsworth, Russell, Barton and Rice counties there is not a trace of any kind of damage. Crops are all headed and there is enough moisture to mature it. Early wheat shows a short straw and small head, but the stand is thick."

The Minneapolis cash demand was just fair. One northern blue stem sold at 2c to 4c over May, and velvet chaff at 1½c to 2c over July. Flour was still quiet, but more mills reported a little movement. Cash one northern wheat sold there at from 94⅜c to 96⅞c and No. 2 northern at from 92⅜c to 94⅞c.

The Manitoba government is reported to be negotiating with the Peavey Interests for the sale of its elevators. Four years ago the provincial government acquired 170 elevators at a cost of $1,200,000. Management by a public commission at a large loss led to their being leased to the Grain Growers' association which Winnipeg at a basis which showed a net annual loss of $60,000 to the government. That company will surrender its lease on Aug. 1.

The Peaveys leased the Canadian Northern railway elevator at Port Arthur, which has a capacity of 9,500,000 bu and was the largest of its type in the world eight years ago. They are also interested in several other companies controlling interior elevators, and if they take over the government system they would have an elevator capacity in interior points equal to that which they control at the Port Arthur terminal. It is an open secret that the Manitoba government would be glad to get rid of its expensive venture.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Prices Decline After Opening Rather Firm.

Chicago, May 22.—Although absence of predicted rain today put a little firmness into wheat prices at the outset, a decline took place later on. Optimistic reports as to crop conditions in Kansas had much to do with weakening the market. Comparative steadiness of cables, however, acted as a check on the bears. Quotations started ¼c off to a like amount up, but gradually sagged below last night's level all around.

Afterward there was a transient rally. Missouri and Illinois advices seemed to grow worse in regard to damage by Hessian fly. The close nevertheless was weak, ⅞@½c to ⅞@¾c net lower.

Persistence of unfavorable weather in Argentina had a bullish influence on corn. Trade, though, lacked volume. After opening ½c down to ¼c advance, the market scored a moderate gain for the whole list.

Subsequently, pronounced strength developed owing to a dry weather flurry and to an expected decrease in the Chicago stock. The close was unsettled at an advance of ¼ to ⅞.

Unabated dry weather east of the Mississippi tended to push oats higher. Houses with country connections all took to the buying side.

Provisions turned easy with hogs. There was no active demand from any quarter.

BUTTE & SUPERIOR TRADING FEATURE

Good Buying Develops in Issue on Reports From Mine.

After a weak opening the market in mining stocks at Boston firmed up near the close today on an improved outlook in the copper metal situation and better buying by traders in some issues.

Butte & Superior was a feature, selling up 88 cents to a close of 40 cents on reports from property. There was also fair trading in Greene-Cananea. It closed 50 cents up at $52.50.

A fair volume of trading developed in the Duluth curb list. Calumet & Corbin sold at 30 cents; Alex Scott at $4.50; Calumet & Sonora at 73 cents; Keating at $1.63, and Savanna at $1.50.

Paine, Webber & Co. had the following wire from Boston: "Utah Copper and Ray and Nevada Consolidated directors meet next Friday instead of today for dividend action. The regular quarterly dividends are expected on Ray and Nevada Consolidated while an increase in Utah's rate is not unexpected."

Copper exports for the week ending May 21, totalled 8,585 tons and since May 1, 26,838 tons; against 31,207 tons a year ago.

DULLNESS IN STOCKS

Session's Total Transactions Are the Smallest of the Year.

Opening Irregular and Stagnation Results in Slight Prices Change.

New York, May 22.—Price changes were insignificant at the opening of today's stock market. Such leaders as United States Steel and Reading were unchanged, while Union Pacific and Amalgamated Copper were up and down minor fractions. Chesapeake & Ohio rose ¾ on yesterday's declaration of the regular dividend and Missouri Pacific inclined to further heaviness. Another engagement of $2,000,000 gold for Paris bore out predictions of continued export of the yellow metal. London, it was reported, is also in the market for our gold.

The list as a whole lacked impelling influences today. London again sold moderately.

Chesapeake & Ohio increased its gain to over a point and American Smelting rose ¾, but the more active issues recorded scarcely any change. This was especially true of United States Steel, Amalgamated, Union Pacific and Reading. Bonds were steady.

The extreme of dullness was reported during the noon hour when the overturn amounted to a little more than eight thousand shares, such transactions as were then registered probably implied nothing more than a settlement of contracts between professional traders. Forecasts of the weekly cash movement were conflicting, but pointed to a substantial gain.

The market closed firm today. Following the irregular opening it soon became so stagnant that it failed to exercise the slightest influence in either direction. The trading in the last three hours averaged less than 8,000 shares, and the total transactions were the smallest of the year.

Respondents.

TO THE ABOVE NAMED RESPONDENTS—

You, and each of you, are hereby notified:

That the petitioner above named, the City of Duluth, a municipal corporation, has duly complied with all the provisions of the statutes of the State of Minnesota to entitle it to acquire the real estate hereinafter described, for public use as a road, highway or boulevard; has, by ordinance duly approved, published and recorded, declared that it was necessary, convenient and desirable to acquire the same for public use; has, by resolution duly adopted, approved and adopted a plat and survey of said lands sought to be condemned; and has caused said ordinance and said resolution and said plat and survey to be duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds of said St. Louis county.

That said petitioner has filed in the office of the clerk of the above entitled court its petition, setting forth that the use to which it is proposed to devote the property sought to be acquired in this proceeding is that of a road, highway or boulevard, and that it is necessary to the full enjoyment, use and operation of said road, highway or boulevard for said petitioner to acquire by condemnation, and to appropriate, take and use, the lands and premises hereinafter particularly described; and setting forth also the name of each and every owner, proprietor, tenant, encumbrancer, occupant, or other person interested in the same, or any part thereof, so far as known to your petitioner and so far as the same can be ascertained by the public records and by a view of the premises or other inquiry touching the ownership and occupation thereof; and praying for the appointment of three competent and disinterested persons as commissioners to ascertain and determine the compensation to be made to such owner or owners, proprietors, tenants, encumbrancers and others respectively interested, for the taking and injuriously affecting such land or premises.

You, and each of you, are further notified that said petitioner, the City of Duluth, will, at a special term of the above entitled district court to be held on the 27th day of June, 1914, at 9:30 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, at the courthouse in the city of Duluth, in said St. Louis county and State of Minnesota, present said petition to the above entitled District Court and will apply to said court for the appointment of three competent and disinterested persons as commissioners to determine the compensation to be made to the owner or owners, proprietors, tenants, encumbrancers, and others respectively interested, for the taking of or injuriously affecting said land, real estate, property and easements.

That the object of said petition is to acquire by condemnation and to appropriate, take and use, for public purposes as a road, highway or boulevard, all those strips or parcels of land lying and being in the County of St. Louis and State of Minnesota, hereinafter particularly described.

That wherever, in the list of names hereinafter set forth, the word "alias" appears, following the Christian name therein given of any person interested in any of said lands, the real Christian name of such person is unknown to said petitioner.

That immediately following the description of each respective tract hereinafter described, said petitioner has appended the names of all persons who have or claim an interest in said tract as owners, proprietors, tenants, encumbrancers, occupants, or otherwise, so far as the same appear of record in the office of the Register of Deeds of said St. Louis county, or are known to said petitioner.

You, and each of you, are further notified that at the time and place of hearing of said petition, you can appear and be heard before said court in relation thereto and show cause, if any exists, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted.

The lands and real estate so sought to be taken and appropriated by said petitioner are situate in the County of St. Louis and State of Minnesota, and are described as follows, to-wit:

TRACT NO. 1.

All that part of block forty-three (43), forty-four (44), forty-seven (47) and forty-eight (48), Lester Park Fourth Division, St. Louis County, Minnesota, according to the recorded plat thereof, which lies within fifty (50) feet of the northerly line of London road, and also all that part of block forty-one (41), in said Lester Park Fourth Division, which lies southerly of a line commencing at a point on the easterly line of lot eight (8) in said block forty-one (41), fifty (50) feet northerly of the northerly line of said London road and extending in a westerly direction at right angles to said easterly line of said lot eight (8) to its intersection with the northerly line of said London road.

SLAYER GETS MOST FROM FATHER'S WILL

Chester Duryea Given Third of Estate and Made Executor.

New York, May 22.—Chester B. Duryea, who killed his father, Gen. Hiram Duryea, in their Brooklyn home not long ago, is chief beneficiary under the general's will, made public here today.

Chester receives a third of the estate, the value of which is not stated, and in addition the use for life of the Brooklyn home and an income of $5,000 a year, insured by the creation of a $125,000 trust fund. The other beneficiaries are his brother, Harry, and his sister, Mrs. Ellery O. Anderson.

Duryea is now in Bellevue hospital, where he was committed after he shot his father to death. A commission has been appointed to inquire into his sanity. He is named as one of the executors and trustees under the will.

WOMEN TRY TO BURN LEICESTER MANSION

Game Keeper Sees Smoke and Arouses the Caretakers.

Leicester, Eng., May 22.—An attempt early today by militant suffragettes to burn Stoughton Hall, a picturesque mansion here, was frustrated by the watchfulness of a passing game keeper. He noticed a column of smoke rising from the house and awakened the caretakers, who extinguished the flames. A quantity of kerosene and inflammables was found, and there was suffrage literature scattered all about the grounds.

NEW TRIAL DENIED IN "$6,000,000 SWINDLE"

U. S. Court of Appeals Rejects Plea of Five Promoters.

Philadelphia, May 22. — Five promoters of the International Lumber & Development company, convicted on a charge of conspiring to defraud through the mails, were today refused a new trial by the United States court of appeals. The postal authorities refer to the case as the "six million dollar swindle."

The men were charged with conspiracy to cheat and defraud stockholders of the company by sending through the mails false statements concerning the San Pablo plantation in Campeche, Mex.

CHARGE THAT GOULD BROKE THE WABASH

Hodge Is Accused of Aiding Effort to Bleed the Road.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Charges that J. Aspenwell Hodge, the attorney who appeared before the Missouri Public Service commission yesterday to oppose the reorganization plan of the Wabash railroad, represented certain interests that were trying to get money from the Wabash management, and counter charges that George J. Gould deliberately forced the Wabash into receivership, were made at the resumption of the hearing here today.

SENATE PASSES DEFICIENCY BILL.

Washington, May 22.—An urgent deficiency bill carrying an appropriation of $6,300,000 and including many items covering the expenses of troops in Mexico was passed by the senate today. The measure passed the house yesterday.

SAY COST OF LIVING HITS MISSION WORK.

Kansas City, Mo., May 22.—The effect of the high cost of living on home missions was pointed out in the annual report of the executive committee of home missions, presented to the fifty-fourth general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States (Southern Presbyterian church) here today.

It was asserted that where a missionary could live for $800 a year ten years ago, it now costs him more than $1,200. For lack of funds the committee has on its hands 250 homeless churches and at least 275 other places where organizations might be effected.

VERDICT FOR $1,300 HAS BEEN SUSTAINED.

Bismarck, N. D., May 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The verdict for $1,300 given by a jury in the district court of Ramsey county, against the Great Northern railroad and in favor of Peter J. Kerston, has been affirmed by the supreme court. The railroad company alleged error in the admission of evidence covering the effect of the accident to other passengers on the train which was wrecked, and in which Wreck Kerston claimed to have been injured.

NOTICE—

To Will Gustafson:

You are hereby notified: That default has been made in the terms and conditions of that certain land contract entered into on the 13th day of May, 1913, by and between Watson S. Moore as party of the first part, the said Will Gustafson as party of the second part, and G. A. Tomlinson as party of the third part, wherein and whereby the said party of the first part agreed to sell, the said Will Gustafson agreed to buy, and said party of the third part agreed to release from the lien and effect of a certain mortgage therein referred to, according to those certain terms and conditions which are fully set forth in said contract, the following described premises situate in the county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota, namely:

Lot twelve (12) in block forty-five (45), in Gary, First division, according to the plat thereof on file and of record in the office of the registrar of titles in and for said St. Louis county.

You, the said Will Gustafson, are further notified that said default consists in the failure of yourself, or anyone in your behalf, to pay those certain installments on said contract, each amounting to ten dollars ($10.00), which became due and payable to the party of the first part on the 13th day of each of the months of December in the year 1913 and January, February, March and April in the year 1914, which installments aggregate the sum of Fifty Dollars ($50.00), and in the further failure of yourself, or anyone in your behalf, to pay the semi-annual interest, amounting to thirteen and 61-100 dollars ($13.61), due upon said contract, which became due and payable on the 13th day of November, 1913; on account of which said default, the said party of the first part, Watson S. Moore, has a right and does now elect to terminate said contract.

Now therefore, you, the said Will Gustafson, will please take notice that the said contract hereinabove referred to will terminate thirty (30) days after the service of this notice upon you, unless prior thereto you shall comply with the terms and conditions of said contract hereinbefore mentioned, and pay the costs of this service.

The amount claimed to be due upon said contract at the date hereof is the sum of sixty-three and 61-100 dollars ($63.61).

This notice is given according to the provisions of section 8081 of the General Statutes of Minnesota for the year 1913.

Dated this 24th day of April, 1914.
WATSON S. MOORE.

ORDER LIMITING TIME TO FILE CLAIMS, AND FOR HEARING THEREON—

State of Minnesota,
County of St. Louis—ss.
In Probate Court. In the Matter of the Estate of John B. Erd, Decedent.

Letters of administration this day having been granted to Marie Erd.

It is Ordered, That the time within which all creditors of the above named decedent may present claims against his estate in this court, be, and the same hereby is, limited to six months from and after the date hereof; and that the 24th day of November, 1914, at ten o'clock A. M., in the Probate Court Rooms at the Court House at Duluth in said County, be, and the same hereby is, fixed and appointed as the time and place for hearing upon the examination, adjustment and allowance of such claims as shall be presented within the time aforesaid.

Let notice hereof be given by the publication of this order in The Duluth Herald as provided by law.

Dated, Duluth, Minn., May 19th, 1914.
S. W. GILPIN, Judge of Probate.

D. H., May 22, 29; June 6, 1914.

To WM. R. OWENS and his representatives and assigns:

YOU WILL PLEASE TAKE NOTICE, that default has occurred in the conditions of that certain contract for deed, made between John G. Williams of the county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota, party of the first part, and yourself, and assigned by said party of the first part to the Cedar Rapids-Minnesota Land Company; said contract bearing date of December 19th, 1901, and said assignment, as above, dated May 23rd, 1902, whereby said John G. Williams agreed to convey to you that certain property in the county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota, described as follows, to-wit: The northeast quarter (NE¼) of section two (2) in township fifty-one (51) north, range twenty-one (21) west of the Fourth Principal Meridian, containing 165.16 acres, more or less, according to the United States Government Survey thereof.

That such default consists in your failure to pay as the same became due under the terms of said contract that certain installment or amount of money, to-wit: The sum of one hundred sixty-five dollars ($165.00) principal, due from and payable by you on the 19th day of December, 1902; and the further sum of forty-nine and 50-100 dollars ($49.50) interest, due from and payable by you on the 19th day of December, 1902; and the further sum of one hundred sixty-five dollars ($165.00) principal, due from and payable by you on the 19th day of December, 1903; and the further sum of twenty-nine and 70-100 dollars ($29.70) interest, due from and payable by you on the 19th day of December, 1903; and the further sum of one hundred sixty-five dollars ($165.00) principal, due from and payable by you on the 19th day of December, 1904; and the further sum of nineteen and 80-100 dollars ($19.80) interest, due from and payable by you on the 19th day of December, 1904; and the further sum of one hundred sixty-five dollars ($165.00) principal, due from and payable by you on the 19th day of December, 1905; and the further sum of nine and 90-100 ($9.90) interest, due from and payable by you on the 19th day of December, 1905; and the further failure by you to pay at the office of the county treasurer of St. Louis County, state of Minnesota, the taxes for the years 1901 to 1911 inclusive, as the same became due, amounting to one hundred sixty-four and 28-100 dollars ($164.28).

And You Will Further Take Notice, that the said contract will be cancelled and terminated thirty (30) days after the service of this notice upon you, unless prior thereto you shall comply with the conditions of said contract and pay the cost of service of this notice.

Dated at Duluth, Minn., this 22nd day of May, A. D. 1914.

COMPANY WINS STREET RAILWAY CASE

BECKER, GUILTY, HAS YEAR LEASE OF LIFE BY THE LAW'S DELAY

Appeal Will Act as Stay, With Perhaps New Trial.

Weeping Jurors Declare He Caused Rosenthal's Murder.

Only Five Ballots Taken to Decide Noted Murder Case.

New York, May 23.—For the second time, Charles E. Becker, former police lieutenant, today occupied a cell in Tombs prison, the convicted murderer of Herman Rosenthal, gambler, for the actual killing of whom the four gunmen paid the penalty in the electric chair a little more than a month ago.

An appeal by Becker's counsel, which is certain to be made, will act as a stay of execution, giving Becker more than a year to live, and with it the hope of another reversal of the judgment of the trial court.

In the jury room five ballots were taken. The first ballot is said to have stood: 6 for guilty in the first degree, 2 for not guilty, 3 for a lesser degree and 1 blank. A second ballot, taken after the jurors had had luncheon, brought one man over to the majority. The third ballot showed a gain of 2, and the fourth stood 10 for guilty. The fifth ballot was unanimous.

Saw Wife and Lawyer.

The only conference arranged this forenoon for Becker was with his counsel, Martin T. Manton, and Mrs. Becker. The basis for an appeal from the verdict, it was said, was the subject under discussion at the conference.

Becker spent a quiet night in his cell in the Tombs, and awoke refreshed and comparatively cheerful. He ate a hearty breakfast and then read the newspaper accounts of his conviction.

District Attorney Whitman today received the following letter from Mayor Mitchel:

"I have just heard of the outcome of the Becker case. The whole community is under obligation to you. Your work has been splendid."

Only a pardon or interference again by the court of appeals can save Becker from following to the electric chair the four gunmen who shot Rosenthal early on the morning of July 16, 1912.

ROOSEVELT "TRYING TO AVOID POLITICS"

Says He Will Take More Time to It After Wedding.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., May 23.—"I'm trying to keep out of politics as much as possible just now," said Col. Roosevelt today. He made the remark in all seriousness, notwithstanding the fact that ever since his return from South America he has been seeing his political associates at the rate of half a dozen a day.

The colonel made this statement in response to a question about the organization work of the Progressive party during the last year, and his opinion regarding proposals for its amalgamation with the Republican party. He declined to express any views upon these subjects.

Working on New Book.

Just at present Col. Roosevelt said he was busy with preparation of a new book. That would take up his spare time until after his return from Spain, which will be on July 4. After that, he said, he would give more time to politics, although he hoped that for six weeks he would not be obliged to give a great deal of time to party affairs.

"I'd like to get acquainted with my family," he explained, but he shook his head doubtfully as he said it.

Another political conference was to be held today. Col. Roosevelt expected to see ex-Senator Albert J. Beveridge, Indiana Progressive leader; Theodore Douglas Robinson, New York Progressive state chairman, and Regis Post, former governor of Porto Rico.

BREWERY FIRE HALTS PROHIBITION PICNIC

Drys Help Save Preston Plant From Being Burned.

Preston, Minn., May 23.—The Preston brewery, operated in a prohibition town and county, took fire today and incidentally was the cause of breaking up the dry faction's picnic, held in celebration of the result of the recent election at Preston, when the city voted to continue without saloons. While the sale of liquor is forbidden by law at Preston, its manufacture is not, and the brewery is a large one.

The dry picnic broke up and those attending it fought valiantly beside the city fire department to save the plant. The fire was finally extinguished without serious loss; it was announced that the brewery would continue to operate, and the tired and thirsty fire fighters went back to their picnic and refreshed themselves with large quantities of lemonade and grape juice.

CONVICTED AGAIN OF ROSENTHAL MURDER

CHARLES BECKER.

SUNDAY WORK FIGHT WAGED

Presbyterians Hear Report on Interdenominational Plans.

Divorce Laws Discussed at Assembly; Deaconesses Provided For.

Chicago, May 23.—Co-operation with the Sabbath organizations of other Protestant denominations and with those of the Roman Catholic church was urged today in the report of the Sabbath observance committee of the Presbyterian general assembly in session here. These organizations in all Christian churches and the labor unions are working together hand in hand, it was stated in the report of the committee as printed in the assembly blue book, and the results of the co-operation may be seen in a long list of victories all over the world for cessation of Sunday work.

Many Protestant pulpits in Chicago will be filled tomorrow by visiting pastors, among them will be seven ministers formerly pastors of Chicago churches.

After Next Assembly.

Three cities, Rochester, N. Y., Seattle, Wash., and San Francisco, are seeking the 1915 general assembly. No indication of the choice of the next meeting place has yet been given by the delegates.

Rev. John Fox, general secretary of the American Bible society, told the assembly that 5,250,000 Bibles had been distributed in the year by the Bible society. A special edition, he said, was printed and sold in China for one-seventeenth of a cent a copy. "The Chinese," said he, "have a great reverence for the written or printed word,

YOUTH CONFESSES HE SHOT CHICAGO WOMAN

Art Student, Named Rossi, Says Her Wealth Tempted Him.

Florence, Italy, May 23.—A Florentine art student, Pietro Rossi, was arrested today on suspicion of being the man who shot and robbed Mrs. Mary Flavelle of Chicago, on Thursday, while she was on a train between Florence and Assisi.

Rossi later confessed the crime. He said:

"I am a student at the Social Science institute here, and am 24 years old. I had gambled away almost all the money I possessed, and had started on my way home to Monto Pulciano, in order to inform my family of my predicament. On the train, however, I saw an old lady who apparently already had one foot in the grave and to whom wealth could not mean much.

"The sight of the well dressed woman tempted me and I attacked her. I would not have tried to kill her if she had not screamed when I grasped her valise. I then lost my reason and fired."

The accused is kept under close watch.

The condition of Mrs. Flavelle had improved today and the doctors said that she would probably survive if her constitution was strong enough to enable her to recuperate from the great loss of blood caused by the wound.

JOHN LIND IN CONFERENCE

He Meets Bryan and Carranza's Washington Agent.

Public's Impatience Annoys Mediators at Niagara Falls.

Washington, May 23.—Secretary Bryan, John Lind and Charles A. Douglas, the latter representing the Constitutionalist agency, had a long conference today at the state department, after which Mr. Bryan went to the White House. None of the men would reveal the subject of the conference.

Silliman Is Safe.

Evidencing no anxiety over the military situation, Secretary Garrison had gone to Atlantic City for a few days' rest. Secretary Bryan was relieved over the safe arrival of American Vice Consul John R. Silliman at Mexico City. He received a dispatch from the Brazilian minister in the Mexican capital stating that Silliman was in good health, and that he would remain at the Brazilian legation until Monday before proceeding to Vera Cruz.

Representatives of the Mexican Constitutionalists here resumed conferences over the somewhat uncertain mediation situation as concerning their interests, expecting to hear from Gen. Carranza and a call from Jose Vasconcelos on his way here from New York. Mr. Vasconcelos, who had been mentioned as a probable agent of the Constitutionalists to keep them in touch with mediation proceedings, already had announced that he had received no instructions of such a nature, and that he was coming to Washington to confer with representatives of his chief.

CHEERS FOR HUERTA; IS PROMPTLY KILLED

Former Employe of Dictator Is Shot Three Times.

Naco, Ariz., May 23.—Wandering over to the Mexican side of the line early today, Alejanedro Rochin, a former Huerta employe at Naco, Sonora, shouted "Viva Huerta" and promptly received three bullets which killed him. A Constitutionalist customs guard fired the shots, according to an American army sentry who saw the shots fired.

Mexican authorities said Rochin had attacked the customs guard with a knife. The man's body was left lying in the street several hours. Rochin, who had been a refugee, leaves a family here.

VANDAL MUST STAND TRIAL

Suffragette Picture Slasher Berates London Court Officers.

Woman's Union Quarters in London Are Raided.

London, May 23.—Frida Graham, the militant suffragette, who yesterday slashed a number of valuable paintings in the National art gallery, was today committed for trial after hearing at the police court.

The accused kept up a continual tirade from the prisoner's enclosure, and was held fast by two policemen throughout the proceedings.

The pictures were not so badly damaged as had been thought, according to the evidence of an official from the gallery.

A raid on the headquarters of the Women's Social and Political union, the militant suffragette organization, was carried out by the police this afternoon. They took possession of the offices and detained all of the members of the staff on duty.

After thoroughly ransacking the rooms, the police let all the officials go except one woman.

There was no disturbance inside the building but a suffragette who arrived during the raid assaulted a policeman and appeared to be greatly aggrieved when he declined to arrest her. The public outside was distinctly hostile to the women, but a large force of policemen protected them.

Two militant suffragette vandals today broke the glass case of an exhibit in the mummy room of the British museum. No damage was done to the exhibits. Both women were arrested.

NEGROES ARE READY TO SAIL FOR AFRICA

Chief Sam's Colonists Will Sail Some Time Next Week.

Portland, Me., May 23.—The party of negroes assembled by "Chief" Alfred Charles Sam will sail next week to establish a colony on the Gold Coast of Africa, according to announcement made today. The steamer Curityba, secured by Sam last winter and brought here for overhauling, has been changed from Cuban to British entry, and now bears the name Liberia.

"We will first go to Norfolk to take on our bunker coal," said Sam, "and we will then head for Galveston, where many of the colonists are waiting for us. We will have accommodations for a few over sixty."

Capt. McKenzie of the Holy Ghost and Us society will be master of the steamer.

Hadley Leaves England.

London, May 23.—President Arthur T. Hadley of Yale, who has completed a series of lectures on American history at Oxford university, left today for New York.

WILL NOT SEE COLORADOANS

Rockefeller Says Conference With Lindsey Is Impossible..

Rocky Mountain Company Plans to Open Forbes Mines.

New York, May 23.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., put an end today to persistent rumors of a proposed conference with Judge Ben B. Lindsey of Denver, relative to the Colorado strike situation, by stating through his secretary that the interview would never take place. At Mr. Rockefeller's office it was said that a letter and a telegram had been received from Judge Lindsey asking for an interview, but that Mr. Rockefeller had refused to meet him.

The report that Judge Lindsey had been admitted to the Rockefeller estate at Pocantico Hills last night and had spent the night there was absurd, said Mr. Rockefeller's secretary.

Plan Reopening.

Trinidad, Colo., May 23.—George T. Peart, manager of the Rocky Mountain Fuel company, said today it was planned to resume the mining of coal at Forbes Monday. Forbes is the Rocky Mountain camp attacked and burned by strikers on the morning of April 29.

FRANCHISE IS VALID, JUDGE CANT DECIDES

Complete Victory for Traction Company in Litigation to Test Its Rights to Occupy Duluth Streets.

Costs Are Assessed Against City---Questions of Law and Fact Discussed in Lengthy Memorandum.

The Duluth Street Railway company is operating on the streets of Duluth under a valid and subsisting franchise and is entirely within its rights, according to a decision which Judge W. A. Cant of the district court handed down at noon today.

The decision is a victory for the company and will stand as final unless reversed by the supreme court. It is understood that attorneys for the city, who are attacking the franchise, will carry the case to the higher court.

Judge Cant in disposing of the case dismissed the quo warranto writ which was issued from the district court a few months ago for the purpose of testing the validity of the traction company's legislative franchise of 1881.

The case has been hanging fire in district court for several months and the decison has been looked for for some time. After several preliminary skirmishes in the Federal court, the case was brought to trial in district court on Oct. 10 last.

Injunction Sought.

In the Federal court an attempt was made to secure an injunction against the city from proceeding with the quo warranto suit. This, however, failed and the case went to trial on its merits.

The quo warranto proceedings were instituted in the name of the State of Minnesota through the attorney general at the instance of the city of Duluth. The writ required the company to come into court and show by what warrant or authority it claimed to be operating on the streets of Duluth.

The contention of the state or city was that the company had failed to live up to the requirements imposed in the terms of the franchise and that under a forfeiture clause, the entire grant had been forfeited at the time, more than thirty years ago and that since the time the company has been operating on the streets merely by sufferance and not by virtue of its franchise of 1881.

Company's Claim.

The company on the other hand claimed that the state and the city after thirty years of equiescence were now under the law estopped from raising the question of the validity of the franchise. More than 100 witnesses were called in the case and the arguments were extended over a period of eleven days. It was submitted to the court Jan. 23, last and a formidable array of talent has been connected with the case. On the side of the state and city were J. C. Calloway, assistant attorney general, Davis, Kellogg, Severance & Olds of St. Paul, Francis W. Sullivan of this city and City Attorney Harvey Clapp. Representing the company were Washburn, Bailey & Mitchell, Thomas S. Wood and Henry F. Greene.

The court's findings in part follow:

"That on the 11th day of November, 1881, the legislature of the state of Minnesota passed an act entitled 'An act conferring certain rights upon the Duluth Street Railway company,' which act was approved on Nov. 17, 1881, and appears as Chapter 200 of the Special Laws of Minnesota for the extra session of the year 1881. That said act is hereinafter referred to as the franchise act and the rights granted thereunder as the franchise of the respondent. That on or about the 8th day of December, 1881, the said Duluth Street Railway company, this respondent, duly filed with the secretary of state of the state of Minnesota and with the village recorder of the said village of Duluth, its written acceptance of the terms of said act.

Laid Mile of Track.

"That pursuant to the terms of said act, the said respondent duly constructed and laid one full mile of street railway track on the streets of the said village of Duluth prior to the 15th day of November, 1882, but that said respondent wholly failed to equip the said line of railway or to have the same in operation before said last-mentioned date, nor was said line fully equipped or in operation at any time prior to the 6th day of July, 1883. That said track was constructed and laid on Superior street from a point at or near Eighth avenue west to a point just easterly of Third avenue east in said village.

"That during the months of April, May and June, 1883, respondent caused its said line of railway to be reconstructed or greatly improved, and that ever since the 6th day of July, 1883, up to the present time it has continuously operated its said line of railway and has greatly extended the same throughout the said village and later throughout the said city of Duluth and throughout various of the suburbs thereof, and has expended large sums of money, aggregating several millions of dollars in amount, in making said extensions and in providing equipment therefor; that said construction and operation and said extensions and expenditures have all been made under and in reliance upon the validity of said franchise and pursuant to the resolutions and ordinances hercin referred to, in many of which reference was made to the said franchise; and that continuously since Nov. 17, 1882, respondent has asserted and assumed in good faith that said franchise was valid and subsisting; that all the facts set forth in paragraphs numbered four, five and six hereof have been matter of common knowledge throughout the village and city of Duluth and in part throughout a considerable portion of the state of Minnesota during all the times therein mentioned or referred to.

Recognise Franchise.

"That in the month of December, 1881, the village council of the village of Duluth passed a resolution providing that if the respondent would construct and operate its line before a certain date mentioned in the summer of the year 1882, that the operation of the respondent's railway might be suspended for the period of five months during the winter of the years 1882-1883, and that in the month of December in the year 1882 the said council passed another resolution consenting that the operation of said line of railway might be postponed until the 15th day of May next ensuing, and later gave its consent to a further postponement which extended until the operation of said line was actually begun; that no claim was ever made until within three years last past that respondent did not construct and lay one mile of its said railway track prior to November 18, 1882, or that the said line of railway was not equipped and in operation substantially as required by said act, and no claim was ever made until within said period that said franchise had been lost or forfeited by respondent by reason of any failure on its part to construct and lay such track or to equip and operate its said line within the time so specified. That at frequent intervals since November 17, 1882, the common council of the said village of Duluth, and later the common council of the said city of Duluth, have passed various resolutions and ordinances and entered into various contracts with said respondent in all of which it was recognized and admitted by the said village and city that the franchise granted by said act was valid and subsisting, and that pursuant to said resolutions and ordinances and pursuant to various other proceedings had against said respondent and herein referred to, and otherwise, in various ways and on many occasions throughout a period of thirty years immediately following the 17th day of November, 1882, the said village and city and the said state have asserted the existence and validity of respondent's said franchise under said franchise act and have repeatedly enforced the provisions thereof against the respondent. That continuously since the year 1882, in all publications of the village or city charter, ordinances, and related acts, or proceedings, by the said village or the said city, the said franchise act of the respondent has been published and in-

WHAT THE CITY CONTENDED

That the easterly end of the track built in 1882, did not extend beyond the easterly line of Third avenue, more than forty feet in any event.

That the westerly end of the track laid in 1882, was between Fifth and Sixth avenues west.

That the stone quarry referred to by witnesses at the trial, the point which helped fix the western terminus in the minds of some of the witnesses was on the upper side of Superior street near Seventh avenue west and not at Eighth avenue west or westerly thereof.

That in 1882, it was not possible, without measurement to determine the location of Eighth avenue.

That in 1882, it was impossible to build the street car line as far west as Eighth avenue west on Superior street because of rock in the street.

That the tracks build in 1882 were of a temporary nature only, practically on top of the ground and not suited to street car operations.

That the temporary tracks were torn up and the entire original line was rebuilt in in 1883 before cars were operated.

That the winter of 1882-1883 was an early one and began with much early snow.

That there was no equipment provided for the Duluth Street Railway company within the year after the passage of the act of 1881.

That the street car line was not put in full operation within one year after the passage of the act of 1881.

CANDIDATES FOR SEATS IN NEXT STATE LEGISLATURE

Eleven Aspirants to the Senate Are Without Opposition.

Ninety-Nine Present or Former House Members Seek Election.

There are 541 candidates for the legislature in the sixty-seven districts in the state, according to a list compiled by Secretary of State Julius Schmahl. Only candidates running in more than one county file with the secretary of state, but Mr. Schmahl has obtained the other names through correspondence with the county auditors.

The reapportionment and the nonpartisan primary law wiping out party lines in the legislature brought out an unprecedented number of candidates. There will be sharp contests in the primaries in nearly every district, but the primaries will only be an elimination for the big fight in November. Two candidates for each legislative place will be nominated June 16, and will fight it out in the election.

Many New Men.

Plenty of new men will enter both houses. Only thirty-three members of the present senate are candidates, so even if every one were re-elected, they would comprise less than a majority of the upper body.

There are four former senators, however, who are trying to come back, and thirty-one present or former house members who aspire to reach the senate, so it is likely the upper house will have a sufficient number of men experienced in legislation to preserve the dignity which is supposed to be characteristic of that body. Altogether there are 173 candidates for the senate.

Of the 368 candidates for the house, only ninety-nine are present or former members. Put if one-third of these fall by the wayside, there still will be enough old members to make a majority. There are 139 seats in the lower house, under the new reapportionment.

Seven members of the last senate are unopposed and are already sure of their certificates. They are: F. E. Putnam of Blue Earth, C. L. Wallace of Minneapolis, J. D. Denegre and W. W. Dunn of St. Paul, J. D. Sullivan of St. Cloud, Edward Rustad of Wheaton and A. L. Hanson of Ada.

There are four other candidates for the senate who are unopposed. They are: A. L. Ward of Fairmont, who will succeed J. E. Haycraft of Madelia, Robert C. Dunn of Princeton, who will represent the new Fifty-fifth district, O. H. Griggs of Virginia, the lone candidate in the Sixty-first, and P. A. Hilbert of Stearns county.

Following is practically a complete list of the candidates who have filed for the legislature:

These two trout were caught in the Brule river by Guy E. Warren of the board of trade. The upper fish is a Rainbow and the lower what is known as a Dolly Varden or Loch Leven trout. The larger of the two was 22¾ inches in length and weighed 4 pounds and 1 ounce and the other measured 22 inches and scaled 3 pounds, 9 ounces. They were taken casting with a Hildebrandt spinner.

ITCHY SALT RHEUM

Sometimes Called Eczema---Removed By Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Salt rheum is one of the worst and unfortunately one of the most common of all diseases. How it reddens the skin, itches, oozes, dries and scales, and then does this all over again! Sometimes it covers the whole body with inflamed, burning patches and causes intense suffering.

Salt rheum comes from humors in the blood. This is why local applications do so little good. It will continue to exist, annoy, pain and perhaps agonize, until these humors have been removed.

Ask your druggist for Hood's Sarsaparilla. It goes to the source of the trouble. It cleanses the blood of the humors that cause salt rheum. It has given perfect satisfaction in thousands of cases. Get it today.

CHIEF IS GIVEN "THIRD DEGREE"

Troyer "Put Through" While Hicken and Greene Look On.

C. H. Troyer, chief of police, knows what it is to be put through the "third degree."

The chief was the "goat" last evening in the role of a candidate at a special meeting of Lakeside lodge, No. 281, A. F. & A. M., when the "third degree" was exemplified on a class of candidates among whom was the head of the police department.

W. A. Hicken, commissioner of public safety, and junior warden of the Lakeside lodge, took part in the degree work. C. S. Palmer, city clerk, who is secretary of the lodge, and Warren E. Greene, county attorney, who is grand orator for Minnesota Masons, were among the interested spectators.

After the degree work, a number of short addresses were given by County Attorney Greene, A. G. McKnight, Frank Crassweller, Commissioner Hicken and others. Refreshments were served during the evening.

HE SAYS GIRLS ARE SMARTER THAN BOYS

California Professor Also Says School Hours Are Too Long.

San Francisco, Cal., May 23.—"Girls are smarter than boys. Standardized tests of the relative intellects of the sexes, age for age, favor the physically weaker sex."

This is what Lewis M. Terman, associate professor of education at Stanford university, told the San Francisco teachers' institute. Prof. Terman explained that the difference was one rather of temperament and emotion than mind. He also punctured some other ancient theories when he said:

"Work that is the most rapid is the most accurate.

"The present school day is too long. Children 7 or 8 years old should not go to school more than an hour and a half a day.

"Grouch, grief, loss of sleep—all these have a direct effect on intelligence.

"Practising when one is in bad physical condition is worse than not practising at all."

DEMANDS INQUEST BE REOPENED.

Elgin, Ill., May 23.—A demand for the reopening of the inquest over the bodies of 7-year-old Orville Magnus, who was slain Wednesday night, and Carrol A. Lawlor, whose body, with a bottle of poison near by, was found in a room near the Magnus boy, was made by Charles Radenz, brother-in-law of Lawlor.

Radenz's home was the scene of the two deaths and he based his plea for a further investigation on what he termed failure to discover any motive for the crime, and the absence of the weapon with which the threoat of the Magnus boy was cut. Radenz believes that Lawlor did not commit the crime. None of Lawlor's relatives attended the inquest, at which a verdict of murder and suicide was returned.

WEDDING WILL BE CLIMAX OF ROMANCE WHICH BEGAN THIRTY-TWO YEARS AGO

Childhood Sweethearts, Each Twice Married, Will Wed Each Other.

Mayor of Canadian City Claims West Duluth Woman as Bride.

A climax to a romance beginning with an engagement thirty-two years ago, followed by separation, the wedding of each principal twice, and their meeting again by chance only a short time ago in West Duluth, will come the last of the week, when Mrs. Louise Morris, twice a widow, will marry her former sweetheart, Simon Poirier, mayor of Boneventure, Que., Can., who also is twice a widower.

Mrs. Morris, her two sons, Alden and Basil Morris, and her two daughters, Miss Rena Blanchart and Miss Artenese Morris, will leave West Duluth tomorrow evening for Quebec, Que. The wedding of Mrs. Morris and Mr. Poirier will take place immediately on their arrival in the Canadian city.

When a girl of 20 years, Mrs. Morris, then petite Miss Louise Brotherton, met the handsome divinity student Simon Poirier. Mr. Poirier was then studying in the Quebec college for the priesthood. The young people fell in love and their engagement followed.

While still planning their wedding a shadow was cast over their love affair. This resulted in a slight quarrel between the parents and the girl, and Miss Brotherton left for Maine, leaving a note to her sweetheart to continue his studies for the priesthood and give up all thought of marrying her.

In Maine she met her first husband, George Blanchart. They were married and moved west, locating in Cloquet, Minn. Here they lived happily until six years later fate took her husband's life in a mill accident. She was left a widow with three small children, E. J., Rena and Clyde. The girl was an invalid and for the first six years of her life was unable to walk.

Marries Second Time.

Fortunately for Mrs. Blanchart her husband had several staunch friends, and one of these, his most intimate friend, Joseph Morris, looked after the interests of the family for more than a year after the death of Mr. Blanchart. It was then he proposed marriage.

Mr. Morris died nearly two years ago. For more than two years prior to his death he was an invalid and required constant care. Blindness aggravated the sickness and made the duty of caring for him far more burdensome, but being of a naturally cheerful disposition, Mrs. Morris never complained or asked for assistance. During the eighteen years of her married life with Mr. Morris the family resided at 217 South Sixtieth avenue west.

Sent Photograph to Brother.

Chance brought back her thoughts to her former sweetheart recently. About six weeks ago Mr. Poirier's sister was visiting friends in West Duluth. Unknown to Mrs. Morris, she had heard about her living in the city, and secured a photograph of her. This she sent to her brother in Canada, who shortly after his sweetheart of years ago had left, had renounced his desire to enter the priesthood, and was now a prosperous business man in Canada.

In spite of changes wrought by years of trouble and hard work, Mr. Poirier immediately recognized it as that of his former sweetheart. Being a widower of more than a year, he at once began inquiries, and after securing the needed information, came to Duluth.

He arrived here three weeks ago, and after spending a few days, requested her to come with him at once. The proposal, after three weeks of deliberation, has been accepted. Mr. Poirier has promised to raise the children, give them the best of education, and before leaving here left enough money to pay all transportation charges.

Mayor Poirier has had a successful career during the last thirty-two years. Shortly after leaving his studies in school he entered business and prospered. Taking a prominent part in civic life in his home town, he advanced until he was chosen the chief executive of the city.

"The hardest part of going to Canada is the thought of leaving so many good friends in West Duluth," said Mrs. Morris last night. "My children will have to make new acquaintances and accustom themselves to new surroundings. They probably will be wanting to come back to the land of their birth later."

MRS. LOUISE MORRIS.

SIMON POIRIER, Mayor of Boneventure, Can.

PARISH SCHOOL IS NEAR COMPLETION.

Construction work on the new St. James Catholic parish school is rapidly nearing completion. The roof of the building is now being put on and the work on the interior will begin within another week.

The building will be completed about Aug. 1. Arrangements are being made to hold a series of festivities in connection with its formal opening. The nature of these festivities will be worked out by the building committee assisted by Rev. D. W. Lynch, rector of the parish.

The school will provide handsome clubrooms and a large auditorium in addition to the school rooms. It is thought that about 300 children will be enrolled in this school at its opening in September. Six of the rooms will be opened for this purpose.

The main auditorium is on the top floor. This will have a seating capacity for 1,200 people. The second floor will provide six school rooms, and the basement, or ground floor, will be used for clubrooms, two school rooms and a gymnasium. The building when complete will cost about $50,000.

West Duluth Briefs.

Mrs. William Langslow of West Duluth left last evening for Edmonton, Alta., Can., where she will spend the summer with her sister, Mrs. H. Goodridge.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Richter, 425 North Central avenue, yesterday.

Mrs. Fred Bjold of Polk street is reported ill at St. Mary's hospital.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Plymouth Congregational church will picnic Wednesday on Park Point. Mrs. James Watts of Park Point will be hostess for the members.

Thomas Shovein returned yesterday from a month's visit to relatives in Eastern Canada.

A fire in a bundle of old clothes in a shed in the rear of the home of Mrs. Thomas McNulty, 24 North Sixty-third avenue west, gave the local department a run shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The fire was put out before it had gained any headway.

The Sunshine Circle of Our Savior's Norwegian Lutheran church will be entertained Monday evening at the home of Miss Minnie Nelson, 701 North Fifty-ninth avenue west.

Rev. F. J. Barackman of this city will conduct services tomorrow evening at the Hazelwood Presbyterian church, Thirty-ninth avenue west and Fourth street. The services will begin at 7:45 p. m.

Start Spring Cleaning.

Arrangements were made for the renovation of the West Duluth Commercial clubrooms at the meeting of the club last night. A new floor is to be laid and plans were made to postpone meetings of the club and those of other societies using the hall from June 5 until June 15.

It was planned to postpone arrangements for the banquet for the club members and their wives until after the floor has been relaid. A final report of the recent public banquet showed that the club had come out on the right side of the ledger and had a balance of $1.46 from its proceeds after all expenses were paid.

C. G. Futter, chairman of the garden committee, reported that children of West Duluth were taking a lively interest in the contest.

ALLOWED TO SEE CHILDREN

Mrs. Olga Gran, Critically Ill, Given Brief Interview.

Under an order of District Judge Cant, Mrs. Olga Gran, divorced wife of Victor H. Gran, will be permitted to see her two children for a few moments today. Mrs. Gran is reported to be very seriously ill at a local hospital. Her condition is said to be more or less critical.

Judge Cant this morning took no definite action on the attempt which is being made to open the judgment entered in the case by Attorney McManus at the expiration of the customary 40-day stay.

The court intimated that should the judgment be opened so that Mrs. Gran might move for a new trial, that it would not be because the court imagined that Attorney McManus had taken snap judgment or any other advantage over the opposition, but that the rights of Mrs. Gran might be fully protected.

Attorney McManus keenly resented in court this morning the insinuation made by attorneys for the defense that he had taken snap judgment in the matter.

GOODRICH IS WELL SATISFIED

President of Street Railway Company Hopes Case Is Ended.

C. G. Goodrich, president of the Duluth Street Railway, is in the city today for a meeting of the board of directors held at the Spalding hotel this morning, and when informed of the decision of the district court in favor of the company in the recent franchise suit brought by the city of Duluth, said that he is very much pleased and gratified at the findings of the court.

"I have not yet read the decision and only know what I have just been told," said Mr. Goodrich, "but I am indeed gratified and pleased and only hope the people of Duluth feel likewise. Of course, this does not end the matter and I imagine we will still have to defend similar action in the higher courts. I hope not.

"I came to Duluth for a meeting of the directors and although a decision has been expected for some time, we had no knowledge of its coming this morning. I can say nothing regarding the company's attitude in the future, especially at this time."

The latter remark was in reply to the question of whether the company would now consider the building of the street car line to the steel plant. He said this noon that he expects to return to Minneapolis today.

F. H. Deacon and A. E. Ames of Toronto, directors of the company, are also in the city today for the meeting. They will remain here until this evening.

FEDERAL LEAGUE PUNISHES PLAYERS

Two Pitchers Who Attempt to Jump Are Disciplined.

Baltimore, Md., May 23.—At a special meeting here today of the Federal baseball league, punishment was meted out to Pitchers Frank Smith and John M. Allen who deserted the Baltimore club and attempted to join the Montreal club of the International league.

Smith was fined $100 and suspended for forty-five days. Allen was fined $25 and suspended for fifteen days. Manager Knabe of the local club refused an offer of the Brooklyn management for Smith, saying that the player must remain a member of the local team.

President James A. Gilmore presided at the session which was attended by Robert B. Ward of Brooklyn, president Walker of the Chicago club, E. E. Gates, general counsel of the league and the local Federal league officials.

SETTLING DOWN TO SEASON FORM

Wisconsin-Illinois League Playing Pretty Even Baseball.

Green Bay, Wis., May 23.—With two weeks of the Wisconsin-Illinois league's season a matter of history, the clubs havs now settled down with one or two exceptions, to regular work. Thus far the Oshkosh and Madison clubs look the best, while Rockford and Green Bay appear weakest. The other four clubs, Wausau, Racine, Appleton and Marinette-Menominee are about on a par, judging from games played.

The Oshkosh champions have not played as many games as the other teams, but Manager Killian's players have developed enough team work to put up a formidable front in the ten games so far played. With Varney as an addition to the infield the Oshkosh club looks good again and promises to be a leading contender for the flag.

If the Green Bay club, which finished in third place last year, is to be a factor in the race this year, Manager Lynch will have to get about five new players, in the opinion of critics. Clubs must cut down to the player limit by May 26, President Weeks announced today in notices sent to the club presidents.

Official averages issued today by the president show Madison to be leading in batting with a percentage of .329. That club is the only one with an average of over .300. Wausau, Oshkosh, Appleton, Green Bay, Rockford, Racine and Twin Cities follow in the order named in team hitting. Appleton leads in fielding with .967, Racine is second, Oshkosh third and Rockford, Madison, Wausau, Green Bay, Twin Cities in the order named.

YEARLINGS WIN.

Badgers Get Surprise in Interclass Crew Races.

Madisons, Wis., May 23.—In the interclass crew races on Lake Mendota this forenoon the agricultural college oarsmen passed the winning line several lengths ahead of their nearest rivals, the letters and science crew. The engineers were third and last. The freshmen beat the varsity crew in a mile race on Lake Mendota by one-half boat length.

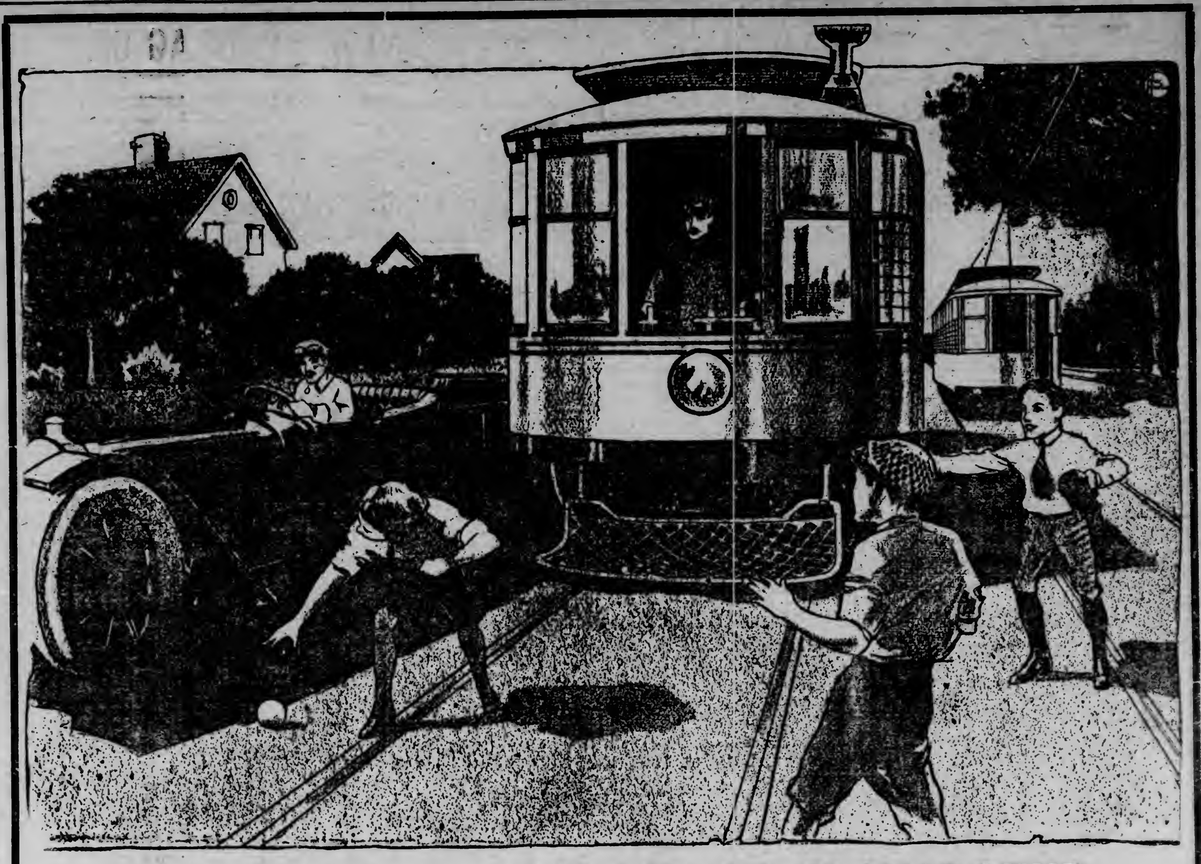
The outcome is said to have emphasized the unusual ability of the yearling crew rather than any particular weakness of the varsity oarsmen.

RECORDS EXPECTED.

Wisconsin Interscholastic Meet Expected to Establish New Mark.

Madison, Wis., May 23.—The twentieth annual Wisconsin interscholastic track and field meet at the University of Wisconsin here today was expected to result in more than one new record. Athletes representing twenty-six high schools were on the entry list, including Gillo, who broke the state record for the hammer throw in a recent meet at Beloit college, and Kline, the Rice Lake sprinter, who has won the hundred yards in every meet in which he has been entered.

Milwaukee schools head the list in point of numbers entered with seventy-five men, a third of whom are entered from Milwaukee West Division high school.



THE STREET IS A DANGEROUS PLAYGROUND

The street is never a safe playground, but if boys must play in the street they should be warned by their parents and teachers not to choose a busy highway. The child is naturally thoughtless. Moments of carelessness cause the bad accidents. It is the duty of parents and teachers to train children to think of SAFETY FIRST. Their whole future happiness is at stake, and may be sacrificed to one moment when they "didn't think."

EMSLIE THE DEAN OF ALL UMPIRES

The Veteran National League Arbiter Has Been Calling Them Since Away Back in 1887.

Springfield, Mass., May 23.—Few men are better known in baseball circles than Robert D. Emslie, the dean of the National league umpires, according to R. D. Kent. Mr. Emslie is generally perfectly cool and calm in the performance of his duties, says Mr. Kent, and pretty nearly always correct in his decisions, and, therefore, is seldom the butt of the merciless joke writer's wrath, or the spite of the disgruntled crank, or the small boy.

Emslie has been connected with the game for a long number of years, having been a successful pitcher prior to his becoming an umpire. He was born in Guelph, Ont., on Jan. 21, 1861. As a pitcher his first professional position was with Camden, N. J., in 1882. He was with the same club in the Interstate association in 1883, until the club disbanded in August of that year, when he finished the season with the Baltimore club, then a member of the American association, which was a major league. He remained with Baltimore throughout the season of 1884 and part of 1885. In 1886 he was with Toronto, in the International association. In 1887 he joined the Savannah club and remained with it until June 1, when he retired from the game as a player and returned to his Canada home. He was offered a position as umpire in the International association the same year, and assumed his duties with that organization throughout that season, as well as those of 1888 and 1889.

Long in Harness.

This was the start of a work unequaled in length of service and efficiency. In 1890 he was with the American association and in 1891 he was with the Western league. In August of that year he was given a position with the National league, where he has been ever since, and beginning this year makes twenty-three consecutive years working as an umpire in that organization. His career as an umpire has been a brilliant one. He has a clear voice and is quick in making his decisions. His long service in the major league is the best evidence that he has attended to his duties in an honest and fearless manner.

He once said of his career: "I stood a great deal from the players some years back, when we had the single umpire system and very little backing up from the executive office, because I did not care to deprive any of them of any part of their salary, but patience ceased to be a virtue at times, for some of them would take advantage of my leniency and become so very abusive that I have been obliged to protect myself, as well as the best interests of the game. Kicking in the days I speak of was 'rowdy intelligence.' Today to kick and get away with it is called an art. Cannot you remember a few years back and pity the poor umpire that had to tolerate Pat Tebeau, Jack O'Connor, Jess Burkett, Chippy McGarr, John McGraw, Jack Doyle, Bill Joyce, 'Yankee' Robinson, Jack Glasscock, Joe Kelly, Harry Raymond, 'Monk' Cline, Wilbert Robinson and others? There are some ball players yet who think an umpire is only on the field to be held up to the ridicule of the crowd, and they lose no opportunity of showing this. They will kick over everything with no conceivable idea of what they are kicking about, only they have a notion that they must do something to cover up other shortcomings.

"Some years ago a writer had the following to say about umpires: 'A minor league umpire has everything to contend with. He has to deal with those young bucks who are out for the first time, and who think it is part of the game to object to every decision of the umpire. He has the old-timers who cannot play ball fast enough to keep warm, and try to hold their jobs by showing up the umpire. What can the umpire do? He can fine them, and he can put them out of the game, but a very small percentage of fines go in minor leagues, and to put a man out of the game generally costs the poor abused umpire his job.'"

Some of His Colleagues.

Mr. Emslie has worked with a lot of men since beginning his career. Among them were Tom Lynch, last year president of the National league, and an umpire that never umpired a game of ball on Sunday. "The National league did not play Sunday ball in his days." Tim Hurst, the pugnacious, and one of the most popular men who ever wore a mask; John McQuade, one of the most fearless umpires, now dead; John Gaffney, known as "King" Gaffney, also dead; John Heydler, now secretary and treasurer of the National league; Jim Johnstone, whom McGraw locked out of the Polo grounds; Bill "Beauty" Brennan, now umpire-in-chief of the Federal league. In 1900 there was but one big league and the umpires for that year were Bob Emslie, Tommy Connelly, Hank O'Day, Tim Hurst and Ed Swartwood, just fourteen years ago. Emslie we find still in the National, Connolly is with the American league, Hank O'Day is manager of the Chicago Nationals, while the other two have dropped the game entirely.

In closing, one cannot blame audiences for getting after umpires and making it unpleasant for them. In the first place there is an unjustified prejudice against the umpire. Then there is sympathy for the players. So when an umpire gives a decision that is not to the liking of the players a howl goes up against that official, for by the unwritten law, the home player is always right in his contentions, while the umpire necessarily must be in the wrong; else why is he an umpire? I have seen so many cases where players by their senseless kicking have worked up audiences almost to a frenzy against umpires, when in reality the umpires were entirely right in their decisions and the players kicked simply to disguise their own mistakes.

There was a play in Seattle the first week of the season that caused much abuse to be handed the umpire by the spectators. A deaf and dumb player had reach third, one man was out, a fly was hit to the outfield; it was this man's place to score from third after the catch. Instead of facing the play, he was facing the grandstand, "forgetting, I suppose, that his eyes were O. K." Waiting for a signal from the third base coacher to start the coacher was watching the ball; then his surprise in seeing that the dummy did not start, reached over and pushed him toward home, which he reached safely. Yet he was out just as soon as the coacher touched him at third base. The audience did not understand the new rule. The umpire was absolutely correct.

JOE TINKER AFTER WALTER JOHNSON.

Chicago, May 23.—Manager Joe Tinker of the Chicago Federals expects to interview Walter Johnson, Washington's star pitcher, tomorrow, with a view to having him sign a contract with the local outlaw team, according to a special dispatch from Baltimore today. Tinker said he was authorized to see Johnson in Washington and offer him tempting inducements to join the new league. According to the Chicago manager, fifty big league players now with teams in organized ball are in a "receptive mood" toward offers to join the Federals next year.

SCOT WINS BRITISH GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP.

Sandwich, Eng., May 23.—J. L. C. Jenkins of Troon, Scotland, won the British amateur golf championship today by beating C. L. Hezlet of Portrush, Ireland, by three up and two to play in the final round of 36 holes.

The original field of players was composed of 232 competitors, including leading golfers from the United States, Australia, India, the Philippines, France, Sweden and the various divisions of the British Isles.

All the favorites, including the holder of the title, Harold H. Hilton, and the American representatives, were eliminated in the earlier rounds.

Observe Daley Day.

Boston, Mass., May 23.—Cambridge residents observed "Daley day" at Fenway park today by gathering in large numbers to greet Tom Daley, the young Cambridge catcher of the Chicago Americans.

ABOUT THE COCAINE HABIT.

There is a decided difference between cocaine and the opium drugs. Cocaine is made from coca leaves. These are obtained from a shrub grown chiefly in South America. The leaves are treated, and decocainized, the cocaine being extracted and formed into a chemical combination known as cocaine hydrochloride. Opium comes chiefly from Turkey, Persia, India and Asia Minor. It is in the poppy plant as sap, and is tapped and when hard is termed gum opium. This is refined into smoking opium, commonly known as "hop." It is also refined into morphine, heroin, codeine and other derivatives. Opium contains about 10 per cent of morphine.

The American Pharmaceutical association has been quoted as declaring that the present annual consumption has been 200,000 ounces. I do not know who is responsible for this estimate, but it is certainly true that somewhere between my own figures obtained from our U. S. government of 120,000 and the American Pharmaceutical association's of 200,000 lies an amount of cocaine that is rapidly serving to break down the health of the American people.

There is a certain amount of this drug used for strictly legitimate purposes. Oculists utilize its anesthetic effects in the medical and surgical examination and treatment of their patients' eyes. Nose and throat surgeons utilize cocaine in operations upon the nasal cavity. The drug is used in minor surgery of any part of the body when local anesthesia is desired. It is likewise used by many surgeons in abdominal surgical work. The drug is quickly absorbed by the mucous membranes, but will not anesthesize the skin unless it is injected by a hypodermic needle underneath the skin surface. There is therefore a considerable legitimate demand for cocaine in the treatment of diseases and injury. To obtain an approximate idea of the amount of this demand, I consulted one of the most conscientious and intelligent druggists in Philadelphia. He owns a chain of successful, modernly equipped drug stores. His estimate was based upon his own series of four stores. "I do not have a demand for even one ounce of cocaine a year for each of my stores. Lots of people come in and want cocaine sold to them, but unless they have their physicians' prescription they cannot get it."

"Do you believe," I inquired, "that one ounce of cocaine per drug store would be a fair yearly average for the legitimate use of cocaine?" "Yes," said this pharmacist, "I do. That would be plenty to last a legitimate druggist one year for meeting the demands of his prescriptions. The year has fifty-two weeks. One ounce contains 480 grains, and no retail druggist will average ten grains of cocaine per week, and usually not near that amount." This was the pharmacist's estimate based upon the successful operation of a chain of four modern drug stores in Philadelphia covering a period of ten years. There are 1,000 drug stores in Philadelphia and 34,000 other drug stores scattered through the rest of the nation. One ounce of cocaine for every drug store in the land means 35,000 ounces of cocaine as the annual legitimate consumption. This is about one and one-half tons. Where does all the rest of the cocaine go?

YOUNG WATTERSON SEEKS FREEDOM

Wants to Leave Matteawan and Stand Trial for Murder.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., May 23.—Erwin Watterson, son of Henry Watterson of Louisville, Ky., appeared before County Judge Arnold yesterday on a writ of habeas corpus, in an effort to obtain his release from the Matteawan state hospital for the criminal insane. Watterson, who formerly lived near Saugerties, has been in Matteawan since 1911, having been committed after his arrest upon the charge of shooting a man.

Young Watterson claims that he is now sane and wants to go back to Ulster county to stand trial. An adjournment was taken in his case until June 7.

STATE RESTRAINS HIBBING VILLAGE.

Judge Bert Fesler in district court this morning granted the state of Minnesota and the Arthur Iron Mining company an injunction directed against the village of Hibbing, restraining the village officials from taking any further steps in sinking wells on land which is sought to be acquired from the state through condemnation proceedings now pending.

The temporary injunction will continue in effect until the application for a permanent injunction comes on for a hearing. It was issued this morning after a hearing on an order to show cause, directed against the village officials.

SPECIAL PRIZES FOR CHILDREN

Merchants and Manufacturers Willing to Encourage Garden Contest.

Merchants and manufacturers of the West end have responded willingly in providing special prizes to children for their efforts in gardening this year. James Maghan, chairman of the garden committee of the West End Commercial club, announced this morning that so far four special prizes had been offered, which would be in addition to the awards made by the club.

The employes of the Scott-Graff Lumber company yesterday raised a purse which is to be offered for the best display of flowers raised by children and displayed at the exhibition that is being planned following the close of the regular contest. The amount of the purse was not stated.

F. A. Patrick of the Patrick Mills, announced that the company would give a special prize for the best strawberries raised in the district, the prize to be selected by the chairman of the committee.

Mr. Maghan said that he also intended giving a special prize which would be awarded to the school whose children secured the greatest number of prizes and made the best showing in the contest. The prize, Mr. Maghan said, will be something for the building.

A special prize amounting to $15, to be divided into three parts has also been donated by The Herald. The Commercial club committee will use its judgment as to the disposition of this sum.

The contest in the West end has attracted city wide attention. Mr. Maghan said that he had received a number of inquiries from children and residents of Lakeside, Woodland, West Duluth and other districts, asking permission to enter the contest.

"We have not as yet decided just what disposition to make of these requests," he said, "but it is probable that we will consider them. These young people deserve also to be recognized and it is probable that a special grand prize for city wide competition may be offered."

It is planned to have two or three lectures to be given in each of the four West end schools before the close of school in June. The arrangements will be made for these lectures at a meeting of the general committee with the schools' committee to be held early next week.

DULUTH SALESMAN IS SUMMONED

Onesime Roy Dies in Hospital Following a Year's Illness.

Onesime Roy, 59 years old, 2019 West First street, a resident of Duluth for thirty-two years, died yesterday at St. Mary's hospital, following a year's illness. Mr. Roy was well known in the city and for nineteen years was a salesman for the Big Duluth Clothing company.

He leaves a widow, four daughters, Annie, Florence, Eva, and Mrs. E. Dubrell, and one son, Arthur Roy, all residing in the West end, and one brother, Ernest Roy, living in the East end.

The funeral services will be held Monday morning at 9 o'clock from the St. Jean Baptiste French Catholic church, Twenty-fifth avenue west and Third street. Interment will be made in Calvary cemetery.

PLAYGROUND OPENED.

Swings and Horizontal Bars Provided for West End Children.

The playground on Superior street between Eighteenth and Nineteenth avenue west was officially opened today. Hundreds of children, principally those attending the Adams school, enjoyed the day playing on the grounds.

The lots have been leveled and covered with cinders and provided with swings, turning bars, teeters and other apparatus for the little folks. It is probable that apparatus for basketball and volley ball will also be installed.

The district has been in need of such a playground for some time. This spot was used several years ago by the neighborhood clubs for a playground, but when these clubs were moved further west on the street, the place as a playground went out of existence.

The city obtained permission to use the lots from W. M. Prindle and Mayor Prince ordered the place fitted up for this purpose.

Evangelist Will Speak.

Rev. R. W. Greenman, traveling missionary evangelist will speak tomorrow afternoon at the Duluth Pentecostal Mission, 1520 West Superior street. He will also give the principal address in the evening at 7:30 o'clock. He will also speak tomorrow afternoon at the Young People's meeting at the Central Baptist church, Twentieth avenue west and First street.

Sparks Cause Fire.

Sparks from a chimney burned a small hole in the roof of the home of Mike Laskowski, 2918 Huron street late yesterday afternoon. The fire was discovered at 5:20 p. m. and was responded to at once by department No. 2. The damage amounted to about $25.

Memorial Program.

The Young People's Society of the Zion Norwegian Lutheran church, Twenty-fifth avenue west and Third street, will entertain Friday evening at a Memorial day concert. A program of patriotic music and addresses will be given. A member of the Grand Army will give the principal address. The young people will serve refreshments following the program.

COLLIDE IN DENSE FOG

Steamer Gilbert Sinks Near Thunder Bay Island, Lake Huron.

Members of Crew Are Taken Off By the Caldera.

Port Huron, Mich., May 23.—The steamer W. H. Gilbert, owned by the Pittsburg Steamship company, was sunk early yesterday as the result of a collision with the steamer Caldera, about fifteen miles below Thunder Bay island in Lake Huron. The vessels came together in a heavy fog.

Capt. Cummings of the Gilbert succeeded in getting all of his crew on board the Caldera before the Gilbert went down. They were landed here last night.

The Caldera, which is owned by the Croxton Steamship company of Cleveland, was badly damaged about the bow. She will proceed to Cleveland for repairs, being bound down without cargo. The Gilbert was upbound with coal.

The Gilbert is a steel steamer of 2,820 gross tons, 328 feet long. She was built in 1892.

NEW EXCURSION STEAMER ARRIVES

Favorite Makes Trip to Fond du Lac to Test River Channel.

The steamer Favorite, the new vessel purchased by the Clow & Nicholson company of Duluth, made her first trip from Duluth to Fond du Lac yesterday afternoon. The Favorite will be used for excursions this summer sailing either from Duluth or from Houghton, Mich.

With this fine boat added to the Plow Boy and Columbia of the Clow & Nicholson fleet, this company expects to greatly improve its service. The Favorite is the largest vessel of the fleet.

The trip on the river yesterday was made for the purpose of finding out if the vessel could make the journey through the shallow channels. Capt. John Clow brought her from Buffalo. Harvey D. Clow of the Clow & Nicholson company says that the regular excursions around the horn and up the river will begin June 10, but that a special trip will be made on Decoration day if the weather is favorable. Two of the company boats will be operated at the Head of the Lakes this summer and one from Houghton, Mich.

STRANGE EFFECT ON SHIP'S COMPASS

Vesselmen Puzzled Over Caprice of Needle Off Keweenaw Point.

Detroit, Mich., May 23.—Vesselmen say some attraction on the north and west side of Keweenaw point strangely affects a ship's compass.

The steamer George F. Baker went on Sawtooth reef during a dense fog two weeks ago because of the compass "running away." The same was true of the W. C. Moreland, which was partially destroyed on Sawtooth reef three years ago. Whether it is the iron ore cargoes jettisoned in the vicinity that cause this deviation of the compass cannot be said. Some marine men believe so, as the downbound boats hug the shore along here quite closely. Sawtooth reef is a mile to a mile and a half off shore, with very deep water on both sides.

From the Moreland, lost off Eagle river on her maiden trip, nearly 12,000 tons of ore were thrown overboard. A half dozen other ships that stranded along the Keweenaw west and north shores have contributed cargoes. The steamer Waldo gave 8,000 tons to this open pit "under the lake" mine at Gull rock, ten miles off the point. A score of wooden ships which have gone down around the point in twenty years or so have lost their cargoes there. It is estimated that lying loose in the waters of Superior about the shores of Keweenaw are from 100,000 to 150,000 tons of perfectly good iron ore, all to be had for the taking. The copper peninsula is rusted along its shores from the washings of the jettisoned cargoes.

AMERICA AND POE LEAVE PORT

Steamers Are Again in Commission; Townsend in Dry Dock.

The steamers America and the General O. M. Poe, which have been undergoing repairs at the shipyards in Superior for the last two weeks, were put in commission yesterday afternoon and started on a trip down the lakes. The America is making points along the south shore and the Poe loaded with ore at the Missabe docks and headed for the East.

The steamer E. Y. Townsend went into drydock and will put up until some time next week while being repaired. Several rivets worked loose while she was coming up the lakes.

CHANGES MADE IN COAST SERVICE.

Capt. Albert Swenson, commander of the Head of the Lakes division of the United States hydrographic office, makes the following announcements regarding the coastwise service on the Great Lakes:

"An examination of the entrance channel and harbor at Ontonagon, Lake Superior, shows that a considerable amount of shoaling has occurred since the dredging completed, July 16, 1913.

"In the lake approach the available depth is 13.8 feet for a width of about 100 feet along the western side of the entrance. Between the piers the channel has a least depth of 13 feet at a point 250 feet in from the northern end of the west pier with somewhat greater depths inside and outside of this point. The channel between the piers is about 75 feet wide. In the channel leading from the piers to the lumber dock on the eastern side of the harbor the least depth is 15.2 feet and about 7 feet up to the Commercial dock. On the western side of the harbor the available depth up to the Ontonagon Lumber & Cedar company's dock is 7.4 feet.

"An examination of the entrance to Grand Marais harbor, southern shore of Lake Superior, made May 2, 1914, shows no material change in the channel between the piers, there being a depth of 18 feet or more for a midchannel width of about 250 feet. In the lake directly in front of the entrance a sand bar has formed about 400 feet out from the front light and extending about 300 feet eastward of the line of the west pier having a least depth of 16 feet. This least depth occurs about 100 feet eastward of the west pier, and from this point eastward the depth on the bar increases to a point 300 feet eastward of the line of the west pier, where a depth of 20 feet or more is found.

"The bar is narrow, with a depth of more than 20 feet both inside and outside of it.

"By keeping eastward of the axis of the channel a vessel drawing 17 feet can cross the bar.

"On May 1, 1914, the color of the structure from which Vidal Shoals channel range front light is exhibited was changed as follows:

"The lower half of the tower was changed from white to black with a vertical white stripe 7 feet wide, the white stripe beginning immediately beneath the lantern deck and extending to within 7 feet of the base.

"On May 1, 1914, the color of the structure from which Superior entry, inner north pierhead light is exhibited was changed from white to black.

"On May 1, 1914, the color of the structure from which Superior entry north breakwater light is exhibited, was changed from white to black.

THREE DROWN WHEN GANGPLANK BREAKS

Fourteen Others Injured in New York Pier Mishap.

New York, May 23.—Three drowned and fourteen injured appeared today to sum up the casualties incident to the breaking yesterday of the gangplank leading to the steamship Frederick VIII. The dead are Annette Feldschau, a child, and Mrs. Anna Edwardsen, both of whose bodies were recovered, and Mrs. Edwardsen's 3-year-old daughter, Mary. Search still was being conducted for the Edwardsen child's body today.

An investigation into the accident has been ordered by the Hoboken authorities.

NEW IRONWOOD MILL.

Vans Harbor Lumber Company to Locate There.

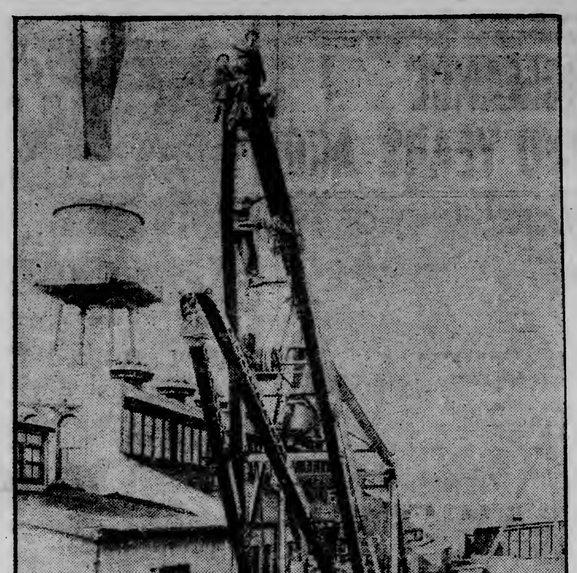
Ironwood, Mich., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Vans Harbor Lumber company has decided to locate here. The sawmill will be constructed during the summer and will be in operation next fall. Several sites are being considered but the ones most likely are the Kluck tract, near the pumping station, and the Curry tract, west of the fair grounds. C. C. Collins, general superintendent of the company, was here a few days ago and said that a final decision to remove the plant to Ironwood had been reached and that the company had recently purchased a large tract of timber land in this vicinity and that it was a fine addition to the large acreage already in their possession.

WHAT OTHER CITIES ARE DOING

LA CROSSE, Wis., is going to establish a municipal market, as a result of gathering the farmers and merchants there to discuss a plan for establishing a closer relationship between the city and the country. The city will hire an expert buyer, and all produce brought to town by farmers will be purchased at a price to be published in the daily papers the day previous. The city will pay for the produce in checks, and efforts will be made to dispose of it to home merchants, the balance to be shipped out of town. This is not the first city to establish a municipal market, nearly twenty others adopting the same plan within the last year.

Duluth has maintained a public market at the Armory for several years. Last year branches were started in the West end and West Duluth. The city has not had any direct interest further than furnishing and maintaining the market places.

HUGE LOGGING MACHINE BUILT IN DULUTH FOR WESTERN COMPANY



THE NEW LOG LOADER.

One of the largest logging machines ever built in the shops of the Clyde Iron works is now ready for shipment to the Pacific coast

The machine weighs nearly 100 tons and is a combination of several different types of skidders and loaders.

It is designed to operate either as an overhead cableway skidder or as a ground skidder and also to load the logs on cars as they are brought into the track.

When used as a cableway machine a one and a quarter inch stee. cable will be sent out from the tip of the skidding boom (which is fifty feet above the ground) a distance of up to 1,800 feet and anchored in the woods.

Along this cable will travel a carriage carrying the skidding and outhaul lines—the first of which brings in the logs and the second returns the carriage after a log has been deposited at the machine.

When used for skidding the logs over the ground, two one inch skidding lines will be used, so that two logs can be brought in at once.

The frame of the machine is thirty-two feet long and thirteen feet wide.

It is double-decked and has tracks running over its lower deck upon which the empty log cars pass through the machine into position for loading.

On the upper deck are the skidding and loading engines and the boiler.

The skidding engine is a six drum, 10x12 feet, double cylinder engine of 125-horse power.

The loading engine is a four drum 9x10 feet double cylinder of 85-horse power. The boiler is a 66x132 feet, vertical tubes, of 175 pounds working pressure.

The machine was ordered by S. O. Johnson of the Weed Lumber company and will be shipped to Weed, Cal., for use on the logging operations of that company.

Mr. Johnson is a former Minnesotan, his father having lived in Cloquet for many years, being a member of the Johnson-Wentworth Lumber company. Mr. Johnson is well known in Duluth.

IRONWOOD YOUNG WOMAN BURIED.

Ironwood, Mich., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Miss Jessie Bray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Bray, of Jessieville, was held this afternoon from the Newport M. E. church. Rev. B. Bickford had charge, assisted by Rev. A. E. Healey, pastor of the First M. E. church. She died Wednesday. Deceased was born in Bodmin, Cornwall, England, March 22, 1885, and came to this country with her parents when a little girl and has spent practically all of her life in Ironwood. She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Bray, one sister, Miss Clarice, and two brothers, Leonard of this city and William of Chicago.

DONS THE POLITICAL HARNESS ONCE MORE

RAY M. HUGHES.

Ray M. Hughes is back in the political harness again. He is managing the campaign for his former chief, Congressman Clarence B. Miller, for a renomination, and has headquarters at 402 Alworth building. Mr. Hughes declared at the time of the last campaign that he was through with politics. However, certain conditions arose at this time which made him feel that he must take the plunge once more.

"Friendship" said Mr. Hughes today, "sometimes makes up do things that we otherwise would not do. I have the keenest admiration and kind feeling for Congressman Miller and it seems to me that this is a time when his friends should rally about him. I therefore have taken the management of his campaign and now that I am in I must confess that I am enjoying it."

Dr. J. J. Eklund is chairman of the campaign committee and Hugh Burgo is treasurer.

FIRES EXTINGUISHED.

Brush Blazes That Raged Around Iron River, Mich., Quenched.

Iron River, Mich., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Forest fires have been raging in the near vicinity to such an extent that men and high school boys of this town have been out fighting them. The danger has passed with the heavy rain on Wednesday.

Mrs. L. A. Johnson who has been visiting in Chicago for the past three weeks, returned home on Saturday.

A special meeting of the Twentieth Century club was held on Friday at the home of Mrs. David Youngs.

Mrs. I W. Byers entertained a number of her friends at her home on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Packard left Saturday for Menominee, where they will reside. Mr. Packard has accepted a position as cashier in the Commercial bank of that city.

Miss Amy Barnum spent Sunday at home.

Miss Edina Lynch of Crystal Falls spent Sunday with friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Selin have a new baby daughter, which arrived at their home on Saturday.

The art exhibit in the high school given by the Twentieth Century club, was very much enjoyed by those who attended. About $1,400 worth of pictures were sold, many of which were taken by the Stambaugh and the Iron River schools for the grades. The club has planned to have another such exhibit next year.

Mrs. B. L. Kelly and daughter, Jean, of Norway, are visiting Mrs. Kelly's mother, Mrs. Patenaude.

SMITH SHUNS STUMP; AID FLAYS MANAHAN.

St. Paul, Minn., May 23.—Attorney General Lyndon A. Smith will not make an active campaign for renomination. He made this announcement yesterday.

"My duty is to stay in my office and attend to business for the state which is employing me," said the attorney general, "and I do not intend to conduct a circus campaign throughout the state. I shall submit my case to the voters and I await their verdict with confidence."

Assistant Attorney General W. J. Stevenson pointed out in this connection that while congress is considering the anti-trust bills in which Representative Manahan alleges he is particularly interested. Mr. Manahan is away from his post of duty "trying to get another job," that of attorney general.

UNUSUAL HONOR PAID GRIFFITHS.

Liverpool, May 23.—The body of the late John L. Griffiths, United States consul-general in London, was carried on board the Carmania today for shipment to New York, after having rested in state since yesterday in the town hall of Liverpool. The only other foreigner ever accorded this honor was the late Mayor Gaynor of New York. The lord mayor of Liverpool, with a strong detachment of police, escorted the body from the town hall to the dock.

MELLEN THE SACRIFICE

He Says He Took Indictment to Shield J. P. Morgan.

Charges Ingratitude to Financier's Son in Ousting Him.

Washington, May 23.—A dramatic climax marked the close of the sensational testimony of Charles S. Mellen, former president of the New Haven railroad, before the interstate commerce commission when, with evidence of deep emotion, Mr. Mellen declared that the late J. Pierpont Morgan was cognizant of the Grand Trunk negotiations, on which he (Mellen) was criminally indicted for violation of the Sherman anti-trust act, and that he "took the indictment that belonged to him" (Morgan), believing it would have killed the aged financier if he had been indicted.

Mr. Mellen spoke with intense feeling as he recited his efforts to shield the elder Morgan. This turned quickly to a show of resentment, however, as he told how the present J. Pierpont Morgan had suggested a "change in the presidency of the New Haven," at which suggestion Mr. Mellen declared with emphasis:

"I called his attention to the fact that I had been suffering under the humiliation of an undeserved indictment to protect his father."

Grand Trunk Deal.

The crowded courtroom listened with intense interest as this closing recital was given. Taking up the Grand Trunk transaction on which Mellen's indictment was returned by the grand jury at New York, Governor Folk, chief counsel of the commission, asked:

"Did Mr. Morgan have anything to do with this negotiation for the exchange of the Ontario & Western with the Grand Trunk?"

"He did."

"What?"

"He took a very active part in the negotiation."

"Which part, can you tell, if you know?" asked Mr. Folk.

"I did not know that Mr. Morgan knew there was a negotiation on, until he came into my office, when I had an appointment with Mr. Smithers and Mr. Chamberlain, and he told them what they ought to do to have peace between the New Haven and the Grand Trunk interests. He told of previous negotiations which he said extended over a period of twenty years, and that he had bought a steamship line of them on the understanding he was to have the New London Northern for the New Haven road, and that they never had carried out their agreement.

Morgan's Earlier Deal.

"This negotiation, he said, was with Mr. Smithers' predecessor, Sir Charles Rivers Wilson. He thought it was a great mistake; that they had not kept faith with him, and he was quite emphatic, as he was, you know, once in a very great while. And he told them that they should give up the New London Northern road; and that would be the only thing, in his judgment, that would ever result in permanent peace between the two properties. Then he retired from the room.

"Mr. Morgan left Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Smithers and myself to continue the conference. I told Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Smithers that we would continue the conference on the basis that they should give no further attention to the question of surrendering the New London Northern road; they might do as they pleased with it; I did not care.,

"The worst punishment I wished to see inflicted upon them was the completion of their line into Providence. if they felt that there was enough in the situation to warrant making a traffic agreement with us for the interchange of business for the joint use of the lines along the Connecticut river between Windsor and White River Junction and between Windsor and Brattleboro—and we had nearly completed our own line between Brattleboro and South Vernon—that I was glad to do it.

Indictment Followed.

"I was asked to put my views in the form of a proposition or contract, which I did; it was submitted to them, and within a week the grand jury proceedings commenced in New York and I was indicted."

"Did you write a letter to the district attorney taking the responsibility?" asked Mr. Folk.

"I did, and I did it for the sole purpose of shielding Mr. Morgan."

"At whose instance did you write the letter?"

"At the instance of Mr. Lewis Cass Ledyard and Mr. Edward D. Robbins."

"Who dictated it?"

"I dictated a letter, which was redrafted by Mr. Robbins and corrected by Mr. Ledyard. I signed it in their presence, and sent it to the United States district attorney, and I nearly killed everybody in the office to keep Mr. Morgan's name out of it."

"To keep Mr. Morgan's name out of what?" asked Mr. Folk.

"Out of the whole proceeding."

Morgan Subpoena Canceled.

"Had Mr. Morgan been subpoenaed in that matter?"

"I have learned through my counsel—I did not know it at the time—that he was subpoenaed and his subpoena was quashed or nolled, whatever your legal term is for that action."

"Did you have any conversation with the present director of the road, J. P. Morgan, Jr.?" queried Mr. Folk.

"At the time Mr. Morgan called upon me and thought the change in the presidency was desirable, I called his attention to the fact that I had been suffering under the humiliation of an undeserved indictment to protect his father. He seemed quite affected. He turned to the window to compose his feelings, and returned to the conversation with the remark that his father's condition of health at that time was such that it would undoubtedly have killed him if he had been indicted. That was the condition I understand he was in when I took the responsibility upon myself, and took the indictment that belonged to him."

At the conclusion of the hearing Mr. Mellen seemed as fresh and vigorous as he was when he took the stand last Tuesday. Mr. Mellen left later for New York and thence will go to New England for a few days' rest.

Immunity Not Certain.

The extent to which Mr. Mellen's testimony may render him immune from prosecution it still an open question. Officials of the department of justice have expressed the view that the testimony would raise the question of immunity, but the Interstate commerce commission has proceeded on the ground that the testimony was called for by a resolution of the United States senate, without reference to what its effect might be.

Governor Folk has not determined yet who will be the next witness, but he probably will have either Lewis Cass Ledyard or George F. Baker of the New Haven directorate on the stand at the resumption of the hearing next Tuesday.

GOES TO ENGLAND AS S. A. DELEGATE

Ensign W. E. Graham, in charge of the Salvation Army work in Duluth with headquarters on Fifth avenue west, will leave on Tuesday for England, where he will be a delegate to the international congress of the Salvation Army. There will be more than 10,000 delegates, from fifty-eight countries and colonies of the world. Practically every race on the globe will be represented. Seven hundred delegates will go from this country.

ENSIGN W. E. GRAHAM.

The international congress, which will be held in London, will be, it is claimed, the largest religious gathering in the history of the world. It will be a costume affair, in order that the various sections of the world may be represented. Ensign Graham will depict a western cowboy.

He will hold his farewell meeting at the army headquarters tomorrow night. He expects to return July 8 or 10.

MANAHAN OPENS HIS CAMPAIGN

Promises, If Elected Attorney General, to Enforce All Laws.

Wadena, Minn., May 23.—(Special to James Manahan opened his campaign for attorney general with the delivery of his keynote address here this afternoon.

Congressman Manahan reiterated his pledge to enforce rigidly all state laws and especially the anti-trust laws. He also promised to break up the Minneapolis grain combine, which he says is a monopoly. Mr. Manahan told of his activities in the legislative grain investigation of a year ago and how he recently introduced into congress a resolution for a grain probe. As attorney general he said he would be able to carry on this work which he has already started, but could not harm the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce or similar institutions if they are not breaking laws. If they are breaking laws, monopoly should be destroyed and a free and honest market restored to the farmers.

In speaking of his work while a private attorney in forcing the Pullman company to lower its rates on upper berths and also in securing lower freight and express rates, he showed where the state has been paying large sums annually for litigation which he carried on successfully for no compensation. The attorney general's office should be strong enough, he said, to conduct this work. In 1909, 1910, 1911 and 1912 a total of $69,245.98 was paid out to private attorneys, he stated. He claimed the office of attorney general is in many ways more important than governor, as the attorney general defines the law for the governor and other constitutional executives.

Manahan speaks tonight at Fergus Falls. He will address meetings at Montevideo Monday night and Glencoe Tuesday night.

"TED" IS THE PET OF WEST FIRST STREET

"Ted" is the sensation of West First street these days.

"Ted" is a little black bear cub about two months old. He was captured by E. J. Filiatrault at the latter's home on the Whiteface river, and brought to Duluth. "Ted's" growth and habits are closely watched by all Duluthians who are accustomed to pass along West First street between Third and Fourth avenues west, and many citizens have been surprised to see a cub bear running along the street taking his morning exercise.

"Ted" finds nourishment from a milk bottle. A. C. Kienly sought to adopt "Ted," but the first day Mr. Kienly had him the little bear showed such a desire to try his teeth on the ankles of stenographers, that Mr. Kienly reluctantly returned him to Mr. Filiatrault.

The ultimate fate of "Ted" is in doubt. He is rapidly getting a very sharp set of teeth, and before many weeks will have to be disposed of, but for the present he is the most popular animal in Duluth.

FALSE NEWS DUE TO TELEGRAPHER'S ERROR

New York, May 23.—A telegrapher's blunder was responsible for the incorrect announcement on May 20 that Huerta had given out a statement saying that he had authorized the peace delegates to offer his resignation if necessary. This dispatch was subsequently withdrawn on receipt of advices from Mexico City, showing that it was an error. An investigation was immediately started by the Associated Press to determine where the responsibility rested, and the association is now in receipt of a statement from the Western Union Telegraph company, admitting that its receiving operator in the Galveston office misread the word "denying" and substituted therefor the word "saying," which gave a directly contrary meaning to the dispatch.

FIVE INDICTED FOR FRANK CASE PROBE

Atlanta, Ga., May 23.—Charges of bribery, coercion and perjury made in connection with efforts to obtain a new trial for Leo M. Frank, under sentence of death for the murder of 14-year-old Mary Phagan, have resulted in five indictments being returned by the Fulton county grand jury.

Rev. C. B. Ragsdale, recently dismissed from the pastorate of an Atlanta church because he repudiated an affidavit he had made in behalf of the convicted factory superintendent, was indicted for perjury, together with R. L. Barber. Arthur Thurman, a lawyer, and Daniel S. Lehon and Carlton C. Tedor, detectives, were charged with subornation of perjury.

Further investigation of charges of improper influences in the case will be made when the grand jury reconvenes Tuesday.

Yesterday's action was the result of a confession by Mr. Ragsdale that he was given $200 to swear he had heard a negro confess that he, and not Frank, killed the factory girl.

Contempt proceedings against William J. Burns, the detective, and Lehon, one of the men indicted, are set for hearing here. They are charged with sending a witness out of the jurisdiction of the local courts.

VOLSTEAD OPPOSES THE CLAYTON BILL

Washington, May 23.—Representative Volstead of Minnesota, ranking Republican member of the judiciary committee last night criticized the Clayton bill. He declared the measure "ineffectual and weak," and asserted that it would weaken the Sherman anti-trust law as interpreted by the courts. He advocates a bill that would "squeeze all the water" out of industrial securities and thus reduce the cost of living.

PERSONAL INJURY CASE WILL BE HEARD MONDAY

After a jury had been drawn in Judge Cant's division of the district court yesterday afternoon in the wrongful death action brought by Elizabeth Kludzinski against the Great Northern Railway company, the court excused the jury until Monday morning when trial of the case will be started.

Anton Kludzinski, a section hand, on Jan. 13, 1914, accidentally caught his foot between a switch bar and a cross tie in the Superior yards and while in that position was run over by a train. Kludzinski left a widow and five children, for whose benefit the widow, in the capacity of administrator, is suing for $10,000.

VERDICT FOR CRUISER.

Casualty Company Must Pay $560 on Insurance Policy.

A jury in Judge Ensign's division of the district court yesterday awarded J. A. Gillis, timber cruiser, judgment for $560 against the Duluth Casualty company.

The jury found that this amount was due the plaintiff on an accident insurance policy, which was in effect May 29, 1912, when Gillis was injured in a train wreck. While a passenger on the Duluth & Iron Range railroad near Alger, Lake county, he received injuries which laid him up for twenty-eight weeks. He sued for $20 a week during the period of his disability and the jury yesterday afternoon awarded him the full amount.

SAYS FLYNT IS STILL ALIVE

C. F. Joyce, mining engineer, states that A. F. Flynt, formerly of this city, has not been killed in Mexico, as reported. Mr. Joyce arrived in the city last evening. He recently left Mexico with a number of other refugees and said that only a short time ago he had spoken to Flynt. This was after the time Flynt was reported to have been killed.

SETTLEMENT APPROVED.

Injured Miner Accepts $840 From Steel Company.

Nazzareno Befera, 20, has accepted $840 from the Inter-State Steel company in settlement of a claim for personal injuries received Feb. 23 last at the Lincoln mine, Virginia, where he was employed. The settlement, made in accordance with the schedule provided for in the workingmen's compensation act, was approved yesterday by District Judge Fesler.

Befera had his head crushed between a post and an ore car. He claims that his hearing has been seriously impaired and that as a result of the injury he is now unable to close his eyelids.

SUES FOR $22,970.

Suit for $22,970 damages was started in district court by Martin Hansen against the Duluth & Northern Minnesota Railway company.

Hansen alleges that while working for the railroad company in the capacity of hostler's helper he sustained injuries which have permanently impaired him. He was assisting, he says, in the locating of steel bars on a logging car when the end of one bar struck a coal dock while the car was being moved. He was thrown to the ground. Both legs were fractured, his collar bone broken and other injuries inflicted. The company is charged with negligence.

UNWRITTEN LAW PLEA NOT HEEDED.

Greenville, S. C., May 23.—George W. Tidwell, Sr., a traveling salesman, was found guilty of manslaughter here as a result of the shooting and killing of R. Emmett Walker, paymaster of a local cotton mill and prominent socially.

Temporary insanity, caused by the discovery of alleged improper relations between Walker and Tidwell's daughter, was the prisoner's defense. Counsel for the convicted man asked for a new trial and arguments will be heard on the motion in circuit court here.

MINNEAPOLIS BOY WINS YALE PRIZE.

New Haven, Conn., May 23.—Richard J. Hill, Jr., of Minneapolis, has been awarded the John Hubbard Curtis prize for excellence in literary work, it is announced at Yale. The award is the income from a fund of $2,500.

MYSTERY OF "SHAN KIVA"

Not Indian for "Festival"—May Be a New Cigarette.

Festival Committee Defers Action on Name—Constitution Adopted.

What does Shan Kiva mean?

It is not Indian for "festival" and for all the members of the 1915 festival committee know, it may be the name of a Turkish cigarette or the title of the fifteenth wife in the sultan's harem.

Anyway, Shan Kiva will not be accepted as the name for Duluth's first annual festival to be held here next year unless some Duluthian is able to trace the word in the Indian language and find its true meaning, which the prize winner in the recent American Exchange National bank contest declared to be festival. Rev. Frank H. Ferguson of the Indian reservation says he has never heard the word before.

The members of the 1915 pageant committee do not care to take a chance, even if Shan Kiva sounds fairly well, and they have postponed action on a name. As one member expressed himself last evening: "There is no sense in naming a festival after a Turkish cigarette or the fifteenth wife of the sultan."

T. W. Hugo made the announcement at the meeting held at the Commercial club last evening that he had investigated and learned that Shan Kiva does not mean festival. He read a communication from Rev. Mr. Pequette, who suggested the Chippewa name. We-quon-de-win, which, he wrote means festival, and the word O-ne-gun-me-sing meaning Duluth.

The name committee, of which Judge Wesler is chairman, was instructed to continue the search for a suitable name and to take the suggestions received last evening into consideration. It was decided to defer final action until the next meeting, which will be called for the latter part of next week, the date for which has been left to the discretion of A. K. Squier, temporary chairman.

The constitution, which was presented two weeks ago which was laid on the table for revision by the organization committee, was given its final reading last evening by J. B. Crane, chairman. It was finally accepted and adopted by the members of the pageant committee. It was also decided to postpone action on the selection of officers and the nominating committee was instructed to prepare a new slate of twenty names, instead of ten, as was originally requested. The committee was also instructed to include T. W. Hugo in the nominating list. Of this list ten officers are to be selected.

The jury decided that the gunmen were Becker's agents.

Foreman Cried.

Tears streamed down the foreman's face as he announced the decision and tears stood in the eyes of several other jurymen, but sympathy did not warp their judgment. They had agreed that the corroboration which the district attorney failed to present at the first trial to support the stories of Rose, Vallon and Webber, the three accomplices who turned informers, had been furnished by the new witnesses at the second trial.

Becker's counsel announced that he would appeal, and gained a week's stay for the preparation of his future campaign. The defendant was granted a short meeting with his wife and his brothers, and then taken back to his cell in the Tombs.

Was With Mrs. Becker.

Becker and his wife were talking shortly before 5 o'clock in a room adjoining the sheriff's office when a court attendant announced that the jury had reached a verdict. Mrs. Becker was not permitted to accompany her husband to the courtroom. Newspaper men, court attendants, counsel for the defense and District Attorney Whitman and his staff were the only other persons allowed admission. The defendant's two brothers, Jackson and John Becker, the latter a detective lieutenant, hurried to a side entrance, where they stood awaiting the verdict.

When the little group in the court room had found seats the twelve men who alone knew Becker's fate filed silently in with Foreman F. Meriden Blagden at their head. All twelve faces were expressionless. Justice Seabury mounted the bench. He glanced quickly at the faces of the jurors, but he learned nothing there. Old court attendants who declared long practice had made them able usually to tell the verdict by the juror's looks, admitted that on this occasion they were at a loss.

Becker, in the room overhead, still was talking to his wife when Justice Seabury took his seat. A bailiff was sent for the defendant. Becker kissed his wife as he left her.

"They'll Free Me."

"It's all right," he told her. "Don't worry. They'll free me."

Becker walked briskly through the court room to the rail facing Justice Seabury and gripped it with both hands. His face was colorless. He glanced hopefully at the jury, but he did not catch the eye of a single man. To all outward appearances the jury did not even know the defendant was in the room. Clerk Penny asked the jury to rise.

"Foreman," he said, "have you reached a verdict?"

"Blagden, a youngish man, blond and slim, brushed his eyes with a handkerchief, already damp.

"We have," he said, softly. "We find the defendant ——" he hesitated a moment and continued in a whisper: "We find this defendant guilty as charged in the indictment; guilty of murder in the first degree."

Becker's face was gray as ashes as he gripped the bar in front of him with all his strength. The big muscles in his neck jumped out in heavy rolls. The veins in his temples swelled. His great frame swayed and dropped, then quick control he became himself again.

Big tears welled into the eyes of the little foreman. He wiped them away, and then the clerk began to ask the questions required by law. The roll was called and each individual juror was asked if "guilty" was his verdict too.

Took His Pedigree.

Becker stood motionless while these questions were being put to the jurors. Immediately upon their conclusion the clerk began to take Becker's pedigree. To the first questions Becker answered in a steady voice that he was 43 years old, was born in the United States and that his parents had both been born in Germany.

"Married?" queried the clerk.

Becker did not answer immediately. Almost in a whisper he replied:

"Yes."

As to his occupation, Becker said he was a "former police officer in the city of New York," a Catholic and of temperate habits.

Justice Seabury thanked each man of the jury for his services and they left the room.

The whole proceeding, from the time Becker was pronounced guilty until a recess was declared occupied scarcely four minutes.

In the meanwhile Jackson and John Becker, standing at the door of the courtroom, had heard the verdict. Jackson sank into a court attendant's chair and buried his face in his hands. Mrs. Becker's brother, John Lynch, and John Becker, both of them showing grief, hurried to the room where Becker's wife was waiting.

All But Wife Knew.

Everybody in the building and even a crowd in the street outside knew that Becker had been found guilty. A bailiff had shouted the news across the rotunda of the courthouse. But Mrs. Becker, sitting behind closed doors, did not know it until John Becker entered the room. He did not say a word to her then. He did not have to. His face showed what had happened. His shoulders were bent and shaking, his cheeks were wet. Mrs. Becker collapsed completely and still was sobbing when her husband was led into the room. She threw her arms around his neck and buried her face on his shoulder.

"Oh!" she cried, "Charlie, I'm so sorry, so sorry! Poor, Charlie! I didn't expect it."

She could say no more. She released her husband from her embrace and dropped into a chair. Becker stood looking down at her as she wept.

Handcuffs were then locked about his wrists; he was taken from the room and around the corridors to the other side of the building, across the Bridge of Sighs and into the Tombs. On his way around the corridor friends expressed their sorrow.

"I am very, very sorry for myself," he declared grimly. "I have nothing more to say."

Whitman Gratified.

District Attorney Whitman expressed himself as highly gratified with the verdict.

"It speaks for itself," he said. "Becker is guilty. It was proved. He must pay the penalty of his crime."

Mrs. Becker remained in the sheriff's office a long time after her husband had been returned to the Tombs. She was too overcome with grief to leave immediately. When she went, at last, she had to be assisted from the building.

routine communications were received early in the day from Gen. Funston at Vera Cruz and American admirals in Mexican waters.

Consul Canada forwarded a wireless message sent yesterday from Tampico asking that New York underwriters be advised that the steamer Atlantis, which ran ashore two days ago twenty miles north of Point Jerez, probably will be a total loss. She had no cargo, and her passengers, as previously reported, had been rescued.

At the war department it was announced that telegraphic communication between Brownsville and Tampico had been re-established and that the railroad between Eagle Pass and Monclova had been reopened.

Mediators Annoyed.

Niagara Falls, Ont., May 23.—A great deal of embarrassment is felt by the envoys of Brazil, Argentina and Chile, as well as by the delegates of the Washington and Mexico City governments, because of the impatience of the public, which is awaiting an adjustment of the Mexican question.

As a matter of fact, not one of the vital issues has been reached, and it would relieve those working here if the public could understand that in diplomacy more than in any other calling it is necessary to make haste slowly.

First Full Meeting.

Announcement was made shortly after noon today that the first full conference between the mediators and both the American and Mexican delegates will be held tonight.

It was arranged at the request of the Mexican delegates who met the mediators informally this morning after which the South American mediators sent for the American delegates to consult them about the matter.

EVERYBODY SWATS FLIES FIVE MINUTES

Kansas City, Kan., May 23.—For five minutes today residents of Kansas City, Kan., took up their fly swatters and swatted flies assiduously, continually and—it was hoped—effectively, the action being a formal opening of the fly swatting campaign of this season. Proclamation by Mayor Green, issued at the request of C. W. McLaughlin, city health commissioner, set the period for the swatting.

Five thousand wire screen fly swatters made by the public school pupils, a thousand made by pupils in the Kansas school for the blind, and other thousands constructed or contributed by various organizations, added materially to the success of the campaign.

Packing houses and factories cooperated in the war against the flies, and blew whistles indicating the beginning of the designated five minutes.

cluded and set forth as the authority under which the respondent occupied the streets of said village and city and operated its lines of street railway thereon. That continuously since said year 1882 the property of said respondent, including the said franchise, has been assessed and said respondent has paid taxes thereon, all with the understanding and belief and with the assertion and assumption in good faith both of said respondent and of the taxing authorities, including those of the village, city, county and state, that said franchise was valid and subsisting and was a part of the property of said respondent for which it was assessed and upon which taxes were paid.

"That by Section 4 of Sub-chapter 1 of said Chapter 2 of the Special Laws of Minnesota for the year 1887, it was specifically provided that 'all valid rights, privileges and franchises heretofore granted in said former city or village of Duluth to the Duluth Street Railway company shall continue and be in force within the new city of Duluth with the same validity as they now exist in said city or village.'

In Court Actions.

"That from time to time throughout the period of thirty years immediately preceding the year 1912 various actions and proceedings have been had and prosecuted in the courts of this state against said respondent, in which actions and proceedings the said city of Duluth or the said state of Minnesota, or both, have appeared and participated, and in which proceedings and actions it has been assumed or alleged, and with one exception not material here has never been controverted or denied, that the respondent was occupying the streets of said city and was operating its line of railway thereon under and by virtue of the franchise granted by said franchise act, and that said franchise was at all such times valid and subsisting, and that especially in proceedings to enforce the payment of personal property taxes for the year 1910 against said respondent the validity of the tax in part was questioned by said respondent and was litigated at great length in the district court of said county. That in said proceeding the said franchise of said company was assessed at a large sum and taxes were duly levied thereon and the said assessment and levy were by final judgment in said action duly approved and confirmed. That in another proceeding in said district court, entitled State of Minnesota ex rel. City of Duluth, Relator, against Duluth Street Railway Company, Respondent, instituted on Sept. 14, 1912, it was alleged by the relator, admitted by the defendant and found by the court that at the date last mentioned the respondent had a franchise to operate street cars in the city of Duluth, and that said franchise was granted by said Chapter 200 hereinbefore referred to. Pursuant to said findings, and on the twenty-third day of November, 1912, judgment was duly entered requiring the respondent to comply with the provisions of the said franchise act in the matter of operating its said railway lines within said city.

The Original Line.

"That in the years 1881 and 1882 the population of the village of Duluth numbered 3,500 persons or thereabouts. This population was divided into two well-defined and separate settlements, one of which was up and near the base of Minnesota Point, along Lake avenue, and short distances easterly and westerly from the intersection of Lake avenue and Superior street; the other was on or near the base of Rice's Point, about a mile and a half west from said Lake avenue. One of the principal objects in procuring street railway service for said village was to provide means of transportation between the two separated sections thereof. In the year 1881 there was no available street or roadway between Eighth avenue west and Rice's Point upon which a street car line could be laid or operated. It was then hoped and planned by the citizens of said village and by the authorities thereof to have a street between said points suitably improved during the year 1882 so that the same would be available for street railway purposes. The operation of a single mile of track confined to one of said settlements only was of very little importance or value to the village, and such was the opinion of the citizens generally at the time in question. The improvement of such street westerly from Eighth avenue west was not made during the year 1882 as anticipated, but was begun and completed in the early part of the year 1883 and immediately thereafter the respondent company laid its line of track westwardly from a point at or near Eighth avenue west in the village to a point at or near the base of Rice's Point, and from the 6th day of July, 1883, or thereabout, said respondent continuously operated said line from said Rice's Point to Third avenue east in said village.

Has Sold Bonds.

"That relying upon the validity of said franchise, the respondent has, at various times, issued and sold the bonds of said company and has secured the same by mortgages covering the property of said company, including said franchise. That said franchise, if valid, is of great value to the respondent, and without said franchise the bonds so issued and the security therefor would be greatly depreciated in value. That said bonds now outstanding aggregate several millions of dollars and that they are widely scattered and held by a large number of individual owners who throughout a long period of years have purchased the same in good faith, paying full value therefor and relying upon the validity of said franchise. That, in addition thereto, said respondent has issued and has offered to the investing public a large amount of the capital stock of said company and that the shares of said stock have been largely dealt in and are held by a large number of individual owners who have purchased the same in good faith, paying full value therefor and relying upon the validity of said franchise.

Limited Franchise.

"That respondent makes no claim to a perpetual franchise under the terms of said act, and that said franchise is limited to the term of fifty years from the date of the incorporation of said respondent.

Conclusions of Law.

"That judgment should be entered herein.

1. "That the relator take nothing by this action, and that the writ of quo warranto heretofore issued herein be discharged.

2. "That respondent has a valid and subsisting franchise under the provisions of said chapter 200 of the special laws of Minnesota for the extra session of the year 1881, and that in particular it has the exclusive right and privilege during the life of said franchise of constructing and operating a single or double track for a passenger railway line, with all the necessary tracks for turn-outs, side-tracks and switches, in any of the streets of the village of Duluth and its suburbs, including New London and Oneota and in the roads connecting the same as such territory existed on November 17, 1881, subject, however, to the terms, conditions and forfeitures in said act contained.

3. "That respondent recover its costs and disbursements herein.

"Let judgment be so entered at the expiration of twenty days from the date hereof.

Dated, May 23, 1914.

"By the Court,

"W. A. CANT, Judge."

The Memorandum.

The memorandum in part follows: "The Duluth Street Railway company claims the right to operate its railway line upon the streets of the city of Duluth under and by virtue of the provisions of an act of the legislature of this state, being chapter 200 of the Special Laws of the state of Minnesota for the extra session of the year 1881. (Here the franchise act is quoted.)

"The state now claims that defendant never fully acquired the rights claimed under such act, or if it did acquire such rights that it has long since lost the same, and pursuant to such claim of the state this proceeding is brought to compel the defendant to show by what right or authority it assumes to occupy the streets or to operate its line of street railway thereon. Its answer is that it claims such right under the statute above referred to.

"The evidence adduced has been voluminous and many questions both of law and of fact have been elaborately argued.

"The preliminary questions of law concern the nature of the grant and especially the effect to be given to section 2 thereof. Was it a grant (1) upon a limitation, or (2) upon condition precedent, or (3) upon condition subsequent? and if the latter, then (4) was the statute as respects the forfeiture self-executing?"

The court then discusses the points of law and in this connection says:

Breeding Uncertainty.

"Construction favoring a self-executing forfeiture serves no useful purpose. On the contrary, it breeds uncertainty of a harmful character. The arguments against it are quite persuasive. Forfeitures even of this kind are often closely bound up with disputed questions of fact, and in such cases until there has been a judicial determination no one knows definitely whether there has been a forfeiture or not. When the forfeiture is ascertained it speaks from the date of the incident referred to in the grant. Anyone may assert collaterally or otherwise that a forfeiture is self-executing when such is the fact, and such a forfeiture in ordinary cases becomes effectual whether the parties so desire or not. On the other hand, in the case of a forfeiture upon ordinary condition subsequent, the rights of the parties are unaffected until the grantor takes action of a specific kind, which he may take or not as he sees fit, and the forfeiture becomes effectual, if at all, only as a result of such action. The early cases of self-executing forfeiture from California and New York contain no language which is more persuasive to that end than many cases since, in other jurisdictions, which have been declared to be examples of ordinary conditions subsequent. In several of those early cases a forfeiture had been properly declared by legislative action and the doctrine of self-executing forfeitures had been imported into them when there was no necessity therefor. The case at bar may be an example of a self-executing forfeiture. My inclinations, following the later case, is to hold that it is not and that it is the ordinary case of a condition subsequent. If the views later herein expressed are correct, this question is not controlling.

Questions of Fact.

"The preliminary questions of fact are:

"1. 'Did the defendant construct and lay a full mile of street railway track within the year ending Nov. 17, 1882?

"2. 'If it did lay such mile of track within said time, did it have the same equipped and in full operation within the same period?'

Subsidiary to these are two other questions, one of law and one of fact:

"3. 'Does the doctrine of substantial performance apply in such cases?

"4. 'If it does, was there substantial performance of the conditions of the grant in this case?'

"1. We are dealing with evidence and conditions of more than thirty years ago. Much of the most reliable evidence is no longer available. That which is available has in many instances become dimmed almost to the point of obliteration. The tricks of memory are very real in this case. We have no lack of honest witnesses, but they bring with them the infirmities which the years have imposed. Everywhere there are contradictions and palpable errors. Men and women remember matters of detail for thirty years only when for some reason such maters were originally impressed very vividly upon their minds. For the state one or more of the witnesses assert positively that in the fall of 1882 the street railway track was laid no farther west than Fifth avenue west; others state as positively that the track was laid to a point midway in the block between Fifth and Sixth avenues west and that it extended no farther; others say that it extended to Sixth avenue and no farther; one at least says it extended fifty feet beyond Toomey's shop, which was at Sixth avenue, and that it certainly extended no farther; other say as positively that it extended to a turntable midway between Sixth and Seventh avenues west. The integrity of these witnesses cannot be questioned, but they contradicted each other nearly as much as they do the witnesses for the respondent. The witnesses for the respondent in turn freely contradict each other, though upon the point last referred to in a lesser degree. Of these witnesses for respondent some say that the track extended westwardly to a point very near Eighth avenue west but easterly therefrom; some say that it extended into Eighth avenue, and one at least claims that the stub track extended fifty feet beyond the avenue to the west. The testimony most favorable to the state would make the line three blocks short of a mile in the fall of 1882. The testimony most favorable to the respondent would make the line more than a mile long.

Conflicting Stories.

"The witnesses for the state, speaking generally, and many of the witnesses for the respondent, had no interest in the laying of the track other than their interests as citizens. The respondent, however, was able to produce Mr. Chase, who actually superintended the laying of the track in 1882, and who says it was laid into Eighth avenue west; and Mr. Randall, who drove the team that hauled the first car, and who says he hauled that car on the track to the intersection of Piedmont avenue west and Superior street, which was in the immediate vicinity of Eighth avenue west; and Mr. Hoopes, who had charge of reconstructing the track in the spring of 1883, and who says he began with such reconstruction at Eighth avenue west and worked east; and Mr. Allen, who had contended with the contractors that they could not lay the mile of track within the time limit and had been compelled to admit that they could and did; and Mr. Billson, the first president and legal advisor of the company, who in both capacities was interested in seeing that the terms of the legislative act were properly complied with.

"Again there is the indirect evidence practically uncontradicted. The affairs of the company were managed by men of business experiences; they knew the conditions of the franchise grant; they caused Superior street to be surveyed and staked for a mile in length; they let a contract for the laying of a mile of track; they actually paid for laying a mile of track; the press reports of the time both in 1882 and 1883 all refer to the laying of a mile of track. No witness is produced who in those years ever heard it claimed that a full mile of track had not been laid within the proper time.

"Although much evidence was adduced upon this point and much argument directed thereto, and although it is of much interest, it is not after all of controlling importance. At this late date and under the circumstances of this case, as will hereafter appear, it makes little difference now whether the line reached Eighth avenue west in the year 1882, or whether it stopped at Seventh avenue west or at Sixth. But if this were the important point in the case, could the court, on such evidence, properly find that a full mile of the track had not been laid within the time appointed? Very clearly not. The track was, very likely, a poor makeshift of a track, up and down, out of line, and an obstacle in the way of vehicle traffic on the street; and it may be that a section thereof was taken out at Sixth avenue to facilitate crossing by teams and that some such explanation accounts for the testimony of some of the witnesses whose honest recollection is that the track did not cross that avenue. But after thirty years of good faith uninterrupted enjoyment of property, it should not on this point alone and on such evidence be in danger of judicial destruction.

The Second Point.

"2. Upon the second point there is practically no dispute. The respondent did not have its line equipped and in full operation by November 17, 1882; nor was this accomplished until the 6th day of July, 1883.

"3. In the administration of the law we deal with substantial quantities and substantial values, not with trifles. So here, if the respondent did substantially all that it was required to do, and the public received substantially all that it was entitled to receive, that should end the matter so far as such feature is concerned. In my opinion, the doctrine of substantial performance should and does apply in this case to the construction of the line and also to the equipment and operation thereof.

"It was notorious, not for a few weeks or months only, or in a small hamlet, but throughout the full period of thirty years and in a city during most of that time the third in size in the state, that the respondent company continuously claimed to operate its lines under the franchise here in question, and so far as the evidence shows this claim was never disputed upon the ground now urged until shortly before the institution of the proceedings. With this knowledge, the public authities in charge of assessments, both County and state, levied taxes against the property of respondent. Upon the strength of these claims and these recognitions, and without any notice of claim to the contrary, the company was encouraged to and did make various extensions of its lines of railway at many different times and expended large sums of money in connection therewith, and many individuals were induced to purchase and pay for the bond and shares of the capital stock of said company in the belief that said franchise was valid.

"All this, the extent and effect of which is only imperfectly suggested, entirely changes the situation. If action had been taken promptly after the alleged default all would have been free to urge the truth as it then was and to insist upon rights being measured thereby. But with conditions as indicated by the foregoing statement, the rights of the parties may very well have greatly changed, and no matter what they originally were, the state may now be estopped from making such claims, as it here attempts to do.

"The state claims that the franchise in question was forfeited and that the grant came to an end immediately after Nov. 17, 1882, because of the failure of the company to comply literally with the provisions of Section 2 of the franchise act aforesaid. This has been met by the respondent with the contention that there was substantial performance of the conditions of the grant; that the forfeiture was not self-executing; that no forfeiture has ever been declared in any appropriate proceeding; that the forfeiture, if any, has been waived; that through laches or acquiescence, the right to declare a forfeiture, if any, has been lost; that at the hands of all parties the grant has received a practical construction in harmony with the claims of respondent, and that upon some or all of these grounds the state and city are now estopped from denying the validity of such claims and from denying that the franchise is valid and subsisting.

"The respondent claims, also, that the action is barred by the statute of limitations and that we have here a perfect case of estoppel by judgment strictly so called. Without minimizing the force of these latter claims or considering the same at length, the case will be further discussed and determined along other lines.

Recognized Franchise.

"It makes no difference whether in a fine weighing of reasons it would ordinarily be held that the grant in question contains a provision for a self-executing forfeiture. The parties here have agreed that it did and have acted thereon. It makes no difference that it might be held that the act did not contemplate or provide for a vesting of all future control over the franchise and over forfeitures thereunder in the village of Duluth. The parties interested here have agreed that it did and have acted thereon. It makes no difference that it might be held that there was not substantial performance. The parties here have agreed that there was and have acted thereon. These matters have been agreed to and acted upon for so long a time that no one may now claim the contrary. As above stated, their mouths are closed.

"In view of the foregoing as between the parties hereto, the public (represented by the state) and the respondent, there never was any forfeiture; there never was any ground of forfeiture; there never was any revival of the franchise or any necessity therefor. The grant here relied on has been continuously in force from the time of its acceptance until now.

"It has been urged in respect to this franchise that the village and city and state had respectively very limited powers. Those contentions are important only in certain limited aspects of the question here involved, and those aspects are probably less important than was supposed. There was throughout the time in question a general public. That public was organized locally; there was the village or city, and throughout the larger area was the state. Entire supervision and control of the public interests, so far as the franchise here in question is concerned, was vested in one or both of these political entities. The public was not in default. The necessary parties to a practical construction of this grant were always in being and always active. In all negotiations with the respondent the public was represented, and whether we now say that the village, and later the city, was authorized to act for the state, or that the state as such alone could act in such way as to bind itself, in either case the state participated in this practical construction given to the franchise act and cannot now be heard to repudiate the same.

Power to Renew.

"The constant insistence of the state throughout the trial hereof has been that the grant here in question terminated in 1882 and that there could be no renewal because there was no power to renew. Starting with that premise that result may be reached. As already indicated, my opinion is that such viewpoint is incorrect and introduces confusion. Strictly speaking and under a proper application of the doctrine of estoppel through practical construction, there has been no termination and no renewal.

"In the consideration of this case the number of authorities cited has mounted into the hundreds. It would be painful and profitless drudgery to discuss or attempt to classify any large number thereof; volumes might be written thereon. So far as applicable they have received careful consideration. Many otherwise valuable and helpful cases may readily be differentiated from the one at bar. Many were cited upon theories which the court has not felt justified in adopting.

"The dominant principle of law in the case is that stated earlier in this discussion, that where there is room for bona fide difference of opinion as to the construction of a statute or as to the rights thereunder, if for a long period of time there has been a uniform practice constructed thereof by the public and by those interested therein, and the situation of those interested has been changed and developed in reliance thereon, such construction becomes binding and the rights of the parties must be determined thereby.

"The dominant matter of fact is that there has been such practical construction in this case.

"This action is prosecuted in the belief that just grounds therefor exist and that it is necessary that the company be required to be more responsive to what is believed to be the public needs. It would be improper here to indicate whether the company has or has not met with promptness every requirement which reasonably could be imposed. It is proper, however, to observe that there are many ways whereby a creature of the government may always be required to be reasonably responsive to the needs and the convenience of the governing body. Nothing more should be demanded. An unwarranted decision of the court cannot be hoped for and is not necessary to the application of this rule in any particular manner, nor to a realization of the benefits thereof."

and when you hear of Bibles being burned in the Orient you may be sure that native Chinese did not do it."

Fifteen years ago the society distributed 1,500,000 Bibles. "When the disturbance in Mexico began," said Mr. Fox, "we wired Mrs. Francis Hamilton our Mexico representative, to come home. She replied: 'Too busy to leave. Send more Bibles.'"

In 176 Dialects.

Dr. Judson Swift, general secretary of the American Tract society, told of the distribution by the organization of 3,500,000 publications embracing 176 languages and dialects.

A resolution for the reorganization of the board of home mission was introduced by Rev. George Logie of Phoenix, Ariz., and referred to the committee on bills and overtures without being read.

The assembly, after devoting several hours yesterday to the discussion of recommendations for new state laws for the regulation of marriage and divorce, referred the subject back to the committee on Christian life and work for further consideration. Before the assembly adjourns it is expected that a revised report strongly criticizing the present laxity and suggesting desired legislative reforms will be adopted.

Alfred M. Eells of Cairo, Ill., offered a resolution providing for a Federal divorce law as a solution of the problem. He said the lack of uniformity in state divorce laws led to confusion, and as a result most of the statutes were violated with impunity.

For Federal Law.

"The present conditions are rotten and are impossible of enforcement," said Mr. Eells. "Illinois has a law prohibiting divorced persons from marrying within a year of the granting of the decree, but it is violated by thousands each year who go across the border into another state where the laws are in conflict. The only solution of the problem is a Federal statute regarding divorce."

Gen. Ralph E. Prime of Yonkers, N. Y., opposed the suggestion for Federal legislation and urged uniformity of state divorce laws. Rev. S. J. Nicolls of St. Louis opposed the recommendation of the committee on the ground that it might be construed as a step backward by the church in its fight against indiscriminate divorce. He insisted that the entire subject be referred back to the committee for another report.

Stone's Suggestions.

The subject came before the assembly in the report of the committee on Christian life and work presented by Chairman John Timothy Stone, which recommended that the following particulars be incorporated in an improved state code or new law on marriage and divorce:

"The requirement of a residence of at least two years in the state where the application for divorce is to be entered.

"The requirement of a period of at least one year after the granting of a decree before the same shall take effect.

"That if any person or persons being resident of this state shall go into another state or county with intent to evade or violate any of the laws of this state pertaining to marriage or divorce, and there contract a marriage or obtain a divorce prohibited by the said laws of this state, and then return to this state, such marriage or such divorce shall be null and void for all purposes in this state with the same effect as though such prohibited marriage or divorce had been entered into in this state."

Recognition to Women.

The assembly gave recognition to women by the adoption of an amendment to the church's form of government authorizing the election and ordination of deaconesses in a similar manner to the selection of deacons, the church sessions to define the duties of the new class of officials. The question has been before the general assembly for several years.

Something About Government Ownership

No. 9

Contrary to the American custom of 24-hour telephone service, practically every government-owned European telephone exchange, except in the very large cities, is closed all night.

American telephone and telegraph rates, in terms of the actual buying power of money, are much lower than those of any government-owned system in Europe.

Wages paid American telephone employees are the highest in the world.

Europe has four times the population of America, but less than one-third the number of telephones.

Every European telephone expert who has visited America has conceded that the telephone service here is the "model of the world."

WALL STREET HAS DAY OF SENTIMENT

New York, May 23.—New York's financial district turned aside today from its commercial activities to give its attention to things sentimental, in celebration of the anniversary of the Tontine Coffee house, the original headquarters in 1793 of the New York Stock exchange. Included in the ceremonies was the unveiling of a bronze tablet outlining the history of the old hostelry, which is at the northwest corner of Wall and William streets. Former Mayor Seth Low presided at the unveiling ceremonies.

Among the notable events with which the history of the old structure is identified was the reception to Gen. Washington on his arrival in New York for his first inauguration. The building was erected in 1737, and on May 23, 1774, a letter was written there by a committee of merchants, which was largely instrumental in the organization of the Continental congress.

POSTMASTER VOTED FOR IN KANSAS TOWN

Cottonwood Falls, Kan., May 23.—Citizens of this city are voting today for a postmaster. Six candidates are in the race, and more interest is being displayed than at a primary election. Throughout the week the candidates, five of whom are men and the other a woman, have been carrying on aggressive campaigns.

The election is the result of an announcement made by Representative Dudley of Doolittle, last week, agreeing to leave the postmastership to the vote of the people. He will recommend for appointment the candidate receiving the largest number of votes.

Purcell For House.

Fargo, N. D., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Among the legislative announcements made here today was that of J. T. Purcell for the lower house. He was twice a candidate for railroad commissioner.

A Cozy Bungalow for $2800

The simplest of building materials—weatherboards—have been used, the architect depending upon the finishing touches to give that feeling of livableness without which no house is really a home. The attractive Pergola with its substantial support of rough plaster columns contribute largely to this feeling, with the hospitable French windows lending a charm all their own. Inside all of the rooms are so economically arranged that the problem of housekeeping in this bungalow would not be a difficult one. The first floor is finished in birch and yellow pine with maple floors. The house would cost to build in the city of Duluth about $2,800 complete.

ASK RECEIVER FOR CEMETERY COMPANY.

Chicago, May 23.—An application for the appointment of a receiver for the Rose Hill Cemetery company was made here last night by minority stockholders. The petition also asked for an accounting and an injunction restraining the disposing of part of the assets. The bill charged officers and directors with mismanaging the fund set aside for the perpetual care of the grounds. The fund was said to amount to more than $700,000. Wesley Dempster, the largest minority stockholder, is chief of the petitioners.

Kuehn gave up his life belt to a woman passenger of the Monroe in the collision with the steamship Nantucket on Jan. 30, and so lost his life.

DISPOSE OF CANAL BILL NEXT WEEK

Senate Leaders Are Confident of Repeal of Law.

Washington, May 23.—Democratic leaders in the senate are confident the Panama canal tolls exemption repeal bill and the arbitration amendments will be disposed of next week.

Senator Kern, leader of the majority, said a vote would be taken May 28 or shortly afterward, and added that the repeal bill would be passed by a majority of at least ten.

Opponents of repeal are not inclined to doubt that the bill will pass, but the vote on the many amendments which have been offered to modify its meanings will be watched with interest by senators on both sides. Prospects for the success of an arbitration amendment are acknowledged to have been dimmed by speeches of the last two days. The administration is said to center its support on the amendment proposed by Senator Simmons, declaring that the United States waives no rights over the Panama canal. Many others of similar purport, but differing in terms, have been submitted and will be pressed by their sponsors.

Senator Simmons has returned to the senate after a short illness with measles. He took up the fight for repeal at once and will direct the administration forces until the vote is taken. He will speak for repeal early next week.

COMES TO DEFENSE OF "SHAN KIVE"

P. D. Nelson Says Name Was Used By Colorado Springs.

That "Shan Kive," not "Shan Kiva," is an Indian word and does mean festival, is the contention of P. D. Nelson of 423 North Twenty-seventh avenue west, who won the $10 prize for suggesting this title for Duluth's midsummer festival.

Members of the festival committee grew suspicious that somebody might be playing a practical joke upon them, and they assumed the Missouri attitude toward "Shan Kiva." They investigated, and local authorities on the Chippewa language told them there was no such word. Then the suspicion grew that it might be a Turkish or Arabic word, meaning something entirely different from festival.

This morning The Herald got into communication with Mr. Nelson who suggested the title.

"It is probably not Chippewa," said Mr. Nelson, "but it is Indian and it means festival. I heard the word in Colorado Springs. They had a celebration out there while I was there a few years ago and they called it a 'Shan Kive.' I suppose you could find what particular Indian tribe the word came from by writing to Colorado Springs."

THE BEWILDERINGLY BUSY LAW FACTORY.

Warren A. Candler, a loved and respected bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church, preached a striking sermon at Oklahoma City lately that has attracted wide attention.

In it he sounded a warning against America's crowning sin, the habit of seeking to cure everything by laws—a habit that is enthroned as king in this land, with the habit of thriftlessness as its queen.

"The undue multiplication of laws is the sure mark of a declining life in the souls of men," he said. "There seems to be a notion among men of our day that all evils can be wiped out by making more laws. They seem to think the ballot box is the ark of the covenant. In nothing could they be more grievously mistaken."

The ballot box comes pretty near being the ark of our political covenant, and therein the good bishop errs. But whatever the ballot box may be, the law-factory is NOT the ark of the covenant of our liberties. Indeed, it bids fair to become the shackles that shall destroy our liberties.

There is a plague of law-making in this land. Worse than the annoyance it makes is the inevitable weakening of moral fiber that it causes.

Is anything wrong? Enact a law against it, and pass rapidly on to something else, leaving the law to enforce itself.

So the dreadful load of unenforced and unhonored statutes steadily grows.

Does a "statesman" feel the need of self-advertisement?

Let him advocate and put through some new legal hocus-pocus which he guarantees to cure all our social and economic ills, and his political fortune is made.

If the evil against which he aims his advertising campaign is unchecked, that is the least of his cares.

If there is real need of really constructive measures for the common good, there is no room for them in the legislative forum, for that is fully occupied by the latest legal contrivances for legislating men and women into goodness and sobriety and honesty.

Why does the consumption of liquor, for instance, increase so much faster than the spread of territory in which the sale of liquor is solemnly forbidden by law, though that has grown with astonishing rapidity of late? It is because of this stupid and absurd belief that all that is needed to cure an evil is to pass a law against it.

Do men drink to excess? Never mind teaching them better; just pass a law against drinking, and let it go at that.

Let the burden of all human weakness rest upon government. Do away with individual responsibility. Let society and government bear all burdens, and then cure everything by the magic holus of a statute.

This is the modern practice in this land. How long can the fiber of law resist this adulteration of folly? How long can the fiber of humanity resist this insidious poison of the denial of individual responsibilty?

It will be a sign of hope when we see a legislature praised for how few new laws it has passed instead of for how many.

Has your garden been having growling pains this last week?

THE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS.

7.—The "Seven-Senators" Amendment.

This proposal, which was before the people two years ago and was very properly defeated by them, seeks to implant in the system of government in this American and democratic state the principle that voters in one set of living conditions shall have less voice in law-making than those in another set of living conditons.

In effect, its philosophy is that men living in the rural districts shall have more power in government than men living in cities.

Its specific provisions are that "in the next and succeeding reapportionments," the senate shall be limited to sixty-three members, and that no county shall ever have more than seven senators, regardless of its population.

Besides the manifestly undemocratic and unjust discrimination of this provision, there is an exceedingly awkward angle to the issue in the fact that the adoption of this amendment means that THERE WILL NOT BE ANOTHER APPORTIONMENT IN HALF A CENTURY!

The phrase "in the next and succeeding reapportionments" is responsible for this condition. While the vicious principle of discrimination will lurk in the Constitution if the amendment is adopted, it will not go into effect until there is another apportionment. And as every believer in equality and liberty will oppose the adoption of the principle, this means that instead of waiting sixteen years for another reapportionment Minnesota will wait fifty or a hundred years.

This proposal was introduced merely to defeat the last reapportionment. It was never heard of in this state until reapportionment became imminent. It was fathered, supported and enacted by the votes of Southern Minnesota, which stood to lose by reapportionment.

It should be defeated—and not merely defeated, but beaten so overwhelmingly that it will never rear its head again in this state.

"Mother" Jones says she can see no good in giving woman the ballot. Her record would lead one to surmise that she finds it possible to raise enough Cain without it.

A SNIDE PUBLICATION.

Senator La Follette of Wisconsin has performed another great public service.

By one of the grossest abuses on record of that most grossly abused privilege, the "leave to print," he has unconsciously performed the public service of emphasizing the need of reform in the management of the official newspaper of congress, the Congressional Record.

A recent issue of that worst faker of all yellow journals contained what purported to be a speech by Senator La Follette. It ran to 364 closely-printed pages, and it cost the government more than twelve thousand dollars to print it. Only seven pages of this bulky tome are filled by La Follette's speech; the other pages are filled by documents, newspaper clippings and a miscellany of stuff all purporting to show that the railroads have sought to influence public opinion on the freight rate increase proposal that was pending before the interstate commerce commission.

Nor is this the end of it. Mr. La Follette did not have this library printed in the Congressional Record just for the fun of it, or to see his name in print. He put it there so he could frank it and have it sent free through the mails. It weighs nearly two pounds. So besides the small fortune it cost to print it, there will be an untold cost for its free distribution.

The Congressional Record purports to be a true report of the proceedings of congress. It is no such thing. It is a fraud, and a peculiarly petty and dishonest one. It prints speeches that were never made, sprinkled with "applause" and "laughter" that were never heard. It prints speeches that were made, but prints them as they were not made. In a large measure it is merely an open door to the privilege of free mail facilities, through which comes a raft of stuff that never was and never will be honestly entitled to free circulation through the mails.

The Record ought to be made what it pretends to be—a true journal of the proceedings of congress from day to day. Speeches ought to be printed as they are made, and such lumbering up of the record as Mr. La Follette perpetrated ought to be stopped, no matter in whose interest it is done. It is no more honest to palm off reprint matter in the interest of Mr. La Follette's view of public affairs than it is to do it in the interest of Mr. Penrose's view of public affairs.

A California professor says girls are smarter than boys. Is the opinion to be taken as typical of any state where women have the ballot?

THE END OF ROMANCE.

"Another Romance Ended," said a newspaper headline, and we looked with curiosity to see what had happened.

Having been told that "the course of true love never did run smooth," we rather expected to find that something romantic or tragic had intervened to make rough the course of true love in the case reported.

And what do you suppose had happened?

The young couple were married!

Does marriage end romance? Or was the headline writer a cynic? Or was it merely a careless use of words? We cannot know, of course, not being acquainted with the parties. But it would be a great pity if it were true that marriage ends romance.

Why should it?

The two who are married are the same two who were engaged.

If the glow of romance that surrounded and gilded their courtship is banished when they were wed, they must banish it.

If the wedding is to them the end of the story, then of course it is the end of romance.

But if to them it is just the beginning of the story, or at most only about the second chapter, then romance will abide with them. With them, as with all, it is as they make it.

Romance ought not to end with marriage, and they are very foolish couples who drive it out when they settle down to the long, steady climb of matrimony.

Mellen says his reward for shouldering an indictment that belonged on J. P. Morgan was in being let out of a sixty thousand dollar job. Apparently this is basis for philosophical dissertation about the wages of some other fellow's sin.

JOBS AND EFFICIENCY.

A committee of the house of representatives has reported to that body a bill for the regulation of stock and bond issues.

It is a good bill, and should pass; but with it came this wrong reflection by the committee:

> The most vicious thing about all combinations in transportation and all other kinds of business is that while it multiplies the benefits of the few men retained it dispenses with the services of so many men both competent to fill the positions and entitled to the fair emoluments thereof.

Suppose that by combination a public service is performed for half the sum it cost when uncombined. Is it vicious then?

Suppose the saving is only ten per cent. Does that make it more vicious, or less? Or is the viciousness of combination proportionate to the saving effected?

A public service, whether it is a railroad, a gas supply or a manufacturing industry, is not, primarily, a device either for making profits for its owners or places for its employes. It is a public service; and the cheaper it can be rendered the better it is for the public.

If combination lessens cost by reducing the number of workers needed, then it is a public benefit; and if the public fails to get its share of the benefit for lack of regulation in the public interest, then the public pays the penalty of neglect.

But to attack combination on no better ground than that it deprives some men of jobs and emoluments, is to put the argument on the level of those misguided labor agitators who oppose labor saving machinery because it throws men out of work, and who advocates "soldiering on the job" so that there will be work enough for all.

Nobody will begrudge Becker whatever he may be able to get out of the fact that the jurors cried.

THE REAL MEXICAN QUESTION.

Suppose the Rockefellers and the Carnegies and a few score other families owned all the land in this country, and had owned it for generations.

Suppose the American people had been kept from the land, and had to walk landless and hungry around single estates of two thousand square miles.

Suppose the American people were in ignorance as well as in poverty; that having no property they had no stake in government, no interest in maintaining stable governmental conditions.

Do you imagine it would be difficult to raise riots and revolutions in this country if things were that way? Would you think the American people worth a pinch of snuff if it was hard to stir up trouble? Would a people be worth the powder to blow them to perdition if they insisted on quiet and order when they had nothing to lose but their chains—when they had nothing to risk and everything to gain by disorder? Wouldn't there be hell popping in this land if that was the way things were arranged here?

Well, that's the way things are arranged in Mexico. And that's what's the matter with Mexico. There can be no order there, and should be no peace, until this condition is redressed.

Admiral Chadwick, in a letter to the New York Sun, paints the situation in Mexico eloquently and truly. He says:

> To the student of things Mexican certain things are or should be clear.
> 1. That Mexico has been governed by an upper class mainly of Spanish blood which owns the land and wealth of that country.
> 2. That below this class is an ignorant, immoral, intemperate mass of fifteen times perhaps as numerous as the other, owning nothing and practically serfs to the million, say, of the first class. Mexico is the Russia of two generations since, with the added great difficulty that these serfs are of several very diverse races of Indians with mixtures of all degrees. Mexico is thus fundamentally Indian in blood and temperament; not Spanish.
> 3. The unrest of this great mass of Indians and people of Indian mixture, ground since the Spanish conquest under the millstone of slavery, is the main cause of the revolution. They do not know what they want; they only know that they do not want what they have, which is nothing. Their revolt has almost as little of actual mentality, when one goes below the leaders, as has the movement of an earthquake, to which in a way it may be compared. And they are going to continue to revolt until they have some of the benefits of life; land to cultivate and the right to live their lives for themselves instead of for their (practical) owners. Thus any dictator set up by the higher class can only exist for long by armed suppression of this lower class, as did Diaz, a model despot.

It is an everyday saying that Mexico needs an iron hand to keep it in order. But the day of the iron hand coupled with the iron heel of oppression has gone by. What Mexico needs now is an iron hand that will hold the Mexican people in order while the other iron hand settles the land question.

Let the Mexicans get back to the land; give them a stake in their government; give them a chance to earn their own bread and then teach them; and in a generation or two Mexico will be as orderly and stable as any Latin-American country.

If we can help them work out their salvation in this way, it will be a labor for the glory of humanity.

But neither T. R. nor the Mexican situation will stand a ghost of a show for front page position on the day the Eastern rate case is decided.

THISTLES IN A "FAR PASTURE."

From the "weekly news letter" sent out by the department of agriculture we get a very interesting bit of news that makes for thought in three ways.

The news is that a commission appointed by the government of Saskatchewan reports that it costs the farmers of that province fifty-five cents a bushel to produce their wheat on the farm, and sixty-two cents f. o. b. cars at the stations. This cost has increased more than twelve per cent since 1909, while the price of wheat to the farmer has gone down from eighty-one cents to sixty-six cents in 1913. At the latter figure the net profit to the farmer was something less than a dollar an acre.

The three ways this makes for thought are as follows:

First—It throws light on the "cheap pauper wheat" to the competition of which American farmers have been told they were exposed by free wheat—or would be exposed when there was free wheat, which there isn't.

Second—It brings a lot closer those far pastures which looked greenest until restless American farmers got close to them; and it shows that there are thistles in these particular far pastures.

Third—To quote the department's news letter, "it is possible that the interesting figures which have been developed by the grain commission will account for the fact that a large number of American farmers who have, in recent years, left the States to engage in farming in this territory, are now asking for a certificate which permits the return of household effects to the United States. If the economic situation suggested in the above statement is not the cause, perhaps it may be found in the long and rigorous winters characteristic of this section as compared with those in the leading farming districts of the States."

Moral: Even if those far pastures do look green, better look at them a little closer before taking your chances there; and, above all, better look around at home a little closer before trying new and distant fields.

Swat the musca domestica!

CREATURES OF CHANCE.

What a creature of chance is the average human career!

A boy or girl just out of school is at the most important parting of the ways in all his life; yet how lightly it is regarded by many!

The boy's father has an opening in his store, and the boy takes it and becomes a grocer. A neighbor friend has a chance for an errand boy in his office, and the boy takes it and becomes a clerk, bookkeeper or stenographer. The local paper needs a boy to work around the shop, and the boy becomes a country editor. The farm boy hears of glittering things in the city, and he goes there and becomes a floating laborer.

A few aim for and reach a skilled trade or a profession. The many drop into the first vacant niche and remain there.

Probably in every case there is some one thing that each boy or girl could do better than any other thing—perhaps better than anybody else can do it. He could get more satisfaction, too, more pleasure and more profit of every worth-while kind, and more happiness and contentment, out of doing that particular thing than he ever can out of doing any other thing. Yet it is seldom, comparatively, that that priceless faculty is discovered and developed.

Some time, it may be, the public schools will search the growing characters under their care more carefully, and it will be one of their duties, then, to discover what each pupil is best fitted to adopt as his life's career.

How great an element chance is in life is shown by this true story:

Lillian Norton, a Maine girl, the daughter of a farmer, went to Boston, after she had finished a short schooling, to work in a dry goods store.

One day at the end of the day's work Lillian was putting away bolts of goods before closing, and as she did so she sang softly to herself.

A belated customer heard her, and listened.

"What a voice, child!" she said. "Have you ever had it trained?"

"No, ma'am," said the shop girl.

"Will you let me give you lessons?"

"Oh, that would be splendid!" exclaimed the girl.

And so, by chance, Lillian Nordica was started on a career that made her America's greatest singer, and one of the world's greatest.

The disquieting thought about this is that chance is blind, and that it may have passed by many potential Nordicas and left them in their humble niches.

It isn't quite right, is it, that chance should be left so large a factor in determining human careers and human success and happiness?

England's interest in Mexican affairs isn't so hard to understand when one realizes that besides a large amount of unrecorded capital, Britons have over four hundred and eighty-one million dollars invested in that country.

Wouldn't Stand It Any Longer.

Pearson's Weekly: A boy, who had been well worked and badly paid for two years succeeded in getting a better job. His last day with the old firm he was sent out with a load of valuable china. He returned in an hour or so, and the china, instead of having been delivered, lay in the bottom of the hand-cart, smashed to smithereens.

"What does this mean?" roared the proprietor.

The boy, as he stepped out of the shafts, answered calmly:

"It means, boss, that you've worked me like a horse and treated me like a horse for two years now. So this morning I shied at a steam roller, ran away and had a smash-up." So saying, the boy turned and set off, blithely whistling, for his new and better job.

Silence Is Misery.

Houston Post: "Does your wife suffer in silence?"

"Yes, and I am sorry. If she did not suffer in silence, perhaps she would be silent oftener."

That Depends.

Boston Transcript: Subbubs—"Going to have a garden this summer?"

Nexdore—"Don't know yet. Are you going to raise chickens?"

SLAVES

Men, whose boast it is that ye
Come of fathers brave and free,
If there breathe on earth a slave,
Are ye truly free and brave?
If ye do not feel the chain
When it works a brother's pain,
Are ye not base slaves indeed?
Slaves unworthy to be freed.
Is true freedom but to break
Fetters for our own dear sake,
And with leathern hearts forget
That we owe mankind a debt?
No; true freedom is to share
All the chains our brothers wear,
And, with heart and hand, to be
Earnest to make others free.
They are slaves who fear to speak
For the fallen and the weak;
They are slaves who will not choose
Hatred, scoffing and abuse,
Rather than to silence shrink
From the truth they needs must think;
They are slaves who dare not be
In the right with two or three.

—James Russell Lowell.

The Dangers of Health-Worship

Editorial in the New York Evening Post.

Dr. Goldwater is an excellent commissioner of health. His ability is unquestioned. His devotion to the work of which he has taken charge is exemplary. Even in the matter of expression, of vigorous and telling public appeal, he has shown himself notable in more than one instance. In his article in the magazine section of yesterday's Times, he has presented the case for "universal periodic medical examinations" with great vigor and force. So far as regards the advantage of early medical examination for the discovery, and possible effective treatment, of cases of cancer, tuberculosis, and certain other diseases, what he says is calculated to do much good. But there is a larger aspect to the proposal he puts forward—a proposal that has of late been much in the air—and to the doctrine upon which it rests. And it is time this larger aspect were being realized in a manner commensurate with its bearing on the whole character of human life.

Whether Dr. Goldwater, or Dr. Biggs before him, or the estimable and distinguished gentlemen who are the backers of the Life Extension Institute movement, look upon compulsory medical examination of all persons as their goal, we cannot positively state. It looks very much as though they did. Dr. Biggs has been quoted as advocating medical examination of all "citizens," which points very strongly that way. No unmistakable statement of such an object has yet been made, so far as we have observed; but we are as yet only in the first beginnings of the movement. Dr. Goldwater's article closes as follows:

"The next great task of preventive medicine is, therefore, the inauguration of universal periodic medical examinations as an indispensable means for the control of all diseases, whether arising from injurious personal habits, from congenital or constitutional weakness, or from social and vocational conditions."

If we see this in the green tree, what may we expect to find in the dry? Will it be much of a step from "universal" examination to compulsory examination? Will it be much of a step from that to compulsory heeeding of the results of that examination? Is there any limit than can safely be set to the extension, not of life, but of the meddling with life, which this whole movement promises?

But it is by no means on the score of legal compulsion alone that the proposal of "universal periodic medical examination" is open to objection. Whether brought about by legal requirement or by the pressure of general opinion, the benefits of health, and the prolongation of life, which it might bring about would be purchased at a tremendous price. What that price would be it requires some power of imagination, perhaps to realize, but some idea of it may be obtained from the very facts which Dr. Goldwater adduces. Take but a single one of them. "In a recent examination of the employes of a New York city bank," he says, "100 per cent of the employes were found to be abnormal and on the sure road to diseases of heart, lungs, kidneys or blood vessels." Very likely this examination will have been the means of stopping the progress of disease in the case of some of these men; but if the fact is as stated, the whole body of them were suddenly converted from a group of normal men, nearly all of whom were doubtless going about their work and their play with no thought of sickness, into a solid body of semi-invalids. Who shall say that the addition of two or three years to the average duration of their existence will outweigh, in the scales which measure real human values, the freedom, the elasticity, the unconsciousness of the trammels of the body, which have been impaired or destroyed by this intrusion?

And even from the standpoint of medical results, in the narrowest sense, there is room for grave misgivings. Not all diagnoses are correct; not all alarms given by medical men are well founded. It may be said in reply that we must do the best we can. So be it. Let every man who feels that he has some reason to suspect that there may be something wrong get medical advice by all means, and get it early. He must take his chance of a certain average percentage of error. But whatever that percentage of error may now be—and it is not insignificant—would be a mere trifle in comparison with what the new program bids fair to furnish. "The task before us," says Dr. Goldwater, "is to discover the first sign of departure from the normal physiological path, and promptly and effectually to apply the brake." With this as the ideal before them, will not the false alarms of the physicians outnumber those of today ten to one, or fifty to one? Will not thousands of persons who might have lived happily and comfortably to three score and ten before that "first sign of departure" had developed into anything serious, be called upon to exercise care, to be solicitous about their bodies instead of ignoring them, and, in no one knows how many cases, have their lives not only dulled, but actually shortened by hypochondria?

"Those to whom the care of delicate mechanical apparatus is entrusted," says Dr. Goldwater, "do not wait until a breakdown occurs, but inspect and examine the apparatus minutely, at regular intervals, and thus detect the first signs of damage." This is the favorite simile of the health enthusiasts. But in it are imbedded two fatal fallacies. In the first place, the working of a machine is not affected by our concern over it, while our body may be. And secondly, the only interest we have in the machine is that it shall function well as a mechanism; while in the case of our bodies we may deliberately choose to sacrifice perfection of the mechanism to other objects which we prize more highly—indeed, we must do so, at some point or other, if we wish to keep out of Bedlam.

Unselfishness.

That's a nice piece of cake on the tea-tray!
And Mamma'd have said "yes" had she stayed—
But it is the last piece—and to take it
Would make you, they say, an old maid!

Well, Papa and Mamma both will love me;
And Towser would die for my sake;
And they'd miss me so much if I married—
I must eat that last piece of cake!

SATURDAY NIGHT TALK

Wagons and Stars.

There are few more inspiring aphorisms in our tongue than Emerson's famous "Hitch your wagon to a star." Posterity is indebted to the Sage of Concord for the crisp and noble counsel so universally needed. The privilege belongs to us all of gearing our lives up to lofty motives, of glorifying our commonplace and prosaic days with ideal sentiments and aspirations.

There is happy suggestion likewise in reversing the good advice, to sense its truth from a slightly different angle. It is just as good philosophy, and in many ways even more helpful, to read the words "Hitch the stars to your wagon." In other terms, let heaven help you. Let the infinite forces join with you in tugging your particular load up the hill. Harness the mightiest power in the world to your human necessities.

It has always seemed to me an amazing pity that so few people seem to get real and definite help from their religion. They have the form of Godliness without the power. Instead of being a source of energy and inspiration faith becomes a mere decorum. Religion means to them apparently a certain set of observances and duties rather than a mighty spirit of power that is to quicken their wills and warm their hearts and strengthen both moral and physical muscles. They seem not to find themselves better both in mind and body because they believe in God. They come to church not expecting much and their expectations are met.

One who really makes the test will arrive at quite a different experience. He will find his Christian faith immensely helpful at every point. A new found source of energy permeated every department of his being. He will prove the truth of the ancient word: "They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength, they shall mount up on wings as eagles, they shall run and not be weary, they shall walk and not faint." That life be given just this touch of victory and power is the craving in millions of hearts at this hour. They are all about us whose strength is spent, not only weary with running, but faint with walking. They will follow any leader and subscribe to any cult that will give them courage for the daily task.

We are recovering in our time a sense of religion as a ministry to the whole man, his body as well as his spirit. We are going to tell men that God is with us for the cure of all the ills from which we suffer. There is no therapeutic known equal to faith. Nothing can so drive out the demons of worry and temptation and disease and set the uplifted soul in a clean and new furnished physical house. Nothig can so set one free from the bondage of evil habit and make him in truth the master of his fate. We have held it true in theory, but have not always acted on it in practice.

One may not always realize what burdens can be carried if the stars are hitched to our wagon. Behind how many human achievements one must see the strong arm of the Almighty! Said Bismarck: "If I were no longer a Christian I would not serve the king another hour. If I did not put my trust in God I should certainly place none in earthly masters." When his biographer quoted from his daily journal, Gladstone's associates understood the bowed head that they had often seen before some notable speech by the Great Commoner: "I spoke not without the divine help today in the house of commons." It is simply a modern discovery of an old secret, that found out by the Psalmist, long ago. "I have set the Lord always before me, because He is at my right hand I shall not be moved." THE PARSON.

DANIEL E. SICKLES

By SAVOYARD

Washington, May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—He survived all his contemporaries in public life and died a few months before he was 94 years old. He was born when Queen Victoria was a child just past her second summer, Gladstone was a youth of 13, and Lincoln a plowboy in his third lustrum. He was older than the Missouri restriction misnamed "Compromise," he was as old as the Monroe doctrine. He might have contemplated the mighty political struggle over "Nullification." He was more than of constitutional age for a seat in congress when war was first declared against Mexico. He was a voter when President Tyler vetoed a recharter for the United States bank—Daniel E. Sickles was born in 1820.

He was repeatedly a member of the New York state general assembly in the forties. He was a darling favorite of Tammany Hall when "Hunker" and "Barnburner" strove for the supremacy in the Democratic party of the Empire state. He was a "Hunker," a follower of William L. Marcy, and against Martin Van Buren, Silas Wright, and Samuel J. Tilden. He was emphatically "a Northern man of Southern principles." I am sure he never had the slightest conception of a political principle. Rather he was a free lance, a Dalgetty, browsing in the richest pasture he could break into. But he was a remarkable man, forceful, intrepid, an Adonis in person, intrepid in action, unscrupulous in conscience.

William L. Marcy ought to have been president. Between Andrew Jackson and Abraham Lincoln he was the best fitted American for the job. As secretary of war in President Polk's cabinet he was as much as Godolphin, and had occasion required he might have been as great as Carnot. Buchanan was secretary of state, and both he and Marcy were candidates for president. Gen. Cass got the nomination and was defeated for election by the "Barnburners" of New York.

Marcy, conscious of his eminent fitness for the place, like many others—Webster, Clay, Calhoun, Breckinridge, Douglas, Blaine. Sherman—believed the American people were anxious to make him president. It was not to be. Later he was secretary of state in the cabinet of President Pierce, as Mr. Blaine held the same place in the cabinets of Garfield and Harrison. Buchanan was shipped off to England as our minister there and Marcy selected his young henchman, Dan Sickles, to be secretary of legation to watch "Old Buck."

"Young America" was at large then and Pierre Soule, our minister to Spain, convened certain of our "shirt sleeve" diplomats and they issued what is known as the "Ostend Manifesto." Buchanan signed it and it made him president—also it helped to create the Republican party. Then Marcy's day was over and he retired from the public stage as a candidate for president, as a public man, indeed.

But it was the beginning of Sickles' career on the national stage. In 1856 he was sent to congress by Tammany and two years later he was re-elected. It was during his second term that he shot and killed Philip Barton Key, son of the author of "The Star-Spangled Banner" and nephew of the then chief justice of the supreme bench.

It was a plain assassination within a stone's toss of the White House. But it began a new epoch in our criminal jurisprudence. Sickles' counsel numbered among them the great John Graham, the first criminal lawyer then living, and he invented the plea of "emotional insanity." With the assistance of James T. Brady and Edwin M. Stanton he brought his client acquit, and since 1859 it is not extravagant to say that 1,000 murderers have gone free on the same plea in these United States. They now call it "the unwritten law."

I do not say it in reproach or even in criticism, but in February, 1861, Sickles made a speech in congress in which he served notice on the incoming Republican administration that if a single hostile force from the North should seek to invade "the sacred soil" of the South to coerce a sovereign state they would march over his dead body. After the war he explained that it was a time of revolution when event succeeded event in a twinkling and no man should be held accountable for the impulse of the moment. And he was right about that. Also his case was that of John A. Logan.

In old Rome in the time of Coriolanus it was held that valor is "the chiefest virtue and most becomes the haver," and so it has been held by Jew and Gentile ever since. There is no doubt that Sickles was a brave man, and such he showed himself to be in the bloody war of 1861-65. He was ever swift to be in the forefront of carnage. All must respect him for that.

But he had no morals, had no stability of character. It is doubtful if he was ever honest in matters of meum et tuum. Certainly he was a defaulter, and had they been his the revenues of purgatory supplemented by the purse of Fortunatus would not have supported his expenditures.

What a soft, silken voice it was, but it was not seductive. The handsome man of his time, there was something undesirably repulsive about him, and it was not the blood of Key, either. It was something you cannot account for.

He was a remarkable man. He is before a Judge who will deal with him as all of us must be dealt by. Napoleon said: "I should have died at Borodino." Sickles should have died at Gettysburg.

And speaking of John Graham, his leading counsel in the murder trial—he invented the plea of the unwritten law. Subsequently he brought off acquit Cole, who slew Hiscock, and McFarland, who killed Richardson, in like quarrel.

I read his speech in the last named case. It was full of Biblical quotation to nullify the awful injunction from Sinai—"Thou shalt not kill."

PRELIMINARY TRIAL EXPEDITION

Shackleton Will Test Amid Glaciers of Norway the Rations Prepared for His Trip Across Antarctic Continent.

London, May 23.—With the thoroughness which has always characterized his work, Sir Ernest Shackleton is about to make a preliminary trial expedition under Arctic conditions in the glaciers of Norway. This will be for the special purpose of testing the rations for his trip across the Antarctic continent, which he hopes to make in four and a half months time. No party ever started out, without having food depots, to make such a distance as that in a straight line, but Sir Ernest and his men have made special preparations for the attempt.

They have, with the aid of the Royal Army Medical corps, evolved the "perfect ration." It will average only 35 ounces daily, as compared with the three pounds or more consumed by the average man, but it is believed it represents the highest nutritive value for polar travel.

Sir Ernest will be accompanied by five members of his staff when he goes to Norway to conduct experiments with these rations and also test his tents and motor sledges. The party will don polar kit and travel among the glaciers. While the cold will not be as intense as in the polar regions, the country will furnish the same sort of sudden blizzards as are experienced in the Antarctic.

Thorough Test of Rations.

The party will test the effect and potency of the rations in most detailed fashion. Such an experiment never has been made before.

Shackleton's new ship, the Endurance, has been almost completely fitted in Norway and will arrive at the London docks this month. She is eighteen feet longer than his last ship Nimrod. She is a beautiful specimen of wooden ship building, and probably the last of her class that will be constructed. Her whole keel is made of solid oak five and a half feet thick, and her sides are two feet thick. She belongs to the barkentine class, has the latest triple expansion engines, and will steam ten knots an hour. She is fitted to consume both oil and coal. When in the ice, oil will be substituted for coal, which will mean economy if she is delayed in the pack—as the boilers can be kept warm and full heat generated quickly. When the oil has been used the tanks will be filled with water ballast. The Endurance will take on 100 tons of coal briquettes at the South Shetland islands, so she will enter the Weddell sea with full bunkers.

The second ship, Aurora, intended for the Ross sea side of the expedition, has been purchased and will be delivered at Hobart, Tasmania, at the end of August.

Will Start in August.

The Endurance, which is to operate on the opposite side of the Antarctic, will leave England early in August for Buenos Aires, whence she will finally start for the Antarctic base in October. Most of the members of the expedition will leave England in the Endurance but Sir Ernest Shackleton will travel later by mail steamer, and join his ship at Buenos Aires.

The dogs, which constitute an important factor in the expedition, are a cross between a wolf and a Scotch stag hound, and have been bred in Northern Canada. The lightest of them will turn the scales at eighty pounds whereas the heaviest dog with the last Shackleton expedition weighed forty-five pounds. They have been selected by the experts of the Hudson's Bay company, and will be under the charge of one of the most experienced drivers from Canada, who was chosen by the commissioners of the Northwest mounted police.

The latest appointments to the expeditionary staff are Sir Philip Lee Brocklehurst, who was with Shackleton in 1907 and 1909 and who made the first ascent of Mount Erebus, and his brother, Lieut. Courtney Brocklehurst, of the Eleventh Hussars. Hundreds of applications for positions with the expedition have been received.

IN THE LITERARY WORLD

The Dramatic Story of Pompey.

THE TRAGEDY OF POMPEY THE GREAT. By John Masefield. New York: The Macmillan company. $1.35.

An interesting character study of Cneius Pompeius Magnus, better known as Pompey the Great, is contained in the historical drama by John Masefield, just published by the MacMillan company.

It is a three-act drama, telling in stirring fashion the story of the great civil war between Julius Caesar and Pompey. The first act deals with Caesar's approach on Rome, the scene being laid in Pompey's palace. The climax of the act is Pompey's decision to abandon Rome, rather than plunge the capitol into the horrors of a war within its very walls, and then seek to build up his army in Macedonia. The second act shows Pompey at the head of his army in Macedonia, and slowly bringing about the downfall of Caesar by his policy of "watchful waiting."

"His men are exhausted and starving," says Pompey to his generals, referring to Caesar. "He cannot force me to battle. He cannot raid my lines. He cannot go back to Rome. And I, with one slight thrust am tumbling him into ruin."

But the growing discontent of the patrician followers of Pompey in Rome, and of his own generals, finally forces Pompey's hand, and the climax of the second act and of the play is where he decides to give battle to Caesar, the disastrous conflict that resulted in Pompey's downfall. The third act shows his flight to Egypt and his assassination.

The play is intensely interesting to read, and it should "play" equally well. It presents no great difficulties in staging, although it would make possible some most effective scenery and settings. The part of Pompey offers shadows everything else in the play, and it would be a role in which an intelligent student of the drama would revel. Pompey is pictured as more of a statesman than a soldier; more of a patriot than a warrior. "Rome has changed, Lucceius," he says. "Outwardly she is the same still. A city which gives prizes to a few great people. A booth where the rabble can sell their souls for bread, and their bodies for a chance to plunder. Inwardly she is a great democracy, a power struggling with obsolete laws."

Again he says: "I have crushed rebellions. I mean now to crush their cause."

It would be interesting indeed to see "Pompey the Great" given an adequate production. It has action and a dramatic swing that promise much. It contains at least one part where an actor might make a great reputation, a part like that of Disraeli in Parker's play of that name.

Winning Men From Drink.

THE HAPPY ART OF CATCHING MEN. A Story of Good Samaritanship. By the Rev. R. J. Patterson. New York: George H. Doran company. $1 net.

This is the story of the famous "Catch-my-pal" movement, which has won thousands from drink in England and America.

Mr. Patterson, who tells the story, is its originator and chief apostle. Like many other great movements, it began in an incidental, almost accidental, way. Chaffed by a group of six men, he got them to his home to talk it over. He induced them to "sign the pledge," and each to go out and get a friend to sign the pledge. They did it, and there were twelve. Then the twelve went out and got other twelve, and the twenty-four got twenty-four—and so it spread, wonderfully.

The philosophy of the movement, of course, is that when a man signs the pledge and gets a pal to sign it too, and thereby becomes responsible for him, the responsibility practically insures his sticking. He can't fail, because to do so is to discourage the man whose fight against the drink habit he is watching and abetting.

Curiously enough, Mr. Patterson says repeatedly and quotes the testimony of others to the same effect, that the hardest drinkers have generally proved the best stickers.

It is a wonderful story, and he tells it vividly and interestingly.

Incidentally, it is important to note the author's conclusion, after observing conditions in this country, that while temperance legislation here is far in advance of that in Great Britain, too much stress here "is laid on legislation and too little stress on moral suasion."

There can be no question about this. If it were not so, the nation's drink bill would not increase so steadily despite the great increase in so-called "dry" territory. He touches, here, one of this nation's vices—the habit of passing a law and presuming that that ends the evil at which it is aimed—of laying the whole burden of behavior on law, and then denying law the support of public vigilance, which it cannot have until a public sentiment is first created.

The Heart of a Girl.

THE HEART'S COUNTRY. By Mary Heaton Vorse, author of "The Very Little Person," "The Autobiography of an Elderly Woman," etc. Boston and New York: Houghton Mifflin company. $1.35 net.

This rarely charming story is a revelation of the heart of a girl—of all girls—from the first instinctive and unrecognized mating thought to life's real experiences, bitter and sweet. It is especially a revelation of the heart of Ellen Payne, a leader in girl pranks and an amazingly frank, open, honest, radiant soul. Ellen and her mother, who were called "do-less" by their prim New England neighbors, were a pair of whimsical, fanciful people misfitting oddly into New England society of a couple of generations ago, but very delightful nevertheless. They were the kind who would be joyful even if it was held wicked to be glad.

Would you know Ellen? Let her introduce herself: "Roberta thinks I am giddy, and feels that she must be good for me. I love Roberta more than any other earthly being besides mamma, but when Roberta tries to be good for me, I am so wicked that I try to be bad for Roberta, and can very easily be so."

And here is Ellen's mother "Your aunt and uncle are right, Ellen, and I suppose I'll have to punish you to satisfy them, but I can't help knowing that you must have had a perfectly wonderful day, and they are few in this world. Don't let your punishment cloud your memory."

It is a story well worth reading, and reading again.

Politics and Society.

This rather unscrupulous but entertaining fictionist never has done better work than in the creation of the characters that make up this story—or series of stories—which first appeared in the Saturday Evening Post. We say "unscrupulous" because it is the least of Mr. Chester's troubles if vice is prosperous and contented in his stories, and therefore tempting.

Jim Fleecer, a city boss; Col. Watterson Blossom, a gentleman of the old school, precise and gallant and "easy," a proper figurehead to lend respectability to graft and never know it; Cordelia Blossom, his beautiful young wife, who can twist him around her finger and does very cunningly; and Mrs. Fleecer, co-conspirator with Cordelia: these are the very vivid and very interesting people who fill the center of the stage. The very diverting stories are about how this strange partnership worked out success for Cordelia's social ambitions and for Fleecer's operations in municipal graft, with some incidental community good very much overpaid for, and some distinction for the colonel. It's "interesting reading."

A Scientific Detective.

THE DREAM DOCTOR. By Arthur B. Reeve, author of "The Silent Bullet," etc. New York: The Hearst International Library company. $1.35 net.

Mr. Reeve some time ago uncovered a good fiction lead, and he is still mining it industriously. The assay of interest holds out pretty well, too.

In these adventures of Craig Kennedy, scientific detective, baffling mysteries are solved with weird precision through the use of marvelous scientific discoveries, mechanical, chemical and psychological.

The author is a cunning absorber of out-of-the-way and curious science, with a faculty for weaving it into fairly good fiction.

Good Ghetto Stories.

WITH THE BEST INTENTION. By Bruno Lessing. New York: Hearst International Library company. $1.35 net.

The hero of these tales is one Lapidowitz, a "schnorrer." A schnorrer is a loafer who applies to the hardest of all jobs—living without labor—more mental energy than would be needed to gain a comfortable living by a moderate amount of real work. There are great possibilities of humor in the character, and Mr. Lessing has made the most of them. The stories, which ran in the Cosmopolitan, are full of human interest with ample realism, romance and pathos.

Logic Simply Treated.

ESSENTIALS OF LOGIC. By William Dinwiddie, L. L. D., chancellor and professor of philosophy, Southwestern Presbyterian university. New York: The Neale Publishing company. $1.40 net.

His treatise is from technicalities and simple throughout, so that it is intelligible to the average reader and student of logic. It is purely a handbook of logic, and so constructed that its usefulness is doubled. It is written in a clear, concise way and in showing the relation between the different parts of theories in logic, the author has made himself easily understood. Hundreds of examples to prove his explanations are introduced.

There are three parts, an explanation of logic and its direct meaning, notions and primary laws of thought. The book should prove a valuable asset to a student of logic.

Among the Magazines.

Theodore Roosevelt's article, which leads the June Scribner, describes "The Headwaters of the Paraguay," and then the trip up a narrower stream with "swirling brown currents" and strange tropical trees densely matted on the banks. The colonel's power of depicting the actual sensations of ascending little rivers in a strange country is vividly shown in this article. He has not only an eye for the great features, but he is a master of the detail which colors the whole picture. There are in the midst of tropical beauties, many discomforts; the thermometer is 107 degs. indoors; there are huge wasps which sting some of the party; there are morasses which they must swim, holding their rifles aloft; there are tangled jungles through which the path must be cut step by step, and pouring torrents of rain—but the little and great annoyances never kill his zest in the adventure. This stage of the journey ends at Sao Luis de Caceres, "the last town we should see before reaching the villages of the Amazon." It is in this absolute wilderness—much of it never penetrated by civilized man—that Col. Roosevelt has been wandering for the past three months. Henry Van Dyke our minister to the Netherlands, has a poem in Western dialect: "How Spring Comes to Shasta Jim," which is, in a way, an answer to Kipling's "Feet of the Young Men."

In the June Woman's Home Companion appear a number of letters and one or two articles containing valuable vacation ideas and suggestions. Among the titles of special interest in this connection are: "Ways and Means of Taking a Vacation"—a collection of letters from various contributors; "Two Foreign Lands in Two Weeks," in which Albert Lee makes a practical suggestion of a trip to St. Pierre on the islands or Miquelon and to Nova Scotia—a trip which can be made by two people in two weeks at a total expense of $124.80; "Ideas for Summer Girls," by Companion readers; and "The Best Nature Books," in which Laura Spencer Porter makes suggestions for reading for June. Of course many other articles are included in the number, such, for example, as "To the Girl Who Wants to Sing," in which Putnam Griswold tells why so many girls fail, who is to blame, what kind of talent is really needed, and where to study to win success; "The World's Greatest Paintings," by Laura Spencer Portor; "The Friends of 'Better Babies'," by Anna Steese Richardson, and "The Safe Deposit Box," by Walter Peet, a physician.

Not only a goodly number of travel articles, but seven stories, and a great many pictures, including full color reproductions of paintings of eighteenth and century colortones, go to fill the 168 pages of the June (travel) number of the Century, the cover of which is a landscape by George Inness, Jr., printed in full colors. Arnold Bennett gives a narrative of personal adventure under the title "From the Log of the Velsa." It seems that his holidays are spent in a small auxiliary sloop in the North sea and in the waters of Holland. The illustrations are painted by his traveling companion, E. A. Rickard. The biographer of Mark Twain, Albert Bigelow Paine, in "The Car That Went Abroad," tells of the successful carrying out of a plan to take the whole Paine family on a European trip in a small automobile at very low cost. "A Painted City of the Spanish Main" is a bit of colorful description by Julius Muller. E. F. Benson, author of "Dodo's Daughter," described "The Dewan-i-Khas, or "Hall of Private Audience," at Delhi. Fiction of the number begins with a graduation-time love story by Maria Thompson Davies called "Digging Up Sam." There follow "The Old Soldier," by Eden Phillpotts, the scene of which is laid in Dartmoor; a story of sentiment, "The Old Road," by Marion Pugh Reed; "Sweet Pea," the tale of a polo pony, by Rodman Gilder; a story of which a negro is the chief character, called "The Ishmaelite," by Elsie Singmaster; a story with a thrill, "The Seventh Glass," by Frederick Arnold Kummer.

A very attractive article in Haper's Magazine for June is "American Holidays: The Sea Shore," by Harrison Rhodes, in which he tells of Bar Harbor, Newport and other noted watering places. The article is accompanied by illustrations in tint by Howard Giles. Mme. de Hegermann-Lindencrone continues her interesting reminiscences, this article being entitled, "A Visit to Royalty and Days with Franz Lizt." "Conquering the Great Rose," by Fanny Bullock Workman, tells of her mountain-climbing experiences. Other notable articles are: "American Contributions to Medical Science," by Burton J. Hendrick; "Some Uses of American Parables," by William M. Sloane; "The First Dictionary of Americanisms," by Thomas R. Lounsbury. The fiction includes the first part of a story by Margaret Deland, "The Harvest of Fear," a continuation of Arnold Bennett's novel, "The Price of Love," and several bright short stories.

The Smart Set for June is a magazine of infinite variety. There are stories of the upper ten and of the submerged tenth; of Michigan Avenue bridge players and Alaskan prospectors of high-spirited, mischievous children and South African fighting men; of dissatisfied wives and deep sea divers; and every one of real dramatic interest and showing nowhere any trace of the artificialities and false conclusions that characterize so much of the conventional magazine fiction. Freeman Tilden's satire on patriotic stump speakers comes at a very timely season now that war is in the air and Memorial Day is at hand. "The Man With a Country" he calls it; and takes occasion to show how easy it is to make a reputation with the masses by making the eagle scream. This man he describes is of the sort who will do anything for his country in time of war but fight. Owen Hatteras, who has made a reputation by his trenchant, satirical comments on men and events in the pages of The Smart Set during the past two years, takes up the subject of bridge playing in this issue and indulges in some remarks that will surprise bridge fiends and raise hope in the breasts of bridge victims. "The Bridge Game—and How I Beat It to a Finish" is the subject of his article.

The May issue of Keramic Studio is without a doubt the most interesting and valuable number the magazine has ever published. It contains two colored supplements, one of "Two Rose Jars," the other a study of "Currants," also an extra eight-page supplement with naturalistic and semi-naturalist designs adapted to ceramic shapes. This issue being the fifteenth anniversary of the Studio, every effort has been made to make it an interesting number. It is the intention to make the eight-page supplement a permanent feature. The student will find the issue replete with designs in black and white and treatment for same.

Ellis Parker Butler, author of "Pigs Is Pigs," has written a new story that deserves the feature position in the current issue of The American Boy. "The Holdup Men" is the title of the tale and it holds a couple of thrills and a number of laughs. "The Gawk," by William Edward Park, is a powerful story of the boy in business with an inspiration for the plodder. "Boss of the River," by Johnston McCulley, and "Casting His Nets," by Walter Scott Story, are fascinating stories of deep-sea fishing adventures on opposite sides of the continent. "Letters From Brother Bill—Varsity Sub," by Walter Kellogg Towers, explain the how and why of baseball in an interesting manner. The boy who wishes to learn to throw curves will find this article particularly attractive.

The May St. Nicholas Magazine is breezy with outdoor articles. Billy Evans, the peerless umpire, continues his series, "Baseball, the Game and Its Players," tells about famous pitchers and their styles, and gives various anecdotes of the greatest twirlers and how they achieve success. Francis Ouimet, the youthful golf champion, advises the beginner to watch the play of the best golfers he can find and to study his own game also. "The Making of a Canoeist" is by E. T. Keyser, an authority on camping. "Nature and Science for Young Folks" includes articles on "conies" (do you know what a conie is?) and on "The White-Tailed Mongoos of Africa." A charming bird story is told in "Peter of the Wild Rose Tree," by Patten Beard.

In the June number of Woman's World there is an article, "The Insurgent Sex," by Bailey Millard, which will be of interest not only to every suffrage worker but to every woman. While evincing much sympathy for the movement in England as well as in America, the writer asks whether women are yet ready to assume the grave responsibilities attached to the coveted privilege of casting the ballot. Especially appropriate for the commencement season is the story, "Their Decennial," by Adelaide Evans, in which two lonesome people, who have returned to college for their class reunion, make it their own reunion. The serial, "At the Three Sorrows," by Alice MacGowan, is continued, and Maude Radford Warren tells the story of a girl who aspired to a career on the stage.

"For Value Received," by Ida Warner MacLean, the complete novelette in June Ainslee's, is a lively, buoyant Western story. The heroine, in her despair at the marriage of his fiancee to a wealthy old man, drowns his rage and grief in a drunken spree, during which he rescues a lad from a beating and pays all his money to have the boy turned over to his keeping. Then he has a problem on his hands. Adventure, romance, humor, charm, and color lead the reader on to the climax. The artist gets full "value received" for his bargain. So does the reader.

In addition to a book-length novel, the Popular Magazine prints ten short stories, and installments of two serials in its first June number. The novel is by Bertrand W. Sinclair, who wrote "North of Fifty-Three." The short stories are by Holworthy Hall, Robert Emmet MacAlarney, Hugh S. Fullerton, Clarence L. Cullen, Elmore Elliliott Peake, George Randolph Chester, Frank E. Evans, Wells Hastings, Richard Washburn Child, and H. Hesketh Prichard. The serials are by W. E. Scutt and E. Phillips Oppenheim.

The June outing is full of information and vacation suggestions for the outdoor man. "Tarpon and the Movies" is an account of Mr. Dimock's trip to the west coast of Florida in the neighborhood of Fort Myers in company with Gifford Pinchot, W. M. Gill and others. He describes their experiences in taking moving pictures of leaping tarpon, and praises tarpon fishing as the king of sports. "What About the Sharp Tail" is an article on the habits and present conditions of the sharp-tail grouse in the northwestern United States and Western Canada. The author shows what the needs are for protection and the value of the bird to sportsmen.

There's a tang and a snap to Lippincott's fiction that not only holds the reader's attention all through, but makes him look forward impatiently to acquiring the next number. For the contents are selected with a view to giving as great a variety as possible. The issue for May is a good example. The complete novel is "Candle-Light," by Dorothea Deakin, long a favorite with magazine readers. "Candle-Light" is one of the most fetching yarns we have ever read. The story is distinctly novel, and very up-to-date, with its aviation and woman's suffrage features. The heroine is a captivating little creature, demure yet audacious. No obvious plot, this. You make up your mind that such a thing is bound to happen, then shortly after you decide that it isn't, but that something else is sure to—and you are fooled again. Of course all turns out satisfactorily, but for some time you can't help being afraid it won't.

"Francisco Villa—The Man of Destiny" is the title of an important article in the June Metropolitan. The author, John Reed, describes the Mexican general as a native genius comparable in his methods to Napoleon. In this number Maurice Maeterlinck concludes his account of the "Elberfeld Horses," the marvelous educated stallions of Germany; Art Young contributes his humorous views of the statesmen at Washington in text and pictures, and Bert Leston Taylor and John T. McCutcheon collaborate in a rhymed prediction called "If Chicago Went Dry." The fiction in the June issue includes a new "Penrod" story by Richard Harding Davis and the beginning of a two-part mystery story by Joseph Conrad. Other story writers are Rupert Hughes, Corra Harris and Louise Dutton. There are eight pages of art features.

The first summer number of Women's stories, dated June 1, is packed from cover to cover with the best type of popular modern fiction. Three big serials and nine short stories make up an unusually promising table of contents, and most of the writers are already familiar to the readers of the magazine.

"When Disaster Comes" is the subject of an interesting group of articles in the May magazine number of The Survey. The range of service by the American Red Cross during times of peace is described most graphically. Ernest P. Bicknell, national director of the Red Cross, describes the different kinds of disasters, stating principles of relief applicable to various emergencies and telling what each community can do for itself. Commander Reginald R. Belknap of the navy tells how emergent and permanent help were brought to the Messina earthquake sufferers; J. Byron Deacon of Pittsburg, writes on a mine disaster and how the mine company applied the principles of workmen's compensation; land relief for sea disaster is described by W. Frank Persons of the New York Charity Organization society with special reference to the Volturno wreck; Miss Edith Grant tells how Omaha applied business methods to tornado relief; lessons from the Mississippi floods are given by R. L. Himes; and Chinese famine relief is described by Guy W. Sarvis.

Was Member of Landing Squad That Captured Mexican City.

Says Mexicans Fired on the American Red Cross Workers.

Women Stood in Doorways While Men Fired From Behind Them.

SHOWING RESULTS OF U. S. S. CHESTER'S FIRE.

Letters describing the Vera Cruz attack, April 22, were received here this week by Chief Quartermaster Erickson of the navy station and Mrs. C. Viken of 1207 North Eighth street, mother of C. A. Viken, an orderly on the U. S. S. South Carolina, who was injured during the first day's battle and who has written here, telling of the attack. The young man visited here last November, during a furlough from active service. He enlisted here and is very well known in Duluth. He wrote the letters on a typewriter, using one hand, as the other was injured.

Viken sent his letter from the U. S. S. South Carolina on May 5, the letter reaching Quartermaster Erickson on Thursday morning. Viken asks for news about Duluth and makes a request in his letter for recent copies of The Herald. He signs his letters, both to Quartermaster Erickson and to his mother, "A Mexican War Veteran."

His letter to Quartermaster Erickson and the account of the Vera Cruz attack follows:

"U. S. S. South Carolina, Vera Cruz, Mex., May 5, 1914.—Dear Shipmate: Most likely you would like to hear from the front and I am sending you herewith an account of the Vera Cruz attack on April 22, when nineteen American sailors were killed and about sixty-five wounded.

"The U. S. S. New York arrived yesterday and she looked like a floating fortress when she steamed into the harbor.

"There is one thing I noticed over in Vera Cruz after our little spat. The dead Mexicans were lying about the streets, and as the others cared nothing about what became of them, hundreds of buzzards could be seen eating the bodies.

"I would greatly appreciate copies of The Duluth Herald, as reading material is very scarce out here. Give my regards to the boys on the Gopher. With good luck.

"C. A. VIKEN."

Story of Attack.

The account follows:

"Our ship steamed into Vera Cruz about 1 o'clock in the morning of April 22, and reveille was sounded at 1:30 a. m. We left the ship at about 3 a. m., and landed under cover of darkness so as to eliminate as much as possible the chances of being hit by the Mexicans, who were hidden on the dock, in shanties and box cars, and kept up a continuous fire. About daylight Ensign Lowry of the Florida took a party of eight men and started to rouse these snipe-shooters out of their holes, but when he finally had them surrounded, they all got down on their knees and prayed for mercy.

"We finally got landed and were massed at the end of the dock in front of the Hotel de Terminal, where we remained until about 7:45 a. m. While we were waiting in this place a spick started to run across a certain street and was caught in the stomach by a machine gun that was on the alert for any stragglers that might try to run our lines. He was dead before he hit the ground, was picked up by the Red Cross corps and carried down to the end of the dock, where he was buried.

Caught in Ambush.

"At about 7:45 a. m. we were called to arms and fell in with our respective companies and mustered; we then advanced toward the southeastern part of the city, where the military academy is located. We were directly in front of the academy when the spicks opened fire on us from the Saint Sebastine hospital at the end of the street, toward which we were marching; then the cadets opened fire from directly above us. When we started to retreat, which was the only thing we could do, we found ourselves completely ambushed, as we were being fired upon from all the windows and house tops on both sides of the street, but were not able to see any of our enemies, as they kept well under cover and only stuck their rifles around the corner, over the edge of house tops and out through the windows, and 'let her blaze.' It was in this skirmish that most of our men were killed and I do not believe that any of them were shot over the sights of a gun, owing to the fact that none of the Mexicans showed their heads so as to take any aim, but merely fired as stated above. We retreated and got under cover of the lighthouse building and some lumber piles which are about 200 yards from these buildings with an entirely open space between the two firing lines, but we were wholly at their mercy as we could not see any of them but had to shoot at the windows and take a chance on hitting any street ones that might happen to be passing from one end of the room to the other.

"The Mexicans in these buildings kept up a heavy fire on us until we got the three-inch artillery into action and at the same time the U. S. S. Chester came to our rescue by opening fire with her five-inch guns on the Mexican naval academy which was doing the heaviest firing and also an ice plant in which many Mexicans sought cover and did a good share of the firing. When we opened fire with our field pieces this fire soon slackened and finally ceased altogether, a boiler in the ice plant was struck by a three-inch shell and exploded killing many Mexicans who were in there and carried away the entire roof, which quelled all firing from this point. A spick came running out of the ice plant and started to pick up something on the street but never returned to the building, as about forty rifle bullets were driven through him.

"Some of our wounded took refuge in the lee of several empty tanks that were lying on the edge of the dock, when they were fired upon by Mexicans who were concealed in barges along the water front, who had loopholes cut near the top of these barges through which they fired. These spicks were captured and killed outright. Two Mexicans lay under a boathouse and commenced firing upon our forces, when they were discovered about fifty men took a shot at them, they were more than mangled. After the firing ceased at this place we advanced due west; we had marched about three blocks when we were checked by fire from windows and house tops directly ahead of us. We stopped, placed our field piece on the corner and proceeded to clean up on the whole block, after which we advanced again. While this firing was going on, about ten of us were sent down to the Greek consulate, which had kept up a steady fire until we hit the building with a couple of three-inch shells, then the inmates rushed to the street waving a large bed sheet as a flag of truce so we went down and placed them under arrest. Some of our men rushed to the balconies on the after side of these buildings and killed five Mexicans who were trying to escape from the rear of this house, and were crawling through the tall grass possibly trying to reach old Fort Santiago, which is about 100 yards to the rear of the consulate.

Rested in Park.

"We then advanced to the Plaza Almeda (a park), where we rested for approximately one hour. While we were at this place an old Mexican was arrested by some of the sailors. He was equipped with a revolver and a basket full of ammunition, about three hundred rounds. He had thrown his rifle away before the sailors got to him. Another spick was caught, one with a wooden leg; we found nothing in the line of fire arms on him until someone suggested that his wooden leg be taken off and searched, which was done, and in it we found a revolver and about 150 rounds of ammunition, but he protested vigorously as to having his leg removed. Some Mexican then opened fire on us from the top of the Cuartel (Mexican military barracks of the Nineteenth regiment, infantry). We at once attacked this place and captured five spicks with two machine guns and four Mauser rifles and 17,000 rounds of ammunition for these fire arms. These men were turned over to the marine detachment in charge of prisoners. The Mexicans made it a hobby to hoist a Red Cross flag on top of their buildings and lie under it and fire on us, knowing that we would not fire at the flag. Nine Mexicans were captured that had been firing on our Red Cross corps, and they were taken down to the sea wall and shot the same afternoon at 3 o'clock.

"At about 1 p. m. same day we took charge of the military barracks and established a headquarters in that place. The barracks had been evacuated the day before by the Mexican soldiers. That evening the entire regiment was sent to the outskirts of the city (west), where they worked most all night digging trenches and preparing for an attack by Gen Maas, which had been rumored about the city. He has not arrived as yet. There were about forty men left in charge of Lieut. Ellyson, regimental ordnance officer, of the South Carolina, to hold the cuartel (barracks) that night against the possible attacks by the Mexicans, but were later reinforced by the Michigan's battalion, which was unexpected, but a great aid in case anything should have happened. I remained at the cuartel as I was an orderly for Lieut. Ellyson. There were at least 2,500 men out at the trenches awaiting the rumored attack. At about 8 a. m. next morning the men in the trenches were relieved by the Michigan's battalion, and marched back to the cuartel with a day's rest in view, but no such luck for a sailor. On this date (22) three more ships arrived and another regiment (third) was organized. About 6 p. m. this day it was discovered that the former occupants (Mexican soldiers) had had several cases of smallpox and other contagious diseases, so we were compelled to evacuate at once and take shelter in the lighthouse building on the Malecon and emigration station alongside, where a new headquarters was established and remained permanent, and is being used for that purpose by the U. S. army at present, except that Gen. Funston has his headquarters in the commandancia, which was the home and headquarters of Gen. Maas before the latter left.

Feared Slaughter.

"It is the general opinion of all that the reason we were fired upon by all the inhabitants was that they thought we were going to destroy the entire city and all of its population, which supposition was wrong, but they were fighting purely in self-defense, as they had been incited by stragglers from the army and ex-policemen to the effect that this was our intention. Everything is running smoothly at this writing, as the city is under martial law, being governed by Gen. Funston.

"Gen. Maas was reinforced by troops from the interior and is now building fortifications facing our lines.

"The U. S. S. Montana sailed for New York this afternoon carrying the dead, who will be honored by a funeral of national character, all of which is due them for their brave and fearless work in the capture of Vera Cruz, where they fell for their country and to save the Stars and Stripes from disgrace by an ignorant class of people.

"Most undoubtedly you are aware of the fact that the sailors have been relieved by the army, so that now we are back on our respective ships, and not much the worse for the so-called war.

"As to our returning to the states, why, that is out of the question; but we will possibly be back for the Christmas holidays, although I hope it will be a little sooner.

"Hoping you are enjoying the very best of health, I remain, sincerely yours,

"C. A. VIKEN.

"A Mexican War Veteran."

Tells of Wound.

In his letter to his mother, Viken tells how he was hurt during the first day's attack on Vera Cruz. He also writes how he wrapped his sister's handkerchief about his neck and wore it while the fighting was on. He wrote to his mother as follows:

"Dear Mother:

"Well, everything is the same as the day after the battle—quiet and peaceful—business is running just as if nothing happened, only the city is under martial law.

"I had to return to the ship the day after I got hurt, on account of my wrist paining so bad, but it is a great deal better now, I am carrying it in a sling and have got it in splints. The first day I was aboard my hand was about four inches thick and ached all the time. The swelling has gone down enough now so this morning they examined it to see if it was broken, but they said that there were no bones fractured and that it would be all right in a couple of weeks.

"The U. S. Army transports came in this morning with about 5,000 soldiers from Galveston, Tex., there were four transports carrying them; they are going to land and relieve the sailors—take charge of the city—so that we can go to Tampico and take that place, that's the way it goes. We do all the dirty work and then the soldiers come along and taks our place while we go and clean up some other hole, but we should worry, what it takes to clean 'em up why the bluejackets have got. The U. S. Army transport "Meade" carried 1,500 men and three other transports carried the rest of them. There is some talk of the U. S. cavalry coming down here. Well, they might be needed all right before we are done dealing with 'Victoriana Huerta.'

Use for Handkerchief.

"That white silk handkerchief that Jennie sent me for a Christmas present, why I never used it until the day we went ashore here, then I tied it around my neck and let it hang down over my chest so that in case I happened to get shot in the chest the silk would follow the bullet in and clean the wound when it was pulled out. Several people complimented me on it being a very good idea, but luckily, I did not need it for that purpose.

"I am glad in one way that our part of it is over with, but I would like to shoot a few more of them sneaking 'Greasers' for they certainly are a low down bunch of dogs. They shoot from any hole that they can without showing themselves, so we did not get a square deal by no means. The total number of dead are seventeen, and the wounded numbered sixty-four. On the Mexican side we could not get a correct estimate, but it was figured as follows: Dead, about 250, wounded about 350 or 400. The Mexicans buried 167 dead in one churchyard. The first day the dead Mexicans were laying about in the streets and nobody seemed to look out for them. Before they were cold the birds (like a buzzard) would fly down and eat them, and tear them to pieces with their claws. These birds would not fly away until we got within about five feet of them and then they would only hop a few feet and come right back again and feast on the bodies. Most always they would pick the eyes out first.

Two Women Killed.

"The second morning when Ellyson and I went out to the front or firing line to see if they had enough ammunition, there was a spickoty lying on the sidewalk with the side of his head knocked out and these big black birds were picking him to out of his head, his feet were tied and he had been dragged along the street for some distance and left there.

"Altogether there were only two Mexican women killed that we could find out, and I guess they were standing in a door so their husbands could shoot over their shoulders. Lots of them did this before we found it out. One spick had a red cross flag flying from the top of his house and he had right under it firing a machine gun. We got him, and he will not fire any more unless its a furnace down below.

"There was another Mexican on top of a water tank firing as fast as he could load his gun. He was firing at a marine who was sitting on the corner of a house-top, when one shot came pretty close why the marine keeled over and the Mexican thought he had killed him so he jumped up with joy, but when he did the marine got him and he fell all the way to the ground about 200 feet or more, just a 'Greaser' spot.

"The first battle we had I was not afraid of anything, but I run just the same as everybody else to get under some cover. I did not have time to think, neither did any of them. They just beat it' which was the best thing we could do. I told myself, 'If I only get killed instantly I won't care, but I do not want to get a leg or arm shot off so I will have to lay and suffer for weeks before I kick off.' The experience was well paid for and I do not want any more. Well just once more in Tampico won't hurt. I do not want to miss that if we go there.

On to Tampico.

"The boys are coming back tomorrow, I think, as the soldiers are here, and then we expect to go to Tampico for the next big battle. I think we will have more trouble in taking that place than we did here, as the city is about seven miles up the river from the sea and if we try to go up with some of the small ships, why the people can let the oil tanks flow into the river and set the oil afire, then where will we be, in the midst of a 'burning hell,' with no chance to turn around on account of the river being so narrow. 'Villa the Rebel,' has that town now and the department thinks that he will turn it over to us without any trouble, because he came in here the other day with a ship, loaded with 900 men and wanted to know if Admiral Fletcher needed any help to take Vera Cruz. He was told that we did not need any help and he was allowed to steam out of the port of Tampico, all other ships (merchant) being held and not allowed to leave until a couple of days later. There was a Norwegian ship lying about fifty yards from the dock during the first skirmish and when we retreated down to the dock this ship fired on us and killed two of our men and then she tried to steam out, but she was stopped before she got outside of the sea-wall. They are still holding her.

"We have got an aeroplane down here now so it will be easy to go out and locate the Mexican troops at any time and watch their movements from such a height that they will not be able to reach these machines with a bullet.

"Everybody wants to make the first liberty in New York saying that we have been away long enough for that, this ship especially. We have not been in New York since May 30, 1913, so it is pretty near time we got a New York liberty.

"With love to all,
"Your loving son,
"ADOLPH."

Senator Boyle Is Busy.

Senator James P. Boyle arrived in Duluth last evening after spending the day in Barnum, Carlton county. The senator was to have spent today in Moose Lake and Carlton, but owing to recent developments changed his schedule and left last night for Hibbing. Today he will motor to points in Itasca county. Senator Boyle will return to Duluth tomorrow, where he will deliver a Memorial day address at the Lester Park M. E. church, under the auspices of the Epworth league.

Back From Fishing Trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Brown and their two sons, Herman, Jr., and Ray, returned today from a successful trout fishing trip on the Gooseberry river. They came back with their limit of the speckled beauties. Herman, Jr., is the "champion" as he caught the two largest fish secured on the trip. One was twenty inches long and the other measured eighteen inches. Herman is only 13 years old, but despite his youth, he is a dyed-in-the-wool disciple of Izaak Walton.

Asks Divorce; Desertion.

Eugene La Rochelle, alleging desertion, started suit in district court for divorce today from Ida La Rochelle to whom he was married May 8, 1902, at Ishpeming, Mich. He claims that she left him Jan. 27, 1913, while they were residing at Cloquet. He asks the custody of their only child.

BAD WATERING ACCOUNTS FOR MANY POOR LAWNS

Washington, May 23.—Bad watering is the cause of almost as many poor lawns as drouths, according to the landscape gardener of the United States department of arriculture. Frequent watering of merely the surface of the grass, makes the roots of the grass grow near the surface, and these roots should be made to grow down as deeply as possible in order to secure a fine lawn that will resist the hottest weather of summer.

The best method of watering the grass is to apply a spray for from 6 to 12 hours, the stream being so gentle that water will not collect in sufficient quantities to run off. The water will then sink down into the soil and the roots will grow to a greater depth. When this method is used, the lawn should not be watered oftener than twice a week and then the ground should be soaked, so that the water penetrates for several inches beneath the surface. As a general rule, watering once a week is sufficient to keep a lawn in good condition.

The man who enjoys watering his lawn in the evening for a half hour after returning from work will probably prefer this method to leaving the stream on for a number of hours once a week. If he will divide his lawn area in six parts and confine his attention to a different part each evening, he will obtain practically the same results in the long run. Haphazard watering every evening is not advisable. He should be careful, also to use merely a gentle spray, and not continue watering to such an extent that water runs off, as such water does no good. In fact, it may do harm, for it may remove loose dirt from the grass roots and expose them to drouth. The strong stream of a hose should not be used, as it helps to expose the roots unnecessarily.

Many people wonder why drouth dries up their lawns in July after they have taken what they consider to be good care of them. The combination of hot winds and dry weather makes July undoubtedly, the hardest month for lawns, and when the roots of the grass are encouraged to grow near the surface by bad watering, and the loose dirt is also removed from them by a hose of strong water power, the results are more disastrous than if the lawn had been left alone.

WASH DAY IN THE "JUNGLE"

Today was wash day for Duluth's unemployed, and the lake front was decorated with lines of clothes just taken from a bath in the waters of Lake Superior. If the unemployed are too poor this year to buy a straw lid for the official opening, they will at least present a clean and spotless front.

The lake front and the foundations of the old dock east of Dock No. 4 were practically all occupied by the unemployed today. The smoke of the campfires, scattered here and there, and at least a score of clothes lines with the garments fluttering in the breeze, gave the "jungles" the appearance of a gypsy camp. Workmen about the docks said today that the unemployed not only defy the laundryman, but also scorn the Turkish bath parlors, finding the cool waters along the lake front ideal for a plunge. The plunges are taken early in the morning and are said to be quite general among the men of the jungles.

The pitching of horseshoes has died down somewhat during the last few days, and card-playing while trying a sun bath offers no mean entertainment.

When the sun gets too warm, say about noon the men crawl under the elevated sidewalks along Michigan street, and take a nap. A long row of feet was seen projecting from under the walk today.

Superior

KEEP PIGS IN BASEMENT.

Health Department Will Investigate Neighbors' Complaints.

Using basements for pig pens is the new use to which some Superior residents have put them, according to complaints received yesterday by Dr. C. M. Gould, city physician. A woman reported that all of her neighbors were using their basements for this purpose and some who had no basements were putting in some that were to be used for this purpose.

The health department will investigate, and if it finds the reports correct, will prosecute under the ordinance which forbids pigstys being located within 100 feet of a dwelling.

Vasa Order to Convene.

The district convention of the Vasa order will open in Superior tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. The convention will be in session for two days. Andrew Borngren of Duluth is district master of the lodge and will make the principal address tomorrow.

Large Permits Issued.

Building permits calling for expenditures of $11,000 were issued yesterday by Fire Chief Johnson. One permit for a $6,000 flat building and two for the construction of frame dwellings to cost $2,500 each were issued.

FORGERY IS LAID TO MANUFACTURER

Chicago, May 23.—Samuel Hanna, formerly president of the Hanna & Breckenridge company, machinery makers of Fort Wayne, which went into bankruptcy some months ago, was arrested here yesterday on warrants charging forgery and perjury. The warrant on the forgery charge was sworn out by the Hamilton National bank of Fort Wayne, more than $18,000 being involved, it was said. Hanna waived examination and was turned over to Sheriff Gladiuex of Fort Wayne. He was taken back to Indiana.

Forged Orders.

Fort Wayne, Ind., May 23.—Samuel Hanna, arrested in Chicago on a warrant issued here, is alleged to have secured $150,000 from local banks through forged orders for goods which were used as collateral. Hanna was president of the Hanna-Breckenridge company, manufacturers of machinery, which failed here six months ago, causing a loss estimated at about $400,000 to its creditors.

INSPECTION TRIP TO WESTERN SUBURBS

Commissioners Murchison and Hicken made an inspection trip to the western end of the city this morning. They viewed the new culvert which is being built under the bridge at Forty-third avenue west and Oneota street. When the culvert is completed the bridge will be replaced with a fill. Some of the material from West Superior street, which is being paved between Fifteenth and Thirtieth avenues west, is being hauled there now.

The commissioners looked over the paving job. Concrete is being laid on the lower side. The work is progressing rapidly and the officials expressed themselves as well pleased with it. Commissioner Murchison made several other calls during the morning in answer to minor complaints or requests for small improvements which have been made.

Fitzsimmons Sued for Divorce.

Chicago, May 23.—Robert Fitzsimmon, formen world's champion heavyweight pugilist, was sued for divorce today in the circuit court by Mrs. Julia Fitzsimmons, who charged that he had treated her with extreme cruelty since their marriage in San Francisco in 1903.

WHOLE GARRISON IS PUT TO DEATH

Washington, May 23.—Mexico City dispatches to diplomatic sources here today reported that when Constitutionalist troops captured Tepic several days ago they put to death the entire Federal garrison of 300 officers and men. The dispatches also confirmed reports that Gen. Obregon's forces were hastening on to Guadalajara and that there was great apprehension among foreigners in that city. Bandits from the mountains were reported to be menacing the city.

ASHLAND COLLEGE HEAD RESIGNS.

STAGELAND

Lyceum

Tonight will close the first week of the Baldwin Players' summer engagement, when the beautiful production of "The Spendthrift" will be presented for the last time.

Commencing tomorrow (Sunday) matinee, the Baldwin Players will present for the second week of their summer season an elaborate production of Paul Armstrong's great American play, "Alias Jimmy Valentine." Theatrical interest centers deeply in this forthcoming engagement of one of the surest hits in a decade. This remarkable play ran for two years at the Wallack theater in New York and has met with the same pronounced success in other cities. It has established a remarkable record for crowded houses and delighted audiences wherever produced.

The leading character is a professional safe-breaker who has trained his finger tips to such a degree of sensitiveness that he can detect the fall of the levers in a safe or a vault by his sense of touch, thus being able to open them regardless of his ignorance of the combinations. The first act finds this trained criminal in Sing Sing prison, where a fortunate train of circumstances wins for him the gubernatorial pardon, and also puts him on the straight road to reform. Through the kindness of influential friends whom he has been able to benefit, this former bank-looter is given a responsible position in a national bank. There, by honest and efficient service, he soon works his way near the top of the ladder, when a child having been accidentally shut in a new vault, the combination of which has not yet been determined, he is forced to choose between saving a life or preserving a secret. The play is founded on a short story by the late O. Henry called "A Retrieved Reformation." It is written in the straightforward manner of all Paul Armstrong's plays, and is the most successful that prolific author ever wrote, which, considering that "The Heir to the Hoorah," "Salomy Jane," "The Deep Purple," "The Greyhound" and "The Escape" came from his pen, is a statement to which much weight is to be attached.

The play will be cast to the full strength of the company. Charles W. Dingle, the popular leading man, will appear in the title role, Jimmy Valentine; Walter S. Baldwin, Jr., as Red Joslyn, "Valentine's" pal; Joseph De Stefani as Bill Avery; Miss Lois May, the charming leading lady, as "Rose Lane," the girl who brings about Valentine's reformation; Miss Dolle Gray as "Bobby." Miss Melville, Miss Keers, Mr. Callender and others go to make up a strong list of players. Additional interest will be centered in this the first appearance of Walter S. Baldwin, Sr., who will appear as Doyle, one of the most prominent characters in the play, whose performance will no doubt add greatly to the strength of an already excellent cast.

The stage settings and other preparations have been under the careful supervision of Director Baldwin, and a clever, clean and magnificently staged production is promised. Especially is this so of the famous fourth act, showing the wonderful vault scene where a child, in gravest danger, is rescued by the skill of "Alias Jimmy Valentine."

This play will continue the entire week, with matinees Sunday, Wednesday and Saturday.

Seats are on sale at the Lyceum box office for the entire week. The same prices will prevail.

MURRAY K. HILL,
Monologist at the Empress Monday.

AT EMPRESS

"Believe Me," the musical satire, with Billy Clifford, will be at the Empress for tonight two shows and the three shows tomorrow, Sunday.

The show is an excellent attraction containing a wide array of talent. In the comedy portion of the show, Billy Clifford stands to the fore. In the singing line, Edwin Clifford, with his sweet baritone voice, is easily the favorite, while all honors for instrumental numbers go to the three Weston sisters. Miss Collins is a very versatile member of the "Believe Me" organization, doing many fancy dances and singing many of the catchy songs. The plot of "Believe Me," if you could really call it a plot, shows a scene at a party, at which all guests are called upon to deliver some song, dance or recitation. This arrangement gives the members of the Billy Clifford company excellent opportunity to show their talents.

The new show which will open at the Empress Monday matinee, May 25, includes Walsh and Bentley, who are billed as "The Bell Boy and the Athlete." Their offering is an acrobatic novelty.

Menlo Moore's rah rah boys will also appear. This act is one of the most pretentious acts in vaudeville. It is of the typical girl and boy variety, only far ahead of anything else Mr. Moore has presented.

Murray K. Hill, a merry monologist, will entertain. Mr. Hill has talked himself into fame and fortune in the Edison phonograph. Everyone who has ever owned one of these machines has heard of Murray K. Hill.

The big feature of the show will be "The Aeroplane Girl," who will sail over the audience in a 14-foot biplane. This act has been a sensation wherever it has appeared, and local theatergoers are eagerly waiting to see it.

THE SAFE SCENE
In "Alias Jimmy Valentine" at the Lyceum All Next Week.

AT THE REX

The fifth installment of "Lucille Love," coming to the Rex Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday promises to be a sensation.

The Girl of Mystery in her flight to the coast finds a forgotten and lost city inhabited by a race of men similar to monkeys but with many features which closely ally them to the human race. At first they are as afraid of her as she is of them. But they gather courage and pursue her to the throne of the Monkey King. She is rescued only to find the spy, Loubeque, in close pursuit. Some wonderful adventures that grip and hold, follow.

"Our Mutual Girl" returned to New York a week earlier than expected and rumor says the reason was that Bob King, her sweetheart, was called by important business back to the city. Mrs. Knickerbocker, Aunty and Margaret attend the season's success "Sari." Margaret and Aunty fall in love with Mizzi Hajos in the leading role and they admire Charles Meaking who played opposite Mizzi Hajos. Chapter eighteen will be seen at the Rex Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Weekly No. 114 takes up all the big events of the week, and deals with the Mexican question in a very interesting way. Brock's cartoonist, Royalty and Fine Feathers, all lend themselves to the newsy camera man.

"S" stands for Sterling and Sterling, he advertises, stands for the most laughable in the comedy world. "Caught in a Cabaret" will be one of his productions at the Rex Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Daniel Frohman's famous stock company will play Sir Walter Scott's immortal masterpiece "The Heart of Midlothian" or a "Woman's Triumph," a story that lays bare the heart and noble soul of a courageous woman. The story opens with Jeanie and Effie Deans, the two daughters of old David Deans, a thrifty Scotchman and strict church member. Jeanie is steady, calm and noble and unaffected in dress and manner, while little Effie is just the opposite, flighty, gay, fond of finery and flirtations. These are the faults that cause Effie, Jeanie, the strict old father and wayward lover to drink the very bitterest dregs of disgrace and sorrow.

AT THE SUNBEAM

The people of Duluth will have the opportunity on Monday and Tuesday of next week of catching the first glimpse of the capture of Vera Cruz by the American forces when the Pathe Weekly showing the views of this attack that so greatly stirred the American people will be shown at the Sunbeam theater. Probably no other photographer was able to get the splendid views as was the camera man employed by the Pathe Freres company who was in the first boat that landed at Vera Cruz from the warships in the harbor and who followed the brave marines up the street in their attack on the city. One American marine was killed and four wounded right before the eyes of the camera man and the pictures also show in realistic form the great damage done to the buildings in the city by the sharpshooters from the American gunboats who assisted the marines in the capture of the port. While the public has been informed through the medium of the newspapers about the wonderful fighting of the American bluejackets and the heroism displayed in behalf of the Stars and Stripes yet it remains for the motion pictures to show in graphic form the capture of Vera Cruz as ordered by President Wilson when Huerta refused to salute the Stars and Stripes.

For tomorrow Manager Parker of the Sunbeam has secured a very fine war picture showing the "Man of the Hour" who is the American soldier in the time of peace and the careful preparation that they must undergo to fit themselves for war. One reel treats of the infantry showing the progress made by the recruit from the time he joins the army. The other reels picture the firing of the big guns and the training of the calvarymen who are notably good shots but who are equally famed as daring and skillful riders.

GOSSIP OF THE RIALTO

The Standard, the playhouse at the corner of Nineteeth and Broadway, New York, will be under the direction of John Cort, when it is completed. The opening will take place Sept. 5. Laurette Taylor in "Peg o' My Heart" being the booking for the first week. One dollar top price will be charged for seats.

Irene Fenwick will be under the management of Charles Frohman next season.

Otis Skinner has closed his tour in "Kismet." It is said that he will not be seen in the play next season and also that he will not be under the management of Klaw & Erlanger.

Reinhardt recently gave "The Miracle" its opening production in Berlin. According to reports, it was a big success.

"The Holy City," a Biblical play by Thomas W. Broadhurst, has been produced in London.

Rumor gives many reasons for the retirement of Mary Garden from the roster of the Chicago Grand Opera company. Some claim that she was "fired" by Director Campanini. Others say that she eliminated herself because she was refused a raise in salary.

According to the irrepressible Eva herself, Miss Tanquay's show next season will consist of a series of sketches under the collective title, "An Evening With Eva Tanquay." She will appear in each and every one in person, and they will be written around actual incidents in the life of the nonchalant one.

Howard Thurston, the magician, and his wife have been legally separated by the superior court of Bridgeport, Conn. A prominent Pittsburg physician was named in the case by Thurston, and the latter's claim was upheld by the court.

Former Mayor Shank's example threatens to create a precedent if the reports that Lieutenant Governor Barrett O'Hara, of the commonwealth of Illinois, is seeking either fame or notoriety on the vaudeville stage be true.

It is a case of "tit for tat" between the two big burlesque wheels as to Charles Robinson and Andy Lewis. Robinson goes to the Columbus circuit and Lewis to the Progressives.

"The New Henrietta" closed its season in Toronto last week. Fairbanks will start in on a season of vaudeville tomorrow.

A suit has been started by Edward Abeles against Alfred Hamburger in Chicago. It is for the sum of $50,000, Hamburger having "placed Abeles open to ridicule" by billing him as an "actor" instead of a "star."

Pavlowa will next season include the modern society dances in her repertoire, according to an announcement just made.

The following complete list of stars who will be members in the new edition of the "Follies" has been given out: Leon Errol, Vera Michelena, Cecelia Wright, Ed Wynn, Louise Myers, C. Morton Horne, Stella Cratelaine, Gertrude Vanderbilt, George McKay, Cora Tracy, Anna Pennington, J. Bernard Dyllyn, Herbert Clifton, Kay Laurell, Peter Swift, Charles Scribner and Bert A. Williams. The new revue will receive its first presentation June 1 at the New Amsterdam theater, New York.

Frank Craven, who is now appearing in New York in his own very successful play, "Too Many Crooks," was recently married to Mazie B. Daly. She was the former wife of the well-known Arnold Daly, from whom she had been divorced twice.

The Schuberts have secured the American rights to "The Sloping Path," a London novelty sensation.

It is stated that the Chicago Grand Opera company will considerably lower its range of prices for seats next season.

"The Man Who Would Live" ended its short career at Chicago a week ago last night. This play was seen at the Grand several weeks ago.

A novel feature of the Lamb's All-Star Gambol, to be presented at Music hall Tuesday night, May 26, will be the motion picture monologue of Burton Holmes, the world's travelogue king. Mr. Holmes' reel of pictures was made especially for this occasion, and depicts the life off stage of this country's greatest theatrical stars.

THE PRICE OF A PENCIL

By C. M. GOETHE.

(Exclusive Service The Survey Press Bureau.)

Could a reporter's pencil write a story of its own? It has one that ought to be told.

Running through the southern states is a belt of cedar. From these trees were split the rails which last nearly a century. The rail fences are as much characteristic of the South as are the log cabins, the beautiful colonial homes of the young days of the republic, the famous singing of the plantation negroes and their banjo music. But the rail fence is passing. It is being made into high grade lead pencils. This conversion from fences to lead pencils unfortunately includes a story of exploited people—recreation hungry and easily imposed upon.

There are perhaps a dozen pencil mills in the South. The owners buy the fences, paying part cash and part in a wire fence. The product is shipped abroad to Austria, Germany, Belgium, where the graphite is pressed into the cedar strips and the finished pencils are made. Recently Japan has become a competitor of Europe and a customer of the Southern mills.

Upon an upper floor of a pencil mill the jigsaw men work. The air is as ruddy as if rusty snow were falling. "A generation ago we never had a death from consumption in our county. Recently we have recorded sixty odd deaths. We do not know the cause," said a betterment worker in one of the pencil mill sections.

The men are employed under the piece work system. They have no labor unions. They work much longer than the eight-hour day some of us believe is ideal. But they also work under conditions which seem dangerous. The cedar rails are reduced to pencil lengths. Then the jig-sawyers cut them into slabs the width of a lead pencil. With unprotected circular saws, this means holding fingers uncomfortably close. In answer to the question, how many men were cut, came: "About one every other day."

The strips drop from the circular saws to a lower floor. Here girls sort and classify them. Some of these girls wear dresses only to their knees. They look as if they ought to be at school or playground. The atmosphere is little, if any, less dusty than at the jigsaw floor. The workers are red with the fine sawdust. A new comer can hardly breathe in it. The hands are "speeded up" so that one is forcibly reminded of Jurgis in the jungle. One sees them in all stages—from the plump, rosy-cheeked beginner just in from the farm to the gaunt, stoop-shouldered, hollow chested woman, a pale-faced nervous wreck.

Going into the mill, one stumbles over cases of bottles of a certain "soft drink" stimulant, manufactured in the South. Evidently much is consumed. It is carried up and down the rows of workers. A short conversation with a young fellow of the type known as "the cadet," waiting at the mill door near the closing hour brought out this bit of philosophy. "Everybody's got their own peculiar graft in this yere world, stranger. I've got mine and I reckon you've got your'n. The foreman here's got the ——— graft," (naming the above "soft drink.") "His nephew totes the stuff to the girls and the men. They sign cards just like at your swell city clubs. He never loses a picayune—he takes it outer their pay. He says it's healthy, and it makes them work better, but I reckon all he worries about is the health of his bank account."

One of the floor bosses, when asked about labor unions, said: "You bet we ain't got any here. We've got labor we can handle. We won't hire anybody raised in a town. We get 'em from the farms—back in the mountains—the kind wot's hungry for a good time. That kind will stand for pretty near anything." It was the old story of recreation hunger.

But the saddest of all was to come. Jane Addams once advised going to where the day's work was ending if one wanted to understand where the real trial came to the underpaid and overworked woman worker. The week's work was almost over at the pencil mill. At the time clock shed door stood several young fellows of the parasitica type. As the girls streamed out one of these vultures stepped up and took the arm of a pretty brown-eyed, rosy-cheeked girl. They were starting off together when another mill girl said to the fellow: "Bill, you ain't got no right to go off this way with Belle. You've got a wife and a baby." "Oh, Hell," was Bill's answer, "I don't care if you do tell her. Belle here looks pretty good to me."

Another chap stepped up to a wan-looking, coughing girl, who exclaimed with a startled look, "What, you here again! Ain't I got enough to rack me with the work in that mill all week without you coming to hound me when I'm all tired out? Please go away and leave me alone." There was a low conversation for a moment. They went off together.

And this, because of our way of doing things, is the price of a lead pencil!

AGAINST COMPULSORY VACCINATION

Widespread Opposition in Germany—Thirty-Two Deaths Caused By the Practice in Prussia in 1912.

Berlin, May 23.—A discussion in the reichstag has just shown that there is widespread opposition in Germany to compulsory vaccination. On a motion to appoint a commission composed equally of friends and opponents of vaccination for the purpose of studying the whole question, party lines were completely obliterated, and the motion failed only by a tie vote. It was brought forward in answer to numerous petitions for a change in the present law, which has been in force for forty years.

The anti-vaccinationists claimed that hundreds of cases occur where health is injured by the practice, and it was pointed out that the official statistics show that thirty-two deaths were thus caused in Prussia in 1912. They further asserted that managers of stations for obtaining lymph from calves have themselves admitted the impossibility of getting a pure lymph in all cases. The German law does not provide for compulsory vaccination, but the police authorities have everywhere construed it as giving them the right to require vaccination, and when it becomes necessary they use compulsion. The representative of the imperial health office, however, said that there were only eight or nine cases yearly where compulsion was necessary.

A Socialist speaker claimed that some parents have been punished five or six times for refusing to have their children vaccinated, and some of them were sent to prison. Hundreds of thousands of people in Germany, he added, have to act contrary to their conscience in having their children vaccinated, and the example of England, where a conscience clause was adopted some years ago, was held up for imitation by Germany. The case of Italy was also pointed out as worthy of study, it was asserted that vaccination is nowhere practiced so extensively as in that country, and yet nowhere is smallpox so frequent. Dr. Kirchner of the imperial health office answered all this by displaying a statistical table showing a steady reduction in smallpox cases since the present law was passed.

KILLED BY WIND OF PASSING PROJECTILES.

Paris, May 23.—Curious confirmation of the belief that men can be killed and wounded by the wind of passing projectiles was given in a paper by Prof. Laurent of Brussels, read recently before the French Academy of Science.

M. Laurent declared that several cases had come under his notice during the Balkan wars of soldiers who showed symptoms of cerebro-spinal disturbance, though they had no wound of any kind. The symptoms were fainting, a tingling sensation and even partial paralysis. In the more serious cases the victims became cataleptic. Sometimes death resulted. In the latter cases autopsies were performed which failed to show any nervous lesions. It then appeared to Prof. Laurent that the vibrations of air produced by the passage of a ball and the sudden variations of atmospheric pressure affected the nerve cells and caused the phenomena of inhibition. Prof. Laurent recalled that during the war in Manchuria Dr. Matignon had also observed nervous inhibition produced by cannon balls. Since the speed of modern projectiles has been increased and they have become more important to warfare, Prof. Laurent looks for a larger number of cases of the kind indicated during conflict.

Argentina has imported a number of camels from the Canary Islands for experiment for agricultural purposes in regions not suited to horses or oxen.

A MOTHER'S LETTER

"My little girl's life was saved by Father John's Medicine. My husband, baby and I, all use it. It builds us up, cures our colds and keeps us strong."

FOURTH INTERNATIONAL 500-MILE RACE

Ralph De Palma Who Lost 1912 Event in Heart-Breaking Style Has Entered—Records Are Expected to Be Broken.

Indianapolis, May 23.—Ralph de Palma, with his new six-cylinder aviation motor Mercedes, was scheduled to arrive in Indianapolis today, to mingle his exhaust with that of Goux, Boillot, Wishart, Pullen and other stars already present for the next international 500-mile race on the motor speedway, May 30.

This will make De Palma's fourth attempt to cop the famous classic, one of his efforts, that of 1912, being recorded in history as the most tragic episode of the automobile racing game. When but seven miles from the finish, a sardonic motor played him false and victory was turned to defeat in the twinkling of an eye.

With typical courage, however, De Palma has completely brushed aside the memory of his misfortune, and now is preparing to try again with cool and even temperament. His presence, incidentally, warrants the assumption that the existing speedway record of 78.7 miles an hour will be broken, as in 1912, while leading, he maintained an average of 82.2 all the way.

All of the drivers practicing on the speedway today have been showing literally sensational bursts of speed. Bollot of Peugeot, in the van. This stockly little Frenchman, champion of Europe, has been sending his blue flier around the course at a truly terrific clip, being forced to shut down his motor long before reaching the turns. The music of his engine is a delight to the practiced ear, each cylinder hitting as smoothly and evenly as a trip hammer.

New York, May 23.—Jean Chassagne, holder of the world's hour record; Arthur Duray, who traveled a kilometer in the record speed of 143.9; Albert Guyot, runner-up in the Grand Prix of Le Mans last year; Rene Thomas, his teammate, known as the Parisian acrobat, and Josef Christiaens, Belgium's crack driver, were scheduled to arrive in New York today on the Provence, en route to Indianapolis for the next 500-mile race, May 30, in which they are to compete for the international speedway championship.

They are accompanied by W. F. Bradley, foreign representative of the speedway, who is acting as their business agent and interpreter. Their cars, Sunbeam, Peugeot, Delage and Excelsior, respectively, were shipped to the course several days ago, so that they will be able to renort for practice almost immediately. The short time remaining them makes it imperative that they get busy at once, consequently it is not thought they will dally much on the way.

Detroit, Mich., May 23.—No rider in the great race for a fortune, the Indianapolis 500-mile race, will have more loyal support from club mates than will Arthur Klein of the Wolverine Automobile club of Detroit. Young Mr. Klein, undoubtedly the youngest driver in the race, will appear in Wolverine Automobile club colors as to suit and car and the maize and blue will predominate with him. The Detroit organization is loyal to its members and is going to the race 1,000 strong at least and probably stronger. Several hundred members will go to the Hoosier capital by special trains and several hundred more will go as members of the annual touring party of the club and also members of the first annual tour of the Detroit Cyclecar club. Hundreds more will travel by road from the automobile hub to the speedway. The Wolverino Automobile club has annually taken the choicest block of seats at the race, located right in the main grandstand and along the tape. This year the club took 500 of these choice seats and all will be filled. The annual tour of the organization has always been a success and will this year be an even greater success than at any previous time for the reason that the club is so ably represented in the contest. Klein is popular with his club mates, owing to his extreme modesty and there is the greatest confidence in the King car constructed under his eye and embodying features which have made the King famous. Klein, while a youth, has had long experience in the automobile field and many of the points gained in work on racing cars of the past and in driving fast cars have been embodied in the King car.

NEW KISSELS HAVE ONLY TWO DOORS

Company Managers Expect to Revolutionize Car Construction.

One of the most significant announcements of the year in the automobile industry is the introduction by the Kissel Motor Car company of a two-door body as a standard construction. This revolutionary style is offered as an optional feature of the new Kissel Kar 48-"Six," known as series B.

For several months the Kissels have been building this body type on special order, and with such increasing success that it was decided to manufacture it in quantity. The two-door body is very handsome, giving the car a notable distinction as well as grace and smartness. It is a perfect, unbroken stream line from the bow of the bonnet to "midships." Both driver and passengers enter the tonneau from 26-inch doors set at the rear on either side of the car. The front seats are individual and between them is an eight inch aisle permitting free passage from the rear. Both a four and five passenger model is offered, the rear seats in the four passenger being separated by an arm. The upholstery is of very rich long grain hand buffed leather and the lining of the body throughout is of the same material.

By those who recall how completely and quickly the introduction of the four door type supplanted the old "open front" automobile, a repetition of history is predicted. It is pointed out that while the four door served no purpose except to beautify the lines of the car, the two-door style offers improved comfort and convenience as well as a better appearance.

The Series B Kissel Kar 48-"Six" also offers the conventional four doors in a new seven passenger body with disappearing seats. Mechanically the car has improved features, including a motor for which much is claimed from the standpoints of both power and economy.

In the many striking points of the new 8-"Six" two of particular note, affect the accessibility of parts for purposes of adjustment and repair. One of these that should win great appreciation from motorists is a special construction that places the push rod inside the valve enclosure, for the first time making it possible to remove this member without lifting the cylinders from the crank case. Another is the centralization of all electric wires on a control panel attached to the front of the dash. By this method all electrical trouble can be instantly located without disturbing a part and the body removed without cutting a wire.

The new 48 "Six" is an extremely classy car and with the two-door body will unquestionably attract wide attention.

HAND OF CAUTION PUT ON DRIVERS

Must Have New Parts for Motors Upon Entering Sioux City Course.

Sioux City, Ia., May 23.—The characteristic dare-deviltry of motor drivers will be modified by the restraining hand of caution when the speedboys of the rubber tire go on the fast two-mile dirt track of the Sioux City speedway the first four days of next July. While not presuming to set any speed limits on the entrants in the classic 300-mile event of July 4, the speedway association will join the Indianapolis speedway management in insisting on an enforcement of the rule that motor parts particularly subject to wear and tear must be new within two days before the event is run. While this is easily and readily done by the American drivers, foreigners are disposed to take the rule rather lightly and to hope it will not be enforced. They are likely this time to be required to submit to exactly the same requirements in this connection that Americans do.

The foreigners, however, will get some consolation if the arrangements can be made that are being proposed to get from the European racing authorities permission for drivers to use their European numbers in the racing here as well as the numbers assigned by the A. A. A. If this is arranged, the records made on the Sioux City track will stand also in continental circles.

While a few entries have already been made for the July races, the Sioux City speedway management does not expect forfeits to be posted in any large number until after the Indianapolis races the last of this month. This is owing to the fact that owners do not care to make entries and post money for one race until they are sure their drivers come out all in one piece and the cars are still in shape to go. Big races are hard and grilling and always subject to accident, even under the most favorable circumstances. Manager T. R. Schultz is confident that when the Memorial day events are over, a large majority of the cars that show class will be speedily entered for the Sioux City events and sent here at once for trials.

AUTOS USED IN MEXICO.

Play Big Role in War Below the Border.

The work that the automobile is doing in the civil war in Mexico is attracting the attention of military engineers the world over, and it is safe to say that the lessons learned from the experience with the motor car there will, to a great extent, determine its status in modern campaigns, should some conflict break out between the big powers.

In the present revolution in Mexico, where the wires are kept hot with news of battles, sieges, marches and retreats, the motor car is playing a big role; in fact, it is safe to say the biggest part that has ever been enacted by automobile up to date in this line of work, though their use in warfare has been tried on a limited scale in a number of recent wars. Both the Federals and Constitutionalists have a number of Cadillacs in service and, judging by the repeated orders that are arriving at the factory, they must be making goods in the war-torn Southern republic.

enerals Carranza and Villa both have Cadillacs in service in their armies that have made and are making trips calling for the highest qualities of power, adaptability to any road conditions, and sterling wearing features, and it speaks volumes for these American cars that they have gone through such nerve-racking tests again and again, making splendid time over almost impassable roads and trails.

FAULTY LUBRICATION COSTLY.

Grease and Oil Very Essential to Car, Says Peacha.

"One-half the troubles experienced by drivers of motor cars are due to defective lubrication," says Joseph T. Peacha, Jr., local Overland distributor.

"Not because the amateur drivers of automobiles lack intelligence, but because, as a general rule, they are people unfamiliar with machinery. Lubrication is the most neglected phase of automobile care.

"And this in spite of the fact that lubrication is really the most important item in keeping a motor car in good running order. Grease and oil have two main functions in any piece of machinery. First, to overcome undue friction; second, to keep the rapidly moving parts cooled.

"If you fail to lubricate your car you will probably get squeaks, but more important, you will get a loss of power, and if you neglect lubrication too greatly the motor will absolutely cease to perform its function.

"A little system will insure that every part which needs lubrication receives it regularly. Once each day, or about every 100 miles, the crank-case should be examined to insure that oil comes up to the level of the top try cock. Simply add new motor oil whenever the oil level falls below this point.

"The steering gear knuckle grease cups and steering cross rod grease cups should each receive one complete turn. All spring bolt grease cups should get a couple of complete turns each day. The springs take the entire jolting of the car. Squeaks develop in them very rapidly, so their lubrication is highly important."

New Cole Model.

Standardization has struck its most effective blow in the announcement contained in a statement from the Cole Motor Car company, Indianapolis, Ind., that they are announcing a quality four-cylinder model at a price heretofore believed to have been impossible.

The statement issued by President J. J. Cole says: "After mature deliberation and experimentation, the Cole Motor Car company will market a four-cylinder Standardized Cole for $1,6650 f. o. b., Indianapolis. The car has been improved in many respects over the series nine four-cylinder Cole; but the ten-four, as the new model is called, will in no way be inferior in quality to the series nine-four. The standard parts on the Cole standardization roll of honor will be found in the new four-cylinder Cole."

This statement from the office of Mr. Cole, which has been received by Mr. Johnson, the local Cole representative, is supplanted by another important statement from the office of Chief Engineer Charles S. Crawford of the Cole Motor Car company, as follows: "Without attacking any of the vital parts of the Cole four-cylinder car, this department has been able to lighten the model ten-four Cole over 300 pounds. In our tests over give and take roads the new model, with the Stewart Warner Vacuum gasoline control, developed extraordinary fuel economy. I am prepared to tell you that the average automobile owner should easily get an average of seventeen miles to the gallon of gasoline on the new model ten-four Cole."

In connection with these two statements, according to facts received here about the new Cole model, it is said that the Cole people have thoroughly proved their standardization theory and automobile manufacturing is on the verge of being revolutionized by standardization.

The body on the new Cole quality four has been lengthened four inches. Side lights have been removed from the car and double bulb front lights replace them. This is a unique feature that is appreciated by the motorist and fully complies with the dimmer law which is becoming generally effective all over the country, to eliminate the use of head lights in the city.

The new car is painted a beautiful dark, rich Brewster green. Not one of the single comforts in the series nine-four, which sold for several hundred dollars more, has been molested, in fact they have been improved in the new Cole model.

SAFETY FIRST ADVICE

Along the line of the Safety First movement that is spreading throughout the country, here are some good instructions for school children and then some for the motorists to always observe:

1. "Keep on the sidewalk.
2. "Cross the street on the cross walk.
3. "Look up and down the street before you cross.
4. "Don't play in the street.
5. "Don't 'catch on' teams or wagons or cars, or run in the street behind them.
6. "Don't jump out into the street from behind teams or automobiles.
7. "Before stepping off any street conveyance, look up and down the street.
8. "Remember that the street is a place of danger; the sidewalk is the place for children 'on foot.'"

1. "Safety should ever be your first consideration.
2. "Remember that the other fellow may do the very thing that you do not expect him to do.
3. "Every cross street and every highway intersection is a dangerous spot.
4. "Every trolley car or other highway conveyance that is stopped, coming to a stop, or just starting, is a source of danger.
5. "Slow down and stop when in doubt.
6. "See to it that your brakes are always in good working order.
7. "Be cautious about forcing your way through a crowd.
8. "Your horn is a danger signal and its unnecessary use is unlawful.
9. "Be particularly watchful of children, especially near schools.
10. "Consider the feelings and bear in mind the rights of others; favorable public opinion is desirable to you as a driver.
11. "Life and limb are precious. Be keen to protect both from harm.
12. "Speed is unnecessary; safety is imperative."

NUMBER OF CARS CONFUSES BUYER

Haynes Agent Discusses Essential Points for Purchasers.

"At the present time there are so many cars on the market that the buyer has considerable difficulty in choosing the car that is best suited to his needs," said M. W. Turner, distributer for the Haynes, America's first car, in this territory.

"Auto purchasers may be divided into two general classes: Those who are buying their first car and those who have owned a car before. The first class is generally interested in appearance and speed, while the experienced automobilist is anxious to know the details of the construction, the quality of the materials, the facilities of the manufacturer for giving service, and the age and stability of the organization.

"The automobile is not an experi-

LAST week we told the public that we were able to materially increase our factory production.

We told them that we would have Overlands for "immediate delivery" in practically every city and town in the country.

The effect was astonishing! Overlands moved faster and were sought and bought more rapidly than ever before!

All previous sales records were smashed into obscurity!

Now, Mr. and Mrs. Buyer—

If there is still the slightest doubt in your mind as to which is the best car to buy, the following facts alone should bring you to an immediate decision:—

The Overland is outselling every other similar car on the market—not because it is the only good car made, but because it does offer more downright value for less money than you can get in any other car manufactured.

And further—

This car is as accurately and as thoroughly manufactured, both from a quality and mechanical standpoint, as any of the highest priced cars in the world!

Hesitate no longer. Time lost is money lost. The Overland sales are leaping ahead every day. We are delivering over 5000 cars a month. If you wait until they are all gone you'll be compelled to spend a great deal more than is necessary.

Order yours today and save the difference.

Dealers everywhere. There is one in your town.

ment. It is the fruit of long and untiring effort. This is the day of motor refinment, of accuray and precision. The diameter of the valves is just as important as the size of the cylinder. Great stress should be laid upon balancing the connecting rods and pistons, not only in the engineering department but in each individual motor as it is being built. The bore and stroke of a motor, for instance, does not mean everything; the design must be well balanced and the workmanship accurate. Performance is the best evidence by which to be guided.

"The intake manifold must be designed to give an equal distribution of gas to every cylinder, and must be constructed in such a manner that the gas will have no chance to condense before reaching the combustion chamber. The fact that gasoline is of a poorer quality now than formerly makes carburetion a very important factor in design. The gasoline tank should be located where it will not be subjected to any heat, as vaporization takes off the very best part of the gas and leaves a liquid which is only a little better than kerosene. A strainer should be provided in the pipe line just before the gasoline reaches the carburetor to remove all foreign matter and to insure clean, pure gas.

"The ideal motor is the motor that has been refined to such an extent that it develops more than its rated horse power. The ideal car is the car whose weight is consistent with the horse power of the motor. That is to say, the ratio of horse power to weight must be great enough to meet any contingency.

"Finish and equipment are very important and, on the Haynes, receive proper consideration, but the Haynes company frankly states that such qualities are incomparable with design, workmanship and efficiency. The motor car buyer should investigate—it is his right to know every detail of the car before buying, and this the Haynes company gladly furnishes him. Frankness on the part of the manufacturer is undoubtedly evidence of sincerity, quality, dependability."

ROAD CONGRESS.

Delegates From Northwestern States Will Meet in Milwaukee in October.

The Northwestern Road Congress, organized for the purpose of bringing together the road experts of Illinois, Michigan, Iowa, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota and Wisconsin, will it is believed, fill a need that has been evident throughout the northwestern states since the good roads movement became more than a mere subject of discussion.

A comprehensive scheme of interstate highways, it is said, will be one of the matters that the Northwestern Road Congress will determine for the road builders of the participating states. With this portion of the work mapped out for the congress, there is unexpected interest displayed by those having in charge the Sheridan road, from Chicago to Milwaukee; the lake to river road, from Milwaukee to the Mississippi river; the Lincoln highway, the Red Ball route, between St. Paul to St. Louis, the Fox River valley route, from Milwaukee to points in the Michigan peninsula, which will later connect with the around Lake Michigan highway, and the Chicago to Detroit road.

The executive committee of the congress will meet in Milwaukee shortly for the purpose of arranging a plan of representation for the states involved in the congress. One plan suggested is the appointment of five delegates from each county and a delegation at large to be appointed in each state by the governor. Representation will also be given to automobile associations, good roads associations and various commercial organizations in the territory affected by the congress.

The congress will meet in Milwaukee, Oct. 28, 29, 30 and 31, and will bring together the highway commissions of the participating states, members of the legislatures, good roads associations, automobile associations, boards of public works, county highway commissions and thousands of road contractors, civil engineers and good roads machinery manufacturers.

Humor for Autoists

The Missing Engine.

Lippincott's: On the third day of his Aunt Jane's visit to the city, Motorton took her for a ride in his high-power runabout. They had proceeded only a mile or so when "Darn the luck!" exclaimed Motorton.

"Goodness! What's wrong?" said Aunt Jane.

"Engine's missing," tersely replied Motorton.

"Dear me!" said Aunt Jane. "I do hope it's been found by an honest person. Where do you suppose we dropped it?"

Sure Proof.

Motor Life: Baker—"Is he a very brainy man?"

Butcher—"Well, he drives a bigger motor car than any of his creditors."

Not His Line.

"P, what's contre-temps?"

"I don't know. I've never learned the names of all these automobile parts."

His View of It.

Wisconsin Motorist: Silas Brown, on a visit to the city, inspected the sign for the second time:

"Electric cars charged here."

"Pretty easy way for city folks to get machines," he mused, as he proceeded on his way.

MOTORCYCLE NOTES

Just eleven days, eleven hours and ten minutes from the time he jumped into the saddle of the motorcycle which was to carry him from the Pacific to the Atlantic at record-breaking speed, Erwin G. Baker chugged into New York City, having covered the 3,578 miles from San Diego, Cal., in eight days, 21 hours and 51 minutes less time than the former motorcycle record, which was made by Volney Davis in 1912.

Baker also beat the transcontinental non-stop automobile record by five days. The coast-to-coast automobile record is seventeen days, and even this was made by continuous riding night and day, the drivers taking turns, one riding by Pullman sleeper while the other drove. In fact, the Indiana "warhorse" broke all transcontinental records except those made by steam trains which travel night and day.

Baker left San Diego on May 3 and arrived in New York on the 15th, making a daily average of 290 miles. Some days he covered more than 300 miles, and on the last day of the journey rode 418 miles—from Greensburg, Pa., to New York City.

His complete daily mileage is as follows:

First day, May 3, 221.6 miles, Yuma.
Second day, May 4, 220 miles, Phoenix.
Third day, May 5, 265.5 miles, Springerville, Ariz.
Fourth day, May 6, 350.3 miles, (no telegraph station.)
Fifth day, May 7, 294.8 miles.
Sixth day, May 8, 348.9 miles.
Seventh day, May 9, 253 miles, Ellsworth.
Eighth day, May 10, 293.7 miles, West Lexington, Mo.
Ninth day, May 11, 304.3 miles, Greenville, Ill.
Tenth day, May 12, 376 miles, Columbus, Ohio.
Eleventh day, May 13, 232.8 miles, Greensburg, Pa.
Last day, May 14, 418 miles, New York City.

Total mileage, 3,578.9 miles.

This remarkable performance by Baker shows not only the durability of the two-wheeler, but the almost superhuman endurance of the rider. Through deep, hot sand Baker plugged away, where for a hundred miles at a stretch there was no sign of habitation—he forded numerous streams, and encountered all sorts of road conditions. Yet during the entire distance the Hoosier rider had only four spills to his credit, none of which proved serious.

Arrangements are practically complete for the seventh annual endurance run of the New Jersey Motorcycle club of Newark. This year's run will be held May 30 and 31 and will be to Baltimore and return. A number of handsome awards are offered to those finishing with the best scores. The route as scheduled leads through Trenton and Philadelphia. Returning the riders will go through Lancaster, Pa., Norristown, Trenton and Princeton, N. J. As the night of the 30th the contestants are planning to run will be spent in Baltimore, many of the contestants are planning to run on down to the national capitol.

Minneapolis is contemplating the establishment of a permanent clean-up brigade. It is proposed that this brigade be composed of motorcyclists who will patrol the streets of the city seeing that papers and rubbish are cleaned away. They will also investigate private premises and vacant lots, making reports where a clean-up is needed.

Again American motorcycles have won in competition with those of the foreign make. The recent Victorian Motorcycle club century run in Australia was won by an American machine.

A 600-mile motorcycle endurance run will be staged by the Los Angeles Motorcycle club on May 30, 31 and June 1. It is expected that about twenty-one riders will participate.

It is said that a number of noted riders of the country will take part in the motorcycle events which will be held on May 23 at the Belmont driving park at Philadelphia.

At the recent observance of Good Roads day in Illinois, ten riders from the Quincy Motorcycle club aided in the work of repairing the roads by acting as motorcycle messengers.

SECTION MEN FOR ROADS

Duluth Auto Club Members Say Plan Has Been Great Success.

Favor Securing Crew for Work on St. Louis County Highways.

Section men for county roads were suggested at the meeting of the Duluth Auto club last Thursday evening. The plan has worked successfully wherever tried and has proved an admirable asset in the upkeep of roads, it is said.

In speaking of this plan of work, a member of the club said:

"The section man on roads works exactly as does the section man on the railroad. The latter is as important today to a railroad, as the ties are or the track itself. It is merely a matter of keeping in good shape the railroad tracks already built. And it is this same idea that suggested the section man for roads.

"If the Duluth Auto club could succeed in obtaining from five to ten section men to work in St. Louis county, it would do more for good roads than almost any other movement could accomplish. This is the opinion of many autoists, who are constantly complaining of the ruts or sink holes in the roads throughout the county. These constantly grow and in time the entire road itself is ruined. By constantly keeping these roads in repair money is saved in the end.

"In St. Louis county, the commissioners could hire about ten men and place them on the more important roads of the county. Each man could care for from five to ten miles, or perhaps more. It would also be a wise plan to place section men on the Duluth roads, such as London road and those leading into the outskirts of the city."

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF THE AUTOMOBILE WORLD

The Cobb-Evans Auto company, distributers of Overland automobiles in Fresno, Cal., and racing enthusiasts extraordinary, have recently added new laureis to their position as premier "home-gard" motor speedsters. Their special Overland racing car won second money in the Kern county $1,000 challenge trophy race, second in the special twenty-five-mile event and fourth in the fifty-mile free-for-all, at the Bakersfield Home-Coming week celebration on April 22. The showing of this entry caused great joy among the loyal Californians who, in the past few years, come to regard auto racing as the greatest of all outdoor sports, and who are especially enthusiastic over a local winner.

The showing of the Overland in the fifty miles free-for-all was especially good, as the little pleasure car was pitted against some of the biggest racing cars and drivers in the country. Barney Oldfield won the event, setting a new world's record by finishing the course in 48 minutes, 3 4-5 seconds. Gordon finished second, Ruckstell third and McKelvy, in the Overland, fourth.

In the $1,000 Kern county twenty-five-mile race, Herman Erickson drove the Overland to second place in 25 minutes and 21 seconds. Ruckstell took this event in 25 minutes, 16 2-3 seconds, less than 3 seconds ahead of the Overland. McKelvy took second place in the other twenty-five-mile event, in 23 minutes and 10 seconds, less than 7 seconds behind the winner.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 23.—Automobile manufacturers throughout the industry are impressed with the system used by Production Manager J. F. Richman of the Cole Motor Car company. Richman, who is beloved by get every ounce of energy out of his men. He believes in letting every man know how important a spoke they are in the wheel of Cole success. the Cole factory employes, is able to The methods employed by Manager Richman are being commended by some of the leading manufacturer publications in the country.

Briefly Mr. Richman explains his methods when he says:

"I have always made a practice of giving every man who is a subordinate the privilege of sitting on the other side of the 'big table' and letting him have an opportunity of expounding his version of the subject that is foremost in his mind.

"Invariably his troubles to him are important and by allowing him to free his mind he goes away feeling that he has been heard and accorded a square deal.

"This manner of handling employes is generally satisfactory and has a large influence on men. The fact that it is their privilege to come to the manager when occasion arises makes them feel that they are treated as real men, consequently they continue at their work better satisfied and remain loyal to the company."

An average of 34.75 miles to the gallon of gasoline was the remarkable record made by Saxon cars in the 200-mile Saxon non-stop contest for dealers May 16, according to the first batch of reports to be received.

In this contest 180 Saxon dealers were entered from all sections of the country. Each of the competing cars was driven 200 miles without stopping the engine—a total of 36,000 miles of continuous service under all conditions of roads and weather. Each driver was accompanied by a newspaper man who acted as observer and checked the amount of gasoline consumed.

The average mileage scored was at the rate of less than ¼ cent a mile for fuel for each passenger. Where conditions were most favorable, as in New Rochelle, N. Y., Des Moines, Iowa and Webb City, Mo., an average of better than 47 miles to the gallon was secured. Despite heavy rains, muddy roads and steep hills in some territories, all but six of the contestants did better than 30 miles to the gallon. The lowest score was 26.7 miles per gallon.

With thousands of miles of new road being built in all parts of the United States, county officials have come to be an important factor in the motor truck market. In a great number of states laws have been passed of recent years whereby the state pays a certain proportion of the expense of building every mile of road that comes up to certain specifications.

Most of these roads require the use of gravel or crushed rock. This has to be transported in very large quantities. Where the amount of road constructed by a county in a year is considerable a very large saving in transportation expense can be secured by the use of motor trucks.

Shoshone county, Idaho, uses mine tailings on its roads. These can be secured free at the mines which are glad to have them hauled away. The county purchased a Peerless truck early this spring and has not only speeded up the work on its new roads but has greatly cut their cost. The length of the haul made the expense of using the mine tailings practically prohibitive when horses were employed.

The county authorities at Houston, Texas, and in several other Texas counties have recently secured Peerless trucks for the same purposes. The county of Multanamah, Oregon, in which Portland is located has used Peerless trucks in its general work for several years. Records for service secured from their trucks by these public officials are fully equal to private operators.

Automobile shows, a familiar story to the motorists of this country, are a novelty in the Philippines, of which the island people have just had their first taste. The Philippine exposition was recently held in Manila and the motor cars on display aroused the widest interest.

The Cadillac display was especially elaborate and complete. What particularly attracted the people of Manila was a cut-open Cadillac chassis, exposing to view the working parts of the car, a feature with which hundreds of thousands of people in this country are familiar, similar exhibits having been made at every automobile show of consequence in the United States during the past twelve years. But to the people of Manila it was an absolute novelty.

The Cadillac was rewarded with two gold medals. One was awarded for the "most instructive special automobile exhibit, showing the Cadillac chassis in operation." The other was awarded "for an example of special excellence."

"As a matter of cold, hard fact, there is no such thing as a tire that won't skid at all, because it if didn't slip just a little on turns a car would turn over," says an official of the Ajax Tire company. "But, this skid is so slight as to be negligible. A non-skid tire, so called, must be made on certain principles not to slip when the asphalt is wet, and ours conform to those principles. Theory and practice confirm this statement.

"What makes a skid? That is when a greasy film remains between the tread of the tire and the road surface. The tire slides on this. What is a non-skid tire? It is one with a tread such that it breaks up the film and gives the tire a chance to roll on dry places. That is the Ajax tread, whose diamond shaped cross hatching is just right for this work."

Will the precedent established by Hector D. McKenzie, a prominent Californian in christening his new Cole in the same manner as a new battleship is christened, become general? This question is being discussed at local garages—while some say that in the cases of wealthy young men the breaking of grape may soon be an established custom, there is a bigger number who declare the fad will just be an incident.

The fact, however, that Barney Oldfield was present at this Los Angeles automobile christening and thereby officially put "race sanction" on it, may have some bearing toward a general practice in this direction, it is argued.

McKenzie christened his own car, with these words, "I christen thee Pommery Boy," personally breaking a bottle on the bumper.

The poor judgment shown by buyers who delay too long in placing orders for their new cars is well illustrated in the case of the Hudson light six. Just as soon as it became generally known that the factory production was sold out buyers began to scramble for cars. Dealers are everywhere besieged by callers. The factory is being deluged with telegrams. Offers of premiums of $100, $200 and higher are made by disappointed admirers of the car. This tribute to the great popularity of the car was not unexpected by The Kleyn Auto company, the local Hudson distributor. But in spite of urging there are many disappointed would-be Hudson owners in Duluth today.

Next Wednesday the Overland factory will be the scene of an organized raid ,which will be unique in the history of the motor car industry. Some 300 Indiana dealers and their customers who have placed orders will descend upon the big plant and personally take delivery of 200 or more cars and drive them to their respective homes in the Hoosier state. Although the Overland factory is turning out 230 cars daily with clock-like regularity, the Hoosier dealers, led by representatives of the Gibson Automobile company of Indianapolis, state distributors for the Overland, decided not to wait until their allotments came through by freight, but to take delivery right at the factory and to drive the cars home over the roads.

NEWSPAPER GIVEN VERDICT IN NORWAY.

Christiania, May 23. — The question of Norwegian emigration to Canada has been brought into prominence by the trial of a libel suit against the editors of the Aftenpost brought by the agent of the Canadian Pacific railway. The plaintiff in the suit was David Jacobsen, who was until recently the Norwegian consul at Montreal. He returned to Norway recently to take charge of the railway's immigration agency here.

While in Canada Mr. Jacobsen sent reports to his government denouncing the alluring promises held out by the Canadian authorities for attracting emigrants. He represented that the railways gave the most difficult work to Norwegian laborers, that these were inadequately paid and not well protected legally. On a trip home Mr. Jacobsen gave lectures in which he expressed the same views.

The libel suit was based on an article which criticized the former consul, comparing his work as agent to promote emigration to Canada to his consular utterances upon the subject. The verdict was in favor of the newspaper.

KAISER NOT EXCEPTED BY THE LAW

Private Cook Must Send in His Sunday Orders in Time, Just as Any Housewife Must Do.

Berlin, May 23.—If the emperor desires sausages for his Sunday evening meal, he can buy them the night before, just like any common citizen, or else go without. The laws regulating sale and delivery of goods on Sunday apply to the ruler in the same degree as to his meanest subject.

This is the decision of a Prussian court in the case of a sausage dealer, who appealed from a fine of $1.25 for violating the Sunday observance laws. One Sunday morning, shortly before 10 o'clock, the hour at which all shops in Berlin must be closed, the emperor's private cook telephoned from the New palace at Potsdam an order for sausages for the imperial table. The dealer loaded the desired wares on his delivery wagon and started it for the railroad station. On the way thither the delivery man was stopped by a policeman, who inquired why he was violating the law. The representation that the emperor was waiting for the sausages had no effect on the policeman, and the result was the fine for the merchant.

On appeal the merchant set forth that his action came under the saving clause of the Sunday ordinances, which provides that Sunday orders may be filled where "their immediate carrying out is demanded by the public interest." The order of the emperor's cook, he said, was such a case. The court rejected the appeal, saying:

"It is of no consequence that the emperor was the customer. The emperor has no special standing in private trade. It is the business of his private cook to send in his Sunday orders in time, just as any housewife must do."

Amos Alonzo Stagg Like Henry George Is for Men; Tris Speaker a Real Slave of Baseball; Tillie Shafer Is Asked to Play for Civic Pride; A New Alibi Is Introduced.

BY BRUCE.

MAKING the rounds of the news route uncovers a strange predilection upon the pudgy part of Amos Alonzo Stagg for red blood, and shows a corresponding aversion or repulsion tenaciously held by Papa Stagg against those flossy details of this life that savor of the effeminate and the Willie boy stuff. Those of this town who journeyed down to the Minnesota-Chicago football game of last fall failed to discern anything the least feminine about Pete Russell, the stalwart, not to say dashing quarterback of the Maroons. But Amos Alonzo Stagg has a will and where there is a will, ways and means generally follow.

The aforementioned stalwart and dashing Pete garbed himself in the flowing and equally mysterious robes of femininity and took the part of an airy dancer in a recent college play. When Mr. Stagg learned of this stunt he delivered himself of an ultimatum, said ultimatum declaring that P. Russell can no longer be a member of the University of Chicago track team—he is too effeminate.

By way of elucidation Mr. Stagg adds:

"I have a theory that wearing dresses and living in an atmosphere which is essentially effeminate does not put iron in the blood and is not conducive to good athletics."

If Pete Russell returns to the home hearth and roughs it this vacation maybe he will be able to cleanse his smudged athletic escutcheon and rebuild his frame so that he may be strong enough to go out and once more try for the football team.

The Downtrodden Slave.

ONE of the inspiring epochs of our nation's history is that immediately preceding and following the war of the rebellion. In this conflict men went forth and shot off about $40,000,000 worth of ammunition and grew flat footed for the sake of freeing the slaves. Now comes the modern period of the history of our nation when the patriotic men behind the Federal league are girding their loins and battling for the freedom of the baseball slave.

It makes us weep to contemplate the wretched condition of the baseball serf. We have just been reading of the pitiful case of Tristram Speaker. Here is this fellow tied up by the Boston team of the American league. He actually works for the mere pittance of $105 a hit. Think, kind and sympathetic friends, of a player being compelled by the slavery of baseball to labor for $105 a hit.

Ah yes, 'tis a great and noble cause, this freeing of the downtrodden slaves of baseball.

Maybe He Is Getting Ancient.

UP in these parts Biddy Dolan was considered one of the sweet briar hitters of baseball. Biddy lingered in these immediate parts for many years, swatting sweetly and spoiling the record of many a pitcher and sending many a slab recruit back to the village lot by that trusty bat of his'n.

Reading of the hitting of the noble players of the Federal league it was with great surprise that we lamped the standing of Biddy. Down near the bottom of the list appears his name, and opposite that poetic Irish monaker are the figures—.169.

After getting through with baseball Biddy Dolan would make an ideal person to sit around the stage when Chauncey Olcott is playing one of his Irish roles. Biddy would fit in excellently and would add atmosphere.

Recalling Those Pink Notes.

JUST at the present time John McGraw would give most anything for a sprightly and agile third baseman. Herzog was a grand ball player, but McGraw never liked him and just for revenge permitted him to become the manager of the Cincinnati team.

Art Shafer left the Giants because he declared that money is not the entire fabric of this life, which comes as a relief after the indoor sport in connection with the New Haven. Tillie Shafer quit New York after the tempting bait of a fabulous salary was suspended under college bred contemplation for three long and trying days. Having found that money is not one of the aims and schemes of the life of young Mr. Shafer, the officials of the Los Angeles baseball team and some of the leading citizens of that sunny berg are endeavoring to apotheosize little Tillie by having him play for mere civic pride—and right at this juicy juncture of the story allow us to state that if a baseball player is found who plays for mere civic pride, a statue should be erected to him.

Los Angeles is making a wretched showing in the Pacific Coast league. Leading citizens, tourists, some of the up to date hack drivers and some of the bartenders are of the unanimous opinion that if little Tillie Shafer, the lad who shied at the love billet doux written on pink paper, but who can never the less swat the pill and play that oldthird base place, could be signed by the Los Angeles team his shining presence would turn the swelling tide of defeat into the ebbing tow of sweet victory.

McGraw has been appealed to upon the rostrum of civic pride. Having read several columns one hot and dull afternoon concerning the character of Johnny McGraw, we for one are anxiously awaiting to learn the result of the civic pride inspired efforts of the Los Angeles crowd.

Introducing the Alibi.

PITCHERS of the Federal league who have been cruelly batted to various parts of the ball lot during the spring and early summer crusading have sprung into view a brand new alibi.

According to some of the batted pitchers the rubber-cored baseball used in the Federal organization is so lively that it travels so fast when hit that the infielders have no chance to get their hands on the flying spheroid, and in the minority report cases where they do succeed in getting their hands on the pill it will not stick.

This should go into the archives of baseball and be filed in the same case with the statement of the late George Edward Waddell that he could not pitch well on the days when the fishes were biting.

WEATHER FAVORABLE.

New England Intercollegiate Championship Being Decided.

Cambridge, Mass., May 23.—Ideal weather prevailed for the finals in the New England intercollegiate championship track and field meet at the Harvard stadium today.

Record-breaking performances were looked for. Dartmouth, which qualified twenty men yesterday, apparently was sure of the championship, with the University of Maine and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology as strong contenders.

O'BRIEN AFTER NEW PLAYERS

Bond Collins and Brammell Expected to Join the Dooks.

Manager O'Brien announced yesterday that he has Harold Bond, an outfielder with the Grand Forks team of last season, signed up for the Duluth team. Bond played in eighty-two games last season and hit at a .289 clip. Bond is a former university man and teaches school in Montana during the winter months. The business of instructing the youth of the land keeps Harold out of baseball until late in the spring.

James Collins of Chicago, a former player of the Three-I league, is also wanted by the Dook. Collins is said to be a hitter and it is hitters that Darby is in quest of at the present writing. With Brammell, Bond and Collins on the team, the Dook is of the opinion that his tribe will hit a high stride.

It is expected that Bond will report on the first of June and Brammell about eight days later.

"DARBY" WINNERS MEET

Rich Stake Up In Great Kentucky Handicap at Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., May 23.—A field of twelve horses and possibly more, it is expected, will go to the post at Douglas Park track here this afternoon to contest for the rich stake in the Kentucky handicap, at one mile and a quarter. This feature event of the opening day of the Douglas Park spring meeting promises to bring together some of the best racers of all ages in the country, including Donerail, 1913 Kentucky derby winner; Rudolfo, winner of the Kentucky handicap last year; Gowell, the Latonia derby winner of 1913, and Flora Fina, which captured last season's Dominion handicap. Rudolfo seems to be a slight favorite for the event.

The purse for the handicap with $10,000 added, will aggregate $14,300. Of this amount more than $10,000 will go to the winner.

MINNESOTA TRACK TEAM OUTCLASSED

Only Fournier Stars in Meet With Wisconsin Athletes.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 23.—Minnesota never had a chance with Wisconsin in the dual track and field meet at Northrop field yesterday afternoon, and the Badgers won, 91 to 35. The visitors took first in eleven of the fourteen events and finished second in nine, with a tie for second between the two teams in the pole vault.

The feature was the work of Joe Fournier with the hammer, which he hurled 139 feet, 10 inches, thereby breaking the Minnesota record which he himself set ten days ago with a mark of 131 feet, 4 inches. Fournier easily defeated Van Ghent and Keeler, the Badger gridiron giants. Summaries:

220-yard hurdles—Bassett, Wisconsin; Martin, Minnesota; Gunyon, Wisconsin, 25 3-5.

Quarter mile run—Williams, Wisconsin; Mathews, Wisconsin; Bierman, Minnesota; 53 1-5.

Discus throw—Robertson, Minnesota; Van Ghent, Wisconsin; Keeler, Wisconsin; 125 feet, 1 inch.

Hammer throw—Fournier, Minnesota; Van Ghent, Wisconsin; Keeler, Wisconsin; 139 feet, 10 inches.

Pole vault—Kerr, Wisconsin, McKay, Minnesota, and Heston, Wisconsin, tied for second; 11 feet, 2 inches.

High jump—Wahl, Wisconsin; Schritzman, Wisconsin, and Heston, Wisconsin, tied for second; 5 feet, 10½ inches.

ACCEPTS AMERICAN RECORDS AS OFFICIAL.

San Francisco, Cal., May 23.—Word that the Australasian Amateur Athletic union has accepted as official the records made by the members of the all-American track team that defeated everything in sight in the Antipodes last winter was received here yesterday by William Unmack, chairman of the records committee of the Pacific Athletic association.

These include the record of 45 feet ¼ inch in the shot put by Reginald Caughey of Ukiah, Cal., high school, which was disputed at first, and a record of 9 4-5 seconds for the 75 yards high hurdles made by Burle Templeton of Stanford university, which ties the world's record.

WOLFE'S HIT WINS GAME

Shortstop Busts Homer and Duluth Beats Red Sox 9 to 3.

Clarence Grina Holds Pitching Pass for Dooks in Good Shape.

Darby's Dooks copped the second game of the Hislop platted park addition series yesterday by the count of 9 to 3. The civic pride of Superior was given an awful jolt in the fifth when Harry Wolfe lifted the pill over the fence with the hassocks freighted with three Dooks. Five runs were accumulated in this round and the game placed on the ice.

Clarence Grina of Flaxton, N. D., was on the firing line for the Dooks, and while Clarence yielded ten blows during the matinee, he kept them well scattered and was a puzzle at the tickilish stages of the game, where a hit would have meant runs.

Brannon started mound proceedings for the railroad workers and later gave way to Chicken. The hit harvest of the White Sox was a bumper one, fifteen blows being garnered on the pitching of the two hill workers from the swamp.

Brackett lived through Dunn's error in the first, was advanced on O'Brien's grounder and Dietrich's hit and counted on Ford's double. Dietrich was nipped at the plate on Phillip's hit to McGee, but Wolfe hit and Ford was over.

Young Bill Dunn doubled in the second and scored on Farrell's single. Glass singled in the third and went out stealing. Anderson strolled, pilfered his bold way to second and counted when Handsome Jack Landry hit.

In the fourth the Dooks counted again. McGuff walked and counted to two singles and an out at first. In the next round came the blowoff and the civic pride of the village was hit an awful wallop.

Dietrich singled. Ford walked and Jerry Phillips singled, loading the towpaths. Brannon retired to the solitary confinement of the coop and Chicken mounted the hill and took up the burden of subduing the invaders. This is a hard life in which there is little sentiment. Wolfe welcomed Chicken by busting a homer and four runs were in. Sweeley singled and stole and counted when Brackett tripled.

In the sixth Dietrich walked, was advanced by two errors and scored on McGuff's hit. In the seventh the domestic tribe compiled its last run. Anderson tripled and was scored when Landry hit for his alma mater and the brake beam aggregation. Dunn doubled over the fence and Cullis was hit, but the next hitters went out and the threatened rally was ended.

The final game of the series is being played today. The Dooks open tomorrow in Virginia.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Giants Win.

St Louis, Mo., May 23.—St. Louis could bunch hits in but one inning yesterday afternoon off Marquard's delivery, while New York hit St. Louis' pitchers when hits meant runs; the champions winning 5 to 1 and evening up the series. In the third inning after Perritt hit Burns, he was relieved by Steele.

Steele gave way to a pinch hitter in the seventh and was relieved by Hagerman. Up to the fifth, St. Louis had but three hits off the New York left hander, but in this inning successive singles by Steele, Huggins and Magee sent Steele across the plate with the run that saved St. Louis from a shutout. Thereafter Marquard held St. Louis to two hits, singles in the sixth and eighth. Marquard had excellent control and did not pass a batter and struck out five. Score: R. H. E.
St. Louis .....0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0—1 8 0

Brooklyn Shut Out.

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 23.—Cincinnati hit Pfeffer hard and had no trouble in winning the second game of the series from Brooklyn yesterday, 6 to 0. Yingling for Cincinnati kept the hits scattered and at all times was master of the situation. The fielding on both sides was sharp with Cutshaw and Herzog carrying off the honors in that department of play. Hoblitzell and Clark starred at the bat, the former getting a double and a triple and the latter two doubles and a single. McCarty was hit by a pitched ball while at bat in the second inning and retired from the game. Scores: R. H. E.

Pirates Win Easily.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 23.—Pittsburg defeated Philadelphia yesterday afternoon, 3 to 2. Infield hits and three errors in the second inning terminating with a triple by Leonard with the bases full, caused trouble for Pitcher Marshall and gave Pittsburg six runs in the inning, Jacobs, who succeeded Marshall, allowed six hits the rest of the game. Mitchell continued his batting streak with three hits. Adams pitched a fine game for the locals. Score: R. H. E.
Philadelphia ...0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 1—2 5 3
Pittsburg .....0 6 0 0 0 0 0 3 x—3 15 1

Cubs Shut Out.

Chicago, May 23.—Boston made it two straight from Chicago yesterday shutting out the locals, 2 to 0. The game was a pitchers' duel between Hess and Vaughn, with Vaughn receiving the worst of the breaks.

The game was won by the visitors in the sixth inning. Hess grounded in front of the plate and was safe at first on Bresnahan's wild throw to Saier. Evers sacrificed and Maranville's single to deep center sent the pitcher home with the first run. The other run was made in the seventh inning on Murray's triple and Vaughn's wild pitch. Maranville's fielding was a feature.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Mackmen Beat Leaders.

Philadelphia, May 23.—Five pitchers were used by Detroit in the game yesterday which Philadelphia won 9 to 6. The visitors gave the home team a commanding lead in the first two innings when they piled up seven errors, three by Heilman in the first, three by Stanage and one by Covaleskie. Detroit hit Wyckoff hard, but he was given excellent support with bases occupied. Burns' batting was a feature, he getting a home run, a double, and a single.

Ion trying to get Burns' homer which went into the left field bleachers, Oldring fell over a box on which a policeman had been seated and hurt his back and had so severely that he was forced to leave the game.

Score: R. H. E.
Detroit .....0 2 0 1 0 0 0 1 2—6 11 8

Batteries—C. Williams, Covaleskie, Reynolds, Boehler, Hall and Stanage; Wyckoff, Bender and Schang. Umpires—Connolly and Dineen.

White Sox Shut Out.

Boston, Mass., May 23.—By shutting out Chicago 1 to 0 today, Foster, a youthful Red Sox twirler increased to 38 the number of innings which he has pitched without being scored on. This is a league record for the season.

Cicotte, the Chicago pitcher, gave the better exhibition, but an error by Blackburne deprived him of shutout honors and presented Boston with the only run of the game. A base on balls to Hooper, Yerkes' sacrifice and Blackburne's fumble of a drive from Speaker, produced the run in the first inning.

Chicago had hopes of tying the score in the seventh, but two pinch hitters failed and a rally was checked. Score: R. H. E.

Senators Lose on Errors.

Washington, May 23.—St. Louis broke Washington's winning streak yesterday, taking the second game of the series, 5 to 4. The Nationals went the visitors scored four runs on a base to pieces in the eighth inning and on balls, a single and three successive errors. St. Louis had scored in the fourth when Austin tripled and Williams sent him home by a sacrifice fly. Washington scored three runs in the fourth on a base on balls, two singles and Shank's triple. A. Williams, batting for Ayers in the ninth brought in Morgan. Score: R. H. E.
St. Louis .....0 0 0 1 0 0 0 4 0—5 7 0
Washington ....0 0 0 3 0 0 0 0 1—4 11 5

Naps Finally Win.

New York, May 23.—Cleveland ended its long losing streak here by nosing out New York in a close game 3 to 2. Jackson's bat sent in all the Cleveland runs. In the fourth inning his double drove in Bisland and Graney and his sacrifice fly sent in Graney with what proved to be the winning run in the sixth.

A stupid play by Cook, who made three of the locals' seven hits, ended a rally in the eighth, when the New Yorks did all their scoring. With one run in and the bases full, Peckinpaugh beat out an infield hit, scoring Hartzell, but Cook overran third and was retired for the third out on Olson's throw to Bisland. Hagerman pitched great ball with the exception of the eighth and struck out ten men. Score: R. H. E.

AMERICAN ASSN.

Senators 8; Brewers 3.

Columbus, Ohio, May 23.—Two triples by Hinchman, a three-bagger and double by Bailey, a double by Miller and Smith's single, gave Columbus the lead in yesterday's game that was won from Milwaukee by a score of 8 to 3. Slapnicka retired after Bailey doubled in the seventh. Pitcher Cook started wildly, but no Milwaukee runner reached second after the second inning. Manager Clark today started serving a three-day suspension and First Baseman Jones of the visiting club is out because of an injury. Score: R. H. E.

Hoosiers 4; Millers 2.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 23.—Indianapolis won the opening game of the series from Minneapolis yesterday, 4 to 2. The game was played in one hour and twenty minutes, the fastest here this season. Burns opposed Laroy on the mound and both pitched good ball. The fielding of Bronkie and the hitting of Livingstone were the features of the contest. Score: R. H. E.

Play to a Tie.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 23.—The game between St. Louis and Pittsburg was called at the end of the ninth inning yesterday on account of rain with the score a tie, 3 to 3. St. Louis scored all their runs in the fourth when Manager Oakes, playing center field for Pittsburg, allowed Crandall's single to get away from him. Score: R. H. E.
St. Louis .....0 0 0 3 0 0 0 0 0—3 5 3
Pittsburg .....1 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 1—3 8 2

Kawfeds 6; Brooklyn 2.

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 23.—Houck pitched his first game in the Federal league yesterday and lost it. The young twirler who jumped from organized baseball when the Philadelphia Americans released him recently to the Baltimore Internationals, was wild in the opening inning against Kansas City. This and a ragged defense by his team mates, the Brooklyns, cost him the game. The visitors scored four runs in the first inning and the final score was 6 to 2 in their favor. Houck and Stovall each made a triple and two singles. Score: R. H. E.

COACH CAN'T GO.

New York, May 23.—Before sailing today to attend the International Amateur Athletic federation at Lyons, France, Secretary James E. Sullivan of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States announced that he had received cable requests from H. Stankovits, Hungarian delegate to Lyons, to ascertain from George Orton, coach of the University of Pennsylvania of the track team, his terms to train the Hungarian athletes for the next Olympic games.

In response to Mr. Sullivan's message, Coach Orton stated that it would be impossible for him to consider it because of a two-year contract with Pennsylvania. While foreign offer abroad Secretary Sullivan will also attend the Olympic congress at Paris.

MINNEAPOLIS HEAVY MEETS HIS WATERLOO.

Hudson, Wis., May 23.—Al Palzer knocked out Fred Fulton in the fourth round of their scheduled ten-round bout here last night, the sleep-producing punch being sent to the jaw after a volley of blows to the head and body. Fulton rolled on his back and was unable to rise.

Tommy Gibbons won from Buck Crouse in the fourth round. The referee stopped the fight at the end of the fourth as Crouse was unable to continue.

Both fights were fast.

Match Swimming Race.

San Francisco, Cal., May 23.—Walter Pomeroy of the San Francisco Olympic club announced that he has completed arrangements for a match swimming race over a three-mile course here with Michael McDermott of the Illinois Athletic club. The race will take place July 3 at the Tifnal championships.

NEW YORK GIANTS IN DULUTH-MADE COATS

This latest picture of the New York Giants was taken recently at the Polo grounds, New York. For the last three seasons Manager J. J. McGraw has purchased Patrick mackinaws for his team, considering them an essential part of the regular Giant uniform, and the players are shown wearing them again this year. The coats this year are in the attractive new blue and black plaid.

The raw uncertain weather generally encountered at Marlin, Texas, where the Giants' spring training quarters are located, makes necessary the use of a garment that will protect the players from cool winds and dampness. Manager McGraw is enthusiastic over the value of Patrick mackinaws in this respect.

The players themselves express their approval of the coats because of the protection they give and the fact that they are so easy to slip off and on, thus having a great advantage over the old-time sweater.

ENGLISH POLO TEAM HAS SAILED

Both English and American Teams Appear to Be 30 Per Cent Weaker Than Years Ago—Capt. Whitney's Withdrawal Greatly Weakens the Home Team.

New York, May 23.—With the sailing of the English polo team for this country today, the American polo authorities will be relieved of anxiety regarding a situation which at times promised to develop a fiasco in the first of the international team contests of the present season of sport. Less than ten days ago it appeared as though the match was to fall through owing to the inability of Lord Wimborne to secure a representative team to compete for the cup challenged for by the Hurlingham club. Great pressure was brought to bear upon the factions whose petty bickerings threatened to disrupt the team and the party which sails today includes the following players and substitutes: Capt. H. A. Tomkinson, No. 1; Capt. Vivian Lockett, No. 2; Maj. F. W. Barrett, back, with John Traill and Baron Wimborne as substitutes.

Before leaving Baron Wimborne said: "I am confident that the present arrangement of our team will give us a good chance of taking the international trophy.

"We shall go immediately on our arrival in America to Piping Rock, where our ponies already have arrived in good shape. We shall practice there and if our team plays well together we may have a surprise in store for Meadowbrook. At any rate, I feel greatly encouraged over our prospects."

Other members of the team agreed with Baron Wimborne's estimate of the chances of the British four, but they did not regard as excessive the odds of 2 to 1 on the American combination.

While this team is admittedly not the best combination in England, having been repeatedly defeated by Walter S. Buckmaster's four in practice games, it includes players who are ranked with the leaders of English polo. Whether this combination is strong enough to wrest the international polo challenge cup from the possession of the American defenders is a question which is being argued in polo circles throughout the two countries. Experts maintain that it is not as strong as the English team of 1913 and the same contention is held when the American teams of 1913 and 1914 are compared. There is no denying the fact that the withdrawal from active play of Capt. Harry Payne Whitney weakened the Meadowbrook four. Furthermore there is no substitute now being considered for his place who is within several goals of Whitney's class. Broadly speaking, both English and American teams as outlined at present appear to be 30 per cent weaker than was the case last June, when the United States team won by 10½ to 7¼ in two straight games.

Defenders Have Advantage.

Under these conditions much will depend upon the team play and the condition of the ponies in the final analysis, and in these respects the cup defenders appear to have an advantage. The team that Baron Wimborne took to Madrid has been disrupted and remoulded less than a month previous to the matches. Whitney's decision to drop out was known months ago, and provision made for the breaking in of a suitable substitute, and there is a general impression among polo ists that should the American team be defeated in the opening game, Whitney would be seen in the saddle on the second day of play. So far as the ponies are concerned it is an axiom of polo that the invading team always plays under a handicap in this respect.

Despite the handicaps, the challenging team is not to be lightly considered. According to the English handicapping system, the four as named at present consists of two top rankers and two third classification players. Barrett and Cheape are ten point or limit men, with Bingham and Tomkinson rated at eight points each. Maj. Mathews-Lannowe is a nine-point player and Lord Wimborne is rated at seven. The English and American handicapping systems differ in the respect that while nine points in the United States limit the Hurlingham top ranker is a ten-point player. Therefore, while the Waterbury brothers and Devereux Milburn are nine-point players in the United States list they are ranged one-point higher in English handicaps. At the present time H. C. Phipps is generally conceded as being the most likely player to replace Whitney. He is rated at six in the United States list, which would give the American team an average of 8¾, while the English four under the American team an average of eight, just ¼-point below the United States four.

The arrangement of the English four clearly indicates the fact that it will be stronger on defense than offense. The placing of Cheape and Barrett at No. 3 and back respectively, is in accordance with the English system of play where the best players gravitate to the rear line in order to better direct the attack and defense of rushing to the fore when the possibilities appear in favor of score by concentrated attack. All the players are experienced polo ists even though not the best four that might be selected from the Hurlingham list. Every one has an excellent record as army team players, although Capt. Cheape is the only member of the combination who has figured in international cup play. He was a member of the 1911 and 1913 English teams. Maj. Barrett was a substitute on the 1911 four, but did not secure an opportunity to play in the matches of that year.

Sullivan Off to France.

Another United States delegate to the International Athletic Federation and International Olympic Games congress sails for France today in the person of James E. Sullivan, secretary of the Amateur Athletic union. According to Mr. Sullivan the A. A. U. will be represented at Lyons, France, by five delegates to the International Athletic federation meeting June 4 and following days, and the Olympic Games congress at Paris June 13. These conferences, which are those of separate and distinct organizations, have a direct bearing, however, on the future of all Olympic and international track and field sports. One of the principal features of the I. A. F. schedule is the completion of an Olympic games program which the federation hopes the Olmpic congress will adopt or at least incorporate in its program for the 1915 games at Berlin.

Commenting on this feature of the work, Secretary Sullivan said:

"I expect these two meetings to have a most important bearing on the future of international athletic competition. I know that the general plan for the Berlin games will be adopted at the Paris meeting and I hope that it will in a part at least agree with the program drawn up by the I. A. F. delegates. One thing is certain, however, and that is that future Olympic teams will be smaller in number than in the past.

"Under the proposed plans it will not be possible to enter more than 50 per cent of the athletes who competed in Olympic games of the past for this country. This means that we will have to hold more elimination meets than in other years and reduce the American team of 1916 to the very cream of our track and field talent. Athletes like Howard Drew, the sprinter, and Fred Kelly, the hurdler, will have to forego

TOUR HALF COMPLETED

The Agricultural Special Is Spending the Day at Iron Junction.

Rest and Meadowlands Sunday—On Missabe Road Next Week.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Iron Junction, Minn., May 23.—(Half of the tour of the 1914 Agricultural Special is about over. The instruction train arrived here last evening, instruction being given today, and this evening the move to Meadowlands will be made. Some of the instructors having their homes in Duluth will go in for Sunday, but most of the party will remain with the train and spend tomorrow looking over the D. J. R. demonstration farms and other farms at Meadowlands.

The train came over from Biwabik last evening over the D., M. & N. tracks and the remainder of the trip will be made on that road. Next week Forbes, Kelsey, Alborn, Saginaw, Munger and Proctor will be visited, a day being devoted to each place.

The plan of devoting a day to each point visited has proved a good one. Heretofore more territory has been covered with shorter stops at each station, but the results were not entirely satisfactory. Under the plan this year there is time for very satisfactory instruction and the people may view the exhibits without hurrying. Farmers who would not come any great distance for a one or two-hour stop travel many miles to spend an entire day at the train, for they know that they will get something worth while.

There is an additional fact to be considered. Mr. Van Wagenen has his automobile on the train, Mr. Dickinson has his motorcycle and the automobile of the land department of the Duluth & Iron Range was added to the equipment at Biwabik. Thus the instructors have an opportunity to visit the country morning and evening and they are taking full advantage of it. They visit the people on their farms, give them a word of encouragement, personally invite them to visit the train and gain a valuable fund of information.

Welcome Agricultural Experts.

One is optimistic for the future of agricultural development in this section when he sees the way in which the agricultural experts are received at the farms. No friend of the household is given a heartier welcome. Men and women alike seem to look upon the instructors as real friends, anxious to be helpful and appreciative of conditions. The farmers show their houses and barns, ask questions as to improvements, receive thankfully the tactful suggestions offered and the visit is mutually profitable. Some of the farms visited are remote from the railroad and the automobiles and motorcycles are curiosities very often to the women and children of the household.

From Biwabik the party drove out fifteen miles south, the farm of Charles Young being the last place visited. For nine miles the road was almost perfect, but for the last six miles of the trip the automobile and motorcycle had rough going. The road was badly rutted, an exhibit of one of the difficulties of the farmers.

Finns Are Industrious.

The farming community south of Biwabik is made up of industrious Finns. It is rather remote from the town, for the land for ten miles from the village is as prospective mineral property and is not available for farming. After the St. Louis river is crossed, farms begin to appear along the roadside. For the most part they are well cultivated and the buildings are neat and conveniently arranged. The settlement around Loon Lake is one of the best in the district. Two sawmills on the lake prepare the timber by-product of the land for the market. There is a hall owned by a Finnish temperance society which is the social center of the community.

Distance from the market is the greatest handicap under which the farmers south of Biwabik are working. However, they are going ahead with the development of their farms and hoping that good roads will relieve that handicap in time. In the meantime they are making a living by the removal of ties, posts, poles and lumber from their land. Most of the material is floated down the St. Louis river to Cloquet.

Interest in Lectures.

The number of farmers at the train at Biwabik yesterday was comparatively small, but they were keenly interested and the lectures were successful. Prof. Chapman and Mrs. Holmes talked at the high school and at the primary school in the morning, and some of the high school students visited the train in the afternoon.

Mr. Hostetter and Mr. Van Wagenen are in Duluth today and Mr. Thompson will also go in over Sunday. Some additional instructors and visitors are expected to join the party at Meadowlands tomorrow and those who spend the week-end in Duluth will rejoin the train at Forbes Monday morning.

GRAND RAPIDS NOTES.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Emmet McCormick, who has been very sick for the past month or more, was able to be out Tuesday, for the first time.

Joseph Pecor was notified Tuesday of the burning of his home, and arrived here at noon from the camp south of town, where he has been employed as cook.

The senior class is diligently at work rehearsing its play, "What Happened to Jones," which it will present at the high school auditorium the first part of next month.

The Ogema hotel at Pokegama lake, again enjoyed a fine patronage last Sunday, a great number of the town people spending the day there.

Peter Shafer, editor of the Ely Miner was here Tuesday interesting members of the local fire department in attending the firemen's tournament which will be held at Ely commencing July 22. Chief Lofberg has taken the matter under consideration, and will call the firemen together in the near future to consider the matter.

Mrs. Thomas Reilly returned the first of the week from Rochester, where she underwent an operation for goiter.

Miss Anna Swanson of Stillwater, a sister of Mrs. C. C. Peterson, arrived this week and is to be a guest at the Peterson home for an extended period.

Miss Ethel Beckstrom of Hibbing is spending the week as a guest of Miss Ella Dennis.

Dr. Alway, soil expert of the state university agricultural school, has been at the state farm here the past week, taking samples of soils, etc., of this section for analysis, the results of which will be published later in bulletin form.

Try Skin Absorption Instead of Cosmetics

The constant use of rouge and powder invites a coarsened, roughened condition of the skin, eruptions, enlarged pores and wrinkles. If you've learned this from experience, suppose you quit cosmetics and try the following:

Ask your druggist for an ounce of ordinary mercolized wax and begin using this tonight. Apply like cold cream, washing it off in the morning. Keep this up for a week or two. The wax will literally absorb the coarse, colorless or blemished top skin, but so gradually as not to discommode you at all. Just as gradually the clear, velvety, naturaly-tinted underskin comes to the surface. And mercolized wax becomes your everlasting friend.

For those wrinkles and large pores, make a face bath by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel. This has remarkable astringent and tonic properties, and beneficial results come quickly. —Advertisement.

ALLEGED SWINDLER IS MULCTED $50

Coleraine, Minn., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—W. N. Andrews, claiming to live at Cass Lake, was arrested here yesterday by Officer M. Cady on the charge of petty larceny. He claimed to be representing the Northwestern Magazine company of Chicago, which has no existence, and endeavored to secure subscriptions for the "Needlecraft" and other periodicals. He was brought before Justice of the Peace Cooper and was fined $50 and costs, which he paid.

It is understood that Andrews has worked his game on a large number of people on this end of the iron range, but was finally exposed by Mrs. T. H. Phillips, who had seen him at work several months ago at Marble.

FIRE ORDINANCE TO BE ENFORCED

Hibbing, Minn., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Markell building will have to be torn down and any new structure that is built on the lot will conform strictly with the fire ordinance. Mr. Markell was served yesterday afternoon with a written notice from the fire department that the building had been condemned as a menace. Under the law when by fire or otherwise a structure is damaged 50 per cent of its value this course may be pursued.

It is understood that Mr. Markell had circulated a petition asking the council to allow him to rebuild with the same second story and that the paper was liberally signed by his friends.

GOING TO DISCUSS BETTERING COUNTY

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The next meeting of the Itasca County Development association will be held at Nashwauk on May 29.

J. A. Vandyke, president of the association, has prepared a program which will deal with subjects of interest to the hearts of those who have development of the county at heart.

A. P. Silliman of Hibbing will give an address on "What Can Be Done on About Two Acres." He will treat of intensive farming, citing examples and telling what has been done in this north country by people of whom it would be least expected.

Auditor Spang to Speak.

M. A. Spang, auditor of Itasca county, will speak on "Itasca County's Road-Building Program." There is a lot of money being spent in Itasca county for roads this time, and this talk by Mr. Spang, who is a man probably in a better position than any other man in the county to know of these things, will treat a most timely subject.

Supt. A. J. McGuire of the North Central Experiment station at this place will talk on some agricultural subject, probably land-clearing.

Nashwauk is a comparatively easy point to reach from all parts of the county.

No Evening Meeting.

There will be no evening meeting, as the new school building at Keewatin is to be dedicated on that evening, and the majority of those in attendance will want to return home in the evening train.

Supper will be provided by one of the Nashwauk church organizations, and the meeting will close in plenty of time so that all can eat together before taking the evening train.

Officers will be elected. The meeting will also elect delegates to attend the meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development association which is to be held at Thief River Falls on June 3, 4 and 5.

GIVEN ANOTHER CHANCE.

Eleven Evelethians Must Clean Up Property or Pay Fines.

Eveleth, Minn., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Eleven property owners were haled before Municipal Judge Moylan, charged with having their property in insanitary condition. Health Officer Fred Weyenberg made the complaints. "Times are hard and I will give you until next Tuesday to clean up," the judge informed them. "A second inspection will then be made and those who have not complied with the orders of the health oficer will be fined."

Eric Peterson, arrested for riding a bicycle on a sidewalk near the Spruce school, paid a fine of $1 and costs.

GRADY WILL PITCH

In Sunday Game Between Hibbing and Woodlands at Duluth.

Hibbing, Minn., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Grady will do the twirling for the Hibbing Sluggers tomorrow in their game with the Woodlands at Duluth, according to Manager Brady. Tedisco will accompany the team and will be used if necessary.

Manager Brady now has games arranged for every Sunday until July 12 with the exception of June 7. Cloquet is to play Hibbing at Cloquet on June 27 and 28, and an effort will be made to get return games for July 11 and 12. On July 4 Hibbing will play Chisholm two games, one here at 2:30 and there at 4:30.

The lineup of the team in tomorrow's game will be: Carroll, c; Grady, p; Williams, 1b; Burrows, 2b; Brookins, 3b; Nord, ss; C. Booth, lf; D. Booth, cf; Geisselman, rf; Thiebert, utility man.

PLEASES COLERAINE.

Children Win Praise Giving "Tom Thumb's Wedding."

Coleraine, Minn., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—A program of unusual interest was given at the village auditorium last evening, when seventy-five tots presented "Tom Thumb's Wedding." Interest was at a high pitch from the time the curtain rose until the bridal party left the stage. Miss Anna Scott directed the affair, assisted by Miss Fay Cook. The proceeds netted a neat sum for the Methodist Ladies' Aid society. The entertainment will be repeated at Taconite this evening.

EVELETH NEWS NOTES.

Car Repairer Hurt and Taken to Two Harbors Hospital.

Eveleth, Minn., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Walter Christopherson, employed as a car repairer by the Iron Range Railway company here, was hurt yesterday. While working at a car it was moved and his foot was badly mangled. He was taken to the More hospital and from there he was sent to the Iron Range hospital at Two Harbors. Local surgeons state that it will be necessary to amputate at least part of the foot.

Ladies' Aid Sale.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian church will conduct a sale of home cooking next week at the Eveleth pharmacy.

Game Warden George Wood of Hibbing was here yesterday and said that his trip to this section of the country had not been without results and that arrests would be forthcoming.

George Berrie, who has been a resident of Eveleth for fifteen years and a Mesaba range laborer for twenty-five years, was, at his own request, sent to the county poor farm at Duluth Friday.

The Leonidas Sunday School society will give a program and candy pull June 5 at the Clinton town hall.

E. H. HATCH TO FILE.

Eveleth Man Will Oppose County Auditor Halden.

Eveleth, Minn., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Postmaster Edward H. Hatch of this city is in Duluth today, and this afternoon will call at the office of County Auditor Odin Halden and file as his opponent for the next election.

Mr. Hatch is a young man, but not a novice at campaigning. He was elected alderman soon after reaching his majority and held that office until he gave it up to become postmaster. Mr. Hatch will spend much of the time between now and election in Duluth.

NELS POLLA BURIED.

Man Who Died While Being Taken to Virginia in Auto Interred.

Virginia, Minn., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Nels Polla, laborer, 67 years old, who was stricken with heart failure while working on the road between Eveleth and Virginia Thursday and died while being brought to Virginia in an automobile being driven by Frank Magle of Duluth, was held today from Gillespie's undertaking parlors. Polla has two sons living in Virginia, but their financial condition is such that he had to be buried as a county charge. Both men are working on a township crew, but have been out of work for a long period and were unable to raise money for the funeral expenses of their father.

AWARD HONORS TO ELY ATHLETES.

Ely, Minn., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The high school honors won during the year were awarded yesterday. Letters were awarded the different athletes who had represented Ely on the football field and on the basket ball floor. "Es" were awarded the following students for football: William Lacey, Frank Gianotti, Clifford Miller, Edwin Toms, Jerry Harri, Douglas Narkervis, William Rautio, Leonard Aho, Walter Carlson, Phillip White, John Palmgard and Matt Maki. For basket ball the following received "Es": William Lacey, Matt Maki, Clifford Miller, Uno Alala, Phillip White and August Hilpakka. Prof. Bundlie presented the letters, after which Supt. H. E. White presented the cup to the senior class, winners of the inter-class series of basketball. This is twice in succession that the class of 1914 has won it, it having captured it last year while juniors.

BRIDAL COUPLE RETURN TO TOWER.

Tower, Minn., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dr. E. J. Hynes and bride returned from Duluth, where they were married on Tuesday. The bride was formerly Miss Cecelia McLaughlin of St. Paul. Dr. Hynes has been in Tower for some time. The couple will make their home at the Napier residence on South Second street.

Miss Theresa Uicheck returned to her home in Thorpe, Wis., after a two months' visit with her sister here, Mrs. A. G. Sanders.

HOOLIGANS GOING TO MOUNTAIN IRON.

Hibbing, Minn., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Hooligans will play their first game of the season Sunday at Mountain Iron.

Games have also been arranged for Memorial day with Tower, for May 31 with Nashwauk, and for June 7 with Winton.

Aurora and Two Harbors.

Aurora, Minn., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Aurora junior baseball team will open the season here Sunday afternoon in a game with Two Harbors. The local boys have been practicing and have a formidable organization.

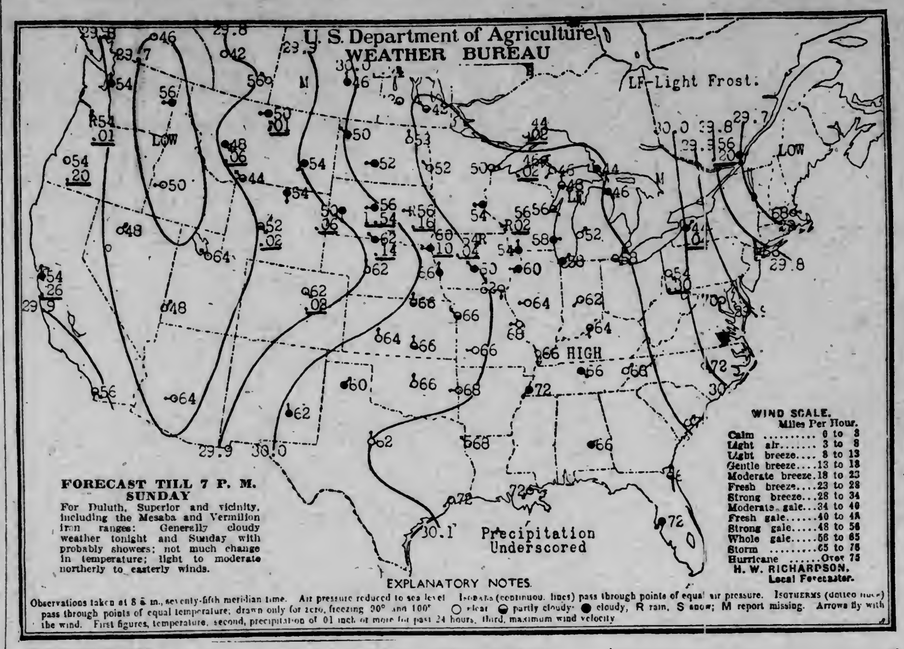
Joyful Anticipation of Motherhood

There is apt to be a latent apprehension of distress to mar the complete joy of expectation. But this is quite overcome by the advice of so many women to use "Mother's Friend." This is an external application designed to so lubricate the muscles and to thus so relieve the pressure reacting on the nerves, that the natural strain upon the cords and ligaments is not accompanied by those severe pains said to cause nausea, morning sickness and many local distresses.

Many people believe that those remedies which have stood the test of time, that have been put to every trial under the varying conditions of age, weight, general health, etc., may be safely relied upon. And judging by the fact that "Mother's Friend" has been in continual use since our grandmother's earlier years and is known throughout the United States it may be easily inferred that it is something that women gladly recommend.

"Mother's Friend" is prepared only in our own laboratory and is sold by druggists everywhere. Ask for a bottle to-day and write for a special book for expectant mothers. Address Bradfield Regulator Co., 307 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER



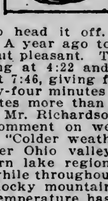
FORECAST TILL 7 P. M. SUNDAY

For Duluth, Superior and vicinity, including the Mesaba and Vermilion iron ranges: Generally cloudy weather tonight and Sunday with probably showers; not much change in temperature; light to moderate northerly to easterly winds.

EXPLANATORY NOTES.

Observations taken at 8 a. m., seventy-fifth meridian time. Air pressure reduced to sea level. Isobars (continuous lines) pass through points of equal air pressure. Isotherms (dotted lines) pass through points of equal temperature, drawn only for zero, freezing 30° and 100°. ○ clear ◑ partly cloudy ● cloudy, R rain, S snow; M report missing. Arrows fly with the wind. First figures, temperature, second, precipitation of .01 inch or more for past 24 hours, third, maximum wind velocity.

CLOUDY



A break in the fine weather is threatened for tonight and tomorrow. Generally cloudy weather with probable showers is predicted and another gloomy Sunday is the threat. The temperature will remain about the same. Maybe, though, Mr. Richardson will be able to head it off.

A year ago today was partly cloudy but pleasant. The sun rose this morning at 4:22 and will set this evening at 7:46, giving fifteen hours and twenty-four minutes of sunshine, four minutes more than yesterday.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Colder weather prevails in the Upper Ohio valley, Eastern Southern lake region and Eastern Canada, while throughout the South, Southwest, Rocky mountains and Northwest, the temperature has generally risen somewhat. Showers fell during Friday or last night over Pacific states, Wyoming, Colorado, South Dakota, Nebraska, Iowa, Wisconsin and Upper Michigan. Heavy rains fell at Pierre, S. D.

General Forecast.

Chicago, May 23.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m., Sunday:

Wisconsin—Unsettled tonight and Sunday, probably showers; warmer in southwest portion tonight.

Minnesota—Unsettled weather tonight and Sunday, probably showers; warmer in south and west portions tonight.

Iowa—Unsettled weather tonight and Sunday, probably showers; warmer in northeast portion tonight.

North Dakota and South Dakota—Unsettled weather tonight and Sunday, probably showers; warmer tonight.

Montana—Unsettled weather tonight and Sunday, probably showers.

Lower Michigan—Increasing cloudiness followed by showers late tonight and Sunday; slightly warmer tonight.

Upper Michigan—Increasing cloudiness followed by showers late tonight or Sunday; slightly warmer tonight.

HIBBING DELINQUENTS SETTLING RAPIDLY.

Hibbing, Minn., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The actual shutting off of users of light and water who do not pay their bills has proved a great incentive for prompt payments, according to the employes of the water and light board. This is the third month that the plan has been in operation and the list of delinquents has grown steadily smaller. Few, if any, continue in arrears and seldom are on the list for the second time. About sixty patrons were deprived of their light and water during the past three days but the majority have already paid up with the additional fee required.

HIBBING JOTTINGS.

Hibbing, Minn., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Boosting the Yakima valley which he declares to be the garden spot of the world, James K. Rosewall, a former employe of the mining companies in this district has written to his local friends from Wapato, Wash., where he is now located.

Mrs. Matrin Tracey of Nashwauk who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Henry of the Nassau location has left for her home accompanied by Mrs. Henry who will make a brief visit before returning.

Mrs. C. M. Atkinson has returned from a two weeks' visit in Crosby. She was accompanied by her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Marc Atkinson who will visit here for several days.

Don Wimmer formerly of the mechanical force of the Ore has left for Crosby where he has taken charge of the Crucible of which Marc Atkinson is editor.

Mrs. M. C. Booth left today for an extended visit with relatives and friends in St. Paul.

Several Hibbing people attended the dancing party in Keewatin last evening given by the Junior baseball clubs of the Keewatin high school. Di Marco's orchestra furnished excellent music and the occasion was a most delightful one.

Miss Rose Cohen of Duluth is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. I. Cohen for a week.

Mrs. Frank Jones and infant of the Oliver hotel returned home last evening from a four weeks' visit in Mcnominee, Mich. They were accompanied from Duluth by Mr. Jones.

VIRGINIA WOMAN SEEKING DIVORCE.

Virginia, Minn., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charging drunkenness, cruel and inhuman treatment and with having threatened her life upon several occasions is the complaint in the divorce proceedings instituted by Mrs. Ourora Maki against her husband, Isaac Maki, both residents of this city. Mrs. Maki also claims that her husband has been a habitual drunkard for the last year and that he has not worked or provided for her during that time. She gave her age as 45 and his at 33. The case will be tried at Hibbing at the next term of court to be held there.

EVELETH NINE TO PLAY CHISHOLM.

Eveleth, Minn., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Eveleth Ball club will go to Chisholm Sunday for a game. Each team has played one game this season, the locals winning from Gilbert and Chisholm losing to Hibbing.

MYSTIC WORKERS FOR KEEWATIN.

Keewatin, Minn., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Mystic Workers of the World, a fraternal beneficiary insurance society, has Deputy Organizer E. E. Huhn from Duluth here and is planning to start a lodge. He has explored this town very thoroughly and is meeting with great success, forty having signified their intention of joining the new lodge and thirty have already been examined and it is thought that in about two weeks it will be formally organized.

BOVEY BRIEFS.

Bovey, Minn., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ben Larson and son, Chester, have both resigned after six years' service in the Eric Johnson store.

Mrs. J. H. Bluntach went to Grand Rapids Friday to visit Mr. Bluntach, who is in the hospital suffering from a severe case of blood poisoning.

Mrs. Andrew Olson entertained the Five Hundred club Wednesday afternoon.

Eric Johnson has purchased a five-passenger Studebaker automobile.

Miss Berniece Provinski has been chosen as one of the teachers for the Cohasset school for the coming year.

Ben Carlson left for Warren Thursday night, called there by the illness of his father.

BENNETT IN VIRGINIA.

Virginia, Minn., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Harris Bennett, recently appointed collector of customs for the port of Duluth to succeed Lee Willcuts, was visiting friends and relatives in Virginia yesterday.

The annual junior-senior prom at the Technical high school gymnasium was given last evening. The affair proved the leading social one of the school year.

Dr. J. C. Farmer of McKinley, president of the newly organized Range Medical association, has been in the city completing plans for the initial banquet of the organization, to be held here June 9. The banquet will be held at the New Fay hotel, according to present plans.

"TIZ" EASES HOT, SORE, TIRED FEET

No Puffed-Up, Chafed, Tender, Sweaty Feet—No Corns or Callouses.

When your hot, tired, aching feet feel like paving blocks; all puffed up, chafed, sweaty and smelly, just get from any drug store a 25-cent box of "TIZ"—get the genuine, and begin at once to enjoy real foot comfort. No more sore, burning, tired feet—no more pain in corns, callouses and bunions; your shoes won't feel tight and your feet will never, never hurt or get all tired and swollen. "TIZ" is great—glorious. Don't disappoint your poor, suffering feet by accepting something "just as good," but get "TIZ."

EXPECT BIG CROWD AT VIRGINIA TEST

Virginia, Minn., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—It is expected there will be a great crowd especially of miners and mining men here Sunday to witness the public demonstration of first aid work. Among the teams appearing in the meet will be those from Hibbing, Chisholm, Virginia, Gilbert, Kinney and other towns and among the mining companies to be represented will be the Oliver, Pickands-Mather, the Republic Iron & Steel, the Keewatin Mining company and others. The list of entries was not complete today, but although the meet has been arranged on short notice the interest developed assures a large attendance.

Miniature Drift to Be Built.

First on the program will be mine rescue practice. At Oliver park there will be constructed a miniature drift, which will be filled with smoke nad gas. A man will be placed in it and teams using the oxygen rescuing machines will enter the drift in practical demonstrations of rescue work. There will be "working" and "relief" crews and the demonstration will be carried on under conditions as nearly as possible like those which the rescue teams are required to face in actual practice.

ERRING SPOUSE TO BE RETURNED HOME

Virginia, Minn., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Steps will be taken at once to have Emil Korpi of Virginia brought back here to answer to a charge of deserting his wife. His wife made complaint that following a row he had left here and gone north on the Canadian Northern. She wanted him brought back, but would not consent to his being jailed. City Attorney Montague decided that under the circumstances he would not issue a complaint, as the city would not be justified in incurring costs under the circumstances. Mrs. Korpi presented her case to the county authorities and Korpi will be brought back to the city and charged with wife desertion. His wife is without money and is threatened with ejectment from her home.

TWO HARBORS GIRL IS FEVER VICTIM

Two Harbors, Minn., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Lulu Nordahl, aged 14, who has been sick with scarlet fever for nearly three months, died last night at 6. She was the only child of Mrs. Ellen Nordahl, who has run a tailoring establishment here for the last two years. Death was due to an abscess of the brain caused by the scarlet fever. The death of her only child came as a hard blow to the mother, who did not realize that the end was so close. The day before she died she was considered much better and was able to sit up in bed.

Lulu attended the public schools of the city, also the Methodist Sunday school and church.

The funeral will be held this evening at 6. Rev. Mr. McKee of the First Methodist church will officiate.

FORTY-FIVE-INCH MUSKELLUNGE CAUGHT

Ely, Minn., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Schaefer, a taxidermist, showed a muskellunge that measured forty-five inches in length. The fish was caught in Basswood lake by a Minneapolis party.

STUDENTS IN MINE.

Virginia, Minn., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Prof. McCarthy and the university college of mines students, who are spending some time on the range studying iron mining and securing actual data on it, this afternoon made their first underground trip at the Lincoln mine and watched the miners at their work.

Give Ely Class Play.

Ely, Minn., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The class play, "The Taming of the Shrew," was given last evening at the high school auditorium by the members of the senior class before an audience that completely filled the large room.

Officers for the graduating classes from the grades and from the high school have been selected as follows: High school class, president, William Lacey; vice president, Edwin Toms; secretary and treasurer, August Hilpakka.

Eighth grade, president, Allen Brown; vice president, Jennie Pieckela; secretary and treasurer, Glenn Coffey.

Knife River Couple Weds.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frank L. Jasmin and Charlotte Buyers, both of Knife River, were married at the Methodist parsonage this morning by Rev. Mr. McKee.

Aurora Club to Shoot.

Aurora, Minn., May 23.—The Aurora gun club will start Sunday morning a series of shoots for a DuPont trophy. The club has a number of new members this season and they expect to have ten or twelve contestants.

Eveleth Ball Game.

Eveleth, Minn., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—A ball game will be played Sunday morning at the city park between the men employed at the office of the Oliver Iron Mining company at the Fayal office and the Fayal laboratory men.

Eveleth Man Returns.

Eveleth, Minn., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Edward Forristel, superintendent of the Eveleth water department returned yesterday from Philadelphia, where he attended the American Water Works association convention. "There were 952 delegates at the convention at Philadelphia and we were royally entertained," he said. "Trips to Wilmington and Atlantic City by special trains, were a part of the entertainment. The exhibits of water work equipment and supplies made the trip well worth taking."

Play at Grand Rapids.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Laprairie people who are to take part in the play, "Back to the Farm," which is to be given at the village hall on May 29 have the play well in hand, and it is about ready to produce.

Going to Sturgeon Lake.

Hibbing, Minn., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Motorcycle club will run to Sturgeon lake tomorrow, leaving from in front of the Oliver club at 8 o'clock. The riders will provide their own dinner which will be eaten at the lake.

Hibbing-Stevenson Shoot.

Hibbing, Minn., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—There is no little interest among the local marksmen over the arrangements that have been made for the joint shoot tomorrow morning between the Hibbing Gun club and the Stevenson organization. It is expected that more than twenty of the local club will attend though only ten will shoot on the competitive team.

Eveleth Schools Entertain.

Eveleth, Minn., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Yesterday was parents' day at the high school and a large number of visitors were entertained both in the afternoon and evening. A fine open air program was given in the afternoon by the grade pupils of the school. Many were dressed in costumes and the drills and folk dances were very pretty.

TRADES ASSEMBLY HEARS REPORTS

The Federated Trades assembly met at Kalamazoo hall last night and interesting reports were made upon the various activities of the organization during the last two weeks.

It was reported that a salesman now in Duluth is spreading the report that the St. Cloud flour mills are not entitled to the union label, and that investigation had proved conclusively that the statements of the salesman are untrue. Conditions at the mills, it was said, fully justify the union label.

Joseph Schmidt of Chicago, international organizer for the bakers' union, spoke to the assembly, and reported that a meeting of the local bakers will be held at Kalamazoo hall tonight.

A committee from the Owls' lodge said that work at the lodge rooms had been done by non-union labor, but assured the assembly that this would not be repeated, as a union card would be insisted upon from workers in the future. A rising vote of thanks was tendered the committee.

The executive board reported that the leading stores of the city had given assurances that they would remain closed on Memorial day.

LABOR AGITATOR IS NOT A SUFFRAGIST

New York, May 23.—"Mother" Jones, organizer of the United Mine Workers, recently under detention in Colorado and now here to plead for the striking miners of that state, disappointed many of her hearers at a dinner in her home last night, with her views on the vote for women.

"I have never seen any material benefits result from granting women the vote," she said when asked for a word on the subject. She pointed to conditions in Colorado, where women have been voting for twenty-one years, as bearing out her views.

"The average woman has never been a student of economics," she said, in explaining what she looked upon as woman's failure with the ballot and in the use of her great economic power.

MONDAY LAST DAY TO FILE.

Fargo, N. D., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Under the primary election law May 24 is the last day for filing petitions of nomination for office. But as this date occurs on Sunday the candidates will have until 4 p. m. Monday. The state tickets with the exception of one or two places on the Democratic ticket have been completed.

HOPE

For Sick Men

Hope, it is said, springs eternal in the human breast, but how many afflicted men there are who are disappointed and discouraged either because they have not investigated until they have found the right treatment to take or because they have had unsatisfactory medical service elsewhere.

We expect and do hear daily from patients, long stories of unsuccessful treatments. But in almost every case the fault lies with the man himself in failing to discriminate between the ordinary practitioner and the skilled men's doctor. In the treatment of Blood Poison, Skin Diseases, Ulcers, Varicocele, Hydrocele, Nervous Debility and such troubles you will find us past the experimental stage.

Come to SEE US and note the difference in the way an experienced men's doctor will handle your case.

You will be amply repaid by the progress which will be made in your case. We have cured many hundreds of men; we can do the same for you.

EVENTS SCHEDULED FOR COMING WEEK.

MONDAY—Private recital at Flaaten conservatory at 8 p. m.; last meeting of the Monday Evening club at the Kitchi Gammi clubhouse at 8:30 p. m.; indoor picnic of First M. E. Sunday school at Auditorium.

TUESDAY—Recital by Wally Heymar George at the First Presbyterian church at 8 p. m.

WEDNESDAY—Recital by Wally Heymar George at the First Presbyterian church at 8 p. m.; dance given by the Dancing club at the Kitchi Gammi club.

THURSDAY—Presentation of "An Interrupted Proposal" at the Irving social center at 8 p. m.

FRIDAY—Recital by pupils of Miss Mabel Fulton at Foresters' hall at 8:15 p. m.; farewell concert by Normanna chorus at the First Methodist church at 8:15 p. m.

SATURDAY—Annual meeting of normal school alumni at Torrance hall at 6:30 p. m.; Memorial day.

Socially, the week just closing has been a most uneventful one in Duluth and few functions have been planned for the coming week.

The announcement of the wedding of Miss Carolyn Munger and Cavour Hartley which will take place June 24 at the home of the bride's parents was of interest in society circles. Wedding announcements, showers and other entertainments for the June brides are taking the center of the stage. Among the engagements announced during the week were those of Miss Mary Elizabeth Cassalman of Calumet, Mich., and Dr. Frank H. Connor of this city; Miss Marie Graves and William A. Rice of Tenstrike, Minn.; Miss Emma Louise Maghan and A. W. Johnson of Superior, Wis., and Miss Eva Oreckovsky and Charles A. Finkelstein.

There were two home weddings Wednesday evening when Miss Phoebe Ella Gamble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Gamble, was married to Rudolph Charles Schiller, and Miss Lillian Mae Stevens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stevens became the bride of Henry A. Anderson.

Next week promises some musical events of interest. Wally Heymar George of Chicago, who is popular among Duluth music lovers, will give recitals at the First Presbyterian church Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. She will be assisted by local artists. Pupils of Miss Mabel Fulton will give a recital Friday evening and the Normanna chorus will appear at the First Methodist church that evening in their farewell concert.

The meeting of the alumni of the Normal school set for next Saturday evening and the departure of relatives and friends for the commencement exercises of various seminaries and universities show it will not be long before the young Duluthians who have been away to school, return.

Summer weight Wool and Silk Suits—Summer weight Coats—Summer Silk Dresses—Light, airy Evening Frocks—Fancy Cotton Frocks—Dainty Waists—Wash Dresses—Neckwear—Novelties and Accessories—Smart Street and Semi-Dressy Hats.

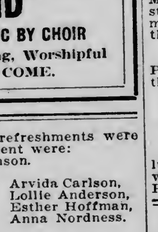
The sale that means saving of many dollars to women who have come to know the economic advantages of buying at "The Young-Quinlan" Clearance Sales.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Be Prepared for the Unexpected Guest.

"What shall I do?" wailed the little lady from the apartment across the hall as she turned despairingly from her neighbor's telephone. "My husband is bringing two full grown men home to dinner and I haven't a single thing in the house to eat."



"Nonsense," said the neighbor, plumping herself down on the edge of the couch. "Of course you have something to eat. You told me yourself you had a nice little roast for today's dinner; now let me hear what else you had planned for the evening meal." The tearful bride replied: "Mashed potatoes, boiled onions and apple sauce."

"It's not a bad beginnig," mused the other. "The roast will do and the mashed potatoes and even the onions, if you haven't something tucked away on a shelf for just this emergency. Haven't you a can of soup and one of vegetables, with some other little delicacy?" questioned the neighbor hopefully. "You know you have the basis of a good dinner if you only had a few accessories."

"Well, I haven't," snapped the other, looking at the clock and noticing that the hands pointed to twenty minutes after 6. "I haven't a single thing except a jar of peaches that my mother gave me the last time I visited her, and a bottle of olives."

"Wait a minute," said the neighbor. "I'll help you out. I have two cans of good soup and you can take your choice. I have a can of asparagus tips and one of French peas. I think the tips would go nicely with your roast, and if you will let me, I will come in and mix a sponge cake while you are making the other preparations and getting yourself fixed up a little.

The younger woman looked at the other one gratefully. "You are kind," she said, this time with the tears shining in her eyes. "I'd like to have it nice for him, but I am not prepared for company tonight." The two women moved across the hall with canned goods, and a nice little dinner was quickly evolved by means of these extras and the peach preserves, the olives and the sponge cake.

In the meantime, the young wife had been enlightened as she needed to be in a matter that has occasioned tears, worriment, embarrassment and hard feeling between husband and wife since the first husband brought home unannounced the first dinner guest.

"Always," said the first housekeeper, who had more experience, "see to it that you have certain supplies on hand—little luxuries that you cannot afford on your table every day. In these days when it is possible to procure numerous prepared delicacies, one shelf in the pantry should be stored with them in anticipation of the unexpected, but not unwelcome guest.

DULUTH COMPOSER'S SONG WILL BE SUNG ON MEMORIAL DAY

MISS ALICE M. OLSEN.

A composition by Miss Alice M. Olsen of this city will be sung by John Koneczny at the concert to be given by the choir of the First Norwegian Lutheran church, Memorial day. This is one of Miss Olsen's last compositions. It is a musical setting for a high voice of Edgar Allen Poe's poem, "A Dream." There will be a violin obligato. Miss Olsen has studied piano and organ for two years with Heniot Levy and Wilhelm Middelshultz of Chicago. She will be one of the soloists at the Memorial day concert.

EVENTS OF THE WEEK IN DULUTH CLUBS AND MUSICAL CIRCLES

"The Place of Music in Schools" Subject of National Conference in Minneapolis; An "Anti's" Reasons; D. A. R. Election; Recitals and Concerts of Coming Week.

THE Place of Music in Schools" was the subject of the national conference of music supervisors held in Minneapolis recently.

The Twin Cities offered excellent advantages in the way of practical demonstrations. The visiting supervisors inspected the regular work in three high schools and three intermediate schools of Minneapolis. The pupils' chorus singing and appreciation of music called forth approving remarks of generous measure. The conference also had the opportunity to inspect the work of the schools in St. Paul, where Miss Elsie M. Shaw, the supervisor of music, conducted a demonstration by classes from all grades in chorus and sight singing. Supervisor Giddings of Minneapolis said: "I wish to be quoted as saying that this has been a 'stunningly fine' exhibition of grade work."

In his address on "Appreciation of Music," Dr. A. E. Winthrop of the Journal of Education said: "To know music is an education. Music is the thrill in education, not a frill on education." He deprecated the much-talked of "feeling" for music without knowledge. He said that just as children are taught to read, not for the specific purpose of writing poetry but for the development of appreciation for good literature, so they should be taught to know music for the sake of a fuller appreciation, not necessarily that they become composers or professional artists.

Two Means to End.

Although a unified aim of school music was demanded at the convention, there was a difference of opinion regarding the aim, or rather the place of emphasis in attaining the ultimate aim. Some members thought stress should be put upon music itself with less emphasis upon sight singing. Others regarded sight singing as a means to the ultimate object, referring to the excellent illustration of their point as given by the St. Paul school children.

As a means of unifying, or standardizing school music, Mrs. Casterton suggested for consideration an international conference, certification of supervisors, state or Federal license for teachers, standardization of method and result, the development of the school band and orchestra, miscellaneous collections of music for public library circulation, extension of music culture into rural districts and the use of pictures in connection with the teaching of music.

Requirements suggested for a supervisor of music were at least a high school education, knowledge of fundamental subjects, ability to read score, mastery of practical teaching methods, personality, natural teaching ability, knowledge of harmony of orchestral instruments, a repertoire of songs and orchestral music, ability to conduct choruses and orchestras, knowledge of psychology and pedagogy and the spiritual and emotional qualities that are of ethical value as affecting character and conduct.

"If any person possesses all those natural and acquired qualities why should he labor as a supervisor of music while the people at large are willing to pay to see even a grown-up prodigy?" was the question one delegate asked.

Two Recitals.

UNDER the auspices of the Sunday school and the Philathea class of the First Presbyterian church, Wally Heymar George of Chicago will give two recitals at the church, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at 8 o'clock. Recital and Tea.

About 200 invitations were sent out to the musicale and tea of Miss Edna Harris and her piano pupils given this afternoon at Miss Harris' studio in the Edison building. Among the younger pupils who took part in the program good pedaling, tone, quality and time were characteristics. Mildred Saunders who played "The Butterfly" showed her training in the use of the pedal and her conception of time, and Rosalie Haddad gave evidence of her knowledge of technique in Durand's "Chaconne." James Gray brought out well the tone quality of Godard's "Because." "Tarantella," by Weber, as played by Miss Inez Richards, was noticeable for its technique. Miss Alma Forsell's two numbers, "Will o' the Wisp," by McDowell and "Concert Mazurka," by Virgil brought out two attributes of successful piano playing, technique in the McDowell piece and tone quality in the Virgil selection.

After the program tea was served. Miss Harris was assisted by her mother, Mrs. C. A. Harris, and Mrs. William Carlson who poured. Young ladies of the class served. Yellow and white daisies were used on the tea table and yellow and white tulips and narcissi about the rooms. Miss Harris wore a gown of white voile trimmed with white chiffon and small purple pansies.

St. James' Guild.

At the meeting of St. James' guild held yesterday in the Bishop's clubroom, a report was given on the St. James' Junior guild by Mrs. William Craig, who organized it as an auxiliary of the St. James' Senior guild. Mrs. Craig has worked hard to build up the new society and her report showed she has been successful. The membership is about 280, all new members, and the receipts amount to $264. There are about 600 members in the senior guild.

SOCIAL CENTERS.

List of Meetings Scheduled for the Coming Week.

MONDAY afternoon at 3:30 o'clock the Cheywassa club will hold its last regular meeting at the Bryant social center. In the evening at 7:30 o'clock the Junior Woman's guild of Bryant social center will hold the last regular meeting of the year. Plans for the next year's work and summe rextension work will be discussed.

Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the Irving social center the junior class of the Industrial high school will give an entertainment for the benefit of "The Oracle," the senior publication. Sixteen musical numbers have been planned and there will be a dramatic dialogue by Leo Deutsch and Emmeline Brett.

NORMANNA CHORUS WILL BE HEARD IN FAREWELL CONCERT

THE SCOTTISH RITE QUARTET.

THE Normanna chorus will give its farewell concert, before leaving for Norway, Friday evening at 8:15 o'clock at the First M. E. church. The chorus will be assisted by Donna Riblette Flaaten, soprano; Laura Frankenfield, reader; Isabel Pearson, organist; David A. Soderquist, baritone, and the Scottish Rite quartet.

A feature of the program will be "Ase's Death," by Ibsen, given by Miss Frankenfield, with the organ accompaniment of Grieg played by Miss Pearson.

Mr. Soderquist will sing a group of songs in Swedish, Norwegian and English, and the solo in Grieg's grand chorus, "Landjkening." Although Mr. Soderquist has been here only a short time he bids fair to be one of Duluth's favorite singers.

One of the numbers on the program was given under the auspices of the Matinee Musicale March 9 and will be repeated by request. It is A. F. M. Custance's arrangement of "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," as sung by Mrs. Flaaten and the Normanna chorus.

A special feature will be a new arrangement by Mr. Custance of the Hawaiian Farewell song for the Normanna. It consists of quartet, solo and chorus.

The Scottish Rite quartet will sing an arrangement of Tosti's "Goodbye."

AN ANTI-SUFFRAGIST'S REASONS

Opposes Votes for Women Because History Shows That Nations That Lose Touch With Divine Element Go Down to Oblivion.

MRS. J. C. H. ENGEL has written a paper on "The Suffrage Question Again, Why I Am an 'Anti'," which sums up the anti-suffrage argument of the few Duluth club women who are opposed to the suffrage cause. It follows:

"I am an anti-suffragist because,

"First—One of the most significant teachings of history is that as soon as any nation begins to depart from the paths that are marked out by Nature; as soon as society fails to work in harmony with the God Consciousness, as manifested in the universe, and in the individual consciences of men and women; in a word, as soon as mankind loses touch with the divine element, whether it be named God or evolution, just so soon will society go down to oblivion, and historical annihilation.

"The fundamental principles of the divine in history, as shown in the physical, intellectual and spiritual development of humanity, is that woman's place in the plan of the universe is essentially that of the mother of the race; the bearer ad trainer of children; the maker and keeper of the home.

"It is just because the women of today have not gone deeply enough into this question; because they have rashly and thoughtlessly generalized to conclusions, before they have examined adequate data on which to base such conclusions, that the suffrage propaganda is so weak that it cannot stand the test of reason, nor bear the light of intellectual examination.

"Secondly—I am an anti-suffragist because I desire to keep a proper sense of proportion in considering the many diverse elements which are involved in this problem.

Economic Issues.

"If one is to find a solution, it is necessary to recognize that from one side economic questions enter in, from another, moral issues are concerned. For instance, regarding matters which pertain to women as wage earners. These are purely economic questions, presented because of the enormous extent to which women have entered into all lines of work within the last twenty-five years, work which formerly was done exclusively by men. It is perfectly proper that woman should so have taken up these various lines of endeavor. But she should not expect that after she has glutted the labor market, and so caused overproduction, she can escape the inevitable working of the law of supply and demand in a lowered wage scale. Neither should she expect to be able to compete with man in the quality of her work in the much shorter time which she has had to demonstrate her ability to do the work.

"Such economic questions require time in which to work out, and woman needs to learn a greater patience under such conditions, and should not fondly imagine that if she only had the ballot she could vote high wages and short hours for all women wage earners.

The Moral Aspects.

"Again, there are the moral aspects of this discussion. The liquor business and the social evil are the most pertinent ones. Now, as to the saloon, through woman's splendid influence in the past along such lines as the temperance crusade, the educational and constructive work done by the W. C. T. U., which has probably done more than any other one organization, and the prohibition propaganda, the tone of public opinion has been so raised and the social conscience so thoroughly aroused, that now the passing of the saloon as an institution is a question of only a short time, while the scientific campaign which has emphasized the lowering of social efficiency through the use of intoxicants has been so beneficial, that the rising generation is voluntarily instituting a taboo on liquor.

"Regarding the other moral question, woman has not as yet realized that her efforts in the past have not been wisely directed and that her attitude has been a false one. She has recognized, tacitly at least, a very much lower standard of personal morality for man than she has imposed upon herself. Through her winking at the doctrine of 'sowing wild oats' on the part of her son, while at the same time she allowed her pure daughter to marry a man who, she well knew, had had such a period of debauchery, she both encouraged the lower standard for man and signified her willingness to allow her daughter to risk both physical and moral infection by such an alliance. Please note that woman always sanctioned this arrangement of conventional society, and man would have had to be a creature far above rather than 'a little lower than the angels,' not to have remained complaisant under an arrangement so easy for him.

"At the same time woman has the weapon of social ostracism for the victim of this system, forgetting that the Founder of Christianity said to the harlot, 'Neither do I condemn thee, 'Go, and sin no more,' after her accusers had slunk away under the scorn of Christ's challenge, 'Let him that is without sin among you, cast the first stone.'

"But these are not subjects for legislation, except only in so far as they concern saner and more hygienic marriage laws, and such laws will remain dead letters on the statute books until woman says, through social convention, which she controls, that she insists on the same standard of morality for man as she maintains for herself.

"These are only a few reasons why I am an anti-suffragist."

SVEA CLUB PROGRAM.

Singers Delight Audience at the First Methodist Church.

AN ENJOYABLE program was given last evening at the First Methodist church by the Svea Glee club and those who assisted them. The Glee club has an able director in Charles Helmer.

The first number of the program was the sextet from "Lucia" with organ accompaniment by Miss Isabel Pearson. Korling's "Herre," a heavy piece, was greatly enjoyed. "Strybjorn Starke," the closing number received such hearty applause that an encore had to be given even after some persons had left the auditorium.

Ellen Bausemer Miller pleased with her violin solos, "Arkansas Traveler," by Vieuxtemps; "Romance," by Svendson, and "Introduction and Mazurka," by Musin. Miss Isabel Pearson gave two beautiful organ numbers, "Spring Song," by Hollins, and "Allegretto in B Flat," by Wolstenholme.

Davis A. Soderquist was the vocal soloist of the evening. This was Mr. Soderquist's first regular appearance in Duluth. He has a flexible voice and a sympathetic interpretation. His songs were: "Requiem," Homer; "Summer Rain," by Willeby; "Aftonstamning," by Jacobson; "Du ar min ro," by Collan, and "Sverige," by Stenhammer.

The accompanists of the evening were Mrs. Flaaten and Miss Pearson.

"Y" WORK IN FOREIGN LAND

Y. M. C. A. work in foreign lands was the theme of all the addresses made at the banquet given at the association building last evening in honor of George F. Tibbitts, international secretary in the West Indies, who is in Duluth for several days.

Mr. Tibbitts was the principal speaker of the evening and he gave an interesting talk on the work done by the Y. M. C. A. in the West Indies and other foreign countries. He illustrated his talk with photographs and stereopticon views, showing the marvelous steps already made in furthering Christianity and the improvements accomplished by the efforts of the association leaders, who are seeking to better the moral and physical conditions of these lands.

"It is to let you know the 'home' organizations are the basis of this work that we are here," said Mr. Tibbitts. "Although the Y. M. C. A. foreign work is not self-supporting at the present, it will be in time. The moral, civic and mental improvements and the universal movement for the better already can be noticed."

During his address Mr. Tibbitts showed views of Mexico, declaring that there is great need of proper education in that country. A. E. Turner, recently of Mexico City, emphasized the remarks made by Mr. Tibbitts and also outlined the need of an extensive campaign for the betterment of conditions in Mexico.

Frank H. Crassweller acted as toastmaster following the dinner, preceding the regular program with a short talk on the Y. M. C. A. work in general. During the evening he called on Cameron Beck, recently of Porto Rico, who told of the work B. A. Shuman of Duluth is doing in Buenos Aires.

BISHOP QUAYLE ON CAINE AND HIS ISLAND

BISHOP W. A. QUAYLE.

"Hall Caine and His Island" will be the subject on which Bishop W. A. Quayle of the Methodist church will lecture on Monday evening at the First German M. E. church, Fifth avenue east and Sixth street. Bishop Quayle has lectured frequently in Duluth and has made a most favorable impression here in that line. He was last heard here lecturing on "Mark Twain," a subject which dealt with the late great humorist-philosopher in splendid manner.

It is claimed that in the lecture in which he will be heard on Monday evening, he is even better, talking about the noted author of "The Manxman" and other works in an intimate and yet analytic way.

Interclass Track Meet Is Held; Sophs Defeat the Juniors on Diamond; Central Enters Relay Team at "Y" Field Meet; Senior Exams Are Announced; Aquatic Contest Held.

On Friday afternoon occurred the annual inter-class track and field meet, which is held in order to get a line on the athletes who will compose the high school team. The field events were held on the north campus and the track events on the boulevard and Fifth avenue west. The past week has given the contestants a good opportunity at working out for the various events and the meet proved to be fully up to the standard of former years. Prospective dual meets are under consideration with Superior Central and Irving high schools.

The last opportunity of securing senior class pins came to a close on Friday. Albert Olson had charge of the ordering.

The sophomore baseball team demonstrated its ability on Wednesday afternoon by defeating the juniors by the score of 15 to 11.

The committee in charge of the freshman class party, to be held Friday, May 29, is making preparation for one of the biggest social events of the year.

In an air-tight game from start to finish the seniors were able to win out by the score of 9 to 8 over the freshmen in the inter-class baseball championship series, which is now under way at the high school.

The last chance of securing a Zenith slip at the advanced price of 75 cents closes on Friday. Hereafter any one wishing to make sure of a copy of the 1914 publication will have to make arrangements for it at one of the downtown book stores.

All students who are planning to enter the contest in original orations were expected to leave them in the hands of Mr. Stenberg on Thursday. The contest will be held next week.

* * *

One of the big athletic events of the week was the championship baseball game between the Agricultural club and the Commercials. The game was full of excitement and was won by the Farmers. Score 5 to 1.

ROOSEVELT CONFIDENT

Flinn Tells Him Bull Moose Will Carry Pennsylvania.

Ex-President Makes Brief Statement on Mellen Testimony.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., May 23.—William Flinn of Pittsburg, Progressive national committeeman, who led the bolt of Roosevelt delegates from the Republican national convention of 1912, last night paid his first visit to Sagamore Hill since Col. Roosevelt's return from South America. With Mr. Flinn was Gifford Pinchot, Progressive candidate for United States senator from Pennsylvania. With them Col. Roosevelt went over the political situation in Pennsylvania and discussed the part he is to take in the coming campaign there. It is probable that Col. Roosevelt will devote several days to a speaking trip through the state, after his return from his tour across the continent.

"The lineup in Pennsylvania," said Col. Roosevelt, "is very good indeed. Mr. Flinn is confident of winning as am I. The situation there is a perfect example of what ought not to be, and of what we are trying to do."

As to Mellen Testimony.

The testimony in Washington of Charles S. Mellen, former president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, regarding his interview with President Roosevelt concerning the sale of the New Haven's steamship lines to Charles W. Morse of New York, caused the colonel to send a telegram to Herbert Knox Smith of Hartford, Conn., who was commissioner of corporations during the Roosevelt administration. In his telegram he asked Mr. Smith to make public a letter which he had sent the colonel in 1912 regarding this matter, which, as commissioner of corporations, he supervised. This letter, the colonel said, contained every phase of the mat

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

BANKERS END THEIR MEET

Crookston Man Elected President of Ninth District Bankers.

A. L. Stephens Springs Plan for Farm Loans From Regional Banks.

Crookston, Minn., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—A banquet in the Presbyterian church with J. W. Wheeler of the Capital Trust company of St. Paul as toastmaster last night concluded the session here of the ninth district group of the Minnesota State Bankers' association. The session has been successful in every way. Through all the addresses there was a spirit of optimism which reflected most satisfactory conditions in Northwestern Minnesota, resulting from a steady increase in the farming population and a steady tendency toward more corn, more alfalfa, more clover, more stock and greater diversification and better farming methods generally, together with a large acreage in the ground this spring under most favorable conditions.

"The New Education."

Yesterday afternoon Supt. F. E. Lurton of the Detroit schools gave one of the finest addresses of the convention on "The New Education." He compared the old education to the new, contending that a generation ago the object was to acquaint the student with past history whereas the present system aimed at preparing the student for the real battle of life. He contended that the educator of today had a tremendous load shifted upon him, the mother who ran to clubs, afternoon teas and gadding tours having put it up to the public schools to care for the child from the 6th to the 19th year. He claimed it was left to the schools to fill the breach caused by the disappearance of the old home life from the present day home, and that as yet the schools had been unable to fill the program beyond the age of the 14-year-old child.

He contended that the cost of maintaining the schools should not be charged as an expense, but rather as an investment, and that as long as the total amount expended for chewing gum equalled the amount expended in education, no one should worry. He also called attention to the fact that twice the sum was expended for tobacco as for education and that the nation's liquor bill made the expense of education appear as but an incidental expense, while the motion picture show expenditures of the nation dwarfed all other expenses.

His idea is that, though costly, the present system of education should be expanded, so that in so far as possible every child should be fitted for a useful life, and that nothing short of this would meet the demands of the people of today. He was given an ovation when he concluded.

C. R. Craddick of Minneapolis gave a very interesting talk on "Bank Advertising" in which he said the newspaper advertising should never be neglected. C. D. Brown, manager of the protective department of the Minnesota Bankers' association gave a very interesting report.

Stephens' Plan.

A. D. Stephens of Crookston created something of a stir when he broached a plan which in brief was to have the bankers set aside $5 when every real estate loan was made to be used to pay the expenses of a state examiner to visit the farm upon which the mortgage was placed, and if it did not exceed 50 per cent of the value of the farm, such mortgage should be collateral for a 90 per cent loan from the regional bank. He believed the regional bank could easily dispose of these mortgages to small investors, thus making about $800,000,000 otherwise not available, accessible for legitimate business. He asked that every banker present give the matter thought and stand behind the proposition if it appealed to them as proper, and urge legislation to carry it into effect.

BROOKSTON BOY WRITES

Tells About Experiences on Warship in Mexican Waters.

Brookston, Minn., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Walter Bauer, a Brookston boy is aboard the U. S. S. New Orleans, on the Western coast of Mexico, has written an interesting letter under date of April 30. At that time the battleship was lying in the harbor of Guaymas, Mex., and he writes in part as follows:

"We have been anchored here for the past three weeks and have been keeping close watch on the town. We transferred all the United States refugees to th transport Mazatan to be sent to the states if the situation becomes more serious. We are standing by ready to take the town as soon as war is declared. The Yorktown is also here and is keeping tab on the Mexican ship Guerrero. We have a ship stationed at every port so there will not be much to it if anything does start. The Saturn arrived today from San Francisco with coal and stores for the Yorktown and the New Orleans."

GAVE INDIANS DRUG.

Is Charge Against Man Being Tried in Milwaukee.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 23.—Mitchell Neck is on trial in the Federal court here on the charge of introducing a drug known as peyote on the Menominee Indian reservation.

Neck was indicted on two counts, one charging that he gave some of the drug to Silas Neconish and the other that he introduced it onto the Menomhee reservation. The government contends that it comes under a law prohibiting, in addition to liquor, drugs, essences, extracts or the like, producing the effects of intoxication.

Silas Neconish, the witness, told of peyote having been brought to his house by Neck, also known as Nah-Qua-Tah-Tuck. After eating four pieces he said he saw God, the devil, a watermelon he had stolen, a whisky bottle which he had emptied, a cross and magnificent colors, as well as misdeeds of the past. Questioned as to what God looked like, Silas asked, in all seriousness, of Mr. Goff, the prosecutor:

"Didn't you ever see God?"

The devil he described as having a cat's head, horns and a tail, being of a color the witness described as like whisky. Speaking of the watermelon he had stolen, he added that he was not going to take any more, but under cross-examination caused a laugh by asserting that he would not steal them, but would take them. When he saw the devil, he testified, he prayed.

ECZEMA LIKE LIVING FIRE

On Head and Face. Itched and Burned Terribly. Would Form Scales. Hair All Came Out. Eyes so Sore Could Hardly See. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

R. F. D. No. 1, Box 57, Michigan City, Ind.—"I had the eczema on my head ever since I could remember. It would itch and burn terribly sometimes. It came on my face and was like a living fire. My eczema was like pimples and if I scratched them they would bleed and form scales like finger nails. I had scars all over my face. I could not sleep because it itched so badly and I would scratch. My hair all came out in one week. My eyes got so sore that I could hardly see well. I suffered terribly and I thought there would be no cure for me.

"I treated and spent fifty dollars and got no help. I was discouraged. My sister came to see me and she told me to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I would bathe in hot water and Cuticura Soap and then put the Cuticura Ointment on twice a day, morning and night, and bandage my face and head as much as I could. I used three cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and my cure is complete." (Signed) Mrs. W. H. Rhode, Oct. 23, 1913.

It costs nothing to learn how pure, sweet, effective and satisfying Cuticura Soap and Ointment are in the treatment of poor complexions, red, rough hands, itching scalps, dandruff, dry, thin and falling hair, because you need not buy them until you try them. Although sold everywhere, sample of each will be mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

☞Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

NEW HIGH RECORD IN BUILDING EXPECTED IN CITY THIS SPRING

New Hotel Costing $20,000 Will Be Built at First Avenue East.

Permits for New Dwellings Indicate Large Growth in Population.

Another gratifying showing was made in building work during the present week, and at the rate of going that has been recorded since the first of the year, it is regarded as highly probable that a new high mark will be set during the current season.

Permits issued at the building inspector's office during the week were thirty-seven in number with the cost of improvements placed at $43,155.

The extension of new house construction in evidence in the city since the early spring, is emphasized in the fact that all but six of the permits taken out were for dwellings. Activity is especially marked in West Duluth and in the steel plant districts. Permits were issued to W. S. Moore for four frame dwellings to go up in Gary, and other individuals obtained authority for the same class of building in that townsite.

As attesting the extent to which old buildings are being furnished up and modernized during this period of house scarcity, mention is to be made of the issuing of a permit to the Apex Investment company for repairs to eleven dwellings in the district between Twelfth and Thirteenth avenues west at a cost of $6,600.

New Hotel Proposed.

The feature of the week in new work was the decision of S. Halverson to erect a three-story brick hotel building at First avenue east and Railroad street. The plans have been prepared by P. M. Olson, architect, and bids on the job will be taken next week. Its estimated cost is $20,000.

The joint committee of the Builders' exchange, Real Estate exchange and Architects' club is making progress in its undertaking to go through the present building ordinance with a view to suggesting amendments calculated to make it more workable. At the first meeting of the committee, held at the Commercial club last Wednesday evening, the lighting and ventilating features of the code were discussed. It was the general opinion that too large a glass area is called for in many cases, and that the court and air shaft measurements now stipulated are impracticable and have tended to restrict new construction. The housing code will be further discussed at another meeting of the committee, to be held at the Commercial club next Wednesday evening, May 27.

The plans for two frame schools in the Floodwood district will go out for figures next week from the office of Kelly & Williams, architects.

Wangenstein & Gilluson, architects, have prepared plans for a one-story brick store and flat building to be erected for Mrs. Laura M. Peters on Superior street between Twenty-first and Twenty-second avenues west.

The same architects are preparing plans for a brick duplex flat building to go up at Sixth street and Sixth avenue east, and for a brick residence for J. E. Laurance on Fourth avenue west between Fourth and Fifth streets. It is estimated to cost $5,000. The office is besides taking figures on a large hay barn to be built on G. G. Hartley's Island farm.

The general contract for house and office building for the Highland company on the Duluth Heights has been awarded to S. T. Skrone, and the heating and plumbing to Archie McDougall. The plans were prepared by Arthur Hanford, architect.

The contract for a frame house for Walter Ross at Forty-eighth avenue east and Jay street has also been awarded to Mr. Skrone, the heating and plumbing job going to Stack Bros. Arthur Hanford was the architect.

Mr. Hanford has besides plans in preparation for a bungalow for the Lakeside Land company.

P. M. Olson, architect, will receive bids next week for a dwelling for C. O. Carlberg on Fifty-seventh avenue west. Its cost is estimated at $4,500.

The same architect is also prepared to take figures on the following jobs: A residence for E. F. Zimmerman at Kenilworth park, estimated to cost $5,000; a brick and stucco residence for C. D. Campbell to be built on Woodland avenue at an estimated cost of $7,500; and a frame two-family flat building for Gust Dahlin at Second avenue west and Second street, to cost about $6,000.

Cecil Deighton is building a $5,000 frame residence on Princeton avenue. The general contract was awarded to Gustafson & Olson, the plumbing and heating to Archie McDougall, and the electrical work to Fred Tischer. The plans were prepared by P. M. Olson.

GOOD INQUIRY FOR REALTY PROMISES ACTIVE MOVEMENT

Duluth Expects Two New Large Factories in Near Future.

Improvements for Victoria Street and Vermilion Road to Begin Soon

While there were no special developments in real estate circles during the present week, a broadening investment inquiry that is expected to lead to substantial business in the near future, is affording operators abundant reason for gratification.

As a result of the congested situation in the way of housing accommodation, sales of building lots in the various sections of the city are attaining fair proportions. As these are being bought mainly for improvement in the near future, growing activity in building operations is forecasted.

Dealers in close touch with the situation are counting heavily upon prospective developments in connection with certain propositions that are said to be nearing an interesting stage. The landing of at least two new factories that will afford employment to several hundred operatives, is regarded as reasonably certain. As showing the diversity of the enterprises seeking to establish themselves in Duluth, it is mentioned by John A. Stephenson that two manufacturing concerns have opened negotiations for renting the old Brass Works property adjoining the National Iron Works, at present occupied by the Western Linen company. The latter concern will remove into its new factory building in West Duluth on June 1.

Mr. Stephenson has just leased premises on lower Lake avenue to the Duluth Oil & Specialty company, another new enterprise that proposes to engage in the grinding of seed compound and oil specialties.

Opening Waverly Park.

With the fine weather prevailing during the week, rapid progress was made by the committee of the Duluth real estate exchange that has in hand the work of developing the Waverly Park property, so that the plans for its sale may be opened on June 1.

The contract for paving Victoria street has been awarded to Rogers & McLean. As previously intimated the roadway is to be twenty-four feet wide with concrete curb and gutters. The city is making an advance assessment for paving the Vermilion road, the work on which is to be proceeded with immediately. The installing of sewers on the various streets is nearly completed. The roadways have been laid out, and the contractors are preparing to lay the sidewalks.

The work thus far accomplished is affording visitors a fair idea of the beauty of the property's general surroundings.

It is reported that several corporations have availed themselves this season of the services of the Duluth real estate exchange's valuation committee in appraising properties involved in the carrying through of transfers. This committee is composed of experts who are in close touch with values of all classes of properties, and the work is performed for a nominal fee as prescribed in the rules of the exchange.

Charles P. Craig & Co. reported a fairly active week in both acreages and house properties. The sales closed up included a house on Tioga street at $5,250 and five building lots for the Lakeside Land company, two houses at Highland park, over the Duluth Heights, and three tracts at Greysolon farms.

* * *

C. J. Kinzel of the Kinzel-Burke company returned today from Chicago, where he disposed of some building lots in the Gary First division. The office also sold a lot in the Gary Central division to an Akeley, Minn., investor. Good outside inquiry is being received by the firm for properties in the steel plant district.

An increasing interest in tracts at Exeter Farms is advised by the Alliance Real Estate company, resulting in sales of five parcels there during the week.

The Hoopes-Kohagen company is pressing work in the opening of roads and the installing of water and sewer services in its Park Drive addition. Advance sales of building lots there have exceeded expectations thus far. Five lots were reported to have been sold yesterday.

Stryker, Manley & Buck sold a forty-acre farm near Superior yesterday. Improving inquiry for acre tracts and well-located building lots was noted by that office.

Richardson, Day & Cheadle reported sales during the week of two acre outlots, a fifteen-acre tract at Lakewood and two lots on Sixth street, Old Superior.

A. W. Kuehnow, president of the Gary Land company, reported an improvement in the inquiry from outside points. Negotiations that may result in the disposition of two large blocks of lots in Gary Central division are advised to be making progress.

In the meantime building operations are fairly active at Gary. L. Francois began work this week on the erection of a two-story block on Commonwealth avenue. Frank Ponti is putting up a building for business purposes on Crestline court, Canvillo Inforzato is erecting a saloon building on Commonwealth avenue and M. Contrato is building a moving picture house on Commonwealth avenue between Reis and Dickson streets. In addition fourteen modern priced houses are under erection in the townsite.

The A. A. Fider company sold to Thomas A. Hendrix house and lot No. 1019 East Eighth street at a consideration of $2,500.

The following real estate transfers were recorded during the week with the register of deeds:

Hardening Concrete Floors.

Consul Albert Halstead, Birmingham England, reported that the Chemical Trade Journal for April 18 contains the following:

"A new hardening material for the surface of concrete floors contains 95 per cent of iron dust or iron flour It is added to the dry cement in the proportion of 15 to 25 pounds to each 100 pounds, and one part of the mixture is used with two parts of sand. This preparation is applied as a top coat to a thickness of half an inch to an inch. It forms a hard and durable floor, claimed to be waterproof and not slippery, and is also used for making new concrete adhere to old in repairing."

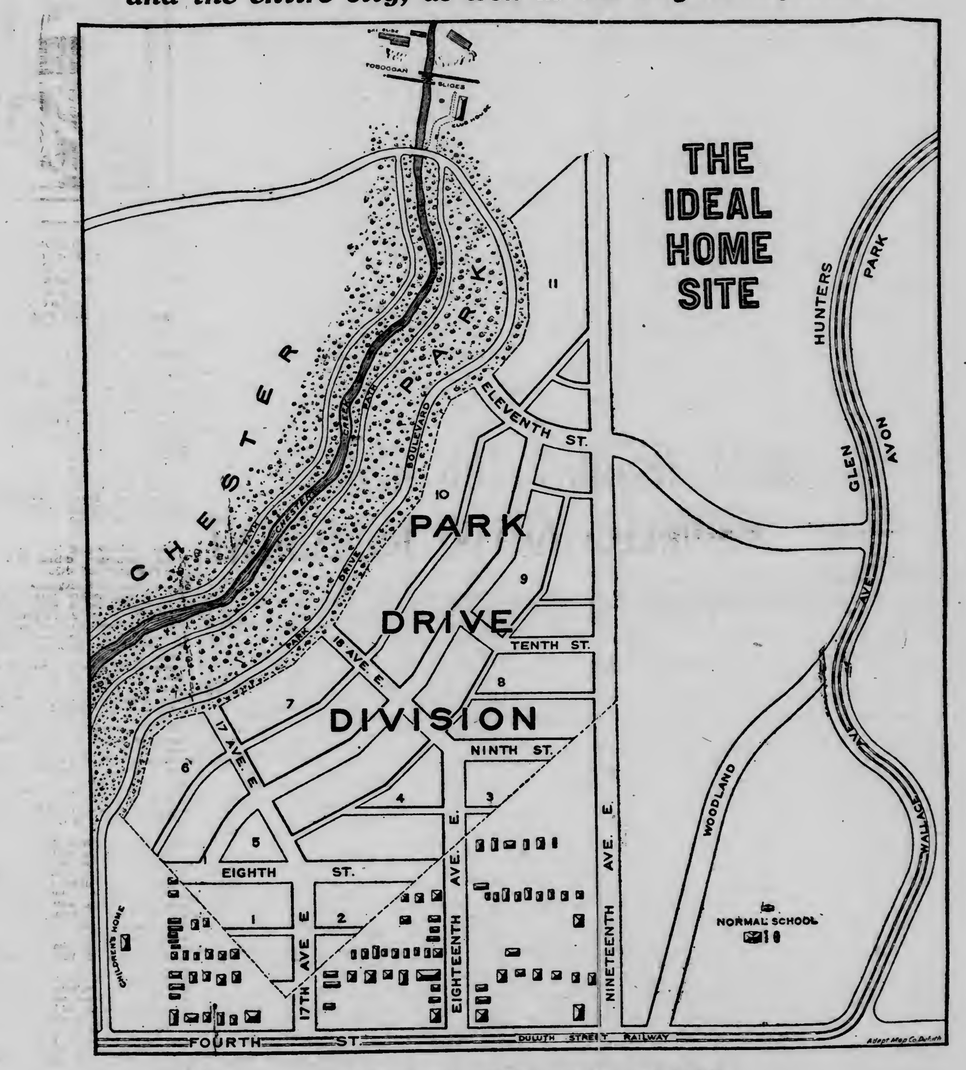
PARK DRIVE DIVISION

PARK DRIVE BOULEVARD ON WHICH MANY LOTS FRONT

This attractive Division is positively the best proposition offered the public in years—it adjoins Chester Park on the East for a distance of half a mile—all lots command a full view of Lake Superior, the harbor and the entire city, as well as the city of Superior.



LOCATION OF PARK DRIVE DIVISION

SPECIAL ADVANTAGES

A number of large lots along the entire westerly side of the property front on the magnificent boulevard drive and Chester park. No assessments for maintaining the street on these lots. Every lot is accurately surveyed and plainly marked with iron monuments. Application has been made for extension of gas and water mains through the entire division, the same to be made this summer. All streets and avenues are now being graded and sanitary sewers are to be constructed to drain all lots below Tenth street.

HOW TO REACH PARK DRIVE

Take any car line in the city, transfer at Third avenue west and Superior street to any East Fourth street car. During the busy hours of the day cars run every five minutes. Get off at Seventeenth avenue east and go north three blocks and you are on the property.

COME EARLY---GET THE BEST

This close-in addition completely solves the most serious problem of the homeseeker whose business demands that he be within the easy reach of downtown. Being but a short distance from the car line, and but 10 minutes from the business district for a single fare, a home on one of these choice lots gives the owner all of the advantages of the city with the disagreeable features excluded. Don't let a real opportunity slip by without at least investigating. These offerings are so unusually attractive that they should require no urging or coaxing on our part.

PRICES AND TERMS

Warranty deed. Torrens Title. A special discount of 10% on the first 50 lots sold. These lots will be sold on easy payments without interest until Jan. 1, 1916. 10% discount for all cash, 5% discount for one-half cash; cash payments 10%. Taxes for the years 1913, 1914 and 1915 to be paid by the seller. Purchaser to pay all taxes after the year of 1915.

RECORD IN SHAFT SINKING IS MADE BY DULUTH-BRAINERD

Sufficient Ore to Keep Company Mining for Several Seasons.

Cuyuna-Duluth and Cuyuna-Mille Lacs Preparing to Ship.

Brainerd, Minn., May 23. — (Special to The Herald.)—One of the best records in shaft sinking has been made by the Duluth-Brainerd mine which in sixty days reached ledge. Capt. Isaac Williams and Capt. Gust Hill are in charge of the crews. The shaft is now down the required 150 feet and they are cutting a station and drifting to ore. Thirty men are at work. The three-compartment shaft is in solid rock and the pump station is in rock, with approximately ninety feet of the entire ore body above that level, giving sufficient ore on and above the level to keep the company mining for several seasons. The water is very easily handled at the present time. A new steam boiler is being installed in the power house. The railway extension of the Cuyuna Northern from the Cuyuna-Mille Lacs mine to the Duluth-Brainerd mine will soon be completed and in shape to be used for the hauling of ore. The engineers of the Soo road have been surveying a new line from Manganese to Riverton and the grading of the line is expected to begin soon.

The Pit Mines.

The Cuyuna-Duluth mine and the Cuyuna-Mille Lacs mine, now integral parts of the American Manganese Manufacturing company, are getting ready to ship from their stockpiles. A number of ore cars have been switched in to the mines. The Cuyuna-Duluth has a stockpile of about 25,000 tons on hand, and the Cuyuna-Mille Lacs has about an equal amount. At the Cuyuna-Mille Lacs mine a fine pump room has been put in and the equipment is giving the best of satisfaction.

The pit mines had not shipped up to Thursday. The Pennington pit has entered into an arrangement with the Northern Pacific railway to use its tracks into Ironton and will dump a half a million yards of overburden into the depressions near the tracks and between Ironton and Winona avenues. This filling in will greatly improve the appearance of Ironton and make its main business section a level one. The Howe pit mine has installed a lot of new electrical equipment. The hydraulic plant is washing away the overburden. A steam shovel is stripping and the pit is being gotten in readiness for shipping. The Thompson pit mine of the Inland Steel company in Crosby has a steam shovel at work. When these three pit mines commence shipping, there will be a large increase in the tonnage handled by the Soo.

Drilling is Active.

The Cuyuna Central Iron company has three drills working about a half mile east of Manganese. The Hale-Bradley Exploration company of Deerwood has a drill working for G. W. Wymon of Anoka in section 10, township 46, range 28. They are on the first hole and still in surface. Cole & McDonald of Deerwood have a drill working in section 1, township 46, range 29 near Crosby for the Northwestern Improvement company interests. The Seandeld Exploration company has two drills working north of Cuyuna for the Cuyuna-Iron Valley Mining company and one drill at the Cuyuna-Sultana property. The Ecogal Exploration company, in which F. A. Edson is interested, is drilling extensively, having three drills operating at Cedar lake and one drill near Big Rabbit lake. Two of these drills are located in the southeast quarter of section 29, township 47, range 27 drilling for the Combination Iron company. Two drills are working for the Provident Iron company, one being in section 31, township 47, range 27 and one in section 19, township 47, range 28.

The Tuolumne Mining company is named after an old Chippewa Indian name. The stockholders are principally Superior professional and business men. Their holdings consist of 600 acres in section 20, township 47, range 28, where four drills of the C. W. Potts Exploration company are uncovering a large body of ore. The Potts Exploration company recently bought the office building in Deerwood, where the Rogers, Brown Ore company had its headquarters when the company made Deerwood its home before removing to Crosby. In general, considerable drilling is becarried on in both north and south range territory.

Big Payrolls.

Paydays on the north range extend from the 15th to the 20th, the different mining companies paying on different days. Of the north range mines, these disbursements for wages were made, the figures given being approximately: Armour No. 2 at Ironton, $12,000; the Inland Steel company's Thompson pit mine, $7,000; the Kennedy mine of the Rogers, Brown Ore company about $10,000; the Cuyuna-Duluth and Cuyuna-Mille Lacs mines, about $12,000; the Pennington pit mine, $6,000. This does not include all the north range mines, nor the drilling interests which pay out considerable sums for wages.

The Brainerd-Cuyuna mine in the city limits of Brainerd is sinking its second shaft and is now down 5 feet. About 250 gallons of water is being pumped, easily handled by the two Cameron pumps. The water in the No. 1 shaft is now down 30 feet. Capt. John O. Martin has driven a 40-foot steel piling through the quicksand area within 15 feet of the ledge.

The Wilcox mine of the Canadian-Cuyuna Ore company at Woodrow, has its shaft down sixty-one feet. Supt. MacKay reports that the contract has been closed for the purchase of an Ingersoll-Rand air compressor. It is reported that the contract will soon be let for the building of a mile spur track by the Northern Pacific railway, to start at Loerch at the main line and run to the mine, all to be ready for traffic on July 21.

The Adams mine, also on the south range and located at Oreland, is hoisting good ore and pumping very little water. The mine expects to ship soon from its stockpile.

The Longyear Exploration company's drill at the county poor farm of Crow Wing county is on its second hole, down 330 feet and still in iron formation. Regular reports are made to the county commisioners. Payday Saturday at the Barrows mine of the M. A. Hanna company was the largest the mine has had since last summer and the disbursements are expected to increase constantly. To date over 15,000 tons has been shipped from the stockpile, which was accumulated in the winter months. The Barrows-Mississippi Iron company has property near Barrows and the Mississippi river, and it is reported will do considerable development work. Interested in the company are John Wahl of Duluth, Frank Dahlberg of Virginia, August Johnson and Oliver Johnson of Superior.

Kennedy to Get Out Large Tonnage.

The Kennedy mine at Cuyuna, operated by the Rogers, Brown Ore company, is under lease to get out a heavy minimum tonnage annually. The shaft is situated on the Brown forty. There are three distinct leases which the company has of the ground it is working, one known as the Ehrick lease, the second being nineteen acres of which the fee is owned by Crosby and Harrison interests, and the third being the lease of the Oreland Mining company's eighty acres. The Kennedy is the pioneer shipper of the Cuyuna iron range.

Samuel S. Farley has sold to Nels Evenson for $1,953, lot 4, the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 1, township 136, range 29. Matilda Holmes has sold to William Seafield of Ironton for $4,000 the north half of the southeast quarter of section 20, township 46, range 29. William Seafield has sold to George Waters an undivided one-tenth interest in and to the north half of the southeast quarter of section 20, township 46, range 29. E. A. Thayer has sold to Donald Quinlivan of St. Paul, for $1,100 the southwest quarter of section 22, township 44, range 28.

Grace Grove has sold to Elam S. Sanford for $1,080 the northeast quarter, the northwest quarter of the southeast quarter and part of lot 3 of section 9, township 137, range 27. Wayland H. Sanford has sold to William Graham of Brainerd the northeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section 33, township 44, range 31. Freemont W. Tomlinson has sold to James C. Morgan the southeast quarter of section 24, township 138, range 26.

ADD CRUSHER TO JUNCTION PLANT

Will Handle Sulphides as They Come From the Shaft.

Bisbee, Ariz., May 23.—At the Junction mine they are moving ahead with the installation of another important piece of equipment for the district, this being in the crushing plant which has been talked of for some time as likely of installation at the main delivery shaft of the Calumet & Arizona mines, as Junction is certain of becoming. Indeed it is already well on the road to that standing for it is now delivering more than half of the total production sent to Douglas smelter. It is doing this work handsomely, and as fast as the motor lines and connections are extended it will be found ready to take on the additional work that is brought to it. Certain it is that no shaft in the copper world is better prepared for business from the physical standpoint, for Junction shaft may be pointed to as a model in point of construction the world over in copper mining. Also it is certain that no copper mining shaft has a finer area of country to draw from, richer in resources and extent, than has Junction.

Probably late in June, but possibly not until early in July, the new crushing plant will be going at Junction. It is now all on the ground and assembling has begun. It will handle 200 tons the hour and the sulphides will be put through it, as they came from the shaft. Incidentally the crusher will make for the more extensive mining of sulphides, of which Calumet & Arizona properties have in the last year very greatly broadened their possession. Conveyance from the crusher to the ore cars will be automatic, by direct belt. Mine pockets and cars are now ready to serve the crusher. The skips that will be used have been made and are ready for installment.

STEWART'S NET PROFIT IN APRIL

Said to Have Been $3.23 Per Ton—Smelter Contract.

Wallace, Idaho, May 23.—Stewart's gross value per ton of crude ore was $9.25 with costs of $2.80 for extraction, $3.01 for transportation and reduction and 31 cents for betterments—as indicated net profit of $3.23 per ton in April. The Stewart is shipping under a contract, expiring next May, by which lead settlement is provided for at the same rate as that in effect between the Federal and American Smelting & Refining company. The treatment rate is placed at $7.15 per ton instead of $8, as paid by the Federal. The Stewart has agreed to extend its contract for a further period of five years upon the exact conditions provided for between the same smelting company and the Bunker Hill & Sullivan on June 1 of next year. Agitation concerning its affairs now going on in New York, has led to general investigation of the present contract and the provision for renewal, and it is quite probable that a strenuous attempt to secure better rates will be made by either faction that may secure control of its affairs.

CLEVELAND CLIFFS BUYS REPUBLIC

Big Deal Made to Secure Supply of Hard Ore.

Marquette, Mich., May 23.—The Cleveland Cliffs Iron company has purchased from the Cambria Steel company the latter's Republic mine, located twenty-two miles southwest of Marquette, together with all its holdings.

The deal, one of the largest in the recent history of the iron industry of the Upper Peninsula, has been under way for some time, but the negotiations were carried on very quietly. The consideration is not yet made public but Marquette iron men are of the opinion that at least a couple of million dollars is involved.

The purchase of the Cleveland Cliffs company includes the mine equipment and buildings, the company houses and store buildings, the hydro-electric power plant on the Michigamme, near Lake Michigamme, and approximately 5,000 acres of land, most of which, it is understood, overlies iron deposits and some of which contains timber.

The Republic mine has hard ore and the reason for its purchase by the Cleveland Cliffs company lies in the fact that the latter company, being interested in furnaces, needs more hard ore for mixture with its own soft ore in the furnaces. The Cleveland Cliffs company has for a long time not had sufficient hard ore of its own. The Republic is one of the old mines of Marquette county and is one of the best known mines in the peninsula. It is now producing a curtailed production of about 500 tons daily, with 300 men working. It can produce considerably more, however, and because the Cleveland Cliffs company needs a considerable amount of hard ore, it is altogether probable that the force will be greatly increased within a short time.

HOUGHTON REPORTS BEST HORIZONTAL DISCLOSURE

Fine Showing on Southern Drift of the Tenth Level.

Hancock Sends Second Shipment of May to the Smelter.

Houghton, Mich., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Houghton copper extended its drifts to the length of over 100 feet commercial copper of various grades being found the entire distance. It is by far the best horizontal disclosure yet made, being only excelled by the long inclined reach of heavy copper from the sixth level, which was encountered in the winze down almost to the eighth level. The southern drift on the tenth level, where this showing is being met with, has been for some time in a very rich grade of fine, but solid amygdules, the contents of the lava pores, occurring in the dark chocolate colored amygdaloid so characteristic of this district. Here the rock was at some remote period brecciated, or broken, into small pieces by some earth movement and then cemented together again, giving it the appearance at the first glance of a conglomerate. In the northern drift the ground is not so rich. The vein itself looks better here than at any place thus far opened, and gives the most promise of the continuation of the mineralization. Any good length of this ground would probably determine the directors to sink the shaft and crosscut to the lode. Then there is always the hope of cutting the great west vein of the Superior mine, which, although it has been many times sought in levels above at the Superior, has been only revealed at the twelfth level, and those below.

Hancock.

Hancock is now finishing up its second shipment of the present month, sixty-two cars, the first having been 100 cars. The Centennial-Allouez mill has been so crowded by the rock coming from the increased outputs at the mines shipping to this mill, which comprises the Allouez, Centennial, Superior, Hancock and occasionally the Franklin, that the Hancock has had to delay its shipments for some days. It is likely that about forty cars will be forwarded next week, making 8,000 tons for the month or somewhat over 300 tons a day. The yield of refined copper is averaging about the same as before the strike, between 16 and 17 pounds a ton. There will be a constant gradual increase in the daily tonnage.

Allouez.

Allouez, after three or four weeks, will be forwarding its rock to the Tamarack No. 2 mill instead of the Centennial-Allouez mill. The former has had a complete new system of "wash" installed, including a Hardinge conical tube regrinding mill for each stamp. Its capacity will be about 1,200 tons a day, or about what the Allouez is forwarding now. This mine's output will increase quite rapidly to about 1,800 tons daily and the excess over what can be handled at No. 2. Tamarack will be shipped to the Centennial-Allouez. There will be a reduction of about five cents a ton in the transportation expense or about one-third of a cent in the total cost per ton. This has been figured to be an addition to the earnings of nearly 20 cents a share. At the present price of the metal 14½ cents a pound, with a production of 1,800 tons a day, or 10,000,000 pounds yearly, and a cost of 11 cents a pound, the net earnings should be $3.50 a share. The cost should, however, drop to 10 cents within two years when sufficient reserve ground has been blocked out for the new system now used of coping in from the boundaries and from medial lines between the shafts instead of the old method of working out from the shafts. Although this opening up of the drifts is profitable, owing to the richness of the ground, the profit will be much greater in stoping from territory where the preliminary work has been already done and the costs charged to past years.

Victoria.

Victoria has opened out three or four adjoining chambers on the twenty-fourth level, which will, even when described by calm-sober men, compare with the splendid riches of the caves of the Arabian Nights. These have in all directions a mineralization that equals that of any amygdaloid so far disclosed in the Copper Country. A drift was first run back in the hanging-wall from the shaft somewhat obliquely for over fifty feet without finding anything, then another was cut less obliquely for about the same length, which ran into this rich copper varying from stamp to masses of a ton or more without meeting with the limit of the mineralized ground or the hanging-wall, and finally a third drift was driven, as is supposed, near the foot-wall for 94 feet which is still in copper. The ground between the two last drifts was taken out and beyond the second drift to the width of 62 feet with no indication of the end of the copper bearing area. From this point the third drift was driven with only the usual dimensions until just before its present face where it has been widened out to about 30 feet. Moreover this shoot, which was encountered a few hundred feet east of the shaft, has been gradually approaching the shaft until it passed through the latter just above the twenty-fifth level and extends to the bottom about 30 feet down. This confirms the belief of Supt. Hooper, stated about two years ago after he had found a long extent of good copper on the twenty-second level, that good territory would be encountered east of the shaft and with depth. When the true value of this new ground is known, and especially if it continues further, as would appear to be the case, the required assessment will be promptly paid cent assessment will be promptly paid and the management encouraged to properly equip the mine for a thorough exploration of this mineralized area.

Old Colony.

Old Colony has moved one of the drills from No. 29 about 300 feet southwest of No. 27 and on the same strike.

Mayflower.

Mayflower has started two new holes, Nos. 37 and 38. The latter is located nearly 2,500 feet from the Old Colony line and 450 feet northwest of No. 36. The former is about 300 feet northwest of No. 34.

New Arcadian.

New Arcadian begun sinking to the 900-foot level Monday. For a while it was the intention to crosscut at the 250-foot level, but it was finally decided to seek the continuation of the lode with depth. To complete this work will take until about the last of September. On the 600-foot level the two drifts together have a length of over 30 feet, the grade being the same as that encountered so rich at the 750-foot level. At the last named level the northern drift has not been so good lately, but the southern is revealing some good values, and a distance of 265 feet has been covered, counting both drifts.

New Baltic.

New Baltic will, when the market seems propitious, sell a small quantity of its stock now held in the treasury, 30,000 shares. This will be necessary before much work can be done, as it only has $3,908 on hand. It is understood that the directors, with so much stock not issued and the prospect of the New Arcadian looking so bright only a short distance away, prefer to sell as stated above, rather than call an assessment. Then when the ground on the New Arcadian gives near the boundary favorable indications of what is beyond, trenching will be started.

Osceola.

Osceola Consolidated with its three mines is producing upwards of 4,000 tons daily, 1,700 coming from North Kearsarge shafts Nos. 3 and 4, approximately 1,300 from South Kearsarge No. 2, being only up to one-half of the normal, and 1000 from Old Osceola.

Ahmeek.

Ahmeek mill is now wholly housed in, the stamps are being set up, the concrete floors are being molded, and the turbine is being installed. The first stamp will probably go into commission Oct. 1. The mine is shipping 2,200 tons a day.

Algomah.

Algomah has sent a car of its famous temorite, the black oxide of copper, chrysocolla, the silicate, cuprite, the red oxide and malachite, the green carbonate to the Michigan smelter, where it will be smelted some time next month. All of these ores run very high in copper and when pure give values of from 36 to 88 per cent. They offer no difficulties in smelting. This shipment is probably a precursor of further activity at the mine.

Franklin.

Franklin's copper brick is 22 per cent copper or 440 pounds to the ton. It had a width of about 20 feet and a width of 2 to 3 feet and the top of it has not been reached. It will be remembered that it occurred in the back or roof where a drift was being enlarged into a drift stope. It is taken directly to the smelter without being treated at the mill.

SHIPMENTS OF IRON ORE

Lake Superior Outgo Not Likely to Exceed 30,000,000 Tons.

Mines Operating on Quiet Basis But No Extensive Curtailment.

Unless there is a decided improvement in trade conditions, it appears that shipments of iron ore from the Lake Superior region this year will make a sorry showing in comparison with the outgo of the two preceding seasons, this, notwithstanding a savage cut in prices. Whereas 50,000,000 gross tons went out in 1913 and 48,000,000 tons in 1912, it is estimated that as affairs stand now there can be little hope of a movement much in excess of 30,000,000 tons. Conditions are similar to the season of 1911, when the outgo dropped from 43,500,000 tons in 1910 to 32,750,000 tons, and to the season of 1908, when after 42,000,000 tons had gone out in 1907, the shipments fell to 26,000,000 tons.

In view of the uncertainty as to market conditions, none of the mining companies, big or little, has made any definite plans for the season. It is realized that the recently announced reduction in ore prices will stimulate demand, but it is conceded generally that there will be no extensive buying unless business conditions improve decidedly. This year, after having ruled in 1913 on a basis of $4.40 for old-range Bessemer and $3.60 for old-range non-Bessemer, the prices have been cut 65 cents respectively, to the schedule prevailing in 1912. Since 1900, only in 1904 have quotations been lower and only in 1912 and 1905 have they dropped to the existing level. The smart furnace man, the one owning no mines, benefited, counts that in position to seek business on a par with the manufacturing interests possessing their own supplies of ore. But in any event, even if there be an extensive business revival the next few months the shipments from the mines will not approach the outgo recorded in either the last two years.

No Extensive Curtailment.

In general, the mines are operating on a quiet basis. A few properties have shipped last season have been closed. Others have reduced forces somewhat. There has, however, been no extensive curtailment, the most important retrenchment having taken place recently on the Gogebic range, when the Steel corporation dispensed with the services of some hundreds of men. But there is fear that unless ore begins to move briskly working forces will be pruned considerably. At many mines stockpiles are becoming so large there is looming up the likelihood it will be necessary to restrict outputs. Dissatisfied with prevailing prices, some producers decline to sell. One such of these is the Volunteer Ore company, at the head of which is Thomas F. Cole of Duluth, formerly president of the Steel corporation's big subsidiary, Oliver Iron Mining company. No work is being done at the Volunteer company's property in the Cascade district of the Marquette range other than diamond drilling. Usually at the opening of the shipping season the mines increase forces. The reverse is true this year. With the retrenchment that has taken place, there are many idle men in all districts. Surface foremen and mining captains are over-run with applications for employment.

As for two years past, the Steel corporation is operating its mines in the Iron Mountain region of the Menominee range only on single shift and but four days a week. In the Ely district of the Vermilion range, the Pioneer and other properties have reduced forces about one-half, affecting approximately 175 men. Some Mesaba mines have scaled down crews. On the Gogebic range, Corrigan, McKinney & Co. have closed the Ironton property and will permit it to fill with water to the sixteenth level. Most of the men affected have, however, been transferred to the nearby Colby mine. The Newport property at Ironwood has pared down its crew somewhat. Rogers-Brown & Co.'s Chicogan mine, Menominee range, is still on the active list, contrary to reports that production had been suspended, but is operating with a reduced force.

No Menominee Shipments.

No ore is being shipped from the Menominee by the Steel corporation, and very little from the other ranges, the Mesaba excepted. About the only Menominee mines shipping at present are Corrigan, McKinney & Co.'s Armenia, Dunn, Tobin, Baker and Tully; Pickands, Mather & Co.'s Caspian and Hemlock; the Cambria Steel company's Penn group, and the Pewabic, Chicogan, Davidson, Forbes, Hiawatha and Hilltop, operated by various other independent interests. Most of these are loading only from the shafts. Stockpile room at Oglebay, Norton & Co.'s Bristol mine at Crystal Falls is almost wholly filled. The Hemlock has had ore remaining on surface at the close of the last few seasons, and it appears that this will be the case this year, also. The stockpile at the Groveland mine, in the Iron Mountain region, was purchased by the Lake Erie Ore company at the receiver's sale conducted recently, and it is understood it will be sent to the docks shortly. The Lake Erie company also has acquired through similar procedure the personal property of the Huron Iron Mining company at Iron River, the property consisting of buildings, machinery and supplies. The successful bid was $14,460, inclusive of a claim of $3,400 for royalty. The future of the mine is uncertain.

The crew employed on the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic Railroad company's dock at Marquette has been laid off for an indefinite period. The ore movement from that port is the slowest since 1908. The Lake Superior & Ishpeming Railway company's pier continues in commission, but forwardings from it are of small volume. After June 1, the Steel corporation's ore-carrying fleet will operate on a new schedule. It is expected that, beginning on that date, shipments will pick up somewhat.

PRESIDENT RYAN QUITE OPTIMISTIC

Strong Position of the Copper Industry of the World.

The annual report of the Amalgamated Copper company, the holding company of the Anaconda and several smaller companies, has just been made public. The strong position in which the copper industry of the world is now placed is shown in the annual report of President Ryan. He says:

"There have been no important changes in investments of your company during the year.

"The market for copper metal during the year was a reasonably good one, notwithstanding the fact that in the last quarter the domestic consumption fell off materially. Domestic consumption has averaged in the six months commencing with November but 73 per cent of the rate of consumption during the year 1913, and but 73 per cent of that during the year 1912. Exports during this six-month period have been sufficient to absorb not only the surplus left over after supplying domestic consumers, but to reduce the stock in the producers' hands in this country from 105,000,000 pounds at the end of 1912 to 70,000,000 pounds on May 1, 1914. The total stocks in Europe and the United States, as reported by the Copper Producers' association here, and Merton & Co. abroad, and including the visible supplies at all important European ports, have decreased from 183,000,000 pounds at the end of 1912 to 122,000,000 pounds on May 1, 1914.

"To realize the very healthy condition of the trade, we have but to note the reduction of total stocks in Europe and the United States, which were 370,000,000 pounds at the end of 1909, to 122,000,000 pounds on May 1, of the present year.

"The prices obtained during the first four months of the present year have not been as good as the average for the years 1913 and 1912, but taking into consideration the very sharp falling off in domestic business during the last six months, we are forced to conclude that even with domestic consumption below the normal the future for the metal market is of great promise. Any marked recovery in business in this country, which we feel cannot long be delayed, is, in our opinion, certain to be reflected in a higher level of prices than the present one for copper metal."

INDICATIONS ARE NOT ENCOURAGING

Calumet & Arizona's Operations at the Mammoth Mine in Arizona.

Bisbee, Ariz, May 23.—Capt. John C. Greenway returned to his headquarters at Warren this week from a trip which carried him to the Superior district in Pinal county, north of Florence, and to the Mammoth district in the same county. Capt. Greenway stated that the Calumet & Arizona company has spent more than $300,000 on the property which they have been developing in the Superior district, but that at present indications were rather discouraging, though the property has not been abandoned and there is some hope that better results will yet be attained.

In the Mammoth district work has been resumed on the Copper Giant, a property on which much development was done several years ago. This property has a good ore showing in the old works though not sufficient to guarantee a proved mine of value. The development work now being done is churn drilling along the outer edges of the property. It is not expected that this will develop into anything very big, but it is hoped that a small mine may be developed of sufficient importance to give a return of the money which has been put into it.

RAY LOOKED OVER BY COL. JACKLING

Well Pleased With the Condition of the Big Porphyry.

Phoenix, Ariz., May 23.—Col. D. C. Jackling reached Phoenix last week from Ray and Hayden, where in company with G. L. Stone of Hayden, Stone & Co., New York and Boston he inspected the big mines and smelters of the Ray Consolidated Copper company. General Manager Jackling expressed himself as gratified at the activity at the mines at Ray and at the big smelter and concentrator at Hayden.

"We now have an average monthly output of copper considerably in excess of 6,000,000 pounds," said Col. Jackling. "Last month the output was 6,300,000 pounds and we are going to exceed that magnificent figure from this time on.

"The mines are running with unusually large crews and we are constantly developing the great resources of our properties in the Ray district. At Hayden we have thousands of men engaged in the operation of our plant and it will not be long before our present forces will be increased."

SINKING IS PUSHED FOUR FEET PER DAY

Fast Time Made at Colorado Mine of Davis-Daly.

Butte, Mont., May 23.—The work of sinking at the Colorado shaft of the Davis-Daly is just humming. Already the force of men at work have carried the shaft down 60 feet below the old sump, taking it close to the 2,100-foot mark below the collar of the shaft.

About four feet per day is being made and for the next four months the sinking will continue as rapidly as the men can work to advantage. The management expects to have the shaft down to the 2,600 level and the station cut ready for cross-cutting at that level by Oct. 1.

The two assessments levied furnish ample money for all the proposed development work and the energies of the management will be entirely directed to the sinking and cross-cutting until the situation is disclosed on the 2,600 level.

REPORT WAS INCORRECT

No Truth in Story of Zinc Ore in the Pilot-Butte.

Fear of Reduction in Anaconda's Dividend Rate Probably Unfounded.

Butte, Mont., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The growing policy of mining companies in the Butte district to follow the example of the Anaconda and North Butte companies to keep all information from the public except when it is given to stockholders, often leads to false and injurious stories being sent out. A case in point is an item published in Boston, Duluth and elsewhere, coming from a notoriously unreliable source, relating to the Pilot-Butte mine. The company recently encountered a large ore body in the middle vein in the Pilot ground on the 2,200 level, but until some further development could be done by drifting Manager Gow and the directors of the company deemed it inadvisable to give out any information, and in fact refused it. However, a story was published to the effect that "the supposed copper ore body on the 2,200 level has fizzled into a body of zinc ore," pretending to lay to an assayer's mistake the first report that copper ore had been found. The management of the Pilot say the story is false and apparently malicious. The fact is that a fine body of copper ore has been opened in the middle vein on the level stated, and high silver values. The ore body has not been drifted on and its extent is unknown. The Pilot's greatest value lies in the third vein, the discovery vein of the Pilot, which the company developed and disclosed an enormously rich body of ore. The Anaconda company, owning adjoining and nearby claims, stopped the Pilot from mining the vein, claiming that it has its apex in the Emily or Millview claims. The Pilot Butte company has filed its answer in court and pleads that the Pilot and Emily veins form a junction at a depth of 1,800 feet and that below that point the vein belongs entirely to the Pilot because of the fact of its prior location. The petition of the Anaconda company will come up for hearing in the district court on June 2.

Barnes-King.

In April the Barnes-King Development company recovered 1,918.96 ounces of gold from the North Moccasin. The net profits, after deducting operating costs, were $19,000. The company is earning net profits at the rate of about $300,000 a year, taking the average for the past six months. Development work at the Piegan-Gloster mines of the company in the Marysville district is putting in sight a large tonnage of low grade ore which will be treated at the mill to be erected at that property.

Anaconda's Dividend Rate.

Western stockholders of the Anaconda Copper Mining company are preparing themselves for what they believe inevitable—a reduction in the dividend rate. If the company did not earn last year's distribution by $1,674,000 what will it be able to do when the earnings are smeared over an additional 320,000 shares that will be issued in payment of the International Smelting company assets of $11,500,000 debts and obligations they are asking. But the fact remains that the credit and available assets of the Anaconda company can stand it. The mines are in good condition and the enormous expenditures that have been made in the past few years, and are still under way, aiming toward greater economies, should during the next year make a good showing in net earnings and reduced costs. The annual report makes mention of some disappointments were more than offset by the developments in the Original, Gagnon, Steward, Trsmway, West Colusa, Anaconda, Badger State, West Gray Rock and Leonard mines. It is understood that the mines in which the developments of the year did not come up to expectations were the Buffalo, Bell and Diamond, Mountain View, Silver Bow and the old Parrot properties. The Tramway, of course, includes the old Coalition group of mines, embracing the Minnie Healey, Rarus and Tramway. The West Colusa adjoins the Tramway, and the enormous and rich ore bodies of the latter extend into the West Colusa. Especially good have been the recent discoveries in the Gagnon, Steward and Original. The discoveries in these properties, although President Thayer's report is for the fiscal year of 1913, really are brought up to the first of March in the report. Nothing more important has ever been found in the Anaconda properties than the strikes that have been made in the Gagnon and Orignal mines. The Corbin Copper people, owners of the Gambrinus mine, lying wast of the Gagnon, find satisfaction in the continued good news from the Gagnon, as they claim to own the extension of the Gagnon ore bodies and that the latter have been opened and mined up to the Gambrinus end line.

Excavation for the 2,000-ton leaching plant at the Washoe smelter has been completed and furnaces and steel for the plant are being ordered. The plant is expected to be ready for operation by next spring.

Operated By Electricty.

Although te Butte, Anaconda & Pacific railway has been operated by electricity for several months, the first completely electrified passenger train was operated between Butte and Anaconda only a few days ago. The coaches are on the 600-volt circuit from the locomotive, and the heaters are operated directly from the 2,400-volt circuit. A fan blows the air through the heaters and up into the car. Active work has been started on the electrification of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road from Three Forks to Deer Lodge Mont. Experts of the General Electric company have been in Butte for two weeks, working on the details, and Mr. Beuwkes, the electrical engineer in charge, is preparing specifications for locomotives, sub-stations, machinery and switchboards. Rules for the trolley are being delivered. It has been definitely determined that 1,750 tons of copper ingots will be required for the work laid out. The wire will be rolled at Waukegan, Ill. George M. Rice, who has been constructing engineer for the road for a number of years, is in Montana to supervise the construction of five sub-stations which will be required between Deer Lodge and Three Forks.

Mining Bureau Formed.

A mining bureau has been organized in Helena with S. A. Balliet, O. G. Beck, J. P. Bahnson, J. W. Rowand, William Scallon, William Muth and M. S. Gerry, Jr., as directors. The object of the bureau is to revive interest in the mining districts adjacent to Helena. The bureau is capitalized for $100,000, and $85,000 of the sum subscribed is to be used for the actual development of mining properties.

Mining Students Busy.

Sixty students and about five professors from the Colorado school of mines have been spending a few weeks in Butte and Anaconda, getting practical mining and smelting knowledge. The students and professors of the Montana state school of mines left May 15 for South Dakota where they will visit some of the mines. An active movement has been inaugurated in Montana to consolidate the three principal state institutions—school of mines, university and agricultural college—and locate the combined institution either at Missoula or Bozeman, which would remove the school of mines from Butte. There is a very general sentiment in favor of the consolidation.

MONOLITHS TO THE MEMORY OF THE GREAT

Berlin, May 23.—A unique memorial to great Germans is gradually being built at Kaltenbach near Engelskirchen, an hour's ride from Cologne. The "Grove of Heroes" is the name of the place, and it is hoped that it will eventually prove a mecca for patriotic Germans and perhaps a place of yearly patriotic gatherings, at which noted men shall speak and the memory of the illustrious dead shall be commemorated.

A young farmer named Karl Bosenius set aside a large grove on his farm and began setting up monoliths to the memory of the great. To date there are stones for Bismarck, Goethe, Luther, Theodor Koerner, Ernst Moritz Arndt, Schiller, Beethoven, Queen Louise and Frederick the Great.

SOCIALIST VOTE IN FRANCE INCREASED.

Paris, May 23.—The most important fact brought out by the 1914 elections for the chamber of deputies is the slow but decided progress made by Socialism. This is all the more significant because the body of the French people is intensely conservative and clings to existing things tenaciously. In eight years the Socialist vote has increased by 520,772. In the elections of 1906 the party received 877,999 votes; this figure was increased to 1,110,661 in 1910, and this year the Socialist candidates polled altogether 1,398,771 votes. The total number of votes polled being 8,328,876, the Socialist vote amounts to a little over 16 per cent.

THE POULTRYMEN'S CROPS.

They Keep Down Feed Bills.

By KATE ST. MAUR,
Author and Practical Farmer.

For years past I have maintained what I call my poultry garden, which is about three-quarters of an acre. First come sunflowers—six or seven rows of mammoth Russians, having immense heads, composed almost entirely of seeds, with only an outer fringe of petals. During August and September they ripen, when the heads are cut off and placed face downward on a wire screen to dry, for if left on the stalk, sparrows and other birds strip them. When the heads are dried sufficiently for seeds to loosen, they are beaten out, put in small bags and hung on the clothesline to finish drying, and unless this is thoroughly done they are liable to mold when put away. A small cupful mixed with every four quarts of grain, fed at supper time, helps the birds when molting and keeps the plumage bright and glossy through the winter. Next comes a few rows of sugar beets and cabbage, both of which are pulled up and stored in a pit until middle of winter, when the hens greatly enjoy a change of diet. Several rows of celery are sown thinly a foot apart and fed to young ducks when being fattened for market in June and July, as the flavor it imparts is the secret of our never having to look for customers or sell at regular market prices. One hotel has taken all we could supply at 25 cents a pound for four years.

Rue for Turkeys and Fowls.

Rue is given turkeys, though occasionally a teaspoonful of the dried leaves rubbed to a powder is added to a quart of morning mash and fed to breeding stock in winter, and turkeys have the same once a week, as I maintain rue is a great help in warding off blackhead, liver and intestine troubles, which have caused havoc among turkeys of late.

Curled upland cress is a little plant which should be sown thickly in rows three inches apart, and has a pungent flavor, like watercress, is one of our favorite salads, though supposed to be grown especially for chicks, and, once sown, continues to yield all summer if cut a little distance from the ground when not more than two inches high and well watered after each cutting. It is excellent for chicks and turkeys, as its peppery flavor is warming, helps to stimulate the liver and wards off ailments.

Swiss chard is another cut-and-come-again crop which we use almost exclusively for laying hens confined to yards, and should be sown, when danger of frost is past, in rows two feet apart and thinned to stand eight inches apart. Cut the outer leaves when about nine inches long.

DEVELOPING THE HEIFER—II.

PROF. J. A. McCLEAN,
Department Animal Husbandry Massachusetts State Agricultural College.

From the time heifers are six months old until they are two years old they should not be pampered, but should be grown under reasonable conditions. Nothing is as good for housing purposes during the first and second winter as the open shed which connects with a roomy yard. This permits of fresh air, exercise and a dry place to sleep. Combine with it plenty of the right kind of feed, and better heifers will result than can possibly be made in tie-up stalls. During this period, feed to obtain maximum development. The man who thinks he can make good cattle by feeding calves plenty of timothy hay, straw, corn stalks and corn has some things yet to learn. Alfalfa or clover hay should form a large portion of the hay fed young cattle. Oats and Canadian field peas grown together are also excellent, fed either green or cured as hay. With it should be combined a grain ration which may be made of bran and corn mixed in equal parts, to which a portion of oilmeal is added.

When to Breed.

Early breeding decreases the size at maturity. If a man is working for size in his stock (and I think within certain limits size is very essential), he will do well to breed his heifers that they may drop their first calves at the age of from thirty to thirty-six months. During the six months previous to calving, feed the heifer liberally. Considerable fat on her body at freshening will do no ill. Inflammation and cake in a heifer's udder seldom cause serious trouble, so that free feeding will not be injurious.

When the heifer has straightened out after calving, feed her for fullest milk production. Remember, too, that she is still growing and that she will require more liberal feeding than the mature cow giving the same amount of milk. She should not be allowed to dry off under ten months, and I think it well to milk her for twelve months during this first lactation period. It helps to establish the milking disposition.

Silage or roots (either turnips or mangels) are elegant feeds not only for the milking heifer, but also for the youngster.

To sum up, then, feed liberally, exercise freely, give plenty of fresh air, do not pamper, do not breed too freely, use clovers or alfalfa generously and a liberal portion of wheat bran always. These are the essentials for the making of a good cow from a good calf, and if these simple suggestions are conscientiously carried out, success will follow.

THE SPRING CLEAN-UP.

Housecleaning in the Poultry Yard.

By S. F. PIERCE.

With the coming of spring, when fowls spend more time out of doors, the poultryman should don his overalls and jumper and set things briskly to rights. There are the houses to clean out, disinfect and whitewash; fences to look over and possibly mend, yards to rake up, spade and sow to rye or oats; brooders and brooding coops to paint and clean and colony houses to get in shape.

The poultry house should be done thoroughly. Clean out all litter and sand on the floor, take out the nest boxes (which should never be attached to the wall), burn all nesting material and then whitewash with well slaked lime, to which has been added some good disinfectant or carbolic acid in the proportion of one and one-half fluid ounces to one gallon of whitewash, and the easiest way to apply this is to use a small, compressed air sprayer, which comes for the purpose. Go over the entire house with a broom and whitewash it, making sure the whitewash gets into every crack and corner. After the house has dried out put in four or five inches of sand or dry earth on the floor and over it six inches of litter.

Resetting the Fences.

The fence may need resetting, as the frost often heaves the posts out of plumb. If new posts are needed dip the butts in some creosote preparation in order to preserve them, and do not waste time and money on cheap wire, for it soon rusts and is always hard to keep in shape. If heavy woven wire is used the corner and gate posts should be heavier than the line posts and have crosspieces made of 2x6 inch material nailed to the butts, one six inches from the end and the other on the opposite side two feet from the butt end, to serve as anchors and prevent loosening.

Of course the double yard system is the best for yarded fowls—that is, each pen has the run of a front and back yard, and while they are using one a crop of oats may be planted in the other. As soon as the green blades are up three inches the fowls are turned into it and the other yard dug up and planted. However, if space is lacking the only alternative is to keep the yard free from filth by spading it every two weeks or so, and a fruit tree set in the yard will provide shade, yield a good supply of luscious fruit and add another bit of pleasant green to the surroundings. Plums seem to do particularly well in the poultry yard. In setting them out, however, provide protection to the roots by laying stones around the trees or the fowls will soon destroy them.

RECLAIMING WET LANDS.

Adding Acres at a Small Expense.

By W. H. STEVENSON.
Iowa State College of Agriculture.

There are yet in nearly all sections of the United States thousands of acres of excellent land which produces nothing of greater value than sedges or wild hay. There are also in this country thousands of farmers who for one reason and another fail to give the drainage problem the attention which it deserves merely as a financial proposition; some are slow to comprehend the value of drainage, and some have not learned how to drain. The plant food resources lying dormant in ponds and bogs and sloughs of undrained areas are sufficient to produce great crops of grain and forage for an indefinite time. Will it pay to reclaim wet lands? Experienced farmers state they have never known a case where drainage was feasible and where work was well done that reclamation by drainage failed to pay satisfactory profits. In fact, it frequently turns out that reclaimed land, when brought into condition by thorough working and liming, turns out to be the best piece on the farm, being filled with humus and rich in plant food.

A great many questions come up when a landowner decides to drain a given piece of land. These questions relate to the depth of ditches, size of the tile, locations of drain, services of a drainage engineer, and a good many other matters of importance. Unfortunately for the landowner, there are no rules which apply to the installation of all drainage systems. This is because soil and moisture conditions often vary widely within a very limited area.

Avoid Mistakes in Tiling.

Tiling should be considered as a permanent improvement. In drainage work a single mistake may cause the failure of an entire system. The surest way to avoid mistakes is to hire a reliable drainage engineer to make surveys and plan the entire system of drainage.

Great care should be exercised in the selection of tile. Tile should be smooth, straight, uniform in size, square cut at the ends and well burned. Vitrified tile should be used for the construction of outlets.

The depth and distance apart at which drains should be placed for best results cannot be stated definitely. In general, the lines should be sufficiently near to each other to carry all of the surplus water promptly from the intervening space. The tile should be deep enough to provide an adequate root zone for crops, free from surplus water. The usual method is to have the main drain follow natural water courses, making sweeping but not abrupt curves. The same is true of sub-mains.

MINNESOTA UNIVERSITY

Stringent Rules Curbing Social Activities Effective Next September.

Ivan O. Hanson, Senior Academic, Wins Harris Political Prize.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Stringent regulations curbing social activities at the university and a classification of 162 organizations of undergraduates according to their purpose and restrictions upon their membership will become effective next September. Prof. F. H. Smith, chairman of the senate committee on student affairs, early this week announced the plan. Fraternities, sororities and certain clubs are classed as private organizations and are not subject to the social regulations for the reason that they are working out their own problems in this respect. Some of the provisions are: All university, college or class social functions must be held on Friday or Saturday nights or those nights preceding holidays. Any organization not recognized by the senate committee is denied the use of the campus for meetings, of bulletin boards, of space in the Gopher and using the name of the university in securing patronage. The committee is authorized to require all organizations to file the date of any social function two weeks in advance. No dramatic performance can be given without the sanction of the committee. Admission to official university organizations of limited membership shall rest on the ability of the applicant in whatever line of activity the organization emphasizes.

The great success of "Miss Minnesota," the senior class play, presented at the Metropolitan last Saturday, made the committee determined that the play shall be repeated for the benefit of the Men's union fund. Accordingly a committee was appointed. The program was offered the students Thursday night, beginning with a song on the campus knoll, at which the university band and Glee club furnished music. The play was then repeated at the university armory before a large and enthusiastic audience and the evening was concluded by an enjoyable dance.

Ivan O. Hanson, a senior academic, is the winner of the second of the Harris political prizes for 1913-14 in political science. The Harris prizes are offered annually by N. W. Harris of Chicago and consist of $250 first prize, $150 second prize and $100 third prize. Mr. Hanson's subject was the relation of the state to the municipality. This is the third consecutive year that Minnesota students have figured prominently in the award of the Harris prizes. The prizes are open to all colleges in six states.

A large audience witnessed the long-delayed sophomore vaudeville Wednesday night in chapel. It opened with a fast spirited sparring exhibition, followed by Harry Weisman in a monologue. Stafford King gave a clever parody on "Spartacus to the Gladiators." The two comedians, Gow and Blume, next delighterd the audience with their antics. The Cherry Blossoms told funny stories and sang popular melodies. The Aggies presented a clever little stunt which they had been rehearsing for some time under a dramatic teacher. The Greek club quartet sang several popular songs.

The results of the contest for the Minnesota Magazine cups and prizes were announced by President Vincent in chapel Tuesday. The awards consisted of four cups and two money prizes. Miss Erma Wilk was presented with the cup offered by John Bradstreet for the best short story. The title of the winning contribution was "The Violet Band." In the field of literary essays the E. L. Carpenter cup was won by Harold Rypins, whose "Walrus and the Carpenter" appeared in the October number of the Magazine. Alice Coulter won permanent possession of the John Crosby cup for the best critical essay. Her subject was "The English Poet, Alfred Noyes." Jeannette Frisch was awarded the prize of $50 offered by the Minneapolis Journal for the best historical essay. Her subject was "History as a Science." The second prize of $25 was presented to Frank Hockenberger. Miss Sophie Hubman won a cup offered for the best specimen of verse contributed during the past year.

The board of governors of the Men's union was elected by a specially light vote Wednesday. The board is composed of eight men. The four elected for two-year terms are: Sigurd Ueland, academic sophomore; A. J. Carlson, engineering sophomore; William Mitchell, low '16; Ben Gallagher, a medical sophomore. The juniors elected for one year are: Fred Bruckholz, academic; Arthur Nobbs, dents and pharmacists; Kenneth Urquhardt, miners and chemists; C. S. Hansen, foresters and aggies.

Members of the Forum, Shakopean, Castalian, Philomathean and Athenian literary societies met Thursday evening in chapel and adopted a constitution for a new forensic league, the purpose of which is closer unity and larger activity for these societies. After the unanimous adoption of the constitution, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Harry Warner, Shakopean, president; McCloud, Castalian, vice president; F. C. Clapp, Philomathean, secretary; Norman Hauge, Forum, treasurer.

The advisers for the next year's freshman girls will be chosen from the junior instead of the senior class, because the members of the graduating class find it very difficult to give the necessary time. This change has already been made in a number of the colleges, which were represented in the recent intercollegiate conference. A committee of three seniors, with Margaret Grimm as chairman, appoint the advisors.

SEIZING OPPORTUNITY.

Cleveland Plain Dealer: "How did you come to marry the lady who is now your wife?"

"It was very romantic. We were out skating. She went to a place where the ice was thin and broke in. I rescued her after a terrible struggle. Poor girl, she was nearly frozen before we got home, but I proposed to her on the way."

"For heaven's sake! Do you mean to say that you made a declaration of love to a girl who was soaked and icy and uncomfortable? You had your nerve, I must say!"

"Maybe, but there's nothing like striking while the iron is hot!"

Have A Case Sent Home

IT'S a mighty fine thing to have a case of beer in your cellar. It provides for an ever-ready beverage for meals, lunches, etc. or for mere refreshment of the most healthful kind.

Fitger's Beer

is particularly well adapted for the home on account of its purity and extra healthfulness. If you could spare the time to be shown through the brewery and bottling house you would understand why it is so good. Physicians recommend it as a tonic and builder of good, rich blood. For convalescents and nursing mothers it is the ideal liquid food.

FIGHT THE FLIES.

By C. W. HOWARD,
Assistant Entomologist, University Farm, St. Paul.

Now is the time to begin our fight against the house-fly. From 95 to 99 per cent of our flies breed in horse manure, so the obvious remedy is to prevent the collection of quantities of stable litter which might act as fly nurseries. Their next favorite breeding place is the kitchen garbage and privies. These latter can be more easily eliminated than the former.

Begin early in removing all stable litter to the field. See that no small pockets of manure are left around the stable yard after the removal of the pile. Then follow this cleaning up by hauling the manure onto the field each day during the summer. This may seem like a burden to the farmer, but with a little forethought, it need not be so. Arrangements can be made for the use of a field for this purpose and it is a well known principle that manure placed at once upon the field is of more value as plant food. Remember that during summer weather a period of five days may be sufficient to produce a brood of flies from the egg to the adult so that manure left in a pile for this length of time will serve as a breeding place.

In villages and small towns, where it is not possible to remove the stable litter every day, a lean-to or a room in the stable may be constructed which is dark and has ventilators covered with fine wire screening. This can be used to receive the manure until it is convenient to remove it. Flies will not enter a dark room to place their eggs and cannot enter a fly-proof room, so the manure is safe from infection in such places.

Flies feed upon filth, such as sputum and that found in privies, but they are also very strongly attracted by the odors of cooking and food in the house. To prevent infection from being carried to our food, every precaution should be used to make the outbuildings perfectly sanitary so that flies cannot enter, and the houses should also have windows and doors fitted with screens.

The motto in fly control should be, "Better sanitation" both in the barnyard and about the house.

HOG CHOLERA NOTES.

By M. H. REYNOLDS,
Veterinarian, University Farm, St. Paul.

Any one can buy or administer commercial serum for serum-only treatment. State serum may be used only by those holding permits from the Live Stock Sanitary board.

The serum-virus treatment may be administered only by those holding serum-virus permits from the Live Stock Sanitary board. When working temporarily as state representatives, virus permit-holders may use only serum and virus obtained from the state plant. Serum will be sent C. O. D., preferably to owner. Virus will be sent to virus permit-holders only. Those holding serum-virus permits may use, in private practice, serum and virus from any government-approved plant.

Use serum-only treatment only in infected herds, and provide as much immediate exposure as possible; where pen exposure is questionable, serum-virus treatment is preferred.

The cost will likely be about half a cent per cubic centimeter for veterinary service when special field veterinarians are used. State serum will sell at one-third of a cent per cubic centimeter; commercial serum, through the state serum plant, at one and one-half or two cents per cubic centimeter.

A list of those persons authorized to use serum-virus can be secured by anyone from the Live Stock Sanitary board, Old Capitol, St. Paul, or the veterinary division, University farm, St. Paul.

The Live Stock Sanitary board proposes to appoint four additional field veterinaries on full time, to be located in the worst infected portions of the state, where regular veterinary service is scarce. The board further proposes to appoint 150 more special field veterinarians who will be authorized to administer serum-virus treatment as state representatives. A charge of from half to two-thirds of a cent per cubic centimeter will be made by the state for veterinary service for work done by the special field veterinarian.

POULTRY HOUSE FOR ONE HUNDRED HENS.

By A. C. SMITH,
Poultryman, University Farm, St. Paul.

The University Farm poultry section is issuing plans for use in building a model poultry house for 100 hens. The house is adapted to Minnesota conditions and is progressive in construction and cost. A comfortable and desirable house may be built for a minimum figure, or a more expensive house may be constructed which will ornament any grounds and look well enough to be the companion of the best model farm buildings. It may be increased in size gradually without wasting nails, shingles, or building paper, and is very easy to construct. It provides accommodations for both the breeding and laying flocks. The plans are mailed at cost—10 cents—or with full specifications the price is 25 cents.

WORMS IN SHEEP.

By W. L. Boyd.
Assistant Veterinarian, University Farm St. Paul.

Sheep suffer little from tuberculosis and other infective diseases, but they often become infested with certain blood-sucking parasites or worms which have become rather a serious obstacle to those who are interested in raising sheep. The most dreaded of these is the stomach worm. This worm is widely distributed and in certain stages of its life it is very resistant to cold or dry weather. The stomach worm reaches maturity and lays eggs only in the stomach. The eggs pass out with the intestinal contents and begin hatching within a few days after they are dropped, if climatic conditions are favorable. Dry weather or severe cold will destroy the eggs and prevent them from hatching.

After hatching, the young worm crawls upon a blade of grass while it is wet with dew or rain. The worm then encloses itself in a membranous sac, and remains attached to the grass. In this condition it can remain uninjured by cold or draught much longer. If the grass is eaten the encysted worm reaches the stomach of the browsing sheep, where it soon matures. It injures the sheep by robbing it of certain foodstuffs, by sucking blood, by giving off certain poisons that injure the red blood cells, and by the irritation caused as it clings to the stomach wall by the aid of sharp teeth. Lambs are more susceptible than older sheep, probably because of the fact that the older sheep have become accustomed to the presence of the worms.

Prevention.

In the spring soon after the lambing period the old sheep should all receive a one or two-ounce dose of gasoline, followed by a small dose of epsom salts. They should then be turned on a worm-free pasture, if possible. In July the entire herd, including the lambs, should be treated with gasoline and turned into a new pasture. This treatment should be repeated in November, when the flock should again be removed to new pastures. Pasture rotation combined with drugs that are injurious to the worms is the most practical method of successfully combating this worm. At University farm pasture rotation has been practiced so successfully that few losses have occurred from the effects of this worm.

ALFALFA PASTURE CROP FOR HOGS.

By A. C. ARNY,
Assistant Agriculturist, University Farm, St. Paul.

Alfalfa makes an excellent pasture crop for hogs. When it is used for this purpose, a sufficiently large field should be sown, so that the hogs may have access to it and the regular hay crops be removed juse as if no hogs were on the field. With so large a pasture, the hogs root up very little except near the feeding and watering-places, and mowing at the proper times keeps the plants growing and allows them to produce vigorous young stems, which are relished by the hogs.

Agricultural Extension Bulletin 49 on "Alfalfa-Growing in Minnesota" contains full information on this subject. Sixty thousand copies have just been printed for free distribution.

TEACHERS' CONFERENCE

By A. V. STORM,
Professor of Agricultural Education, University Farm, St. Paul.

A one week's conference of teachers of agriculture and of home economics will be held at University Farm July 20-25, which will be during the summer session of the College of Agriculture. The forenoons will be devoted to special instruction given by the college faculty and the afternoons to conferences regarding the work in Minnesota high schools. These conferences are especially helpful to men who are new to the state and Supt. C. G. Schulz is very desirous that all new men attend during the entire week in order to become familiar with the problems here and thus do better work from the start.

ANALYSES AT COST.

By R. W. THATCHER,
Agricultural Chemist, University Farm, St. Paul.

The division of agricultural chemistry receives frequent requests for analyses of water, feeding stuffs, human foods, insecticides, etc., etc. In the past, when such analyses could be made without seriously interfering with the regular teaching and research work of the division, they were made free of charge. The number of such requests has now become so great that it is impossible to make the analyses without employing additional assistance out of its funds, which are appropriated for other purposes.

Since the agricultural college desires to serve the farmers of the state in every possible way, it has been determined that we may give this analytical service to any one who is willing to pay the bare cost of doing the work. This is in no sense a fee, but simply a means of providing the service at cost. Such analyses will be made only with the understanding that the results are not to be used in any way for advertising purposes.

Since it is necessary to arrange for special assistance for work of this kind, remittance must be received before the work can be undertaken. All persons desiring analyses of this kind should, therefore, write to the agricultural chemist to arrange for the work before sending in samples.

ORCHARD AND GARDEN.

By LEROY CADY,
Associate Horticulturist, University Farm, St. Paul.

Evergreens make a good background for dahlias.

Set out mint and other herbs if plants can be obtained.

Plant some Golden Bantam sweet corn, peas and string beans.

Sweet alyssum makes a good ground cover for a gladiolus bed.

Start the cultivator going in the garden. Now is the time to get ahead of the weeds.

Evergreens may be set out up to the time they begin to blossom. Never expose the roots to the sun and wind.

Sow California poppies, petunias, portulaca, Shirley poppies and sweet alyssum where they are to flower.

Plant gladioli about four or six inches deep. For a succession of flowers set the bulbs every two weeks up to July.

Lily of the valley is one of the few plants that will grow in the shade. It blooms quite early.

Asparagus plants may still be set out. Set six inches deep. Do not cover more than two inches deep. Fill in the rest of the trench as the plants grow.

If garden land is not available, now is the time to think about making a window box. Cannas, geraniums, coleus, and trailing vines are stock plants for this work.

Bulbs of hyacinths, daffodils, etc., that have flowered in the house may be planted in a sheltered part of the garden and will produce some flowers next year.

Harden off such plants as tomatoes and cabbage before setting them out. This is done by giving air to the plants and reducing the amount of water for several days before they are put in the field. Cabbage or tomatoes properly hardened off should be of a purplish color and the foliage will be hard and firm.

CANO SADDLE DIKE IS JUST COMPLETED.

Panama, May 23.—One of the most bothersome pieces of work on the canal has just been completed. For over four months work has been in progress on the dike known as Cano saddle which was built to prevent Gatun lake from running into the Atlantic ocean. The dike is located about twenty-five miles north of Gatun and can only be reached by boats on Gatun lake. At that point the surface of the lake reached to within a few feet of a low narrow ridge through which the waters might have worked their way and thus washed a passage into the Atlantic.

To prevent this the dike, or saddle, 30 feet high and about 1,200 feet long, was constructed. During the course of the work about 4,000 men were employed, this great number being necessary because of the prevalence of malaria. It was the breeding place for hordes of mosquitoes and every man taken into the place was almost instantly affected. It is said that every white man who worked on the job was brought out of the district on a stretcher and unconscious. In spite of this, however, not a death occurred, every one of the laborers having recovered their health on being brought back to the canal zone.

BIG PRICE FOR A BOOK.

Indianapolis News: Benjamin Franklin was a lover of fine books, but it is much to be doubted if he ever paid for any book in his library a tenth of the price that one of his own books lately brought in England—"A Dissertation on Liberty and Necessity." This small volume sold for $5,025.

WOMAN WANTS TO HELP OTHERS

By Telling How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Miami, Okla. — "I had a female trouble and weakness that annoyed me continually. I tried doctors and all kinds of medicine for several years but was not cured until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I hope my testimonial will help other suffering women to try your wonderful medicine." — Mrs. MARY R. MILLER, Box 453, Miami, Okla.

Another Woman who has Found Health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lindsborg, Kansas. — "Some years ago I suffered with terrible pains in my side which I thought were inflammation, also with a bearing down pain, backache, and I was at times awfully nervous. I took three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am now enjoying good health. I will be glad to recommend your medicine to any woman suffering with female trouble and you may publish this letter." —Mrs. A. L. SMITH, R. No. 3, Box 60, Lindsborg, Kansas.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

MARKET IS SLIGHTLY UP

Wheat Closes Strong on Fair Buying By Operators Through Session.

Flaxseed Sells Higher on Better Cables and Light Offerings.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 23.—The wheat market was dull and narrow today. The opening was firm at yesterday's closing range and thereafter quotations gained fractionally, largely on short covering demand while offerings were small. May wheat opened unchanged at 94⅝c and closed ⅜c up at 94¾c. July opened unchanged at 94⅝c, and also closed with an advance of ⅛c. The September option was strong, closing ⅜c up at 89⅞c bid. Business in durum was confined to the distant future, and was only nominal. May closed unchanged at 89¾c nominally, and July unchanged at 90c.

Oats were ⅛c off, closing at 39@39½c for on the track, and at 39c for to arrive. Rye closed unchanged at 59½@61½c, and barley unchanged at 55@59c for choice grain.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed at 38⅝c and July at 38⅞@39c bid.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at 92c bid, and calls at 92⅝@92⅞c asked.

The news today was mainly on the bearish order. Kansas crop reports were generally favorably, and advices from Oklahoma told of the perfect condition of the growing plant. Conditions in the Northwest were considered to afford ground for encouragement. With the favorable weather of the past week, seeding operations have been vigorously pressed. Wheat is now in, and a large percentage of oats has been sown.

The market was higher at Chicago on light selling pressure and scattered commission house buying. It was considered significant however that the Armour interests were still liberal sellers of July wheat. Cash markets were weak in the Southwest, St. Louis ruling ½c lower, while Kansas City was about unchanged.

With Liverpool off on heavy Indian and Russian offers and expectations of large shipments next week, export bids were mostly out of line, and only scattering business was reported to have been worked on this side.

On comparatively light shipments wheat stocks in Duluth elevators are estimated to have been reduced only to the extent of 200,000 bu during the week. Inspections here today were 47 cars, against 44 last year, while Minneapolis receipts fell off to 84 cars, compared with 176 a year ago. The rush to Chicago continues, arrivals there today being 242 cars against only 14 last year.

Flaxseed Turns Strong.

Flaxseed was strong with an improved demand in evidence. This was due to higher cables and estimates of a smaller acreage being seeded in both the American and Canadian Northwest.

Antwerp closed 1⅞c up; Buenos Ayres 1½c up and London ¾c up.

May flax opened unchanged at $1.56⅛, and closed ⅞c up at $1.57 bid. July opened unchanged at $1.57⅝c and closed ⅝c up at $1.58¼ asked. September opened ⅛c up at $1.59½ and closed ½c up at $1.59⅝c bid, and the October option closed ½c up at $1.57⅜ bid.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed at $1.37 bid and July at $1.39 bid.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Influenced by easier American cables yesterday, weakness in Winnipeg and favorable Canadian crop advices, wheat opened ¼d lower. Later an additional decline of ¼d was registered on larger Indian and Russian offers, expectations of liberal American shipments and an abatement in the Continental demand. The market closed easy ⅜d lower.

"Corn opened ⅜ to ½d higher on the strength in America, scarcity of Plata offers and it advanced an additional ¼d on strength in spot and continued unsettled weather in Argentina. Toward the close there was some profit taking in July, but the close was firm ⅜ to ½d higher."

At Minneapolis the cash demand was fair for choice, but slow for less desirable milling wheat. No. 1 northern blue stem sold at 2@4c over July, and velvet chaff at 1½@2c over July. Flour demand was still limited.

* * *

Liverpool spot wheat closed unchanged to ¼d lower today. American corn was nominally ½d higher and Plata corn unchanged.

Rain continues in Northern Argentina. This is unfavorable for corn and also for the seeding of wheat and oats.

B. W. Snow wired from McPherson, Kan.: "There is considerable fly in the lower Solomon Valley and in some northeastern counties, but the area involved is relatively small. In east McPherson and North Marion counties there is considerable local damage from fly. The great wheat acreage of the state is in perfect condition, has all the moisture needed, is headed out, and with harvest beginning inside of four weeks, can hardly fail to make good its phenomenal promise in spite of local losses."

The Chicago Record-Herald says: "It was the gossip of the wheat trade that longs who bought recently had sold out. It was said the leading bull interest had been the heavy seller all week and had put many bushels on the market. The bulls still have hopes of increased damage from the fly pest, but the bears cite the better crop news from Kansas."

MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Wheat Is Extremely Quiet and Trading Is Featureless.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 23.—Wheat was extremely quiet in a featureless market here today. Favorable crop reports from both the winter and spring wheat districts, lighter receipts and a good cash demand had little effect on prices.

Wheat—May opened 91¾c; high, 91¾c; low, 91½c; closed, 91¾@91⅞c. July opened 92¼c; high, 92⅜c; low, 91¾c; closed, 92⅜c. Cash: No. 1 hard, 97¼c; No. 1 northern, 93¾c@95⅝c; to arrive, 93⅞@94⅝c; choice to arrive, 95⅞c; No. 2 northern, 91⅞@94½c; to arrive, 92⅜@93¾c; No. 3 wheat, 89⅞@91⅜c. No. 3 yellow corn, 68½@69c; No. 3 white oats, 38½@39c. Flax—$1.54⅛@1.56¼.

The flour market was quiet, prices unchanged. Shipments, 59,500 bbls.

Barley, 44@57c; rye, 59½@61½c; bran, unchanged.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Failure of Rain in Winter Crop States Strengthens Wheat.

Chicago, May 23.—Wheat developed some strength today on account of the failure of predicted rain in the soft winter crop states. There was a feeling, too, on the part of many traders that 2½c break from the high point of Wednesday was enough for the present at least. Pit offerings were much smaller than on Wednesday. The market opened a shade to ⅝@⅞c higher and made a further gain before beginning to react.

Afterward dispatches in regard to the flattering promise and the nearness of harvest in Oklahoma and Kansas led to a decided setback. The close was nervous, ⅜c off to ⅛@¼c up compared with last night.

Further rains in Argentina caused damage and delay to shippers gave the corn market a lift. May delivery went straight up to the long looked for goal, 70c a bushel. After starting ⅛c@½c higher, prices continued to rise.

Weakness of other grain brought about a subsequent downturn. The close was unsettled at ¼@⅜c net advance.

Dry weather still worried the oats crowd. Commission buying was a good deal more active than usual.

Provisions tended to ease off with hogs. Shorts furnished about the only demand.

Wheat—No. 2 red, 97⅞@99⅛c; No. 2 hard, 97⅞@99⅛c; No. 2 northern, 96⅞@98⅛c; No. 2 spring, 96⅞@98⅛c.

STOCKS HAVE BETTER TONE

More Hopeful Feeling Regarding Mexico and Trade Outlook Improved.

So-Called Market Favorites Make Gain of Point or More.

New York, May 23.—Except for a slightly higher range of prices, stock market conditions in the early stages of today's brief session manifested little change from recent days. Trading was again of nominal proportion, and United States Steel rose a substantial fraction in response to the more optimistic opinions expressed by eminent trade authorities. Most of the other active issues tended slightly upwards, while Rock Island and Missouri Pacific inclined to lower levels. Among the specialties Texas Company, Rumely preferred and Wells Fargo Express showed gains of 1 to 2 points.

The market closed strong. The better tone of today's dull stock market was ascribed in large measure to a more hopeful feeling regarding the Mexican outlook and the prospects of better general trade, as outlined by the mercantile agencies and other students of the situation.

There were again some offsetting conditions, namely alarming advices from abroad, particularly Paris, where the solvency of certain important banking interests is being openly questioned. The so-called market favorites made gains of a point or better, with a similar movement in some of the specialties. More gold was shipped to Paris and the movement of currency to the Pacific coast continued.

Bonds were steady.

TRADE REVIEW

New York, May 23.—Dun's review says today: Higher temperatures in many sections have afforded stimulus to distribution of seasonable merchandise at retail, while jobbing trade has also benefited. In certain instances the improvement is marked and, though future requirements are not being freely anticipated, the situation is strengthened by the absence of large stocks.

Confidence is not disturbed by reports of damage to winter wheat, as some impairment of the crop was expected before harvest and conditions have not changed the prospect of an unprecedented yield. Prices, however, have advanced rather sharply.

Substantial purchases of pig iron in eastern territory are an encouraging feature and have helped to sustain improved sentiment in the basic industry. Demand from the railroads is still confined to close limits, but it is the expectation that an increased buying movement will shortly develop.

Failures this week 396 against 365 last year, In Canada 36 against 33.

QUIET TRADE IN MINING STOCKS

Closing Prices Are Slightly Up With Fair Bidding Through List.

Trading in mining stocks was limited at Boston today, but fractional advances were the rule through the list in line with an improved toneon Wall street. Butte & Superior was again the feature, absorbing the bulk of the day's business. The issue closed 38c up at $40.38. Alaska Gold closed 25c up at $28.25; Granby a fraction up at $81.50; Calumet & Arizona unchanged at $66.25; Greene-Cananea a shade off at $32.50; North Butte a fraction up at $26.75, and Amalgamated Copper 87c up at $73.25.

In the Duluth curb list Alex Scott closed at $4.50; Calumet & Corbin at from 26 to 30c; Denn at $8.50, and Keating at $1.50.

Paine, Webber & Co. received the following closing letter from Foster at Boston. "A rumor that the rate decision may come out over Sunday was responsible for the higher prices all through the Curb list today. Local copper showed no change and no buying of any significance except the steady accumulation of Mass which is being picked up by people interested in the property. The local investment stocks are still sagging and this prevents any speculative interest in the market."

The annual meeting of the Calumet & Sonora Mining company will be held next Monday morning at 11 o'clock at the company's offices in the Sherwood building.

* * *

The following wire relative to the Calumet & Corbin Mining company's property, was received today from Denver, Colo.: "Conditions at the New Era mines of the Calumet & Corbin Mining company, are reported to be the best in the history of the property. The present 50-ton mill is being overhauled preparatory to starting up June 1, and sufficient ore of milling grade is now being taken out in development work alone to supply the mill. The ore reserves are being added to daily. About twenty-five men are now at work on development work and shipments of enough ores to pay expenses are being made. The new compressor will be installed shortly, the force doubled, and actual mining operations begun."

Weekly Report to Stockholders.

MUTUAL IRON MINING CO.,
PROVIDENCE BLDG., DULUTH.

McComber, Minn., May 22, 1914.—The vein is now crosscut to the north a distance of 51 feet, with walls and face all solid ore. The work to date shows vein at least 120x51 on 100-foot level, with a regular formation and dip to the northwest. The excursionists who inspected the property last Sunday were greately interested in the solid walls of ore shown up along crosscuts and drifts, and pronounced the McComber one of the richest of Vermilion range mines, both in quantity and quality of ore. Mutual stock will be worth a lot of money when shipping commences, with the immense tonnage so close to the surface.

The townsite is looking fine. Get a lot now and spend your vacation there hunting and fishing. There is no more ideal spot in Northern Minnesota.

INSTALL "AUTOFLAG."

Novel Safety Device Used on Munising Railroad.

Marquette, Mich., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—A unique and effective safety device styled an "autoflag" has been installed at a dangerous grade crossing of the Marquette, Munising & Southeastern railway in this city. It is an automatic signal, operated by electricity. The rails are bonded about 1,000 feet in either direction, and the signal is placed in operation by an approaching train as soon as it comes in contact with the bonded rails. A gong rings out in a loud clear tone, and a round metallic banner, painted a glaring red, begins to swing to and fro over the crossing in a manner that is certain to catch the eye of even the most careless driver. The signal continues in operation until the train has passed. For giving adequate warnings in the night time the banner carries a red light, illuminated by electricity, which shines out brightly and makes the swinging signal prominent, while the gong also rings. The device is operated by primary batteries and is of simple construction, so that there is little chance of its getting out of order.

GALVESTON IN 1914.

Association of Railway Claim Agents Votes to Meet There.

St. Paul, Minn., May 23.—The Association of Railway Claim Agents will hold its next meeting at Galveston, Tex. That city was selected this morning for the annual meeting in 1915.

The association finished its work yesterday and in the afternoon its members were guests of the Twin City Rapid Transfer company on a trip to Minnetonka.

WORK RESUMED ON LEWISTOWN LINE.

Great Falls, Mont., May 23.—The Great Northern yesterday resumed the construction of the coast cutoff line from New Rockford, N. D., to Lewistown, Mont., grading commencing near Lewistown. This is one of the largest railroad projects of the year in the Northwest.

RAILWAY OFFICIALS VISIT GRAND FORKS.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Seven officials of the Northern Pacific railway were here today inspecting local rail conditions. During their stay they were guests of the Grand Forks Commercial club.

Included in the party were J. N. Rapelji, assistant general manager; Andrew Gibson, engineer; C. L. Nichols, general superintendent; T. S. Lowry, division superintendent; S. C. Huntington, train master; Thomas Zwight, general master machanic, and James Hartley, supervisor.

JAPANESE RATIFY U. S. PEACE TREATY

Pledges Governments to Arbitrate Nearly All Questions.

Tokio, May 23.—The Japanese-American arbitration treaty, it was announced by the government today, has been ratified by Japan.

As ratified, the treaty pledges the contracting governments to arbitrate all questions excepting only those affecting vital interests, independence or national honor and the rights of third parties.

SMALL HOPE FOR SENATOR BRADLEY.

Washington, May 23.—Small hope was entertained by attending physicians early today for the recovery of Senator Bradley of Kentucky, who has been critically ill here for some time. His condition was such last night that physicians remained at his bedside. Early today Senator Bradley was reported to be gradually growing weaker.

BURLINGTON POLICE FORCE IS SHAKEN UP

Capt. Rupp and Six Patrolmen Ousted for Insubordination.

Burlington, Iowa, May 23.—Capt. Jacob Rupp and six patrolmen of the Burlington police department were dismissed from the service by the police and fire commission today. The men were found guilty of the charge of insubordination, in refusing to go out on their beats on the evening of May 5, unless Capt. Rupp, who had been reduced to the ranks, was reinstated.

SEATTLE BEGINS TO RUN ITS STREET CARS

Twenty-Five Tickets Are Sold to Patrons for a Dollar.

Seattle, Wash., May 23.—Operation of the first division of Seattle's municipal street car system was begun today. The line extends from the business part of the city to Ballard, a manufacturing district four miles north. Twenty-five tickets are sold for a dollar, but the ordinary fare is 5 cents. The city is negotiating for purchase of the Seattle, Renton & Southern railroad, which connects with the line opened today.

GUN MISSES FIRE; AERONAUT DROWNS

Robert Cowan, Aged 18, Loses Life in the Mississippi.

Alton, Ill., May 23.—Robert Cowan, an 18-year-old aeronaut, was drowned in the Mississippi river here last night when the balloon in which he was soaring dropped into the stream.

As the balloon ascended, Cowan was clinging to a trapeze which hung from the parachute. It had been arranged that when the balloon reached a height of 500 feet, Cowan's foster father, an experienced aeronaut, who remained on the ground, would fire a revolver as a signal for the young aeronaut to cut loose the parachute and descend.

The elder Cowan, who was standing with his wife near the entrance to the carnival grounds whence the ascension took place, pulled the trigger of the revolver, but the revolver failed to work.

A policeman in the crowd fired his revolver as a signal to the aeronaut, but apparently the signal was not heard.

WOULD HAVE QUIST TO SUCCEED GRAVES

Fred Lynch Wants Minneapolis Man Minister to Sweden.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, May 23.—National Committeeman Fred B. Lynch is in Washington for a day, and it is understood the purpose of his visit is to recommend the appointment of C. A. Quist of Minneapolis as minister to Sweden, to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Charles H. Graves of Duluth. Mr. Quist also is here to remain a short time.

Miller Coming Home.

Representative Clarence B. Miller will leave for Duluth tonight to remain until after the primaries.

KANSANS SWEAR TO THE SIZE OF FISH

Also Exhibit Head to Prove That They Tell Truth.

Pittsburg, Kan., May 23.—Fishermen can no longer tell unsupported stories of wonderful achievements with hook and line to the citizens of Pittsburg. The amateur angler must now swear to what he says in regulation, legal style. Otherwise his claims in local sporting circles will not be considered.

At a headquarters for fishermen here, three affidavits for this season were posted today. One man swore that he did "then and there apprehend, catch and land one fish, to wit: a bass of the weight of six pounds." The head of the bass was exhibited with the affidavit.

MAY ESCAPE ON INSANITY PLEA

Frank Dandeneau, who is held at the county jail on a charge of kidnaping a 4-year-old girl at Gilbert on March 29 last, may escape prosecution for the offense on the grounds that he is now insane.

An inquiry into his sanity was had this morning before Judge Dancer of the district court, who will be called upon to decide the question. Drs. Boyer and Schroeder testified that in their opinion the man's mind was now unbalanced.

Judge Dancer will announce his decision in the matter next week. If insane, Dandeneau will be committed to an asylum.

GREENE FILES FOR RE-ELECTION

Warren E. Greene, county attorney, filed with County Auditor Odin Halden for re-election. He will be a candidate for the nomination at the June primaries. So far no opposition to Mr. Greene's candidacy or election has developed.

Forest Fires Put Out.

Seattle, Wash., May 23.—Rain fell throughout Western Washington today extinguishing several forest fires which had threatened to do great damage.

Found Not Guilty.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 23.—Mitchell Neck, charged with introducing the drug peyote at the Menominee Indian reservation, was found not guilty before the Federal court today.

VICE NOW AT A MINIMUM

Fewer Immoral Women Than at Any Time in Twenty Years.

Police Chief's Views on One Year of Abatement Law.

"There is less prostitution in the entire city of Duluth today than there was outside of the segregated district during any time in the twenty years that the segregated district was in existence."

The above statement was made this morning by Chief of Police C. H. Troyer, who was asked by The Herald if he had anything to say on the subject, as June 1 will mark the first anniversary of the going into effect of the Wallace-Fosseen abatement law in the state of Minnesota. Mr. Troyer gives this law considerable praise and also commends the city commission on its effective work in putting the lawless saloon keepers out of business and also standing behind him and his department in enforcing the law.

"Vice, no doubt exists in Duluth," said Chief Troyer, "but there is very little of it and the prostitutes are so well hidden and quiet, that the police are unable to discover it. Moreover, people do not complain any more of residing near houses of ill fame, so that we are more fully convinced of the effective enforcement of this law. As long as these women operate so that they cannot be seen and are not complained about, then prostitution is pretty well regulated and controlled.

"There is much less prostitution in Duluth now than there was outside of the old segregated district during the many years of its existence. There were sixteen houses in the district in constant operation, but even then the women were scattered throughout the city, there being more of them outside then than there are in all of Duluth today.

"Credit for this situation should go, of course, to the nuisance abatement law, which went into effect on June 1 last year, and to the city commission for standing behind our department in enforcing the law. The Wallace-Fosseen bill, passed during the last session of the state legislature, declares a house and its contents a nuisance upon the conviction of the tenant. The contents are then permitted to be sold at auction and the money placed in the county treasury, while the house must remain vacant for a period of one year from the date the tenant is found guilty of running a house of ill-fame.

"I am very well pleased with conditions today and feel that never before in the history of Duluth has vice been so regulated. In fact, I am agreeably surprised that we have been able to bring the conditions about the way we did."

CHIEF OBSTACLE IS NOW REMOVED

Street Car Extension to Steel Plant May Be Made.

The decision of Judge Cant, upholding the validity of the franchise of the street railway company, removes the principal obstacle to the construction of the street car line extension to New Duluth, unless the case is appealed.

This was the statement made this afternoon by Herbert Warren, general manager of the local system. He would give no assurance that the company would proceed with the extension at once, declaring that before this is possible a proper highway will first have to be provided. "The decision does more than anything else to clear the way for it, however," he said. "I cannot say when the work will be started, as the street is not in good enough condition for the laying of the tracks."

Manager Warren was naturally gratified to learn that the court's decision was favorable to the company. "We are very much pleased at the outcome and there isn't much else which we could say," he stated when seen at the Spalding at the conclusion of a meeting of the company's directors. The directors did not know of the decision until their meeting was over.

The public is anxious that the New Duluth extension be built this year. The steel plant suburbs are growing rapidly and the consensus of opinion is that the company should delay no longer in starting its construction.

OLD RESIDENT DIES.

Mrs. Olesina Flaaten Succumbs After Long Illness.

Mrs. Olesina Flaaten, 64 years old, mother of Jens Flaaten, died at 10:30 o'clock this morning at the home of her son in the Ashtabula flats, where she had been confined to her bed for the past six months.

Mrs. Flaaten had resided in Duluth the last twenty years and was very well known among the older residents of the city. She is survived by four sons and four daughters. They are: Jens Flaaten, Gustaf Flaaten, Henry Flaaten, Alphin Flaaten, Mrs. Andrean Green, Miss Elida Flaaten, Miss Ruth Flaaten, all of Duluth, and Mrs. L. H. Larson of Superior. Two sisters, Mrs. Hans Carlson of Grand Rapids, Wis., and Mrs. Martin Johnson of Clinton, Wis., and two sisters and a brother in Norway also survive her.

The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon from the residence with interment at the Forest Hill cemetery.

MAKE SHRINE OF UNCLE REMUS' HOME.

Atlanta, Ga., May 23.—Dedicatory exercises were held here today by which the home of Joel Chandler Harris, the author, was opened as a permanent shrine and a memorial to the folk lore writer, whom the world knew as Uncle Remus.

WHAT'S THE SCORE?

When you want to know, you turn to your newspaper.

You follow the same rule when the question, "Where Shall I Get It" flashes through your mind.

The advertising columns answer this latter and most important question as fully as the box score does your question to the game.

Each day your newspaper comes to you—it comes as a messenger of service to keep you posted on the things you want to know.

You wouldn't get the full use of its service if you didn't let its advertising help you.

And you always find it as interesting as it is helpful.

The Herald's paid circulation is several thousand larger than that of any other daily in Minnesota outside the Twin Cities.

SALE — MISCELLANEOUS

FOR SALE—AGAIN WE ASK THE question: When retail furniture shops advertise practically their entire stock of homefurnishings at half price for 30, 60 and 90 days twice a year and yet prosper—what percentage of profit do they make at this season of the year when they get full price or 100 per cent greater profit? Moral: Come direct to our salesrooms, 2110 and 2112 West Superior street, where you can save the big end of the retail shop's profits on good furniture for every room in the home. Credit terms to suit you. Cameron-Johnson-Horgan, factory distributers, 2110-2112 West Superior street.

IRISH HOME RULE BILL IS PASSED BY COMMONS AND NOW BECOMES LAW

Has Majority of Seventy-Eight on Its Third Reading.

House Seething With Excitement From Moment Speaker Takes Chair.

Clash Between Catholics and Protestants at Belfast Is Probable.

London, May 25.—The Irish home rule bill passed its third reading in the house of commons today by a majority of seventy-eight. The vote was: For, 352; against, 274.

By a vote of 351 to 274—a majority of 77—the house this afternoon passed the home rule bill.

The house was seething with excitement from the moment the speaker took the chair. Members of the various parties indulged in loud outbursts of cheering when their respective champions entered the chamber, while at the same time mocking banter was shouted from the opposite benches.

Mr. Ganzoni, the Unionist, who on Saturday defeated C. F. G. Masterman, chancellor of the duchy of Lancaster, in the bye-election at Ipswich, met with such an uproarious welcome on his introduction that he appeared glad to escape from the limelight.

Speaker Is Conciliatory.

The Rt. Hon. James Lowther, the speaker, took early opportunity today of applying balm to the sores left by the violent incidents of Thursday last. He frankly admitted that he should not have used the expression he did when he asked Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the opposition, whether he approved of the disorderly demonstration by the Unionist members. The speaker appealed to the premier to give the house some information regarding the bill to be introduced after the passage of the Irish home rule bill for the amendment of that measure so as to meet some of the objections of the people of Ulster.

Asquith's Reply.

In response to the speaker's plea, Premier Asquith announced that the amending bill would give effect to any agreement which the government was still hopeful might be reached. He said that if at the time of the introduction of the Irish home rule bill

PRESBYTERIANS TO HAVE HARD FIGHT

Chicago, May 25.—The general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States started in on its last five days of sessions here this morning with the heaviest part of its program ahead of it. Questions concerning the organization of the board of home missions, on the work of which depends to a great extent the expansion and influence of the church in this country, must be settled before Friday. More than two-thirds of the overtures in the hands of the standing committee relate to this problem. A hard fight is under way in the assembly to break up the centralization of the control of the home missions and distribute representation on the board among the states on some equal representation basis.

Ministerial relief, prison reform and publication and Sunday school work were the subjects scheduled to be taken up today after the standing committee had reported progress on the bills and overtures it has in hand to the number of 850. The committee on ministerial relief has under consideration the proposition broached in the last assembly to establish a fund of $10,000,000 for relief and sustentation.

The attitude of Dr. Maitland Alexander, moderator of the assembly, toward evangelism campaigns was made clear yesterday when he declared himself in favor of revivals even if some thought them lacking in dignity.

ELAM'S TRIAL FOR MURDER OPENED

St. Joseph Doctor Alleged to Have Shot Advertising Solicitor.

Kansas City, Mo., May 25.—The trial of Dr. W. T. Elam, a physician of St. Joseph, Mo., charged with the murder of W. Putnam Cramer, an advertising solicitor of Chicago, opened here today. Three hundred veniremen were on hand when court convened and it is expected a jury would be secured by tomorrow night.

Cramer was shot Nov. 18 last in a room at a hotel here. Cramer and Dr. Elam had previously had a misunderstanding about Mrs. Elam and the pair met to discuss their differences.

Five days after the shooting Dr. Elam was released on $10,000 bond. He is 47 years old and his wife is 39. Cramer was 38. Since the shooting Mrs. Elam has spent much of her time with her parents in Detroit. Private detectives employed by Dr. Elam to follow his wife and Cramer are expected to testify.

Dr. Elam is prominent in his profession in St. Joseph and the Elams were leaders of society there.

JAQUES IS GIVEN FAVORABLE REPORT

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, May 25.—The senate committee on judiciary today ordered a favorable report on the nomination of Alfred Jaques of Duluth to be United States attorney for Minnesota.

RAISED BY POPE TO RANK OF CHAMBERLAIN

CARDINAL FALCONIO, Formerly Apostolic Delegate to the United States.

ARE AWARDED THE RED HAT

Thirteen Cardinals Created By Pope Pius at Secret Consistory.

Cardinals Gibbons, Farley and O'Connell Present at the Ceremony.

Rome, May 25.—At a secret consistory held at the Vatican this morning, Pope Pius created thirteen new cardinals.

A number of bishops of various countries also were confirmed in their sees.

At the same time official announcement was made of the creation of Monsignor Bello, patriarch of Lisbon, as cardinal. His name had been reserved "in pectore" at the consistory of 1911.

The ceremony, which was accompanied by all the brilliance usual on such occasions at the Vatican, was preceded by a short allocution, after which the names of the new cardinals were announced as follows:

The New Cardinals.

Monsignor Louis Nazaire Begin,

PUT ON TRIAL FOR MURDER OF THREE

Accused Says He Has No Recollection of the Shooting.

Jacksonville, Ill., May 25.—The trial of John W. Henry, indicted for the murder of Charles Ezard, Everett Crain and 4-year-old Howard Crain of the nearby village of Woodson, was called today in the circuit court. The victims were neighbors of Henry.

The crimes were committed the night of Jan. 27, 1914. Henry's wife had gone to the Ezard home and was in the dining room where the family was eating when her husband came and demanded that she return with him. The wife demurred and Henry tried to compel her to accompany him. In the scuffle his shotgun was discharged and Ezard was mortally wounded.

Half an hour later Crain was called into the darkness of his porch and shot dead. The little boy went out onto the porch with his father and was also shot and killed. Henry disappeared for a time, but a few days later gave himself up. He declared that he had no recollection of shooting anyone.

IOWA WIDOW BURNS HERSELF TO DEATH

Sprinkles Her Clothing With Kerosene and Applies Match.

Davenport, Iowa, May 25.—Magdalena Pruter, aged 65, widow of Franklin Pruter, a retired farmer, today burned herself to death.

When the members of the family stepped out of the house, Mrs. Pruter locked all the doors and going down into the cellar, piled papers and wood together in the coal bin. Then, sprinkling the heap and her own clothing with kerosene, she laid down and touched a match to the pile. When the police arrived fifteen minutes later, she was burned to a crisp.

Ever since her husband's death Mrs. Pruter has brooded over her sorrow, and it is believed that she was temporarily deranged.

DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Francis Kossuth, Invalid for Many Months, Passes Away

Took His Father's Place as Hungarians' National Leader.

Budapest, Hungary, May 25.—Francis Kossuth, son of the great Hungarian patriot, died here today aged 73. He had been an invalid for many months and his death did not come as a surprise.

In January last, during a crisis in his illness, Kossuth was married on his sickbed to Countess Benyorsky, widow of his lifelong friend. Such had been the wish of Count Benyorsky, made on his deathbed, and Kossuth and the countess, who intended to marry in March, hastened the nuptials when Kossuth's illness took a turn for the worse.

Leader of Hungarians.

Francis Kossuth took his father's place as leader of the Hungarians soon after Louis Kossuth died in 1894. Up to the time of his illness Francis Kossuth led his countrymen in their political struggles with vigor and much success. He was at one time in the cabinet as minister of commerce of Hungary.

Kossuth was born at Budapest on Nov. 16, 1841, and was the oldest son of Louis Kossuth.

At the age of 8 he was taken prisoner by the Austrians and was kept for a time at the Fortress of Pressburg. Then he was liberated, but was exiled and sent to Kutiahia, Asia Minor, where he joined his father and together they went to England.

Noted Civil Engineer.

Young Kossuth was educated at London university college, and in 1861 he went to Italy as a civil engineer, attaining much prominence in this profession.

When his father died Francis took the body back to Hungary, in accordance with the demands of his countrymen. The funeral was accompanied by unprecedented honors accorded by the populace.

It was then that he was invited to take his father's place as the Hungarians' national leader and he accepted, declaring he would work for Hungarian independence.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt, in April, 1910, during a spell of Kossuth's illness, visited him at his home.

PASTOR RESIGNS WHEN REQUESTED

Got Into Disfavor Because He Signed Saloon Petition.

Sioux City, Iowa, May 25.—Rev. Wallace Short, pastor of the First Congregational church here, tendered his resignation last night and it was accepted by a vote of 124 to 61. Many members of the congregation declined to vote.

Rev. Mr. Short's resignation was demanded because he signed a saloon consent petition.

HOLDS INCREASE IN RATES UNJUSTIFIED

Washington, May 25.—Proposed increases in ex-lake grain rates from Buffalo to Pittsburg and contiguous territory taking the same rates, varying from 7½ to 8½ cents per 100 pounds, were held today by the interstate commerce commission unjustified.

HAIL OF MACHINE GUN BULLETS FALLS IN THE STREETS OF MAZATLAN

APPEALS TO CROWD TO ATTEND CHURCH

New York Rector Adopts Novel Plan of Attracting People.

New York, May 25.—Led by a surpliced youth, holding aloft a golden cross, the Rev. Dr. Theodore A. Sedgwick, his two assistants, a vested choir and more than a hundred members of the congregation of the Calvary Episcopal church last night marched from the church to Union square, where the rector appealed to the crowd of several thousand persons to return with him and attend the Sunday night service. This is the fourth time since 1911 that Dr. Sedgwick has adopted this plan of attracting people to his church.

After a short service in the park the procession reformed, and marched back to the church with about 300 recruits following.

"SHOOT THE KING" CRY SUFFRAGETTES

King George's Name Greeted With Angry Derision and Hissing.

London, May 25.—Shouts of "Shoot the king!" filled a hall in which a meeting of the Women's Social and Political union, the militant suffragette organization, was held this afternoon. Every mention of King George's name was greeted with angry derision and prolonged hissing.

Salute By Warships Misinterpreted as an Attack on City.

Release of Agent of Rich Spaniard Ordered By Carranza.

Report That Trouble Is Expected in Mexico City This Week.

On Board United States Ship California, Mazatlan, Mexico, May 24, via wireless to San Diego, May 25.—A twenty-one minute gun salute fired by the American and Japanese warships in the harbor and by the Federal fortifications, was misinterpreted today by the besieging Constitutionalists as an attack on the city instead of a tribute to the late Dowager empress of Japan. Gen. Obregon's batteries promptly opened a spirited fire on the city and a number of shells and a hail of machine gun bullets fell in the street.

Spaniard's Release Ordered.

Washington, May 25.—Gen. Carranza has ordered the release of an agent of Joaquin Armendaiz, a rich Spaniard held by Constitutionalists at Monterey and forced to draw a draft for $12,000 on Armendaiz, who is in the United States. The state department took up the case at the request of the Spanish ambassador. No forced loan will be made.

The French embassy here has asked the department to use its influence for protection of the Mexican National bank at Durango. Directors of the bank in Mexico City notified the embassy that Constitutionalists were threatening to confiscate coin and bullion at the Durango branch. The embassy has asked that American con-

MEDIATION GOES ON FAVORABLY

Difficulties Over Introducing the Land Question Being Overcome.

Niagara Falls, Ont., May 25.—After a conference today between the mediators and the Mexican delegates, it was announced that the progress of the mediation had reached a most satisfactory stage.

The difficulties over the manner of introducing the land question into the discussion are being overcome and this point will be included in the scope of the mediation program. This was stated on th authority of one of the South American envoys.

Seek Ironworker's Pardon.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 25.—A committee comprising members of the Federated Trades council left today for Washington, D. C., in an effort to secure a pardon for W. E. Reddin, ironworker, convicted in the dynamite conspiracy cases, and under sentence of three years, in the Leavenworth prison.

ROOSEVELT MAY FIRE OPENING GUN SOON AT THE ADMINISTRATION

BRITISH AVIATOR MAY BE DROWNED IN CHANNEL

GUSTAVE HAMEL.

London, May 25.—No solution of the mystery surrounding the disappearance of Gustave Hamel, the British aviator who started on Saturday morning to cross the English channel from France, was found during the night, although a thorough search of the sea was made by a swarm of torpedo boat destroyers and extensive inquiries were made along the coasts of France and England.

Another flotilla of destroyers was sent out this morning to relieve those which had been searching all night.

Hamel last week made the announcement that he would attempt to cross the Atlantic in his aeroplane in the coming fall.

PATMONT TO TELL STORY

Kidnaped Prohibition Advocate Before the Danville, Ill., Grand Jury.

Says He Knows the Persons Responsible for His Detention.

Danville, Ill., May 25.—Refreshed by a sound sleep at the home of Rev. J. F. Bickel, Lewis R. Patmont, the Prohibition advocate who was kidnaped from Westville, Ill., on March 31 and found in an abandoned house, near Columbia, Ill., Saturday, arose this morning prepared to go before the grand jury today and relate his story. This body probably will not meet until late today.

A happy surprise came to the minister as he entered the dining room of the Bickel home, when he beheld his aged father and mother there.

A horde of detectives, some employed by the ministerial association, others working independently, and three sent here by the First Church of Christ of Detroit, are endeavoring to ascertain the identity of the big red

DECIDES NOT TO PARTICIPATE

British Government Will Not Take Part in Frisco Exposition.

London, May 25.—The British government, acting contrary to the hopes held out by Premier Asquith to a recent deputation, finally decided today not to participate in the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Grancisco.

On May 5 when a deputation representing more than half the members of the house of commons called on the premier, he told the members that the government would take the question of British official representation at the exposition under further consideration.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS

SENATE.

Met at 11 a. m. and adjourned at 11:07 a. m. until 11 a. m. Tuesday, out of respect to memory of late Senator Bradley of Kentucky.

Judiciary committee favorably reported the contested nomination of E. R. Moore as marshal for the Northern Iowa district.

HOUSE.

Resumed debate on Clayton omnibus trust bill.

Progressives called a conference with Col. Roosevelt for tomorrow night.

Western congressmen appealed to the president to favor the bill to extend title of payments for irrigation projects settlers.

Colonel Going to Washington to Meet Progressive Leaders.

Urged to Take Issue at Once With the President.

Now Allowing Republicans to Steal March on the Progressives.

Washington, May 25.—Col. Roosevelt will be received by President Wilson at the White House tomorrow afternoon. The president invited the colonel to lunch with him, but Mr. Roosevelt found it impossible to reach Washington in time. He sent word, however, he would be delighted to call on the president during the afternoon.

Col. Roosevelt's visit to the White House will be his first since 1910, and the second since he left the executive mansion as president. On his former call he did not see President Taft. The latter was out of the city.

To Confer With Progressives.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., May 25.—The trip which Col. Roosevelt is to make to Washington tomorrow took on new significance when it became known today that the former president would hold an important conference with Progressive leaders there. On his arrival at the capital, Col. Roosevelt will go direct to Progressive headquarters, where he expects to see all the Progressives in congress.

From them he expects to obtain first hand information as to the course of events in Washington during the last few months. The conference will determine in a large measure plans to be followed in starting the ball rolling for the fall campaign.

Has Changed His Plans.

Col. Roosevelt has been urged by many of his supporters, since his return from South America, to lose no time in taking issue at once with President Wilson, without waiting for the formal opening of the campaign. He said a few days ago that he desired to keep out of politics as much as possible until after his return from Spain, but recent events have caused him to consider the question of jumping into the fray at once.

He has already expressed briefly his opposition to the Wilson administration's advocacy of the canal tolls exemption act and to the proposal to pay $25,000,000 to Colombia. It is understood that he will make his severest attacks upon the present adminis-

POST'S ESTATE IS $20,000,000

Will Leaves Greater Part to His Widow and Daughter.

Washington, May 25.—The will of Charles W. Post of Battle Creek, Mich., who died at Santa Barbara, Cal., on May 9, filed here today for probate, leaves the bulk of an estate estimated at $20,000,000, to the widow, Mrs. Lella Y. Post, and a daughter, Marjorie Post Close.

The stocks, bonds and other personal property is estimated at about $18,000,000. Carroll L. Post, Marshall K. Howe, Harry E. Burt, Samuel H. Small, Edward L. Branson, Frank C. Grandin and Arthur E. Williams were named as executors, and gave bonds for $2,300,000.

Mr. Post's property at Rock Ridge, Conn., one-half his Texas estate, the Marjorie Block and Enquirer buildings in Battle Creek, 25 per cent of all the personal property aside from holdings in Battle Creek cereal companies, and one-half the latter, were left to the daughter.

Mrs. Post inherits all other real estate at Battle Creek, in Santa Barbara and in Texas, the remainder of the holdings in the Battle Creek companies, and 25 per cent of the remaining personal property.

To two granddaughters, Adelaide Close and Eleanor Close, Mr. Post left 10 per cent of his personal estate; another small portion goes to various persons, among them the executors and the remainder is divided equally between the mother and daughter.

BOAT COLLIDES WITH ICEBERG

Royal Edward of Canadian Northern Line Not Seriously Hurt.

London, May 25.—The steamer Royal Edward of the Canadian Northern Steamship company collided with an iceberg 110 miles east of Cape Race while on her voyage from Montreal to Avonmouth. The captain in a wireless message to the owners today described the iceberg as a very large one and said that the steamer struck it end on, while going "dead slow" in a dense fog.

The Royal Edward's stem was twisted by the blow. The captain declared that the damage was not serious, but that it would be necessary to dock her on arrival in England.

A later message says the Royal Edward is taking no water but that she has been brought to a stop in the fog.

Neither of the messages is dated.

Only "Grazed" Iceberg.

Montreal, May 25.—A wireless dispatch was received here Saturday from the Royal Edward. In it Capt. Wotton explained that his ship "had grazed" an iceberg. According to the steamship officials the vessel was undamaged and proceeded on its way.

The Royal Edward left Quebec Tuesday last and was held up for several days in the St. Lawrence by smoke from forest fires. The ship has 865 passengers on board; 57 first, 221 second and 587 third.

REMARRIED ON DEATHBED

John McCarey Reunited With Divorced Wife in Isolation Hospital.

Wedding vows, once broken and thrown to the discard, were renewed at a deathbed marriage solemnized last evening in a ward of the city isolation hospital, when John McCarey, 63, lying at the point of death, took the hand of his divorced wife, Sadie E. McCarey, 41, and for the second time in his life swore to love and honor her, "until death doth part." McCarey died three hours later.

The unusual ceremony was witnessed by a small group of spectators, including Supt. Neil McDougall of the hospital, Thomas A. Scarlett, C. M. West and Judge Harry W. Lanners. The name of the minister who performed the ceremony has not been learned.

Shortly after 9 o'clock last evening, Clerk of the Court J. P. Johnson received a hurry-up request for a marriage license from Mrs. McCarey, who, in accordance with her divorced husband's dying request, promised to remarry him. J. A. Commings, deputy clerk of the court, came to the court house and issued the desired license.

Mrs. McCarey was rushed out to the city hospital near the poor farm in an automobile and the marriage was solemnized. McCarey, after renewing his marriage vows, soon lapsed into unconsciousness and death ensued shortly after midnight.

The McCareys were first married at Harrisville, Mich., Aug. 15, 1885, and lived together until Aug. 14, 1905, when McCarey deserted her. She afterwards sued him for divorce on the grounds of desertion and a decree of separation was granted her by Judge Ensign on May 4, 1911.

McCarey, since his wife divorced him, has been in very poor health. For the last two years he has been confined to hospitals, and during that time has undergone eight operations. In one operation his leg was amputated. His last ailment was that of erysipelas, which resulted in his death. He was confined at the isolation hospital for six days.

Mrs. McCarey, since securing a divorce from her husband, has been making her home in this city and has been employed in the office of her brother-in-law, T. A. Scarlett, First street feed dealer. Mrs. Scarlett and Mrs. McCarey are sisters.

Pinochle Tournament.

A pinochle tournament among the members will be held by Covenant lodge, No. 569, Independent Order of B'Nai B'rith, in the Temple Emanuel vestry rooms tomorrow evening.

It is the plan of the officers to hold the pinochle tournament immediately after the regular monthly business meeting. The members will be divided and the winners will play down until but one victor is left. A suitable prize will be awarded the champion pinochle player of the local fraternity.

Following the card tournament light refreshments will be served. J. J. Robinson is president of the lodge, and A. B. Kapplin, secretary. The latter and Charles D. Oreckovsky are in charge of the arrangements.

LYCEUM—Baldwin Players in "Alias Jimmy Valentine."
EMPRESS—Vaudeville.

OPEN SECOND WEEK.

Baldwin Players in Excellent Production of "Alias Jimmy Valentine."

Greeted by an audience that filled the first two floors of the theater, the Baldwin Players yesterday afternoon began their second week at the Lyceum theater in Paul Armstrong's gripping play, "Alias Jimmy Valentine," which is admirably presented, both as to acting and scenic arrangements.

At this time, it might be well worth saying that the Baldwin Players are already popular with the Duluth theater-going public and that their season in the local playhouse promises to be a successful one. Both Lola May and Charles Dingle, the stars of the company, are very capable actors and their roles opposite each other, in "The Spendthrift" last week and "Alias Jimmy Valentine" this week are exceptionally well handled. Miss May has already scored heavily with the women, while Mr. Dingle gives promise of becoming a matinee idol in Duluth.

"Alias Jimmy Valentine" has been seen in Duluth before, but by a traveling organization, with H. B. Warner in the title role. And in comparison it might be said that Mr. Dingle's interpretation of the wily Jimmy is not very far behind that of the character shown by Mr. Warner. He proves himself a good crook, an ardent lover and a strong fighter.

Although "Alias Jimmy Valentine" is primarily a man's show, yet Miss May plays effectively in her scenes. Her costumes this week are fully as striking as those in "The Spendthrift" and Miss May again proves herself a real connoisseur of gowns, hats and feminine apparel.

Walter S. Baldwin, manager of the stock players, introduces himself to the Duluth public this week in his role of Doyle, a detective. He both looks and acts the part of the "deke," who is always on the alert. His son, Walter S. Baldwin, Jr., who appeared as Monty Ward last week, portrays the difficult part of "Red" Joslyn, Valentine's pal.

Al Smith, a Duluth young man, who recently returned from a road trip throughout the West and South, makes his debut before Duluthians this week. Mr. Smith plays the part of Handler, warden at Sing Sing, in effective style, and although he appears in but the opening act, his presentation of the gruff, harsh official is convincing. Mr. Smith will appear in the various productions during the season and has also taken charge of the stage for Mr. Baldwin.

Little Phyllis Thibbedeau, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Thibbedeau of Mesaba avenue, another Duluthian, appears for the first time in the production this week. She plays Kitty, the daughter of Banker Lane and sister of Rose Lane. The little girl reads her lines well and is also quite an actress.

The other members of the cast handle their parts very well, special mention being due A. Romaine Callender for his double interpretation of Robert Fay, lieutenant governor of New York, in the first act, and William Lane, the banker, in the remaining scenes. Joseph de Stefani as Bill Avery, an old offender, is also effective.

"Alias Jimmy Valentine" will continue all week, with the regular matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

At the Empress.

A new bill will open at the Empress theater this afternoon and continue for the first half of this week. The bill consists of four high class acts and three good reels of pictures. The feature act of the bill is "The Rah Rah Boys" headed by Miss Jackson in the musical frivolity, "On the College Campus." The act is a miniature musical comedy containing its full quota of songs and dances besides an abundance of comedy material. The members were all picked for their ability to sing and dance and a happy result has been the case with "The Rah Rah Boys." The act is sent by Menlo Moore, one of vaudeville's best producers of novelties and has been staged by Hamilton Coleman. A pretty set of scenery depicting a college campus sets off the act to great advantage.

Murray K. Hill, the well known phonograph record maker with all his clever sayings and funny faces, will be here for the coming three days. Murray K. Hill is one of the ablest and smartest comedians in vaudeville today. His acts have pleased theatergoers all over the circuit.

Walsh and Bently will offer a comedy acrobatic act of decided merit. The two young men do some preliminary comedy talk and they switch into some fast and furious feats of gymnastics.

The novelty of the bill is "The Aeroplane Girl" and her airship in which she aviates gracefully over the heads of the audience singing the latest and most popular of songs and ditties. This mechanical novelty is beautifully illuminated.

A two-reel feature photoplay and single comedy reel of pictures will make this bill one of the best at the Empress theater for some time.

POLICE MATRON HAS FIRST BATTLE

Matron Mary Walsh this morning had her first fight since she has been in charge of the woman's ward at police headquarters. And she came out the victor in the struggle.

For five years Mrs. Walsh has been in charge of the women prisoners, but never until this morning has anyone made an attempt to get away. Emily Lobeh, 60 years old, who was arrested Saturday night on a charge of drunkenness and who was this morning fined $10 and costs or ten days in the county jail, after pleading guilty, thought she could best Matron Walsh in a fistic battle and thus possibly obtain her liberty.

Suiting action to her thoughts, she rushed at Matron Walsh. The latter was caught off her guard, but in a moment she was in the fight and a merry struggle it was, while it lasted. It took Mrs. Walsh about four minutes to subdue her prisoner and make her realize that a woman officer is no person to fight with. By that time other officers in the station were attracted to the scene and the prisoner was locked up in the woman's ward for the remainder of the morning.

DULUTH FOLDERS IN ALL TICKET OFFICES.

In a very short time it will be almost impossible to go to any ticket railway ticket office in the country without finding a supply of the new summer folder which the Commercial club has just issued.

Railroads in all parts of the country were written to to find out if they would handle these folders and how many. The replies came in at an astonishing rate,—over thirty roads agreeing to use them at all of their offices. In fact the issue was oversubscribed and the orders had to be pared down. But there will be a wide advertising of Duluth as a result.

OBITUARY

Gen. Clinton Dugald MacDougall, who has been seriously ill in Paris, died there May 24. Gen. MacDougall was one of the youngest generals of the Civil war and was prized for his services at the battle of Gettysburg. He was wounded five times. He was born in Scotland in 1839. Burial will be in Arlington National cemetery, Washington.

Rev. Arthur Mursell, famous as a preacher and a lecturer, died May 24. For many years he was the minister at Stockwell Baptist chapel, London, and popularized Sunday lectures to workmen. He was born in 1831. He toured the United States in 1876.

Lou Burk, 69, widely known in America, England and Scotland as an animal painter, died at his home at Bloomington, Ill., May 24. He had painted more than 10,000 pictures of prize-winning horses, cattle and dogs.

GARBAGE WORK IS EXTENDED

The city has adopted a new course in extending the municipal garbage collection.

Dr. H. E. Webster, director of public health, announced this morning that two men and a team have been hired at a salary of $150 per month, the city to furnish a sanitary wagon. One of the wagons purchased last fall will be supplied.

The outfit will be sent to any part of the city, with particular reference to complaints received from residents who state that it has been impossible for them to get a garbage man. The same prices as charged for other collections made by the city will be made. The two wagons which have heretofore been operated by the city will be continued as in the past. One has been working steadily in the downtown section and the other has been in the West end part of the week and assisting in the central district the remainder of the time. The city owns these outfits outright, including the horses, and has been hiring the men to handle them.

While hiring the horses and the men will be an experiment in Duluth, the plan has been successfully tried out in other cities. If it works here the department will probably dispose of its horses and put the entire city collection on the same basis.

AMERICAN PLAN IS ANTIQUATED

A letter which will interest the shippers of Duluth to a very large extent has just been received by G. Roy Hall, traffic commissioner of the Duluth Commercial club from Eugene Van Cleef, an instructor of the Duluth normal school, who is just now spending some time in Europe studying geographical subjects.

The letter comes from Leipzig, Germany. Mr. Van Cleef refers to a statement made in Washington and which he saw in The Herald in the issue of April 9 by Julius H. Barnes to the effect that the service of the lake-and-rail carriers is "antiquated and unnecessarily expensive to shippers." In connection with this Mr. Van Cleef says:

"I merely desire to emphasize this statement. During my stay in Europe I have visited a number of the most important harbors, inland as well as coastal. One of the most striking features to one who comes from Duluth is the facility with which package freight is handled as well as the very low cost. It may be of interest to you to learn that one of the leading ports of Europe is Berlin, despite the fact that it is approximately 175 miles from the sea. A very large factor in this development has been the introduction of machinery for handling small freight efficiently. In this respect the system on the docks in Duluth is still in the 'stone age of development.'"

THREE ARE ARRESTED ON MURDER CHARGE

Crookston, Minn., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The arrest by Sheriff Kelley and Officer Yonke of Joseph Laconnte of Malone, Fred Laconnte of Thief River Falls, and George Provest of Louisville, charged with the murder of Charles Landa, a well-known farmer of Polk county, near Wiley, located between this city and Red Lake Falls, promises to unravel the mystery of the disappearance of Landa fourteen years ago.

He left his home the afternoon of July 18, 1900, to take the train at Wiley for Crookston, his destination being Nebraska, where he intended to buy land. That was the last his family had heard of him. He had considerable money with him and the present arrests were made as the result of rumors heard by his son, Albert Landa, and reported to County Attorney Boughton of Red Lake county. After investigation Mr. Boughton determined that the crime had been committed in Polk county and turned the matter over to County Attorney Hagen and Sheriff Kelley.

Provest Being Sweated.

The three accused men are in the county jail and this morning Provest is in the sweat box with County Attorney Hagen and Sheriff Kelley turning on the heat. Joseph Laconnte served a term in the reform school, his brother Fred served a term in the penitentiary and Provest is a river rat, who has been arrested on numerous occasions for more or less serious crimes. The defendants are all about 40 years of age.

Landa was a prominent farmer and intense interest has been aroused in connection with the arrest of the alleged murderers. It is said that the authorities here have information regarding the location of the body of Landa and new developments are expected late today or tomorrow.

COURT HAS GOOD MEMORY

When Edward Wilie, 25 years old, was brought into police court this morning on a charge of assault, he was recognized by Judge Cutting as the man who was the first prisoner ever placed on parole, after being found guilty of stealing, since the probation department was established. He later violated that parole and disappeared.

It was a matter of about a year and a half, but Judge Cutting immediately recognized him this morning and when the latter questioned Wilie, the prisoner finally admitted his identity. Wilie, after being gone over a year, is now in jail again, serving a sentence of sixty days, imposed Dec. 21, 1912, and also a sentence of ten days for assaulting George Mattson in a Twenty-third avenue west saloon last Friday evening.

Wilie, a Duluth young man, was arrested Dec. 20, 1912, on a charge of having stolen a deer from a local freight station, where he was then temporarily employed. It was claimed that he asked the owner of the deer for a fee and that when the latter refused, Wilie stole the animal. He pleaded not guilty, but was later found guilty by Judge Cutting, who imposed a fine of $50 and costs or sixty days in the county jail. And then for the first time since Probation Officer Hicks was placed in charge of a parole department, the prisoner, convicted of stealing, was placed on parole. He promised to report monthly and to pay for the deer within a period of twelve months.

Shortly after that Wilie disappeared and was not seen again until Saturday afternoon.

LOSES HIS EYE; ASKS DAMAGES

Charles De Cook, 2924 West Huron street, until recently assistant foreman for the Duluth Brewing & Malting company, today started an action in district court to compel his former employers to make a settlement with him under the terms of the workingmen's compensation act for the loss of his right eye in an accident at the brewery April 9, last.

De Cook alleges that during the course of his employment and while making repairs about the plant he sustained injuries which have incapacitated him for some time. He alleges that while trying to fit what he supposed to be an empty copper cartridge into a key for light protectors, the cartridge exploded and destroyed the sight of his eye.

The plaintiff asks to be recompensed at the rate of half of his daily wage, which was $2.70 a day, for a period of weeks as provided for in the schedule under the law. He also asks to be reimbursed for $125 doctor bills.

Judge Bert Fesler has set June 26 as a day for a hearing on the matter.

Judge Martin Hughes of Hibbing has ordered the Duluth Diamond Drilling company to pay Emil Clemets $7.50 a week during the period of his disability. Clemets was injured by a falling plank while employed by the company at Carson Lake, March 2, last. The court also ordered the company to pay Clemet's attorney $20 fees.

Judge Ensign today approved a settlement for $222, which was made between the Virginia & Rainy Lake Lumber company for injuries which John Winters, 54, Virginia, received while working in the woods near Cusson, March 8, last.

OLD SOL DESERTS STRAW HAT MEN

Old Sol was on a strike yesterday, the one day of all the year when he should have been on the job, shining brightly. Yesterday marked the official opening of Duluth's straw hat season.

Because of this delinquency the first day of the straw hat season was chill and dreary. Gloomy and threatening clouds hung over the city with depressing effect. The mercury shrunk down the tube to 45 deg. and a raw breeze blew down the streets.

But despite the conspiracy of the weather the official opening was not allowed to go entirely unheralded. Several of the more optimistic ventured outdoors adorned with straw lids. They were in a sad minority but "they saw their duty and they done it," and they are entitled to all the credit and glory of those who stand forth for what they believe to be a just cause. Duluthians are not discouraged, however, despite the unfavorable conditions of the opening of the straw hat season, as will be evidenced by the rapidly increasing numbers of the light summer bonnets which will be in evidence in all parts of the city.

may eventually give to women rights to which they are entitled, but good health, which is the birthright of every American woman, must be hers before she can fully enjoy the privileges which woman's suffrage will bring. Women who suffer from those dreadful pains, backache, headaches, irritability, nervousness and depressi. , symptoms of organic trouble, should rely on Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made from roots and herbs, to restore them to a normal healthy condition as it has thousands of other American women.

Wilkins, principal of the Cloquet high school, at Albert Lea, Minn. Miss Clausen has been for four years domestic science teacher in the local high school and is very popular here.

∴ SUNDAY SERMONS IN DULUTH PULPITS ∴

VICAR TALKS TO KNIGHTS

Templars Attend Ascension Day Service at Trinity Pro-Cathedral.

Dr. MacLean Preaches Special Sermon to Modern Christian Soldiers.

A most impressive service was that held at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at Trinity pro-cathedral, Twentieth avenue east and Superior street, when Rev. Thomas W. MacLean, the vicar, preached an Ascension day sermon to the Knights Templar. The musical program was attractively arranged for the occasion, and the attendance, aside from that of the Templars, was large.

The Duluth commandery, accompanied by a number of the knights from Superior, marched from the Masonic temple to the pro-cathedral and back again, headed by the drum corps of Aad temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine. About seventy-five men were in line, and with the rich uniforms and plumed chapeaus, they made a striking appearance.

Although Ascension day is one of the annual feasts of the commandery, it has not been observed in years in Duluth. It is believed, however, that yesterday's observation will be continued annually hereafter.

Dr. MacLean took for his text the words, "Why stand ye gazing up into heaven?" from the second verse of the first chapter of Acts. In part, he said:

"The observance of the Christian year has always been a part of the discipline and customs of Knights Templar. You are familiar with the Christmas, Easter and Maundy Thursday doctrines, and it is not too much to say that the general observance of that year will mark the unity of Christendom. It will be a leading element in cementing the brotherhood of man, issuing from the fatherhood of God. The unvarying custom of the historic churches has been the unvarying use of Templarism, and when the psychological hour strikes, Knights Templar will add their custom and example.

Expectation Sunday.

"Today is Expectation Sunday. It marks the period when the trembling and desolate disciples, after the Master's ascension, waited in expectation for the fulfilment of His promise. It was abundantly fulfilled on the day of Pentecost. The world is habitable today because they waited and believed. Knights Templar share their belief and expect the same results in this latter day.

"Templarism has survived because it is founded on eternal truth. It is an organization based on inner and spiritual principles. Life has shaped it, not mechanism. That is why it stands alone and unique among so-called fraternal societies. Masonry and Templarism are not organizations for self interest or mere social morality; they issue from inner spiritual life. Most other fraternal orders are outer imitations of an order which is persistent because an organism. They are not religions, but they are religious orders, with religious sanctions, motives and activities.

Must Proceed to Action.

"The men who accosted the disciples at the time of the ascension, reminded them that the moment of prayer was past; they were not to stand gazing into heaven; they were to proceed to action. Meditation and prayer have their leading and inspiring place in life, but true Christianity demands action. The warning is needed always. There have been periods when mysticism and the contemplative life were overdone. We are made up of body, soul and spirit. The old Bible psychology has endured the test of experience; it is not academic alone. If one member suffers the rest suffer with it. Bodily activities, mental powers and spiritual functions are to be co-ordinated and work in harmony. The text reminds us of this as an Ascension day truth of vast and lasting importance. In the Old Testament we read how the Almighty on one occasion, when the people were leaving everything to Him, and were engaging in the luxurious attitude of prayer, commanded Moses to speak unto the children of Israel that they go forward. Action as well as prayer was needed. We all need this reminder, though perhaps in these days of ours there is no great temptation to look too fervently into heaven. Yet the danger is abroad and reaction from worldliness often ends in religious fanaticism, and in individuals, mysticism follows mechanical religion. Co-ordination of body, soul and spirit is the principle of true Christianity and the deep truth of the incarnation. The real meaning of conversion is that if one is converted himself, the almost infallible evidence of it is that it moves to action, action on one's brother and his conditions of life. The will of God regenerates, the will of man is involved in conversion.

"Again Christianity, as a world religion, differs from the Oriental cults. They posit imperfection and lead to maceration of the body and the quenching of consciousness and the paralyzing of will. Christianity posits imperfection and leads to growth upward and action. It condemns manicheism and the belittling of any of our powers. Prayer, meditation and action are to be timely, neither exclusively practiced. The same is true in societies.

"Since 1119, when the poor soldiers of Jesus Christ arose, the Templars, their successors, have practiced these principles of the Christian life. They have their chamber of reflection, their times of earnest prayer—but both reflection and prayer lead to action. They were not hermits. Their military discipline system strictly strengthened their bodies, their minds were occupied in highest reflection, their spirits were fired by the Holy Spirit.

"Though war be abilshed, and we believe it will be on earth, military discipline will survive. It organizes and regulates the will and makes the body a fit servant of the soul.

Must Be Reckoned With.

"In 1314 when Jacques de Molai suffered, and his knights with him, the line of Templarism seemed broken. But today Templarism must be reckoned with. It is a deep, quiet, Godly force and will see to it that liberty, not license, law and order, not anarchy, charity, not mere tolerance, shall be prevalent among men. No tyranny or slavery of body and soul stands unrebuked by it. It believes that no force, either of arms or of arguments, shall compel men to be Christians and that such methods are not Christian. Love and persuasion are the only methods.

"You and I know that they stand for liberty in church and state and for law and order everywhere. And none can think that such an order as this shall not prove an efficient aid to true religion, a conserver of the family and a defendant of the weak and persecuted. 'Why stand yet gazing up into heaven?' The true knight gazes heavenward; he seeks those things that are above that he may do manfully the things on earth.

His knighthood is that of Sir Gallahad:

"'My good sword carves the casques of men,
My true lance thrusteth sure;
My arm is as the arm of ten
Because my heart is pure.'

"'Valiant and magnanimous knights.' Not magnanimous alone but valiant, courageous, and active for the right everywhere and for all time."

HOVIS TALKS TO VETERANS

G. A. R. Men and Auxiliary Orders Attend Endion Church.

Pastor Preaches on "The Peace of God"—Good Attendance.

Almost half a hundred veterans of the Civil war attended yesterday morning's services at Endion Methodist church, Nineteenth avenue east and First street, and heard Rev. William Forney Hovis, the pastor, give, for them, a special sermon on "The Peace of God."

Besides the veterans, a number of members of the women's auxiliaries of the G. A. R. posts—the Willis A. Gorman and J. B. Culver—attended and so did a number of members of the Sons of Veterans and of the Spanish American War veterans. The church was simply but effectively decorated and the sermon was eloquently given. Dr. Hovis took his text from the fifteenth verse of the third chapter of Colossians: "Let the peace of God rule in your hearts." He said, in part:

"Peace is the condition which follows the reconciliation of antagonistic forces. It presupposes conflict. It is sometimes purchased at an awful price. Peace follows the cessation of rebellion, but is often bought by blood. It is a consummation devoutly to be wished them its terms are made in honor.

"While the mad mutterings of war are heard among our neighbors on the south and our own national tranquility is being somewhat ruffled, we are making elaborate preparations to celebrate a hundred years of peace between the English speaking peoples. In the midst of the rejoicing over the unbroken harmony which has characterized the dealings of England and America for a century of time, we are horrified to learn that during this period and a little more the wars of the world have cost $15,235,000,000 with a loss of 4,500,000 lives, and that in our own country during the four years in which our land was rent with civil strife and drenched with the blood of brothers, war cost our nation, including the expenses growing out of it, more than $6,180,000,000, with a loss of more than 2,800,000 lives. These statistics contain no record of the sorrow and anguish of wives, mothers, and sisters and others left at home or of the sufferings and hardships of the men upon the march. Verily war is hell accentuated.

Honor for Motive.

"We honor you, our soldier friends, not because we are proud to number in our ranks those who whipped their fellows in a bloody fight, but because of that for which you who fought and lived and those who fought and died, paid 'the last full measure of devotion.' We do you homage because you fought for the peace which follows after war. We cannot forget the price you paid—the hard beds on which you slept the sleep of the exhausted, the unspeakable exposure of the weary march, your pangs of gnawing hunger and your pain of parching thirst, the awful conflict when you entered into the jaws of death and into the very gates of hell. While you are with us we shall find pleasure in showing you the appreciation of grateful hearts and when you go hence we will cover your bier with the colors for which you risked your lives, and then as often as the spring flowers come again we will strew our garlands on your resting place.

"The fight of the soldier is a picture of the conflict of the human soul which wins the victory over sin and gains the peace of God. When the warring factions which run riot in the heart have been harmonized, peace comes in natural sequence. The peace of God is a most amazing thing. It is worth fighting to obtain. Peace is impossible when the heart feels the gnawing of unsatisfied desires, when the soul is tortured by the sting of a conscience poisoned by wrong-doing in the past, when the mind is darkened by foreboding anxiety which robs the future of its hope. Peace is the consequence of certain spiritual facts just as health is the result of physical conditions.

Two Kinds of Peace.

"There are two kinds of peace—the peace of the conqueror and the peace of the conquered. The one is the peace that lies at the other side of conflict; it is the peace the soldier wins—the peace that lies beyond the smoke of battle, the rain of bullets, the shriek of bursting shells. The other is the peace of chains and slavery; it submits to indignities, it accommodates itself to the demands of stronger parties, it yields all sense of honor or respect.

"The peace of God is an inner, unfailing, abounding confidence—akin to the intrepid spirit of the good soldier—that will not shrink though pressed by every foe.

"Peace is the calm which follows the commanding of tempestuous power. Christ's life was outwardly troubled and storm-tossed. His inner life was a sea of glass. At any moment one might have gone to Him and found rest. Hounded through the streets of Jerusalem and scoffed at and abused, he turned to his disciples and offered them his legacy of 'peace.'

"The peace of God is an affirmative condition. It is not a state of indolence. Peace is not a state of indolent passivity. It is not the mere stifling of anxiety by stoicism. It is not the stolid pleasure of comfort, ease and plenty. No heart has peace and no heart has a right to peace until its truest purposes are in thorough harmony with its conscientious convictions. Such a consonance can rarely ever be established without a fight. Paul thought of the possession of peace in terms of soldier life. He told Timothy to endure hardness as a good soldier, he spoke about the soul's battle with 'kosmocrats' of darkness, he exhorted people to put on the armor of military life, he referred to the warring factions which riot in the heart, and said with apparent pride of achievement 'I have fought a good fight.'

Soldiers' Hardest Fight.

"The soldiers last and hardest fight is with himself. The most difficult patriotism is the patriotism of peace. There is danger that men who slay giants and cut a path through any foes and win a victory for their country's flag shall fall before themselves. The 'unfinished task' of which Lincoln spoke when he stood among the dead at Gettysburg concerns the soldier after God's winds have blown the smoke of war away and birds are nesting in the cannon's mouths which once were filled with fiendish fire.

"A battle-scarred army with thin and weather beaten ranks is marching toward the sunset of a day which had a blood-stained morning. As one by one these honored brave lie down to rest amid the gathering shadows, we cover them with their country's flag. The death and the dying achieved peace but it is the task of the living to perpetuate it. It is our hope that wars have ceased to the ends of the earth and that the world's battle flags will never be unfurled again, but while the days of storming the fort are over the days of holding the fort are here. God give us men whose hearts are equal to the task! The battle royal is the battle in the human heart. When the peace of God rules in the hearts of those who are the conservators of our national well-being then is our country safe.

"The good man may be tossed about as if God had a controversy with him, yet in the depths of his heart he may have great peace. Paul had a right to talk about peace. A man who could stay troubled on every side, yet not distressed; perplexed, but not in despair; persecuted but not forsaken; cast down but not destroyed, knew what he was recommending when he said 'Let the peace of God rule in your hearts.'

"Let men who have no God tremble in the presence of portentous conflict and reverberating storm, but 'He that dwelleth in the secret place of the Most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty' and 'The peace of God that passeth all understanding shall guard his heart and thoughts.'"

HONOR PAID TO VETERANS

Senator Boyle Pays Tribute to G. A. R. at Lester Park Service.

Declares Enemies of Government Now Worse Than Those of '61.

Following a custom of several years, the Lester Park M. E. church held its Memorial day services last evening in charge of the Epworth League of the church.

The church was beautifully decorated with flags and flowers and a number of members of the G. A. R. were guests of the young people.

A chorus choir with Miss Ruth Young as vocalist and Ronald Myron at the organ, furnished the musical part of the program.

Senator James P. Boyle was the orator of the evening and delivered an eloquent and patriotic address, speaking in part as follows:

"The men of the '60s have the right to hold us responsible for the superstructure which we build upon the solid foundation which they have laid. They have a right to expect us to show in the battles of today the lofty spirit and love of country which inspired them in the battles of yesterday.

"We now have our enemies to fight, enemies sometimes difficult of recognition because of the sneaking methods which they employ to effect their dishonest purposes. They do not come out in the open with a declaration of principles as did the men of the Confederacy. The men of the Confederacy who would have disrupted the Union believed themselves right; the enemies of our government today know themselves to be wrong.

"The soldiers of the Confederacy were men of the finest characters and their survivors and dependents are united with the survivors and dependents of the boys in blue fighting our common enemy.

"Today we have the gang of political parasites who stole the money appropriated to build the state capitol of Pennsylvania; the gifted financiers whom Joseph Folk drove to the four corners of the earth; the dishonest men everywhere, whether it be in political or in private life; nominating conventions controlled by a boss or two; representatives of the people who prostituted their souls for money that a rogue might be sent to the senate of the United States, or that the gambling elements of a great commonwealth might hold undisputed sway; legislatures and assemblies that have sold the rights of the people for money paid by favored interests.

"These are the things, those are the men against whom we must take one stand, firm as a rock, and fight until their corrupt practices are stamped out forever.

"Should we not, therefore, upon each Memorial day, offer up a prayer that we may be filled with the spirit, the courage and the patriotism of the men and women of the '60s, knowing that with such spirit, courage and patriotism it would be easy for us to successfully fight the cowardly army of political and social parasites to whom I have just referred."

EXPLAINS CONCEPTION OF GOD AS A FATHER

Is Spiritual Power Working Everywhere for Highest Good of Man, Says Rev. George R. Gebauer.

"What the Master Saw in Man" was the subject of the sermon by Rev. G. R. Gebauer at the First Unitarian church yesterday.

"Jesus in his idea of God went back to the pure teaching of the prophets and deepened their conception," the speaker said in part. He saw in God a spiritual power working everywhere for the highest good of man, ever watchful of him, ever desirous to lead him to highest happiness. And he realized that this spiritual power in the universe was akin to what he believed eternal in man. Hence that grand conception of God, not as creator, not as maker of man, but as generator, as father. He came to this conception simply because he felt the God life so strongly in himself, and he naturally concluded, that what was in him must be in all men. That is why he would speak of God as 'my father and your father.'

"And with this conception of God as our father the whole creational theory breaks down and with it goes the low view of man. That does not mean, that the Master saw in man the little God on earth.' On the contrary, just on account of his high conception of man, he realized how unworthily of his divine heritage he lived. He saw that sin was not merely a transgression of an outward command pronounced by Jehovah, but that it was the breaking of the divine law, the categorical imperative within. How and why a child of God could thus become sinful he did not tell us; perhaps it was that through the realization of transgression he might progress and grow. But though Jesus saw in man a sinner, he never ceased seeing behind the veil of sin the saint to be, the son of God. He saw goodness at the bottom of all human life. To him man was not an incurable cripple, but rather an undeveloped child that might learn to walk even through his falls; full of faults, the child is also full of promise. Far and foreign to his mind is the idea of total depravity, and indeed such notion is altogether incompatible with the idea of divine fatherhood. In his deepest innermost self the most unworthy of God's children has yet the father spirit, which ever calls him home to himself. When the poet sings: 'I can not drift beyond his love and care,' it really means: 'I can not get away from God, simply because God is in me.' The prodigal may go into a far country and mingle with the swine, yet he remains the son and he is redeemed already when he faces God in his soul and says: 'I will arise and return to my father.' This idea goes through all the teaching of the master."

WILL GIVE PICNIC TO CELEBRATE VICTORY.

The Sunday school of the First M. E. church will hold an indoor picnic at the Auditorium, Third avenue east and First street, this evening, to celebrate its victory over the Hennepin Avenue M. E. Sunday school of Minneapolis in an attendance and collection contest, which began Feb. 1 and ended May 10.

Dinner will be served and will be followed by a varied program. Bishop William A. Quayle will deliver the principal address of the evening and Watson S. Moore, superintendent of the Sunday school, will act as toastmaster. Other speakers will be Dr. M. P. Burns, district superintendent of Methodist churches; Rev. J. W. Hoffman, pastor of the Duluth church, and E. J. Kraft, superintendent of the Hennepin Avenue church Sunday school.

Admission will be by tickets, which were distributed at the Sunday school yesterday.

The average attendance at the Duluth Sunday school during the fifteen Sundays of the contest was 598 per Sunday, or about fifty more per Sunday than at the Minneapolis church. The collection averaged about the same, being approximately $20 per Sunday for each Sunday school.

QUICK RESULTS ASTONISH DULUTH

There is astonishment in Duluth at the QUICK results received from simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-i-ka, the remedy which became famous by curing appendicitis. This simple mixture drains such great amounts of foul matter from the body that A SINGLE DOSE relieves constipation, sour stomach and gas on the stomach almost IMMEDIATELY. The speedy action of Adler-i-ka is surprising. W. A. Abbett, druggist, 205 West Superior street.

HUERTA OFFICIALS TO REPLACE TRACK.

Vera Cruz, Mex., May 25.—Apparently convinced that the United States will adhere rigidly to the armistice and wants to restore communication throughout Mexico as far as possible, officials of the Huerta government are preparing to replace the track on the line of the Mexican railway, which was torn up by Gen. Gustavo Maas in his retreat from Vera Cruz. This action follows the decision to arrange for the exchange of mail with Mexico City and interior points. It also gives prospect of clearing up the congestion at the customs warehouses of freight destined for the interior.

American officers are hopeful of seeing full train service within a week or two running in and out of Vera Cruz and going through to the capital without change.

WASHINGTONS WIN HONORS

Capture Two Championships in Field Meet and Tie for Third.

Adams Athletes Win in Heavyweight Division, Getting Herald Cup.

The tenth interscholastic field meet, conducted by the boys' department Y. M. C. A. for all the schools of the city, was held Saturday afternoon at the baseball park, and rarely has there been such an enthusiastic crowd of spectators.

Colors of all kinds were displayed and the schools vied with each other in cheering their contestants on to victory.

The Washington school team carried off the championship in the midget and middle-weight divisions and will receive the felt banner awarded by the boys' department.

The Jefferson and Washington tied for the lightweight championship and will both receive a felt banner awarded by the boys' department.

The Adams school team won the heavyweight championship and won the silver loving cup presented by the Duluth Herald. This is the second time the Adams men have won the cup and if they win it next year it will become their permanent property. Herbert Clow won the medal for being the champion in the midget division. In the lightweight division four boys tied, Clarence Nelson, Bryant school; Leslie McBean, Endion; Eugene Watts, Jefferson; Henry Garvish, Washington.

A meet will be held at the boys' department Friday night for these four contestants to decide the championship. Clio McNaughton of the Washington won the championship in the middleweight. Earl Demoe of the Emerson school won the heavyweight championship. The winners of first, second and third prizes in each event will receive the official badge of the league.

POSTOFFICE TEAM WINS EASY GAME.

The postoffice baseball team defeated the team of the Duluth Business college by the score of 16 to 2 yesterday. Home run drives by Kloepfel and Kicklund were features of the game. Lasch of the stamp lickers scored five runs. Wicklund pitched a nice game for the winning team. Lasch caught a pretty game.

CITY BRIEFS

Judgment for $17,914.

Default judgment for $17,914.16 and attorney's fees, amounting to $200, was entered in district court by the American Exchange National bank of this city against Patrick McDonnell, former Duluth contractor. The judgment was ordered by Judge Fesler, who decreed that certain portions of lots 1, 2, 3, 4, block 61, Portland division of Duluth, in which McDonnell and others have a joint ownership be sold at a sheriff's sale to satisfy the debt. The evidence showed that a mortgage had been given on the premises to secure the payment of a promissory note given the bank in December, 1909.

Widow is Only Heir.

Mrs. Elizabeth W. Ledingham, 1927 West Third street, was this morning appointed administratrix of the estate of her late husband, John A. Ledingham, whose death occurred in this city on March 12 last. The estate consists of real and personal property valued at $10,000. The widow is the only heir, there being no children.

Lumber Business Fair.

S. J. Cusson, general manager of the Virginia and Rainy Lake Lumber mill at Virginia, is in the city today. Mr. Cusson stated that one mill was running and that business was fair with the outlook for increased business before fall. Just at the present time the Virginia plant is not running at its capacity, according to the statement of Mr. Cusson.

Wants New Sidewalk.

Chester A. Congdon has written to Mayor Prince asking that the city order the construction of a cement walk on the easterly side of Thirty-second avenue east from London road to Greyson road and that if funds are available a foot path be built from that point through Congdon park to Superior street. He says that the plank walk from London road to Superior street, which now affords an outlet for that neighborhood, is in a bad state of repair. He owns 445 feet of the 660 feet of property against which an assessment would be levied to pay for the work but wants the city to order the walk so that no gaps will exist. The mayor said that he will take the matter up with the works division and that it is likely that both the walk and the footpath will be constructed this year.

Bridge Bids Opened.

Gollinger & Mackay will probably be awarded the contract for building two bridges and grading and gravelling a part of the Kenwood road. Their bid of $6,017 was the lowest received. The city has agreed to appropriate $3,000 for the work and a similar amount will be paid by the county.

Sidewalk Bids Opened.

Bids for the laying of cement and plank walks throughout the city were opened by C. G. Futter, secretary of the works division, this morning. The bids had not been figured up to noon and the prices were not available.

Leaves Come Early.

Foliage in the city is now further advanced than at any time in the last ten years, according to Henry Cleveland, manager of the park department. He states that the trees and shrubs are as far ahead now as in the first week of June a year ago. The vegetation was given a big spurt by the warm weather and recent rains.

Date Set for Hearing.

The interstate commerce commission has set June 26 as the date for the hearing of the complaint of the Fitzsimmons-Palmer company of Duluth against the Northern Pacific railway and others. The hearing will be held in Duluth before Examiner Henderson. The Duluth company complains of discriminatory rates on apples from Missouri and Kansas points to Duluth.

Dr. Edward T. Martin

has opened offices at rooms 411-412 Fidelity building.

Faces Disturbance Charge.

Walter Pekulski, 26 years old, was arrested Saturday evening on a charge of creating a disturbance in the Incline saloon. He pleaded not guilty in police court this morning and his trial was set for 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Feared Burglars.

The police received a call from 529 West Third street shortly before midnight Saturday to the effect that burglars were attempting to gain entrance into the house. Lieut. Barber and two offices went out to the house in the police ambulance, but failed to locate any burglars.

Returns From the East.

Mr. G. A. Oreck of The National store returned today from New York where he was successful in securing several stocks of merchandise. Mr. Oreck says business conditions are very bad with Eastern wholesalers owing to the closing of mills and cancellation of orders on account of the ravages of the Russian fly in the wheat fields of Kansas and Oklahoma.

Escapes From Work Farm.

Charles Dewing, 47 years old, who was serving a sentence on the work farm for violating his parole, made his escape yesterday and is still at large. He is the third man to make a getaway from the farm. Dewing is described as being five feet, eight inches in height and weighing 140 pounds.

For Stealing Coat.

Emil Silta, 24 years old, was arrested this noon on a charge of petit larceny, preferred against him by Paul Maras, an employe of the D. M. & N., who claims that Silta stole a white uniform coat from the train. He values the coat at $25. Silta will be arraigned this afternoon.

Lake Avenue Job Progresses.

The works division has finished part of the grading and laid about one-quarter of a mile of curbing on Lake avenue south, which is to be paved this season between the canal and Twelfth street. The underground connections have been put in and it will be but a short time before the laying of the concrete pavement will be started, according to James G. Lawson, superintendent of maintenance.

Petition for Improvements.

Commissioner Murchison, head of the works division, this morning received a petition for the grading and surfacing of Fifth alley between Third and Fourth avenues east. The petition will probably be presented to the council at its regular meeting this afternoon.

Street Work at Night.

The repairing of the Sixth avenue viaduct will be begun tonight, according to James G. Lawson, maintenance superintendent of the works division. The material has been purchased and most of the crew hired. They will work nights in order not to interfere with traffic during the day time if it can be avoided. The bridge will be replanked and new sidewalks, guard rails and approaches constructed. Creosote blocks will be laid on the approaches. The estimated cost of the job is $3,800.

Many to Attend Banquet.

Over 400 tickets have been sold for the banquet that will be given this evening by the Boyle for Congress club at the St. Louis hotel. Fifteen autos, loaded with Boyle "fans" are coming from the ranges, and many from other parts of the district are expected to be present. Senator Boyle will be the chief speaker.

Miller Will Lecture.

Congressman Clarence B. Miller will lecture tomorrow evening at Knights of Pythias hall, 118 West Superior street, on the Philippines. The lecture, which will begin at 8 o'clock, will be free. Mr. Miller talks most interestingly of the islands and their condition, and has established himself in congress as an authority on the subject.

Contagious Diseases.

The contagious disease situation in Duluth has shown little change in the last month, according to statistics in the office of the health department. Scarlet fever still leads the list with 77 cases. There are 14 cases of smallpox, 7 of diphtheria, 32 of measles, 12 of chicken pox, 3 of typhoid fever and 3 of erysipelas. A material reduction is expected with the close of the public schools for the long summer vacation.

BOULEVARD NOT FOR HEAVY DRAYS

Mayor Prince said this morning that it is fully within the power of the city to keep loaded teams and other heavy vehicles off the boulevard and the park driveways. He explained that under the ordinance all vehicles except those carrying passengers only are prohibited from traveling on them.

The mayor pointed out that one boulevard and the parkways are intended as scenic highways and are not intended for business uses. He added that much of the right-of-way was dedicated to the city with that understanding and that the regulation is similar to that enforced in most of the modern park systems of the country.

He received a communication from the Fifth ward Improvement club this morning complaining that one of its members had not been allowed to travel over the boulevard while moving some of his household stuff from the vicinity of Eighth avenue west to Fourth avenue east and Eighth street. The club asserted that the boulevard was the logical route to follow and that to force the driver to go any other way was cruelty to his horse. Mayor Prince said that the department does not insist upon an ironclad enforcement of the ordinance, but endeavors to apply the rule of reason. He stated that he could not say anything relative to the case specified in the complaint until an investigation had been made and a report submitted to him.

CASE WILL BE APPEALED

City Will Carry Franchise Action to the Supreme Court.

The city will take an appeal to the state supreme court from the decision of Judge W. A. Cant of the district court, in which he upholds the validity of the franchise of the Duluth Street Railway company. Judge Cant's opinion was handed down Saturday.

City Attorney Harvey Clapp states that the principal point in issue, as a matter of law, was whether or not the franchise was self-executing and that it has been taken for granted throughout that this point would need to be decided by the supreme court regardless of who won in the district court.

"The case involved a mixed question of law and fact," said the city attorney. "In a nutshell, the court's decision is as follows:

"The legislative franchise contained a provision that the grant was upon the express condition that if the Duluth Street Railway company should fail to construct, equip and have in full operation one mile of said street railway within one year after the passage of the act, then the rights, privileges and immunities granted should be forfeited, without any act on the part of the state or village of Duluth.

"On the facts, the court found with the city, that there had been no equipment of the line, nor any operation of the line, within the year, as required by the franchise; but found for the company, that a mile of line, such as it was, had been constructed within the year.

"In the city's view of the case, failure to comply with any one of these three requirements was as fatal to the franchise as if the company had failed in all three.

"As to the law, the main controversy has been always as to whether the forfeiture clause in the franchise was self-executing or not. If it was self-executing, the company's failure to comply with any one of the three requirements of the franchise caused it to die at the end of the year, 'without any act on the part of the state or the village of Duluth,' as the franchise itself reads. On this point Judge Cant says: 'My inclination, following the later cases, is to hold that it is not' (self-executing).

"The court then holds that there has been a practical construction by the company and the people for many years; that there has been a substantial performance of the franchise, which now estops the people from questioning its validity, though no doubt they might have done so successfully some years ago.

"The city has contended always that there could be no application of the doctrine of substantial performance if the franchise was self-executing. On this point Judge Cant said: 'If the true construction of the franchise is that it provides for a self-executing franchise, it may be that the doctrine of substantial performance does not apply.'

"Therefore, the case seems to turn still, as it has always, upon whether as a matter of law solely, the forfeiture clause of the franchise was self-executing or not. It has been taken for granted throughout the case that this point would need to be decided by the supreme court, no matter who might win upon it in the lower court."

TRAMP DOG "ARRESTED."

Upon complaint from residents in the vicinity of 1711 London road, the police Saturday afternoon "arrested" a dog on a charge of "vagrancy." It was claimed that the animal was a tramp dog and a nuisance. The dog was taken to police headquarters in the patrol and locked up, where he is now awaiting his owner.

Uncommonly Good House Dresses at Very Common Prices

Because of advantageous purchases, we offer house dresses at popular prices. Many new style features of the higher priced gowns will impress you. In addition to that they have the following special features of superiority:

The deep hem—
Extra width over hips—
Center back seam of skirt, reinforced by shrunk tape to prevent sagging—
Comfortable roomy arm holes—
Fine, even stitching with strong double welt shoulder seams—
Well made button holes—
Sixteen stitches to hold each button—
Clean sanitary factory—
Not made by child labor.

If laundered according to directions, coloring will prove absolutely fast.

Directions for Laundering

The color in this garment must be set before its first washing. To properly set the color it should be soaked for at least one-half hour in cold water to which has been added either salt or vinegar, in the proportion of one tablespoonful to a quart of water. Use salt for light colors and vinegar for dark colors. Wash quickly in lukewarm water in which pure white soap has been dissolved. Never use hot water nor apply soap directly to the surface of the garment. Rinse thoroughly in two or three changes of clear, cold water. Dry immediately in open air in a shady place. It is not necessary to set the color after the first washing.

The materials used in these dresses are gingham, cambric, percale and lawn of good quality and tasty patterns.

We especially recommend the $1.75 printed lawns for summer wear as shown in cut to left above.

At $1.25 to $2.25 there are neat and practical morning dresses, as well as semi-street models. You will be greatly surprised by the daintiness of these models.

Maternity Dresses for Morning Wear at $2.50

These are made with uncommonly wide hem, have patent adjustments which make them superior in fit and style.

The materials used are dainty light percales, which are carefully choosen and will appeal to women of taste.

Nurses' Uniforms at $2.50

We offer graduate nurses' dainty white uniforms at $2.50, or the standard blue and white stripe unfadeable gingham at $2.50.

Skirts Tailored to Your Measure $1

If materials are bought here now from our stocks of dress goods and wash goods selling at $1.00 or more per yard.

Saturday 24,123 people walked on the rug in front of our store.

The rug is a Whittall Anglo Persian which we sell regularly at $54.00.

After a ten-day test we will sell it to the highest bidder. It will be on the walk every day for 10 days, rain or shine. We want you to see for yourself how nobly it stands the test under the stress of wear from thousands and thousands of feet grinding in the mud and dust of the street. No rug in a private home would begin to receive such wear. It is surely a good rug to buy, no wonder that big hotels and club houses specify Anglo Persian Rugs, for beauty and for wear. See the many beautiful patterns on display in various sizes at Rug Department, Third Floor.

OUTPUT OF COPPER CUT

Cananea and San Pedro Companies Affected By Mexican Troubles.

Reports Show Operations Very Favorable Under Existing Conditions.

Reports of the Green-Cananea Copper company, the Cananea Consolidated Copper company and the San Pedro Copper company for the year ended Dec. 31 last, just issued, show that their outputs and net returns during the twelve months were cut down as a result of the disturbed situation in Mexico. Under these conditions the showings are considered very favorable.

The annual meeting of the company will be held at its offices in Duluth on Monday, June 15 next.

The report of the Greene-Cananea Copper company, made by the president, Thomas F. Cole, set out that dividends aggregating $1,093,143.45 were paid during the year. The mines produced 44,480,514 pounds of fine copper, 1,497,938.23 ounces of silver, and 8,021,077 ounces of gold.

The average price received for copper during the year was 15.099,761 cents per pound. The total cost of producing refined copper after deducting values of precious metals and miscellaneous revenues was 9.631 cents per pound. The company's combined net income for the year was 2,344,-592.17.

The report of the Greene Consolidated Copper company, made by W. D. Thornton of New York, its president, showed gross operating profits for the year of $2,186,260.21. Dividends amounting to $1,050,000 were received from the Cananea Consolidated Copper company, and there was disbursed to shareholders $950.000. The refined copper production for the year by the Cananea Consolidated Copper company was 40,641,484 pounds and the price received for the metal, all of which has been sold, was 15.10751 cents per pound.

At the Greene-Cananea concentrator 343,081 wet tons of ore were milled of which 42,072 tons were from Cananea Duluth. Three Hardinge mills were installed and excluding them the cost per ton was $.7166.

At the smelter, the total cost, including upkeep, but not construction per dry ton of new copper bearing material during the year was $2.5466. There was 567,434 dry tons of new copper bearing material treated during the yetar, including custom ore and Miami concentraes. The two reverbatory furnaces were operated a total of 537 furnace days, the average charge per furnace day being 226 tons. Total cost per ton was $1.67. The advantages of the insallation of the large Great Falls convertors were reflected in converter cost, which is $9.13 per ton of copper for the year.

tration's foreign policy and upon the operation of the Underwood tariff law.

May Fire Opening Gun.

It has been suggested to the colonel that by remaining silent he is permitting the Republicans to steal a march on the Progressives by getting first into the field with their criticisms of the Wilson policies. This suggestion has had considerable weight with the former president, and it is not improbable that before he sails for Europe at the end of this week he will fire the opening gun in what is expected to be the hardest fight of his career.

Another possible outcome of the Washington trip is a meeting between Col. Roosevelt and Republican leaders. Reports that such a meeting might take place reached Oyster Bay today. It was said that at this meeting the presidential campaign of 1916 and the candidacy of Col. Roosevelt on a joint Republican-Progressive ticket would be broached. The latter suggestion was spouted by Col. Roosevelt. He did not deny specifically, however, that he might meet Republican members of congress while in Washington.

Clapp to Meet T. R.

Washington, May 25.—The Progressive conference tomorrow was arranged following telephone messages between Representative Murdock in New York, and Representative Hinebaugh here. Mr. Murdock said Col. Roosevelt wanted to gather with "the boys," and Mr. Hinebaugh immediately notified Progressives in both houses that the former president wanted to confer with them. The conference will begin at 10 o'clock tomorrow night at Progressive headquarters, after the colonel's lecture before the National Geographic society.

Senators Clapp and Poindexter, Representative Hinebaugh, chairman of the Progressive congregational committee, and O. K. Davis, secretary of the national committee, will meet Col. Roosevelt's train at Philadelphia.

To Talk Over Party Plans.

Party plans, organization and the future are to be talked over, according to Mr. Hinebaugh.

"It is my opinion," he said today, "that if the Progressive element in the Republican party can control their party, they will indorse Col. Roosevelt for the presidency after he is nominated by the Progressive party.

"It is the desire of Col. Roosevelt to receive at first hand from the senators and representatives detailed statements with reference to conditions in their respective states, and to advise and confer with the delegation relative to the Progressive plan of legislation in the sixty-third congress and other exceedingly important matters upon which future action by the Progressives is contemplated."

sular representatives intercede with Gen. Carranza.

The Constitutionalists' force, reported by Huerta to the Spanish embassy as having landed in the state of Vera Cruz, now is estimated at 3,000 in supplementary details received by Huerta from Gen. Garcia Pena. The place of landing is believed to be Punta Barcas.

Trouble Feared Soon.

Vera Cruz, Mex., May 25.—Forty Spaniards, on their way here from Mexico City, yesterday stopped at Soledad, just beyond the break in the track, fearing to venture to Vera Cruz before a member of the party made a reconnaissance. The Spaniard said distorted reports succeeded in reaching Mexico City. He appeared surprised to find the stores open in the outskirts of the town and the absence of scenes of disorder as the train approached. He said there were in the capital a score of Spanish families who wished to escape, but feared to venture within the American lines.

The Spaniard brought the report that trouble is expected in the capital this week. He said that many business houses were kept shuttered all day, apparently ready for an outbreak at any moment. He further reported that President Huerta and the war minister, Gen. Blanquet, had clashed a few days ago over the question of executing certain prisoners in the penitentiary, the war minister having countermanded an order given by Huerta for their death.

Gen. Blanquet is said to have defied Huerta, informing him that if he desired his further co-operation in the affairs of government, he would not pass sentence of death upon any prisoner without the minister's acquiescence.

touring car which Patmont asserts carried him to the lonely farm house.

Knows His Captors.

St. Louis, Mo., May 25.—Rev. Lewis Patmont, who was found in an abandoned house Saturday near Columbia, Ill., declared here that he knows the persons responsible for his detention. He said a big red automobile owned in Danville was used in abducting him. He declared he was slugged and carried half unconscious from one hiding place to another for fifty days. He said he knew the owner of the car.

When he was not being transported in the machine, Patmont said he was kept in dark cellars, gagged and his hands bound to a bar of wood under his knees. The abandoned building in which he was found bore evidence of the intention of his captors, to burn the house and incinerate the minister, the plans for which Patmon said he heard his captors discuss.

With a two-months' growth of beard, half starved and almost black with dirt, Patmont was brought to St. Louis yesterday by Rev. John L. Brandt, pastor of the First Christian church of St. Louis, who made a flying trip to and from Columbia by automobile as soon as he heard that Patmont had been found. After a bath and a real meal, the first he had tasted in two months, Patmont told his story. He was taken to Danville last night.

Given Up as Dead.

Patmont disappeared after a dry meeting in which he was one of the speakers at Westville, Ill. Extensive search throughout Illinois and surrounding states conducted by relatives, county officials and private detectives, failed to produce any clew to his whereabouts. Several rewards were offered for his discovery including one of $7,500 made by the saloon men of Monroe county, in which a hot anti-liquor campaign was then being waged. The minister finally was given up as dead by his relatives.

Yesterday, in recounting his experiences, Patmont said:

"While walking home from the dry meeting at Westville, I was attacked on the railroad racks by a gang of four or five men. I was rendered partly unconscious by the sandbags with which they hit me over the head, and was then put on a handcar and taken about two miles down the track. Here I was thrown into an automobile taken about eighteen miles, in what direction I do not know, and thrown into a dark, damp cellar.

"For days I was without food or drink. When I talked to my captors above, they threw hot water on me. Later they fed me rotten bananas and by and by other fruit and sandwiches. I never saw light except when they opened the trap door to throw food to me. Two days ago I was removed to this last cellar."

IRISH HOME RULE BILL IS PASSED BY COMMONS AND NOW BECOMES LAW

to the house of lords no such agreement had been reached, the amended bill would embody the substance of the proposals outlined by him on March 9 in the hope that after discussion an agreement might be secured.

On March 9, Premier Asquith told the house of commons that before the bill became operative a poll would be taken of the parliamentary electors of each county of Ulster to decide whether those counties should be excluded from the provisions of the Irish home rule bill for a period of six years from the first meeting of the new Irish parliament. If the majority of the voters were in favor of the scheme, the country would automatically be excluded for the prescribed period.

Chamber Is Crowded.

The closing scene in the fight in the house of commons for Irish home rule brought together today a crowd of members and spectators which filled the chamber to its utmost capacity. Outside, great crowds gathered to await the result of the debate.

Under the provisions of the parliament act the bill becomes law after this stage, as it had already twice passed through all its stages in the house of commons in two separate sessions, and the veto of the house of lords therefore has no further effect.

May Be Clash at Belfast.

A Belfast dispatch to the Times says that orders have been issued to the Ulster volunteers to throw cordons across the streets between the Catholic and Protestant quarters tonight and forcibly to prevent the incursion of Catholics into the Protestant quarter.

"These measures will form a serious challenge to the government's authority," said the dispatch, "and there are the best of reasons for believing that the government will take no measures to suppress the supremacy of the volunteers."

FOUR ARE KILLED IN GANG FIGHTS

New York, May 25.—The police and the district attorney's office today are investigating seven homicide cases reported within the thirty-six hours up to midnight last night. Four of the seven victims are dead, and the other three are not expected to live. The dead lost their lives in gang fights. According to the police this is the largest number of homicide cases in the same length of time in many years.

The latest victim, Fred Hillock, staggered into the New York hospital last night. The police questioned sixty members of a social club housed in the old Gen. Franz Siget mansion in Abington square, where they believed Hillock was shot. He is expected to die.

Of the dead Charles Lamonti was shot while engaged in a fight in East One Hundred and Seventeen street, and Frank McCarthy, Frank Murphy and Frank Chimara were also shot or stabbed in gang fights.

HAVE COLOR IN YOUR CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets.

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study with his patients.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

If you want a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days, you must get at the cause. REFUSE TO ACCEPT CUT

Coal Handlers Walk Out Following a Reduction in Wages.

Police Detailed to Prevent Violence on Part of Strikers.

Expecting violence at the Clarkson Coal & Dock company by strikers who walked out Saturday following a reduction in wages, three police officers were detailed to keep order there today. About forty coal handlers are affected by the strike, although only part of that number walked out.

According to reports made by the strikers the walkout was the result of several reductions in wages during the last year, and they say that the company is taking advantage of the fact that there is a surplus of labor here at the present time and that the men have no union. Last year, it is said, the coal handlers and general workers drew $2.75 a day. During the winter when men were plentiful, this wage was cut to $2, and last Friday another cut to $1.85 was made. The last cut is said to have caused the walkout.

The dock officials made efforts to get other men at $1.85 a day and large numbers immediately offered their services, but upon arriving at the docks found a strike in operation and refused to work as "scabs." Some of the men, however, continued to work after the cut in wages, and appealed to the police for protection, claiming that some of the leaders of the strike had threatened violence. Complying with this demand, Sergeant Roberg, Patrolmen John Englert and George Monahan were detailed to keep order at the docks today.

Many idle men along Michigan street say that they have been offered jobs at the docks at the cut wages, but refuse to work as "scabs." Most of them, however, say that they would be glad to work even at low wages if there was no labor trouble.

Officials at the docks refused to make any statement for publication today, but many of the workmen who had been offered jobs returned downtown. They say that when the jobs were offered they were not informed that a strike was on.

TERMS OF DEED NOT FULFILLED

Lars Olsson, 73, started suit in district court Saturday afternoon to have a warranty deed which he had executed in favor of Malkum Anderson set aside on the grounds that the terms of the transfer had not been carried out by Anderson. The land conveyed by the dead is an improved farm located in section 8, 52-18 and is valued at $1,675.

On March 29, 1910, Olsson says, he deeded his farm to Anderson with the express understanding that the latter should take care of him during the few declining years of his life and give him a decent burial at his death. Everything went all right for a year, Olsson says, and then Anderson left him to shift for himself.

Olsson claims that he now finds himself in the winter of life and obliged to support himself. He asks that the deed to the farm which he conveyed to Anderson be canceled and that he be restored to his rights.

UNVEILING OF ST. LOUIS STATUE

St. Louis, Mo., May 25.—A memorial was unveiled here yesterday to Carl Schurz, Dr. Emil Preetorius and Carl Daenzer, a trio of German-American newspaper editors who, in St. Louis during the period of the Civil war, directed their influence both to save Missouri to the Union and to uphold the Union cause generally.

The memorial, designed by W. Wilhelm Wandschneider, a sculptor of Berlin, stands at the main entrance of Reservoir park, in the south central section of the city—a section in which the German population is numerous. It is a conspicuous landmark to the thousands who daily pass South Grand avenue, one of the leading traffic streets of St. Louis.

The bronze statue, which constitutes the principal part of the memorial, is that of a nude woman, of heroic size, seated, and with arms outstretched. In each hand she grasps a torch, symbolic of enlightenment. The figure represents the "naked truth," their devotion to which impressed the sculptor in his study of the lives of Schurz, Preetorius and Daenzer.

Above the figure of the woman are three medallions. One represents the mythological figure of Europe on a swimming ox, and symbolizes Europe crossing the Atlantic ocean to America on Strength and Power. Another represents St. George and the Dragon, signifying the triumph of Truth over Ignorance and Evil. The third medallion represents Pegasus, signifying the flight of Genius.

The bronze statue rests on an immense base of red granite—15 feet high and 20 feet wide, and carved in the shape of the keel of a ship, symbolic of the intercommunication between Germany and America. A series of steps lead up to the statue.

Above the statue are carved in the granite the names "Schurz," "Preetorius" and "Daenzer."

BUSY SUNDAY DUE TO SUFFRAGISTS

London, May 25.—The suffragists gave the police and church officials a busy Sunday, while they themselves in some cases received rough treatment from the crowds, which showed their resentment at the recent interference with the king and the damage done to pictures.

Sylvia Pankhurst, who was again arrested under the "cat and mouse" act, and her East End followers provided the biggest excitement of the day. In a great procession was Sylvia Pankhurst, chained and handcuffed to fifteen women and surrounded by other supporters armed with staves.

The police got the militant leader and those chained to her into Victoria park by an adroit move and then shut the gates against the rest of the women. The women in chains put up a stiff fight, but the police finally broke the chains and arrested Sylvia. They allowed the others to go.

Outside the gate a furious struggle went on between male suffragists and anti-suffragists, which the police had the greatest difficulty in breaking up.

At Hampstead Heath, suffragists had to call on the police for protection against a mob which rushed their platform with cries of "Duck them; we will teach them to insult the king."

Many of the women chose Westminster abbey and Newcastle cathedral today to make church demonstrations. At the abbey prayers were chanted for Mrs. Pankhurst and protests were uttered against the apathy of the church in the matter of the forcible feeding of women. A protest was also made against women being "turned out of the house of God" and there were loud cries of "shame on the church."

The women fought against their removal and it was a considerable time before the disturbance was quelled.

MANY LEAVING FOR HOMES IN EUROPE

Pittsburg, Pa., May 25.—Railway passenger officials today expressed the belief that the return movement of foreign born residents of the Pittsburg district will reach high tide during the coming week. Approximately 30,000 men have returned to their former homes in Southern Europe the past few months, but reservations for next week show a small falling off. So heavy was the travel last week that from five to eight extra coaches were added each night to the emigrant trains.

Two Safes Robbed.

Decatur, Ill., May 25.—At 1:55 yesterday morning the safe of the Empress vaudeville theater was discovered to have been blown, about $700 being taken. A report at 2 o'clock came from Pierson's meat market in the northeast section of the city that the safe there had been blown, the men running down the street, dropping money as they went.

Fort Ripley Farmers Thrive.

Fort Ripley, Minn., May 25.—About 120,000 bushels of potatoes have been shipped from Fort Ripley since the opening of the season last fall bringing to the farmers in this vicinity about $54,000. Dairy and poultry products have nearly duplicated that amount. The largest potato shippers were C. B. Clouse, J. J. Tucker, A. Dunning and Johnson Brothers. C. B. Clouse and the Johnson Brothers firm have potato warehouses This immense trade has been developed in the last few years. Burbanks and Carmen potatoes are largely raised.

CROP OUTLOOK IS FAVORABLE

Weather During the Last Week Has Helped Young Plant.

Increased Corn Acreage in the Dakotas and Minnesota.

Under the favorable weather conditions ruling last week, the crop outlook in the Northwest is regarded as generally favorable. The early sown wheat is said to have stooled well so that the plant should be enabled to offer good resistance under any unfavorable conditions that may arise later. It is noted that an increased acreage is being sown in corn in North and South Dakota and Minnesota.

Referring to the situation in the three states, the Van Dusen-Harrington company says in its last crop report:

"Minenesota—In the southeastern section all small grain doing very well. Corn planting is about 75 per cent finished. In the southwestern part there is some complaint of frost, which was reported to have hurt some of the barley, but later reports show the damage to have been very slight. Corn planting is about two-thirds done, and with favorable weather will be completed this week. Farmers report they have never seen conditions and prospects as good.

"South Dakota—In the eastern part corn planting will be completed this week. There have been some high winds the past week, but there is still plenty of moisture and the showers during the past tko days will offset any evaporation which has taken place. The north central part of Brown county, where the soil is sandy will bear watching, as there may possibly be some damage from high winds.

"North Dakota—Wheat seeding is practically finished, and a large percentage of the oats has been sown. Farmers are now either seeding barley and flax or preparing their land for barley, flax or corn. In the extreme eastern part (in the Red River valley) which we mentioned in our last letter as being too wet, it has dried out and seeding is now completed. Conditions taken as a whole are very promising."

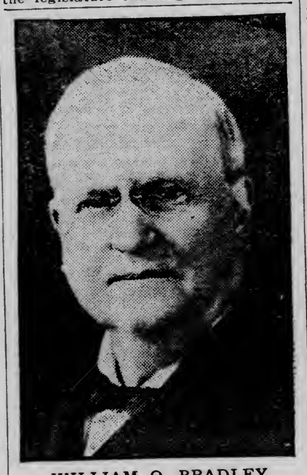
SENATOR BRADLEY OF KENTUCKY DIES

Passes Away After Lingering Illness Aggravated By Fall.

Washington, May 25. — William O'Connell Bradley, United States senator from Kentucky, died here at 9:45 Saturday night, after a lingering illness aggravated by a fall.

Senator William O. Bradley was one of the most distinguished Republican leaders of Kentucky in his generation. An orator of unusual ability for forty years he has been prominent before the people of his state and the nation.

Born in 1847, he was only 14 years of age when the Civil war broke out. Twice he ran away from home to join the Union army, only to be taken from the ranks by his father because of his extreme youth. As a page of the lower house of the Kentucky legislature he attracted such attention that at the age of 18 a special act was passed by the legislature enabling him to practice law. He has made the law his profession through life.



WILLIAM O. BRADLEY.

From the time he became of age, until his death, there scarcely was a state convention of his party in which he was not a prominent figure. He was but little less prominent in the Republican national conventions. For twenty-eight years he was unanimously chosen a delegate-at-large from Kentucky to the national conventions. At the convention in 1894 he was the choice of his state for president, and received 105 votes for vice president in the 1888 convention. Three times he was chairman of his state delegation at the national conventions. As one of the noted convention orators of his time, he seconded the nomination of Grant in 1880 and that of Roosevelt in 1904.

In 1895 he was elected governor of Kentucky by 8,912 majority. Victory again settled on his banner in 1908, when a Democratic legislature by eight votes, after a deadlock, finally elected him to the senate. His term would have expired March 3, 1915.

THREE KILLED; TWO INJURED

Girl Dies After Drinking Three Glasses of Ice Water.

Kansas City, Mo., May 25.—Three persons were killed and two injured in accidents here yesterday. A fourth died from drinking ice water.

Howard C. Mitchell, a hotel clerk, fell beneath the wheels of a street car while on his way to attend a party in celebration of his birthday; Joseph Leitner was killed when he accidentally touched an electric switch at a power plant, as he stepped aside to let another man pass on a narrow stairway; Bertha Richardson, a domestic, died after drinking three glasses of ice water, and an unidentified man was killed by a switch engine.

In addition, Henry W. Radley, vice president of a printing company, and his wife were seriously injured when the buggy in which they were riding was turned over by the impact of a motor car.

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys and Neutralize Irritating Acids.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in avoiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble. Agent, Wirth's Red Cross Drug store, 13 West Superior street.

THREE NEW HAVEN DIRECTORS CALLED

Served With Notices to Testify Before Interstate Commission.

Washington, May 25.—Three directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, in addition to those already summoned, have been served with notices to testify before the interstate commerce commission which resumes its investigation into affairs of the New Haven Tuesday. Their names are De Ver H. Warner, Lawrence Minot and J. S. Elton.

Mr. Warner and Mr. Minot served on the board during part of the time that Charles S. Mellen was president of the New Haven, and Mr. Elton is still a director of the road.

A representative of the commission has been making an investigation in New York for several days with a view to determining the physical condition of William Rockefeller who, the commission had been informed, was unable to appear at the hearing. H. M. Kochersperger, a former vice president of the New Haven, also is reported to be ill, and Samuel C. Morehouse, whom the commission desires to hear regarding transactions between the Billard company and the New Haven, is said to be still confined to his bed at his home in Connecticut.

Lewis Cass Ledyard, George F. Baker and George McCulloch Miller, New Haven directors, and E. D. Robbins, former counsel of the road, it is stated, are ready to testify, and it is probable that when the inquiry is continued Tuesday morning, one of these four will go on the stand.

Following the completion of the New Haven investigation, the interstate commerce commission will begin the inquiry into the financial affairs of the Rock Island railroad, and this is expected to consume some weeks.

ROOSEVELT WILL TALK IN MINNESOTA

Expects to Make Vigorous Campaign in This State.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., May 25.—Progressive leaders from the West came to Oyster Bay yesterday to confer with Theodore Roosevelt regarding the coming campaign. Since his return from South America, the former president has devoted his attention to the situation in the East, but yesterday he went into political conditions beyond the Mississippi.

The Minnesota Progressives were represented by Frank B. Kellogg of St. Paul, who was known as the "trust-buster" of the Roosevelt administration. Representative Victor Murdock of Kansas told of the outlook in his state. Col. Roosevelt expects to make a vigorous campaign this fall in both these states during his transcontinental speaking tour.

George W. Perkins of New York, chairman of the Progressive national committee's executive committee, yesterday made his fourth visit to Sagamore Hill since Col. Roosevelt's return. Bourke Cockran of New York, former congressman, and William Loeb, Jr., who was secretary to the president, also saw Col. Roosevelt.

The colonel went to church yesterday morning, coming down to the village with Mrs. Roosevelt in the old family carriage which was resurrected for the occasion.

May Declare Lockout.

Chicago, May 25.—A council of brick makers, who have been on strike here for eleven weeks, tying up 150,000 men in the building trades, yesterday refused to ratify an agreement submitted by an arbitration committee. When their refusal was made known to brick manufacturers, a meeting was called, at which it was said the possibility of declaring a lockout and hiring non-union men was considered.

Knoxville, Tenn., May 25.—Twelve hours after the man to whom she was to have ben married sent a bullet into his brain, Miss Laura Little, aged 20, of Bluff City, Tenn., late yesterday slashed her throat with a razor. She was dead in a few minutes. William Riley, aged 24, a neighbor, killed himself Saturday night after he had obtained a license to wed the girl.

JUDGES FREED FROM PRISON IN RUSSIA.

Helsingfors, May 25.—After serving eight months imprisonment for refusing to enforce a law conferring equal rights on Russians with Finlanders in Finland, which passed the duma but not the Finnish senate, the entire high court of Viborg, consisting of sixteen judges, returned here yesterday. The judges were confined in prison at St. Petersburg.

DISEASED RABBITS STOLEN IN FRANCE.

Marseilles, May 25.—Rabbits which had been innoculated with the virus of rabies, tuberculosis, typhoid and other deadly diseases, were stolen from the laboratory of a bacteriologist in the suburbs of Marseilles. The bacteriologist had been experimenting in the production of vaccines. The police are making every effort to recover the animals before they are sold or eaten, but so far, without success.

ROCKEFELLER GOES TO DISTANT CHURCH.

New York, May 25.—Pocantico Hills was free yesterday from the demonstrants who have made a practice for six weeks or more of coming up on Sunday to picket the estate of John D. Rockefeller. Mr. Rockefeller attended church a long way from home, at Yonkers, at the Warburton avenue Baptist church, where he had never worshiped before. He drove there in an automobile, with several guests.

NEVER SAW SO MANY BEAUTIFUL WOMEN.

Chicago, May 25.—"I have been in your country three days and I never before saw so many beautiful women in so short a space of time and I am 73," Georg Brandes, foremost Scandinavian authority on arts and letters, last night asserted at a banquet in his honor.

"They have not only beauty, but self confidence and an independent spirit. The protection you give them is wonderful."

AERONAUT FALLS INTO LAKE ERIE; DROWNED.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 25.—William Warner, an aeronaut, fell 1,000 feet into Lake Erie yesterday afternoon and was drowned. He gave an exhibition at Avon Beach park, west of here. His bride was in the crowd that saw him fall. The wind carried the balloon over the lake. When about a mile out and 1,000 feet in the air, Warner undertook to descend in his parachute, but the parachute failed to work.

To Unveil Own Memorial.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 25.—Declaring that "If you want a thing done right do it yourself," Melville H. Freas, a Civil war veteran, will on Memorial day unveil a massive granite monument which he has had erected in his own honor. The monument is surmounted by a life-size statute of Freas.

GIVE TABLEAU.

Children of Temple Sunday School Close Year's Work.

The children of the Temple Emanuel Sunday school yesterday morning presented a special flower service and a tableau of the ten commandments as the closing feature of the year's work. A large number of the older people attended the service, which was conducted solely by the children.

The entertainment included a unique presentation of the ten commandments, which was in charge of Mrs. E. A. Silberstein and Mrs. Louis Zalk. Ten children, draped in long, flowing white robes and with a Roman numeral stamped on a plate tied about the forehead of each child, were seated on stairs to show the two tablets received by Moses on Mount Sinai.

After the tableau was shown, each child in turn recited his or her commandment. Several songs were then sung by the children, the music for the occasion being furnished by Miss Esther Gomberg.

The Temple Sunday school will open again next September.

REQUEST PROGRAM.

Orpheus Society Will Sing Numbers Rehearsed for Sangerfest

The Orpheus Singing society will give a request program on the evening of Thursday, June 4, at the First Swedish Lutheran church, corner Sixth avenue east and Third street. The chorus will be assisted by the church choirs, and Mrs. Charles Elliason and Prof. A. F. Lundholm.

Many requests have been made by the friends of the chorus for a program containing songs that will be sung at the sangerfest to be held at Minneapolis during the week of June 8. The chorus will also sing "Klang, Min Vackra Bjellra," by Sodermann, which song will be sung by the chorus at Minneapolis.

The singers have been working hard on this song for many months and it is sure to make a big hit.

This request concert is given for the purpose of raising funds to defray the expenses of the trip to the sangerfest. It is planned to have the Orpheus Singing society and the Svea Glee club go to Minneapolis in special cars on Sunday afternoon of June 7. The choruses will advertise Duluth on their way down and while in Minneapolis.

INFANT WELFARE WORK.

Masons Trying to Reduce Mortality of Children in Duluth.

There are thirty-seven girls in the "little mothers" classes under the instructions of Miss Elizabeth Heikkila at the Finnish church on St. Croix avenue. This work is a branch of the "Infant Welfare" program of the Scottish Rite Masons, who are trying to reduce the rate of infant mortality in Duluth.

The members of Miss Heikkila's classes are being taught the most approved methods of caring for smaller children and are given demonstrations that will enable them to take care of their small sisters and brothers after school and during the holidays and to act intelligently in cases of emergency. Diplomas and badges will be given to the "little mothers" who show efficiency in their work.

Milk stations will be opened as soon as the warm weather demands. One will be in the Masonic temple and the other probably will be at Woodman hall, Twenty-first avenue west and First street. In connection with the milk stations there will be a free clinic under the charge of Dr. Rood Taylor whose work last year received many commendations.

The director of the Scottish Rite Infant Welfare movement intends to cooperate with all other allied interests in the city that the greatest good may be accomplished with the least expenditure of money and time. The city probably will furnish the milk for the stations.

A free clinic will be held at the Masonic temple and the baby ward at St. Luke's hospital will be continued. Miss Heikkila will look after sick babies she may find or that may be reported to her. There will be no charge and no inquiry as to religion, race or color.

Park Point Social Center.

Members of Park Point Social center will have a "political" meeting Friday evening at Whittier school. Richard Jones and Richard Funk will explain the constitutional amendments that will come up for a public vote in November. Arthur Beatty, president of the Park Point club, will be in charge of the meeting. Miss Margaret Linehan will give several vocal numbers and there will be other features on the program. A luncheon will be served.

Lakeside Social Center.

The last meeting of the season of the Lakeside social center will be held Wednesday evening at Lakeside school. The subject for discussion will be "What Shall Be Done By the Local Social Center the Next Season?" The program for next year will be made out and suggestions for new features will be welcomed. The members will discuss the advisability of continuing meetings during the summer.

Although the Lakeside social center is one of the newest organizations in the city, it has been prominent socially and in athletics, having developed a girls' basket ball team that has won the championship of the Twin Ports.

Dinner for Bride.

Miss Eva McNamara, a June bride, was the guest of honor at a dinner party given at the Glass Block tearoom Saturday evening by the T. S. C. club. The decorations were of yellow and white narcissi. Those present were:

Misses—
Ella Powers, Nora Rooney, Emily McNamara, Mary Garvey, Marie McMeekin, Abbie Powers, Agnes Dever, Belle Powers, Julia Doyle, Bertha Braun, Kathryn Senott, Frieda Braun.
Mrs. Sadie Borgeson.

Miss Mary Garvey and Miss Bertha Braun will entertain at a utility shower this evening at the home of Miss Garvey, 311 Second avenue west, in honor of Miss McNamara. Thursday evening Mrs. John Murphy of 813 West Fourth street will entertain twenty-eight young women at an informal party followed by a supper to compliment Miss McNamara. Saturday evening Mrs. Joseph Miller of 528 Eleventh avenue east will give a dinner party for Miss McNamara and Mr. Snyder.

Bundle Shower.

Mrs. Carl Everson of 2201 West First street entertained at a bundle shower Thursday evening in honor of her sister, Miss Mildred J. Olsen, whose marriage to Warren J. Baudette, Minn., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Edward LaFave, aged 27, died at her home here Sunday morning, after an illness of two weeks of pneumonia. Besides her husband and two small children, she leaves a father and mother and two brothers and two sisters.

The funeral will be held at the Sacred Heart church on Tuesday morning. Rev. Father Bossus officiating.

BRAINERD NURSES WILL BE GRADUATED.

Brainerd, Minn., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Graduating exercises of the Northwestern hospital training school for nurses will be held in Elks' hall next Friday evening. The class includes Miss Hilma Marie Nygren, Miss Edythe Olive Phillips, Miss Anna Lydia Michaelson, Miss Maybelle Alvenia Schelin. Rev. W. J. Lowrie will preside. Judge B. F. Wright will deliver an address. Dr. Joseph Nicholson, chief surgeon of the hospital, will present the diplomas.

HAS 43,200 MEMBERS.

There are 43,200 Catholics in the Duluth diocese, according to the official Catholic directory just published by P. J. Kenney & Sons of New York.

Regarding Duluth, the directory states that there is one bishop here, sixty-two priests, with forty churches in charge of resident priests and twenty-one missions in connection with the churches. There is one academy in the local diocese, nine parishes with schools and a total attendance in the institutions of 2,185 children. One orphan asylum is operated here, with an enrollment of 100 orphans.

These statistics show that the Duluth diocese has grown slightly the last year, both in population, number of churches and attendance in schools.

OBSERVATIONS

—By PEGGY PEABODY—

Make Your Own Graduation Gowns, School Girls.

A matter of moment in a number of homes today is the forthcoming graduation dress—how shall it be made—what shall it be made of—what will it cost?

For that reason it is encouraging to note that hundreds of schoolgirls have announced their intention to make their own school gowns under the supervision and tutelage of the school sewing teachers and that effort is to be directed toward simplicity and economy in a matter that has always occasioned heart burnings and great sacrifices.

The decision to allow and to encourage the schoolgirl to make the gown in which she receives her diploma is a great stride in the more satisfactory adjustment of what has long been a delicate matter, almost impossible to control. Girl graduates, by the score, backed by their own vain and uncomprehending mothers, have been obdurate in their determination to outdress and outshine their less fortunate sisters on this occasion.

It will be a matter of country-wide congratulation when the public schools in the land decree that the sweet girl graduate shall make her own graduation gown as part of the completed course for which she receives a piece of parchment bound with gay ribbons and of which she is, of course, justly proud. Not only will it serve to prevent extravagance and display but it will also be the means of placing an invaluable faculty in the possession of our girls.

Encouraging the schoolgirl to make her own graduation dress kills several birds of unpleasant visage with the one stone. Doing away with the competitive phase of these gowns, in which extravagance is rampant, is an important achievement, but not the only one worth while. There are several others of equal benefit to the embryo woman. Perhaps it is not possible to make young girls considerate of one another's feelings but a step in that direction is taken when the cost of the gown is limited to some amount that may be agreed amicably among them.

The girl who learns how to make her own clothing while attending school, will never cease to bless the day. She can afford to acquire the faculty better while she is young, even at the expense of a good many hours of relaxation and freedom, than not to know how. I know of few things that will be of greater assistance in after life.

The Duluth Herald accepts advertising contracts with the distinct guaranty that it has the largest circulation in Minnesota outside the Twin Cities.

The Herald will be glad to have its attention called to any misleading or untrue statement which may appear in its news, editorial or advertising columns.

THE STREET RAILWAY FRANCHISE.

Duluth's excellent street railway system has an exclusive franchise which it got from the state of Minnesota, the community itself having had nothing whatever to do with making the contract.

As the fashion was in those days when people were more eager for street car service than careful about franchise contracts, this is a jug-handled franchise from which the city gets no benefit at all and over which it has practically no control. What it gets, it must get largely through the generosity or breadth or business foresight of the owners of the franchise. No such franchise would be granted anywhere today.

Because it would be a great deal better all around if the franchise had handles like a loving cup rather than only one like a jug, the city attacked it in the courts, hoping to be able to destroy it so that a modern franchise could replace it, one that would be fair to both parties.

Judge Cant of the district court has just upheld the franchise, in a decision that offers as its only grain of comfort the fact that the company does not claim the franchise to be perpetual, but admits that it will end with the fifty years for which the state granted it.

It will be no reflection upon the district court, but only the usual precaution in the interest of complete assurance, if the city appeals the case to the supreme court, as of course it should and will. Both the city and the company should wish this question to be settled finally and for all, and only an appeal can do that.

SIMPLIFYING THE SCHOOL SYSTEM

The commission created by the last legislature to study the school system of this state and to propose a plan of reorganization has finished its work so far as reorganization plans are concerned, and has laid the result before the people for their consideration. A later report will deal with the question of state aid, which in the past has been somewhat aimless and savoring rather too much of the pork barrel.

The aim of the commission in studying a new system of school management manifestly has been in harmony with the work of the efficiency and economy commission, with whose plan its suggestions square. It sought a simpler, more effective mechanism, better co-ordinated and calculated to do the business easier, more surely and at less expense.

Off-hand, we should say that the commission has accomplished what it set out to do. There is plenty of time to study its plan, and there is no need of jumping at a conclusion about it; but the presumption should be, so fair does it seem on its surface, that it is what the state wants. That presumption should be removed only by tangible evidence that it is not what the state wants.

The commission proposes a state board of education, of five or seven members, to take over the powers of the state high school board, the state normal board, the state library commission and the board for the special schools for the deaf and blind. It is also to supervise the educational work of the correctional and penal institutions.

As the board of regents of the state university seems to be fixed upon us by the Constitution, the commission proposes no change in that except to eliminate the ex-officio members, and to have it co-operate with the state board of education wherever possible. Properly, we believe, the university should be co-ordinated as a part of the state's school system, and under the same general head, but that can't be done while the Constitution makes the board of regents an independent entity.

The state board of education would select the state superintendent of education.

School districts would be divided into three classes:

Special, consisting of Duluth, St. Paul and Minneapolis;

Independent, including all districts not special and containing a high or graded school; and

Common, one district for each county to include all territory not in a special or independent district. All rural schools in each county would constitute a single district.

Local boards of education would continue as at present in the districts designated as special, and in those designated as independent except that they would have five instead of six members. Common school districts would have boards of five, elected at large from that part of each county included in the common school district.

These common school boards would have power to subdivide the district for purposes of school administration and for voting on school questions; to levy taxes for the maintenance of all schools in the district; to make levies for school buildings and sites; to issue bonds up to two per cent of the valuation with the approval of the state board, greater issues to depend on popular vote; and, most important, to elect a superintendent, to take the place of the county superintendent, for a term of four years, on qualifications to be fixed by the state board of education.

The plan looks to The Herald like a great improvement. It is of the highest importance, and it should be studied thoroughly and passed upon in the public interest, and without regard to the minor interests of those whose personal interests might be affected by a change.

WHAT THE MEN OF BALTIMORE THINK ABOUT IT.

Senator Gore's poll of the delegates to the Baltimore convention on the canal tolls exemption issue at last reports showed that he had heard from 867 out of the thousand-odd Democrats who participated in that historic gathering, and that of these 702 are for the repeal of the exemption clause, 38 are non-committal, and only 127 are against repeal.

It doesn't really make so much difference about this. The exemption is wrong, even if the Democrats put the plank favoring it into their platform knowingly. But the poll made by Senator Gore is pretty good evidence in support of the claim that it was slipped in without the convention's realizing its presence.

And it leaves the senators who have declared that it would be wicked to go back on a plank in the platform looking rather foolish.

Though, as there was also a plank in the platform condemning subsidies, they looked quite foolish anyway.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS.

8 and 9.—The Forestry Amendments.

These two amendments are intended to facilitate the growing of trees for timber in this state. As the state's natural resource of timber has dwindled alarmingly and soon will be gone, these amendments deserve warm public support, and should by all means be adopted.

Amendment No. 8 authorizes a state bounty to owners of land who will grow trees for timber. The bounty is to be $2.50 an acre, and no individual can draw bounty for more than ten acres nor for a longer period than ten years.

Amendment No. 9 provides that public lands more valuable for the production of timber than for agriculture may be set aside as state forests, or parts of state forests, for the propagation of timber.

The proposal in each case is simple and clear. Both amendments should be adopted.

USELESS TAGS.

"There should be more business and less politics," says the St. Paul Pioneer Press very truly and very sensibly, "in the selection of men who are to transact the affairs of the county. It should be more a question of fitness and capacity and less of what organization they are affiliated with. The people want their business well conducted, and it does not matter to the value of a brass bodkin whether their officers are Prohibitionists or Progressives, Republicans or Democrats. * * * Let us enter upon a new era of county politics and eliminate the blight of partisanism. Let us hire officials because they are efficient and discharge them because they are not. Let us abandon the fatuous notion that one man will render better service than another because he happens to be tagged by a political organization or wears the collar of any certain partisan clique."

Very true and very important, though perhaps it comes the day after the fair because the legislature has abolished partisanship so far as county officers are concerned.

And still, the formal abolition of party labels in connection with the election machinery does not necessarily mean that this advice is no longer needed.

Though candidates will be undistinguished by party labels on the ballots, some of them may still seek to use party leverage in their behalf, and some voters may still insist that the candidates of their choice be of the parties of their choice.

It may take an election or two to educate candidates and voters in the new order of non-partisanship.

County officers—state, too, for the matter of that—ought to be picked for fitness only, and fired for unfitness only.

There is too much talk of partisanship in connection with offices that have no business relationship with partisanship. There is too much talk about how long this man or that has served and too little about how well or ill he has served. Whether a county officer is a Republican or a Democrat, or whether he has served one term or ten, should not count at all. If he has served one term inefficiently, he should go. If he has served ten terms efficiently, he should stay. If he is a Republican and capable he should be elected, or if he is a Democrat and capable he deserves election. If he is either of these and incapable he should be defeated.

The law has set county offices apart from the fields of partisan strife. They should be kept there, and they should be filled for fitness only, and vacated for unfitness only.

Etiquette Originated With the Loafing Class

Saturday Evening Post: Do you know the origin of etiquette—just why, for example, you are expected to wear a particular kind of coat on a particular occasion, and eat your pumpkin pie with a fork instead of with a knife or spoon? You may think it is because there is some peculiar, inherent appropriateness in the prescribed action; but that has nothing whatever to do with it.

Etiquette was and still is invented by people absolved from the necessity of working for a living, and its only purpose is to afford a constant, indubitable sign that its inventors can afford to waste their time in learning nice ceremonials and pretty conventions. You are expected to put on a certain kind of coat at 1 o'clock and another kind at 6 o'clock the same afternoon—solely because certain elegant loafers wished to prove ocularly that they had nothing to do except change their coats.

So with every one of the prescriptions about greeting, parting, eating, calling, and what not. Their original purpose was to prove that the leisure class which invented them had no useful employment for its time, hence could squander it in practicing etiquette.

Some years ago Prof. Veblen wrote an acute and highly amusing book on the subject, in which he pointed out that "in the last analysis the value of manners lies in the fact that they are the voucher of a life of leisure;" and "the pervading principle and abiding test of good breeding is the requirement of a substantial and patent waste of time."

So when you hasten home from the office to change your coat or worry lest you use the wrong fork you are really trying to demonstrate that you are a loafer.

Self-Improving Scandinavians.

From "The Scandinavians in America" by Prof. Edward A. Ross in the Century: Among the Scandinavians the spirit of self-improvement is very strong. No other foreign-born people respond so cagerly to night school opportunities. Farmers' institutes command better attendance and attention where they abound than in straight American neighborhoods. On a holiday celebration the address attracts more Scandinavians, the ball game or the fireworks, more natives. As patient listeners they match our Puritan forefathers. No other people take more pride in giving their children a chance. In the words of a Minnesota schoolman, "They are the best people in the state to appreciate education and to want it improved." Unlike the Germans, they have left no mark on American culture. Our ideas and institutions have not been changed by their coming. What they have done is to quicken our interest in the literature of the north, and to gain it academic recognition. A department of Scandinavian is found not only in Harvard and Yale, but also in a dozen universities all the way from Chicago to Seattle. Even the high schools in Minneapolis and elsewhere find place for Scandinavian.

Wifey's Heart Pangs.

Philadelphia Telegraph: Speaking of cooling love at a banquet some time ago, Senator Henry F. Lippitt of Rhode Island, told of the dreadful heart pangs of pretty Mrs. Jones.

The Joneses had been married several months, and happiness to all appearances seemed to be at high tide in the pleasant little home. Nevertheless, when hubby returned from his work one evening he found wifey full of sobby tears.

"What is the matter, dear?" anxiously asked the old man. "What in the world are you crying for?"

"Harry," pathetically asked wifey, "don't you really and truly love me any more?"

"What a foolish question to ask!" tenderly returned hubby. "Of course, I do. What makes you think I don't?"

"Before we were married," was the tearful reply of wifey, "it used to take you a whole hour to kiss me good night, and now you can kiss me and catch your car all in three minutes."

Turn About Fair Play.

London Answers: As Sandy holed out on the first green, his friend from over the Border asked:

"And how many strokes did you take?"

"Eight," replied the Scot.

"Ah," said the Englishman, "I took seven; so that's my hole."

The Scotsman ventured no reply; but when on the second green the Englishman repeated his former question, and made inquiry as to the number of strokes taken by his opponent, the latter nodded his head, and, with an expression of infinite wisdom on his face, gently murmured:

"Nay, nay, my mannie; this time it's my tur-rn to ask first."

All Busy.

Puck: Visitor—"Where's all the folks gone to? Don't see a soul."

The "Old Man" (on the door-step)—"All shot to pieces. Durn these 'Home Economy' magazines anyway. The wife's been gone since Friday trying to find an unheard-of drug to use in a simple remedy for freckles; the cook's been working since last evening on a five-minute hasty-pudding recipe, and my daughter is laid up with burning herself in a 'Home Mechanic bath-tub that she made out of a thimble, two sieves and a mile of lead-pipe."

Clear the Track!

Editorial in the Boston Globe.

It is the consensus of opinion of some of the keenest and most far-sighted men that the United States is entering on an era of prosperity that will completely overshadow even the great periods of business prosperity that have already come to this country since the Civil war. They assign many sound reasons for this prediction.

The first—and the one which is the most significant to many of them—is that we have gone through a season of business depression for the first time in our history without a panic. The old-time speculators who could always scent a panic and make money out of it are completely confused. They have seen a financial state of affairs never before known. They have seen the banks full of money during a business depression and no particular call for the money on any side.

They have seen Europe throw back into this country from $250,000,000 to $300,000,000 worth of securities and have seen these securities absorbed and the gold sent to Europe without any particular fuss. That would have meant a panic in the stock market at least a few years ago.

They have seen a tariff enacted lower than the Wilson tariff and yet they have seen raw wool, one of the best tariff barometers there is, sell higher than before.

They have seen a delicate railroad situation, that would have created a financial panic at any time in the past, studied and pondered over in a way that has simply taken the breath from speculators. The people have refused to become excited over it. They want it settled everywhere, but they want it settled right.

Why? Because the railroad industry is not the one dominating industry of the country any longer. While financiers have been juggling railroads the past twenty-five years business men have been building up other great industrial enterprises all over this land.

This is a bigger country than it ever was before. Its potential possibilities are being more and more realized in every direction. The farmers have become scientists and the arid lands and the swamp lands are being reclaimed everywhere and being made to yield in such abundance as was never known before in the history of farming.

In the South malaria has been conquered and the rich swamp lands are no longer the terror they were. Irrigation and dry farming have brought new prosperity to the West and Southwest. Water power is being conducted over wires hundreds of miles where formerly it was all but wasted. The oil lands and the mineral wealth have burst the bounds of former monopolies and opened up vaster possibilities than ever before, and the inventive genius of the American has never been idle. New miracles are daily being wrought by invention.

Why then have we had a business depression in the face of these things?

Simply because a great many people thought we ought to have it; we should have it; and must have it; it was due.

It was largely a mental state. There was no real need of it, or for it. Business men see that more clearly now. But many of them are more satisfied apparently because we have had it. And they have learned something.

They have learned that you cannot have panics unless there is "tight money"—unless the reserve is tied up, as it was for the past fifty years—tied up when it was most needed. This business depression we have been through has been valuable then in that it has demonstrated to all the people the wisdom of the present system of a flexible currency. The old conditions have disappeared forever.

As A. W. Douglas of St. Louis said at the Economic club a few nights ago, there has been a curious psychological phenomenon during this business depression—the people—the common people—have been optimistic through it all. They left their money in the banks. The common people had more confidence than the so-called financiers, and when the common people have confidence you can't have panics.

So now that the lesson has been learned, and that the greatest crops in the history of the country are in sight, it is up to everybody to forget the mental depression, start in quickly and get aboard the prosperity train that has been simply standing still on the tracks waiting for the engineers to oil up for a long run.

Clerical Anecdotes

Westminster Gazette: A collection of "Anecdotes of Pulpit and Parish," collected and arranged by Arthur H. Engelbach, comes from Grant Richards. Many of the stories are old and well known, but we reprint a few of them.

Canon Knox Little knew of a lych-gate in front of a church which was being restored, over the door of which was painted: This is the Gate of Heaven!" while underneath was a notice in large letters: "Go round the other way."

Here is another: One day when old Archbishop Howley drove up in grand style to the door of the house of lords a Quaker thus addressed him: "Friend Howley, what would the Apostle Paul have said if he had seen these four horses and the purple liveries and all the rest?" The good-natured primate, in no way flustered, replied as follows: "Doubtless the apostle would have remarked that things were very much changed for the better since his time."

There is a story told by P. H. Ditchfield of a London vicar who liked to have a hymn sung at family prayers. In order to interest his servants he allowed them to choose the hymns. One day his wife complimented the cook on her selection: "What a nice hymn you chose." "Yes, mum," she replied, "it's the number of my perliceman!"

The bishop of Peterborough, Dr. Magee, being plagued to go and open all sorts of things—churches, school bazars and so forth—exclaimed one day to the bishop of Leicester: "I do believe very soon there will not be a young curate in the diocese who has bought a new umbrella who will not apply to the bishop to come and open it!"

Stories about ministers in Scotland are very numerous. The scene of one, which we need hardly say is a libel, was a pier in the Western Highlands. Goods were being landed from a steamship when the captain said to the deck hand: "Is there anything more to put ashore, Donald?" "Ay, sir," answered Donald, "there's the two-gallon jar o' whisky for the Established minister." "For the Established minister, Donald?" said the captain, laughing. "Are ye quite sure it's no for the Free Kirk minister?" "Quite, sir," said Donald, cannily, "the Free Kirk minister aye gets his whisky jar in the middle of a barrel of flour!"

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Senator Porter J. McCumber of North Dakota can probably talk more seriously and more slowly than any man in public life. A good shorthand reporter, or a good long-hand reporter, for that matter, ought to be able to take down one of McCumber's speeches and write a letter home between words. Without actually timing Senator McCumber, we should say that he delivers on the average about forty-five words a minute. He would not miss giving each little syllable its full quota of time for anything in the world. Take, for example, the word "every." Nine men out of ten will pronounce that word as if it were spelled "ev'ry." But nothing like that occurs when Porter McCumber says it. He slowly and methodically pronounces ev-e-ry little syllable. If he can make two syllables where only one grew before, he will do it gladly.

And the oddest thing about McCumber's deliberate utterance is that if he becomes angered in debate he proceeds even more slowly than before. He talks louder, perhaps, but no faster. To those of us who are half inclined to talk more or less rapidly under stress of extreme vexation McCumber is a constant source of wonder. His face flushes with emotion, he brings his fist down on the table with vigor, and slow-ly — pon-der-ous-ly — says—what—he—has—to—say. He talks the way we imagine the average tortoise would love to talk.

Representative Warren Worth Bailey of Pennsylvania often comes along with an original angle of view on a given proposition. A group of congressmen were discussing the causes of the last panic. One man offered the opinion that it was largely owing to overproduction.

"I think you're right," remarked Bailey. "Overproduction of needed commodities is the curse of the times. Sometimes I am seized with horror lest there be an overproduction of shoes. If there were too many shoes in the country, we would, of course, all have to go bare-footed."

When the suffragettes marched up to the capitol a little while ago, and formed in festive platoons out in front, armed with fluttering banners and petitions, one Percy E. Quin, member of congress from Mississippi, might have been seen in the center of a group of onlookers standing on the capitol terrace. Quin was not in sympathy with the demonstration and muttered half to himself:

"They won't get my vote."

Tom Heflin of Alabama, the leading anti-suffragist in congress, chanced to be standing nearby and overheard Quin's remark. Now Tom is a great mimic. He can modulate his voice to sound precisely like that of a frail little woman with a red nose and strong opinions. Assuming that tone for the moment, Tom said:

"We'll either get your vote or we'll get your seat in congress."

Whereupon Quin tried to turn around and answer the remark. He was wedged in too tightly to turn, but over his shoulder hurled back with acerbity:

"You'll have a hard time."

Then the little sharp voice inquired: "Would you mind giving me your name?"

Quin by a desperate effort contrived to turn around then and when he saw the ponderous, white-waistcoated form of Tom Heflin instead of a scrawny type of suffragette, he wilted completely away and gave himself up to laughter for five minutes.

When Nelson O'Shaughnessy was still in Mexico City as charge d'affaires at the American embassy, he had the acquaintance of a young American, a former race track tout, who was extremely useful in running errands to points where there was grave danger of being killed. This young man devoted almost his entire time to consuming the various brands of alcoholic beverages to be had in the Mexican capital, and this gave him an exaggerated sense of bravery. If he thought of death at all, it was simply as a casual event too trivial to be avoided.

O'Shaughnessy desired to get word one day from Gen. Huerta whether he was planning to attack the Constitutionalist forces. Nobody dared make the trip through the lines to where Huerta was, however—that is, no one except O'Shaughnessy's friend, the former race track tout.

"Get the information," O'Shaughnessy told him, "and when you come back here don't tell what you know to a living soul except me."

When the courier returned, O'Shaughnessy was in an important conference with diplomats from other countries, and at first thought it appeared difficult to get the message to him secretly. But the brave messenger had an inspiration. He said he would break the news in code. Here was the information, as he gave it in the presence of the assembled diplomats:

"I saw the bloke, and he ain't hep yet to what he's goin' t' do, but the rum's running high in the gauge, and I think he'll strike a hefty wallop soon."

The Practical Side.

Kansas City Star: A friend, of big business operations, told Prof. Scott Nearing that he never went into an important business deal without talking it over with his wife and getting her practical suggestions. The instance would have no value if it were exceptional. But it is not. It is pretty nearly the rule.

"Woman is the great idealist!" Amen. But that is not all. Woman is the great materialist. She has more practicality in her little finger than man has in his nebulous head.

Who makes the best pies in the world? Mother. Whom does the kid run to when he has mashed his finger? Mother. Does he go for idealism? Well, of course the comforting and kiss help. But he goes for the most practical way of getting the pain eased up.

Who keeps the house clean? Who nurses the children? Who is the most careful buyer and spender of the family? Mother every time.

If ever men get the affairs that they have been running all hopelessly balled up, they will turn to the women not only for their idealism, but for their practical help.

Bless the Ladies!

Kansas City Journal: "Our congressional committee heard thirty ladies in two hours. That many men would have kept us listening for several days."

"That shows that women can transact public business. But how did they manage to crowd thirty speeches into two hours?"

"Oh, they spoke three and four at a time."

Rising Temperatures.

Youngster (with hesitation)—"When dad sees I'm down to zero, he'll 'warm me up,' I guess."

1904—Echoes of Harmony—1914

The State Press on the Republican Split.

State in Need of Change.

Hutchinson Voice: William E. Lee, who spoke here Saturday evening, may not have convinced the people of this vicinity that they should vote for him, but he certainly convinced them that Minnesota is badly in need of a change of government. He certainly hit the nail on the head when he said that many public offices had been created for printers who in campaign times were supposed to sing the praises of Adolph from whom all blessings flow. In reading the papers of the state a school child could easily pick out the "faithful."

Resentment Arouses People.

Albert Lea Standard: The hope of the Eberhart supporters that the country vote, which is Lee's strongest territory, would be light at the primaries, is fast waning for the present indications are that this vote will greatly exceed the city. Resentment over state extravagance, high taxes and the veto of the Minette telephone bill are some of the obstacles which confront the Eberhart workers from every section of the state. It has caused them to realize that the outlook is far from bright for the election of the governor to a fourth term.

It's Not Improbable.

Virginia Enterprise: What the state gubernatorial campaign lacks in public interest it is making up in invective. Suppose both Governor Eberhart and Mr. Lee are telling the truth about each other.

Files Are Uncomfortable Things.

Tower News: It begins to look as if some of our boys have found out where Candidate Lee keeps his goat. And these are grindin' their knives. Lee is the man who, some time since, had his foot tied to the superheated ozone pedal, also labeled "The Tonnage Tax," and today the newspaper lads are digging up the old files of their papers and posting up.

Why, Certainly!

St. Peter Free Press: The Northfield News inferentially makes the bold statement that there is not a man engaged in business, conducted in violation of the moral law, or in violation of the statutes of the state, who is not opposed to the election of Mr. Lee, and wants to know for whom this class of violators will vote when it comes to a gubernatorial choice on June 16? The News should not be so all-fired inquisitive, and, besides, it should know that if this class of support is not going to Lee it will go to a candidate more in accord with its own way of thinking.

A Cinch for Hammond.

Heron Lake News: When the Republicans of Minnesota were trying to hold the party together, when there was dissension within, Mr. Lee was one of the gentlemen who deserted the old ship and did all he could to disrupt it. He now asks the Republican party to elect him governor. Perhaps he will be elected, but the News prefers a Democrat to a Republican of that kind. He would not be an improvement over Governor Eberhart. At the present time it looks as if Mr. Hammond had a cinch on the governorship.

Ole Has Quit Plowing—Except Into Eberhart.

Biwabik Times: Ole Sageng continues to stir things up by his attacks on the present state administration. Sageng was one of the really straight men in the legislature and he knows what he charges when he insists that Eberhart is not the governor of Minnesota.

Why, Indeed?

Austin Transcript: No governor of Minnesota, not even the best of them, was ever elected for a fourth term. Why should we start in with a lightweight to break the wise precedent?

Old Fashioned Folks.

Old fashioned folks! God bless 'em all!
The fathers an' the mothers,
The aunts an' uncles, fat an' tall,
The sisters an' the brothers.
The good old fashioned neighbors, too,
The passing time improves 'em,
They still drop in to chat with you
Whene'er the spirit moves 'em.
The simple, unaffected folks
With gentle ways an' sunny,
The brave an' true
That live life through
And stay unspoiled by money.

Old fashioned folks, of solid worth,
On them a benediction!
The joy an' comfort of the earth,
Its strength without restriction.
The charm of every neighborhood,
The toilers uncomplaining,
The men an' women, pure an' good,
Of fine an' honest graining.
The plain an' open hearted folks
That makes no fad a passion,
The kind an' fair
That do an' dare
An' are not slaves to fashion.

Old fashioned folks that live an' love
An' give their service gladly,
An' deem their neighbors worthy of
Their help when things go badly.
The simple sharers of our joys,
Sweet ministers in sorrow,
They help the world to keep its poise
An' strength for each tomorrow.
The simple, unaffected folks,
That live for all about 'em,
God bless 'em all!
This earthly ball
Would dreary be without 'em.

Anything to Oblige.

Lippincott's: "Not long ago," relates ex-Speaker Cannon, "a young couple came in from the suburbs to New York City, to see the Hippodrome. They arrived very early and decided to have a lunch. They visited a tea-room, and had the place all to themselves.

"In serving them, the waitress omitted to supply a teaspoon, and the fair young bride whispered the fact to her husband.

"Summoning the waitress, the young man asked:

"'May we have a spoon?'

"'Why, certainly,' replied the girl, 'I am just tidying up, and you can have the whole room to yourselves in a minute or two.'"

Preparation.

Henry Drummond: Do not quarrel, therefore, with your lot in life. Do not complain of its never ceasing cares, its petty environment, the vexations you have to stand, the small and sordid souls you have to live and work with. Above all, do not resent temptation, do not be perplexed because it seems to thicken 'round you more and more, and ceases neither for effort nor for agony nor prayer. That is your practice. That is the practice which God appoints you. And it is having its work in making you patient, and humble, and generous, and unselfish, and kind, and courteous.

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1894.

There was a fierce battle at the Stickle Hollow mines of the Washington Coal and Coke company in the Pennsylvania coke region yesterday between deputies and strikers. The latter had persuaded some workmen to quit, when the deputies interfered and fired, killing five men and wounding five others. Three deputies were wounded by the return fire.

Four hundred miners and 150 deputies fought at Cripple Creek, Colo., today, the deputies taking refuge behind their train. Twenty deputies scattered about the cabins at Wilson Creek surrendered to the strikers and were marched to the city under a strong guard. The shaft house of the Strong mine was blown up with powder by the strikers.

James R. Potts, a young gold seeker from Adrian, Mich., was drowned while trying to shoot the Vermilion river rapids in a canoe on his way to Rainy Lake City. D. P. Redding, postmaster of Rainy Lake City, was with him and narrowly escaped. Potts was a brother of S. E. Potts of Negaunee, Mich.

Attorney J. A. Keyes of Duluth, representing the Minnesota Canal company, is in Washington, and the Altamonte, the rival company, is represented by E. P. Jennison of Chicago. They had a hearing yesterday before the committee on Indian affairs on the privilege of overflowing certain lands in the Fond du Lac reservation.

Swan Fried, while loading pig iron into a car at the West Duluth blast furnace yesterday, slipped and broke a leg.

Fred Schupp of Minneapolis has taken a position as clerk in Charles Thorp's drug store at West Duluth.

M. J. Mullen has been made superintendent of the Lake Superior Elevator and Union Improvement companies, to succeed George Rupley, resigned.

Congressman Haugen, who represents the Superior district, has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for governor of Wisconsin.

A family hotel has been opened in Chester terrace under the management of C. H. Eldridge. The domestic manager is Mrs. M. P. Flynt, widow of one of Duluth's well-known old settlers. Those at present guests at the Chester include Judge and Mrs. Moer, Charles A. Towne, George A. French, C. E. Bassett, G. H. Feldtman, William F. Draper and wife, J. R. Waarde and wife, F. M. Zellar, Charles T. Abbott, Misses Guernsey, Poe and Davis.

When Jimmy Was Landed.

Philadelphia Telegraph: Here is one that was told by Capt. H. O. Duncan of the United States navy, the other evening when the chirpful buzz at a social affair turned to the cruel things that the fairies occasionally say to each other.

Recently in a suburban town there was a modern wedding with the canopy over the sidewalk, caterer from the city, and all that sore of thing, and after it was over the bride and her maid of honor stood temporarily alone.

"I am so glad it is over!" excitedly cried the pretty bride. "Did I look all right, Marie?"

"Yes, dear," answered Marie, perhaps a little sighfully. "You looked simply and excruciatingly splendid."

"I'm so glad," murmured the bride. "For a moment I thought I would faint. Did I appear to be very nervous?"

"Just a little at first, dear," responded Marie, "but you seemed to be all right as soon as Jimmy pronounced the words, 'I do'."

How to Love a Book.

Harper's Weekly: In the year 1354 Boccaccio presented to his friend Petrarch a copy of St. Augustine's "Commentary on the Psalms." The poet thereupon sent to the author of the "Decameron" a letter written in Latin—part of which may be translated thus:

You have overwhelmed me with joy by a present magnificent and rare. Henceforth I shall swim more surely on the sea of David. Into the midst of this troubled sea, you have sent me a very sturdy ship and a clever pilot, Saint Augustine, whose genius is divine. I have received it with joy and astonishment, and have said to myself: "Laziness, get thee behind me; if ever a moment of leisure remain to me, this gift shall fill it. Here is an illustrious guest that must receive the best fare, and will not let me sleep a wink o' nights. In vain will ye pale and close, O eyes of mine; ye must watch and sleep not; in vain shall ye think of rest, for we must labor."

In those days the gift of a good book was a gift indeed. Minds are not made by much reading, but by the enjoyment of a few books of the best—their digestion and rereading.

Humors of Law.

We laugh at old Wouter Van Twiller,
Whose mode of deciding a case
Was to go by the looks and the weight of the books
Which the lawyers brought into his place.
We jest at his manner of judging
Because it is queer in our eyes,
And the erudite way of our jurists today
Shows up as decidedly wise.
For now they determine on justice
By means that are noble to see,
By a comma misplaced in a proof-
reader's haste
Or a failure at crossing a "t."
And having thus climbed to perfection,
To justice sans error or flaw,
Our laughter rings shriller at Wouter
Van Twiller
And his way of deciding the law.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

ANVIL CHORUS GETS BUSY EARLY.

To the Editor of the Herald:

From the pre-season reports from our present ball club manager, you would get the idea that he was getting together some crack ball team. Now, after the season is two weeks old and after two weeks of continuous playing, we find the White Sox apparently glued to the cellar position.

Our manager has been busy since early last fall getting together the stars that comprise this team. Stars some may be, but they have yet to be developed.

I have heard a lot about our manager knowing a ball player when he sees one. Still he has let out some real finds every year that have later starred with other teams. I will admit he has picked up a few stars in the decade he has been with us, but he has yet to get a real club together from the start. There has always been bolsterings and cleanings going on in the Sox ranks till long after mid-season.

A real ball team is a good advertisement for any city, but a club representing Duluth in the cellar position is a poor advertisement and a very poor drawing card.

If the management of our ball club want to make ends meet let them get a team that is a little closer to the top than the bottom. If not, they will have to be content with a score of fans at each game after a short while. What the Duluth fans want is a team that is fighting way up there at the top.

Thanking you for the space for these lines, I am, yours truly,

A BASEBALL CRANK.

KEEPING OPEN ON DECORATION DAY.

To the Editor of the Herald:

Permit me through your Open Court column to express an opinion regarding the stand taken by one of our large retail stores in declaring its intention of keeping open on Decoration day, one of the most sacred holidays of this nation.

There are several conclusions one may arrive at for taking such a stand as they do, and I can not help but express some of them.

First of all, it must be a deep rooted spirit of greed that possesses the proprietors of such business places.

Second, they must feel that their employes are getting too many holidays through the year.

Third, they must expect to take advantage of the fact that all the other merchants on Superior street are closed and hope to get the business that otherwise would go to them.

Fourth, they certainly do not seem to pay the least respect to the customs of the country or the sacredness of the day.

Fifth, Is it possible that this store has a list of customers who only can buy goods on Saturdays and that they must keep open house for their accommodation?

If greed is the reason then I should advise this merchant to move to a country with fewer holidays. If their employes are going to get too much benefit by having this holiday, these merchants should have been in business before the Civil war, when slaves were bought for keeps.

If they hope to gain a dollar by keeping open Decoration day, while other stores are closed, there are some toiling clerks in this city who may see to it that their gain will not be so great on other days. If these merchants have not enough respect for patriotism to observe this country's legal holidays, loyal Americans and citizens of Duluth should remember that these same merchants may have no more respect for the eagle on your dollars or color of your greenbacks.

People who have been in the habit of doing their shopping on Saturday evening will find all stores open late on Friday evening for their accommodation as has been agreed by the Retail Merchants' association, of which we understand the Decoration day merchant is not a member.

I feel sure that every clerk in the city will give to the citizens of Duluth his best service, if they will in turn do the shopping on Friday before Decoration day, the shopping that is usually done on Saturdays.

I am sure that the merchants who stay closed as agreed on that day will not lose a dollar by so doing. Fellow clerks, boost for our loyal and patriotic merchants.

ANSWERS "G. O. BLACK."

To the Editor of the Herald:

A man not guilty of committing the act which I had reference to in the Open Court on May 20 last would not have returned an answer.

Yes, I complained of the fire auto exceeding the speed limit, and I still do.

A fire auto is not always going to a fire which requires it to go at top speed. I complained of the fire auto's speed on that one particular run to the brush fire, also on their morning exercises on Superior street, with no reason for running at such high speed. It only endangers the lives of pedestrians.

Driver G. O. Black states that from my remarks I must have been planning on the insurance.

I want to tell Driver G. O. Black that no man can hold his family in higher esteem than I do.

Also that my home is not insured, but at the same time I would not want to hear of such an accident as happened the other night in trying to save my home. And as for my family they would be saved long before the assistant chief arrived with his brave and fearless driver, who has enough courage to sign his name to such a statement as he made in the Open Court May 21.

Seeing you amused yourself so much with my initials, I present to you,

NAPOLEON A. GIBEAU.

SEND THE NORMANNA CHORUS TO NORWAY.

To the Editor of the Herald:

Shall we send the whole chorus to Norway or shall we not?

It seems to me that we have a good chance to advertise Duluth in foreign countries, and it seems to me we should do all we can for the matter. The Normanna chorus, which gives a concert on May 29 at the First M. E. church should see a well filled house. We are talking about boosting Duluth and here is a chance.

Listen, if that chorus makes a display through the Scandinavian countries, I venture to say that much will be done to turn the immigration tide toward Duluth.

People here say that Duluth is well advertised and well known, but I venture to say that for the Scandinavian population we have in this city in proportion to other cities, we are not in it as a well-known city. If the merchants are looking for immigration to turn this way, they cannot advertise more strongly than through a chorus, for we know that those countries will recognize song before anything else, and they are certainly going to find out where the singers come from. If we could send forty men and a soloist to talk Duluth I dare say it will be far ahead of any advertisement the city or Commercial club has attempted to do outside the United States.

I would suggest that the merchants and business men of Duluth find out the needs of the chorus financially so that they could make an extensive trip through these countries, and I know that the immigration resulting therefrom would pay double. We in this country do not consider music anything else but for commercial use, but you will find that if you go to the Scandinavian countries and see, it will be found that whenever the country is represented at the World's fair or any local festival in Europe, the big day for them is always the day when the chorus has represented its respective country.

So let us try to do the same. We can do more than any country when it comes down to it and in Duluth we have a chorus, if all men could be sent, that will open their eyes.

Let us work for the cause.

FACTIONS SURE TO FIGHT UP TO POLLS

Lee Forces the More Confident; Bitterness Grows to Such an Extent That Editors Are Saying That "It Looks Like a Cinch for Hammond;" Reason for Administration Fight on Rines; Congressional Situation; Wednesday Last Day for Filing for County Offices.

As June 16, primary day, draws nearer, it is clearer that a feeling of uneasiness is growing in the ranks of the Eberhart-Smith combine, and a feeling of confidence is increasing in the ranks of the Lee crowd. The latter's confident feeling is tinctured with the fear of the aftermath. But the Lee men are feeling sure—if words and attitude convey any meaning—that they have the governor and his cohorts on the run. There is, in short, the dandiest kind of a fight on in the Republican ranks, and there certainly will be some painful settling days following the primary election. When one suggests to an exponent of either faction of the Republican party the probability of the split continuing beyond the primary day, there is an evident desire to change the subject, and the expression about not crossing a bridge until it is reached is quite commonly used. The fear is there, however, in both factions, and it is quite generally believed that the breach will not heal in time to prevent party catastrophe in the November elections. Each faction is out to slay, politically, and if they cannot do it in the primaries, the successful one then will have to suffer in the election.

The press of the state, regardless of political affiliation, is admitting that it looks very much like Hammond for governor. Even the Heron Lake News, a rank Republican organ, says in so many words, reproduced in another column in this issue, that "at the present time it looks as if Mr. Hammond had a cinch on the governorship." The editor of the News voices what seems to be the generally growing sentiment.

And in the meantime Mr. Hammond attends strictly to his knitting in congress and does not even write letters, it is claimed.

William E. Lee, anti-machine candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, will make his only appearance in Duluth during the primary campaign next Thursday night. He will speak at the Auditorium, and it is expected that he will have a large audience, and the anti-machine tom-toms are already beating. Just when Governor Eberhart will honor the city by his presence in his "clean and dignified campaign" is unknown as yet, but then he has appeared here so often, always campaigning, that there would be no novelty in the matter. With Mr. Lee it is different. Thousands have never heard or seen him.

A week ago Friday night Governor Eberhart made his opening speech at St. Cloud, and a few nights afterward, Mr. Lee spoke from the same platform; so St. Cloud has had an opportunity to compare the two men. The St. Cloud Times, one of the most perspicacious papers of the state, deals impartially with the two, and Editor Macdonald's acuteness is shown in his summing up of the situation as revealed by Mr. Lee. Editor Macdonald believes, as do many, that with the revelation of extravagance that the state tax-payers have been made to suffer, there should be complete routing out of the powers and an entire new deal given.

Concerning Governor Eberhart's keynote speech the Times says:

> St. Cloud greeted Governor Eberhart Friday evening with a large audience among whom were many ladies. The hall was not filled until the arrival of the special from St. Paul bringing 200 of the governor's appointees, state employes and friends.
>
> While the governor is a pleasant gentleman, and talks glibly, there is nothing in his utterances that indicates great ability or profound thought. He seeks to strengthen himself by grasping ideas, not original with himself, which are popular in the public mind.
>
> There is a long distance between Governor A. O. Eberhart and Congressman W. S. Hammond.

The day after Mr. Lee had addressed the voters of Stearns county Editor Macdonald had this to say:

> The speech of Mr. Lee and the facts he presented last night showing the extravagance of expenditure and recklessness of the state administration was a terrible arraignment of Republican control in Minnesota. No Democratic orator could have presented a more crushing and convincing array of facts and figures proving that Republican rule in Minnesota was ruinous, extravagant and careless of the people's interest. He stated that state expenditures had increased in four years from $13,000,000 to $20,000,000. He indulged in comparison with several other states. He said that Indiana's increase in four years was 4 per cent; Michigan, 11 per cent; Iowa and Missouri, 33 per cent, and Minnesota, 66 per cent. This tells the whole story. What good reasons can Governor Eberhart or any of his supporters present in the face of this astounding increase in expenses of the state government and the wonderful excess over that of other states? It is said that "when rogues fall out, honest men secure their dues." While we in no manner wish to be understood as accusing our Republican friends of being rogues, yet the fact that there is a quarrel on in the ranks of the enemy, and that they are telling the truth, gives the people an opportunity to see what a hollow mockery the claim of the Republican party is, that they are the friends of the people and the agents of good government.

And yet the fight between the two ambitious Republicans has only begun. It will likely not end until Nov. 3, the day the general election will be held.

Harvey Grimmer, who, it is conceded, will be the next United States marshal for Minnesota, to succeed the great resolutions framer, William M. Grimshaw, was in the city for a little while the other day. Mr. Grimmer is a star at political prognosticating and he said this, which may be worth considering:

"As a Democrat I don't give a hang which is nomiated—Eberhart or Lee—although I believe Lee has the pole at this time. But what I feel is as sure as death and taxes is that Hammond will beat the successful Republican. I travel through the state a good deal in pursuit of trade, and let me tell you that I am receiving new and agreeable shocks every day to find the sentiment that has developed in favor of Congressman Hammond. There are scores of Republicans—especially business men—who are sick of the everlasting turmoil that the party is in, all because it has been in the majority and it has an over-supply of would-be office holders. Such men are disposed to discipline these squabblers by putting both factions out of business for the time, and by trying to save their party by temporarily wrecking it. Congressman Hammond is recognized as an exceptionally able man by business men in general and he is going to get an immense vote."

The Royle for Congress club will hold its big dinner of the campaign tonight at the St. Louis hotel, and it is expected that there will be a large crowd present to pledge anew their fealty to Senator Boyle in his campaign for the Republican nomination.

The Miller forces feel no danger, according to R. M. Hughes, manager of the congressman's campaign for reelection. The Boyle forces are equally confident.

For some time it has been common comment that Editor F. A. Wilson of Remidji, candidate for the senate from the Sixty-second district, would have a pretty easy time of it. However that prospect is believed to be dispelled owing to the fact that L. H. Nord, an Interanational Falls business man, is also a candidate, and being a most popular man, will likely give Editor Wilson a run for his money. There are some other candidates.

Regarding the campaign for state auditor, a supporter of Henry Rines of Mora, for the place, in a recent interview, gave out the following interesting comment on the opposition to Mr. Rines:

"The malevolence of the fight on Henry Rines, candidate for state auditor, is well known to all those who frequent the state capitol. The administration people have not attempted to conceal their dislike for Rines, and have openly boasted that they 'would teach him a lesson' because he refused, as speaker, to play the game with them.

"Mr. Rines could have gone into the auditor's office without opposition had he consented to be a mere figurehead as speaker and 'lay down' in the face of corporation and brewery effort to dominate legislation.

"When the public utilities bill was before the house, the progressive organization was given the hint that if this bill was allowed to go through, there could be complete harmony between the house and the state administration.

"Mr. Rines, refusing to be either flattered or threatened into submission, made his fight against that bill and in favor of home rule for cities, and because of that fight every city in Minnesota having telephone companies or public service corporations of any kind still has a chance to retain its freedom.

"The brewery influences, following the fight on county option, intimated again and again that Mr. Rines, having fought a good fight for county option, could afford to 'go easy' on all other temperance measures, in which event they would not feel any enmity because of the county option fight.

"Throughout the session the speaker fought for his progressive program regardless alike of threats and promises from these corporations.

"When Mr. Rines filed for auditor, these forces got busy and declared they would show him that it did not pay to turn them down. It is an openly acknowledged fact that the fight on Rines is an effort to punish a man who refused to 'play the game.'

"If the people once understood this situation they would surely rebuke the influences that seek to use public office not for service, but as instruments with which to punish men who will not bend the knee."

In reply to a query as to the fairness of Lieutenant Governor Burnquist, Senator D. E. Sundberg of Hallock says:

"His fairness and ability in appointing the different committees was, in my estimation, absolutely in favor of the common people and the state at large.

"As to the appointment of the grain investigation committee, I wish to say we all thought it was a good committee, and I am sure if the friends of the Equity exchange had complained about any unfairness in the appointment of the committee, the lieutenant governor would have been glad to have made a change.

"I will also add that all persons interested in legislation for the betterment of grain terminals, including farmers and shippers of the state, have in the past procured and will in the future procure from Mr. Burnquist, if re-elected, as fair committee appointments as any one could give them."

Next Wednesday will be the final day on which candidates for county offices may file. On Saturday Warren E. Greene filed for a renomination as county attorney, he being the only aspirant to that office up to this time. Edward H. Hatch of Eveleth filed for county auditor. Mr. Halden will likely file today or tomorrow. On Saturday also Franklin A. Arnold of Floodwood filed for the office of county superintendent of schools. The following were the total county filings up to Saturday evening:

Sheriff—John R. Meining, Walter M. Johnson, Charles G. Miller and Edward Blackwood, all of Duluth.

Superintendent of schools—N. A. Young of Eveleth and Franklin A. Arnold, Floodwood.

Coroner—Charles F. McComb, Duluth.

County commissioner, Second district—Gustav Collatz, Duluth; A. G. Osman, Duluth; Thomas Holder, southwest quarter section 10, township 50, range 14; John Christensen, Duluth; Thomas H. Stock, Duluth; Thomas H. Little, Duluth; Martin Dillon, Duluth; Robert H. McQuade, French River; Wayland W. Sanford, Duluth; Andrew J. Anderson, Duluth, and Bert Kribsback, Duluth.

County Commissioner, Fourth district—U. S. Grant McMahan and John E. Porthan, both of Ely.

County commissioner, Sixth district—Martin Nelson and Andrew Hawkinson of Virginia, John Glode of Eveleth, P. R. Cosgrove of Gilbert, Charles Pentatila of Eveleth, N. B. Shank of Biwabik, and Erick Erickson of Palo.

County attorney—Warren E. Greene, Duluth.

County auditor—Odin Halden, Duluth, and Edward H. Hatch, Eveleth.

ADJOURNMENT DATE IS STILL IN DOUBT.

Washington, May 25.—Whether congress will adjourn in July or struggle along until late in the fall, probably will be determined during the present week.

Democratic leaders have predicted for several weeks that they would be able to put through the legislation asked by President Wilson, and still get away by July 15. Developments in the last few days have led some of the leaders to revise this opinion, and it was admitted today that if the senate undertakes to put through antitrust legislation of a comprehensive nature, such as its committee in charge of the subject proposes, adjournment can hardly be taken for several weeks after the tentative date that has been mentioned so frequently.

THIS WEEK'S WEATHER

Washington, May 25.—Warm weather with well distributed local rains, was forecasted by the weather bureau last night for the first half of this week.

The indications are that, during the coming week, the temperature will average above the normal in the Eastern and Southern states, the Ohio Valley and the central west, and near or somewhat below the normal in the Northwestern states, the Rocky Mountain region, and on the Pacific slope. The rainfall during the week will be generally local but well distributed over the Northern and Western states.

Triple Tragedy.

Marshall, Mich., May 25.—After shooting and probably fatally wounding his wife and Walter Berhammer with whom she was out riding, Henry Manke, a farmer, 34 years old, last night killed himself.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

THREE BUSY WEEKS AHEAD

Grand Forks Will Entertain Several Notable Gatherings During Time.

Meeting of Mississippi Valley Historical Society Is Most Important.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—This city will get into the date lines in most Northwest newspapers for the next three weeks as the result of gatherings and events to be held here starting today with the annual summer gathering of the several Scottish Rite bodies of the Mason lodge began. The sessions continue till Friday, when the Shriners hold a big ceremonial session.

Historical Meet Tuesday.

Tomorrow morning the annual convention of the Mississippi Valley Historical society will begin, continuing three days. This gathering will attract men of prominence from all sections. A big feature will be the banquet Wednesday evening when the speakers will include, among others, Presidents Hannaford of the Northern Pacific and Pennington of the Soo line.

Thursday and Friday evenings a Pageant of the Northwest will be presented outdoors at the state university under the direction of the Sock and Buskin society of the university, as a feature of the Historical society meet, and over 300 university students will participate.

District Bankers Friday.

The annual meeting of the Grand Forks District Bankers' association will be held Friday. Questions having to do with the new Federal reserve system will be given special attention. Bankers of seven northeastern counties of the state will attend. Next week will see the high school commencement exercises, and the annual appearance of the Minneapolis symphony orchestra.

The third week will be given over to the chautauqua, and the university and Wesley college commencement, connected with both of which there will be various interesting features.

RUGBY MAN KILLED.

Pioneer North Dakota Merchant Is Victim of Auto Accident.

Bottineau, N. D., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Martin Campion, pioneer clothing merchant of Rugby, died in a local hospital yesterday, as the result of an auto accident Saturday evening. Campion had his neck broken when he was pinned under the car, which turned turtle on a steep hill. Three others were in the party when the accident occurred, but they escaped injury.

Woman Has Broken Leg.

Williston N. D., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Frank McIntosh, driving an auto near Trenton, suffered a broken leg when the car overturned into a deep ditch because of a defective steering gear. Miss Jessie Jennison, her only companion, was thrown clear of the machine, and only slightly injured. James Benell, aged 15, while riding a bicycle, was run down by an auto driven by C. E. Ulrich, suffering a broken leg. Benell failed to notice the approach of the car, and turned directly into its path.

Dragged to Death.

Rolla, N. D., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Harry Duncan, aged 63, was killed by a horse which he was attempting to catch. Duncan was found lying in the pasture on the farm of William Craig, near here, his neck broken. He was dragged about by the horse, after lasoing it. Although he regained consciousness several hours previous to his death, he was unable to tell of the accident. Duncan was a pioneer resident of this district.

VINCENT TO SPEAK.

State U Head to Address Brainerd Graduating Class.

Brainerd, Minn., May 25. — (Special to The Herald.) — President George Vincent of the Minnesota university will deliver the address to the graduating class of the high school at the commencement exercises.

The class night exercises will be held May 29. The baccalaureate sermon will be preached at the Congregational church Sunday, May 31.

The graduating class numbers thirty-four, as follows: Lillian G. Croswell, Ruth C. Dahlstedt, Ingolf Dillan, Stanley Durham, E. Mildred Farwell, Alma M. Finske, Esther N. Fogelstrom, Jeanette Clark Gibson, Lily Pauline Gilbertson, Mabel Regina Graham, Leslie L. Halliday, Christine L. Ilse, Howard G. Kronberg, Laura Alice McKay, Beatrice V. Noble, Hildegarde Olson, Burton W. Orne, Eunice J. Parker, John W. Pendergast, Thelma Margaret Reis, George H. Ribbel, Agnes A. Swanson, Mary K. Tooley, Maude S. Williams, Leigh B. Slipp, Robert A. Stickney, Judith Erickson, Marie Elitt, Marie Archibald, Mamie F. Funk, Eula Michael, Sadie E. Peterson, Sadie A. Wellliver, M. Julia Wilson.

The class colors are cadet blue and gold, the flower is the peony. The officers, president, George Ribbel; vice president, Mildred Farwell, secretary Leslie Halladay; treasurer, Alice McKay; sergeant-at-arms, Maude Williams.

CROSBY TO ENTERTAIN.

Making Ready for the Royal League Convention.

Crosby, Minn., May 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Royal League lodge is arranging for the big Royal league convention to be held here July 24, 25 and 26.

Plans are already under way for special cars from Duluth to the Twin Cities and Fargo to bring the delegates and their friends and hundreds have already signified their intentions of attending.

Attorney C. L. Benedict has arrived here from Mankato, and located in Crosby for the practice of his profession. He was at one time postmaster at Mankato and served the county of Blue Earth as senator for three terms.

LAW ENFORCERS HAPPY.

Gov. Hanna's Action in Hankinson Gives Enforcement League Power.

Fargo, N. D., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The state enforcement Leaguers have struck a new lead in North Dakota. They now have an additional club by which they will secure enforcement of the laws of the state. For the first time in the history of North Dakota officials have been removed from office for their failure to properly enforce the prohibition and gambling laws. Governor Hanna put the lever under the mayor and the chief of police of Hankinson and they were ousted under the measure enacted at the last session. Through the enforcement league heads charges were filed against these officials, evidence was taken before a specially appointed commissioner and it was so overwhelmingly one-sided the governor ordered the removal of the officials.

EXTENSION ACT PLEASES SETTLERS.

Ryder, N. D., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The action of congress in extending the time for the payment of the Fort Berthold settlers on their lands for a year is hailed with a great feeling of relief. Disappointed over the delay of the Soo and the Great Northern in constructing their lines over the reservation, many of the settlers were unable to do the development work planned. Others were held back because of the poor crops since the opening of the reservation. The bill extending the time originated in the senate and was pushed through both branches of congress by the North Dakota delegation.

TWO PLACES DAMAGED.

Dynamite Used on Calumet Boarding house and Laurium Store.

Calumet, Mich., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dynamite bombs were used early yesterday morning by unknown persons, apparently in an attempt to intimidate men working for the Calumet & Hecla Mining company who were imported by the company as strike-breakers before calling off the strike. The windows and one wall of the imported men's boarding house and the front of a small store in Laurium were partially demolished. No one was injured. The authorities believe both explosions were arranged by the same parties. Two arrests were made, but the suspects were released upon proving alibis.

Bagley Summer School.

Bagley, Minn., May 25.—A summer training school for teachers will be held here beginning June 29 and continuing four weeks. F. C. Miller of the St. Paul Central High school will be the conductor. A. M. Dunton of Bagley will be one of the teachers, and Miss Catherine B. McCormack of Minneapolis will have charge of the primary and methods work. There will be special instructors in agriculture and domestic science, for a week each.

CLOQUET WOMAN HEAD PHYSICIAN

Dr. Elizabeth Barnard Appointed to Faribault Institution.

Cloquet, Minn., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dr. Elizabeth Barnard, health supervisor of the Cloquet public schools, has been appointed head physician in charge of the girls of the School for the Feeble Minded at Faribault. Dr. Rogers, superintendent of the School for the Feeble Minded, was here Saturday looking into Dr. Barnard's work and at the close of his visit offered Dr. Barnard the position which she accepted. Dr. Barnard will be physician to the 800 girls in the institution. She is very well fitted by temperament and training for this work, being a woman of broad sympathies, deeply interested in the welfare of those who come under her care. She was the first woman interne ever appointed to the University of Minnesota hospital at Minneapolis. Dr. Barnard came to Cloquet a year ago as school physician and nurse and has done fine work for better health conditions among the school children.

POSTMISTRESS IS SUING BANKER.

Fort Rice, N. D., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The damage case of Mrs. L. B. Sowles, postmistress, against F. M. Redman, cashier of the Citizens' State bank, is attracting considerable attention. Mrs. Sowles alleges slanderous remarks were made against her by the defendant in connection with a trip she is alleged to have made to Mandan. The defendant says the suit is the outgrowth of factional differences over school matters.

FARMERS TO VISIT NORTH DAKOTA A. C.

Fargo, N. D., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—As a result of a joint effort on the part of the North Dakota Better Farming movement and the Commercial club of Fargo, there will be an automobile excursion to Fargo, May 29. It is expected about 200 farmers will make the trip to the North Dakota Agricultural college, where the visitors will be shown over the place and the results of the experiments now being conducted.

TRAGEDY DARKENS DICKINSON PICNIC.

Dickinson, N. D., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—A picnic of the fourth and the fifth school grades of the local schools was converted into a tragedy by the drowning of Adam Virag, 14 years old. He had been warned against going to the dam in the pasture where the picnic was held, but disregarded the injunctions of the teachers and went in. He sank quickly, and as it required more than an hour to recover his body, all efforts to resuscitate the youth failed.

CROOKSTON ARMORY SITE.

Committee Has About Reached Decision in Matter.

Crookston, Minn., May 25.—Of the ten bids submitted for a new armory site in Crookston the joint committee from the city council and the Commercial club has practically eliminated all but two—the corner at Ash and Robert streets, offered for sale by the Scandia bank and Dr. Just for $5,000 and the property south of the Pure Food building on Broadway, which may be purchased for $2,600.

While no definite action was taken looking to a formal recommendation as to a choice of sites, the opinion prevailed that if the price were right and enough additional property could be acquired to comply with the requirements as to space for an armory the Ash and Robert street corner would be suitable.

BAUDETTE MAN TYPHOID VICTIM.

Baudette, Minn., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Adolph Swantie Johnson died Saturday afternoon after an illness of but a few days. He had been suffering with walking typhoid for the past month, but was at his usual duties at the store of his brother, F. E. Johnson, until two days ago. He was born at Carlsburg, Sweden, thirty-seven years ago. Deputy Coroner F. E. Johnson is the only living brother. The funeral was held this afternoon from the Lutheran church at 2:30, Rev. Annestad officiating.

DESPONDENT DANE COMMITS SUICIDE.

Coulee, N. D., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Despondent because of a long illness and homesick for his native land, C. Hanson suicided here at the home of his daughter. He came from Denmark two years ago at the age of 74 to make his home with Mrs. Wilson, a daughter, and missed his old associates and the companions and customs of his former home. For several weeks he had been seriously ill. During the temporary absence of his daughter he crawled from the bed into another room and secured a rifle. Tieing this to his bed, he shot himself.

DISTRICT NOT DIVIDED.

United Lutheran League to Continue as One District.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual convention of the Park River and Grand Forks districts, Young Peoples' league of the United Lutheran church, closed here last evening.

One of the important actions taken by the convention was the refusal to divide the two districts, which have, for some time, been operating under a single organization.

Yesterday was given over to several big union gatherings, in one of which a chorus of nearly 200 participated.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Washburn—Carl Lindstrom has received two carloads of young cattle which he will grass-feed during the summer and in the fall ship them to the markets.

Madison—Willitz Pollock, Milwaukee, a senior in the university, has taken first prize of $250 in the Harris political science contest, his subject being the relation between the state and city government. His thesis was entitled "Municipal Home Rule and the Wisconsin State Commissions." The contest was limited to Middle West colleges and universities, and about forty theses were submitted.

Washburn—Hans Moen has been here from Duluth looking after his property and visiting with old friends. He is living at West Duluth now and has a position as motorman for the street railway company.

Monroe—Twelve dollars and fifty cents a pound for a prize Holstein bull was the price paid by Fritz Karlen of this city. The animal's weight is estimated at about 1,200 pounds, which figures a total of $15,000.

La Crosse—An iron vein, twenty feet below the surface and 100 feet through, has been discovered on the farm of Toief Anderson, near Victory, Wis.

Ashland—M. F. Fenenga, for fifteen years president of the Northland college here, who has resigned, will engage in educational work in Oregon this fall.

Milwaukee — Former Alderman Thomas J. Casey, saloon keeper, was arrested and released on $800 bail on a charge of grand larceny upon complaint of Henry J. Schwanbeck, Loomis road farmer. It is alleged that Casey was implicated in the theft of a horse valued at $250 last January.

Baraboo—Joe Hooker Post No. 9, G. A. R., has brought out Walter O. Pietzsch for senior vice commander of Wisconsin. The election will be held at the encampment at Madison next month.

Manitowoc—Setting aside a judgment of 6 cents awarded by the Winnebago circuit court, the supreme court has given the Sixta Land company an award of $12,309 against the Ontonagon Valley Land company. The case involved a claim for damages on options.

La Crosse—The annual meeting of group 7 of the Wisconsin Bankers' association will be held here on June 3. The chief topic will be, "Should Bankers Mix in Politics."

Fond du Lac—A double funeral Sunday marked the last rites and a double grave the last resting place of Mr. and Mrs. John Kuhnz, aged 77 and 83 years respectively.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Hancock—A valuable full bred fox terrier owned by Major Donahue of East Hancock died as a result of poison which the dog received the last week.

Houghton—The funeral of the late Adolph Haas, who died Monday, was held Friday from St. Ignatius church. Rev. Dr. Reczek officiated in a requiem high mass. The remains were interred in Forest Hill cemetery.

Calumet—Prof. Leo M. Geismar, Houghton county's agricultural expert, came here and directed the planting of 300 trees, at the new Elm street park and playground.

Hancock—The alumni of the high school elected these officers: President, Elmer Paul; vice president, Miss Florence Funkey; secretary, Miss Lillian Scott; treasurer, Ellery Arls.

Ishpeming—The body of Mrs. George Connibear, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williams, Pine street, was brought here from Superior, Wis., where she died Wednesday, and buried here. Mrs. Connibear was married here six years ago.

Calumet—John C. Marley, aged 59, master mechanic at the White Pine mine, Ontonagon county, died Wednesday at the Calumet & Hecla hospital. The remains were sent to Ontonagon for burial. Mr. Marley was a native of Indiana. He was a Mason.

Ishpeming—For a period of five minutes on Memorial day, from 11:55 o'clock to noon, all bells in Ishpeming and Negaunee will be tolled out of respect for the nation's honored dead. During the morning flags in both cities will fly at half-mast, but at noon they will be hoisted to full-mast.

Manistique—Although the taxpayers have expressed their approval of bonding the town in order to purchase the railroad line connecting Garden with Cook it is doubtful whether their wishes will be realized. The amount of money needed is said to be in excess of the amount the township is permitted to raise.

Petoskey—Local Elks are making all necessary preparations to accommodate the large crowds which are expected at the tenth annual Elks' convention June 23-25. Among other plans which the Petoskey lodge has arranged is a number of prizes to be awarded at the convention.

Hancock—Dave McVey, better known as "Daddy" to the people of Hancock, is confined to his room with an attack of paralysis. He has not been on the job with his cart and broom on Quincy street for the past few days and his absence has caused many to make inquiries as to his whereabouts.

Houghton—C. K. Berry of Marshalltown, Iowa, has reached Houghton to take up the proposition of interesting local business in the co-operative delivery plan.

Calumet—Suit has been started by Mrs. Herman Harri of Calumet, against the New York Life Insurance company and the Northwestern Mutual Insurance company of Milwaukee to collect the value of insurance policies held by Herman Harri, $1,000 with the first mentioned company and $2,000 with the latter. Harri has been missing seven years.

Hancock—Jerry Crowley, aged 46, a former resident of Hancock, died Friday at the state hospital at Newberry. The remains arrived here and were taken to the home of Mrs. Zephriam Croteau of Pine street, where the funeral was held.

Negaunee—Teddy Merten, a son of J. A. Merten, who formerly kept a plumbing shop in this city, was injured while crossing a street at Oshkosh, Wis., last Tuesday afternoon. He was run over by an automobile.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Dickey, N. D.—Walter Payton shipped a carload of stock to South St. Paul on Tuesday. This makes the eighth carload that Walter has shipped since the first of January, showing that the farmers in this vicinity are doing considerable stock raising.

Valley City, N. D.—Arrangements are being made for Children's day exercises at the Epworth Methodist church, which will be held on the second Sunday in June.

Osnabnock, N. D.—James McDowell, an old settler of Harvey Center, died last Monday at the age of 72 years. Mr. McDowell was well known throughout a large part of the county and was highly respected.

The Herald Sporting Gossip Is Reliable

Just Between You and Me

By BRUCE

STANISLAUS ZBYSZKO is a trifle stale. It must be so—Jack Herman has admitted it, and when the pilot of the huge Pole will bring himself to the point of admitting that the recently crowned champion wrestler of the world is not in the best of condition, there are broad and firm grounds for taking the statement with more than the usual basis of belief back of a sporting statement.

It is because of the fact that Zbyszko is stale that J. H. Herman insisted upon the postponement of the world's titular bout that was originally scheduled for Duluth for next Friday evening. The insistence of Manager Herman was unfeigned, for he wired Tilton Lewis, the promoter, that he would gladly incur all of the expenses that the promoter had undergone rather than allow the match to be wrestled on the original date.

After keeping the wires between Duluth and Montreal, Canada, hot for all of the greater part of Saturday Promoter Lewis agreed to the postponement until June 8, when the Pole, rested up and refreshed from the strenuous grind he has been under, will wrestle his final contest upon this side of the pond this season. Perhaps Manager Herman bears in mind the fact that Zbyszko has lost two falls this season—something unprecedented in the wrestling career of the mastodonic Pole. Americus beat Zbyszko the first fall in convincing fashion, and it is doubtless this fact, and the further fact that Zbyszko has been wrestling continuously that led Herman to ask for a postponement in order that the departing Zbyszko will be absolutely right the evening he opposes the huge Swede of Des Moines.

Back to the Beat.

IF one is in the habit of speculating upon the ups and downs of the characters of sporting life, then one will muse for the moment at least over the future doings of Fred Fulton, recent white hope and more recent busted possibility.

Like the wheat market and some poets, Fulton existed for what the future might bring. His past was barren of results; his future was filled with the golden promise of illustrious deeds of hempen endeavor.

At this interesting juncture of the ring chronicle of Policeman Fred along comes the rejuvenated Al Palzer and rudely pricks the soaring balloon of Fulton's aspirations. Being a policeman is not the most interesting thing in the world, but the municipality pays regularly as a rule.

A white hope is a beautiful human structure to gaze upon before he is beaten, as his size lends itself readily to the belief that one so large could lick a roomful of ordinary occupants. After the hope is beaten one is reminded strangely and suddenly of the sage observation of ancient Robert Fitzsimmons, albeit, "The larger they are the harder they fall."

The Shattered Hopes.

SNOWY BAKER and others of his enthusiastic ilk held aloft hands of patriotic pride and cried resonantly that all the world might hear that the land of the antipodes held two of the coming champion pugilists of the world, and notwithstanding the well established fact that the world is a large place occupied by many humans, the enthusiastic words and lavish praise of Snowy Baker and others were generally believed.

Pal Brown journeyed over to the Never Never land and inserted a severe pugilistic crimp in the aspirations of Hughey Mehegan, who was touted as the coming champion lightweight of the world and the lad who was destined by the kismet of pugilistic factors to meet and vanquish the financial monarch, Willie Ritchie.

So sure were some of the sporting gents of Australia of the greatness of Mehegan and so set was the purpose to bring about a meeting with Ritchie, that negotiations were entered into to that effect.

But alas and alack the plans of mice and men are at times grievously miscalculated. Milburn Saylor, the Indianapolis youth of rather lowly and unpretentious aims in the land of swat, makes the trip to the other side of the world and knocks the Mehegan gent into the land of oblivion. Thus do we see the plans of promoters at one fell swoop, literally speaking, set in the decadent sense of the might have been.

There is but the illustrious pugilistic past to comfort the sporting gentlemen of the land where nature reverses herself. Jackson, Fitzsimmons, Creedon, Griffo, Trackey and a score of others invaded these shores and carved their names upon the impregnable rocks of achievement, and these deeds of the past must serve to blot out the punk deeds of the present mediocre crop of pugilists that have blossomed forth.

The Smiling Ritchie.

WILLIE RITCHIE and Charles White are to fight at Milwaukee Tuesday evening. Mr. Ritchie is to receive 50 per cent of the gross receipts. Mr. White is to receive 22½ per cent of the gross receipts. Looking upon the affair from an impartial standpoint we are of the opinion that the promoters will receive a severe headache.

A Good Suggestion.

JOHN McGRAW used to carry a funny man along with his team to keep the minds of the players off of baseball. The Boston Nationals don't need this kind of a diversion as the minds of the players are never on the game.

The Dear Old Dad.

THE recent championship golf matches were played in England at a place called Sandwich, which fact suggests the remark that our American players did not even get a bite.

Some admirer of the Chicago National league team sent a live bear cub as a mascot. From the present standing of the team it would appear that there were several dead Cubs on the club.

RANGE TEAM WINS EASILY

Woodlands Lose to Hibbing By the Score of 11 to 5.

The Hibbing aggregation defeated the Woodlands in a one-sided baseball game at Athletic park yesterday by the score of 11 to 5. Hughes and Hahn were the mound workers for the Duluth team and were touched up fairly hard. Errors upon the part of the Woodlands figured largely in the win of the range team, the misplays of the locals being costly.

Cold weather prevented the players of either team showing at their best. Some fast playing stood out in bold relief to the general average of playing, Arnie Olson at short proving one of the features of the game by giving a fine fielding exhibition.

The veteran Grady was the hill worker for the visitors and pitched a fairly nice game. Errors upon the part of the visitors also figured in the scoring.

BASEBALL HAS EXCELLENT WEEK

Full Schedules Played and Not Much of a Shake-up in Standings Is Shown as Result—Some Desperate Playing Done in All Leagues.

New York, May 25.—Weather almost uniformly ideal for baseball enabled major league teams last week, for the first time this season, to clean up their schedules. Not a single postponement was marked on the card, and the process of rolling up double-headers which had gone on through the belated and stormy spring, was brought to a sudden halt.

The fifty-one games played in the two leagues resulted in no notable shakeup of the clubs, but nevertheless brought about some interesting changes.

The National league champions, after sailing triumphantly through the Pittsburg series, ran into equally weather in both Cincinnati and St. Louis. Mathewson and Tesrau, with well-pitched games, saved something for McGraw against the Reds and the sudden recovery of the supposedly invalided Marquard gave them one game in St. Louis. Pittsburg, recovering rapidly from the effects of its three straight defeats at the hands of the Giants, regained lost ground rapidly.

The two defeats by New York was the only break of the week in Cincinnati's string of recent victories. Herzog has at last developed Leon James into a consistently winning star, and last week the former New York twirler pitched his team into no less than three victories.

The Cardinals, too, have been surprising the home folks by their fine showing, and withing the last few days, they have forced their way into the first division, displacing the Brooklyns who dropped to fifth place. The Philadelphias sank to the next to last notch in the standing, Chicago moving up by improved all-around work. Boston struck its gait at last, and put in the best week of the season.

Ban Johnson's Bunch.

In the American league, the clubs have been having an equally uneven time of it. The Tigers now hold first place by a considerably lessened marging, having been able to save just one game out of the Boston series of four and capturing only one in three from Philadelphia. The injury to Ty Cobb has handicapped Jennings' men severely.

The Mackmen dropped three games in a row last week for the first time since the first week of the season, but successfully held up against the Detroits. The Washingtons are getting their customary good pitching and moved up past the Philadelphias. New York held its own in the playing period, and while the St. Louis Browns found harder going at the opening of their trip, they made an even break.

Of the other clubs, Boston was the only one to make headway, claiming for the first time a share in first division honors.

Baltimore's team furnished the feature of the Federal race by its "last ditch" fight against Chicago. Tinker's men, landing in Baltimore only three and a half games behind the Terrapins, were confident the series would end in putting them within striking distance of the lead, but Knabe's players upset their hopes by winning all three games of the series.

WALTER JOHNSON AFTER THE COIN

Will Sign With Highest Bidder After This Season.

Washington, May 25.—"I will pitch for the team that offers me the most money said Walter Johnson, premier pitcher of the Washington Americans, here last night after a conference with Joe Tinker, manager of the Chicago Federals.

"I am not going to sign any contract for 1915," he added, "until my contract with Washington expires. Then the manager who offers the best contract will get my services."

Johnson was asked if that meant he would pitch in the Federal league, provided a contract to his liking were offered.

"It means anywhere on earth," he replied.

BEATING HUNDRED MILES AN HOUR.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 25.—Twenty-two of the forty-five racing automobiles entered for the 500-mile race here next Saturday appeared on the Speedway course yesterday afternoon and several did better than 100 miles an hour. Mollot, driving a French car, was timed at 107 miles an hour and circled the 2½-mile track in 1 minute 36 seconds.

An opportunity to qualify for the race will be given any of the drivers who care to make the test today. This will start the elimination trials which will continue through Tuesday and Wednesday. On Thursday all of the drivers will be given an opportunity for final practice runs and the track will be closed so it can be cleaned on Friday.

REFUSE JUMPERS, SAYS FARRELL

National Association of Baseball Announces War Attitude.

CUP DEFENDERS NEED BOLSTERING

Polo Team Beaten By Miscellaneous Four Most Decisively.

Hempstead, N. Y., May 25.—That the international polo team which will uphold America's honors will have to be improved to a marked extent was indicated on the estate of John H. Phipps at Westbury when a tryout match was played with Lawrence Waterbury at No. 1; J. M. Waterbury, No. 2; Foxhall P. Keene, No. 3, and Devereaux Milburn, back. They played a fast four, composed of Charles Cary Rumsey, No. 1; Rene La Montagne of the Rockaway Hunt club, No. 2; Malcolm Stevenson, No. 3, and Henry C. Phipps, one of the international candidates, back.

This team beat the cup defendants by a total score of 11¾ goals to 5, which is the most decisive defeat they have yet met. That a radical change will be made is apparent.

Will Play in France.

New York, May 25.—Twenty-nine golfers have signed their intention to compete for the French amateur championship when the entries closed yesterday. Play in the preliminary round will begin Tuesday on the links of the Societe De La Boulie, Versailles. The course, thirty-six holes, will be started Thursday. Fifteen of the thirty-nine entrants are Americans, two Australians, two Frenchmen and the remainder Englishmen, Scotchmen and Irishmen.

Blancke Holds Virginia to Three Hits and Wins 9 to 3.

Batting Rally in the Eighth Round Piles Up Six Runs.

Virginia, Minn., May 25.—Duluth defeated the locals by the count of 9 to 3 through the effective hurling of Blancke. The visiting twirler held the Ore Diggers to three hits and but for errors and his own lack of control would have held Virginia scoreless. Brackett hit for the circuit in the second with Blancke on the hassocks, and in the eight two singles, a double, an error and two bases on balls and a single gave the visitors six runs and cinched the game.

The White Sox lost the final game of the Superior series at Hislop park on Saturday afternoon by the score of 7 to 6. Leahy started the game and gave way to Cunningham, who in turn was succeeded on the mound by Henry Clay Blancke. With three men on the bases in the ninth and two gone, Anderson singled and the winning run was shoved over the plate.

Brannon started the game for Superior and gave way to Cummings. Collins, a new player, made his first appearance with the Sox, playing first base in place of McGuff.

MANY WOMEN GOLFERS.

Begin Big Tournament at South Orange for Title.

South Orange, N. J., May 25.—Eighty-four women golfers, including Miss Marion Hollins of Westbrook, Long Island, the titleholder, and two former champions, Miss Lillian B. Hyde, South shore, Long Island, and Miss Georgianna Bishop, Brooklawn, Conn., gathered here today for play in the women's metropolitan championship golf tournament on the links of the Essex Country club.

The weather was in every way conducive to good scoring when the entrants in pairs started at intervals of five minutes, for the qualifying round of 18 holes medal play.

CHANGES IN THE CREWS

Ten Eyck Shifts Junior Eight and Two Bantam Fours.

Coach Ten Eyck has made some shifts in his junior eight and bantam crews. The senior eight and senior four crews are unchanged, with the exception that Quimby has been moved in number 5 seat and Bessenboschel has been shifted to 3.

The other evening the junior eight and senior four were sent over the course and the four won out by something over a length, which indicates that the four holding the intermediate and national senior championship of the United States is rounding into form and is showing the old time speed.

Jimmy declared today that the senior four and senior eight were beginning to show speed and that from now on until the date of the Northwestern at Kenora he expected to crowd on the work and get increased speed and finish out of his men.

So far this season the weather has been with the training of the men. There have been but three days since the crew candidates took to the water that work was prevented. As a consequence the latter part of May finds the oarsmen in very good shape.

It was announced today that James E. Ten Eyck has resigned from the secretaryship of the club.

Following is the present changed lineup of the junior eight, the two bantam fours and the barge crew:

Junior eight—Stanley, stroke; Whiteside, 7; Williams, 6; Meyer, 5; Hargraves, 4; Sperry, 3; Arneson, 2; Forrestal, bow.

Bantam four, No. 1 — McQuade, stroke; Hagberg, 3; Hall, 2; Vincent, bow.

Bantam four, No. 2—Forsell, stroke; Synder, 3; Prudden, 2; Surburton, bow.

Barge eight—Nelson, stroke; Rossman, 7; Broeker, 6; Palleen, 5; Haley, 4; Johnson, 3; Roliand, 2; Kramer, bow.

Massachusetts Tennis Pair Score Remarkable Record at Tuxedo.

Tuxedo, N. Y., May 25.—Three matches were decided yesterday in finishing the round robin tennis tournament at doubles at the Tuxedo Racquet and Tennis club. N. W. Niles and A. S. Dabney, the Massachusetts pair, won their final, which closed their series with a straight line of victories. In the last match, Niles and Dabney beat W. A. Larned and E. P. Larned 9-7, 6-0. Niles and Dabney throughout the tournament did not lose a set.

T. A. Pell, ex-national indoor champion, and his partner, B. S. Prentice, the old Harvard star, won the second honors of the tournament. They lost only one match and that to Niles and Dabney.

The Juten Shoe club baseball team yesterday defeated the Arnolds by the score of 9 to 3. Clark for the shoe dealers allowed but four hits. Clark and Jentoft worked in the battery points for the Jutens, and Johnson and Olson for the losers.

CLOTHIERS LOSE TO NEW DULUTH TEAM.

The New Duluth baseball team yesterday defeated the Big Duluth team by the score of 9 to 5. The game was played on the grounds of the former. The errors of the clothiers proved costly and counted in the run getting of the winning team. The cold weather made playing difficult and accounted for some of the poor handling of the ball.

OBLIGING.

New York Globe: A teacher in a tenement district hurried from the school to find the mother of a pupil who had been taken ill.

"Can you show me where Mrs. Angelo Scandle lives?" she inquired of a cherub transplanted from the sunny south to a dark, sunless alley.

"Yes, teach', I show you," and a willing, sticky hand dragged her on with such speed as to make her stumble over an Italian dame seated on the threshold.

After the teacher's breathless flight towards the clouds the little hand stopped tugging.

"There where Mees Scandale live," indicated the horizontal arm and finger, "but she downstair sitting on the step," finished the smiling lips.

FATAL FIGHT; ONE KILLED

Shooting Takes Place Near Swan River Following Dance.

John Neva Shoots and Kills Anton Hakman—Is Arrested.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—A fight following a dance near Sago, four miles from Swan River Saturday night, resulted in John Neva shooting and killing Anton Hakman after the latter had badly wounded Torvo Korhonene. Neva was arrested and brought here while Korhonene is being treated at the home of a brother-in-law, Emil Eliason, living near Sago.

The principals in the affair are all Finn homesteaders. From what can be learned they were returning from a dance at Sago and were all more or less worse off for drink.

Neva Grabs Gun.

Korhonene and Hakman started to fight and Hakman is said to have shot Korhonene. This so angered Neva, who, he says, was very chummy with Korhonene that he grabbed the gun and shot Hakman dead.

A neighbor telephoned here and Deputy Sheriff Carson went to Swan River and easily arrested Neva, who made no resistance. County Attorney McOuat and Coroner Hursh went to Swan River and investigated the affair.

Neva, Korhonene and Hakman were all homesteaders of the Finnish settlement near Swan River. Neva is a man of about 30 and is unmarried. He was perfectly cool in telling his story to the officials and repeated the incidents of the shooting in the same manner to all questioners. The preliminary hearing will be set when County Attorney McOuat returns.

HIBBING MAY USE MOVIES IN SCHOOLS

Scheme to Adopt Motion Pictures in Class Room Proposed

Hibbing, Minn., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The pupils in the local schools may soon be taught with the "movies" if a plan prepared by Carl Thiel, a local photographer, is adopted.

For months Mr. Thiel has been working on a system that could be inaugurated in the schools with an exchange of educational and historical films. He has sent to France and to Germany for machines, securing the agency for the United States, and has finally discovered the apparatus that he is changing to suit the classroom. The German machine is favored because of its simplicity and safety.

Can Run That Film.

An electrical attachment that is Mr. Thiel's own idea is attached so that the instructor may at any time stop the film and lecture on the movement, the map or the flower that is shown on the screen without burning the film.

An audience has been arranged with the local school board for the near future when a film showing the fire drill at one of the Duluth schools will be shown and the advantage of the machine explained. Mr. Thiel has interviewed practically every school board in the state and all have agreed that if a machine could be found that was simple enough and cheap enough that the plan would be of great value in the educational world.

BUHL CLASS PLAY.

"Dan Cupid, Head Coach," Is Well Presented By the Seniors.

Buhl, Minn., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The presentation of "Dan Cupid, Head Coach," by the seniors of the local high school on Friday evening was witnessed by a large audience that was enthusiastic in its applause. Virginia, Minn., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Eight autoloads of local admirers left here this afternoon for Duluth to attend the Boyle banquet tonight at the St. Louis hotel.

TWO GET DIVORCES.

Virginia, Minn., May 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge Hughes in district court today granted two divorces, both on the grounds of desertion, the husbands in each case being plaintiffs as follows: R. A. Peers vs. Clara M. Peers; J. P. Truman vs. Sarah L. Truman.

CHEAPER WATER PLANT POSSIBLE

Hibbing, Minn., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Hibbing may be able to secure an adequate water supply without the expenditure of the $900,000 that it was estimated the construction of a plant and line to Sturgeon lake would cost.

Hearing of the difficulty that Hibbing was having in securing a water supply close at hand, Burns & McDonell, Kansas City consulting engineers made a little prospecting trip in this vicinity on their own account. They found water but it was not until they had called a Kansas well expert into consultation that they made their proposition.

Mining Men Investigating.

The mining companies were first invited to send their engineers to the vicinity of Leighton, where the supply would be procured, to look over the project. They declared it possible. The engineers are now investigating the systems that have been installed in other parts of the country by the same engineers and contractors.

The men agree to sink a chain of wells that will furnish Hibbing with 3,000,000 gallons a day and will furnish a twenty-year guarantee, promising that at the end of that time the same supply will be forthcoming.

The cost of this system is, according to the engineers, only $196,000, though members of the council assert that it will probably cost $250,000 in case it is adopted.

The decision of the engineers of the mining companies is awaited with interest for not until then will the council formally review the plan and decide what course to take.

GRICE'S SUCCESSOR.

Boston Minister Is Assigned to Virginia Charge.

Virginia, Minn., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rev. John E. Porter of Boston will succeed Rev. Thomas Grice as pastor of the Virginia Methodist church, to assume his duties on the first Sunday in June.

This was announced at the quarterly conference just held by Dr. M. P. Burns of Duluth, district superintendent. No addresses were made, but the reports for the quarter were received and approved of. The reports show a steady advancement made by the church. In the past year forty-two new members have been added and many improvements have been made on the local edifice, making it the finest Protestant church on the range north of Duluth.

Rev. Thomas Grice, retiring pastor, handed in his resignation, which was accepted by the members of the conference, who expressed regrets at his departure. He will leave for California June 1, but has not yet definitely decided where he will locate.

A resolution was offered and adopted unanimously expressing regret at his departure and paying him the highest respect as a pastor.

SUBJECTS ASSIGNED.

Themes to Be Discussed at Itasca County Development Meet.

Nashwauk, Minn., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—When the Itasca County Development association meets here next Friday the visitors will be welcomed by John C. Lewis of this village, who will also discuss "What the Voters of Itasca County Can Do to Attract Settlers."

Other subjects assigned are: "Itasca County's Road-Building Program," County Auditor M. A. Spang of Grand Rapids; discussion led by Alex King of Coleraine.

"Land Clearing," Supt. A. J. McGuire of the state experiment farm, Grand Rapids.

"Intensive Farming, or What Can Be Done With Two Acres," A. P. Silliman of Hibbing.

County publicity: (a) "Our County Exhibits at State and County Fairs," A. M. Sisler of La Prairie;" (b) "Publicity and Printer's Ink," E. C. Kiley of Grand Rapids.

At the business meeting delegates will be selected to attend the Northern Minnesota Development association at Thief River Falls, June 3, 4 and 5. Officers of the County Development association will be elected and the place for holding the next meeting decided.

The Nashwauk Commercial club will arrange for all in attendance to take dinner together at 5 o'clock. This will give ample time to take the evening train for the return trip.

ORE SHIPPING GETS LIVELIER

More Ore Than Anticipated Is Leaving Two Harbors Docks.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Last week business was lively in the ore shipments from this port. Approximately 170,000 tons have been shipped and despite earlier predictions to the contrary, business is almost normal. Twenty regular crews were placed on the ore board and this gives employment to about 100 men on the railroad. While business is not as good as it was last year at this time, nevertheless, it has passed all early predictions.

Boats That Cleared.

Monday—I. L. Ellwood, Barge Malda.

Tuesday—Palmer, Monaloa, Gary, Monroe.

Wednesday—Olcott, Dinkey.

Thursday—Rensselaer, Carrington.

GIVE FINE SAMPLE OF FIRST AID WORK

Virginia, Minn., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first aid demonstration given at one of the parks here Sunday was one of the most unique affairs of the kind ever seen on the mining ranges and demonstrated how much the mining companies are doing to prepare their employes for emergencies in cases of accidents. The present visit to this range of the government mines' rescue car has given the work a big boost.

Mining Men Present.

There were about 150 mining men and employes present yesterday, mining superintendents, captains and other officials as well as employes from the Oliver, the Pickands-Mather, the Republic Iron & Steel, the Keewatin and other companies attending and many taking part.

The first aid demonstration was remarkably clever and won applause.

The handling of cases where smoke and fire play an important part was demonstrated by the use of large canvas bags to represent mine drifts.

A committee of doctors consisting of Doctors Werick and Blacklock of Hibbing, Kirk of Chisholm, Brown of Bovey, Horspick of Ishl and Mahlmgren and Ewens of Virginia, acted as judges and made the awards.

HIBBING EXERCISES.

Annual Graduation Doings Will Begin on June 12.

Hibbing, Minn., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual graduation exercises of the local high school will begin Friday, June 12, with the class exercises.

On Sunday morning, June 14, at 8 o'clock, Rev. Sears Thomson will deliver the baccalaureate sermon of the Presbyterian church.

Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock will be parents' night, when a program and exhibit will be given at the schools, showing the work that has been done during the year.

Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock the grammar grades will present a cantata, "The Pied Piper of Hamlin."

The commencement exercises will be held Thursday evening at 8 o'clock with the address given by Dean George F. James of the school of education of the University of Minnesota.

DEER RIVER SCHOOLS.

Annual Graduating Exercises Being Held This Week.

Deer River, Minn., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The present term of school closing this week has been one of the most successful in the history of the district, and to commemorate the achievements a number of programs have been arranged. Thursday night the senior class play was given before a large house at the Electric theater, the title of the play being "Mr. Bob," and the characters numbered ten high school students.

The baccalaureate sermon was delivered by Rev. John Blackhurst at the Methodist church Sunday evening.

This evening the class day exercises will be held at the Methodist church, and a lengthy program is assured, each one of the graduates and each of the junior class being down for a part.

On Tuesday evening at the church will be held the commencement exercises. The chief address will be made by Prof. A. V. Strom of the University of Minnesota.

On Wednesday afternoon the grade pupils will hold their closing exercises at the Lyceum theater, and on Thursday evening the eighth grade pupils will hold their exercises.

Following are the high school graduates: Arthur Baker, Helen Blackhurst, Anna Johnson, Gladys Olson, Dora Seaman, Melissa Baker, Marie Inscho, Edna Olson, Naomi Persons and Leland Seaman.

Quick Relief When Utterly Worn Out

Getting the Blood in Order Is Required By Most People.

If you think you have gone to smash and fit only for the discard, try S. S. S. for the blood. It will surprise you to know what can be done for health once the blood is released of the excess of body wastes that keep it from exercising its full measure of bodily repair.

If you feel played out, go to any drug store and ask for a bottle of S. S. S. Here is a remedy that gets at work in a twinkling; it just naturally rushes right into your blood, scatters germs right and left, up and down and sideways.

You feel better at once, not from a stimulant, not from the action of drugs, but from the rational effect of a natural medicine.

The ingredients in S. S. S. serve the active purpose of so stimulating the cellular tissues of the body that they pick out from the blood their own essential nutriment and thus repair work begins at once. The relief is general all over the system.

Do not neglect to get a bottle of S. S. S. today. It will make you feel better in just a few minutes. It is prepared only in the laboratory of The Swift Specific Co., 550 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Send for their free book telling of the many strange conditions that afflict the human family by reason of impoverished blood.

FARMERS' CLUB MEET.

Next Gathering of Grand Rapids Organization on June 16.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The next meeting of the Grand Rapids Farmers' club will be held on June 16, when the club members will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Personett at the A. L. La Frenlere farm, a mile and a half southeast of town. There will be a picnic supper as early as possible, after which the subjects will be discussed. A boat will be provided to ferry the people across from the Laprairie neighborhood.

George Sawyer, who prepared the program, announces that the subjects to be discussed will be "Fruit Production in This Section" and "The Eradication of Quack Grass."

The opening of the Ogema hotel at Pokegama lake, which is now under the management of Bert Weeks, will be held on May 30, Memorial day.

POTATOES POPULAR.

Tubers Raised in Grand Rapids Locality Wanted for Seed.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—This section is coming to the front as a potato country, not only by the excellence of its general potato crop, but as a seed potato center. This spring there has been an unprecedented demand for seed potatoes from the local market from all parts of the country. One large order was received from a farmers' club in Wisconsin, where the farmers are improving their potatoes and raising a standard variety, getting the Carmens from local farms. Among those who supplied the largest part of these seed potatoes were the state farm and A. M. Sisler, Mr. Sisler selling some 700 bushels. These potatoes all brought more than 50 per cent more than the regular market price.

CHISHOLMS WIN.

Defeat Eveleth on Home Grounds By Score of 17 to 1.

Chisholm, Minn., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—A large crowd yesterday afternoon watched the locals defeat the Eveleth boys, 17 to 1. Eveleth changed pitchers but to no avail. The locals found Monroe and Reed with the same effectiveness. Mahan for the locals was given fine support which pulled him out of some tight places. The Commercial band helped enthuse the fans.

Van Buskirk got a three-bagger; McCullah, Benton, Whaling, Clifford and Mahan were in the two-base hit column. Stolen bases were credited to Shanks and McCullah. Struck out by Mahan, 8; by Monroe 2, and by Reed 2. Bases on balls, off Mahan 2; off Monroe, 2; off Reed, 4.

A game with the Woodlands of Duluth will be played next Sunday. It is expected that a double date can be secured with this team for Memorial day which will be announced later in the week.

WINTON'S FIRST GAME.

Mayor Tosses First Ball and Two Harbors Is Beaten.

Winton, Minn., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Winton ball team opened the season here Sunday with Two Harbors, defeating them 7 to 5. Mayor Harry Stein threw the first ball. The game was listless throughout, both teams making numerous errors, but in spite of this, the contest was fast and exciting, and it was nobodys' game until the finish.

Bradley twirled for the locals, holding Two Harbors to eight hits and causing nine of the visitors to go out by the strike out method. Griffin of Two Harbors was on the mound, but was relieved in the seventh by Roberts. Winton secured seven hits, one being a home run by Jas. Campbell.

The score:	R.	H.
Two Harbors	2	8
Winton	7	7

Batteries—Winton, Bradley and Lambert; Two Harbors, Griffin, Roberts and McDonald.

HIBBING NOTES.

Hibbing, Minn., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. E. Murray has arrived from Los Angeles, Cal., to be foreman of this section of the Great Northern. John Larish, former section foreman, will leave tomorrow for the West, where he has several mining claims. Mr. Larish will be absent from this city for about a year.

John Sandstad has accepted a job in the mechanical department of the Mesaba Ore.

Next Wednesday evening at the First Presbyterian church preparatory communion services will be held instead of the regular midweek prayer meeting at 7:30 p. m.

Last Thursday evening Rev. Sears Thomson gave an illustrated lecture on New York city. A large crowd was present and $23 was realized. The proceeds were turned over to the John L. Alexander club, which will be used to defray expenses for their camping trips this summer.

CHISHOLM CONCERT.

Many Enjoy Graphophone Music at Public Library.

Chisholm, Minn., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The graphophone concert at the public library was enjoyed by the full seating capacity of the building Sunday afternoon. A program which was almed to please the masses was rendered.

The purpose of these concerts is to attract the people to the building and acquaint them with its many advantages.

Last evening the Swedish Temperance society held a meeting there. The Spanish American war veterans will use the library in the future for their meetings. A moving picture room will be put in use.

FEED THEIR HUSBANDS.

Chisholm Ladies' Club Entertains Spouses at Dinner.

Chisholm, Minn., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Saturday evening the Ladies' Art and Study club members gave a banquet to their husbands in the women's clubroom of the new library and covers were laid for forty.

A graphophone furnished music during the dinner, after which the program was given. Miss Nell Z. Peterson gave an address of welcome. Miss A. Bess Clark of the school faculty spoke on "Man" and Supt. J. P. Vaughn of the local schools on "Woman." Mrs. Frank L. Austin spoke on "Our Club." Edward Freeman spoke briefly on "Our Town" and Miss Margaret Palmer closed the evening on generalizing in reference to the club and library and its value in the community.

Next Saturday the club will hold its annual election of officers.

CHISHOLM CLASS PLAY.

Graduating Class to Present "The Maneuvers of Jane."

Chisholm, Minn., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Under the direction of Miss A. B. Clark, the senior class of the high school is rehearsing "The Maneuvers of Jane," to be presented during commencement with this cast:

SHOWS APPLIANCE ON CHISHOLM LAKE

Chisholm, Minn., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Puskanen's life saving appliance was given a try-out Sunday afternoon on Longyear lake. It was placed in the water shortly after 3 o'clock and Puskanen remained in it for a number of hours, proving its practicability. It resembles a small box into which he gets and is so arranged that it can remain floating indefinitely, no matter how rough the water or how difficult the launching. It immediately rights itself and as long as one remains within it he is perfectly safe

A rough surface made no difference with the handling of the life preserver, as a strong south wind was blowing. A large crowd of people watched the little vessel operate.

Gets Virginia Contract.

Virginia, Minn., May 25.—John S. Swanson of the electric shop has been awarded the contract for the installation of fifty white way lights and standards in the Olcott and South Side parks by the park board. His bid of $2,225 was the lowest. The standards have been ordered from the Marris company of New York and are expected to arrive here soon.

Dog Case Reversed.

Virginia, Minn., May 25.—The judgment for $100 that Judge Carey in municipal court awarded Mrs. R. Dahl against the Mesaba Electric railway for a dog killed by a trolley car, was lost by the plaintiff when the company appealed and a district court jury found for the defendant.

To Assist at Virginia.

Virginia, Minn., May 25.—Lieut. P. Liken of the Salvation Army Training college is assisting Adjt. Peers and Capt. Thapson for a few days. Her welcome meeting will be held Sunday evening, May 30, and the public is cordially invited to attend the services.

Ranier Depot Scorched.

Ranier, Minn., May 25.—The Canadian Northern depot here had a close call from being destroyed by fire Thursday, starting from the explosion of a lamp.

Reformed Presbyterian.

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 25.—A business session of the synod of the Reformed Presbyterian churches which was confined to scrutinizing financial reports from missionary districts began here today. The delegates were of the opinion that this could be ended late today and that the convention would then adjourn without any formal ceremonies.

WINTER WHEAT CROP.

Government Report Shows Condition Is Good Throughout Country.

Washington, May 25.—The winter wheat crop is in good condition throughout the country, according to the government report issued today. The average condition on May 1 was 91.4 per cent of a normal, as compared with 85.8 per cent on May 1, 1913, 78.2 per cent on May 1, 1912, and 88.3 per cent, the ten year average on May 1.

The condition of rye on May 1 was 93.1 per cent of a normal, as compared with 91.3 per cent on May 1, 1913, 90.4 per cent on May 1, 1912, and 92.9 per cent, the ten year average on May 1.

SOME KNOWN FACTS ABOUT RHEUMATISM

There are many things that are still unknown about rheumatism. The treatment of it is still far from satisfactory. Doctors realize this but nobody is more fully aware of it than the sufferers themselves.

A tendency to rheumatism once established, the pain often returns with every change of weather, showing that the poison is still in the blood awaiting favorable conditions to become active and cause trouble.

One fact is known and acknowledged by all medical writers and that is the rapid thinning of the blood when the rheumatic poison invades it. Building up the blood is the best remedy for rheumatism as the enriched blood is able to overcome or throw off the poisons of the disease. For this reason rheumatic sufferers should be interested in the success which Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have had in the treatment of this painful disease.

A book, "Building Up the Blood," will be sent free on request by The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. It contains directions regarding diet, baths and hygiene for rheumatic patients.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists everywhere.

HIGHER WAGE FOR RURAL TEACHERS

Superintendent Young Says Present Pay Is Inadequate.

A higher wage scale for rural school teachers is strongly favored by N. A. Young, county superintendent of schools. In the May number of the Rural School Bulletin, an official organ of the county superintendent's office, Supt. Young comments on the wage situation editorially as follows:

In the year 1912-13, the women who taught in the villages and cities of St. Louis county received an average monthly wage of $75.63 for a term of approximately ten months, whereas the rural school teachers received an average monthly wage of $64.15 for a term of approximately eight months. The wage of $64.15 per month in many instances covered not only teaching service, but janitor work as well. From the standpoint of salary alone, it seems reasonable that the majority of teachers would prefer to teach in the city. School authorities of the cities consequently are able to select the best for their schools, leaving the others for the rural districts.

"If the rural schools are to have equivalent teaching force, does it not stand to reason that they must pay equivalent salaries to those paid to city teachers?"

SCHOLARSHIP TO YALE UNIVERSITY

Lake Superior Alumni Will Raise Annual Fund for Deserving Student.

A free scholarship to Yale university will be available to a worthy Duluth young man within a short time, if plans which were discussed at the annual meeting of the Lake Superior Yale Alumni association Saturday evening at the Kitchi Gammi club materialize.

The association has pledged itself to provide an annual $400 scholarship for a worthy Duluth boy to be sent to Yale university. The details of the competition for the scholarship will be worked out later after a conference is held with the principals of the local high schools.

The meeting Saturday evening was attended by thirty-five members from the city, range towns and Cloquet. John A. Savage was elected president of the association for the ensuing year and the other officers chosen were: S. L. Coy, Cloquet, vice president; Fred H. Waldron, secretary; and Cavour Hartley, treasurer.

The joint annual Yale-Harvard banquet will be held next fall.

CREW OF TWENTY-FIVE SCOTCHMEN PERISH.

Halifax, N. S., May 25.—The battered hulk of the new lightship Halifax, No. 19, was found among the breakers on Liscomb island, five miles from the mainland, Saturday. She struck during the dense fog which has enshrouded the coast for several days, and, it is believed, her crew of twenty-five Scotchmen are lost. Six bodies bearing life belts were recovered by the steamer Dufferin. Both lifeboats, which the vessel carried, were also found. The ship was on her maiden voyage from her builders' yards at Paisley, Scotland, to take up her station off Sambro ledges near Halifax harbor. Capt. MacBeth and Chief Engineer McKenzie are the only members of the crew known here. The men were shipped in Glasgow.

ITCHING ECZEMA IS DRIED RIGHT UP WITH SULPHUR

Use Like Cold Cream to Subdue Irritation and Clear the Skin.

Constant or intermittent irritation producing itching and red, angry Eczema patches on the skin is readily relieved with bold-sulphur cream. The moment it is applied the itching stops and the healing begins, says a noted dermatologist.

It effects such prompt relief, even in aggravated Eczema that it is a never ending source of amazement to physicians.

For many years bold-sulphur cream has occupied a secure position in the treatment of cutaneous eruptions by reason of its cooling, parasite-destroying properties. It is not only parasiticidal but also antipruritic and antiseptic and nothing has ever been found to take its place in overcoming irritable and inflammatory affections of the skin. While not always establishing a permanent cure, yet in every instance it instantly stops the agonizing itching; subdues the irritation and heals the inflamed raw skin right up and it is often years later before any Eczema eruption again appears.

Those troubled should get from any pharmacist an ounce of bold-sulphur cream and apply it directly upon the affected skin like you would any ordinary cold cream. It isn't unpleasant and the prompt relief afforded is very welcome, particularly when the Eczema is accompanied with itching.

CROP NEWS BEARS WHEAT

Market Is Slightly Off With Good Reports From Southwest.

Flaxseed Closes Slightly Higher on Liverpool Buying Near Close.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 25.—The market was steady up to the close. May wheat closed ¼c off; July ¼c off and September ⅜c off. May durum closed ⅜c off and July ⅜c off.

Oats closed ¼c up at 39¾c on the track and at 39¼c to arrive. Rye closed unchanged at 59½@61c and barley unchanged at 55@59c for choice grain.

Puts on Minneapolis July wheat closed at 92c and calls at 92⅜c asked.

Wheat was inclined to weakness on all the American markets today and fractional declines were recorded during the first three hours trading. This was attributable to less persistent Hessian fly reports from over the Southwest, and the splendid crop conditions through the Northwest. Liverpool cables were also off on liberal world's shipments this week and freer offerings of Manitobas. The market was out of line, and export inquiry was reported quiet.

The American visible supply report showed a moderate decrease of 1,432,000 bu for the week, bringing stocks down to only 31,662,000 bu, as compared with 40,063,000 bu last year. The lightness of present supplies is regarded a bullish factor by operators, it being taken for granted that they will be exhausted before the new crop is marketed. Supplies at Duluth up to last Saturday, including bonded wheat, were 5,589,000 bu, a decrease of just 96,070 bu in the week. From that, however, is to be deducted considerable stuff loaded out on steamers during the last couple or days, but not yet reported out of store.

Primary receipts today were 687,000 bu, just 15,000 bu more than a year ago. Inspections at Duluth were 51 cars against 78 last year. At Minneapolis receipts were 228 cars against 254 a year ago. There is still a heavy run of wheat at Chicago, due to the effort on the part of operators to cover their outstanding May contracts. Arrivals there today were 127 cars against 20 a year ago. The market at Winnipeg was closed, it being Victoria day.

July wheat opened unchanged at 94¾c, and declined ⅜c up to the final hour. The September option opened unchanged at 89¾c and also weakened ⅜c. July durum opened ¼c off at 89¾c and held at around that basis.

Flax Up at Close.

With the Winnipeg market closed for the day, trading in flaxseed was quiet and the price movements was only fractional. Closing prices were slightly up on good buying.

It was noted that holders of the seed are sitting tight in expectations of a decreased acreage being sown this season and the comparatively light stocks being carried.

The Buenos Aires market was closed it being a national holiday there. Antwerp closed unchanged and London unchanged.

May flax opened unchanged at $1.57 and closed ¼ up at $1.57¼ bid; July opened unchanged at $1.58¼ and closed ½c up at $1.58¾ and the October option closed ½c up at $1.58¼ bid.

Cash Sales Monday.

MARKET GOSSIP.

Ray E. Edmond, of Winnipeg was a visitor at the Duluth board of trade today. He averred that the crop outlook through the Canadian West is regarded as generally favorable. The crop is thought to be about as far advanced as a year ago with the early sown wheat looking well. So far as he could gather the wheat acreage up there this season has not been increased.

George Bury, vice president of the Canadian Pacific railroad, estimates that 2,000,000 additional acres will be placed under crop in the three Canadian Northwest provinces this season. He points out that, although 510,000,000 bu of grain was produced there last year, the ground had hardly been scratched relative to the area capable of being placed under crop.

Mr. Bury is now in New York making a special study of the electrification of railroads to aid him in electrifying the five-mile two-track tunnel now being bored by his road through the Selkirk mountains, British Columbia, at an estimated cost of $5,000,000.

Estimates given out on Saturday by the department of agriculture at Washington on the bumper wheat crop show that the total 1914 production of winter and spring wheat combined may reach 880,000,000 bu. This will be the result of a combination of the largest acreage ever recorded with the promise of the largest yield per acre in years. There is said to be not a single state in which the winter wheat prospect is unfavorable. The agricultural department is figuring that the spring wheat crop will be about 250,000,000 bu.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Steady American cables and the strength in Winnipeg Saturday, caused firmness at the opening here, and values were ½d higher. Following the opening there was profit-taking induced by the weakness in corn and liberal world's shipments, and prices declined ½d. There is a smaller inquiry for Manitobas and larger Indian and Russian offers. At 1:30 p. m., the undertone was easy ⅛d lower.

"Corn opened under realizing, ⅝@¾d lower and following the opening it further declined ⅛@⅜d with the undertone weak. At 1:30 p. m., the market was weak and prices 1d lower than Saturday with pressure in July."

Lecount wired Baker's Chicago correspondent from Topeka, Kas., as follows: "A small per cent of the wheat is badly affected by Hessian flay, but in general wheat is in splendid condition, and will make full crop if it fills well. The crop expected to be early and will need about twenty days more favorable weather to mature. Nearly all is headed now and the weather is favorable."

The Chicago Record-Herald says: "It was the impression among the closest observers of crop and market conditions that the leading longs had reduced their lines and that the shortage among local traders had increased. One of the sharpest traders said he considered the selling overdone on the break of 2@2½c from the recent top, and that caution should be used in making sales. Bulls on wheat expect to see higher prices for cash wheat in the Southwestern markets this week."

The flour market was fairly active today. Prices unchanged. Shipments, 46,000 bbl.

Barley, 43@57c; rye, 59½@61½c. bran, unchanged.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Strength in Wheat But the Trading Is Very Dull.

Chicago, May 25.—Perfect weather conditions for ripening the wheat crop which is now near to harvest in Oklahoma and Kansas, more than offset today unfavorable advices from other states, especially Missouri, Illinois and Indiana. Strength was maintained only in the May option, in which speculative trading had come nearly to a standstill. Most of the transactions were in the new crop deliveries. Prices opened ⅛c off to ⅝c up, and then suffered a material setback.

Auspicious tidings in regard to the progress of the spring crop emphasized the prevalent bearing feeling. There was an unsettled close, ¼@⅜c lower to ½c advance compared with Saturday night.

Argentine advices that promised an enlargement of exports had a weakening effect on corn prices here. Demand was of a scattering character. After opening ¼c to ½c lower, the market showed but little power to react.

Increased demand from industries brought about later a moderate rally. The close was nervous, varying from ⅜c down to ½c net advance.

Continued dry weather east of the Mississippi made oats relatively firm. Weakness of other grain, however, prevented the bulls from being aggressive.

Provisions declined with hogs. First sales were 2½c to 10c lower and there was no sign of any important rally.

Wheat—No. 2 red, 98@99c; No. 2 hard, 98½@99c; No. 2 northern, 97@98c; No. 2 spring, 97@98c.

NET CHANGES UNIMPORTANT

Stock Market Is Very Dull and the Close Is Heavy.

Brief Period of Activity Caused By Supreme Court Decision.

New York, May 25.—Little change from the dullness and irregularity of last week was shown by today's early stock market. Initial changes were nominal, the only stock to vary more than a very small fraction being Bethlehem Steel, which rose ¾. United States Steel and Amalgamated were slightly lower and the movement elsewhere was without especial feature. London's range of prices for our securities was mostly lower, and general news from abroad pointed to a continuance of recent restraining conditions.

Trading fell into a more pronounced rut later, the business of the first hour aggregating little more than 27,000 shares. The extreme narrowness of the movement may be judged from the fact that in just one instance—Reading—did any of the leaders fluctuate as much as half a point. Missouri Pacific again showed temporary weakness on fears regarding the outcome of the note extension plan. Of the several railroads whose affairs are said to be the subject of prospective Federal inquiry, Baltimore & Ohio alone was heavy. A rise of 2½ points in the Virginia debt certificates pointed to the possibility of some early decision by the supreme court. Bonds were irregular.

The market was partly awakened from its lethargy by the supreme court decision reversing the recent order of the interstate commerce commission respecting "tap lines," and though the summary of the decree was somewhat vague, it was accepted as favorable, if for no other contention of the complaining carriers. Otherwise the session was barren of developments. Stocks showed a tendency to recovery, but the relative activity and heaviness of bonds was a matter of comment.

The market closed heavy today. The brief periods of activity and better prices resulting from the supreme court decision soon gave way to a resumption of the early idleness. For the most part net changes were unimportant.

MUST FOLLOW NARROW PATH

Three West Duluth Boys Are Given Chance to Reform.

A straight and narrow path has been mapped out for Ernest Anderson, 20, Leonard Mattson, 20, and Clarence Flynn, 18, three West Duluth boys who stood before Judge Fesler of the district court this morning convicted by their own plea of the crime of burglary.

Judge Fesler continued their cases for sentence for an indefinite period and released the young men with the understanding that should they ever get into trouble of any kind again their chances of spending a few years in a reform school or penitentiary would be excellent.

The young men recently confessed to Lieut. C. E. Wilcox of the West Duluth department that they had broken into the confectionery store of C. G. Frost, 5119 Ramsey street, on the evening of Saturday, April 16, and stolen $23.18 from the cash register.

The boys were admonished to be careful of their conduct in the future and he assured them that the police in that end of the city would be ready at any time the court might order to pick them up and bring them before him to answer for any future misconduct. The boys have agreed to repay the money which was stolen.

CONTESTS FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN

Midway will be the scene of a potato growing and gardening contest inaugurated by the school board of district No. 7 this summer and prizes will be awarded the contestants at an exhibition to be held about Oct. 1 at the Midway Woodmen hall. All children of the district will be eligible to the contest.

The following prizes will be given: For the best bushel of Carmen No. 1 potatoes, $4; for the second best, $3; and $1 each for the three next best. Three prizes of $3, $2 and $1 will be awarded for the best display of garden vegetables other than potatoes. Prizes will also be offered for the best display of flowers.

The board has also arranged to give a prize for the best essay of 300 words or more on "Farming at Midway." A spelling contest and cake baking contest will also feature the exhibition day.

MEMORIAL DAY WILL BE OBSERVED

Memorial day will be fittingly celebrated in West Duluth.

Nearly every merchant in this end of the city has announced his intention of closing shop during the day.

On Friday special exercises commemorating the day will be held at each of the West Duluth school buildings. In each of these schools the program will begin sharply at 2 o'clock. Parents and all friends of the school children are invited to attend. Grand Army veterans, Spanish war veterans and members of the Citizens' Staff will speak at these institutions during the afternoon.

The merchants who have planned to close all day Decoration day intend keeping their stores open until a late hour Friday evening. Only perishable goods, vegetables and meats, ordered for Saturday and Sunday will be sent out on an early morning delivery by the larger grocery and meat dealers on Saturday morning.

OIL POURED ON DUSTY STREETS

Although the works division has not yet received a report of the analysis of the sample of road oil forwarded to Chicago, some of it has been placed on some of the streets. They were so dusty that it was felt that something had to be done to remedy conditions and as the oil was the only thing available, part of the shipment of 20,000 gallons was used.

The officials state that it penetrates rapidly and does not appear to have the "body" of the oil which was used last season. If it is not up to specifications, which call for 40 per cent asphaltum as one requirement, the contract will be cancelled. The order placed with the pure oil company calls for about 140,000 gallons, at 4.43 cents per gallon. Since the bids were received the cost of crude oil has gone down, so that if another order has to be placed a better price could be secured.

ARTICLE ON DULUTH.

City Is Lauded in Eastern Real Estate Magazine.

In the Real Estate Magazine, published in New York, in its latest issue, is an illustrated article on Duluth, her achievements and her probable growth. The article was written by George D. McCarthy, assistant secretary of the Duluth Commercial club, and is one of several which the same magazine has carried.

The Real Estate Magazine is one of the leading ones of its kind in the country and has a circulation among investors which makes the article of more than ordinary value. The illustrations consist of various views of the city and the pictures of Whitney Wall, W. M. Prindle, James Cromwell, John A. Stephenson and Mr. McCarthy also appear. The article is published in connection with the news of the coming convention of the National Association of Building Managers and Owners, to be held here July 14-17, inclusive.

DULUTH ORDERLY CITY.

No Arrests Made on Sunday By Local Police.

For the first time in the last eighteen months, not a single arrest was made by the police during Sunday.

The blotter at police headquarters, which was started at 7 o'clock Sunday morning, ending at 7 o'clock this morning, was blank when filed away this morning by Secretary Connelly.

According to the older officers at police headquarters, about five or six similar Sundays have been recorded, but not during the last eighteen months.

MEMORIAL DAY PLANS

Parade Will Be Followed By Meetings at Auditorium and Orpheum.

Graves Will Be Decorated in Afternoon—Services on Gopher.

Complete arrangements for the Memorial day parade, the exercises at the Auditorium and Orpheum theater at 10:30 o'clock, the banquet in Memorial hall, and the services in honor of the sailor dead on board the U. S. S. Gopher at 3 o'clock, have already been made by the officers of the Citizens' staff, and the program for the annual exercises was announced this morning by C. S. Prosser, president of the Citizens' staff.

The exercises for the day will begin with the parade and the programs at 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning at the Auditorium for the G. A. R. veterans, Spanish war veterans, the auxiliary organizations and members of the Citizens' staff, and one at the Orpheum theater for the children of the various schools participating. The latter will also begin at 10:30 o'clock and will be in charge of T. F. Upham, vice president of the Citizens' staff. He will be assisted by Norman McLeod, secretary of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. There will be several songs and recitations by the children and an address by Mr. Upham.

At the Auditorium the program will open with a selection by the G. A. R. drum corps. C. S. Prosser will introduce Mayor Prince as the presiding officer and the latter will make an address. Rev. W. W. Lawrence of the Glen Avon Presbyterian church will give the invocation. The musical numbers will be furnished by the Svea Glee club, which will render "The Star Spangled Banner" and "America" as part of its program.

M. H. Boutell, a prominent attorney of Minneapolis, will deliver the Memorial day address. Mr. Prosser received a telegram from the former this morning to the effect that he will be here and deliver the oration. A reading will be given by Miss Laura Frankenfield, her subject being "Immortality of True Patriotism," by James A. Garfield. Lincoln's Gettysburg address will be delivered by Abbott Mac Washburn.

Annual Roll Call.

Following the program of addresses and musical numbers, the annual roll call will be given for Culver and Gorman posts, G. A. R., Sons of Veterans and the MacEwen and Diggles camps, Spanish War Veterans. The benediction will be pronounced by Rev. Charles R. Oaten of the Lakeside M. E. church.

Those at the Auditorium meeting will then adjourn to Memorial hall, where the women's auxiliary of the G. A. R. and the auxiliary organizations of the other posts and camps will serve luncheon.

The parade will start at 10 o'clock. L. N. Upham, 81 years old, the oldest G. A. R. veteran in Duluth, will be the honorary grand marshal of the day, while Col. F. E. Resche of the Minnesota National Guard will be the acting grand marshal. Mr. Upham's staff will include J. H. Baker, 79 years old; John Dimond, 79; C. E. Bostwick, 79, and William Carnathan, 79. Marine

BIG BOATS NOT NEEDED

Package Freighters Will Carry What Grain Remains to Be Shipped.

Chartering of large vessels for grain at Duluth has come practically to an end until next fall, and package freighters are now carrying partial grain cargoes as ballast. There are but twenty-five to thirty large cargoes of grain in stock at the Head of the Lakes, and the package freighters are said to be in a position to handle most of the business.

Owing to the low rates on grain, the package freighters can handle grain much more profitably than the larger vessels, as the former use the grain as ballast.

Fort William business is said to be but little better, and Canadian tonnage is getting the bulk of the shipments from that port. The grain trade will not be a factor in the lake freight market this summer.

Previous to this week grain has kept a number of boats busy that would otherwise have had to go down the lakes light. A half dozen vessels were chartered for grain last week.

One took care of a few more boats. With grain no longer a factor, a number of the independent boats may have to tie up.

Improvement in the coal situation is expected later in the season. The Ohio miners and operators will meet next week and a settlement will probably be consummated early in June. Heavy shipments of coal, however, will probably not be available before thirty days after the settlement, and the midsummer weather will then tend to lighten the traffic somewhat.

Duluth marine men say that many of the large boats have not yet started operations this season, and these will probably remain inactive until a revival in business takes place.

WRECKAGE MENACE TO NAVIGATION

Detroit, Mich., May 5.—Wreckage of the steamer W. H. Gilbert, which went down after being struck by the steamer Calveras last Friday, is menacing vessel traffic in Lake Huron, according to a wireless message received in Detroit yesterday by President Livingstone, of the Lake Carriers' association.

The message said wreckage was afloat thirty-five miles southeast of Thunder Bay, directly in the course of up-bound vessels.

CALDERA IN DOCKS.

Damaged Vessel Will Lay Up While Being Repaired.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 25.—The steamer Caldera has arrived here from Milwaukee with her bow crushed in just above the water line as a result of colliding with and sinking the steamer W. H. Gilbert, fifteen miles south of Thunder Bay island, Lake Huron, Friday morning. She will be surveyed and will go to the shipyards here for repairs.

That the crew of the steamer Gilbert was saved is considered most fortunate. The accident happened at 7:45 when all of the crew were awake. The ship sank so quickly that had any of them been in their bunks they probably would have been lost.

The steamer Amazon of the Corrigan-McKinney fleet which was ashore at Cheboygan point last week will be docked in No. 2 drydock here today for repairs. The extent of her damage will not be known until she has been surveyed in the dock.

HEAVY FOG DELAYS NAVIGATION HERE

A heavy fog enveloped the upper end of Lake Superior for several hours this morning, and operations on the lake were pursued cautiously. The sun came out brightly about 9 o'clock and the fog lifted rapidly. The fog horns were kept blowing vigorously during the fog and no accident were reported.

Frank Peavey Docked.

The steamer Frank Peavey, which was slightly damaged recently when she struck the steamer City of Straits, was docked at Superior today where she will undergo repair.

HAS NEIGHBOR ARRESTED.

Mrs. E. F. Voss Is Accused of Cutting a Clothes Line.

Mrs. E. F. Voss of 315 East First street and Mrs. Marie Healy of 315½ East First street are neighbors. Mrs. Healy had Mrs. Voss arrested this morning, because she claims the latter cut her clothes-line with a pair of scissors.

And Mrs. Voss had to be booked up with all the other prisoners on a charge of destroying property. She pleaded not guilty when arraigned this morning, because she claims the latter cut her clothes-line with a pair of scissors.

And Mrs. Voss had to be booked up with all the other prisoners on a charge of destroying property. She pleaded not guilty when arraigned this morning, because she claims the latter cut her clothes-line with a pair of scissors.

It is the climax of a quarrel between them, according to their own stories.

The trial of Mrs. Voss has been set for June 2. She was represented in court this morning by Charles V. McCoy, attorney.

JUDGE MORRIS IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Minneapolis, Minn., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—United States Judge Page Morris of Duluth and John Rees and William Evans of the Elks' club, Minneapolis, narrowly escaped severe injuries in an automobile accident at Lake street and Minnehaha avenue yesterday.

Mr. Evans was driving a touring car. A truck belonging to a creamery and driven by Leander Johnson turned from Lake street into Minnehaha avenue. There was some hesitation on Johnson's part and some confusion on Evans' part, according to witnesses. The touring car struck the truck a glancing blow, smashed a wheel of the lighter automobile and gave the occupants a fright and a severe shaking up. No one was injured.

SOO EXTENSION WORK RUSHED

Plaza, N. D., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The subcontractors on the Soo extension across the Fort Berthold reservation are doing some lively work. There are camps every three to five miles from here to the Missouri river. Each camp has crews from 30 to 60 men and all are well equipped with machinery for cutting down the grades. In two there are huge steam shovels for reducing the hills to grade. Every effort is being made by the contractors to rush the work and it is expected the grade will be ready for ties and steel about Aug. 1, and the line will be laid as far as the river just as soon as the grade will permit.

Kicked to Death.

Mandan, N. D., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Peter Pekesky, a homesteader residing near Shields, was kicked to death by a horse while doing the chores about the barn.

LEGAL NOTICES.

Sale of School and Other State Lands

State of Minnesota, State Auditor's Office.

St. Paul, April 13, 1914.

Notice is hereby given that on June 17, 1914, at 10 o'clock a. m., in the office of the County Auditor at Duluth, St. Louis county, in the state of Minnesota, I will offer for sale certain unsold state lands and also those state lands which have reverted to the state by reason of the non-payment of interest.

Terms: Fifteen per cent of the purchase price and interest on the unpaid balance from date of sale to June 1, 1915, must be paid at the time of sale. The balance of purchase money is payable in whole or in part on or before forty years from date of sale; the rate of interest on the unpaid balance is 4 per cent per annum, payable in advance on June 1 of each year; provided the principal remains unpaid for ten years; but if the principal is paid within ten years from date of sale, the rate of interest will be computed at 5 per cent per annum.

Appraised value of timber, if any, must also be paid at the time of sale. Lands on which the interest is delinquent may be redeemed at any time up to the hour of sale, or before resale to an actual purchaser.

All mineral rights are reserved by the laws of the state.

Not more than 320 acres can be sold or contracted to be sold to any one purchaser.

Agents acting for purchasers must furnish affidavit of authority. Appraisers' reports, showing quality and kind of soil, are on file in this office.

Lists of lands to be offered may be obtained of the State Auditor or the State Commissioner of Immigration at St. Paul, and of the County Auditor at above address.

SAMUEL G. IVERSON,
State Auditor.

HOW TO CUT DOWN THE COST OF LIVING

Advantageous buying is the basis of economy. To know when and where to buy is a problem which can be easily solved by reading the announcements of the live merchants who use the columns of The Herald daily to enlighten the public on where and when to buy.

The news columns play an important part in the make up of the newspaper, but the advertising columns are just as important and in many instances are of vastly more importance to the reader who wishes to economize in the high cost of living.

Begin now and economize by reading and taking advantage of the advertisements that are appearing daily in The Herald.

It will save you time and money!

NEW HAVEN HEARING IS POSTPONED

Special Examiners to Inspect Books and Papers of Morgan.

Further Taking of Testimony Adjourned Until Next Wednesday.

Conference Between President Wilson and Attorney General McReynolds.

Washington, May 26.—Further testimony before the interstate commerce commission on financial affairs of the New Haven railroad was postponed today until Wednesday, June 3, to permit special examiners to inspect the books of J. P. Morgan & Co. and personal papers of the late J. Pierpont Morgan.

The announcement that further taking of testimony would be delayed came after a conference of the commission, and then Commissioner McChord announced that the wait was to permit the inspection of the Morgan books and in the meantime the commission would consider various phases of the question.

Conference With President.

The delay coming closely upon yesterday's conference between President Wilson and Attorney General McReynolds, and persistent reports that the investigation would probably be halted caused a great deal of speculation, but there was nothing official to bear out the view that the conference of yesterday was responsible for today's development.

Four important witnesses whose testimony is desired still are too sick to appear. Samuel C. Morehouse, George MacCulloch Miller, De Vere Warner and Morton F. Plant today sent physicians' certificates to the commission to show that they were too ill to be examined on the witness stand.

The commission wants the testimony of Mr. Morehouse in connection with New Haven dealings with the Billard

MISSING CHINESE GIRLS ARE FOUND

Daughters of Frisco Consul General Had Lost Their Way.

San Francisco, May 26.—The two young daughters of Shan Chin Shu, Chinese consul-general in San Francisco, who disappeared from their home yesterday and were believed to have been kidnaped, were found today sleeping in a dry creek bed in the Berkeley hills. They had wandered into the hills to pick wild flowers and lost their way.

Following the disappearance of the children yesterday, Federal and municipal officials on both sides of San Francisco bay engaged in an exhaustive search and officials in every Pacific coast city were on the lookout for the supposed kidnapers.

WOMAN KILLED BY REJECTED SUITOR

Pittsburg, Pa., May 26.—Samuel Vereditz, a Russian, today entered the little notion store conducted by Mrs. Pauline Kauffman here and shot her five times. He then killed himself. Mrs. Kauffman, who is said to have rejected his suit, will recover.

TO ADJOURN NEXT FRIDAY

Presbyterian Assembly Refuses to Sanction the Death Penalty.

Report of Committee on Home Missions Scheduled for Wednesday.

Chicago, May 26.—A large amount of unfinished business faced the Presbyterian general assembly today. The report of the committee on prison reform was not disposed of yesterday, the assembly having devoted so much time to a clash over capital punishment that consideration on the subject as a whole had to be postponed. By a negative vote the assembly refused to admit religious sanction for the death penalty.

The report of the committee on home missions, which, it is said, overshadows other questions before this assembly, is scheduled for tomorrow and that of the standing committee on foreign missions for Thursday. The assembly will adjourn Friday and the last day is crowded with important subjects.

Reports of the committees on freedmen, colleges, temperance and the educational policy of the church were on the program for today.

Capital Punishment.

A debate on capital punishment was injected into the proceedings of the assembly yesterday while the report of the special committee on prison reform was under consideration, with the result that final action on the subject was deferred. The committee report was presented by Rev. W. Francis Irwin of Louisville, and recommended that the court instead of the prison be made the instrument for the reformation of criminals, that the prison be

PAINTS BRIGHT PICTURE OF REPUBLICAN FUTURE

WILLIAM E. BORAH, Senator From Idaho.

EXTOL THEIR OWN PARTY

Michigan Republican Leaders Attack Policies of the Administration.

Senator Borah Paints Glowing Picture of Republicans' Future.

Detroit, Mich., May 26.—Pessimistic views as to conditions existing under the national Democratic administration, and optimistic predictions with reference to the future of their own party, were expressed by the speakers at the Michigan Republican state welfare conference here today.

Party leaders from nearly every county in the state attended the meeting. The speakers included several members of the Michigan delegation in congress, with United States Senator William E. Borah of Idaho announced as the principal visiting speaker. Representative Patrick H. Kelley acted as temporary chairman, and United States Senator William Alden Smith was selected as permanent chairman.

"Watchful Waiting."

"The Republican party has been out of power but a little more than a year—long enough, however, to demonstrate that the sooner it is restored to power the better it will be for our domestic affairs and also for our standing among the nations of the world," said Representative Kelley. "The most favorable thing that can be said of our present industrial situation is that the business men of the country, emulating the example of the president himself, are pursuing a policy of 'watchful waiting.' And so far as our domestic relations are concerned, all the world realizes the difference between the colorless diplomacy of Bryan and the red blooded statesmanship of Knox, Root, Sherman, Blaine and Seward."

Attacks Tariff Law.

Representative Kelley attacked both the new tariff law and the Panama free tolls legislation. With reference to the tariff law he said:

"Already our magnificent balance of trade of $60,000,000 a month has been completely wiped out and during April just passed there is a balance of trade against us of $10,171,000. This is the first time there has been a balance of trade against the United States in twenty-one years."

He declared the settlement of the

ARE DISPOSED TO COMPROMISE

Labor Organizations' Demand for Exemption From Anti-Trust Law.

Washington, May 26.—Representative Webb of the house judiciary committee and Representatives Carlin and Floyd conferred with President Wilson today over the Clayton anti-trust bill. The three members also met Secretary Bryan for a short conference.

Representatives of labor organizations insist that such organizations shall be exempted absolutely from the effect of the anti-trust legislation. The committee is unwilling to make any sweeping concessions, but there is a disposition to compromise if it can be done without too radical a change in the Clayton measure.

BASEBALL PLAYED BY EGYPTIANS

Shown By Many Tablets Found in Forgotten Ruins.

Madison, Wis., May 26.—"Careful investigation would show that the baseball and football games as played today are but evolutions of games played long ago in Egypt," said Dr. J. C. Elsom, assistant professor of physical education at the University of Wisconsin, in speaking of the new course on the history of physical education recently installed.

"Many tablets found in forgotten ruins indicate a knowledge of the game of baseball among the Egyptians. In the time of the Greeks football had gained some prominence, and the Greeks experienced the same evil which the colleges of today have to combat—that of professionalism. Winning became a mania. They would go to any length to get successful men. Finally it was necessary to abolish the Olympic games by royal edict, the conditions became so bad."

WIND VEERS SUDDENLY AT CONFERENCE

Sudden Halt at Niagara on the Mexican Land Question.

Mexican Delegates Not Disposed to Give Fixed Guarantees.

Administration Chiefs at Washington Encouraged By the Outlook.

Niagara Falls, Ont., May 26.—The wind has suddenly veered once more. When all seemed going well and everyone was optimistic and the Mexican delegates, believing they had reached an accord with the Americans, were about to issue a formal statement in explanation of their position on the land question, and regretting that it was clearly impossible for them to give guarantees as to the action of a new and sovereign and recognized government, there was a sudden halt.

The Mexican delegates had their stenographic work finished, their hectograph ready to print the document and then they stopped. They said they had concluded to issue no pronunciamento.

It would be indiscreet, they said. It might disturb the satisfactory progress of the mediation. Not that they are less optimistic than ever, but they were less certain of the wisdom of the promised declaration at this critical moment.

American Delegates Arrive.

Then, when everyone, amazed at this sudden step, was speculating on the reason for it and the air was filled with rumors, the American delegates dashed up in their automobiles. There was a hurried mounting the staircase to the room of the mediators, the door of the mystic chamber was slammed and a prolonged and earnest "conversation" was entered upon. It was obvious that there must be some more definite assurance respecting the land question to meet the declared purpose of President Wilson. Precisely how it was to be worked out or how it could be worked out was not altogether clear, but little doubt was felt by those participating that it would be worked out.

"We will not let the agrarian question disrupt the mediation progress,"

BOY DROPS GUN AND IS KILLED

Trigger of the Weapon Is Caught in Window Blind.

Racine, Wis., May 26.—Frank Althoff, 12 years old, was accidentally killed late yesterday afternoon at his farm home near New Munster, this county, when he attempted to procure a shotgun which he had been forbidden by his parents to use.

The lad stealthily entered the upper portion of the house and, taking the gun from its place, dropped it, butt foremost, from a nearby window. In falling the trigger of the gun caught on a window blind, causing the gun to explode. The charge tore a gap in the youth's breast, death resulting almost instantly.

WILD WOMEN SENTENCED

Suffragette Vandals of London Are Given Terms in Prison.

Frail Girl Window Breaker Collapses in a Huddled Heap.

London, May 26.—An almost uncanny stillness, in marked contrast to recent police court scenes in which militant suffragettes participated, prevailed today at the London sessions during the trial and conviction of the women vandals of the National gallery and Royal academy. Several window smashers who were participants in recent suffragette raids in the West end were sentenced at the same time. Six months' imprisonment was ordered for each of the picture destroyers, while the window smashers in all cases were condemned to terms of four months. Several of the women refused to give their names and were identified by numbers.

TWO YOUTHS PUT ON TRIAL FOR MURDER

Alma, Wis., May 26.—Ralph Clark and Ralph Schultz, 19 years of age each, were placed on trial here today for the alleged murder of Ole Kjorom on New Year's day. Kjorom was a very wealthy recluse who was known to have money hidden in his house. He was found beaten to death with a club. The slayers missed his treasure, finding only $36 before an alarm caused them to take flight. Clark and Schultz were afterward arrested at Wausau.

SUDDEN GALE SWEEPS HEAD OF THE LAKES

High Wind Does Serious Damage Along the Water Front.

Superior Gets Worst of Storm—Coal Docks Are Wrecked.

Heavy Hail Storm in Suburbs—Duluth Gets Off Lightly.

Duluth, Superior and the surrounding country suffered heavy damage as the result of a sudden gale that swept the Head of the Lakes about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. According to H. W. Richardson, weather forecaster, there was no cyclone, but a heavy rain, with gusts of wind that traveled from fifty to sixty miles an hour. Five men are reported to have been injured.

The heaviest part of the storm lasted for about fifteen minutes, the wind dying down after the first quarter of an hour. The temperature fell from 85 deg. at 4 o'clock to 67 deg. just a few minutes before the heavy rain, Mr. Richardson said this morning. There was a total precipitation of .85 of an inch.

Across the bay the wind did the heaviest damage, especially along the water front. The telephone and telegraph service suffered and communication between Duluth and Superior is almost shut off. There are about 1,000 wires out of order in the two cities, according to officials of the companies.

WAITING FOR ROOSEVELT

Washington Much Interested in Visit of Former President.

Will Deliver Lecture and Confer With Progressive Leaders.

Washington, May 26.—The national capital awaited the coming today of Theodore Roosevelt. His third visit to Washington since he quit the presidency more than five years ago excited the keenest interest in political and scientific circles.

Principal interest in the visit of Former President Roosevelt centered in the lecture before the National Geographic society and in the conference he was to have with Progressive leaders in congress. To deliver his lecture is the primary object of Col. Roosevelt's visit and scientists awaited with great interest the story of his recent explorations in South America.

With equally as much interest politicians of all parties awaited the outcome of the conference of party leaders in which the former president will participate.

It was expected by Progressive leaders that at this conference a plan of action may be developed for the forthcoming congressional campaign.

Former President Roosevelt was expected to arrive here at 3:20 p. m. today and remain until midnight.

Talks Politics on Train.

New York, May 26.—Theodore Roosevelt motored from Oyster Bay this morning and left here for Washington at 10 o'clock. In Washington he will call on President Wilson and address the National Geographic society on his recent expedition to Brazil. The colonel planned to discuss the political situation on the train en route to the capital. He was to be met at Philadelphia by Senator Clapp of Minnesota, a Republican, and by Senator Poindexter of Washington, Progressive; O. K. Davis, secretary of the Progressive national committee, and Representative Hinebaugh of Illinois, chairman of the Progressive congressional committee.

ADVANCE IS NOTED IN CATTLE PRICES

Washington, May 26.—Farm prices for beef cattle advanced more than 3 per cent but average quotations for hogs and sheep were lower on April 15 than on that date in 1913, figures prepared by the department of agriculture stated today. Cattle prices last month were $6.29 per hundred, an advance of 21 cents. However, in Michigan, Iowa, Missouri and Kansas there was no change in cattle prices from 1913 quotations and in Wisconsin there was a decrease of 30 cents a hundred pounds. The state average of Illinois was $7.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS

SENATE.

Resumed debate on the repeal of the Panama tolls exemption. Mr. Jones of Washington spoke in opposition to the repeal of the Panama tolls exemption.

Senator Swanson introduced a bill to convert the weather station at Mount Weather, Va., into a summer White House.

Senator Frank S. White from Alabama was made chairman of the revolutionary claims committee, succeeding the late Senator Bradley.

Senator Chamberlain introduced a bill to levy tolls on freight and passengers through the Soo canal.

Senator Jones introduced a bill to deny to fire insurance companies the use of mails within any state which by legislation has excluded them from business.

HOUSE.

Resumed debate on the Clayton omnibus anti-trust bill.

Representative Metz introduced a bill for a special twenty-five-cent piece to commemorate the opening of the Panama canal.

Democratic leaders reached a tentative understanding to satisfy the demands of labor organizations in connection with the trust bills.

Cranberry growers from New Jersey, Massachusetts, Delaware and Wisconsin urged the weights and measures committee to standardize barrels.

SWEETHEART SLAIN; JUMPS UNDER TRAIN

Railroad Clerk Kills Girl When She Refused to Kiss Him.

Lays Down Beside Her and Takes Chloroform, But Revives.

Vainly Tries Poison Again and Finds Death on Railroad.

Downer's Grove, Ill., May 26.—Mad with remorse for killing Florence Bentley, his sweetheart, in the woods near here last Saturday night, Reginald A. Barr, 24 years old, a railroad clerk employed in Chicago, committed suicide at Lisle, three miles from here, today, by jumping under the wheels of a moving passenger train. Previously he had twice tried poison and once jumping into a quarry pit.

The girl, a cloak model, also employed in Chicago, was of about Barr's age. They had been "pals" for years, but Florence, according to her mother, was growing tired of her companion.

Saturday night the two met and went to a leafy bower in the woods. She refused to kiss him and he asked her if she did not want to be his sweetheart any more.

Died in Struggle.

There was a struggle, and, says the note, "the girl died of heart failure or fright, as I surely could not kill the one I thought the most of in the world."

Late that night the families of the two lovers became alarmed and search was begun. Yesterday the schools were dismissed and the search taken up by the pupils, but it remained for Carl Selig, driver of a grocery cart, late in the afternoon, to discover the body of the girl. She lay on the ground, her hands folded over her breast. Barr was still missing.

He was observed at Lisle this morning by Charles Schwere, a farmer, who thought he was waiting to steal a ride on a train.

"He sat with his head between his hands," related the farmer, "but when the train came he jumped right under the wheels."

The post mortem over the girl's body did not disclose the cause of death, but it established that there was nothing sordid in her relations with Barr. A double inquest will be held here tomorrow.

Barr's Story of Tragedy.

Barr's note was written on both

CONDITIONS IN MONTEREY NORMAL

Railroad About to Resume Carrying Passengers to Saltillo.

Washington, May 26.—Normal conditions are prevailing again in Monterey, Consul General Hanna reported today, to the state department. The railroad to Saltillo was to resume carrying passengers today and the consul reported his plan to go to that city. Shipments of American goods are coming into Monterey, he reported, and trade generally is being re-established. Saltillo is reported tranquil. Train service has been resumed between Monterey, Tampico and Matamoras.

MARRIED MEN TO BE BARRED

Cannot Go in Case of Call for Mexican War Service.

Adjt. Gen. Wood of Minnesota Issues Orders to Captains.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, May 26.—On the theory that there is "no sickness like homesickness," Minnesota's adjutant general, Fred B. Wood, says he has given orders to captains to clear the Minnesota National Guard of married men in case of a call for Mexican service. Gen. Wood is in Washington conferring with war department officials in reference to additional equipment.

"I do not believe in married men going to war," said Gen. Wood today. "There is no sickness so depressing, none that makes a man so unfit for service, as homesickness. I would rather a man have anything else than that, and married men are more inclined to homesickness than single men.

Cannot Afford to Go.

"Moreover married men cannot afford to go to war unless they are officers. The Minnesota National Guard could put into the field about 3,500 men on short notice. I should favor giving the men an opportunity to volunteer, rather than having them called out as the government has a right to do. Perhaps in the event of war it would be well to call out the guard and then give the men a chance to volunteer."

Gen. Wood said there was a marked lack of enthusiasm among the National Guard of Minnesota in regard to Mexican service as compared to the feeling existing prior to the Spanish war.

"In 1898 there was a lot of enthusiasm," he said, "but now they appear indifferent, although ready to go if called."

BOYLE SOUNDS HIS KEYNOTE

Congressional Candidate and Senator Sageng Speak at Banquet.

Attacks Congressman Miller for Accepting House Assignment to Orient.

James P. Boyle, candidate for the nomination for congress in the Eighth district against Congressman Clarence B. Miller, made his keynote campaign address last evening at the dinner given in his honor at the St. Louis hotel by the Boyle-for-Congress club of Duluth. Ole Sageng, state senator from Otter Tail county, was also a guest at the meeting and spoke at length in praise of his former colleague in the upper house of the state legislature. There were about 150 men from Duluth and the range towns present.

Mr. Boyle attacked Congressman Miller, because the latter went to the Philippines for the house insular committee last year on a tour of the islands. Aside from that there were very few personal attacks, Mr. Boyle confining his address to his platform and beliefs on national issues.

Regarding the needed breakwater for Duluth, Mr. Boyle declared he would obtain that improvement and that he would not neglect it "as have the former congressmen from the Eighth district." It was at this point that he attacked Congressman Miller for representing the house in its investigations of the Philippine islands before taking action on the proposed free government that is being considered for these people.. A congressman, said Mr. Boyle, should either spend his time at Washington or among his constituents. Mr. Miller was last year sent to the islands by the insular committee and after a three months' tour, returned and made an exhaustive report on conditions there, severely attacking the proposed free government for the inhabitants.

Mr. Boyle touched on the minimum wage law, special privileges, the tariff, the disarmament of the United States navy and the canal tolls questions during the course of his address. He said in part:

"Excessive incomes are being obtained by a small minority. The majority of wage earners are insufficiently remunerated. These facts constitute a problem, the solution of which will require the best thought of the very best men we have. Excessive incomes and profits can be prevented to a considerable extent through the abolition of special privileges and unregulated monopoly.

"All men are now agreed that never again shall a special privilege be granted. For example, the government, instead of giving one-half of Alaska away to a few men in order that a railroad might there be built, is building the railroad itself and in my opinion the government should see to it that the benefits therefrom should be enjoyed by the people generally.

The Tariff.

"The tariff should no longer be made a political football. A congressman has said that not 5 per cent of the members of congress know what they do when they vote on the tariff. Changes made therein should be made by men who know what they are doing and should be made from time to time as they are warranted by conditions. We should have a commission of trained men to do this work.

Continuing, he said:

The Waste of War.

"A social reform as necessary as any other, is doing away with the extravagance of keeping prepared for war. The cost of building a battleship would build a first class breakwater to protect the Duluth harbor. When a battle ship fires off a single charge in target practice, the cost of so doing equals the annual salary we pay one of our school teachers. Spending billions of dollars annually by the nations of the world in preparation for war is the crime of modern civilization."

Clarence R. Magney, president of the Boyle-for-Congress club, presided at the meeting and after making an introductory address, called on George F. Shea of Virginia, Frank Randall, chairman of the Boyle committee, and O. H. Griggs of Virginia, for short talks. They all responded and praised Boyle and his record in the legislature.

Preceding Mr. Boyle's address was a short talk by State Senator Sageng of Otter Tail county. He declared his confidence in Mr. Boyle and after commenting on the latter's record in the state senate, expressed his hope that he would be elected to congress from this district.

Mr. Boyle's address was the last of the evening, after which Mr. Boyle and his local representatives held a reception.

HALDEN FILES FOR RE-ELECTION

ODIN HALDEN.

Odin Halden, county auditor, formally announced his candidacy for re-election this morning when he filed with his deputy, J. O. Walker, an affidavit of his intention of becoming a candidate at the June primaries.

Mr. Halden's business-like administration of affairs in the office of auditor during the past has won for him many staunch friends and admirers who will undoubtedly support him in his campaign for the office.

County Auditor Halden has shown a thorough grasp of the county's business affairs and has proved himself to be an efficient business manager. He has often been referred to as the "best county auditor in Minnesota." His standing is high, both as an official and as a man.

The only other candidate for the office who has shown up so far is E. W. Hatch of Eveleth, who filed for the office this week.

County Treasurer George H. Vivian also filed this morning for re-election. No opposition to Mr. Vivian has yet developed. The only other filing this morning was that of Peter J. Bergstrom of 3920 West Eighth street for the office of register of deeds.

CONGRESSMAN WILL ADDRESS PYTHIANS

Congressman Clarence B. Miller will speak this evening before the Knights of Pythias and their friends at their hall, 118 West Superior street. Mr. Miller, who is a Pythian, will talk on the Philippines and will illustrate his address with a series of stereopticon views.

This is the last social event which the Phythians will hold this season, and in view of the fact that the congressman is probably the best posted public man in the country on the Oriental possessions of Uncle Sam, and the fact that his lecture has made a hit everywhere, it is quite probable that he will be greeted by a large audience.

Mr. Miller was sent to the islands last year by the house committee on insular affairs to investigate conditions. It was an honor which many sought at the time.

McCarey Funeral.

John McCarey, 63 years old, who was married to his former wife just three hours before his death Sunday evening at the contagious hospital on the county poor farm, will be buried at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. A short service will be held at the Stewart undertaking rooms and interment will be at the Forest Hill cemetery.

McCarcy had been very ill the last two years. Recently he was taken ill with erysipelas, from which he died about midnight Sunday.

At 9 o'clock Sunday evening McCarcy and his former wife, who were divorced on May 4, 1911, were remarried while the former was on his death-bed. The unusual ceremony was witnessed by Judge W. Lanners of the West Duluth court and several attendants at the county poor farm.

Held for Horse Theft.

Mandan, N. D., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—F. S. Schofield, charged with aiding in the theft of ten head of horses from the A. Boley ranch south of here, was bound over to the district court, bonds being fixed at $500, which were furnished.

WHAT OTHER CITIES ARE DOING

ONE of the important duties expected of every city organization, is to save the citizens money. There is one way in which a city may save money, and that is to find out from the national board of fire underwriters or the local association of fire insurance companies, what the deficiency charges are.

For instance, in one city in Pennsylvania, a city official discovered that the citizens were paying an average of 4 cents per $100 on fire insurance a year, because that city did not have a building code. Deficiencies in that city amounted to about $16,000 a year. A building code was adopted and a building inspector employed at a salary of $1,800 a year, with the result that the city officials saved the citizens of that city $14,000 a year by reducing their rates of fire insurance.

It would be well for every city organization to ascertain from the fire insurance companies what the fire deficiencies are, with a view to eliminating them, and thereby saving the citizens large sums of money. These deficiency charges are established by a board of fire underwriters because cities are lacking in one thing or another. In some cities it may be too small water mains or insufficient supply of fire apparatus, or one of several of many other things that are enumerated specifically for each city.

Duluth is generally well equipped in the respects mentioned above. It has a building code which will average well with those of other cities while the fire department is one of the best of its size in the country. The water supply is ample and the pressure sufficient.

DOCK HANDS WIN STRIKE

Clarkson Company Agrees to Grant Men Their Former Wage.

Corporation Is Victim of Number of Serious Misfortunes.

The strike of the coal handlers at the Clarkson Coal & Dock company was practically settled yesterday afternoon following a conference between Martin Cole, deputy state labor commissioner, and George H. Reese, superintendent of the Clarkson company. The coal handlers won a complete victory, and Mr. Reese offered to take back all the men at the same wages they had been drawing immediately preceding the strike—$2 a day.

Supt. Reese was called to account by Commissioner Cole for giving an order to the Minnesota State Free Employment agency for a large consignment of men without first notifying the manager that a strike was on. Mr. Cole says that this is a violation of the state law, but that Supt. Reese maintained that there was really no strike on, as he had simply cut the wages and part of the men quit work.

The Clarkson Coal & Dock company has been subject to a series of troubles this spring in addition to a strike, one misfortune following another. During the gale that swept the upper lake region some time ago one of the company's largest coal bridges was blown down at the docks. Since that time the docks have been crippled to quite a large extent, and practically no boats have unloaded cargoes there for some time. Yesterday the small Samuel Morse arrived with coal for the Clarkson docks, but the storm at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon swept down upon the docks, blowing over two coal handling rigs and causing about $15,000 damage. The Morse was unable to unload this morning and left for the docks at Ashland.

DOCKS MAKE IMPROVEMENTS

Reiss Company Erects a Huge Coal Unloader on Superior Dock.

Extensive improvements on the docks at the Head of the Lakes are now under way and others have been made recently.

The Reiss Coal company at Superior is erecting an immense new unloading rig on its dock No. 1, formerly Pittsburg No. 3. This will be the second largest unloading rig on the lakes, Northwestern No. 1 being the largest. The rig will be 100 feet high and have a 450-foot span. The United States Steel corporation's unloading dock at Duluth will be widened 300 feet this spring and three more Mead-Morrison rigs with three ton buckets will be installed. The extra dock capacity will take care of the coal supply for the steel plant.

The new Berwind dock at West Duluth, near the Island Creek dock No. 1, is equipped with three of the latest pattern rigs.

Breaks Neck Catching Horse.

Rolla, N. D., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—While endeavoring to catch a horse in a pasture, the neck of Harry Duncan was broken. He lived for twenty-four hours after the accident. It is thought he had taken hold of the horse when the animal whirled around throwing Duncan to the ground in such a manner the man's neck was dislocated. There were no witnesses to the accident.

TAX PENALTY AFTER FRIDAY

Time Curtailed Because Last Days of Month Are Holidays.

Ten Per Cent Is Added to Taxes Unpaid on May 29.

Although usually May 31 is the last day on which real estate taxes may be paid without penalty, this year the last day falls upon May 29. And unless St. Louis county taxpayers pay in at least one-half of the real estate tax assessed against them for the year 1913 before Friday of this week, a 10 per cent penalty will attach to the whole amount of the tax.

The time in which to pay is shortened ewo days owing to the fact that Saturday, May 30, is a holiday and the last day of the month is Sunday. Consequently, Friday, May 29, is the last chance offered taxpayers in which to make payments before June 1, when the penalty will become effective. In case only one-half of the tax is paid, the second installment may be paid at any time before Oct. 31 without penalty.

Counter collections this week have been quite large and have kept a large force of clerks busy. The greater portion of the money which comes in over the counter is in small amounts from individual taxpayers. The larger amounts, which are in most cases paid in by corporations, are usually received in the form of checks through the mails.

The largest amount paid in to date this year was received yesterday by County Treasurer Vivian from Russell M. Bennett of Minneapolis, who sent in three checks totaling $20,594.95, covering the taxes on various descriptions of real estate in the city and throughout the county for the year 1913.

DEATH CALLS LITTLE ELIZABETH MAGIE

Elizabeth Eunice Magie, the 8-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Magie, 1401 East Superior street, died last evening, following an illness of several- months. The little girl had been in ill health since last January and was at that time compelled to give up her studies at school.

ELIZABETH MAGIE.

Besides her parents, she is survived by two brothers.

The funeral will be held at 8:30 o'clock Thursday morning from the family residence and at 9 o'clock from the cathedral. Interment will be at Calvary.

MANY APPLY FOR LICENSE

Twenty-five Applications to Continue the Business of A. J. Erickson.

Fully twenty-five tentative applications for a saloon license at Sixty-third avenue west and Grand avenue have been made to Commissioner William A. Hicken since A. J. Erickson was notified about the first of the year by the head of the safety division that he would recommend that the license be not renewed.

Among them have been some of the most reputable saloonmen and ex-saloonmen in the city. But all of them have been informed by Commissioner Hicken that he would oppose locating another saloon in that vicinity. It has been shown that such opposition would be indorsed by the council.

Commissioner Hicken states that the saloon is too far from the regular patrol beats to be easily supervised by the West Duluth police and that the bar was cut out as a part of the commission's policy to reduce the number of saloons in the city.

At yesterday's meeting of the council a license was granted to Fremont & Carey at 306 Central avenue. M. R. Timlin was recently refused a renewal of his license at that location.

Erick L. Erickson filed an application with the council yesterday for a saloon license at 21 East Superior street. The place was formerly run by Nelson & Erickson. Nelson was one of the men who was arrested in Charles Sholund's saloon at 101 East Michigan street. The safety commissioner states that he will recommend the granting of the license as Nelson is no longer connected with the saloon and will probably leave the city.

J. R. Joyce filed an application for a transfer of the saloon license at 14 North First avenue west to 216 Central avenue, West Duluth. Joyce's place was recently gutted by fire. An effort was made some weeks ago to transfer the same license to Gary but was withdrawn.

EFFICIENCY CONFERENCE

State Commission Will Discuss Its Report With Duluthians.

The preliminary report of the state efficiency commission will be submitted and discussed at a meeting to be held at the Kitchi Gammi club Friday night, May 29, between the four men who have been most active in making the efficiency survey of the state government and a number of prominent Duluthians who have been most deeply interested in the work.

The members of the commission who will be present are: Dr. John H. Gray, a member of the executive committee; Dr. E. Dana Durand, statistician of the commission; John Stone Pardee, secretary, and President C. P. Craig of this city. A limited number of Duluthians who have kept closely in touch with the work which is being done by the efficiency commission are being invited to attend. The meeting is scheduled to begin at 7 o'clock in the evening.

The efficiency commission has been making a complete survey of the state government, the purpose being to eliminated numerous unnecessary sub-divisions and outline a plan for more efficient business-like and economical administration. The efficiency commission has no power to put its plans into operation but will submit its findings to the next session of the legislature for consideration. The preliminary report has been prepared after months of work and it will be laid before the Friday night meeting for consideration. Suggestions and changes will be invited in order that every possible improvement be made. Several such meetings will probably be held before the final report is prepared.

TWO ARRESTED FOR STEALING GUNS

Errol Worthing was arrested here this morning and Lee Worthing was taken into custody this noon by the Superior authorities on a charge of stealing two large guns and cases belonging to Dr. Charles E. French of 2622 West Third street.

Errol was arraigned in police court following his arrest on a charge of grand larceny and asking for a hearing, it was set for 2 o'clock this afternoon. Dr. French claims the guns and cases are worth $104.75.

Lee, who was arrested for the local police by the Superior authorities, will be brought here this afternoon to answer a similar charge.

We have the largest, most sanitary and modern dental offices in the Northwest. All the latest appliances to make dentistry absolutely painless.

Out-of-town patients, ask to see testimonials from satisfied patients. We pay railroad fare 100 miles to either Duluth or St. Paul office.

NEW YORK PAINLESS DENTISTS

123 WEST SUPERIOR STREET.
ST. PAUL DULUTH MINNEAPOLIS

TO INQUIRE INTO ACTS OF CALHOUN.

San Francisco, Cal., May 26.—It was announced from the offices of the California railroad commission yesterday that an investigation would be begun this week to determine what disposition actually was made of $1,096,000 withdrawn by Patrick Calhoun from the funds of the United Railroads of San Francisco ostensibly for investment in the Solano Irrigated farms project. The commission said the investigation would be extended to other financial operations of the company during the presidency of Calhoun.

Garrison Creamery Burns.

Garrison, N. D., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Garrison creamery, the operation of which was recently taken over by a company of farmers of the district, was burned to the ground with a loss of $5,000, $3,000 of which was covered by insurance. The fire probably originated from the power room. The farmers interested probably will rebuild.

Would You Wager $100.00 Against Only 75 Cents

that we will not have another destructive wind storm for five years.

No you would not, but you certainly ought to take such odds to protect your property. The hand-in-hand underwriters of the Commercial Union of London, England, and the Minneapolis Fire & Marine Insurance company of Minneapolis offer you these large odds against such losses.

CIVIL WAR VETERANS ARE ASSIGNED TO SCHOOLS

Will Speak to Children at Special Exercises Friday.

Memorial Day Parade Will Be Reviewed By Veterans.

C. S. Prosser, president of the Citizens' Staff, this morning announced the line of march for the Memorial day parade Saturday, and the Citizens' Staff announced the assignments to schools.

The various divisions will line up on First street, centering in front of the armory at Second avenue east and First street. They will march down to Superior street, west on Superior street to Fifth avenue, up Fifth avenue to First street and then east on First street to the Auditorium.

This year a review will be the feature of the parade and the veterans of the Civil war will line up in their automobiles on Fourth avenue west, just above First street, forming a reviewing stand. They will review the line of march and then fall in at the rear and continue on to the Auditorium.

TURN DEAF EAR TO PLEA

Attorney Pleads for Reconsideration of Erickson License Revocation.

Only Answer Is Motion to Adjourn—Many Contracts Awarded.

The second attempt of Attorney Walter F. Dacey to secure a renewal of the saloon license of A. J. Erickson at 19 South Sixty-third avenue west, yesterday afternoon proved unavailing.

The members of the city council heard him make another earnest plea that they allow Erickson to continue in business, in the interests of justice and fairness. When the attorney concluded a dead silence settled over the council chamber. Not a single commissioner moved a reconsideration of the resolution passed the week previous, denying Erickson a renewal of his license.

The stillness was broken by Commissioner Leonidas Merritt's, "Move we adjourn," which was immediately seconded by Safety Commissioner W. A. Hicken, upon whose recommendation the council denied Erickson another liquor permit. On the roll call Commissioner Voss voted no, but the motion was carried by a vote of 4 to 1.

Attorney Dacey said that he regretted that he felt it necessary to again occupy the attention of the council on the Erickson saloon matter, but that he felt obliged to do so as he did not think Erickson had been accorded a square deal. He asserted that judging from talks which he had had with individual commissioners it was his opinion that with one exception the councilmen felt satisfied with their previous votes. But he urged that the case be considered on its merits by each member of the council and that they vote according to their own convictions and not to put Erickson out of business because of the recommendation of a single commissioner.

The Only Argument.

"Simmered down, the only argument which has been advanced against the renewal of this man's license is that it is the policy of the commission to reduce the number of saloons in the city," the attorney contended. "If the commission is going to reduce the saloons in the city, why not start with those who can afford to be put out of business? Why not select men who have made their money out of the liquor business, or why not start with men who have more than one license? I know one man who controls at least four licenses in Duluth and four others who have two licenses, each.

"To this man this saloon license is the most important thing in the world. What he has is invested in the place which he owns. It has been said that no property right is involved in a saloon license, but there is an implied right that if a man conducts his business properly his license will be renewed. Else no one would take a lease and expend a large sum of money to go into the saloon business. He could not afford to do so if he were to be allowed to continue in business but one year.

"We would be glad to accept a compromise in this case if the council would allow it. We ask you to grant us a renewal of this license in the same location, with the understanding that it will be transferred to another location as soon as it can be found. This would only be according this man justice and a fair deal."

The attorney referred to a notorious saloon on the Bowery. He declared that during his term as city prosecutor he had received numerous complaints of robberies in the place and had continued to read of them afterwards, yet the proprietor's license was renewed without opposition.

He also mentioned the fact that it has been claimed that the Erickson saloon is too far west and is off the regular police patrol beats. He pointed out that a patrol call box is located right in front of the building.

No Reconsideration.

As he concluded he said that the only way in which the matter could again be brought before the council would be by some commissioner moving a reconsideration of the resolution denying the renewal, but no motion was forthcoming and the motion to adjourn soon followed.

The preceding part of the council meeting was occupied in the consideration of routine business.

The ordinance selling the house and lot owned by the water and light department near Fifteenth avenue east and South street to the Endion Lumber company for $2,650 was passed. The proceeds will be turned into the public utility fund.

Contracts Awarded.

The resolution awarding the contract for laying cement sidewalks east of Twelfth avenue west to A. N. Nelson on his bid of $4,186 was given its first reading, and will be passed next week. The contract for laying cement walks west of Twelfth avenue west to Eighty-third avenue west will go to W. H. Kiltin on his bid of $4,019.75. A. N. Nelson was awarded the contract for laying cement walks on Park Point on his bid of $448.75.

A petition was received asking that the parts of blocks 95, 96, 97 and 98, Duluth proper, Third division, lying 133 feet north of the boulevard and the parts of blocks 72, 73 and 74 lying 133 feet south of the boulevard, be designated as a residence section.

The resolution awarding the contract for the constiuction of the bridge and grading and graveling part of the Kenwood road, was given its first reading, and will be passed next week. The job will go to Gollinger & Mackay on their bid of $6,017. The city and the county will each pay $3,000. In order that the appropriation shall not be exceeded by the bid, the city will reserve the right to specify how much shall be graveled.

A petition was received for the grading and surfacing of Fifth alley between Third and Fourth avenues east and another for the construction of a sanitary sewer in Lewis street from Melrose avenue to the center of block 13, Third Glen Avon division and thence to Andrews street.

Resolution and Ordinances.

A resolution was passed granting the Northern Pacific permission to alter the supports of the bridge at Forty-ninth avenue west and Superior street in order that a spur track can be laid to the plant of the Duluth Corrugating & Roofing company.

An ordinance appropriating $1,420.17 to pay for the city's half of additional ground which is being secured for the work farm by condemnation proceedings was given its first reading, as was an ordinance appropriating $510 for the purchase of a multigraph for the water and light department.

The contract for constructing foundation piers for the water tower at Woodland was awarded to A. T. Nelson company on their bid of $530.

Several changes were made in the election judges named last week to officiate at the regular fall election and at the primaries. Several of them were ineligible to serve as they had changed their residences and one man had died.

The vacation of Ruthvin court between Roslyn and Woodland avenues was ordered, conditional upon a strip eight feet wide being dedicated to the city to be used for stairs and sidewalks for the convenience of pedestrians.

West End

JOINT MEETING OF VASA LODGES

Five Duluth Branches Will Initiate Class of New Members.

A joint meeting will be held this evening at the Woodmen hall by the five Vasa lodges of Duluth. It is expected that a large number of the delegates from various points in Minnesota, North and South Dakota and Northern Wisconsin, who have been attending the annual district convention of the order will be present. The degree work of the order will be exemplified by the local lodge team for the benefit of the visitors.

At the close of the convention yesterday Andrew Horngren of the Sons of Sweden lodge of the West end was re-elected district master of the lodges for the third term. Mr. Horngren has been active in organizing many lodges during the last two years and this service was recognized in a fitting manner by the delegates.

Th other officers elected yesterday were: Alfred Fredlund, Ashland, vice district master; C. W. Soderstrom, Minneapolis, vice district secretary; P. W. Anderson, Minneapolis, treasurer; Mrs. Fritz Henderson, Superior, district master of ceremonies; Mrs. Augusta Wahlin, Duluth, chaplain; Mrs. Ardell, St. Paul, inner guard; J. F. Adlin, outer guard.

The executive committee as elected consists of Peter Ackerson, Superior; Harry A. Lund, Minneapolis, and John A. Larson, St. Paul. Mr. Ackerson was honored with the largest number of votes cast for any candidate.

The board of trustees consists of J. A. Larson, St. Paul; Oscar Wall, St. Paul, and Henry Erickson, Virginia, Minn.

Following the initiatory work this evening a program of several numbers has been arranged following which local members will serve refreshments. The program follows:

Address of welcome ..... C. G. Olson.
Piano solo ..... Miss Gerda Erickson.
Address "Duluth Vasa" ..... Andrew Horngren.
Vocal solo ..... Helmer Ogren.
Violin solo ..... Herman Bergstrom.
Declamation ..... Carl Carlson.
Vocal duet ..... Mrs. Hellstrom and Miss Rodberg.
Dialect stories ..... Mrs. Rodberg.

Aged, Wrinkled Faces Easily Rejuvenated

An aged face is often only a mask to a comparatively youthful person. Beneath is a countenance young and fair to look upon. It's a simple matter to remove the mask. Ordinary mercolized wax, to be had at any drug store, gradually absorbs the worn-out surface skin; in a week or two the user has the loveliest pinky white complexion imaginable. An ounce of the wax usually is sufficient to complete the transformation. It is put on at night like cold cream and taken off in the morning with warm water.

This remarkable treatment is invariably effective, no matter how muddy, sallow or discolored the complexion. Freckles, moth-patches, liver spots, pimples, blackheads and other cutaneous blemishes, naturally vanish with the discarded skin.

To remove wrinkles, here is a recipe that cannot be too highly recommended: Powdered saxolite, 1 oz., dissolved in ½-pint witch hazel. Use as a wash lotion. It acts instantaneously and is wonderfully effective. —Advertisement.

"OBSERVATION PARK" IS NAME CHOSEN.

The park adjacent to the Emerson school located at Ninth avenue west and Third street, will be called "Observation Park." This name was decided on as appropriate and accepted by Mayor W. I. Prince.

The name was one of two recently selected by the Fifth Ward Improvement club as desirable for the park. The park covers an area of two city blocks. Members of the Club intend asking the city to purchase an additional block or two in order to extend it down to the Point of Rocks at Eighth avenue west.

ADAMS ALUMNI BANQUET

Plans Are Being Made to Entertain 250 Guests.

The annual banquet of the Adams school Alumni association will be held Thursday evening, June 11, at the Woodmen hall, Twenty-first avenue west and First street. The supper will be served at 7 o'clock by the Ladies' Aid society of the Second Presbyterian church.

Oscar Benson will be toastmaster. The principal speakers will be Mayor W. I. Prince, William E. McEwen, Nell Beaton and Miss Margaret Culkin. A number of other speakers will be secured as well as arrangements made for several musical numbers.

It is planned to entertain 250 guests. Of this number about forty will be graduates this year of the school.

The committee in charge of the arrangements is headed by A. B. Gustafson, president of the alumni. The other members are Oscar Benson, John Wagner, Henry Lavick, Miss Vanga Johnson, Miss Roda Gray, Miss Helen Watson, Miss Jessie Winer, Walter Berklman, Swaney Nelson, Alvin Johnson, Russel Broman, Charles Biers and Clarence Thomas.

Swedish Mission Notes.

The mid-week services at the Swedish Mission church, Twenty-first avenue west and Second street, will be held tomorrow evening under the auspices of the Men's Welfare league. Following the meeting a lecture on Mexico will be given by Religous Director Hauter of the Y. M. C. A.

The Ladies' Aid society will meet in the church parlors Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Charles Mork will be hostess.

A musical program will feature the services at the church on Sunday evening. The song services will be under the auspices of the choir.

May Festival Wednesday.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Trinity Lutheran church, Twenty-seventh avenue west and Third street, will conduct a musical entertainment and May festival tomorrow evening at the church.

Peterson Funeral.

The funeral for Aldrew Peterson, 80 years old, a resident of Duluth for twenty-eight years, who died Sunday, was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the First Norweglan Danish M. E. church, Twenty-fourth avenue west and Third street. Interment was in Scandia cemetery.

Mr. Peterson is survived by a widow living at 11 North Twenty-fifth avenue, and ten children, six of whom reside in Duluth.

Will Colored Wigs Be Popular?

We believe we are really safe in saying that the colored wig rage will never gain a strong hold among the women who, by proper care, have kept their own hair beautiful and to whom the idea of covering the head with a heat-producing blanket-like article is ridiculous. These women realize what sunshine and fresh air mean to hair beauty and that frequent shampooing is necessary during hot weather, though improper shampooing robs the hair of its life and beauty and causes it to grow thin and straggly. To avoid any unhappy condition of scalp or hair, use an economical home-made shampoo, which you prepare very quickly by just dissolving a teaspoonful canthrox (which every drug store carries) in a cup hot water and pouring slowly on the head as you rub briskly. This makes a wealth of rich, cleansing lather that greatly invigorates both scalp and hair. Canthrox shampoos will soon restore the fluff and luster to the dullest hair and encourage a beautiful growth.—Advertisement.

West End Briefs.

Mr. and Mrs. Dolphis Champeau of Red Lake Falls, Minn., left yesterday for their home after having attended the funeral of their little granddaughter, Lyda Hubert, who was killed recently by being struck with the assistant fire chief's automobile.

Progress lodge No. 6, Degree of Honor will entertain at a social in the Columbia hall, Thursday evening. Mrs. H. O'Neil and Mrs. Max Gottschald will be hostesses.

The Luther league of the Bethany Swedish Lutheran church, Twenty-third avenue west and Third street, will entertain this evening at a social program. Musical and literary numbers will be given.

Mrs. D. C. Balkie will be hostess tomorrow afternoon at the meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of the Trinity English Lutheran church, Twenty-seventh avenue west and Third street.

The Christian Endeavor society of the Second Presbyterian church, will entertain tomorrow evening at a shower at the home of Mrs. Martin Timmerman, 2908 West Second street, in honor of Miss Claudia Cox, whose wedding to Ralph E. Paige will take place early next month.

GETS DOWN TO A DEMOCRATIC BASIS

No Carriages or Taxis for Junior-Senior Party.

Hacks and "taxis" are not in order this year for the Junior-Senior high school dance which will be held at the Masonic temple June 11.

It is the sense of the committee which is in charge that the use of hired vehicles should be discouraged around that all lavishness must be cut out. No person will be expected to come to the dance in a car, other than street car, unless he owns it himself.

The following resolution proposed by Miss Margaret E. Taylor has been adopted as the sense of the Junior class, host at the ball:

"We, the members of the Junior class, believe that every boy in the Junior and Senior classes should attend the Junior-Senior party. We further believe that if the expense of attending the party were less, more boys would go. In view of these facts we wish to express our disapproval of hiring carriages or automobiles as conveyances to and from the party, and to express our willingness to substitute the street car for such conveyances."

City Planning Conference.

Toronto, Ont., May 26.—The National Conference on City Planning was opened here yesterday by the Duke of Connaught with nearly 300 delegates in attendance from cities in the United States, Canada and England.

DYSPEPTICS WARNED BY GERMAN PHYSICAN

Prof. Riegel, World-Famous Authority on Stomach Diseases, Points Out Lurking Danger.

Franz Riegel, Professor of Clinica Medicine in the University of Giessen, pronounced the world's greatest authority on diseases of the stomach, makes the positive statement that pepsin must not be used in treating acidity of the stomach. Millions of people are taking all sorts of dyspepsia tablets because they contain pepsin which affords slight temporary relief. But every dose contributes to serious harm in time. What is needed is something to neutralize the excess acid. The best thing for that purpose is ordinary bisurated magnesia. You can get it at any drug store for a few cents. Take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water after each meal. You will get immediate and complete relief with no danger or bad after effects. Authorities agree that acidity is the cause of nearly every form of stomach disorder, and if not checked it is likely to lead to stomach ulcers and cancer.—Advertisement.

STEEL PLANT SUBURBS

STORM WAS DISASTROUS

Wind and Rain Cause Loss of $10,000 in Suburbs.

Mrs. E. E. Martell Has Narrow Escape When Building Is Razed.

One of the worst storms in the history of New Duluth struck the suburb at about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon causing damages that will amount to close to $10,000. One building was completely razed, another blown over fully three feet off its foundatios large plate-glass windows blown in, sidewalks blown over and several chimneys torn off buildings. Many narrow escapes were reported by residents.

The hardware store of E. E. Martell was blown to the ground and a new warehouse that Mr. Martell is erecting adjoining was lifted up and blown to pieces, large parts of it being blown as far as a block away. Mrs. Martell, who was in the hardware and furniture store when it collapsed, had a miracalous escape from injury. She finally managed to crawl from under the debris unhurt. The loss to the buildings and furniture and hardware stock carried by Mr. Martell will amount to about $7,000. Cyclone insurance carried by Mr. Martell will nearly cover the loss.

The large plate-glass window in the Becklinger block was completely blown in. This building is occupied by John Bernge, owner of a drygoods store, who said his loss from water-soaked goods will amount to about $400 and C. O. Bergquist, owner of a grocery and hardware, whose loss will amount to about $200. The glass is covered by plateglass insurance. The building is owned by M. A. Mecklinger.

A new frame store and dwelling being erected on the corner of Ninety-eighth avenue and McEwen street, was blown off its foundation. While the building is not down it leans over about four feet and the cost of replacing it on the foundation will amount to about $200.

A roof on a dwelling at Ninety-sixth avenue west, near Grand avenue, was completely blown off the building. The owner had just recently moved into the house. No member of the family was injured.

Considerable damage was sustained by the Thompson Furniture company. Its smokestack, 60 feet high, was blown down and the roof of its water tank blown off. The tank supplies water for the company's sprinkling system.

A whole block of sidewalk on Commonwealth avenue was blown over. This was in the block between Gary and McGonagle streets.

At the Model City considerable damage is reported to have been done. Several chimneys are said to have blown off the buildings and two roofs as well as one wall of a building under construction were blown over.

Nearly every woodshed and outhouse in New Duluth and Gary suffered damage.

The heavy front door of the fire hall at New Duluth was blown into the building and torn off its hinges.

WILL LAY WATER AND GAS MAINS

Contract to Be Let Monday; Gives New Duluth-Gary Connection.

The first reading of a resolution for the awarding of a contract for the laying of water and gas mains between New Duluth and Gary was given at the meeting of the city commission yesterday afternoon. The contract is to be awarded to the Pastoret Construction company for a consideration of $6,626.66.

According to the charter every contract awarded that amounts to more than $1,000 must be given a reading before it is finally passed upon by the commissioners. The contract will be officially let next Monday.

It calls for the laying of a 12-inch water main and a 6-inch gas main. The work is to be completed by early in the fall.

SEWER AND STREET WORK ARE TOPICS

Commercial Club Will Ask the City for Early Improvements.

The New Duluth Commercial club will hold its regular semi-monthly meeting this evening at the Becklinger hall. The principal subject to be discussed will be sewer and street improvements.

The storm last evening again placed the streets in an impassable condition and it will probably be a day before traffic can again be carried over the thoroughfare. It is the intention of the club members to ask the city to put to work a small stone crusher somewhere along the north end of Commonwealth avenue and to give the thoroughfare a surface of crushed stone.

A sewer system for the suburbs will also be taken up. It is said that more than half of the property owners would be willing to sign a petition for this improvement. The club will ask the commissioners to use the initiative in ordering the improvement in order to relieve its members of the work of getting out a regular petition.

TAKING SUPPLIES FOR FAR NORTH

Windmill to Run Electric Light Plant at Alaska Mission.

Seattle, Wash., May 26.—The power schooner C. S. Holmes, Capt. John Backland, sailed last night for points along the Arctic coast of Alaska as far north as Point Barrow, with a cargo of supplies for missions, government schools and trading posts in the far North.

Among the interesting shipments aboard the Holmes is a windmill to run an electric plant to light the mission buildings at Point Hope. The plant will not be needed during the summer when there is twenty-four hours of daylight, but will be a good thing for residents of the little Arctic village during the long winter nights.

Aboard the Holmes are three organs for the missions at Point Hope, Oksik and Kotzebue and equipment for a gymnasium for the Eskimos at Nome.

At Wainwright, the schooner will land supplies for the school and for the government coal mine, worked by native laborers. Capt. Backland has been notified that 1,500 sacks of coal, mined during the winter, are awaiting distribution among the Arctic stations.

HAVE PURE BLOOD

Hood's Sarsaparilla Makes Rich, Red Blood.

Your heart works night and day without a pause. It is the principal organ of the circulation of your blood. It is of the utmost importance that it should do its work well. The quality and quantity of your blood have much to do with its action. If this fluid is pure, and abundant, your heart and other vital organs act with more energy than when it is defective in quality or deficient in quantity.

Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the blood pure and abundant. It is the one old reliable medicine, that has been sold for forty years, for purifying the blood. There is no better blood remedy, appetizer, stomach tonic or nerve builder. From the very first dose of Hood's Sarsaparilla improvement begins.

Be sure your druggist gives you Hood's, for nothing else can possibly benefit you as much and nothing else can take its place. Get it today.

RECLAMATION WORK SUBJECT OF ATTACK

Committee Charges Irrigation Projects Are in Stage of Stagnation.

Washington, May 26.—In an attack on the government's reclamation policy, the house sub-committee on permanent appropriations made a report yesterday charging that irrigation projects were in a stage of stagnation; that the intent of the irrigation law had been violated in many important respects; that much of the reclaimed land is in the hands of speculators and recommending that no new reclamation legislation be enacted without providing for annual estimates to be submitted to congress.

The report, signed by Representative Borland as chairman, charges that of thirty-one projects begun in the last twelve years, not more than three are nominally finished, that some are less than 10 per cent complete, and that much of the work done by the government was intended to be done by settlers.

EASTMAN KODAK SUIT IS ON AT ROCHESTER.

Rochester, N. Y., May 26.—Two manufacturers of photographic materials, Frank Kilborn of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and Max F. De Jonge of Fitchburg, Mass., testified at the resumption in Federal court here yesterday in the government's suit against the Eastman Kodak company as a combination in restraint of trade.

Mr. Kilborn said he had difficulty in procuring raw paper for use in his factory and was obliged to market his products through dealers who did not sell Eastman goods. Mr. De Jonge described negotiations for sale to the Eastman company of the New Jersey Aristotype company.

MILLION LUMBER FIRE AT CLEVELAND.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 26.—Fire in lumber yards on the flats last night caused a loss estimated at $1,000,000 and destroyed a large portion of the Central viaduct which connected the South Side with the business part of the East Side.

The lumber yards destroyed were the Fisher & Wilson Lumber company, and the Martin Barris Lumber company. The yard of the Saginaw Bay Lumber company and Elevator A of the Cleveland Grain company were badly damaged.

Bodies Recovered.

Chicago, May 26.—The body of George H. Higgins, a Northwestern university student, who, with his wife, formerly Miss Verle Stewart of Kewanee, Ill., was drowned in the drainage canal three hours after their marriage a week ago, was recovered yesterday. Mrs. Higgins' body was taken from the canal Sunday night.

REGULATION OF WEIGHTS

Efficiency Commission to Transfer It to Bureau of Standards.

Relieve Railroad and Warehouse Commission of Inconsistent Duties.

St. Paul, Minn., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—When the legislature three years ago decided that the state ought to have real regulation of weights and measures, it looked around for some department that was handling its work in a ship-shape manner. It fixed on the railroad and warehouse commission. The railroad and warehouse commission was already looking after track scales and elevator scales and was in the habit of establishing reasonable rules. There were naturally reasons for assigning this duty to the commission.

Before that nobody looked after it. Somewhere in the state house there was a set of standard weights and measures that had been found very handy to hold doors open and keep papers from blowing away. The railroad and warehouse commission, as it always does, took this job seriously—picked out the best man that could be found—instructed him to go to work and pay no attention to politics, and with his assistance organized the service and laid down the rules.

Situation Altered.

At that time it was probably the best disposition that could have been made of this function. It was certainly preferable to creating a new detached bureau with a new executive board, as has so often been done. But now the situation is altered. If the legislature takes to the plans of the efficiency commission, there will be a department of labor and commerce. That department will have a bureau of standards keeping the trade up to the mark in a number of ways. Testing weights and measures fits with the other inspection service. Not that the same man will necessarily take food samples and also test scales but because kindred duties can be most effectively and economically handled when they are brought into one department.

For that reason the efficiency commission recommends that weights and measures be a part of the bureau of standards in the proposed department of labor and commerce. It will relieve the railroad and warehouse commission of duties that are somewhat inconsistent with those of a non-executive body and it will strengthen the executive department.

OLD RESIDENT PASSES AWAY

Father of Prominent Duluth Business Men Succumbs to Long Illness.

Charles E. Parker, 76 years old, for twenty-three years a resident of Duluth, died at 6:15 o'clock last evening at his residence, 17 Lake avenue north, after an illness that lasted nearly a year. He had been ailing for the last twelve months. Recently his condition became worse and his death was not unexpected by members of the family.

Mr. Parker was the father of Charles, Frank and Joseph Parker, all of the Rust-Parker-Martin company. A widow and one daughter, Mrs. Hugo Kromer, also of Duluth, survive him. He came to Duluth twenty-three years ago from Grand Rapids, Mich., and was very well known among the older residents of the city.

The body has been taken to the Stewart undertaking rooms, where the funeral arrangements will be made some time today. The funeral will probably be held Thursday afternoon from the residence of Charles Parker, 1921 East Third street, with interment at Forest Hill cemetery.

TELLS OF ISLE OF MAN.

Bishop Quayle Gives Lecture at German M. E. Church.

"In every true Manx family with a daughter, you will find her name is 'Mona'," said Bishop W. A. Quayle, who lectured last night on "Hall Caine's Island" at the German Methodist church, Fifth avenue east and Sixth street. "'Mona,' he said, "is the ancient Manx name for the Isle of Man, meaning the 'Isle of Beauty.'"

The speaker gave a vivid picture of this island, saying that it was an imperishable part of the life of every true Manxman. He spoke of the effect of the poetic imagery upon the people and how it enlarged their vision and gave them a keen sense of the beautiful.

GREETED BY THREE HUNDRED MASONS.

New York, May 26.—Ernest Nathan, Italy's commissioner to arrange for her exhibit at the Panama Pacific exposition in San Francisco, and formerly of Rome, arrived here yesterday on the steamship Stampalia. Mr. Nathan, who is head of the Masonic order in Italy, was greeted by 300 Masons, who met the Stampalia at Quarantine. Several hundred of his countrymen welcomed Mr. Nathan at the Italian line's pier.

The commissioner, who is 71 years old, said he would go to Washington to call upon President Wilson.

FINAL ARGUMENT IN STEEL CASE OCT. 20.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 26.—Final argument in the suit of the Federal government to dissolve the United States Steel corporation will be heard in the United States court in this city on Oct. 20. Judge Buffington, who with Judges Gray and McPherson will hear the argument, has filed an order in the United States court at Trenton, N. J., where the suit was instituted, fixing that date for the final hearing. The suit was begun Oct. 26, 1911.

LABOR LEADER MADE INSANE BY WORRYING

Chicago, May 26.—Worry over the failure to end the negotiations of the engineers and firemen of the western railroads with the railroad managers was given as the cause for the failure of the health of Richard F. Wright, spokesman of the Texas delegation of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen. Wright was adjudged insane yesterday and confined in the detention hospital.

MISSOURI PACIFIC GIVES AN EXTENSION.

New York, May 26.—George J. Gould, chairman of the Missouri Pacific Railway company, announced after a meeting of the directors, that an extension of time to May 29 had been granted holders of the $25,000,000 three-year notes maturing June 1. Mr. Gould said that nearly 65 per cent of the notes had been deposited with the Union Trust company up to the close of business yesterday, and he was hopeful that the remaining 35 per cent would be turned in before May 29.

CASES REFERRED TO STATE COURTS.

Kansas City, Mo. May 26.—By an opinion handed down here by Judge A. S. Van Valkenburgh of the United States district court, the Missouri rate cases, which John T. Barker, attorney general, brought against railroads in the state asking a refund of $24,000,000 for alleged excessive fares and freight rates, are referred to the state courts for settlement and the status of these cases becomes the same as when the suits were begun in 1906.

Shot During Hazing.

Annapolis, Md., May 26.—As the result of what the authorities of St. John's military college believe to have been an attempted hazing last night, William Bowlus, a cadet from Middletown, Md., is at a hospital here, seriously wounded by a pistol bullet.

48c Ladies' Oxfords 98c

Beginning Thursday the 28th, we offer nearly 500 pairs of Ladies' Oxford Shoes in $3.50 to $5 qualities—none less than $3.50—in tans, dull and patent blacks at 98c

Another lot of the same qualities, but less desirable shapes and sizes at.... 48c

This sacrifice is due to the fact that we have discontinued selling ladies' shoes in our Superior store and in adding the two stocks find we have a great overstock of oxfords. We have determined to sell them quickly and in order to do so have fixed the prices as quoted above.

We will not attempt to describe the shoes, but ask any person in need of an every-day shoe of exceptional quality at a ridiculously low price to drop in and have a look at them. Seeing is believing.

Sale starts Thursday.

Woman's Realm

Bookstores in America are being supplanted by newstands, but this condition is not to be wondered at when it is considered that while the United States publishes only 6 per cent of the annual production of books it publishes 60 per cent of the world's periodical literature.

This dearth of books in the United States is attributed to the tariff by Edwin H. Anderson, director of the New York public library and president of the American Library association now meeting in New York. In his address at the convention last night Mr. Anderson said the tariff on English books is heaviest on those who are least able to pay it, scholars, teachers and scientific investigators. Other enlightened governments do everything in their power to encourage such men as national assets, whereas the American policy discourages them, he says. A policy that would put books in a class by themselves where they would be privileged instead of taxed, would encourage education among the people, he maintained.

Really good book stores are scarce and most books, except the best sellers and the classics must be obtained from the publishers, and they are small producers when compared to those of other countries, said Mr. Anderson.

DINNER SERVICE.

Mrs. Margaret Blair Lectures to Women.

Mrs. Margaret Blair, head of the department of domestic arts of the school of agriculture of the University of Minnesota, spoke at the Glass Block tearoom yesterday afternoon on the setting of the dinner table, the linen, china and glass.

She showed how the dishes, knives, forks and spoons should be placed, spoke of the color schemes of centerpieces, recommending simple and harmonious colors and deploring the use of ribbon bows for table decorations, and described the proper way of serving food to the guests.

Mrs. Blair told of the Irish linen, contrasting the creamy white linen that results from sun bleaching with the dead white finish that is produced by chemical bleaching. She exploded the time-honored theory that cloth is linen if moisture goes through it easily by explaining that mercerized cotton acts in the same manner. She told how to tell pure linen by examining the threads and by rubbing a piece of material to bring up the cotton nap if cotton is present.

She showed pieces of English, Syracuse and willow china, recommending English china for its durability, as it is made of a soft clay and does not chip easily.

The testing for glassware also came in for a share of attention. Good, durable glass has a blue hue when held in the sunlight, Mrs. Blair said. Glass that has a pink or yellow tinge shows it has been in the kiln too long and will be brittle.

Mrs. Blair will lecture and give practical demonstrations each afternoon this week, with the exception of Saturday. Her talks will include floors and their coverings, wall decorating and draperies, health and beauty in dress, and salads.

Linen Shower.

In honor of Miss Hilma Strandmark whose wedding to Albert Peterson will take place June 3, Miss Vendla Ericson and Miss Alice Johnson entertained at a linen shower last evening at the home of Miss Ericson, 109 Vernon street. The rooms were decorated with pink and white hearts and cupids. Those present were:

Request Program.

A request program will be given at Trinity pro-cathedral Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. This will be the final program of the year. It is composed of the organ and chorus numbers that have been most enjoyed at the special monthly services at the pro-cathedral. This will be the last organ recital at Trinity by Miss Isabel Pearson, organist and choir director, as she will leave her position at the end of August to be married in September.

Wally Heymar George of Chicago will give two violin solos that she has played at the special monthly services. The choruses will be sung by the full vested choir that has done such excellent work at the regular services and in special programs.

The regular cathedral choral service will be sung Sunday afternoon and will be closed by Stainer's "Sevenfold Amen." A five minute talk on "Church Music" by the rector, Rev. T. W. MacLean, will take the place of the usual sermon.

The program beginning at 4:30 o'clock will be:
"Evening Song" ..... Johnston
"Andantino in D Flat" .... Lemare
Violin solo—"Adoration" .... Borowski
Wally Heymar George.
"Serande" ..... Gunod

Stoller-Swanstrom.

A marriage license was issued at Chicago today to Miss Gladys Stoller and Carl Swanstrom, both of Duluth. Miss Stoller is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chris A. Stoller, formerly of 432 North Fifty-second avenue west, but now living at Barnum, Minn.

Yessne-Shark.

Miss Sheba Yessne and Henry A. Shark were married this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock by Dr. Maurice Lefkovits. Miss Yessne wore a blue and white shepherd plaid suit and white hat. The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Herman Shark, of Devils Lake, N. D. After a wedding dinner served to a small number at the Spalding hotel, Mr. and Mrs. Shark left for a short wedding trip. They will be at home after June 10 at 817 East Fifth street.

Loyal Temperance Legion.

All who expect to march with the Loyal Temperance legion will meet at the First Methodist church Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

Meeting at Christian Church.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the First Christian church will hold the annual meeting and election of officers at the church tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. There will be six hostesses.

Philathea Class.

The Philathea class of the Woodland Union Sunday school entertained last evening at the home of Mrs. J. H. Lee, 124 East Winona street, in honor of the birthday of Miss Julia Larson. The decorations were in pink and white.

Lodge Notes.

Majestic Rebekah lodge, No. 60, I. O. O. F., will entertain Saturday evening from 8 to 10:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Albert E. Botsford, 631 East Fifth street.

Teske-Perry.

Miss Hattie A. Teske, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Teske of 11 East Fourth street, and Marion E. Perry were married last evening at the home of the bride's parents. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Paul T. Bratzel of the German Evangelical church. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore bro[illegible]ed white crepe de chine made with train. Her veil was caught in cap effect with lilies of the valley and she carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. Little Gladys Cullen was the flower girl. Mr. and Mrs. Perry left for a short visit in Chicago before going to Cleveland, Ohio, where they will make their home.

NEW WAYS TO SERVE STRAWBERRIES

Some Recipes Gathered From Other Newspapers for The Herald Readers.

Strawberries and cream and strawberry shortcake have been served for weeks, so maybe a few new recipes will be acceptable to the housekeeper who tries to give her family changes in even such a delicious fruit as strawberries. Here are a few gathered by The Herald from its exchanges:

Strawberry Charlotte—Line a large, deep glass dish with lady fingers dipped in milk. Cover the bottom with a thick layer of strawberries and pour over the berries a soft boiled custard. Repeat these layers until the dish is full, then cover with meringue and brown in oven. Peaches may be used instead of strawberries.—Milwaukee Free-Press.

Strawberry Souffle—Beat the whites of seven eggs to a stiff froth, adding sugar to sweeten, then beat in gradually a quart of ripe berries, or the well-drained berries from a can of preserved or canned strawberries. Turn into a buttered pudding dish and bake for one-half hour in a steady oven. Serve at once with whipped cream.—Milwaukee Free-Press.

Floating Island—Crush one pint of ripe strawberries and sweeten to taste. Beat the whites of four eggs to a stiff froth and gradually mix in one-half cup of powdered sugar and sufficient of the strained juice of the berries to color and flavor. Then beat again until the meringue will stand alone. Meanwhile prepare a boiled custard from one pint of milk, the yolks of the eggs, a pinch of salt and a cup of sugar. Cook the custard over hot water until it thickens (do not let it boil), flavor with vanilla and when cool pour in a glass dish.

Place carefully over the custard a layer of the crushed berries and drop the strawberry meringue or frosting in peaks on top of the fruit. Place on ice to chill thorcughly before serving.—Milwaukee Free-Press.

Preserves.

Generally the excellence of strawberry preserves is thought to depend upon the berries' retaining their shape and color. Here is a recipe that leaves shape entirely out of the question:

Wash and drain the berries and run through a food chopper, using the coarse grinder; then to one cup of the fruit put one cup of sugar; place over fire and let boil ten minutes only, stirring constantly; skim and can. Better results are obtained by not cooking more than six cups of the fruit at a time.—Christian Science Monitor.

Sunshine Strawberry Preserves—Hull three pounds of perfect strawberries of largest size. Cook three pounds of granulated sugar and two cups of boiling water until a light thread is formed. Do not stir the sugar after it melts and begins to boil. Turn in the berries and allow to cook fifteen minutes after they begin to boil. Pour the contents onto a large platter and set in the sun to stand for several days or until the syrup is thick. Cover with netting. Put away in tumblers, cover with paraffin and store in cool, dry place.—Milwaukee Free-Press.

Fruit Combinations.

For those who like fruit combinations the following may be pleasing:

Strawberry and Rhubarb Jelly—Use equal quantities of firm red rhubarb and tart firm strawberries. Wash and cut rhubarb into small pieces, wash the berries, then cook separately, as rhubarb needs longer cooking. Use no water, as this fruit draws enough juice. Place the strawberries in bag first, then the rhubarb and let drip over night. In morning measure juice, then measure an equal amount of sugar. Bring fruit to boiling point and simmer fifteen minutes. Take off scum that rises. Add half of the sugar and simmer ten more minutes, then stir in rest of sugar. After it has again come to boiling point watch, and as soon as juice becomes thick when placed on cold plate it is done. Place in sterilized glasses that have been dipped in water, cover with a cloth and let stand for a few days, then seal with paraffin.

If a jelly bag is immersed in vinegar and water as soon as it has been emptied it will look clean and be usable all summer; never wash it in warm water or use soap, or the fruit stains will be set.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Strawberry and Pineapple Jam—Proportions: Five cupfuls hulled berries, three cupfuls ground pineapple and four cupfuls sugar. Combine the fruit, add part of the sugar and let stand several hours; then cook twenty minutes. Add the remainder of the sugar and cook until clear and well thickened. Put into small glasses, allow to stand several days and then seal.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Montana Millionaire Dies.

Helena, Mont., May 26.—John T. Murphy, pioneer millionaire merchant and stockman of Montana, is dead here of pneumonia, aged 72. Besides stock and banking interests in this state he owned extensive orange and grape-fruit groves at Fort Myers, Fla., where he spent his winters. Two of his daughters are now in Japan on a tour of the world.

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Baldwin Players in "Alias Jimmy Valentine."
EMPRESS—Vaudeville.

Amusement Notes.

"Alias Jimmy Valentine," O. Henry's greatest story is being presented to crowded houses at the Lyceum this week by the Baldwin Players and judging from the enthusiasm shown the company is further working into the hearts of its patrons by the excellent presentation it gives of this great play. It is full of excitement from the moment "Jimmy Valentine" gets out of Sing Sing, until Doyle, the detective, Jimmy's enemy, finally catches him red handed at work opening a big bank vault without tools and by sense of touch alone. This time it was not for the "coin" back of the door, but to save the life of his sweetheart's baby sister who in play has been locked in by her kid brother and when no one has the combination. Doyle finally catches him and his sweetheart sees him ply his old art but what Doyle does with "Jimmy" is too good to tell and spoil the pleasure of seeing the delightful story of this "sentimental crook."

Next week, the Baldwin Players will present by special arrangement with Henry W. Savage, Inc., "Madame X." "Alias Jimmy Valentine" will be presented the rest of this week with a matinee tomorrow and Saturday at 2:30. Notwithstanding Saturday, Decoration day, being a holiday there will be no increase in prices. The prices for the Baldwin Players' engagement do not change.

The bill that opened at the Empress with yesterday's matinee, is one of the best vaudeville offerings in many ways, that the house has shown so far this season. The headliner is "The Rah Rah Boys and Lorna Jackson" in a musical tabloid called "On the College Campus." This bit is full of sprightly college songs and some clever dialogue.

The Aeroplane Girl—no other name given—made a hit yesterday at the three performances. She swings out over the audience in a facsimile of an aeroplane and indulges in fitting songs inviting her auditors to a ride. She is pretty and her singing is good, and besides that her act is novel.

Murray K. Hill is the same funny story teller of yore, and has a bunch of new ones as well as some cleverly renovated old ones. Walsh and Bentley acrobats, but different from others, make good. They have a line of talk accompanying their act that catches and their acrobatic stunts are excellent.

The two reels of motion pictures are also very good. In short the bill is very much worth while.

RESCUES YOUTH AT OWN RISK.

Bowman, N. D., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Eugene Bowen, aged 5 years, was rescued from death in a cesspool through the daring of J. O. Booen, who almost met death.

The cesspool was covered with boards which had rotted. While the boy and a companion were playing, the boards gave way and the lad was precipitated into the slime. His companion ran to give the alarm.

In the meantime Miss Alice Booen heard the lad's cries, notifying her father, and the latter succeeded in effecting the rescue.

Bank Buys Cows.

Spooner, Minn., May 26.—A carload of twenty-five cows and one bull, all registered Holsteins, were unloaded at Williams recently and were at once taken by the farmers south of town. The cows were purchased by the Security State bank of this place and sold to the farmers on easy terms.

Bids All Too High.

Stanton, N. D., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The board of education rejected all bids for the construction of the new school building here and decided to advertise for new bids. The lowest bid submitted was $6,400, while the next bid was $7,300, the low bidder having made an error in his figures. The new bids will be received about June 15.

Surveying Williston Line.

Williston, N. D., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Actual work on the proposed electric railway from Williston to a point on the Soo line, in Divide county, sixty miles north of here, has commenced, a party of surveyors having left this city to map out the prospective route for the road. A party of the rail officials will accompany the surveyors.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Most Women Are Truthful.

Are all women liars? A prominent New York lawyer and statesman says we are, though not in so many words. He bases his assertion upon his experiences as a lawyer, and claims that an oath means nothing to a woman, and that she testifies either from a sense of duty or because she dee'y loves some one; or else in the spirit of getting even with an enemy, and never with the idea of having justice meted out.

These statements are not only ungallant, but unfair and untrue when he says that women never like to see justice done. Women are as keen that justice be done as men. Men being concerned with legal affairs, while women, until quite recent years, were utterly debarred from participation in most legal formalities, better understand the nature of an oath.

The administering of an oath is an unusual event in a woman's life and an every day affair in the life of the ordinary man. I defy anyone who is unfamiliar with the oath as administered in the courtrooms to make anything intelligible out of it the first time they hear it. Men and women stand with right hands upraised while the clerk mumbles out something and comes out very strong on the end with "so help you God."

The average woman has just as much horror of perjury as the average man. She doesn't intentionally commit perjury or do an injury to another. It is more often ignorance of the importance with which her few words are freighted rather than intent to injure another or commit perjury. This ignorance often creates this unfavorable idea of women in courtrooms and among court officials and lawyers.

I know that there are unscrupulous women, as there are men, who would not hesitate to blacken their souls with lies in order to save themselves or someone for whom they cared. I think when it comes to perjuring oneself in order to save someone whom one loves that women may lead the van, but not because she is more the liar or because she thinks to lie more rapidly than the man, but because she seeks to save those whom she loves without a thought of others. This does not make a woman a liar or an intentional perjurer by any means, and the New Yorker's words were too severe.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS.

10.—The Recall.

This amendment, if adopted, would give the voters of this state the right to recall every elective or appointive officer.

In other words, the recall gives the public, as an employer, the same right to discharge unfaithful or incompetent employers that every private employer reserves.

The public now has this right, in the case of elective officers, at the end of each term of office.

The adoption of this amendment would give them the same right during a term, and thus would save them from the need of continuing an unworthy officer after his unworthiness has become apparent.

The particular form in which the recall is presented in this amendment is quite different from the customary form, and it contains one provision that excels any other recall provision, and one that is worse than any other.

There is still another about which there will be a good deal of debate—the recall of judges, who are included in the system proposed.

The point in which this amendment excels is the provision that when a public officer is challenged by the recall and his case presented to the voters, the only question to be passed upon by them is whether or not he shall be recalled.

The usual method is to open the field for opposing candidates; but this is unjust because often an officer may emerge from such a test bearing the stigma of having been recalled when in point of fact all that has happened is that he has been defeated by a more popular candidate. This cannot happen under this amendment, and the provision that prevents it is a wise one.

The weak point in the amendment, in the opinion of The Herald, is the provision for the recall of appointive officers; and this weakness is fatal.

In the first place, the country is working toward the short ballot system, under which the number of elective offices is reduced, and the appointing officers are made responsible for the behavior in office of their appointees. This centralizing of responsibility also centralizes power, and the recall is needed as a check upon this centralized power. The provision for the recall of appointive officers works exactly the opposite, and would scatter responsibility when the wise tendency is to centralize it.

Again, the term "appointive officer" is very sweeping. It may mean janitors and clerks in the public service. Probably it does include them.

Minnesota needs the recall. If it gets it at this time, it must take it in the form in which it has been submitted by the legislature. This form includes the recall of judges—a doubtful proposition at best—and the recall of appointive officers, which we believe to be fundamentally and totally wrong and reactionary.

This amendment should be defeated, and the next legislature required to submit it again, shorn of its objectionable features.

THE NEED OF A CITY AND COUNTY HOSPITAL.

The other day a young girl sixteen years old came from a small Wisconsin town to Duluth, looking for work.

The train arrived in the evening, and as she had no friends to meet her she spent the night in a small hotel near the station.

When she had paid for her room and breakfast, she had two dollars left, which she carefully hid in her suitcase before starting out to seek work. When she returned, having found a place to work, her money was gone. It had been stolen.

After working but one day, the girl was taken sick. The woman who had engaged her, being under no legal obligation to care for her, sent her back to the agency through which she had hired her.

The child was alarmingly ill, with symptoms that might mean either scarlet fever or diphtheria. To send her back home in that condition would have been not only a cruelty to the girl but a menace to the public health. Not being a resident of the county, she was not even entitled to aid from that source.

What to do with her the official into whose hands she fell did not know, but finally she sent her to the municipal lodging house—the only place she could find that could take her, as the regular hospitals cannot take a person suspected of having a contagious disease. The municipal lodging house is not equipped to care for sick people who require a great deal of nursing. It is not intended to be a hospital at all, but it is frequently called upon to serve as such, even when there is possible contagion. There, for lack of a better place, the girl went through a severe case of tonsilitis.

What was needed for that poor girl—what is needed for many in conditions somewhat similar—is a public hospital, such a county and city hospital as the Woman's Council is working for in Duluth.

DAWN BREAKS IN IRELAND.

All but the final step toward home rule for Ireland was taken yesterday when the Liberal government forced the home rule bill to final passage in the house of commons by a vote of 351 to 274.

Under the new parliamentary rule this makes the bill a law, or will when minor technicalities are complied with, despite the opposition of the house of lords, as this is the third time the bill has passed the house of commons.

The world will rejoice, we are sure, that after many long and bitter years Ireland is to come into its own at last. It has been a pathetic tale, that of liberty-loving Ireland chained to an imperial chariot, and her wounds and tears have touched the well of human sympathy the world around.

It is cause for universal thanksgiving that that land of loyal hearts that have aspired to liberty through aching years is at last to have the liberty it longed for.

And Ulster? Ulster remains to be cared for by amendment, apparently. Asquith's scheme of a referendum, allowing any Ulster county that votes so to go free of Irish rule, seems fair enough, and unless something better is offered, that will be the way it will go. There is small excuse here for braggadocio and talk of revolution, and Ulster would better swallow its medicine, vote itself out of Ireland if it feels like it, and go back to its routine of peaceful industry.

Congratulations to the Irish, and above all to that gallant and indomitable soul who has led the fight to which he had dedicated all his great powers—John Redmond.

THE TRIUMPH OF "WATCHFUL WAITING."

It has been at least a couple of weeks since a sneering remark was last heard about the policy of "watchful waiting."

That policy has pretty well justified itself, everybody now agrees.

What a pity it is that there wasn't a little of it in use in 1898! General Woodford, who was this country's minister to Spain in 1898, has said that "if we had waited forty-eight hours we should not have had the Spanish war."

Nobody doubts that, now. The matters of difference that made it necessary for this country to protest against conditions in Cuba were in process of adjustment, and if the Maine had not blown up there would have been no war, no lives lost, no tremendous expenditures, no canned beef scandals, no Hobson, no Schley-Sampson controversy, no imperialism.

We never should have known a Moro from an Igorrote. We never should have held the Philippines gingerly at arm's length, wishing we could lose them and fearing that we wouldn't.

Forty-eight hours of "watchful waiting" in 1898 would have meant no war with all its train of perplexities.

And watchful waiting in 1914 saved us from a war with Mexico, with all the death and suffering and woe and misery it would have entailed.

Who thinks today that the Tampico incident, which was to have plunged us into war, will bring on a war? It is forgotten!

Meanwhile, either at Niagara Falls or at Mexico City, the Mexican situation will work itself out, and we shall have the glory without the cost of war. "Watchful waiting" is approved by its fruits.

WOMEN VOTERS AND COLORADO.

"Now what about the millennium that woman suffrage is to bring?" you hear the anti-suffragist saying these days. "Look at Colorado! Women have voted there for twenty-one years, and see the mess Colorado is in now!"

Yes, and men have voted there for forty years, and see the mess they have made, too!

Nobody with any sense promises that a millennium will dawn when women vote.

All that will happen when the absurd restriction of sex is removed from the ballot is that society will have taken one step forward in the long road that leads to real democracy, real government by and for the people.

There will be some gain, we hope. Colorado has good laws, but they are not enforced. Women helped to make those good laws. More than half the things the striking coal miners there asked for were already required by these good laws. The men sworn to enforce them didn't do it.

Social and economic progress isn't a matter of whether men or women vote. It's a matter of whether men AND women vote intelligently and keep up their public vigilance all the time.

A REAL CRITIC.

Georg Brandes, the Danish critic who has been visiting this country, says that he has seen more beautiful women here than he ever saw before.

To criticize is to appraise. A great critic is a great appraiser.

So thus Georg Brandes nails down his reputation of being the world's greatest critic.

The Way of a Man

Before Marriage.

Walt Mason in Judge: He carried flowers and diamond rings to please that dazzling belle, and caramels and other things that damsels love so well. He'd sit for hours upon a chair and hold her on his knees; he blew his money here and there, as though it grew on trees. "If I had half what you are worth," he used to say, "my sweet, I'd put a shawl-strap round the earth and lay it at your feet."

He had no other thought, it seemed, than just to cheer her heart; and everything of which she dreamed, he purchased in the mart.

"When we are spliced," he used to say, "you'll have all you desire—a gold mine or a load of hay, a dachshund or a lyre. My one great aim will be to make your life a thing of joy, so haste and to the altar take your little Clarence boy."

And so she thought she drew a peach when they were wed in June. Alas! how oft for plums we reach, and only get a prune!

After Marriage.

"And so you want another hat?" he thundered to his frau. "Just tell me what is wrong with that—the one you're wearing now! No wonder that I have the blues, the way the money goes; last week you blew yourself for shoes, next week you'll want new clothes!

"I wish you were like other wives and would like them behave; it is the object of their lives to help their husbands save. All day I'm in the business fight and strain my heart and soul, and when I journey home at night, you touch me for my roll. You want a twenty-dollar hat, to hold your topknot down, or else a new Angora cat, a lapdog or a gown. You lie awake at night and think of things you'd like to buy, and when I draw a little chink, you surely make it fly.

"With such a wife as you, I say, a husband has no chance; you pull his starboard limb by day, by night you rob his pants.

"My sainted mother, when she dwelt in this sad vale of tears, had one old lid, of cloth or felt, she wore for thirty years. She helped my father all the time, she pickled every bone, and if she had to blow a dime, it made her weep and moan.

"The hat you wear is good as new; 'twill do another year. So don't stand round, the rag to chew—I'm busy now, my dear."

The Church and Social Service.

Meredith Nicholson in the Nation: The church has, in my opinion, greatly strengthened itself by its excursions into social fields. I shall express my opinion more honestly if I say that by its adventures in social service the church has arrested a decline of power and influence that had aroused in many thoughtful minds grave fears for the future of Protestantism.

Social service by the church is still tentative and experimental, and it must remain so until the highest councils of the several denominations devise and support a definite policy and plan of work. The timidity of the representative assemblies in dealing with this question has not been reassuring. It still seems to be left to individual ministers to undertake social work or let it alone, as they choose. Unity is Protestantism's great need, and until this is effected, with its resulting economies of money and energy, no great victories for social betterment through religious agencies may be expected.

When there are instances of failure in the effort to socialize the church, they are, I think, attributable to causes not in themselves discouraging. They are often due to hasty plunges after novelty—efforts to rally the wavering line by abrupt and ill-considered experiments. The man who has been allowed to assume that he is satisfying every requirement of religious obligation by saying prayers and giving alms to the poor must not be warned too suddenly that he is not promoting his soul's health by loving his neighbor as himself at long range, but that he has a personal responsibility for his brother's peace and happiness.

Terrible to Contemplate.

Harper's Weekly: A young woman from the West was making a visit to an old seaport town. One morning, while driving with her host, she said:

"What is the diet of all these people?"

"Fish, mostly," responded the man.

"Why," spoke the Westerner, "I thought fish was a brain food. These are really the most unintelligent-looking people I ever saw."

"Well," replied the host, "just think what they would look like if they didn't eat fish!"

His Tonic.

Baltimore Sun: "What has become of the old-fashioned man who used to take a tonic every spring?"

"He discovered a patent medicine that is 90 per cent alcohol and now he takes a tonic all the year around."

The President's Ideals and Policy for Mexico

(From the record of a conversation by Samuel G. Blythe in the Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post.)

"My ideal is an orderly and righteous government in Mexico; but my passion is for the submerged 85 per cent of the people of that republic who are now struggling toward liberty."

The president closed his fingers into a sinewy fist.—He leaned forward in his chair—leaned forward as a man leans forward who is about to start on a race, his body taut, his muscles tense. I could see the cords stand out on the back of his neck. His eyes were narrowed, his lips slightly parted, his vigor and earnestness impressive.

"I challenge you," he said, "to cite me an instance in all the history of the world where liberty was handed down from above! Liberty always is attained by the forces working below, underneath, by the great movement of the people. That, leavened by the sense of wrong and oppression and injustice, by the ferment of human rights to be attained, brings freedom.

"It is a curious thing," he continued, "that every demand for the establishment of order in Mexico takes into consideration, not order for the benefit of the people of Mexico, the great mass of the population, but order for the benefit of the old-time regime, for the aristocrats, for the vested interests, for the men who are responsible for this very condition of disorder. No one asks for order because order will help the masses of the people to get a portion of their rights and their land; but all demand it so that the great owners of property, the overlords, the hidalgos, the men who have exploited that rich country for their own selfish purposes, shall be able to continue their processes undisturbed by the protests of the people from whom their wealth and power have been obtained.

"The dangers that beset the republic are held to be the individual and corporate troubles of these men, not the aggregated injustices that have been heaped on this vastly greater section of the population that is now struggling to recover by force what has always been theirs by right.

"They want order—the old order; but I say to you that the old order is dead. It is my part, as I see it, to aid in composing those differences so far as I may be able, that the new order, which will have its foundation on human liberty and human rights, shall prevail."

As a result of my conversation with the president, which was on the evening of April 27, only a few hours after word had come that Huerta would accept the offer of mediation made by the representatives of Argentina, Brazil and Chili, I can state these conclusions, which will endure regardless of the outcome of negotiations. The settled policy of the president in regard to Mexico will be as follows:

First—The United States, so long as Mr. Wilson is president, will not seek to gain a foot of Mexican territory in any way or under any pretext. When we have finished with Mexico, Mexico will be territorially intact.

Second—No personal aggrandizement by American investors or adventurers or capitalists, or exploitation of that country will be permitted. Legitimate business interests that seek to develop rather than exploit will be encouraged.

Third—A settlement of the agrarian land question by constitutional means—such as that followed in New Zealand, for example—will be insisted on.

These are the materialistic ideals of President Wilson, the main points he has firmly in his mind. His future policy will rest on these foundations, regardless of what the moment may inject into the situation in the way of minor questions. * * *

"We shall not demand a foot of territory nor a cent of money—except, of course, the settlement of such claims as may justly be made by American citizens for damages to their property during these disturbances—individual claims. There will be no money demand in a national sense. Then we shall have shown the entire world that the Monroe Doctrine means an unselfish friendship for our neighbors—a disinterested friendship in the sense of not being interested in our aggrandizement—and that our motives are only the motives inspired by the higher humanity, by our sense of duty and responsibility, and by our determination that human liberty shall prevail in our hemisphere."

The president paused. He had been intensely in earnest in his talk. He smiled, and his long white fingers wove themselves in and out. Then, with a little gesture that betokened amused contempt, he continued:

"They say the Mexicans are not fitted for self-government; and to this I reply that, when properly directed, there is no people not fitted for self-government. The very fact that the extension of the school system by Diaz brought about a certain degree of understanding among some of the people which caused them to awaken to their wrongs and to strive intelligently for their rights makes that contention absurd. I do not hold that the Mexican peons are at present as capable of self-government as other people—ours, for example; but I do hold that the widespread sentiment that they never will be and never can be made to be capable of self-government is as wickedly false as it is palpably absurd."

Belief.

If I were asked what I believe, I could not help but say,
The gentle and the simple creeds of
boyhood's yesterday;
The tender faith in Bible things, the truth, the way, the right,
The golden rule to live one's life according to the light;
And everywhere the thought of God,
that we are everywhere
The children of one Father's love and of His heavenly care.

If I were asked what I believe, I know my thoughts would go Back to the little child at prayer in the soft evenglow;
And I can think of nothing else so beautiful, so sweet,
As prayer beside a mother's knee who tried to lead our feet
In paths of righteousness and truth
where none could go astray
From that dear life of simple trust in childhood's yesterday.

If I were asked what I believe, I'd have to say, as then,
A simpler faith in God's commands, a
manlier trust 'mong men,
A clear and more abiding course,
t'ward that which men might call
The straight-out-from-the-shoulder faith of Peter and of Paul;
The teachings, most of all, that came to us in Sunday school,
Way back at little childhood's land,
the land of Golden Rule.

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—When Lawrence Y. Sherman, member of the picturesque team of senatorial contrasts from Illinois, stepped out of law school he had only $1.80 to his name. He had not yet made up his mind what town he was going to practice in, and he feared that by the time he got all settled and his office equipped his $1.80 might be almost entirely used up. Rather than run the risk of finding himself without capital, he lent an attentive ear to the talk of a man who offered him a job teaching school. He said he would think about it over night and let the man know the next morning.

Sherman then went at once into a caucus with himself and before he slept had determined that he would not teach. His reasoning leading up to that decision was noteworthy.

"If I start in teaching school," thought he, "I'll probably find the work rather easy and the pay more certain than if I practice law and I'll be apt to keep right on teaching school. I don't want to be a school teacher permanently because I started out to be a lawyer. Therefore I must get some less desirable line of work that I'll be sure to quit at the earliest opportunity."

So he picked out his town—Macomb, Ill.—hung out his sign and went to work at a line of endeavor entirely different from teaching. He drove a transfer wagon. When not hauling freight up from the depot he sat in his office blinking wisely and waited for clients. Just as he had figured out, as soon as his law practice was large enough to provide him with regular meals, he reconciled himself to giving up his place on the delivery wagon forever.

The day after Senator La Follette delivered his almost two pounds of speech in the senate—one pound and eleven ounces to be exact—Representative Barnhart of Indiana, chairman of the house committee on printing, got up to offer a few figures about the cost of La Follette's extension of remarks. Barnhart was prepared to show that the expense of printing the speech in the congressional record was nearly $10,000, and that the final cost when the speech is put into the bound records, will reach about $13,000. If every congressman went in for such heavy speeches all the same day, an issue of the congressional record, said Barnhart, would cost more than $7,000,000.

In giving these figures, however, Barnhart qualified by saying: "If my multiplication is correct." And that brought a laugh from the house, for on a previous occasion he read off a lot of figures that he had accepted from a clerk and somebody detected an error in multiplication of about $30,000. The error mortified Barnhart more than anything that has happened to him since he entered congress, for he insists that in his school days he stood at the head of the class in multiplication and long division and even in fractions. Not until the other day was he able to refer to the incident in a jocular vein.

But whether Barnhart's figures are correct or not, La Follette's 368 pages, or approximately two pounds of speech, will probably remain the professional indoor speech-put record for many seasons yet to come.

Senators Bristow of Kansas and Smith of Georgia started to mix it up verbally one day in the senate chamber.

"Mr. President," says Bristow in a vexed tone, "it seems to me that the senator from Georgia thinks he is running the United States senate."

"The chair is not informed on what the senator from Georgia has in his mind," remarked Vice President Marshall, tapping politely with his neat little gavel. "The chair unfortunately is not a mind reader."

"I understand that each congressman is entitled to one buffalo," writes a constituent to Representative Wilson of Florida. "Kindly ship the buffalo to me to reach here, if possible, not later than the 20th of this month. I will greatly appreciate this favor. You, no doubt, have no use for the buffalo yourself, and I might as well have it as anybody. Let me know whether it will come by freight or express, and if I have to pay the charges. If it comes by express I ought to know a day ahead, as they could not keep a buffalo over night in the express office. They have no provisions for taking care of so large animals. I am not even sure a buffalo could get through the door."

If one can rely on the veracious Congressional Record Representative Maurice Connolly of Iowa did the following bit of grammar in a house speech the other day:

"These cases are cited simply to show that the welfare of the employes have been given due consideration.

And yet, turning to the congressional directory, a work of almost equal verity, we find that Connolly was educated at Cornell university, New York law school, Oxford university, England, and the University of Heidelberg.

When the house committee on foreign affairs met to enact a near-war measure shortly after the Tampico incident, Representative Jeff Levy got up and gravely expressed himself as follows:

"I dislike to disagree with the president, but I don't think we should go to war with Mexico just because of the little trouble they had there at Tapioca."

Why Shouldn't He Die?

Emporia Gazette: The editor of the Mound Valley Herald, who had been editing the paper for thirty years, sold his paper, and died. Which was about the only logical thing he could do. For the newspaper business—it is a part of a man's life. A thirty years' drunkard may quit; a thirty years' sinner may reform; a thirty years' convict may be freed—and this is the closest analogy of all—but a thirty years' editor is sentenced for life. He cannot quit. To quit is to die. Whisky is no such tyrant as printer's ink. When a man has breathed it for a lifetime, he never can get away from it. Go in the back room of a newspaper office in an evening or on Sunday, and whiff it; it is not the noise and hurry that makes the life; in the silence it pulls harder even than by day and in the turmoil. And when that indescribable something has come into a man's blood—that newspaper atmosphere, with its eternal publicity, with its habit of quick decisions—even in the smallest papers this habit is part of the business—with its excitement and its responsibilities—when the newspaper business gets into a man's life to withdraw the business is to take away life.

What could the poor man from Mound Valley do but die?

Naming Him.

Providence Journal: Any man who denies that Col. Roosevelt discovered a river in South America is an absolute, unmitigated, shameless liar.

Keeping Up With Minnesota Editors

Press Comments on Current Events.

Very Possible.

Lake Crystal Union: It is barely possible that Huerta would rather be licked by the United States than hanged by Villa.

Better Than He Knew.

Cambridge Independent-Press: The efficiency commission appointed by Governor Eberhart a few months ago held a three days' session in St. Paul last week. The commission is composed of big men and they are doing big things for the state of Minnesota.

Sam's a Good Judge, Too.

Preston Times (Rep.): The Democrats of the First congressional district did a pretty good job when they persuaded Olmsted county's former senator, Dr. H. H. Witherstine, to file for congress, and the Republican who defeats him in November will have to "go some." The writer became well acquainted with the senator some years ago and found him "all wool and a yard wide."

He Knew How Long Ago.

Le Sueur News: Some congressmen seem to think that the early writings of President Wilson do not agree with his present attitude. Let us see. In 1879 he wrote "Congress is a deliberate body in which there is little deliberation." His activity in making congress do the things which he wishes done, would indicate that he has not changed.

He's Had Enough.

Virginia Enterprise: The friends of Governor Eberhart and the governor himself are making much of the economy and efficiency issue in the state campaign. The governor is serving his second term and this is the first time anybody has noticed he was considerably concerned with either. The governor says that for the mistakes of the past the legislature was chiefly to blame and there may be some ground for that statement, but certainly a share of the responsibility justly belongs to Mr. Eberhart. The issue on which Mr. Eberhart must go before the people is his record and his personal fitness for the position he seeks. He cannot successfully grab and appropriate to himself the economy and efficiency issue which is in the platform of all candidates and is, of course, the thing with which the people and notably the large taxpayers are chiefly concerned. Mr. Eberhart is not of the capacity of United States senators. He has reached the topmost rung on the political ladder to which his ability entitles him. He has had enough.

Made of the Right Stuff.

Biwabik Times: Rines of Mora should be the next state auditor. But for his declining to bow to Ed Smith, the rotund gentlemen from Minneapolis, he would have had no opposition. Rines is made of the stuff that don't bow to any man, and that's the kind of an auditor that Minnesota needs.

They Could Be Improved On.

Aurora News: The efficiency commission has decided that it would be a good thing to codify the Minnesota state laws. Now that is something that should meet with the approval of everyone. The state laws are just one jumble of confusing statutes and contradictory measures, and it is time that the whole outfit was heaved into the junk heap and a sensible, working code adopted.

Toby, M. P., Tells a Story

Sir Henry Lucy, "Toby, M. P.," in The National, London: As illustrating the happy state of the social relations of political antagonists in the parliamentary circle, I may mention an incident of personal experience. During the term of his premiership Arthur Balfour had accepted an invitation to dine at my house. Casting about for men whom he would particularly like to meet, I thought of Sir William Harcourt.

On the face of it, the experiment was exceptionally risky. As leader of the house, Mr. Balfour was in personal charge of an education bill whose genesis and provisions were abhorrent to Liberals. Harcourt ably led desperate resistance to the bill. At that period there was being tried the experiment of adjourning the sittings of the house of commons from 7 o'clock till 9 o'clock at night in order that members might dine. On the day of our dinner an extreme controversial point had come up for discussion on the bill in committee. From 3 o'clock till 7—Arthur Balfour thundered across the table at Harcourt, who, the light of battle in his eyes, vigorously replied. At 8 o'clock they unexpectedly met at dinner and were undisguisedly pleased at the rencontre.

Early in the course of the meal Harcourt announced that, in view of the urgency of the position of the education bill, he must be back in his place at 9 o'clock, when the sitting would be resumed. Arthur Balfour smiled at this noble exhibition of devotion to duty, but made no remark. He recurred to the subject later when, consulting his watch, he found it was five minutes to nine.

"Harcourt," he pleasantly said, "it's time you were off."

Harcourt, who loved a cigar after dinner and the talk that accompanied it, gloomily looked across the table. Then he rose and said, "I beg to move the closure," and stalked from the room.

The prime minister, who, by the way, does not smoke, was in no hurry to depart. He read in the papers of the next morning how the leader of the opposition, rising at 10 o'clock, indignantly protested against the absence of the right honorable gentleman in charge of the bill.

"Where is the prime minister?" he inquired, thumping the table with closed fists, and with familiar gesture looking round to his supports, who responded with strident cheers. "He ought to be in his place to answer for this iniquitous bill."

Use to It.

From the Chicago News: The little, mild, bald man had settled down in the train to read, and, feeling drowsy after a trying day at business, fell asleep. On the hat rack above was a ferocious crab in a bucket, and, reaching the edge of the rack, it fell, alighting on the little man's shoulder, and grabbed his ear to steady itself.

All of the passengers waited expectantly for developments, but all they heard was:

"Let go, Sarah! I tell you I've been at the office all the evening."

Immortal Engraving.

Daniel Webster: If we work upon marble, it will perish. If we work upon brass, time will efface it. If we rear temples, they will crumble into dust. But if we work upon immortal souls, if we imbue them with principles, with the just fear of God and love of fellow men, we engrave on those tablets something which will brighten to all eternity.

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1894.

The Minnesota supreme court has declared the anti-scalper law, passed at the last session of the legislature, to be constitutional, reversing the decision of the lower courts.

It is announced that a member of the board of fire commissioners will be appointed from West Duluth, and among the candidates mentioned are Dr. Rockwell, Arvin Bagley, J. A. Grey and Capt. John R. Randall.

C. L. Wentz has gone to Ashland to open a branch of the Duluth agency of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company.

In the interscholastic field day at Minneapolis Henry Meining of Duluth won the 100-yard and 220-yard dashes. W. Lloyd of Duluth won the mile race, with Rufus Draper of Duluth second.

Food and Appetite.

Indianapolis News: Food specialists are fond of telling how cheaply we can live if only we would follow their specific dietaries. They go to considerable pains to arrange menus in which the calories are nicely adjusted to the requirements of the human system, and to assure us by every means within their power that the nourishment provided is ample. We read and ponder, but we do not heed.

Dr. Graham Lusk, an eminent food authority, is the latest in the field. He submits a practical remedy for the high cost of living by prescribing a diet that will sufficiently nourish a family of five and cost only 50 cents a day. What he says, of course, goes to prove that one can live, wax strong and retain his strength at very slight cost. There is probably no error in his calculations and, from the scientific viewpoint, it is likely that his dietary is rational and perfect.

Unfortunately, however, the human stomach declines to govern itself by the rigid rules of the dietists. It stubbornly insists at times on having what it craves and on rejecting other food, calories or no calories. It wants what it wants, and nothing else will arouse its interest. If it is a healthy stomach it will doubtless set to work on what is given it, but it will not relish it.

In short, the trouble with most of the cheap, scientifically perfect, dietaries rests in the fact that they do not take into consideration the sense of taste. We have it, and, in most of us, it is persistently active. It is reasonable to suppose that ravenous appetite will overcome any fastidiousness of taste, but here again another difficulty arises. So many of us lead sedentary lives that appetites, as a whole, are somewhat dulled. And these nourishing, cheap, substantial dietaries somehow do not appeal to them. Does Dr. Lusk's family, for instance, live on Dr. Lusk's menu? Or does Dr. Lusk himself experience a keen relish, day after day, for his own well-balanced ration? We fancy not.

Atheism.

Francis Bacon: They that deny a God destroy a man's nobility; for certainly man is of kin to the beast of his body, and if he is not of kin to God by his spirit, he is a base and ignoble creature. It destroys likewise magnanimity, and the raising of human nature; for take an example of a dog, and mark what a generosity and courage he will put on when he finds himself maintained by a man who to him is instead of a God, or melior natura; which courage is manifestly such as that creature, without that confidence of a better nature than his own, could never attain. So man, when he resteth and assureth himself upon divine protection and favor, gathereth a force and a faith which human nature in itself could not obtain.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of genera interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

ONE MERCHANT'S SIDE OF THE CASE.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I am a merchant with a small store on Superior street. I am not one of those who sit around the banquet board once or twice a month at the Spalding hotel and dictate the way in which retail business is to be conducted in Duluth, but I have to pay rent just the same as they do, and it falls harder on me than it does on most of them.

I want to give my side of this Memorial day closing matter. I am not lacking in respect for the veterans who fought to preserve the Union. If the closing of my store for one day would make their declining days any easier or add any real comfort to their lives, I would close. I will close during the hour of the parade, out of respect to them, but I do not feel that I can afford to lose a Saturday's business at this season of the year. This is the busiest season of the year in my business. Saturday is my big day. I do more business on Saturday than on all of the other days of the week combined, and most of it comes Saturday evening. My clerks are not overworked. On any week day they are permitted to leave the store for an hour or two when they please, but Saturday is the one day in the week I need them. My own clerks are not kicking. I believe I have their confidence, and they are not afraid to tell me when they are not pleased. They know the conditions of my business, and they have told me they don't blame me for keeping open on Saturday. One of them had planned a week-end trip, several weeks ago, and I am going to let him go. The others will have a day off on Monday some time during the summer to make up for it. I will let one or two off each Monday until they have all had this extra holiday. I don't believe that is either disloyal to the veterans or tyrannical to the clerks.

ANOTHER MERCHANT.

Duluth, May 24.

CHILDREN ON THE STREETS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

What can be done to stop the noise, destruction and danger of children speeding their wagons, bicycles, roller skates down the sidewalks? When a crowd of youngsters with three or four wagons and as many dogs put in a few hours speeding on a block or two that happens to be sloped just right, one feels like moving. Grass, trees, fences, flowers and walks suffer, and a crippled or aged person, or one with a young baby, is in real danger. Who would be responsible in case of accident? Will the Editor please inform us if there is a law covering this point? Respectfully, E. W.

Duluth, May 25.

You could bring a civil suit for damages against the parent of the child if you were injured. But why not remember you were young once yourself and let the children have their fun?—The Editor.

THE COURTS AND THE CONSTITUTION.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Just a word in reply to Mr. Beach's article of May 22.

In the discussion of this question the state and United States Constitutions have been mentioned indiscriminately, but the principle is the same in either.

Mr. Beach contends that there is no power given the courts under the Constitution to declare a law unconstitutional. Now, for the purpose of argument, we could concede that to be true. The very nature of a judge's office implies the right to say what the law is. If two laws conflict, he is to say which must prevail. The Constitution is the basic law and legislative acts must conform thereto, and if a legislative act conflicts with the Constitution, the Constitution must stand and the act must fall. If the legislature could effectively pass any law that it wished, the Constitution would be a moral restraining force upon the discretion of that body and no more.

This would violate the very reason for its adoption. The articles of confederation could advise but could not compel. The legislature has no discretion in dealing with the dictates of the Constitution. Its acts must conform thereto. It is true that the courts of England cannot declare a law unconstitutional, but England has no Constitution. The legislature is unrestricted except by the unwritten moral force of public sentiment.

But now, to traverse the contention of Mr. Beach that the Constitution gives the courts no power to judge of laws in their relation to the Constitution. The court of the United States provides that: "The judicial power of the United States shall be vested in one supreme court," etc.; "The judicial power shall extend to all cases, in law and equity, arising under this Constitution, the laws of the United States," etc. Now, the judicial power is the power to judge, to say what the law is, and it extends to the Constitution and the laws. Now, will the court say that the law conflicts with the Constitution, but the court cannot declare the law unconstitutional, therefore it must annul the Constitution? Or will it say that the Constitution is supreme and laws that violate it are invalid? I am not arguing that the power of the court should be above that of the legislature. I am discussing the question as I find it. The nation may be far enough advanced to make its own laws without any restrictions from the past. There is only one way to give the legislature unrestricted power, and that is to remove the limitations that have been placed upon it. Abolish the Constitution. A. M. SABIN.

Kinney, Minn., May 24.

QUESTION ANSWERED.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Would you please name in order of importance five products of the Gulf states? BERTHA JOHNSON.

Virginia, Minn., May 24.

The Editor takes this to mean farm products. The last census reports show the five chief products of the gulf states, in the order named, as follows: Cotton, livestock, hay and grain, tobacco and sugar.—The Editor.

URGES GREAT CARE IN CHOICE OF NAME.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The name committee stirred up a "hornets' nest" of dissatisfaction among the silent readers of the daily papers regarding names chosen for the festival. Please don't put a "silly" name on such a great get-up, but give it an official name of respect that will mean and stand for something.

The name "Shan Kive" will be a dandy for the pike or amusement street, if there is one. This part demands a sort of a trashy name, and it will always be a nickname now that the papers have got it going. It can't be forgotten, so you must make some use of it.

It occurs to me that the English language ought to be good enough to use for a name of this affair. This language is understood all over the world and people will have to understand what you are advertising in other sections of the country. Let foolish names adorn the real name when advertising, but make the official name contain some sense.

Your second choice was equally bad, because Duluth's History is altogether too tame for this Yankee nation to celebrate or take notice of. Why, to hear it mentioned, "It is to laugh." The writer has lived in Duluth twenty-five years and only heard of one battle, which was the policemen and strikers' fight of 1888. Duluth's heroes must have been forgotten, as this city has yet to raise its first monument, while other cities are full of them. To call it a masque is also silly, because only half the people know what a masque is and the other half do not.

There is, however, one point that ought never to be forgotten in mentioning the name of "Duluth," and that is the coming of the "Dollar Brigade," who blazed the trail of prosperity here when they found the overwhelming and most magnificent crops of standing timber, fully matured, and ready for the ax, adjoining the most picturesque breakwater that nature could build for the world's most perfect harbor, and as if being afraid of not having done her full duty for its magnificent citizens that were to come, "Dame Nature" hid an abundance of mineral wealth, passing the billion dollar mark, for later delivery, under the most magnificent clover soil this old earth ever produced. And in order to clinch matters she filled Duluth's cup full measure, heaped up and running over with the most perfect summer climate that nature could command over the sparkling waters of Perfection de Luxe.

Make this a fitting celebration of today's prosperity which will make it unique from other cities' efforts. Seattle celebrates a "Potlatch" every year on account of the discovery of gold in Alaska, hundreds of miles away. All Duluth's is at its very door. The climax of development will be reached next year, when the steel plant opens, and the world's people will be riding on Duluth-made rails to all corners of the universe. Twenty-five societies of all nationalities in Duluth have decided to join in a blowout, second to none in quality. Therefore I respectfully resubmit the only name that ought to be used for such an event, and its success will be assured—The All Nations' Carnival and Prosperity Celebration. Respectfully submitted,

MISS SHANNA JANE HENDRICKS,

Duluth, May 25.

FIRE AUTO MUST BE ALLOWED TO SPEED.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Aside from the unpleasant personalities which have obscured the argument between Mr. Gibeau and Driver Black, it is still my contention that Mr. Gibeau is in the wrong. He states in his letter of May 22 that "A fire auto is not always going to a fire which requires it to go at top speed." From this he would draw the conclusion that a fire auto should not always go at top speed. He forgets that the fire department cannot and may not discriminate between the various fires that from time to time occur. In the first place the department has no time or opportunity to ascertain the character of the fire. And were it able to do so, it would not have the right to vary its speed with the relative seriousness of the affair. No matter if the fire be large or small, every citizen is entitled to the same service, and it is to the best interests of the whole community that he get it. Of course, Mr. Gibeau asserts that human life is more valuable than any amount of property. Nothing can be more true; but the statement is hardly fitting here. No fire but what involves danger to human life, as is evidenced by the thousands upon thousands that have been lost in such calamities. If Mr. Gibeau will investigate I believe he will find that the loss of life in fires is so much greater than the loss of life caused by the progress of the fire autos to the scenes of the fires, that the latter is almost totally eclipsed by the former.

Moreover, Mr. Black, or the Duluth fire department, have not inaugurated a new and untried system for going to fires. When other cities begin to abandon the present methods it will be time for Duluth to do the same; until then, our system must remain unchanged. J. G. Jr.

LIVELY POLITICS

By SAVOYARD

Washington, May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mr. Penrose is making an active canvass for re-election to the United States senate from Pennsylvania. He is the heir of that political machine the late Matt Quay took away from Don Cameron and employed "to shake the plum tree," which was the state treasury of Pennsylvania. Mr. Penrose is nothing if not a boss. A man of more ability than Don Cameron, he falls far below his creator, Quay, in mind and in force. He hails from Philadelphia, where for near two score years the size of the Republican majority was only limited by the corporeal capacity of the ballot box.

In 1888 the Quay machine sent one of its Philadelphia henchmen to New York and he bought the bulk of the depraved vote "for the party of great moral ideas" and thus elected Ben Harrison. Four years later this same scamp appeared in New York on a like mission, but slunk back to the more hospitable precincts of the City of Brotherly Love when the New York Times writ a chapter headed "A New Rogue in Town." You see about that time the ditty "A New Coon in Town" was in great vogue.

Penrose was on Quay's staff for years. All he knows about politics he learned from Quay. Tom Platt in his memoirs remarks that it was unfortunate for him that he had not served as Quay's office boy two years, so much would he have learned from the ablest, the most consummate, the most adroit, and the most unscrupulous politician our country has produced.

What a kittle of fish it is—Penrose, Hearst, Tammany and La Follettte, now in the same combination opposing and abusing Woodrow Wilson. Only a while ago Hearst denounced Penrose as in the pay of Standard Oil and printed a batch of stolen letters to substantiate the charge. La Follettte was even more personal in his animadversions as to the outgoings and the incomings of the Pennsylvania statesman. And here comes the Chicago Tribune with its trundle bed putting Penrose between Hearst and Vardaman and placing La Follette between Dr. Gallinger and Prophet Smoot. The Tribune doubtless has read La Follette on Penrose and was not cruel enough to put them together.

But antagonistic as are these elements they are "agin" Wilson and with them is Tammany, though it is not exactly clear whether Hearst is fetching and carrying for Tammany, or Tammany is lending itself to the King of the Yallers. We know, however, that they are in perfect accord in condemning Wilson.

In Pennsylvania in 1912 the G. O. P. was an "also ran," being a poor third in the race. The same forces are arrayed for the strife in the old Keystone state this year. Gifford Pinchot, the closest political friend Theodore Roosevelt can muster, is the candidate of the Progressive party against Penrose and Mitchell Palmer will be the candidate of the Democratic party. It is true that a section of the Democratic party hopes to bring about the success of Penrose. In the elder day the Democracy of Pennsylvania was as much at the disposal of Quay as was the G. O. P., but Penrose is not Quay and he can muster comparatively few.

It is not at all clear how Penrose can get along without a machine, and a machine is no good unless it has henchmen in all parties. Tom Platt used to use Tammany, Arthur P. Gorman had a mortgage on the Republican squad of Baltimore, George Cox was boss of both parties in Cincinnati, operating as he did through the Enquirer of that city that is so denunciatory of Wilson. Only a while ago that paper and McLean's other paper, the Washington Post, were ablaze with "news" from West Virginia to the effect that all parties were practically unanimous in their condemnation of Wilson's stand against the ship subsidy, and behold, that very day the Democratic state committee of West Virginia convened and unanimously indorsed the action of the president in the tolls matter.

A comic paper ought to be printed in colors. It would serve as a warning to the public.

Penrose's only hope lies in Roosevelt. Judging that gentleman by himself he is persuaded that he can make a trade with him—that if Roosevelt will make Penrose senator, Penrose will make Roosevelt president. Even if Roosevelt were base enough to enter upon the bargain Penrose has no security and can give no security. A politician of his school, elected senator for six years, might see things with a very different eye two years after election. If the above is his game he must be playing Roosevelt for fool as well as knave.

Then it is announced by Roosevelt's friends that he will be a very busy man during the campaign striving to elect the "grand young man," Beveridge, senator from Indiana, and doing his utmost to defeat Penrose for senator in Pennsylvania.

There will be some right lively politics the next few months when the discordant elements opposed to Wilson get their army together and seek to officer it.

SAYS MELLEN FALSIFIED

J. P. Morgan Denies Father Concealed Facts About New Haven.

Mellen Says Morgan Can Testify Under Oath If He Desires.

New York, May 26.—J. P. Morgan last night characterized as untrue the testimony of Charles S. Mellen, former head of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, before the interstate commerce commission in Washington last week, that J. Pierpont Morgan concealed from Mr. Mellen facts regarding the New Haven road which Mr. Mellen should have known.

Mr. Morgan offered to produce before any proper tribunal at any time the records of J. P. Morgan & Co. and the personal records of his father.

Taking full responsibility upon himself for the change in the road's presidency by which Mr. Mellen resigned and gave way to another, Mr. Morgan said it was untrue that his father in any sense took from Mr. Mellen the management of the road or any part of its affairs.

"For the Public Benefit."

Regarding the absorption of the Boston & Maine by the New Haven, Mr. Morgan said his father deemed it advisable for the public benefit, since it was recognized by others, as well as by the late Mr. Morgan himself, that changing economic conditions threatened the commercial position of New England.

Mr. Morgan's statement was his first direct reply to Mr. Mellen's Washington testimony, which he examined, he said, from a stenographic report.

The statement said in part:

"Mr. Mellen, in substance, charges my father with having concealed from him, the president of the company, facts which the president of the company should have known. Anyone who knew my father knows this to be untrue. During the last ten years of my father's life he was abroad more than one-third of the time. During the last three years of his life he was abroad one-half of the time. As the world knows, he was actively connected during this whole period with many different affairs. That he would have had the time, even if he had had the desire, to interfere actively in the management of the New Haven is impossible."

Mellen's Retort.

New York, May 26.—Charles S. Mellen, former president of the New Haven system, at his home in New Haven last night made this comment when his attention was called to Mr. Morgan's statement:

"I testified under oath. My testimony stands as it was given. If Mr. Morgan wants to testify under oath he can do so as far as I am concerned."

MORE AGGRESSIVE PART BY CHURCHES

Kansas City, Mo., May 25.—"For some years the churches had labored with the souls of men, forgetting that they had bodies. Now, coincident with the movement in all public institutions to get into a more intimate relation with the lives of the people they deal with, the churches have rediscovered human nature."

This was the statement made to the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States (Southern Presbyterian church), in session here, today, by the Rev. J. S. Lyons of Louisville, Ky., as a preface to the introduction of the report of the joint committee of the Presbyterian bodies in the United States, appointed to prepare a united declaration on Christian faith and Christian service.

The report urged that the churches take a more aggressive part in the social and industrial life of the community.

ELEVEN INDICTED.

Alleged to Have Induced Minor Indians to Dispose of Holdings.

Detroit, Minn., May 25.—At the recent session of the Federal district court in Fergus Falls, indictments were returned by the grand jury against the following men, charging them with inducing minor Indians to dispose of their land holdings: W. B. Carman, attorney, Detroit; J. E. Bakke, banker, Detroit; S. E. Mooers, real estate, Detroit; H. R. Melrose, real estate, Detroit; Louis J. Carpenter, farmer, Deer River; J. B. Good, Gallaway; Fred W. Peake, White Earth; G. A. Gunderson, general merchant, Mahnomen; O. Chandonnette, lumber dealer, Waubun; Thomas J. Chandonnette, lumber dealer, Waubun; Charles Sanders, real estate, Mahnomen.

Each of the defendants has given bonds in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance at the October term of the Federal district court to be held in Fergus Falls, and it is stated that the defense of each and all will be that they purchased the land in good faith, upon the sworn representations made by the Indians, supported in many cases by the parents of the persons in question, church records, etc., and that no fraud was perpetrated or undue influence used, nor solicitation made. In several instances large sums of money were parted with, which the Indians have now spent.

Montana Bank Merger.

Billings, Mont., May 25.—Three Billings banks, the largest in Eastern Montana, will merge as a measure of perfecting a more concrete organization under the Federal reserve act. The institutions to be consolidated are the Farmers and Traders, the Billings State and the Bank of Billings. The capitalization of the organization will be $150,000, and its head will be A. C. Johnson of Helena, president of the American National bank of that city.

COLORADO STRIKE TO BE CONTINUED

Will Be Pushed Vigorously By the United Mine Workers.

Trinidad, Colo., May 26.—A campaign to more vigorously carry on the coal strike in Colorado has been decided on by the international leaders of the United Mine Workers of America, according to Organizer William Diamond, who returned yesterday from Fort Smith, Ark., where he conferred with the president, John P. White.

"We are going to concentrate our forces and use every effort at our command to win the fight in Colorado," said Mr. Diamond.

Outlining the new campaign, he said: "A number of organizers from other states will be sent to the Southern Colorado coal fields and in addition the national publicity bureau of the United Mine Workers of America will be returned to this city."

Kills Opponent in Lawsuit.

Glendive, Mont., May 25.—Alfred A. Oakes, a farmer who lived in the vicinity of Mona, seventy-five miles north of here, was shot and killed by Chauncey Gould, a cowboy. The men were parties in a lawsuit tried here recently. As a result Oakes obtained a restraining order preventing Gould from molesting him in possession of a tract of land. After shooting Oakes, Gould rode to Sidney, twenty-five miles distant, and surrendered.

Williston Approves Bonds.

Williston, N. D., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—At a special bonding election held here, the plan of bonding for the construction of a filtration plant was approved by a heavy majority. Contracts for the work will be let shortly. Thirteen thousand will be expended for the filtration plant, which will be located at the top of a hill near the city, and $8,000 more will be expended for the construction of a pipe line and tower.

PIMPLES, BOILS AND BLACKHEADS

Face Looked Awfully. Burned So Could Not Sleep. Almost Crazy. Awful Pain. Scratched All the Time. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment 3 Weeks and Was Cured.

2014 Hamburg St., Chicago, Ill.—"I was troubled about eight months with pimples, blackheads and boils. My face looked awfully; it was so bad that I was ashamed to go to work. My face itched then I noticed that it was getting worse every day; it was burning me so I couldn't sleep nights. I was almost crazy. The pimples were as big as beans and they looked horrid. They came to a head and festered. The boils caused me an awful pain. The itching and burning were so bad that I had to scratch them all the time, then they turned to sores.

"I began using ——— and ——— and ——— but they didn't help me any. One day I tried Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I washed my face in warm water with Cuticura Soap then I bathed my face about three or four times, then dried it and applied Cuticura Ointment. I did this every morning and evening for three weeks and I was cured." (Signed) John Macykowski, July 2, 1913.

In purity, delicate medication, refreshing fragrance, convenience and economy, Cuticura Soap and Ointment meet with the approval of the most discriminating. Cuticura Soap 25c. and Cuticura Ointment 50c. are sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

PICNIC AT AUDITORIUM

More Than 700 Celebrate Victory of First M. E. Sunday School.

Bishop Quayle and Many Others Give Interesting Addresses.

An attendance of more than 700 members, an address by Bishop W. A. Quayle of Minneapolis and the presentation of banners featured the "We Win Celebration" of the Sunday school of the First Methodist church at the Auditorium last night given in observance of the victory of the Duluth school over the Hennepin avenue school in a fourteen-week contest for attendance. A picnic dinner was served followed by a fine program of addresses and music.

Bishop Quayle congratulated the Duluth school upon its splendid showing in the contestt, and declared that the Sunday school is the place where democracy has its best teachings. He also commented upon the dignity of labor and its beneficial effects upon character building.

"I am in an embarrassing position," said Bishop Quayle, "being in Duluth to praise the winners and having to go back to Minneapolis to face the vanquished."

Learn to Fight Fairly.

That the boys and girls learn how to fight fairly and for the things worth while in the Sunday school was the message brought by E. J. Krafft, superintendent of the Hennepin Avenue church Sunday school. In his address he discussed the victory from many different angles.

"Live wires" was the expression used by Rev. M. P. Burns, superintendent of the Duluth district churches, in describing the workers in the contest. He lauded the pupils very highly for their enthusiasm and conscientious work.

Professor W. H. Schilling gave a summary of the work done in the campaign by the pupils from the standpoint of "How We Did It," and three banners were presented to the classes that won in the recent interschool athletic contest.

The presentation of a Betsy Ross flag, the work of the Ladies' Auxiliary, to the Sunday school was one of the pretty features of the evening. The presentation was made by little Miss Mildred McKibben, dressed in a Betsy Ross costume. The flag was accepted for the school by Dr. John W. Hoffman, pastor of the church, who emphasized the lessons in patriotism for which the ling was a symbol.

Three-Minute Talks.

Three-minute talks were given by Mrs. A. C. Taylor, H. A. Sedgwick, Alfred Merritt, W. C. Robinson and O. H. Dickinson.

Aside from the addresses there were plenty of other entertaining features. Much enthusiasm was engendered by the vociferous rendering of class yells. The orchestra played several selections and songs were sung by the whole Sunday school and guests.

CROP OUTLOOK NEVER BETTER

Reports From Northwest Cheer Railroaders and Other Business Men.

Present Traffic Movement Compares Favorably With Last Year's.

As a result of the bright crop prospects in the Northwest, business men in Minnesota, North and South Dakota and Montana are feeling cheerful regarding the outlook for the late summer and early fall trade, according to reports being received by Duluth railroad freight agents.

"The news we are getting from points on our lines in this district and right through to Montana, are sufficient to afford ground for looking forward to a heavy traffic during the fall months," said an official of the Soo line today. The movement of general merchandise from the docks here over the West is mounting up into a much heavier tonnage than last year, he averred.

Traffic continues to develop over the extension opened last fall from Ambrose, N. D., to Whitetail, Mont. New settlers have gone in there in numbers this spring, and judging by the shipments being sent out, the wholesale establishments here are feeling the benefit of the business that is being developed. The same conditions are also regarded as applying to the Duluth-Twin Cities line and the Cuyuna range branch. Between thirty and forty cars of iron ore a day from the Cuyuna mines, are now being handled at the company's dock at Superior, and a substantial volume of merchandise is being shipped out from here to the various towns on that range.

Views of officials of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern railroad are equally optimistic. Though the movement of heavy commodities is seasonably light at present, they agree in the statement that the general freight tonnage offering is making a favorable comparison with last year.

Thomas Cooper, assistant to J. M. Hannaford, president of the company, who is now on a trip through the West with headquarters at St. Paul, to the effect that the prospects for a bumper crop were never better.

L. J. Bricker, the road's immigration agent also wired that the recent rains will go to assure heavy crops all over the Northern states. He thinks that the acreage under crop will be larger than last year.

J. H. McKinnon, Duluth agent of the Canadian Northern railroad, said that both local and through traffic from here for points in the Canadian West is showing substantial development. Farm machinery, sewer pipe and building materials are being routed freely through this outlet. Shipments of farming implements are reported by Mr. McKinnon to be going forward in suprising volume to settlers who have recently taken up land in the districts on the Canadian Northern's line between here and International Falls.

Lumber is now moving from the mills at Virginia and other points to the docks here for Eastern shipment.

When Coffee Gets You--

The experience will be like that of thousands who have ignored the fact that coffee contains a habit-forming drug, caffeine—about 2½ grains to the ordinary cup.

Some say, "Coffee don't hurt me," and seem to get on with it for a time. But there are few persons who can use coffee as a routine daily beverage and not sometime feel its effects—headache, nervousness, indigestion, biliousness, sleeplessness, heart trouble, or some other discomfort.

Thousands have found relief by stopping coffee and using

POSTUM

A delicious table beverage made only from whole wheat and a small per cent of molasses, POSTUM contains the nourishment of the grain, including the essential mineral salts (phosphate of potash, etc.), but is positively free from the drug, caffeine, or any other harmful substance.

Postum now comes in two forms:

Regular Postum—must be well boiled—15c and 25c pkgs.

Instant Postum—a soluble form—requires no boiling—30c and 50c tins.

The cost per cup of both kinds is about the same.

There's a mighty army of POSTUM users —the number is steadily growing—and Can't Beat "TIZ" for Sore, Tired, Sweaty, Calloused Feet or Corns.

You can be happy-footed just like me. Use "TIZ" and never suffer with tender, raw, burning, blistered, swollen, tired, smelly feet. "TIZ" and only "TIZ" takes the pain and soreness out of corns, callouses and bunions.

As soon as you put your feet in a "TIZ" bath, you just feel the happiness soaking in. How good your poor, old feet feel. They want to dance for joy. "TIZ" is grand. "TIZ" instantly draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause sore, inflamed, aching, sweaty, smelly feet.

Get a 25 cent box of "TIZ" at any drug store or department store. Get instant foot relief. Laugh at foot sufferers who complain. Because your feet are never, never going to bother or make you limp any more.

FARRELL IS AN OPTIMIST

President of United States Steel Corporation Predicts Business Revival.

James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel corporation, is a decided optimist on the general trade outlook, and he looks forward to a revival in the near future.

On his return from a two months' trip to Europe he expressed himself as satisfied that the recent era of depression is at an end, and that the indications warrant the assumption that a period of activity both in America and in European countries is about to be ushered in.

In the course of an interview in the Eastern financial papers, Mr. Farrell is quoted as follows:

"There are indications that business throughout the world is gradually emerging from an unsatisfactory condition to one in which commercial confidence is being re-established.

"All of the European countries are making strenuous efforts to increase their export trade in every branch of industry.

"Notwithstanding the apathetic conditions of the markets of the world, Great Britain's exports show an increase, and Germany's commercial industries, supported by the great resources of the empire, governmental and private, are perfecting their export organizations for the purpose of developing trade possibilities. The League of German Foreign Trade associations is especially directing its attention at the present time to trade opportunities in the Far East. Aside from this a new organization, the German Association of World's Commerce, is concentrating its attention on South American trade development, which it is expected will be stimulated by the opening of the Panama canal.

"That American manufacturers are impressed with the necessity of securing an increasing share of the world's trade is shown in the widespread interest taken in the National Foreign Trade convention to be held at Washington this month. The purpose of the convention is to discuss export business problems in their various phases, and the convention will be broadly representative of the nations' interests as they come in contact with foreign trade."

BRITISH PEOPLE ARE EXASPERATED

Militant Suffragettes in Danger of Being Badly Hurt.

London, May 26.—"Some day an exasperated crowd will break into a procession of militants. What will then happen to you women nobody knows at present. You have to thank the police for being alive; you owe them a debt of gratitude."

Magistrate Hopkins of the Bow street police court thus addressed a suffragette who had applied for a summons against an unknown man, whom she declared, had struck her on the face when the crowd rushed the suffragettes meeting in Hyde park Sunday afternoon, and the police came to the women's rescue.

The magistrate's warning indicates the public exasperation that exists against the militants. Their attacks on the king have greatly intensified the feeling, for the English are an intensely loyal people.

The language of the militants at the meeting of the Women's Social and Political union yesterday afternoon, when shouts of "Shoot the King," were heard on every side, shows that the warning is little likely to be heeded, and except for the protection afforded them by the police, they would be unable to hold public meetings anywhere without the risk of being badly hurt.

Apparently all that is needed in the opinion of some observers for the suppression of militantism is the withdrawal of police protection from the militants.

It is certain that the closing of the public art galleries because of suffragette outrages has increased the resentment against them.

CHIEF PROVISIONS OF IRISH HOME RULE BILL

London, May 26.—The Irish home rule bill, which passed the house of commons for the third time yesterday, and which will become law whether the house of lords assents or not, contains the following provisions:

A senate of forty members, a house of commons of 164 members.

Irish parliament cannot legislate on peace or war, navy, army or any naval or military force, foreign relations, trade out Ireland, coinage or legal tender.

It cannot make any law either directly or indirectly to establish or endow any religion or prohibit the free exercise thereof, or give a preference, privilege or advantage or impose any disability or disadvantage on account of religious belief or religious or ecclesiastical statute, or make any religious belief or religious ceremony a condition of the validity of any marriage.

Temporary restrictions are placed on legislation on land purchase, old age pensions, national insurance, labor exchanges, royal Irish constabulary, postoffice and other saving banks and friendly societies.

The executive remains invested in the sovereign or his representative.

Forty-two members still will be sent from Ireland to the house of commons.

The judicial committee of the privy council to give the final decision as to the constitutional validity of any act passed by the Irish parliament.

The Irish exchequer to defray the cost of the Irish administration, except for reserved services mentioned above.

The imperial exchequer to pay an annual sum to the Irish exchequer, starting at $2,500,000 and eventually, after six years, becoming a permanent payment of $1,000,000 annually.

WOULD ENJOIN ST. LOUIS COUNTY

James Richardson Does Not Want Road Across His Farm.

Determined to prevent, if possible, the construction of a county highway across his property, James Richardson yesterday in district court renewed injunction proceedings against St. Louis county. A similar action was brought some time ago, but was recently dismissed by Judge Fesler on the motion of Charles E. Adams, special county counsel, on the ground the pleadings did not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action.

Richardson owns the east half of the southwest quarter and the northwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 34, township 51-18, through which the county is contemplating the construction of a highway. Richardson contends that the proceedings are irregular and defective and further alleges that the award of $100 made him is inadequate and insufficient. The road leads out of Brookston and all of the highway has been completed except the stretch which the county expects to build over Richardson's property.

Judge Cant yesterday signed an order directing the county commissioners to appear before him Saturday and show cause why a temporary injunction should not issue prohibiting them from taking further steps in the matter until a hearing could be had on a permanent injunction.

Simple Treatment Relieves Eczema

(From Nurses' Chronicle)

"Eczema, salt rheum, ringworm, tetter and similar eruptive skin diseases can be treated at home by using pure quintone solution.

"Just get from the druggist two ounces of quintone, dissolve it in one-half pint of hot water, and apply the solution to the affected surfaces twice daily.

"This quintone solution not only relieves itching immediately, but its healing and antiseptic properties bring about good results very quickly.

"Of course, when the demand for any article increases rapidly, there are a number of substitutes offered. It is needless to say that none of these substitutes should be accepted, for only the genuine quintone will give the relief desired."—Advertisement.

FOR A NERVOUS PERSON WHO IS EASILY WORRIED

A story is told about a friend of Booker T. Washington, who lives near a fashionable hotel in Virginia. One day a bright idea struck him and he went to the proprietor of the hotel and made a bargain to furnish the hotel regularly with a large number of bullfrogs which were in great demand as a table delicacy. The hotel proprietor asked the Virginia darkey how many he could furnish, and the latter replied he felt quite sure that he could furnish the hotel with at least one cart load, if necessary, each week.

The bargain was concluded. The man was to deliver a cart load at the hotel the following day. If it were not possible that he could bring a full load, he could bring as large a number of frogs as he could procure.

When the Virginia darkey appeared the next day he had just six frogs. The proprietor looked at the frogs and then looked at Mr. Washington's friend.

"Where are the other frogs?" inquired the hotel proprietor.

"Well, it's this way," said the would-be frog merchant: "For months I had heard those bull-frogs croaking in a pond near my house. They made so much noise that I supposed there was at least a million of them there. When I came to investigate, however, I found that there were only these six."

For a nervous patient, easily susceptible to worry,—and particularly to that class of patients readily upset by unkindly criticism of their friends and neighbors, this bull-frog story carries a very forceful and simple message. As one writer very effectually expresses it, "One sunbeam doesn't make the day,—neither does a vulture in the sky shut off the sunshine.

If you are inclined to be a trifle nervous, therefore, and easily upset by petty disturbances just remember this bull-frog story in which the noise of six frogs sounded like that of a million. It will act as great medicine.

ABOUT ADHESIONS OF THE BOWELS.

A 24-year-old lady who has been operated on five times writes me for advice about abdominal adhesions with which she is troubled: "I have had five operations. The first one was for a ruptured appendix. All the rest were caused by adhesions which followed the operation. These adhesions, I am told, form so fast and grow so thickly and cause me so much sickness that I have great distress and am in much despair. I am just out of the hospital five weeks and have undergone my fifth operation. This last one being for an ulcer of the duodenum. My stomach was so constricted with adhesion that I could not eat without nausea, much belching of gas and a dragging, palpitating pain in the stomach. Since this last operation, however, my stomach is again beginning to be filled with gas. I have no appetite and must take laxatives for my bowels all the while. My doctor has given me all the medicine he knows of to settle my stomach but these medicines have not helped me. He says another operation for adhesion of my bowels will be necessary. He says it is necessary to scrape the intestines and other parts of the bowels which are afflicted, otherwise the food will not pass through the intestines and the circulation of the blood will be stopped. I wish to know if it is in your power to tell me what forms these adhesions so quickly and if operation for them is the only remedy."

Answer.

You should ask your doctor exactly the same question you have asked me. You are paying your physician for his services, and there is absolutely no reason why you should not feel perfectly free to ask him any questions you wish. Furthermore, there is no reason why he should not be very glad to answer your questions to the fullest extent of his experience and knowledge. Adhesion forms as the result of irritation against the outer surface of the bowel. If you will irritate your skin for example, there will soon develop a little watery oozing as the result of the irritation. This watery oozing, is known as lymph. This same condition occurs within the abdomen on the outer surface of the bowel upon the irritation of the outer surfaces of the bowel. When this watery lymph is thrown out in sufficient quantities it becomes hardened and forms bands. These bands constrict just the same as a scar which develops on the wound of your hand after a bad cut. The course your physician is pursuing in having these constricting adhesions removed is very wise, although great care must be exercised. In your case I would suggest you consider a gastro-enterostomy operation. A short circuit operation of the lower bowel might help also. The Roentgenologist should be consulted and X-ray plates made, showing the exact position of your abdominal organs.

REDMOND HOPES FOR CONCILIATION

Trusts That the Ulsterites Will Abandon Unreasonable Demands.

London, May 26.—John E. Redmond, the Irish Nationalist leader, in a statement last evening, says the division in the house of commons is equivalent to the passage of the home rule bill into law and expresses the earnest hope that the Ulsterites, "who are genuinely nervous as to their position, will abandon unreasonable demands and enter into a conciliatory discussion with their fellow countrymen with regard to the points of the bill upon which they desire further safeguards."

"Today's division," says Mr. Redmond, "marks the death after an inglorious history of the 114 years of the union of Pitt and Castlereagh. Its place is to be taken by a new union founded on mutual respect and good will between the two islands."

Proceeding, the Nationalist leader declares that only two eventualities, both of them impossible, could prevent the bill from becoming a statute within a few weeks—the first, that the parliamentary session should come to an abrupt end; the second, that the house of commons should suddenly go mad and decide not to submit the bill for royal assent—both as absurd contingencies as the suggestion that the king would withhold his assent.

Mr. Redmond concludes with the statement that he sees no likelihood of an early general election.

Has Filed for Governor.

Lincoln, Neb., May 26.—John A. Morehead, governor of Nebraska, has filed for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. Governor Morehead was elected two years ago on a platform with a one term plank. He refused to consider re-election and had announced himself as a congressional candidate. Insistence of party leaders led to his change in plans.

SCORE HIGHWAYS NEAR GRAND FORKS.

Larimore, N. D., May 26.—Resolutions, directed against the city of Grand Forks, were adopted by the Grand Forks County Wonderland Trail association, at the annual meeting held here.

The association points out the fact that Grand Forks, while an ardent supporter of the good roads movement, has failed to improve the roads that lie about the city, it being contended that roads there are among the worst in the county.

The following officers were elected: President, Y. G. Williams, Arvilla; vice president, G. L. Sande, Larimore; secretary and treasurer, O. W. Edwards, McCanna.

Twenty-five Miners Killed.

Mexico City, Mex., May 26.—While a heavy piece of machinery was being lowered into a shaft at the Santa Gertrudis mines at Pachuca yesterday, it fell, killing twenty-five miners below. All were Mexicans. Several mine bosses were arrested.

Widow Attempts Suicide.

Budapest, May 26.—Immediately after Francis Kossuth's death, his widow attempted to commit suicide by taking poison. Her condition is considered serious.

HOPE For Sick Men

Hope, it is said, springs eternal in the human breast, but how many afflicted men there are who are disappointed and discouraged either because they have not investigated until they have found the right treatment to take or because they have had unsatisfactory medical service elsewhere.

We expect and do hear daily from patients long stories of unsuccessful treatments. But in almost every case the fault lies with the man himself in failing to discriminate between the ordinary practitioner and the skilled men's doctor. In the treatment of Blood Poison, Skin Diseases, Ulcers, Varicocele, Hydrocele, Nervous Debility and such troubles, you will find us past the experimental stage.

Come to SEE US and note the difference in the way an experienced men's doctor will handle your case.

You will be amply repaid by the progress which will be made in your case. We have cured many hundreds of men; we can do the same for you.

WILL DEMAND LOWER RATES

Independent Operators Will Appeal for Smaller Ore-Carrying Charges.

The independent iron and steel operators propose to make a fight before the interstate commerce commission for a reduction in the carrying charges on iron ore from the Mesaba and Vermilion ranges from 60 cents to 45 cents a ton. The shippers assert that on the tonnage used by them, running at from 8,000,000 to 10,000,000 tons in the season, the two United States Steel corporation roads could afford to make the rate at from 38 to 40 cents a ton.

The companies interested in the application include the Republic Iron & Steel company, Youngstown Sheet & Tube company, Andrews-Hitchcock company, Ohio Iron & Steel company, Jones & Laughlin, and the Cambria Iron company.

sides of a small sheet of paper in a clerkly hand. It follows:

"Lisle, Ill., May 26, 1914.—Dear folks: God forgive me for causing my sweetheart's death. I did not kill her. We walked out there and sat down. I tried to kiss her and she repulsed me. I asked her if she did not want to be my sweetheart any more. She wouldn't answer. I took a hold of her waist, pushed toward her and tried to love her. She started to scream. I could not think what was the matter with her. I became excited and put my wrist on her windpipe to stop her screaming and I went completely out of my head.

"She became quiet all of a sudden. I thought I had hurt her and she was breathing heavily but was senseless. I covered her up and don't remember what happened until I awoke to find myself lying along the road near Naperville. My mind came back. I realized what I had done and I went over to the quarry and jumped in but could not sink.

Tried to Kill Himself.

"Then I went to Aurora, bought some chloroform, and that night (Sunday) I came back and found my darling's body, and I realized that she was really dead. I laid down beside her and took the chloroform, but about 2:30 a. m. I woke up and the bottle had tipped over. Then I went to Belmont and got a freight and rode to Aurora, where I got more chloroform. I came back to Downer's Grove and went into the woods and saturated my handkerchief with chloroform thinking I would surely die. But it failed to work also. I could not live and know that my sweetheart Florence was dead, so I have resolved to a desperate way to end my life. The girl died of heart failure or fright, as I surely could not kill the one I thought the most of in the whole world. I loved her more than words can tell and I would die for her and I will die for her. I have been partly insane for the last two days. Forgive me and I pray to meet my sweetheart in heaven. BARR."

Seen by Two Boys.

This note is in accordance with the statement attributed to Barr by two boys who were among those searching for Barr last night. The boys, Melvin Binder and Guy Simonson, said that Barr's pale face suddenly peered out at them from behind some bushes. He told them brokenly, they said, that he had attempted to put his arm around Miss Bentley and that she pushed him away, and that in a trifling struggle her neck had been broken. The boys tried to detain Barr, but he fled.

The death of Miss Bentley took place Saturday night. The body was found yesterday. Meantime search was made for her and Barr, who had started home with her from the home of Barr's aunt Saturday night.

Panama tolls question should be left to the verdict of experience.

"The policy of the administration in Mexico has undoubtedly brought its embarrassments," continued Representative Kelley. "We are involved in difficulties from which we will not soon escape. I am convinced that in the process of eliminating President Huerta this proud republic cannot afford for a single day to become the ally of Mexican outlaws and highwaymen. That would be an unholy alliance."

"The Republican party," said the senator, "is coming back into power. The proof of it is on every hand. The trend is unmistakable. I said a year ago that the amalgamation which would take place would be an amalgamation of the voters, not the assumed leaders. I said furthermore that that was the only amalgamation that was worth while. The men who voted the third party ticket to the number of 4,000,000 for reasons entirely satisfactory to them can neither be questioned as to their integrity of purpose or their patriotism. But that it was a protest and not a manifestation of purpose to permanently leave the party is now established by facts and figures which cannot be doubted.

What Must Be Done.

"Now in view of this pronounced and unmistakable purpose of those who voted the third party ticket to ally themselves with the Republican party, in view of the determination to support its principles and its policies, what is the task before us? It is unquestionably to make our party equal to the tremendous problems which now concern us. It is to build up in this country, out of the traditions, the achievements and prestige of the past, the duties and obligations of the present, and the hopes and aspirations of the future, an organization efficient, militant and progressive—worthy of its old days and equal to the obligations which now rest upon us. It is our duty, in other words, in unmistakable terms to make it clear that the Republican party is to be as it was in its best days, a thoroughly progressive party. We ought not to assume for a moment or concede for a moment, that because the party bids fair to go back into power, there is going to be any compromise with the forces which brought it near its ruin. There is in this country a powerful influence for the bad in politics and it will take possession of any party in the world, if it can, which is enjoying power. This kind of an influence does not fight a party in the open. It holds itself in readiness to direct the course of any party which happens to be in power. With such influences there can be no compromise if we are to have a party which is going to meet and solve the great problems which a new industrial life and a new social condition have imposed upon us.

Cruel, Selfish Conservatism.

"No man living in this splendid age, amid these exhilarating environments, can afford to permit the corroding poison of pessimism to enter his soul. But on the other hand, the curse of our age is that cold, cruel, selfish conservation, which, living in its ease and comfort, enjoying wealth and all it brings, refuses to see or sympathize with the conditions of those, who in the midst of a world of plenty, are bordering on the line of hunger and misery, who refuse to see the new conditions or the new problems which must be met and dealt with in the same spirit and with the same courage and progressiveness with which our fathers met the problems of their age. The great and almost superhuman task, my friends is not the gathering of wealth, but its fair and equitable distribution.

"What we want in this country is a party which will do the simple but profound thing which Lincoln did, that is, gather up the common sense, the common honesty, the common patriotism, the common courage and the common righteousness of the common people of this country, and organize it into a militant, progressive, disciplined force for legal and social justice, and do it all under the Constitution and laws of this blessed old republic."

dow smasher, was so weak from the effects of a hunger strike that she had to be carried into court by women wardens. She collapsed in a huddled heap, her body quivering and her hands clutching convulsively at the sleeves of bystanders. Eventually it was necessary to give her a restorative.

Freda Graham, the suffragette who slashed several valuable paintings in the National gallery on May 22, harangued the jury, declaring that she had attacked the pictures "as a protest against King George's illegal and unconstitutional action in refusing to receive a legal deputation of women."

She added:

"What are five pictures compared with 80,000 pictures by the greatest artist of all, which are being shamefully defaced, damaged and degraded by men each night?"

"Only Way Left."

Mary Spencer, who damaged a picture at the Royal academy on May 22, told the judge that the only way left for women to express their views was to damage property, as they respected human life too much to destroy it.

Extraordinary precautions have been taken at the Epsom race course to prevent any repetition of last year's tragic interference with the running of the derby, when Emily Wilding Davison met her death by jumping on the course. A force of 2,000 police will be on duty during the race meeting, while extra barriers have been put up around the course. The arrangements to prevent King George and Queen Mary being subjected to annoyance by suffragettes have been made as perfect as possible.

and of these 100 are connections between Duluth and Superior.

The storm began at 5 o'clock, coming from the direction of Superior, and after sweeping over Duluth, traveled northwesterly over the surrounding country, severely damaging gardens and orchards about Duluth.

Farms Damaged.

The damage to these farms it is impossible to estimate. Reports received this morning are to the effect that farmers and gardeners in Hermantown, Arnold and in Gnesen township suffered heavily from the hail which accompanied the storm. Hot beds were smashed and plants beaten down.

In and about Arnold there was a heavy hailstorm that lasted about fifteen minutes. According to the residents of that section, the hail was the largest seen in years, some of the hailstones gathered up being almost an inch in diameter.

At New Duluth several buildings were overturned, telephone and telegraph poles were blown down and the service to the ranges was greatly impaired. The total damage in the suburbs is estimated at about $10,000, including the destruction of the Martell Brothers' store on Commonwealth avenue, which was toppled over by the wind.

Little Damage in Duluth.

Duluth proper did not suffer so heavily at the hands of the storm, although several signs were blown down, the telephone service impaired and two houses damaged. One of these at Ninth avenue east and Seventh street was toppled over, while the other at 731 East Eleventh street was struck by lightning. The lightning tore up the roof and damaged the side of the building. The house belongs to Andrew Nolsund, who estimates his loss at about $200.

On the Duluth water front the heaviest damage was caused by the blowing over of two coal handling rigs at the Clarkson Coal company's dock, Birch avenue and Rice's Point. Fred W. Young, vice president of the company, estimates the damage at $15,000.

Probably the heaviest loser from the storm is the Northwestern Fuel company of Superior, whose unloading rig at Dock No. 1, the largest of its kind in the world, was blown over, slightly injuring the operator, Andrew Erickson. The damage is estimated by Supt. Bowman A. Gallaher as being about $200,000. The rigging was erected more than a year ago at a cost of nearly $300,000, and although it is not a total loss, a new one will have to be constructed by the company, Mr. Galleher said this morning.

The rig slid down the track when it was struck by the wind, finally twisting over the coal steamer H. W. Rogers, smashing its rear cabins. Erickson, who operating the rig, started to climb down the steel ladder as soon as he saw the impending accident, but he failed to get off in time and he was caught underneath. It was at first thought that he had been killed, but upon examination at St. Mary's hospital, where he was rushed after the accident, it was found that he had sustained a broken arm and some slight wounds about the body and head.

Steamer Grounds.

The steamer Frank C. Ball, which was tied up at the Northwestern dock, broke away from its moorings during the storm and ran aground on Minnesota Point. The boat suffered no damage whatever.

Another rigging at the Northern coal dock was smashed, three employes, Peter Quist, Frank Burdick and Joseph Koboski, being injured as a result of the accident. They were operating the machine, when it was struck by the wind, and before they could get off, the equipment fell. They were taken to St. Mary's hospital, where their injuries were dressed by Dr. V. E. Ekblad.

The Hanna dock also suffered, as did the Island Creek, Lehigh Valley and Philadelphia and Reading docks. The rigging on the first was damaged, entailing a loss of about $20,000. None of the employes was injured.

Elevator X at Banks avenue and the water front was struck by the heavy wind, which carried the roof of the building away. It was this roof that broke most of the cables running between the two cities and cutting off the telephone and telegraph service. Minor losses are also reported at the Berwind dock, the Great Northern flour sheds, the Barnett & Record Contracting company's dock and the Whitney Brothers' plant. These are all along the bay and they suffered a total loss of about $5,000.

At practically every dock in Superior cars were blown off the tracks. In one or two instances several of the cars were blown into the water.

The Duluth fire department was called out but once during the storm, while the Superior department also answered an alarm. The former department went to the resident of Andrew Nolsrud at 731 East Eleventh street, but there was nothing for the firemen to do. Lightning had struck the dwelling, but had not caused a blaze. In Superior the firemen were called to the residence of George Young, 1018 Oakes avenue, where a chimney fire was started by the toppling over of the chimney.

company, Mr. Miller and Mr. Plant are directors and Mr. Warner is a former director of the New Haven.

Ledyard Enters Denial.

Lewis Cass Ledyard made a statement saying he wanted to deny much of the testimony of Mr. Mellen and protesting against the hearing being closed without his testimony being taken.

Mr. Ledyard announced he would accept an invitation to be a voluntary witness and would inform the commission to that effect in writing after returning to his office in New York. He asked that he be notified when he could testify.

Homer Cummings, attorney for John L. Billard, submitted a certified statement from Arthur E. Clark, secretary of the New England Navigation company, to the effect that at a meeting of the directors on July 9, 1909, the agreement between the New Haven, the navigation company, John L. Billard and the Second National bank of New Haven, for the sale of 109,948 shares of the common stock of the Boston & Maine railroad to the Boston Railroad Holding company, was approved and the president was authorized to negotiate for the sale. Mr Cummings also offered for the record a statement of C. H. Hempstead, assistant secretary of the New Haven, showing that the transaction had been approved by the New Haven's directors at a meeting held on the same date as that of the navigation company board.

Examiner David Brown told of efforts he had made yesterday to see William Rockefeller in New York. He was informed both at Mr. Rockefeller's office and home that he had been away several weeks.

Dissolution Plans.

Plans for dissolution of the New Haven railroad system were taken up in the conference between President Wilson and Attorney General McReynolds. They discussed particularly plans for getting legislation through the Massachusetts legislature to carry out some of the details of the dissolution. Following the conference, it was announced that the president had asked Governor Walsh of Massachusetts to call on him Wednesday regarding the proposed legislation.

There has been no hitch in the dissolution plans, according to officials close to the president. So far as is known the attorney general has dropped the question of interfering with the interstate commerce commission in its hearing of directors and officers of the New Haven.

used as a last step rather than the first and that proved incorrigibles be sentenced to prison for life. In addition to this the prison contract labor system was condemned without qualification. No specific mention was made of the punishment for murder.

After the report had been read, Rev. C. B. McAfee of Chicago inquired how the committee proposed to punish murderers. "We have not touched upon that in the report, but my personal opinion is that no government or man has the right to take a human life," replied Chairman Irwin. "I do not believe in killing a man to reform him."

Rev. G. C. Sterling of Eureka, Ill., expressed himself in favor of capital punishment for murder and added that his understanding of the Bible justified capital punishment.

Several other speakers indorsed this view, and finally Rev. James Carter of Lincoln of the University of Pennsylvania offered an amendment disclaiming any intention of condemning the Bible punishment for murder.

"What is the Biblical punishment for murder?" shouted a delegate in the rear. "Cain was not executed for the murder of Abel." The amendment was voted down while the assembly was in confusion.

Prison Contract Labor.

The provision condemning prison contract labor caused another row. One delegate said that the abolition of the contract labor in penitentiaries had caused a marked increase in tuberculosis among the prisoners and he opposed the passage of the recommendation for this reason.

Frank J. Loach of Chicago and others opposed this provision of the report, but were unsuccessful in their efforts to have it stricken from the list of recommendations.

McKenzie Cleland of Chicago indorsed the report, describing it as the most progressive document on the subject ever submitted to a deliberative body.

"The present penal system is a colossal failure and the best proof is that crime is on the increase everywhere," he said. "If a man commits murder, we kill him. If he steals, we steal his freedom and labor. If he robs, we rob his wife and children of his support. We pay him back in his own coin, but we do not reform him. Reform contains the true solution of the problem. Some time ago we appointed policewomen in Chicago. I read in the newspapers today that the policewomen are afraid to go home alone at night and have to be escorted to their domiciles by policemen. It seems like every reform adopted is a failure."

Rev. Edward E. Hastings of Fort Dodge, Iowa, read the report of the standing committee on education showing that 827 candidates for the ministry had been given financial aid in their education last year.

Rev. S. C. George of Pittsburg offered an amendment to the report of the committee, directing that financial aid be withheld to all candidates for the ministry addicted to tobacco. It was referred to the committee on bills and overtures. The report of the committee on education finally was adopted.

Troublesome Hairs on Your Face or Neck

(Beauty Notes)

A thick paste made with powdered delatone and water, and applied to objectionable hairs for two or three minutes, when removed will take every trace of hair with it and leave the skin firm and free from blemish. After this treatment has been employed, the skin should be washed to remove the remaining delatone. This is quick, harmless and certain, but to avoid disappointment, care should be taken to see that it is real delatone you get.—Advertisement.

LIPTON'S LATEST YACHT LAUNCHED

Gosport, Eng., May 26.—Shamrock IV, the challenger for the America's cup, was launched here today and christened by the Countess of Shaftesbury.

The new challenger took the water on the stroke of noon. There was no hitch in the arrangements and she slid down the ways easily as the Countess of Shaftesbury, who had done similar service for Shamrock III, christened Sir Thomas Lipton's latest champion.

The little shipping town was gaily decorated with American and British flags with which was intermingled the yellow flag with the big green shamrock of the Royal Ulster Yacht club. Everybody present also wore a shamrock.

The British battleships in the harbor were firing a salute in honor of the queen's birthday as Shamrock IV was launched, and most of the inhabitants of the town thought the firing was a salute for the yacht.

Yachting experts present appeared to be greatly impressed with the boat and expressed the opinion that she had a better chance than any of her predecessors, although the lateness of her launching would, it was pointed out, prove a disadvantage, as the American yachts have had a longer time in which to tune up.

COAL STRIKE MAY BE PRECIPITATED

Charleston, W. Va., May 26.—The joint scales committee of the miners and operators of the Kanawaha coal field went into session here today in a final effort to settle their differences. Sub-committees have been unable to reach an agreement, the check off system being the knotty problem. Leaders of the miners indicated that if a settlement is not reported soon a strike may be called next week.

ROYAL ARCANUM

BOTH WERE HANDY WITH BRIC-A-BRAC

Continual Round of Strife Charged in Stroik Divorce Action.

Life in the household of Frank and Rose Stroik for the past four years has been one continuous round of strife, according to the respective claims of husband and wife in a divorce action pending in district court.

Mrs. Stroik recently began suit against her husband asking for a legal separation on the grounds of cruelty. On several occasions, she said, her spouse had kicked and beaten her. Particular instances were recited where he had assaulted her with a piece of ham and threatened her with a gun. She also accused him of throwing furniture at her.

Stroik yesterday in filing notice with the court that he would seek permission to put in a counterclaim, alleges in his proposed answer that Mrs. Stroik was also adept in the knack of throwing the brac-a-brac. At different times, he says, she has struck him with stove pokers, kitchen chairs, tin plates, kettles of boiling water, and in fact anything that was handy and not nailed down.

Other charges are also made by Stroik against his wife. He complains that since 1910 she has refused to cook breakfast for him. He also states that she has been in the habit of attending public dances and posing under the name of "Miss Adams," a single woman, and that she would not return to him and her children until as late as 3 o'clock sometimes. He states as a matter of belief that she has been in the habit of passing her time with male companions at the home of a "Mrs. Smith," a divorced woman.

Stroik does not deny that he has struck his wife, but it has always been with the open palm of his hand, he says, and then only not until she had provoked him beyond endurance. In answer to a charge that he took one of his boys to a saloon with him, Stroik states that the facts in reference to that occurrence were that the child had nothing stronger to drink than "pop."

Stroik asks the court to give him the custody of the children. The couple were married at Ashland Jan. 19, 1903.

Recruiting Resumed.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 26.—Acting on orders received today recruiting was resumed at the naval station here. Fifty men, examined and accepted about the time recruiting was stopped, May 1, will be assembled and sent to Norfolk and Philadelphia tomorrow. Officers were busy today with many applications for enlistment.

MERGER DELAYED FOR TWO YEARS

Kansas City, Mo., May 26.—When the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States (Southern Presbyterian church) in session here decided last night to submit the proposed basis of union between the Southern Presbyterians and the United Presbyterian church of North America to a referendum vote of the presbyteries, the final settlement of the question was postponed at least two years. If three-fourths of the presbyteries approve the basis of union, the general assembly of 1915 will direct the presbyteries to vote directly on the question of union next year. The result of that vote will be reported to the general assembly of 1916, so that it will be at least two years before the actual merger can take place.

Old Settlers to Meet.

St. Paul, Minn., May 26.—The Old Settlers' association of Minnesota, composed of men who came to Minnesota before the close of the year 1849, and were then 21 years old, will hold its fifty-seventh annual meeting in the old capital at noon, Monday, June 1. Only seven original members of the association now survive and there are in addition four honorary members.

The first day of June this year is the sixty-fifth anniversary of the proclamation by Governor Ramsey of the organization of Minnesota territory.

Just Between You and Me

By BRUCE

NEGOTIATIONS were practically completed yesterday for a meeting between Pal Brown and one of three of the leading lightweights of the nation. Just who the next opponent of Brown will be, it is quite impossible to state at this time.

One hint may be dropped—wires were sent scurrying out with New Orleans marked as the destination point. Joe Mandot lives in the French market district of the most picturesque city of the United States.

A representative of Brown was closeted with one of the Twin Port Athletic club officials a good part of the day. This emissary of the newly-wedded fighter declared that the iron ore scrapper is about right to once more exhibit his fighting wares to the public.

No arguing whether or not Brown was right for his fight with Tillman, for we hold that post mortems as a rule do not interest the public, it is to be hoped that the condition of the range boy is perfect and that he will enter the ring fit to show all he has. If Brown has the qualities that go to make champions, it is time he produced. He is matured quite enough to be at his best and he is fitted with the necessary experience. The legion of friends of the Chisholm youth still have faith in his ability to beat about the best in the land, according to the reports that occasionally drift down from the range, and the next start of the Minnesota lad it is to be hoped will be of a nature to substantiate this loyal belief in Brownie.

The Loving Brothers.

JAMES COLLINS, blithely cavorting with the White Sox, is the loving brother of Bowery Collins of the Winona team. Brother Bowery is one of the scrappiest players in the Burmeister wheel—also some batter. Brother James was with both Superior and Virginia last season. Early in the season he went from the Red Sox to the Shannon blunderband, taking part in 85 games and hitting to the tune of .252.

Bowery of Lefty Davis & Company swatted to the triumphant tune of .347 for 123 games and was tied with our Elmer Miller for the virtual leadership of the league.

Although the Bowery one is noisy and looks tough at least, he is one of the least desirable hitters of the league to have up when the towpaths are temporarily loaded—one of the least desirable when your sympathies are enlisted with the opposing team.

Speaking of Collins calls attention to the absent McGuff. Michael has caught on with the Austin, Minn., team and barring accidents and other details of the woof of life that come unexpectedly, is due to play in the quiet village for the remainder of the season.

The Dutchman Looks Fit.

JOHN FRANTZ SALVATORE last Saturday evening in the borderland district knocked out Art Kelley of St. Paul in the fourth round of a scheduled 15-round bout. Before leaving the vicinity of the border line land for home John offered to deposit a check for $500 that he can make 135 for Johnny Tillman.

Since their meeting on the iron range Salvatore has been anxiously after a returning bout with the Minneapolis boy. Tillman has turned the tin ear, and assumed an expression of extreme indifference when the subject of a scrap with Salvatore is mentioned. One of the most vivid ring recollections borne away from that encounter was the picture of Tillman lying on the floor for the count of nine, sent to the resin by a stinging left hook from the Salvatore one.

Negotiations will be started with the idea of matching Salvatore and Billings as the main bout before the Superior Athletic club. Billings is working in the Tillman summer training camp and it is believed he will make a serious bid for Northwestern championship honors upon his return to the Head of the Lakes.

According to Salvatore, he would like nothing better than a meeting with the lad who is generally credited with having won a shade over him in their meeting in Superior.

GAME ENDS IN A DRAW

Dooks and Virginia Battle 10 Innings to a 3 to 3 Count.

Newcomer Collins Ties the Score in Sixth With Three-Bagger.

Virginia, Minn., May 26.—Darkness brought the game between Virginia and Duluth to a close here yesterday in the tenth round with the score 3 to 3. Pettit was on the mound for the ore gidders and pitched a fine game. The youthful Grina was the flinger for the Sox and he also twirled fine baseball, being especially effective in the pinches.

In the sixth round the visitors scored the tying run on a single by industrious Dad Ford and a triple to right by Jimmy Collins.

MONSTER CROWD SEES PEGGERS BEAT WINONA

Winnipeg, Man., May 26.—One of the largest crowds in the history of the Northern league witnessed the Peggers defeat the Winona champions here yesterday by the score of 3 to 2. The crowd filled the stands and bleachers and over ran the playing field. It is estimated that there were 6,000 fans in attendance.

The teams came into the ninth with the score a tie. The excitement was intense when with two on the paths and two men down Manager Fred Curtis came to bat. The Maroon clouted the ball to deep left, scoring Wilkes with the winning run. Both Rhoads and Kellar pitched fine ball.

Married Men Win.

The married men of the F. A. Patrick company defeated the single men at baseball by the score of 7 to 6 in the annual game that was played last Saturday. The contest was a hurling duel between P. Streson and Paul Schultz. Both pitchers were in fine shape and heaved nice ball. Streson whiffed sixteen of the not-yet-weds. The game was one of the best that has marked the baseball rivalry between the benedicts and bachelors.

Pirates 5; Dodgers 4.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 26.—Pittsburg and Brooklyn met for the first time this season and the Pirates won a closely contested game, 5 to 4. Pittsburg hit Rucker hard in the first inning and gained a two-run lead. Riggert's triple and Smith's fly tied the score in the fourth, but Pittsburg forged ahead again in its half. The visitors hit Cooper hard in the ninth and tied the score again, but Wagner's single with two on bases and two out gave the Pirates the victory. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Pittsburg	2	0	0	1	0	1	0	0	1—5	11	2

Cubs 5; Giants 1.

Chicago, May 26.—Demaree was hit hard in the third inning yesterday and Chicago won the first game of the series from New York 5 to 1. Bresnahan and Cheney singled. Bresnahan scored on Good's single. Saier tripled and Cheney and Good scored. Demaree settled down after this, but was taken out in the seventh inning to allow a pinch hitter to bat for him.

New York's lone run came in the fourth after two were out. Corriden threw Grant's grounder high to Saier. Doyle singled to right and Good booted the ball around while Grant scored. Chicago's last two runs were made in the eighth, on Saier's double, Zimmerman's sacrifice, which Schauer fumbled, Schulte's sacrifice fly and Zimmerman's steal of home. Score:

Chicago	0	0	3	0	0	0	0	2	x—5	6	4

Phillies 6; Reds 4.

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 26.—Ineffective pitching by the Cincinnati twirlers enabled Philadelphia to win the first game of the series yesterday 6 to 4. Rowan, who started for Cincinnati was hit hard, allowing Philadelphia to score five runs. Ingersoll, who succeeded Rowan, was wild. Mayer pitched well up to the sixth inning. He weakened in the eighth and was replaced by Marshall. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Cincinnati	0	0	0	0	0	1	1	2	0—4	9	1

Batteries — Mayer, Marshall and Killifer; Rowan, Ingersoll and Clark, Gonzales. Umpires—Klem and Hart.

Braves 3; Cardinals 2.

St. Louis, Mo., May 26.—Boston yesterday by bunching hits with errors in the first two innings, scored three runs, a lead St. Louis by clean hitting could not overcome, so the visitors took the opening contest of the series 3 to 2. Robinson pitched a good game, but Dolan's error in the second inning paved the way for two runs giving the visitors a lead. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	0	0	0	1	0	1	0	0	0—2	7	2

Batteries—Tyler and Whaling; Robinson and Wingo. Umpires—Stigler and Emslie.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Athletics 6; Browns 2.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 26. — Pennock pitched in wonderful style in the game which Philadelphia won from St. Louis yesterday, 6 to 2. Pennock fanned twelve batsmen. Every man who faced him, except Pratt, struck out at least once. Pratt made two doubles and a single and drew a pass in four trips to the plate. Oldring's stickwork played a big part in the home team's victory. He scored two runs himself and drove in three other tallies. Oldring's hitting included a home run, a triple and a single and he also received a base on balls. Agnew threw five of the six runners who tried to steal second base. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	0	0	0	1	0	1	0	0	0—2	6	2
Philadelphia	1	0	1	0	3	0	1	0	x—6	10	0

Senators 10; Tigers 1.

Washington, May 26. — Washington climbed to within half a game of first place in the American league pennant race yesterday, indulging in a batting bee at the expense of three Detroit pitchers and winning the first game of the series easily 10 to 1. Detroit's one run was scored in the third when Mains singled, went to third when Milan fumbled the ball, and scored on Bush's double. Johnson was never in trouble, and gave way to Bentley in the eighth, when the game seemed safe. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Washington	0	4	1	1	0	0	2	2	x—10	14	1

Naps 3; Red Sox 0.

Boston, Mass., May 26. — Sacrifice hitting assisted Cleveland to win a 3 to 0 victory from Boston yesterday. Mitchell held the Red Sox to three scattered hits. In the third inning Turner singled and stole second. A sacrifice fly enabled him to score. Errors by Gardner and Scott, Grany's single and a sacrifice fly by Lajoie gave the visitors their other two runs in the fourth inning. "Del" Gainer, who was purchased from the Detroit club Sunday, reported to Boston yesterday. He will probably play at first base in today's game. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Boston	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0—0	3	3

White Sox 1; Yankees 0.

New York, May 26.—Scott had the better of Warhop's battle here yesterday and Chicago won the first game of a series with New York by a score of 1 to 0. Scott held the Yankees to three hits and struck out seven men. Only four men reached first base and he caught three of these napping, getting Truesdale twice. Warhop was almost as effective, yielding only six hits. In the fourth Weaver doubled, took third on Chase's infield out and scored on Collins' sacrifice fly. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
New York	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0—0	3	0

Batteries—Scott and Schalk; Warhop and Rogers. Umpires—Evans and Egan.

AMERICAN ASSN.

Cleveland 5; Champions 4.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 26.—Kirke stole home in the fifth, and tied up the score for Cleveland in the first game of the series with Milwaukee yesterday. This feature combined with Randall's muff of Kirke's fly scoring Bates in the ninth, gave Cleveland a 5 to 4 victory. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Milwaukee	2	0	1	1	0	0	0	0	0—4	12	5
Cleveland	0	1	0	2	1	0	0	0	1—5	13	4

Millers 3; Colonels 2.

Louisville, Ky., May 26.—Minneapolis defeated Louisville yesterday, 3 to 2 in the first game of the series which lasted ten innings. Both Northrup and Lake were in rare form, but the latter had a shade the best in support. The locals had the bases full and none out in the ninth inning, but fast fielding prevented a score. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Minneapolis	0	1	0	0	0	0	1	0	1—3	5	2
Louisville	0	0	0	2	0	0	0	0	0—2	8	3

Columbus 12; St. Paul 11.

Columbus, Ohio, May 26.—Columbus yesterday won the first game of the St. Paul series, 12 to 11. Karger, the fourth pitcher of the visitors, was effective until one was out in the ninth. Then a single by Johns, fence drives by Smith, Benson and Jones and a single by Bailey gave Columbus the four runs required to win. McNally did excellent fielding. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Columbus	2	0	3	2	0	1	0	0	4—12	12	5
St. Paul	3	2	0	2	0	0	0	2	2—11	16	3

Hoosiers 6; Kaws 5.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 26.—Indianapolis won from Kansas City in the thirteenth inning yesterday when Griffith hit through Richie for a single and scored on Crandall's two bagger in the left field bleachers. The victory, coupled with the defeat of Louisville and Milwaukee, puts Indianapolis in first place in the pennant race. Umpire Owens ordered all the Indianapolis substitutes from the bench early in the game and Umpire Connolly put Manager Hendricks off the field in the eighth inning. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Indianapolis	0	0	2	0	0	0	2	0	0	1	6	12	4
Kansas City	0	0	3	0	0	1	0	0	1	0	5	12	4

Batteries—Merz and Livingstone; Richie and Moore. Umpires—Owens and Connolly.

New Haven, Conn., May 26.—Leland Stanford's tennis team defeated Yale yesterday, 2 to 1. The Californians captured both matches in the singles while Yale won the doubles.

FEDERAL LEAGUE

Kawfeds 8; Bisons 4.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 26.—Kansas City found Russell Ford easy yesterday and batted their way into a safe lead in the first two innings, winning the game 8 to 4. Moran, who relieved Ford in the third, was also hit freely. Score:

Buffalo	0	0	1	1	0	0	1	0	0—4	5	3
Kansas City	4	1	0	0	0	1	0	2	x—8	15	1

Batteries — Ford, Moran, Anderson and Blair; Cullop and Easterly.

Terrapins 6; St. Louis 5.

Baltimore, Md., May 26.—St. Louis errors contributed largely to Baltimore's victory yesterday 6 to 5. Quinn weakened in the last two innings after having pitched fine ball up to that time. Richard Miller was shit on the knee by one of Quinn's snoots in the eighth inning and had to retire. Score:

There is a Great Difference in Tobaccos

Tuxedo is the Mildest, Sweetest, Most Pleasant Smoke in the World, Because—

First—No one but the makers of Tuxedo is willing to spend the money necessary to buy the mildest, choicest, most thoroughly aged, selected Burley tobacco.

Second—No one but the makers of Tuxedo knows how to treat this Burley tobacco so that every bit of pleasantness and goodness remains in the tobacco and every bit of unpleasantness and harshness is taken out.

Tuxedo

The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

Tuxedo was born in 1904. Its first imitator appeared two years later. Since then a host of imitations have been born, and are clamoring for your patronage.

No imitation is ever as good as the original. No amount of advertising, no amount of bluster and bluff, can ever make an imitation tobacco as good as Tuxedo.

If you are not a pipe smoker, you are denying yourself the greatest smoking pleasure known to man. One week of Tuxedo will give you more enjoyment than you have ever had—and at the end of the week your nerves will be better and your general health will have improved. Try Tuxedo this week!

BUNCH OF BOUTS; SOME KNOCKOUTS

New Orleans, May 26.—Freddie Welsh, the English pugilist, outpointed Joe Mandot of New Orleans in a ten-round bout here last night. Welsh had the better of five rounds, Mandot of three and the others were even.

Rochester, N. Y., May 26.—Sam Langford, the negro heavyweight, last night knocked out Bill Watkins of Nashville, in the fourth round of a ten-round match here.

London, May 26.—"Young" Ahearn of Brooklyn, N. Y., knocked out "Private" Braddock in the eighth round before the National Sporting club last night.

Vancouver, B. C., May 26.—Frank Barrieau gained the decision last night at the Steveston arena in a fifteen-round bout with Bud Anderson, for the welterweight championship of the Pacific coast.

Will Coach Navy.

Annapolis, Md., May 26.—Announcement is made to the effect that Lieut. Jones Ingram, now on duty with the Atlantic fleet in Mexican waters, will be head coach of the navy football team next fall subject to approval by the navy department.

TEN EYCK FACING HUGE TASK WITH HIS OARSMEN

Senior Crews Will Meet Class of Nation at Philadelphia.

Bantam Four and Junior Eight to Meet Veterans at Northwestern.

BY BRUCE.

With something less than two months before the annual regatta of the Northwestern International Rowing association, James E. Ten Eyck has his charges further advanced than was the case last season, in so far as the physical condition of the men is concerned.

In the finish of the oarsmen and the general progress of the squad, this statement does not apply, and the reason is simple.

Last year Jimmy had more veteran material at his command than is the case this season, and that fact explains why his oarsmen might have been further advanced a year ago than at the present time.

Weather has been a big factor in the early conditioning of the men in the 1914 squad. The boys got on the water early and there have been but three days when the work was interrupted by the vagaries of the man who controls the lever of the elements.

The problem that faces the coach of the local boat club is a large one. The senior four and senior eight should be amply able to take care of themselves at both the Northwestern and national. This is saying that the Duluth crews should cop at Kenora—it is not saying that it is a foregone conclusion that the members of both of these crews will win at Philadelphia.

Con Riley and his veteran eight are going to make the attempt to lift the Henley challenge cup. The trip to England will be made early in June and there will be no veteran senior eight entered at the Northwestern by the Winnipeg Rowing club. This fact, as was the case a year ago, when Winnipeg sent its veteran eight to the Canadian Henley, will take Duluth's strongest competitor out of the field.

Competition is Strong.

At Philadelphia the case will be decidedly different. Ten Eyck's pupils will be opposed by the fastest crews in the United States, and every one of the crews that will start at the City of Brotherly Love is out to overthrow the national champions.

If the local senior four is as good as it was last year it should win the national senior championship four, as it did a year ago on the Charles river, in addition to winning the intermediate four championship and assisting in the winning of the intermediate and national senior eight championship.

Also there is reason to believe, as the dope runs, that the senior eight of this season will be faster than the senior eight of last season—or as fast.

Horak, the two Moores and Rheinberger, the national champion four, are in the senior eight, and there is Kent, a member of last year's senior eight, and Quimby, Beschonbossel and Hoover. Hoover was in the wonderfully fast junior eight of last year.

The great problem that faces Ten Eyck, the stupendous taskthat weighs heavily on his hands, is the molding into winning combinations the junior eight and the bantam four.

Juniors Are Green.

Just how prodigious this problem looms on the rowing horizon may well be imagined when it is stated that there are but seven juniors to work on in the eight and that it has been found necessary to place one of the bantams in the shell.

There is power in the boat—but the finish is lacking. During the month and a half that intervenes between the rowing of the Northwestern regatta the big job will be to put finish into the sweep work of the juniors and bantams.

Already the bantam fours—there are two of them about equal in speed—are beginning to show the first faint indications of some class.

It requires a long time to teach a man the rudiments of work with the sweep. As a prosaic matter of fact some men never do learn. There are a hundred essentials to learn and also the neophyte must do all of these. One of the hardest tasks after he learns the essentials is to put them into execution.

There is shooting the hands, catching with the full blade, and getting the back and legs on the catch and into the heave—and about ninety-eight other essentials.

Jim has been hammering away on these 100 odd rudiments of rowing—and mind they are the rudiments. Now is coming the finish; now is approaching the period when class is expected to blossom forth and crown the endeavors of coach and squad members.

It is a big task, this molding winning crews out of the green material. At Kenora the green bantam four will be opposed to the veteran bantam fours of St. Paul, Winnipeg and Kenora and possibly Fort William. Our green and wholly inexperienced junior eight will be likewise the competitor of the Winnipeg and St. Paul veteran junior eights, for neither of the junior eights of these two clubs has won for two years and are therefore hungry for the sweets of victory.

Duluth has a great and lofty position in the rowing world to sustain. The pack is always at the heels of the champion; the hue and cry is to dethrone the leader. Ten Eyck faces one of the most trying tasks of his rowing career, and through the cool mornings of June and the first half of July and through the long afternoons there will be work on the bay and lake that is calculated to bring out every ounce of rowing strength and every essential of the science so necessary in the task of shoving the nose of your shell in front of the menacing prow of the opponent shell.

READY FOR BIG BATTLE

Ritchie and White Waiting for the Tap of the Gong.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 26.—Willie Ritchie of California, champion lightweight pugilist, and Charley White of Chicago, who are to meet in a ten-round, no decision boxing contest at the Milwaukee auditorium tonight, are said to be in perfect condition for the fray.

Ritchie, who has been making preparations for the encounter in Milwaukee, has made himself fit with the aid of sparring partners, road work and several visits to different golf links.

White, according to reports, has trained faithfully in his home city, conditioning himself by plenty of road work and gymnasium tryouts with some speedy boxers.

White, it is expected, will reach Milwaukee during the forenoon and will take things easy until evening.

Under the agreement, the boys are to weigh in at 6 o'clock and not register more than 135 pounds.

Ritchie claims he is down to weight this morning and will not have any trouble in keeping himself at the desired poundage at weighing-in time.

White, according to reports from Chicago, will easily be able to meet the weight requirements.

The champion is a slight favorite in the betting, the decision to be rendered by the sporting writers.

The main bout will be preceded by four preliminaries and the star event is due to start shortly after 10 o'clock.

JESS COMING HERE EARLY

Big Des Moines Swede to Finish His Training in Duluth.

Jess Westergaard is expected to abandon his training camp on the banks of the Des Moines river and come to Duluth this week to complete his preparations for the world's titular tilt with Stanislaus Zbyszko, which will be fought out here on the evening of Monday, June 8.

Yesterday Promoter Tilton Lewis wired Thorson, the manager of the Iowa Swede, to send his charge on. Karl Lehto, recognized as one of the greatest lightweights in the land, has been secured as training partner and will work with the gigantic Scandinavian.

In addition to the services of Lehto as chief wrestling partner in the work of rounding the Iowan into the pink for the approaching battle, several of the members of the street car barn wrestling school will furnish the bulling opposition for Jess.

Westergaard wants the services of all the heavy men he can secure. Work against the Pole is wearing and tearing on the average wrestler because of the fact that Zbyszko is so huge of bulk. Therefore it is of importance that the Swedish contender for the world's title have huge wrestling partners.

HARVARD-CORNELL CREWS CONFIDENT

Both Appear Strong—Freshmen Will Follow Varsity Contest.

Cambridge, Mass., May 26.—A clear sky and a light southwest breeze provided excellent conditions for the race between the Harvard and Cornell 'varsity eight-oared crews on the Charles late today. The course, a mile and seven-eighths, was laid down the river from the Cottage farm bridge to the Union Boat clubhouse.

The freshman eights of the two universities were scheduled to race immediately afterward. As a preliminary event there was the annual race between the eight-oared crews of the Cascadilla school and the Stone school.

The Harvard 'varsity crew was in the best of condition. The Cornell men, in practice ,appeared strong. Both crews were confident.

BROOKSTON BEATS FLOODWOOD 16 TO 11

Brookston, Minn., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Brookston base ball team, accompanied by a crowd of rooters, went to Floodwood Sunday and played the home team. The visitors walked away with the honors by a score of 16 to 11. Next Saturday, Memorial day, the Twig team will play here, and on Sunday the Cloquet Tigers will appear.

READY FOR TOURNEY.

Big Nine Will Compete at Tennis This Week.

Chicago, May 26.—William Scott Bond of Chicago has been selected to take charge of the "Big Nine" tennis tournament to be held at Madison, Wis., Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The managing committee of the intercollegiate conference also chose Dr. George K. Herman as referee for the conference track meet here June 6. The same officials who have acted in past meetings will serve this year.

Entries in the tennis tournament have been made by Wisconsin, Chicago, Illinois, Minnesota, Lake Forest and James Milliken.

WON'T CHANGE CIRCUIT DURING THIS SEASON.

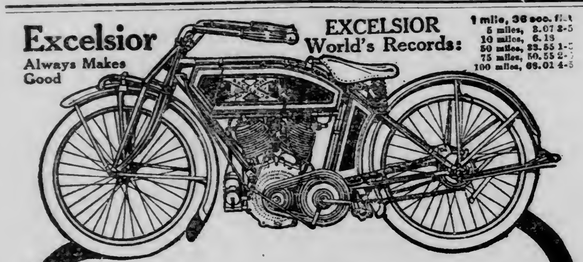
New York, May 26.—Federal league officials held here yesterday what President James A. Gilmore described as an informal meeting, called because the conferees all happened to be in this city at the same time.

"There will be no change in the league circuit this year," said Gilmore. "As to next year," he added, "that's another story. We must take that up when the proper time comes."

Gilmore conceded that Walter Johnson had not been signed by the Federals.

"But I think Johnson is reasonable," he said. "We will outbid the Washington club for Johnson's services next winter."

Excelsior
Always Makes Good



The only motorcycle made with absolute control in handle bars

Only in the Excelsior has the rider absolute control of his machine in the handle bars. To slow up or stop quickly, you simply turn the left-hand grip (by a mere twist of the wrist) leaving the engine running free—and you can speed up again in a jiffy. The right-hand grip controls the throttle—so never for an instant need your hands leave the handle bars to operate either clutch or throttle.

GOLF TOURNEY FOR FRENCH TITLE

Americans in Satisfactory Positions; Some Strong Entrants.

Paris, France, May 26.—Satisfactory positions were obtained by the American entrants in the drawing yesterday for the French amateur golf championship, the preliminary round of which will be played today on the links of the Societe de la Boulie, at Versailles. The draw divided the strength of the field evenly and the strongest American players will not be pitted against each other until near the finish of the match.

Francis Ouimet and Jerome D. Travers just escaped meeting each other in the early round. The probability is that in the first of the semi-finals Ouimet will have to play Lord Charles Hope, the holder of the title and one of the best younger British golfers, and that Travers will meet Charles W. Evans, Jr., who won the championship three years ago. Before that happens, however, Travers will probably have to play either Frederick Herreshoff or Fraser Hale, while Ouimet will have met J. S. Worthington, a former Irish champion, and Charles A. Palmer, another Irish ex-champion, who defeated Travers at Sandwich.

La Boulie links have some tricky holes in the outward half which may handicap Ouimet, who had only a day in which to learn the course.

FORMER CHAMPION WINS

Present Women's Golf Title Holder Makes Poor Showing.

Orange, N. J., May 26.—From a field of seventy-eight women golfers, Miss Lillian B. Hyde of South Shore, L. I., the Metropolitan title winner in 1910-11, won the gold medal with a score of 89 yesterday in the qualifying round of the Woman's Metropolitan Golf association's championship tournament, on the links of the Essex County Country club.

Miss Hyde was one stroke better than Miss Georgianna Bishop of Brooklawn, Conn., another former champion, and twelve strokes ahead of Miss Marion Hollins of West Brook, the present title holder. Miss Hollins' poor score of 101 barely enabled her to qualify.

Sixteen qualified for the championship rounds, which will continue through the remainder of the week.

Washington Wins Easily.

Vancouver, B. C., May 26.—A conglomerate crew from the University of Washington Boat club, including several ineligibles for the varsity, won the international boat race at Indian river without difficulty yesterday. California's varsity finished second and Vancouver third. The distance was 500 feet less than two and three-quarter miles and Washington's time was 16 minutes flat.

FIRST GOVERNOR LIVES.

Pioneer Territorial Executive of Dakota Territory Not Dead.

Bismarck, N. D., May 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—W. Jayne, the first territorial governor of the Dakotas, now aged 89 years, is still living, a resident of Springfield, Ill., and he has just written a brief letter to Governor L. B. Hanna. It was supposed that he was dead.

Ex-Governor Jayne calls to mind his first message to the territorial assembly, in which he predicted the upbuilding of this vast region, and he points out the complete fulfillment of that prophecy.

It was over fifty years ago when Jayne received his commission from President Lincoln.

ON THE IRON RANGES

WAS SUICIDE; NOT MURDER

Itasca County Authorities Doubtful About Hakman Being Slain.

Inclined to Belief He Killed Himself Because He Had Wounded Friend.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The investigation into the Swan River shooting scrape in which Anton Hakman was killed, and Tiovi Karvonen seriously wounded, discloses a probable case of suicide on the part of Hakman over his sorrow in having accidentally shot Karvonen.

It develops that the five men, Anton Hakman, who was killed; Tiovi Karvonen, who was wounded; Jack Nevi, who is being held pending the completion of the investigation; Hjalmer Laine and Willie Hopinen attended the dance on Saturday evening at the Finnish hall near the Charles Nelmi place, about four miles south of Swan River. The men stayed quite a while after the dance broke up, making coffee and drinking it with whisky which they had.

Shooting Begins.

A little after 3 in the morning the liquor ran out, and Hakman proposed that they go to the home of Charles Toumi, where he had a bottle of alcohol. They started out, and before they had gone far, Karvonen, Hakman and Nevi, who had lagged behind, began to shoot. The other two men, who had gone on ahead, and who had waited for them, went back to see what was the matter, and they found that they were shooting for fun. Then Nevi and Karvonen began to quarrel over some money which Nevi claimed Karvonen owed him. Karvonen borrowed some money from Laine, and they were about to start when Hakman pulled his gun and fired three shots at random, swinging his arm at the same time, and one of the shots hit Karvonen in the back. While the others were helping Karvonen, they heard another shot, and when they looked up, they saw Hakman shot in the head and lying on the ground, and they saw Nevi with his (Hakman's) gun in his hand, and then saw him throw it on the ground. They ascertained that Hakman was dead, and then helped Karvonen to his brother-in-law's, Erick Nilason. Nevi helped them until they had crossed a bridge over the Swan river near by, and then he left them without saying a word. His having Hakman's revolver in his hand and his action in throwing the gun to the ground led to his arrest, and is being held. No warrant has yet been sworn out against him. Nevi claims that he does not remember a thing of what happened after Karvonen was shot.

State's Two Theories.

It is the theory of the state either that Nevi, when he saw what Hakman had done, tried to take the gun away from him and that in the scuffle that followed the gun was discharged, and Hakman was hit or that Hakman became frightened or despondent over what he had done, and that he committed suicide, and that Nevi's having the gun was for the purpose of taking it away from Hakman and that he did not get it before Hakman had destroyed himself. Nevi is about 21 years of age and Hakman was about 25. Karvonen is about 30 years of age. All have homes in the vicinity of where the shooting occurred except Nevi, who is a common laborer working for the farmers of the neighborhood.

The inquest was commenced over the remains of Hakman, and the evidence adduced is along the general lines of the foregoing. The inquest was adjourned until this morning, when more probing into the matter was done.

HIBBING FANS LIKE BALL NINE.

Hibbing, Minn., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Hibbing fans are delighted with the showing made by the Sluggers in their Duluth game on Sunday and are already banking on a season that will eclipse any previous record for the village.

In Nord, Judge Brady has apparently found splendid material for his team, as the young player fielded his position in good style and secured one of the hits of the day. Carrol Booth who has been switched to the outfield is playing a stellar game, covering much territory and batting better than last season. Dwight Booth who pitched a part of the game Sunday was in good form, though it is not the intention of Manager Brady to use him in the box, preferring to keep him at his field position and taking advantage of his hitting ability.

The team is playing with a splendid spirit this year and working together so that there should be no reason why there should not be a long string of victories attached to the last bag of the Sluggers at the close of the season.

LOSING HOPE WOMAN VERY ILL

Finally Restored To Health By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Bellevue, Ohio.—"I was in a terrible state before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My back ached until I thought it would break, I had pains all over me, nervous feelings and periodic troubles. I was very weak and run down and was losing hope of ever being well and strong. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I improved rapidly and today am a well woman. I cannot tell you how happy I feel and I cannot say too much for your Compound. Would not be without it in the house if it cost three times the amount."—Mrs. CHAS. CHAPMAN, R. F. D. No. 7 Bellevue, Ohio.

EVELETHIAN SEEKING COUNTY AUDITORSHIP

EDWARD H. HATCH.

VIRGINIA WILL DO HONORS ON FRIDAY

Virginia, Minn., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Because local merchants complained that to close all day Saturday on account of its being Memorial day would work a hardship upon them, Mayor Boylan, the council and the committee in charge of the celebration have decided to have the observance of the day on Friday and all plans for Saturday will be carried out the day previous. Rev. Hans Wilner will be chief speaker of the day.

Big Street Parade.

The program will include one of the biggest and best street parades that has ever been seen in this city. More than 3,000 children, dressed in the costumes of various foreign countries, and others depicting scenes in history, will form a pageant that will be worthy of comment, and the local Spanish-American war veterans will turn out in force. The three local Civil war veterans riding in an automobile will form a part of the parade.

At least two bands will be in the parade, and an effort is being made to have the whole fire department take part, so that citizens and visitors may have the opportunity of seeing just what kind of fire-fighting equipment Virginia possesses. Members of the city council, school board and a strong force of police will all be on parade.

BOUNDARY LINE NOW BEING RUN

Winton, Minn., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Assistant Chief J. H. Phelan of the United States and Canadian boundary survey has arrived from Boston, Mass., with a large crew of surveyors and resumed work on determining the boundary line between the two countries. The information will be submitted to both the United States and Canadian officials, who will be given authority to draw the new line in accordance with the data furnished by the United States and the Canadian surveyors. The Canadian surveyors have started working from the Western coast, going east, while the United States crews started from the Eastern end and are working westward. It will be over five years before this work will be completed.

FOUR PERJURERS ARE GIVEN FINES

Hibbing, Minn., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—A quartet of perjurers were scored by Judge Brady yesterday afternoon in municipal court when the action brought by Nick Stelmo against four residents of the Laura location was tried. Stelmo told his story in the morning of having been kicked and abused by the four men and their friends. In the afternoon the defendants attempted to straighten out the difficulties but their stories were so contradictory and so evidently untrue that they were stopped and fined $10 and $5 costs each. The men were Joe Blozich, Nick Kowotovich, Dan Kowotovich and Mike Rodovich. Other arrests may follow in the location on account of the unprovoked and brutal assault.

CHANGES HER MIND IN CHOOSING MATE

Hibbing, Minn., May 26.—(Special to The Herald)—Woman's right to change her mind, was exercised by Miss Mary Jelich of the Leetonia location in choosing her life companion and as a result the rejected suitor is seeking the protection of the court.

On May 22 Matt Mazallca proudly entered the office of the municipal court and asked for a license to wed Mary Jelich.

Another Seeks License.

Yesterday Damjan Beronjia with a countenance that was even more broadly illuminated with smiles entered the office and asked for a license to wed Mary Jelich. The young woman was with the man of her choice and nodded her confirmation of the request.

Last evening Mazalica, his smile gone, sought a warrant for his successful rival claiming that Beronjia had threatened him in case he showed up about the location. A warrant was issued. It is understood that unless another change of heart is experienced that the wedding will take place this week.

CHINESE HUSBAND IS UNSATISFACTORY

Hilda Koski Gets Divorce From Virginia Oriental.

Virginia, Minn., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—When Hilda Koski, a Finn girl, became the bride of Charles Sam, a local Chinese, who runs the Bon Ton restaurant, in January, 1912, their little romance did not last long, according to the story she told Judge Hughes in district court today. She told the court she did not like her slant-eyed spouse, and in fact, found life so disagreeable with the Oriental, she would like to quit him. The judge gave her a decree.

It was a regular divorce day today, and the court heard and acted on several other cases.

Others Given Divorces.

Lizzie Ward, aged 44, got a decree of separation from Frank Ward, aged 50, on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment. They were married at Soudan, April 22, 1890.

Mary Emery, aged 29, got a divorce from Henry Emery, aged 43, to whom she was married in Eveleth, March 31, 1908, on the grounds of cruelty.

Anna Holmes told the judge that her husband, Gus Holmes, to whom she was married in Ely, July 26, 1893, drank too much and she could not stand existence further with him. The court gave her a decree and possession of their five children. She lives at Chisholm.

Semba Utenan got a divorce from August Utenan of Chisholm, to whom she was married in June, 1910, on the grounds of desertion.

MESABA GUN CLUB CONTEST WINNERS

Stevenson, Minn., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—At Stevenson, Sunday, was held the initial contest between the Mesaba Gun club of Hibbing and the local Gun club. The shoot was well attended and a great deal of enthusiasm was shown. Fifteen members of the Hibbing club came to Stevenson for the contest, and all shot. Twenty-one members of the Stevenson club took part. The contest was two twenty-five bird events, and the scores of the highest five on each team in either event was counted in deciding the match.

The Hibbing score was as follows: Micka, 25; Blacklock, 24; Adams, 22; Burnham, 22; Seymour, 21; total, 114.

Stevenson score: G. E. Harrison, 23; Watsic, 21; O'Donnell, 21; Farr, 20; M. Harrison, 19; total, 104.

PINES THREATENED.

Fire Sweeping Toward Nice Trees Near to Chisholm.

Chisholm, Minn., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fires to south and east of the village Monday afternoon filled the skies with smoke indicating that a big forest fire was raging between here and Wilpen.

Telephone communications with Wilpen disclosed that the fire was burning on both sides of the Missabe tracks and threatened the acre or acre and a half of tall pines which has been the place for Sunday school picnics and other summer out of door meetings for several years.

A heavy rain which would have been amply sufficient to put out the fires passed a few miles to the east and did not touch the burning section. Last evening the wind had died down and although several thousand feet of hose was stretched to keep the fire in check it was not controlled. The fire can hardly do damage to the village though the wind rises again and drives it in the direction of town for the reason that it would have to make a big jump over some of the mining pits to get to town and there is hardly sufficient material for it to travel so closely on.

Men Pay Homage to Mother's Friend

"I am not surprised to observe the number of men who come into the store to purchase 'Mother's Friend,'" remarked a leading druggist.

It is a happy thought to send hubby to the drug store. "Mother's Friend" is applied externally over the abdominal muscles.

It is a gentle, soothing lubricant, penetrates to the finenetwork of nerves beneath the skin and has a marked tendency to relieve the muscular strain to which these broad, flat abdominal muscles are subjected. The cords, tendons and ligaments are thus permitted to stretch without the corresponding surface strain so often involved during the period of expectation. This in part accounts for the entire absence, in many cases reported, of nausea, morning sickness and other distresses, such as laceration of the epidermis so often the case when this gentle form of lubrication is neglected.

"Mother's Friend" has been highly recommended by a host of women who know from experience and by men who know from observation. Write Bradfield Regulator Co., 308 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., and we will send you a valuable little book to expectant mothers.

FAIR

After delivering a rip-snorter of a thunderstorm last evening and tearing things up to the extent of about a million dollars of damage, the weather man is trying to square himself today by giving real summer weather and a promise of a continuation tonight and tomorrow. Present conditions are ideal and already, except among those who suffered loss yesterday, the thunderstorm is forgotten.

A year ago today was chilly. The sun rose this morning at 4:20 and will set this evening at 7:49, giving fifteen hours and twenty-nine minutes of sunshine, two minutes more than yesterday.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Warm to hot weather prevails in most districts east of the Rocky Mountains. Temperatures of 90 dgs. or higher occurred Monday in the Central Valley states. Showers or thunderstorms occurred during Monday or last night in the lake region, Iowa, Montana, Idaho, Oregon and Washington. During the hard squall at the Head of the Lakes Monday evening the wind attained velocities of 60 miles per hour for one minute, and 52 miles for 5 minutes from the west."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, May 26.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Wednesday:

Wisconsin and Iowa—Unsettled but generally fair weather tonight and Wednesday; continued warm.

Minnesota—Unsettled but generally fair tonight and Wednesday; not much change in temperature.

North and South Dakota—Unsettled but generally fair tonight and Wednesday; lower temperature in west portions tonight.

Montana—Fair tonight and Wednesday; not much change in temperature.

Lower Michigan—Partly cloudy tonight and Wednesday; probably showers and thunderstorms.

Upper Michigan—Partly cloudy tonight and Wednesday; probably showers and thunderstorms; somewhat lower temperature Wednesday.

PLUMBERS MAKE FIND.

Come Across Stolen Checks in Virginia Hotel Tank.

Virginia, Minn., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—While plumbers were at work in the European hotel in the top of one of the flush tanks, they found a pocketbook with two large checks drawn on the Longyear Exploration company and payable to the order of Julius Sletten.

Several weeks ago the robbery was reported to the police, who traced down the affair as far as possible. The theory was held that a man dropped a string over the transom and pulled the trousers of Mr. Sletten into the hall. It is thought that he feared detection and threw the wallet into the flush tank of the toilet.

IROQUOIS MINE STOPS LOADING.

Mountain Iron, Minn., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Iroquois mine, which has been loading ore from stockpile, has suspended operations for the present. The Brunt mine has one shovel stripping.

HIBBING'S POLICE CHIEF BETTER.

Hibbing, Minn., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Chief of Police Archie McFayden who left last week on a trip for his health has written from Lewistown, Mont., that he is feeling so much better that he expects to return after a two weeks' visit in that state.

COMMERCIAL CLUB MEET

Mountain Iron, Minn., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Commercial club will meet tonight and the new officers will assume positions as follows: President, D. A. Mitchell; first vice president, Charles Walker; second vice president, J. F. Muench; secretary, W. T. Caddy, and treasurer, Charles Doredo.

Two Hibbing Dances.

Hibbing, Minn., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Invitations have been issued for a dancing party to be given by the Utopian club in Close's hall next Friday evening. Dancing will commence at 8:30. The patrons and patronesses are Mr. Schafer, Miss Pressentin, and Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Worsham.

Invitations have been issued for the dancing party which will be given by the fifty club in Close's hall Thursday evening. The members of the committee in charge are Dr. S. S. Blacklock, L. O. Kirby and C. F. Hepworth.

HOUSE BOAT TRIP.

Virginia Party to Enjoy Outing on Lake Kabetogama.

Virginia, Minn., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Douglas Greeley, Dr. E. H. McIntyre, Ernest Douglas, S. S. Cousin, C. H. Rogers, Dr. W. T. Bailey, Capt. William White, Edward Finch and others left today for a fishing trip and a few days' vacation at Lake Kabetogama, where they will enjoy the outing.

A special car was taken over the lines of one of the mining companies from Cusson, the party leaving here early this afternoon over the D., W. & P.

A handsomely equipped houseboat will be the home of the outers for several days. There are elaborate accommodations for over twenty on the houseboat and it is probable that a trip will be made up to Rainy Lake.

YOUNG BUHL TOUGHS ARE BEING SOUGHT

Buhl, Minn., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Chief of Police Jack O'Donnell would like to lay his hands on a bunch of young toughs who created a disgraceful scene at the Great Northern depot here Sunday night, when they made it unpleasant for Miss Hannah Anderson, aged 18, night operator. The youths, none of whom are of age, pounded on the walls of the building and were guilty of indecent exposure, the chief was told, but did not enter the depot or lay their hands on the young woman, as reports said. She is not disposed to push the charge, but the boys will be arrested if the police can find them. It is said that the railroad has a detective here working on the case and trying to catch the young toughs.

Seek Deer Killers.

Game Warden George Wood and another officer are trying to find two or more men who are wanted for killing six deer near Kinney. The officers are said to have found the partly dressed deer in a shack, but the men had skipped and are concealed somewhere in the woods. One is said to be named Matt Steever, and if he or the others are arrested they will be promptly haled before a justice of the peace.

MOUNTAIN IRON NOTES.

Happenings Chronicled in Mesaba Range Community.

Mountain Iron, Minn., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—A sale of donated articles and home baked food was held at the Methodist church Saturday afternoon by the Ladies' Aid and a neat sum was realized.

N. Ellertson has been somewhat indisposed for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Cannon of the Brunt and Hanna mines were surprised last Friday evening. They went out driving and on their return they found the house ablaze with light and full of people, evidently in full possession and intending to so remain for a while at least. Those in the party were: Messrs. and Mesdames Parsons, Pearce, Mitchell, Ormond, Larson, Canule, Mrs. Chapple, Mrs. Geaw, Misses Du-Bois, McCarty, Luxford, Auten, Riley, Potter, Gilbertson, Pfifer, Murray, Messrs. DeLong, Edstrom, Pfifer and Hennyer.

The ball park has been partly fenced and the ball team is making a good showing considering the limited material from which to pick a team. Last Sunday they played the "Happy Hooligans" from Hibbing but lost.

Wonderful Treatment for Corns, Callouses and Sore Feet

Millions of people who endure daily torture from sore feet will welcome the information that there is now a simple treatment that positively and quickly cures foot ailments of all kinds. You can say goodbye to corns and callouses; bunions; swollen, aching, bad smelling and sweaty feet. This treatment works right through the pores and removes the cause of the trouble. Use it once and your feet feel delightful; use it for a week and your foot troubles will be a thing of the past.

"Dissolve two tablespoonfuls of Calocide compound in a basin of warm water. Soak the feet in this for full fifteen minutes, gently rubbing the sore parts." Amazing results follow. Calocide is known to best foot doctors. Any druggist will supply it. A twenty-five cent package is said to be enough to put the worst feet in fine condition. Calocide prepared only by Medical Formula Co. of Dayton, Ohio.

DO YOU NEED BUILDING UP?

There are conditions of ill health in which no one particular organ appears to be at fault, yet the patient is miserable and unable to pursue the activities of daily life with vigor and enjoyment. Sometimes the cause is attributed to the imagination but the patient knows that the debility is real.

The remedy evidently is a medicine that will benefit the whole system rather than a part. The blood reaches everywhere and an improvement in its quality is quickly followed by an improvement in the whole organism. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make a visible improvement in the condition of the blood. The microscope will verify this improvement but the patient can see it in the mirror as shown by increased color in cheeks and lips and added brightness of the eyes. There will also be a new elasticity in the step. These things record an improved tone in the body and if this tonic treatment is persisted in for a reasonable length of time, depending upon the degree of debility, the condition of ill health will be removed.

Those who are interested may obtain the pamphlet "Building Up the Blood" free on request from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. All druggists sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

EVELETH TEACHERS LIKE THEIR JOBS

Eveleth, Minn., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—A large percentage of the present teaching force in the Eveleth public schools will return next year. Fifty-two have already expressed an intention of returning. Seventeen have decided definitely not to return and a number of others are still undetermined. Superintendent B. O. Greening has engaged six new teachers.

The following members of the present corps will return: Earl Anderson, Alice Andrew, Carol Bangham, Cora Bjoin, Louise Brackett, Grace Brockway, Beatrice Cameron, Blanche Cameron, Mary Condon, Mollie Donavan, Grace Darrah, Watie Eldridge, Harriet Ephraim, Harriet Erickson, Frances Faucett, Emma Fraley, Leila Gutfleisch, Ethel Hambley, Gertrude Holmes, Edna Hamar, Bertha Lyons, Harry Lyons, Mary McCormick, Elizabeth Marsh, Jeanette Mitchell, Caroline Mower, Frances McGrath, Nora Nagle, Jennie Nelson, Charlott Paulson, Alma Pennock, Lewella Penrod, Myrtle Playman, Esther Rabinowitz, Paulinr Rabinowitz, Borghild Rise, Jessie J. Schneider, Alice Springer, A. R. Sylvestor, Sophia Thomas, Maude Thompson, Martha Voelker, Elizabeth Way, Cora Williams, Bertha Wiley, Helma Berg, Laura Berg, V. E. Boardman, R. L. Eddy, Mayme Linnihan, Katherine McAnulty, O. H. Schmidt, Lila Stanaway, Fan Trevarthen, Emma Vogel, Leonora Kempffer and Clara Thacker.

Will Not Return.

The following will not return: Lona Eyrne, Adelaide Burroughs, Anna Durning, Alice Ericson, Estelle Hutchins, Mary Keaough, Harriet Lewis, Katherine Lamm, Ada E. McKenzie, Eileen Mathews, Blanche Murray, Katherine Robinson, Lillian Seitz, Louise Snyder, Gladys Springer, Mabel Stone, Alma Swanson.

Following are the new teachers who have signed contracts: Agnes Bracket, Eveleth; Bernice Gauley, Stevens Point, Wis.; Gertrude Demond, Barneboo, Wis.; Alma Fortier, Little Falls; Levina Koonzi, Long Prairie, and Margaret Sheridan, Faribault.

MANY LABORERS LEAVING RANGE

Virginia, Minn., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Lack of work on the Mesaba range combined with the cheap steamship rates offered to the old country are proving magnets that are taking many idle men from this section.

The steamships have made a rate of $23 from New York to Austrian ports of entry and a similar rate to Italy, and the result has been there has been a big exodus from this section of Austrians and Italians in the past few days. There are still, however, many idle men here.

VIRGINIAN FALLS.

Virginia, Minn., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Foreman Finnegan working on a new store being built here had a close call today when his platform collapsed and he fell, but fortunately struck on a pile of lumber; otherwise might have been seriously injured.

CORDWOOD BURNS.

Ely, Minn., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The most threatening forest fire for the season so far broke out yesterday afternoon about a mile west from this city. During the past winter some cord wood had been cut and the brush had not been burned, and yesterday an attempt was made to burn it, when the fire spread to the woods and got beyond control.

Practically all the cord wood was destroyed, but men employed on the section and a force from the city, aided by the rain of last night, put the fire out before any great damage was done.

VIRGINIA GAMBLING CHARGE IS DROPPED

Virginia, Minn., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The witnesses called to testify in municipal court today against Charles Roberts, proprietor of the U & I saloon, arrested last week on the charge of permitting gambling in his place May 12 and 18, having failed to make good the charge today Judge Moylan dismissed the case. Mrs. William Martinek who claimed her husband lost $80 in the place then skipped out to Brainerd because of the humiliation over losing the money was among the witnesses. It developed that her husband lost $40 of the money playing cards in a grocery store and the police today are trying to get more evidence along that line. The police are working on some other gambling charges and made some arrests today but the names of the accused had not developed up to noon.

DESIRES DAMAGES FOR BROKEN ROOF

Two Harbors, Minn., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Hilma Lager asked the city council last night to pay her $26.50 which she claims is the amount of damages done to her residence on South avenue, caused while the city was installing sewer on that street.

She claims that while the city was blasting for the sewer last fall rocks fell on the roof of her house causing it considerable damage. The city charter provides that such bills must be presented to the city council within thirty days, but City Attorney John Dwan advised the council that if they saw fit he was of the opinion that there was nothing to stop them from making settlement. The matter was referred.

Polling Places.

The following places were designated as voting places for the primary election which will be held here June 16, and the general election Nov. 3. First ward, city hall; Second ward, First precinct, public library; Second ward, Second precinct, residence of C. F. Nordstrom; Third ward, Odd Fellows' hall; Fourth ward, city hosehouse.

The following judges of election and clerks were chosen: First ward, L. P. Christensen, Fred Wickstrom and Edward Therrian; Second ward, First precinct, Alex Holliday and W. A. Doerr and A. G. Johnson; Second ward, Second precinct, F. F. Harouff, David Ross and Mike Brickley; Third ward, C. W. Dawson, Gust Strand and M. Peterson; Fourth ward, Charles E. Bergren, C. O. Carlson and L. E. Erickson.

A resolution for the grading of the alley between Third and Fourth avenues and between Spruce and Hazel streets was read and adopted. Hearing was set for June 15.

The use of the city park was granted to the Scandinavian lodges of the city for June 28, when they will hold a joint picnic.

Owing to the fact that there are many new and inexperienced men in the city fire department the chief requested that the city allow them to hold ten practice meeting during the summer. The request was granted.

The chief of the fire department requested that the city appropriate sufficient funds to pay the expenses of two delegates to the meeting of the Minnesota State Firemen's association in Fairmont, next month, and the council appropriated $40.

Three new cases of scarlet fever were reported. The new cases had developed in homes previously quarantined. The scarlet fever cases in the city now number less than twenty, and the city officials feel confident that the epidemic will be entirely wiped out in a couple of weeks.

Isaac Hegge was granted a license to operate three pool tables in the rear of his saloon on First avenue.

MAN DROWNED WHILE RIDING LOG

Ely, Minn., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—A man by the name of Jacobson was drowned in the Stony river yesterday. No details have been received except that he was employed by the St. Croix Lumber company as a river driver and that he attempted to ride a log over some rapids in the river. The body has not yet been recovered.

SOCIAL CENTER WORK.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The social center organized and opened in the library clubrooms early last March will reopen this evening.

Owing to the epidemic of scarlet fever, the library has been closed and it was considered advisable by the social center directors to discontinue the classes until danger of spreading the epidemic was entirely over. The library was reopened last week so the classes will be opened again this evening. The first meeting will be to plan the social affairs which will be held this summer, and to talk over the work to be carried on by the girls during the present season.

Through the co-operation of superintendent of schools, H. E. Flynn, and the school board, this movement which has proven so successful, has been greatly aided. Three sewing machines have been loaned to the social center by the school and have been installed, also books and other necessary equipment have been provided by the city schools.

Enrollment in one or all of these classes is open to any girl not attending the city schools who is over 16 years old. Aside from the cost of necessary material, there is no expense to the members.

Child Swallows Iodine.

Eveleth, Minn., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The screams of 4-year-old Mildred James, daughter of Walter James, aroused her mother's curiosity yesterday and the woman was horrified to find the child had swallowed some iodine instead of cough medicine. She at once applied home remedies and saved the child's life.

Morris to Open Campaign.

La Crosse, Wis., May 26.—Lieutenant Governor Tom Morris, candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator, will make the opening speech of his campaign at Racine on Tuesday night, June 9. He has accepted an invitation extended by the Progressive Republican organization of Racine.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

ARE DELVING INTO HISTORY

Mississippi Valley Historical Society Meeting at Grand Forks.

Secretary Upham of Minnesota Historical Society Among Speakers.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual convention of the Mississippi Valley Historical society was opened at the city hall here today, with Governor L. E. Hanna of North Dakota presiding over the opening sessions.

The opening session was in the nature of a joint meeting of the State Historical society and the Valley society, and Governor Hanna extended the formal welcome to the visitors.

In addition to the general session, a session of the sociological department of the valley organization will be held, while this evening President and Mrs. McVey of the state university will entertain the visitors at a reception.

The big feature of the convention will be the banquet, which takes place tomorrow night, and for which all plans are complete. President Hannaford of the N. P. road will arrive here tomorrow afternoon from Winnipeg, where he spends part of the day, while President Pennington of the Soo line will arrive during the day by way of Thief River Falls, Minn.

Some Papers Read.

In the general session this morning, the papers were by Prof. Mary E. Peters, Dallas, Texas, on "Texas Trails;" George F. Will, Bismarck, N. D., on "The Cheyenne Indians of North Dakota;" Mrs. Jean McNaughton Stevens, Towner, N. D., on "The Preservation of Landmarks;" Secretary Warren Upham of the Minnesota Historical society on "Explorations of the Minnesota and Red Rivers;" Henry Hale, Devils Lake, N. D., on "The Soldier, the Advance, the Guard of Civilization," and Prof. F. H. Garver, Dillon, Mont., on "Montana as a Field for Historical Research."

The high school section, which met early this afternoon, will be addressed by Dr. O. M. Dickerson, Winona; Prof. C. M. Correll, Mayville, N. D.; Prof. S. H. Dodson, Valley City; Clara M. Daily, University of Iowa; W. J. Trimble, Fargo; Prof. A. C. Krey, Manitoba university; W. H. Shepard Minneapolis, and W. M. Wimett, Valley City, N. D.

In the sociological section, the speakers include A. D. Weeks of Fargo; R. W. Craig, Winnipeg; A. B. Hall, University of Iowa; J. S. Woodworth, Winnipeg; T. J. Malone, Minneapolis, and J. G. Gillen, University of Wisconsin.

The annual address of James A. James, president of the Northwestern university, and president of the Mississippi Valley association, will be delivered tonight. His subject will be "Three Critical Years in Western History, 1783-1786."

Wednesday's Program.

The program for tomorrow follows: 2:00 p. m.—The Auditorium, Woodworth hall, university; general session; President J. A. James, presiding; "Some Historical Aspects of Mineral Development in Western Canada," Prof. R. O. Wallace, Manitoba university, Winnipeg; "Contemporary Opinions Regarding the Mississippi Valley During the American Revolution," Prof. Paul C. Phillips, University of Montana; "An Army Surgeon's Letters to His Wife," Dr. Luther M. Kuhns, secretary Luther League of America; "The Jefferson-Lemen Tradition in Early Illinois Anti-Slavery History," Prof. W. C. McNaul, University of North Dakota; "The Life and Services of Dr. Reuben Gold Thwaites," Prof. C. W. Alvord, University of Illinois; business sessions; teachers' section in room No. 203.

Tomorrow night there will be a banquet at 7:30 on the university commons with the Commercial club as host, and A. D. Albert of Minneapolis, toastmaster. The following will speak: President F. L. McVey, University of North Dakota; F. W. McWilliams, president University club, Winnipeg; Dr. Luther M. Kuhns, secretary Luther League of America; Judge Charles F. Amidon of Fargo; Prof. M. D. Learned, University of Pennsylvania; Judge A. A. Burch, state supreme court, North Dakota.

EX-STATE TREASURER MUST SERVE SENTENCE

GEORGE L. BICKFORD.

Bismarck, N. D., May 26.—The result of the re-hearing in the case in which Former State Treasurer George L. Bickford, charged with embezzlement of state funds four years ago, is the affirming of the lower court decision with a sentence of from one to three years in the state penitentiary. The lower court decision carried a fine which is eliminated by the higher court. Five judges of the supreme court split, three for affirmation and two for reversal of decree of the lower court. This is the last resort for Bickford who has fought the case for nearly four years, and the length of sentence depends on the action of the board of experts, but cannot be less than one year.

THE GOOD JUDGE AND THE TREE TRIMMER

JUST by the taste and the way it keeps you tobacco satisfied, you can tell that "Right-Cut" is the Real Tobacco Chew. Pure, rich, mellow tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough.

And it is a ready chew. Less than a quarter your old size chew keeps you satisfied. The flavor comes along so steady and naturally that nobody ever notices that you are chewing. That's a big satisfaction in itself, to say nothing of the better flavor and comfort.

The Real Tobacco Chew

Congressman Will Deliver Memorial Day Address at Aitkin.

Aitkin, Minn., May 26.—Congressman C. A. Lindbergh of Little Falls will deliver the Memorial day address here. R. L. Mason will be the marshal of the day. The Grand Army comrades and the Women's Relief Corps will meet at the Odd Fellows hall and be escorted by the city band and the Odd Fellows to the high school where the following program will be given:

Invocation, Rev. E. W. Hammond; reading of general orders by Frank E. Seavey; commander's address, F. M. Shook; selection, by Aitkin band; Lincoln's Gettysburg address, Mrs. W. B. Gwathmey; song, "His Buttons Are Marked U. S. A.," primary class; flag drill by the eighth grade; recitation, "Sheridan's Ride," by Thornton Getting; song, "Cover Them Over With Beautiful Flowers," by the Fourth grade; recitation, by Homer Fackler; floral offering to our dead heroes by the school children; oration, by Congressman C. A. Lindbergh; "America," by the audience; benediction, by Rev. A. L. Richardson.

PINE CITY BOY WILL BE ENSIGN.

Pine City, Minn., May 26.—William Lahodney, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Lahodney of Pine City, will graduate from Annapolis academy next June as an ensign having completed the four years' course. He was appointed by J. Adam Bede when the latter was serving his last term as congressman from the old Eighth district. Young Lahodney ranks high at Annapolis, both as a student and in the academy athletics. He will receive the rank of ensign on graduating and be commissioned to a battleship on the Atlantic coast. Young Lahodney graduated from the local high school five years ago.

SHEBOYGAN TO HAVE COLLEGE.

Sheboygan, Wis., May 26.—The Mission House college, the oldest and largest educational institution of the Reformed church of the United States, will be removed to Sheboygan from Franklin, an unincorporated village where it has been located for the last fifty-four years.

STEVENS' ROAD WORK BEGINS.

Brookston, Minn., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Work on the Stevens road was commenced Monday morning under the supervision of Joel Honkala. About $2,000 will be expended on this highway.

WATFORD, N. D., COUNTY SEAT.

Watford, N. D., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Certain that this point will eventually become the county seat of McKenzie county the residents are greatly elated. The Great Northern is completing the line this far and the indications are that it will be the terminal point for at least two or three years or probably longer. Schafer, the present county seat, is four miles from the road. The business men there are either moving to Watford or establishing branch places here because they are so confident the location of the county seat will be changed.

BILL BEATER IS NOW UNDER ARREST.

Bowman, N. D., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charged with beating a hotel bill and passing a worthless check, J. A. Sherman, who is known under many aliases, is now in jail in Montana and will later be returned here for trial. He gave a check on a Vancouver bank and it was returned. The officials traced Sherman and found him under arrest at Miles City on another charge for which he had received a forty-five day sentence.

SUICIDE ENDS FARMER'S SPREE.

Hazen, N. D., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—A long debauch resulted in the suicide of John Maschau, a farmer living northwest of this place. He had been despondent and during the night Mrs. Maschau missed him from the room and instigated a search. He was found with a small rifle in his hands and a bullet hole in one temple, evidently having died instantly. Besides his widow eight children were left.

Dragging Cass Lake for Corpse of Drowned Man.

Cass Lake, Minn., May 26.—Cass Lake is still being dragged for the body of Andrew J. Harris, who was drowned Sunday when a motor boat in which he was moving his household goods across the lake partly upset, precipitating him into the water. He could not swim and sank before the other two men in the boat, L. D. Foster and W. J. Phillips, could save him. His wife is prostrated and physicians fear the shock may prove fatal.

A mattress packed in the boat with Harris' other belongings started to slide overboard. In an attempt to save it Harris pitched over the side into the lake.

New Bemidji Phone System.

Bemidji, Minn., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Without any inconvenience to the subscribers of telephones, the flash system has been inaugurated in Bemidji. This removes the necessity of turning a crank to attract a central operator. Mayor William McCuaig pulled the first cord that cut in the new exchange system.

Elevator for Bowman, N. D.

Bowman, N. D., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The farmers around Bowman are planning the erection of an elevator here. There are already four elevators and a flour mill, but some of the farmers are dissatisfied with the conditions and feel that with a house of their own they will be able to secure both better grades and prices.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Baraboo—Miss Kate Daugherty, aged 20, was instantly killed when a automobile turned turtle six miles from here Sunday night while she was returning from Kilbourn. The driver of the machine, Ernest Edwards, lost control of the machine.

Hurley—Charles D. Lennon, superintendent of schools of Iron county, announces the regular teachers' examination will be held here at the courthouse, June 4, 5 and 6.

SEWER SYSTEM FOR SUBURBS

The council probably will hold an informal meeting at an early date to consider plans for a sanitary sewer system for Gary and New Duluth. Commissioner Voss suggested this morning that a special engineer might be retained to lay it out, after which the council could complete the necessary preliminaries next fall or winter. The contract could then be let early next spring while the revolving fund has an ample supply of unappropriated cash.

Why Mohammedans Prefer Fleshy Women

In Persia and Turkey in Europe, in fact in every country under the influence of the Koran, fat is one of the chief requisites of beauty, because they are a lower type of civilization, in which physical and mental laziness are natural. This makes for weight in all classes and so determines the national beauty type. But in every other part of the world the slender figure is preferred and, of late years, the slender form is possible without making yourself miserable by dieting or indulging in violent exercises to reduce your fat. Make up and take this simple reducer and your weight will soon be just where you want it. Dissolve 4 ounces parmotis (which every good druggist has in his store) in 1½ pints hot water; when it cools strain and take a tablespoonful before meals. This parmotis reducer acts gently, is quite harmless and entirely satisfactory results are quickly attained. It leaves the flesh firm and well molded.—Advertisement.

TWENTY TONS OF BUTTER

May Have Been Destroyed By Fire in Maccabee Building.

Other Damage From Midnight Blaze Will Be About $5,000.

As a result of the fire in the Maccabee hall, 25 Lake avenue north, about 11:45 o'clock last evening, 40,000 pounds of butter may have been made worthless by the smoke, entailing a loss of $11,000 to the Bridgeman-Russell company, owners of the building, in which the company kept three large refrigerators. The fire also destroyed about $2,000 worth of boxes belonging to the Bridgeman--Russell company and caused a damage of nearly $3,000 to the building and its contents.

The origin of the fire is unknown, but the insurance appraisers, who inspected the building this morning, are of the opinion that it started from defective wiring in the first floor. There was a slight blaze, but the smoke spread throughout the building, making it almost impossible for the firemen to find the blaze.

Henry Bridgeman of the Bridgeman-Russell company, said this morning that the company had three large refrigerators in the first floor of the building, where a stock room of new boxes is also kept by the company. There was 40,000 pounds of butter in these refrigerators and Mr. Bridgeman said this morning that the butter may be worthless as a result of the heavy smoke that penetrated the building. He is unable to estimate the loss to the company on the butter, but said that it was worth $11,000.

There was about $2,000 worth of new boxes and crates in this supply room, where the fire is believed to have originated, and these were practically destroyed. The damage to the building itself and to the L. Thwing book store and the Twin Ports Trunk company, which occupy stores in the Maccabee hall, is estimated to be about $3,000. Should the butter prove to be worthless as a result of the smoke, the fire will have caused a total loss of $16,000.

Mr. Bridgeman said this morning that the butter will be examined immediately and that the loss will be known within a day or two.

Blocking the Street.
John Erickson, a contractor, who is improving the street at Nineteenth avenue east and Sixth street, was brought into police headquarters last evening by Patrolman Hood, who claims that the contractor is blocking the highway without a permit. Erickson was ordered to appear in court this afternoon.

Arrested for Begging.
James Wildley, 42 years old, and John Jacobson, 49, were arrested last evening on a charge of begging on the streets. The former pleaded guilty in police court this morning and was sent to the work farm for sixty days. Jacobson denied his guilt and will be tried this afternoon.

Trout Were Too Small.
Ole Jensen, who was arrested last week by Game Warden Archie Boyd on a charge of having under-sized lake trout in his possession, was found guilty by Judge Cutting this morning and fined $5 and costs or five days in the county jail. He paid his fine. Jensen had four trout in his possession, each weighing less than one and one-half pounds.

Seven Taking Examinations.
Seven young women are taking high school board examinations which are being conducted by H. B. Hirsch, assistant superintendent of the county schools, in the grand jury room at the courthouse. The examinations began yesterday and will continue through tomorrow. Papers were submitted yesterday on physiography, physiology and senior arithmetic. Today's subjects are elementary algebra, senior geography, chemistry and physics.

Violates His Parole.
Fred J. Taylor, 32 years old, was arrested last evening by Patrolman Sundberg for violating his parole from the St. Cloud reformatory, where he was sent in 1908, following his conviction here for committing a burglary. An officer is expected here this evening from St. Cloud and Taylor will be taken back there to finish his sentence of three years.

Held for Burglary.
Otto Mattson was arrested this morning on a charge of burglary in the third degree, preferred against him by Sten Wahlstrom, special officer for the D., M. & No. road, who claims he caught Mattson breaking into a box-car. Mattson asked for a hearing, which was set for 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

MANY TOURISTS ARE EXPECTED

About the first intimation of the approaching season is shown in the reservation being received by the Duluth hotels. Nearly all of the leading hotels of the city have received letters from people who will sail from lower lake ports early in June.

There are many letters from people who expect to make the trip up the lakes on the Tionesta. If the number of letters received is an indication the big boat will bring a large number of tourists to Duluth on its initial trip of the 1914 season.

Managers of all the local hotels today expressed the opinion that the approaching tourist season would be one of the best in the history of the Great Lakes.

REPRESENTATIVES OF FARMERS' CLUBS MEET

Representatives from each of the three organizations comprising the Federation of Farmers' clubs of St. Louis county met yesterday at the office of the county agricultural agent in the courthouse, and conducted an informal discussion of subjects of interest to the federation. Plans to secure new members to the federation were talked over. E. S. Lawyer of the Home Producers' club presided. The other members of the federation are the Jackson club and the Garfield club. Two representatives from each club attended.

MAYOR MAKES DEAL FOR BOULEVARD STRIP.

Mayor Prince yesterday afternoon concluded a deal whereby the city will not be put to any expense because approximately 667 feet of the western extension of the boulevard, near Oneota cemetery, trespassed on private property.

The boulevard will remain where it is and the city will deed to the owners the tract which it secured by condemnation. In addition to that the officials informed the owners that the city will vacate a street platted above the boulevard. The street now cuts the property into several irregular pieces and its vacation will make the ground much more valuable. The vacation was the principal reason for the owners agreeing to the proposition, as it made the deal mutually beneficial.

CITY STARTS "SWAT THE FLY" CAMPAIGN

Dr. H. E. Webster has hit upon a new, and what promises to be an effective plan of furthering the health department's "swat the fly" campaign.

He is having 10,000 circulars printed, in size convenient for mailing, setting forth the dangers of the fly. Through an arrangement with the water and light department these circulars will be mailed to the public with the department's bills.

In this manner the heaviest expense, that of mailing, will be avoided. The circulars will cost $8.50 and going out with the bills of the water and light department one of them will find its way into nearly every household in the city.

In addition to the circulars the department is having large posters placed in conspicuous places about the city. These also recite the evils of the fly and the best steps to be taken to "swat 'em."

DAMAGE CASE GOES TO THE JURY

Taking of testimony in the wrongful death action brought by Elizabeth Kludzinski of Superior, administratrix of the estate of Anton Kludzinski, against the Great Northern Railway company was concluded this morning and was followed by arguments of the attorneys. The case was given to the jury this afternoon.

Mrs. Kludzinski is suing for $10,000, claiming that her husband, Anton Kludzinski, a section hand employed by the railroad company had his foot accidentally caught between a switch bar and a cross tie in the Superior yards Jan. 13 last and was run down by a switch engine.

WILL VACATE THE ARMORY

Entire Ground Floor Will Be Used For Market Purposes.

The Duluth public market question has been settled.

The division of public works will vacate the ground floor of the Armory, letaving the entire space available for public market purposes.

Through an arrangement which has been made with A. Fitger, the works division will be able to use the old Stewart barn at Washington avenue and Superior street for its blacksmith and repair shop and general storage purposes. Mr. Fitger said that they would pay him a nominal rental of $10 per month.

When the militia vacates the present Armory for the new building to be erected on London road, to secure the site for which the city has instituted condemnation proceedings, the works division will again occupy the ground floor of the Armory and the whole second floor of the Armory will be turned over to the farmers for market purposes.

Announcements of the above arrangements was made this morning by Mayor Prince, who has been cooperating with Commissioner Murchison to find a solution of the market problem.

The mayor said that the city will clean the floor, provide tables and other facilities, and do all in its power to make the market a success. He explained that the room will be ready some time in July, but that if there is occasion for earlier occupancy provision can be made for vacating the Armory sooner than has been planned.

"The second floor will make a more desirable market than the ground floor," said the mayor. "If necessary we will put in two big doors, one on the avenue and one on the alley, at the rear of the building. Then the farmers can have it as long as they wish, as far as we can see at the present time, provided, of course, the operation of the market is sufficiently successful to warrant it. The development of the tributary agricultural country is of the greatest importance to the citizens of Duluth and the city officials wish to do all in their power to encourage it. I trust that this arrangement will meet with the approval of all concerned."

JACOB A. RIIS PASSES AWAY

Author and Social Worker Dies at His Summer Home.

Barre, Mass., May 26.—Jacob August Riis, author and social worker, died at his summer home here today after a long illness.

Mr. Riis became, through his work in behalf of the poorer people in New York, "the most useful citizen" of the metropolis, according to a tribute once paid to him by Theodore Roosevelt, his intimate friend.

As an almost penniless immigrant he obtained knowledge of the slums at first hand, and found conditions there so repellant that he consecrated his whole life to warfare against wretchedness.

Riis was the thirteenth child of a Latin teacher in Ribe, Jutland, Denmark. He was born in 1849. Protesting at the literary career which his father had cut out for him, young Riis decided to work with his hands, and became a carpenter's apprentice. The vocation he had chosen did not prevent him, however, from falling in love with Elizabeth Nielson, daughter of one of the richest men in his native town. But she refused him, and when Riis was 21 years old, having learned his trade, he embarked for New York with only $40 in his pocket. He spent half the sum for a heavy navy pistol as soon as he landed "to fight Indians and desperados."

Had Varied Career.

Riis led a varied career during the following six years. With only $75 capital and notes for $575, he succeeded in buying the South Brooklyn News, which was on the verge of bankruptcy, and made such a success with the property that he was able to sell it at a considerable profit a few years later. He returned to Denmark and married the girl who had refused him when he was a carpenter's apprentice. This first wife died in 1905, and two years later Riis married Mary Phillip of St. Louis.

As a reporter on the New York Tribune and later on the New York Sun, Riis took up his real work in slum fighting. While attending to routine duty as a police reporter, he worked day and night to arouse the people to the need of improved living conditions.

After twenty-seven years as a reporter, Riis resigned to continue his fight by writing and lecturing. Among the products of his pen are "How the Other Half Lives," "The Children of the Poor," "The Making of an American" (his autobiography), "The Battle With the Slum," "Children of the Tenements," "The Old Town," "Theodore Roosevelt, the Citizen," and "Hero Tales From the Far North."

BADLY BURNED BY GASOLINE TORCH

John Corbett, a welder at the Duluth Boiler works, 303 Garfield avenue, sustained bad burns about the face and eyes today while attempting to light a forge fire with gasoline. He was taken to Dr. C. L. Haney, who said that the injuries would probably not affect his eyesight.

Corbett had mistaken a torch containing gasoline for a torch containing coal oil and thrown it on the forge. When he touched the match to it the gasoline exploded and the flames enveloped his head. Corbett lives at 116 East Second street.

TO BOOM MANUAL TRAINING EXHIBIT

The Commercial club sub-committee on vocational training today at its meeting during the lunch hour at the club, determined to take action toward creating greater interest in the manual training exhibit at the Industrial high school. The annual exhibit will take place on July 4 and 5.

Last year the exhibit was quite well attended but generally by those whose children were taking the course or by their friends. Few of those not personally interested paid much attention to it. The members of the vocational training committee believe this to be a decidedly mistaken point of view by the general public in view of the very excellent work being done in the industrial school. The exhibition last year was considered by those who saw it, as remarkable, and worthy of close attention and careful encouragement. For that reason the vocational committee men propose to see to it that the coming exhibit is well advertised and that citizens in general are urged to attend.

The members of the committee will visit or otherwise communicate with the heads of every business house in every line in the city. They will be urged to not only attend themselves, but to urge their employes and their friends to attend the exhibit and give it a thorough examination. It may be that employes will be asked to make reports as to their impressions of the exhibit.

TAILOR LEFT A $16,000 ESTATE

An estate of $16,000 left by the late August Sieber, tailor employed for a number of years at the Big Duluth clothing store who was found dead near his summer home on Sunset lake near Burnett this county on April 20 last, will be equally divided between his own immediate relatives and the immediate relatives of his wife.

Sieber's will which was admitted to probate yesterday by Judge Gilpin provided that the estate should be so divided. Sieber's brothers and sisters who will receive one-half, all reside in Germany. His wife's relatives, to whom the other half will be given, are residents of the state of Pennsylvania.

MARKET HAS SHARP BREAK

Wheat Sells Lower on Good Reports From Over the Southwest.

Flaxseed is Firm With Buying By Crushers and Light Offerings.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 26.—The market was weak up to the close. May wheat closed ⅞c off. July ⅞c off and September ⅜c off. May durum closed ¼c off and July ¼c off.

Oats were strong, closing ⅞c up at 39⅝c for on the track, and at 39⅛c for to arrive. Rye closed unchanged at 59½@61½c and barley unchanged at 55@59c for choice grain.

At Winnipeg. May oats closed at 38⅜c, and July at 38⅝@38¾c bid.

Puts on Minneapolis July wheat closed at 90⅞c asked, and calls at 91⅝c asked.

After a firm opening, the wheat market turned weak today on favorable crop reports from over both the winter and spring wheat territories. A prominent crop expert was out with an estimate of an aggregate wheat yield of 200,000,000 bu for Kansas and Oklahoma, and favorable news also came to hand from some other states. There was a cessation of Hessian fly damage for the time being. A restraining influence in the downward tendency was exercised by strength in corn and Chicago, and intimations from several quarters that dry weather in the Southwest and Middle West is seriously affecting the prospects of the oat crop.

The weekly government crop report said that the weather had been favorable for wheat except that the plant is suffering from lack of moisture in parts of the Ohio valley, and that extensive damage from Hessian fly is reported in the central and southwest portions of Illinois and to a lesser extent in portions of the adjoining states.

The Liverpool market was steady on a better demand for cargoes, and slightly unfavorable crop conditions in France, Roumania and Hungary.

The Eastern demand for wheat was advised to be quiet by Duluth operators, the market down there being influenced by the reported reselling of some grain recently bought by seaboard exporters.

Marketings in Duluth are being maintained in about the proportion they have been running at of late, inspection today amounting to 57 cars against 77 last year. As a result of the May option congestion, receipts at Chicago for the day were 239 cars against eight a year ago. The spread between the May and July options there has now widened out to nearly 12c.

July wheat opened unchanged at 84½c and weakened ⅝c up to the final hour. The September option opened ⅛c up at 90¾c, and declined ½c. Trading in durum was confined to a few trades in the July option. It opened unchanged at 89⅝c and weakened ¼c.

Flaxseed Is Strong.

Flaxseed ruled strong today with the appearance of some buying by crushers and further predictions of a reduced acreage being seeded this season. Offerings were light and the trading was confined to small lots in the main. Final prices showed fractional advances in the day.

The foreign markets were unsettled. Buenos Aires closed ¼c off; London 1¾c off, and Antwerp unchanged.

May flax closed ¼c up at $1.57¾ nominally. July opened unchanged at $1.58⅜, and closed ⅛c up at $1.58¾ asked; September opened unchanged at $1.60¼, and closed ⅛c up at $1.60¾ asked, and the October option opened ⅛c up at $1.58½, and closed ½c up at $1.58¾.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed at $1.37 bid and July at $1.39.

According to the official report of the Saskatchewan department of agriculture, wheat seeding in that province was completed about May 19. Early sown wheat is reported to be as high as six inches above the ground in places.

About 40 per cent of the oat crop, 25 per cent of the barley and 5 per cent of the flax had been sown by May 22. It is thought that a slight decrease in wheat acreage will be shown, owing to delay by wet weather and to the fact that farmers did not care to take the risk of sowing wheat late. It is thought that oats acreage should show about 10 per cent increase, barley about 10 per cent increase and flax-seed a possible decrease. It is estimated that the total acreage under crop will be increased about 5 per cent.

Railroads operating in the southwest are making extensive preparations for moving the expected bumper wheat crop. The Missouri Pacific announces that fifty grain cars per day are being put in thorough repair in its different shops.

Le Count wired from Salina, Kan.: "The crops are late but are looking fine, though some fields are affected by Hessian fly. The crop is above the average. Wheat needs about twenty days more favorable weather to mature. The weather is hot."

Iowa crop report: "The past week was warmer than usual and the rainfall considerably less than normal. The conditions were favorable for field work. The bulk of the corn has been planted, and the late planted is germinating quickly. The stand is good, but cut and wire worms are doing considerable damage in the Southern counties. A few reports indicate that Hessian fly is still active in winter wheat."

Baker had the following from C. L. Lewis at Minneapolis: "We have a letter from Fessenden, N. D., stating they had a heavy rain last Wednesday night and that crop prospects are very good. The acreage in that district will be about the same as last year."

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool—"Wheat steadiness in America yesterday, firmer offerings of American and Manitobas and a better demand for cargoes, prompted shorts to cover and opening values were ½d higher. Later July further advanced ⅛d with the undertone steady. European crop advices were less favorable and foreign offers were more firmly held. At 1:30 p. m. the undertone was steady, ⅛ to ¼d higher.

"Corn opened ¼d lower with favorable Argentine weather and cheaper Plate offers Following the opening, there was a further decline of ⅜ to ½d with realizing on a larger scale, influenced by larger European offers. At 1:30 p. m., prices were ⅜d lower.

Foreign crop summary: United Kingdom—The outlook for winter wheat continues favorable, but spring wheat and fodders are in need of rain.

France—The outlook for rain is rather less favorable. In the north and east there are continued complaints.

Germany — Conditions surrounding the outlook for wheat and rye are generally satisfactory. Coarse grain needs rain.

Russia—Good rains are confirmed in the south and some are stating that the rainfall has extended as far as the center and Volga region.

Roumania—It is estimated that the drouth has caused deterioration in wheat aggregating from 10 to 15 per cent. This fully offsets the increased acreage.

Hungary—Many complaints are heard, and the outlook is unfavorable.

Italy—Drouth has caused considerable damage in the southern regions and island districts, sufficient to make the crop smaller than last year. The buying of foreign wheat is active.

India—Offers are freer and cheaper.

Portugal and Austria—The outlook continues favorable.

North Africa and Tunis—The crop is a failure. In Algeria the outlook is only fair.

REMARKS—Corn and wheat weekly summary: The weather conditions are favorable for winter wheat in all districts, except that in some portions of the Ohio valley the crop is suffering for lack of moisture. The Hessian fly has caused extensive damage to winter wheat in Central and Southwestern Illinois and to a somewhat less extent in portions of adjoining states. Spring wheat seeding is nearly completed; the early sown made good growth and more rain is needed over small areas. Most of the corn was planted under favorable conditions in the western sections, but in eastern districts planting has been delayed, while throughout the southern belt the germination is slow on account of dry weather. In the North, oats and pastures are in good condition but need moisture in Southern states. Alfalfa is being harvested and the yields are good. Tobacco setting has been delayed on account of dry weather.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Takes Upward Slant But Advance Not Held.

Chicago, May 26.—Although the wheat market took an upward slant today, the advance was not held except for May, in which trading lacked volume. Cables afforded the basis for the temporary upturn. The fact, however, that European crop advices were less favorable and that the European visible supply had fallen off proved insufficient to overcome the influence of the flattering outlook for the domestic harvest. After opening unchanged to ⅞c higher, prices for deferred options receded to slightly below last night's level.

Pronounced weakness followed the results of estimates that the Kansas crop would amount to as high as 150,000,000 bu. The close was steady, ⅞c net lower to ⅜c advance.

Corn rose on account of covering by shorts who found offerings light. Quotations reacted, though, when wheat began to sag. The market started unchanged to ½c higher, and made a further gain before there was a decline.

A decided setback ensued owing to more liberal country offerings and because of Argentina shippers renewing efforts to get orders. The close was steady, ⅝@¾c net lower to 1c advance.

Continued dry weather and increasing complaints of damage gave strength to oats. Profit-taking by longs served somewhat to check the bulls.

Provisions averaged lower with hogs. What support there was came chiefly from packers.

COPPERS ARE FEATURELESS

Business in mining stocks was dull and featureless at Boston today. Trading was in the smallest volume in several days back, but quotations were well maintained.

Butte & Superior accounted for a large proportion of the day's transactions. The issue closed 25 cents up at $40.25. Alaska Gold closed a fraction off at $27.88; Calumet & Arizona unchanged at $66.50; Granby unchanged at $81.50; Greene-Cananea unchanged at $33; North Butte 25 cents off at $26.50, and Amalgamated Copper 38 cents up at $72.88.

Alex Scott sold at $4.50 in the Duluth curb list. It was reported that shipments from the mine have averaged all the year during May and that three cars a day during the month will reach over $13,000.

Paine, Webber & Co. had the following from Boston: "Further delay in rendering the freight rate decision will have a tendency to restrict the trading, but the market is now so thoroughly liquidated that we do not believe any extended reaction is probable."

At St. Louis lead closed at $3.80@$3.82½ and spelter dull at $5.00.

At a meeting of Anaconda directors at Boston today the action of the stockholders in connection with the purchase of the stock of the International Smelter Refining company was confirmed and details perfected for carrying the plan into effect.

* * *

Water in the Butte & London shaft had been lowered 650 feet up to 6 p. m. yesterday, according to a wire from Butte, Mont.

* * *

The following wire in reference to operations at the Calumet & Corbin Mining company has been received from Idaho Springs, Colo: "New ore chutes opened recently are proving strong and permanent. There is sufficient tonnage in high grade mill dirt available to keep a fifty-ton mill running indefinitely and there is enough ore in the mine to run a hundred-ton mill on good grade. The mine is now in excellent condition to return handsome profits.

TRADING IS AT LOW EBB

Business in Stocks Smallest Recorded Thus Far This Year.

In No Important Instances Are Net Changes Especially Notable.

New York, May 26.—Mercantile Marine issues, aided by yesterday's favorable decision in the supreme court in the matter of the Titanic disaster, were features of strength in today's early stock market. The 4½ per cent bonds rose over 2 points and the preferred shares half as much, with a fractional gain for the common. In the active list no changes of importance were recorded, slight gains and losses being impartially distributed. Among the specialties General Motors was up a point, while Studebaker preferred and Texas company were down 1½ and 1 respectively.

Prices hardened slightly as the morning session waned, largely as a result of the more favorable crop news from the Northwest, but trading was of such small volume as to render the net result negligible.

The movement in the speculative leaders was especially limited, United States steel, Amalgamated Copper, Reading and Union Pacific making only nominal fractional changes. Increased strength was shown by Mercantile Marine and General Motors extended its gain to over 3 points while the Rumeley issues took their place with the heavy specialties, which included Wisconsin Central with a loss of 1¼. Bonds were irregular.

Features of the early afternoon were the further advance of General Motors and renewed weakness of bonds in the Gould group. Motors gained over 8 points from last week. Wabash refunding 4s fell 2 and Denver Refunding 5s 1½ from yesterday's close. The decline of these issues was again attributed to foreign liquidation. The general market was without material, the dullness continuing and the leaders showing no material gains. Strength of exchange was accompanied by another gold export engagement of $1,000,000.

The market closed easy. Trading reached low ebb on the exchange today, the business of the session falling to the smallest total recorded thus far this year. In no important instance were net changes especially notable.

YANKEE GOLFERS WIN IN FRANCE

Versailles, May 26.—The American open golf champion, Francis Ouimet, and the American amateur champion, Jerome D. Travers, reached the third round today in the French amateur championship played on the links of La Boulie golf club. Several others of the fourteen American entrants also succeeded in getting through to the third stage. The two Chicago players, Charles W. Evans, Jr., and Fraser Hale, however, were eliminated in the second round.

Versailles, France, May 26.—The American golfers entered for the French amateur championship showed up very well in the opening round at the golf club of La Boulie today.

The weather was threatening, but the excellent condition of the course was a welcome change for the American players, who have just come from the burnt-up links at Sandwich.

Francis Ouimet, American open champion, overwhelmed J. S. Worthington of Mid-Surrey, England, former champion of Ireland, by 8 up and 6 to play.

Jerome D. Travers, American amateur champion, completely outclassed his opponent, F. R. Radcliffe, assistant secretary of the Royal St. George's Golf club, Travers winning by 9 up and 8 to play.

Harold Weber of Toledo defeated F. J. Ruffer of Daltenhealth, Eng., a well known British golfer, by 6 up and 5 to play.

Fraser Hale of Chicago had an easy time with Andre Vagliano, the best known Italian golfer. Hale won by 8 up and 7 to play.

Frederick Herreshoff of New York, who was drawn against M. Esmond of the local club, had to play an extra hole, but beat his opponent at the nineteenth.

Charles W. Evans, Jr., of Chicago and Henry J. Topping of Greenwich, Conn., were among the seven players who drew byes in the first round and therefore did not play this morning.

Arthur C. Lockwood of Massachusetts was defeated by Charles A. Palmer, the former Irish champion, who beat Travers in the British championship last week. Palmer won today by 3 up and 2 to play.

J. T. Shanby of Deal, N. J., defaulted to Eric Apperley of Sydney, N. S. W.

MANAGER OF WINNIPEG BASEBALL TEAM DIES.

Winnipeg, Man., May 26.—Henry P. Lawson, business manager of the Winnipeg baseball club for the last two years, died here last night from hemorrhage of the brain. He was 36 years of age, a native of La Crosse, Wis., but later on lived at Valley City, N. D., where his parents now reside. He is survived by his widow, formerly Miss Evelyn Johnson of La Crosse, whom he married nine years ago.

Superior

Motor-Driven Fire Truck.

A motor-driven fire fighting truck which will be a combination water and chemical pump and hose truck will be purchased by Superior. The machine is similar to the two recently purchased by Duluth. The truck will cost $9,000. Purchase of the equipment was authorized yesterday by Chief Johnson and members of the city commission.

Not Available for July.

A meeting of the committee in charge of details for the celebration of July 4 will be held this evening at the Commercial club. The question of holding the celebration at some other place than Billings park will be taken up. Inability of the street railway company to handle the traffic with small cars is given by members of the committee as the principal reason why Billings park is undesirable.

Steaks Expensive, Too.

A beefsteak became ignited while being fried at the home of Harry Clark, 2613 Twenty-first street last evening and gave the Superior department a run. The excitement caused by the burning steak made members of the household turn in the alarm. Outside of spoiling a good steak no damage was done.

ROCKEFELLER TO BE TAXED IN OHIO ON $311,226,347

Columbus, Ohio, May 26.—John D. Rockefeller's personal property, on which he will be assessed for taxation in Ohio, is worth $311,226,347, according to announcement made here today by the state tax commission after hearing from District Assessors Agnew and Fackler of Cuyahoga county over long distance telephone. Of this amount $285,000,000 is alleged to be Standard Oil company stock.

WARN CITIZENS TO LOCK DOORS

Tramps Enter Several West Duluth Homes During Afternoon.

Police of West Duluth are on the lookout for tramps who are said to have entered some homes on Main street yesterday afternoon while the residents had gone out for a few moments. In one place the men are reported to have taken a lady's watch, a coat and vest, two jackknives and a meerschaum pipe.

The police are warning the residents to keep their doors locked when they leave their homes.

LITTLE ONES HAVE THE WANDERLUST

West Duluth youngsters have the wanderlust.

Every day the police are requested to look for some child who has wandered away from home and been lost for three or four hours.

One little fellow, 2½ years old, was picked up at Forty-sixth avenue west and Third street, yesterday afternoon and brought to the station. He informed the police that his one great wish was to ride the street cars. He asked the police as well as the girl who found him to take him for a ride.

He was not hungry nor would he drink water. "I can get water at home," he said. His mamma would get him something to eat when he got there, too, he told Charles Stahl of the police station.

About an hour after being brought to the station his mother called up and the police were informed that the boy was Oliver, the son of Dr. and Mrs. O. S. Olsen, and had left home about three hours before from 329 North Fifty-eighth avenue west.

ADMITS GIVING WHISKY TO YOUTHS

Harry Noll, 32 years old, was arrested last evening on a charge of furnishing liquor to minors. The complaint alleges that he had given drinks of whisky from a bottle to George Paradise and Ernest Willie, both of them being under 21 years of age.

In police court this morning Noll pleaded guilty to the charge but said that the boys had begged for the drink. Judge Lanners continued the case until tomorrow morning when it is proposed to bring both the boys before the court to hear their side of it.

Railroads

SEEKING REFUND FROM RAILROADS

Grand Forks, N. D., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Petitions demanding the return of thousands of dollars, paid to railroads for industrial track extensions, are pending before the state railroad commission, which has commenced an investigation into methods employed by the rail companies in the establishment of trackage facilities.

The petitions arise from the fact that it has been found that in some instances companies have been compelled to pay as high as $500 for trackage facilities, while in other instances the tracks have been laid gratis.

"Our preliminary investigation discloses that the railroads have no uniform rule covering the situation. We propose that a uniform rule covering the extension of industrial tracks shall be made effective. As to the liability of the railroads in the matter of making refunds of money, the question is one on which we are undecided," said one member of the state commission.

Hears Express Plaint.

The commission was here yesterday in connection with the express rate question. The board is at Inkster today hearing complaints relative to a proposed increase in the telephone charge. The commission ordered a hearing at Marmarth June 17, when the question of tunneling under the Milwaukee railroad tracks for street purposes will be considered.

BEACH ELECTRIC LINE ASSURED.

Beach, N. D., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Three plans of a cash bonus have been assured the promoters of the electric line south of the Northern Pacific. One proposition provides for the payment of $5,000 on completion and operation of twenty miles of line, $8,000 when thirty miles are in operation, and $10,000 when the line connects this point on the Northern Pacific with some point on the Milwaukee south and west of here.

Another proposition was that if the promoters would put up surety bonds that $5,000 would be made immediately available for preliminary work.

TO RESUME RAIL WORK ON JULY 1.

Dunn Center, N. D., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Steel laying will be resumed on the Northern Pacific line into Dunn county, July 1, and during that month Dunn, the only county of North Dakota at present without a railroad, will have railway connections. The line was completed last year as far as Golden Valley in Mercer county and the steel will soon be placed on the grade which reached here last fall. The steel could have been brought here had the company known how mild the winter would be, but fearing storms, the work was stopped at Golden Valley. The recent lot sale here attracted a great crowd and many were sold for new enterprises.

Railroad Notes.

Fred Waltersdorf, traveling passenger agent of the Burlington, is in the city today introducing to the railway men of the Head of the Lakes, T. J. McMahon, who is to succeed Mr. Waltersdorf. The former traveling passenger agent will remain in St. Paul as city man for the Burlington.

* * *

W. T. Misch, traveling passenger agent of the Great Western, is in the city today. According to the statement of Mr. Mitsch, travel is very light at the present time.

* * *

According to the notices that have been received from the officials of the local passenger agents from Eastern offices, there promises to be a heavy foreign tourist travel in this country this season. Passenger men look for a very good transcontinental travel.

RESCUE THREE TOTS.

Marquette Children Escape Cremation for Second Time.

Marquette, Mich., May 26.—For the second time within a year the three small children of John Kousiski of this city were saved from burning to death when boarders at the Filmore house, in the vicinity, discovered the Kousiski domicile in flames early Monday.

The boarders smashed in the glass in the front of the burning dwelling and, snatching the children from their smoked-filled rooms, conveyed them into the street in their night clothes. It took considerable work to revive them. The youngsters were almost suffocated by the fumes.

Last summer the house was considerably damaged by fire and at that time the children were rescued in the nick of time.

Camel Kneels on Driver.

Yankton, S. D., May 26.—John Walsh, a camel tender for a carnival company, was thrown while riding a camel here yesterday and was seriously injured by the beast, which repeatedly kneeled upon the man, crushing him before it was driven off.

OFFICER IS DISMISSED

Struck Prisoner With His Club After Making an Arrest.

For striking a prisoner and otherwise conducting himself in a manner which failed to show a proper comprehension of his duties as a policeman, Patrolman Peter P. Snarski was notified by Chief Troyer this morning that his services will not be needed after May 31.

The report made to the authorities states that Snarski struck a man with his club May 16 after he had placed him under arrest near Twentieth avenue west and First alley. A citizen who witnessed the affair ran up to the policeman and demanded that he desist. Several others came running to the scene. Snarski apparently became angry with the man who told him to "cut it out" and released his prisoner, who made his escape but was later recaptured and acquitted after a trial in police court.

Chief Troyer states that the circumstances were not such as to warrant Snarski in letting go the prisoner and that a man who has no better judgment is unfitted for police duty. He adds that Snarski has been lacking in several other particulars.

Snarski is the first man to be released from the police department since the general shake-up several months ago.

MONEY AWAITS UNKNOWN HEIRS

An estate of $1,400 in cash awaits the unknown heirs of Carl Nelson, who died, aged 56, at Virginia, this county, on April 24, last, according to a petition for letters of administration on his estate filed today in probate court by H. S. Gillispie, also of Virginia.

Gillispie is petitioning as administrator in the capacity of a creditor. After certain claims which he has against the estate are paid, the money will be turned over to heirs, if any can be located. Otherwise the residue will revert to the state.

Nelson lived in Virginia for some time, but little is known of his past.

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE—

Whereas, default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage, which was duly executed and delivered by Virginia Fairview Realty Company, a corporation under the laws of the State of Minnesota, mortgagor, to Edmund G. Walton, mortgagee, bearing date the 4th day of November, 1912, and duly filed in the office of the Registrar of Titles in and for the County of St. Louis and State of Minnesota on the 18th day of November, 1912, at 9 o'clock A. M., and was duly registered in said office in Book 52 of Register of Titles, on page 144, said mortgage being document file number 10607, which said mortgage, with the debt thereby secured, was thereafter duly assigned by the said Edmund G. Walton to W. T. Bray by an instrument of assignment dated the 3rd day of December, 1913, and filed in the office of the Registrar of Titles in and for the County of St. Louis and State of Minnesota, on the 11th day of December, 1913, at 5 o'clock P. M., and duly registered in said office in Book 52 of Register of Titles, on page 144, said assignment being document file No. 13625, said default consisting in the non-payment of the interest due on said mortgage debt, which interest was due and payable on the 4th day of May, 1914, amounting to the sum of $36.00, no part of which has been paid, by reason whereof said assignee of said mortgage has elected to declare the whole sum secured by said mortgage and note therein described, with all accrued interest thereon, to be now due and payable;

And, whereas, there is, therefore, claimed to be due, and there is actually due upon said mortgage debt, at the date of this notice, the sum of $938.40, principal and interest; and,

Whereas, said mortgage contains a power of sale in due form, which has become operative by reason of the default above mentioned, and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof;

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, That by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in said mortgage, viz.: Lot numbered twenty-eight (28) and the East twelve feet and six inches of Lot numbered twenty-nine (29), in Block numbered ten (10), Fairview Addition to Virginia, according to the recorded plat thereof on file and of record in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for St. Louis County, Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said St. Louis County in his office in the courthouse in the City of Duluth, in said county and state, on the 10th day of July, 1914, at ten o'clock A. M. on that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of $938.40, and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and Fifty Dollars ($50.00) attorney's fees, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale, as provided by law.

Dated May 16, 1914.

ORDER TO EXAMINE FINAL ACCOUNT.—

State of Minnesota,
County of St. Louis—ss.

In Probate Court. In the Matter of the Estate of Alois Ebmer, Decedent.

The petition of Margaretha Ebmer and Charles A. Lanigan as representative of the above named decedent, together with their final account of the administration of said estate, having been filed in this court, representing, among other things that they have fully administered said estate, and praying that said final account of said administration be examined, adjusted and allowed by the Court, and that the Court make and enter its final decree of distribution of the residue of the estate of said decedent to the persons entitled thereto, and for the discharge of the representative and the sureties on their bond.

It is ordered, That said petition be heard, and said final account examined, adjusted, and if correct, allowed by the court, at the Probate Court Rooms in the Court House, in the City of Duluth in said County, on Monday, the 15th day of June, 1914, at ten o'clock A. M., and all persons interested in said hearing and in said matter are hereby cited and required at said time and place to show cause, if any there be, why said petition should not be granted.

Ordered Further, That this order be served by publication in The Duluth Herald, according to law.

Dated at Duluth, Minn., May 18th, 1914.

By the Court,
S. W. GILPIN, Judge of Probate.
Attest: A. R. MORTON,
Clerk of Probate.

The Clock Without Hands

The business that attempts to grow without advertising is about as successful as the clock without hands. All the movements it makes amount to little; for people don't know about them.

Yours may be a splendid business; but people are too busy to find it out unless you tell them about it by advertising.

They DO know about the business of the fellow who keeps them posted through the columns of The Herald. He invites their trade and tells them why he wants it; or rather why it is to their advantage to give it to him.

Being a live business man he knows how to treat customers after he get sthem. He knows he can make his advertising pay only by living up to his promises.

Don't let your business be like a clock without hands.

Advertise. Begin now.

HOW TO CUT DOWN THE COST OF LIVING

Advantageous buying is the basis of economy. To know when and where to buy is a problem which can be easily solved by reading the announcements of the live merchants who use the columns of The Herald daily to enlighten the public on where and when to buy.

The news columns play an important part in the make up of the newspaper, but the advertising columns are just as important and in many instances are of vastly more importance to the reader who wishes to economize in the high cost of living.

Begin now and economize by reading and taking advantage of the advertisements that are appearing daily in The Herald.

It will save you time and money!

FIRST STAGE OF SIEGE OF GUADALAJARA BY THE REBELS ACCOMPLISHED

All Communication With Mexico City Has Been Intercepted.

Victory By Gen. Alvarado, Seventy Federals Being Killed.

Americans of Yaqui River Valley Refuse to Leave Property.

On Board U. S. S. California, Mazatlan, Mex., May 26, via wireless to San Diego, Cal., May 27.—The first stage of the siege of Guadalajara has been accomplished by the Constitutionalists with the interception of all communication between that city and the capital. Information reached the American fleet today that the Constitutionalists had cut the telegraph and railroad lines at Yurecuaro.

Federals Defeated.

Nogales, Ariz., May 27.—Gen. Alvarado has telegraphed here that his advance guard was attacked May 22 near La Passion by a force of Federals, who were defeated. Next day about 1,000 Federal infantry with 250 cavalry and several machine guns drove the Constitutionalists back to Palma, where the main body reinforced them and finally defeated the Federals on the 25th. The Federals lost seventy killed and more than twice as many wounded. Included among the killed is Gen. Rivero, one colonel and several other officers. Gen. Santib Anez was fatally wounded. The Constitutionalists lost two killed and one captured. Gen. Alvarado states that the result of the battle opens the way to Guaymas.

Americans Will Not Leave.

STRATHCONA LEFT IMMENSE ESTATE

Duty of $4,189,190 Paid on Probating of His Will.

London, May 27. — The personal property left by the late Baron Strathcona and Mount Royal, former high commissioner for Canada, amounted to $23,267,000. This was disclosed when probate was granted today.

The precise value of the real estate left by the testator, who died in London, Jan. 21, this year, was not made public, but the fact that the duty paid amounted to $4,189,190, indicates that his entire estate, real and personal, had a value of $27,928,000.

Wisconsin May Get $100,000.

Madison, Wis., May 27.—The estate of Lord Strathcona of Canada, known as the Canadian "empire builder," who was closely associated with James J. Hill of St. Paul in railroad building, will pay $100,000 inheritance tax to the state of Wisconsin within a short time.

The estate and the holdings in Wisconsin are now being investigated by John Harrington, special inheritance tax investigator for the state tax commission. The evidence gathered shows that when Lord Strathcona died on Jan. 21, this year, at the age of 93 years, he had holdings approximating $28,000,000. The Wisconsin holdings, which will be taxed under the inheritance tax law as investments in the stocks of the Northern Pacific railroad, approximate about $3,780,000.

THIRTY FAMILIES ARE DRIVEN OUT BY FIRE.

Chicago, May 27. — Thirty families were driven from their homes early today when fire destroyed the apartment building at 434-458 West Seventy-ninth street. The loss is $125,000.

ENCOURAGING PEACE SIGNS

Speakers at Lake Mohonk Conference Find Cause to Rejoice.

A. B. C. Mediation in Mexican Trouble Cited as Remarkable Event.

Mohonk Lake, N. Y., May 27.—The mediation of Argentina, Brazil and Chile in the Mexican situation and the apparent progress already made by the conference at Niagara Falls, were pointed out by speakers at the Lake Mohonk conference on international arbitration today as the most encouraging sign of the present time in the cause of peace.

John Bassett Moore of Columbia university, recently counselor of the state department, who presided at the conference, said in his opening address that the mediation of the A. B. C. powers, no matter what may be its result, is a remarkable event in the history of international relations in the western hemisphere.

DANISH CRITIC FAVORS GIVING VOTE TO WOMEN

GEORG BRANDES.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Georg Brandes, the famous Danish writer and critic, who recently arrived from England, lectured at the University of Minnesota last evening. "By all means, we should give women the vote," Dr. Brandes said in an interview. "I am in favor of equal suffrage. Women want to vote. In the main, everything in the world, except in so far as we may expect natural progress as the generations pass, will be the same after they vote. Let us give them the ballot and settle the trouble."

HILL FEARS FOR FUTURE

Sees Danger of Running Into Industrial Distress Like England's.

Cites Germany's Progress Under a More Advantageous Wage Scale.

Washington, May 27.—James J. Hill, discussing 'The Future of Our Foreign Trade," in a paper read at the National Foreign Trade convention here today, intimated that the United States might be in danger of running into such a widespread industrial distress as England now found itself in "from attempting to hold markets against competitors while maintaining a wage scale that does not permit her to meet their prices and does not offer to capital an inducement into new fields of development."

He compared the per capita value of foreign trade of the United States, which is $41, to that of Germany, which is $67, and that of the United Kingdom, which is $125. He said it was a short-sighted optimism that has concentrated attention for many years on the increase of our exports and manufactured products. Germany was constantly

ELECTRIC LAMP INVENTOR DIES

Sir Joseph Swan Solved Problem of Incandescent Light.

London, May 27.—Sir Joseph Wilson Swan, inventor of the first incandescent electric lamp, died here today. He was 86 years old and was born in Sunderland, England.

Sir Joseph spent many years of his life experimenting with electric lamps. In 1879 he succeeded in solving the problem of producing an incandescent light, thus making possible the general use of electricity for lighting purposes. He was the inventor of many other electrical devices, including a miners' safety lamp and an electric meter. He made many improvements in accumulators.

He was also well known for his photographic appliances. He perfected the carbon process and the dry plate which revolutionized photography.

He was at one time president of the British Institution of Electric Engineers and vice president of the Royal Photographic society. He had received many decorations from foreign governments.

JURY SECURED IN ELAM MURDER CASE.

Kansas City, Mo., May 27.—Taking of testimony was expected to begin today in the trial of Dr. W. Elam, the St. Joseph, Mo., physician who is charged with the murder of W. Putnam Cramer of Chicago. The jury was completed late yesterday and the prosecutor, Floyd Jacobs, made his statement outlining the state's allegations.

Among the witnesses expected to testify was a private detective who made a statement to the prosecutor soon after Cramers death, saying he had been employed by Dr. Elam to shadow Cramer.

HARMONIOUS PLAN OFFERED

Reorganization of the Presbyterian Home Mission Board Outlined.

Work Would Be Divided Among Four or More Departments.

PLAN IS ADOPTED.

Chicago, May 27.—Reorganization of the board of home missions of the Presbyterian church in a manner to satisfy most of its critics in various synods and presbyteries was accomplished today when the report of the standing committee on home missions presented a plan of reorganization which was adopted by the general assembly with little discussion.

Chicago, May 27.—Reorganization of the board of home missions was outlined today in the report of the standing committee on home missions to the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States. The report was in harmony with many of the 600 overtures touching the home mission board problem and was regarded as a step toward a harmonious adjustment of the diverse opinions held by different synods and presbyteries.

Increase of membership on the board from twenty-four to thirty was recommended, and it was proposed that the work of management should rest with three or more co-ordinate secretaries and a treasurer, instead of in a general secretary. Under the plan presented the work of the board would be divided among four or more departments, and while the general headquarters would continue to be in New York the department of church extension would have its headquarters in the West.

READY TO INSPECT THE MORGAN BOOKS

Folk Arrives in New York Accompanied By Four Men.

New York, May 27.—Joseph W. Folk, chief counsel for the interstate commerce commission, arrived in New York from Washington for a conference with Francis Lynde Stetson, representative of J. P. Morgan & Co. The conference was arranged for the purpose of making plans for an examination of the books of the Morgan firm and the personal papers and accounts of the late J. Pierpont Morgan, so far as they relate to New Haven railroad transactions.

The conference was suggested in a telegram from the Morgan firm last night, in answer to a message from the commission accepting J. P. Morgan's offer to submit the books for examination. Mr. Stetson said the conference would be at the Waldorf-Astoria and that it would be private.

Mr. Folk was accompanied by four men who were ready to begin on the books at once.

"We don't want one book or two books," said Mr. Folk. "We want them all."

MEDIATION BODY VERY OPTIMISTIC OVER THE PROSPECTS OF SUCCESS

Land Question Settled and Successor to Huerta Is Discussed.

Effort to Arrange for Change in a Dignified Manner.

Carranza Faction Reopens Question of Representation at Conference.

Niagara Falls, Ont., May 27.—The mediation body, composed of the South American envoys and the American and Mexican delegates, suspended their work here today to attend a garden party this afternoon in Toronto in honor of the governor-general of Canada, the duke of Connaught, the duchess and Princess Patricia. Sir John Gibson, lieutenant governor of Ontario, is to be the host. The mediation colony prepared to leave here early and will return tonight. En route they probably will have some informal discussion about the mediation problem. No regular conferences are contemplated.

As the party left for Toronto for a day of real diversion, the first break from almost continuous labor, it was evident that all were highly optimistic and confident of a successful outcome of the conference.

Huerta Ready to Agree.

With the land question satisfactorily adjusted, the mediators and delegates were concentrating their attention on the exact manner in which a new provisional government might be set up to succeed the present regime. That

BIG DAMAGE DONE BY FLOOD IN UTAH

Farm Houses Swept Away and Much Stock Lost.

Salt Lake City, Utah, May 27.—The flood which was let loose by the breaking of a state irrigation dam at Hatchtown reached the Plute reservoir fifty miles away yesterday. In the lowlands farmers were compelled to take to the high ground. Several farm houses have been swept away and three bridges have been carried out. It is reported that 10,000 head of stock have been lost, while the crops on thousands of acres have been destroyed. The total loss will run upward of $200,000 it is estimated.

Circleville, the only important settlement between Hatchtown and Plute, was partially submerged and the residents all sought shelter on nearby knolls. The damage there is estimated at $35,000.

State officials who are on the scene are confident that the Plute dam will hold the flood without danger of going out. If so, no further damage from the flood is expected. Should it go out, certain death for many would follow in its wake, and the town of Marysvale further down the Sevier river would be threatened with destruction.

TWO KILLED AND ONE FATALLY HURT

Two Motorcycles Crash Into Loaded Express Wagon in Chicago.

Chicago, May 27.—A man and a woman were killed and another man was probably fatally injured here early today when two motorcycles dashed into a loaded express wagon. Adolph Maspos first ran into the rear of the wagon and while the driver was carrying the unconscious man into a drug store, leaving his wagon standing in the middle of the street, the second machine crashed into the wagon. The riders were Edward Bomark and Marie Kierna. Both were killed and Maspos is not expected to recover.

PANKHURST IS RELEASED

Militant Leader of English Suffragettes Again Out of Jail.

Is Suffering From the Effects of Another "Hunger Strike."

London, May 27. — Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant leader, was again released from Holloway jail, suffering from the effects of a "hunger strike." She had refused to eat from the moment of her arrest during last week's raid by the suffragettes on Buckingham palace.

Five suffragettes, who were arrested by the police during a raid on a West End flat on May 21, were brought before a magistrate yesterday. After seeing the exhibit he took such a serious view of the case that he refused all offers of bail. The exhibits seized in the flat included a new shrapnel grenade of ingenious manufacture, coils of fuse and plans of houses with instructions as to reaching them and as to the usual movement of the police in the vicinity.

Windows Smashed.

The refusal of King George to see a suffragette deputation and alleged needless brutality on the part of the police in resisting their attempt to reach the palace having exasperated the militants, a party of militants invaded Kensington Gardens square last night smashing windows of the houses bordering on one side of the square.

The occupants of the houses on the other side formed a guard, the members of which were armed with pails of boiling water to watch for miscreants.

Eight of the militants, who were sentenced in connection with the raid on Buckingham palace on May 21, were released from Halloway jail yesterday. They gained their liberty by hunger striking.

SWITZERLAND WILL BE AT FRISCO SHOW.

Berne, Switzerland, May 27.—The Swiss Federal government today decided that Switzerland should be represented officially at the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco, thus rescinding its decisions of 1912 and 1913.

A modest national pavilion is to be built in the exposition grounds and is to be devoted chiefly to sports and to an exhibit representing the natural beauties of Switzerland.

LOST AIRMAN REACHES LAND

Gustave Hamel, British Aviator, Picked Up By Fishing Boat.

Newcastle, Eng., May 27.—The local police declare untrue the statement in the Evening Mail that Hamel had landed at South Shields.

Newcastle, Eng., May 27.—The Evening Mail says that Gustave Hamel, the British aviator, who had been given up for lost in the English channel landed today from a fishing boat at South Shields.

The fishing boat which saved Hamel was a foreign vessel which had been driven out of her course, and this caused the delay in giving information as to the rescue of the aviator.

Hamel left Le Crotoy, France, on Saturday morning last, in a machine to fly to Hendon, England. As he did not arrive it was supposed that he had met with an accident while crossing the English channel, and a swarm of torpedo boats spent several days in searching for traces of the missing aviator.

Last night the British admiralty announced that it had reluctantly suspended the search and had abandoned all hope for Hamel's safety.

Hamel a few days ago had announced his intention of attempting to cross the Atlantic in an aeroplane next fall.

LEE WILL BE HEARD HERE

Anti-Machine Candidate for Governor to Speak Before Club.

St. Louis County Supporters Open Headquarters; Organizing County.

William E. Lee, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, will not speak here tomorrow night, as was planned, but will speak at a luncheon to be given in his honor at the Commercial club tomorrow at 12:15 p. m.

The first announcement, to the effect that Mr. Lee would speak at the Auditorium tomorrow night, came through a misapprehension. The Lee committee here was notified that Mr. Lee would be here on Thursday of this week, and it was taken for granted that he was coming to make a speech before a Duluth audience, and arrangements were immediately made for the Auditorium. It turns out that he wished to spend the day here and will leave for Crookston tomorrow night. Accordingly a complete change of program has been made.

The luncheon to be given at the club during the noon hour tomorrow, will be open to anybody who cares to attend and will be served at 50 cents a plate. Mr. Lee will be the only speaker. During the morning and afternoon the Lee committeemen will take him around the city introducing him to business and professional men, and getting him in touch with as many people as possible during the limited time he will be here. Mr. Lee will speak in Cloquet tonight.

WILLIAM E. LEE,
Anti-Machine Candidate for Governor.

The anti-machine Republicans, whose candidate Mr. Lee is for governor, have opened headquarters for St. Louis county in Parlor G, St. Louis hotel, with Richard M. Funck in charge. The whole county is being organized and Nell E. Beaton is now touring the ranges organizing the anti-machine men and making arrangements for a speech-making tour of the range cities and towns by Sam Y. Gordon, former lieutenant governor, and publisher of the Browns Valley Tribune. Mr. Gordon was a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor two years ago, and is now giving his support both as a newspaper man and as a speaker to his former opponent, Mr. Lee. He will spend all of next week on the ranges.

The St. Louis county Lee men have organized as follows: Chairman, Richard M. Funck; vice chairman, John E. Samuelson; secretary, Neil E. Beaton, and treasurer, Elmer F. Blu.

CITY BUYING TWO NEW AUTOMOBILES

One Car Will Solve Police Problem in the Suburbs.

Commissioner W. A. Hicken has decided to purchase two new Ford automobiles. A four-passenger car, costing $585, will be stationed at New Duluth for the use of the police force in that suburb. A two-passenger runabout, costing $535, will be used by the health department.

The ordinance making the necessary appropriations will be passed at the next meeting of the city council, after which the contract will be signed.

The new machine will prove a great aid to the limited police force at New Duluth. The men have supervision of Gary and Fond du Lac as well as New Duluth. The police station is located at the last named and whenever arrests have been made at either Gary or Fond du Lac it has been necessary to walk the prisoners as far as two or three miles.

With the runabout available the health department will be able to get along without hiring any additional men. Without it, it is stated, that at last one more inspector would be required. His salary would be $900 per year, while the car costs not much more than half that sum. It will be used for both contagious and sanitary purposes.

CARELESS ABOUT DUMPING RUBBISH

Health Officer Asks Citizens to Help Stop a Nuisance.

Dr. H. E. Webster, director of public health, is asking citizens living in various neighborhoods in which unlawful dumping has been prevalent to co-operate with the health department to put a stop to it.

Dr. Webster states that numerous complaints are being constantly received by the health department of the dumping of offensive material where it is prohibited by the regulations. Most of this has been done at night and great difficulty has been encountered in apprehending those guilty.

In an effort to eliminate the nuisance he is sending the following communication to the residents in the vicinities from which the complaints have been coming:

"Some one has been dumping under cover of night offensive material in your immediate neighborhood. We are unable to determine who is doing this, but until the guilty party is found out, everyone in your locality is under suspicion. This is unfair to the good, clean citizen and we would like you to co-operate with us to unearth the selfish and dirty individual in order that he may receive the punishment fitting to such an act."

LECTURER WILL ATTACK SOCIALISM---INVITES QUESTIONS

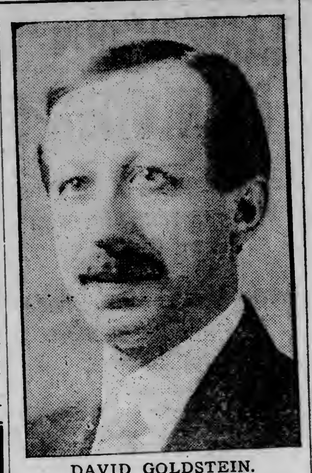
David Goldstein, sociologist and lecturer, will speak at the Auditorium next Tuesday evening, June 2, on "Christianity vs. Socialism."

Mr. Goldstein is making a nation-wide lecture tour under the direction of the supreme council of the Knights of Columbus and the local lecture will be given under the auspices of Duluth council of that order.

The lecture is expected to arouse fully as much interest here as the lecture by Peter W. Collins of Boston last December. Mr. Goldstein and Mr. Collins are the foremost public opponents of Socialism in the country and both are engaged in the present movement to spread knowledge of the grounds for opposition to Socialism.

Mr. Goldstein is a former Socialist and was that party's first candidate for mayor of Boston. He left the party eleven years ago after an ineffectual effort to have a party convention declare against some of the evils which he declared the movement was harboring.

The lecture at the Auditorium will be free to the public. The members of the local Socialist party are expected to be out in numbers, as Mr. Goldstein invites questions.



DAVID GOLDSTEIN.

DECISION FAVORS SOUTHERN PACIFIC

Gets Mineral Lands Valued at Several Hundred Million Dollars.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 27.—A decision by which the Iron Chief Mining company, a subsidiary of the Southern Pacific Railway company, and the government divide title to mineral lands in Riverside county, Cal., valued at several hundred million dollars, was handed down yesterday by Frank Buren and O. R. W. Robinson, register and receiver, respectively, of the United States land office in Los Angeles.

The decision involved 4,000 acres of land about forty miles from Mecca, Cal., on which application for patent was filed three years ago with twelve separate mineral entries, comprising 154 mining claims and eight mill sites.

FAVOR NON-PARTISAN ELECTION OF JUDGES.

Chicago, May 27.—Non-partisan election of judges, the principal problem before the Illinois Bar association, is scheduled for immediate discussion by the annual convention which opened here today for a two days' session. The committee of the bar association has been working five years on the divorce of the Illinois judiciary from partisan politics and is prepared to submit a concrete measure ready to be shaped into a bill for the legislature.

The proposed bill, it is said, would require a special ballot for all judgeships and that candidates shall file petitions for election without intervening primary of any kind.

DULUTH AD CLUB ELECTS DELEGATES

R. A. Close and J. R. Hamilton Will Attend Toronto Convention.

R. A. Close and John R. Hamilton were last evening selected by the Duluth Ad club as delegates to the annual convention of the Ad Clubs of America to be held at Toronto next July.

The meeting of the Duluth Ad club was held at the Commercial club and was attended by a large number of the members. The feature of the evening was an illustrated lecture by Charles E. Buckbee of St. Paul. He demonstrated the value of using illustrations in keeping with advertising "copy" and especially urged local men not to crowd their space with too much material.

Preceding the selection of delegates to Toronto, the members unanimously indorsed the resolution that is to be introduced in the Canadian city favoring legislation that will prevent price cutting on standard, established and trade-marked articles.

At the next meeting of the club plans will be made for an annual outing in July.

CLIMBS DOWN ROPE.

Hardwood, N. D., Woman Is Injured at Thief River Falls.

Thief River Falls, Minn., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. H. S. Chilgren, wife of a minister at Harwood, N. D., became nervously overwrought at a local hotel Monday night, while en route to Roseau, and attempted to escape from her room on the third story on a fire rope. She fell when part way down, breaking her thumb and was more or less bruised. Her husband accompanied her as far as Plummer then returned to North Dakota. She has been sent for and is now with the woman who is in a highly nervous state.

WHAT OTHER CITIES ARE DOING

A GREAT many cities would like to have a city plan, showing how the city must grow systematically fifty or one hundred years hence, says the Bureau of Municipal Research bulletin. This growth must be anticipated in a scientific way and provisions made for the housing of the additional population in the years that are to come. A city plan usually costs a good deal of money, and city officials hesitate to make this appropriation because of the criticism that might follow. The best way to secure a good city plan is to induce the local board of trade or chamber of commerce to educate the general public to the necessity of such a plan, and to secure an appropriation for a city survey and plan from the chamber of commerce or other civic organization. In a great many cities these organizations have raised enough money to provide city planning with a definite plan. The housing and sanitary problem is the most important question to be dealt with, and must be dealt with scientifically by men who understand the business. The solution of these problems has saved many cities thousands of dollars in eliminating epidemics, and providing for the healthy growth of children who are to be the future citizens or charges of the city. If this is neglected the children will eventually become charges of the city.

Duluth is without a city plan such as that mentioned in the above bulletin of the National Bureau of Municipal Research, although the Commercial club has a committee at work on one. Housing conditions are safeguarded by a housing ordinance drawn along modern lines. Because of the admitted impossibility of long continuing the dumping of sewage into the river, bay and lake the sanitary problem as it pertains to sewage disposal will be one of the serious questions to be solved by the city.

ACCUSE UNION OFFICIAL.

Treasurer of Grand Forks Carpenters' Union Alleged to Be Short.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frank Harris, treasurer of the Carpenters and Joiners union, is under arrest charged with embezzlement, and he will have a preliminary examination Saturday.

Harris was treasurer for several months, and recently, when he was checked out to make way for a newly elected officer, his accounts were found to be short, officers of the union charge.

GOING BACK TO EUROPE

Many Austrian Laborers From Range Returning to Native Land.

A car filled with Austrian laborers left Duluth over the Omaha road for their native land yesterday. A special car attached to the regular Chicago train carried the departing laborers.

According to the local officials of the Omaha, small parties of Austrians have been leaving during the last few weeks, and the present indications are that there will be many more leaving in the near future.

While as yet the provision of the Austrian government to pay the railroad and steamship fares of natives of that country from the United States to their own country, in cases where the men are without funds, has not been applied in any local instances, it is said that in several Eastern parts of the country the Austrian government has provided the transportation of men back to their native land and then deducted the fare out of their wages from the work that the government is providing in Austria.

There is little work at present for many of the laborers in the mines of the iron range. Many of these men are leaving for their native land in the hope of being able to find work there. According to the statement of the Omaha officials, all of the laborers leaving here have been able to pay their own fare.

Woman's Clubs Elect.

Williston, N. D., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. A. Dinnie of Minot was elected president of the Williston-Minot District Federation of Women's Clubs at the annual meeting held here. Mrs. G. A. Lee of Kenmare was elected secretary-treasurer, succeeding Mrs. Anna D. Lynch of Williston.

CHIEF JUSTICE IS IMPLICATED IN PLOT.

Port of Spain, Trinidad, May 27.—Reliable information has reached here that upon the arrival at Ciudad Bolivar, Venezuela, of the river steamer Delta from Trinidad, the pilot was searched by order of the governor, and upon him were found secret communications from Gen. Jose Manuel Hernandez (El Mocho) the Venezuelan revolutionary leader, to his adherents there indicating the intention of forcing the merchants of Ciudad Bolivar to contribute about $250,000 for military operations.

The chief justice and several prominent military officials are said to have been implicated. The justice has disappeared, but several of the others have been imprisoned, pending instructions from Caracas.

ROOSEVELT TO TAKE PART IN CAMPAIGN THIS YEAR

Holds Conference With the Progressive Members of Congress.

Visits the President and Delivers Lecture on His Brazilian Trip.

Washington, May 27.—"I shall be taking my part in the campaign this year."

This was the promise of Col. Roosevelt in a formal statement made at Progressive headquarters last night in the presence of most of the Progressives in congress. The colonel announced that he had told Governor Johnson that he would go to California if necessary to help the Progressive ticket. The colonel was greeted at Progressive headquarters by James R. Garfield of Ohio, Senator Clapp of Minnesota, the only senator present, and numerous Progressive representatives.

"I am not going to have any interview tonight," he said, "but there is a statement I want to make to the press. I came to Washington primarily to address the Geographic society, but secondly I wanted to see the Progressive senators and Progressive representatives in congress because I feel that a peculiar debt of obligation is owing to them for what they have done and for the way in which they have borne themselves under the most trying circumstances.

Faced Real Crisis.

"Men who face a crisis are either overwhelmed by it or grow in stature because of passing through it. You men have faced a real crisis. You have been tried as no other body in either house of congress has been tried for sixty years, and by that I mean not since the first men that championed the principles that Abraham Lincoln championed, came to congress. You have been exposed to every form of attack from both sides and you have so borne yourselves as to force the respect of your enemies. So I speak from my heart and say my original feeling of sympathy with you has changed to a feeling of admiration, respect and a small degree of envy.

"I shall be taking my part in the campaign this year. I have been asked by Mr. Lewis and Mr. Pinchot to open the campaign in Pittsburg June 30, which I am going to do.

"I have written to Governor Hiram Johnson that if my presence is desired in California, I will go out there to fight for the ticket."

Col. Roosevelt made his address while the newspaper men were present. Afterward the doors were closed and he sat down for an informal discussion of political questions. No definite plans were made for the fall campaign and the discussion was general in character.

Had Busy Nine Hours.

Into nine hours Col. Roosevelt crowded a speech on his South American expedition, a call on President Wilson, a political conference of first importance with the Progressives in congress, a visit to the Smithsonian institution to see the trophies of his African hunt four years ago, a meeting with a few members of the diplomatic corps and a dinner with his old friends.

The Progressive members of congress were at the party headquarters to meet him after the lecture and go over the political situation with him. It was understood that Col. Roosevelt was desirous of sounding sentiment here, particularly with reference to the advisability of making an early attack on the policies of the Wilson administration.

The congressmen for their part, wished to go over the whole field with him, learn his ideas of matters now before congress, and if possible map out a tentative plan for the coming campaign.

With the exception of his conference with the Progressive congressmen politics played little part in his day here. Reports that while here he might meet Republican leaders came to naught, for the colonel saw none of them.

Visit to President.

Col. Roosevelt's visit with President Wilson was perhaps of greater interest to the public than any other event of the day. The president and his predecessor spent more than half an hour together and talked of most everything except politics.

A good deal of the time was put in with telling stories. Col. Roosevelt went to the White House dressed in a gray suit and a white felt hat. He had intended to go to his hotel to don more formal attire, but there was so much else to do that he had to give up that plan.

When the colonel arrived at the executive mansion he leaped out of his automobile with his old-time vigor and walked quickly into the White House, where the president was waiting to receive him in the Red room. The former president greeted warmly "Jimmie" Sloan, a secret service man, and other White House attaches, who served during his admniistrations.

"I am very glad to see you," said the president, as he shook hands with Mr. Roosevelt. They had met before and therefore no introductions were necessary. Miss Belle Hagner, social secretary at the White House, who occupied a similar position during the Roosevelt administrations, and Secretary Tumulty, were also present.

Drank Lemonade.

After the exchange of greetings, the president led the way to the south portico of the White House, where the cool breezes from the Potomac made more bearable the extreme heat. There lemonade was served by Miss Hagner and the two men sat down for a long talk.

Speaking of travel, books and telling stories, the two men seemed to enjoy their meeting greatly. The colonel himself mentioned the "river of doubt" which he discovered in Brazil and joked over the controversy about it.

As he rose to leave, Mr. Roosevelt inquired about the health of Mrs. Wilson, who is confined to her room, and the president asked particularly that the colonel convey congratulations to Kermit Roosevelt who is to be married next month in Madrid. Then they shook hands and Col. Roosevelt walked quickly to his machine.

A crowd of several hundred people had gathered inside the White House grounds and as Col. Roosevelt appeared there was a burst of handclapping.

Saw His Rhino.

On his arrival in Washington Col. Roosevelt went first to the Smithsonian institute. There he had his first glimpse of the game he shot in Africa since it had been mounted. As soon as he entered the building he caught sight of a huge rhinoceros in a glass case.

"I shot him," he exclaimed. "It was a close call too. Kermit said 'wait a minute, dad, till I take his picture.' The rhino was rushing at us, head down. 'I've got to shoot,' I protested, but Kermit got his picture and then I got the rhino."

From the museum Col. Roosevelt went to the home of Senator Lodge for a talk with the senator and then British, French and Spanish ambassadors. Then he attended a dinner given by President Gilbert H. Grosvenor of the National Geographic society. The lecture came next, with the conference with Progressive congressmen the last thing on the program before his departure for New York at midnight.

"Discoverer of River."

Proclaimed tonight before a great audience of scientists from many cities as the "discoverer of a river in South America 1,000 miles long," Col. Roosevelt assured the National Geographic society that he had put this river on the map and challenged all the chartographers in the world to disprove his achievement.

The colonel had appeared before a Washington audience on a previous occasion as an explorer, but never as a discoverer, and he was cheered to the echo as he declared that the chartographers and geographers of all nations were wrong in their maps of the wilds of Brazil, wherein he found and traced the "Duvida river," or, as now more familiarly known, the "River of Doubt."

Scientists, the colonel declared, had attempted to dispute his discovery. Tracing on a blackboard with a piece of chalk the river of his finding, he declared emphatically: "I say 'we put it on the map' and I mean what I say. No map has ever yet shown this river. Scientists have said we might have traversed the river Tapajose or the Madeira, but the fact is that some of our party went down one river and part went down another and we went down a river in between them which no map-maker ever saw. I can direct any man where to find this river, and rivers stay put, so that the discovery we have made can be verified."

Hardships of the Trip.

The colonel described in detail the hardships of his trip into the Brazilian wilds, and particularly the hardships endured in navigating the rapids of the River of Doubt. In the upper part of the rver, he said, the rapids were so severe that it required forty-two days for the party to traverse one degree from 11:45 south to 10:45 south. During that hazardous trip they lost nearly all their food and belongings.

"We were forced to eat monkeys to eke out our rations," declared the colonel. "Don't shudder, for I assure you that after this experience you might leave me in the monkey house without my making any mistake."

There were many Indians in the upper reaches of the Duvida, the colonel said. "They were seemingly very timid and in some cases hostile," he added. "I believe they were hostile only because they were timid, but it is almost as unpleasant to be shot by a man because he is afraid of you, as if he killed you because he disliked you."

At the close of his statement, Col. Roosevelt offered to answer any questions which anyone in the audience might ask. After a pause during which no questions were propounded, he said: "No questions are asked me to my face."

He presented a letter which he wrote to Dr. Muller after he left the jungle, describing the trip.

PATMONT IS NEAR NERVOUS COLLAPSE

Trip to Find House Where He Says He Was Kept.

Danville, Ill., May 27.—Rev. Louis R. Patmont did not resume his story before the grand jury yesterday. It was announced that he was on the verge of a nervous breakdown. Dry leaders assisting in the investigation of the alleged kidnaping of Rev. Patmont at Westville, Ill., March 30, and his imprisonment in a cellar until shortly before he was found bound and helpless in an abandoned farm house near Columbia, Monroe county, last Saturday, stated that his nervous system suffered a severe strain as a result of his ill-treatment.

Rev. Patmont was taken on an automobile ride into the country today. Detectives accompanied him, and an effort was made to find the farm house in which the dry worker claimed to have been imprisoned for nearly two months.

Recognizing the fact that his story, if unsupported by considerable corroborative evidence, would be insufficient to cause indictments to be issued, it is believed that every effort possible is being made to locate the place of his imprisonment and identify the automobile and its owner.

TWO ASK SETTLEMENT.

Injured Miners Ask Compensation for Their Injuries.

Adjustment of claims under the workingmen's compensation act was sought yesterday by two injured miners according to petitions placed on file with the clerk of the district court.

Hugh Morton, 31, Hibbing, wants the court to order the Oliver Iron Mining company to compensate him for injuries received May 10 when a wrench which he was using in mending a section of a gas pipe fell and struck him.

Peter Pedrozzi, 27, claims that he had one finger of his left hand so badly crushed, April 2, at the Leetonia mine, Carson Lake, that his hand is permanently injured. He asks the court to require the Leetonia Mining company to settle with him.

Hindus Demand Admission.

Vancouver, B. C., May 27.—The steamship Komangata Maru, on which Gurdit Singh, a wealthy Hindu arrived last week with 350 of his countrymen, brought at his expense, is still detained in the harbor. Immigration officials say only a lame attempt was made by the immigrants to comply with health regulations. The Hindus demand admission as British subjects.

Vaudeville Merger.

Louisville, Ky., May 27.—A merger of local vaudeville interests involving property worth approximately $1,000,000, was effected here yesterday when a combination was formed by the National Theater company, the B. F. Keith interests and the United Booking company.

NICE PROMENADE WRECKED BY GALE.

Nice, France, May 27.—The promenade Des Naglais, which stretches along the coast, was almost wrecked by a gale and tidal wave yesterday. The understructure was demolished, the damage amounting to $50,000. A large number of yachts and small craft along the Riviera were sunk.

Declare For Open Shop.

Chicago, May 27.—The association of brick manufacturers, whose employes have been on a strike for more than a month, yesterday declared for an open shop and announced that members would attempt to resume work at once with non-union men. There are about 3,000 brickmakers on strike and their idleness has kept 150,000 laborers in the building trades from work. The association refused the offer of the state board of arbitration for mediation.

WILL STUDY OWN STATE

"See Minnesota First" Party Coming From the University.

Duluth Included in Four-Weeks' Trip By College Students.

The entire northern part of the state will be visited on the second annual "See Minnesota First" tour to be conducted by the university, according to an announcement of the itinerary today by Professor E. M. Lehnerts in Minneapolis. Professor Lehnerts conducted the first tour last year and will be in charge again.

Outside of the Twin Cities three principal centers will be reached: north central Minnesota and the Cuyuna iron range, Lake of the Woods and the International boundary line and Duluth, and the Lake Superior region. The tour will last four weeks. It will begin June 15 and continue till July 4, when there will be an intermission to allow teachers and other educators to attend the meeting of the National Educational association in St. Paul. The fourth week will be from July 20 to 25.

Meet at University June 15.

According to the schedule which was announced today and which will be printed and circulated at once, the tourists will gather at the library of the university on the morning of June 15. Three days will be spent visiting the leading factories and industries in Minneapolis and St. Paul and interpreting the geological formations in the environs of the cities. Professor Lehnerts, who will be in charge of the tour, will explain the significance (of the geological formations. June 19 will be spent in a visit to Taylors Falls and the Dalles of the St. Croix and Interstate park. The following day the party will spend in Stillwater inspecting the new prison.

Week on Cuyuna Range.

The second week will be spent on the Cuyuna range. The party will leave Minneapolis on the morning of June 22 and go to St. Cloud, where they will make an auto trip to the surrounding quarries. The two following days will be spent at Brainerd and Crosby and other points on the range.

The tourists will go up the Mississippi by boat from Brainerd to Riverton, where automobiles will be waiting to take them for an inspection tour of the iron mines. The 25th will be spent journeying from Brainerd to Bemidji, where field studies will be made. From Bemidji the party will go to Redby, making a study of the surface of the country en route. The following day will be spent in an excursion on lower and upper Red Lake and on June 27 the second week of the trip will come to a close with the party traveling back to Bemidji and making a tour of the surrounding country.

Boat Ride on Rainy River.

The third week will be spent in the vicinity of Lake of the Woods and the International boundary line. June 28, 29, 30 and July 1 will be taken up in traveling from Bemidji to International Falls and on a boat ride down the Rainy river and through the ten thousand islands of the Vermilion. July 2 an automobile tour will be made through the new agricultural country from Warroad to Thief River Falls. Lake Agassiz will be visited and the state drainage ditches inspected. The following day Mahnomen, Detroit, Alexandria and Glenwood and the beautiful lake region of Minnesota will be visited. The third week of the tour will end July 4 by the return of the party to Minneapolis.

Intermission for Convention.

After an intermission to allow the teachers and educators who will make the tour an opportunity to attend the convention of the National Education association in St. Paul, the party will again gather July 20 for the final week of the tour. The objective point will be Duluth, where the scenic beauties and geologic and geographic features of the vicinity will be studied. The harbors and docks will be visited and an excursion made by steamer to Fond du Lac. July 21 will be spent in field studies on the Mesaba range and in the inspection of mines at Chisholm and Virginia.

The following day will find the sightseers on Vermilion range and making an excursion on Vermilion lake. July 23 a trip will be made from Tower to Two Harbors and by steamer to Grand Marais. The next day will be spent at Grand Marais and Thompsonite beach and on July 25 the members of the second annual "See Minnesota First" party will return to Duluth and disperse.

Six university credits will be offered to regularly registered students who make the entire trip and three credits for those who accompany the tourists two weeks. Anyone may take the trip.

AMATEUR QUARTETS WILL ENTER CONTEST

Duluth song birds are to have an opportunity to trill their sweetest and draw $20 in prizes at the Empress theater next Friday night. This contest will be the beginning of a series at that playhouse, to be staged in the near future. Three quartets are already scheduled to appear and more are invited to get into the game.

Whether a singer be an exponent of the rag, the sentimental ballad or the grand opera selections, he will be welcomed by the Empress management. Even parodies with comedy sandwiched in will be acceptable.

The contests are to be staged because of the persistent requests that have come in from many Empress patrons.

PIONEER CLOQUET WOMAN PASSES.

Cloquet, Minn., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. J. D. Peters died last evening. She was born in Cornwall, Eng., and was 72 years old. She leaves a husband, a sister, Mrs. Tonkin, and a daughter, Mrs. Albert Cox, both of this city. She had lived in Cloquet thirty years and was highly respected in the community, being a good friend to those in need.

Lightning Kills Stock.

Reynolds, N. D., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Lightning hit a barn on the G. O. Saure farm near here, killing two head of horses, six cattle and ten hogs. The barn was also destroyed by fire, together with several hundred bushels of grain, harness and general farm equipment.

Nab Iowa Check-Raiser.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fred Albright, wanted at Marshalltown, Iowa, on charges of raising a check, is under arrest here. Iowa authorities will arrive here tomorrow to take him in charge.

Pick Grand Forks.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Grand Forks was chosen by the executive committee of the North Dakota Association of Managers of Co-Operative Elevators, as the meeting place this year, July 15 and 16.

CALLIGAN WILL SEEK RE-ELECTION

CHARLES CALLIGAN.

Charles Calligan, register of deeds, yesterday afternoon announced his candidacy for re-election when he filed with the county auditor an affidavit of his intention of becoming a candidate for the office at the June primaries.

Mr. Calligan is now serving his first term in the office. He has made many friends during his administration.

Mr. Calligan is well known on the ranges, having been a former resident of Hibbing. Since he has been in the office of register of deeds, he has made his home in Duluth.

P. J. Borgstrom of this city has also filed for the office.

WILL CELEBRATE FEAST OF WEEKS

Shabuoth Will Be Observed Next Sunday By Jewish Citizens.

Shabuoth, the Feast of Weeks, and often called the Feast of the First Fruits, which falls on the sixth of Sivan, according to the Jewish calendar, will this year be observed next Sunday, May 31, by all the Jews of the world.

Special services will be held in the Duluth synagogues on Saturday night and Sunday morning, while an elaborate program has been prepared for Temple Emanuel on Sunday morning.

The services at Temple Emanuel will begin at 10:45 o'clock Sunday morning and will include a sermon by Rabbi Maurice Lefkovits and a special musical program. The temple will be especially decorated for the occasion.

The name of Shabuoth, or the Feast of Seven Weeks, is derived from the seven weeks which elapsed between the departure of the children of Israel from Egypt and their arrival at Mount Sinai. Like its companion holiday, the Feast of Passover, it too has both an agricultural and a historical aspect. This was the early harvest season, when the first of the wheat, baked in two loaves of bread, was brought as an offering of gratitude and as a token of man's dependence upon the goodness of God. Historically it carries the memory back to the promulgation of the Ten Commandments, when Israel accepted the new moral code and religious legislation, and was aroused for the first time to the consciousness of its new spiritual task and destiny. The Ten Commandments are the Magna Charta of religion. Having secured political freedom, Moses found it necessary to give his people religious freedom. The new nation must be buttressed upon religious obligation. They may be a kingdom, but they must be a kingdom of priests, a holy nation.

Shabuoth has gained a stronger and a more impressive hold today by entwining its symbolism about the impressionable child. "Confirmation" is the ceremony expressive of religious consecration. By this ceremonial the public affirms that the children, the first ripe fruits of religious schools, shall stand morally and religiously in the same enthusiastic and receptive attitude as did their fathers at the foot of Mount Sinai.

Shabuoth has a distinctly modern and indispensable appeal to the individual. It teaches, first of all, that religion, as a necessity of life, is the actuating motive and sanction of personal, social and national character. Secondly, it champions the cause of religious freedom as the most highly prized privilege and possession of the human race.

ROBBED IN WOODS.

Aged Man Falls Among Thieves Near Rhinelander, Wis.

Appleton, Wis., May 27.—Gustave Rondt of White county, Ind., aged 75, informed the police yesterday that he had walked from Rhinelander to this city, a distance of 134 miles, after having been robbed. He said he went to Rhinelander with a view of purchasing land, and that two men posing as land agents drove him into the woods a week ago last Sunday, robbed him of his money, put him out of the rig and left him to himself. He wandered in the woods for two days before reaching a farmhouse.

JERSEY MURDERER IS ELECTROCUTED.

Trenton, N. J. May 27.—Rafael Longo of Elizabeth was electrocuted in the death house at the state prison last night for the murder of Antonio Migliore. The murder was the result of a quarrel in a local saloon.

Monday night Longo was joined in matrimony for the second time to Carmancia Longo. The first ceremony was performed in Italy fifteen years ago, and the second was declared necessary in order that she may inherit Longo's property in that country.

Greaney, Minn., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Holy mass was held at St. Bridget church Sunday. Rev. A. L. Perdot of Gilbert, officiating. Also the following members were unanimously chosen: R. J. Greaney, treasurer; Ignac Bobich, secretary; Ignac Flak, Peter Skooba, Steve Skolsky, Chas. Makovich, trustees. The cleaning of the cemetery will begin at once and will also have a portion of the cemetery for non-Catholics. The church was erected by Thomas Fiegh of Duluth in memory of his mother, Mrs. Bridget Reigh who died in Ireland in 1839.

VIOLATING SMOKE RULE

Sixteen Warnings Issued By City Inspector This Month.

Sixteen violations of the new smoke ordinance have been noted thus far this month by Smoke Inspector J. W. Schneider.

These include stacks of locomotives, tugs, railroad power or coach houses as well as those of buildings. Some emitted dense smoke for 20 to 25 minutes during the hour each of them was under observation, while the lowest noted was 8 minutes in an hour. Four minutes is the maximum allowed under the ordinance.

Inspector Schneider has made no arrests since the ordinance became effective, but the owners or agents of those places where the violations have occurred have been notified of the results of the inspection. Under the policy which has been agreed upon by the present administration, all of them will be given reasonable time in which to make any necessary changes in their furnaces to prevent repetitions.

Among the buildings three large laundries are among the worst offenders. Some of them were notified that they were violating the ordinance before it became operative and no more than two warnings will be given. The tugs are being checked while tied to docks in the local slips. The locomotives are being observed in all parts of the city. The inspector states that in the downtown section they are complying reasonably well but that in the suburbs little improvement is noticeable.

Mr. Schneider is making his smoke observations in connection with his duties as electrical inspector. The latter takes him to all parts of the city and at every opportunity he checks up stacks which may be in the vicinity.

BEDE CAMPAIGNING FOR NOMINATION

Visits Duluth on Way to Mille Lacs County; Last Day for Filing; Henry Rines Reports Gain in State Auditorship Fight.

J. Adam Bede of Pine City was in the city over night on his way to Mille Lacs county, where he will spend a few days campaigning.

Mr. Bede, who was congressman from the Eighth district for several terms, has been legislated by means of a reapportionment of the state into the new Tenth congressional district, which takes in, among other parts of the state, three wards of the city of Minneapolis. Mr. Bede has become a candidate for congress from the new Tenth and is opposing for the Republican nomination Senator Victor L. Johnson of Center City and L. E. Jepson, former state senator of Minneapolis.

Mr. Bede is putting up a vigorous campaign and is endeavoring to see each voter in the district. Said he, last night:

"Of course every candidate thinks he will win; and I think I will. Many think that Senator Johnson is my most dangerous opponent, while others say that Mr. Jepson will cut quite a figure. Of course in a new district predictions are futile and nothing will be known until the votes are counted. In that part of my old constituency which has been put into the Tenth, I find that I have a whole lot of friends, and that part of the Tenth I will carry heavily. Generally speaking I expect to be a member of the next congress."

Mr. Bede looks no different from when he went to congress first and is still bubbling over with witticisms.

This is the last day on which candidates for county offices may file. The time for filing for state, congressional and legislative offices having passed twenty days ago, today will close the matter of nominations and the battle will be on up to June 16, which is only twenty days away. It is not expected that there will be many filings today.

Henry Rines, candidate for the Republican nomination for state auditor, and his secretary, Larry Hodgson, have just finished a compilation of reports from over 1,000 Rines supporters in the various counties of the state, and as a result of this summary, Mr. Hodgson today issued the following statement:

"The last week has unquestionably brought about a very decided turn of sentiment toward Mr. Rines all over the state. Reports received from practically every county indicate that his campaign is making headway rapidly and that his election at the primaries is certain. Owing to limited resources the Rines campaign was late in starting in a formal way, and only within the last two weeks has a systematic canvass of the state been made, literature sent out and voters appealed to directly. Results began to show immediately. In every county workers are enthusiastic and the volunteer service of men who are for Rines because they believe in him and in what he stands for is creating a widespread sentiment favorable to his candidacy.

"His record as speaker has won him the regard of practically every man in Minnesota who has been prominent in the reform fight of the last decade. The men who are working for Rines are doing so as a matter of principle and without hope of reward, and it is well known that this kind of campaigning gets results far beyond anything that purely political backing can show.

"He has been fortunate, too, in being opposed by numerous professional politicians whose records are so well known in their communities that the people distrust any candidate they boost. Mr. Rines has the advantage of having a very definite program and policy and he has told the voters just what he stands for. This program, which calls for economy and efficiency in the conduct of the auditor's office, the substitution of merit for political pull in the matter of appointments, the sale of the state's foreign bonds and the investment of this money in home securities, and for conservation and state development, has met with the approval of the people to a remarkable degree.

"The noise made by the politicians for a time deceived the disinterested spectator. It is apparent now that it has been noise only. The substantial, thinking vote of the state is very largely with Mr. Rines because his candidacy represents not promise, but actual achievement; not a political machine, but a fight for principle.

"Mr. Rines' outspoken declaration that it is time to put a stop to politics in the state house, and that no man is fit to hold state office who will use the office to build up a political organization, has been so in contrast with the timidity of those who represent the machine influences that the people whose interest is in good government, rather than in clever politics are largely with him in his fight."

GROWTH SURPRISING.

Editor of Farm Paper Praises St. Louis County Agriculturists.

Hugh J. Hughes of Minneapolis, editor of Farm, Stock and Home, expresses surprise at the strides which have been made in agricultural development in St. Louis county in the four years since he last visited here.

He says that he had never expected to see so much cleared land and declares that the methods which are being followed show a material improvement. Mr. Hughes has been on the agricultural train of the Duluth & Iron Range, and he had only words of praise for the work which is being done by those who have it in charge.

MEN, When in Chicago

Come and See For Yourself

The Dr. Lorenz Electro Body Battery is the greatest self-cure for weakness and debility the world has ever known. No drugs, no medicine, no dieting, no unusual demands of any sort, just cease all dissipation and this invention will do the work. It sends a stream of vital life into your nerves, organs and blood during the time you are asleep. For the treatment of rheumatism, weak back, nervousness, stomach, liver and kidney disorders, varicocele, and losses, it is incomparable. Dr. Lorenz Dry Cell Storage Battery is a high-grade battery, requires no charging with vinegar or acids, is 800 per cent easier applied, gives 400 per cent greater service, and is sold at a low price without added cost for fancy books.

ASKS DAMAGES FROM CITY.

Defective Bridge Over Amity Creek Cause of Action.

John Cosgrove filed notice of a claim for $500 damages against the city yesterday afternoon at the city clerk's office. He alleges that the city negligently allowed the bridge over Amity creek near Colbyville to become defective and that as a result it gave way while he was driving over it with a load of coal, precipitating him and the load into the creek. He sustained two broken ribs and was otherwise injured and bruised.

APPRECIATES THE DULUTH WEATHER

George H. Schulenberg Returns From Grocers' Meeting at Louisville.

The fact that "It's cool in Duluth" never made such a big hit with George H. Schulenburg, president of the Minnesota Grocers' association, as it does right now. Mr. Schulenburg has just returned from Louisville, Ky., where he attended the annual convention of the National Retail Grocers' association.

"I was never so glad to get back to Duluth as I was when I returned from Louisville," said Mr. Schulenburg this morning. "I spent only one night in a Louisville hotel and four in a Pullman sleeper. It was not because I am so fond of sleepers but because I chose the lesser of two evils. I was anxious to get back to Duluth where it was cool."

One of the questions widely discussed at the national convention was the bankruptcy law, Mr. Schulenburg says. The grocers do not oppose it on general principles, but because so many use it as a loophole to avoid paying their grocery bill. A dead-beat can owe $200 and get a clean slate for $50, he said.

Mr. Schulenburg said that Minnesota and Wisconsin were well represented at the meeting. Several delegates were present from the Twin Cities and two from Superior. Mr. Schulenburg was the only Duluth representative.

The grocers, like many other organizations, chose San Francisco for next year's meeting place.

FIVE FRESHMEN UNDER ARREST

Charged With Shooting Cadet Bowlus During Hazing Row.

Annapolis, Md., May 27.—Five members of the freshman class at St. John's military college were arrested yesterday afternoon charged with shooting Cadet William R. Bowlus of the junior class when he and several classmates went to a freshman room in an alleged attempt to haze the freshmen.

The cadets arrested are: John W. Noble, Preston, Md.; Henry L. Valdes, Havana, Cuba; Reginald A. Jones, Cambridge, Md.; George W. Weaver, Auburn, N. Y., and Fendall Marbury, Baltimore. All were released under $1,500 bail each for a hearing on June 9. The boys refused to tell who fired the pistol.

Young Bowlus, who was at first thought to be only slightly injured, is now in a hospital and it is feared he may not recover. An operation was performed yesterday, when it was found that his intentines had been perforated by the bullet.

WILL NOT APPLY TO LABOR UNIONS

Democrats Agree to Except Them From Anti-Trust Laws.

Washington, May 27.—Opposition within the Democratic ranks to the demand of labor for amendments to the omnibus anti-trust bill virtually collapsed yesterday while the house was concluding general debate on the measure. Conferences at the White House and at the capitol resulted in an understanding that when the house resumes final consideration of the bill Thursday under the "five minute" rule, Democratic members of the judiciary committee will be solidly behind an amendment providing that labor, fraternal, agricultural or consumers' organizations "shall not be held or construed to be illegal combinations in the restraint of trade under the anti-trust laws."

None of the acts specified in section 18, forbidding injunctions against peaceable strikes and boycotts, "shall be construed or held to be unlawful."

PEDDLER'S FAMILY HELD AT QUEBEC.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—After two years' work as a peddler, during which period he amassed enough money to bring his wife and four children from Russia to the United States, J. Fishman of Grand Forks may be disappointed, for his family was stopped by the immigration authorities at Quebec yesterday. The immigration physicians found that three of the children are suffering from eye trouble, and their condition is such that they may not be admitted to the country.

Change Mail Routing.

Cando, N. D., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Instructions have been given to postmasters on this line of the Great Northern to route all Canadian mail via Cando and Brandon, instead of sending it by way of Grand Forks and Winnipeg, as has been the custom.

Grand Forks Graduates.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fifty-seven will graduate from the Grand Forks high school this year, the list being announced today. The commencement exercises will be held June 4, with the commencement week events beginning Sunday next.

THOUSANDS of women will make notes from this page today as to what they want to wear next Saturday, Decoration Day, and they will be more than delighted with the merchandise when they see it.

18 WEST SUPERIOR ST.

SAID a prominent Duluth lady: "I wish you would always run this store just as you are now running it, for it's a real treat to find such beautiful things at such moderate prices."

FIRST SALE OF IT'S KIND ON RECORD

Never before have the women of Duluth been invited to participate in a sale of this character nor one of such great importance. WE MAKE THIS STATEMENT ADVISEDLY. We are just as well aware as you are that Duluth is a wonderful shopping center—that her great stores from time to time have legitimate occasion to offer you some truly remarkable bargains which you are not slow to take advantage of. Yet we wish to impress the fact that this sale cannot be judged by any other in Duluth's merchandising history.

SUCH BEAUTIFUL MERCHANDISE AT SUCH LOW PRICES HAS NEVER BEEN KNOWN

IN OUR COAT SECTION

Never in the history of coat selling have we had such wonderful values in smart wraps and coats for evening, afternoon, street, motor and traveling wear. In this collection are many coats of imported silks—moires, taffetas, silk poplins, brocades, chiffons, eponges and charmeuses—made in the most effective and charming styles that women will adore.

Woman's Realm

At this time, when Duluth is planning a midsummer festival, the work being done by women in connection with the Panama-Pacific exposition is of interest.

There is no "board of lady managers," but there is a "woman's board" that is incorporated and is officially a sub-committee of the exposition. This board does nothing of importance without conferring with a special committee of the men's board. In this way there is no waste of time and money and no confusion. The men and women in this undertaking have shown the value of efficient co-operation.

Although the woman's board is connected with every department of the exposition, it has taken upon itself two definite obligations. One is the maintenance of the California Host building, the other is the organization of a non-sectarian, non-political travelers' aid that will insure guidance, comfort and protection to visitors to the West in 1915, particularly to young persons.

A significant feature of the Panama-Pacific exposition will be the absence of a "woman's building." This innovation is not the result of a demand or even a request from the women who are helping make the exposition, although it would be in keeping with the status of women in California and the big outlook of the West. Director General Skiff, who has had a wealth of experience in former expositions, announced his determination to have exhibits where they belong and barred segregation, holding women were entitled to the same treatment as men. Needless to say, this policy of Mr. Skiff promptly endeared him to the women of California.

RECITAL.

Wally Heymar George and Local Artists in Program.

The first of two recitals arranged by the Philathea class and the Sunday school of the First Presbyterian church was given last evening in the Sunday school rooms of the church. Wally Heymar George of Chicago was greeted enthusiastically by those who had heard her play during her residence in Duluth. Mrs. George's solo numbers were "Romance and Rondo," Wieniawski; "Melodie," Vieuxtemps, and "Rondo Capriccioso," Rehfield. The violin, upon which she played so charmingly, was made by her husband.

Flegler's "Love Song," "Kamenoi Ostrow," by Rubenstein, and "A La Blenaimee," by Edward Schutt were given as trios by Wally Heymar George, Florence L. Ter Bush, cellist, and Miss Ruth Alta Rogers, pianist. In the trio, "Coronation March," by Meyerbeer, Miss Madeline Miller was at the piano.

Under the direction of Miss Ruth Alta Rogers two choruses were sung, "Praise His Name" and "Blessing and Honor," both by Spohr. Solos and obligatos were sung by Miss Elizabeth Maddox, Phillip Gordon Brown and John R. Batchelor.

Miss Agnes Mae Johnson was pleasing in her readings, "The Second Settler's Story," by Will Carleton, "My Ships," by Ella Wheeler Wilcox, and a Swedish dialect poem. As an encore Miss Johnson gave a delightfully humorous number, "In 1492."

The program will be repeated tonight in the Sunday school rooms at 8 o'clock.

Missionary Union.

The time of meeting of the executive board of the Missionary union has been changed from Saturday afternoon to Friday afternoon. This meeting will be held at the Y. W. C. A. at 2 o'clock. Reports will be given by the committees in charge of the work of the summer school of missions to be held June 10 to 16. After the meeting there will be an hour of prayer for the success of the summer school of missions, open to all women who are interested.

NORMANNA FAREWELL

DAVID SODERQUIST.

At the Normanna farewell concert Friday evening at the First Methodist church, David A. Soderquist will sing a group of songs in Swedish, Norwegian and English. He will also sing the solo in Grieg's chorus "Landjkening."

"A Southern Cinderella."

The Azordelyn society presented "A Southern Cinderella," a three-act comedy, in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium last night. The acting of Miss Bessie Simon as Mammy Judy, Miss Ida Berkson as a coquette and Miss Ruth Siegel as Madame Charteris was especially good. Mrs. Harold B. Weinstein coached the young women.

Between the first and second acts Miss Jessie McGhie gave a solo, accompanied by Miss Fanny Karon. During the intermissions music was furnished by the Duluth Mandolin club.

The cast of characters was:

Caroline Hawke, an adventuress, Miss Mary Simon; Katherine Hawke, a treacherous English nurse, Miss Rose Coran; Mammy Judy Johnson, a black Blue Grass widow, Miss Bessie Simon; Miss Johnnie Bell Randolph, a Southern coquettte, Miss Ida Berkson; Rosie Winterberry, a famous settlement worker, Miss Edith Karon; Madame Charteris, an old aristocrat, Miss Ruth Siegel; Enid Bellamy, a Southern Cinderella, Miss Sadie Berkson.

Out-of-Town Guests.

Miss Cordelia A. Paine and Madame Blondin of Carlton, and Miss Thomas of Minneapolis, were entertained at luncheon yesterday by Mrs. Stephen H. Jones.

Apple Blossom Tea.

The annual apple blossom tea of Glen Avon church will be given tomorrow afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Hunter of Hunter's Park.

De Noble-Sevenich.

Invitations have been received in Duluth from Mr. and Mrs. August De Noble of Virginia to the marriage of their daughter, Gertrude Marie, to Paul James Sevenich, at Our Lady of Lourdes church, June 9. Mr. and Mrs. De Noble were formerly residents of Duluth.

Dance at Kitchi Gammi

The dancing club will give its spring dance at the Kitchi Gammi club this evening.

Koterie Club.

The Koterie club gave a theater party at the Lyceum last evening. There were sixteen guests.

Meeting at the Bethel.

The regular meeting at the Bethel will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. H. E. Ramseyer, superintendent of the Bethel, will tell of the convention of missionary workers he attended recently at Cedar Rapids, Iowa. The meeting will be open to all who are interested.

Tepee-Tonka Club.

The Tepee-Tonka club has issued invitations to a dance to be held Friday evening at the Knights of Columbus hall. The dance was to have been given at Maccabee hall, but plans were changed on account of the fire at that place.

Farewell Tea.

Miss Bessie Meyer of 2012 Jefferson street will give a tea tomorrow afternoon in honor of Mrs. W. H. Hoyt and Miss Florence Williams, who will spend the summer in Europe. Miss Williams will leave Duluth June 3 and Mrs. Hoyt some days later.

McLean-Janisch.

Miss Kathleen L. McLean and Gottfried M. Janisch were married this morning at 7 o'clock at the Sacred Heart cathedral. The ceremony was performed by Father O'Donahue. The bride wore a dark green silk suit with hat to match and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. The matron of honor, Mrs. Robert E. Donaldson, wore a blue silk gown and white hat, with corsage bouquet of Aaron Ward roses. Ray Clifford was the best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Janisch went at once to their new home at 728 East Fifth street.

ONE OF BEAUTIES OF HUNGARIAN CAPITAL

COUNTESS FORGACH.

Austria-Hungary has been famous for many generations for the beauty of its women. One of the most beautiful of the titled society women of that country is the Countess Johan Forgach. As Fraulein Ella von Lovassy she played a prominent part in the society of the Hungarian capital before her marriage to the count. Her husband is now the Austrian-Hungarian minister at Dresden and at the Saxon capital as well as in Vienna, Countess Forgach is reckoned one of the greatest of court beauties.

Lodge Notes.

Progressive Rebekah Lodge No. 121 will entertain at cards tomorrow evening at Odd Fellows' temple, Mesaba avenue and West Fourth street. The entertainment will be for members and their friends. The members of the committee in charge are Mrs. John Wodtke, Mrs. John Gribbins and Miss Edith Cade.

* * *

The meeting of Majestic Rebekah lodge No. 60, I. O. O. F., that was to have taken place at the home of Mrs. Albert E. Botsford, 631 East First street, Saturday evening, May 30, has been postponed until June 6. The members of the committee in charge will be Mrs. Botsford, Mrs. Wesley Medd and Mrs. J. F. McDonald.

Clan Entertainment.

At the Clan Stewart hall, corner of Fourth avenue west and First street, the Clan members and their friends will attend a concert, minstrel show and dance this evening. This is the first of a series of entertainments that the clan has planned, ending with the celebration of the six hundredth anniversary of the battle of Bannockburn on the evening of June 24.

This evening a good musical program will be given and following that the Ebony Exponents of Melody—in other words a minstrel show—will be exhibited under the direction of Richard Jones and Charles Ashby.

SOCIAL EVENING.

Members of Commercial Club and Their Families Will Meet.

The last social evening for the members of the Commercial club and their families will be held at the club rooms tomorrow evening at 8:30 o'clock. There will be dancing and refreshments and the card and billiard rooms will be open for those who wish to play. Those on the committee on arrangements will be Mrs. J. E. Macgregor, Mrs. F. C. Bradbury, Mrs. H. B. Haroldson. Miss Lucille Bradley and Miss Marjorie Ferguson.

Personal Mention.

WILL BE LEADER OF CANADIAN SOCIETY

PRINCESS OF TECK.

The princess of Teck, who will be at the head of the social side of the Canadian government beginning October next, is the daughter of the late duke of Albany, an uncle of King George. She married in 1904 Prince Alexander of Teck, the brother of Queen Mary. She was born in February, 1883, so she is only 31 years old. With her in this picture are her children, Princess May Helen Emma, and Prince Rupert Alexander George Augustus. Another son, born in 1910, died when a few months old.

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Baldwin Players in "Alias Jimmy Valentine."
EMPRESS—Vaudeville.

Amusement Notes.

The Baldwin Players' success continues to grow through the medium of most excellent performances of "Alias Jimmy Valentine" at the Lyceum theater. This play will continue every night for the remainder of the week with a holiday matinee Saturday, Decoration day. There will not be any increase in prices for this matinee notwithstanding that it will be a holiday. Seats are now on sale at the Lyceum box office.

Next week commencing Sunday matinee, the Baldwin Players will present for their third week, "Madame X," which is declared by the critics of three countries—France, America and England—to be the most vital and moving drama since the days when Clara Morris so moved the hearts of her hearers in "Article 47," or since the immortal Sarah Bernhardt was in her prime as the central character of the great Sardou plays—"La Tosca," "Giaconda," "Fedora" and "Cleopatra." "Madame X" tells in a simple sincere fashion a wonderfully realistic story of a mother's sacrifices, a story that moves the least impressionable in spite of themselves, and that is calculated to bring tears to the traditional graven image. Mr. Baldwin will produce this sterling work here exactly as in New York with one of the finest acting stock organizations in recent years.

Lorna Jackson, who assumes the principal role in the musical frivolity "On the College Campus" at the Empress vaudeville for the first half of this week, gives below her views on flirtation, about which she should be well informed, having to play the role of a "College Widow."

"Don't be shocked if you find yourself flirting, it is a perfectly natural impulse.

"If you want to study a man, flirt with him.

"It is a defective woman who tries to break hearts.

"Flirtation is one of the best mental exercises.

"You must flirt with a man to understand him, and you must understand him to do him justice.

"Flirting creates an insight into human nature.

"Capable flirtation calls for mental exertion.

"Women take delight in conquest—so do men—this is a deep seated instinct in all animated beings.

"Some women wouldn't flirt if there were no third party to look on.

"A man who flirts to arouse jealousy, is giving way to the primitive instinct of combat.

"There is as much difference in flirting as there is in table d'hotes.

"Flirting to one girl is mental exercise, to another it is cunning torture.

"The man who flirts from a mercenary motive is a rare bird."

Miss Jackson and the Rah Rah Boys with whom she does considerable flirting, with the other three acts on the Empress vaudeville program will close their engagement with the two performances tonight.

Tomorrow at the Empress theater a new program of four acts and three reels of pictures will be the attraction for the rest of the week. The acts booked are: "The Minstrel Four," a comedy singing quartet; Dalto Freeze company, offering novelty; "The Troublesome Career of Happy Hooligan;" the Petite sisters, two pretty girls who sing and dance, and the violin virtuso Madelyn Sack.

FIRE DRILLS AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

Fire drills will be conducted at the Central high school periodically from now on, according to a rule which has been adopted by the board of education.

Announcement was made to the student body yesterday and the students were instructed as to how to drill in the event that an alarm was given.

On the sound of the gong, students will leave the rooms in which they may happen to be in a quick, yet orderly manner, and without taking their books. Teachers will follow.

Students bent on having a good time during the progress of drill are liable to immediate expulsion according to Principal Young, who insists that the students consider the drill a serious affair in every way.

The first fire drill is expected at any time.

SAVES DROWNING GIRL.

Oliver Grettum Rescues Lulu Bue From Waters of Bay.

Oliver Grettum, an employe of the city engineering department, saved Lulu Bue, 7 years old, from drowning in the bay south of the ship canal Saturday. The girl fell off the dock on which she was playing. Grettum jumped in after her and handed her to another member of the engineering crew who was working in the vicinity.

FAIRMOUNT, N. D., TO SECURE GOPHER MILL.

Fairmount, N. D., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fairmount will get a flour mill of 300 barrels capacity daily, as the mill at Wheaton, Minn., will be moved here.

A. E. Jemander of the company, has spent several days here making preliminary arrangements for the establishment of the industry.

Boy's Sanity Questioned.

Velva, N. D., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Burdel Barringer, aged 18, has been taken to the county jail for observation as to his sanity. The young man has been acting in a peculiar manner and recently pointed a loaded gun at his sister, Mrs. Coller, and threatened to shoot her.

Overcome by Heat.

La Crosse, Wis., May 27.—Ingvald Larson, fireman of a stationary boiler at the Burlington shops at Grand Crossing, was overcome by the heat yesterday afternoon while at work in the shop. Dr. Suiter was called, who took the man to the La Crosse hospital, where he lay unconscious until late in the evening.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Don't Discourage Your Friends With Sympathy.

Among a lot of useless and nonsensical remarks made in daily conversation are a number that unintentionally, perhaps, give a little pain and unhappiness. Positively there should be a law against many of them they are so upsetting. Anyone who hasn't more tact than to loudly exclaim, "My, how thin you are getting," except to a fat person who may enjoy the remark, deserves severe censure.

There is nothing the thin person resents more than an allusion to his or her thinness. You cannot blame the thin person. If the emaciated one denies the charge, the acquaintance insists: "Oh, but you are, you know. You may not notice it but to me it is very apparent."

And then there are other old saws that people generally make use of it. I don't know whether it is done out of a clear and sympathetic conscience that imagines weaknesses where they do not exist or whether it is employed most commonly to make talk. But, "How tired you look," and "How positively ill you appear," and others on the same plane are forever being hurled at people.

The thin woman does not wish to be reminded of her leanness, the fat man of his flesh, or the sick person of his illness, to the exclusion of every other topic, any more than a deformed person would enjoy having his misfortunes constantly thrown in his face.

A man whose illness covered a period of years, but who attended to his business all the time, protested to me not long ago that his friends would not let him get well. They are everlastingly inquiring about his health and commenting on his appearance in his hearing. Their tones are so mournful and dubious that they cause his spirits to sink within him and worked him into a morbid state of mind.

Let the thin woman and the fat man be as they are in peace. Rather encourage them by remarking to the one that she is much stouter than she has been and to the other that he looks as though he had lost twenty pounds. Believe me, this is the proper way to sympathize with folks. And to an ailing creature, whether you believe it or not, assure him of his marked improvement, instead of studying him to detect a single little backward tendency over which to morbidly comment and set him worrying.

A REAL MARKET AT LAST.

The best piece of local news we have heard in some time was the item in The Herald last evening that arrangements had been made to turn over for market purposes the entire ground floor of the Armory.

Those interested in agricultural developments hereabouts had insisted that this must be done, while some of the city commissioners insisted that it couldn't be done.

It turned out that it could be done, and it will be done. The stumbling block was the apparent lack of a place to put the public works outfit that has been cluttering up the market place, and that lack has been supplied by Mr. Fitger, who will let the city use a large barn on East Superior street at a merely nominal rent.

The city will clean the market place and put it in order, and promises to have it ready by the time the early market garden products begin to come in.

This will give the market a real chance. It will give the growers a real chance. What comes of it will depend largely upon them—though almost as much on the consumers, because markets are useless without buyers. If the growers prepare their products attractively and charge reasonable prices, the market and growing for the market will both be successful.

Incidentally, we hope the city will also think to prepare a rest-room for the farmers' wives, which can be done at trifling expense.

THE WORLD'S BEST SELLER.

At the recent annual meeting of the American Bible society its reports showed that the last year's sale of Bibles was the greatest on record. During the twelve months the society put out 5,251,176 copies of this book which crystallizes the world's hope; and this was an increase of nearly a million and a quarter over the preceding year.

During the ninety-eight years of the society's history it has sold more than a million copies of the Bible each year, on the average, and it is estimated that when the society's hundred years is completed in 1916 the total issue will be about a hundred and twenty million copies.

Thus the Bible not only remains the world's best seller, but its sales are increasing with great rapidity.

And we hope that every Bible sold was bought to be read and studied—not merely for decorative or advertising purposes, to be left neglected in a conspicuous spot.

REGULATING RAILROAD SECURITIES.

In many respects the most important of the corporation bills before congress is the bill providing for Federal regulation of railroad securities.

Under this measure, railroads would have to get the consent of the interstate commerce commission before issuing stocks or bonds, and in order to get that consent it would be necessary to convince the commission that the securities were to be issued for a legitimate purpose and in a proper amount. Obviously, the commission would not give its consent to the issuance of watered securities.

The benefits of this would be twofold, and far reaching.

First, it would tend to assure the public against being called upon to pay interest and dividends on watered securities, and thus would go far toward solving the rate problem.

Second, it would put the stamp of government approval upon railroad securities, and thus make it easy to market them on fair terms.

It would, in short, benefit both the public and the railroads in very important and very necessary ways.

Briefly, the requirements of the bill are as follows: Carriers proposing to issue securities would have to notify the commission, giving full particulars, including the amount of securities then outstanding, the amount of the proposed issue and its par value, the disposition to be made of the proceeds, preference rights, etc. In the case of notes maturing within a year this information must be furnished within ten days after issue; in all other cases it would be a prerequisite to issue. Securities could be issued only for extensions and improvements, increasing and improving equipment, refunding existing bonds, and "similar and kindred purposes." State authorities would be given notice, and would have a right to be heard. The securities could not be issued until the commission had authorized them. Unauthorized issues could be enjoined by the government or by any stockholder, and fines and imprisonment are proposed for railroad officials making unauthorized issues. The commission, in investigating proposed issues, would have access to all books and records of the railroad, and authority to compel persons having financial transactions with railroads to submit their books also.

This same bill carries the provision that after two years interlocking of directors among railroads shall be unlawful except upon the previous approval of the commission.

This bill, which is now before the house, is one that should certainly be enacted.

MEDIATION PROGRESS.

The mediation of so complex and touchy an affair as the Mexican situation is a delicate task, and it will not be ended until it is over. When a thing that seems like a trifle may at any time overthrow all the work that has been carefully done, jubilation will be premature until the work is completed and accepted on all sides.

But, in the meantime, it is fair to say that thus far the success that has attended the deliberations of the mediators has surprised everybody. It has confounded the critics of the mediation plan, who were few and foolish, being blinded by Bull Moose or G. O. P. partisanship.

When mediation was arranged, The Herald said that it was a splendid thing even if no direct good came of it, because it would go far to adjust on a kindlier basis our relationships with Latin-America.

Now it looks not only possible but probable that not this good alone, but the good of permanent peace in Mexico, may come out of it.

THE POLITICAL PESSIMIST.

We find this in a letter in a Boston newspaper:

> Trade is rapidly declining. Immigrants vamoose as fast as others come in. The unemployed continue numerous. Western farmers, denied the human right of selling their grains in neighboring states, are in a mood not far from insurrectionary. Many great plants are shut down.

Now listen to the chorus of political pessimists—the sort of people who, when their party is out of power, are willing to wreck the whole fabric of American prosperity if by so doing they can get their party back into power by convincing the public that the party in power is not fit to rule.

"There's a sample of your Democratic prosperity," they will exclaim. "We never knew it to fail: put in the Democrats and you get hard times; put in the Republicans and you get good times." (They forget about 1907, of course.)

Republican leaders are seizing upon and magnifying every possible excuse for declaring that times are hard and business bad, in the face of the fact that the country over industry is reviving rapidly, employment is increasing, the crop outlook is splendid, and a reign of prosperity is plainly setting in.

Republican leaders would seize upon this letter as part of their campaign stock in trade, if it were not for the fact that it comes from Ottawa, Canada, and refers to conditions in that country, not in this. It goes on to say that stock in the Canadian Pacific railway is away down because traffic has fallen off at the rate of millions annually.

The date-line on that letter must have been a bitter disappointment to the out-of-office politicians who read it with eager interest.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS.

11.—The Dog Tax.

This amendment authorizes a special state tax on dogs, the proceeds to go into a fund to pay "damages sustained by owners of domestic animals by reason of injuries caused by dogs."

Doubtless this would be a good thing for farmers. They seem to want it. The state as a whole would be harmed not at all if the taxes raised from dogs could be diverted to the relief of farmers injured by marauding canines. There can be no particular objection to the ratification of this amendment.

However, there is small chance that it will be ratified, and the legislature deserves condemnation for loading up the ballot with a matter that is relatively trifling when that means jeopardizing the chances of amendments of the highest importance.

Everybody Talks About Money and Disease

The Argonaut: Henry Cabot Lodge tells us in his volume of reminiscences that manners have changed a good deal since he was young. He was taught and vigorously taught that he must never refer to physical ailments in general company and that it was the height of vulgarity to speak of money or of the cost of anything. But all that has now been changed. Money talk is as common around the social board as it is in congress, and as for physical ailments there is simply no line drawn anywhere.

Well, what else shall we talk about? Conversation is necessarily confined to the topics that interest us, to the things that we understand, and in this particular year of grace, of progressivism and of reform we are interested in nothing and we understand nothing but money and disease.

Charles Eliot Norton tells us that toward the end of his life it became impossible to collect half a dozen or so persons who could pass a few hours in intelligent conversation, and this was in Boston. It would be much more impossible now, if there can be such thing as degrees of impossibility.

Disease as a topic of conversation is due first of all to an increase in individual selfishness, which in its turn leads us to a coarsening of mental fiber. The conventional question of "How do you do?" is no longer accepted as a greeting of courtesy. It is regarded as a serious pathological inquiry, and the woman to whom it is addressed considers it necessary to enter into minute and delicate revelations that would bring qualms to the stomach of a crocodile and a blush to the cheeks of a satyr.

Vocational Prohibition.

Louisville Courier-Journal: The Hospital, a London contemporary and colleague of the Lancet, whose popular articles upon scientific subjects are famous, discusses the special ailments and diseases to which aviators are subject and says:

> Great stress is rightly laid upon the prime necessity of keeping absolutely fit physically, and upon the folly of making an ascent if there is the slightest symptom of ill health or even of temporary mild indisposition. The importance of avoiding tobacco and alcohol is also noted. Aviation is no business for weaklings, and no one should go in for it who has not been passed as thoroughly well equipped constitutionally.

Nor is any other undertaking in which there is any intention to succeed a business for weaklings. Railroad engineers, motormen upon electric cars, officers upon ships, drivers of automobiles are among the employed whose vocations are such that the immediate effect of intoxication is inefficiency where inefficiency may cause catastrophe. But the butcher, the baker, the electric light maker, the doctor, the lawyer, the merchant, the chief of police must keep fit if he would succeed, and must fail if he does not keep fit. Exceptions exist, of course. But they are few. And vocational prohibition, arising from a desire to succeed, and a keen appreciation of the money value of sobriety is lessening the popularity of intemperance among those who have to make their way in the world.

Legislative prohibition is always a failure. Vocational prohibition is in millions of unheard of cases highly successful. The aviator is not the only one who, in the language of Mr. Oakhurst, gambler, "cannot afford" whisky.

The Fun of War.

New York Tribune: A battlefield is not a pleasant spot. Yet it has relieving pictures which soften considerably its own immediate horrors. Unless one realizes this truth it is hard to understand aright such talk as the Evening Post takes from the lips of a 21-year-old convalescent on board the hospital ship Solace. Said he:

> All I want is to get back soon as I can. I'm trying to get the doctor to let me transfer to the Wyoming, so'a I can go down on her. Sure, we all want to go back; we don't want to miss any of the fun.

These are words which a wounded football hero, driven to the side lines, might use. They ring rather harshly on our ears, 2,000 miles from the scene of such "fun" as there has been. Yet there can be little question that they represent the spirit of most soldiering. And if a fighting man fresh from the "horrors of war," himself a victim of them, can treat them so lightheartedly, who are we to weep?

The answer is the old one that the worst horrors of war are not on the battlefield, but in the homes. Any disastrous railroad accident or bad tenement house fire probably holds more immediate horror than the average small engagement. Certainly there is no angle of skill or sport from which their participants can extract cheer. But the father and mother with a son in the roll of "killed" can see about as little "fun" in the most heroic battle as in a bloody, shocking railroad crash. Let us agree that pride counts for something. It is a poor substitute for a boy snuffed out in the "sport" of battle. There lies the true horror of war.

Just One President After Another.

From Life: Across the aromatic coffee fields the tremulous note of the ruby throated hacienda came throbbing.

Far in the distance the snow-capped peaks of the Sierra Madres rose against the cerulean. None genuine without the cerulean.

Lounging on the chaparrista in the shade of a concarne bush, the traveler questioned his native guide.

"Jose, who is the man they are taking out to shoot?"

"He is our president, senor."

"And who was the man they shot just ahead of him?"

"He was our president yesterday."

"Where are all those soldiers going, scattered over the buenavista?"

"They are looking for Miguel Formalda, senor. Miguel will be president tomorrow and he has gone into hiding."

"A strange people you are," said the traveler. "Tell me about the fellow who is kicking a mule in the ribs yonder by the corral."

"There is little to tell about him, senor. He is only Pedro Tomado. He will be president day after tomorrow."

On the evening breeze came the faint tinkle of the upas bell as the mesquite herds wound slowly o'er the pizarro.

Too Much for Him.

Harper's Monthly: A Methodist bishop in the Northwest tells of a conversation he once had with a Wyoming man touching certain difficulties of the latter's religious tenets.

"Bishop," said the naive Westerner, "I do not refuse to believe the story of the ark. I can accept the ark's great size, its odd shape and the vast number of animals it contained, but when I am asked to believe that the children of Israel carried this unwieldly thing for forty years in the wilderness I must confess that my faith breaks down."

The Hard Luck of Wilson's Critics

Editorial in Life.

Irresistible—emotions of sympathy compel us to offer condolences to the neighbors, all and several, who are trying to respond to the obligation laid upon them by the political leanings of their constituents to demonstrate that the administration is wrong in everything it has done or is trying to do about Mexico. Our critical friends are in bad in this matter, and the farther in they get the worse it looks for them. The general purposes of the president are so sound, and so heartily supported by the general sentiment of the country, that it has seemed imprudent, even for his most zealous opponents, to attack them indiscriminately. But the critics are strong on technicalities, beginning with the refusal to recognize Huerta, and including everything that has happened since, down to the alleged confiscation of Lobos Island.

But they don't seem to get ahead any. Somebody ought to tell them about the great Dutch hero who never won a battle nor lost a cause. Heaven knows whether Mr. Wilson has been right or wrong about his details, but in his main contention and aspirations he has been so sound that details could not wreck him.

When technicalities have become a disease of the mind, the mind so affected can see nothing else, but usually there is something else which normal minds cannot help seeing. Nelson O'Shaughnessy, lately first secretary of our legation in Mexico, seems to have a fairly normal mind. When he got to Washington he saw the president, and he is quoted as saying:

"I was tremendously impressed with the clarity of his views and with the results of the thought he has given to the Mexican problem. He knows what he wishes to do, has a very clear idea of how to carry out his purposes, and I believe his policy not only is the right one, but the one that will bring about permanent peace in Mexico."

Others have had the same impression, but Mr. O'Shaughnessy has had a fairly good chance to see the Mexican side of things and his testimony carries special weight.

At least it carries weight with the dispassionate. Whether it will assuage any of the griefs of professional mourners of the old-style Republican stripe, or of the Bull Moose variety, is impossible to say, but perhaps when the procession of the reconciled becomes long enough, they will join it.

Rockefeller and the Trapper

Houston Chronicle: Away back in 1892 William Rockefeller, the oil magnate, bought for himself some 50,000 acres of land in and around the town of Brandon, N. Y. He wished to make a game preserve something after the fashion of European titled men, where he could rest, hunt, or fish at his leisure and to the exclusion of the public.

The oil magnate's ambitious scheme grew to completeness except for one annoying detail. In the midst of the vast tract which he purchased was a small plat of ground where an old trapper dwelt in happy isolation, and this the owner refused to sell. It was his home, and he wished to pass the remainder of his waning life in the midst of the forests and mountains he had learned to love and from which he had exacted a humble living.

Mr. Rockefeller coaxed, cajoled, wheedled, and threatened, but to no avail. Finally he tried persecution.

On his great preserve he caused to be posted some 3,000 signs warning all persons in no unmistakable terms that it was private property and that all trespassing, hunting, and fishing were strictly forbidden.

Oliver Lamora, the owner of the plat and the cabin, had to live, to eat, like other men, so he committed the unpardonable crime of catching for himself some fish in one of the streams that passed through the restricted preserve. For this he was arrested and haled before the court. Morally it was persecution, but legally the agents of the magnate hoped to be able to force him out. They were unsuccessful, for, despite its other weaknesses and injustices, the New York law prohibits the restriction of fishing in streams which are supplied from the state hatcheries, as are those passing through the Rockefeller preserve.

Later Lamora was brought into court on a civil action which charged him with causing damage to the Rockefeller property by trespassing upon it. The case went through all the state tribunals, and, though the oil magnate was awarded damages only to the extent of 18 cents, the costs amounted to $800, which would have forced the old trapper into bankruptcy had not his friends come to the rescue.

Then the trapper died—somehow it comes every man's turn to die—and his property went to a son, who, rather than continue the unequal struggle, sold out to William Rockefeller, who himself is nearing the great gate that leads to eternity. In this strife of more than twenty years the rich man has won his point, but the poor trapper has won a greater thing than that—the sympathy of every person familiar with the transaction, and a record that reads cleaner than that of his adversary.

Real and Ideal.

This life is a wonderful thing
As we who are living it know,
For some of us chuckle and sing
While others are weighted with woe;
There's nothing as bright as it seems
And little as dark as it looks,
Yet it isn't so vexing
And strange and perplexing
And queer as they make it in books.

The world is a wonderful place
Whose marvels will never be known;
To some full of beauty and grace,
To others a horror in stone.
There's magic in sunshine and cloud
And music in breezes and brooks,
But perhaps it's as well on
The whole we don't dwell on
The world as it's painted in books.

And Love's a mysterious force,
With springs in abysses profound,
That guides every star in its course
And lightens the earth's weary round;
It batters all barriers down
That separate nobles and cooks,
Yet in life Master Cupid
Is feeble and stupid,
Compared with his portrait in books.

The girl is a treasure whose worth
'Twere vain to attempt to declare,
There's nothing that's precious on earth
That can with her value compare;
She charms by her science and art,
And lures by the dainties she cooks,
But good-by to her lover
If he should discover
The goddess depicted in books.

Atlanta Constitution: A newspaper headline informs us that "Edison Obeys His Wife." This increases our admiration for the wisdom of the wonder-worker.

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—In making parliamentary rulings in the house of representatives, the speaker is governed largely by precedent. The plan of going according to precedent is in itself a matter of precedent. Thus the speaker is not so much concerned with what is the best line of procedure right now as with what was done in such a situation a great many years ago—just as a lawyer trying to settle a ditch case will get down a set of books and try to find what Vespasian or Moses would have done in similar circumstances.

From time to time, when the speaker becomes too bored with his job of presiding to stand it any longer, he slides out and appoints some other member to stay in juxtaposition to the lid until he returns. Almost any member is tickled half to death to do this, just as every little child, when playing school, wants to be the teacher and sit up in front with a big stick.

Now if a number of years ago, a crazy man happened to be in the chair for the moment, and made a ruling on some new angle of parliamentary discussion, that ruling would form a precedent. If the same situation arose in the house today, Bennett Clark, the parliamentary clerk, searching for a precedent, would dig up that crazy man's ruling in less time than it takes here to tell it—for a mighty efficient and wise young person is Bennett Clark.

A few days ago Mr. "Alfalfa Bill" Murray of Oklahoma was in the chair. Mr. "Alfalfa Bill" used to be speaker of the house in Oklahoma and knows a good deal about parliamentary law. Before he left the chair he made an Oklahoma ruling. There arose a dispute on the floor as to whether a certain amendment was in order. Acting according to the precedents at hand, Murray ruled that the precedent was in order. Then some member gayly offered an amendment to the amendment, and Murray said that would be all right, too. This provoked further disputation on the floor and nearly everybody was disagreeing with somebody else.

"As a matter of fact," commented Acting Speaker Murray, "I am convinced that neither the amendment nor the amendment to the amendment was in order at all, but I have ruled that both were in order, and so we are going to proceed this afternoon on that basis."

If we were a cartoonist, the first thing we would do would be to draw a picture of Senator John Sharp Williams' face as it looked on the street car a few mornings ago.

Senators who persist in riding on street cars along with the general run of people, instead of dashing about in large, richly upholstered limousine cars, simply have to stand for the consequences; and that is what John Sharp Williams was doing that morning.

A brisk young man with the air of a person who keenly desires something, sat down in the vacant seat beside Williams and began to engage him in conversation.

"I've been wanting to see you for a long time about a matter," began the young man, and his face beamed. But Williams' face did not beam.

"Here's something that will interest you," went on the young man, chuckling, and slapping his thigh with one hand, while he pulled a dull-looking document from an side pocket with the other.

The young man read a few passages from the document while the senator intently studied the language of a corset advertisement at the top of the car.

"Can you beat that?" gurgled the young man. "Now the position our people take in the matter is—"

And he was pulling another dreary looking paper from his pocket.

By that time everybody in the car was fascinated by the look on John Sharp Williams' face. It wore an expression that should have been preserved to posterity, with some such title as this:

"Portrait Study of a Man Looking Entirely Disinterested."

"Uncle Hank" Barnhart, member of congress from Indiana, is a great mimic and also likes to go to church. In addition, he has an exceptionally good memory. He can go to church and memorize the entire sermon. Every Sunday Barnhart returns to his hotel full of enthusiasm over the sermon he has just heard, and starts in to repeat it word for word just as the man said it. He gives not only a verbatim report of the sermon, but has the minister's every intonation and gesture.

The consequence of this is that Barnhart is practically the only person at this hotel who ever goes to church. All the others figure that there is little use going when they can sit on the front veranda and have the sermon fetched right to them by Barnhart.

Uncle Jeremiah Donovan, member of congress from Connecticut, is a great kidder in a quiet, serious way. One afternoon a visitor dropped into his office and offered him a cigar. Donovan explained that he doesn't smoke.

"Mebby your secretary smokes," suggested the caller, affably.

"Mebby he does," observed Donovan; "he doesn't do anything else."

The Doctor Scores.

Atlanta Journal: "Not long ago," said a Washington lawyer, "I attended a trial in Baltimore, during the course of which there was summoned as witness a youthful physician.

"It was natural, of course, that counsel for the other side should, in cross-examination, seize the occasion to utter certain sarcastic remarks touching the knowledge and skill of so young a doctor.

"Are you," demanded the lawyer, "entirely familiar with the symptoms of concussion of the brain?"

"Yes, sir."

"Then," continued the lawyer, "I should like to ask your opinion of a hypothetical case. Were my learned friend, Mr. Reed, and myself to bang our heads together, should we get concussion of the brain?"

"Mr. Reed might," smiled the youthful physician.

Such Self-Consciousness.

New York Globe: An egotistical man who believes himself the center, the object and the cause of everything that exists and everything that takes place [illegible] to his friend one day:

"[illegible] only to me that such misfortu[illegible]pen."

"[illegible] asked the friend, "is the matter?"

"Don't you see that it is raining?" he answered.

Standing By the President

The Minnesota Press of All Parties Back of Wilson.

Men, Not Parties.

Park Rapids Enterprise: It is not the Democratic party that is doing things in congress, it is Wilson, a man with a personality and sufficient brains to originate and force through measures that he believes to be for the best good and honor of the nation. These are times when men, not parties, are most needed, and the country is fast coming to a realization of this situation.

Quite So.

Hibbing Mesaba Ore: The Republican newspapers say unkindly things about President Wilson because he insists upon legislation that is best for the people as a whole, and refer to him as the boss. Likely enough he is a boss, but it were better to have Wilson as boss, doing the things he is doing, than some of the other bosses that have run the government at the dictation of the representatives of the big interests.

And They Are Forced.

Willmar Tribune: It is a year since Woodrow Wilson took the oath of office as president. He has already made a record that entitles him to be classed among the great presidents of the republic. This is conceded by members of all parties who are not narrowly partisan.

Not Very Likely.

Pillager Herald: The harmony that President Wilson has maintained between himself and the Democratic leaders in congress and elsewhere from a disciplinary standpoint has been truly admirable up to within a few weeks. The question of providing for free tolls in coastwise trade through the Panama canal seems to be the first serious split that threatens. President Wilson previously favored the act and in fact approved it, exempting our coastwise trade from tolls through the canal. But Mr. Wilson has now reversed his opinion and wants the act amended so that our boats designated as coastwise trade pay the same toll as boats engaged in foreign commerce, for he has concluded that the exemption would be in violation to a number of treaties with England relating to the canal. Mr. Wilson, it appears, is correct in his assumption but the Democratic congress is bitterly opposed to the change and it seems as if a serious split in the party is sure to result.

And Most People Do.

Chisholm Tribune-Herald: The country is fortunate in having a man of President Wilson's caliber at its head. He is doing all possible to avert war and when one considers the immense cost in human lives, not to mention filthy money, that must be lost in a worse than useless battle we must return thanks for having him as the nation's chief executive.

Certainly, Stand Back of Him!

Le Sueur News: Stand back of the president! Why not? He is not only president, but a remarkable one as well. He is not partisan, he is not a weakling, he is not a fanatic. He is a man, giving his manhood, his best efforts and his life's work to the people of the United States. He is simple and honest. Stand back of him. Why, of course. The man who refuses to do so is not a good citizen. We should be thankful that we have him, the firm, simple and sincere man, with his strong hand on the helm in this hour of danger. He will not falter. If he makes a mistake it will not be from the heart.

The Long, Lonely Way.

Three hundred thousand children died from neglect and want during the last year.—Report of the Children's Bureau, Washington, D. C.

A tired little army, three hundred thousand children,
They creep along together in the middle of the night;
And their shadows, white as sea-foam, can be seen throughout the forest,
Where the trees are thin and shaken and the stars send down their light.

Oh! the little faces tearful, and the baby hands so tiny,
And the dimpled feet that falter as they walk through ice and snow!
Ah! the world is cold behind them, and the warmest moonbeams blind them,
For the little hearts are broken, and the way is long to go.

There are rivers, fierce and roaring, caked with icy bits that sparkle,
There are beasts that roam the woodland dales, and snakes that fill the plain;
There are owls up in the treetops, and the whip-poor-will is calling,
Calling to the souls that wander and will ne'er come back again.
There are pitfalls sharp and sudden, in the darkness of the highway.
There are rocks that bruise the little forms that stumble as they creep;
And the starlight's faded glory is reflected red and gory,
On a sunken well of poison that is cruel, wide and deep.

Oh! the world is selfish, thoughtless; so the little souls must wander
To another place more beautiful—the paradise of love.
See, they creep along together, and their shadows white are reaching
To the angel wings before them, and the Father up above.
But the sound of weeping, wailing, can be heard o'er empty cradles,
And the mothers back upon the earth are praying soft and slow;
For the little hearts are tender, and the little limbs are slender,
And the way, O God, is terrible, and long indeed to go.

—Margaret E. Sangster, Jr., in New York Times.

Severity of a Mother.

Lippincott's: A very estimable widow in Germantown, Philadelphia, is the mother of a son who has given her much trouble by reason of his waywardness.

"I am afraid," said a friend one day, in speaking of the boy, "that you are not firm enough with him."

"On the contrary," said the mother. "I sometimes fear that I am much too harsh."

"Indeed!"

"Oh, I don't mean to say," the fond mother hastened to explain, "that I have ever really taken any summary action; but I have talked to him a great deal."

"And what have you said?"

"Why, I have said, 'Richard! Richard!' and other severe things."

Horse Power Cut Down.

Chicago News: A man was fixing his motor car.

"Trouble?" asked a bystander.

"Yes," was the laconic answer.

"What power car is it?"

"Forty horse," came the answer.

"What seems to be the matter with it?"

"Well, from the way she acts I should say that thirty-nine of the horses were dead."

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1894.

At Oneota today the new Methodist Episcopal church was dedicated by Bishop C. H. Fowler. The church society at Oneota is an historic one so far as Duluth is concerned. It was formed in 1856 and is the oldest church organization on the north shore, Rev. James Pest being the first pastor. The original Merritts, Louis H. and Heptzipath, the progenitors of the Oneota Merritts, were the prime movers in the organization, as their descendants have always been up to today, when a Merritt, Lucien F., is the pastor and a large part of the congregation are Merritts. The new church will cost about $18,000, and following is a list of the trustees to whom much of the credit for the work is due: E. H. Hall, president; Lon Merritt, N. B. Merritt, F. A. Swanstrom, I. J. Richardson, D. J. Pearsons, John Culbertson and A. R. Merritt.

Rev. W. T. Hacker will close his pastorate with the First Christian church of Duluth on May 30 and will leave with his family for Salt Lake City, Utah.

Virginia has organized a baseball team for the coming season and elected Dr. William Alden captain, A. E. Bickford secretary and C. C. Helmuth treasurer.

Henry Oberg and B. Bjorseth have been selected delegates to Florida by the Colonization club at West Duluth and left last night for the South.

President Van Horne of the Canadian Pacific railway is now Sir William Van Horne, having been knighted by Queen Victoria.

George Sherman and Miss Emma Tutters were married on May 24 at No. 6 Railroad street, Rev. James Higgins officiating.

The calico dance given last evening by the Order of the Eastern Star was attended by about seventy-five couples. The reception committee consisted of Mrs. W. E. Richardson, Mrs. A. N. McGindley, W. B. Patton and J. H. La Vaque, and the floor was under the direction of J. G. Howard, F. D. Day, F. B. Lazier and E. S. Upham.

A surprise party was given last evening to Mrs. Darling, mother of Capt. J. B. Darling. She is about to remove to Syracuse, N. Y.

Mrs. W. W. Schiffman and family have returned from California, where they have been visiting for the past three months.

When the Bible Is Read Again.

New York Sun: A correspondent complains of a poet who wrote of "Bathsheba," where he had the "Queen of Sheba" in mind, and cries: "I wish there were some power to compel people to read their Bible."

Many persons will echo this wish, for various reasons. The orthodox, because they believe that the letter of the word contains all things necessary for salvation. The great company educators, of every station and degree, because many of them recognize the vast influence for intelligence, knowledge and culture which flows from a familiarity with the language of the King James version of the scriptures. It would be easy to lengthen the list of those who "wish people could be compelled to read the Bible."

Granting all the happy exceptions which seem to prove the rule, the idea is pretty much a vain hope at the moment. It is not improbable that after the present generation of virtual illiterates in this country shall have grown old in their lives of striving to standardize mankind for utilitarian purposes the pendulum will swing back again toward the cultivation of intellectual pursuits, and in any such frame of public opinion consistent reading of and listening to the Bible from childhood to maturity will be sure to reappear. And then a generation will grow up again whose ears will always be filled with the resonance of those reverberating syllables of Scripture which have subconsciously influenced and guided the thought and speech and writing of the more influential among the leaders of opinion during the last century.

The Best Time to Cry.

St. Nicholas: There are millions of children in the world who want to do just the right thing and the very best thing; but they do not always know what just the right thing is, and sometimes they cannot tell the very best thing from the very worst thing.

Now I have often thought that there are children who cry, now and then, at the wrong time; and I have asked many of the older people, but none of them could tell me the best time to cry.

But the other day I met a man older and wiser than any of the rest. He was very old and very wise, and he told me:

It is bad luck to cry on Monday.
To cry on Tuesday makes the eyes red.
Crying on Wednesday is bad for children's heads, and for the heads of older people.
It is said that if a child begins to cry on Thursday he will find it hard to stop.
It is not best for children to cry on Friday — it makes them unhappy.
Never cry on Saturday—it is too busy a day.
Tears shed on the Sabbath are salt and bitter.
Children should on no account cry at night; the nights are for sleep.
They may cry whenever else they please, but not at any of these times, unless it is for something serious.

I wrote down the rules just as the old man gave them to me. Of course, they will be of no use to the older boys and girls.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

WHO KNOWS IT?

To the Editor of The Herald:

Will you kindly publish in the Open Court the words of the song, one verse of which is something like this:

We parted at the river side,
The moon shone down on you and me,
The stars were shining ever bright
While the river murmured to the sea.

I am not certain, but I believe the title is "We Parted at the Riverside." An admirer of the valuable Herald.

DID NOT ENJOY THIS PICTURE.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Quite frequently I attend the moving picture shows and derive therefrom not only considerable pleasure, but gain much information as well from the educational features displayed.

Yesterday I witnessed a show in one of the playhouses of the better class. It featured an excellent comedy although some of the scenes might have been left out to its advantage. Then followed a two-reel nondescript miscellany destitute of a vestige of strength, beauty or dignity. It represented a girl of mystery. It was mystical enough—a mysticism that appeals to the infantile mind.

Plays of this type are not uncommon. Why are they presented? It would appear that there is a dearth of available films that portray strong emotional, dramatic and educational themes. Even "variety," that hackneyed answer ever on the lips of the managerial gentry, does not atone for these mediocre presentations. I have conjectured many reasons why this kind of play appears, and a cursory review centers on one that may explain. Whatever is perfect in its kind deserves admiration. If a thing is mystical it might as well be made more so. Working on this principle we have a plausible explanation for it all. Very truly yours,

ARTHUR CROFT.

"THE MOTION PICTURE FIEND."

To the Editor of The Herald:

In the Open Court column of your edition of May 15 the article signed "Sextette" brought to the mind of the writer a similar occurrence which happened at a theater in Spokane, Wash., some two years since. Upon being incessantly annoyed by an exceedingly vociferous person who occupied the seat immediately behind, the writer scribbled the accompanying bit of doggerel verse in his note book and presented the same to his tormentor as he left the theater.

Hoping that the poem, if it be deemed such, meets with your approval, and with the delectation of "Sextette," to whom it is hereby dedicated. Very truly yours,

WILLIAM MACK.

Billings, Mont., May 26.

When you drop into a picture show,
Be it a nickel or a dime,
There will be someone behind you—
Which seems the case most every time,
Who will, no doubt, remind you
Of the schoolboy in his prime.

He will read aloud the notices,
As they flash upon the screen;
Will tell you what they're doing
In almost every scene;
Point out what scheme is brewing
With a countenance serene.

And poor you must sit and bear it,
Enjoy the show as best you can—
Of course you cannot read the type,
Or knowingly the pictures scan,
Less he, with knowledge-bump o'er ripe
Unbag the cat, unfold the plan.

"EXCELSIOR" MODERNIZED.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The shades of night were falling fast,
Street cars were rolling swiftly past;
A youth sought cars for West Duluth
But each car bore a sign, in truth:
"Car House Only!"

"Here comes a car," an old man cried.
"Cans't read the sign upon its side?
My eyes are dim." The car drew nigh,
The youth then read—and heaved a sigh—
'Twas "Car House Only!"

"Try not that car!" the old man said,
"Try not one car until you've read
The signs displayed on front and sides
The sign the waiting crowd derides—
'Car House Only!'"

Beware the vain, elusive lights,
The red, the green, that shine o' nights.
No matter what a car may show,
The red, and blue, and white all go
To "Car House Only!"

Where are signs we've read all day
Upon the cars that speed away?
West Fourth and Piedmont, West Duluth
And East End signs—all changed, forsooth
To "Car House Only!"

East Fourth and Fifty-seventh west,
East Fourth and Grand, like all the rest
Their signs are changed so that they show
That every car will only go
To "Car House Only!"

"Oh, how shall I get home to tea?"
The youth exclaimed. "Alas for me!
My wife expects me home, you know,
'Tis useless if I only go
To 'Car House Only.'"

"My dear young friend," the old man said,
"When for an hour this sign you've read,
And supper's cold and wife is mad,
You'll ride a ways, and walk, by Gad!
From 'Car House Only.'"

SOAP BOX ORATORS ARE ACTIVE AGAIN

Duluth Socialists Open Their Summer Outdoor Campaign.

The soap box orator of the street corner is "in our midst" again and from now on until the close of the summer season persons who happen to be down town in the evening will have the privilege of hearing free discussions on political, social and economic questions.

A large crowd gathered at Second avenue west and Superior street last night when Moses Baritz of Winnipeg, Man., opened the summer campaign under the auspices of the Socialist party of Duluth. His topic was "The Three Fundamentals of Socialism."

Mr. Baritz is a member of the Socialist party of Great Britain and is now on his way to Winnipeg after a tour of England. He is considered by many to be one of the best informed men on the social science aspects of the movement who has ever spoken under the auspices of the local Socialists.

Mr. Baritz will speak tonight on the street on "The Development of Political Government."

BALTIMORE HOTTEST CITY IN THE COUNTRY

Baltimore, Md., May 27.—According to weather bureau reports Baltimore was the hottest city in the United States yesterday. The official maximu mtemperature was 94 degrees at 3 p. m. Two prostrations were reported.

Hot in New York.

New York, May 27.—Yesterday was the hottest day of the year thus far in New York city. Half a dozen prostrations from the heat were reported. Not for thirty-four years has the temperature climbed so high before on May 26 as it did yesterday afternoon when it reached 90 degrees officially and was reported higher in various parts of town. Reports from upstate indicated a general heat wave in the country districts. The mercury rose to 95 in the shade in several places.

Earth Shocks in Sicily.

Catania, Sicily, May 27.— Earth shocks, which have been felt daily since the disastrous earthquake of May 8, became more accentuated here today. Rumors were circulated that a number of persons had lost their lives in the outlying districts, but the official reports made no mention of any casualties.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. FLAATEN

MRS. OLESINA FLAATEN.

The funeral of Mrs. Olesina Flaaten, 64 years old, who died Saturday morning at the home of her son in the Ashtabula flats, was held at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the residence. Interment was at the Forest Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Flaaten had been a resident of Duluth for the last twenty years and was very well known among the older residents of the city, who held her in the highest respect and esteem. She is survived by four sons, four daughters, two sisters and a brother. She had been in poor health for the last six months.

CAR SHORTAGE IS FEARED

Western Roads Unprepared to Handle the Immense Wheat Crop.

Middle and Southwest States Expected to Produce 450,000,000 Bus.

Officials of Western railroads concede that their facilities are likely to prove inadequate to handle the bumper crop of winter wheat that is expected to be harvested within the next few weeks.

The harvesting of the Oklahoma crop, placed at 35,000,000 bushels will begin early next month. The Kansas crop is estimated all the way from 120,000,000 bushels to 165,000,000 bushels. Members of the Omaha grain exchange rate the Nebraska winter wheat crop alone at 70,000,000 bushels, and counting in Illinois, the banner winter wheat states in the Middle West and Southwest are expected to produce 450,000,000 bushels of that crop alone this season. Making every allowance for possible deterioration through Hessian fly ravages and other causes between now and the harvest, it is thought that a winter wheat crop of 550,000,000 to 575,000,000 bushels should be garnered. That would compare with last year's record harvest of 523,000,000 bushels.

As in addition to that the railroads, under normal conditions, will be called upon to move an enormous aggregate tonnage of corn and other coarse grains, an idea is to be gathered as to the extent of the demands certain to be made upon their operating departments during the fall months.

Equipment Run Down.

Some of the railroads are reported to have permitted their equipments to get into bad shape and it is admitted that none of them have purchased their usual quotas of freight cars.

In a belated effort at getting ready for the big movementt the Union Pacific has just placed an order for 900 new freight cars, stipulating that delivery should begin as quickly as possible. The same road has increased the working hours of its forces in the shops and is repairing all cars that can be repaired.

The Northwestern has ordered 800 freight cars and is now making out a tentative schedule of extra freight trains for the grain trade. Burlington officials say their motive power has been kept up to standard and that they have sufficient cars to care for their traffic provided they can prevent other roads from "swiping" them when the rush comes.

What Roads Are Doing.

In answer to the question by the Chicago Tribune, "What preparations is your railroad making to handle this immense crop and what will you do when the big rush comes?" the principal railroads answer as follows:

"We have already arranged tentative schedules to meet the situation and I feel that the Northwestern will be able to deal with the emergency," said General Manager Frank Walters of Northwestern lines west of the Missouri. "Our motive power is in splendid shape. We have 119 oil burning locomotives west of the river right now and twenty-one lignite burning engines. The oil burning locomotives accomplish nearly twice the mileage of the coal burners."

General Freight Agent Lane of the Union Pacific admitted that but little work has been done this year in repairing and keeping up the facilities to meet a heavy movement, but said that Union Pacific would meet the situation when it is reached.

Burlington Is Prepared.

The Burlington railroad realizes just what it will have to meet and is preparing for it. General Freight Agent Holcomb of that line says:

"There is no doubt that we will meet a severe car shortage this fall, if the wheat matures, as seems highly probable. Equipment and facilities on railroads are in bad shape this year, generally speaking, and this will be shown when the rush begins, no doubt. As for the Burlington line, it has enough cars of its own to handle its own business if we can keep them from being swiped. But we can scarcely do that, you know. Our motive power is in good shape—that is one of Mr. Hill's insistent points. There is no question but that there will be a bad condition in traffic out here if we get the wheat we anticipate."

Believes Shippers Will Suffer.

M. C. Markham, assistant to the president of the Missouri Pacific, believes the merchants and shippers will both suffer this fall when the big rush is on.

"The railroads have not been able to increase their equipment and facilities in proportion to the increase in business, and have not even been able to keep their present equipment in good repair," said Mr. Markham. "Both the shippers and the merchants will inevitably suffer during the crop movement."

Rock Island officials take a similar view of conditions during the height of the harvest, but see no help.

All railroaders concur in the opinion that they are squarely "up against" the biggest movement of grain the west has ever known and the railroads themselves are not even up to their normal standard in their preparations to handle this big traffic.

ST. PAUL MAN FOR MANAGER

E. H. Bailey May Head Ninth District Federal Reserve Bank.

Duluth Bankers Hope for Opening Before the Crop Movement Begins.

E. H. Bailey, president of the First National bank St. Paul, is being prominently mentioned as manager of the Ninth district Federal reserve bank at Minneapolis. In St. Paul, the gossip goes so far as to say that Mr. Bailey has been offered the position at a salary of $20,000, and that he has signified his willingness to accept.

Referring to this intimation, David Williams, vice president of the First National bank, said today: "I have heard of Mr. Bailey's name having been put forward as manager of the regional reserve bank. He is an efficient financial man, and I think that his appointment would tend to inspire confidence in the new institution."

Duluth bankers express the hope that the organization arrangements may progress without a hitch so that the regional bank in this district will be ready to open for business at the originally mentioned date, Aug. 1. It is pointed out that the advantages of the facilities afforded by the new system during the crop moving period would thus be immediately tested. Relief to the financial strain that has been inseparable so far with the marketing of the crops would be effected by the ability of member banks to rediscount their paper with the Federal reserve bank. The new currency issued to the banks against the deposited collateral is expected to amply provide for all the increased needs of hand-to-hand money circulation.

LAWLER WOULD VETO SUFFRAGE

Says He Would Also Veto Any County Option Bill.

St. Paul, Minn., May 27.—D. W. Lawler, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, will, if elected, veto any woman suffrage and county option measure that comes before him, according to a letter, copies of which he gave out yesterday.

The letter is written to Mrs. L. A. Hamlin, executive chairman of the woman suffrage state central committee.

He says in the letter: "If elected governor I would veto any woman suffrage bill passed by the next legislature. For the same reason I would veto a county option bill."

EASTMAN COMPANY'S WARFARE ON RIVALS.

Rochester, N. Y., May 27.—Testimony designed to show that the Eastman Kodak company prevented the Nepera Camera company, formerly of Yonkers, from securing raw materials of the quality and quantity necessary to its manufacturing business, and that a system of rebating dealers who did not sell goods other than Eastman goods, practically drove the American Selftoning Paper company of Newark into bankruptcy, was offered yesterday by the government in its equity suit against the Eastman Kodak company, as a combination in restraint of trade under the terms of the Sherman law.

the report was adopted by the assembly.

Full Attendance.

The report of the board of home missions, expected to develop the most intense contest of the assembly, brought to the convention hall today the full concourse of more than 900 commissioners. With the single purpose of upholding the arms of the church, but with radically divergent views, the commissioners gave unusual earnestness to the opening devotions before plunging into the main business of the day.

The desires of the commissioners who for years have been working for a change were expressed last night by Dr. Charles L. Thompson, secretary of the board for many years, in an address at the regular popular meeting.

"Our great need is standardization of our home mission work, reconstruction of the organization and its adaptation to the progress of the country," said Dr. Thompson. "The bell has rung and the whistle has blown, and it is time for all to get on board."

Administration Indorsed.

The assembly yesterday adopted these recommendations:

"We strongly indorse the enactment into law of the Sheppard-Hobson national prohibition bill now pending before congress.

"We indorse the action of the national administration, the state and navy departments for their activity in behalf of temperance.

"We favor total abstinence for the individual and nation-wide prohibition for the country.

"We urge ministers and laymen to withdraw from all clubs and social organizations which dispense alcoholic liquors.

"We insist that men opposed to the enforcement of moral laws should not be elected or appointed to public offices.

"We appreciate the valuable aid of medical science in this reform and especially the American society for the study of alcohol and other narcotics which for forty-four years has disseminated information on this subject.

The Cigarette Evil.

"We call to attention the disastrous influence of cigarettes upon the habit-forming ages and deprecate their effect on the physical, intellectual and moral life, and call attention to cigarettes as the precursor of the drink and other evil habits.

"We commend Secretary of the Navy Daniels for issuing an order prohibiting naval officers from drinking alcoholic liquor on board their ships.

"The attitude of the national administration toward temperance and the fact that nine states already are under prohibition, and that in seventeen states more than 50 per cent of the citizens live in local option districts, together with the fact that a national prohibition bill is now pending in congress, leads us to believe that the end of the liquor traffic and its many evils is near and may be realized in a decade."

The assembly decided to hold its 127th annual session in Rochester, N. Y., next May.

AMERICAN COLT, OWNED BY HERMAN B. DURYEA, IS WINNER OF DERBY

the classic race with Orby in 1907.

The Derby stakes was established in 1780, but races had taken place on the same course as early as 1640. The stake is valued at $32,500, and is for entire colts and fillies of 3 years old. The course is about one mile and a half in length. For this year's race there were originally 375 entries. The great favorite for this year's race, The Tetrarch, was scratched a few weeks ago.

Durbar II, today's winner, is a bay colt by Rabelais, out of Armenia. He was bred in France.

Heavily Backed by Americans.

Mr. Duryea had great faith in his horse, which was backed for large amounts by the American contingent. The jubilation among the big crowd of trans-Atlantic visitors was distinctly noticeable as the winner was led into the paddock.

King George and Queen Mary were both present, as well as most of the staff of the United States embassy, while distributed about the course were large numbers of Americans from the resident colony as well as from the other side of the Atlantic.

The past glories of the journey by road from London to Epsom departed with the advent of automobiles, and the high spirits usually characterizing the crowd on Derby day were in some degree dampened by the presence of any army of police encamped about the ground and forming lines along the course to prevent any attempt at violence by militant suffragettes. It would have required an airship to circumvent the precautions taken by the police.

Ada Rice, supposed to be a militant suffragette, was arrested on Epsom Downs today after she had discharged a pistol loaded with blank cartridges at a policeman. The powder burned through the policeman's trousers and blistered one of his legs.

Eight Victories for Duryea.

New York, May 27.—H. B. Duryea, one of the most prominent American turfmen, has already a string of eight victories to his credit. The chief of these was the race at Newmarket in 1912, where Sweeper II broke away from the field in a spectacular finish and won by a length. Mr. Duryea bred Bugler, Manthorpe, Banshee and a number of other favorites in English and French races.

Duryea and Harry Payne Whitney have jointly owned a number of horses. He has stables both in England and France and, accompanied by Mrs. Duryea, has been a familiar figure at most of the important races of the last ten years.

Duryea has never been better than seventh in previous Derbys. He took this place with Sweeper II in 1912.

Well-Known Yachtsman.

Formerly Duryea was well known as a yachtsman. He took a leading part in the America's cup races and was identified with the syndicate that helped defend the America's cup some years ago. His interest later turned to horse racing. When the anti-betting laws were passed in this state he started his foreign stables, and since then has spent most of his time abroad.

ENCOURAGING PEACE SIGNS

diplomacy, and it may at any rate be regarded as the most striking development yet witnessed of the Pan-American movement which was formally inaugurated by the first international American at Washington in 1889 and 1890."

Mr. Moore admitted that actual results from arbitration during the past two years had not been remarkable and that the period had been marked by armed conflicts of exceptional destructiveness. Speaking of the last war in the Balkans, he said there was much to indicate that the end of hostilities in that quarter of the globe was not yet in sight.

Three Hundred Present.

Three hundred members are here for this, the twentieth annual conference. They came from all parts of the United States and from Europe and South America. The conference will extend through Friday. On Thursday afternoon five representatives from the intercollegiate peace association will engage in the eighth national oratorical contest of that organization.

The first session was opened by Daniel Smiley, host of the conference. Other speakers were John A. Stewart of New York, chairman of the executive committee of the American Peace Centenary committee; John Stewart Bryan, editor of the Times-Dispatch, and News Leader, of Richmond, Va.; W. W. Willoughby of Johns Hopkins university and Arthur Deerin Call of Washington.

FIRST STAGE OF SIEGE OF GUADALAJARA BY REBELS ACCOMPLISHED

residents of the Yaqui river valley refuse to leave their property in the face of a threatened Mayo-Yaqui Indian war, according to a telegram from Gen. Alvardo to E. S. Elias. The message says W. S. Meade, said to be second in command of the United States ship Annapolis, asked the Americans at Cruz De Pedra if they desired protection. They declined, saying they would stay where they were, as they had guarantees from the Constitutionalists and thus far had been treated with great consideration.

Executed As a Spy.

Mexico City, May 27.—Jesus Morelos, who was known as "Tuerto," a Zapatista leader, who was released from the penitentiary in Mexico City a month ago and left for Morelos to join the Zapata bands, was executed yesterday in Tlaltizapan, by order of Emiliano Zapata, who adjudged him a spy, according to information received here today.

Zapata also executed Joaquin Miranda, another revolutionary leader, who served the government at the beginning of the Huerta administration and later deserted.

Bauch and Benton Cases.

Washington, May 27.—Instructions to American Consul Letcher at Juarez to furnish the state department with additional information to complete the record so far as possible, in the case of Gustav Bauch, the American railroad mechanic arrested by the Constitutionalist authorities at Juarez, Feb. 18, last, and who later disappeared, was the foundation of a report that the department is about to reopen the case and also the Benton case.

The purpose was explained today as being to close it up by procuring the few fragments of information still available regarding his disappearance from Juarez prison. There is no known intention of making any fresh representations at this stage, although without doubt the Bauch case will figure in the final adjustment of claims to be preferred against the Mexican government when peace is restored.

Bauch disappeared two days after his arrest, and friends who visited the jail with food and bedding could get no trace of him. It is generally supposed he was executed.

MEDIATION BODY VERY OPTIMISTIC OVER THE PROSPECTS OF SUCCESS

Gen. Huerta has formally indicated his willingness to abide by the program thus far outlined here is no longer doubted.

The effort now is to arrange for a change of executives in a dignified manner. The mediation conference in all probability will not choose a provisional president. This will have to be done by the Mexico City government itself.

But the process which is receiving consideration is the drawing up of a list of representative Mexicans from which a certain number might be approved by the United States and all parties concerned so that there would be no question about recognition being accorded the individual chosen therefrom.

To Consult All Factions.

This select few, it is understood, will be submitted to the Constitutionalists and an effort also will be made to obtain the viewpoint of the Zapitasta element. Ultimately it is the aim of the mediators to see installed a man acceptable to all factions.

On these issues the mediation conference is preoccupied at present, but indications point to an early agreement on all points of difference, as well as the selection of the individual upon whom will be placed the burden for carrying out the plan for electoral and educational reforms.

Carranza Would Take Part.

Washington, May 27.—Representatives of the Constitutionalists here took steps today to reopen the question of representation at the Niagara mediation conference.

John Lind and C. A. Douglass, legal representative of the Constitutionalists, held what was termed a neutral conference early today, and later went to the state department to take up the subject with Secretary Bryan, who had gone to the capitol to confer with senators of the foreign relations committee. Their conference with the secretary was, on that account, deferred until later in the day.

Neither Mr. Lind nor Mr. Douglass would disclose under what conditions the Constitutionalists were willing to participate, but the opinion was revived that the powers of a Carranza representative would be very limited, perhaps without plenary authority and only for the purpose of furnishing information. What sudden turn in the negotiations had brought about the new attitude of the Carranza group was not disclosed.

Justifies Optimism.

Today's development, which undoubtedly was one direct outcome of long conferences Gen. Carranza has been holding over a special telegraph wire with Emilio Zubaran, his minister of the interior, in charge of the Constitutionalist agency here, was pointed out as justifying the optimism of the last day or two in official circles, where it repeatedly has been said the "negotiations were progressing satisfactorily."

Jose Vasconcelos, one of the Carranza agents, who has been mentioned as a probable choice to represent Gen. Carranza at Niagara Falls, still is in the city; Luis Cabrera, another agent, arrived at New York today on the steamer Olympic from Europe; Fernando I. Calderon, a third Constitutionalist representative, is in El Paso. It has been said that if Gen. Carranza sent representatives to the Niagara conference, those three men probably would be selected.

Whatever might be the first conditions upon which Carranza would send representatives to the mediation conference, the fact that he may be willing to send them at all, is generally regarded here as a very favorable indication.

Best to Be Represented.

Although the Constitutionalists have reiterated that they were willing to participate in any mediation which dealt with the relations of Mexico with the United States, and that they were opposed to taking any part in any mediation over the internal affairs of Mexico, it was pointed out that the recurring proposal for the establishment of a provisional government, to be selected by the mediators, the Huerta delegates and the American delegates, and to be recognized by the United States, may have advanced the situation to the point where the Constitutionalists think it best for their interests to have representatives on the ground.

President Wilson continued to keep in touch with the Niagara conference through the means of a special wire from the White House to Niagara Falls.

capturing English markets because of the inability of the English manufacturer to change his working conditions in conformity to general changes that have taken place. The United States was following England's example.

Germany's Export Growth.

"The power of the English trade's unions became practically arbitrary in fixing wages, hours and general working conditions. Germany found that, with a more advantageous wage scale, she could go into the world's markets and compete at prices which England could not meet. Hence the enormous growth of German exports. Hence a competition which the United States itself cannot meet in many lines, and which it could not meet at all did not immense and excessible natural resources, and, in certain lines of manufacture, the use of highly skilled labor and highly complicated machines which cheaper labor is not competent to handle, give us a temporary advantage.

"But that advantage, like every other exceptional local condition in the world trade, tends to be equalized and disappears."

English Industrial Distress.

He pictured the industrial distress in England, and said it would seem that rational conduct might save the day, "but the burden placed by unwise restricted legislation and unnecessary taxation upon business in the United States are producing their natural effects here also. Just such mistakes as Great Britain has made and is making may confront the American working man with a lost job and empty cupboard, and no younger and more promising land to which he may emigrate. Losing gradually the advantages that our position and resources have given us up to a recent date, nothing but deeper wisdom and a keener sense of justice toward all factors that must unite to create national prosperity can keep us at the front in the race with other nations, or even insure us against disappointment, disorder and economic distress at home."

REPUBLICANS IN MISSOURI MEET

To Vote on Plan for Reducing Southern Representation.

St. Louis, May 27. — Republican delegates from all parts of Missouri will meet here this afternoon to vote on the plan of the Republican national committee to reduce the representation of the Southern states in the next Republican national convention. Addresses will be delivered by James E. Watson, former congressman from Indiana; L. C. Dyer, congressman from St. Louis, and Seldon P. Spencer of St. Louis.

It is planned to adopt resolutions dealing with national questions, but these resolutions will not be a platform, as under the Missouri law the state platform must be adopted by the party candidates to be named at the primaries in August.

LOSES TROUSERS AND HIS MONEY

Dashes Through Street in Nightshirt, Crying for Police.

Tomah, Wis., May 27.—A burglar who broke into the room of John Young at Central hotel here last night, not satisfied with the $47 in a trousers pocket of his victim, also carried away the trousers. Young startled a crowd of men on their way to work early today by dashing through the street in his nightshirt, crying for the police. An officer accompanied the man back to the hotel. A long search by the policeman, the trouserless person and a curious throng resulted in the finding of the trousers in a neighboring yard, with the cash missing. Young made his toilet in the street and departed for his daily toil.

Tribute to Airman Hamel.

London, May 27.—The British admiralty, in announcing last night that it had reluctantly suspended the search for Gustave Hamel, the missing airman, paid the following tribute to him:

"He was without question the foremost exponent in these islands of an art whose military consequence is continually increasing."

JUDGE THREATENS TO SELL RAILROAD

Says Conditions in the Pere Marquette Case Are Disgraceful.

Detroit, Mich., May 27.—At the request of attorneys representing Eastern bondholders, United States Judge Tuttle late yesterday adjourned until June 2, the hearing of the petition of the receivers of the Pere Marquette railroad for authorization to issue $7,000,000 in receivers' certificates. The receivers want the money to apply on part of the roads most pressing debts.

Before granting the continuance, Judge Tuttle startled attorneys and suitors in the court room by declaring he should order the road sold at once.

"I think I ought to sell this road and sell it now," he said. "The only issue in this case, as I see it, is whether I shall sell the road now or grant the petition to issue the certificates. The conditions in this case are disgraceful," the judge said. "I will not permit this disgrace to go on in this court. I cannot and will not allow the indebtedness of this road to pile up."

NOT A SINGLE HEAD BROKEN IN IRELAND.

London, May 27.—The passing of the home rule bill has not yet led to the breaking of a single head in Ireland. The predictions made so freely by certain Unionists that its final adoption by the house of commons would be followed by fierce outbursts in Ulster and sanguinary conflicts between the Orangemen and the Unionists, proved to be untrue thus far.

IMMIGRATION TO CANADA FALLS OFF.

Ottawa, Ont., May 27.—The department of the interior issued the following immigration figures:

The total immigration to Canada during the month of April 1914, was 35,432, made up of 10,932 British, 11,748 American and 13,652 from all other countries.

During April, 1913, the total number was 73,285 composed of 25,566 British, 19,260 American and 28,459 from all other countries. The decrease is 526 per cent.

AUTO STRIKES BOY.

Thief River Falls Youth Run Over, Sustaining Injured Shoulder.

Thief River Falls, Minn., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ernest Zeh, the 12-year-old son of Emil Zeh of this city, was run over yesterday afternoon by an automobile and sustained a severe injury to his shoulder bone. He was running across the street near the Big Wheel blacksmith shop and when near the center of the road was run over by an automobile driven by H. E. Ives. He was taken to his home on Riverside and placed under medical care.

PLANNED TO SEND ARMY

How Roosevelt Intended to End Great Anthracite Mine Strike.

Failing Arbitration, He Would Have Sent United States Troops.

New York, May 27.—Theodore Roosevelt as president was ready to take measures "equivalent to action in time of war" to end the great strike in the anthracite mines in 1902. He was determined to take action, even though an effort should be made later to impeach him for it.

Mr. Roosevelt so testified today in giving testimony here today before a referee in the suit of Alexander T. Wales, a lawyer of Binghamton, N. Y., against John P. White, president of the United Mine Workers of America, for fees he alleges are due him for the part he took in settling the strike.

After telling of his efforts to settle the strike through a commission of arbitration which Grover Cleveland consented to head, he continued:

Intended to Use Army.

"I made up my mind that I would have to take drastic action unless the operators and miners got together. I intended to send in the United States army—I only wanted to get it in there and I'd take care of the situation.

"I told Senator Quay of Pennsylvania I'd act and I'd guarantee that the people of the Eastern seaboard would have coal and have it right away. I told him that if he would help me, he could vote to impeach me later if he wished. I asked Quay to arrange to have Governor Stone of Pennsylvania, when I notified the governor, send word to me that he was unable to control the situation and then I would send in the army.

Would Send Gen. Schofield.

"I planned to have Gen. Schofield go in and take charge with the troops and act practically as a receiver for the mines. I told the general it would be equivalent to action taken in time of war and that he must pay no heed to any other authority—no heed to a writ from a judge or anything else except my commands. He said he would do so."

Col. Roosevelt said he kept his plan secret even from the members of his cabinet. The operators, he said, persisted in their uncomprising plan until finally a change came and, after many disputes about the membership of the commission, one was appointed and the strike ended.

NORMAL GIRLS VISIT HERALD

Twelve Young Women See a Newspaper in the Making.

Twelve members of the physics class of the Duluth normal school called on The Herald today and viewed the workings of the throbbing machinery and more than throbbing mentality of the plant, looking it over with apparent interest.

They were in charge of Prof. R. J. Scarborough, instructor in physics. The linotype machines took up a lot of their time and they watched the almost human workings of the machines with deep interest. The pressroom also pleased; but the greatest interest was shown in the cartoon room. "Coley" Naughton, the eminent artist who graces The Herald with his presence and services, was in the throes of producing tomorrow's cartoon. When the young women crowded around him he raised his massive head in surprise and then with a huge sigh, said:

"Ah! I was just wishing for inspiration; now I have it."

So saying, he plunged once more into the work and dashed off the cartoon with the great facility, interspersing his strokes and dashes with gallant quips addressed to his visitors.

They expressed themselves as charmed with everything and assured an anxiously inquiring reporter that they did not contemplate taking up newspaper work. The young women who called were:

Misses Betty Ericson, Clara Ganstad, Beatrice Andrews, Esther Carlson, Adelfine Wentzlaff, Jennie Carlson, Hilborg Anderson, Elvira Wilander, Esther Anderson, Elsie Bellamy, Olive Scott, Amy Rose and Cecilia Wallin.

COOK MAY RETURN TO POOR BOARD

It is reported today that the change in the office of postmaster, which will take effect soon, will result in A. P. Cook, retiring postmaster, taking full charge of the county poor work. The office of clerk of the county board is now held by Charles Shogran. When Mr. Cook was appointed to the postmastership, Mr. Shogran, then an assistant in the office of the poor commission, succeeded Mr. Cook as county poor agent. It is said that the department will be reorganized and that Mr. Shogran will continue.

John H. Hearding, chairman of the county poor commission, is out of the city today and confirmation of the report could not be had.

CONGESTION OF HEART CAUSED

Verdict of Coroner's Jury on Downer's Grove Tragedy.

Downer's Grove, Ill., May 27.—Florence Bentley came to her death at the hands of Reginald Barr who "grasped her neck, causing congestion of the heart," according to the verdict of a coroner's jury rendered today after a number of witnesses had been heard. Among those who testified were the youths who saw Barr return to the grove where the body of the Bentley girl, his sweetheart, was found Monday evening.

A verdict to the effect that Barr had committed suicide by jumping before a moving train after the discovery of the girl's body was reached earlier in the day.

TO HAVE PEACE OR CONTINUOUS WAR

Decision of Brick Manufacturers at Chicago Against Arbitration.

Chicago, May 27.—The special council committee investigating the strike of brickmakers, which has continued for more than a month, was told today by the leaders of the Association of Brick Manufacturers that it was too late to suggest arbitration.

"We have decided to move the brick which we have and to proceed to make more bricks," said William Schlake, president of the Illinois Brick company. "We are going to fight it out now and then have peace or continuous war."

Nearly 3,000 brickmakers are directly affected by the strike, and their idleness has kept 150,000 men in the building trades from work.

HEAT IS CAUSING DEATHS IN EAST

Mercury at 91 in New York and 93 in Philadelphia.

New York, May 27.—This was the hottest May 27 in the history of the New York weather bureau. From 80 at 8 o'clock this morning the mercury climbed steadily, reaching 88 at noon and 91 at 2 o'clock. Two deaths and many prostrations were reported.

Four Deaths at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, May 27.—Continued high temperatures in the last twenty-four hours have caused four deaths and numerous prostrations in this city. At 1 p. m. the government thermometer registered 93 deg., 3 above yesterday's maximum.

UNKNOWN BALLOON DESCENDED AT SEA.

Swinemunde, Germany, May 27.—An unidentified balloon, apparently with several aeronauts on board, descended at sea today several miles off shore near here. A pilot boat was immediately dispatched to investigate.

Seeks Mill City Mayoralty.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 27.—Beecher Moore, Socialist, has filed for nomination as mayor of Minneapolis. Thomas Van Lear, former Socialist candidate for mayor, will file for congress.

Mayor Nye has already filed for renomination.

SMALL BOYS ARE EDISON'S CENSORS

If a Film Does Not "Get Over" With the Inventor's Son and His Young Friends It Is Scraped.

Literary Digest: Mr. Edison has been led by his young son to devise a sort of revolutionary scheme of secondary education. His plan is to utilize the motion pictures to teach all sorts of elementary facts. Like all children, the young Edison displayed an inquisitive streak that taxed the time of his parent, but turned his attention to the needs of the growing child. "In the bad old days," says Leonard P. Ayres of the Russell Sage Foundation, "the courses of study in our schools afforded a maximum of unpleasantness diluted with a minimum of interest." Mr. Ayres, in company with a number of educational experts, has been inspecting the new devices produced in the Edison laboratories and declares that "Mr. Edison has devised a new sort of school work calculated to supply a maximum of interest and no unpleasantness at all."

He has made a list of between seven hundred and a thousand subjects for scenarios, though as yet, he has put only fifty or sixty into scenario form. The scenarios are all prepared by a specialist in the particular field dealt with and when a film is made it is "tried out" before various audiences. The one Mr. Edison most relies on is composed of children who tell freely what impresses them.

By a process of deduction this indicates what fails to "get across" to their young minds. When all this has been done, the scenario pretty likely has to be rewritten and the first film to go to the scrapheap. The process is kept up until a satisfactory film on each subject has been prepared. Mr. Ayres, after attending a demonstration, gives his impressions in the Survey:

"The materials of the new educational device consist of wonderfully clever motion pictures of natural phenomena in motion. They portray with startling vividness the workings of pumps in which we look with transparent walls and see the valves opening and shutting, and the water rising with each piston stroke. There are transparent working models of steel converters in which the whole process developed by Bessemer is seen in vivid detail. Other films show the development of the housefly through all of its different stages. The caterpillar incloses itself in the chrysalis, and later emerges a beautiful butterfly. By means of motion pictures taken through powerful microscopes the minutest forms of plant and animal life are seen, the development of cell growths becomes a vivid reality, and one watches in every detail the formation of the most beautiful and intricate sort of crystals.

"As each new process is portrayed, short, clear, printed sentences of explanation are thrown upon the screen. As each new object is shown, a human hand bearing a pointer carrying words of explanation appears from the side and indicates its exact nature and significance. Nothing is left to speculation or imagination. No phase of the process or feature of the object is left unexplained or unnamed.

"The educational motion pictures represent supreme success in the presentation of predigested information."

But this characteristic, thinks Mr. Ayres, also constitutes their gravest limitation as instruments of education in the public schools. For—

"Their perfection of detail and interesting character render them dangerously convenient adjuncts of the old 'pouring in' method of teaching. This method has characterized all our schools for generations. Under it the teacher, orally or through the textbook, gave information to the children each day, questioned them next morning to find out how much they had retained overnight, and then gave out that day's allotment of information. The children's minds were treated as though they were tanks into which large amounts of information were poured in the hope that some of it would stick. A good deal of it did stick.

"The new educational motion pictures are a most convenient ladle for the pouring in of information. Under this form of their misuse, the function of the pupils would be to sit in a darkened room while the elements of knowledge were passed before them on a screen. This would obviate the necessity of their giving voluntary attention to their lessons and relieve the teacher of the burden of teaching or assigning them.

"The objection to this is that the old plan of lesson assigning and lesson hearing was vicious, and what we want is not its perfection, but its destruction. School work needs to be real instead of artificial. Manual work is being introduced into every progressive school because it enlists the interest and application of children as the mere studying of books does not.

"When children work together in the planting of a garden or the making of a relief map in clay, their work is social and co-operative. When they sit silent in a darkened room they are individual and exclusive. When they are making something, material or abstract, because they need it in their business, they are active and alert. When they watch motion pictures or study books because the science period comes at 10:30 o'clock, they are doing or making something real that has an object behind and a result to come, they are energetic. When they listen to, or watch, or read something that is to them artificial they are apathetic.

"Every tool can be misused. The more effective it is when rightly handled, the greater is its capacity for damage when unskillfully wielded. The new motion pictures are an educational tool of great potential value, and while their dangers and limitations are real, they are not inherent or unavoidable. While they may be used for the mere imparting of facts, they may also be employed to organize, to illustrate, to clarify, and to summarize knowledge which the children have acquired for themselves through the exercise of guided, intelligent inquisitiveness.

"Whether they will in practice be used mainly to supply information or to clarify knowledge will depend partly on the skill with which they are developed in Mr. Edison's laboratories and partly on the wisdom with which they are used in the schools. If they become truly vital factors in education, it will be because they have been rendered as excellent pedagogically as they now are scientifically."

PUPILS WILL BE PATRIOTIC

West End Schools Will Take Active Part in Memorial Programs.

Veterans and Relief Corps Will Visit the Various Schools.

School children of the West end will take an important part in the program for Memorial day. Several of the schools are planning on having large delegations of the students in the parade on Saturday morning, and on Friday afternoon special programs of patriotic music, recitations, drills and tableaux will be given.

Each of the schools will be visited by veterans of the Civil war, Spanish war, Sons of Veterans, members of the Citizens' staff, and women of the relief corps. The visitors will appear on the afternoon's program for short talks. The following will speak at the various West end schools.

At the Emerson will be: Comrades E. G. Chapman and F. Paine, Culver post; W. W. Huntley, Sons of Veterans; E. I. Simpson and William Fritzemeier, Diggles camp; A. P. Daily and M. P. Orchard, Camp McEwen; Mrs. Holt, Mrs. Considine and Mrs. Olund, Woman's Relief corps.

The speakers at the Adams will be: Comrades John Dimond and W. S. Ayers, Gorman post; C. F. How, Jr., Citizens' staff; A. C. Heller, Sons of Veterans; W. O. Fledin and P. W. Swedberg, Diggles camp; O. N. Gustafson and Frank Storey, Camp McEwen; Mrs L. A. Cox, Mrs. Rankin and Mrs. Nellie Ross, Woman's Relief corps.

The veterans to visit and speak at the Bryant will be: Comrades Cook Ely and T. H. Pressnell, Culver post; Alfred Jaques, Citizens' staff; T. L. Chisholm, Diggles camp; J. Scott Cash and C. H. Willis, Camp McEwen; Mrs. Preston and Mrs. Drennan, Woman's Relief corps.

Those who will appear on the program at the Ensign will be: W. C. Kimball and J. Carhart, Diggles camp; E. J. Haggerty and Jacob Thorsen, Camp McEwen; Mrs. Mary Gillon, Mrs. Peer and Mrs. Orevar, Woman's Relief corps.

At the Munroe school the following will speak: Comrades Cornelius Donahue and J. A. Tucker, Gorman post; M. E. Heller, Sons of Veterans; H. A. Hanson, Diggles camp; F. J. Kendall and Marvin McLarin, Camp McEwen; Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. Nellie Mellin and Mrs. Kate Frown, Woman's Relief corps.

The speakers at the Madison school will be: Comrades F. Knowlton and M. W. Bates, Culver post; B. F. Higgins, Sons of Veterans; Alonzo Coon and J. C. La Vaque, Diggles camp; H. H. Houghtaling and Brown McDonald, Camp McEwen; Mrs. Ringsred, Mrs. O'Leary, Mrs. Larson and Mrs. Lawson, Woman's Relief corps.

Children of the schools are being instructed to invite their parents to attend the program. It is expected that at each of the schools large numbers will be present. The programs in each case are being arranged under the direction of the principal assisted by the teachers. The majority of the children in each of the schools will take part in the program.

Swedish Temple Notes.

The finance committee of the First Swedish Baptist church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street held a business meeting in the church last evening. Plans were made for the church finances.

The ladies' aid society will entertain this evening in the church parlors. A sale of fancy articles will be held. The society has planned to raise $200 for the church building fund this year.

Rev. Swaney Nelson will conduct services in the church tomorrow evening.

On Sunday evening services will be held in English. Rev. Mr. Nelson will speak on "Godliness vs. Theater Going."

MAKES GOOD SUICIDE JEST

George Scott Puts Bullet Through Temple at His Boarding House.

Threat to Take His Life Treated as Joke By Fellow Boarders.

Following what was believed by fellow boarders to be a jest, George Scott, 40 years old, committed suicide by shooting himself in his room at the Meyers boarding house, 3823 Magellan street, yesterday noon. His body was discovered at 1:30 p. m. by boarders who went to his room to take him down to dinner.

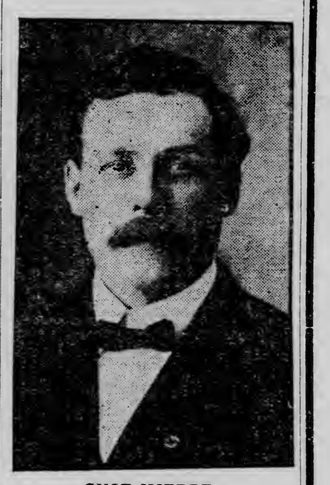
Sunday morning Scott said that he intended ending his life, if he did not get well soon. He told this to men boarding in the place but they believed that he was jesting with them. He had been in poor health for some time, and it is believed that this preyed on his mind.

When found, Scott was kneeling beside his bed with a bullet hole through his temple. The .38-calibre revolver was lying alongside the body. No report of the shot was heard by any of the boarders, but death is believed to have occurred at about noon.

The body was taken to Filiatrault's undertaking rooms. The funeral will be held from there tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Burial will be made in Oneota cemetery.

Little is known of the man's relatives, but it is believed that he has a sister in England. Before his illness he had been employed at the Duluth Missabe & Northern ore docks. He had recently undergone two operations in local hospitals, but these are said to have done little to improve his health. At the time of his death a bank book showed that he had a balance on a savings account of $250.

FRIDHEM LODGE HEAD ATTENDS CONVENTION



GUST HJERPE.

Gust Hjerpe, president of the Fridhem lodge, No. 43, Independent Order of Svithoid, left this morning for Kansas City, Mo., where he will attend the national meeting of the order as delegate from the local society. He was accompanied by Ernest Strand of Two Harbors, delegate from the Two Harbors Svithoid lodge.

The Fridhem lodge officers were yesterday advised of the local society having won the national prize for increase in membership during the last year. A gain of 69 per cent in membership won for the lodge a first prize of $100 in the national contest. The check for this amount was received by the society.

In celebration of the winning of the first prize the lodge has planned a picnic for its members to be held on June 14. The picnic will be held on the lodge's picnic grounds, known as "Svithoid Hage," located just below the boulevard above Lincoln park. Plans for the picnic will be made by a committee consisting of officers of the lodge.

WILL SPEAK ON CHINA.

Missionary Will Give Address to Bethany Women's Society.

Miss Ingebord Nystul, who has spent several years as missionary in China, will speak this evening at the meeting of the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary society of the Bethany Swedish Lutheran church, Twenty-third avenue west and Third street. The meeting will be held in the church and all members of the congregation are invited to be present.

Miss Nystul is spending a six months' vacation in this country. She has been in the Honan province in China. This is the district to which Rev. V. E. Swanson, son-in-law of Rev. C. G. Olson of the Bethany church, has been assigned. Miss Nystul will give a talk on conditions in general in the Orient.

VASA DELEGATES ARE ENTERTAINED

Are Guests of Honor of Five of the Duluth Lodges.

Delegates to the district convention of the Vasa order, held the first part of the week at Superior, were guests of honor at a social meeting held by the five local lodges at the Woodmen hall, Twenty-first avenue west and First street, last night. A feature of the entertainment was the initiation of a class of candidates, the work being put on by local degree teams.

Following the initiatory ceremonies a program of several numbers was given. O. G. Olson presided at the meeting and gave the address of welcome. Those taking part in the program were: Andrew Horngren, district master of the order; Helmer Ogren, Mrs. Hellstrom, Miss Rodberg, Carl Carlson, Herman Bergstrom and others.

West End Briefs.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Falk of Minneapolis are spending a few days visiting in this end of the city. They are guests at the home of Mrs. Falk's sister, Mrs. Carl Stark, 2102 West Fourth street.

Rev. C. J. Hagberg of Minneapolis has returned home after spending a few days visiting in this end of the city. Rev. Mr. Hagberg spoke recently before the Young People's Society of the First Swedish Baptist church.

The funeral of Loraine, the 21-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hill, 1924½ West Third street, who died yesterday morning will be held from the St. Jean Baptiste French church tomorrow morning. Interment will be in Calvary cemetery.

Mrs. Thomas Bark, 2120 West Third street, will entertain tomorrow afternoon for members of the St. Luke's guild of St. Peter's Episcopal church.

Mrs. O. F. Wennerlund, 2321 West Second street, has left for Fort Wayne, Ind., where she will spend three weeks visiting her parents.

EUROPE VISITED BY SEVERE COLD WAVE.

Paris, May 27.—A severe cold wave spread over Southwestern Europe yesterday. Several inches of snow fell in parts of Southeastern France, while heavy rains are reported from other regions.

A violent storm raged in the Mediterranean, where numerous fishing boats and other small craft were driven ashore. The temperature in Paris yesterday was 44 deg. Fahrenheit.

Cured His RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me. Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 125 Marcellus Avenue, Manasquan, N. J. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

PROHIBIT IMPORT OF CONVICT MADE GOODS.

Washington, May 27.—A favorable report on the bill to prohibit the importation of convict-made goods into the United States was ordered by the senate manufactures committee. Passage of the bill will be contested vigorously by senators from cotton-growing states, where much of the cotton bagging used is in part the product of foreign convict labor.

UNFERMENTED WINE MEN VICTORIOUS.

Kansas City, Mo., May 27.—The question of the use of fermented and unfermented wine in the communion service provoked commissioners attending the general assembly of the Southern Presbyterian church into a lively discussion. The advocates of unfermented wine or grape juice apparently were victorious.

After a great deal of discussion the part of the committee's report permitting the sessions to choose the wine used, was adopted.

WIDOW SECURES VERDICT FOR $2,000

Husband Was Run Down and Killed By Switch Engine.

A verdict of $2,000 for the widow and five children of Anton Kludzinski, Superior section hand who was run down by a switch engine operated by the Great Northern railway, Jan. 14, 1913, was returned by a jury in Judge Cant's division of the district court yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock.

The award was made to Elizabeth Kludzinski, widow, who sued the company in the capacity of administratrix of the estate. At the trial, evidence was introduced by the plaintiff to prove that her husband had his foot caught between a switcher and a cross tie and was held fast in that position when struck by the train. The exact manner of his death, however, will not be known as no eye witnesses can be found.

FEW REGISTERED AS BULL MOOSERS.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Out of 1,941 voters who registered in this city, according to party preference, only forty-seven enrolled as Bull Moosers according to City Assessor M. J. Londergan, who makes the enrollment.

The total number registered as Republicans are 1,289 and the total of all other parties, 642.

The petition of J. E. Kulstad, filed with the county auditor as a candidate for justice of peace, has been declared invalid, because the candidate has failed to include the legal affidavit declaring himself a candidate.

Cando-Hansboro Road.

Devils Lake, N. D., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Towner county board of county commissioners has made an appropriation for a highway from Cando to Hansboro to connect with a main automobile highway from Devils Lake, forming a through line.

WINONA MAN ON DOUGLAS

Discusses Famous Split in Democratic Party at Historical Meet.

Railroad Heads Expected to Feature Big Banquet at Grand Forks.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—"Stephen A. Douglas and the split in the Democratic party" was a subject handled by Dr. O. M. Dickerson at the annual meeting of the Mississippi Valley Historical society here today over which President J. A. James of Northwestern university presided.

Dr. Dickerson discussed the subject of the attitude of the great Illinois Democrat in the ante bellum days, bringing out much interesting historical information. Prof. Easery of Indiana university discussed "The Organization of the Jacgsonian Party in Indiana."

Other speakers on the program already printed in The Herald were heard today. There will be a business session late this afternoon.

A feature of the gathering will be the big banquet on the University commons this evening when Presidents Pennington of the Soo, and Hannaford of the Northern Pacific will speak. Other speakers tonight will be: Dr. F. L. McVey, F. W. McWilliams of Winnipeg; Dr. Luther N. Kuhns, New York city; Prof. M. D. Learned of Philadelphia; Justice A. A. Bruce of the North Dakota supreme court; Judge C. F. Amidon, United States district court.

Thursday's Program.

Dean Joseph Kennedy of the North Dakota university will preside at the meeting Thursday morning when the following program will be considered in the teachers' section: "The Training of Teachers," Dr. J. M. Gillette, University of North Dakota; discussion led by Prof. B. F. Shambaugh, university of Iowa; "The Civic Value of Public School History," Prof. J. S. Young, University of Minnesota; discussion led by Prof. R. M. Black, School of Science, Wahpeton, N. D.; reports of committees; discussion; adjourned business sessions.

Tomorrow afternoon's program will be considered in the city hall, W. H. Mann presiding and these subjects will be discussed: "The Germans of North Dakota," Prof. W. G. Rek, University of North Dakota; "German Migration to the Mississippi and Missouri," Prof. M. D. Learned, University of Pennsylvania.

In New Rockford Schools.

New Rockford, N. D., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. T. Fuller was re-elected superintendent of the New Rockford schools for the coming year. The other high school teachers follow: Principal, Elsie Nesdahl; English and German, Shirley McKim; English and mathematics, Ida M. Forrest; science, Jean McPherson; manual training, A. C. Schaefer; domestic science, Mildred Wheeler; music and drawing, Alice L. Hall.

OLD SALOON KEEPER FAVORS PROHIBITION

John Haas, Veteran in Business at Moorhead, Scores Traffic.

Fargo, N. D., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Something of a sensation was created among the saloon men of Moorhead and the business men of Fargo by the recent statement given to Judge Pollock of Fargo by John Haas, for thirty-five years in the saloon business in the two towns, and widely known over the Northwest. Haas announces that he would rather see his little boy dead than selling liquor and that he now advocates both state and national prohibition, and will work for it.

Haas now lives the greater part of the time at Detroit, Minn., and gave the statement to Judge Pollock, the father of the North Dakota prohibition law, just before he underwent the amputation of a leg recently, for which he did not take any anesthetic.

Regrets Being in Business.

"I want to state that for the last thirty-eight years I have lived either in Fargo or Moorhead, during all of which time up to four years ago, I was engaged in the liquor business, both wholesale and retail," Haas says. "I know it all and what the business will do for a man and his family.

"I am satisfied that if I had spent the energies that I put in the liquor business in other fields of activity, I would now be worth a million dollars, and what is more, would have the respect of my fellow men.

"I believe the state makes a big mistake in licensing the sale of liquor. It practically holds out to young men, as it did to me, that the business is lawful, consequently respectable.

"I am now 52 years old, and am a sick man, and am fully conscious of the fact that all of my ailments are the result of the use of liquor.

"I was married some few years ago and have two children, one a boy and the other a girl. For their sake I went out of the saloon business four years ago.

Whisky Business All Wrong.

"I have had ample time to think over my past life and its results. I have no hesitation in saying that the whisky business is all wrong. I would rather follow my children, whom I dearly love, to the grave than to have them engage in the saloon business. I want to say to all my friends, that in my opinion, the only true attitude of the state with reference to the liquor problem is, and should be, absolute opposition. The saloon man to a large extent is the tool and servant of the big brewer. Any system of dealing with the traffic free from the clutches of the brewer, which will help the saloon man, is to be preferred. Personally I am satisfied that absolute prohibition will be the rule in the state and the nation within ten years. I am in favor of it and want to do all that I can to bring it about."

Banker's Wife Takes Life.

Fergus Falls, Minn., May 27.—Mrs. R. R. Patterson, wife of the leading banker of Henning, committed suicide yesterday, according to information received by the coroner here. She had been in poor health and was despondent. Securing a revolver from her husband's desk in the bank, she secreted it in her clothing and took it to her room, when she shot herself in the head, dying instantly.

MIDER NOT ELIGIBLE.

Pine City Layman Cannot Hold Position of District Judge.

Pine City, Minn., May 27.—The supreme court has ruled that only licensed attorneys are eligible as candidates for positions on the district bench, and ordered the name of James T. Mider of Pine City stricken from the nonpartisan judicial ballot in the Nineteenth district. Mider is a layman.

"Beyond question," the court says, in its opinion, announced yesterday, "the framers of the Constitution used the last five words quoted in the sense of attorneys at law, and this view has been uniformly accepted. The few authorities on the subject are to the same effect. The matter does not merit further discussion."

Mider filed with Secretary of State Schmahl as a candidate in the Nineteenth district, and paid a $20 fee. His forced withdrawal from the race leaves Judge P. H. Stollberg of Harris unopposed for re-election.

BIG BLOWSNAKE BITES INFANT.

Dodgeville, Wis., May 27.—Curled up on the chest of 2-year-old Harold Mitt, a blowsnake, five feet long, was found by the infant's mother. She killed the snake and ran to the house with the baby, who was unconscious from several bites. An uncle sucked the blood from the wounds until a physician arrived, but it is believed the boy will die.

"LO" CAN SELL LIQUOR

Providing He Is Citizen of Michigan, Declares Attorney General.

Lansing, Mich., May 27.—An Indian or a man of Indian descent cannot purchase liquor in the state of Michigan, but provided he fills others requisites necessary for the granting of a license to sell liquor, there is nothing in the state laws to prevent him doing so.

This is the gist of an opinion rendered this afternoon by Attorney General Fellows at the request of the authorities of Baraga county, who it seems are confronted with an actual case.

Mr. Fellows holds that if the man, though he be of Indian descent, is a citizen of Michigan, and otherwise is capable of dispensing liquor he cannot be refused a license on the ground that he comes within the law regarding Indians and the liquor trade.

SHIPPING CATTLE TO DULUTH MARKET.

New York Mills, Minn., May 27.—Two and three carloads of cattle and hogs are shipped from here every Tuesday to South St. Paul by the Farmers' Shipping association. Individual parties are also buying and shipping to Duluth and points on the iron range. Cattle buyers from Wadena shipped two carloads of mixed stock from here to Duluth.

HUSBAND GETS DIVORCE.

Agreement of Naval Officer to Live Separately From Wife Ignored.

Racine, Wis., May 26.—Commandant William D. Brotherton, U. S. N., was granted a divorce yesterday from Mary Louise Brotherton, despite her plea that he be compelled to adhere to an agreement entered into by the parties five years ago to live separately, and that he be compelled to pay her $125 a month. She asked the court to deny the divorce. She was granted $100 a month alimony. The wife came here from Kansas City when she learned of the intention of her husband to institute divorce proceedings.

THEY PREFER CHICAGO.

Group of Wisconsin Bankers Object to Minneapolis Association.

Green Bay, Wis., May 27.—Charles D. Eastman of Plymouth was elected president of Group No. 3 of the Wisconsin Bankers' association at the annual convention of the association held here yesterday. Other officers elected were: Vice president, William Paulson of Chilton; secretary-treasurer, T. C. Eberman of Fond du Lac.

W. H. Wagner of Green Bay and J. W. Hansen of Sheboygan, were elected members of the executive committee.

The association went on record as favoring Chicago as the center of the Federal banking reserve district for banks in this section, rather than having Minneapolis as the center, as provided in the recent assignment of districts.

NORTH DAKOTANS HURT.

Two Injured Near Ashley When Auto Turns Turtle.

Ashley, N. D., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Wendlund and John Layer were seriously injured when an auto turned turtle into the excavations for a new building on the farm of Christ Just. They had driven out there early in the morning. Later they and Just and Phillip Martel decided to make a trip in the auto. All four were in the car when Wendlund started the machinery, but the lever was on reverse and the car backed directly into the excavation. Just jumped and Martel was thrown clear from the machine as it turned over. Both Wendlund and Layer were caught underneath and crushed. Both were unconscious and Layer had some ribs broken and his jaw dislocated.

AGAINST STATE PRINTERY.

Wisconsin State Press Association Resolves Against Idea.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 27.—H. L. Hoard of Fort Atkinson was elected president of the Wisconsin Press association held here yesterday. E. T. Malone of Waterford, was elected secretary, and E. J. Scott of Shawano, treasurer. One vice president, W. H. Noyes, was elected.

The Herald Sporting Gossip Is Reliable

Just Between You and Me

By BRUCE

SOMEONE in the Open Court column of The Herald takes a free swing at the baseball team. This person speaks his mind without the least hesitation. In the parlance of baseball, he hits to either field.

While it is obviously true that the Sox are at the present time at the bottom of the percentage column, it is also true that the season is young. While some of the youngsters failed to come up to the expectations of the Irish Orator, some of the others have not been granted time to show. It is only fair and decently just that those with the hammers should lay off the team and give the Dook the opportunity to make good some of his predictions.

More Dickering for Brown.

LAWRENCE BROWN has delivered something in the order of an ultimatum. The ultimatum, carried to these immediate parts of Collie Munro, runs that John Tecumseth Tillman is the next man that the said P. Lawrence Brown would like to fight.

It is the hope of Brown to remove all doubt and suspicion as to the merits of himself and Tillman and to this end desires to mingle with the Minneapolitan.

When the ultimatum of the range fighter was delivered late in the pugilistic A. B. C. conference, yesterday afternoon, the several delegates grew alarmed and somewhat nettled. When it looked like peace and an engagement arranged without undue harangue, in bobs the ultimatum, and as is the case with the majority of stormy ultimatums, starts something.

In a few well chosen words it might be stated that the peace conference representatives of the Duluth-Superior delegation have declared that in the event of the two contending factions being satisfied with a fair and reasonable return for their services, that there is extreme likelihood of Brown and Tillman tying up in the near future.

All Comers Are Welcome.

DURING his course of training here for his titular clash with Zbyszko Jess Westergaard will gladly and even anxiously take on all comers. If there are any beaming behemoths hiding in the city, let them come forth and lend excitement to the usual uneventful decorum that hovers over the training quarters of a fighter or wrestler.

The bigger the better. Some of the amateur Sampsons of the amateur wrestling pad can have the golden opportunity to try their skill against one of the real champions of the ring.

Westergaard is under ordinary circumstances a peaceful chap and one possessed of excellent control of his temper. The Big Swede is coming up here for real work and the more men he has in addition to his regular workers, just so much better will he like it.

The Strained Credulity.

WHEN the first news came of the defeat of Napoleon at the battle of Waterloo the French people refused to believe it. Likewise when the first news was flashed of the victory of the English golf players in the national tournament, the English refused to credit it. Precedent is set in her ways.

He Can't Live It Down.

In the Federal league averages of the last week Cincinnati was named as the club Joe Tinker played with. This is a mean way of taking revenge for a false step.

He Who Laughs Last.

Charlie Griffith is reported as laughing hilariously not to say uproariously at the mere suggestion that Walter Johnson would jump. Yes and if he should jump seven other managers would also laugh.

* * *

This Makes Osler Look Bad.

The Federal league leaders during the last week offered Eddie Plank a salary of $7,500 to jump the organized fences. This is another rude fling at the theories of Doc Osler.

How About Cobb and Wagner?

One critic of the game comes forth with the statement that gentle natured baseball players are generally poor ones. Ty Cobb and Old Hans Wagner must be perfect brutes.

Someone Should Sign Him.

Robert E. Lee III has declared his intention of becoming a professional baseball player. He should be able to cover lots of ground.

Not So Great a Change.

Before becoming a fight manager Dan Morgan was a window trimmer. Now he simply trims the fighters, but the people can't see through it.

This Is a Surprise.

Members of the Cincinnati team became enraged when through an accident they discovered the amount of the various players' checks. This is the first inkling the public had that so many men could earn money without doing anything in return for it.

The Habitat Responsible.

Chicken, the Superior pitcher, is very wild. We wonder if living in Superior has anything to do with it.

According to recent happenings it would appear that Johnny Evers played the Mellen to the J. Pierpont Morgan of Charles W. Murphy.

Investigations Show Fact.

By ancient tablets it has been proven that baseball was played in Egypt long ago. Maybe it was there that Darby O'Brien got his start.

* * *

Showing True Justice.

Adjutant General Wood of the Minnesota National guard says that married men will be forced out of the army in the case of war. Maybe the general is of the opinion that the married men have seen sufficient active service at home.

BOOTS LOSE FOR THE SOX

Errors Enable Virginia to Defeat Duluth By 6 to 3 Score.

Cunningham Pitches Great Ball, Holding Opponents to Three Hits.

Virginia, Minn., May 27.—Errors assisted in the victory of the locals in yesterday's game, Virginia winning by the score of 6 to 3. The Ore Diggers bunched their hits in the second and fifth rounds, the misplays of the visitors being bunched with the swats of the Taylor gang.

Recruit Cunningham pitched a beautiful game, but his support was wobbly. The three hits of the domestics came when hits were needed and were mixed with the boots of the Sox.

Blackett was touched in the opening round and scored on Ford's triple to right. Three singles in the third were responsible for the second run of the visitors, and a walk and two singles gave the Dooks their final run in the sixth.

Some sensational fielding upon the part of Fremer, Brokaw and Phillips were features of the game.

WINNIPEG TAKES FINAL GAME FROM CHAMPS.

Winnipeg, Man., May 27.—By winning yesterday's game by the score of 6 to 3 Winnipeg made it two straight from the Winona champions. In the first round the two walks, a wild pitch and two hits gave the visitors all of their runs. After this Boly settled down and was invincible. Up to the fifth Snow pitched unhittable ball. The visiting twirler weakened in the fifth and in the eighth, a balk in the latter round making possible three runs. The score:

Pittsburg, Pa., May 27.—Reulbach held Pittsburg to four hits, while Brooklyn hit Adams hard in the early innings and broke Pittsburg's third winning streak of the year, 3 to 2. Brooklyn got a run with two out in the second while Wagner lost Miller's pop fly in the sun near the pitcher's box, Stengel scoring from second. O'Toole replaced Adams in the fourth and pitched good ball, but Pittsburg regulars and pinch hitters could not hit Reulbach. Score: R. H. E.

Washington, May 27.—Washington went into first place in the American league race yesterday by taking the second game of the series from Detroit 3 to 2. Detroit outhit the Nationals, but Dubuc was partially responsible for his own defeat. In the third he hit McBride and a minute later Henry sent a grounder to Dubuc, who, with a double play in sight, juggled the ball momentarily and had to make the play at first. Then Boehling singled, scoring McBride, and another hit by Foster sent Boehling across the plate. The locals' third came in the sixth when Gandil singled and scored on Schang's triple.

New York, May 27.—Bodie's home run into the left field bleachers in the ninth inning, enabled Chicago to beat New York yesterday 2 to 1. Chicago scored one run in the fifth on Schalk's single, Russell's infield out and Demmitt's double. New York tied the score in the following inning on Truedale's infield single, wild throws by Weaver and Schalg and an infield single by Maisell. Russell injured his left leg in a collision at first base with Nunamaker in the fifth inning and was compelled to retire from the game. Not a pitcher used in the game issued a base on balls.

RHEINBERGER LOST TO DULUTH ROWING SQUAD

Member of Crack Senior Four and Eight to Be Gone a Month.

Roy Kent Will Stroke Both the Senior Four and Eight.

BY BRUCE.

Some jonah seems to have its nose glued to the trail followed by the Duluth Boat club. Max Rheinberger, No. 2 in the national champion intermediate and senior four and intermediate and senior eight, will be out of the city for a month.

Under ordinary conditions the loss would be keenly felt, but under the peculiar conditions existing it will be a blow that strikes hard at the chances of the club.

Ten Eyck has about decided to place Roy Kent in the senior four to replace Rheinberger. Here comes the rub. Kent is too heavy to row in No. 2, the place made vacant by the departure of Rheinberger, and the only thing that seems possible under the conditions is the placing of Kent in at stroke and moving Horak back in the boat.

This will break up the wonderfully fast senior four, the crew that has been groomed during the season for the national championship and the Henley beyond in the golden future.

Not only does the departure of Rheinberger break up the four—it also makes the combination in the eight impossible.

Horak was stroking the eight and big Kent came right behind in No. 7. With the return of Art Osman, pronounced by the older Ten Eyck as one of the best oarsmen he had ever seen, the senior eight of this year would have been nearly the same as the remarkably fast junior eight of last season.

McNarry and Morrison have been lost to the eight, but Kent and Quimby were taking the places of these men and with the return of Osman it was figured that the eight would be nearly the same, with the senior four in and Horak at stroke.

The loss of Rheinberger means in all probability that Kent will also be moved up to stroke position in the eight and that Davy Horak will be moved back in the shell.

Ten Eyck at Sea.

For the time being James E. Ten Eyck admits that he is at sea. It is tough luck, this breaking up of a four that competent judges of the rowing game pronounced the fastest in the world—and the shifting of what was apparently an ideal arrangement of the men in the senior eight.

Enough tough luck has followed the efforts of the coach and men this season to discourage a less determined and resoureeful chap than the present coach of the club.

Several of the seniors dropped out, and then McNarry and Morrison, men who had rowed but one season, dropped out of the junior eight. Von Drasek, a promising bantam, also left the squad.

Duluth received one of the finest pieces of advertising that could be imagined in the sweeping of the Charles last season and the winning of events that had never in the long history of the National Rowing association been won in two days by a single club. The feat of the four men rowing in four winning races will stand for years.

This season the Union Boat club, in the event that it does not go to the English Henley, will be at the Philadelphia National to oppose the Duluth senior four. Also the Argonauts will be on hand to give battle to our four and eight. These facts, promising the strongest competition of years, makes the loss of Rheinberger the more keenly felt.

For the oarsmen of a city of the size of Duluth to defeat in so convincing fashion the oarsmen of the United States caused a multitude of inquiries to be asked regarding the city and conditions here. In one season Duluth became known as the home of amateur rowing. With the title of national champions to defend, ill-luck camps persistently on the trail of the club.

One of the encouraging features of the rather doleful situation is that the spirit of the boys is something that brings reassurance to Ten Eyck.

Horak looks upon the shift in the right manner, and big Kent is going in to row the best of his career. While it seems nothing less than a crime to break up a four that looked about the best that America has produced in the past decade, it is good to know that the boys have determined to overcome the handicap by rowing their heads off.

ing Buskin, ridden by Jockey Fairbrother, in 1:37 4-5, equaling the track record for this event, established by Fashion Plate four years ago. After Ten Point had been scratched August Belmont added Stromboli as a running mate with Rock View, the public favorite, and interest in the event was increased when H. P. Whitney's Borrow, which had run last season in England, was posted as an additional candidate for the race, which was worth $1,100 to the winner.

Eleven horses bore silk and they were sent away well together running heads apart for a sixteenth of a mile. The light-weighted Figinny then cut out the pace and held the lead into the stretch. Fairbrother made his move on Buskin at the stretch turn, and for the last eighth of a mile, the horse just breezed, winning by five lengths from Figinny, which was out to the last ounce to save the place from Rockview. The latter had no excuse as he was away well, but the weight, 127 pounds, told on him and he hung when called on by Jockey Butwell.

Borrow, which finished fourth, half a length away, was badly pocketed at the head of the stretch and was crowded on the fence at the eighth pole, where Jockey Notter had to pull him up. Flying Fairy finished fifth with Republican, Buckhorn, Stromboli, Ambrose, Gainer and Punch Bowl finishing in the order named.

YALE'S IMPORTED COACH RESIGNS

Quarrel Over Rigging of Shell and Defeat of Crew.

New Haven, Conn., May 27.—According to a story printed in the Journal-Courier, Guy Nickalls, the old Oxford oarsman and coach of the Yale crews, resigned his position on Monday. The reason given for the resignation is friction between Mr. Nickalls and members of the Yale rowing committee, over the result of the Blue's showing in the race at Lake Cayuga last Saturday. In this race Yale was defeated by Cornell and Princeton. A serious difference of opinion arose, the paper says, over the riggings of the shell, and Mr. Nickalls resigned.

The story further says that in an effort to patch a truce, a meeting of the rowing committee, Capt. Denegre, and Mr. Nickalls, was held last night in New York. Richard Armstrong, graduate adviser of rowing, and Walter Camp were also present. The outcome of the meeting has not yet been learned here.

Princeton, N. J., May 27.—Olin S. Putnam of Johnstown, N. Y., who has stroked the Princeton varsity eight for two years, has been elected captain of next year's crew.

WOMEN EXPERTS MEET.

Orange, N. J., May 27.—Of the four matches today in the women's Metropolitan golf tournament at the Essex County Country club, that between the present champion, Miss Marion Hollins of Westbrook, and Miss Georgianna Bishop of Brooklawn, Conn., a former title winner, carried the largest gallery in its wake.

The other pairs striving for semi-final places were Mrs. L. Swift, Knollwood, N. J., playing Miss L. B. Hyde, South Shore, N. Y.; Mrs. W. F. Faith, Wykagyl, N. Y., against Miss Bertha Stratton, Cranford, N. J., and Mrs. M. H. Frayne, Dunwoodie, N. Y., against Mrs. L. F. F. Wander of the local club.

GOUX BREAKS TRACK RECORD

Sends Car Around Speedway in Seemingly Impossible Time.

Elimination Tests on for Big Memorial Day Auto Race.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 27.—Jules Goux, winner of the 500-mile race here last year, broke the record for one lap at the Indianapolis motor speedway yesterday afternoon when he circled the 2½-mile course in 1:31.71, a speed of approximately 99 1-3 miles per hour.

In performing the feat Goux beat the record set earlier in the day by Teddy Tetzlaff and Joe Dawson.

The French driver had declared several times during the last week that he could make the circuit of the track in less than 1:32 and refused to attempt it in his practice spins, but in his first trial in the elimination laps, he sent his car down the straightaways at a speed estimated at 118 miles an hour, the fastest ever seen here.

Joe Dawson, who won the 1912 race, among the first of the drivers on the track yesterday drove one lap, unofficial, in 1:34:8, beating the record recently set by Georges Boillot in a French car. Dawson hardly had taken his car into the garage when Tetzlaff sent his racer around the course in 1:33:4. This was a new record that race enthusiasts believed would stand for years as the record of 1:37 had stood for two years before Boillot lowered it.

Thirteen of the elimination laps were run yesterday. Other racers who made the tests are:

Oldfield, 1:43.6; Dawson, 1:36.2; Thomas, 1:35.01; Bourman, 1:39.55; De Palma, 1:46.58; Christinensl, 1:38.67; Guyot, 1:43.47; Wishart, 1:39.75; Pullen, 1:46.4; Carlson, 1:36.6; Keene, 1:40.3.

IMPORTANT CHANGE ON THE RESOLUTE

New York, May 27.—The recent reduction in the sail area of the cup yacht Resolute by shifting the mast forward and changing from a double to a single head-rig, has gained her over two seconds a mile in time allowance, according to an estimate made yesterday. So far as can be seen, the change has not reduced her speed.

Under the new time allowance, the Resolute will have an additional 66 seconds from the Defiance and Vanitie in the thirty-mile race, and if no change is made in the rig of her antagonists, it is estimated that she will receive nearly five minutes in all.

The Vanitie, built by Alexander S. Cochran, as a candidate to defend the America's cup last night completed her run from Boston, arriving at City Island, near the entrance of Long Island Sound.

WHITE BEATS THE CHAMPION

Ritchie Outclassed By Clever Chicago Boxer in Ten Rounds.

Takes the Whipping of His Life in Milwaukee Arena.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 27.—Charlie White of Chicago defeated Willie Ritchie of California in a ten-round boxing bout in Milwaukee last night. White outfought the Westerner in almost all rounds.

The bout was vicious and bloody at all times, with Ritchie bleeding profusely from the face and nose. His eyes were nearly closed at the end. White bled some also, but was far the fresher at the end.

White took the lead in the first round and had Ritchie hanging on and groggy most of the round. The Chicagoan slowed up, however, and Ritchie came back and took the lead in the second and third rounds.

The rest of the battle was White's except the seventh and tenth periods, which were even.

The battle was one of the liveliest ever seen here. Ritchie did most of the boring in, but was always met with hard left jabs to the jaw.

White fought the cleaner battle. His judgment of distance was the better and his left cuts to the face and rights to the body were too much for the champion.

Ritchie used a left swing repeatedly, but frequently missed and then was forced to clinch.

Twice Referee Harry Stout was forced to tear the defeated man's hands from the ropes while in clinches.

The crowd cheered the Chicagoan at all times, and when he left the ring the victor, he was carried to his dressing room by admirers.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 27.—George Chip of Pittsburg knocked out Sailor Ed Petroskey of San Francisco in the twelfth round of their twenty-round middleweight fight at Vernon arena last night.

CORNELL IS THE WINNER

Her Oarsmen Beat Harvard in Varsity and Freshmen Races.

Cambridge, Mass., May 27.—The oarsmen of Cornell, rowing their second intercollegiate race in four days, swept the Charles river last night in the annual regatta with the Harvard crews.

The Cornell varsity led the Harvard shell over the line by slightly more than one length; the freshmen ended their race with an advantage over the Harvard youngsters of about two lengths.

The official time for the races, which were over a mile and seven-eighths course, were:

Varsity—Cornell, 9 minutes, 38 3-5 seconds; Harvard, 9 minutes 42 3-5 seconds.

Freshman—Cornell, 9 minutes, 56 seconds; Harvard, 10 minutes, 1 second.

The Cornell men finished the varsity contest a tired lot, but able to sit up and cheer. The Harvard men seemed more fatigued; several were exhausted, and one, Charles E. Schall of New London, Conn., collapsed and had to have medical attention. Capt. Reynolds of Harvard was forced to lie on the floor of the launch during the return up river.

In Heavy Sea.

The waters of the Charles river basin were licked into white caps by a cross-wind and the crews were greatly handicapped.

The Harvard's varsity caught the water first, worked into a speedy stroke, and got away to an early lead, rowing 40 strokes to the minute. The Cornell stroke oar set for his crew a long stroke that apparently had greater power behind it, for, with one-third the course covered, Cornell had pushed into a slight lead. Harvard struggled to close the gap and its movement became ragged as a result. But the roughness soon worked off, the Crimson steadied into a faster stroke and at Harvard bridge, which is just short of the half way mark, had a little advantge.

Under the arches of the bridge the Ithacans took new life. They emerged from the shadows even with their opponents; then exhorted by their coxswain set out to gain a lead. It was a bare margin at first, but it was increased gradually until at the finish there was clear water between the Cornell shell and that of Harvard, which took its wash.

The freshman race was only a variation of the same story.

FALL CAUSE OF EVANS LOSING

Versailles, France, May 27.—The most surprising result of the first day's play in the French amateur golf championship at the course of the Gulf Club of La Boulie, was the defeat of Charles W. Evans, Jr., of Chicago by Henry J. Topping, Greenwich Country club, Connecticut, by two up. Evans was handicapped by a severe strain to his left arm, which he suffered in a fall from an automobile. This affected his long game and on the sixteenth hole, Topping was dormie. Evans drove out of bounds from the home tee and Topping was two perfect shots to the green. The Chicago player having then no chance to win the hole, walked in.

Five Americans won their way to the third round which will be played today. They are Francis Ouimet, Jerome D. Travers, Henry J. Topping, Frederick Herreshoff and W. Bowers.

Both Ouimet and Travers played excellent golf.

SUPERIOR WINS WEIRD GAME FROM THE TWINS.

Fort William, Ont., May 27.—Superior won a slow and heavy scoring game from the Twins here yesterday by the score of 13 to 12. It was either team's game up to the final retirement. The Fort William team rallied in the final round and just failed by one score of tying up the game. Errors and errors were weirdly mixed in the accumulation of the large score. Several pitchers were used during the course of the game.

OUIMET BEATS TITLE HOLDER

American Open Champion Wins Over Lord Hope in French Tourney.

Travers and Topping Also Win Third Round—Two Invaders Lose.

Versailles, France, May 27.—Francis Ouimet, American open champion, beat Lord Charles Hope, holder of the title by one up in the third round of the French amateur golf championship tourney this morning.

Jerome D. Travers, American amateur champion, beat his fellow countryman, Frederick Herreshoff of New York, by 5 up and 4 to play in the third round.

Henry J. Topping of Greenwich, Conn., beat J. F. Le Blan of Lille, by one up in the third round.

Eric Apperley of Sydney, N. S. W., beat W. Bowers, an American member of La Boulie club, by one up in the third round.

The feature match of the day was that between Ouimet and Lord Hope. Ouimet was stymied at the first hole and knocked Hope's ball in. Both missed two-foot putts at the third. Ouimet did not putt so well as yesterday. He got into several bunkers, but made good recoveries. Hope, for his part, sliced several long shots. At the turn Hope was one up. The cards were:

Out—Ouimet, 564 553 555—43; Hope, 454 644 645—42.

In—Ouimet, 454 443 554—38—81; Hope, 455 444 455—40—82.

In the Travers-Herreshoff match, Travers at first was off his driving and was two down at the third hole. He recovered later and was three up on Herreshoff at the turn for home.

LEAD PENCIL COMBINE IS HIT

German Firm Gets Contract From Pittsburg School Board.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 27.—After a heated debate, in which the Democratic tariff law was upheld and condemned, the property and supplies committee of the Pittsburg board of public education awarded the bulk of the contract for supplying lead pencils to the local schools next year to a company at Nuremberg, Germany.

John Williams, a member of the board, who is president of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel & Tin Workers, led the fight against awarding the contract to the German firm. Mr. Williams condemned the Democratic administration for passing a tariff law that permitted foreign manufacturers to come into the American market and underbid home industries. He informed the committee that, by favoring the German contract, "it was voting to close down the plants where fathers of American children work."

Taylor Alderdice, vice president of the National Tube company, also a member of the board, said he favored the German company, "to give congress a taste of its own medicine."

A vote in favor of the German company was taken immediately after N. R. Criss, chairman of the finance committee, declared that the German company's entering a bid "has brought about competition and broken up the combination among American manufacturers for the first time in years."

SENATOR BRADLEY BURIED AT FRANKFORT

Frankfort, Ky., May 27.—Simple ceremonies marked the funeral here yesterday of the late Senator W. O. Bradley of Kentucky. The family had asked that there be no ostentation and had declined to allow the body to lie in state in the capitol, where for four years the senator presided as chief executive of Kentucky.

Suspended business, thronged crowds lining the streets and the presence of a congressional delegation and state officials made the occasion a public one.

Flags were half-masted on all public buildings, and as the funeral cortege left the home of Dr. John G. South, the senator's son-in-law, a salute of seventeen guns was fired from Capitol Hill.

Skin Health Comes From the Blood

Even Slight Eruptions Such As Acne Should Be Treated.

Pimples and other skin troubles do not alight on the face like flies. They come bubbling out from within. They are impurities. And if let alone or greased with salves they become chronic, simply because the cause is still at work within. It should be attacked with S. S. S. and the impurities in the blood thus rendered harmless.

The skin is but a net work of fine blood vessels. And it is a perfectly natural consequence that any influence in the blood that is a condition of ill health makes its first appearance in the skin. There are certain medicinal properties that follow the course of the blood stream and the influence of these properties is that of an antidote. This is why S. S. S., the best-known blood purifier, has such a positive action in the skin. There is one ingredient in S. S. S. which peculiarly stimulates cellular or glandular activity to select from the blood or from this fine net work of blood vessels in the skin, those elements which it requires for regeneration.

Thus pimples, acne, eczema, lupus, or any other blood condition that attacks the skin or seeks an outlet through the skin is met with the antidotal effect of S. S. S.

This is why skin troubles vanish so readily and why they do not return.

Under the influence of S. S. S. this fine net work of blood vessels in the skin is constantly taking from the blood the nutrition required for healthy tissue and the cause of disease is just as constantly being removed, scattered and rendered harmless. These facts are more fully explained in a book on skin troubles sent by The Swift Specific Co., 531 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. You will find S. S. S. on sale at all drug stores. BEMIDJI BEAUTY SPOT.

Landscape Gardener Goes Into Ecstacies Over Surroundings.

Bemidji, Minn., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—That Bemidji is one of the grandest beauty spots of the state and that its surroundings are ideal for betterment by a plan of scientific city planning was the statement of Paul E. Mueller, a Minneapolis landscape gardener, while here to further a plan of beautifying the city at a probable expense of considerable money.

Several other prominent persons were in the party. Among them were: Capt. B. L. McCormack, St. Paul; Miss E. L. Callihan, secretary of the Bemidji Townsite company, residing in St. Paul; George B. Irving of Chicago, here to investigate enlarging Bemidji's commercial organization; H. M. Lewis of Minneapolis, assistant general passenger agent of the Soo line; G. A. Sherwood of Duluth, general freight agent of the Soo line, and J. C. Callihan of St. Paul, examiner in the office of Insurance Commissioner Preus.

J. Buswell and Miss Jessie Haggard of Minneapolis; Dr. R. C. Bailey of Crookston; Frank Croman of Minneapolis; Charles Gurlinger, Spur, Minn.; Rev. H. H. Simons, Ada, and Rev. J. H. Fraray of Blackduck, are the principal speakers announced

GIVEN FOUL SEED.

Shields, N. D., Editor Makes Charges Against Indians' Supplies.

Shields, N. D., May 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The editor of the Enterprise charges that the seed grain furnished the Indian farmers of the Standing Rock agency is foul with wild oats. Samples have been secured, which the editor asserts will fully bear out the allegations made, and he demands an official investigation. It is charged that the yields will be greatly reduced and the fields will be innoculated with noxious wild oats that cannot be eradicated for years. It is asserted that this poor quality of grain is along the line of other methods that have been followed on the reservation for some time and that the government should take proper cognizance of the conditions.

IDA VON CLAUSSEN IS SENT TO PRISON.

New York, May 27.—Mrs. Ida Von Claussen, who a few years ago entered into a controversy with Theodore Roosevelt because she was not presented at the court of the king of Sweden, yesterday was sentenced to six months in the penitentiary for sending a threatening letter to Charles Strauss, at one time her lawyer.

BACKUS PLANS PULP MILL AT KENORA.

Winnipeg, Man., May 27.—E. W. Backus, the Minneapolis promotor and capitalist, has reached an agreement with the Ontario government by which he receives large pulp and timber concessions along the Lake of the Woods in return for which he will develop 30,000-horsepower on the Winnipeg river and erect a 100-ton pulp mill at Kenora, Ont.

The announcement was made today by Capt. Machin, member in the legislature for the district.

Backus, according to the agreement, will spend $100,000 next year in development, principally in hydraulic power, work on which he will begin at once. The pulp mill will use up about one-half of the power developed and will be running within two years, although paper will not be manufactured for five years.

Bayreuth, Germany, May 27.—The famous Wagner opera house here is to be made a gift to the German people, according to an announcement made in a newspaper interview with Siegfried Wagner, son of the composer.

The gift will include Wagner's home, "Wahnfried," the manuscripts and other memorials of the composer, and a considerable endowment fund.

SHIPS OF SPONGE FLEET DESTROYED.

Tampa, Fla., May 27.—Reports of the destruction of another ship attached to the Tarpon Springs sponge fleet were brought by the crew of the schooner Edna Louise. Capt. Henri Michel and seventeen men reached this port in a lifeboat, into which it is claimed they were forced by twenty-five men who burned the schooner. The boat was destroyed, according to the report, off Marquesas banks, twenty-five miles from Key West. The attacking party is said to have approached the schooner in a steam launch. The other schooner reuorted destroyed was the Amelia of the same sponge fleet, which was sunk near Key West.

FRICTION REDUCING MOTOR OIL
Red Crown Gasoline
POLARINE remains liquid at zero. POLARINE differs from all other makes of motor oils, in that it furnishes perfect lubrication to friction surfaces at extremes of temperature.
The essential characteristics obviate the necessity of changing oil for summer and winter lubrication—also the necessity of mixing kerosene, graphite and other injurious products with unsuitable and poor cold-test oil for the purpose of making it feed in winter weather.

Grand Trunk The Coolest Way To New York

Goes through Canada via the northernmost and coolest route.

Entering the Dominion at Detroit or Port Huron, it presents a complete panorama of Canada, a full view of Niagara Falls and Seneca Lake, between which and New York it passes through the Wyoming and Lehigh Valleys.

Three daily through New York trains of Pullman sleeping cars, dining cars and day cars from Chicago; yet, for this exceptionally complete service, over double track $18 One Way; all the way, only $27.00 Round Trip.

Even those rates are further reduced when figured into the Grand Trunk's famous "Circle Tours", which beside New York, include New England, (via boat if desired) Montreal, the St. Lawrence River, and a stop at Toronto for "side trips" to Muskoka Lakes and the Highlands of Ontario.

USED TO ADVANTAGE.

Los Angles Times: On Missionary Sunday the Sunday school scholars who gave a dime each of their savings to equip a missionary to Bonboola Gha were requested to accompany each gift with an appropriate text or sentiment. Billy handed his dime to the teacher and said: "Spread the gospel." "Very good," said the teacher. "Now, Sammy, what is your sentiment? "He that giveth to the poor lendeth to the Lord," replied Sammy. "Thats is fine," said the teacher." Now, Jack, it is your turn." Jack glowered, handed over his dime, and answered: "A fool and his money are soon parted."

SULPHUR DRIES UP ECZEMA AND STOPS ITCHING

This Old Time Skin Healer Is Used Just Like Any Cold Cream.

With the first application of bold-sulphur cream the angry itching attending any eczema eruption ceases and its remarkable healing powers begin. Sulphur, says a renowned dermatologist, just common bold-sulphur, made into a thick cream will soothe and heal the skin when irritated and broken out with Eczema or any form of eruption. The moment it is applied all itching ceases and after two or three applications the Eczema disappears, leaving the skin clear and smooth.

He tells Eczema sufferers to get from any good pharmacy an ounce of bold-sulphur cream and apply it to the irritated, inflamed skin, the same as you would any cold cream.

For many years this soothing, healing sulphur has occupied a secure position in the treatment of cutaneous affections by reason of its parasite-destroying property. It is not only parasiticidal, but also antipruritic, antiseptic and remarkably healing in all irritable and inflammatory conditions of the skin. While not always establishing a permanent cure it never fails to instantly subdue the irritation and heal the Eczema right up and it is often years later before any eruption again appears on the skin.

THIS WOMAN RAISES VERY FINE POTATOES

MRS. AMANDA JOHNSON.

Embarrass, Minn., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Amanda Johnson, aged 61, of Embarrass, has cultivated a new type of potato that experts declare is likely to become the best variety for production in this section of the country. Mrs. Johnson planted seeds from the vines of Carmen No. 3, and from year to year for five years planted the resulting potatoes before making her discovery known. She took some of the new potatoes to the Agricultural Special at Embarrass last week and the experts on the train pronounced them better than Carmen No. 3. They have a tough, disease-resisting skin, and a hard white inside. Potatoes are often produced from seed but in very rare cases are they better than the original variety. Being developed in this climate, the Amanda Johnson potatoes, as they are called, are especially adapted to local cultivation and careful experiments will be made this year with a view to standarizing them.

HIBBING TO HAVE BIG CELEBRATION

Plans Afoot for Expending $2,000 on Fourth of July.

Hibbing, Minn., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—A Fourth of July celebration that may cost in the neighborhood of $2,000 was discussed last evening at an enthusiastic meeting of citizens.

J. L. Lewis was selected as general chairman, Judge Brady as secretary, and D. D. McEachin, treasurer. A general committee of seven will be appointed to have charge of the celebration and a finance committee of three will arrange for the necessary funds. both of these committees will be appointed by Chairman Lewis. The report of the treasurer of last year's committee showed that there was $185 left over from the 1913 celebration.

Plan Fine Program.

No details were decided upon as the general committee will have charge, but it is expected that a program that will surpass any previous efforts will be arranged. A good speaker will be secured, the streets will be decorated and there will be plenty of music by the band. A ball game between Chisholm and Hibbing has already been arranged for the afternoon, and in the evening there will be a display of fireworks.

LIE IS PASSED BEFORE COUNCIL

Traction Manager and Hibbing Treasurer Exchange "Compliments."

Hibbing, Minn., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—General Manager Newton of the Mesaba Electric railway and Village Treasurer D. D. McEachin, who appeared as a Commercial club committee passed the short and ugly word at the council meeting last night. The traction manager had been asked to explain why certain changes in schedules and stops should not be made.

The council had started at the southerly end of the line and had convinced Mr. Newton of the necessity of a stop at Washington street when Mr. McEachin interposed a plea for the Hibbing hotel corner.

"There's the man responsible for the change," said Mr. Newton, pointing his finger at the village treasurer.

"That's untrue," said Mr. McEachin.

Says Village Treasurer Lied.

The first passage of the "lie courteous" passed unchallenged but a moment later when Mr. McEachin ventured the assertion that he had never approached the road on the subject of piling trunks in front of his place of business, a procedure to which he objected, Mr. Newton interposed his "That's untrue."

"Taint," said Mr. McEachin.

"'Tis," said Mr. Newton.

"You may say that in here, Mr. Newton," answered Mr. McEachin, "but you can't outside on the street."

"Can," said Mr. Newton.

"Can't" said Mr. McEachin.

The arguments pro and con, and as one spectator said, "mostly con" proceeded for some time with W. J. Ryder and Robert Stratton also interposing suggestions as to new restrictions that might be laid upon the line.

May Solve Problem.

Mr. Newton was finally given an opportunity to think the matter over and will submit his proposition later. It is generally believed that if the stop on Second avenue and Pine street is eliminated and stops ordered at Washington street and either Center or Cedar street, the general public will be thoroughly satisfied. There is apparently no doubt of the need of a stop at Washington street and this Mr. Newton indicated he would grant. The second stop will be at either the Hibbing hotel corner or the First National bank corner, judging from the sentiments expressed.

Following the meeting, though Mr. McEachin retired from the room in the wake of Mr. Newton, it is understood that no blood was shed.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a Glass of Salts If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Troubles You.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications. FAIR

Gentle Richardson, loveliest forecaster of the hills! One feels like bursting into ecstasies of eulogiums for the brand of weather that he has been handing out. And once again he promises fair weather with not much change in temperature for tonight and Thursday. Today is unbeatable. Everybody is saying: "The greatest May in history."

A year ago today was fair and warm. The sun rose this morning at 4:19 and will set this evening at 7:50, giving fifteen hours and thirty-one minutes of sunshine, two minutes more than yesterday.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Hot weather continues in the Central valleys and Southern states. Temperatures of 90 deg. were the rule Tuesday in those districts. Showers fell during Tuesday or last night over the Western and Southern lake region, Upper Mississippi valley, the Southwest and North Pacific coast districts. Heavy rains occurred at Roswell, N. M., and Abilene, Tex."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, May 27.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m., Thursday:

Iowa—Unsettled but generally fair weather tonight and Thursday; continued warm.

Wisconsin—Mostly cloudy tonight and Thursday, possibly thunder showers in east portion; cooler in east portion; cooler in northeast portion tonight.

Minnesota—Generally fair tonight and Thursday; warmer in west portion tonight.

North and South Dakota—Generally fair tonight and Thursday; warmer in north and west portions tonight.

Lower Michigan—Showers and thunder storms this afternoon and tonight; Thursday partly cloudy.

Upper Michigan—Generally fair tonight and Thursday; cooler tonight.

$10,000 HEATING PLANT.

Is Proposed for Hibbing By Consulting Engineer Jackson.

Hibbing, Minn., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—E. B. Jackson, the consulting engineer was instructed by the water and light board last evening to prepare plans and specifications for the construction of a $10,000 heating plant to be run in connection with the present power plant.

The present users of steam heat have agreed to a price of 40 cents a foot per season of seven months, though meter traps will be installed and the actual amount used measured by the board. The system will be a modern and up-to-date one laid in concrete with a minimum leakage.

Mr. Jackson presented a report on a proposed power plant that could be constructed for $130,000.

TAKEN TO NEGAUNEE.

"Grandma" Tobin of Hibbing to Be Buried in Michigan.

Hibbing, Minn., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The body of "Grandma" Tobin, a character here for years, who died yesterday, aged 89, was taken today to Negaunee, Mich., for interment, where seventeen other members of the Tobin family are buried. Mrs. Tobin lived here sixteen years, coming with her husband from Negaunee and running a pop factory. Her husband died ten years ago and she ran the place until her sons died, then she sold out to J. J. Robertson. Her sons and husband were buried here until last year, when the bodies were taken to Negaunee.

An article appearing in a Chicago publication a few years ago about Mrs. Tobin, said:

"And Grandma Tobin has a record, a good, long, honorable one, going back to the time when Minnesota was a wilderness. In short, she is the oldest bottler both in years and experience in Northern Minnesota. She was born in county Killarney, Ireland, in 1825. In 1832 her people moved to America and she well remembers that long three months' trip over in a sailing vessel from Liverpool; so unpleasant a recollection that although Grandma Tobin can ably afford a trip to Ireland, she shudders at the thought of crossing the water. 'Not that I don't like wather,' says grandma, 'for indade I do like it better than any other drink, particularly sody wather, but there's altogether too much wather in the ocean for me.'

"Her people, away back in the '30s, lived in New England for a time, where she grew up to young womanhood. Then after her marriage she moved to Michigan, where she and her husband opened up the first soda water plant at Negaunee and a great many years ago they removed to the wild Northern Minnesota, opening up the first bottling shop in Hibbing, when the iron ore industry of that city was in its infancy.

"'Twas a hard beginning,' says Grandma Tobin, 'and it's myself that knows it.'

"The first goods delivered were hauled to a few customers in a wheelbarrow. But grandma was game, for it was she more than her husband who really ran the business, and she finally built up a prosperous and flourishing business, and is today comfortably well off, living on the rentals of improved property that she owns and enjoying the fruits of her labor."

SUMMER SKI JUMPING.

Noted Norwegian Gives Exhibition of Skill at Marble.

Marble, Minn., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Otto Henricsen, a noted ski jumper, who has lately come here from Norway, gave an exhibition of straight ski jumping, also of turning a somersault on skis, recently at the ball park. Quite a crowd was entertained by this exhibition. Mr. Henricsen expects to spend the summer in Marble preparing to give a series of exhibitions at fairs and carnivals.

MORE HIBBING FIRE APPARATUS.

Hibbing, Minn., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The addition of two pieces of motor driven apparatus was suggested to the council last evening in a communication from Fire Chief McIlhargney.

A fifty-foot hook and ladder truck for Station No. 1 would allow the present horse driven truck to be sent to Alice, where such a piece of apparatus is badly needed.

A combination hose wagon, pump and chemical truck is the second piece of apparatus and the economy of purchasing the three in one machine was pointed out by the chief. In case such an automobile was bought the present horse drawn combination hose and chemical wagon would be sent to Alice, giving that suburb an excellent equipment.

The equipment at No. 2 hall would remain the same with the big motor driven combination wagon. No. 1 would have two auto trucks and Alice would be well equipped with the two pieces of horse drawn apparatus.

The communication was referred to the fire committee with instructions to report at the next meeting.

VIRGINIA WILL HAVE HOSPITAL

City Council Decides to Go Ahead With the Plans.

Virginia, Minn., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The proposed detention hospital, which has been discussed here for months, will become a fact as the city council last night, after an urgent request from the health committee, ordered the committee to go ahead with the preliminary plans.

The gas plant committee came in for criticism from Mayor Boylan for not reporting the estimated cost.

Meat Inspector Chris Engel complained that M. A. Booth, a butcher, denied him admission to his shop. The mayor told him to ignore the butcher's action and have him arrested if interferred with again.

Wants More Security.

The Maryland Bonding company asked that local banks handling village funds be compelled to present more than $10,000 security.

The Williams Realty company was requested to reserve a tract of land for a children's playground.

C. C. Butler was awarded the contract for concrete and culvert work on the Gilbert road for $1.39. Liquor licenses were granted to Louis Cohen and Felix Mattson.

LEAVES MEXICO CITY.

Brother of Chisholm Man Gets Out of Ticklish Position.

Chisholm, Minn., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—George O'Brien, brother of Harry O'Brien of Chisholm, and general manager for the Wells Fargo Express company in Mexico City, has closed his office there and with his family moved to Vera Cruz according to word received here.

Mr. O'Brien and his family came by rail to the Mexican outposts near Vera Cruz and then walked twelve miles to the American outposts and they were then brought to Vera Cruz by rail. The greatest hardship they encountered was carrying the little ones the distance.

Mr. O'Brien states that both the American and Mexican officials treated them with the greatest courtesy. The family will go to New Orleans and from there to California.

CHISHOLM CHURCH SITE SELECTED.

Chisholm, Minn., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The finance committee of the Scandinavian Lutheran church discussed the church building problem with Rev. J. B. A. Idstrom of Hibbing. It was decided to erect a building on the present site at the corner of Spruce street and First avenue. A large number of the congregation reside at the mining locations and this location is as central as could be found.

The building will be about 40 by 60, with full basement, of wood and should cost about $4,500. Contractor Gust Anderson and Rev. Idstrom went to Virginia to consult Architect A. K. Shand and when the sketches are prepared they will be presented to the building committee which is yet to be appointed. Osman Abbey, Henry Thompson and Gust Anderson were chosen to decide upon the site and their report was accepted.

DROWNED MAN'S BODY RECOVERED.

Ely, Minn., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The body of Mr. Jacobson, who was drowned Sunday afternoon in the Stoney river, was recovered yesterday, and will reach here tomorrow. He was about 30 years of age, and an effort is being made to locate his relatives or friends. Little information relative to the accident is available, as the scene of the accident is between thirty and forty miles from here.

WHAT NEURASTHENIA IS

Neurasthenia is a condition of exhaustion of the nervous system. The causes are varied. Continuous work, mental or physical, without proper vacation periods, without proper attention to diet and exercise, also worry over the struggle for success, are the most common causes. Excesses of almost any kind may produce it. Some diseases, like the grip, will cause neurasthenia. So also will a severe shock, intense anxiety or grief.

The symptoms are over-sensitiveness, irritability, a disposition to worry over trifles, headache, possibly nausea.

The treatment is one of nutrition of the nerve cells, requiring a non-alcoholic tonic. As the nerves get their nourishment from the blood the treatment must be directed toward building up the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act directly on the blood and with proper regulation of the diet have proved of the greatest benefit in many cases of neurasthenia. A tendency to anaemia, or bloodlessness, shown by most neurasthenic patients, is also corrected by these tonic pills. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Two useful books "Diseases of the Nervous System" and "What to Eat and How to Eat" will be sent free by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., if you mention this paper.

EVELETH FIRE TO BE LOOKED INTO

Grand Jury Asked to Investigate Spruce Hotel Blaze.

Virginia, Minn., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—District court here adjourned yesterday to meet next Tuesday in Hibbing when a light criminal and fairly good-sized civil calendar will be taken up.

Among the cases to be laid before the grand jury will be the fire in the Spruce hotel at Eveleth last April. Fire Marshal Keller and Deputy Fullerton looked into the case and found that it was one of the most reprehensible attempts at incendiarism ever reported on the range, fires being started in three different places in the hotel at once. Another case to come before the grand jury will be that of Marina Sanagi of Hibbing, accused of selling liquor to minors in Hibbing and perjury.

Albert Kaiser of Hibbing will be informed against on the charge of running slot machines and is expected to plead guilty and be sentenced Tuesday morning.

Judge Hughes here yesterday granted Mrs. Mary Berry a divorce from Charles Berry, to whom she was married in Hancock, Mich., in 1904 on the ground of cruel and inhuman treatment. She gets the custody of the two children.

COOK DRUGGIST HAS DISAPPEARED.

Cook, Minn., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—D. Engelbert, a local druggist, who was indicted by the grand jury Feb. 2 on the charge of selling liquor without a license, has disappeared and Judge Hughes has declared his bond of $300 forfeited. His bondsmen were H. W. Reik of this place and Sam Erickson of Virginia.

Fire Near Chisholm.

Chisholm, Minn., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The brush fires that have been burning the last few days are still raging near here and while there is no danger of their communicating with the village yet they are worrying people. The fire which originated between here and Wilpin and which threatened the pines is working well to the east, and is less than a mile from the Shenango location.

Ely Band Concert.

Ely, Minn., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The city band will render the following concert on the street next Saturday evening: "Royal Hussars," K. L. King; selection, "King Dodo," W. H. Mackie; march, "The Avenger," H. L. King; waltz, "Wedding of the Winds," John T. Hall; cornet duo, "Panorama," J. A. Greenwood; march, "Blazing the Trail," H. A. Vandercook.

Virginian Dies at Tower.

Virginia, Minn., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The body of William Rajula of the Higgins location, who died at a Tower hospital Monday evening following an operation for appendicitis, was brought here last evening. He was at the hospital for about a week. He was employed here at the Higgins mine. He was about 35 years of age and leaves a wife and seven children.

Gets Japanese Offer.

Virginia, Minn., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Prof. L. H. Weilman of the high school faculty is considering an offer to go to Yokohoma, Japan, to take charge of physical culture and sociological work. He recently returned from Duluth, where he conferred with E. L. Colton of the International Y. M. C. A.

Making Fly Traps.

Chisholm, Minn., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—To encourage the movement to exterminate flies, R. W. Jackson, instructor in manual training, has started his class in the manufacture of fly traps. The traps are known as the Oklahoma traps and are in use in many cities and villages throughout the United States.

Would Deport Consumptive.

Chisholm, Minn., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Poor Officer W. E. Talbcys, tired of trying to do something for Milo Bocovich, a young Montenegrin, suffering from tuberculosis, who was sent to the county hospital at Duluth then returned, is thinking of taking steps to have him deported because he is an alien.

For Range Title.

Eveleth, Minn., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The high school championship of the Mesaba range will be decided here Saturday when the local team meets Hibbing. All other range schools have been eliminated and the team which wins Saturday will take the title.

HENRY SIEGEL COMES BACK FROM ENGLAND.

New York, May 27.—Henry Siegel under indictment here for grand larceny and violations of the state banking laws, growing out of the failure of his private bank and department stores, returned to New York today on the steamship Olympic. He made but a brief visit in England, the district attorney's office having insisted that he return within a prescribed time. He is out on bail, pending hearing of his case.

First Canal Freight.

New York, May 27.—The steamer Colon which arrived today from Christobal, brought the first freight that came through the Panama canal. The cargo consisted of 21,000 sacks of sugar and was towed through the canal on barges. It is the first cargo to pay through freight.

MERRITT WILL RELIEVE THE HICKEN THIRSTS.

Several applications have been made to Commissioner Leonidas Merritt, head of the division of public utilities, for the installation of bubbling fountains.

"Since Commissioner Hicken has caused a drouth in the town, particularly after 11 o'clock and on Sundays, I suppose it's up to us to do what we can to relieve the thirsts," jovially remarked the utility head.

OUTSIDE WORK ABOUT DONE

Assessor's Deputies Will Complete Their Work Friday Night.

Big Volume of Office Work Remains Before Wind Up.

The deputies who have been engaged since May 1 in making the personal property assessment, will probably finish their outside work next Friday night.

Most of the districts into which the city was divided for the purposes of the assessment, have been finished and the others are being completed.

A big volume of work remains to be done inside the office before the personal assessment is wound up. The new state law requires that the assessment be entered in much greater detail than heretofore. The entire staff will be kept going at top speed to get the books in shape for the sessions of the city board of review, which will begin Monday, June 22. The board consists of City Assessor J. Allyn Scott, Mayor W. I. Prince and City Clerk Charles S. Palmer.

Assessor Scott states that it is several weeks too early to know what the approximate totals of the valuations will be. He states that the reports have been generally satisfactory. The aggregate of moneys and credits will probably run considerably ahead of last year, when the returns amounted to about $14,500,000. Deputy W. J. Stephens, who has charge of this branch of the assessment, said this morning that the returns thus far received show a gain of about $1,500,000. Moneys and credits are classed separately and pay a tax of three mills or $3 per $1,000.

ARM OF LAW IS NOT LONG ENOUGH

But Hook on Pole Will Reach Numerous Campaign Posters.

The long arm of the law isn't long enough to reach many of the posters which have been tacked on telephone posts and other places about the city. Wherefore the long arm will be supplemented with a hook on the end of a pole.

The authorities are determined that the numerous candidates for public office shall no longer inflict their countenances upon their helpless constituents from every point of vantage throughout the corporate limits. The same applies to all other posters. The ordinance is to be enforced and the candidates who are still following the ancient practice will save themselves time and money and a measure of patience, both for themselves and the officials, if they will act on that understanding.

DIES WHILE ON WAY TO DULUTH

Word was received here this morning of the death of Robert H. Grunshaw, 35 years old, formerly of this city. Mr. Grunshaw and his wife made their home for several years at 1218 East Second street, moving to Long Beach, Cal., about three years ago. He was on his way to Duluth to spend the summer here with his wife, when he was taken ill in Minneapolis and died this morning. Mr. Grunshaw leaves no relatives in Duluth.

FINED FOR SELLING LIQUOR TO INDIAN.

Edward McLaughlin of Tower was fined $50 this morning by Judge Bert Fesler of the district court after he had appeared before the court and entered a plea of guilty to a charge of having sold liquor to an Indian. On May 23 last McLaughlin disposed of a gallon of whisky for $4 to Joe Bignose. In view of the fact that it was McLaughlin's first offense, the court imposed a fine, with the condition that failure of payment would result in his commitment to the joint county and city work farm for a period not to exceed sixty days.

Steeple Fire Too High.

Menominee, Mich., May 27.—When lightning struck the spire of Stannes Catholic church it started a fire so high up that the fire department could not reach it. The blaze was extinguished after it had burned off the steeple. The loss is $1,000.

DOES A FLOWING MUSTACHE JUSTIFY VICIOUS ASSAULT?

Ely Policeman Sued for $500 for Tearing Out Half of Prisoner's Facial Decoration.

"I am the flowing mustache that decorates the face.
They say that I am passe, part of an ancient race.
They say my days are numbered; that I no longer am of use
Except to harbor microbes that may be running loose.
"They say I'm in the discard; they say I am passe;
That I have served my purpose; that I have seen my day.
But still in spite of warnings, it's pretty safe to bet
When Gabriel blows his trumpet, I'll be on some men yet."

Whether or not the mere presence of that once-respected variety of facial ornamentation, known as a mustache, is justifiable cause for assault upon the man who ventures to wear it in this day and age, may prove to be a question on which a district court jury may be asked to pass.

In Judge Dancer's division of the district court this afternoon, it is expected that a jury will be drawn to try a cause of action which Charles Pessanen, 44, has against Peter Papovitch, an Ely police officer, and his bondsmen, the Maryland Casualty company, in which Pesanen claims that after he had been arrested by the officer, the latter assaulted him and tore the right half of a trailing moustache out by its roots. It was between five and six inches long.

Wants $500 Damages.

Pesanen is suing for $500 for his wounded feelings and the loss of his trailer. He alleges that so far as he was concerned, the assault made by Papovitch was unprovoked and without the least justification. It is understood that Papovitch's defense is that he found it necessary to utilize the moustache as a handle. Pesanen jerked away he claims with the result that the right hank tore loose.

Pesanen on the other hand denies that he resisted arrest and claims that he was set upon by the officer after he had been confined in a cell at the police station. He claims that Papovitch put his (Pesanen's) head under his arm and then jerked one side of the mustache out by its roots, causing excruciating pain for the time being.

Pesanen was arrested for going into a saloon after he had been paroled by the municipal court on a charge of drunkenness with the understanding that he keep away from thirst parlors. He was committed to the county jail. The mustache pulling incident occurred on Sept. 4, last, at Ely, according to Pesanen. His attorneys are Victor H. Gran and John A. Samuelson. Abbott, McPherran, Lewis & Gilbert will represent the surety company, which went on Papovitch's bond. The company will defend the action in court.

FALLS DEAD ON CAMP FLOOR

Laborer Suddenly Stricken in Camp Near Calvary Cemetery.

Alfred Evans, 60 years old, suddenly dropped dead at a clearing camp about three-quarters of a mile north of the Calvary cemetery early this morning. Coroner McComb was notified and he ordered the body taken to the Crawford undertaking rooms, where a post mortem examination will be held this afternoon.

Evans was a laborer in the camp, where he had been working for the last two weeks. He complained of no illness yesterday and his death came as a surprise to his fellow laborers. About 5 o'clock this morning he awoke and complained of a pain and, no sooner had he spoken, than he fell to the floor. He was dead when the others reached his side.

Very little is known about Evans or where he came from. The body will be held at the undertaking rooms and if no relatives are heard from Evans will be buried at the county's expense.

Former State Senator Dies.

Howard Lake, Minn., May 27.—Dr. E. Y. Chilton died here May 25 after a short illness. He had resided here about thirty-three years. He was state senator from this district at one time, and had held other positions of trust and influence in the community.

DID NOT LIE DOWN FOR FIVE WEEKS

School Girl Had Serious Bronchial Cough—Cured It With Father John's Medicine.

"Three years ago I was in bed for six weeks with bronchitis.

"Had a bad attack, coughed all winter and was in the care of a physician.

"Last winter, when I had another attack as bad, a lady recommended Father John's Medicine. I commenced taking it in a few weeks, and since then have never missed a day in school. I owe a great deal to it as the results were most favorable. My attack last winter was so bad I was propped up in bed every night for five weeks to get a little rest." (Signed) Vera Virginia Stief, Newark, Ohio.

Mothers should realize the value of Father John's Medicine as a family remedy for coughs, colds and as a body builder, because it is pure and wholesome, free from alcohol and dangerous drugs and is not a patent medicine, but a doctor's prescription.

Father John's Medicine is for sale in Duluth by William A. Abbett, 205 West Superior street, 101 West Fourth street, 932 East Second street, also Boyce Drug Store, 331 West Superior street; Wirth Drug Store, 13 West Superior street, and practically all other drug stores in the city. If you have any difficulty in getting Father John's Medicine from your druggist, write to Father John's Medicine, Lowell, Mass., enclosing $1 for a large bottle by express, prepaid.

OFFICER IS SENTENCED

Lieut.-Col. Whitaker of British Army Sent to Prison.

Fines Imposed on General Manager and Employes of Lipton's.

London, May 27.—Some scathing remarks were uttered today by Justice Darling in reference to Lord Saye and Sele, controller of the king's household, and a direct descendant of one of the twenty-five barons entrusted with the enforcement by King John of the provisions of Magna Charta.

The incident occurred at the Old Bailey, where sentence was pronounced today on the nine British army officers and eight civilian employes of Lipton's, Ltd., who were charged with conspiracy to offer to accept bribes in connection with the allotment of army canteen contracts.

Gets Six Months.

Lieut.-Col. Whitaker of the Second Yorkshire regiment, the highest in rank of the prisoners, was sentenced to six months' imprisonment. Whitaker pleaded for mercy. The gray-headed old veteran, who has served in the British army for thirty-eight years, broke down and said he had acted on the persuasion of Col. Fiennes, now Lord Saye and Sele, who was then lieutenant-colonel of the Royal Scots Fusiliers.

Justice Darling, referring to Fiennes' letter which Whitaker declared had led him astray, said:

"The letter shows sad decadence from the traditions of a great family. I myself, if I belonged to such a family, would starve rather than get my living by cadging for orders for beer."

Fiennes' letter had invited Lieut.-Col. Whitaker to use his good offices in behalf of a firm of brewers.

By his position as controller of the king's household, Lord Saye and Sele is a member of the British government.

Lipton Men Fined.

John Cansfield, general manager and director of Lipton's, Ltd., and Archibald Minto, formerly head of the military department of the same firm, were each fined $2,500. The six lesser civilian defendants were fined $250 each.

The other military defendants were bound over to come up for judgment if called upon.

The attorney general, in closing the case for the prosecution, remarked that it was only fair to Sir Thomas Lipton to say that, so far as the prosecution knew, there was no document and no evidence which suggested in the slightest degree that anyone besides those who had been brought before the court should be prosecuted.

HELD FOR SELLING CIGARETTES TO MINOR.

H. Ruben, a clerk at the United Cigar store at the corner of Lake avenue and Superior street, was arrested last night on a charge of selling cigarettes to a minor. He pleaded not guilty when arraigned this morning and his trial was set for this afternoon.

The complaint against Ruben was made by Robert A. North, state inspector of foods and drugs, who claims that the former sold a package of cigarettes to Archibald Woodward, 18 years old. Young Woodward lives at the La Salle hotel.

Ruben faces a maximum penalty of a fine of $50 or thirty days and the loss of his license to sell cigarettes.

BIG ROSEAU WORK WILL SOON START

State Reclamation Project Will Soon Be Under Way.

St. Paul, Minn., May 27.—E. V. Willard, state drainage engineer, returned yesterday from the Roseau river district, where the state is preparing to reclaim thousands of acres of marsh land bordering on the stream, by deepening the channel and cutting off the numerous bends of the river.

The work will be started July 1 under an appropriation of $80,000 made by the last legislature. The contract has been let to the Central Dredging company of Cleveland, Ohio.

Job Is Big One.

According to Mr. Willard, the improvement will necessitate the removal of 450,000 cubic yards of dirt and 85,000 cubic yards of hard pan, covering a distance of seventeen miles.

The Roseau river project is the only reclamation work the state has provided for this year.

Mr. Willard intends to make the survey for the Austin state park next week.

TERMS OF THE COMPROMISE

Gives Labor Right to Exist as an Organization.

Washington, May 27.—Representative Carlin made a statement at the White House today about the compromise agreed upon between the labor leaders and administration leaders on the trust bills.

"The labor provision of the anti-trust bill as agreed upon gives labor the right to exist as an organization and in the language of the platform, declares that they shall not be held to be a combination or conspiracy in restraint of trade, said he.

"This will prevent a bill being filed on behalf of the government for a dissolution of labor organizations. It does not exempt labor from specific acts which would constitute a restraint of trade or a conspiracy in restraint of trade. It is a clear cut, clean statutory enactment of the provisions contained, in the Baltimore program."

STATE CAMP OPENS JUNE 16

Third Regiment Officers Expect Full Quota at Lake City.

Col. F. E. Resche, Lieut. Col. H. V. Eva and the Duluth battalion of the Third regiment, Minnesota national guard, will leave Duluth on the night of June 16, for the annual summer encampment, and will remain ten days. The encampment of the Third regiment will be as usual, at Lake City.

The camp will break on June 26th and the boys will get home on the June 27th. Leiut. Col. Eva said today that he expects that there will be a full quota of the members of the three Duluth companies on hand for the encampment, and, in fact, he looks for a nearly complete quota of the entire regiment, war talk having aroused keen interest and enthusiasm. One result it has had is a better attendance at drills and more vim in the work, it is claimed.

Curiously enough, this year will see the two chief officers of the regiment from Duluth, Col. Resche having been promoted from the lieutenant-colonelcy and Lieut. Col. Eva having been promoted from the senior majority during the past year.

REPORT ON NOBLE EXPECTED SOON

Congressman Miller Says Engineers Are Making an Investigation.

The United States engineers are expected to make a report soon on their investigation of the Duluth lighthouse and fog-signal service, according to Congressman Clarence B. Miller, who spoke on the Philippines to members of the Knights of Pythias lodge last night. The engineers began an investigation immediately after the wreck of the steamer Benjamin Noble, which was lost with her cargo and crew of twenty men.

Mr. Miller said the inquiry is covering all matters pertaining to the wreck and the reasons why the lights were not properly lighted and the fog horn blowing. The point at issue, said Mr. Miller, is whether the poor service was due to the government employes or to the inadequate facilities. He said these matters would be made public in a report in the near future.

The lecture on the Philippines covered details of his trip of inspection there and was illustrated with lantern slides.

The meeting was attended by a large number of the lodge members, their families and friends.

FIRST EXCURSIONS OF THE SEASON

Lake and River Trips Will Begin Saturday and Sunday.

Sunday excursions between Duluth and Two Harbors by boat will begin next Sunday and continue throughout the summer.

Preparations are being made to make these excursions a great success this summer. The coming of warm weather so early in the season, has set the excursion germ to work early and it is expected that big crowds of excursionists will be on hand for the opening of the season.

The steamer Easton of the United States & Dominion Transportation company, will make three trips Sunday, starting at 9:30, 2:30 and 7:30 o'clock.

On Monday morning the Easton will begin her down-lake trips touching at north shore points.

The steamer Columbia of the Clow-Nicholson company will make her first trips of the season between Duluth and Fond du Lac next Saturday and Sunday if the weather permits. The exact schedule is not yet made out but it is planned to make at least two trips daily.

The excursion trips to Fond du Lac are being looked forward to with great interest. Many who go out for a week-end visit, will take advantage of the journey offered by the Columbia.

The steamer Favorite, recently purchased by the Clow-Nicholson company which was taken to Fond du Lac, is now being put into first class condition for excursions. She is being painted and will not be in condition for trips at the opening of the season.

ROGERS RELEASED FROM WRECKAGE

Steamer Goes to Shipyard for Repairs—Ball Still Aground.

The steamer William A. Rogers, which was badly damaged Monday when the large steel bridge at the Northwestern Coal Dock No. 1 blew upon it, was released today and sent to the shipyards for inspection and repairs. The after cabin is wrecked, the rear mast down and the smoke stack loosened. The vessel reached the shipyards this afternoon.

The big steamer Frank C. Ball, which ran aground on Minnesota Point, was left lying in her position today and will await a northeast wind and high water before her owners attempt to take her off. The vessel was not in commission at the time of the wind and no one was aboard except the caretaker.

FRENCH GOLF TITLE BELONGS TO AMERICA

Ouimet and Topping Are Finalists in Big Tourney at Versailles—Travers Down to Semi-Finals.

Versailles, May 27.—Two Americans, Francis Ouimet and Henry J. Topping, were left to fight out the final round for the French amateur golf championship to be played off here tomorrow.

Three Americans and an Australian were the survivors for the semi-finals of the French amateur golf championship, as the result of this morning's play. Jerome D. Travers, Francis Ouimet and Henry J. Topping were the American semi-finalists. Eric Appeley of New South Wales was the only non-American left in the competition.

For the semi-finals Ouimet was drawn against Appeley and Travers against Topping.

NICKALLS STILL THE COACH AT YALE.

New Haven, Conn., May, 27.—Guy Nickalls is still coach of the Yale 'varsity eight, said Manager Henry W. He declared that the reports were much exaggerated, and that there were no serious differences.

FOLK WANTS ALL BOOKS OR NONE

Has Difference of Opinion With Representative of Morgan.

New York, May 27.—For more than an hour today, Joseph W. Folk, counsel for the interstate commerce commission, conferred with Francis Lynde Stetson, counsel for J. P. Morgan & Co., concerning Mr. Morgan's offer to allow the commission to examine the firm's records relating to the New Haven railroad. A statement by Mr. Folk after the conference indicated that there had been some difference of opinion as to what papers and records should be gone into.

"We insist," said Mr. Folk, "that the examiners shall decide for themselves what books and papers of the firm relate to the New Haven. We also insist that these examiners shall not be confined to books and papers handed them and said to be all that relate to the New Haven. In other words the examination to be worth anything must be thorough. We want all the books and papers or none at all."

Bringing back with them some land locked salmon that weighed as high as 18 pounds apiece, a party of five Duluth and Detroit people returned this morning from Greenwood lake, twenty-eight miles back of Grand Marais.

In the party were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Yawkey of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. John Howard and John B. Arnold of Duluth. Mr. Yawkey is one of the owners of the Detroit baseball team. He was most enthusiastic over the fishing found in Minnesota.

CROOKSTON GRAND IS BADLY SCORCHED

Sixth Attempt Is Made to Burn the Playhouse.

Crookston, Minn., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Grand opera house here was badly scorched by fire early this morning and the general theory is that it was of incendiary origin. A quantity of inflammable material saturated with kerosene was found in an unused room. The damage was confined to the balcony and front part of the interior, the damage being variously estimated from $12,000 to $14,000; covered by insurance. It is reported that this was the sixth attempt to fire the building since last fall.

Been Watching Building.
Between the manager of the theater and the local police pretty close watch has been kept on the building for several weeks, but last night it appears the vigilance was relaxed. The opera house was built four years ago and is now under lease to A. J. Kavanaugh, a theatrical manager of Grand Forks. Hays & Vanvie of Minneapolis own the property. No one seems to be able to ascribe the motive for wanting to burn the Grand and no one is therefore under suspicion of having set fire to the building.

BURNS DETECTIVE IS FINED HEAVILY.

Atlanta, Ga., May 27.—Daniel S. Lehon, Southern manager for William J. Burns, the detective, was fined $100 in the recorder's court here late yesterday and bound over to the state courts because of alleged violation of city ordinances and state laws in connection with an investigation of the case of Leo M. Frank. The detective was tried under laws governing the activities of non-resident detectives. Lehon was charged with failing first to report to the Atlanta police when he began work. Similar cases are pending against five other detectives.

OFFERS WISCONSIN BALLOT TO MEXICO.

La Crosse, Wis., May 27.—Moncena Dunn, head of the coupon ballot system being installed in Wisconsin, today wired the peace mediators at Niagara Falls an offer of free use of the Wisconsin ballot with the purpose of eliminating fraud in the Mexican elections. "It has been demonstrated that it eliminates fraud, that illiterates vote it confidently and fast and that it insures complete secrecy," says Dunn. "It has been claimed that the worst trouble in Mexico is corrupt elections. Here is the way to correct them."

TO EXTEND POWERS OF THE COMMISSION.

Washington, May 27.—General jurisdiction over railroad operation, insofar as safety is concerned, would be lodged with the interstate commerce commission by a bill approved today by a house committee and introduced by Representative Stephens of New Hampshire. Automatic train stops, block signals and steel cars with certain exceptions, within ten years, would be required. Broad discretionary powers would be conferred on the commission.

MARKET OFF AT FINISH

Wheat Turns Easy With Liberal Selling Near the Close.

Price Changes in Flaxseed Are Nominal on Moderate Day's Trading.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 27.—The market turned easy at the close with liberal offerings of July wheat. May wheat closed ⅛c off; July ⅛c off and September ⅛c up. May durum closed ⅜c off and July ⅜c off.

Oats closed ¼c off at 39¾c for on the track, and at 38⅞c for to arrive.

Rye closed unchanged at 59½@61½c, and barley unchanged at 55@59c for choice stuff.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed at 38c bid, and July at 38⅝c bid.

Puts on Minneapolis July wheat closed at 90¾@90⅞c, and calls at 91⅜@91½c asked.

The wheat market was firm during the first three hours business today on the development of substantial Eastern inquiry and reports of dry conditions in some sections of the Southwest. The congestion in the May option at Chicago was also a factor. On urgent demand from belated shorts, the spread between that and the July option on that market widened today to 12½c. Chicago traders are making every effort to rush in grain to cover their outstanding contracts, as attested in receipts of 314 cars there today as compared with only 51 last year. The Ames-Brooks company reported the sale of a cargo of No. 1 northern for immediate shipments from here down there. A cargo of No. 1 northern was also worked by that house for export.

Crop advices from over both the Southwest and the Northwest were generally favorable, telling of splendid conditions over the greater portion of the territory. The weather map showed rains in sections of Kansas. The only fly in the ointment was the intimation that the surface of the ground is becoming dry in a few North Dakota districts, and that rains would be welcomed at the present.

Armour was again advised to be a liberal seller of wheat at Chicago, and his following is alleged to be growing. The firmness in oats continued a strengthening factor on that market.

Liverpool closed lower, being affected by larger Russian offers and the favorable European crop promise.

Receipts here for the day were 83 cars against 41 a year ago. Stocks of wheat in the local elevators have decreased 384,000 bu in the last three days, bringing them down to 5,476,000 bu, of which 4,310,000 bu is spring wheat.

Supplies of wheat at Minneapolis have decreased 570,000 bu in the four days. Arrivals there today were 86 cars against 99 a year ago.

July wheat opened unchanged at 93⅜c, and the quotation did not vary up to the final hour. September opened unchanged at 88⅜c, and gained ⅜c. Trading in durum was light, and was confined to the July option. It opened unchanged at 89⅜c and eased off ⅛c.

Flaxseed is Steady.

Business in flaxseed was again quiet today, but the market was firm, holders showing a disposition to sit tight pending seeding developments in the Northwest. Crushers were in the market, but they refrained from bidding prices up. Final quotations showed nominal changes.

The foreign markets were weak, Buenos Aires closing 1⅜c off; London ⅜c off and Antwerp 1¼c off.

Trading was confined to the July and September option. May flax closed ¼c up at $1.57½ bid. July opened unchanged at $1.58⅜, and closed ¼c up at $1.59 asked; September opened unchanged at $1.60⅜ and closed ¼c off at $1.60½ asked. The October option closed ¼c off at $1.58½.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed at $1.37¼ and July at $1.39 bid.

MARKET GOSSIP.

Bradstreet's world visible supply report showed a decrease of 6,432,000 bu wheat, 1,661,000 bu corn and 2,230,000 bu of oats. The world's visible wheat supply was reported at 138,941,000 bu against 159,608,000 bu last year.

At Minneapolis, cash demand was just fair for the top grades. There was only limited outside milling call and the local mills were discriminating, buyers wanting only the choice offerings. One northern blue stem sold at from 2@3½c over July, and velvet chaff at 1½@2c over July. Flour was still reported dull. Cash one northern wheat sold there at from 93@95c and No. 2 northern at from 91@93c.

John Inglis wired from Wellington, Kan.: "Southern Kansas still gives promise of a large crop. The stand and heights are far above normal. It cannot stand any heavy showers. Oats are good.

Broomhall's International Review says: "The market during the week has displayed a firm undertone with a net advance for July. The principal factors in the strength were the reports of fly damage in America, and a belief there that the European demand will continue on a large scale. The heavy shipments from Atlantic ports and freer offers of Indian and Canadian wheat militated against the advance."

* * *

Broomhall's special Russian news says: "Weather is generally fine and summerlike. Rains have fallen over a large area and further moisture is not essential, but it would be beneficial. It is necessary for warm weather to continue. Crop outlook is considered up to this time generally satisfactory, but prices are rising daily, and the higher the prices offered from abroad, the smaller the transactions. Grain sellers have almost entirely withdrawn. Everything is being held firmly."

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Wheat opened with pressure of realizing 3/4d to ½d lower, influenced by weaker American cables, pressure of Manitoba offers and the decline at Winnipeg. Indian offers were larger and Russia continues to offer more freely. During the morning, the market was dull, with some support and notwithstanding the weakness in corn and better American crop advices, support was in evidence, influenced by the continental demand and less favorable development of the European crop promise. At 1:30 p. m., the undertone was steady, ¾d lower.

"Corn opened ¼d lower, and later it further declined ½d to ¾d, with pressure in July. The break in Buenos Aires yesterday, larger La Plata offers, freer Danubian offers, the decline in spot here and lack of support, caused the decline. At 1:30 p. m., the undertone was easy ¼d to ⅝d lower."

At Buenos Aires wheat was easier, ¼c lower, with lowered foreign bids. Corn was steady ¼c to½c higher.

* * *

Baker received the following wire from Springfield, Ill.: "From east, west and south of us, covering practically the south half of Illinois, we are receiving very bullish reports on oats. Conservative men claim 50 per cent loss due to the extreme dry weather. The thermometer registered 86 at 8 o'clock this morning. It looks like the hottest day on record. We continue to receive bad reports on the wheat in the same territory, and the majority of the reports indicate that the south half of Illinois will, with most favorable conditions, not raise over half a crop."

* * *

Price Current says: "Some relief was afforded winter wheat west of the Missouri river last week. Kansas has had sufficient moisture in the greater part of its big wheat section to carry the plant well into the filling stage and the only important damage that could occur in that state would be either from hot winds in the next two weeks or wet weather at harvest time. Nebraska has had similar help from rains. Oklahoma is in an ideal stage barring hot winds. Texas has had too much rain and with the harvest period at hand, dry weather is needed to gather the crop. Some damage has been sustained by the heavy rainfall through lodging and flooding. Missouri and Illinois still suffer from the dry weather, and Hessian fly. Seeding is completed in the Northwest with a slightly reduced acreage and there is enough moisture to give the plant a splendid start. Oat seeding is completed. There are complaints of dry weather and the need of a good rain to fall. Late planting and cool weather are bringing the conditions down below the average at this season."

The flour market was quiet and unchanged today. Shipments, 65,600 barrels. Barley, 42@57c; rye, 59½@61½c. Bran unchanged.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Prices Have Rally After Early Weakness.

Chicago, May 27.—Wheat prices rallied today after early weakness due to lower cables. The upturn came about in consequence of buying based largely on a feeling that the recent 4c decline had more than discounted all the bearish crop developments in the Southwest. Prices opened ⅛@⅜c lower to ⅜c up and then made an all around gain.

Texas damage reports and a big decrease in the world's available supply were influences with the bulls. Good rains in Nebraska, however, encouraged selling. The close was firm, at the same as last night to 1c higher.

Scantiness of receipts gave the corn market a lift. Scattered rains were only of temporary assistance to the bears. Quotations, which had started unchanged to ¼c lower, scored a general advance, except that May showed a disposition to sag.

Renewal of unsettled weather in Argentina counted against the bear side. The close was steady at ½c decline to a like advance compared with last night.

Some breaks in the drouth tended to ease oats. Moderate support, however, developed on the decline.

Provision prices hardened with an upturn in quotations at the yards. First sales ranged from a shade to 7½c higher and the firmness was well maintained.

FIRM MARKET IN MINING STOCKS

Trading Is Dull, But Closing Prices Are Generally Higher.

While the market in mining stocks was dull and featureless at Boston today, it turned strong towards the close. Final prices showed moderate advances through the list.

Butte & Superior closed 63 cents up at $40.63; Alaska Gold closed 25 cents up at $28.13; Calumet & Arizona 38 cents up at $66.88; Granby 25 cents up at $81.75; Greene-Cananea 50 cents up at $33; North Butte 75 cents up at $26.75; and Amalgamated Copper 63 cents up at $73.13.

Better business was reported in the Duluth curb list. Inquiry for Keating was a feature, and it was noted that the stock is firmly held. It sold at $1.50; Alex Scott sold at $4.50; Calumet & Sonora at 71 cents; Calumet & Corbin at 27 cents; Denn at $8.25 and Savanna at $1.56.

Paine, Webber & Co. had the following comment from New York on the market situation: "Yesterday's dealings broke all records of the current year for dullness, but there was nevertheless a note of optimism in the market comment both on the floor and in commission houses. Repeated efforts to depress prices of late have brought no results. While the general list has shown a disposition to respond easily to any appreciable demand, the immediate prospect is not encouraging, except in a small sense. There is little likelihood of any sustained decline of prices or any further reaction of conditions underlying the market."

At St. Louis lead closed dull at 3.80 and spelter dull at 4.95@5.

ADVANCES IN STOCKS

Prices Shade Little in Final Dealings But Close Is Strong.

Moderate Activity in Morning Gives Way to Renewed Dullness.

New York, May 27.—The comparative strength and activity of today's early dealings were popularly ascribed to the latest turn in the Mexican negotiations, coupled with further encouraging crop advices. London furnished a generally higher level of quotations for our securities and that advance was more than sustained here. Canadian Pacific was the feature with a 2 point gain, and the usual leaders rose materially in fractions. The only noteworthy exception to the rising tendency was New Haven, which yielded a point.

Gains were further extended as the session advanced. United States Steel, Amalgamated Copper and the Harrimans appearing to be in good demand on a rising scale. Canadian Pacific increased its advance to 3%. General Motors added over 7 points to its 5 point gain of yesterday and rumors of resumption of dividends became more general. Studebaker preferred and common rose 2 and 1 respectively, in sympathy with motors. Among other specialties Wells-Fargo was prominent for a 3-point rise. Trading diminished toward noon, but at that time the total was considered in excess of the whole of the preceding day. Bonds were irregular.

The list paused in the afternoon, but values were in no degree affected. London purchased some 10,000 shares here, chiefly Southern Pacific and Metal shares. April earning of Union Pacific showed a very small net gain. Loans and commercial paper were quoted under recent rates and the course of exchange pointed to a halt in gold exports.

The market closed strong. Stocks scored general gains on the day, the early period of which was marked by moderate activity, later giving way to renewed dullness. Prices shaded a little from the best in the final dealings, but a sudden spurt in Mexican Petroleum advanced that stock 1⅞. Authoritative advices respecting conditions in the steel trade were of a negative character.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE ROOM BURGLARIZED

Boys Enter School and Take Preserves and Other Supplies.

The domestic science room of the Duluth Industrial high school was broken into Monday night and some preserves and other eatables taken. The burglary was reported to the police yesterday afternoon by Principal S. A. Foster.

Lieut. C. E. Wilcox is of the opinion that the job was done by boys. They had first attempted to gain entrance to the school by the front door, and had then broken a window leading to the domestic science rooms. Among the stuff taken were three dozen eggs, a pound of chocolate, a pint of cream, jars of coffee, preserved apples, jam and a package of oatmeal.

JUNIOR CLASS GIVES PROGRAM.

The junior class of the Duluth Industrial high school entertained at a program in the assembly hall of the Irving school last night. Nearly 300 people attended.

Among those taking part in the program were Gustaf Jackson, Miss Petra Hanson, Miss Esther Donald, Miss Edith Milliser, Miss Myra Willison, Miss Anna Brand, John Allen, Leo Duetch, Miss Emmeline Brett, Ernest Paulson, Thomas Lee and William Wendland. Stereopticon views of scenes in Mexico were shown by John Nettleton. The pictures shown were some of those taken by Guy Nettleton while trying to get out of the trouble zone.

Following the program, baskets prepared by the young women of the society were raffled and games were played.

The affair was attended by about 200 young people. The program included an address by P. J. Borgstrom, a dialogue by Ole Bertilson and Emanuel Johnson, violin solo by Robert Olander, accompanied by Miss Gertrude Stabenfelt, and a recitation by Miss Mildred Holt. Several musical numbers played on water goblets by Adolph Strandberg accompanied by Mrs. Strandberg were a feature of the program.

WOULD ADMINISTER FATHER'S ESTATE.

Francis J. Hantz, Jr., 224 South Fifty-eighth avenue west, this morning petitioned the probate court for letters of administration on the estate of his father, Francis James Hantz, who died March 4, 1913, at West Duluth, leaving three daughters and one son. The estate consists of a homestead at West Duluth valued at $2,000. The petition will come on for a hearing June 22.

LODGE MEMBERS GIVE ENTERTAINMENT.

Members and friends of Morning Star lodge No. 17, I. O. G. T., were entertained with a musical and literary program at Dormedy hall, Central avenue and Ramsey street, last evening.

WIELAND & WADE

TWO DRINKS OF WHISKY COST $54

It cost Ernest Noll $54.74 to furnish drinks of whisky to George Paradise, 18 years of age, and Louis Willie, 17 years old, on Sunday. Judge Lanners levied a fine of $50 and costs on Noll for the offense in police court this morning. The fine was paid.

The man was arrested Monday evening on the complaint of Lieut. C. E. Wilcox. Yesterday morning he pleaded guilty to the offense but sentence was deferred until this morning when both boys were present. On mentioning the incident in last evening's Herald the name of Ernest Willie was erroneously given instead of that of Louis Willie.

* * *

Henry Stangard appeared before Judge Lanners for the second time within a short period on the charge of being drunk. On his first offense he was allowed to go on a suspended sentence. This morning the judge was not so lenient and fined him $15 and costs or twelve days at the county work farm. Being unable to raise the cash he was committed to the farm.

CENTRAL AVENUE IN BAD CONDITION.

The condition of Central avenue north of Cody street is causing a number of complaints from automobile owners and men who have to drive over the thoroughfare. The block between Elinor and Sixth streets is said to be almost impassable, caused principally because of heavy teaming in hauling material for the R. E. Denfeld Industrial high school.

"A little work on the part of the city could keep that street in fair condition," said W. F. Hurst this morning. "The street is very badly cut up. If the city will authorize its street commissioner to use a drag on the street and dump a little gravel or crushed rock in the worst places it would better the thoroughfare considerably."

League Entertains.

A short musical program, banquet and cards featured the entertainment for the members of West Duluth and Pocahontas lodges of the Royal League last night at the Commercial club rooms. Musical numbers were given by Mrs. Kuchenbecker and a reading by Mrs. E. W. Boerner.

George I. Hise, archon of the West Duluth lodge presided at the banquet. Following the "spread" several impromptu addresses were given by members, the prize for giving the best talk was awarded to Dr. M. R. Zack. At the card games following, honors were won by Mrs. Judson Smith, Mrs. Louis Bennett, Mrs. H. Lumley, Mrs. L. H. Davidson, Louis Bennett, Dr. M. R. Zack, R. M. Goff and Ray Batley.

The committee in charge consisted of Mrs. G. L. Hise, Mrs. E. J. Aman, E. W. Lund and T. W. Brain.

Superior

GOOD PAVEMENT TO "OLD TOWN."

Belknap street from Clough avenue to West Seventh street and West Seventh street from Belknap to P avenue will be paved according to an agreement reached last night between a representative body of the property owners and the city commission. It is proposed to put down a nine-foot pavement on each side of the street railway tracks on Belknap street. The proposed improvement will give the city a splendid thoroughfare between the East end or "Old Town" and the center of the city.

Planning Sane Fourth.

The general committee of the proposed Fourth of July celebration held a meeting last night at the Superior Commercial club rooms. No action was taken as to where the celebration would be held. Sidney Buchanan was chosen chairman and Edward Conley secretary of the committee. Plans were made to raise funds and also to interest every civic body in Superior in the proposed celebration.

County School Board Meeting.

The annual meeting of the county board of education will be held in Superior Tuesday. On Monday the various boards from the different townships will hold their meetings for the election of officers. The principal business to come before the county board will be the division of school districts in the town of Brule. Erection of new buildings, teachers' salaries and other school business will also be disposed of.

Minot Man Takes Poison.

Minot, N. D., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Collins, a local character well known in the police world, probably will die from the effects of poison administered, officials say, with suicidal intent. Collins was found lying in an alley unconscious several hours after he had taken the poison.

RAILROADS "LYING LOW"

Wait for Rate Decision, But Are Doing Some Buying.

A moderate increase in buying in some lines is noted in Eastern iron and steel circles during the last few days. While the railroads are "lying low" pending the interstate commerce commission's decision in the rate case, some of the lines are putting out inquiries for cars that are deemed to be actually necessary to enable them to move the flow of grain in the Southwest due to begin in about five weeks.

The more optimistic sentiment is being helped along by reports from Youngstown, Ohio, that the bessemer plant of the Republic Iron & Steel company will resume operations next Sunday night and that other mills will go into operation later in the week.

Commenting on the situation in the trade, the Pittsburg correspondent of the New York Evening Post says:

"The week's developments in the iron and steel trade, while not important, are of as relatively favorable nature. There has been no further decrease in the volume of steel orders placed. Indeed, in some quarters there are reported slight increases.

"What is of more significance, perhaps, is the 'improved sentiment' which is almost everywhere reported. Whence this improved sentiment comes, is not so clearly disclosed. It is not the rate decision, because belief in a favorable decision has been in evidence for many weeks, and the decision itself was expected last week; whereas now advices from Washington are it may not be rendered until early in June. It may be the crops, but there is no fresh news of importance in that direction in the past week, and what is known could have been acted upon several weeks ago.

"If sentiment in the trade has really improved, the precise thing has occurred which was most needed. During several months, the best observers have united in expressing the opinion that what was wrong with the trade was an unfavorable mental attitude; that physical conditions were favorable, but that something in men's minds prevented them from acting."

FEARS WHOLESALE LYNCHING BEE

Conan Doyle Talks of Feeling Against British Suffragettes.

New York, May 27.—Sir Conan Doyle, the British novelist, accompanied by Lady Doyle, arrived at New York today on the White Star liner Olympic.

Conan Doyle said that England had stood all that it could from the militant suffragettes and that he anticipated a "wholesale lynching bee."

"The English government," he said, "follows public opinion, and thus far public opinion has not demanded the entire suppression of the suffragette. But it is on the point of doing so and when the English mob is thoroughly aroused it is not a respecter of sex."

This is his first visit to this country for twenty years.

When Sir Arthur was informed that no general uprising had followed the recent passage of the home rule bill, he said: "That is splendid. So far, so good. But the question is, how long will it last? I do not believe there will be sporadic uprisings, or small outbreaks, but if anything further does happen, it will be serious.

"I tell you those men are not 'bluffing' as you say. It will be so serious as to amount practically to civil war, or it will be nothing at all. The men of Ulster will never give in to the idea of an Irish parliament."

BUILDING MANY ROADS.

Much Activity in Road-Making Around Deer River.

Deer River, Minn., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Throughout this locality everybody is busy working on the roads. New roads are being put in all over this section and the old roads are being fixed up in the best shape.

William Hulburt of this place filed Monday for county commissioner, making three that have filed up to date for this office from this district, including Cyrus M. King.

Many new settlers from Iowa and Southern Minnesota have moved in to this section during the past two weeks and from all reports more are coming.

The new box factory is now running and the new Veneer factory will likely start operations the first part of the month, having about all of their machinery in place. These two factories are up to date in every respect and will employ large crews all the year round.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMS.

Five Tests Scheduled Here for June and July.

Five more civil service examinations to fill government positions in the United States and the possessions will be held here during June and July, according to an announcement received this morning by E. M. Barker, secretary of the local examining board.

The positions for which examinations will be held and their respective salaries follow: Immigrant inspector, $1,380; aid, coast and geodetic survey, $900; timber sealer, $1,080; chemist's aid, $720, and plant pathologist in potato investigations, $1,800.

Application may be made to Mr. Barker, who will also furnish all applicants with the necessary particulars and information regarding the examinations.

Grand Rapids Celebration.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Grand Rapids will celebrate the Fourth of July with one of the best celebrations ever held. Grand Rapids has not had a celebration for several years, and the business people in general took to the idea in good shape, and practically $600 has been pledged to defray the expenses of a rousing celebration. The committee on raising funds state that there will be plenty of money to pay liberal prizes for all kinds of races and other sports.

NO TOLERATION OF THE WHITE SLAVE TRAFFIC, URGE PRESBYTERIANS

Evil Should Be Eradicated By Strict Enforcement of Laws.

Doubt of Advisability of Teaching Sex Hygiene in Schools.

Banner Year in Expenditure By Foreign Missions Is Reported.

Chicago, May 28.—The report of the special committee on the white slave traffic was adopted without discussion today by the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States. The report emphasized the slogan, "No toleration; no regulation; no recognition," and urged that the evil be eradicated by the strict enforcement of municipal, state and Federal laws.

Doubt was expressed in the report of the advisability of teaching sex hygiene in the public schools and parents were urged to inform their children of the truths of life.

A recommendation that where ministers of the Presbyterian church are sued for divorce the local presbytery should investigate the case and spread its report on the records of the presbytery will be approved and sent to the various presbyteries for a referendum vote.

Banner Mission Year.

Foreign missions expended $2,398,108 in the last year, according to the report of the committee on foreign missions presented by Dr. S. J. Niccols of St. Louis, making it the banner year and exceeding by $304,000 the sum expended the previous year.

On every hand today the commissioners were congratulating each other that the action yesterday on the home missions was taken without bitterness. It was pointed out that while the church and country life and the church and labor committees were not mentioned in the reorganization resolution, power to act according to its judgment with reference to that work was conferred on the home missions board.

Bible Study in the Schools.

A resolution favoring the study of the Bible in the public schools and urging churches to petition state legislatures for the passage of the necessary laws to bring about the desired reforms, was adopted by the assembly yesterday.

Another resolution urging the establishment of a permanent tribunal of arbitration at The Hague, with a view of abolishing future wars between nations, was adopted.

The assembly exchanged fraternal greetings with the Protestant Episcopal church in the diocese of Chicago, now in session here.

The assembly will adjourn tomorrow.

HOUSE DEBATING ANTI-TRUST BILL

Believed Measure Will Be Passed Friday or Early Next Week.

Washington, May 28.—Under the "five minute rule," debate on the Clayton omnibus anti-trust bill was to be resumed in the house today. With a comprimese already effected between the labor leaders and administration leaders on the labor provision of the bill, it was the confident hope of those in charge that the measure would be passed either Friday or early next week.

ELAM MAY TAKE WITNESS STAND

Doctor Expected to Be Witness in His Own Defense.

Kansas City, Mo., May 28.—With the evidence of the state before the jury the case of the defense in the trial of Dr. W. T. Elam, a physician of St. Joseph, Mo., charged with the murder of W. Putnam Cramer of Chicago, got well under way today.

A. W. Brewster, chief of counsel for Dr. Elam, announced this morning he expected to put fifteen character witnesses from St. Joseph and Kansas City on the stand. That Dr. Elam would take the stand today on his own defense was expected by many persons.

MUST PAY LOSS OF BURNED MAIL

Postal Clerks at Kansas City Also Lose Their Positions.

Kansas City, Mo., May 28.—When the postoffice annex in the union depot here burned in 1508 it not only cost Claude E. Wanamaker and Lee Winemiller, postal clerks, their positions. Today they were informed they must make up a portion of the loss incurred by the burning of the registered mail.

It was charged that the clerks could easily have saved the mail. The postoffice department sued them to recover $1,000 from each, the amount of their bonds. The suits have been in the Federal courts since 1908. Francis Wilcox, United States district attorney, announced a decision in the cases today.

The cases were settled by an agreement between counsel for the company and the United States district attorney. By this agreement $1,000 and costs is to be paid to the government.

TO OPPOSE FORAKER FOR UNITED STATES SENATOR

WARREN G. HARDING.

Marion, Ohio, May 28.—Former Lieut. Governor Warren G. Harding made formal announcement here last night of his candidacy for the Republican nomination for United States senator. He will be opposed in primary election by Former Senator Joseph B. Foraker of Cincinnati, and Ralph D. Cole of Findlay, former congressman.

SPECTACLE AT ST. LOUIS

All Ready for Presentation of Pageant and Masque.

Indications Are That a Record Crowd Will Be Present.

St. Louis, Mo., May 28.—All was in readiness today for the presentation of the pageant and masque of St. Louis by more than 7,500 actors in Forest park tonight.

This event which celebrates the hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the founding of this city, has drawn thousands of visitors to the city from all parts of the Mississippi valley, and according to its promotors, will be the largest event of the kind ever staged in America.

Aeroplane Flight Abandoned.

It had been planned to close the masque, which will be given under electric light, with an aeroplane flight, but this plan was abandoned because of the danger of such a flight over the heads of thousands of spectators in the darkness. Instead, a fast motor boat will dart down the lagoon that is to represent the Mississippi river. In this motor boat will stand the robed figure of a woman, with wings, in the pose of "Winged Victory." She will pass before the spectators at the moment the "birth of the League of Cities" is portrayed.

Envoys From Other Cities.

In the final scenes of the masque, which is to be a symbolic interpretation of the history of St. Louis, which is to be portrayed by the pageant, envoys from other cities will take part. This feature will symbolize the cities of the nation coming to the aid of St. Louis in its fight against evil.

These envoys will take part Friday and Saturday in a "Conference of Cities" in which municipal art and its relation to the public welfare will be discussed.

Indications early today were that a record crowd would witness the first production of the spectacle tonight as well as its repetition on the three succeeding nights. Seats have been prepared for 42,000 persons, and it is estimated that 40,000 more can see the stage from the hill in Forest park at the foot of which the stage has been built.

FIFTY FIREMEN ARE OVERCOME

Flames Sweep Basement of the Union Station at Detroit.

Detroit, Mich., May 28.—More than fifty firemen were overcome by smoke, and ten partly conscious foreigners were dragged to safety from the flames which swept the basement of the Union station here last night. The fire was one of the most stubborn in the history of Detroit and was not completely extinguished until early today. The cause has not been determined, but it started in a room in the basement where records were kept. The loss is estimated at $30,000. The firemen confined the flames to the basement.

The station is used by the Wabash, Pere Marquette and Canadian Pacific railroads. The old Michigan Central station, a short distance away, recently was destroyed by fire.

Near Adjournment.

Kansas City, May 28.—When the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States (Southern Presbyterian church), met today a few loose ends of legislative business were yet to be gathered up, but adjournment was expected before night.

GREECE IS NEGOTIATING FOR PURCHASE OF TWO AMERICAN BATTLESHIPS

Plan Laid Before Senate Naval Committee By Secretary Daniels.

Says He Expects to Get About $12,000,000 for Ships.

Idaho and Mississippi Are the Two Boats to Be Sold.

Washington, May 28.—A plan for disposing of the battleships Idaho and Mississippi to a foreign power for just what the United States paid for their construction was laid before the senate naval affairs committee today by Secretary Daniels.

Greece is understood to be negotiating for the Mississippi and the Idaho. The United States has never before sold battleships to a foreign power, although it has condemned them and afterward sold them without armament.

Cost Nearly $12,000,000.

The ships have been in commission since 1908. The Mississippi cost $5,832,000 and the Idaho $5,894,000.

Secretary Daniels asked for an amendment to the naval bill permitting the sale and providing that the money be used in the construction of one dreadnought, in addition to the two dreadnoughts already provided for in the bill as it passed the house.

Secretary Daniels explained to the committee that while he expected to get about $12,000,000 for the two ships, he would be able to make up the $11,000,000 needed for a new dreadnought by economy in other lines.

Not Modern Enough.

Mr. Daniels told the committee that while the Idaho and Mississippi were efficient ships for harbor defense, they were not modern enough to go into line of battle.

Mr. Daniels' proposal met with the approval of a majority of the committee, and an amendment embodying the plan was prepared for presentation to the senate.

GUILTY OF MURDER IN SECOND DEGREE

Unwritten Law and Self Defense Plea Not Accepted.

Chardon, Ohio, May 28.—Ernest O. Zimmer was found guilty of murder in the second degree this morning in connection with the shooting to death of William Eggleston, a neighbor farmer on Jan. 17. Sentence has not yet been pronounced. Zimmer's defense was the unwritten law and self defense. Mrs. Zimmer on the stand bared her relations with Eggleston in an effort to save her husband.

The jury reported to the court at 4:20 this morning after deliberating all night. Zimmer was near collapse when he heard the decision.

NO DAMAGE DONE TO PANAMA CANAL

Frame Houses at Colon Rocked During the Earthquake.

Colon, Panama, May 28.—No damage is reported from the severe earthquake which occurred last evening at about half past 10. Virtually the entire city is composed of wooden frame houses, which rocked during the quake. The shock lasted about thirty-five seconds. Thousands of the terrified inhabitants fled from their houses into the open air. The duration of the earthquake was unprecedented. The canal was not injured by the quake.

Examiners of Interstate Commission Looking Over Morgan's Records.

All Documents Relating to New Haven to Be Inspected.

New York, May 28.—Four examiners of the interstate commerce commission arrived at the offices of J. P. Morgan & Co., shortly after 11 o'clock today and began an examination of the firm's books and records relating to the New Haven railroad. The results of the examination are to be secret until submitted to the commission.

Members of the firm received the examiners cordially. Though it is understood that the examiners will have a free hand so far as the New Haven records are concerned, counsel for the firm has insisted that there be no "fishing expedition."

The formal inquiry into the New Haven matter will be resumed at Washington next Monday.

Take Several Weeks.

Washington, May 28.—Examination of the books of J. P. Morgan & Co. and personal papers of the late J. Pierpont Morgan, relating to New Haven financial affairs, by agents of the interstate commerce commission, probably will take several weeks. It will begin at once.

Chief Counsel Folk returned here today, refusing to discuss his conference in New York, yesterday, with Francis Lynde Stetson, counsel for the Morgan house, but at headquarters of the commission it was said that all documents relating to New Haven affairs would be turned over to the examiners.

INCREASES IN COKE RATES SUSPENDED.

Washington, May 28.—Proposed increases by the Wabash railroad in coke rates from Chicago and Peoria to St. Paul, Duluth and other points were suspended today by the interstate commerce commission until Aug. 20.

MEDIATORS' PROGRESS IN THE NEGOTIATIONS REGARDED PROMISING

Many Essentials of Plan for Mexican Pacification Agreed To.

Success Thus Far Attained Looked Upon as Remarkable.

Details Withheld Until Complete Agreement on All Subjects.

NEAR AGREEMENT.

Niagara Falls, Ont., May 28.—After a conference this morning with the Mexican delegates here, the mediators went over to the American side, where they conferred with Justice Lamar and Mr. Lehmann. It was indicated that the understanding between the opposing parties to the negotiations has proceeded to a point where plans are about in shape for a full conference between both sides. This means, it is said, that a common basis of agreement virtually has been reached, after which the only problem which would remain would be the actual preparation of the protocol, which will be signed at the final full conference between all parties.

Washington, May 28.—The main stages of the negotiations at the Niagara conference have been reported to President Wilson under the referendum by which the American delegates are acting, and are now understood to have reached a reasonably complete form on essentials of the proposed agreement.

There has been no effort, so far, to weld the essentials into a protocol, but the various propositions stand out distinctly and will readily admit of an amalgamation into a complete protocol when it is found necessary to do so.

The understanding here is that these elementary propositions have been agreed upon by a process of elimination of the issues which it had at first been impossible to compose. It by no means follows that the points still in dispute cannot be adjusted; the purpose has been in framing these separate propositions, to clear the way for the discussion and adjustment of the most serious differences.

Regarded as Promising.

Though the tentative protocol, if such it may be called at this stage, consequently omits some of the most dangerous factors which must enter into the final settlement, it is regarded by administration officials here as most promising and, considering the limited period of the time the mediators have been at work, the success so far attained has been remarkable compared with similar negotiations.

Closely following the landing of munitions of war for Huerta from the two German liners at Puerto, Mexico, a large consignment from Japan is due at Manzanillo or Salina Cruz on the west coast. Word has reached Washington that the Japanese cruiser Idzumo, which has been hovering around Mazatlan, has gone down the coast and though the latter report is lacking in official confirmation, so far it is understood like the German cruiser Bremen, which convoyed the Ypiranga to Puerto Mexico, on the east coast, the Japanese warship will accompany the expected merchantmen

COMBINATION IS ALLEGED

Senator Norris Says New York Central Is Violating Law.

Asks If Action for Dissolution of Combine Is Planned.

Washington, May 28.—A resolution calling upon the attorney general to inform the senate if the combination of railroad lines comprising the New York Central system is in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, was introduced today by Senator Norris, Republican, of Nebraska. On objection by Senator Reed it went over until tomorrow.

The Norris resolution also asks the attorney general if his department contemplates any action for the dissolution of such a combination. It alleges that the New York Central, by control of the Lake Shore and other railroads and steamship lines, controls "four competing lines of transportation between Chicago and Buffalo and two competing lines between New York and Buffalo."

"To my mind it is perfectly apparent that this combination in all its branches is in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law," declared Senator Norris in a statement on his resolution. "Right now the New York Central is engaged in the operation of bringing about a more complete consolidation of these roads and it seems to me the time is ripe for action."

WIDOW'S ACT IS UPHELD

Was in Sound Mind When She Deeded Property to Grandchild.

Son's Claim of "Undue Influence" Not Allowed By Court.

When Annie C. Anderson, an aged West end widow, a few months before her death, deeded all of her property over to her granddaughter, Minnie Alethe Pearson, aged 25, milliner, it was because the pretty dark-eyed young woman had stolen into her life during her declining years and had replaced John F. Anderson, her uncle, in the aged woman's affections, and not through any undue influence which the widow's son claims his niece brought to bear upon his aged and infirm mother.

This, at least, is the conclusion which has been reached by District Judge Bert Fesler, who presided at the trial of a lawsuit which has been pending for several months. In a decision handed down yesterday afternoon in an action brought by John F. Anderson, the widow's son, against his niece, Miss Pearson, to have the deed given by the aged woman to her granddaughter set aside on the grounds that it defeated the provisions of her last will, Judge Fesler held for the defendant and ordered the action dismissed on its merits. Judgment will be so entered after the expiration of forty days.

Widow Anderson, aged 87, died Christmas day, 1912. At the time of her death, John F. Anderson, her only son, supposed that she was leaving him at least an undivided one-half interest in her property, which consisted of a three-story tenement house at 1705 West Superior street. Soon after she was dead and buried, however, he learned for the first time that in May 1912, his mother had deeded the entire property over to his niece. In less than a month after her death, Anderson brought suit to have the deed set aside.

Undue Influence.

At the trial of the case, Anderson claimed that his niece had used undue influence to bear upon his mother and asserted that the deed was fraudulent because at the time she signed it, the aged woman believed she was making a conveyance which would divide the property between the two, her only heirs. He also claimed that his mother could not read or write and charged that the deed was read incorrectly to her and that she was induced to make her mark as a signature without knowing the real contents of the instrument.

The plaintiff also claimed that it was he, and not his niece, who took care of Mrs. Anderson during her declining years, and that it was he, and not she, who had paid her funeral expenses. On the other hand Miss Pearson claimed that she had used no undue influence on her grandmother and that the aged woman was in her sound mind when she executed the deed. The instrument was made out and signed by Mrs. Anderson on May 8, 1912, in the presence of herself, Andrew Nelson, an attorney and three other witnesses, all of whom testified at the trial of the case.

Back in 1889, during the infancy of the granddaughter, the widow made her first known will, in which she bequeathed all of her property, except $100 to her granddaughter, to her son, John F. Anderson. In 1907 she revoked the will of 1889 and made a new one in which she provided that all of her property should go to her son, except $1,500, which should be set aside for the granddaughter. The widow's son lost his grip for the third time in 1909 when his mother made a new will providing for an equal division of the property. It was under this will that Anderson sought to have the property divided, provided he could have the deed set aside by the court.

The outcome of the case has been watched with considerable interest among West end people who know the principals in the fight. John Jenswold, Jr., represented the plaintiff, John F. Anderson, and Attorney Andrew Nelson appeared in court as attorney for the niece, Miss Pearson.

It is understood that the case may be appealed.

COLOMBIAN SENATE APPROVES TREATY

United States Agrees to Pay $25,000,000 to Colombia.

Bogota, Colombia, May 28.—The Colombian senate, by thirty-three votes against eight, has approved the second reading of the treaty between Colombia and the United States in connection with the Panama canal. The third reading is expected today.

By the treaty the United States government expresses sincere regret that anything should have occurred to interrupt or to mar the relations of cordial friendship that had so long subsisted between the two nations. Colombia is given the right to free passage through the Panama canal of its troops, materials of war and warships, even in case of war between Colombia and another country.

Same Basis as American.

The product of the soil and industry of Colombia and the Colombian mails passing through the canal are to be exempt from any charge or duty other than those to which similar products and mails from the United States are subject. These products are also to be admitted to the canal zone on the same basis as American products.

In case of interruption of canal traffic, Colombian troops, war materials, products and mails are to be transported by the railway between Ancon and Crystobal on the same terms as those of the United States.

Colombian coal, petroleum and salt passing from Colombian ports on the Atlantic to Colombian ports on the Pacific or vice versa, are to be transported over the railway at the actual cost of handling and transportation.

Within six months after exchange of ratifications of the treaty the United States agrees to pay to Colombia $25,000,000 in gold.

TWO CHIPPEWAS ARE TO BE IN PAGEANT

Will Assist North Dakota University Students in Play.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—If the weather permits, 400 students of the University of North Dakota will present a pageant of the Northwest at the Bankside theater at the university this evening, depicting early day features of the development of the Northwest.

The pageant is true to historical facts and the whole has been written by a group of varsity students.

In addition to the students two full-blood Chippewa Indians will participate, "Little Boy" and "Eagle Face," both of Turtle Mountain reservation, having enlisted their aid.

"Props" From Reservation.

To costume the great number of actors, museums and Indian reservations have contributed.

The Bankside theater is itself unique. It is built in the dip created by a coulee running through the university campus, the stage being set on one side, with the auditorium being placed on the other side. Two thousand can be seated for each performance. The stage is 80 by 40 feet and makes allowance for spectacular scenes.

3,700 ACRES OF ALFALFA.

Acreage in Stutsman County, N. D., Increasing.

Jamestown, N. D., May 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—A. F. Borchart, superintendent of the Stutsman County Bettter Farming association, has reported to the state experimental station that 3,700 acres of alfalfa are being raised in Stutsman county. Of the total acreage about 2,000 acres were planted this year, 200 acres in 1911 and 1,200 acres in 1912.

Mr. Borchert estimates that the alfalfa yield will exceed three tons to the acre.

How to Keep Your Face Free From Ugly Hairs

(Modes of Today)

A small, original package of powdered delatone is a necessary toilet requisite, for with its aid the skin can be kept free from hair or fuzz. A thick paste is made with some of the powder and water, and spread on the hairy surface; then in about two minutes it is rubbed off and with it comes every trace of hair. Washing the skin will remove the rest of the delatone. While this is a simple, effective method and quite harmless, you should be careful to get real delatone. —Advertisement.

PROGRAM AT THE ORPHEUM

Boys' Patriotic Entertainment Will Be Given at Theater Memorial Day.

Schools Will Take Active Part; Winners Will Be Given Silk Flag.

The boys' part of the program for Decoration day will be held at the Orpheum theater and the program promises to be the best ever carried out.

Immediately following the parade, the boys will go to the theater. Admission will be by ticket. Tickets will be handed out to the boys in the parade. The high school orchestra of thirty pieces will play several selections. The Adams school chorus that won in the contest at the Duluth boys' exposition will sing a patriotic song. Philip Gordon Brown and John R. Batchelor will sing the patriotic song entitled "The Flag That Never Touched the Ground. Gunner Lindros of the Franklin school will give some selections on the cornet. "America" will be the one song that will be sung by all present. Irving Grover of the Duluth Central high school, and John Davis of the West Duluth high schol, will give five-minute speeches on patriotic subjects. Every school in the city has been invited to attend the parade and silk flags will be awarded to the schools that make the best appearance. One will be given to the West end school and the other to the East end school. This flag will remain the property of the school for one year. Last year the Merritt school won it for the West end, and the Jackson school for the East end.

The Knights of Sir Galahad of the boys' department Y. M. C. A. have closed their Sunday meetings but will continue their session on Friday nights until June 13. Dinner will be served every Friday at 6:15, and will be followed by a short talk and business session. On Monday June 15 the knights will begin their week's camp at Sturgeon Lake. This trip is planned especially for this club and only club members may attend.

Swimming is very popular at the swimming pool, and at every period many members are present. The boys' department guarantees to teach any member to swim. The Camp Miller booklet is being issued this week and in picture and story describes the boys' department summer camp at Sturgeon Lake. The camp this year will be held for one month, and the party will be limited to 100 boys.

Right to "Unionize" Upheld.

Richmond, Va., May 28.—The United States circuit court of appeals today sustained the right of the United Mine Workers of America to "unionize" in the case of John Mitchell individually, and others, appellants, against the Nitchman Coal & Coke company on appeal from the district court at Philippi, W. Va. The opinion, a very long one, was prepared by Judge Pritchard, Judges Knapp and Woods, concurring.

Play For Davis Tennis Cup.

New York, May 28.—At a meeting today of the international committee in charge of the Davis tennis cup matches two letters were read—one from Canada and the other from Australia—in which these nations agree to meet in this country in their preliminary trials.

It stated that they await the designation of the place to play their matches which is to be decided by the American committee.

AMBIDEXTERITY.

It takes only a fortnight or so for the right-handed writer to write with the left hand, and Miss Evelyn Sharp achieved it when her right arm was threatened with writers' cramp.

Discovered Remedy For Skin Troubles

(From Timely Topics.)

"Prof. J. B. Hobbes-Curtin has finally announced the results of his investigation in the use of quintone for the treatment of eczema, salt rheum, tetter, ringworm and other eruptive skin diseases.

"Those who have been in touch with his work are deeply gratified with the professor's findings. Eczema on the scalp, it has been believed, required different treatment than ordinary eczema. However, quintone solution applied twice daily has made diseased scalps clean and healthy in two weeks' treatment.

"To make the solution, get from your druggist two ounces of quintone and dissolve it in a half pint of hot water. Apply this solution twice daily to the affected surface on scalp or body. It will stop itching immediately and its antiseptic and curative properties are quickly apparent."—Advertisement.

PATMONT GOING INTO SECLUSION

Claimed to Be in Urgent Need of a Long Rest.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 28.—"Mr. Patmont is leaving for parts unknown—unknown even to his friends. He is in urgent need of a long rest."

This statement was given over the telephone today from Chicago by the Rev. Claude F. Witty, Detroit, who spoke for the Rev. Louis R. Patmont, Milwaukee temperance lecturer, who was abducted at Westville, Ill., in March last, during the dry campaign and obtained his freedom last Saturday from a cellar in an abandoned building at Columbia, Ill.

Mr. Witty was with Mr. Patmont at a Chicago hotel. Mr. Patmont was too weak to talk over the telephone.

GET RID OF HUMORS

Dry, moist, scaly tetter, all forms of eczema or salt rheum, pimples and other eruptions come from humors, which may be either inherited or acquired through defective digestion and assimilation.

To treat these eruptions with drying medicines is dangerous.

Hood's Sarsaparilla, the old reliable medicine, helps the system to discharge the humors, and to improve the digestion and assimilation.

From your druggist get Hood's Sarsaparilla, which may be confidently relied upon to do its work. It purifies the blood, tones the stomach, and builds up the whole system. It goes to the roots of diseases, and its beneficial results are permanent. It sets things to rights in the system. Remember to ask for Hood's Sarsaparilla, because nothing else acts like it and nothing can take its place.

AMMUNITION IS LANDED BY BOATS AT PUERTO MEXICO

Huerta Secures Supply of Ammunition Through German Sources.

Captains Liable to Fine for Actions Under Mexican Laws.

Washington, May 28.—Ammunition consigned to the Huerta government in Mexico which had been kept in the hold of the German steamship Ypiranga since the American occupation of Vera Cruz was reported to have been landed yesterday at Puerto Mexico. Consul Canada at Vera Cruz cabled this information to the state department, and it also was reported from other sources to the war department that arms consigned to Huerta had been landed at Puerto Mexico from the German steamer Bavaria. Both steamers belong to the Hamburg-American line.

No Effort to Stop It.

No effort to prevent the delivery of the ammunition consignments was made by officials of the United States, Puerto Mexico being an open port and the United States having agreed to a suspension of hostilities during the mediation of the Mexican imbroglio at Niagara Falls. It was made plain at the state department that the only possible way for the United States government to have prevented the shipments of arms through Puerto Mexico would have been to seize the custom house there, as was done at Vera Cruz when the Ypiranga was about to land her cargo at that port. This would have been an open violation of the suspension of hostilities, and would have disrupted mediation at once.

The reported delivery of these cargoes aroused considerable speculation, in view of the fact that arms on board the Hamburg-American ship Kron Prinzessin Cecilie, consigned to Huerta through Puerto Mexico several weeks ago, were held back on orders of officials of the steamship company at Havana.

Said It Would Not Be Landed.

At that time the Bavaria was reported to be en route with her cargo, and the announcement was made from the same source that the ammunition would not be landed upon orders of the steamship company. Why a different disposition of the cargoes at this time was made, government officials here did not appear to understand, but the suggestion was made that the arms on the Kron Prinzessin Cecilie originated from an American source, and that delivery was prevented by order of the American shippers through the steamship company officials.

Robert Lansing, counselor of the state department, made public the reports concerning the delivery of the ammunition to Huerta, Secretary Bryan being absent at the time the information reached Washington. Mr. Lansing made no comment, except to say that there was nothing this government could have done to intercept the shipments in view of the peace conference.

Bryan Surprised.

When Mr. Bryan returned to the state department later in the day, he was at once informed of the messages.

"What!" he said, showing some surprise. "Already landed the arms?"

Mr. Bryan then read the dispatches and declined to make further comment upon them.

Late today Rear Admiral Howard, in charge of the American fleet in Mexican Pacific waters, reported that Constitutionalist forces in the southwestern Mexican states "were threatening Acapulco." Admiral Howard's report also stated that the German cruiser Neuenberg had departed from Mazatlan for Acapulco. The object of the Neuenberg's move was not stated, but it was believed here that her mission was to protect the German interests at Acapulco and vicinity in case they are molested by the contending forces.

Considerable surprise was manifested here when it became known that the Constitutionalists had interrupted railroad and telegraphic communication between Mexico City and Guadalajara for several hours on Tuesday. It was not believed that the Constitutionalists in that region had sufficient strength to disturb conditions thereabouts. It was pointed out that the mineral and other resources in the vicinity of Guadalajara were extremely rich and alluring inducements to the revolutionists.

Smith Still Under Arrest.

Advices to the navy department stated that the American, Smith, who shot several Mexican brigands in self-defense as they were attacking his place near Tolana, on the southwest coast of Mexico, still is under arrest there by the local authorities, and must undergo a trial. He was reported to be well treated, however. His family was said to be at liberty and soon would leave Mexico for Guatemala.

These facts were developed by the visit to Arista of the United States cruiser Albany, which returned to Salina Cruz and reported to the navy department through Rear Admiral Badger. The Albany had a hard time to get in touch with Arista because of the heavy surf and one of her boats was capsized, but no lives were lost. The boat's crew and officers, after their wetting in the surf, proceeded inland to Tolana and communicated directly with Smith, and then made their way by train to Salina Cruz where they joined their ship.

Had No Manifest.

Vera Cruz, May 28.—It is estimated that the Bavaria put ashore 1,800,000 rounds of ammunition. The cargo was destined for Vera Cruz, but was diverted to Puerto Mexico. The steamer reached here Sunday. The captain could not produce a manifest, declaring to the captain of the port that it had been taken away from him by the American authorities. Later he admitted landing the cargo, which included also 3,000 rolls of barbed wire.

Gen. Funston understands that the ammunition and wire reached Cordoba by way of Tierra Blanca.

The Hamburg-American steamship Bavaria on May 8, was reported to be on her way to Mexico with a shipment of arms. Later it was understood that the war supplies were to be returned to Germany. The Bavaria arrived at Havana on May 17 and sailed two days later for Progreso.

Liable to Arrest.

The captain of the Bavaria is liable to a fine under the Mexican laws, and these are the laws that are being administered by the collector of the port, Capt. Herman O. Stickney. The shipment of arms consigned for Vera Cruz but landed at Puerto Mexico, forms a violation of the laws, and the absence of a manifest is a second violation.

Brig. Gen. Funston said that the matter of fines was entirely in Capt. Stickney's hands, but the collector said yesterday that he had not actually levied any yet.

The Bavaria is held here only because clearance will be refused until the matter of fines is adjusted. The customs officials assert that, so far as they know, the arms shipment on the Ypiranga of the same line, which precipitated the seizure of Vera Cruz by the American forces, was still aboard when that vessel left here for Puerto Mexico two days ago. They assume that there is no possibility that the 250 machine guns, 15,000,000 rounds of ammunition and other war material aboard the Ypiranga would be landed, as the liner is under charter of the German government at the present time, and was ordered to Puerto Mexico by the German minister to pick up German refugees.

Rumors of Similar Cases.

Rumors have been current for a week or more that some of the war materials for which Huerta had contracted in Germany had been filtering through to the Federals by way of Puerto Mexico. Virtually every German liner touching at the gulf ports has carried arms or ammunition shipped under that contract. The Bavaria incident is the first one where positive information of the landing of these supplies has been received, although there have been intimations here that the army or navy has knowledge of other landings or attempted landings.

Gen. Funston admitted that he had no information as to what became of the shipment after it reached Cordoba, and it is generally assumed that it is already on its way to Mexico City, whence it will be taken to San Luiz Potosi or other Federal strongholds where ammunition is greatly needed. The barbed wire will be of immense value to the small garrisons along the railway from the capital, who are protecting the Federal lines of communication. These garrisons north of San Luis Potosi have been repeatedly attacked by roving bands of revolutionists for weeks.

Huerta's Defense Plans.

President Huerta's defense plans, as announced, prior to the American landing at Vera Cruz, contemplated the construction of a series of block houses along the railways in the vicinity of the smaller towns. Each of these was to be protected by barbed wire entanglements, giving the small squad within the blockhouse an opportunity to stand off a much larger force until the sound of fighting attracted the attention of the other Federal posts and brought a relief column.

There is no evidence to indicate that the Federals around Vera Cruz are making any elaborate preparations. Rumors have been current of the building of concrete breastworks and field gun stations in the mountains along the Mexican railway, but reports of eye-witnesses tell only of field guns mounted on flatcars and no great number of these.

Has Plenty Ammunition.

Mexico City, May 28.—It was reported last night on high authority that a large shipment of ammunition had just been received, making two shipments in less than two weeks delivered to the Federals. The government is now well supplied with ammunition to carry on its campaign against the Constitutionalists.

LINDBERGH SAYS MINNESOTA IS BEST.

Bemidji, Minn., May 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Minnesota is the most suitable state in which to live and Bemidji is one of the most suitable places in it according to Congressman Lindbergh, in his visit here this week. He says he has been in every state in the union, three excepted, and bases his conclusion on the excellent climate and wonderful commercial opportunities of the state.

MEN'S DOCTORS

We have cured thousands of men in Duluth. Treat men only. All our knowledge and skill is confined to diseases of men. We are in Duluth for twenty years. We guarantee our cures.

Blood Poison manifests itself by various stages. Any form of this destructive disease makes itself known by such evidences as ulcers of the mucous membrane in the mouth and throat, sores on any part of the body, aching of the bones, spots and discolorations of the skin, which signify decay.

Our treatment for blood poison is a Specific composition that completely reorganizes the blood corpuscles, by which means every particle of poisonous matter is eliminated. Under our system of treatment it is unlikely for poison to remain in the blood, and purity and health are the results in every case. Our Specific treatment removes manifestations of disease soon after beginning treatment, and by increasing the albuminous portion of the blood after removing the poison, a normal state of health is resumed.

Nervous Decline or Weakness means weakness of the nerves and nerve centers, or general debility of the whole nervous and male systems. No man can be strong and manly if his nervous system is impaired, because the nerves propel the blood, and when the proper circulation in any organ ceases, disease is bound to result.

In treating pelvic diseases, from which nearly all nervous disorders and weaknesses originate, we know that we have a very great advantage over many other physicians, because we have a thorough knowledge of the seat and causes of the disease, which is always necessary to insure success in treating any affliction. Our thorough course of treatment stops nervousness, drains, exhaustive dreams, relieves backaches, all effects of youthful folly, and, by adding flesh and muscle, the patient is restored to health, strength and complete vigor.

NEW BEMIDJI MILL FINISHED SATURDAY

$100,000 Plant Will Be Ready to Start Monday.

Bemidji, Minn., May 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Andy Larson of Bemidji, who superintended the construction of the new Crookston Lumber company mill, will turn over that $100,000 building to the company next Saturday evening and it will be formally opened next Monday. The mill which the new building replaced was burned in February and the work on the construction of the new mill began March 11.

Many Men Employed.

There were 100 men working on the erection of the mill. Two band saws and a resaw have been installed in the new mill, annually cutting 20,000,000 feet of lumber. The new mill will employ 350 more men, paying $25,000 monthly. Andy Larson will have charge of both saw mills, while Charles Mosen of Spooner will be day foreman and Anton Laurant will be night foreman of the new plant. E. R. Evans of Crookston, will be wholesale manager of the new plant, Howard Jones shipping clerk and John Holseth, timekeeper.

WILL DRAG ROADS.

Floodwood Auto Owners to Use Machines for Motive Power.

Floodwood, Minn., May 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Floodwood auto owners have organized into an association to improve the roads around here by means of a road drag. It is the intention of the members to try this new drag out, and if it works satisfactorily a request will be made upon the village council to purchase one, or more. These will be pulled over the roads by autos, hitched tandem and in that manner more ground can be covered in one hour than by a team in a whole day. Should this scheme prove successful it will be the means of simplifying road repairing. This drag, while somewhat similar to the split log drag, is partly constructed of steel and is claimed to be an improvement over the former.

Health Depends on Kidneys

Whole System Suffers If They Are Deranged

Health is an absolute impossibility when the kidneys are out of order. The explanation is simple. Life cannot be lived without waste. The blood sweeps through arteries and veins, supplying vitality to every organ and part, gathers up the waste matter and carries it to the kidneys. The kidneys are a filter and it is their office to strain from the blood all the poisonous deposits and to pass them on to the bladder for expulsion. When any part of the kidneys is inflamed, the purifying is less perfectly done. The kidneys and veins are clogged with poisonous matter. If you are troubled with pains in the back, dizziness, aching joints, nausea, or other symptoms of kidney disease, you should lose no time in testing Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy. It is considered by many physicians to be an excellent remedy in the treatment of diseases of the kidneys, liver and blood. It repairs the tissues, soothes inflammation and irritation, awakens the torpid liver, aids digestion, stimulates the enfeebled organs, and will give you that sense of well-being which attends perfect health. WORK OF GERMANS BEING DISCUSSED

Dr. Cox of Cincinnati New President of Historical Society.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—With a session this afternoon featuring the part Germans have taken in the development of the Northwest, and with Prof. M. D. Learned, of the University of Pennsylvania, as the principal speaker, the annual meeting of the Mississippi Valley Historical society will come to an end.

Prof. W. G. Beck of the University of North Dakota, also addressed the German session, over which W. H. Mann of New Salem, N. D., presides.

Prof. Learned in his address deals with "German Migration to the Mississippi and Missouri," and Prof. Beck deals with "The Germans of North Dakota."

This morning the teachers' section held a meeting, with Dean Joseph Kennedy of the University of North Dakota presiding. Prof. J. S. Young of the University of Minnesota presented a paper on "The Civic Value of a Public School History," the discussion being led by Prof. R. M. Black of Wahpeton, N. D. Dr. J. M. Gilette, University of North Dakota, discussed "The Training of Teachers," and Prof. B. F. Shambaugh of the University of Iowa, led the discussion.

At the business meeting late yesterday, officers for the coming year were elected. President George Vincent of the University of Minnesota was in line for the presidency, but intimated his desire to pass it by.

Cincinnati Man President.

Dr. Isaac J. Cox of the University of Cincinnati, was elected president; Dean Guy Stanton Ford of the University of Minnesota, first vice president; Dr. Frederick Paxom of the University of Wisconsin, second vice president; Clarence S. Paine of the Nebraska Historical society, secretary and treasurer, (re-elected).

Mile M. Quafe of the Wisconsin Historical society, and William E. Connolley, secretary of the Kansas Historical society, are new members of the executive committee elected.

WILL PASTURE HORSES.

Hines Lumber Company to Care for Lot of Their Animals.

Couderay, Wis., May 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Edward Hines Lumber company owning much timber and cut-over land in Sawyer county, propose to summer pasture about 300 head of working horses on cut-over lands near Winter. They have started to erect two large horse barns for shelter and many of the horses have already been shipped in. The horses are used in winter by the firm in logging.

If the venture proves satisfactory the firm will summer pasture their stock there every year while their logging operations in Wisconsin last, which will be about fifteen years more.

HOG RAISING PAYS.

Illinois Farmer Shows North Dakotans How to Do It.

Finley, N. D., May 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—That hog raising in North Dakota is profitable is demonstrated by J. P. Finch, an Illinois farmer, who purchased a section of land here two years ago. Along with the land he got five pigs with a total value of about $50. He brought four high-class brood sows from Illinois, which he valued at $100 each. Since then he fed the hogs grain to the value of about $1,000. He has sold $2,000 worth of pigs and has $3,500 left on the farm. He intends to dispose of all his Illinois property and invest the money in hogs and grow them here.

AUTO STRIKES POST; THREE ARE HURT.

Great Falls, Mont., May 28.—Mr. and Mrs. Archibald B. Morrison and Mrs. J. W. Barnes of Conrad were perhaps fatally injured in an automobile accident on a country road half a mile south of Conrad. They ran into a fence post recently placed in fencing a farm and to close a long-used road.

Mrs. Barnes sustained a fracture of both arms and Mr. and Mrs. Morrison were injured internally when they were thrown a long distance from the automobile.

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat If You Feel Backachy or Have Bladder Trouble.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

ALL LINED UP FOR THE JUNE PRIMARIES

All Filings Possible Have Been Made and Lines Are Drawn for First Contest—Some Go Through to November Without Fight—Only One Election Assured.

The voters, by glancing at the lists, now know whom they will have a chance to vote for at the primaries of June 16, and some of those whom they will be voting for on Nov. 3, the time of the general election. The time for filing for county offices expired yesterday, and no more filings can take place either by petition or otherwise. The stage is set and the play is on.

The time for filing for state, congressional and legislative offices expired on May 7; but in these cases, with certain exceptions, hereafter explained, other candidates could be put on the ticket by petition up to some time in October. The exceptions to this law include the legislative tickets and the state judgeships. But but for the state ticket excepting the judgeships, and the congressional tickets, new candidates could be thus added.

Concerning the matter of candidacies, many people—in fact, it is believed, most—are confused by the non-partisan primary law. This applies only to legislative and county offices and has nothing to do with state or congressional candidates. In the matter of the offices coming under control of the non-partisan law, all above two candidates for any office will be eliminated, and these two will contest at the November election. Under the law which governs the primary election for state officers and congressmen, it is purely a party matter, all but one candidate for each office in each party being eliminated at the primary, and the surviving representative of each party contesting for final election in November.

Many have asked Andrew Nelson, Democratic candidate for congress, why he is not campaigning, evidently thinking that since he, Congressman Miller and State Senator Boyle are in the field, there will be one eliminated and the surviving two opposed at the polls. This is not the case, and as Mr. Nelson is unopposed on the Democratic side, he does not need to campaign for the primary favor, but may take his ease and save his thunder for the fall election. He will receive the Democratic nomination by default.

This is not the case with Congressman Miller and Senator Boyle. With them it is a fight for preference at the primaries. One of them will have no part—except as a supporter—in the November election, for the June primaries will spell the end of ambition for the time for one of them. The survivor will then have another battle before him; this time with Andrew Nelson, who, it is claimed, has a better chance of election to the national house than any Democrat who has been a candidate in this district since the days of the late Maj. M. R. Baldwin.

Of the candidates for county office, four—all present incumbents—may rest on their ours and watch the others fight for the flag—they get theirs without contest. These are Treasurer George H. Vivian, Judge of Probate S. W. Gilpin, County Attorney Warren E. Greene and Coroner Charles F. McComb. Three positions will go on the general election ballot only, for there are only two filings for each. These are for county auditor, for which Odin Halden, present incumbent, and E. M. Hatch of Eveleth, are contestants; for county commissioner of the Fourth district, for which U. S. Grant McMahon and John E. Porthan are candidates, and for court commissioner, for which James E. Gardner of Duluth and Charles Line of Virginia filed. William J. Archer of Virginia, present commissioner, did not file, although he was expected to.

* * *

It was thought that there would be no contest at the primaries for the office of county superintendent of schools, there being only two candidates, Supt. N. A. Young and Franklin A. Arnold, up to almost the last minute. Then K. E. Forsell of Lake Dinham appeared and filed, thus making it necessary to put the three names on the primary ballot and to print 20,000 extra ballots for women, who have a right to vote on school matters. Mr. Forsell was formerly pastor of a church at West Duluth, but about seven years ago left the city and up to a year ago was principal of the Northwestern college in Minneapolis, and had charge of the English department in a business college in Minneapolis. A year ago he moved to Lake Dinham, where he is homesteading and teaching school.

Up to yesterday it was thought that there would be no primaray contest in the register of deeds office, but again a late filer made it a three-cornered fight. The late-comer is Benjamin F. Smith of Virginia, and he will oppose Register of Deeds Charles Calligan and P. J. Borgstrom.

* * *

The greatest free-for-all that will be found in the coming primary will be for the office of county commissioner in the Second district. Thirteen men are after the office. There were fourteen until W. W. Sanford withdrew. Which one the "13" will prove unlucky for can be determined only after the race is finished. One man expressed it a while ago:

"I am afraid that each voter in the district will file and then there will be a deadlock."

Thomas H. ("Ham") Little was appointed a short time ago to serve out the unexpired term of the late John Tischer, who died suddenly a few weeks ago. Mr. Little is a candidate for the election, and some believe that the fact that he is now in the office gives him an advantage. The others who have filed for the office are:

Gustav Collatz, A. G. Osman, Thomas Holder, John Christenson, Thomas H. Stock, Martin Dillon, Robert M. McQuade, Andrew J. Anderson, Bert Kribsback, Henry J. Amon, Frank Cox and Gustav P. Nossum. Others who have filed for county offices are: County auditor, Odin Halden and Edward M. Hatch; county treasurer, George H. Vivian; sheriff, John R. Meining, Walter M. Johnson, Charles G. Miller, Edward Blackwood and Frank L. Magie; register of deeds, Charles Calligan, P. J. Borgstrom and B. F. Smith; judge of probate, S. W. Gilpin; county attorney, Warren E. Greene; court commissioner, J. E. Gardner and Charles Line; county superintendent of schools, N. A. Young, Franklin A. Arnold and K. E. Forsell; coroner, Charles F. McComb; county commissioner, Fourth district, U. S. Grant McMahan and John E. Porthan; county commissioner, Sixth district, Martin Nelson, Andrew Hawkinson, John Glode, P. R. Cosgrove, Charles Penttila, H. B. Shank and Erick Erickson.

As to candidates for the state legislature, from St. Louis county districts only one is assured of election. He is O. H. Griggs of Virginia, candidate for the state senate from the Sixty-first district to succeed Senator James F. Boyle, present candidate for congressional honors. Mr. Griggs has no opposition. There will be no primary contest for the office of state senator in the Fifty-ninth district, George A. Peterson and P. G. Phillips being the only candidates; or for the senatorship in the Sixtieth district, John A. Healy of Hibbing and William Brown of Chisholm being the only candidates. These four will have their fight at the November election. Following is a full list of the legislative aspirants:

Fifty-seventh—Senator, C. E. Adams, E. N. Edes and A. G. McKnight; representative, William J. North, E. J. Kenney, and Bert N. Wheeler, all of Duluth.

Fifty-eighth—Senator, T. M. Pugh, Richard Jones, and John R. Randall, all of Duluth; representative, C. L. Hood, Edward R. Ribenack, Anton Borgen and John E. Jensen, all of Duluth.

Fifty-ninth—Senator, George M. Peterson, and P. G. Phillips, both of Duluth; representative, William L. Bernard, E. N. Nelson, Lee Laukki, T. F. Olsen and J. E. Foubister, all of Duluth; M. N. Triplett of Floodwood, and John Mattson of Kelsey.

Sixtieth—Senator, John A. Healy of Hibbing, and William Brown of Chisholm; representatives, Fred Bessette, Gheen; C. R. Woods, Chisholm; J. H. McNiven, Chisholm; Samuel C. Scott, Hibbing; P. J. Greaney, Greaney; D. T. Collins, Hibbing, and H. R. Chance, Greaney.

to one of the ports for transportation by rail to the Mexican capital.

Ordered Months Ago.

The Japanese arms and ammunition were ordered by Huerta many months ago.

Treasury experts, discussing the landing of the cargoes of the Ypiranga and Bavaria at Puerto Mexico, dismissed as erroneous the theory that the masters of those ships would render themselves liable to punishment by landing the munitions at a port other than that to which they were originally consigned. There is nothing, in American law, at least, to prevent consignors changing destinations of cargoes.

Absence of a proper manifest, however, is punishable.

No Formal Agreement Yet.

At the White House it was said that no formal agreement for the pacification of Mexico had been received from Niagara Falls. The reports of the American delegates which have been coming in at each stage of the negotiations, however, have been so favorable that the situation, it was said, would permit assembling the decided points into the form of a definite agreement very soon.

Representatives of the Constitutionalists conferred with Secretary Bryan again today and reiterated that steps were being taken to definitely establish relations for the Carranza element with the Niagara conference. They added that Constitutionalist delegates, if they go, would have the same rights and powers as are enjoyed by the American delegates.

Main Points of Plan.

Niagara Falls, Ont., May 28.—Mediation conferences have been in progress a week today and already many of the essentials of a plan for the pacification of Mexico have been agreed upon.

Details are being withheld until there is a complete agreement on all subjects. The main points of the plan on which both sides at present look favorably are the following:

The transfer of the executive power at Mexico City from the hands of Gen. Victoriano Huerta to a provisional president and four cabinet ministers.

These five men would share equally the responsibility of putting into operation a program adopted at the conference here for the conduct of new elections for president, vice president and members of congress.

Prompt recognition of the provisional government would be given by the United States.

Withdrawal of American troops is expected by the Mexican delegates to follow, as a matter of course, as soon as the new government is installed.

Huerta Ready to Quit.

Vera Cruz, May 28.—Reports from private sources say that President Huerta has committed himself to turn over the government to a commission composed of members of the various factions in the republic. He also is said to have agreed to relinquish power to any successor which such a commission might select.

The report says further that Huerta's determination has already been communicated to the Mexican delegates and probably directly to the Washington government.

In the capital the belief is held that the Mexican peace delegates will be named to represent the Huerta faction on the proposed commission and that they may return soon to Mexico City. It is thought that possibly the representatives of the United States and the A. B. C. mediators may accompany them and that the final plan for the restoration of peace and for the constitutional election may be drafted in Mexico City.

Constitutionalists' Attitude.

New York, May 28.—"As long as we did not know what the conference was going to discuss it was well to stay out of it," Louis Cabrera, a prominent Mexican Constitutionalist, said last night, in referring to the mediation congress at Niagara Falls. "But when they take up the real issues, we feel that we ought to be represented. I cannot see how the mediation proceedings can come to a practical result without the Constitutionalists and without a practical scope for them."

Mr. Cabrera arrived in New York yesterday after nearly two months spent with his family in Spain. He has been suggested as a compromise candidate for provisional president of Mexico.

"It must be Carranza," Mr. Cabrera said. "Any other man than Carranza will fail, even if he is a Constitutionalist. Carranza is well known—and has done the work. The people might hesitate about another man. We all recognize him as leader."

Greatest of All Human Blessings

The most wonderful thing in the world is love expressed in the helpless infant.

And among those aids and comforts for expectant mothers is the well known "Mother's Friend."

This is an external application to enable the abdominal muscles to become more pliant, to expand naturally without undue pain from the strain upon cords and ligaments.

Applied as directed upon those muscles involved it soothes the fine network of nerves with which all the muscles are supplied. Thus a great share of the pains so much dreaded may be avoided and the period of expectancy passed in comfort.

There is no question but what such relief has a marked influence upon the general health of the mother.

In a little book sent by mail much useful information is given to inexperienced mothers. It tells how to use "Mother's Friend" and how to avoid caking breasts. It has been prepared in our laboratory for over forty years and is known favorably to most druggists everywhere. Get a bottle to-day and write for book to Bradfield Regulator Co., 309 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Be sure to ask for and see that you get "Mother's Friend."

Notice To Taxpayers!

Friday, May 29th, is the last day for the payment of the first half of the real estate taxes without the penalty.

Saturday, May 30th, is a legal holiday, and the office will be closed during the entire day.

Monday, June 1st, a penalty of 10 per cent will be added to unpaid taxes. This is a provision of the law and no discretion is allowed the treasurer.

County Treasurer.

UNCERTAINTY IS DANGEROUS, SAYS WILSON

Illinois delegation that in his judgment nothing was more dangerous for business than uncertainty; that it had become evident through a long series of years that a policy such as the Democratic party was now pursuing was absolutely necessary to satisfy the conscience of the country and its perception of the prevailing conditions of business and that it was a great deal better to do the thing moderately and soberly now than to wait until more remedial forces had accumulated and it was necessary to go much further.

Urges Co-Operation.

"The president also said that while he was aware of present depression of business there was abundance of evidence that it was merely psychological; that there is no material condition or substantial reason why the business of the country should not be in the most prosperous and expanding condition. He urged upon his visitors the necessity of patriotic co-operation on the part of business men of the country in order to support rather than to oppose the moderate processes of reform and

I can say that Peruna is a fine remedy for catarrh and diseases of the tonsils and many other ailments. It is manufactured by a well-known company, who are perfectly reliable."

A Tonic with slight laxative qualities.

"I have noticed a great many others taking this remedy, and I have yet failed to see a case where the continued use of Peruna did not complete a satisfactory cure in reasonable time."

LEGITIMACY OF BOY DISPUTED

Claim to Part of English Estate Involved in Suit.

London, May 28.—The suit brought by Lieut. Charles Reynard Slingsby of San Francisco, claiming for his child the succession to part of the Yorkshire estate of his father, is to begin early in June.

Lieut. Slingsby's father, the Rev. Charles Slingsby, died in 1912, as the result of an accident in the hunting field. He left property said to produce an income of $50,000 a year, and the bulk of this has fallen to Lieut. Slingsby. The remainder was to go to Lieut. Slingsby's son, whose legitimacy is contested by Lieut. Slingsby's younger brother.

SOLDIER HERO TO HAVE TABLET

After Comrades Were Killed, Fought Moros Alone, Killing Forty.

Verona, Mo., May 28.—The heroism of Fernando Keithley, an Ozark soldier boy, while in the Philippine service, is to be commemorated by the United States government with a bronze tablet, to be placed in the capitol at Washington, according to a letter received today by Postmaster Harris from the war department.

Keithley spent his boyhood on a farm near here. While a member of Company H, Twenty-eighth Infantry, he was killed by Moros at Camp Marohui, Nov. 14, 1903. He was on outpost duty with three comrades when they were attacked. After his companions had been killed he fought the Moros alone, killing twenty of them.

Camp Keithley, a military post in the Philippines, was named for him.

FRENCH MILITANT IS VERY UNRULY

Creates Scene When Before Magistrate in London Court.

London, May 28.—A French militant suffragette, who was arrested for smashing three windows at the National gallery, created a scene when she was brought before the magistrate at Bow street police court today. She continually shouted in French, "Hurrah for liberty!" and "Hurrah for Christabel Pankhurst!"

The prisoner refused to give her name and told the magistrate she did not want to hear anything. She kept up a voluble declamation in French, accompanied by much gesticulation, throughout the proceedings. She was remanded for a further hearing.

When arrested, the woman was carrying a bag filled with flints, some of which she had used on the windows of the National gallery.

HONOR MEN ESCAPE FROM ILLINOIS CAMP.

Joliet, Ill., May 28.—John Murphy and John Burte, honor men, as convicts in unguarded road working camps are styled, escaped from Camp Dunne, at Carved Rock, today.

With Ole Olson and Phil Rourke, trusties, who Saturday left the unguarded prison farm, they are the first Illinois convicts to violate the trust placed in them since the unwatched road and farm camps were established.

Both prisoners were serving indeterminate sentences and could have expected their liberty in a few months.

OPPOSITION TO THE UNION OF CHURCHES.

Newcastle, Pa., May 28.—Opposition to the union of the United Presbyterian and the Southern Presbyterian churches appeared almost immediately after the general assembly of the United Presbyterian church got down to business today. A number of memorials protesting against the union were announced by the Rev. Dr. Joseph Kyle, who was elected moderator last night. They were referred to a committee.

NEW CARDINALS GIVEN RED HAT

Public Consistory at Vatican Attended By Several Thousand People.

Rome, May 28.—The public consistory at the Vatican, at which the red hat was conferred on those now in Rome of the thirteen new cardinals created on Monday, was held today and was attended by several thousand people most of whom were Americans and other foreigners. A special mission will be sent to take the berrettas to the absent cardinals, as was done in the case of Cardinal Gibbons.

The ceremony attracted much attention even outside the vatican, the public being interested in the departure of each cardinal from his residence to go to the apostolic palace.

The papal procession and the ceremony which followed were conducted with great pomp. The passage of the pontiff, surrounded and followed by many ecclesiastic, military and civil dignitaries, both going to and returning from the consistory, was most impressive.

After the consistory the cardinals, both old and new, gathered in the Sistine chapel to return thanks and then met, presided over by the pope in the consistorial hall where Pius X bestowed the cardinal's ring, granted them the privileges of their position and named their titular churches.

DEATH DUE TO HEAT PROSTRATION

First Genuine Case of Kind in Duluth in Five Years.

For the first time in five years, a man yesterday afternoon succumbed to the heat in Duluth.

Police Surgeon Murphy, who has been connected with the health department for four years, said this morning that he has never before heard of a real case of heat prostration in this city.

Ole Nelson, 35 years old, a laborer rooming at 2829 Huron street, fell in a faint directly in front of the Metropole hotel about 5:40 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He was picked up by pedestrians and carried into the hotel, where he was given temporary treatment by Police Surgeon Murphy and later he was removed to St. Luke's hospital, where he died at 10:20 o'clock in the evening.

Dr. Murphy said this morning that Nelson actually died of the heat. Many cases have been reported, Dr. Murphy said, where the victims died because of a combination of excessive heat, overwork and weak hearts, but in the case of Nelson, he said, the victim suffered a heat and sunstroke, which caused his death. His temperature shortly before his death had reached 107 degs. Nelson regained consciousness for a few minutes after being brought to the hospital, but he later sank into a coma again.

Very little is known about Nelson, except that he was a laborer and had worked in and about the city. He roomed in the West end for the last few weeks, and as far as is known has no relatives in Duluth.

HOW TO PREVENT ACID STOMACHS AND FOOD FERMENTATION

By a Stomach Specialist.

As a specialist who has spent many years in the study and treatment of stomach troubles, I have been forced to the conclusion that most people who complain of stomach trouble possess stomach that are absolutely healthy and normal. The real trouble, that which causes all the pain and difficulty, is acid in the stomach, usually due to, or aggravated by, food fermentation. Acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach and food fermentation causes wind which distends the stomach abnormally, causing that full bloated feeling. Thus both acid and fermentation interfere with and retard the process of digestion. The stomach is usually healthy and normal, but irritated almost past endurance by these foreign elements—acid and wind. In all such cases—and they comprise over 90 per cent of all stomach difficulties—the first and only step necessary is to neutralize the acid and stop the fermentation by taking in a little warm or cold water immediately after eating, from one to two teaspoonfuls of bisurated magnesia, which is doubtless the best and only really effective antacid and food corrective known. The acid will be neutralized and the fermentation stopped almost instantly, and your stomach will at once proceed to digest the food in a healthy, normal manner. Be sure to ask your druggist for the bisurated magnesia, as I have found other forms utterly lacking in its peculiarly valuable properties.—F. J. G.—Advertisement.

SEVERELY CUT BY FALLING GLASS.

Rudolph Anderson, 22 years old, was injured by a falling piece of glass this morning, sustaining a severely cut wrist. The young man was taken to St. Luke's hospital, where his injury was dressed by Police Surgeon Murphy.

Anderson, who lives at 712 South Sixty-third avenue west, works for the Paine-Nixon company and it was while at work in their shops that a piece of glass fell on his arm, cutting his wrist. He will recover.

PRISONER SENT TO THE HOSPITAL

Arrested for Threatening His Wife—May Be Insane.

Harry Dahl, 42 years old, who is alleged to have threatened his wife with a knife last night at their home, 220 West Fourth street, has been taken to St. Luke's hospital, where he is believed to be insane.

According to the police, Dahl was shot during the Spanish-American war and has a silver plate in his head. After being brought to police headquarters last evening by Detectives Schulte and Irvine and Jailor Wanvick, who were sent out following a call for help received from Mrs. Dahl, Dahl was ordered removed to the hospital, where he was examined by Police Surgeon Murphy.

Mrs. Dahl claims that Dahl first attacked her with a club and that he then began wielding a large butcher knife. At this juncture, she claims, she telephoned the police.

STATE ELKS' MEETING.

Annual Gathering of Minnesota Association at Little Falls.

Little Falls, Minn., May 28.—The local Elks are getting ready to entertain here the tenth annual meeting of the Minnesota State Elks' association, June 4 and 5. It is expected that all of the lodges in the state will be represented.

The local lodge has a live committee on entertainment, and several pleasant events have been arranged. On the opening day there will be a ball game between the Elks' team of St. Cloud and a team to be selected from other lodges. This is to be followed by a real old-fashioned bean bake at Whitepine park, the day's festivities to close with a dance.

The forenoon of the second day will be spent in automobiling to points of interest in and near Little Falls. In the afternoon there will be a program of sports, and later the Little Falls Elks' baseball team will play the winners of the previous day. In the evening there will be a social session and the women will be entertained at a luncheon.

WHAT $10 DID FOR THIS WOMAN

The Price She Paid for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Which Brought Good Health.

Danville, Va.—"I have only spent ten dollars on your medicine and I feel so much better than I did when the doctor was treating me. I don't suffer any bearing down pains at all now and I sleep well. I cannot say enough for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills as they have done so much for me. I am enjoying good health now and owe it all to your remedies. I take pleasure in telling my friends and neighbors about them."—Mrs. MATTIE HALEY, 501 Colquhone Street, Danville, Va.

No woman suffering from any form of female troubles should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women everywhere bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

GETS VERDICT OF ONE DOLLAR

Federal Court Clerk at Sioux Falls Had Sued for Libel.

Sioux Falls, S. D., May 28.—Oliver S. Pendar, clerk of the United States court of this city, after the jury in the state circuit court had been out about six hours, was awarded damages of $1 against Mark D. Scott, editor and publisher of the Sioux Falls Journal.

Pendar sought to recover damages of $10,000 in a suit for libel resulting from the Sioux Falls editor printing in his paper charges that the Federal court official had charged illegal fees and had offered to arrange the jury list to the satisfaction of an attorney. Returning of the verdict of $1 damages against Scott will make the editor liable for only $1 of costs of the action, as the court's assessment against the plaintiff or defendant cannot exceed the amount of judgment returned. Owing to the prominence of those involved and the nature of the charge, the trial attracted great attention locally.

Woman's Realm

The last evening meeting at the convention of the National Federation of Women's clubs to be held in Chicago, June 9 to 19, will be given over to the consideration of youth.

Six young women from different parts of the country will tell what they think is the greatest service the general federation can give to the young women of America. Among these young women will be one from Minnesota, Miss Dorothy Loyhed of Faribault, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Loyhed. She was graduated from the University of Minnesota two years ago and now teaches in the college of agriculture of her alma mater. Mrs. Loyhed was formerly president of the state federation. Miss Margaret Wilson, daughter of President and Mrs. Wilson, is another one of the six who will talk on the subject of the greatest good the organization can do for the young women of the country.

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Baldwin Players in "Alias Jimmy Valentine."
EMPRESS—Vaudeville.

Amusement Notes.

The Baldwin Players in "Alias Jimmy Valentine" continue to delight large audiences at the Lyceum theater with a charming and artistic performance of this great play. There will be a holiday matinee Saturday, Decoration day, but no increase in the prices either matinee or night, although it is a holiday.

Next week, commencing Sunday matinee, May 31, the Baldwin Players will present a mammoth production of "Madame X." For the first time in theatrical history the methods of a French court in a capital case are admirably presented on the stage in Henry W. Savage's production of the celebrated European and American dramatic sensation, "Madame X," which is to be offered to local theatregoers. The procedure is in sharp contrast to that which prevails in America. In the widely discussed last act of this play a woman is brought to the bar of justice on the charge of murder, and an actual trial takes place as in a Paris courtroom. This thrilling scene is said to reach the acme of stage realism. The witnesses are sworn; the lawyers present their pleas and the judge charges the jury exactly as in the actual Parisian courts.

For the last of the week the Empress management will present a new bill of vaudeville acts and three reels of fine pictures. The headline act is the Minstrel Four. The four boys make up in blackface, offering a small minstrel first part that is worthy of a place with the biggest minstrel organization. The quartet renders a number of songs, parodies and ballads that are fetching and tuneful. The comedy talk of the four is another big feature.

The Dalto Freeze company will present their novelty acrobatic and comedy act, "Happy Hooligan's Troublesome Career." They have a special stage setting and put over a number of feats and tricks with comedy turns that show clever and steady practice.

The Petite Sisters, two pretty girls, have an act of songs and dances. They are agile dancers and offer many intricate fancy dances that take well. They have sweet, strong voices, singing an exclusive line of popular songs.

Madeline Sack fiddles deftly syncopated medleys. Miss Sack imitates animals and birds on the E string, playing ragtime and slipping into the classics.

A two-part feature film and a single reel of good pictures will round out the bill.

"Never again," said Mrs. Phalen as she walked from the courtroom with a determined air.

SERMONS CAUSE DEBTORS TO PAY.

Port Washington, Wis., May 28.—As the result of special services in one of the local churches, a number of merchants have received by mail from unidentified sources various small sums of money as contributions to a "conscience fund." One former merchant, who retired several years ago, has received money from three persons to settle old debts.

German Art to Be Shown.

URGES OBSERVANCE OF MEMORIAL DAY.

St. Paul, Minn., May 28.—Governor Eberhart has issued a Memorial day proclamation urging the observance of Saturday, May 30, by all people in the state.

In part, the proclamation says: "The lesson of bravery, of devotion and sacrifice given by the men of '61 has not been lost upon the men of the present day. It is fitting and proper, therefore, that in paying our tribute to the old soldiers of '61 we should bear in mind and pay equal tribute to those with Spain and also recognize the bravery of the sailors and soldiers who gave their lives at Vera Cruz."

THROW AWAY YOUR EYE GLASSES!

A FREE PRESCRIPTION

You Can Have Filled and Use at Home.

Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eyestrain or other eye weakness? If so, you will be glad to know that there is real hope for you. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says after trying it: "I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days, everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses. It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Optona, fill a two-ounce bottle with warm water, drop in one Optona tablet, and allow to dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two or four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you even a little take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Don't Worry Over Children's Future Until They Grow Up.

Frequently do I receive letters from fond parents, especially from doting mothers, asking my advice regarding the choosing of a life vocation for their sons and daughters, that I have long been tempted to write some sort of a reply, and yet, just as I set about doing this I am forced to pause, like the amateur novelist, for want of something to say.

Every profession seems crowded, perhaps because every profession is now open alike to men and women. But when they make that declaration and then write to me for advice in the sort of letters that read "Help" between every line, I am tempted to repeat that good old truism, "There is always room at the top." It may be a little more difficult to reach the top with so much competition, but the top is always there, and where one steps down and out through age or for other reasons there must always be someone ready to take that one's place.

I would say do not hurry about choosing a vocation for your children. They ought to be consulted in this matter. After all even the ties of parenthood do not count in a matter like this. It is a grave mistake to expect one's children to take up any particular profession or business their parents may choose for them.

By the time a young man or woman is 20 he or she ought to be able to judge fairly well for themselves. Whether he prefers to become a professor of pre-historic anthopology or a veterinary surgeon should, in a great measure, rest with himself. And a young woman, too, should be the one to judge whether she will study to become a nurse or an artist or an authority on domestic economy. And, too, when young people are about 20, it is much easier to tell in what direction their talents lie.

Wait. That is all there is to do. Wait until the young people are out of their "teens." Then mingle your judgment with their desires and their attainments. Study their talents and meet them half way, and the great question of "what will my son and daughter do for a living?" will almost answer itself.

AUTOMOBILES AND STREET CARS ARE FATAL TO BEAUTY

Mrs. Margaret Blair spoke on health and on colors and styles in woman's dress at the Glass Block tearoom yesterday afternoon.

"Without health you cannot have happiness, and without health you cannot have beauty," Mrs. Blair said. She recommended walking and horseback riding to keep down flesh and promote good health. Automobiles and street cars are ruining the beauty of women, according to Mrs. Blair, because they do away with the necessity of walking.

Speaking of clothes, Mrs. Blair said: "Never allow your dress to be your rival. If your dress is seen before you are, there is something wrong. Your gown should be to you what a frame is to a picture, the right kind of frame brings out the beauty of the picture."

Mrs. Blair has made a study of colors. "I have been with Nature more than with books in the study of color," she said. "Find the color that belongs to you," she advised, explaining that every human being has a personality. The lecturer demonstrated the effects of different colors by draping silks on herself, pointing out the ones that suited her and the ones that did not. A few of her rules are:

"Never put on gray until the hair is white for gray will make gray hair look soiled."

"Blue or gray in the eyes will be brightened by blue clothes."

"Red is hard on the nerves and makes some persons look sallow."

After the lecture Mrs. Blair invited the women to come forward that she might tell them what colors they could wear successfully. Some who wore certain colors because they liked them or because their friends said they were becoming, learned they were wearing hues that brought out their bad points instead of their good ones.

Mrs. Blair will speak tomorrow morning from 10 to 11 o'clock on salads and sandwiches made with salad fillings. The salads will be prepared before the meeting in order to save time and that those present may taste them.

FAIL TO PAY WHEELAGE TAX

Two-Thirds of the Owners of Vehicles Are Delinquent.

Police Will Do Work Formerly Done By Special Officer.

Although wheelage tax licenses expired April 30, less than one-third as many tags have been issued up to date as were taken out last year.

Up to noon today but 625 licenses had been issued by Lindsay W. Pilkey, clerk in the office of the city treasurer, who has charge of this branch of work. Last year 2,127 licenses were issued and the revenue derived amounted to $14,847.06.

Finance Commissioner Fred J. Voss said this morning that by arrangement with Safty Commissioner Hicken the police will begin an active campaign to round up the delinquents. All vehicles will be examined to ascertain if they are properly tagged. Those owners who have failed to comply with the ordinance are not only in danger of undergoing the humillation of being arrested but of also being compelled to pay a fine in addition to the wheelage tax. The finance commissioner states that the number of tags and the revenue should show a material increase this year over the preceding year. He asserts that the city has been growing steadily and that this should be reflected in the wheelage tax returns as well as in other ways.

When the special detective who was under the direction of the legal department tendered his resignation, it was agreed that the police should attend to his work. This includes the checking of licenses. Because extra work will be entailed the council will transfer $1,000 from the general fund to the police department fund.

The first which will be checked will be the wheelage tax licenses. General orders will be issued to the patrolmen in all parts of the city and in addition to that a special man may be detailed to devote his entire time to the work until little doubt remains that every rig in the city has been properly tagged.

COULD HAVE BEEN SETTLED AT HAGUE

Andrew D. White's Opinion on Mediation of Mexican Trouble.

Mohonk Lake, N. Y., May 28.—Andrew D. White, who was president of the American delegation of the first Hague conference, expressed the opinion here today that the difficulties between the United States and Mexico could have been settled more easily by taking advantage of the machinery provided by The Hague agreement. In an address before the twentieth annual Lake Mohonk conference on international arbitration, Mr. White said:

"While we support our present administration at Washington in its effort at mediation, now going on, one cannot but think that if a commission of inquiry in accordance with the proposal of the first Hague conference had taken up and reported the result of an examination of the offenses which brought on the present difficulty between our country and Mexico, the whole difficulty now so pretentious might since then have been ended."

At the same time Mr. White united with other prominent peace advocates here in declaring that the A. B. C. mediation was a happy omen for the cause of world peace.

Mr. White asserted that there should be no delay in calling together the third Hague conference and that sessions should be held at least every seven years. The second conference was in 1907.

MUNSEY CALLS ON ROOSEVELT

Colonel Recovers From Fatigue of His Trip to Washington.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., May 28.—Frank A. Munsey, one of the leaders of the Progressive campaign in 1912, came to Oyster Bay today to see Col. Roosevelt. It was Mr. Munsey who, after the campaign, launched a movement for amalgamation of the Progressive and Republican parties, which Col. Roosevelt would not approve. Mr. Munsey motored from New York with George W. Perkins.

Col. Roosevelt today had recovered from the fatigue of his trip to Washington and apparently was as vigorous as ever. He said he expected several other political visitors later in the day.

LIND WAS POOR PEACEMAKER

Duluth "John Lind" Not as Successful as Famous Namesake.

John Lind saw a fight in the Rising Sun hotel, 320 Lake avenue south, last night and like his famous namesake, who recently was sent to Mexico by President Wilson in an effort to stop the troubles there, interfered, in the name of peace. But unlike John Lind, former governor of this state, this John Lind got only hard blows and was very unsuccessful in restoring peace.

The fracas began in the parlor of the Rising Sun hotel, where Lind is a roomer. Oscar Eklund and two of his friends came into the room and started to "clean out the place." First, they attacked Fred Helenius, the proprietor, and several onlookers. At this juncture John Lind, the intermediator, stepped in and asked for peace. He got it. He got a piece of everything that was not nailed down.

Helenius then called the police and Eklund was placed under arrest on a charge of disorderly conduct. His two companions escaped while the proprietor was calling the officers and this morning Eklund pleaded guilty to the charge. He was fined $10 and costs or ten days in the county jail.

John Lind said after the trial that he would never again attempt to emulate his famous namesake.

REMAINS OF ANDREE'S BALLOON ARE FOUND

Stockholm, Sweden, May 28.—What is believed to be the remains of the balloon in which Prof. Salamon A. Andree ascended from Dane's island, near Spitzbergen, July 11, 1897, in an attempt to reach the North Pole, has been found in a forest in Eastern Siberia, according to a telegram received at the Swedish foreign office from Yakutz.

A thorough investigation of the reported discovery has been ordered by the government.

The Arctic explorer was accompanied by two scientists, and after leaving Dane's island no report ever was received from the party.

CONFERENCE ON EFFICIENCY

Thirty Duluthians Asked to Meet With State Board.

About thirty Duluthians have been invited to meet at the Kitchi Gammi club at 7 o'clock tomorrow evening with four members of the state efficiency commission to consider the preliminary report which has been prepared by the men who have been outlining a plan for bettering the state government.

The members of the commission who will be present are: President C. P. Craig, Secretary John Stone Pardee, Dr. John H. Gray, a member of the executive committee, and Dr. E. Dana Durand, statistician.

President Craig said this morning that the meeting will be in the nature of a private gathering, called for the purpose of securing suggestions relative to the preliminary report. He stated that those who have been asked to attend are broad-minded business men whose wide experience and practical knowledge will undoubtedly prove of material assistance.

NEW BUSINESS BLOCK WILL COST $30,000.

Plans for a three-story brick building to be erected at the corner of Seventh avenue west and Superior street by Frank Muccilli were submitted to Building Inspector S. M. Kielley this morning. The structure will cost $30,000. The ground floor will be used for stores and the two upper floors will be utilized as a lodging house. The old frame buildings which stood on the corner for years have been torn down, marking another step in the abolition of the old Bowery.

FAST WORK IN PAVING STREET

Crew on West Superior Street Make Good Time With Concrete.

The paving crew on West Superior street has already begun laying concrete. The concrete foundation on the lower side of the street between Twenty-second and Twenty-fifth avenues had been laid up to last evening. It is expected that before the latter part of next week the work of laying the brick will commence.

The material to be removed from the lower part of the street has nearly all been taken away. Teams employed in the day time as well as the three large work cars of the Duluth Street Railway company, which are in use day and night, have carted the stuff away in record time. The old material is being hauled by the cars to places along the western end of the street in the vicinity of the ore docks to Fortieth avenue and Forty-third avenue. Much of the crushed rock has also been taken and scattered along West Third street, where it is being rolled into the street by a heavy street roller.

BUILDERS ACTIVE IN THE WEST END

Permits for Five New Residences Taken Out in Two Days.

Many new residence buildings will be erected in the West end this summer. It is estimated that at least seventy-five new homes will be built at an average cost of more than $2,000.

Within the last two days permits to build five homes have been issued to West end people. In some cases the work has already begun. Each will be modern throughout and all will cost above the average price mentioned.

P. George Hanson & Son have let a contract for the erection of a frame dwelling on Piedmont avenue, between Eleventh and Twelfth streets. The residence will cost the firm $2,500.

Mrs. Alma Gulbrandson has been granted a permit to construct a home on Twenty-fifth avenue west between First and Second street. This building will cost $2,700.

A. Anderson has started the construction of two frame dwellings on Twenty-fourth avenue west between Eighth and Ninth streets. The two buildings will cost Mr. Anderson $5,000.

Elston & Britts have let a contract for the construction of a frame dwelling on West Second street between Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh avenues. The building will cost $2,000.

AT SUPERIOR MEETING.

Duluth Yeomen Have Charge of Initiation Work.

The degree team of Duluth homestead, No. 3131, Brotherhood of American Yeomen, attended in a body the meeting of the Superior lodge last night. The initiatory work of the order was put on by the local degree team. The team was accompanied by a delegation of local members.

On Monday evening plans have been made to entertain socially at the meeting of Duluth homestead at the Woodmen hall. A short program followed by dancing will be given. Mrs. A. Bordeleau, Lady Rowens of the order, is in charge of the arrangements.

BUNDLE SHOWER FOR BRIDE-TO-BE.

Mrs. Bert Ericson and Miss Esther Anderson entertained at a bundle shower last evening at the home of Mrs. Erickson, 416 Eleventh avenue west, in honor of Miss Dorothy Decker, whose wedding will take place early next month. The rooms were prettily decorated with hearts, cupids, ferns and flowers. Games and music featured the entertainment.

The guests were Mesdames O. Anderson, Benjamin, Decker, Alex McEwen, Charles Miller, E. F. Goering, B. Sampson, A. Erickson, H. Hanson, Louise Buch and Misses Adelphia Weltzlaff, Alma Wentzlaff, Edna Anderson, Ellen Anderson, Opal Wiltse, Mary Lindahl, Marie Johnson, Ethel Goering, Laura Miller, Soderberg and Bertha Miller.

Stores Will Be Closed.

Merchants in nearly every line of business in the West end intend keeping their stores closed all day Saturday, Decoration day, in honor of the Grand Army. An agreement to that effect has been reached among the merchants.

Notices have been sent out to their customes to do their shopping before 10 o'clock Friday evening.

West End Briefs.

The Parthenoe society of the Swedish Mission church has arranged to give a speical Decoration day program in the church parlor Saturday evening. A program of patriotic music will be given.

Miss Ingebord Nystul, a missionary who recently returned from the Orient, gave a lecture on "China" last evening at the meeting of the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary society of the Bethany Swedish Lutheran church.

The St. Luke's Guild of St. Peter's Episcopal church was entertained this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Thomas Bark, 2120 West Third street.

Mrs. Max Gottschald and Mrs. H. O. O'Neil will be hostesses this evening at a social session following the meeting of Progress lodge, No. 6, Degree of Honor.

George St. Clair of Brainerd is in the West end spending the week-end with relatives.

Iver Steasted left this morning to spend a few days on his farm near Cotton, Minn.

SETTLES WITH ADMINISTRATOR.

Oliver Iron Mining Company Closes Up Wrongful Death Claim.

Jakob Platner, administrator of the estate of Anton Platner, yesterday petitioned district court for an order approving a $1,500 settlement made with the Oliver Iron Mining company on a cause of action for alleged wrongful death. The matter will come on for a hearing July 18, at which time the court will order a final distribution of the funds.

Platner was working as a pitman in the Adams mine, Aug. 26, 1913, when, it is claimed, he was drawn into an ore chute leading to a car and crushed to death. His parents, James and Marija Platner, residing in Austria, are the only heirs.

THE LEGISLATURE AND THE GOVERNOR.

We note an interesting attempt on the part of an abject newspaper servitor of the Eberhart machine to take all blame for state extravagance off the governor's shoulders and place it on the so-called "Rines-Nolan combination," which was in control of the house.

Says this cringer at the throne of privilege: "The last legislature was organized by Governor Eberhart's political opponents. The house was completely in the control of the Rines-Nolan combination that is now opposing him. All appropriations must originate in the house, and after the omnibus bill passes that body the senate has very little time to consider it."

There is about the usual average of errors in this amazing statement. Here are a few of them:

First—The legislature was not controlled by Eberhart's opponents. The house was, it is true, but the senate wasn't. While the house voted to pass over Mr. Eberhart's vetoes the Minnette bill for state regulation of telephones and the Nolan bill to give cities control of their public utilities, the senate stood by the governor and refused to repass these important measures which the ring behind Eberhart had condemned to death.

Second—It is not true that appropriations must originate in the house. They may and do originate in either branch of the legislature. The omnibus bills—there were three of them—were arranged by a joint committee of both houses. Before they were submitted to the main committee, this budget—it was a "budget," of a sort,—was laid before no less a person than Governor Eberhart, and according to reputable members of the committee HE DECLARED THAT HE COULD SUGGEST NO CHANGES. The bills were then introduced simultaneously in both branches, and both considered them at the same time.

Third—The senate had fully as much time to act on the appropriation bills as the house did. The real work, as always, was done by a joint committee, and as we have shown the results of this work were laid before Governor Eberhart before final legislative action was begun.

The fact is that neither the governor nor the legislature nor any faction in the legislature can be acquitted of blame for the state's enormous increase in expenditures and tax rates, and that the only remedy is a complete housecleaning and a change in the system which is as much as responsible for existing evils as either the executive or the legislative branches of government.

MIXING INTO LATIN-AMERICAN AFFAIRS.

Funny thing! Here a little while ago certain people were bitterly criticizing the president because he wouldn't leap into Mexico and straighten things out.

Now certain people are hinting that this country—meaning the president—has no business mixing into the affairs of other countries, even if they are neighbors.

And in both cases the critics were the same!

Inconsistent? Not at all. When they wanted the president to rush into Mexico they wanted him to do it to help out their Mexican investments. Now that they don't want him "butting in," it is because they have found out that he isn't interested at all in their investments, but a great deal in the welfare of the landless Mexican peon.

You might think, to hear some of these folks talk now, that it was a new thing, invented by President Wilson, for this country to mix in Latin-American affairs. But it isn't new. And it's no Democratic invention.

The Springfield Republican has compiled a few instances of Republican mixing in Latin-American affairs which show who established the precedent:

By the Platt amendment to the Cuban treaty our right to intervene in Cuban affairs was placed on a treaty basis.

We also have by treaty the right to intervene in the case of the Republic of Panama.

When Secretary Knox prevented the return of Castro to Venezuela after his trip to Europe for a surgical operation, we helped that country maintain an anti-Castro government, though unquestionably the proceeding was highly irregular.

Secretary Knox also used American marines to help drive President Zelaya from Nicaragua.

Secretary Root directed intervention in 1906 to stop war between Guatemala, Honduras and Salvador.

And in ex-President Taft's time congress authorized an embargo against arms going into Mexico, with the purpose of protecting Madero against disturbance. Moreover, Mr. Taft's minister to Mexico, Henry Lane Wilson, confessedly helped Huerta crowd out Madero; though this had no official recognition and never will have.

Not to mention the fact that we went to war with Spain to restore order and humanity in Cuba, and came out of it with our arms full of islands and archipelagoes flung half way around the earth.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS.

The Herald has treated each of the eleven proposed constitutional amendments separately, and has given its opinion on each. From time to time it will return to the discussion of the more important of these amendments. For the present, to close this preliminary discussion, we shall print again a list of the amendments, with our judgment of what ought to be done with each.

This is merely The Herald's judgment. It asks nobody to accept it blindly as his own. It asks every voter to study each amendment, to make up his mind on each, and above all to vote for or against every amendment in the list when he gets his ballot in November. The list follows:

1.—The initiative and the referendum. Should be adopted.

2.—Limiting the power of the supreme court to declare statutes unconstitutional, and increasing the number of justices from five to seven. Should be adopted.

3.—Creating a state revolving fund for roads and firebreaks through state lands. Should be adopted.

4.—Repealing the constitutional requirement of the publication of the state treasurer's annual report in a St. Paul newspaper. Not important.

5.—Authorizing the loaning of state school funds on improved farm lands. Should be adopted.

6.—Extending judge of probate's term from two to four years. Should be adopted.

7.—The so-called "seven-senators" amendment. Should be defeated.

8.—State bounty for timber-planting. Should be adopted.

9.—Setting aside for forestry purposes state lands not useful for agriculture. Should be adopted.

10.—The recall of elective and appointive officers, including judges. Should be defeated.

11.—A state dog tax. Not important.

ON TO THIEF RIVER FALLS.

The spring meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development association will be held at Thief River Falls June 3, 4 and 5—next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

There is an attractive program, one of great interest and profit to everybody concerned in the growth and prosperity of Northern Minnesota.

The convention will be worth attending, and it is a duty to Northern Minnesota to attend it if you can.

Duluth is the capital and metropolis of Northern Minnesota. Every new settler brought into Northern Minnesota is that much more building material for the Duluth That Is To Be. This association is bringing settlers into Northern Minnesota, and this meeting will help bring more.

Duluth, therefore, should be well represented at next week's meeting.

ONE WOMAN WHO HASN'T NEEDED A VOTE.

I have no vote, and I've raised hell all over this country.—Mother Jones.

That's so; she hardly could have raised more—well, what she said—if she had had a dozen votes.

But then the English militants have been raising considerable Ned, without the ballot but in pursuit of the ballot.

A Modern Instance.

Kansas City Journal: "Seems strange that people could be so credulous as they were in the days of the Salem witchcraft."

"O, I don't know. Some of us went in pretty strong for those poisoned needle stories which were so popular a few months back."

Tough Steak.

Houston Chronicle: "Here, waiter," said the rude man in the cafe. "Tell the orchestra to play 'Carmen' while I eat this beefsteak."

"Yes, sir. Might I inquire the reason why?"

"I want to hear the 'Toreador Song.' I feel like a bull fighter."

Doesn't Know Much, As a Rule.

Washington Star: "De man dat insists on tellin' all he knows," said Uncle Eben, "keeps hisse'f so busy talkin' dat he don't git a chance to git much real info'mation."

Beginning Housekeeping

E. E. Kelley in the Toronto, Kan., Republican.

The other day I saw a newly married couple driving out of town in a wagon. The wagon was loaded with a stove, cooking utensils and furniture. The young folks were going to begin housekeeping.

It made me hark back to a similar occasion a number of years ago. The missus and I went to housekeeping in two rooms. We had $100 to spend on the equipment of those two rooms. As I remember now we had a new rag carpet for the front room, and the usual amount of necessary furniture. The cook stove was our pride. It cost more than the cook stove owned by either mother-in-law, and would burn wood or coal.

Our first meal we had together and alone was dinner. I was fond of fried potatoes. I am yet. It is the one article of food of my younger days for which I still have an unimpaired appetite. When a boy I had an appetite for rice with brown sugar and nutmeg sprinkled over the top. In those days I promised myself when I was a man I should have rice prepared that way three times a day. Strange to say, for years I have looked on rice, served in any form, with loathing.

So the missus fixed a dish of fried potatoes for me. They smelled good cooking and were browned enough to be appetizing to look at. Going back through the years as best I can with judicial calmness and unimpaired mental vision, it was the worst tasting dish of potatoes ever served to a human being. I made a stagger at eating a mouthful or two and gave it up. The missus flushed and admitted frankly she didn't know what ailed them. Neither did I, only I couldn't eat 'em.

After dinner her mother-in-law dropped in. The wife told her troubles, mother sniffed at the potatoes, took a look at the skillet and then sat down in a chair and laughed hysterically. When she came to herself enough to talk we found what ailed the potatoes. Neither of us had known that the coat of varnish on the inside of a new skillet cannot be washed off, but must be turned over the fire and burned off. After that the missus never failed on frying potatoes to a king's taste, but it was a sore subject—that varnished skillet—for several years.

We had some trouble, too, with our first batch of butter. Of course, we had a new churn and a new cow. I did the churning and got a fine batch of butter. It was not fit to eat, however. We had yet to learn that a new wooden churn needs a day's soaking inside with hot water, salt and soda to take off the taste of the wood.

And we also raised a puppy—a Scotch collie. He was a frolicsome, affectionate pup and found life full of joy and gladnes. He had all the accomplishments that could possibly be demanded of an intelligent dog. He sucked eggs and broke up sitting hens and killed little chickens. He hollowed out a nice deep hole in which to cool off in the center of the flower bed. When in the heat of a summer afternoon Grandmother Hixson would drop in barefoot and seat herself on the back doorstep and give the missus good advice about garden and poultry and canning fruit that pup would sprawl on the ground in front of her, apparently asleep and at peace with the world; and presently, as grandmother fidgeted around and her bare toes were exposed to view, the pup would cock one ear, bare his teeth like a baby smiling, make one bound and he had her by the big toe. There would be a scream, old fashioned "jawing" on the part of Grandmother Hixson, and she would mosey off muttering her opinion of folks who had no more sense than to try to raise a pup anyway.

But Kaiser grew to dog's estate and became dignified and forsook the tricks of puppyhood. And when the first baby was old enough to toddle around he became her self-constituted guardian. When back yonder four years ago there was still a man who recalled the little 3-year-old who wandered away one day down the big road with Kaiser for a companion; how he had stopped to take her in and the dog had kept him off until he somehow made the dog understand she was to be taken safe home.

Heigh ho! The few things here told seem but as if they were part of yesterday—of last week at the most. It is not a far reach from the years of youth to the days when the shadows are lengthening. The half hour spent in writing this has drawn them very near together.

The Glory of the Garden.

Our England is a garden that is full of stately views,
Of borders, beds and shrubberies, and lawns and avenues;
With statues on the terraces, and peacocks strutting by,
But the Glory of the Garden lies in more than meets the eye.

For, where the old thick laurels grow, along the thin red wall,
You will find the tool and potting-sheds which are the hearts of all. • • •

And there you'll see the gardeners, the men and prentice boys,
Told off to do as they are bid, and do it without noise;
For, except when seeds are planted and we should to scare the birds,
The Glory of the Garden it abideth not in words.

And some can pot begonias and some can bud a rose,
And some are hardly fit to trust with anything that grows,
But they can roll and trim the lawn, and sift the sand and loam,
For the Glory of the Garden occupieth all who come.

Our England is a garden, and such gardens are not made
By singing: "Oh, how beautiful," and sitting in the shade
While better men than we go out and start their working lives
At grubbing weeds from gravel paths with broken dinner knives. • • •

So, when your work is finished, you can wash your hands and pray
For the Glory of the Garden, that it may not pass away!
And the Glory of the Garden it shall never pass away!

—Rudyard Kipling.

A Common Ailment.

Buffalo Express: "What's the matter?" asked the sympathetic motorist, as he halted where a pedestrian had broken down.

"Tire trouble," replied the tramp, who was, indeed, our old friend Weary Willie.

Others Need Eve's Enlightenment.

Kansas City Star: A Kansas side minister recently reminded his congregation that Eve did not realize she lacked clothing until she ate the apple. "And," he added, "I wish a few of the women of my congregation would eat an apple."

The Senator and the President

From the New York Evening Post.

I can hardly describe the interview as satisfactory. But the man was very much in earnest about Mexico, and he was of sufficient standing in the community to receive a hearing. The Schoolmaster was delighted to see us.

My friend lost no time in getting to the point.

"Mr. Schoolmaster," he said, "what are the facts about Mexico? These. They are an unruly people, and they have a revolution every five years."

"I see your point," said the Schoolmaster. "The Mexicans being a restless people, if we annexed them we should have them permanently in revolt against our rule. I thank you for bringing this view to my attention."

My friend looked just a bit dazed, but collected his thoughts and went on.

"The greaser type, Mr. Schoolmaster, is quite unfit for self-government. It is absurd to speak of democratic institutions for the Mexican people."

The Schoolmaster smiled.

"You mean," he said, "that it would be foolish and criminal to bring the Mexicans under a system which is based entirely on self-government and democracy. I am heartily in accord with you."

My friend cleared his throat with some effort, and had trouble in finding his handkerchief. But being a man of courage, he continued.

"Mr. Schoolmaster," he said, "four hundred millions of American money are invested in Mexican railroads. I contend that the property rights of American citizens deserve consideration at your hands."

For a moment the Schoolmaster looked puzzled. Then his face lit up.

"Oh, I see," he said. "You mean that if we annexed Mexico these four hundred millions of American railroad property might be managed very much like the New Haven. That is an excellent point. I am immeasurably grateful to have it brought to my attention."

My friend rose to go, and I took his arm to steady him. He gathered himself for a parting shot.

"It all comes down to this, Mr. Schoolmaster," he said. "The Mexicans are an inferior lot and there's nothing to hope for from them."

"Exactly," said the Schoolmaster. "I agree with you that it would be a misfortune to make them a part of the United States. It has been a pleasure to find you so happily in agreement with my policies."

The Schoolmaster was all that he should have been, but I cannot describe the interview as satisfactory.

The Tramp

Walt Mason in Judge: His hair is long, his breath is strong, his hat is old and battered, his knees are sprung, his nerves unstrung, his clothes are badly tattered, his shoes are worn, his hide's been torn by bowwows fierce and snarling; and yet, by heck! this tough old wreck was once some daddy's darling!

He still must hit the ties and grit. A dismal fate is his'n; for if he stops, the village cops will slam him into prison. Some hayseed judge would made him trudge out where the rock pile's lying, to labor there, in his despair, till next year's snows are flying. The women shy when he goes by; with righteous wrath they con him. Men give him kicks and hand him bricks and train their shotguns on him. His legs are sprained, his fetlocks strained, from climbing highways hilly; it's hard to think this seedy gink was some one's little Willie!

And yet 'tis so. Once, long ago, some dad of him was bragging, and matrons mild surveyed the child and set their tongues a-wagging. "What lovely eyes!" one woman cries. "They look like strips of Heaven!" "And note his hairs!" a dame declares. "I've counted six or seven!" "His temper's sweet," they all repeat; "he makes no fuss or bother. He has a smile that's free from guile—he looks just like his father!" Thus women talked as he was rocked to slumber in his cradle; they filled with praise his infant days, poured taffy with a ladle.

And ma and dad, with bosoms glad, planned futures for the creature. "I'll have my way," the wife would say; "the child must be a preacher! His tastes are pure, of that I'm sure," she says, with optimism; "for when he strays around and plays, he grabs the catechism!" "Ah, well," says dad, "the lovely lad will reach great heights—I know it. I have the dope that he'll beat Pope or Byron as a poet."

To give him toys and bring him joys, the savings bank was burgled; folks cried, "Gee whiz! How cute it is!" whenever baby gurgled.

His feet are bare, his matted hair could not be combed with harrows; his garb is weird, and in his beard are bobolinks and sparrows. You'd never think, to see the gink, that ever he had parents! Can it be so that long ago he was somebody's Clarence?

The Egotism of Worry.

E. P. Frost in the Atlantic: Worry, when you come to analyze it, is not a social vice. We worry chiefly over those things which concern the ME. Show me that what impends will leave My bank account intact, My health unimpaired, My friends and family cut, and any further tormenting solicitude that I may feel is frankly academic. I may still take thought and use preventive measures, but I cease, as if by magic, to worry over the outcome. On the contrary, I can now work for the accomplishment of my object better than ever before. For most worry is not only an arch form of selfishness, but it is the great inhibitor of action. We say, "I am worried;" we mean, "I fear for myself."

Couldn't Find the Place.

Chicago News: A very small man—not only small as to stature but lacking also in width of beam—sat in a street car until he became tightly wedged in from both sides. Then there entered the car a large, handsome woman, upholstered to the minute. She took the strap in front of the small man and was hanging to it in discomfort when the small man arose with a flourish of politeness and touched her on the arm.

"Take my seat, madam," he said, with a bow and a smile.

"Oh, thank you very much," she replied and turned toward the seat.

Then smiling genially she asked: "Where did you get up from?"

Major Premise, Minor Premise, Etc.

Chicago Daily News: The climate of Heaven has been determined by two youthful philosophers. Said a little boy to his sister:

"It doesn't ever rain in Heaven, does it, May?"

"In course it does," the girl replied. "That's where it's all a-comin' from, ain't it?"

Souvenir Spoons.

Baltimore American: "My dear Gladys, what are all these photographs of young men you have?"

"Those? Oh, they're only my collection of souvenir spoons."

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, May 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Young Emmett Wilson, member of congress from Florida, has a twin brother. A few years ago, when the twins looked more alike than they do now, they played a little joke that gave a serious shock to a certain barber in their town. Emmett's brother went into the shop and got shaved. About fifteen minutes later Emmett himself went in and climbed into the chair of the same barber. He had a three days' growth of whiskers on his countenance.

The startled proprietor of the shaving studio gave one gasp and for a few moments was speechless. When he had recovered himself, he declared:

"If anybody had told me a beard could grow that fast I wouldn't have believed it."

Claude Bowers, secretary to Senator Kern, is a better orator than two-thirds of the members of congress. A few years ago, by the way, when Bowers was a mere lad he up and ran for congress, but missed it by a few votes on some kind of a fluke. Being not only a natural orator, but an exceptionally brainy young person, he would have given a decided boost to the general average—much more so than the coming of a great many members one might mention.

But that has little to do with what we started to relate. Bowers' fame as an orator had spread to Boston, and he was called up there to address a big gathering of Irish societies in that town. His speech made such a hit that, for a couple of weeks after his return to Washington the expressman and postmen kept showering him with notes of congratulation, shillelahs and other souvenirs from admirers up in Boston. One morning he got a big express package containing a shamrock in an earthern pot. This made an especial hit with Bowers. He at once made up his mind that he would plant the shamrock in his backyard, nurture it and keep the plant always. He even hoped that when his grandchildren grew up the shamrock would still be growing about the dooryard as a constand reminder of the esteem in which their ancestor was held by the Irish of Boston.

While still in that mood, Bowers happened to think of Senator O'Gorman, whose office is right across the hall, and who is always interested in anything Irish. With his trophy under his arm, Bowers walked over to O'Gorman and said:

"Senator, did you ever see a real Irish shamrock?"

"This is indeed very kind of you," replied O'Gorman, misunderstanding the object of Bowers' call. And he gathered the shamrock unto himself. He has it yet. And so poor Bowers has none.

Representative Rubey of Missouri got a letter and photograph from the doting father of a set of triplets, one of which was named for Rubey himself.

"And can you tell me," inquired the fond parent of the outfit, "if the government puts any bounty on triplets?"

Representative Lawrence B. Stringer, who is one of several men that desire to be the Democratic candidate for United States senator from Illinois, has carried that ambition around with him since he was 10 or 12 years old.

He used to say to himself: "When I grow up to be a man I'll study law and get into politics and make speeches. Then I'll run for the state legislature. In that way I'll get my name up and the next thing I'll do will be to run for the state senate. After that I'll try to get into congress and from there I'll undertake to make the United States senate."

Those were his ambitions, all marked off into easy stages, as he figured things out away back in his boyhood. He said nothing about them to anyone for fear of being laughed at, but every move he made was with a view to realizing his high hopes. Nobody ever heard Stringer going about, the way the average politician does, denying that he has any personal ambitions. He has 'em and admits it.

And so far everything has come true, just as he planned, with the exception of splashing into the United States senate.

He performed his feats of becoming state representative in the legislature, state senator and congressman, exactly as represented in his prospectus of himself. And he has circled about the major prize once or twice trying to find a place to alight. He was a candidate for the senate when William Lorimer's statesmanlike qualities won him the place a few years ago. Unless he gets into the senate eventually Stringer will feel like the children of Israel, or like a man who has set out to visit New York and never got any further than Jersey City.

Representative Bartlett of Georgia does not look like a man with much music in his soul. At first glance one would say that Bartlett should derive more satisfaction out of a table of statistics or an annual report in two volumes than from a song book. But Bartlett finds that music is an invaluable first aid to wise legislation. He therefore keeps a phonograph and an elaborate outfit of preserved tune-discs in his office at all times. When he desires to frame up a bill for the uplift of the people he starts the phonograph going, sinks back in his chair with an expression of calm serenity and lets his mind take its course.

The Wind and the Man.

The Man—
Wind on the hill top!
Wind in the tree.
Is there aught in earth or heaven
That bindeth thee to me?

I, through the long hours,
Feebly creep and crawl
O'er the green smooth shoulders
Of the huge mountain wall.

Whilst thou, in a moment,
With roaring skirts outspread,
Leapest from the valley
To the black mountain ahead.

The Wind—
Little puny brother,
Why question thus of me?
There is need of me; I doubt not
There is need of thee.

I would smite thee, were I bidden,
Without pity, without wrath,
As I smite the gauzy mayfly
On the rain swept path!

I envy not, nor question,
As I play my eager part;
But I think that thou art nearer
To the Father's Heart!

The State Press on the Republican Split.

Well, the Great Claimer Has Done It.

Albert Lea Tribune: According to the St. Paul Dispatch, Eberhart should be credited for Minnesota's exhibit at the centennial celebration in Christiania, Norway. The article goes on to say that the Minnesota legislature refused to appropriate money and it was then that the governor called together the foremost Norwegians in the state to meet at the capitol, and that is the real reason why Minnesota, together with a few other states was represented. We were positive the governor would claim the credit, but what interested us the most was how he would explain the matter.

He's in a Corner.

Ortonville Journal: We notice that the papers all over the state are loud in their praise of William E. Lee for governor. If Eberhart loses the influences of the state press he might just as well commence to chant his requiem.

It Naturally Follows.

Alexandria Citizen: When one picks up a country weekly and finds a two-column picture of Governor Eberhart on the first page and half the page given up to the governor's "open letter to the voters," the query naturally arrises: what political office does the editor hold?

Different Kinds of Backing.

Austin Transcript: Lee claims that the Smith-Eberhart machine has the backing of all the brewers, the saloon keepers, the railroads and the big interests everywhere. Well, he has the backing of the common people and the taxpayers of the state, and that is a hundredfold more to be prized.

Panic Stricken Scramble.

Anoka Herald: The campaign for the Republican nomination for governor is progressing right merrily. The "dignified campaign" which Governor Eberhart planned to conduct from the state house at St. Paul has degenerated into a panic stricken scramble for votes. He has seen the hand writing on the wall, has heard the swelling murmur of public contempt for the manner in which he has mismanaged the state's business and feels the confidence of the people slipping from him.

Is it any wonder, then, with the lust for higher political preferment surging within him, that the governor trumpets to his host of vassals to aid him? Is it any wonder that the state house employes are being routed from their nooks and crannies and whipped into line?

It is small wonder that the appointees are being shaken down for campaign contributions to further the rape of the vote.

Looks That Way.

Ada Herald: It looks like Lee has Eberhart and his machine on the run this year and that the governor will draw the short end of the vote. Chances are that the elimination conference will result in the elimination of Eberhart from state politics.

Promises Easily Made and Broken.

Albert Lea Standard: The Eberhart and Lee forces are merrily at it, administering slaps and body blows, getting madder all the time and manufacturing quantities of arguments which can be used to great advantage by the Democrats a little later. To the disinterested observer it appears to be a fight between a crowd who desires to stay in office and another crowd with an anxiety to get into office. There is no particular reason for believing that as governor, Lee would bring about any greater reforms than Eberhart. Lee has no remarkable record of achievement to recommend him and promises are easy to make and are the stocks in trade of every candidate for office.

That's What They're for, Isn't It?

Princeton Union: It is suspected that the oil inspectors have been lubricating Adolph's machine.

Tracers.

O, what has become of the old-fashioned boy
Who didn't talk back to his pa?
And what has become of the girl—such a joy—
Who didn't know lots more than ma?
They have wandered away; they have gone, hand in hand,
With those others who mounted the skids,
Those old-fashioned parents who used to demand
A little respect from their kids.

And where can that old-fashioned fellow be found
Who gave up his seat in the car?
Who, pausing to chat with a woman, felt bound
To at once toss away his cigar?
He has gone, hand in hand, with the old-fashioned maid
Who used to say "Thanks" for the seat;
Who thought cigarettes, for men, even, a shade
Indecent, not merely effete.

O, what has become of the man who would treat
All women as if they had wings?
Who'd not take a girl to hear actors repeat
The very improperest things?
He has gone, hand in hand, with the maiden who sang
Such songs as went well with a lute;
Who'd think songs suggestive and teeming with slang
Just vulgar, not catchy and cute.

This jolly world moves in a lot of new grooves
And brightly dawn many new days;
It's a good world, you bet, growing better—and yet
There was sense in some old-fashioned ways.
Now, if you had command of the whole blessed land
Where would you start to put on the lids?
Can you think of a better beginner, offhand,
Than inspiring respect in the kids?
—Lee Shippey in Kansas City Star.

His Principal Worry.

Philadelphia Ledger: "Clarence," said the American heiress hesitatingly. "I think that you should be told at once how my father made his money. Our business men in this country have methods which to one of your pure soul, whose motto is 'Noblesse oblige,' cannot but'—

"Cease, Mamie, cease," said the young lord reassuringly; "tell me no more. How ever he made his millions I can forgive, for your sake. But—er—has he still got them all right?"

Damaged Victor.

Chicago Daily News: "Where's your little brother?"

"He hurt himself."

"How?"

"We were seeing who could lean out of the window the farthest, and he won.

The Bird's Thanksgiving

Oh, list to the chime,
The exquisite rhyme,
The warble of birds in the glad spring time.

'Neath each feathered coat;
From each throbbing throat, note
The praise to Jehovah swells, upon note.

The storm king at last,
Has died in the blast,
And the long, dark night of the year is past.

While the morning brings,
On its dewy wings,
Sweet buds and the promise of better things.

Lo! the forest rings;
Not a bird but sings
Thanksgiving and praise to the King of Kings.

When the sun shines bright,
They bask in its light,
Forgetting the shadow and gloom of night.

Only man holds fast,
With miserly grasp,
To the storms and wrongs of the moments passed.

He keepeth the smart,
Deep down in his heart,
Rejecting God's love and the better part.

While His praise we sing,
We think of the sting—
How God hath denied us some valued thing.

We cherish the wrong
In our hearts so long
It saddens our lives and burdens our song.

Then sing, birds of spring!
Praise, warble and sing,
Till the woods, the hills and the vales shall ring.

Till we catch the strain,
And a glad refrain,
Goes forth to our Master, unshared with pain.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

THAT HOLIDAY QUESTION AGAIN.

To the Editor of The Herald:

In reading over the Open Court of last evening's paper, I notice that there is one "small" merchant who is going to remain open on Decoration day regardless of the fact that it is a legal holiday. The reason, he says, is that he cannot afford to keep closed, because he thinks he will lose too much business. Now, I would like to ask this merchant how much business he will lose, if all the other stores remain closed. "It appears to me as though this merchant was trying to obtain some business which would not under ordinary conditions be his. He thinks he will just slip one over on the other merchants.

Where would our holiday be if all the business men acted as this "little" merchant is going to act? We would have no Memorial day to honor the old soldiers. But perhaps his cash register makes far sweeter music to him than the fife and drum corps. Now perhaps we can arrange, providing this "small" merchant remain closed Decoration day, to have someone pass the hat during the parade in order to keep the wolf from his door.

I, for one, would like to know who this "small" merchant is, so that if I ever patronized him, I may never do so again.

A PATRIOT.

ABOUT POLITICAL REACTIONS

By SAVOYARD

Washington, May 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Theodore Burton has more of the judicial temperament than any other senator, more, perhaps, than any other politician in public life. Intellectually he has no superior in either house of congress, and while a partisan he exercises an independence of action and of speech that your ultra partisan, like Foraker, or Penrose, or Gallinger, cannot understand. Not long ago Senator Burton withdrew from the contest for senator and was frank to say that he did so because he was not in full accord with the majority of his party in Ohio on the leading questions of the hour.

Then it was that Foraker sprang into the arena, and report says that he had the Republican nomination for senator "nailed down" and now comes Burton with a statement that is manifestly designed to prevent the nomination of the voiceful and eloquent Foraker. He begins with the opinion that the first year of the Wilson administration was "exceptional in its hold on the people," but that the inevitable reaction has come, such as all previous administrations met with and if the Republicans are wise they will stand an excellent chance to carry the elections next fall; but he insists that his party in Ohio must put up its strongest man and it is evident that he thinks Foraker its weakest man, and doubtless he is.

But for the Mexican situation there would have been no "reaction" this year, but jingoes, demagogues and depraved newspapers have taken advantage of the complications and difficulties that wait on that vexed question to inflame the public mind and there is no doubt that the enemies of the administration have gained much encouragement.

As for the domestic policy of President Wilson, the country approves it in whole and in part. No other president ever accomplished so much in so short a time. And while the Republicans may gain some seats in the house of representatives where the strength of the Democratic party is so great, they are sure to lose seats in the senate where the majority of the Democrats is now so small.

Like Lincoln, Mr. Wilson is a minority president, but it is not at all likely that the "reaction" against Wilson will be anything like as pronounced as that against Lincoln. In 1862 the Democrats gained seats in the senate from Pennsylvania and Indiana, and in Illinois, the president's own state, William A. Richardson, a Democrat, who had conducted the repeal of the Missouri compromise through the house of representatives, was chosen to fill the unexpired term in the United States senate of Stephen A. Douglas.

The gains of the opposition to Lincoln were immense and the Republican majority in the house was made up of representatives, of doubtful eligibility, from the south that had seceded. There is no likelihood that Wilson will be confronted with such a political disaster in 1914 as overtook Lincoln in 1862.

* * *

The Republicans claim that the Progressive party is dissolved and that the estrayed have returned to the fold; but Col. Roosevelt may have a word or two to say about that when he gets back. Hearst's Yaller had what purported to be an interview with Roosevelt down in South America in which he was very denunciatory of the Wilson administration, but when you see it in one of Hearst's papers you have to buy another paper to discover whether it is so, and no other paper had a word from Teddy on the subject of Wilson.

And the New York Herald had an interview with Roosevelt in which he declined to discuss politics in any light until he got to New York. He was then at Barbados.

I doubt very much if Teddy could play the part of Napoleon in the game of war, but certainly he makes a very good stagger when he imitates the mighty Corsican in the stratagem of politics. When Bonaparte got back to France after that marvelous Italian campaign he hid himself, rarely appearing in public. He argued to his staff that it would not do to make himself cheap, that if the populace saw him daily they would be no longer curious as to him and they would soon look on him as a common character.

As soon as he left the White House Roosevelt went to Africa and remained in the wilds till Taft's political honeymoon was over. Then he suddenly returned, and we know what he did to Taft and to Taft's party.

* * *

While Wilson was enjoying his political honeymoon Teddy went down to South America to discover rivers that ran up and over mountains, and here he comes back just as Wilson is confronted with a reaction.

What he will do we all know. He will seek a third term in the White House, and he will find Wilson a devilish deal tougher customer than Taft was.

Gives Quickest and Surest Cure For All Sore Feet

The following is absolutely the surest and quickest cure known to science for all foot ailments: "Dissolve two tablespoonfuls of Calocide compound in a basin of warm water. Soak the feet in this for full fifteen minutes, gently rubbing the sore parts." The effect is really wonderful. All soreness goes instantly; the feet feel so good you could sing for joy. Corns and callouses can be peeled right off. It gives immediate relief for sore bunions, sweaty, smelly and aching feet. A twenty-five cent box of Calocide is said to be sufficient to cure the worst feet. It works through the pores and removes the cause of the trouble. Don't waste time on uncertain remedies. Any druggist has Calocide compound in stock or he can get it. It is not a patent medicine. Prepared only by Medical Formula Co. of Dayton, Ohio.

MONEY PILING UP IN LOCAL BANKS

Industrial Activity Has Been Remarkably Well Maintained Here.

There has been no change in the financial situation during the last few days, according to Duluth bankers. The call for funds is light in most branches of business and funds are piling up in the banks. It is expected that the next statement of bank conditions will show a substantial increase in the aggregate deposits held by the local institutions, in view of the fact that balances at the credit of depositors in the savings departments have been greatly augmented of late.

It is a subject of comment that industrial activity has been unusually well maintained at Duluth this season, the operations of the various manufacturing establishments having been on a much more extended scale than a year ago. Considerable sums are being disbursed weekly by the various factories in the West end and West Duluth, and that has gone to maintain trade on an even keel.

It is the consensus of opinion among financial men that a revival in business will follow the rendering of the decision by the interstate commerce commission in the railroad rate case, even if it be of a compromise nature. From the early indications the hopeful feeling regarding the probable outcome of the harvest in the Northwest is extending. Advices from bankers' correspondents in Western Minnesota and North Dakota are generally in a hopeful strain.

Duluth is likely to be well represented at the annual convention of the Minnesota Bankers' association to be held at Minneapolis on June 10 and 11. In view of the forthcoming introduction of the Federal reserve system, the discussions are expected to be of unusual interest.

Discussing the general business outlook, the Northwestern National bank of Minneapolis says in its last circular letter: "A minute examination of conditions indicates that all industries are in good basic condition. Business is merely waiting the push which will start orders and which will in turn start the mills, thereby furnishing increased employment. If as good a crop is harvested in the Northwest as the farmers hope for, it will furnish the push to start things in our territory. If, however, we could have a good crop, coupled with a strong return of public confidence, a condition of prosperity would doubtless result in ample measure to the entire country."

TOWANDA IS HARD HIT BY BAD STORM.

JOBBERS HAVE NO COMPLAINT

Present Season's Business Is Making Good Comparison With Last.

Sugar Ready for Another Bulge; All Staple Goods Firm.

The managements of Duluth's wholesale establishments aver that they have no complaint to make on the score of their volume of trade this season. While it is the off-period in some lines, business in the aggregate is said to be making a favorable comparison with last year.

Reports regarding crop conditions in the Northwest are uniformly optimistic. "If the crops turn out according to their promise we are all going to be rushed this fall," said a jobber today.

Collections are said to be fully up to the average season. It is the expectation of the credit managers of the several houses that with an average harvest this fall in the Northwest, practically all of the deferred paper being carried from previous seasons, will be cleaned up.

Grocery Trade Active.

A surprising aggregate trade in groceries for the season was reported by the Rust-Parker-Martin company of this city, and the Twohy-Elmon Mercantile company of Superior. The sugar market remains firm after its advance of ten points a few days ago, and a further bulge is expected by the trade before the end of the week. Sugar orders are expanding now that the fruit preserving period is at hand. The shortage in dried fruits is becoming more apparent and substantially higher quotations are predicted all through the list. Apricot supplies are said to be completely cleaned up and prunes are scarce and high. An interesting development in the trade is that California fruit growers have suspended their price lists pending a further development of the situation. Coffees are quiet and steady with jobbers still buying in quantities to cover immediate requirements only. All cereals are strong, with rolled oats especially so.

Woolen Factory Busy.

A fair current trade in dry goods is advised by F. A. Patrick & Co. Mail and sorting up orders are bulking up into substantial volume.

As recently intimated, the output of the firm's woolen and knitting factories has been sold ahead for the season, and they are now being operated with a certainty of continuing on that basis through till the late fall. It is estimated that the raw wool consumption of the factories for the present season will reach from 75,000 to 80,000 pounds a month, and contracts with sheep-raisers are now being made.

Steel Products Steady.

A firmer situation in iron and steel products than in some time back was noted by the sales managers of the Kelley-How-Thompson company and the Marshall-Wells Hardware company. Orders in seasonable hardware lines from over the territory continue satisfactory, but the rush is now over with the completion of spring shipments.

There have been no material changes in quotations of late. Prices in nails and wire, which had been weak for some time back, are now steady.

Shoe Orders Satisfactory.

It is estimated by the Northern Shoe company that its shipments this season will be in excess of last year in the aggregate. The local factory is said to be meeting with a good increase in trade from the southern part of this state and from Northern Wisconsin. The Northwest ground is being more closely attended to by its corps of traveling salesmen, and with good results.

Good Furniture Bookings.

"In point of the volume of business booked, the present month is likely to be the best since we have been in business," said C. E. De Witt of the De Witt-Seitz company. Business originating from over Western Minnesota and Montana is reported to be especially gratifying at present. Among the outside buyers at the warehouse today were L. Stube, Two Harbors, and P. Stethum, Cloquet, Minn.

A similar condition in the furniture trade was reported by the Thompson Furniture company. Its factory at New Duluth has been busy throughout the season in the manufacture of its special lines of bedroom furniture. The company's output is reported sold for some time ahead.

Are Our Women Becoming More Wrinkled?

American women have more interests than do the women of other nations. They add to the common duties of personal care and household responsibilities, political, business, philanthropic, educational interests, which are of little moment to their sisters of other lands. The widening of women's field of activity has made her more strenuous—more subject to wrinkles. It means that she must give a little more time to her personal charms, to assist them to overcome the results of this more intricate existence. We find many today removing the crows' feet and other furrows which show the results of such intense life, by the use of a simple vegetable cream jelly which they make at home and apply before retiring. They get an ounce of almozoin from the druggist, dissolve it in ½ pint of water and add two teaspoonfuls of glycerine. This in drying on the wrinkled part of the face forms a masque which stimulates the skin and blood vessels, so during sleep the good work of removing lines of care or age is accomplished.—Advertisement.

NOTICE!

There will be no dance at Fairmont Park Pavilion TONIGHT, as advertised, but DECORATION DAY NIGHT, SATURDAY.

SETTLES CASE OUT OF COURT

Long Dragged Out Damage Suit, Up to Supreme Court, Compromised.

After having dragged through the courts for more than three years, during which time it has been tried twice in district court and has been twice appealed to the supreme court, the damage suit for wrongful death of Matti Karllainen, administrator of the estate of David Kartikka, against the E. G. Cutler company, has finally been compromised out of court. Karllainen, administrator, has accepted $2,500 from the company in full settlement of his claim and the litigation will be dropped.

Judge Fesler yesterday set July 18 as a day for a hearing on the distribution of this fund. Two minor children in Finland are the only heirs, Hartikka's wife having died shortly after he was killed. The claims against the estate amount to considerable more than half the amount of the settlement. O. J. Larson and M. E. Louisell, attorneys for the administrator, want $1,100 for their services and the administrator claims $319.15 for his services.

On Nov. 14, 1910, Hartikka was pushing a freight car along the tracks fronting the Cutler warehouse, when a train collided with it, causing him to be crushed to death. At the first trial of the wrongful death action, a verdict for the defendant company was returned by the jury. Attorneys for Hartikka moved for a new trial and the court granted the motion. From the order for a new trial, the company's attorneys appealed to the supreme court. The higher tribunal, however, sustained the position of the lower court and the new trial order was affirmed.

On a second trial the tables were turned. A jury on this occasion found for the plaintiff and awarded a verdict for $4,500. The defendant company then sought a new trial or judgment notwithstanding the verdict. The court granted a motion for a new trial, but refused to direct a verdict for the company. Both sides appealed to the supreme court. The appeal was still pending when the settlement for $2,500 was made.

TRADE COMMISSION PLAN IS DEFEATED.

Washington, May 28.—The senate interstate commerce committee yesterday defeated a plan to report only one anti-trust bill, to provide for an interstate trade commission with powers of investigation which would report next winter. This was taken to indicate that an attempt will be made by the committee to put comprehensive anti-trust legislation through at the present session.

ELK A NUISANCE IN WASHINGTON STATE.

Seattle, Wash., May 28.—State Game Warden L. H. Darwin has asked the United States government to take back the herd of Montana elk liberated in Snohomish county, the animals having become a nuisance because of their depredations on farms. The Federal authorities will ship the herd to Oregon, if the beasts can be corraled.

The Diminishing Dollar

The Government is making more dollars every year—and so are you—and the dollars are just as large as they ever were, but they are actually smaller in purchasing power than ever before. The problem is to make a dollar go as far as possible in purchasing the necessities of life. For a dollar you can get one hundred and that means a hundred wholesome, nourishing breakfasts. If you add coffee, milk and cream a deliciously nourishing Shredded Wheat breakfast should not cost over five cents. Shredded Wheat Biscuit is the whole wheat prepared in digestible form. It is ready-cooked and ready-to-serve—a boon to busy housekeepers with growing children.

Shredded Wheat Biscuits

Always heat the Biscuit in oven to restore crispness. Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits with hot milk or cream will supply all the energy needed for a half day's work. Deliciously nourishing when eaten in combination with baked apples, stewed prunes, sliced bananas or canned or preserved fruits. Try toasted Triscuit, the Shredded Wheat wafer, for luncheon with butter, cheese or marmalade.

This Week's Sunday School Lesson

Written for The Herald By Rev. J. S. Kirtley, D. D.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON: MAY 31.

Luke xvii, 11-19: The Grateful Samaritan.

CONNECTION.

He has left Perea, the east side of the Jordan, and is now making His way to Jerusalem for the Passover that is to prove His last. He and His disciples crossed over and kept along the borders of Galilee and Samaria, so as to profong His usefulness and do some final work for the people among whom His ministry had been mainly spent, with the addition of the Samaritans in whom He always took a great interest. It is not known whether He was in Samaritan or Galilean territory but it was near the line. It is probably between the lesson about the unprofitable servants and this lesson that the visit to Bethany took place when the two sisters sent for Him on account of the death of their brother Lazarus. After that He lingered in the territory of Ephraim and then went north and east. This event is on the return trip southward.

THE LESSON.

I.

The Piteous Appeal. 11-13.

"And it came to pass, as they were on the way to Jerusalem, that He was passing along the borders of Samaria and Galilee. And as He entered into a certain village, there met Him ten men that were lepers, who stood afar off: and they lifted up their voices, saying, Jesus, Master, have mercy on us."

1. SEARCHING.—I think He took that unusual route to Jerusalem just to see those poor half-heathen Samaritans. He had already done one conspicuous kindness to them, and He embraced them in His redemptive purpose and suffering but His plans for them couldn't be carried out till after His death and resurrection and ascension. He can pass along their border and drop a few blessings as He goes. Besides, the officials from down in Judea are on His track like bloodhounds and this is the safest place for Him till His hour shall come, with Samaria on one side where there is no special dislike of Him and Galilee on the other where the religious bigotry and prejudice of the Jews are not so virulent.

2. DISTRESS.—The sight He saw was not unusual but it was agonizing to His sensitive and sympathetic nature. Perhaps He had often seen as many as ten lepers at one time but this pulled at His heartstrings in a painful way. There was the nature of the disease itself—unclean, actually and ceremonially, degrading to the body and usually to the mind; incurable except by supernatural power; pervasive so that every organ, muscle and nerve felt its blighting, disintegrating touch; de-socializing, so that no one could live in his own home or village nor come near his most cherished friend or loved ones. How like sin it is which degrades the soul, pervades all the powers of the nature, separates us from God and knows no cure save Christ's blood. And there was the number of them, too, ten in the neighborhood of one little village and probably more who didn't see Jesus. As ten constituted a family they might have lived in one hut outside the village. Also there was the leveling power of misfortune, as one Samaritan was in the crowd that would have spurned him if they had all been well. Ten men were rotting to pieces, ten piping, shrill, unnatural voices appealing for help—sights and sounds to haunt the memory forever.

3. HOPE.—Their plea was based on some knowledge of Him. They may have seen Him before or heard of His cures or heard of His approach to the village. They knew enough to hope. They had faith and that was always a condition of receiving help, but a defective, ignorant faith. Still it was faith. They had the mendicant's humility and called Him "master" and asked for "mercy." It was the lowest form of appeal, but their faith enabled Him to establish a point of contract with them and train it into a purer faith.

II.

The Prompt and Personal Cure. 14.

"And when He saw them, He said unto them, Go and show yourselves unto the priests. And it came to pass, as they went they were cleansed."

1. TEST.—He tested their faith by telling them to go on and act as if the healing had already been done. That also strengthened it, for if only one of them took Him at His word and went off to report the cure as required by the law the rest would be apt to follow. They saw that He was working within the lines of the law of their religion and it was educative to them. He told them to obey their own law and that gave them hope. They had to report the cure and get a certificate of health. He would also arouse the faith of the priests who so cordially hated Him by sending the lepers to them and would compel them to testify to Him in the certificates they had to sign. This not only tested and trained their faith, but individualized it. They act under a common impulse of desire for health and now a personal faith may grow up in each one.

2. CURE.—As they went they suddenly felt the tingle of fresh blood, the vigor of new flesh and the buoyancy due to large quantities of new air taken into sound lungs. As they spoke their voices sounded soft and musical as of old. They were cured and it was by the power of Jesus exerted directly on them through their obedience. That was not all that He aimed at. He expected them to see Him as more than the healer of their bodies, even as the Savior of their souls. His very methods were designed to aid their faith to a new achievement. But there were nine disappointments.

III.

The Solitary Instance of Gratitude. 13-19.

"And one of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned back, with a loud voice glorifying God; and he fell upon his face at His feet, giving Him thanks: and he was a Samaritan. And Jesus answering said, Were not the ten cleansed? but where are the nine? Were there none found that returned to give glory to God, save this stranger? And He said unto him, Arise, and go thy way: thy faith hath made thee whole."

1. DISAPPOINTMENT.—Jesus was greatly disappointed that the nine Jews didn't return to express gratitude for the healing. It was not that they were afraid they would have a relapse if they stopped to thank Him, but they thought more of the gift than of the Giver, were more anxious to get their certificate and go home; it was not that they were entirely without gratitude, but they didn't see the need of expressing it. Jesus was disappointed in not receiving what was due Him, in not being able to do more for them, as He could have done if they had stopped to express themselves. Their feeble faith had secured the lesser blessing; now He could increase that faith till it would receive the larger blessing of a healed soul.

2. JOY.—He had great joy in this Samaritan, because it ennobled the man and gave Jesus an opportunity to do greater work in his soul. It was a special joy to Jesus because the man was not trained as were the Jews and must have been a gracious prophecy to Him of the time when the Gentiles should have the joy of salvation.

WHAT THE MASTERS' SAY.

Gratitude has never been prominent among the Oriental virtues. The benefactions of the rich are often characterized by so much selfishness that the recipients of the gifts feel very little, if any, personal gratitude toward the giver. The merchant, in starting out for home in the early morning, gives an alm to the first beggar whom he sees, whoever he may be. This he does purely for "good luck" and quite irrespective of the claims upon charity; in fact, charity has nothing to do with the transaction. The beggar himself, while repeating the customary formula, "Good luck to you," or "May your years be many," really thinks of his own good luck in being in that man's path.—Long.

We increase the sweetness of our gifts by thankfulness for them. We taste them twice when we ruminate on them in gratitude. They live after their death when we bless God and thank Jesus for them all. We impoverish ourselves still more than we dishonor Him by ingratitude, which is so crying a fault.—McLaren.

PERTINENT QUESTIONS.

1. How much good have you done, "on the way" to do something else?
2. What benefits would you always get from expressing gratitude?
3. Where do your "rights" and God's "mercies" begin?
4. Is there always something to be grateful for in the worst circumstances?
5. What are the best ways of showing gratitude?

TRIANGULAR TAX TANGLE SOLVED

Hibbing Abandons Claim for 1912 Taxes Against Town of Stuntz.

The tax tangle in which the village of Hibbing, the town of Stuntz and the county taxing officials were involved has been straightened out and mandamus and other proceedings, which have been instituted in district court as a result of the controversy, have been dropped. Stipulations were entered into yesterday afternoon by the various attorneys representing the town, village and county.

Owing to a mistake at Hibbing, certain real estate which had been annexed to the village by ordinance three years ago, was not transferred on the books of the assessor from Stuntz township to Hibbing village. The error was detected a few months ago and the village began to clamor for taxes which were being disbursed to the town of Stuntz. Stuntz officials refused to pay over the money to the village, and the courts were appealed to.

According to an agreement reached yesterday, the village abandoned all claim for 1912 taxes and for previous years, except that collected for 1911 and 1912 on the west half of the southwest quarter of section 32, 58-20. The last half of the 1913 taxes on this parcel is still in the hands of the treasurer and will be paid to Hibbing. The first half will be refunded to Hibbing by Stuntz. In all $8,088.34 will be paid over to the village by the township. The property in question is mining land and pays heavy taxes every year.

BAKER AND SKINNER AGREE WITH MELLEN

Corroborate His Story as to Their Individual Actions.

New York, May 28.—George F. Baker, one of the chief powers in Wall Street affairs and regarded as the closest personal friend of the late J. Pierpont Morgan and therefore believed to know the details of many transactions of the Morgan firm in connection with New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad affairs, yesterday underwent an examination by Solicitor Joseph W. Folk of the interstate commerce commission, preliminary to appearing on the witness stand in Washington. William Skinner, who has been closely identified with the affairs of the New Haven for some years, also was examined.

Although Mr. Folk would not discuss the testimony, it was learned from an authoritative source that Messrs. Baker and Skinner corroborated the story told by Charles S. Mellen, former president of the New Haven, when he appeared at the hearing conducted by the commission in Washington, in so far as it concerned their own individual actions.

Mr. Folk came to New York from Washington primarily to make arrangements with Francis Lynde Stetson, representing J. P. Morgan & Co., for an examination of the books, accounts and memoranda of the banking firm relative to the New Haven and its subsidiary companies. The arrangements were satisfactorily completed and Mr. Folk returned to Washington last night. The examiners probably will begin work today on the documents offered for their inspection. It is considered impossible that the work can be completed by Wednesday next when the interstate commerce commission will resume its hearings. From two weeks to a month may be required, it was said, to make a thorough examination. The result will be made public in Washington.

KINNEY MUST PLEAD TO BIG DAMAGE SUIT.

Washington, May 28. — John S. Kinney, a millionaire mine owner of Escanaba, Mich., must plead to the suit to recover $500,000 damages for breach of promise to marry, filed against him in the district supreme court here by Mrs. Ida McNabb, a widow of Milwaukee, Wis. Justice Anderson has overruled the motion of the defendant to strike out parts of the plaintiff's amended declaration and a demurrer filed to the amended charges.

GLOWING MATCH STARTS $300 FIRE.

Fire starting from a glowing match dropped on a rug last evening caused $300 loss to the furniture and residence of Mrs. Bessie A. Kosman, 820 East Third street.

Mrs. Kosman had been looking for a wrap in a closet and after finding it, threw the glowing stick on the floor, where it started a blaze. Mrs. Kosman had left the house in the meantime, but in a few minutes the room was in flames.

The department managed to extinguish the flames after several articles of furniture and the walls of the room had been burned. Mrs. Kosman estimates her loss at $300.

CHARLTON'S FATHER SAYS HE IS INDIGENT.

Naples, May 28.—Giovanni Porzio and Emilio Catapano, counsel for Porter Charlton, have received from Charlton's father a sworn declaration to the effect that his son is indigent. This is not sufficient, according to the Italian law, to have his case undertaken gratuitously by the state.

Charlton must, therefore, either be satisfied with the interrogations of witnesses as taken in the United States, or must pay the expenses of the witnesses if they are brought to Como.

Detectives Are Fined.

Atlanta, Ga., May 28.—Three detectives, W. W. Rogers, C. C. Tedder and L. C. Whitfield, operating as representatives of William J. Burns, were fined $100 each in the city court here late yesterday, after having been found guilty of working on the case of Leo M. Frank without being approved by the local police board.

SPANISH DEPUTY IS ATTACKED WITH CANE.

Madrid, May 27.—There was a violent scene in the lobby of the chamber of deputies last night when Antonio Maura, son of Former Premier Maura, attacked with his cane and his fists the Radical deputy, Rodrigo Soriano, who, during the debate, had called his father a coward. When the two men were separated Senor Coriano was bleeding profusely from the nose.

SARAH BERNHARDT SPRAINS AN ANKLE.

Paris, May 28.—Mme. Sarah Bernhardt, who sprained one of her ankles while descending from her automobile at Liege a day or two ago, has sent a message to her Paris home that she will arrive there by automobile this afternoon. Prof. Pozzi, her physician, said that Mme. Bernhardt's condition could not be serious; otherwise he would have been advised.

MEXICANS EXECUTED FOR STEALING CATTLE.

Nogales, Ariz., May 28.—Six Mexicans accused of stealing cattle were executed near Nogales, Sonora, according to information received here. The Mexicans were placed on a train bound for Carmea, but at intervals on the way they were taken off, one at a time, and put to death. Four were shot and two were hanged.

FIVE COAL MINES ARE CONFISCATED.

Eagle Pass, Tex., May 28.—Acting on what they declared were direct orders from Gen. Carranza, Constitutionalist officials yesterday confiscated five coal mines near Sabinas, Mexico. The mines, owned by French and American capitalists, are the largest in Mexico. At Constitutionalist headquarters at Piedras Negras, it was stated that the mines would be operated as public properties.

SILLIMAN ORDERED TO NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Vera Cruz, May 28.—John R. Silliman, who was American vice consul at Saltillo and who arrived here Tuesday from Mexico City, received orders from the department of state yesterday to report to Washington. It is probable that Mr. Silliman will sail on board the collier Jason within a week. He is still feeling the effect of his experiences and says he will welcome a few days of rest.

Burned With His Auto.

Fresno, Cal., May 27.—The body of Hardy Weakley, a rancher, burned almost to a crisp, was found yesterday under the wreckage of his automobile on a highway near this city. Nearby lay Walter Robinson, unconscious. Weakley's machine had turned turtle and burned with its owner underneath.

EUGENIC MARRIAGE LAW NOT FAVORED.

Baltimore, Md., May 28.—The Medico-Psychological association, at its annual convention here yesterday, refused to go on record as favoring eugenic marriage laws. The resolution adopted by the council of the association recommending the enactment of laws requiring a clean bill of health and evidence of a normal mind before the issuance of a marriage license was tabled by a large majority.

Resolutions recommending the segregation of the feeble-minded, imbeciles or other mental delinquents and the establishment of separate institutions for their care were adopted unanimously.

Four Men Killed.

Everett, Wash., May 28.—Four men were killed yesterday when an automobile in which seven were riding, skidded on the approach to a bridge across the Snohomish river and plunged to the marshy land forty-five feet below. A fifth man was seriously injured, but the two others fell clear of the machine and escaped unhurt.

REVENUE CUTTER TO STOP SPONGE FEUD.

Tampa, Fla., May 28.—A feud between American and Greek sponge fishermen has caused the United States revenue cutter service to order the cutter Yamacraw from Savannah, Ga., to Key West, Fla., to take care of the situation. Already two Greek sponge fishing schooners have been destroyed by Americans.

The Greeks complained to the United States authorities here and the Greek minister at Washington. The Greeks have quarters at Tarpon Springs, Fla., and the Americans have resented their fishing off Key West, which the American fishermen regard as their own territory.

TAKING REPORT ON COLORADO STRIKE.

Denver, Colo., May 28.—A preliminary report on the strike of the Colorado coal miners was taken to Washington yesterday by Hywel Davies and W. B. Fairley, mediators appointed by the secretary of labor. A large amount of information to be supplied by interested persons in the strike is not yet available and the investigators decided to return for a conference with Secretary Wilson and make a second visit to Colorado. They expected to be out of the state about ten days.

FOUND DEAD WITH BULLETS IN HIS HEAD.

Pittsburg, Kan., May 28.—J. W. Scott, an inspector of an American mine in Mexico, left that country two months ago because he feared he would lose his life during hostilities. "A man's life is worth more than his job," he told his fellow workmen as he bade them farewell.

Yesterday Scott was found dead in his room at a hotel here with three bullet wounds in his head. The police are unable to determine whether Scott shot himself or was murdered. A revolver lay at his side.

BRAINERD MAN IS RESTORED JUST ON EVE OF OPERATION

E. A. Spohn Finds Relief With First Dose of Remarkable Remedy for Stomach.

E. A. Spohn of Brainerd, Minn., R. F. D. No. 2, was so dangerously ill that his physicians declared he could not live unless he was operated upon.

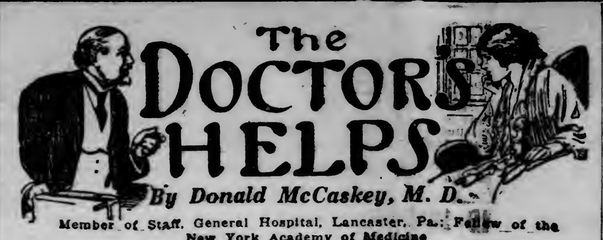
He feared an operation and in seeking a way out he tried Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy. It succeeded.

After he had gained back his strength he wrote:

"I thought I would let you know how I was benefited by Mayrs' Wonderful Stomach Remedy. I took it some time ago. It did all that you claimed it would do. I was so bad that the doctors told me I could not live without an operation, but I did not have one and I don't think I shall ever need one now. I have felt no signs of gallstones since I took your treatment."

Appreciative letters come from people in all parts of the country. Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy clears the digestive tract of mucoid accretions and removes poisonous matter. It brings swift relief to sufferers from stomach ailments, liver and intestinal disorders. Many declare that it has saved them from dangerous operations; many are sure that it has saved their lives.

Because of its remarkable merit Mayr's Wonderful Stomach remedy has many imitators; so be cautious. Be sure it's MAYR'S. Probably this remedy is known among your neighbors; ask them. Go to your nearest druggist and ask about the wonderful results it has been accomplishing—or send to Geo. H. Mayr, Mfg. Chemist, 154-156 Whiting St., Chicago, Ill., for free book on stomach ailments and many grateful letters from people who have been restored. Any druggist can tell you its wonderful effects.



The DOCTOR'S HELPS

By Donald McCaskey, M. D.

Member of Staff, General Hospital, Lancaster, Pa.; Fellow of the New York Academy of Medicine

THIS MINISTER; HIS CHURCHMEN; AND MORPHINE

One of the foremost medical men in Philadelphia personally told me of an instance in which a minister suffering from a cold had procured from his physician a prescription which gave him prompt comfort and great feelings of exaltation. The minister liked the physician's prescription so well that he recommended it to about one hundred of the members of his congregation, many of whom were wives and mothers. This whole group of churchmen and women began to use this physician's prescription and finally one of the number declared that the medicine not only cured a cold, BUT IF TAKEN CONTINUALLY IT SERVED TO PREVENT A COLD. This assertion chanced to be made in the hearing of a physician with conscientious scruples regarding "dope." He procured a bottle of the medicine from the so-called wonderful cold curing and cold prevention prescription. He had it carefully analyzed, and as suspected, it contained a generous amount of morphine, which was being fed to this large group of this minister's congregation.

The effects of opium and its derivatives make the patient feel in an exalted frame of mind. There is a sense of drowsy comfort, and whenever any magic medicine for a "cold" appears which becomes so agreeable as to induce the patient to take it continually in order to prevent a cold, morphine or some other opium derivative can safely be suspected.

It is a matter of common knowledge nowadays that by the use of his hypodermic syringe, the physician when called to the sick bedside, can immediately stop pain. The public knows this fact. Furthermore, when the doctor is called to the bedside where pain or suffering exists and refuses to administer a narcotic, he is in danger of being discharged, for it is very easy to procure a physician who will not forbear and who will give the morphine injection. The same situation holds good with cocaine in nasal catarrh patients. These conditions should not exist. Every physician ought to be beyond reproach in his handling of narcotic drugs. Likewise every druggist should have the highest of ideals and should feel impelled to live up to the ethics of his profession. In the same manner, the drug manufacturer and the merchandiser of "dope" should be guided by the same high principles.

Unfortunately, however, no adequate means have yet been advanced to cut off this growing "dope" evil at its very roots.

We have laws both in state and nation. These laws are broken. We have principles of medical ethics. Druggists likewise have the highest ethical standards. Our commercial drug manufacturers and traffic agents are respectively governed by varying codes of business standards. The fact stands out before us, however, in bold startling figures that there is a tremendous dope evil in our American nation. Some of its effects I shall portray in future articles. I shall show some of the existing laws governing the traffic and how impotent these laws are under existing conditions of living.

Many times a worse menace than untaxed whiskey in the old days at 5 cents a glass. Opium and cocaine, these most deadly of habit-forming drugs, must soon be checked in some effective way or they will eat out the health heart of our American nation.

HIGH PUPILS HOLD FIRST FIRE DRILL

The first partial fire drill was held at the high school yesterday afternoon, about 250 students getting out in excellent order in one minute and fifteen seconds. Principal Leonard Young expressed himself as well pleased with the manner in which the pupils conducted themselves. Other drills in different parts of the building will be held next week. When the students have become familiar with the various lines of march, a general fire drill for the whole school will be held.

TYPO UNION ELECTS GRACE AND HUGHES

Local No. 136 Names Officers and Delegates to Annual Convention.

Edward M. Grace and Edgar T. Hughes were re-elected president and secretary-treasurer, respectively, of Local, No. 136, International Typographical union, at the annual election held yesterday afternoon in Rowley's hall. They had no opposition, while Henry Dworschak, Jr., was elected over Herbert N. Wilson for the office of recording secretary. Charles E. Alexander won over Charles Klene for delegate to the annual convention, and Henry Dworschak, Sr., was named alternate.

The voting for local and national officers began at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and continued until 7 o'clock when the polls closed. The votes cast for the national officers will be sealed and sent to Indianapolis, where the canvass will be made and the final outcome of the election announced next week.

The other results of the local election follow: Trustees, John A. Barron, Ben Bredeson and Charles W. Carlson; members of executive board, A. G. Catlin, S. M. Harrison and Charles Klene; Federation of Labor, F. W. Bergman, A. G. Catlin, Fred J. Voss, Edward M. Grace and Leander Johnson; delegates to Trades Assembly, A. G. Catlin, Charles Klene and Leander Johnson; for I. T. U., F. W. Bergman, Ben Bredeson and Charles W. Carlson; vice president, W. B. Zulke; International Journalcorrespondent; R. C. Henry; corgeant-at-arms, Peter Simons, and members joint standing committee, Charles Alexander and Edward M. Grace.

PINE CITY BOY TO LEAVE NAVAL SCHOOL

WM. LAHODNY.

Pine City, Minn., May 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—This section is interested in the work and accomplishments of William Lahodny, a Pine City boy, at the United States naval academy at Annapolis, Md., who will graduate next month having completed the four years course during which he has taken high rank as a student and in athletics, having won a medal in one gymnasium contest. He will graduate with the rank of ensign and be attached to the Atlantic fleet. If the trouble in Mexico has not then been settled he may be sent to Vera Cruz. Young Lahodny is a native of Salem, Ohio, where he was born June 6, 1891, and came here with his parents in February, 1898. He studied in the local schools and graduated from the high school in 1909. He was appointed to the naval academy by Congressman C. B. Miller in 1910. His mother is engaged in business here.

COLORADO MEN ARE INDICTED

Twenty-Six Charged With Murder and Twelve Under Arrest.

Canon City, Colo., May 28.—Twenty-six persons are charged with murder and seventy-six with minor offenses by the Fremont county grand jury which returned sixteen true bills yesterday against 105 defendants on charges growing out of the fight at the Chandler mine April 25, in which William King was killed.

Twelve of those charged with murder are under arrest, including Charles Batley, district organizer of the United Mine Workers of America; Thomas Easton, president of the Rockvale local union, Felix Pogliano and Thomas Scott, union officials.

F. C. Hedges, editor of the Fremont County Democrat at Florence, is among those indicted. He is charged with inciting riot by means of articles published in his paper.

DENOUNCES THE UNWRITTEN LAW

Society Too Ready to Intervene in Behalf of Criminals.

Chicago, May 28.—Society is too ready to intervene in behalf of the criminals, according to John B. Winslow, former chief justice of the supreme court of Wisconsin, in an address to the Illinois Bar association yesterday.

"The unwritten law or sentimental nonsense is invoked to prevent adequate punishment," he said. "Our system tries to defeat justice and mercy to the criminal is cruelty to the state."

The speaker criticised the "almost universal constitutional provision that no person shall be compelled to incriminate himself and that his failure to take the witness stand shall not be ground for an inference of guilt."

CLEVER RUSE TO ARREST GAMBLERS.

Chicago, May 28.—A score of deputy sheriffs in funeral garb rode behind a hearse yesterday, passed the lookouts guarding the approach to William McGuern's road house in Forest park, rushed in and surprised seventy-five men standing about a dozen gambling devices. The presence of the watchmen on the roads approaching the place had heretofore prevented the deputies from getting into the building before the players had received warning. The gambling implements were seized as evidence.

Why Parisian Women's Skins Are Perfect

It is remarked by every visitor to the famous social center of the world that the native ladies have clear, velvety skins of rare beauty. Inquiry as to the reason elicits the information that instead of face powders, they use lotions. One that is decidedly valuable can be made at home by dissolving 4 ounces spurmax from the drug store in either ½ pint hot water or witch hazel to which is added 2 teaspoonfuls glycerine. This makes an ideal lotion for summer use. The spurmax lotion is a great skin-cleanser and beautifier, as it seems part of the skin and dispels the rough, shiny, oily condition. Its regular use will give to the complexion a touch of refined elegance impossible with powder or rouge. It is splendid for freckles, tan and sunburn.—Advertisement.

Just Between You and Me

By BRUCE

NEGOTIATIONS were resumed late yesterday in the A. B. C. pugilistic peace conference. P. Lawrence Brown's delegates were on hand seeking recognition as the provisional champion of these parts, while J. Tecumseth Tillman demurred to this contention, charging through his delegates that he was the provisional whole cheese and should be recognized as such in the negotiations.

Sig Abrams insisted upon the early consideration of the coin allotment. It was pointed out by the delegates of the Twin Ports Athletic club that the coin was going to too few people and that many of the poor were without means of subsistence whatever.

The ultimatum was sprung late in the day and left the delegates to the conference speechless. The delegates representing Champion Tillman startled all those present by demanding a guarantee of $2,500 and the privilege of 40 per cent of the gross for a meeting with P. Lawrence Brown.

Sig Abram, strong for a more equitable adjustment of the coin allotment, leaped to his feet at this point and using the long distance telephone called one Tyrell to the receiver.

"Who did Tillman ever lick?" asked the coin allotment delegate to the pugilistic conference. "Maybe he had the best of Brown—maybe—and here you want $2,500 for fighting ten rounds. Why I could get a real champion for that money. Who did Tillman ever beat? What big engagements has he had? Wolgast took his hand out of a cast on a Saturday and fought Tillman the following Thursday. Where do you get this stuff? The reason why you are asking this large amount of money is simply because you are afraid of fighting Brown and are making the price so high that you know that there will be no fight."

At this interesting and somewhat dramatic point of the pugilistic peace conference the telephone girl informed coin allotment delegate Abrams that his time was up and he forthwith hung up the receiver.

There are several provisional candidates in the field for the privilege of meeting P. Lawrence Brown in the next encounter. J. Mandot, a dashing general of the South, is one, and Johnny Griffiths of Akron, Ohio, a warm favorite of Art Champaigne, is another. In the event of alleged provisional champion J. Tecumseth Tillman foolishly adhering to the determination of demanding $2,500 for his end, he will be rudely eliminated from the proceedings and will not be recognized by the delegates to the pugilistic A. B. C. proceedings.

Soft Picking Ahead.

IT appears at this stage of the Northern league rating that the Fort William baseball team, under the benign and fatherly guidance of Papa Conrad is not a great deal of an improvement over the team of queer players that was placed in the league last season. The Sox opened a series with the Twins yesterday and the Dooks should return to the Head of the Lakes with the long end of the series—the first long end of a series so far this season.

Concerning Willie Ritchie.

SEVERAL used the telephone to ask yesterday if Charles Anchowitz White is now the champion of the world. In answer to the inquiries already received and in anticipation of others now in a state of preparation, allow us to state that Willie is still the champion, though his earning powers may be the least bit impaired.

Under the law that governs boxing in the progressive sister state no decisions are allowed. This provision was written into the pugilistic peace conference for the obvious reason of preventing gambling on the fights. It failed to accomplish this end, but that is neither here or there.

Being as how, Bill, there can be no decision, except those rendered by the hard working newspaper men, one of the hardest class of working men in the world or class of hardest working men we should say, it is obviously a logical conclusion that there can be no champion of the world if both of the contestants are on their feet at the end of the battle.

Charles Anchowitz White is in the position of old General Huerta; he claims to be the provisional champion, but by the ethics of all well regulated institutions, he is not.

If we are not mistaken brand new letterheads will be ordered and large and lurid lithographs will speedily make their appearance. Upon the glittering letterheads and booming forth from the large lithographs will be the announcement that Charles White is the new champion of the world—but he is not.

In the theatrical field White will reap the reward of the financially hungry and the pugilistically thrifty. He will not fight again until he has had a fling at the stage thing. Then, it is to be presumed that White and Ritchie will gallop over the 20-round route on the coast, just as Jose Rivers and Ad Wolgast are to do the 20-round bout on the Fourth of July.

The Critics Are Silent.

JOE BIRMINGHAM is said to be ready to jump to the Feds. After looking at the position of his team it is difficult to see how he can jump to anything.

His Conscience Compelled Him.

A Phoenix, Ariz., individual comes to the front with the statement that he taught Carl Morris how to box. Perhaps he figures that confession is good for the soul.

How About the Bostons.

A baseball critic of the East declares that the Giants are very erratic players. One could say that the Boston National players are very consistent.

Mike Is Very Reckless.

Pinch Hitter Mike Donlin hit a home run the day before yesterday, showing that he has very little respect for precedent.

Playing in Real Form.

The Fort William team made seven errors against the Superior team, showing that the Twins are in mid season form.

This May Be Impertinent.

Seeing the statement that the Yale crew is about to leave its training camp, the question arises as to what the Yale crew does at the training camp.

CHAMPION ELIMINATED.

Former Holder of Women's Golf Title Defeats Miss Hollins.

Orange, N. J., May 28.—The elimination of the title holder, Miss Marion Hollins of West Brook, L. I., from the women's Metropolitan golf tournament yesterday, by Miss Georgianna Bishop was the feature of the championship matches at the Essex County Country club.

Miss Bishop, who has held both the national and Metropolitan titles, had been playing steadily since Monday, while Miss Hollins was erratic in her game and the result of yesterday's match in the second round was not unexpected. Miss Bishop won the match by 6 up and 5 to play.

Fort William Romps Away With Game By 14 to 4 Score.

Three Pitchers Fail to Stop Bombardment of the Twins.

Fort William, Ont., May 28.—Fort William defeated the Duluth White Sox in the opening game of the series here yesterday by the score of 14 to 4. Leahy started the mound work for the visitors and four runs were accumulated off his benders in the first round. Grina and Cunningham followed and were treated with little consideration.

Furchner pitched steady ball for the Twins. While he was found for nine blows, he kept the hits of the visitors scattered, the Dooks bunching their hits in but one round.

Umpire Carney met with an accident in the game of Tuesday, and Kramer and Edmunds worked the game in his stead:

MAROONS AND FLICKERS SPLIT DOUBLE-HEADER.

Winnipeg, Man., May 28.—The Maroons and Flickertails split yesterday's doubleheader, the Peggers winning the first game by the score of 3 to 1 and the evening contest going to the visitors by the count of 12 to 10.

Shirley held the invaders to two hits in the daylight struggle, while both Dougan and Barr were swatted freely by the North Dakota crowd in the twilight engagement. Wheeler employed four twirlers to win the evening game, and the chances are that he would have used more if they had been available. The game was a free hitting one, a total of twenty-two blows being registered.

St. Louis, Mo., May 28.—Huggins' error in the second inning paved the way for five Boston runs, and these, with one before in the same inning, and another in the third inning, gave the visitors a lead St. Louis could not overcome. The score was 7 to 4. Magee and Dolan were banished from the field for disputing decisions by Umpire Rigler, and Evers was sent to the clubhouse by the arbiter for addressing remarks to the press box.

Chicago, May 28.—New York defeated Chicago 3 to 1 in the final game of the series here yesterday. The contest was a pitchers' duel between the veteran Mathewson and Zabel, Chicago's youthful twirler, who got first chance to start a game. Mathewson had perfect support. Zabel retired in the eighth inning to allow a pinch hitter to bat for him.

A double play by Doyle, Grant and Merkle, in the fourth inning, and Mathewson's remarkable control in the pinches, were the features of the game.

FEDERAL LEAGUE

Protests Game.

Baltimore, Md., May 28.—A windstorm caused a suspension of yesterday's Federal league game between Baltimore and St. Louis, while Baltimore was at bat in the sixth inning. After waiting twenty minutes Umpire Mannassau called the game with the score 4 to 3 in Baltimore's favor.

St. Louis players protested that it had become light enough to play, and during the argument, Right Fielder Kommers, who was one of three St. Louis players to put out of the game Tuesday for disputing a decision, kicked Mannassau in the side. The umpire did not retaliate and Kommers was hurried out of the grounds by his teammates.

Mannassau last night sent a telegram to President Gilmore of the league, telling him of the incident. Manager Brown of St. Louis announced his intention of protesting the game on the grounds that play should have been resumed.

THIRTY DRIVERS QUALIFY FOR RACE

Terrific Speed at Indianapolis Causes Several Withdrawals.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 28.—After three days of the fastest automobile racing ever seen on the Indianapolis motor speedway, the thirty drivers, who will start in the annual 500-mile race here next Saturday, were selected last night. George Boillot, the French driver, who yesterday set a new United States record on the two and one-half mile track, circling it in 1:30:13, led the list of successful drivers. Boillot drove his car around the course at a rate of a fraction less than 100 miles an hour.

Jules Goux, teammate of Boillot, was second, having sent his French car around the track in 1:31.71, and Teddy Tetzlaff, in an American car, was third.

Ralph De Palma, who had been unable to get the required speed out of his machine, qualified on his third and last trial lap yesterday. He was twentieth in the list and required 1:42.23 to go the two and one-half miles.

Boillot, who yesterday traveled at a speed faster than ever seen in this country, is the winner of three grand prize races in France. Goux won the race here last year and this team is favored in the betting as winner of this year's contest.

Fifteen of the drivers who had entered cars in the race either withdrew or failed in the elimination runs. The pace set by the first cars upon the track and bettered by some of the other cars, was so fast that some of the drivers withdrew without attempting to qualify.

Bob Burman drove two cars in the tests and both qualified. He is permitted to select another driver for one of the machines.

The track will be used today for final practice for all the drivers who will start in the race on Saturday and on Friday it will be closed so that it may be cleaned and the oil washed off. This is done to lessen the danger of the cars skidding.

ing to his statement following the contest, was rather drawn and a trifle fine.

According to the belief that Manager Thorson expressed in a letter received by Promoter Lewis yesterday, Westergaard will enter the ring weighing around the 222 mark.

Last evening in Montreal the big Pole defeated the giant Frenchman Raoul de Rouen. This contest will make the final match of the Pole before he tackles Westergaard here in the title struggle.

Travel weary and out of real wrestling condition from the grind of the road, Zbyszko's rest should put the mat mastodon in championship form for his encounter here. When he is right there are a host of followers of the game of the opinion that Zbyszko is invincible. In so far as local followers of the game are concerned, the coming encounter should decide once for all the merits of the two men, and show conclusively and decisively whether the Des Moines Swede, one of the largest mat men that the game in this country has produced, is able to cope with about the best wrestler that Europe ever sent to the United States. During his present season's campaign Zbyszko has beaten every American wrestler of any prominence. The question remains whether Westergaard will also be numbered among the numerous victims of the highly successful invader.

GIBBONS TO BOX MAHONEY

Rising Star and Veteran to Furnish Star Bout.

Officials of the Superior Athletic club announce as the principals of the main card for the boxing show of June 5: Tommy Gibbons, the recent conqueror of Buck Crouse and Young Mahoney of Racine, Wis.

Boxing fans of the Head of the Lakes and more especially the larger number from this side of the pond, will recall the charming ring personality of Young Mahoney when it is mentioned that he is the same boxer who opposed Eddie McGoorty and Cyclone Johnny Thompson.

From the manner in which Tommy Gibbons polished off so tough and seasoned a ringman as Buck Crouse it must be conceded that the younger fighter of the illustrious house of Gibbons is rapidly forging to the front. Tom has the speed, the cleverness and the physique to make a great fighter. He is gathering the experience and it would seem that he is packing more steam in his punches.

On form Gibbons should put the Racine fighter away for the count before the expiration of the scheduled ten rounds. Mahoney is tough, but he lacks the boxing ability of Gibbons and he should not be able to land often enough to keep Tommy away.

Kid Billings will be one of the boxers to appear in the bouts of the evening. Abe O'Neil from this side of the bay will also be a starter. There will be three bouts in addition to the main bout of the evening.

Who Step the Tango at an Indianapolis Skating Rink.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 28.—The tango a la "September Morn" is a new dance in favor at a local skating rink, according to a report received by the park commissioners. While members of the board discussed the report in whispers that nude dancers have been flitting over the skating rink under the rays of a midnight moon, the manager of the rink declared that he was "being lied about."

James H. Lowry, executive officer of the board, declared that he had received a report from good authority that seven couples, clothed only in smiles, were seen prancing over the floor of the rink one night last week. He said that the man who reported the incident witnessed the dance.

According to the report, the seven couples were seen about midnight. The police have investigated the resort, but it was said nothing wrong could be found in the resort.

GOVERNORS' CONFERENCE

Important Topics to Be Discussed at the Madison Meeting.

Uniformity of Laws and the Functions of the Executive.

Madison, Wis., May 28. — The governors of the different states will meet at Madison, Wis., for a five days' session commencing Tuesday, June 9. The coming meeting will be the seventh annual conference of the governors. Previous meetings have been held at Washington, D. C.; Louisville and Frankfort, Ky.; Spring Lake, N. J.; Richmond, Va., and Colorado Springs, Colo. The first meeting was called by President Roosevelt to consider matters pertaining to the conservation of natural resources.

The function of the governors' conference, as stated by Secretary Miles C. Riley, is "to bring the governors of the different states together yearly for an exchange of views and experiences on subjects of general importance to the people of the several states, the promotion of greater uniformity in state legislation and the attainment of greater efficiency in state administration."

Two of the subjects on the program for the coming meeting have to do with uniformity of laws; two deal with functions of the executive and one is of a more general nature.

Subjects For Discussion.

The subjects to be presented and discussed and the governors who will deliver the principal addresses are as follows:

"State Control of Natural Resources," address by Governor William Spry of Utah.

"Uniformity of Laws Fixing the Conditions to Be Met by Foreign Corporations Before Doing Business in a State," address by Governor Charles R. Miller of Delaware.

"Extradition," address by Governor S. V. Stewart of Montana.

"Submission of the Governors' Recommendations in Bill Form," address by Governor F. M. Byrne of South Dakota.

"Uniformity of Safety and Sanitation Laws for Places of Employment, Including Administrative Machinery," address by Governor Edward F. Dunne of Illinois.

Uniformity of Laws.

"The movement toward uniformity of laws has been and will be accelerated by the governors' conference," the secretary declared. Continuing he said: "And this movement is highly important. The adoption of laws regulating the safety and sanitation of places of employment, for instance, has been retarded because of a fear by the legislatures that such regulations are in force. If uniformly adopted this objection is eliminated. It is obvious that if the different governors will recommend to their legislatures a uniform law along any particular line and will accompany such recommendations with the necessary bill or bills, much can be accomplished."

Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior, Frank P. Walsh, chairman of the Federal commission on industrial relations; Mayor John Purroy Mitchel of New York City and others of national repute have been invited to attend the conference.

The officers of the governors' conference are: Governor Francis E. McGovern of Wisconsin, Emmet O'Neal of Alabama, and Elias M. Ammons of Colorado, constituting the executive committee; John Franklin Fort of New Jersey, treasurer, and Miles C. Riley of Madison, Wis., secretary.

GIRL DEMANDS $225,000 BALM

Says New Yorker's Son Proposed at Their Second Meeting.

New York, May 28.—Miss Mae A. Sullivan, daughter of the late Patrick H. Sullivan, once register of deeds of New York, told a jury before Supreme Court Justice Gavegan that Arthur Ingersoll Hoe, son of the late printing press manufacturer, proposed marriage to her the second time they met, gave her $1,000 a week to pay the expenses of maintaining an apartment and asked her if she thought she could live on his $8,000,000 share in his father's estate.

Miss Sullivan has brought two suits against Mr. Hoe, and in the one now on trial she demands $225,000 for breach of promise. Mrs. Hoe, who was Miss Evelyn Perry, was in court all day with her husband, and listened with interest to Miss Sullivan's story. Both Mrs. Hoe and her husband smiled when in answer to a question by her attorney, Mirabeau Towns, Miss Sullivan said:

"I loved him, and I love him to this day."

In opening the case William H. Hamilton, counsel for Hope, conceded that his client had been foolish, and that he had been attentive to Miss Sullivan to some extent, but the attorney declared that the defendant paid well for Miss Sullivan's companionship, that his attitude toward her was not improper because he told her when they first met that he had a wife and child.

PRESIDENT TALKS ON SCHOLARSHIP

Opening of American University of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Washington, May 28.—President Wilson and two members of his cabinet, Secretaries Bryan and Daniels, participated yesterday in the formal opening of the American university, the national Methodist Episcopal school located on the Potomac Heights, overlooking the nation's capital. The national character of the occasion was further emphasized by the participation of the Marine band in the exercises, and the addresses of Bishop John William Hamilton of Boston and Bishop William Fraser McDowell of Chicago.

Bishop Earl Cranston of Washington presided at the ceremonies held on the university campus and attended by thousands of educators and churchmen from all parts of the United States.

"Scholarship it seems to me," President Wilson said in his address, "is the mastery, the exact mastery and comprehension of great bodies of knowledge, and the comprehension is more difficult than the mastery. It is much easier to acquire than it is to interpret, and yet all knowledge is dead which is not interpreted. The vision of the scholar is worth more to the world than his industry.

"It is knowledge properly interpreted, seen with a vision of insight, that is uniting the world, the spirits of the world."

President Wilson emphasized the fact that the mind owes allegiance and subservience to nobody but God, and suggested that the opening of another university was but the addition of one more means of emancipating the human mind from fear and misunderstanding.

CONTROL ORDERED FOR THE MINORITY

Otherwise Receiver for Railroad Will Be Appointed By Court.

Lincoln, Neb., May 28.—Control of the affairs of the St. Joseph & Grand Island Railroad company must be given to the minority stockholders of that company by the Union Pacific company within the next sixty days, or a receiver will be appointed by the Federal court.

This was the gist of a memorandum opinion given last evening by Judge Thomas C. Munger of the United States district court of Nebraska in which he grants the injunction sought by the Grand Island minority stockholders. The opinion involves the settlement of the long pending litigation between the minority stockholders of the road and the Union Pacific, the majority stockholder.

DISCOVERY OF PACIFIC OCEAN

Exposition at Panama in Commemoration Opens Nov. 3 Next.

Washington, May 28.—The exposition to be held at Panama, commemorating the discovery of the Pacific ocean by Balboa, will open Nov. 3, next, and last until April 30, 1915, according to an announcement of the Pan-American bureau.

It had been intended to have the opening on Sept. 25, the 400th anniversary of the discovery of the Pacific, but the postponement is designed to have the general operation of the canal later in the year figure in the Panama ceremonies.

Contributions for the monument to Balboa at Panama include: Spain, $40,000; King Alfonso personally, $10,000; Argentina, Chile and Uruguay, $5,000 each; President Porras of Panama, $10,000; Cuba, $5,000; Nicaragua and Guatemala, $2,000 each, and numerous lesser amounts.

WHAT DULUTH WANTS TO KNOW

The Answer Is Found in the Statement of a Duluth Resident.

From week to week, from year to year, there have been appearing in these columns statements made by neighbors, which we have all read with great interest, and many of us with great profit. But what we want to know is, do they stand the greatest test of all—the test of time? Here is conclusive evidence on this point from a Duluth man:

Thomas G. Thompson, mail carrier, 624 West Second street, Duluth, Minn., says: "I was in poor health for several months and suffered from pain and soreness through the small of my back. The symptoms showed that there was uric acid in my system. I had often read of Doan's Kidney Pills being a good remedy for backache and uric acid troubles and I tried them. After I took one box, I was improved in every way and the cure I got has been permanent. You can keep on publishing the endorsement I gave Doan's Kidney Pills when they cured me, as long as you want to."

WATSON OVERCOME BY INTENSE HEAT

Three Physicians in Attendance and Then He Resumes Address.

St. Louis, Mo., May 28.—The state convention of the Republican party yesterday held out open arms to the Progressives to return to the fold; ratified the national committee's proposal of a reduction of the representation of the Southern states at the national convention and denounced the present national administration as one with a "vacillating, un-American and disastrous" policy.

James E. Watson of Indiana, Republican "whip" of the national house of representatives under the Roosevelt administration, made the principal address and at its height was overcome by the heat. For half an hour three physicians were in attendance on Mr. Watson and then he resumed his address amid cheers which lasted almost five minutes. He was referred to by subsequent speakers as a "man who would some day soon be a candidate for an office upon which the whole country votes."

REPORT OF HAMEL'S RESCUE UNFOUNDED.

London, May 28.—The report that Gustave Hamel, the British aviator who has been missing since he started on Saturday last to make a flight across the English channel, has been rescued, appears to be entirely unfounded.

ARMOR PLATE PLANT PROJECT IS CUT OUT.

Washington, May 28.—Authority for an investigation and report by the secretary of the navy on the government armor plate factory project, inserted in the naval appropriation bill by the senate committee, was stricken out in the senate on a point of order by Senator Oliver.

In a few hours the senate disposed of most of the committee amendments, and paved the way for an early vote on the appropriation bill.

Bolt Penetrates Skull.

Little Falls, Minn., May 28.—August Wenzel, driver of a woodcart, was fatally injured when a wheel came off his cart and threw him beneath the vehicle. A large bolt under the front axle penetrated his skull when the heavy cart fell upon him, and, impaled in this manner, he was dragged for two and one-half blocks before the horses were stopped. The hub of the missing wheel ground over his head, crushing his skull. He was 72 years of age and was born in Germany.

"NATIONAL HERO SERIES" NO. 3

Kosciusko—"The Greatest of the Poles"

NEVER in the history of mankind has there lived a more ardent lover of Personal and National Liberty. He fought with intrepid valor under our own Washington for American Liberty. He devoted his life to regain the ancient freedom of his beloved Poland. Kosciusko hated any legislative attempt which invaded the Natural Rights of Man. If he were alive to-day, every son of Poland knows that he would revolt at any LAW which declared: "Thou shalt NOT eat this — thou shalt NOT drink that." Kosciusko knew that the light wines of his native land and the barley brews of Germany were good for mankind when used in moderation. He drank them himself to the end of his honored days, and who will DARE say that they in any way injured this mighty personality. For 57 years Anheuser-Busch have honestly brewed honest beers. Their great brand—BUDWEISER—is sold throughout the world and has helped the cause of true Temperance. Seven thousand, five hundred men are daily required to keep pace with the natural demand of Americans for BUDWEISER. Its sales exceed any other beer by millions of bottles.

WHAT OTHER CITIES ARE DOING

A great many cities are installing automobile sprinklers and automobile street-cleaning apparatus. It has been found that a great deal more ground can be covered by these automobile contrivances, and at very much less cost. There is one concern that makes a sprinkler and sweeper combined, whereby one man can clean up about thirty-two miles of streets in a day. This machine disposes with the necessity of having horses, which are an expensive item as compared to the care of these automobile machines, and require more help. It requires a driver and team for the sprinkler, another driver and team for the sweeper, and still another driver and two men for cleaning up the sweepings. In the new method one man and a machine does the whole business.

Duulth has no automobile street cleaning apparatus. Commissioner Roderick Murchison, head of the works division, has been securing data on various machines from time to time. If it is found that the claims made for them are correct, Duluth may have one or more of them next season.

LEE TALKS TO BUSINESS MEN

Anti-Machine Candidate Outlines His Qualifications for Office.

Says What State Most Needs Is Businesslike Administration.

William E. Lee, the anti-machine candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, spoke at 1 o'clock this afternoon at a luncheon given in his honor at the Commercial club. He did not make what could be called exactly a campaign speech, although its trend was that way. The only other speaker was W. O. Clure, Mr. Lee's personal campaign manager, but his address was brief.

About sixty business men gathered to hear Mr. Lee and gave him close attention. He was liberally applauded, and was afterwards congratulated by many on the tenor of his address.

John E. Samuelson, who was chairman of the gathering, called the meeting to order as dessert was being served, for the reason, he said, that he knew the business men wanted to get back to their offices. He introduced as the first speaker, Mr. Clure. The latter simply explained that he had intended to give an address in reply to what he termed "misrepresentations of the Duluth News Tribune regarding Mr. Lee and regarding a certain important subject that was involved in this campaign," but that he had been requested to desist, owing to the fact that the rules of the Commercial club forbid political speeches, being an entirely non-partisan and purely business organization, free from party alliances. He said that he wished that he could have those present hear the statement, but that he bowed to the rules of the club, of course.

Business Methods.

Mr. Lee was then introduced. After a few introductory remarks, Mr. Lee said in part:

"I would like to point out to you first of all, as a business man, that what Minnesota needs is a business administration. We have had all the frills that we need and now we need business. This being a gathering of business men, perhaps it is not amiss to speak something of my own experience. I have made what I believe is recognized as a fair degree of success in my private business, but you want also to know what experience a candidate has had in public business. I served several terms in the legislature and was at one time speaker of the house; so I have a fair acquaintance with the legislative branch of the government. I was for six years on the normal school board; so I have some knowledge of the educational conditions and requirements of the state. For six years I served on the state fair board; so I think I know something about the exhibits of the state and what its resources are. I helped organize and served on the first board of control; so I have had experience in connection with the executive branch of the state government. I was for some time superintendent of one of the state's public institutions; so I learned something of the needs and the systems of the institutional branches of the commonwealth. I have lived in Minnesota fifty-seven years, have seen the state grow from territorial days to what it has reached now, and I feel that I am equipped in some measure at least for the office which I seek.

"The state is prosperous, I observe, as I have been traveling through it in this campaign; so prosperous in fact, that its people are not having much time to devote to political inquiry. But the active man of business should not overlook the state's business, for if it is abused soon his own business will be affected."

Increased Cost.

Mr. Lee spoke of the increase of taxation on an increased valuation and the continually increasing cost of state administration, along the lines dealt with in The Herald many times, and condemned it as a result of poor business management. He asserted that good business management would reduce the cost of state administration at least 10 per cent, and said he thought that a very conservative figure. He declared that the administration of the state government which Governor Eberhart said two years ago was economical and efficient, was suddenly extravagant in the governor's eyes and that he had to appoint a committee of thirty to help him out. Mr. Lee expressed himself as unreservedly in favor of a civil service law, as one step toward economical and efficient government, and declared that there are serving on the state pay roll at this time men who do nothing but political work.

"Governor Eberhart said at St. Cloud in his keynote speech the other night," said Mr. Lee, "that he is not to blame for the extravagant appropriations of the last legislature; that he cut down and saved at least $250,000, and if the law had permitted him to shave other appropriations he could have saved at least $500,000 more. The fact is that before that appropriation bill became a law, Senator Teague and Representative Davis, chairman of the appropriations committees of the respective houses took the bill to the governor for suggestions, and he told them after going over the bill carefully that he could not see where it could be cut down at all; he had no suggestions to make. I have asked him to let me know where he saved the $250,000 and where he could have saved $500,000 as he says he could if the law had permitted it. I have received no answer. Instead of vetoing $250,000 he vetoed $170,000, some of which, particularly a matter of $75,000, should have gone through; there were other places where the cutting could have been done to better effect."

Mr. Lee then attacked the governor's motives in vetoing the Minnette and Nolan bills and charged the governor with insincerity and with playing into the hands of the corporations. In conclusion, he said:

"I have lived most of my life in Minnesota and will live and die here. I love the state, for it is my home state and I know no other. If I can be the man to give Minnesota the best government she has ever had I will lie down then in peace and satisfaction."

PLAN BEFORE CARRANZA

Favorable Reply Expected to Take Part in Mediation Proceedings.

French Legation at Mexico City Is Armed for Defense.

Washington, May 28.—Negotiations with Carranza, either to have him take part in the mediation proceedings or to agree to the solution being worked out at Niagara Falls, it was said among officials close to the White House today, were in such condition that a favorable reply was expected from him.

A definite plan has been laid before Carranza, it was said in official circles, and a reply outlining his position was awaited. Exactly what the plan is was not divulged, but it was understood to include acceptance of a provisional government at Mexico City and land reforms.

Secretary Bryan said that in the absence of official information that Gen. Funston was holding the Bavaria, he could not discuss that phase, and also declined to say how the United States regarded the landing of war cargoes, after it had been assured that official of the Hamburg-American line would order that both the cargoes of the Ypiranga and the Bavaria be turned back, as was the cargo of the Kron Prinzessin Cecelie.

Gen. Carranza today assured the British ambassador here that foreigners in Mexico would be subjected to no "unjust or inequitable burdens." This was occasioned by inquiries particularly as to the Tampico oil fields and was regarded generally as "very satisfactory."

French Legation Armed.

Paris, May 28.—Dispatches from Mexico City to the French government state that the French charge d'affaires in Mexico City has rented three houses adjoining the legation to serve as asylums for the French residents should the occasion arise. These houses and the legation have been provisioned and armed for defense.

The dispatches describe both the Federals and the Constitutionalists as respecting French interests and the French flag.

To Get 90,000 Pesos.

Vera Cruz, Mex., May 28.—An unconfirmed report is current here that the Hamburg-American company entered into a contract with the Mexican government by which it was to receive 90,000 pesos as a bonus for landing the ammunition from the Ypiranga at Puerto Mexico. The company is said to have been represented in the transaction by Earl Heynen, the agent in Mexico City of the line, who agreed to deliver the arms unless stopped by American war vessels at Puerto Mexico.

The first extensive list of books and articles on industrial, trade and vocational education yet compiled has just been issued by the United States bureau of education.

WILL ATTACK GOVERNOR

Lee's Campaign Manager to Unload Red Hot Speech.

Will Try to Prove Relations Between Eberhart and Breweries.

W. O. Clure, manager of the campaign of William E. Lee, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, is a persistent man. In this line his speech at the St. Louis hotel tonight is germane.

Today it was Mr. Clure's purpose to deliver a speech before the gathering which greeted Mr. Lee at the Commercial club at luncheon, in which Governor Eberhart and the brewery interests were to be attacked and specific charges made. The officials of the Commercial club, getting wind that such a speech was to be made, objected, as the club has a standing rule that nothing of a partisan nature can be "pulled off" within its walls, the club confining itself to business matters entirely.

This did not feaze Mr. Clure. He started out to hire a hall to deliver the speech in. On such short notice this could not be done, so he hired a large room in the St. Louis hotel, and the speech will be delivered there tonight.

It is understood that his purpose is to prove an intimate relationship between the governor and the brewery interests.

FEDERAL TROOPS CAN BE WITHDRAWN

Says Judge Advocate of the Colorado Military District.

New York, May 28.—The Federal troops could now be withdrawn from Colorado without danger, according to testimony given today by Maj. Edward J. Boughton, judge advocate of the Colorado military district, before the Federal commission on industrial relations, in session here.

Maj. Boughton said he had been sent by Governor Ammons and by his own commanding officer of the Colorado National guard to enlighten public opinion "which had been inflamed by press reports." He was chairman of the military commission appointed by Governor Ammons to investigate the conduct of the National guard at Ludlow.

The witness said it was his opinion that the mine owners had yielded to the strikers in every demand except the recognition of the union; that the mine workers had received fair treatment at the hands of their employers.

Was at 26 Broadway.

Maj. Boughton admitted that since he had been in New York he had been in conference with 26 Broadway, Standard Oil headquarters, and that he had not seen any representative of the mine workers in this city. Attempts were made by A. B. Garretson of the commission to show that the major favored the mining interests and had not concerned himself sufficiently with the other elements in the dispute.

The witness, in giving a narrative of the Ludlow incident, in some cases exonerated the National Guard and in others, such as the setting fire to tents and the treatment of one of the Greek strike leaders, affirmed that the actions of the military were inexcusable.

SHYLOCK OF WALL STREET IS LOST

Shoestring Bill, Who Financed Messengers and Clerks, Missing.

New York, May 28—Shoestring Bill is missing from Wall street. Therefore a lot of messenger boys, stock exchange runners and other lads who may be met around New street, back of the stock exchange are facing immediate bankruptcy. Shoestring Bill was an ever present help in times of pressing financial trouble.

Even though his interest rates were lofty—from 50 to 100 per cent, even in ordinary, unpanicky financial times—it was of vast comfort to many of Wall street's most youthful crap shooting enthusiasts to slide up to Shoestring Bill for a five-day sixty-seven-cent loan to cover carfare.

Nobody in the district has seen the New street financier for a month. They heard he was sick some time ago. He reappeared and said he had been operated on in a hospital, and then he disappeared again. At 36 Frankfort street, where he has a tiny room, he has not been seen since. Wall street thinks he may be dead, but expects him to reappear.

His name is Jacob Schwartz. He is not known for style or cut of clothes or frequent manicuring. Every one knows his shambling shuffle. For far sighted trading he has no peer. The Wall street maxim of "Buy 'em when every one wants to sell and sell 'em when the rest is buying" has made the money lender of the messenger boy's hope.

Straw and derby hats are his specialties. He buys straws in October, when his spendthrift patrons will sell for any price, and sells them back in May, when prices for new ones look stiff, but some kind of a straw effect is absolutely necessary. The patrons, greedy of Shoestring Bill's eternal opulence, but always in debt to him, talk grandly of the apartment houses and bonds he owns. Most of his borrowing clientele, however, want to be shown about these. His return is being awaited with considerable anxiety by the high-fliers whose loans are overdue.

INSANE, SHE KEEPS HER SONS IN BED

Mother Hypnotizes Children Into Belief That They Are Ill.

Gloversville, N. Y., May 28.—Mrs. John Bennett of Hope, Hamilton county, was taken to the insane asylum at Utica, after she had for many years kept three grown sons in their beds by hypnotizing them into believing they were ill and would die if they left their cots. The case puzzled medical men in this section of the state for three years.

Drs. Grant and Avery of Northville recently examined the woman and found her insane, and Judge Talbot of this city, signed papers committing her to the Utica asylum. She was taken into custody at Northville last night while calling on a relative.

Fulton county humane authorities and the police department of this city tried three years ago to have the sons taken away from their mother. They are George, aged 36 years, kept in bed 11 years; Ward, 28, kept in bed 13 years, and Frank, 27, kept in bed 9 years. The few callers who managed to get into the house say all are perfectly able to do a day's work, but that they cannot be persuaded to leave their beds. Their father, who works on the farm, also is under the influence of the mother, but to a lesser extent. The boys still are in bed. Dr. Grant hopes to aid them.

Local physicians say it is doubtful if the men can be made to leave their beds, as they remain indefinitely under the spell of their mother's influence. The father says they need not get up if they do not want to. Both he and Mrs. Bennett worked hard caring for them and defied all efforts to get them away. As they were not a public charge and harmed no one, there was no way to get them away. Efforts to examine the mother on other occasions proved useless. Recently she met several physicians with a gun and threatened to shoot them for trespassing.

FOR STEP TOWARD UNIVERSAL PEACE

Standing Committee of the Powers Proposed to Avert War.

Mohonk Lake, N. Y., May 28.—A joint address by Dr. John Bates Clark, professor of political economy at Columbia university, and Sir George Paish, editor of the London Statist, was read by Dr. Clark at the Lake Mohonk conference on international arbitration here today. They had been asked to "present a plan for taking one practical step in the direction of universal peace."

They proposed a standing committee of the powers.

They raised the question whether conferences for foreign ministers or their representatives could be made a part of the regular procedure of governments.

"The need for this," they said, "exists independently of warfare. The nations have become interdependent where formerly they sought to be self-contained; both politically and economically. They live by serving each other."

The interdependence was most noticeable in the exchange of clothing and food, and capital. "The failure of the monsoon in India raises the price of bread in England," they cited as example. "And an earthquake or war always causes losses in very remote regions.

"It should be possible for a standing committee to agree upon policies that, in time of peace, will promote the common welfare and create a strong bond of mutual friendliness."

There might be no guarantee against war, but the step now called for was the creation of a mechanism by which the general interest of the whole of mankind shall be protected.

"The chief question which we need to bring before the next Hague conference," they said, "is how the general interest can best be conserved. A standing committee of the powers would be a potent instrumentality for conserving it. It should call its meetings from time to time, whenever the general interest is affected by a conference between the powers. The function of such a committee would not be confined to averting war. The elaborate network of business relations that tie the countries together will afford the interest to be immediately and constantly guarded through periods of peace, as well as the supreme reason for averting war."

Would Be Air Pilot.

Salisbury, Eng., May 28.—The first lord of the British admiralty, Winston Spencer Churchill, today accomplished the first series of tests required in order to obtain an air pilot's certificate. Mr. Churchill at the steering apparatus of a naval aeroplane, rose at Netheravon and after a flight over Salisbury plain, landed with ease in the yeomanry camp.

STUDY GEOGRAPHY WHILE YOU EAT.

Woman's Home Companion: In the dining room of one family there hang two large colored maps, one of the world, the other of the state in which they live.

The parents and children are forming the habit of talking during meals about what they read or hear, of places and events outside the visible horizon. And whenever any unfamiliar place is mentioned one of the children immediately leaves the table long enough to locate it on the map. "It is near such and such a town, or river or mountain;" "That is where so and so lives," or "Such a thing happened there," is the information usually added to the first statement.

They do not limit their conversation to bookish things, but speak naturally about whatever they are interested in, turning to the maps as one looks at a railroad guide when traveling, to place themselves. In this way bits of knowledge are linked together, and as sight-knowledge requires so much less mental effort than ear-knowledge it is more fun.

Besides, the maps, hanging low and in a good light, make a splendid rainy day game for the two younger children, aged 8 and 10. The mother, sitting near with her sewing, gives them "hard ones to find" (names of more or less obscurity), and they keep score as to which gets the most "firsts," calling twenty the game.

No wonder the whole world seems like one big picture to this family, and geography but a play.

FILINGS IN NORTH DAKOTA

There Is No Dearth of Candidates for Various State Offices.

Five Republicans Are Seeking Nomination for Lieutenant Governor.

Bismarck, N. D., May 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—There are plenty of candidates for the various offices to be voted for at the June primary, the Republicans, Democrats, Progressive Republicans and non-partisans and Socialists all having tickets in the field. Five seek the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor.

Herman Midtbo of Minot, who has been a candidate for United States senator several times, again has his name on the ballot, asking the Republican nomination. He usually polls about 5,000 votes.

The Progressive party has only five candidates so far. It is expected that vacancies in the ticket will be filled by affidavit, as provided by law.

In the Democratic party there are contests for the gubernatorial, First congressional, the senatorship and attorney generalship.

In the Republican party three present state officials, W. C. Taylor of La Moure, Carl Jorgenson of Milnor and Thomas Hall, are unopposed for nomination for insurance commissioner, state auditor and secretary of state respectively.

Congressman H. T. Helgesen has no opposition for the Republican nomination.

The Socialists have a full ticket in the field.

Following are the candidates of the several parties:

Republican.

YOUNG FARMERS WILL GRADUATE

Graham Taylor of Chicago to Address Fargo Farm School Class.

Fargo N. D., May 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—There will be thirty-seven graduates at the twentieth annual commencement exercises at the North Dakota agricultural college. Graham Taylor of Chicago will deliver the baccalaureate address Sunday, May 31, and the commencement address Tuesday, June 2, will be by Dr. L. T. Guild of Fargo.

One of the chief features of the exercises will be the presentation of "Sitting Bull-Custer," a great Indian war drama, written by Dr. A. McBeede, for a quarter of a century a missionary among the Indians. It will be put on Monday night, June 1, and staged on the campus. Over 150 students will participate. The costumes are especially appropriate, some of them having been loaned for the occasion by the National museum in Washington.

GRAHAM TAYLOR.

The Annual Concert.

The annual concert will be held Saturday night, the baccalaureate address Sunday, the class day exercises Monday and the commencement exercises Tuesday. These will consist of the annual commencement procession at 10 o'clock, the address by Dr. Guild, presentation of diplomas by President Worst, the luncheon, the alumni field day in the afternoon, the president's reception at 7:30 and the annual ball at 9 Tuesday evening.

SOO STOCK TRAIN WILL TOUR STATE

Farmers of North Dakota Will Get First Hand Advice.

Fargo, N. D., May 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Soo live stock train, which will put in eleven days from June 8 to June 18, inclusive, doing the main line and branches of the road in this state, is expected to create a great deal of enthusiasm for live stock raising and dairying in the parts of the state traversed by the line.

Director Cooper of the North Dakota Experiment station and the Better Farming movement, who is co-operating with the road, announces he has secured a special galaxy of speakers for the tour. Prof. Peters of the Manitoba Experiment station, Dean Shepperd of the department of animal husbandry at the agricultural college, Dr. Van Es, head of the veterinary department; E. H. Thompson, an expert, and J. C. Hoke, a field man, and John Christianson of New Salem, president of the Holstein Breeding circuit, will be the chief speakers. They will be qualified to discuss every phase of live stock raising.

Will Carry Live Stock.

The train will make thirty-eight towns. It will bear types of beef and dairy cattle, hogs and sheep for demonstration and educational rather than for show purposes. The co-operation of the different interests in the tour of the state is expected to secure more enthusiasm and interest than in any similar movement ever carried on in the state.

CANDIDATE LEE IN PINE COUNTY

Addresses Audience at Sandstone With Other Candidates.

Sandstone, Minn., May 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—William E. Lee, Republican candidate for governor, spoke here Tuesday evening at the open house on "The Need of a Business Administration for the State of Minnesota." He appeared in possession of ample proof for every statement made against the present incumbent. Dr. H. F. Dredge was chairman of the meeting. Cashier A. S. Dean of the First National bank preceded Mr. Lee in a brief address in behalf of Representative Henry Rines of Mora, candidate for state auditor.

A. J. Rystrom, candidate for state senator from the Fifty-sixth district, comprising Pine and Chisago counties, also made a brief address.

Among other candidates for office present were: Elias Nordgren of Sunrise, candidate for the legislature and running mate of Adolph S. Larson, the present representative.

Edstrom's orchestra furnished music and a male quartet rendered a selection to liven up this season's first political rally here. A luncheon was served at the Commercial hotel after the meeting.

FARMER KILLED BY HORSE'S KICK

Andrew Kleimola Is Fatally Hurt Near Floodwood.

Floodwood, Minn., May 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Andrew Kleimola, a Finnish farmer living about four miles southwest of Floodwood, on the Savana road, was kicked by a horse that he was leading out to a pasture and died twenty minutes afterward.

The animal's hoof struck the unfortunate man squarely on the head, crushing his skull. The deceased was single, about 45 years old, lived here about twelve years and had a very well improved farm. A brother of the deceased is the only known relative in this section.

SHERIFF'S SLAYER FOUND NOT GUILTY.

Miles City, Mont., May 28.—The jury here that tried John Burgess on the charge of killing Sheriff William Moses of Rosebud county yesterday returned a verdict of not guilty. Public feeling is very bitter over the outcome as the murder was considered atrocious.

The trial of the case, which was brought to this county on a change of venue lasted seven days and was of unusual interest owing to the prominence of the principals and the fact that the victim was a prominent officer and that he was shot in the Burgess home in Forsythe while attempting to arrest Burgess.

It was contended by the defense that Moses had made threats and that Burgess was protecting his wife from attack by the sheriff at the time the latter was attempting to make the arrest.

Child Drinks Kerosene.

St. James, Minn., May 28.—Edna, the 15-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Ward of this city, died Tuesday evening as the result of drinking kerosene oil that an older sister had left in a small fruit can. The child evidently thought the can contained water.

MAHNOMEN GROWING.

New Buildings, Sewers and Other Improvements Under Way.

Mahnomen, Minn., May 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The village council has awarded a contract to H. F. Bosworth of Ada to build nine blocks of sewer. This will give the village fifteen blocks of sanitary sewer. The school board constructed six blocks last year at the time the school house was built. The water mains will be extended also.

A large number of new dwellings and a large garage are under construction. More new buildings will be put up this year than any year since the town started, ten years ago.

Immigrants are coming in every week, settling on farms that they have purchased. Mahnomen received more cars of immigrants than any town on the Soo in Minnesota last year, and it looks as though last year's number would be greatly increased this year.

Against Commission Plan.

Manitowoc, Wis., May 28.—Manitowoc turned down a proposition Tuesday for adoption of the commission form of government by a 4 to 1 vote, the vote being 1,048 against and 298 for.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Milwaukee—Governor Frances McGovern will ride at the head of the column in the Memorial day parade here with Chief Marshal W. J. Cronyn, and will occupy a seat on the reviewing stand and review the line as it passes.

Waupun — The 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Pasky, residing about one and a half miles from this city, is dead from the effects of burns received from blazing stove blacking.

Durand—Maj. Willard A. Holbrook of the Tenth United States cavalry, who has been placed in charge of the army forces in the Colorado strike war which has stirred the country, is a former Durand boy. He was raised four miles west of this city, is 52 years old and comes from a family which has furnished a number of distinguished army men.

Waupaca — In a crusade against smoking by high school boys, Harvey Johnson and Earle Bernstrom were arrested on complaint of Supt. Miles, for smoking on the streets. The boys pleaded guilty in court and were fined $1 and costs each. This is believed to be a precedent in Wisconsin.

Neenah—A full military wedding ceremony was conducted here when Miss Martha Huyer of Pembine and William Bonlmann of this city were united in marriage. The groom was dressed in the uniform of the Wisconsin National Guard, as were also the witnesses.

Marinette — Old woodsmen say the log jam on the Pine river, a branch of the Menominee, was the longest and biggest within their memory. It has just been cleared by the use of dynamite.

Ashland—E. W. Brady, Civil war veteran and old resident of this city, died here May 26, after a brief illness.

Marinette — So large have become the settlements of Illinois and Iowa farmers in northern and western Marinette county that "Illinois day" and "Iowa day" are now celebrated annually by community picnics at Lake Noqueaby.

Milwaukee—George Rader, 50 years old, arrested on a capias issued in November of last year, was arraigned in municipal court on Tuesday and sentenced to a year in the house of correction by Judge Backus. Rader was charged with the abandonment of his five children.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Beach, N. D.—The Beach Commercial club has offered $10,000 to the promoters of the electric railroad project, which contemplates the construction of a line south from Beach, by way of Burkey, to a point thirty miles distant. The offer is made on the basis of a $1,000 payment when the line is completed and in operation to Burkey; $5,000 additional when it is completed through to the Milwaukee line on the south.

Mott, N. D.—Foreman James Johnson of a Northern Pacific bridge crew found the body of a new-born infant girl lying near the tracks a mile and a half east of Mott. An investigation proved that the child had been born alive but died from lack of care.

Minot, N. D.—The Minneapolis Civic and Commerce association will appear in Minot, on June 30, as part of their big tour through the Northwest.

Grand Forks, N. D.—Five students of the senior class of the state university were selected Monday to compete in the oratorical contest for the Gansl gold medal to be held at the commencement exercises. Those selected were Lester Smith, William Chittick, W. Lineweaver, Miss Avice Wright, Miss Ethel Halcrow.

Dickinson, N. D.—C. H. Drake, formerly manager of the Western Union in Grand Forks, has taken charge of the commercial department of the Dickinson office of the Western Union.

Valley City, N. D.—Dr. S. A. Zimmerman has returned from Blackduck, Minn., where he was called by the illness of his mother, who has recovered sufficiently to make it possible for the doctor to return home.

Devils Lake, N. D.—Father Edward, assistant pastor of St. Joseph's church, has left on a three months' tour of Europe. His route includes first a visit in the British Isles, then France and various parts of Germany, including his boyhood home, and before returning he will spend some time in Switzerland and Italy.

Fargo, N. D.—One hundred and twenty-five children of the Sacred Heart academy will participate in the production of "Midsummer Night's Dream" at the Grand theater June 16, 17 and 18 under the direction of Manager Halliday of a local stock company which has just closed for the season.

Sioux Falls, S. D.—Friends in Sioux Falls have been advised of the suicide at his new home at Seattle of Edwin Earl Hawkins, a former well-known resident of Sioux Falls. It is believed the act was due to temporary insanity resulting from ill health.

Reeder, N. D.—The Choral society of Reeder, N. D., has given its fourth annual concert, presenting Handel's "Messiah." The society consists of thirty-seven voices, besides the leader, Jacob L. Hjort.

Fargo, N. D.—Knocked down by a laundry wagon and run over by an automobile, Mrs. Margarett Hennon received injuries which may cause her death. She is 67 years old.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Wadena—Henry S. Hedlund, 17 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hedlund of Leaf River, will see the Minsota state fair free of charge next fall, having written the prize-winning essay in the contest instituted by the state fair authorities.

St. Paul—C. H. Johnston of St. Paul, state architect, has left for the East to get ideas for planning the new biology building to be erected at the University of Minnesota during the coming year.

Bemidji—A Bemidji sleeper will be attached to the Minnesota & International train leaving the Twin Cities in the evening. Its destination will be Bemidji, where it will be set out on the arrival of the train here at 4:38 in the morning.

Crookston—Joint memorial services for Crookston Woodmen and Royal Woodmen and Royal Neighbors will be held at the Lyric theater Sunday afternoon, June 7. Rev. U. S. Villars, pastor of the First Methodist church, will deliver an address and others will speak briefly.

Brainerd—Arthur Young, the 13-year-old son of Albert Young, rural mail carrier, injured his eye so seriously that it is thought he will permanently lose the sight of it. He was playing in the yard at dusk and in running he suddenly came in contact with a pole used to hold the clothes line up and one of the prongs entered his eye.

Mankato—Beckwall & Widell, local contractors, will erect a two-story brick business block, 29 by 82 feet, with pressed brick front, at Jackson, Minn., for O. M. Garrett at a cost of $7,000.

St. Cloud—The Great Northern car shop employes are planning to hold their annual picnic on June 18 at the grocers' bungalow at Waite park. The usual program is being arranged for, including a fine event of sports. A dance will also be given at the bungalow in the afternoon and evening.

Crookston—The county commissioners have awarded contracts for six reenforced concrete culverts next to state roads in the towns of Angus, Brisket, Fairfax, Columbia and Rosebud, respectively, to the Hussey Construction company of this city. A contract was also awarded Charles Newquist of Moorhead for cleaning ditches 63 and 64, three miles south of this city.

Thief River Falls—Mrs. O. K. Olson, mother of the three women killed by Louis Gilsoul, twenty-six miles east of here last week and who was shot five times by the man, is dead, being Gilsoul's fourth victim. Mrs. Olson was shot by Gilsoul as she was attempting to flee from the cabin.

Little Falls — Congressman C. A. Lindbergh arrived Monday from Washington and left Tuesday for Brainerd and Bemidji. He will go to Aitkin to deliver a Memorial day address and from there will return to Washington in time to be present at the time of the vote on an important trust bill which is before the house.

Miancapolis—Capt. John Alexander, 70 years old, died Monday morning suddenly at his home in Washington, D. C. Capt. Alexander was a resident of Minneapolis for many years and for three years served as city jailer. He served through the Civil war and was a member of Morgan post, G. A. R., of this city. It is expected the interment will be in Minneapolis.

Little Falls—With the promise of over 500 visitors and delegates to attend the state Elks' convention, to be held here on June 4 and 5, one of the most successful state gatherings of Elkdom is looked forward to. A tour of 100 automobiles will be made from St. Cloud and present indications are that one of the Granite City bands will come along.

The Future of Your Boy's Feet—

WHAT will it be? Ache and agony, or pleasure and power?

A New York orthopædic surgeon said, "Only yesterday a young man consulted me, who had passed all examinations at West Point; but he had falling arches, and for that reason was rejected."

Tight-fitting pointed shoes made those flat feet, and ruined that young man's bright future.

Will pointed shoes wreck the future of your boy? Not if he grows up in roomy, good-looking Educator Shoes.

Get him and the whole family into Educators today. $1.35 to $5.50. See that EDUCATOR is branded on the sole. That name guarantees you the correct orthopædic shape which lets the feet grow as nature intended.

IS QUESTION OF MAJORITY

William E. Lee Confident of Defeating Eberhart at Primaries.

William E. Lee of Long Prairie, who is a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor of Minnesota, and who spoke this noon at the Commercial club, expresses the greatest of confidence that he will be nominated over Governor Eberhart, his opponent.

"Without being too sanguine," said Mr. Lee today, "it looks to me as though it were merely a question of majority. Some of my supporters, who have been canvassing the state, claim as high as 50,000 majority over Governor Eberhart. I would say that that is rather excessive. But I feel perfectly confident of winning. I base my belief upon several things that have developed. I find a much keener interest in my campaign, and in places where, two years ago, I could get scarcely anybody to listen to me, I am now getting huge crowds and the most emphatic applause. I have visited and spoken at approximately 125 communities since I started my campaign and not in a single case have I failed to get good audiences and the best of attention and apparent approval. Individuals might try to "jolly" me into making me believe I was to get their support, but whole audiences do not.

"The so-called analysis of the vote of two years ago published a few days ago by a Minneapolis paper, in an attempt to prove that the vote against Governor Eberhart two years ago could not be really counted against him, but simply showed the personal following each candidate had, is nothing short of absurd. It does not require much stretch of memory to recall that the question up two years ago was 'Will the machine be sustained?' or a sentiment to that effect. Therefore the vote cast against the governor was against the sustaining of his administration and must be figured that way. To receive the nomination, Governor Eberhart must get at least 40,000 of the 101,000 votes that were cast for his opponents, against his 62,000. Can he do it? I don't believe he can. And I believe that he is weaker among those who voted for him last time, and that I will gain on him in his own strongholds. This I expect to do as well as to retain a substantial part of the vote cast against him last time."

KILLS BRAKEMAN; BLOWS OUT BRAINS

Jealousy Over Girl Cause of South Dakota Tragedy.

Deadwood, S. D., May 28.—Ted Warner yesterday shot and killed Brakeman Don Williams of the Northwestern railroad at Newell, north of here, and then blew out his brains. Warner came from a point near Benson, Minn., ten days ago to Newell, where Elsie Johnson, jealousy over whom caused the crime, was visiting relatives. Warner, it is said, was infatuated with her and followed her to Newell. She is the daughter of a railroad section foreman and had been meeting Williams when his train pulled into Whitewood, where she is employed. It is said she had told Warner to keep away from her. The coroner's jury held no blame attached to either the girl or Williams.

HUERTA'S NIECES TO RETURN TO MEXICO.

Pasadena, Cal., May 28.—In spite of the trouble that beset their uncle, Gen. Victoriano Huerta, Misses Virginia and Dolores Huerta, who are attending school here, are preparing to return to their home at San Luis De Lay Poy, a short distance from Mexico City.

The presence of the Mexican dictator's nieces here was unknown outside of the school, until Miss Virginia published a story in the school paper. The two girls received a letter from their father recently which said he would arrive soon to take them home.

Bury Mill City Pioneer.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 28.—Bishop Quayle of the M. E. church officiated this afternoon at the funeral of Paul D. Boutell, a pioneer Minneapolis merchant, who died at Asbury hospital Tuesday afternoon, aged 77. A native of Bakersfield, Vt., Mr. Boutell came here in 1872 for his health. He was vice president of the park board and prominent in the Elks. His widow, three sons, Walter D. Boutell, William T. Boutell, John E. Boutell, of Minneapolis, and a daughter, Mrs. J. H. Ruettell of Grand Forks, N. D., survive.

TOO LATE TO ENTER RACE

Edward Bernhardt's Political Announcement Contained Bitter Truth.

When Edward Bernhardt of Superior View, rural route No. 4, announced himself as a candidate for county commissioner in the Second district a few weeks ago he stated, among other things:

"I have been told I am too late getting into the race, but I go before the voters of the Second district as candidate for county commissioner with a full knowledge of the requirements of the office and knowing full well what the people want."

The tragic thing of it all is that Bernhardt was correct. He was told this morning at the county auditor's office that he was "too late" when he came to the courthouse to file for the office.

Deputy Auditor J. O. Walker told Mr. Bernhardt that he was sorry, but in view of the fact that yesterday was the last day on which filings might be accepted, he could not help him out.

Open Fort Frances Mill.

Fort Frances, Ont., May 28.—The Fort Frances Pulp and Paper company formally opened its new mill here Monday night. This mill is the latest and most up to date paper making plant in the world and will produce high grade newsprint and No. 3 book paper. The mayor, town council and board of trade of Fort Frances looked after the social management of the affair. It was especially appropriate to celebrate the event Monday evening on account of its being Victoria day.

STEAMER BALL IS STILL AGROUND

Coal Docks Are Being Repaired From Effects of Storm.

The steamer Frank C. Ball is still aground on the bay side of Minnesota Point. The vessel is fast aground and no effort will be made to free her until the tugs are favored with a northeast wind and higher water.

The William A. Rogers, which was badly damaged by the fall of the coal unloading rig at the Northwestern Fuel company's dock No. 1, is now in the shipyards undergoing repairs. The vessel was found to badly damaged and it will probably be a month before she can be put into commission again. The rear deck house is a total wreck, the spar deck was shoved down and a new smokestack and after mast will have to be installed.

The steamer Mary Boyce cleared the shipyards late yesterday. The Boyce is a lumber vessel and started out with a cargo Tuesday but was forced to return for repairs. Her rudder was repaired and she cleared with her cargo last night.

The damage at the Northwestern docks is proving quite serious and more than 300,000 tons of coal will have to be moved before the wrecked coal rig can be removed. This rig, which is 700 feet long and operates a 13-ton bucket, is said to be the largest in the world.

The Clarkson docks are badly crippled and it will be some time before the company's facilities for handling coal can be put into proper shape.

The M. A. Hanna company's docks will be slowed down until the bridges that were damaged are repaired. The docks, however, will be able to take some coal.

COAL SHIPPING BADLY CRIPPLED

From 500,000 to 750,000-Ton Reduction in Shipments Is Expected.

While it is hard to estimate the amount of damage done to the coal docks at the head of the lakes during the storm Monday and its effect of shipping, marine men say that the shipments of coal here during the early part of the season will be reduced from 500,000 to 750,000 tons. This will probably be partially made up later in the summer.

Coal boats are easy at Cleveland for all sizes. Vessels of 5,000 tons and thereabouts are freely offered. Unless cargoes are obtained soon it is not at all improbable some of these vessels will be sent into ordinary. They cannot get down cargoes and without coal they cannot run.

It was reported a Cleveland furnace interest had closed for 100,000 to 150,000 tons of iron ore for delivery this season. No arrangements for floating the ore was made. The sale is rather large for this season and amounts to a fair season's requirements for the company. Grain shippers offered nothing definite in the way of cargoes. Brokers had tonnage to offer from the Lake Superior ports at 1 cent, and were in position to place a small boat or two at Chicago for Buffalo at 1 cent. Duluth would take a boat for Georgian Bay at ¾ of a cent, but nothing was offered at the rate.

The Buffalo situation is down to current receipts. There were 1,750,000 bushels afloat there Tuesday which was capacity that had arrived during the last thirty-six hours.

PLOW BOY WILL GO TO HOUGHTON.

The steamer Plowboy, owned and operated by the Clow-Nicholson company of Duluth, was inspected by the company officials this forenoon and found to be in first-class condition.

The Plowboy is chartered for a private river trip the latter part of this week, and will sail for Houghton, Mich., next Monday, where she will be engaged during the season as an excursion vessel.

Shoal in Lake Ontario.

The lake survey steamer Surveyor, at present engaged on surveys and examinations in the east end of Lake Ontario, reports the discovery of a small rock shoal with least depth of sixteen feet at its present stage, located 4 11-16 miles from Stony Point lighthouse, and four miles from Galloo Island lighthouse. It is about 4,500 feet south and 400 feet west of Calf Island Spit Black Can buoy, and is nearly on the sailing course between Charlotte and Sackett's harbor. At extreme low water the depth is only about twelve feet.

OLD FOND DU LAC RESIDENT CALLED

E. L. Hogstad Ends Thirty-Year Career Here at St. Mary's.

Edward L. Hogstad, 62 years old, one of Duluth's pioneers and one of the early settlers of Fond du Lac, died at 8 o'clock this morning at St. Mary's hospital, where he was taken last Monday for an operation. He had been in ill health the last month.

He was one of the best known residents at Fond du Lac, where he had operated a general store for the last thirty years. He came to Duluth thirty-two years ago from Norway and after residing here for two years, moved to Fond du Lac, where he lived up to the time of his death. He was taken ill about a month ago and last Monday was taken to the hospital for an operation, but all efforts to save his life failed.

Besides a widow, Mr. Hogstad is survived by six children. They are: Mrs. Gust Johnson, Lola and Amanda Hogstad, Louis, Edward and Morris Hogstad, all of Duluth. A brother is living in Norway.

The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from the Crawford undertaking rooms and at 2:30 o'clock from the First Norwegian Lutheran church, First avenue east and Third street. Rev. J. H. Stenberg will officiate and interment will be at the Park Hill cemetery.

To Regain a Healthy, Girlish Complexion

If you would have a clear, fresh, girlish complexion, one ounce of ordinary mercolized wax will aid you in this direction more than shelves full of cosmetics. It produces a natural beauty. This wax, procurable at any drug store, completely absorbs a bad complexion, revealing the healthy young skin underneath. Its work is done so gradually, day by day, that no inconvenience is caused. The wax is applied at night, like cold cream, and removed in the morning with soap and water.

Another valuable rejuvenating treatment—this for wrinkles—is to bathe your face in a solution of powdered saxolite, 1 oz., dissolved in ½-pt. witch hazel. This has a remarkable action in smoothing out the lines and "firming up" the loose tissue.—Advertisement.

Memorial Services.

Memorial services for the dead will be held Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Oneota cemetery under the auspices of veteran organizations. A firing squad from the Spanish war veterans will fire the salute following the sounding of "taps."

Red Men to Superior.

A large delegation of members of Mesaba tribe, No. 25, Improved Order of Red Men, will leave at 7:15 o'clock this evening for Superior where they will attend a class initiation with the Ojibway tribe, No. 5. The degree work will be put on by the Superior lodge's team. Members of the local tribe will meet at the Cody hotel corner to take the car for Superior.

Graduates in Chicago.

Miss Sigrid Anderson, formerly of West Duluth, graduated this week from the Pullman hospital at Chicago. The graduating exercises were attended by Victor Anderson and Carl Oslund of Duluth, Mrs. Axel Anderson of Superior and Harry G. Anderson of Crystal Falls, Wis.

Two Runaways.

West Duluth was the scene of two runaways this morning. At 7 o'clock a team hauling a heavily loaded ice wagon became frightened at the moving of a train on the Canadian Northern railroad and started north on Cody street. The team had gone about a block when it was caught.

A farmer's team standing on Lower Central avenue, without being hitched, became frightened at a passing street car and started north on the street. On passing the Cody hotel several iron workers started across after it. William Burns grabbed the dangling reins and diverted the horses' course into a rig standing in front of Cruise & Oettiker's store. Only slight damage resulted.

DAMAGE DONE BY MONDAY'S STORM IN STEEL PLANT SUBURBS

E. E. MARTELL'S FURNITURE STORE COMPLETELY WRECKED.

CHERRNICH'S NEW RESIDENCE TWISTED BY THE WIND.

The above photographs give a fair idea of what damage was done by the gale that struck New Duluth Monday afternoon. The damage to various places in the suburb amounted to about $10,000.

One picture shows the furniture store of E. E. Martell, located on Commonwealth avenue. Mrs. Martell was in the building when the storm blew it down, but escaped unhurt. The building is a complete wreck and the greater part of the stock, valued at about $4,000, is a total loss. A warehouse being erected in the rear of the building also collapsed under the pressure of the wind and parts of this new building were blown a distance of a block.

The lower picture shows the way S. Cherrnich's new home was nearly destroyed. The building was blown off its foundation and now sags about four feet to the left. The upper part of the building overlaps the next lot. The building is located on the corner of Ninety-eighth avenue west and McEwen street.

Work of rebuilding and repairing the damaged property has already been begun by both the above property owners.

TWO GIRLS ATTACKED

Assailants Are Frightened Away When Girls Scream for Help.

Third Girl Escapes and Notifies Parents Who Make Vain Search.

Two men who have not yet been apprehended attacked Lillian Jago, 13 years old, and Myrtle Gillon, 14 years old, and the former's older sister as they were returning last night from a Central avenue theater to their homes at 520 and 526 South Sixtieth avenue west. The attack took place on Fifty-ninth avenue near the Northern Pacific railroad yards.

The two men accosted the girls and seized the smaller two of the three after a chase. The older got away and, running at top speed towards her home, notified her father, John Jago, and also the father of the Gillon girl, John Gillon. The other two girls arrived home just as the men were leaving the house.

An immediate search was made for the men. On getting back to the railroad tracks, Mr. Jago saw a man standing near a telephone post. He had his coat and vest off. Making for this man, Mr. Jago grabbed him, but the man got away. A chase resulted in Jago catching the man in the yards of the Zenith Furnace company. The man gave his name as Joe Vranich, 26 years old. Investigations conducted by the police this morning cause the officials to believe that he had nothing to do with the attack but became frightened when Mr. Jago started for him.

The girls had been walking towards their home along Fifty-ninth avenue about 9:30 o'clock. According to their story, the men stepped out in front of them, remarking that they were "just right." The girls screamed and started running, the oldest making the best time. The men chased the two younger girls for nearly two blocks along the Northern Pacific railroad tracks before they caught them. On being taken hold of by the men, the girls shouted for help and screamed, causing the men to become frightened and let them go. Several residents of the vicinity immediately went to the scene and followed the men but lost track of them in the darkness. The police have been furnished a good description of them and believe that they will catch them before night unless they leave the city.

SAYS LIVING COST IS HIGHER HERE

Secretary of Wage Commission Investigating Duluth Boarding Houses.

According to Miss Eliza Evans, secretary of the minimum wage commission, which is investigating state labor and living conditions with regard to women and girls, it costs more to live in Duluth than it does in the Twin Cities. As a result of this, Miss Evans said this morning, the minimum wage in Duluth should be higher than that recommended for either Minneapolis or St. Paul.

Miss Evans and her two assistants, Mrs. J. J. Hawe and Miss Lillian Ritchie of St. Paul, yesterday began an investigation of the rooming and boarding houses, for the purpose of learning the cost of living. They spent most of the day in the downtown section, and from comparative figures Miss Evans said this morning they find expenses here to be slightly higher than they are in the Twin Cities.

The minimum wage commission is working in Duluth under the direction of the Duluth advisory board, of which Miss Margaret Culkin, social center director, is chairman. From this data the commission and advisory board will decide on a minimum wage for women and girls to be recommended for this city.

ON THE TRAIL OF STRAY DOGS

Catcher Gets Out Cart and Net to Snare Unlicensed Canines.

The dog catcher will soon be out with his cart and his net to snare all unlicensed canines in the city.

Judging from the small number of licenses which have been issued thus far by the city treasurer, he will have plenty to do. Up to this noon but 400 dog licenses had been issued, which is scarcely a quarter of the number issued last year.

That the dog catcher is no joke was demonstrated last year, when hundreds of Fidos were picked up and turned into the dog pound. Many of these were redeemed by their owners, but only after they had paid a penalty of $2 in addition to buying a license.

The license fee this year is $1.50 for male dogs and $5 for females, but the charge of 25 cents for the tag has been eliminated.

Unredeemed dogs will probably be electrocuted this year instead of shot, as has been the custom in past years. Commissioner Hicken, head of the safety division, has asked the city electrician to provide an electrical outfit for sending the ownerless dogs into the other world. Killing them in this manner is considered more humane than shooting them.

OUIMET WINS FRENCH TITLE

Beats Topping in Final Golf Match at La Boulie.

Versailles, France, May 28.—Francis Ouimet, American open golf champion, became amateur champion of France today by defeating Henry J. Topping of the Greenwich Country club, Connecticut, by four up and three to play, in the final round of 36 holes.

Warm winds and sunny weather greeted the players when they turned out today at La Boulie to play the match. All players of other nationalities, as well as twelve other American entrants were eliminated in the earlier rounds.

SUPERIOR TEAM TO PLAY BEMIDJI.

Bemidji, Minn., May 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Towers baseball team of Superior, Wis., will meet the Bemidji baseball team Saturday and Sunday afternoon. The Bemidji team will be strengthened for the invasion of the Tower team. Smiley of the no hit fame will pitch one game and Gallagher, another strong twirler, will pitch another game for the Bemidji team.

PLAYERS IN FIGHT.

St. Louis Nationals Have Exciting Time in Club House; Both Fined.

St. Louis, Mo., May 28.—Daniel Grimer, pitcher for the St. Louis Nationals, and Theodore Cather, outfielder, were fined $100 each by Manager Huggins today for fighting in the clubhouse.

Neither player accompanied the team last night to Chicago. Cather remained behind to nurse his jaw, in which a doctor took five stitches after the fight.

HEINIE ZIMMERMAN HURT; OUT OF GAME.

Chicago, May 28.—Henry Zimmerman, Chicago National's third baseman, will be out of the game for some time, it was said today after his twisted ankle had been examined. Until he is able to resume playing, Art Phelan will take his place. Zimmerman hurt his ankle in sliding in Tuesday's game.

YOUNG SON OF EMILIO MADERO BADLY HURT.

East Orange, N. J., May 28.—Alfonso Madero, 3-year-old son of Emilio Madero, a brother of the late president of Mexico, was run over by an ice wagon here today and seriously injured.

The child broke away from his nurse, who was holding his hand, and ran into the street between the front and rear wheels of the vehicle. A rear wheel passed over his hip and abdomen.

Members of the Madero family have been living here in exile for some time.

SOO PREPARING FOR FRISCO TRAVEL.

Carrington, N. D., May 28.—The Soo railroad is laying a large amount of heavier steel on its mail line through this district, to care for the heavy passenger traffic expected in 1915 because of travel to the exposition at San Francisco.

THE POPCORN JUST POPS.

Indianapolis News: Where did popcorn learn to pop? You say it never learned and that it always could pop? Nobody would ever imagine from looking at a stubby, prickly ear of popcorn, compact and orderly, that it could contain the riotous spirit of a popper full of popping corn. The wonder is that the popcorn suspected itself of any such potential jollity. A little warmth, a little judicious fondling and it pops—it bursts out of itself into a dancing, leaping thing, light as a laugh and gay as fun, white and beautiful and good to eat.

By Mayor Prince:

Whereas, in proceedings to condemn for boulevard extension a certain portion of the north half of southwest quarter of the southeast quarter of section one, township forty-nine north of range fifteen west, in St. Louis county, Minnesota, by reason of an error made in said condemnation proceedings, there was condemned a strip of land 66 feet wide and 667.38 feet long, adjacent to the southerly line of said north half of the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter of said section 1, and running to the easterly line of said north half of the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter of said section 1, herein described as the first tract; and

Whereas, said strip of land so lies as not to be readily available for boulevard purposes; and

Whereas, in order to complete the said boulevard it is necessary to acquire a strip of land of similar dimensions, described as follows:

All that part of the north half of the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter (N½ of SW¼ of SE¼) of section one (1), township forty-nine (49) north of range fifteen (15) west of the Fourth Principal Meridian, bounded as follows:

Commencing at a point one hundred (100) feet north of the southeast corner of the north half of the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter (SE cor. of N½ of SW¼ of SE¼) of said section one (1), said southeast corner being the northeast corner of Oneota cemetery, according to the recorded plat thereof on file and of record in the office of the register of deeds in and for the county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota; thence northerly along the easterly line of said north half of the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter (N½ of SW¼ of SE¼) of said section one (1) a distance of sixty-six and 1-10 (66.1) feet; thence westerly parallel to the south line of said north half of the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter (N½ of SW¼ of SE¼) of said section one (1) a distance of six hundred sixty-seven and 38-100 (667.38) feet; thence southerly at an angle of eighty-nine (89) degrees and thirty-one (31) minutes, a distance of sixty-six and 1-10 (66.1) feet; thence easterly and parallel to the south line of said north half of the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter (N½ of SW¼ of SE¼) of said section one (1) to the place of beginning, herein described as the second tract; and

Now Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the city of Duluth convey to the said owners of said second tract, the first tract above described, in consideration of the conveyance by said owners of said parcel of land described as the second tract; title and conveyance to be approved by the city attorney; and that conveyance be executed to carry out the terms of this resolution.

Mayor Prince moved the adoption of the resolution and it was declared adopted upon the following vote:

Yeas—Commissioners Hicken, Merritt, Murchison, Voss, Mayor Prince—5.
Nays—None.
Passed May 25, 1914.
Approved May 27, 1914.

By Commissioner Murchison:

Resolved, That the city of Duluth does hereby designate an easement to be acquired for the construction of slopes or retaining walls for cuts and fills on the northerly side of Oneota street, from the easterly line of lot 12, block 1, Sutphin's Addition to Duluth to Forty-sixth avenue west, and on the southerly side of said street, from the point where the easterly boundary line of lot 12, block 1, Sutphin Addition to Duluth extended in a straight line across Oneota street intersecting the southerly line of said street to Forty-sixth avenue west as covering the property bounded by the boundary lines of said easement which boundary lines are hereby described and designated as follows:

NORTHERLY SIDE OF ONEOTA STREET.

Beginning at the intersection of the easterly line of lot 12, block 10, Sutphin Addition to Duluth with the northerly line of Oneota street; thence north along said easterly line of lot 12, in said block and addition a distance of fifty-eight feet more or less; thence southwesterly on a line parallel with and fifty-eight feet more or less distant from the northerly line of Oneota street to the easterly line of Forty-sixth avenue west; thence along the easterly line of Forty-sixth avenue west to the northerly line of Oneota street; thence northeasterly along the northerly line of Oneota street to the place of beginning.

SOUTHERLY LINE OF ONEOTA STREET.

Beginning at the point of intersection of the southerly line of Oneota street with the easterly boundary line of lot 12, block 10, Sutphin's Addition to Duluth, produced across Oneota street; southeasterly along the easterly line of lot 12, in said block and addition produced to a point fifty-eight feet southerly of the south line of Oneota street; thence southwesterly on a line parallel with and fifty-eight feet more or less distant from the south line of Oneota street to the easterly line of Forty-sixth avenue west; thence along the easterly line of Forty-sixth avenue west to the south line of Oneota street; thence northeasterly along the south line of Oneota street to the place of beginning.

The property in which such easement is to be acquired is as follows, to-wit:

All that part of lots 1 to 12, inclusive in block 10, Sutphin's Addition to Duluth; lots 1 to 8 inclusive in block 12; lots 1 to 16 inclusive in block 13; lots 1 to 8 inclusive in block 14; all in Harrington"s addition; lots 9 to 12 inclusive in block 34; lots 9 to 16 inclusive in block 33; lots 9 to 16 inclusive in block 32; lots 9 to 16 inclusive in lot 31; lots 9 to 16 inclusive in block 30; lots 9 to 16 inclusive in block 29; lots 9 to 16 inclusive in block 28; lots 1 to 8 inclusive in block 20; lots 1 to 8 inclusive in Ontario pier; lots 1 to 8 inclusive in Pittsburg pier; lots 1 to 8 inclusive in Philadelphia pier; lots 1 to 8 inclusive in New York pier; lots 1 to 4 inclusive in Boston pier, all in Oneota lying within 58 feet more or less of Oneota street.

All that part of Erie pier in Oneota lying within fifty-eight feet more or less of Oneota street; all that part of lots 1 to 8 inclusive in block 16; lots 1 to 16 inclusive in block 16; lots 1 to 16 inclusive in block 17; Harrington's addition lying within fifty-eight feet more or less of Oneota street; all that part of the southeast quarter of the southwest quarter of section 5, 49-14 lying within fifty-eight feet more or less of Oneota street.

Resolved further, That W. L. Jackson, J. P. Mason, J. D. Bergstrom, O. G. Olson and J. B. Gelineau, all of whom are resident freeholders and qualified voters of the city of Duluth and none of whom are residents of any of the wards in which any property designated to be acquired is situated, are hereby appointed to view the premises and appraise the damages which may be occasioned by the taking of private property or otherwise in making of said improvement.

Commissioner Murchison moved the adoption of the resolution, and it was declared adopted upon the following vote:

Yeas—Commissioners Hicken, Merritt, Hurchison, Voss, Mayor Prince—5.
Nays—None.
Passed May 25, 1914.
Approved May 27, 1914.

Walter F. Dacey was accorded the privilege of the floor and addressed the council relative to its action in declining to renew the license for the sale of intoxicating liquors or A. J. Erickson at No. 19 South Sixty-third avenue west, and asked that the council reconsider its vote in the matter.

Commissioner Merritt moved that the council be now adjourned, and the motion was declared adopted upon the following vote:

Yeas—Commissioners Hicken, Merritt, Murchison, Mayor Prince—4.
Nays—Commissioner Voss—1.

CONFIRMS REPORT OF COOK'S APPOINTMENT

John H. Hearding, chairman of the county poor commission, who returned to the city last evening after a trip, confirmed the report that Arthur P. Cook, retiring postmaster, will take up duties in the office of the poor commission.

"The report that Mr. Cook will take the office of county poor agent is true," said Mr. Hearding. "He will take up his duties as such about July 1. We feel that we are very fortunate in having Mr. Cook free to take this appointment, for we have been feeling for a long time that the business of the commission was growing so rapidly as to require another man.

"We have been on a still hunt for some one who would meet our requirements and had not located him when we heard that Mr. Cook was retiring from the postmastership and we immediately made him an offer, which he accepted.

"He is experienced in the business of the office and, working in conjunction with Mr. Shogran, will be able to clear up the work of the office in fine style. Mr. Shogran is unable to make trips up to the range towns on account of his work in the office and Mr. Cook will be footloose for this work."

ADMINISTRATION HIGHLY PRAISED

Federal Reserve Law Gives Relief From Fifty Years' Bondage.

Washington, May 28.—John F. Gardin, vice president of the National City bank of New York, told the National Foreign Trade convention today that President Wilson's administration had given the country two things of which it might be proud, the tariff and the currency law.

"The Federal reserve law is the one bright spot we have to look forward to at this moment," said he. "It is to relieve us from the bondage in which we have been for fifty years. I consider that release just as great as the emancipation of the slaves. The reserve law favors foreign more than domestic commerce."

EPISCOPAL BISHOP OF OREGON DIES.

Portland, Or., May 28.—Rt. Rev. Charles Scadding, Episcopal bishop of Oregon, died here yesterday after an illness since last Thursday of pneumonia.

He broke down while presiding at the diocesan conference.

Bishop Scadding served variously as assistant pastor of St. George's church, New York, rector of Christ's church, Middletown, N. Y., and rector of Trinity church, Toledo, Ohio, and was the author of various books and tracts.

"RED HELL OF REVOLUTION"

Is Urged By Soap Box Orator Who Gets No Applause.

Speaker Then Announces That Collection Will Be Taken.

"To hell with the government at Washington! Are you asleep or dead? Why don't you start the red hell of revolution and wipe the government of favoritism off the face of the earth?"

This was the gentle admonition of one of the soap-box orators who spoke on the corner of Second avenue west and Superior street last night.

During this harrangue there were several hundred men listening, but not one in the crowd applauded or expressed the slightest approval of the speaker's words. Seizing upon the most vigorous adjectives, the speaker continued to pour the "red hell" of epithet into practically all other parties except the Socialists.

His ire was directed against the Federal government particularly for sending troops to control the strike situation in Colorado and what he termed "carrying war into Mexico to protect American capitalists."

In his concluding remarks he gave as the best solution of public problems the election of Socialist candidates and the establishment of a government for and by the working classes.

The speaker then announced that a collection would be taken up, but that the "tight-wads" would be excused.

Moses Baritz, a Socialist of Winnipeg, who was brought here by the Duluth party, followed with an address on "The Development of Political Government."

HIBBING COURT'S CALENDAR LIGHT

So Far Only Nineteen New Cases Are to Be Tried.

Hibbing, Minn., May 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The district court term beginning here next Tuesday will have a light calendar according to present appearances. There will be only nineteen new cases—eleven jury, five court and three divorce.

On the continued calendar there were twenty-four jury, four court and five divorce cases.

Little Grand Jury Work.

There are not very many criminal cases to be presented to the grand jury which will be sworn by Judge Hughes Tuesday morning and placed at work.

Among the most important cases to come before the grand jury is expected to be the accusation of the state fire marshall that the fire in the Spruce hotel at Eveleth last month was of incendiary origin.

VIRGINIA ELECTION.

Voters to Decide Whether to Sell Central School.

Virginia, Minn., May 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Considerable interest is manifested in the coming special election of the school district, for next Monday, June 1, from 2 to 8 p. m. at the Roosevelt building, Virginia, as to whether the board shall be authorized to sell the Central building and site. A news item that the election might be dropped, was in error. The election will be held to determine whether the district shall sell the Central school building to the Catholic parish for a parochial school for a sum not less than $32,500.

A CLEANER EVELETH

Is Resulting From General Clean-up Campaign.

Eveleth, Minn., May 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The health officials are working for a cleaner city. Health Commissioner N. C. Bulkley has been given the assistance of a health officer with police power, F. Weyenberg, who has already caused a number of arrests.

Insanitary conditions in alleys or back yards are spotted by the officer who first serves a notice and later, if necessary, a warrant. Municipal Judge Moylan has not yet fined any one for violations of the ordinances. All who have been arrested have been given a few more days in which to follow the instructions of the health officer and in every case a second warrant has not been required.

Mayor J. J. Gleason has helped the work by a proclamation, offering a free collection of rubbish by the city. Park Commissioner Spurrier has been setting a good example for the city by his work in the parks.

On the best residence streets the property owners are removing their front fences and beautifying their lawns, greatly improving the appearance of the streets.

CANDIDATE BROWN TAKEN TO HOSPITAL.

Chisholm, Minn., May 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Conductor William Brown of the Missabe railroad, who lives here, is very ill of diabetes and this morning he was taken to St. Mary's hospital in Duluth. Mr. Brown is a candidate for the state senate from his district. His condition is said to be very serious.

Grand Rapids Social.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The young ladies of the Methodist church will give a social at the village hall on the evening of June 3. There will be a program, with games and refreshments following.

DULUTH RABBI IS TO GIVE ADDRESS

Will Pay Tribute to Soldier Dead at Two Harbors.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—If the weather is favorable, the Memorial day observance here Saturday will rank high, as elaborate plans have been completed by the general committee for properly observing the day. A memorable feature of the day will be the dedication of the big cannon that the government donated to the city.

During the principal exercises in the afternoon the address will be delivered by Rabbi Lefkovits of Duluth.

John Dwan will be chairman of the exercises at the courthouse at 1 p. m., when the cannon will be formally turned over to the city by Thomas Owens, who was instrumental in having the gun sent here. Albin Walstrom of this city, a graduate of the high school, will give Patrick Henry's "Liberty" speech.

Principal Day's Exercises.

The principal exercises of the day will take place at the Y. M. C. A., commencing at 2 p. m., when the following program will be rendered:

Selection, Marine band; assembly call and retreat, bugler; invocation, Rev. A. H. McCoy of First Methodist church; song, "The Blue and the Gray," Misses Maybel Owens and Meta McKee, H. H. Hammill and Robert McKee; Lincoln's Gettysburg address, Edwin L. Strand; selection, drum corps; salute to the flag, Delmar Baker and Morris Daniels; song, "America," quartet and audience; address, Rabbi Maurice Lefkovits of Duluth; cornet duet, Fred M. Switzer and H. H. Hammill; baritone solo, Robert McKee; selection, drum corps; benediction, Rev. K. D. Karlson.

The members of the G. A. R. will be assigned seats on the speakers' stand, also seats will be reserved for the members of the ladies of the G. A. R., who will attend the exercises in a body.

At the close of the exercises at the Y. M. C. A. building, lines will form on Cedar street, and headed by the marshal of the day and the band, all will march to the cemetery, where salutes will be fired over the graves of the old soldiers, and the services arranged by the members of the G. A. R. carried out.

You'll Crow Over "GETS-IT" for Corns!

It Will Startle You How "GETS-IT" Gets Corns Every Time.

"One, two, three!" That's about as long as it takes you to apply "GETS-IT," the new-plan, simplest, surest corn cure the world has ever seen. Corn fussing is all over. Corns, corn pains and calluses are absolutely done for, from the minute you apply "GETS-IT." Forget the bother of useless plasters, greasy salves that spread and make toes sore and raw, little doughnut cotton rings that press on corns, forget knives, razors, scissors and the dangers of blood poison from drawing blood, and the contraptions and harnesses that simply make corns worse. "GETS-IT" never hurts the flesh, never fails.

"This Is No Place For a Crow. Her Corns Are All Gone. She Must Have Used 'GETS-IT.'"

"GETS-IT" is sold by all druggists, 25c a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

FEET AREN'T ACHING OR TIRED NOW---"TIZ"

It's Grand for Sore, Swollen Sweaty, Calloused Feet and Corns.

"How 'TIZ' does help sore feet."

Good-bye sore feet, burning feet, swollen feet, sweaty feet, smelling feet, tired feet.

Good-bye corns, callouses, bunions and raw spots. No more shoe tightness, no more limping with pain or drawing up your face in agony. "TIZ" is magical, acts right off. "TIZ" draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up the feet. Use "TIZ" and wear smaller shoes. Use "TIZ" and forget your foot misery. Ah! how comfortable your feet feel.

Get a 25 cent box of "TIZ" now at any druggist or department store. Don't suffer. Have good feet, glad feet, feet that never swell, never hurt, never get tired. A year's foot comfort guaranteed or money refunded.

VIRGINIA HAS CHANGED PLANS

Memorial Day to Be Observed Saturday and Not Friday.

Virginia, Minn., May 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The decision to observe Memorial Friday instead of Saturday because some merchants claimed "it would hurt business" created such a storm of protest from war veterans that, after conference yesterday afternoon between Mayor Boylan, President Moilan of the city council, Supt. Colgrove of the schools and others, it was decided to observe the day on the same day as the rest of the country—Saturday.

The parade of school children, civic bodies and the veterans of the Civil and Spanish-American wars will be held in the morning, the members of the G. A. R. riding in conveyances.

The Line of March.

The parade will start from the Roosevelt field at 9 o'clock and go to Maple street, to the Mesaba railway, to Chestnut, to Virginia avenue, to Cedar, to the Roosevelt field, where the addresses will be given. Rev. Hans J. Wolner is to be the speaker of the day. The Odd Fellows, Moose, Woodmen and other lodges are to participate in the exercises, and after the city exercises, will hold special memorial exercises in their clubrooms.

ELY MAKING READY.

Planning to Entertain Firemen and Have Home-Coming.

Ely, Minn., May 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Arrangements are being made for the fireman's tournament and home coming week to be held here in July. The different committees under the supervision of Chief I. G. Cox of the fire department, are boosting to make the tournament here the biggest on record. Teams have already been assured from Biwabik, Aurora, Proctor, Winton and Ely.

MOVING LANDMARK.

Tower Hotel at Eveleth Going to New Location.

Eveleth, Minn., May 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Jones street has been blocked for a week by the old Tower hotel building which is being moved to a new location in the eastern part of the city to make way for a new building for the Miners' National bank. The movers and the Home Electric & Heating company had trouble over a permit to cut wires. This trouble was adjusted after delaying the movers for several days. Further difficulties may be encountered when the building reaches Adams avenue as it is said that it will be necessary to bridge the street in order to take the building over the new paving.

The hotel is one of the historical buildings of the city. It was erected twenty years ago as the old city site. It was moved to the corner of Jones street and Grant avenue when the city was moved and has stood there for many years. It was a two and three-story structure and was one of the land marks of the city's main street.

ELY SCHOOL DISPLAY.

Work of Pupils to Be Shown Public on Friday.

Ely, Minn., May 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual industrial exhibit of work in the domestic science and manual training departments of the schools will be held at the high school on Friday afternoon and evening. The afternoon will be for the children and the evening for the adults. Both exhibits will cover many fields of work by the pupils.

The junior and senior classes have been doing more advanced machine and pattern work, and have made a number of appliances for the school and shop use.

MR. OADAMS RETURNS.

Former Range Minister Back From Church Dedication.

La Crosse, Wis., May 28.—Rev. T. Stanley Oadams, local M. E. pastor, formerly of St. Cloud, Two Harbors and Hibbing, Minn., returned Tuesday night from St. Cloud, Minn., where he delivered an address before the union of Epworth leagues in connection with the dedication of the new Methodist church, on "The Historic Values and Inspirations of Epworth."

He also delivered a course of three lectures to the inmates of the state reformatory at St. Cloud.

ANIMAL STORK BUSY IN VIRGINIA.

Virginia, Minn., May 28.—The birth of a baby elk Tuesday afternoon at the Olcott park zoo, the births of two deer on Monday and the addition of an owl, caught by B. G. Stahl, the local furniture man, and presented to the city park commission, replenish the number of animals and will do a great deal to make the park more attractive for visitors during the summer months.

NASHWAUK READY FOR DEVELOPERS.

Nashwauk, Minn., May 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The local committees in charge of preparations are all ready for the meeting of the Itasca County Development association meeting to be held here tomorrow afternoon.

At 5 p. m. the ladies' aid society will serve supper in the domestic department at the school building. A large crowd of Itasca county enthusiasts are expected. The speakers will be: John C. Lewis of Nashwauk, Progressive candidate for secretary of state; M. A. Spank of Grand Rapids, county auditor; A. J. McGuire of Grand Rapids, superintendent of the county experimental farm; A. P. Silliman of Hibbing; A. M. Sisler of Grand Rapids; Alex King of Coleraine; E. C. Kiley of Grand Rapids, editor of the Grand Rapids Herald Review.

The fast Hooligan ball club of Hibbing has been secured for the first game of the season with Nashwauk to be played on the local grounds, Sunday, May 31.

ITASCA COUNTY OFFICE SEEKERS

Two Candidates or More for Every County Office.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—There are two candidates for every county office in Itasca county and more for some, according to the completed filings made last night as follows:

Auditor—E. J. Luther and Frank Sherman of Grand Rapids, W. W. Hunter of Coleraine, A. B. Clair of Keewatin, Ont. Mr. Clair returned three weeks ago from Keewatin, Ont., after an absence of about six years.

Treasurer — John E. McMahon, Grand Rapids and D. C. Anderson of Laprairie.

Register of deeds—E. J. McGowan and Lloyd W. Johnson of Grand Rapids.

Sheriff—Charles Gunderson of Grand Rapids; Mike Stapleton of Cohasset, John H. Carlson of Nashwauk.

County attorney—R. A. McOuat, H. W. Stark and Ralph A. Stone, Grand Rapids.

Judge of probate—Clarence B. Webster and Charles Kearney of Grand Rapids.

County commissioner, First district—Duncan C. McDugall, Jessie Lake; Cyrus M. King, George Ruby and William Hulburt, Deer River.

County commissioner, Third district—Andy Nelson and Frank Provinske, Bovey; Hans A. Nelson, Coleraine.

County commissioner, Fifth district—John L. Shelman.

Are Not Non-Partisan.

In school districts in which there are over ten congressional townships the officials are elected at the biennial election and these file in the same manner as the county officials. Owing to an oversight in remodeling the primary law, the school officers in such districts cannot take advantage of the non-partisan feature of the law and have to declare their political complexion. Following are the candidates who have filed for the school officer position in the county:

Clerk of School District No. 1, J. D. Doran and H. J. Snyder, Grand Rapids, both Republicans.

Treasurer of School District No. 1, A. L. Roecker, Grand Rapids, Public Ownership.

Chairman of School District No. 1, F. W. Stockwell, Cohasset, Republican.

Treasurer School District No. 6, S. J. Moran, Deer River, Republican, and H. M. Sword, Jessie Lake, Public Ownership.

For representative, the filings closed twenty days prior to the last day for filing for county offices. There are five candidates: A. M. Peterson, Coleraine; E. Enstrom, Bovey, Frank F. Proce, E. J. Farrell and John S. Sivers, Grand Rapids.

CHISHOLM CUTS WORKERS' WAGES

Chisholm, Minn., May 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Hereafter employes of this village on street and other work will get straight 25 cents an hour for an eight-hour day instead of $2.50 for eight hours' work as a result of action taken by the village council last night. This reduction was due to the reported refusal of local idle men to take positions offered them at mines yesterday.

Capt. Mitchell tried to hire thirty men to go out to a mine at the prevailing mine wage of $2.30 per day, but no one would go. Another man tried to hire a dozen men, but was unsuccessful. This refusal of men out of work to take mining employment when the village was paying more prompted the village council to act and the reduction in village wages stated was made. The council also disposed of much other business.

Would Beautify Ely.

Ely, Minn., May 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The mothers' club is undertaking the task of beautifying this city and trying to arouse an interest in the raising of flowers by the pupils of the schools. A committee consisting of Mrs. G. T. Ayres, Mrs. H. E. White and Mrs. J. C. Mapson has the matter in hand. New officers were chosen by the club, as follows: President, Mrs. Leino; vice president, Mrs. J. C. Mapson; secretary, Miss Anna Risetti; treasurer, Mrs. Grant McMahan.

St. Paulite on Range.

Chisholm, Minn., May 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—George W. Rodenberg of St. Paul, candiadte for the legislature from the Forty-first district, is on the Mesaba range in the interest of the Corporation Securities company. He has canvassed Hibbing and Chisholm and left yesterday for Virginia. Mr. Rodenberg expects to visit the Mesaba range after the primaries.

Two Chisholm Accidents.

Chisholm, Minn., May 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frank Gregarich, while helping plant some trees on Elm street Tuesday, ran his hand onto a piece of sharp glass, cutting a gash the full length of his wrist and hand. Several stitches were required to close the wound. He will be disabled several weeks.

The 8-year-old son of F. W. Jackson of the Sawmill location was rushed to the hospital Tuesday evening, with a dislocated shoulder, the result of a fall sustained while playing on a lumber pile at his home.

RAIN HALTS BAD FIRE NEAR BUHL.

Buhl, Minn., May 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rain came in the nick of time this morning to extinguish the brush fires that have been threatening the surface workings of the Cypress mine near here. Yesterday afternoon the flames became very menacing and fire fighters were rushed to the scene. They were forest rangers, volunteers from here and thirty men from the Oliver Iron Mining company's force at Hibbing. They fought the fire all night but this morning the rain came just in time and soon quenched the flames.

Eveleth Free of Disease.

Eveleth, Minn., May 28:—(Special to The Herald.)—For the first time in more than twelve months Eveleth is entirely free from contagious disease. Health Commissioner N. C. Bulkley had a threatened epidemic to contend with during the winter and spring but it was stamped out and the last house was fumigated and the inmates released from quarantine today.

Profit By Killing Rats.

Virginia, Minn., May 28.—Already the small boys of Virginia are saving money for the Fourth; rats by the dozens are being killed and taken to the city incinerator, where the youths are given a receipt for the number killed, which they take to the city clerk and receive 5 cents for each.

Hibbing May Festival.

Hibbing, Minn., May 28.—The second May festival of the public schools is to be held this and Friday evenings of this week at the high school auditorium, beginning at 8 o'clock. Miss Gola F. Baker is musical director and Miss Dorothy Cohen, accompanist.

G. C. Wilcox Ill.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—G. C. Wilcox, who is employed as one of the shaftmen at the Grand Rapids mine of the Inter State Iron company, is quite ill with the mumps.

RELIEF FROM DYSPEPSIA

All conditions of depressed vitality tend to disturb the processes of digestion. There is not a disturbed condition of life that may not affect digestion.

Few causes of indigestion are so common as thin, weak blood. It affects directly and at once the great process of nutrition. Not only is the action of the gastric and intestinal glands diminish but the muscular action of the stomach is weakened. Nothing will more promptly restore the digestive efficiency than good red blood. Without it the normal activity of the stomach is impossible.

Thin, pale people who complain of indigestion must improve the condition of their blood to find relief. The most active blood-builder in such cases is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They make rich, red blood which quickly restores the digestive organs to their proper activity and the first result is hunger. The dyspeptic who has hated the sight and smell of food now looks forward to meal time with pleasurable anticipation. Care now in the selection and quantity of food will put the patient well on the road to health. Baking Powder Biscuits

Light as a Feather

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine

Baking Powder Biscuits made by this recipe are so far ahead of ordinary baking powder biscuits that, if once tried, you will never use any other recipe. Try it the next time you run short of bread. Save this recipe. 29

K C Baking Powder Biscuits

Three cups flour; ¼ to ½ cup shortening; 3 level teaspoonfuls K C Baking Powder; about 1 cup milk or water; 1 teaspoonful salt.

Sift three times, the flour, salt and baking powder. Work into the flour the shortening, using lard or butter for shortening. Then mix to a very soft dough with the milk. The softer the biscuit enters the oven, the lighter it comes out. Never knead baking powder biscuits; press the dough into shape and roll lightly. Cut in small shapes and bake on a sheet or very shallow pan in a hot oven. In placing biscuits in the pans place well apart, not allowing edges to touch. Small biscuits are better than large ones. Large biscuits do not have the proper amount of time to raise and bake.

Have you seen the new K C Cook's Book? Brimful of appetizing recipes that simply must be successful every time if the few simple directions are carefully followed. You would gladly pay 50 cents for this valuable book, yet we send it absolutely free upon receipt of the colored certificate packed in every 25-cent can of K C Baking Powder. JAQUES MFG. MARKET HAS FAIR UPTURN

Wheat Bulges Moderately With Good Buying Near the Close.

Flaxseed Strong With Demand From Crushers and Light Offerings.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 28.—The wheat market was strong up to the close. May wheat closed ⅜c up; July ⅜c up and September ⅝c up.

May durum closed 1½c up and July 1½c up.

Oats closed ¾ off at 38⅝c for to arrive. Rye closed ½c off at 59@61c and barley unchanged at 55@59c for choice stuff.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed at 37¾c bid and July at 38⅜c bid.

Puts on Minneapolis July wheat closed at 91c and calls at 91½@91⅝c.

Wheat was strong on all the American markets today attributable mainly to the rapid cutting down of supplies at all points and fair general demand. The sale of another large lot of wheat for shipment to Chicago was reported by a Duluth operator. A wire from down there intimated that a vessel space for 1,000,000 bushels of wheat to be forwarded to the East had been engaged by Armour.

Apart from technical market conditions, the news of the day was bearish. The crop outlook in both the Southwest and Northwest is inspiring according to general reports being received by grain men.

John McCarthy of the Duluth board of trade returned today from a Montana trip, bringing with him some splendid samples of wheat and alfalfa obtained at Cartersville, in the eastern portion of the state. He averred that in his many years' experience he had never seen the crop outlook better in Montana than it is today. There has been abundant moisture, and the plant is well advanced in the various districts. He dropped off at a few points in North Dakota, and found similar conditions to be the rule. "No complaints are being made on the score of a lack of rain in North Dakota and everywhere growers are optimistic. If nothing happens between now and the harvest, we are likely to be swamped this fall in handling the grain," he averred.

Primary receipts are making a favorable comparison with last year, today's figures showing an increase of 67,000 bushels. Inspections at Duluth were 47 cars against 27 a year ago. As a result of the shipping out of 240,000 bushels of bonded grain, wheat supplies at this point show a decrease of 333,000 bushels in the last four days. There is only 4,235,000 bushels of spring wheat remaining in store in the local elevators. Stocks at Minneapolis have decreased 700,000 bushels in the last five days.

The May option continued strong at Chicago and its quotation is now near the dollar mark.

There was liberal trading in the July wheat option. It opened unchanged at 93⅜c and advanced ⅝c during the first three hours trading. September opened ⅛c up at 89c and gained ¾c.

Strong export demand for durum was reported resulting in running the price of the July option up 1c to 90c.

Flaxseed is Strong.

Flaxseed was strong on good inquiry from crushers while offerings were light. Receipts of the seed are now at a minimum at all points so that the situation is regarded as steadily becoming more bullish. Final prices today showed a substantial advance in May and moderate gains in the other options.

The foreign markets were mixed. At Buenos Aires flax closed ⅝c up; at London ⅜c up and at Antwerp ⅝c off.

May flax opened ¼c up at $1.57⅜ and closed 1¼c up at $1.58⅜; July opened unchanged at $1.59 and closed ½c up at $1.59½. September opened unchanged at $1.60½ and closed ⅜c up at $1.60⅞ bid and the October option opened unchanged at $1.58½ and closed ½c up at $1.59 bid.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed at $1.37¾ bid and July at $1.39⅜ asked.

MARKET GOSSIP.

A wire from Winnipeg said: "Bulls talking dry weather up here. Our October option is going to be sensitive now as to weather news. If it keeps dry a week or so, it might go up several cents."

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Wheat—There was a steady opening with prices ⅛@1¼ higher, being influenced by the forecast of light Argentine shipments this week and a continued demand from the continent, although not pronounced. During the morning, dullness characterized the trading with some pressure incident upon freer Indian offers and persistent reports that the damage to American winter wheat is slight. Values eased ⅛ to ¼d. World's shipments are expected to be liberal this week, but again the percentage to the Continent will be large. At 1:30 p. m., the undertone was easier with the market dull, unchanged to ⅛d lower.

"Corn opened unchanged with steady support due to the forecast of light shipments from Argentina and unsettled weather there. Later there was some disposition for profits on a report from Argentina that the damage has been exaggerated and continued free European offers. At 1:30 p. m. the market was dull and inclined lower, unchanged to ¼ lower."

An official report gives the yield of wheat in India at 315,200,000 bu, against 360,850,000 bu last year.

The following was received from John Inglis at Chickasha, Okla. — "Heavy rains flattened wheat from Henessy to Chickasha. It will rise when the weather changes. From Caldwell Kansas to Chickasha the leaves are rusted. This is unimportant yet. The general promise is good, and only bad weather is feared."

* * *

Baker's Chicago correspondent had the following wire from Lecount from Dodge City, Kan.: "Over hill and valley the stand and color is good. Crop accounts are good and the crop is above the average. Wheat is in splendid condition and will make a full crop if it fills well. It rained in Barton county last night and is threatening rain. The weather is cool. The crops need twenty to twenty-five more days of favorable weather to mature. It is all headed now."

* * *

The Chicago Record-Herald says: "Leading traders in wheat are taking advantage of the strong spots to sell deferred futures short, believing that without accident to the growing crop from this time on, there will be lower prices later in the season, and that there will not be enough buying power in the market to prevent it. They look upon the market as a merchandizing proposition, and say when the new crop begins to move it will tax the transportation facilities to the limit; and even admitting that large export sales have been made for shipment from the new crop in August and September, they believe that there will be plenty to go around and to spare."

Parker Paine had the following from Chicago: "Late yesterday, each time that local bears or pit holders followed what appeared to be leadership on the selling side of July or September wheat, they discovered that their lines could not be bought back easily around bottom figures. This action was repeated several times in the last hour. The trade gave little attention to the May price. Crop news is decidedly mixed, and on the whole it is a little less bullish than a week ago on account of recent rains. Wet weather threatened the early harvest in the Far Southwest. There is possibly some reduction in acreage in the Northwest, and the big winter wheat belt is still to pass through a trying period. There are many strong interests friendly to the buying side on depressions."

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Bullish on Too Much Rain in Oklahoma.

Chicago, May 28.—Too much rain in Oklahoma had a bullish effect today on the wheat market here. Many fields almost ready for the harvest were reported to have been beaten flat to the ground by storms. Dispatches told of three inches of rain in twenty-four hours with an additional fall expected. After opening ⅛c off to ¼c up, the market made some advance all around.

Danger from rust in the Southwest tended further to lift quotations. So did big charters of vessel room for Montreal. May sold at $1.00, the highest prices of the crop year. Closing prices were nervous, ¼@⅝c above last night.

Corn weakened owing to reports that Argentina damage had been exaggerated. Fair demand here was meager. Prices which started unchanged to ⅛c lower, continued to sag.

Subsequently the market hardened a little, country offerings proving light. The close was steady, ⅓c off to ¼c up compared with last night.

Free selling turned oats downgrade. The May option broke more than a cent. Signs of a complete ending of the drought was chiefly responsible.

Speculative pressure by stockyards traders took the edge off the provision market. First sales averaged about the same as last night but afterward there was a gradual decline.

STOCKS ARE IRREGULAR

Dull and Uneventful Day Relieved Partly in Later Dealings.

President's Address to the Manufacturers Has Favorable Effect.

New York, May 28.—Unimportant variations were the rule in the early stock market dealings today. The leaders were mildly reactionary and General Motors yielded 2 points of its recent advance. Dealings were in exceedingly light volume and the list as a whole bore the familiar anti-holiday aspect. There seemed to be some disappointment at the lack of more definite details regarding the Mexican negotiations this feeling finding reflection in London, where Americans were mostly lower.

The dullness of the first hour, in which trading fell far behind yesterday's corresponding period, was followed by complete apathy, but prices hardened a trifle on reports that the Mexican mediators had agreed on some important points. Encouragement was also expressed at the improvement reported in conditions in Paris, but anxiety followed when it became known that a French institution with mining and industrial connections had closed its doors. In the bond division the feature was a 2-point rise in Denver & Rio Grande improvement 5's.

The Missouri Pacific situation assumed a more favorable phase in the course of the day, when it became known that fully two-thirds of the holders of the $25,000,000 notes maturing June 1 had virtually assented to the extension plan. The convertible were up 1½ and the stock a point. A few specialties were up a point or more; London sold about 10,000 shares here, mainly Harrimans.

The market closed irregular. The dull and uneventful day was partly relieved in the later dealings after publication of President Wilson's address to the manufacturers in which he bespoke their co-operation and his desire to further business interests. This was qualified, however, by his expressed determination to carry out his anti-trust program.

RAILROAD FROM PEAK TO PEAK.

Boston Transcript: An extraordinary railroad is to run from Chamonix, in France, up the Aiguille du Midi, a precipitous needle rising 12,608 feet. Its object is to show tourists the unmatched glories of Mont Blanc and its chain of peaks and glaciers.

Instead of running on solid ground, however, like most of the Swiss mountain railroads, it is to go through the air on pylons and cables, swinging from peak to peak, far above the eternal snows and glaciers. The idea of constructing this railroad originated in the brain of Fidele Eugster, a Swiss living at Dijon, France, who is supplying the necessary funds for its construction. One million two hundred thousand dollars has been raised.

The starting station of the line is situated down in the valley of Chamonix. To reach the power station above, where the traction cables are set in motion by 75-horse power electric motors, passengers ride in suspended cars with a seating capacity of twenty persons over 6,562 feet of cable suspended by twenty-seven pylons. This power station, near Pierre Pointue on the Alpinists' route up Mont Blanc, is at an altitude of more than a mile. From the power statfon to the third station, just under the shadow of the Aiguille du Midi, is a second series of twenty-four pylons. The cable between these two stations is 4,593 feet long.

The view at this height is superb. Chamonix is nearly one mile below and from here one gets a good idea of the majesty of the Chamonix aiguilles such as the Aiguille du Plan, the Blaitierer and the Charmoz.

At this station one changes cars and the system of transportation changes also. It is just as well, too, for the ascent has been so rapid and the change in the density of the air so great, es to be uncomfortable to people with weak heerts. At station three, therefore, one may rest and get his breath, for the most sensational is yet to come. From now on, one swings through the air.

The cars used on this last section are smaller, accommodating only sixteen persons. They are more like a basket.

The fourth station, altitude 9,383 feet, it situated on a pinnacle of granite almost opposite the Grands Mulets, and passengers stopping here will get an idea of what real alpining is, for climbers still do the Aiguille du Midi from this face. This station, however, is little more than a relay, for the object point is the Col du Midi, 11,647 feet above the sea. To swing from the fourth station to the summit of the Col is impossible in one swoop, so half way, on a projecting pinnacle of granite, the engineers are placing a tension pylon to relieve the strain. To this tension pylon, however, is an unbroken swoop of one-half mile and from the tension pylon to the summit another shoot of 1,837 feet. The angle which the line takes varies from 15 to 48 degrees.

LEGAL NOTICES.

SUMMONS IN APPLICATION FOR REGISTRATION OF LAND—

State of Minnesota, County of St. Louis—ss.

District Court, Eleventh Judicial District.

In the matter of the application of The Miller Company to register the title to the following described real estate situated in St. Louis County, Minnesota, namely: The Southwest Quarter of Northwest Quarter (SW¼ of NW¼) of Section Eighteen (18), Township Fifty (50) North, of Range Fourteen (14) West of the Fourth Principal Meridian, according to United States Government survey thereof, Applicant.

vs.

Charles Downer, G. Frank, Andrew Hangartner, Emeline B. Mitchell, and all other persons or parties unknown, claiming any right, title, estate, lien or interest in the real estate described in the application herein, Defendants.

The State of Minnesota to the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned and required to answer the application of the applicant in the above entitled proceeding and to file your answer to the said aplication in the office of the clerk of said court, in said county, within twenty (20) days after the service of this summons upon you, exclusive of the day of such service, and, if you fail to answer the said application within the time aforesaid, the applicant in this proceeding will apply to the court for the relief demanded therein.

Witness, J. P. Johnson, clerk of said court, and the seal thereof, at Duluth, in said county, this 20th day of May, A. D. 1914.

NOTICE OF SHERIFF'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE UNDER JUDGMENT OF FORECLOSURE.—

State of Minnesota, County of St. Louis—ss.

District Court, Eleventh Judicial District.

Scott-Graff Lumber Company, Plaintiff,

vs.

Peter Grende, alias, Peder Grende, alias Peter Grinde; Frank Hughes, George F. Shea, W. T. Bailey Lumber Company, a corporation; A. H. Krieger Company, Peter Schuster, C. C. Butler, D. G. Cutler Company, a corporation; A. C. Stevens, Gust A. Johnson, Norton Hardware Company, a corporation; F. G. Wiclem, Sigard Abrahamsen, Virginia Foundry & Machinery Company, a corporation, and F. W. Terrell, as Trustee of the Estate of Peter Grende, Bankrupt, Defendants.

Whereas, a judgment and decree has been duly entered in the above entitled action, a certified transcript of which has been delivered to me, adjudging and decreeing, among other things, that the property hereinafter described and all the right, title and interest therein of defendant Frank Hughes as the same existed on September 20th, 1912, or as the same has been enlarged or completed thereafter, be sold to satisfy certain liens thereon, as determined and adjudged in said action.

Now, Therefore, Notice is Hereby Given, That I, the undersigned, Sheriff of said St. Louis County, pursuant to said judgment and decree, will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, on the 16th day of June, 1914, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at the office of the Sheriff of said County, in the County Court House in the City of Duluth, St. Louis County, Minnesota, the premises and real estate described in said judgment and decree, all lying and being in said County of St. Louis and State of Minnesota, to-wit:

Lot Twenty-six (26) and the southerly one (1) foot of Lot Twenty-five (25), in Block Twelve (12), Virginia, according to the recorded plat thereof, except the East forty (40) feet of said lots.

Dated April 21st, 1914.

Default has been made in the conditions of a mortgage containing a power of sale, executed and delivered by Charles Evans Holt and Rebecca E. Holt, his wife, mortgagors, to William M. Hubbard, mortgagee, bearing date the 6th day of July, 1912, duly filed in the office of the Registrar of Titles in and for the County of St. Louis and State of Minnesota, on the 9th day of July, 1912, at 2:20 o'clock P. M., and registered as Document Number nine thousand and six hundred sixty-one (9661), and said mortgage was then in fact so registered and a memorial thereof was then duly entered upon the certificate of title to the land affected by said mortgage, which land, upon the date of said mortgage, was, and is now, registered and said certificate of title thereto appears in Volume 4 at page 209 in said office and is numbered 944. Said mortgage was given to secure the payment of one principal note for $4,500.00 and six interest coupons representing the several installments of interest on said principal note. Said mortgage contains a provision that should default be made in any of the provisions of said mortgage, or in the payment of interest thereon, or the taxes on the premises therein described, the holder of said note may declare the principal due and may sell said premises agreeably to the statute in such case made and provided, and whereas default has been made in the payment of the sum of eighty-two dollars and forty-one cents $(82.41) interest, evidenced by the interest coupon which became due January 6th, 1914, and the same remains unpaid at the date of this notice, and default has been made in the payment of the taxes for the year 1912, and the same remains unpaid at the date of this notice, the holder of said mortgage hereby declares the principal note due. The amount claimed to be due and which is actually due at the date of this notice is the sum of $4,710.41. No action at law or otherwise has been commenced for the recovery of the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof. Notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage and pursuant to the statute in such case and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz.:

Lots one hundred one (101), one hundred three (103), one hundred five (105), one hundred seven (107) and one hundred nine (109), in Block thirty-four (34), Duluth Proper, Third Division, according to the recorded plat thereof on file and of record in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County and State, in St. Louis County, in the State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said St. Louis County, at his office in the Court House, in the City of Duluth, in said County and State, on the 26th day of June, 1914, at 10 o'clock A. M. on that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of $4,710.41 and interest and taxes, if any, on said premises, and $75.00 attorneys' fees, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale as provided by law.

Dated, May 14th, 1914.

REACHES EVERY ONE INTERESTED IN POULTRY...

The Duluth Herald is the recognized poultry medium. It is the official paper of the people interested in Poultry and Pet Stock.

Circulation Greatest—Rates Lowest

The Duluth Herald has the greatest circulation of any newspaper in Minnesota, outside the Twin Cities. Its rates for classified advertising are less per thousand circulation than those of any other paper in Minnesota. Best results are gained from ads when definite information is given. When information is lacking the presumption is that desirable features are lacking. Information as to contract rates and the probable amount of space your ad would take, gladly given.
